Spur Cheese Factory Opens Today

First Trucks Bringing In Milk

The Spur Cheese Factory will begin operations today, and by the time this issue of the Times gets to our readers, probably trucks will be arriving with the first supply of milk. Eight routes have been outlined and delivery trucks will make these routes this morning for the first time.

In speaking with F. G. Collier, who will act as business manager for the cheese factory, he stated that they want to serve the farmers in the community in the very best manner. Milk will be bought strictly on a butter fat basis, and the cheese factory will begin paying 27 cents per pound butter fat basis for whole milk. This may not seem a very great price, but when one considers the small amount of work then the price seems better. All that is required is to get the milk filtered into a can and out to the highway where the truck passes to pick it up. No separator to clean, no bottles to wash, and all the necessary work for market milk is eliminated.

John Neal, who has enjoyed many years of experience in cheese making, will be in charge of the cheese factory. He has been in Spur a number of weeks getting the machinery in condition, and he has learned to know a great number of people. He enjoys talking to those people who live on the farm, and he will be glad to assist any one who is preparing to sell milk.

Other announcements will be made as the progress of the factory goes along. There will be many things to work out, many changes probably to be made. But service to the people is the chief aim.

Martin Elected Coach At Matador

Don T. Martin, Assistant Coach, has been elected as head coach in the Matador High School. Mr. Martin this week tendered his resignation to the Spur School Board.

Mr. Martin is a graduate of East Texas Teachers College where he lettered in several major sports, and has taught two years including this past year in the Spur Schools.

We wish for Mr. Martin the best of luck in coaching the Matador Matadors, and hope he wins all of his football games except the one he plays against the Spur Bulldogs.

THIRD SUNDAY SINGING TO MEET IN McADOO

The Third Sunday Singing will be held in McAdoo Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. All singers of the county and adjoining counties are invited to be present.

Jack Gipson, of Dickens, has been president of this association for the past three years and reports that much interest is being taken in these singings.

Dry Lake Refuses Consolidation Sat.

In the election for the consolidation of the Dry Lake school district with Spur school district, the voters of Dry Lake turned down the proposition. The vote at Dry Lake was 22 for and 54 against consolidation. There were 76 votes cast at Dry Lake. The vote at Spur was light. The count was 31 for and 11 against consolidation.

In former years many of the pupils of Dry Lake community have been attending Spur schools. The Spur District has been furnishing the transportation for these children. However, it is understood the law has been changed in that respect, in that each district must furnish the transportation expenses for the children attending another school. If this law is put into effect, then all children of Dry Lake district that attend Spur schools, will have to be transported by Dry Lake district.

Two Cafes Consolidate Business

The Texan Cafe and the Bell's Cafe went into consolidation Monday for the purpose of better business. The building where the Texan was operated has been closed and the business will be carried on where the Bells Cafe is now located. This is a large building and plenty of room for a first class cafe.

The building will be remodeled and newly painted. The equipment will be arranged differently and the appearance greatly improved. An air-conditioned system will be installed, and customers will enjoy their meals in a cool place in Summer and a warm place in Winter.

Mr. Bell, who will serve as general manager, stated that they expect to give the people of this community a real city cafe with every convenience and every accommodation to be expected of a good cafe. The business will be run under the caption of Bell's Cafe.

Safeway Store Makes Changes

P. D. Thornton, who has been serving as market manager for the local Safeway Store, is being transferred to Hamlin this week. Mr. Thornton has served his company well while in Spur and leaves many friends in our community.

Alvin Hamm, of Brownwood, is taking charge of the market for the local Safeway Store. Mr. Hamm is moving his family to Spur, and stated Wednesday afternoon that he is wanting an apartment for his family.

J. S. Lock, of Wichita Falls, a representative of the Pure Oil Company, was in our city Tuesday looking after interests of his company.

Spur's Municipal Swimming Pool Opened Last Friday Evening For The Season

With a big bathing review sponsored by the Senior Class of the Spur High School, and with 18 select girls of the community, the Municipal Bathing pool was opened to the public Friday evening. Quite a large number of people attended the opening, and a large number of children and quite a number of older people took advantage and enjoyed a plunge in the pool. The pool is equipped with a new circulating system which keeps the water pure all the time and serves as a safeguard to the health of those who patronize the pool. Two lifeguards are on duty all the time, and it makes no difference, day or night, there is plenty of light at the pool. Health precautions are taken in every respect.

The bathing review represented different business firms in the city. Miss Betty Jo Boothe was selected as first place, Miss Peggy Hogan was second winner, and Miss Emily Cowan was awarded third honors. Miss Boothe represented the Clover Farm Grocery; Miss Hogan, the T-P Service Station and Miss Cowan, the Spur Tailors.

Other entries were: Betty Lynn Brown, the Texas Spur; Mary Jo Collier, the Dickens County Times; La Voris Lee, the West Texas Utilities Company; Nelta Boothe, the Tri-County Lumber Company; Winifred Lee, the Gruben Drug and Jewelry Store; Jean Engleman, Sanders-Chastain Pharmacy; Jerry Lee Willard, the Foodway Grocery; Louise Ince, Mission Service Station; Joyce Collier, the Hilltop Service Station; Lillian Grace Dickson, the Phillips 66 Service Station; Sammie McGee, the Bell's Cafe; Wynelle McClure, Hogan & Patton; Pauline Shugart, the Whitacre-Milam Variety Store; Lajuan Wood, the DeLuxe Beauty Shop; Ouida Lisenby, the Clemmons Insurance Agency.

The judges were out of town people, and were not supposed to know any of the entries. Names of the judges were not announced.

The Municipal pool will be open to the public every day except Sundays, and will be open to the public Sunday afternoons. The pool is closed at six o'clock Sunday afternoon for church services.

Banded Raven Is Turned Loose At Spur In 1931

In April of last year, a mott of crows in the Hackberry community was blasted through the efforts of County Agent H. L. Williams and the late Austin Aulds, state game warden.

C. M. Lloyd, a farmer living on route two, found one bird at the scene of the blast carrying a band on one leg with the No. 647,007. The band was sent in to Washington to ascertain just where the bird was turned loose and by whom. Paducahites had despaired of hearing from the capitol regarding the band, but on Saturday communication was received.

The bird carrying the above number was a white-necked raven, banded on November 13, 1931 at Slaughter House, Spur, by E. R. Kalmbach. In accordance with this fact, the bird had not gone far from home during its six years of existence since the band was placed on its leg.—Paducah Post, June 9, 1938.

S. R. Swenson Here The Past Week Inspecting S. M. S. Ranch Property

Dr. O. R. Cloud bought a home on East Second Street. He is adding one room to his residence, giving the building a new coat of paint and making the place look like home. Tri County Lumber Company is furnishing the material and Frank Smith is doing the work. Dr. Cloud will move into the property as soon as it is ready.

The Spur Produce is adding a new sidewalk in front of their business. The old wooden porch has been torn away. Also, a new cream spray is being added to the inside of the building. Jack Rains, company mechanic at Lubbock, is doing the work. Tri County Lumber Company is furnishing the material.

Byron Haney, of Afton, is completing a new store building this week. It is stucco structure 24x50 feet. J. A. March is doing the work and Tri County Lumber Company is furnishing the material. Mr. Haney will place a first class stock of merchandise in the building at once.

COUNTY AUDIT COMPLETED
The audit of the books of Dickens County has been completed and the report submitted to the County Commissioners Court for approval. This report brings the books up to January 1, 1938, completing the entire year of 1937. Just after July 1, another audit will be made which will bring everything up to July 1, 1938.

Dr. Bradford Knapp, President of Texas Tech College, Lubbock, Buried Monday

The last rites for Dr. Bradford Knapp, President of the Texas Technological College, who passed away at 11:20, Saturday morning, were read Monday morning. The services which were conducted by Dr. Jack M. Lewis of the Presbyterian Church, were held in the Gym auditorium of the College where Dr. Knapp made his last public appearance in delivering the certificates of Degrees to the Tech Graduates Monday of last week. He became ill shortly after the graduation exercises were over and was rushed to a Lubbock sanitarium where he was given every attention possible. The body was buried in a Lubbock cemetery.

Texas has lost one of her grandest educators. Dr. Knapp was selected President of Texas Technological College just after the death of the late Dr. Paul W. Horn, and was the second president of the institution. It was the third time he had been elected head of a college. He was the son of the late Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, who while in the U. S. Department of Agriculture, was the originator of the present system of Agricultural Extension Work, which probably has had more influence upon improving agricultural conditions than any other one plan.

He was born in Iowa December 24, 1870. He studied law, and then devoted much time to the study of agriculture. Failing health sent him South. He entered Vanderbilt University and graduated with a Bachelor of Science Degree in 1892. He graduated from the University of Michigan law school in 1896, and returned to Iowa where he served his people as County Attorney. In July, 1904, he was married to Miss Stella White.

His father was called into the U. S. Department of Agriculture during this time. The work of his father stands as a monument to him, and will continue so for many years. Upon the death of his father, April 1, 1911, Dr. Knapp was selected to take the place held by the elder Knapp. He went to Europe in 1913 to study conditions and as war was raging there, American raw products found a ready market.

After the war, Dr. Knapp was selected as dean of the University of Arkansas. Three years later he was elected as President of the A & M College of Oklahoma, and under his leadership the enrollment at that school increased 35 per cent the first year. He served as president there five years, and then went to Alabama Polytechnic Institute where he was still serving the people when he was elected President of the Texas Technological College in July, 1932.

He was an untiring worker at Tech, and had a great vision of the field of education for the school. He added first one factor and then another until today Tech College is a great university of learning. His health began to give away and his physicians told him to take life easier, but his ambition for his school held paramount and he worked energetically to build the school to his ideals.

The college opened work Tuesday morning, although a veil of sadness was present. The official Board will be in the field for a new president soon, but for the present the Faculty Committee will continue to direct the work.

Attorney General To Visit Spur Sunday

William McCraw

Attorney General William McCraw of Austin, will visit in Spur a short time Sunday. He will teach a Sunday School Class at Post at ten o'clock Sunday morning and then drive to Spur for lunch. He expects to arrive here about one o'clock, and will be at the Spur Inn about two o'clock to meet a few friends. In fact, any one who would like to meet our Attorney General will have the privilege if they go to the Spur Inn at two o'clock Sunday. Mr. McCraw was in our city in June 1936 and addressed a large gathering at the stadium about the Texas Centennial.

New Teachers Elected For Spur Schools

The Spur School Board Monday night elected three teachers to teach in the Spur Public Schools.

Miss Ethel Green, who has taught Home Economics the past three years in the Wilson Public Schools, was elected to succeed Mrs. O. C. Thomas, who recently resigned her place as instructor of Home Economics. Miss Green is a graduate of Texas Technological College, and her home is in Lubbock. For the past two years her pupils have won places in the State Homemaking Rally. She is a member of the Home Economics Honor Society, and she has made a high record for herself as an instructor.

Miss Margaret Maloney was transferred from the second grade to teach science in the high school. Miss Maloney is a science major, having had extensive training in chemistry, biology, physics, bacteriology, zoology, and other science. It is the desire of the school officials to build a real science department in the high school, and as soon as the school is financially able it is intended to add chemistry to the curriculum.

Mrs. John King, Jr., was elected to teach second grade work in the East Ward School. Mrs. King has had several years successful teaching experience, and was this past year principal of the Espuela School. She is now attending summer school in Texas Tech College.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS AS EQUALIZATION BOARD

The County Commissioners Court finished a two-day session Tuesday as the County Board of Equalization. The property values in the county have not been changed much, remaining just a little above the five million dollar mark.

The County Judge will start soon to make out the budget for the county expenses. This has to be made out by the August term of the Commissioners Court.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Walker and two sons, of Los Angeles, California, and Mrs. L. D. Waller, of Texarkana, are visiting Mrs. B. G. Warswick of Dickens. Mrs. Walker is a daughter and Mrs. Waller is a grand daughter of Mrs. Warswick.

WITH THE WILD CATS

A new well in Stonewall County has been located. This is the Percy Jones, et al. on the fee lines of Austin and Williams Survey. The location is on section 2 of the survey, 330 feet from the north line and 330 feet from the west line of that section. The location is in the southeast corner of the county and is to be drilled by General Crude.

The Dolman No. 1, O'Keefe, four miles southwest of Girard, has been temporarily abandoned. This well probably will be started up later in the summer.

The Carter No. 1, McMahan, on Section 319 in Dry Lake community is still idle, waiting for a heavy rig to go over it. It is not known just when this will be accomplished.

The Morrissey No. 1, Bird, is waiting for a shipment of tubing to be used in cementing off water. The Haliburton Company stated tubing would be required in order to secure enough pressure to cut off the water.

The General Crude No. 1, Smith, southwest of Peacock, is drilling below 4,500 feet in shale. No material show for oil has been encountered.

The Stonewall Oil Company No. 1, Carlisle, north of Peacock, is drilling below 4,600 feet. The well is being underreamed and casing lowered. The present formation is lime.

The Gulf No. 1, Swenson, on Section 25, H&GNRRC. Survey, Block 2, 15 miles southwest of Spur, is drilling below 5,725, and is still in lime formation. There are frequent core tests made to be sure of the formation.

Wheat Going Out In Train Loads

The Stamford & Northwestern Railroad Company pulled out yesterday with 15 cars of wheat. These were not just the ordinary cars, most of them contained 1,500 bushels up to 2,100 bushels of wheat per car. The shipment yesterday brought the number of cars shipped from Spur up to 53. The first car of wheat shipped this year was pulled out Wednesday of last week.

The price of wheat gradually goes up. The market was 67 cents yesterday for No. 1 wheat. Spur has always paid the top market for wheat, and has always tried to furnish the shippers the best of accommodations.

The companies most active in buying wheat in Spur are: The Spur Grain & Coal Company, the Spur Cotton Company, and the Spur Elevator which is just a new concern. Unless rain hits into the country, there will be as many cars to be shipped out today as were shipped yesterday. It looks now like Spur will get close to 200 cars this year.

Health Officer Warns People

No matter how busy you are just now planning your vacation, looking up road maps, camping sites and equipment stored since last summer, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, advises all Texans to add one extra item to their list of things to be done before vacation starts.

The advice: "If you have not been vaccinated against typhoid fever within the last year or two, go to your family physician and have him give you the three "shots" that will protect you against the disease. It takes several weeks for the protective treatment to establish itself throughout the system, so it is an undue risk to wait until just before starting your vacation to attend to typhoid vaccination. Begin the treatment without further delay.

"Typhoid fever is much less of a menace than it was a number of years ago. But it still is the cause of much unnecessary sickness. Typhoid fever is contracted through the mouth. You either eat or drink the germs. Typhoid is transmittable through the use of water, milk or other foods that are contaminated by typhoid germs passed on by someone ill with the disease or someone who has had the disease.

"Vigilant protection of public and private water supplies from pollution, pasteurization of milk, protection of food supplies from contamination and such sanitary precautions have reduced greatly the incidence of typhoid fever in Texas.

"But there are certain other sources of danger that cannot be reached by public precautionary measures. Certain persons who have had typhoid fever continue to pass the germs that cause the disease long after they have recovered from the illness—these persons are called typhoid "carriers". When they are careless in their personal habits they are likely to leave typhoid germs on any food they touch. In recent years some of the more serious outbreaks of typhoid over the state have been due to careless carriers.

"There are other sources of typhoid a stream or spring along the highway may be clear and sparkling but that is no guarantee the water is free from contamination. Milk may be a source of danger. If unsafe of the safety of your milk or water supply, it is a good health practice to always boil them before using. The Texas State Department of Health can warn you against sources of infection—but vaccination is the only sure way against contraction."

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Darphin, of Sweetwater, spent the latter part of the week here visiting with Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Alexander and Miss Bernice Alexander.

A. J. Slayton, of several miles north of town, was a business visitor here Saturday.

George Harrison, prominent farmer, of Kent County, was in Spur Saturday attending to business.

It's "Checkers" Jane Withers Now at Her Best In Track's Proudest Racing Silks

Galloping Hoofs, Gallant Hearts Make "Checkers" Grand Human Story; Stuart Erwin, Una Merkel, Marvin Stephens Featured In New Film Hit

There is wild excitement and cheers as Jane Withers rides down the home stretch in "Checkers," her newest Twentieth Century-Fox picture, but what will thrill most of all is the grand human story. The uproarious fun, the aching thrills and the bright enchantment that come once in every young life will be unfolded Saturday Night Preview, Sunday and Monday at the Palace Theatre.

Jane recently was voted one of the six most popular stars of today and in this story of galloping hoofs, and gallant hearts she's at her very best. Stuart Erwin and Una Merkel play the lovebirds in a hilarious seven-year romance and Marvin Stephens, the bad boy of "Borrowing Trouble," is the first "crush" of Jane's screen career.

Stuart, as the slickest horse trader who ever got stung, keynotes his romantic life with the motto: "Love me, love my horse!" but Una is a girl who refuses to fill her hope chest with horse blankets. When, after the never-say-die courtship, Stuart again pops the question, it's not a pop—it's an explosion!

It's Jane who sets the fuse, for she would like to see her Uncle Stu living as cheaply as one with Una. The trouble all started when, their beloved filly, "Blue Skies," won an impromptu race, resulting in the rival jockey's losing his job. Marvin, the jockey, joins up with Jane and Stu, and the horse-loving trio, accompanied by the object of their affections, descends upon the farm of Una, who hates racing and race horses—and people who like racing and race-horses.

Stu promises to sell the horse and Jane and Marvin vow never to return to the track. But Stu's courtship strikes a new snag in an unexpected rival, Andrew Tombes, the local banker. Furthermore, Marvin gets a part-time job in Tombes' bank and develops a great interest in his daughter.

Anxious to set things aright, Stu concocts a ruse which ends the bankers courtship as well as keeping Marvin. But the ruse backfires, and Jane, vin away from the bank and the daughter. But the ruse backfires, and Jane Stu and Marvin are forced to enter "Blue Skies" in a race to save Una's farm.

The thrilling result throws a new light on the "Sport of Kings" for Una. So Stu's long-term courtship ends with a lifetime contract.

IT LOOKS LIKE A BAD IDEA

The new appropriations bill to bring back prosperity has one bad feature, and will be a hindrance rather than a help to promote prosperity in the country. This is section 201 of the bill which provides that the administrator of the funds may lend to citizens and towns for building utilities plants. Any time our government makes competition for any privately owned institution of this country, it jeopardizes the salaries of a great army of workers now employed. The purpose of the new appropriations bill is to provide jobs for the unemployed, the government is defeating the purpose for which it is spending the people's money. There are highways to be built, public buildings to be erected, and other public enterprises which will give the unemployed work. The purpose now is to get all the unemployed back to work, and to keep those who are now employed at the jobs they now hold. Prosperity will come only when the laboring people have permanent jobs—all the laboring people have permanent jobs.

HELP FOR TEACHERS OF SAFETY

Educators throughout the country hailed the inauguration last month at New York University of a national center for safety education, the first of its kind in the United States, which has been made possible under a special grant of funds by the National Conservation Bureau of the Association of Casualty and Surety Executives. Its principal object is to teach teachers how to teach safety, but its facilities will be open to all who have a practical concern in its interests. This is not the first time that the stock casualty insurance companies, who maintain and administer the National Conservation Bureau, have appeared in the safety education scene. In fact, since the organized safety movement began in 1922, theirs has been a most important influence in the acceptance by schools everywhere of safety education as a major and practical part of the regular curriculum. The legislatures or the departments of education in nearly every state no longer require some form of safety instruction for grade school children. The results are vividly shown in a phenomenal saving of child lives. The accident fatality rate in the age group of five to fourteen years since 1922 has decreased 15 per cent. Meanwhile, the rate for all ages combined has increased 24 per cent.

With the inauguration of New York University's Center for Safety Education, a new phase in the safety education movement begins. For some time the need has not been to convince educators of the importance of safety instruction, but rather to aid them in making their courses more effective through the development of sound teaching practices and materials. This job New York University has now undertaken. The experiment will be watched with interest by a public which is seeking desperately for means with which to reduce America's phastly toll of accidental deaths and injuries.

THE FARMER SPEAKS

During a single week at the end of May, two meetings were held by farm leaders in widely separated parts of the country to express their appreciation to the chain stores for their work in increasing consumption of farm products and stabilizing farm income.

One meeting was held in Denver, where over fifty farm leaders, representing major crops produced in Colorado, met and discussed the methods successfully used by the chains to broaden the farmers' market. The heads of the Grange, the Farm Bureau, the Farmers Union and the State Department of Agriculture acted as hosts to chain store officials.

The other meeting was held in Orlando, Florida, where a testimonial dinner was given by the Florida Citrus Commission. Again chain store executives were guests, and over two hundred citrus growers and other producers attended. It was reported that the chain stores had increased their sales of oranges by almost 70 per cent, and the common interest and mutuality of problems of producer and distributor were pointed to as a need for the development of a still closer relationship.

These two meetings might not be significant if they were unusual in character. But the fact is, they are typical of many such meetings and endorsements of producer-distributor cooperation occurring in almost every farming state in the Union.

"A Penny Saved"

By T. C. Richardson, Secretary Breeder-Feeder Association

Says the adage, "is a penny earned." Thinking of that thrifty principle in terms of the farm, making the crop is not completed until it is saved. It is saved only when it has been either safely stored for future use, or consumed by livestock and transformed into a saleable product. Tons of meat and milk, eggs and wool are produced on some farms merely by "saving" grass, weeds and crop residues which go to waste on neighboring farms for lack of the animals or fowls to utilize them when available.

At this season of the year the Southwest is often threatened with drouth, corn begins to "burn up" and its failure is indicated. Since the introduction of the trench silo it is quite possible to avoid a total loss by cutting the corn and storing it in the trench before it dries up. That is not merely a penny saved and earned, but dollars on dollars, for the ensilage will keep indefinitely and can be turned into cash through livestock whenever you are ready. If rainy weather interferes with cring hay it need not be lost. Put it in a trench silo, which can be dug in a few hours, or at most a few days. You can't lose it then; it cannot burn up, blow away, or deteriorate from weather.

There is nothing mysterious or complicated about ensiling a crop. A few simple rules must be observed. Green crops with a reasonable sugar content need nothing but close packing to exclude the air, either cut or ensiled in the whole stalk. Other crops, such as alfalfa and other non-saccharine forage crops, require some cheap molasses to start fermentation. The size and shape of the trench, how to fill it and treat each crop, and how to insure its keeping, can be learned from your county agent or your neighbor who has had silo experience.

A few cross fences, either temporary or permanent, are indispensable to the full utilization of what grows on the farm. Grass, either in field or pasture, and crop residues have no market value on the ground, and usually will not pay for the harvesting unless the livestock do the work.

It is poor business to lose this potential cash return, whether for lack of livestock to use it for or for lack of fencing so they can use it.

An Arkansas authority says an acre of good grass has made up to 400 pounds of beef, and the steer did the work. Few acres will make so much, but every day's good grazing represents a pound of beef, or butterfat; to "save" it means the animal must be on the ground when the grazing is ready. Like some factories, the value of by-products saved on the farm often means the only profit in the manufacture of the main product.

A Pennsylvania Dutchman lives well and gets rich by saving what we in the southwest too often waste—the straw, grass and manure. None of them can be sold in the market place as such, but what a difference they make when saved and used on the farm where they are! The difference between success and failure, profit and loss.

A penny saved is still a penny earned, no matter what form it takes.

Editor's Note—This is one of four articles written by Mr. Richardson. We hope these will help some one in solving their farm and stock prob-

Effect of Sino-Japanese War On American Workmen and Trade

Approximately 4,000,000 workers in American industries would benefit by increased trade with China resulting from maintenance of the traditional "open door" policy, Labor's Committee of the United Council for Civilian Relief in China estimated in a study made public today.

"Only the termination of hostilities and the return to China complete authority over her territory could bring about an improvement in the trade between China and America," the report stated. "As the first step in the restoration of the Sino-American trade, this country must aid in the rehabilitation and relief of more than 50,000,000 Chinese currently homeless and destitute."

The United Council, which under the chairmanship of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., is staging Bowl of Rice parties in more than 1,500 American cities on June 17, declared that the analysis of its Labor member organization showed that "American workers have a decided interest in helping the Chinese people back on their feet so that the open door policy may be kept inviolate."

In addition to the 4,000,000 workers directly affected, the study stated, are their immediate families which probably total another 12,000,000 American citizens. Practically all lines of business, moreover, would be stimulated by the increased domestic purchasing power generated by greater sales to China, the Labor Committee inquiry finds.

Among the industries for "those products a united and independent Chinese nation would create a voracious demand," the report lists: petroleum, iron and steel, copper, automobiles, parts and accessories, aircraft, chemicals, paper products, forest products, farm machinery, building supplies and hardware, leaf tobacco, cigarettes, aluminum products, clocks, electrical appliances, cash registers and other store equipment, machine tools, refrigerators, radios and phonographs, sewing machines, typewriters, washing machines, locomotives, railroad cars and photographic supplies.

"From 1931 to 1936," the report said, "America was the leading seller to China, and our exports to that country increased each year since the depression lows were established until the final half of 1937. When the Japanese invasion began on July 7, 1937, our sales to China commenced to drop precipitously, declining 28 per cent from the 1936 figures during the final six months, as compared with an advance over 1936 of 47 per cent in the first half. The decline in exports to China proper in the first quarter of 1938 was even more severe, amounting to only 68 per cent of the total in the first quarter a year ago. Thus, it is evident that American business enterprises have already sustained substantial losses in the first eleven months of the invasion."

The report concluded that "China's vast territory is ready to open up, and is destined to be the most important world market for several generations. America, with her equipment and ability to turn out the articles China needs for expansion can easily dominate the market, if the open door policy is kept alive in fact as well as in principle."

HOLC Loans Proving Public Aid In 5th Year

With more than 750,000 borrowers "making satisfactory payments"—borrowers who a few years ago were faced with the almost certain loss of their homes—the Home Owners' Loan Corporation reaches its fifth anniversary Monday with a great part of its work accomplished.

Looking back to the troubled days when the HOLC granted its loans, when the average borrower was two years delinquent in both principal and interest on his then existing mortgage and far in arrears in taxes, General Manager Charles A. Jones revealed records which show three-fourths of the million harassed persons who sought aid are on the road to debt-free home ownership. More than 100,000 others still are being aided in their struggle, while more than 30,000 already have paid their loans in full.

The records of those borrowers not only brought from Mr. Jones a tribute to men and women who could fight their way back from the worst depression in American history, but an endorsement of the present housing drive and its offer of the most liberal terms to encourage home ownership.

"The home owner has been proved good security," said Mr. Jones. "Many arguments are being offered the home buyer today—arguments that he should take advantage of the best terms and the lowest interest rates ever offered. Those arguments are true. At the same time, it should be pointed out that American home owners have shown they deserve and can be trusted to carry out those liberalized contracts. The records of the HOLC are adequate proof."

Revealing that HOLC borrowers already have paid back $395,358,705, or 12.6 per cent of their principal indebtedness, Mr. Jones declared collections had been "remarkable" even in recent months. In March they were 97.5 per cent of billings; in April, they dropped to 87 per cent, but the figures for May, still incomplete, show another upswing.

"The experience of the HOLC not only has shown that present home owners are determined to keep their properties, but that there is a renewed desire for home ownership," said Mr. Jones. "This has been brought about by the new conditions for which HOLC has been largely responsible."

"In the old days, a great share of American home seekers never expected to completely own their properties. They assumed not only one mortgage, but usually two and sometimes three. They usually paid off the second and third, with extortionate fees, but renewed the first mortgage time and time again.

"The HOLC popularized the direct reduction loan. It introduced a 5 per cent interest rate. It helped abolish the second mortgage. Its borrowers are becoming home owners in the complete sense—and the home seeker today is getting advantage of the same processes. These modern contracts, all favorable to the home seeker, have renewed the desire for home ownership."

Reverting to the assertion that American home owners are good security, Mr. Jones referred to the homes taken over by the HOLC.

"It is true that the Corporation has acquired about 85,000 homes," said Mr. Jones, "and it will be forced to take over more. But the million loans granted by HOLC were to distressed people. Their plight did not end with the day their loans were granted; many of them have struggled for years for a normal living and many of them lost their fight."

"Out of those million persons whose homes the HOLC salvaged, about 620,000 today are either entirely current or less than three months in arrears. About 138,000 more are meeting all current bills and making regularly monthly payments on the arrearages in addition. Far more than 100,000 others still have a chance to save their homes. There were, of course, thousands who just couldn't make the grade—and some who wanted something for nothing.

"HOLC foreclosures still are far below the rate of comparable private lending groups. HOLC had to take bad risks; it was doing an emergency job. On the other hand, private lenders now are being approached by home seekers who can be regarded as good credit risks, persons with jobs and futures. If 80 per cent of HOLC borrowers are 'coming through'

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Speer and little daughter, Marion, who have been spending some time in Kermit, arrived in Spur the last of the week to look after interests in their store here.

Meet The General Gerald C. Mann

That Mann is here again, and we're mighty glad to see him.

That Mann, of course is Gerald C. Mann, who's asking for the privilege of serving Texas as its next attorney general, and he's the Lookout's favorite candidate in all the races this year. He's here today to attend our Buccaneer celebration, at the same time dropping the hint that once elected he will devote his energies to driving political pirates from the high seas or democratic government. He says he had rather be a "one-termer than a two-timer", and the remarkable thing is that he means what he says.

There's no need in repeating the story of Gerald Mann's career, which reads like a story from a book. It's enough to recall that despite a hundred adversities he has never lost a battle, that in winning—he has never resorted to slugging or slinging mud.

In this campaign he is finding the truth is as effective a battering ram as his stiff-arm was on the Southwestern Conference gridirons some 12 years ago, and his straight-from-the-shoulder drive through the campaign hokum has his opponents on a backward run. The only thing they can say without coming right out and praising him is "he's too young", and Gerald Mann is 32 years old.

He wasn't too young to become Secretary of State, he wasn't too young to be sent to Washington as Texas representative on the National Planning Board, and he's not too young to serve as Attorney General. A man's age is a childish criticism, anyway.

The Lookout wishes that everyone here for the big celebration could meet Gerald Mann today, if for no other reason than to contact a refreshing personality in the razzle-dazzle realm of boisterous Texas politics. If you are listening for a big noise, you won't even know he's around. He doesn't operate like most offices seekers, preferring to make his contacts quietly, modestly and with a discretion and direction. He campaigns like he serves, which is another good reason why Texas should be proud to elect him.

That Mann is here again. We hope he'll come back often. Bob McCracken, Columnist, Corpus Christi Caller.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Walker returned last week to their home in Kermit, after spending several days here visiting with her mother, Mrs. Mary Johnson and other relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Walker are former Spur citizens.

BOB CALVERT

R. W. (Bob) Calvert, Speaker of the House of the present State Legislature and candidate for Attorney General of Texas, was greeting the voters in Dickens County Tuesday. Judge Calvert has a very pleasing appearance and is easy of approach. He is very Democratic in his attitude, and says that the humbles person is due as much attention from a state official as those of higher stations.

Judge Calvert lost his parents early in life and was reared in the State Orphan Home at Corsicana. He graduated from the schools there, and then began working as manager of an elevator. He served as night watchman, and worked part time in State Departments in order to attend the University of Texas where he graduated from the law school.

He was elected to the House of Representatives from the 60th District, composed of Hill and Navarro counties, in 1932, re-elected in 1934 and 1936 without opposition. He was elected Speaker of the House in January, 1937.

He said he believes that the Attorney General is the people's lawyer, and that whoever desires to serve in that capacity should be free from entangling alliances with any special interest or group.

He stated that if elected Attorney General that he will reduce the expense of operating the Attorney General's Department twenty per cent. He says he will give all of his time, energy and ability to the end that the people's interests will be protected.

He remarked that his hardest campaign is to convince his opponents that he will be in the race for Attorney General, he stated that after he had paid his hundred dollars filing fee that many said he would not make the race. He said that he hoped that when the votes are counted in the July Primary that they will find out he was in the race and will be leading the field in votes.

Editor Comments On Attorney Gen. McCraw

Some months ago the News expressed belief that Texas would do well to choose William McCraw for its next governor. Since that time nothing has occurred to change the belief of the News. Something like a dozen men have announced, or are talking of announcing for the office, but none of them have shown that they would serve Texas better than McCraw.

The News does not hold with the idea that a man ought to be elected in order to beat some other candidate. We have had governors and other officials elected because of such prejudices and the result has not been satisfactory. The News believes a candidate should be elected on his merits, rather than on the demerits and shortcomings of others, and it believes that McCraw has plenty of merit to justify Texas choosing him. There are other men in the campaign who are probably competent in one way or another, but none more able than the Dallas County man, who has made good in the offices he has filled and is filling.

Bill McCraw is by temperament a man who can see two sides of a question and who is willing to hear both sides before making a decision should—decision be his duty. He is social-minded—likes people and likes to talk to them and have them talk to him. With this disposition he will be able to "get along" with a legislator in doing its work, without surrendering any of the authority of his office, yet without trying to impose that authority on the men who, like himself, will be elected to represent the people. He makes no great promises but what he says he will try to do is what he will follow out. That is one reason the News favors his election in the coming primaries.

The above is an editorial from the Paris News of May 30, 1938.

Jerry Sadler Speaks In South Texas

Friends of monopoly are backing the "ex-men" who are his opponents in the race for Railroad Commissioner of Texas, Jerry Sadler, 30, Longview attorney, said in addresses which marked his campaign tour through South-Central Texas last week end.

In a whirlwind drive for votes through the thickly populated areas of Waller, Washington, Lee and Bastrop Counties, the young "self-made" candidate urged crowds gathered around his often-used microphone to "Put Sadler in the Saddle and I will ride that monopoly mule; I will boot him in the sides, spur him in the flanks and, if necessary, pull the bridle off and beat him over the head with it. And I won't pull leather."

Sadler said a whispering campaign has been launched against him by his corporate and greedy foemen.

Lower freight rates, protection of the Texas oil market by lifting shut-in orders on oil wells and discouragement of outside control of Texas industries, were measures proposed by Sadler to better the condition of "my kind of people, the plain people of Texas."

Sadler pledged to avoid foreign wars by exercising powers of the Railroad Commission "to take the profit out of war by stopping Texas oil from being used to fertilize foreign cemeteries just to satisfy the inhuman greed of a handful of money-mad monarchs of misery who would sacrifice your own little boy and your own little girl for profits and more profits."

Miss June Day, of Plainview, is in Spur to spend the summer with her sister, Miss Jean Day, Home Demonstration Agent of Dickens County.

Not Bad Wheat; Though Offered For A Dime

When the April freeze hit this country, W. R. Lewis offered his field of wheat for a dime an acre and could not get a buyer. He said then that any one who would accept his offer would be badly cheated as he would not give that for his field of wheat. He has thirty acres in wheat, and when that freeze hit it there seemed no possible chance of making any grain as the wheat was black the next day after the freeze.

Friday Mr. Lewis asked a combine harvester to harvest his wheat. They covered about eleven acres that afternoon and placed about 250 bushels of wheat on the market. That was almost 22 1/2 bushels per acre, and Mr. Lewis stated the best wheat had not been harvested. It looks as if a lot of people turned down a bargain when they refused to buy the wheat at ten cents per acre.

Another bad feature, Mr. Lewis felt so good to think he was getting a surprise production from his land that he contracted the entire field at a price which looked like a two cents per bushel raise. He felt he was getting another bargain, and the next day wheat was up four cents a bushel. He said, "Well, I am a good loser," and he proved his statement as he stood by his bargain.

However, Mr. Lewis had some real experience in the wheat business, and he said it never pays to grumble because no one knows what the future will bring.

Miss Louise Collier, of Hobbs, New Mexico, spent the week end with her home folks in Afton and also visited with friends in Spur.

Mrs. Johnnie Sparke, of the Highway community, was a Spur visitor Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cline Edmonds and little sons, of Borger, spent several days here the past week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Love and other friends of the city.

SEEKS COURT BENCH

JUDGE HARRY N. GRAVES

Judge Harry N. Graves of Williamson County made formal announcement of his candidacy for Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals of Texas.

Judge Graves succeeded the lamented Judge O. S. Lattimore on this Court and now seeks the Democratic nomination for the unexpired term. He has served with distinction upon the Court after many years in other fields of public service and after more than thirty years in the active practice of law in this State.

"I feel impelled by duty to remain on the Court until the end of the present term and therefore will be unable to make a personal campaign throughout the State. I shall deeply appreciate the efforts of those citizens who feel that my record in public and private life merits continuing my service upon the Court", Judge Graves stated.

Connally Wins Fight For Needy Farmers

Part time work for needy farmers was made possible under the relief set-up by an amendment offered by Senator Tom Connally and adopted by the Senate last week. Farmers, who have met with crop losses and other misfortunes and who are in need will be permitted to supplement their farm incomes by working part time on rural relief projects without being put on the relief rolls.

"We all know", remarked Senator Connally, "that the great bulk of all the relief money in the W.P.A. goes into industrial areas, to the cities. Out in the extreme drought section, a portion of which is in my State up near the Colorado and the Kansas lines, we have the condition that when there is plenty of rain it is a very fertile country, and the farmers make good crops; but in recent years they have been suffering from terrible drought. It ought to be the purpose of the Congress to keep such a man out on the farm and let him carry on his own business; but many of them are going to leave the farm unless they can supplement what they are making by working short periods of time on the W. P. A. Under present W. P. A. rules a farmer cannot be hired to work on a country road for a single day unless he is on relief rolls. This amendment will remedy that situation."

Senator Connally was active also in obtaining the passage of the "Russell Amendment" in the Senate to the Relief Appropriation Bill which provides $212,000,000 to apply in bringing the price of farm products toward parity. Under this amendment those farmers who are taking part under the 1938 Farm Act will receive from the government ten cents per bushel in the case of wheat, two cents per pound in the case of lint cotton, five cents per bushel in the case of corn, one cent per pound in the case of tobacco, and one-fifth cent per pound in the case of rough rice.

Candidate For Governor Speaks

T. S. Brogden, of Stephenville, candidate for Governor of Texas, spoke at Spur Tuesday morning. He has his car equipped with a sound system and was able to make people hear him for a block each way from the corner of Speer's Variety Store.

Mr. Brogden stated that he is in favor of the payment of the old age compensation, thought that Old Mexico should be added to the United States, and expressed his disapproval of woman suffrage.

In speaking of woman suffrage he said that the women were intended to be our home makers and that they could not properly take care of that job and dabble around in politics. He said that if women would get back to the home and give the jobs back to the men, that a lot of the present troubles of today would be solved.

Mrs. Vernon Campbell left Sunday for Lorenzo, where she will spend some time visiting with homefolks and friends.

Alumni Golden Anniversary Edition

O. E. Hans, of the U. S. Geological Survey, permitted us to read a copy of the Stanton, (Neb.) Register of date June 2, 1938. It was a 12-page copy and was devoted to the "Golden Anniversary" of the Alumni of the Stanton High School. There were two members of the first class in 1888, one man and one lady. The only surviving member of the first class is Hon. George A. Eberly, of the Supreme Court of Nebraska, who was selected to address the Home-Coming event this year.

The names of all the graduates for the past fifty years were published in the Register. Electrotypes of school buildings, classes, athletic teams that have won honors, musical organizations, such as the band, orchestra, glee club, choral club and other school activities. Stanton schools have their baseball team, basketball team, football team, and have taken regional honors in the state. Their school was in the national contest at Minneapolis this year. The Register gave many more fine accounts of school activities.

The Register is published by the Font Printing Company at Stanton. The editor is Ervine E. Pont and the advertising manager is Nathan B. Pont. Stanton has about 1,400 population and the graduating class this year had 38 in number. The school faculty and student body, with the assistance of the alumni furnished the subject material for the "Golden Anniversary" edition of the Register.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Clemmons and children left Monday for Amarillo, where they will make their home. They were accompanied by Miss Era Bell Hogan, who will visit for several days.

THE CANDIDATE

Father, who is that man at the gate?
Hush, son, 'tis a candidate;

Too lazy to dig and too proud to beg.
So, over his horse his leg he flings
And this is the song to the people he sings:

"Howdy—Howdy do. How is your wife, and

How are you.
Ah! it fits my fist as no other can,
The horny hand of the working man."

Husband, why can't he work like you?
Has he nothing at home to do?
Hush, my Dear, 'Tis a candidate.

He comes early, and he goes late,
Too stupid to preach,
And too dull to teach.

He praises the ladies dainty grace,
And kisses the baby's dirty face;
And oft he chants this refrain:

Howdy, Howdydo,
How is your wife and how are you?
Ah! it fits my fist as no other can,
The horny hand of the working man.

The above was selected by a voter from an old scrap book more than fifty years old.

Mrs. M. T. Harrell and little granddaughter, Peggy Jane Eley, of Ralls, are in Spur this week visiting with Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Milam.

Farmers Soil Gone With The Wind, But College Course In Conservation Tells How Land Can Stage Comeback

BEN THOMPSON, NATIONAL PARK SERVICE

"Blown-out" wheat fields like the one in the upper picture can be returned to paying crops like those shown in the second picture, according to U. S. Soil Conservation officials. This is but one chapter in a dramatic conservation story to be told by 24 lectures, including 18 federal experts, in a course in conservation of natural resources to open June 8 and run through July 16 at the North Texas State Teachers College this summer. Among the outstanding group of speakers scheduled are Dr. H. H. Bennett, chief of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, and other government men pictured above. All lectures are open to the public. The two farm pictures are of the same field. The lower was taken 10 months after the blown-out wheat land had been terraced and listed to milo maize on the contour.

EDITOR COMMENTS AT-TORNEY GENERAL McCRAW

An editorial from the Woodsboro News, published at Woodsboro, important agricultural and cattle center of South Refugio County—Henry C. Richards, editor and publisher.

"As is his nature, and the reason he is called 'Bill' by everyone who knows him, Hon. Wm. McCraw, Attorney General and candidate for Governor, is grateful to all who assist in any way his candidacy, and whether it's the biggest and most influential daily in the state or a little country weekly like the Woodsboro News that gives publicity to his able speeches and splendid platform, Bill McCraw is grateful. He feels the same way toward individuals, whether their stations in life be ever so humble or 'kings in their own right.' That's one of the reasons why the laborer in overalls and the rich man in his tailor-made suit each know the next Governor of Texas as plain 'Bill.'

Leon E. English, of Lawton, Okla., an independent geologist, was in our city Tuesday greeting friends and looking over the oil situation.

Senator G. H. Nelson Speaks In South Tex.

Senator G. H. Nelson of Lubbock brought his campaign for Lieutenant Governor to Falfurrias with a vigorous attack upon the legislative record of his opponent, Rep. Coke Stephenson of Junction.

Citing the records of the House of Representatives to support his contentions, Senator Nelson declared that "Coke Stephenson missed 47.2 per cent of all votes during six years of his service in the Legislature. In other words, he was gone almost half the time. Even worse than that, Stephenson missed the unbelievable total of 90 per cent of all roll calls at the special session last fall.

"I promise the people that when they elect me as their Lieutenant Governor, they can be sure that I won't run away from my duty. I will stay on the job, and I won't be afraid to vote on controversial bills," Nelson said.

"Last fall when the Legislature was trying to raise money for old age pensions, for teachers retirement, for aid to the blind and dependant children, and to balance the budget, Coke Stevenson deliberately missed 90 per cent of all votes during the session," Nelson declared.

"Coke Stevenson was at one time a candidate for Lieutenant Governor. I wonder if that was the reason he avoided getting on record on controversial tax and economy questions," Nelson asked.

"That was not the only session in which Stevenson's attendance record was deplorable. During the 41st, 42nd and 45th Legislatures—a six year period—Stevenson missed 47.2 per cent of all votes. Playing hooky from the Legislature is a habit with Coke Stevenson," he asserted.

MUST PAY TAXES THIS MONTH TO SAVE PENALTY

Tax Collector J. L. Koonsman called attention this week to the fact that the second half of 1937 taxes must be paid by June 30. Many people took advantage of paying just half of the taxes in January and are to pay the other half before July 1. In order to comply with the law the balance on 1937 taxes must be paid by the close of June 30, which is just two weeks from today.

YOU ARE INVITED FRIDAY

With the announcement in this issue of the Dickens County Times, introducing "Reddy Kilowatt", W. R. Weaver, local manager of the West Texas Utilities Company, made this explanation of the new addition to the company's staff:

"For a number of years, we've been seeking some way in which electric service could be pictured to the public. Practically everyone knows about electricity. But to many persons it is a mysterious force which they believe comes out of the sky. In fact, however, it must be generated at a high voltage, then subdued and more or less served on a platter in homes and business where it may be safely used at a mere turn of a switch.

"In Reddy Kilowatt we believe we have a figure which illustrates electric service in an unmistakable manner—one which immediately suggests electric service."

In order to help acquaint WTU customers with "Reddy", W. R. Weaver said that free balloons bearing Reddy's picture and small pasteboard cutout figures of the little fellow will be presented to all children, accompanied by an adult, who visit the local office Friday.

"We preferred a character such as Reddy Kilowatt because we regard our service as friendly and helpful," Mr. Weaver declared. "We feel that our sentiments could best be expressed by a real, lifelike electric servant. That's how Reddy came into being. He typifies modern electric service as it is available in every home."

A. C. Hull started this week to remodel his building which he purchased recently. He is trying to get it in shape to move the Red Front Drug Store into by the first of the month. Mr. Hull and George Gabriel are joining in laying a new sidewalk and curb at the front of their buildings.

The new home for The Fair Store is about ready for occupancy and that store will be moved soon. The Fair Store is inaugurating a sale this week to clear out part of the stock and to give the people the advantage of prices that otherwise would be spent in moving. Read over their full page list of bargains.

RETURN FROM VACATION AND VISIT

On their return they made a few of the market centers and selected some new merchandise for their store. It should be arriving soon and the people will have an opportunity of seeing the latest from the markets in their store.

Texas cities are in the fore front in number and scope of air-conditioning installations in stores. In the nation, more than 700 department stores now have conditioned air as an aid to maintaining sales regardless of outside weather.

Speedy Restoration of Lights In Clyde After Tornado Destroys Part of City

The job of re-building the picturesque little town of Clyde, struck last Friday by a tornado which took a toll of 14 lives and nearly $100,000 in property damage, includes construction of many blocks of electric distribution lines, according to W. R. Weaver, local manager of the West Texas Utilities Company, who said speedy restoration of light and power in the unstricken portion of the village had been cited as "greatly facilitating rescue work."

Despite the tangled mass of poles and lines, uprooted and hurled into the jumble of splinters from some 20 homes and 19 freight cars, lights were on again in Clyde only 32 minutes after the storm first struck the company's 66,000-volt line a few miles north. The "juice" was cut off almost instantly so that there was no danger from "live wires" when the tornado swirled into the residential section.

"Our service men from Baird, in charge of the electric system at Clyde, were on the scene in 30 minutes," Mr. Weaver said. "The first line went out at 8:27 P.M., lights were on again at 8:59 P.M., and our first emergency truck and crew was in the stricken area at 9:15 P. M., helping to disentangle both living and dead from the debris when the first highway patrol arrived."

Damage to the electric system was estimated at less than $10,000, he said.

"While the storm's visitation was one of death and destruction," said H. H. Monk, WTU district manager of Cisco who was reared at Clyde, "it served to reveal the splendid spirit of cooperation existing in our organization and the capable system built through the years to meet just such emergencies. Towns served by WTU have the protection of a trained staff of men whose loyalty extends far beyond the company itself and into the home of those it serves."

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Laverty and son, James Franklin, returned Monday from a visit with Mrs. Laverty's sister, Mrs. Sam Noblit and Mr. Noblit in Fort Worth. Miss Opal Jean, remained in Fort Worth for an extended visit with her aunt.

GOING THE COOL AIR WAY

The Jimison Barber Shop is an air conditioned place of business now. The air conditioned equipment was installed last week and is working fine. The temperature in the Barber Shop and the Beauty Shop remains around 83 degrees. It can be lowered to 75 degrees, but that is most too cool for customers to leave and enter a hot street. The West Texas Utilities Company installed the equipment.

Mr. Aingrell, of Abilene, representative of the Pure Oil Company was in our city Tuesday attending to business matters for his firm.
