Anson Tigers defeat Indians

At the expense of the Haskell Indians, Fri., Oct. 19, the Anson Tigers ran their District 8-2A record to 2-0. Before a Homecoming crowd at Indian Field, the Tigers took advantage of several Indian miscues to post a 31-0 win.

At the 1:19 mark in the first quarter, Anson's quarterback Levi Ramos scored on a one-yard QB sneak. The two-point conversion was also good as running back Lawayne Douglas crossed the goal line. Anson used an 8-play, 25-yard drive to get this initial TD of the evening.

At the onset of the second quarter, Anson used a 2-play, 15-yard drive to score again. Running back Douglas got the call and crossed the goal line after a 9-yard run. The PAT kick by Jamie Garcia was good. Throughout the first half of play Haskell either stopped themselves or Anson's defense seemed to make some good plays. Either way, the Indians failed to mount a threatening attack during this half of play. Anson was able to tackle Haskell's running back Eddie Guzman in the end zone for a safety at the 7:43 mark of the second quarter. In this explosive quarter for the Tigers, they would get on the scoreboard one more time. At the 6:05 mark on the clock, Douglas went 23 yards for the score. Again Garcia kicked the

Hand grenade found in Haskell

A call coming in to the Haskell County Sheriff's Office last week from a concerned citizen reporting that he had found a hand grenade in a field on a farm south west of Haskell, quickly sent officers to the scene. What they found was a World War II type pineapple grenade with the spoon and pin still intact.

Unknown as to how long it had been there before being found, the explosive was in a canvas bag along with a small transistor radio, a wrist watch, two bars of soap and an old leather watch band set with silver and turquoise stones.

Dyess Air Base and the Abilene Police Bomb Squad were immediately contacted. The Abilene Bomb Squad arrived and picked up the grenade, carrying it back to Abilene to be disposed of. It was unknown Monday whether it was a live grenade.

Haskell County Sheriff David Halliburton warns anyone having any old military type ordinance around their house or farm to please be careful with it.

"If you find some old ammo or other items that need to be disposed of, please call the Haskell County Sheriff's office or the local Police Departments, and we will make sure that it is taken care of," said Sheriff Halliburton. He added that in case of large items that might still be armed, let the law enforcement offices know and they will look at it before moving it. "Other small items can be brought to the office or we will come to your residence and pick it up. If you have any doubts about any items, please contact us," he said.

The Sheriff cautioned everyone to please be careful handling any type of ammunition or other type of ordinance. "If you have any information about the items found, or how they arrived at the place they were found, please contact the Haskell Sheriff's Office. Again I thank the public for their help. It takes all of us working together to keep Haskell County safe and a good place to raise our families," the Sheriff said.

Noah Project group meets

Bivins, Phemister repeat vows

MRS. RICK PHEMISTER

Emmalee Bivins and Rick Phemister, both of Haskell, were united in marriage October 6 in a backyard ceremony at the home of the bride's grandparents, Joe and Dorothy Clark of Sagerton.

The bride is the daughter of Don and Patsy Bivins of Valley View. The groom is the son of Doris Jean and Max McMeans of Haskell and Wayne and Linda Phemister of Austin.

A Western theme was carried out in all decorations. The bride's chosen colors of burgundy and gold were used throughout the wedding and reception area which featured lighted tulle swags and burgundy bows. Bales of hay were used in part of the seating area and were marked with gold and burgundy bows and flowers. The bridal couple exchanged vows before a gold arch covered with tiny white lights, greenery, tulle and burgundy roses.

The registry table was covered with a burgundy underskirt and cowhide covering accented by small bales of hay topped by a boot filled with burgundy roses. Water filled containers throughout the area held floating candles, and Western luminaries outlined the entry area.

Minister Jeff Gore of Cedar Park officiated and Wayne Phemister offered the prayer.

Ray and Nancy of Stamford were in charge of the music, which included "I hope you Dance" and "I Could Not Ask For More" as the Prelude. "Sunny Slopes of Yesterday" was playing during the seating of the family. The professional was the Theme from Lonesome Dove. The recessional was "On the Trail," also music from the sound track of Lonesome Dove.

The bride's dress by Michelangelo was a white satin short-sleeved off-the-shoulder gown with dramatic sequin and pearl appliques, an over skirt of tulle with satin border that ascended in the back to feature a satin bow at the waistline. The chapel length train was embellished with beaded lace, iridescent sequins and pearls. The bridal veil of iridescent tulle was designed and made by the bride and her grandmother and featured a headpiece of pearl cascades complemented by a satin border to match the bridal gown.

For the traditional something old the bride carried a handkerchief belonging to her great-grandmother and namesake, Emma Baitz Raphael.

Something new was her wedding attire, borrowed was the pearls from her grandmother and blue was her garter.

Matron of honor was Tami Woods of Seymour. Bridesmaids were Melissa Bulls, sister of the groom of Haskell and Anna Marie Wills, cousin of the bride of Montgomery. Flower girl was Jesika James of Flower Mound.

Best man was Gregg Sanders, cousin of the groom of Munday. Groomsmen were Clay Bulls, brother-in-law of the groom and Max McMeans, the groom's stepfather, both of Haskell. The ring bearer was Jonah Bulls, nephew of the groom, of Haskell.

Ushers were Thomas Bivins, brother of the bride, of Valley View, and Jimmy Roberts cousin of the groom of Haskell. Candle lighters were Joe Roberts and Tye Worthington.

The groom and his attendants all wore black jeans, boots, old West white shirts, burgundy vests and black Western hats.

Deshea Phemister of Haskell and Misty McMeans of Abilene presided at the guest book.

Following the barbecue meal served by relatives and friends of the couple, a reception and barn dance was held featuring the music of the Jody Nix Band from Big Spring.

The barn was illuminated with strands of white lights and tables held centerpieces of boots, roses and large candles wrapped in rustic barbwire.

The bride's heart-shaped table was covered with a burgundy cloth and featured four cakes of various sizes on pedestals with fresh flowers and baby's breath atop each. Bridesmaid bouquets, candles and the punch bowl completed the decor.

The groom's table was covered with a burgundy underskirt and groom's Grandfather's saddle blanket. Saddles were at the base of the table. A cowboy sculpture and spurs were used as decorations surrounding the groom's favorite peach cobbler, cooked by authentic old Western chuckwagon.

A children's table was set up with kool-aid, cheese balls, animal crackers, and M & M's. It was covered with a cowboy-printed cloth. A child's saddle, spurs and tiny horses completed the western theme.

In keeping with the Western theme, an antique wheelbarrow, belonging to the bride's great-great grandfather was used for the vials of birdseed used for the "going away" gifts to the couple.

The bride is graduate of Denton High School and Aladdin Beauty College, and attended Cooke County Junior College. She is office manager for Cellular-One in Haskell.

The groom is a graduate of Haskell High School and attended Abilene Christian University.

He is engaged in farming and ranching and is an owner of Heads or Tails Western Wear in Haskell.

The couple will make their home in Haskell, following a honeymoon in Colorado and New Mexico.

Pumpkins

Lou Gilly
Haskell Co. Extension Agent

The pumpkin patch yields more than just jack-o-lanterns and holiday pie filling. The festive gourd is really quite versatile. Half a cup of pumpkin yields a full day's supply of vitamin A.

Pumpkins are also low in calories as long as you don't plopp a heaping spoonful of whipped cream on top. Fresh pumpkin can be substituted in recipes that call for winter squash or sweet potatoes and are delicious in puddings, custards, and soups. You can also cut them into chunks and steam them with salt, pepper, and nutmeg, or mix them with apples, pears, rhubarb, and other fruits and vegetables.

Pumpkins taste good with rice in a casserole and the seeds can be made into a snack by roasting them at 375 degrees for twenty minutes.

For cooking, select smaller, five to eight pound pumpkins. They can last through the winter if stored in a cool, dry place.

State Capital

HIGHLIGHTS

By Mike Cox
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — That highway construction project your city or county may have been counting on may be put off for a while.

The problem is a shortfall in Texas' highway fund, the money source for the state Department of Transportation.

At one point earlier this month, the balance in that fund dropped to as low as $4. While $4 million is still a lot of money, it's only a drop in the proverbial bucket for an agency with an annual budget of some $5 billion.

Lower-than-projected vehicle registration revenues caused the shortfall, a factor of the general slowdown in the economy. Also contributing to the problem was higher than anticipated payments to contractors able to work extra days on projects because of good weather.

Since that low point, the fund has been recharged with some $100 million in gasoline tax revenue. But that will drop again when the transportation department has to meet another payroll and fund general operating expenses and necessary road repairs.

TxDOT's 25 district offices have been asked to suspend pending road projects. The process of deciding which projects will be delayed still is under way.

In addition to postponing construction projects, the department will put off promotions and pay raises until December, or perhaps longer. The money problems won't impact the legislative pay raise all state workers got effective Sept. 1, however.

Also going on the "one of these days" list will be planned replacements and upgrades of some transportation department buildings.

Mold problems persist

Getting rid of mold is not easy. Neither is the controversy that has grown up around the issue.

After the last of four public hearings on the issue of insurance coverage for mold damage, State Insurance Commissioner Jose Montemayor announced he was organizing a task force to take a look at the way mold claims are adjusted and to develop standards for mold cleaning companies.

The hearings were to get public input on an Insurance Commission staff recommendation that household mold coverage be capped at $5,000. The staff proposal also would require insurance companies to make available additional coverage up to full policy limits. That would enable homeowners to buy coverage at levels of 25, 50 or 100 percent of the policy limit.

At the final hearing, neither the insurance industry or consumer groups were particularly happy with the proposals.

Homeowners and consumer advocates want a higher ceiling than proposed, at least $15,000. Insurance companies, on the other hand, say the proposal would only make the mold coverage crisis worse by increasing their liability.

Neither mold or household insurance are new phenomenon or concepts, of course. If mold is caused by water leak or some other covered form of discharge, household insurance will pay for mold testing and cleanup.

The problem has been the rising number and the extent of claims. That caused the three largest insurance companies in the state to stop writing homeowner policies or limit coverage. Some providers also increased premiums.

Montemayor says he intends to continue to receive written public comments on the proposal through Oct. 29. He will make his decision shortly after the cutoff date, he said.

For more information, visit the insurance commission's website at www.tdi.state.tx.us.

From The Inside Out

By Mary Kaigler

These clear, early fall mornings when I first wake and look out the front windows of our second floor bedroom, I see the American flag displayed in our neighbors yard across the street, and it makes me both proud of and prayerful for our country. Seeing that flag in silhouette against the blue and gold eastern sky of daybreak, I'm conscious of all the beauty it represents and I'm reminded again of the thoughts of a poem from John S. Swift Co., Inc.

"Stand up for the flag of America, wherever you may be.

Respect it and protect it, for it shall keep you free.

Free to do what you want to do, and say what you want to say.

Free to go where you want to go, and pray the way you want to pray.

Stand up for the flag of America, for all the world to see.

Stand up for the flag, that Star-Spangled Flag, that stands for you and me."

Last Sunday morning when First United Methodist Church musicians Nelda Lane and Amy McKnight played "God Bless America" during a few moments of silent prayer-time meditation, it became a poignant, beautiful time of reflection about just how much we in this country have to thank God for; things that we may have become arrogant about in thinking we accomplished on our own.

Listening, I found it hard to pray anything other than silently repeating and hearing the words of the song in my heart. It was cathartic and left me blessed.

On September 10, Americans viewed athletes as heroes, vacations as necessities, and the Pledge of Allegiance as something to be recited as a prelude to the next event. Patriotism was an emotion perhaps only associated with the Fourth of July and singing "My Country 'Tis of Thee."

September 11 stunned America. In the course of a few minutes, life changed forever for us; no longer did we feel safe and protected. The very foundations we thought were ours forever were shaken and we were shaken by it, not wanting to believe it even in the face of stark and brutal reality.

Suddenly, in the course of one morning, common men and women became the heroes of this country. The work force halted while people of all races and religions mourned and prayed together. We as Americans came together in our grief and we continue to feel compassion and send our condolences and help to the families of the men and women whose lives were lost or altered by the horrendous attack.

As we continue to move through uncertain times, which are no doubt ahead for us, even in ways we don't now visualize, let us fly the flag of freedom, pray the universal prayer of "God Bless America," and work together for peace on earth, asking God to let it begin right here with each of us.

Safe Halloween costumes

Lou Gilly
Haskell Co. Extension Agent
With Halloween close by, people are trying to decide which costume they will wear, but it is important to keep safety in mind, especially for children.

They need to fit well, with extra room for warm clothing underneath in case it is cold. But, the costumes should not be flowing. Flowing garments can catch fire from candles and jack-o-lanterns, so costumes should be flame retardant as well.

Costumes should be light in color or have reflective strips so children can be seen at all times. Make sure children do not cross the street without reflectors and supervision, and as an adult, be sure to drive slowly in neighborhoods.

Masks are okay, as long as the holes around the mouth, nose, and eyes are large enough not to restrict breathing or vision. Wearing the mask on the top of the head, then pulling it into place as each house is approached is a smart idea.

And, don't forget comfortable shoes. Children will be walking a lot and the experience could be ruined if their feet hurt.

Stenholm is accepting academy applications

Congressman Charlie Stenholm is currently accepting applications from young men and women in the 17th Congressional District who are interested in attending one of the nation's service academies.

This December Congressman Stenholm will have the opportunity to nominate area citizens for appointments to the four U.S. academies: the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colorado; the Military Academy in West Point, New York; the Naval Academy in Annapolis, Maryland; and the Merchant Marine Academy in Kings Point, New York.

Persons interested in the possible nominations should contact the Congressman's Washington, D.C. office as soon as possible. The deadline for completed application files is December 1, 2001.

To be eligible for appointment, the applicant must meet certain requirements. The requirements are American citizenship; good SAT or ACT scores; outstanding high school record; and good physical condition, including excellent eyesight. A very limited number of waivers are available for nonpilot candidates whose eyesight is less than 20/20.

Aside from academic achievement, emphasis is also placed on character, church, and community involvement, extra curricular activities an/or part time employment. Applicants must be single with no dependents and at least 17 years of age, but not past their 23rd birthday upon admission to the academy on July 1, 2002.

Additional information may be obtained from high school guidance counselors or by contacting Jayne Schoonmaker if Congressman Stenholm's Washington, D.C. office at (202) 225-6605 or by writing to: 1211 Longworth House Office Building, Washington, DC 20515.

Trick or Treat the Safe Way!

Trick or treating can be safe and fun if you follow these simple but important tips.

- Keep children away from lit jack-o'-lanterns.
- Make sure costumes are not so long that your child could trip on them. Reflective tape should be put on all costumes—especially dark-colored ones. Also, painted faces are better than masks since masks almost always affect vision.
- Instruct children not to eat any treats before you have inspected them.
- Trick or treat only in well-lighted neighborhoods—preferably only at homes where you know the occupants personally.
- Carry a flashlight and walk on sidewalks, not on streets. Warn children not to run between parked cars to cross the street.
- Inspect treats closely. Candy with torn wrappers or any packaging that looks like it has been tampered with should be immediately thrown away.
- Fruit should be washed and cut into small pieces before eating.

This Week's Devotional Message:

GOD'S LOVE HAS PAINTED THE BRILLIANT COLORS OF AUTUMN
 The heat of summer's on the wane
 And cooler breezes fill the air.
 Though sunny days will still remain,
 We soon will see the branches bare.
 But first, the beauty to behold,
 Of this, the climax of the year;
 With leaves that turn to red and gold
 Before they fade and disappear.
 For whether maple, elm or oak,
 Or other kinds, they turn to brown;
 And soon, the pungent smell of smoke
 Will prove they all came drifting down.
 The lessons of our chosen creed
 Are there to help us understand
 The love that God displays, indeed,
 When autumn's beauty paints the land.
 -Gloria Nowak

In Support of Proposition 7 as listed on the November 6, 2001, General Election Ballot

PROTECT OUR WATER!

VOTE YES ON PROPOSITION 19!

In the November 6th constitutional amendment election, we have an opportunity to continue protecting our most vital natural resource -- our water -- and help guarantee future access to adequate water supplies by voting YES on Proposition 19.

Proposition 19 authorizes the issuance of general obligation bonds to enable the Texas Water Development Board to provide loans to communities across Texas for much needed water-related projects like new water towers and wells, as well as water and wastewater treatment facilities.

Consider the following:

- Texas' population is expected to double to almost 40 million by 2050;
- Projected demand for water is expected to increase 18 percent over the next 50 years; an increase of more than 900 billion gallons of water;
- Over the next 50 years, we will need $108.6 billion to improve Texas' water-related infrastructure.

"If our children and our children's children are to enjoy the same access to clean water that we enjoy today, we must plan ahead now."

-- Rep. David Counts
Chairman, House Natural Resources Committee
