Visual arts is Progressive Study Club program topic

Twenty-two members of the Haskell Progressive Study Club met at Flatlands in downtown Haskell Thurs., Oct. 11 for a program on the visual arts. Club president Oleta Cornelius welcomed the group and recognized the invited guests, members of the Haskell Brazos West Art Club.

Linda Lane-Bloise introduced Suzanne Lane Starr, who told of her opportunity to see the historic Book of Kells while on a visit to Ireland. A calligrapher herself, Starr showed colored slides of the ancient manuscripts, which feature the four gospels painstakingly hand lettered in scriptorium on vellum by monks hundreds of years ago, using sharpened quills. She described the symbolic features and use of various art forms embodied in the intricate artwork.

Brett Anderson, Haskell Church of Christ minister whose handmade, one-of-a-kind wooden boxes are shown at Flatlands, spoke of his hobby and creative feel for the various woods and processes involved. Using domestic woods, such as birdseye maple, the almost seamless boxes, suitable for holding jewelry or gifts, each has a unique top finished with a chemical patina and features a symbolic design etched in copper. Placed inside each box is a verse of scripture relating to the design.

Casey Latham of Munday

presented a showing of her original sculpted clay figures and decorative pieces which are featured at Flatlands. She explained how she formed and baked each of the intricate, colorful one-of-a-kind pieces for special occasions or holidays.

Linda Lane-Bloise told the group about her special recipe for traditional, "twice baked" homemade biscotti, which she bakes in her home, and which is carried by Flatlands.

Kathryn Schonerstedt won the drawing for a door prize from Flatlands.

Hostesses for the meeting were Billie McKeever, Jill Druessedow, Thula Perry and Flatlands owner, Teri Bland.

State Capital

HIGHLIGHTS

By Mike Cox
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Someone has stolen numerous significant pieces of Texas' past.

What happened inside an innocuous-looking building at the University of Texas' Balcones Research Center last summer was not terrorism, but to Texas archeologists and Caddo Indians in Oklahoma the effect has been almost the same.

Sometime prior to the morning of July 28, someone stole a collection of prehistoric Caddoan pottery from the Texas Archeological Research Laboratory's North Austin facility.

Still missing are 24 perfect or near perfect vessels, most of them vintage Caddoan artifacts. (A few were modern reproductions.)

"This is a profound loss to archeology, to art, and to the Caddo," said Mark Parson, East Texas regional archeologist for the Texas Historical Commission.

UT, Austin police, the state and the FBI are investigating the burglary, but so far no arrests have been made and the ancient artifacts are still missing.

"While the motive behind this was not to terrorize, it is an emotional issue with the Caddos still living in Oklahoma," Parsons said. "It is a sad state of affairs, one of the largest cases of artifact theft that I know of."

The Indians are upset, Parsons said, because Caddo pottery generally is associated with a Caddoan burial. To them, the theft is an affront to their ancestors.

To the thieves, of course, it is only a matter of money.

Parsons said he fears the pottery has made its way to the underground Indian artifact black market.

"Pot hunters have been robbing Caddo cemeteries for years," he said. "I've heard stories of them tunneling under roads and even houses to get to graves. It's a tremendous problem in East Texas."

The missing pots were kept in a wired bin on the second floor of the TARL facility. The theft was discovered when someone found that one of the locks on the bin had been severed with bolt cutters.

"Someone got the outside door open without leaving any signs and then went upstairs and cut the locks on the bins," Parsons said. "They even brought replacement locks for some of the bins."

UT archeologists collected some of the stolen vessels in the 1930s, Parsons said. The pots are invaluable to archeologists because they are used to identify other vessels.

"They are used for study and comparison," he said. "They are really invaluable, because they are the basis of classification."

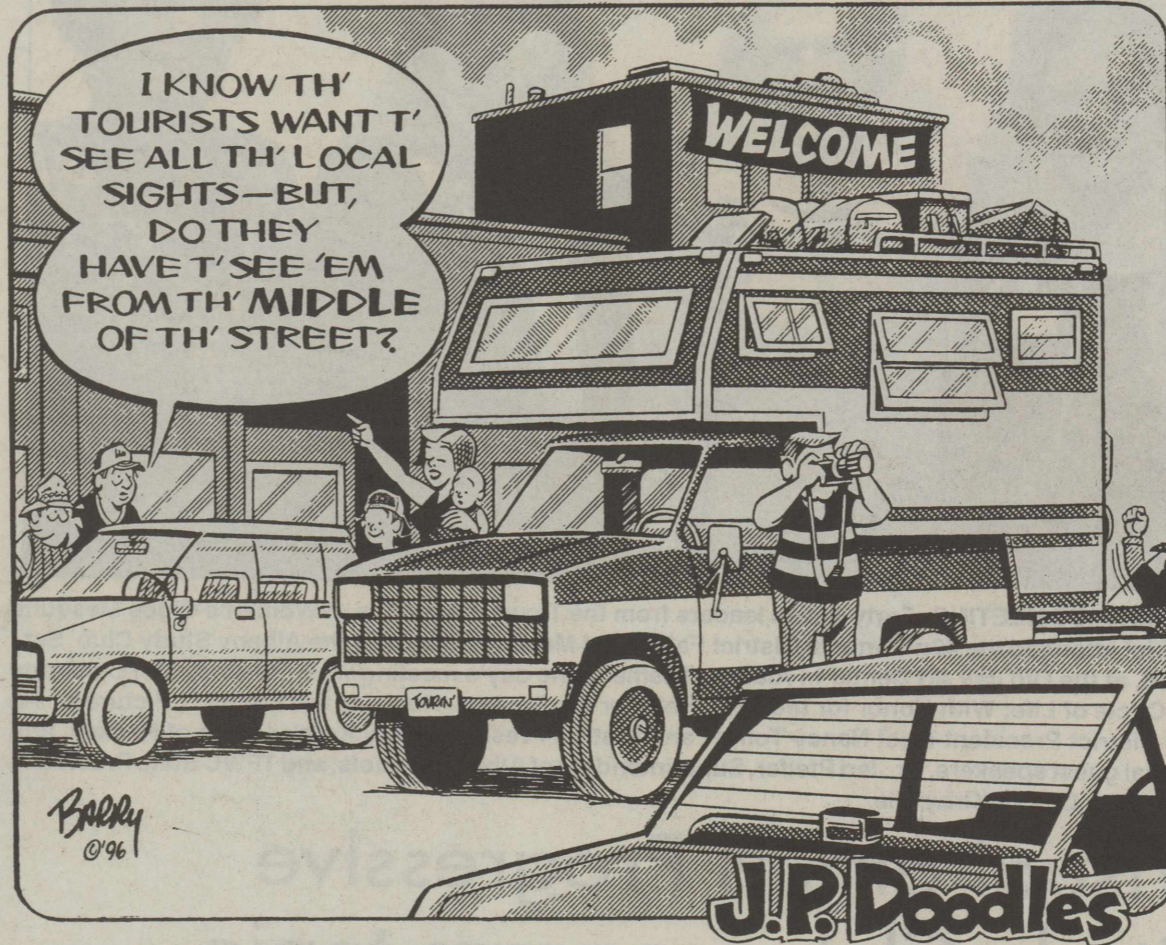

To the thieves, however, the pots have a definite monetary value. They are sold to collectors for big prices, he said. Parsons said one hope for recovery is that the thieves will try to peddle their stolen goods to a conscientious dealer willing to report their effort to police.

"You can help by keeping your eyes and ears open," Parsons said in an email to Texas' archeology community. "If you happen to know collectors who buy artifacts, especially Caddo pottery, please notify them of the theft."

Take your kid hunting
Whitetail deer season starts on Nov. 3, but Texas children can get a head start Oct. 31-Nov. 1.

This will be the state's second annual youth only hunting season. Kids under 16 hunting with a supervising adult can take deer, quail and Rio Grande turkey.

A special $6 resident hunting license is required for a child to take part in the hunt.

From The Inside Out

By Mary Kaigler

After the closing of Lane-Felker, earlier this year, Linda Lane-Bloise, daughter of Frances Lane and niece of Mattie Felker English, founders and owners of the long-time local landmark, wrote the following poignant poem, inscribing it "To mother with love, for all the years of your life: the work, the sacrifice, the dedication, the example, the love—for you."

This tribute from a daughter to her mother and to the legacy of Lane-Felker seems to say something of what many have felt at the going of the local store and all that it embodied.

Friday 13th, July 2001
By Linda Lane-Bloise
The day Lane-Felker went away there were no words to say that last farewell. No way to tell how empty life will feel, now that she's gone.

As empty as the building that still stands there, stripped of all identity and use.

Nameless! Just standing!
Wondering what happened and where it went? The pretty awning hiding from embarrassment—like a classy lady with a stylish hat, sans dress.

Alone! Motionless!
Searching for the memories of what went on before losing what was hers for sixty years and more. Remembering those who entered through that gracious door.

If walls could talk, those walls could tell the stories; they would fill a book of epic magnitude. They held the dreams of two amazing, young, aspiring women who had great energy and ambition too.

She held the cradle of the family's oldest baby and welcomed to her heart three babies more. She set the pace—the time—the place of our life's story.

She was the mother ship we sailed through life upon—she held us up through all our happenings. Our time was on her bells; our heart within her hull; our every act was at her beck and call.

I didn't always really want to be there, and yet, it was the only place for me to be. It was my home; because it held my mother, and where she was was where I wished to be.

It was the place exciting fun things happened; growing up among the racks of clothes, meeting lots of people from all over, bringing in my friends to try on things.

Floats and parades, fitting brides and bridesmaids, trunk shows, fashion shows and furs, fancy gift wraps, Christmas windows, plus handbags and hats. Lane-Felker was really all that!

Remember customers galore? It was really, some store. We served coffee in pretty little cups. We welcomed our friends—we said come right in, for sixty years and more.

Our legacy—our way of life—Lane-Felker, gone forever!

And a part of me feels empty since she's gone. Yet, in another way she really has gone nowhere; for when I close my eyes, I still remember the place that was my home for so long.

Farewell—no need for words.

Letters to the Editor

Dear editor:

To the community, businesses, students, Band Boosters, band directors and everyone who believed in and supported the Mighty Indian Band:

At the beginning of the year, the band set a goal to be better than it had ever been. Since this was advancing year, we worked even harder to achieve a division one rating. It did not come easy. We worked hard, played our hearts out during every performance, had an extreme amount of dedication and spirit, and had excellent leadership and encouragement for our directors. Hard work and dedication DOES pay off. On Sat., Oct. 13, of the ten bands that competed in the 2A division, three made a division one, and we were one of them. We held each other close, locked arms, and silently waited for our results. As the results were announced, screams of celebration went out so loudly that the fans could not hear the results of the other bands.

The Mighty Indian Band could not have done this without the support of our fans and community. The difference between this year and the years before is that there is an unquenchable amount of spirit within the band and the community. All of the support from the businesses, parents, students, and alumni was greatly appreciated. Special thanks to the Fire Department and Police Department for the escort they provided. It was nice to know so many people were behind us and supporting us, and it gave us the extra push to achieve the division one rating we so desired.

The work has only begun. In two weeks, we have the toughest challenge of all: AREA!! We will raise our work ethic but will be looking to the community for your support and encouragement. Thanks once again.

The Mighty Indian Marching Band

Jessica Rieger
Band President

This Week's Devotional Message:

FAITH AND SERVICE CAN HELP US FORGET ALL OUR WOES

We all have times when either things to wrong or else we're afraid they will, and these real and potential calamities seem to come all at once. We worry about our health, our job security, bills, taxes and so on. This can throw us into a real fit of depression, and we often wonder if it's all worth it. But take heart; there are some constructive things you can do while you're waiting for the answers. First, go out and help someone who needs you. This will give you a good feeling and take your mind off your own troubles. Second, attend your House of Worship and pray for God's guidance. Talk to your clergyman, who will also pray for you. Remember that he is there to help you whenever you need him, so just let him do it.

TAX PLANNING

Written By
Gerald Rodgers, CPA

DON'T LEND MONEY TO THE IRS

By the April 16, 2001, tax filing deadline, the IRS had approved over 72 million refund checks totaling nearly $125 billion. The average refund was over $1,700, up 5.5 percent from the prior year. While most Americans happily accept their tax refund checks, smart taxpayers understand that refunds actually cost them money. Here's why:

- The government pays no interest on refunds. Kept in your hands, those dollars could have been productive. For example, you could have invested the money or used it to pay off your debt during the year. If the money had been added to a 401(k) plan, tax would have been deferred on both the investment and its earnings. Even better, your employe might have matched all or part of your investment, adding to your retirement savings.
- Refunded cash is not available for use until actually received. Even though most taxpayers get their checks promptly, circumstances or errors can delay (or stop) a refund.

To prevent losing money on tax refunds, consider reducing your withholding or estimated tax payments. For most taxpayers, withholding must equal either the prior year's tax or 90 percent of the current year's liability. If your annual income changes little, it's relatively easy to avoid overwithholding. Determine the amount withheld so far this year, then subtract that number from last year's tax liability. Divide the difference by the number of pay periods remaining this year. Then ask your employer to withhold that amount each period.

For taxpayers with fluctuating income or multiple sources of income, the problem is more complex. The IRS provides a worksheet with the withholding statement (Form W-4), but many people find the form very complicated. If you'd like assistance adjusting your withholding, contact our office.

Native Americans are Garden Club topic

The Haskell Garden Club met Thurs., Oct. 11 in the Haskell National Bank Building.

Sue Hertel, president called a meeting in order, Mary Kammenga opened with prayer. Betty LeFevre called the roll.

The fall District meeting will be in Abilene Nov. 2-3. Several ladies plan to attend.

The theme "Native America" for the new year was carried and with a wonderful program by guest Ruby Middlebrook. She had lots of artifacts found on one of the Middlebrook farms in Haskell County in the 1970s. Middlebrook showed films on the Indians that lived in this area and the other on Indians that settled in Texas. She had a book written by R.E. Sherrill of Haskell County History. She told of the Comanche Indians being in Haskell County.

Refreshments were served to Grace Hannsz, Sharon Lusk, Mary Kammenga, Erna Peiser, Melyn Wittenborn, Bennie Shelton, Joann Grant, Hazel Hale, Florence Alexander, Betty LeFevre, Sue Hertel, new members Melba Lawrance, Frances Bowen, guest Eunice Larned and guest speaker Ruby Middlebrook.

The next meeting will be Nov. 8. New members are invited.

Groundwater District meets

Seven members of the Rolling Plains Groundwater Conservation District Board of Directors met at the District offices in Munday Sept. 20, with Ed Murphy presiding.

Upon review and discussion, a bid placed by Texas Dept. of Transportation for property held in trust by K.C.A.D. was accepted by the board. Also accepted were several water well permits.

Mike McGuire, General Manager, presented a review of projects for 2001-02, informing the board of those that need to be addressed during the new fiscal year. McGuire gave each member a map showing all the districts within Texas so far.

Not everything about the “good old days” was so good. Ask Ben Wilson. At ninety, he remembers what life was like before electricity: wood stoves, oil lamps. His father was a farmer and when Ben started his own place, in '42, the cooperative hooked him up.

Ben still depends on co-op power for his home. He belongs to a Smart Choice cooperative. What’s “Smart Choice?” We’re a coalition of Texas co-ops committed to making the right decision on electric deregulation.

Smart Choice Co-ops have made it possible for farm and ranch families, no matter how remote, to enjoy the same comforts and amenities as urban dwellers. For rural Texans, co-op power means more than lights and television and farm machinery and household appliances. It means freedom from drudgery, independence from the dictates of corporate boardrooms, and the power to decide their own path to the future. We intend to use that freedom to decide whether deregulation is right for our members.

Electric cooperatives in Texas have been providing power to Texans since 1937. As co-ops, we are non-profit and member-owned. To learn more about deregulation, visit us at our web site, or call your local Smart Choice cooperative.

Haskell Wallops Anson 22-14

The Haskell Indians, unworried about a 14-0 halftime deficit held by the Anson Tigers, went on the warpath in the final two periods. When the smoke had cleared away, the Tribe had nailed down the Tiger pelt for a conference trophy with a 22-14 score and a sweet victory over their traditional foes.

In racking up their win over Anson Friday, the Indians were minus the services of ground-gaining fullback John Kimbrough, injured in the Winter's game. He may be able to see limited action this week against Hamlin.

Anson jumped ahead in the second period with Tiger halfback Thomas McIntire slipping over from seven yards out. Tiger quarterback John Sanders sneaked over from the one for Anson's second TD. Both extra point conversion kicks by Dennis Cooley were good.

Early in the third period, Indian quarterback James Davis flipped a four-yard pass to end David Anderson for a TD and again connected with Anderson for the extra points.

Only a few seconds deep in the fourth, Davis slipped over from the one for a TD and halfback Joe Thigpen ran over the extra points to put Haskell out front.

Thigpen iced the game away a few moments later when the fleet halfback skirted end for the Tribe's third TD.

Packed House Present For The All-Sports Pow-Wow

Transformed into a gold and black Texas Indian Reservation, the Haskell Elementary School Cafetorium was the scene Saturday night where 300-plus Haskellites pow-wowed at the Booster Club-sponsored annual "All-Sports" banquet.

Guest speaker was Emory Bellard, the quarterbacks' inspiration at the University of Texas No. 1 National College team. He was introduced by Haskell head coach C. T. (Sonny) Everett, as the man directly responsible for the development of the Longhorn's "Wish-bone-T" offense.

Coach Bellard set forth self-discipline, a sense of responsibility predicated on a keen sense of true values, and sincere respect for the people we live with as attainments desirable for young people. He closed his original remarks, stating that "it's only through fighting to become a champion that you are in a learning situation for a sense of responsibility..."

"The pursuit of excellence and championship creates the great learning situation for self-discipline, responsibility, and sincere respect."

Lanny Ivy was named recipient of the Dick Gaines Memorial Award, Presented by Mrs. Dick Gaines, it is given for outstanding scholastic and athletic achievement.

Von Marr, president of Haskell Jaycees, presented the Jaycee Sportsmanship Award to recipients in three classes. Football winners: Bob Aycock, Mike Guess, Lanny Ivy Donald Love, Bobby Philpot, Roy Pitman and Terry Chapman, who are the seven seniors. Girls' basketball winner, Paula Mayfield; Boys' basketball winner, Donald Love.

President of the Booster Club and Master of Ceremonies, Virgil Cobb, made presentation of the Booster Club Award to the "most conscientious and sincere" player of the 1969 football season in and out of the game. Terry Indians received the honor this year, Roy Pitman and Terry Chapman.

Glenda Gayle Chapman was named 1969 Basketball Sweetheart and Donald Love was selected Basketball Beau. Sue Wilkinson and Paula Mayfield made the Beau presentation, while Terry Chapman did the honor for his sister Glenda Gayle.

The 1969 season marks the first bi-district championship for the Haskell Indian football team in 17 years. Using this high achievement in state competition as their theme, senior mothers displayed the football helmet and tomahawk in a golden form of Texas in a field of black as stage decoration. Yellow mums, courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Conner, and two golden footballs, district and bi-district trophies, courtesy of the football team, decorated the speaker's table. The gold and black Texas form was repeated in table center pieces. The senior mothers are Mrs. J. W. Aycock, Mrs. Bob Guess, Mrs. Volley Ivy, Mrs. E. B. Love, Mrs. Roy Pitman, Mrs. Jack Chapman, and Mrs. Robert Philpot, chairman.

Unique entertainment by multi-talented Indian athletes featured the Edward Riley, Charles Who Franklin and Lawrence Kilgore trio with a swinging number called "Backfield in Motion." Showmanship and gusto plus a wet whistle are the trademarks of the newest Haskell singing group. Singing the fight songs of the Southwest Conference teams, coached by Mrs. C. T. Everett on the piano, they closed out with the Haskell Indian fight song. A roaring ovation was their reward. Members of this glee club include Ed Riley, Eddie Stewart, Lawrence Kilgore, Terry Chapman, Keith Everett, Ray Kilgore, Jim Bob Mickler, Gary Cobb, Charles Franklin, Eddie Harris, and Jack Smith.

Indians Smother Moguls 61 to 6

The Haskell Indians scalped the Munday Moguls, 61-6, here Thursday night in their final home game of the season—and their next-to-last hurdle in the District 9-A title race.

The impressive win over Munday leaves the Indians, defending champions in 9-A, as undisputed contenders with the Albany Lions in the district's 1950 pennant chase following Stamford's 20-0 defeat of Anson.

Billy Davis, Eldon Ammonett and Edward Ammons sparked the Haskell Indians offense that rolled up 328 yards in rolling roughshod over the hapless Moguls. The works of Scotty Ponder and Troye Raynes in the Munday backfield couldn't come close to matching the power of the Indians.

The two teams battled evenstephen through a scoreless first period, but the Indians smashed out 27 points in a riotous second period.

Ammons kicked seven extra points and scored the first two touchdowns for Haskell. Billy Davis took over scoring leadership in the district with four touchdowns, one on a 56-yard scamper. His others came on runs of, 29 and 20 yards.

Ammonett scored twice, once from the one-yard line and again with a 30-yard intercepted pass. Quarterback Jimmy White climaxed the scoring with a 57-yard sprint in the fourth period.

Dan Ponder scored for Munday on the final play of the game, going seven yards. First downs favored Haskell, 17-6, while the Indians gained 328 yards to 146 for the Moguls.

Weinert Students To Present Two One-Act Plays

On Wednesday night, April 15, at 8:00 p. m., Weinert students will present two one-act plays. The juniors will present "The Neighbors" by Zona Gale, and the seniors will present "Feudin' Mountain Boys" by Le Roma Greth.

Those taking part in the junior play will be Lorenia Caddell, Lee Gray, Caron Guess, Alexia Mayfield, Tommy Miller, Janice Rainey, Debra Struck and Pauletta Wilfon.

The senior play cast includes Donna Adams, Bette Edwards, Judy Gray, Fred Horan, Nick Jimenez, Donnie King and Joey Yates.

HHS Band Will Present Coronation Concert Friday Evening

One of the most outstanding programs of the current school year, the Haskell High School Band's Coronation Concert will be presented Friday evening, April 1, in the High School Gymnasium.

In the colorful coronation ceremony, Miss Leah Ratliff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm.

P. Ratliff will be crowned Band Sweetheart for 1969-70. Miss Ratliff is a senior.

Tommy Coston, Band Captain, will crown Miss Ratliff. Others assisting in the ceremony will be Shirley Atchison escorted by J. D. Stocks, Shirley Norman escorted by Basset Owens, Gail Ratliff escorted by Jim Connally, and Barbara Elliott escorted by Dave Hiebert. The band will furnish background music.

The concert will begin at 8 p. m. There will be no admission charge, everyone is invited to attend.

Weinert Bulldogs Lay 90-6 Score On Mattson

The powerful Weinert Bulldogs, in a display of the mighty passing and running strength which carried them to the district championship in 6-man football last year, overwhelmed the lighter Mattson Mustangs with a one-sided 90-6 score Thursday night on the Bulldog field.

It was the first conference game for both teams in the 1950 6-man title race.

The Mustangs, their first string ranks thinned because of injuries to Glen Darden, Roy Forehand and Johnny Johnson, were powerless to halt the Bulldog scoring spree.

Lone touchdown for the Mustangs was made by Alfred Peiser. Weinert racked up five touchdowns in the first half, with Bobby Therwhanger making three trips over and teammate Kenneth Owens accounting for 2 TD's with one conversion after touchdown by Bill McGuire.

In the last half of the game, Kenneth Owens made four journeys to the pay zone, with Johnny Sargent, Sam Adams, Wayne Phemister and Josslet adding one each. Bill McGuire converted once, while Wayne Josslet added three conversions after touchdown.

Outstanding for the Mustangs were Peiser and Moeller, with Owens and Therwhanger starring for the Bulldogs.

Indians B-Team Lowers Boom On Anson, 22-8

The Haskell "B" team, showing a fine team effort, downed Anson "B" team 22-8 Thursday night, Sept. 20, in that city.

Haskell struck pay dirt first when James Perkins smashed off right tackle for a 65-yard run. The try for extra point was no good. Haskell's defense was tremendous for the entire ball game with Gary Conner, Dicky Frierson, David Wilson, Bill Perry and Troy Burson leading the way.

Haskell again crossed the goal line when end Jimmy Larned took a 10-yard pass from Quarterback Ronnie Jeter on Haskell's 20-yard line and raced 80 yards for the TD. End Freddy Kreger threw a fine block to help his teammate to score. Tailback Eddie Hester went around his own left end to make the score 14-0 at the end of the first quarter. During the second quarter, James Perkins scored from around his left end on a 45 yard run and Quarterback Ronnie Jeter made the extra point. Score at the half was Haskell 22, Anson 0.

Anson scored on a pass play in the 4th quarter. After getting three tries for the extra point, Anson finally made it. That's the way it ended, 22-8, in favor of Haskell. The Indians play Albany at Albany this Thursday, Sept. 27, at 5:00 p. m.

Indians Down Paducah, 16-8

The Haskell Indians defeated the Paducah Dragons, 16-8, last Friday night in their final home game of the 1980 season.

The Tribe offense had difficulties getting started and only made two first downs during the first quarter and about 35 yards rushing.

Paducah threatened to score early in the second period and moved the ball to within 12 yards of a score before the Tribe defense stopped them.

The Indian defense also held Paducah on the four yard line midway in the second quarter.

The first TD of the game came early in the third period on a 40 yard run by Albert Enriquez. The PAT was good.

Late in the same quarter, the Tribe moved the ball to inside the 10 and a 24 yard field goal by Enriquez gave the Tribe a 10-0 lead.

Mid-way in the final period, Indian Barry Tidrow pounced on a Paducah fumble in the end zone for the final Tribe TD.

Three plays later Paducah scored their lone TD of the night. The Tribe moved the ball to within seven yards of another score late in the game but were stopped on fourth down.

Indians Win, 32-26, Over Big Spring Steers

The Haskell Indians invaded the ranks of Class AA football here Friday night to defeat the Big Spring Steers of District 3-AA, 32-26 and maintain the Indians undefeated record of the season.

Superb performance of the Indians in rolling up the thrill-packed, decision over the heavier and stronger Steer squad kept the excited throng of fans and partisans on edge almost every minute of playing time in one of the best-played and cleanest games on Indian Field in recent years, with the scoring lead alternating between the visitors and the tribe until the Indians took a commanding lead in the 4th period which stood up until the final whistle.

Husky Eldon Ammonett, Haskell fullback who played one of the best games ever seen on Indian Field, and Billy Davis, all-district triple-threat, carried the burden of victory.

The first period was scoreless even though the outmanned and outweighed Indians had to halt a Steer drive on their 4 yard stripe.

Haskell lead off in scoring early in the second quarter when Davis intercepted Bobby Cobb's pass, intended for Dub Day on the Steer 32 and ran the distance.

Edward Ammons who broke his collar bone in the Rule game and has been limited to extra point tries because of the injury, failed to kick the point.

Bobby Wheeler, flashy Steer back, tied the count when he broke over left guard and ran 26 yards to score. Conversion failed and the score stood 6-6 at the half.

The Steers forged ahead early in the wild-scoring third frame when Robert Cobb threw a 30-yard pass to Ray Gilstrap who ran the remaining 23 yards for the tally. Gilstrap kicked the extra point to make it 13-6.

Billy Davis took the next kickoff on his own 15 and took off off on his own 15 and took off on a sensational touchdown gallop through a Big Spring team which seemed stunned into inaction.

Again the conversion was no good and Big Spring stayed ahead by a single point.

Bobby Gross widened the lead midway in the period, when he circled his right end from eight yards out to score. Gross failed on the extra point try.

Ammonette, a powerhouse all the way, marked up the next Indian score, crashing through the Big Spring line to go 55 yards. Ammons Kick tied it up, 19-19, at the end of the third.

Haskell grabbed the lead it held for the remainder of the game, when early in the fourth Billy Davis went over from the 5 on a pitchout. Ammons converted.

Fifth TD for the Indians came late in the fourth when Ammonette intercepted a Big Spring pass from Cobb intended for Wheeler, on the Steer's 25 and blasted his way to pay dirt. The kick for extra point was no good.

With only 35 seconds remaining to play, Big Spring scored again, Robert Cobb ogging around his right end from the 9 to climax a series of plays good for 65 yards. Gross kicked the point to make the score 32-26.

One of the greatest defensive games of the season was turned in by Ernest Strain, 208-pound Senior Indian tackle and Seniors Rufus Dodson and Royce Mullins were standouts as defensive backs.
