Indians win over Quanah in Tribe contest

The Haskell Indians used a strong ground game to dominate the Quanah Indians to the tune of 44 to 13. Playing their last non-district game, Haskell scored early and late.

Running back Travis Adams scampered 56 yards to score in the south end zone, and Gerrardo Torres added the PAT kick. Four plays, 67 yards, and Haskell led 7-0.

On the next possession of the football, the Indians moved 48 yards on seven plays and QB Matt Brown scored on a one-yard run. Again, Torres added the PAT via his kick.

Running back Greg Guzman scored on the next possession, with a four-yard run, and Torres kicked the PAT. The Indians scored on their first three possessions of the pigskin.

For the 4th straight TD, Haskell running back Justin Rodriguez ran for seven yards, and Torres added his 4th straight PAT kick. QB Brown would cross the goal line on a 3-yard run, and Torres would again kick the PAT.

Torres added the final points of the first half for the Indians with a 21-yard field goal with only 33 seconds left to play in the half. Quanah would get on the score board with a beautiful 62-yard run by Matthew Hill. The Indians of Quanah added the PAT kick to make the score at the intermission, 38 to 7 in favor of the Indians of "H-Town."

In the fourth quarter, Quanah would score one TD, and so would Haskell's Greg Guzman. The try for the 2-point conversion failed.

The Haskell Indian defensive unit held Quanah to only one first down and 12 plays during the first half. Very impressive, to say the least. Haskell remains undefeated as they begin District 5 AA play against Colorado City at Indian Field Friday night.

The Haskell Indians had 53 rushes for 330 yards on the ground. Brown had 16 carries for 82 yards and two TDs. Guzman got 44 yards on eight rushes and two TDs. Justin Rodriguez had five carries for 33 yards and one TD. Josh Rodriguez had eight rushes for 52 yards, and Adams had one TD on 16 rushes for 119 yards.

The Indian defense had two "picks," one by D.J. McCulloch, and one by Justin Rodriguez. This unit also recovered three fumbles.

The JV Indians will play Colorado City in Colorado City on Thursday at 6:00 p.m., while the 7th and 8th grade Warriors will play in Rochester at 5:00 p.m. Thursday.

The 3 and 0 Varsity Indians will open District 5AA play against the Wolves of Colorado City, Friday at Indian Field. Kick off is at 7:30 p.m.

Brister, Rowan named 4-H Gold Star winners

by Jane Rowan
CEA/FCS, Haskell County

Two Haskell County youth received the county's highest 4-H Club Award at the annual 4-H County Awards Program held Sept. 17.

Candace Brister, daughter of Greg and Debbie Brister of Haskell; and Kiel Rowan, son of Keith and Jane Rowan of O'Brien are the recipients of this year's Haskell County 4-H Gold Star Award. This award is presented annually to deserving Haskell County 4-H'ers. To be considered for this honor, a 4-H'er must possess excellent leadership and citizenship abilities, must have outstanding academic credentials, and must have responsibilities outside 4-H club work in their church, school and community activities.

In recognition of their award selection, Brister and Rowan both received $50, a Gold Star Certificate and a plaque compliments of the donors to the Haskell County Awards Program. In addition, they along with their parents will be guests at the District 3 4-H Gold Star Banquet to be held in Haskell Nov. 20.

Brister is an active member of the Haskell Sr. 4-H Club and has been actively enrolled in 4-H for eight years. During that time she carried several main projects including Foods & Nutrition, Clothing & Textiles, Sheep, Photography, Community Service and Leadership. She has participated at the County, District and State levels for several years in Foods & Nutrition, Photography and Clothing & Textiles. She has received the Clover Award, Silver Star Award, and Dan Forth "I Dare You" award. She has won various titles and showmanships with her lambs at county, area and major stock shows.

Her leadership includes 4-H Club president, giving programs to the Haskell Kindergarten classes and to the Haskell Rotary Club. She participates in the Ag In The Classroom, has helped give tours at the San Antonio Livestock Show, prepared dishes for the "Do Well, Be Well" diabetic meetings. She has judged at area County 4-H Food Shows and has given demonstrations at 4-H Food & Nutrition workshops. Brister is very active in golf at Haskell High School where she is a junior. She is a member of the First Baptist Church in Haskell.

Rowan is an active member of the Rule 4-H club and he has been a 4-H'er for the past eight years. Projects he has completed in include Foods & Nutrition, Photography, Safety, Dog Care, Beef, Horse and Swine. He was a member of the State winning Meat Science Educational Presentation team in 2005. He has won 4-H Rookie of the Year, Clover Award, 4-H Silver Star and the Dan Forth "I Dare You" award.

Rowan has also been two time

Reserve Champion Roper at the State 4-H Horse Show. His leadership in 4-H includes holding the offices of president, vice-president, treasurer, and District 4-H Delegate. Rowan has represented 4-H through being a presenter for Ag In The Classroom, group leader for Farm Safety Day Camp, and being a Gold Star banquet server. He is actively involved in rodeo sports and Texas State High School Rodeo where he has won various honors in a variety of events.

He is a junior at Rule High School.

Christmas cookbook

Rolling Plains Correction Facility will publish a cookbook named "A Haskell County Christmas Cookbook." To submit holiday recipes or pictures of days gone by in Haskell County to Susan Cockerell at the Courthouse in Haskell, Karen Smart at the school in Rochester, Billie Walker in O'Brien, Carla Thornton at Rule City Hall or Brenda Sanders at Weinert Gin.

All recipes and photos must be received by Oct. 31. Profits will benefit the Committee to Help Haskell County.

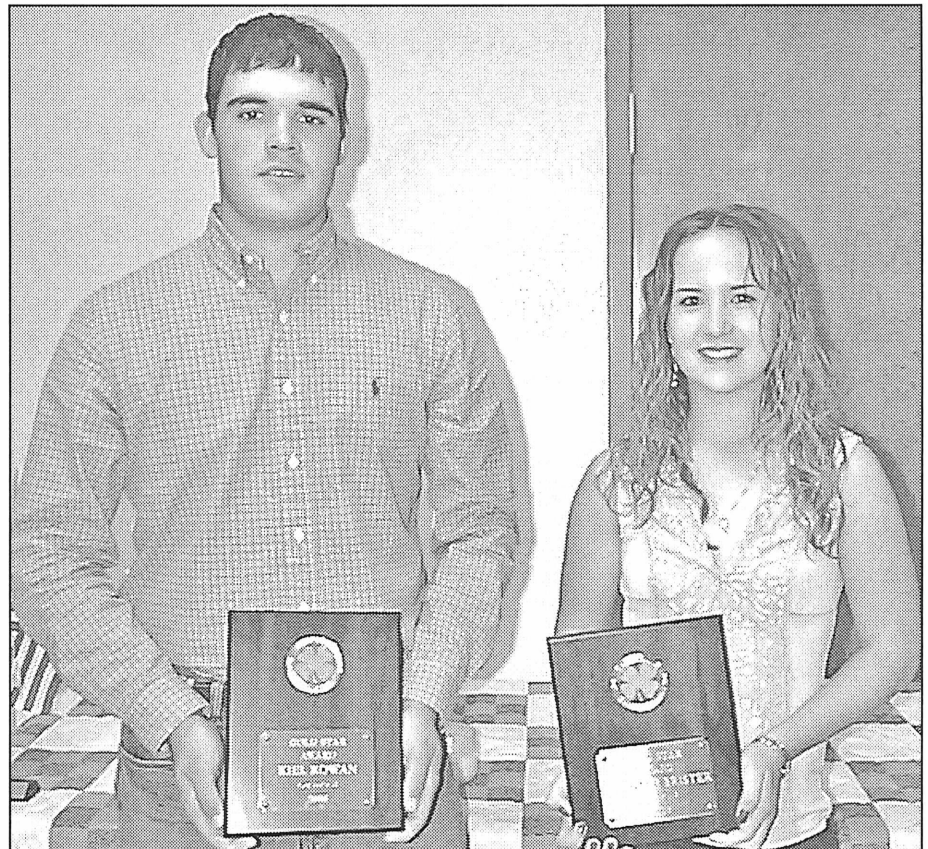

For more information contact, Sheila Hester or Vickie Garcia at 864-5694 or email shester@emerald.companies.com or vgarcia@emerald.companies.com or mail P.O. Box 877, Haskell, Texas 79521.

Auctioneer to try-out

Haskell resident B. D. Rainey, auctioneer with the Shamrock Livestock Auction of Shamrock, Western Livestock Auction of Midland and Haskell Livestock Auction of Haskell, will be among 29 contestants beginning their quest for the title of 2007 World Livestock Auctioneer Champion at the Sulphur Springs Livestock and Dairy Auction in Sulphur Springs, Oct. 25 at noon. It will be one of four for regional World Livestock Auctioneer Championships.

Contestants must be at least 18 years old, and employed by a livestock market. The contest is an actual sale site, with buyers on the seats. Contest judges will be market owner/operators. They rate each contestant on vocal clarity and quality, bid-catching ability and the conduct of the sale.

GOLD STAR RECIPIENTS—Kiel Rowan, left and Candace Brister were 4-H Gold Star recipients recognized at the 4-H County Awards Program held Sept. 17.

CRP payments to begin Oct. 2

Glenn R. Brzozowski, Haskell County Executive Director for USDA's Farm Service Agency, announced that on Oct. 2, FSA will begin issuing some $142 million in Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) payments to eligible producers in Texas. More than $1.7 billion in CRP payments are being made on 36 million acres across the country. "The Conservation Reserve Program is celebrating its 20th anniversary this year of working cooperatively with America's farmers and ranchers to conserve and preserve the soil and water that we, and numerous wildlife species, depend on for survival," said Brzozowski. "These payments represent an investment in the nation's land that will pay dividends in the form of a cleaner environment today and for generations to come."

The payments are annual rental payments earned on the 4.0 million acres enrolled in fiscal year 2007. Producers holding 25,399 contracts on 18,334 farms will receive an average of $7,764 per farm or $35.21 per acre. The number of contracts is higher than the number of farms because producers may have multiple contracts on a single farm. This payment announcement does not include rental payments for 1 million acres recently enrolled under CRP general sign-up 33, held from March 27 to April 28, 2006. Payments for new CRP acreage will be issued starting in October 2007.

Other CRP payments are made throughout the year, including a 50-percent reimbursement of expenses for establishing cover and incentive payments for enrolling eligible conservation practices, such as wetland restorations and conservation buffers. In fiscal year 2007, these payments are anticipated to total about $195 million nationwide.

Under CRP, producers voluntarily retire environmentally sensitive cropland for 10 to 15 years. Land to be enrolled must be either highly erodible, contribute to a serious water quality problem, provide important wildlife habitat or provide substantial environmental benefits if devoted to certain specific conservation uses.

For more information on CRP, producers should contact the local Farm Service Agency (FSA) office at 940-864-2435 or visit FSA's Web site at <http://www.fsa.usda.gov>.

Joseph Clyde Williams

JOSEPH CLYDE WILLIAMS

Funeral services for Joseph Clyde Williams, 95, of Haskell were held Mon., Sept. 25 at First Assembly of God with Rev. J.C. Amburn and Rev. Bruce Ray officiating. Burial was in Willow Cemetery under the direction of Holden-McCauley Funeral Home of Haskell.

Mr. Williams died Fri., Sept. 22 at a local nursing center.

Born Dec. 7, 1910, he was the son of the late Joe Dennis Williams and Laura Bell Newton Williams. He married Effie Bell Dennis Nov. 5, 1933 in Haskell. She preceded him in death July 21, 1991. His family moved to Haskell when he was eleven months old and later moved to Weinert where he grew up. For 21 years of his life, he lived in Arkansas and Amarillo. In his lifetime, he owned 55 cars. He sang gospel songs in a quartet at the local nursing homes on Tuesday nights. Years ago, he sang on the radio as a member of the "Amarillo Stamps and Baxter Quartet." He was president of the Haskell County Singing Convention for seven years. He accepted Jesus Christ as his Lord and Savior in 1934 at a revival with his wife at the Open Air Tabernacle in Weinert. Since then he shared and sang the word to as many people as possible and read the Bible every day. He was a member of the First Assembly of God in Haskell.

He was preceded in death by his parents; wife, Effie Bell Williams; daughter, Janice Williams Grayson in 1995; three brothers, three sisters and two granddaughters.

Survivors include sons, Jimmie Williams of Sulphur, Louisiana and Kenneth Williams of Haskell; daughter, Doris Williams Brock of Rule; eleven grandchildren and several great grandchildren and great granddaughters. PD. NOTICE

Rochester sets homecoming parade

A parade will be held in downtown Rochester Sat., Oct. 14 beginning at 3:30 p.m. in celebration of Rochester's one hundredth anniversary. Descendants of A.B. and Annie Carothers will serve as Grand Marshals, honoring those who laid the foundation of the town. Jerry Harris, Rochester class of 1957, will provide narration.

Everyone who has called Rochester home is asked to join ranks for this event. Floats, vintage vehicles, tractors, horses, wagons, bicycles, golf carts, pedestrians—all are welcome as Rochester is honored in this once in a life-time celebration. Let your imagination be your guide or let freedom ring in expressing patriotic appreciation for liberty that made growing up in Rochester a unique American experience. Representation is encouraged from classes, organizations, churches, businesses and individuals—celebrating all of the things that have shaped our lives and made us who we are.

Recognition will be given in several categories of parade entries. For more information, contact Susan Turner at 742-3347 or s57_turner@hotmail.com, or Teresa Scoggins at 742-3486 or tscoggins50@hotmail.com.

Extension Education Club members attend convention

The Haskell County Extension Education Club attended the annual TEEA State Conference in Lubbock, Sept. 12-14.

Members who arrived on Tuesday could choose from Early-Bird workshops: Accessory Touch, T-Shirt Quilting, and Window-Sill Gardens.

The opening session began with award presentations and introduction of state candidates. Entertainers were Jacob and Jordan Hackett, ages 10 and 12, who played western swing music on the guitar and fiddle.

Wednesday began with a general session, followed by educational workshops. Workshops scheduled by delegates were: "Little Old Ladies from Pasadena," a quick course in car care and maintenance; "Caveat Emptor, Buyer Beware," how to be an informed buyer, and handle complaints about a company or service; and "Antique Depression Glass," a program on assessing and identifying Depression glass. Other workshops offered for members were "Recycled Projects," "Pioneer Women's Handwork," and "Constructing a Tomato Cage Santa Claus."

The speaker was Sue Roseberry, singer, songwriter and storyteller, who did a program entitled "Flash from the Past." Roseberry drew upon stories from her life that caused all to reminisce and chuckle. "Who says you can't laugh while you learn?" is the theme that flows through her work, in programs to inspire young and old alike.

An apron contest was held with the winners modeling their aprons. Categories were antique, holiday, unusual fabric, crochet and child-size. Wednesday evening, each Given in marriage by her father, the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Williams of Odessa and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Quintana of Lubbock. Her grandparents are Mrs. Evelyn Blevins of Lovington, New Mexico and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Williams of Odessa.

Mr. and Mrs. Wes Kittley are parents of the groom. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Kittley and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Rhoads, all of Rule.

The unity candle stood on a four-foot column decorated with greenery and a long tulle bow. The bride's mother lit a taper signifying the bride's family, and the groom's mother lit a taper signifying the groom's family.

The bride and groom lit the unity candle signifying a family unity, while the music "Keeper of the Stars" by Tracey Byrd was played.

Zachary Kittley, brother of the groom, read scripture from Genesis 2:18-24.

The maid of honor was Katie Mousavi of Lubbock and the best man was Jonathan Kittley, brother of the groom, of Lubbock.

Clancey Gruben of Odessa, brother of the bride, and Zachary Kittley seated guests.

The reception was held in the backyard of Susan Harrison and was hosted by the bride's parents, groom's parents and Harrison.

The bride is a 2006 graduate of Frenship High School and is attending South Plains Junior College. She is employed at South Plains College in the learning and testing center.

The groom is a 2006 graduate of Frenship High School and is attending Texas Tech University. He is employed by Texas Tech University in the track department.

After a wedding trip to Las Vegas, Nevada, the couple resides in Lubbock.

Around Town

By Joyce Hawkins

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Cockerell of Abilene visited Margaret Tatum and Joyce Hawkins Friday afternoon and took them to supper.

Dustin Grimes of Lewisville visited with Joyce Hawkins on Sunday afternoon.

Darlene Conn, Julie Conn, David Conn and Mary Ann made a business trip to Amarillo last weekend.

Fannie May Barton celebrated her 82nd birthday on Sept. 10 with a trip Sept. 7-13 to Fort Worth to the home of her daughter, Kip and Kaye Derrick. On Sept. 8, her granddaughter, Kristy Waltman and children, Rachel, Austin and Hollie came from San Antonio.

On Sept. 9, Kaye Kristy and three children and Fannie May took an automobile trip to Olatha, Kansas where they observed many large fields of beautiful sunflowers. They also passed many areas forest fires had burned all the trees. They spent the night in Olatha where Kristy enjoyed visiting with three of her nursing friends who worked with her at a Kansas City hospital. Kristy and her husband, Brian, once lived in Greenwood, Missouri, where Brian served in the Army National Guard. They moved to San Antonio when Brian's unit was activated. Brian now serving in the Texas Army Reserve in San Antonio.

Sept. 10 they traveled to Greenwood and Kansas City, Missouri viewing the many statues there. In Desloge, Missouri, Fannie May stayed with sister-in-law, Gin Eaton. Kaye, Kristy, Rachel, Austin and Hollie stayed with niece, Jo and husband, Rob Rabadeux in Bonne Terre, Missouri.

Sept. 11 Kaye, Kristy, Rachel, Austin, Hollie and Fannie May's nieces, Jenny Jennings and Carol Jarvis of Leadington, Missouri all visited the St. Louis Park and Zoo.

On Sept. 12 all the families met at the home of brother and sister-in-law, Rev. Lou and Patsy Barton in Park Hills, Missouri. They were joined by their two daughters, Beck and Abby and their children and Patsy's sister, Sammie Koonce.

Sept. 13, they were in Springfield, Missouri for a short visit with Milford and Lori Vaughn and daughters Sophia and Natalie, all friends of Kristy's family. They spent the last night in Lawton, Oklahoma. Upon returning home, they visited with Erma Liles in Haskell before returning to Fort Worth and San Antonio.

Gubernatorial race gets scrapper with Nov. 7 on horizon

AUSTIN—With 40 or so days between now and Election Day, candidates for governor are punching hard.

Gov. Rick Perry's reelection campaign accused opponent Carole Keeton Strayhorn, in her role as state comptroller, of allowing insiders to secretly set tax policy.

But Strayhorn's campaign countered that the comptroller's tax policy committee conducts open meetings and discloses its actions.

In another salvo against all opponents, Perry touted himself as the only candidate who is thinking big enough to prepare Texas for its future transportation needs.

Strayhorn's counter to Perry has been to appear around the state at public hearings on his proposed Trans Texas Corridor project.

In these forums "One Tough Grandma" regularly knocks the incumbent governor for signing a "secret" deal with CINTRA, a Spanish roadbuilder that has partnered with San Antonio-based Zachry on the Trans Texas Corridor contract.

Strayhorn's camp has in effect called the multi-billion dollar project fiscally irresponsible and a problem for homeowners, ranchers, farmers and businesses that would find themselves displaced in a new superhighway matrix.

After calls by open government advocates to make the Trans Texas Corridor construction contract public, Attorney General Greg Abbott ruled the contract is public information. But the contract is still under wraps because CINTRA has sued to keep certain parts of it confidential.

Meanwhile, Hill Country independent Kinky Friedman was admonished by the Texas NAACP for using racial slurs in an old standup comedy routine and as recently as a year ago on the campaign trail.

Also taking Friedman to task for racially insensitive language were Strayhorn, Perry, Democrat Chris Bell and state Rep. Garnet Coleman, D-Houston.

Also, Perry's camp blasted Friedman for changing his position on border security many times, and criticized Bell for wanting to appoint a panel of experts instead of giving details on how he would improve public education.

Decision to come on money gifts
People who hold public office must report gifts they receive to the Texas Ethics Commission.

But what if a gift is a check? Presently, reporting rules are vague: vague enough to allow an official to report that he received a check from Jane Doe, but not the dollars and cents written on it.

The Texas Ethics Commission, the state agency that handles such matters, has been asked to decide if check amounts need be disclosed.

A decision on the matter is not likely to occur until after the election, if at all. Why? With the Texas Legislature convening in January, lawmakers will be able to rewrite the state election law, where campaign finance tuning takes place.

State Reps. Fred Hill, R-Richardson, and Elliott Naishtat, D-Austin, plan to file legislation requiring disclosure of amounts.

Child identification effort begins

From now through October, 2 million Texas school children in grades kindergarten through sixth will bring home child identification kits and letters to parents or guardians.

Each kit will contain an inkless fingerprint card, two swabs to obtain a child's DNA from their saliva, and a laminated wallet card to keep an updated photograph and physical description of the child, according to a governor's office news release.

Funding for the program comes through a $1.8 million state grant to the Sheriff's Association of Texas, plus private donations.

Hurricane Rita's first anniversary

Sept. 24 marked the one-year anniversary of Hurricane Rita. The storm, clocked at 120 mph when it hit Sabine Pass, pushed a wall of water inland from the Gulf of Mexico.

Rita inundated communities from the shores of the gulf and many counties inland, taking lives, and more than $10 billion in property.

committee must agree on the need for the emergency grazing extensions before they are finalized. Once approved, producers may graze on CRP land until the extended November 30th deadline.

"Extremely dry weather conditions have created significant hardships for agricultural producers in Texas," said Glenn R Brzozowski, FSA State County Executive Director for the Haskell County FSA. "This emergency relief measure will provide feed and forage to producers who have lost hay stocks and grazing lands because of drought."

In mid-July, USDA also announced that CRP rental payments will be reduced by only 10 percent instead of the standard 25 percent on CRP lands that are grazed in 2006.

CRP is a voluntary program that offers annual rental payments and cost-share assistance to establish long-term resource-conserving cover on eligible land. USDA may allow producers to graze or hay on CRP acreage under certain conditions such as during times of drought or other natural disasters.

Farmers and ranchers can graze no more than 75 percent of the stocking rate. They also can only graze 75 percent of a field or contiguous field that is enrolled for wildlife habitat.

In total, 30 eligible states were granted an extended deadline for emergency livestock grazing on CRP acres. A partial list of states includes

USDA to conduct survey

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's National Agricultural Statistics Service (USDANASS) will conduct the Vegetable Chemical Use Survey this fall to gather reliable, objective information about pesticides, and fertilizer used on vegetable crops. Information gathered from growers in 12 states, including Texas, will be used to set state and national estimates on the use of pesticides on 29 vegetable crops.

A local interviewer from NASS will contact vegetable growers in October to collect information on vegetable crops such as pesticides and fertilizers used, acres treated and rates applied.

"Because of the challenges and unique issues facing today's vegetable growers, participation in this survey is vital. Only by contacting growers directly can NASS compile and publish the most reliable statistics possible," said David S. Abbe, director of the USDA-NASS Texas Field Office.

"These statistics will give growers an opportunity to tell how they use agricultural chemicals responsibly to produce a safe and abundant food supply for the United States and the world," Abbe added. "Survey results are official USDA data that help clarify the facts about chemical use in agriculture. This information is used in the decision-making process for the Food Quality Protection Act, which has an impact on pesticide registrations, re-registrations and product alternatives."

USDA-NASS closely guards the confidentiality of all survey responses. "Data collected from individual operations are combined with other responses to provide the needed data. We will not disclose any data about an individual operation," Abbe said.

NASS will publish the Vegetable Chemical Usage report with state and national estimates of vegetable growers' use of agricultural chemicals in July 2007. For a copy of this report or to obtain other agricultural statistics visit the NASS Web site www.nass.usda.gov or contact the Texas Field Office at 800-626-3142. Find agricultural statistics for your county, state and the nation at www.nass.usda.gov.

City Council Report

The Haskell City Council met Mon., Sept. 25 with Mayor Ken Lane, Mayor Pro tem Sue Medford, Councilmen W. L. Wolf, Jimmy Roberts, Bob Smith and Lonnie Meredith, City Manager Brandon Anderson, City Secretary Louetta Wallace, City Attorney Shane Hadaway.

The meeting was called to order by Mayor Lane and the invocation was given by Councilman Meredith.

On a motion by Councilman Smith, the council, with regrets, approved the resignation letter from Councilman Wolf.

County Commissioners Bobby Don Smith and Kenny Thompson discussed dispatching expenses requested from the City of Haskell.

A discussion was held by the council and Commissioners Smith and Thompson concerning the prison road off of Highway 277.

On a motion by Councilmen Smith and Roberts, the council approved the E. D. C. budget for 2006-2007.

On a motion by Councilman Roberts, the council approved the contract with Kent Oil Company.

A discussion was held about the relocation of the City Barn.

On a motion by Councilman Smith, the council approved the resolution by the City of Haskell authorizing the filing of an application with the Office of Rural and Community Affairs for the Community Development Block Grant Program.

On a motion by Commissioner Smith, the council approved the contract with North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority.

Joe Higgins of TxDOT, gave an update on the highway construction project as follows:

When it is completed, the intersection at Hwy. 380 and Hwy. 277 will not be left as it is at the present time.

Some of the parallel parking areas are temporary, and some will be permanent.

The paving is not finished. Intersections are rough and high right now, but are not finished.

Contractors will be pursued to clean up behind their work in a timely manner.

Median is a big concern east of Hwy. 380, but is designed, when finished, for 18 wheelers to be able to turn.

Traffic lights are staying the same. There is a concrete riffraff on north side of the creek.

The goal is to start on the square in January. The city will have to put in conduit after the project is started in preparation for accent lighting at a later time.

In the city administrator report, Brandon Anderson said that in the matter of landfill receivables, the city will be transferring the landfill billing to the new accounting system, and will probably leave off some uncollected debt that it has had on the books for some length of time.

Anderson said the sewer plant has had a rotor down for about three months, and the city is having trouble getting someone local to do the work on the rotor.

He also noted that energy rates for the City of Haskell are locked at .08325 cents.

Before adjourning, the council approved the paying of all outstanding bills.

Maintaining soil conditions

Maintaining the moisture balance around your home's foundation is important to its health.

Water enough to keep the grass green near the foundation, but not so much that the ground becomes soggy.

Make sure plants and edging don't interfere with the proper drainage of water away from the foundation. If an existing plant is removed, be sure to refill the hole with dirt and compact it to prevent water from collecting near the foundation.

Groundwater District to establish future condition

Legislation passed by the last session of the Texas Legislature calls for the groundwater districts of each groundwater management area (GMA) to establish a desired future condition (DFC) for the aquifer. GMA 6 encompasses 26 counties that cover all of the Seymour Aquifer. Five groundwater conservation districts are currently in GMA 6.

These districts, working with the Texas Water Development Board, with input from the public, political subdivisions and Regional Water Planning Groups are charged with establishing a DFC that will be used in the state water plan, Water for Texas. The state water plan is a long range assessment, with a planning horizon out to the year 2060.

In other news, in a ruling issued just before the Labor Day weekend, the 8th District Court of Appeals of El Paso has upheld the groundwater regulations and sustainability rules of the Hudspeth County Underground Water Conservation No. 1. The unanimous decision in the District's favor came in an appeal from the decision of a Hudspeth County district court's ruling in Cause No. 3703-205 (Guitar Holding Company, L.P. vs. Hudspeth County Conservation District No. 1, et al), which had confirmed the validity of the rules the District adopted in 2002. In addition to upholding the District's authority to regulate groundwater pumping to protect the sustainability of the Bone Spring-Victorio Peak Aquifer, the court of appeals held that the District's use of its rules did not deny equal protection or vested rights to the challenger (Guitar Holding Co., L.P.).

In another matter of significance to cash-strapped groundwater districts, the court of appeals upheld the right of the District, as the prevailing party in a challenge to its rules, to recover attorney fees and other costs incurred due to the litigation. The opinion, authored by Justice David Chew, can be found online at <http://www.8thcoa.courts.state.tx.us/opinions/html/opinion.asp?OpinionId=63966>

The rules upheld by the court of appeals were the basis for a series of permits issued by the District that limit production and exportation of groundwater based on the sustainability of the Bone Springs-Victorio Peak Aquifer.

The court of appeals ruling is the first comprehensive judicial review of regulatory efforts by local districts to protect local groundwater resources that were made possible by the major legislative reforms in Texas' groundwater laws. "The court of appeals ruling is a shot in the arm to local groundwater districts, like Hudspeth, that take positive steps to protect their groundwater, while protecting the rights of property owners and allowing exportation," said Talley Davis, President of the Hudspeth District. "It shows the wisdom of the idea of groundwater management through a local groundwater district that the Texas Legislature put into law."

The Hudspeth District is almost 100 miles east of El Paso, at the foot of the Guadalupe Mountains.

HERE'S TO YOUR HEALTH... AT HOME!

Brought to You By:

Haskell Home Health Agency

Dear Misty,

What is home care?

Home care can be for anyone. It involves a wide range of health and social services that can be delivered at home to recovering, disabled or ill person in need of medical, nursing, social or corrective treatment and/or assistance with the essential activities of daily living.

What kinds of services are available to me in my home?

Many types of services are available through home care, including: nursing, physical therapy, speech therapy, medical social services, and home health aide services.

How am I eligible for home care?

If you have Medicare benefits, you may be eligible for home care: if the care is ordered by a physician; if you experience a normal inability to leave your home; or if absences from your home are infrequent, or of short duration, and you have a need for skilled nursing services, physical or speech therapy. Most private insurance companies will cover home health benefits that are ordered by a physician.

What questions regarding home care do you have for the nurse?

Send your questions to Haskell Home Health Agency, 417 S. First, Haskell, TX 79521 or call 940-864-5074 or 1-877-864-5074.

HERE'S TO YOUR HEALTH—AT HOME is brought to you by Haskell Home Health Agency providing home care services in Haskell, Knox, Stonewall, Throckmorton and Jones Counties

FSA Website has new look

The State Farm Service Agency (FSA) has launched its redesigned website at www.fsa.usda.gov/tx. The new look and navigation will enable users to easily find information about FSA's programs and provides guidance for conducting USDA business online.

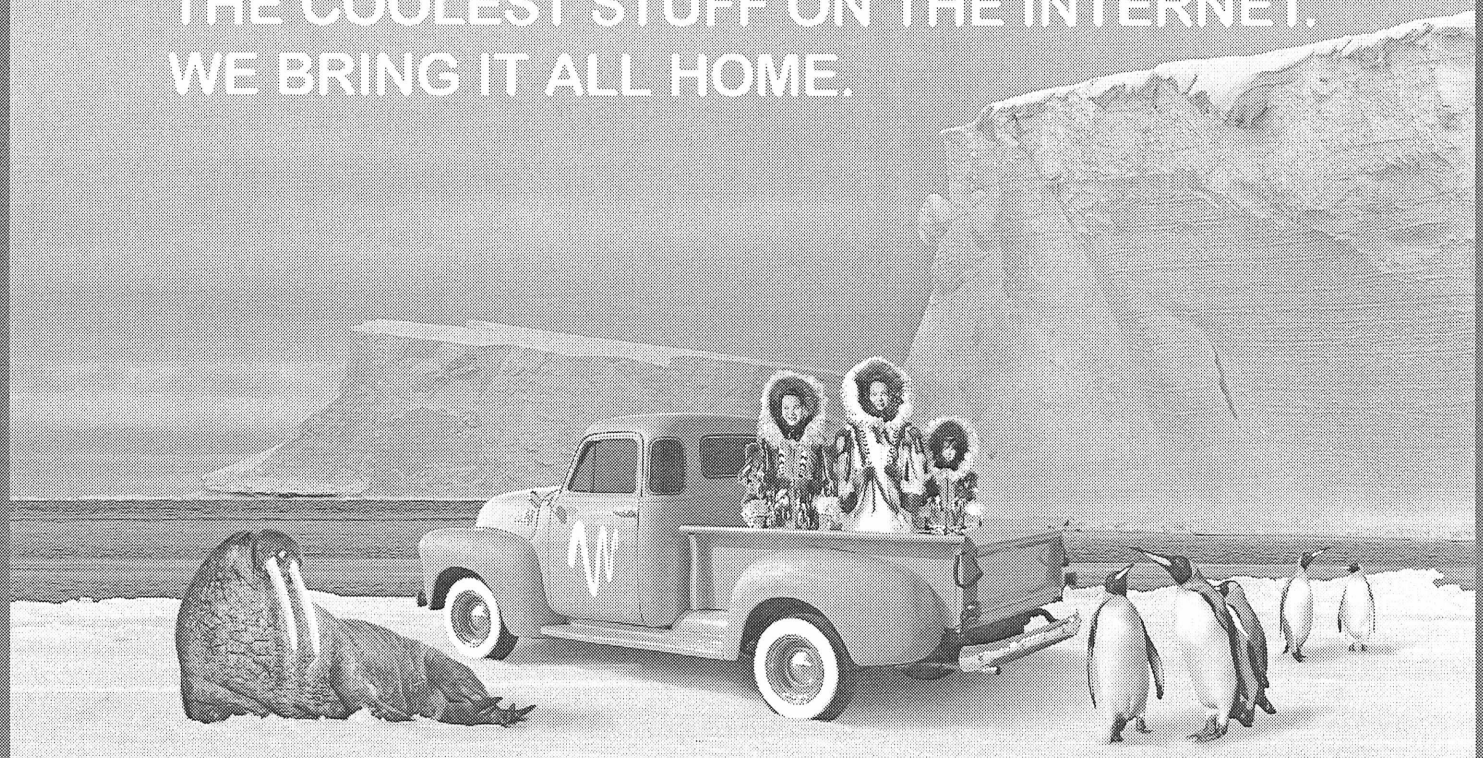

"We hope the redesigned site improves our customer service. As FSA continues to move toward web-based applications, it is imperative that we help our producers with this transition making the process as easy and user-friendly as possible," said Glenn R. Brzozowski, County Executive Director for the Haskell County FSA.

In addition to a new look, FSA has added a more effective search tool for finding specific information. Other new features include "Hot Links" and "I Want To" sections that provide users quick links to popular FSA functions as well as other important agriculture information. Users can also view state news releases, newsletters and a FSA events calendar outlining activities across the state of significance to production agriculture.

"I encourage people to visit the new site and let us know how we can improve the website to better serve you," Brzozowski stated. "This web site transition is evolving on a daily basis. We live in a culture of instant gratification—our new and improved web site will provide real-time information on FSA issues directly impacting the state agriculture industry."

To submit an online comment or suggestion, visit the new Texas web site and click on the comments link at the bottom of the home page.

STORYTIME—Paula Rennegarbe shares the stories about “dogs” with children at the Haskell County Library last Thursday. Attending were I-r, Elizabeth Stowe, Rennegarbe holding Jon Townsend, Heavenly Perez, Elise Townsend and Justin Townsend. The topic for Thurs., Sept. 28 is 5-A-Day. Storytime begins at 10 a.m.

This Week's Devotional Message:

FAITH ENCOURAGES US TO BE WILLING TO COMPROMISE

Whenever some major problem is debated, both sides tend to go to extremes in their efforts to solve it. Most of these arguments have been in the areas of foreign policy, economics and criminal justice, and the latest one is the environment. Some people are convinced that our planet is doomed unless we mend our ways immediately, while others dismiss all environmental concerns as just political hogwash. Perhaps the answer lies somewhere in the middle, and undoubtedly we could all use a little more common sense and restraint. At our house of worship, we learn to “love our neighbor,” so we should be willing to have open-minded discussions of these problems that could have such a profound effect on all of our lives.

We deeply appreciate all of the prayers and concern shown to our family in the days following the death of our mother. Your visits and words of comfort have meant a great deal to our family. Thank you for the beautiful flowers and cards, food, memorials and for being there when we needed you.

Our heartfelt thanks to Lupe Gonzales, Esabel Garcia and Ethel Slaughter for their loving and faithful help and support. To Rev. Fred Garvin and Rev. Thural Reid, Bobby O'Neal and Lois Ann Ballard, we extend our sincere appreciation for a beautiful service of special words and favorite songs that meant a lot to our mother. She was a special lady, and we miss her greatly.

The family of Claudia Faye Hewitt Reid

A very special "Thank You" goes out to the following for their generous contributions of cash, gift certificates, and merchandise donated for the "4th Annual Kids Fishing Tournament" on Sept. 2:

Academy, Adams Cotton Harvesting, Alsbrook Farms, Albert Alvarez Jr., The Anchor, B & B, Bennie Bredthauer, The Carousel, Cecil's Country Market, Citibank of Haskell, Dairy Queen of Haskell, The Drug Store, First National Bank of Haskell, Haskell National Bank, Haskell Abstract & Title, Haskell Vet Clinic, Holden-McCauley Funeral Home, K & L Outdoor Adventures, M & M Auto Plus, Matlock & Associates, Bill Markunas, Moeller Seed Cleaning, Sam and Twyla Pace, Pep Boys of Abilene, Pogue's Meat Processing, Red Rooster Restaurant, Richardson's True Value, Rike Real Estate, Riley Construction, Rule Banking Center, Smitty's Auto Supply, Sonic of Haskell, Sport-About, Bailey Toliver Chevrolet and Ford, Tracker Boating Center of Abilene, Video Mania and Wal-Mart of Stamford.

Shelby Morrow volunteered her time to register participants and distributed draw prizes. Benny Gibbs weighed in each of the 66 fish brought to the scales. Big Country KVRP helped spread the word with radio spots. The Haskell Free Press, Karl Kieke of The Abilene Reporter News, and The Stamford American published articles about the tournament.

Without each of these folks and several windows in town displaying flyers, the "4th Annual Kids Fishing Tournament" would not have been such a success. Please thank each one for caring about kids the next time you see them.

$565 was paid out in prize money to contestants as well as donated prizes after the tournament ended. The remaining $544 will be equally divided between Haskell Boy Scout Troop 136 for camping expenses and to the Haskell Experienced Citizens Center for their never ending needs.
