He was a member of the First Christian Church.

Junior Class Will Present Annual Play Friday Night

The Junior Class of Haskell High School is presenting their spring production, "Don't Take My Penny" in three acts, Friday night March 14. The play is directed by Miss LaVera Riley. Penny is played by Nancy Ratliff with a supporting cast of sixteen, who are all more or less involved in a scheme to keep sixteen-year old Penny from going to Hollywood. The parts are all good, from lisp-ing and prattling models to Sally, the maid who prefers chickens to Hollywood in spite of the fact she was once a child star. There are two college boys who pose as a great author and a sinky model, which is fine until the real author arrives to select a star for the movie version of his novel. Mademoiselle Henri, a French designer, played by Anne Katherine Rike, shows off her latest gowns in a riotous scene of the play.

The play has everything—youth and charm and plenty of laughs. The curtain will go up at 8:00 on this delightful comedy, which is a royalty play, presented by permission of the Dramatic Publishing Co. Don't miss it!

The cast includes: Sally, a maid with a purpose—Jane Gentry. Norman Porter, a publicity man—Gene Brown. Penny, a pretty little miss—Nancy Ratliff. Caleb, her absorbed father—Raja Hassan. Mark, her farm-minded brother—Glenn Marugg. Mavis, her attractive sister—Genevieve Bailey. Lydia, her busy mother—Anita Jo Pittman. Joanna, her loyal girl friend—Lois Helweg. Kerry, her resourceful boy friend—Don Nanny. Greg, his pal with ideas—James Strain. Gram, just herself—Marie Mullins. Mademoiselle Henri, a French designer—Anne Katherine Rike. Claire—Jolene Hattox. Elsie, pretty young model—Betty Jo Adkins. Lucile—Ruth Alvis. Red, a delivery boy—G. W. Mullins. Harrison Day, a young author—Marvin Hancock.

Youth Counsellor Addresses Civic Groups, Students

Dr. H. L. Pritchett, it can be most truly said, will need no introduction to the youth and adult groups of Haskell after his series of lectures in the two day institute held at the Haskell High School here Monday and Tuesday of this week. Home and Family Life Education is one of the chief interests of Dr. Pritchett as was shown in his lectures presented to the Haskell Parent-Teacher and other civic groups. To this position he brought a varied background of knowledge and experiences in the realm of parent and child relationships which make a wholesome, well integrated personality. "Do You Want To Grow Up" was the theme discussed to the Haskell High School students on Monday morning. The response given by the youth group was enough to thrill the heart of any lecturer. Dr. Pritchett proved to the group he understood thoroughly the needs of youth by relating many experiences in the field of student counseling at the Southern Methodist University, Dallas. As expressed by many members of the Lions Club, "Those who missed hearing these lectures brought a great opportunity to hear the outstanding educator who has been in Haskell for many years." Dr. Pritchett was presented to the Haskell people by The Woman's Foundation and The Hogg Foundation.

Building of New Highway Hinges On Right-of-Way

Construction of a 9-mile paved road connecting the Paint Creek school with Highway 24 at a point approximately five miles east of Haskell depends solely on whether property owners along the route of the proposed extension are willing to cooperate in providing right-of-way, county officials pointed out this week. Commissioner M. E. Cobb, in whose precinct the paved road would be built, explained this week that the county would move all fences necessary along the new route, and replace them in as good condition as at present, but that the county was not financially able to purchase right of way nor to build new fences along the proposed extension. Construction of the paved road has been approved by the State Highway Department, and the all weather stretch would be built and maintained by the State, he pointed out. Commissioner Cobb said he did not know how much time the highway department would allow for securing the right-of-way, but he is anxious to determine as soon as possible whether property owners are willing to cooperate in securing the paved road, he said.

O'Brien Over Top In Red Cross Drive

Committee chairman in other towns and sections of the county are winding up the drive this week, and Patterson urges that each chairman report to the Red Cross office as soon as possible in order that results of the campaign can be reported to national headquarters.

"I'll be fired for that fool story!"

The managing editor of the New York Herald took a day off on December 21, 1879. So this headline in his paper hit him without warning.

EDISON'S LIGHT—IT MAKES A LIGHT, WITHOUT GAS OR FLAME!

The public promptly shouted "hoax!" Scientists called Edison crazy. And our shocked, angry editor expected to be fired.

But he wasn't. Eleven days later, Thomas Edison held a unique New Year's party in his laboratory at Menlo Park, New Jersey, and invited the world to see his "flameless light." Thousands came and were convinced. The incandescent lamp was real.

Soon small private companies were bringing the benefits of Edison's newfangled lamp to the people. Engineers and business men poured in their energy and time... risked their own savings... overcame all kinds of obstacles... broadened and improved the service.

Government didn't do the job. Individuals did. And in the process, they created jobs for many thousands of Americans, as well as a great new service for many millions more.

When Edison opened the first power-plant in 1882, electricity cost 25¢ a kilowatt-hour. This year, as we mark the 100th anniversary of the great inventor's birth, the average price of household electricity across the country is only 3½¢ per kilowatt-hour.

Thanks to Edison's imagination and enterprise—thanks to the courage and initiative of many men and women, working under the American business system—this country enjoys the most and the best electric service in the world. And all our lives are richer, safer, more productive.

Why freight rates are going up...

Since 1939, railroad employees have had three general pay raises totaling 52 1/10%, and the prices of fuel, materials and supplies have risen 61 1/10%.

But when the war ended in 1945, the railroads were still hauling freight at rates no higher, and in some cases lower, than when the war began.

Without increased revenues, railroads could not meet these costs and also provide improvements in equipment and facilities—improvements that are essential for the low-cost freight and passenger services which are necessary to America's high standard of living.

Under these circumstances—and almost a year after the last major wage increase—the Interstate Commerce Commission recently approved an average increase in freight rates of 17 1/10%.

Of all the price increases in America today, few have been so little and so late as that in the price of railroad transportation.

How important are healthy railroads to a prosperous country?

Only when the railroads are financially healthy can they provide the new equipment, improved road beds, and better terminal facilities needed for still better service to you.

The defense of the nation depends upon the continuance of the efficient transportation which served the nation so well in the last war.

The railroads are among the largest employers of labor. They buy over 100,000 different products. They pay big taxes—taxes which are spent not only for public schools, public health, and police and fire protection, but even for highways, airways, airports and inland waterways.

Railroads are America's lifeline—keeping goods flowing among the 48 states day and night in all weather.

They can continue to do this only if there is a reasonable balance between income and outgo. Like yourself, the railroads must make ends meet!

We are publishing this and other advertisements to talk with you at first hand about matters which are important to everybody.

Defendants. GREETING:

You are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable District Court of Haskell County, at the Courthouse thereof in Haskell, Texas, at or before 10 o'clock A.
M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of 42 days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 21st day of April, 1947, then and there to answer Plaintiff's Petition filed in said Court on the 4th day of March, 1947, in this cause numbered 7439 on the docket of said Court and styled Ben F. Roberts Jr., et al. Plaintiffs, vs.
J. M. Williams, et al. Defendants.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows: Trespass to Try Title. Plaintiffs allege that on January 1st, 1947, they were the owners in fee simple title and entitled to the possession of the following described lots and tracts of land situated in Haskell County, Texas, to wit: Lots 5, 6, 7 and 8 in Block 16, in the Original Town of Haskell in Haskell County, Texas.

That subsequently to said date, Defendants unlawfully entered upon said property and dispossessed Plaintiffs and have since such date unlawfully withheld from Plaintiffs the possession thereof to their damage in the sum of $6000.00.

Plaintiffs plead the five, ten and twenty-five year statutes of limitation as barring any claim to said property upon the part of the Defendants.

Plaintiffs pray that they have judgment for title and possession of the above described property and for general and special relief, in law and in equity, as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Petition on file in this suit.
The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law and make due return as the law directs.

Done at the office of the City
Secretary this 25th day of February, 1947.

Closed Terraces Prevent Erosion On County Farms

"No run-off and no erosion for twenty years." How many Haskell County farmers can say this about their cultivated fields or even about a well vegetated pasture?

The above statement is one that R. E. Dickson, Superintendent of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Spur, Texas, uses when speaking of a ten acre experimental field on which level closed terraces are being used. The ends of these terraces were closed so as to hold all the rainfall.

In the experiment carried on for the past twenty years by the Spur Station, two other ten acre plots were laid out adjoining the one with terraces. One of these was farmed on the contour while the other was planted to rows on the slope.

These fields have slopes of approximately one-half foot fall per hundred feet. The soil being moderately absorptive is also comparable to many found in the California Creek soil conservation district. The average annual rainfall for the period of study was 20.13 inches.

Cotton was raised on these fields each year of the study and the production marketed in the customary manner. The production record shows that contouring alone was a little less than one-half as effective in increasing cotton yields as were closed level terraces.

Saving all the water, which amounted to 2.75 inches average run-off per year in the case of the straight rows, resulted in an increased return of $9.57 per acre per year. The terraced field produced $6.07 more cotton per acre per year than did the contoured field. There was six times more plant food lost through run-off with straight rows than was removed by crops in the terraced field.

Not all fields can be expected to respond so favorably to terraces. In this district less absorptive soils having steeper slopes should be allowed to outlet at least a portion of the rainfall to prevent drowning of crops. Partial closures may be used to advantage in these conditions.

Carnegie Course In Speaking Will Be Held In Stamford

The famous Dale Carnegie Course in effective speaking, personality development and the art of winning friends and influencing people is to be offered to a limited number of men and women of this community in a new series of classes starting next Wednesday night with an open meeting at 8 p. m. at the Stamford Inn, Stamford, Texas, according to Harrison B. Taylor, personal representative of Dale Carnegie in Texas.

"The public is invited to attend next Wednesday's night's lecture and demonstration without cost or obligation," Mr. Taylor said, "in order that self improvement minded persons may discover what Dale Carnegie training is and how it may help them advance more rapidly in their business and social lives."

Mr. Taylor will personally conduct Wednesday night's meeting, at which a large crowd is expected. The Carnegie Course is sponsored by the Texas Institute of Effective Speaking, of which Mr. Taylor is general manager.

Camp Fire Girls Entertain Mothers At Sunday Tea

The second in a series of Camp Fire Birthday Week activities was the Mother-Daughter tea held in the Magazine Club Sunday afternoon between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock.

The Bluebirds with Mrs. R. A. Coburn as leader, were hostesses during the first half hour for their mothers and friends. Mary Bowers, Linda Spain, Norma Gibson and Madalin Gilstrap greeted the guests as they arrived. Betty Hester and Johnnie Lou Wilson had charge of the register. Mrs. Coburn poured punch and was assisted in serving by Kay Murphy, Mary McMillen and Gloria Raliff. Sandra Ann Coburn and Jean Bass said good-bye to the callers.

Mrs. Thurman Bynum with her group of Bluebirds who are just ready to advance to Camp Fire rank were co-hostesses under the leadership of Mrs. Roy A. Sanders. Music was furnished during the ten hour by Terry Bynum, Wanda Long and Carol Ann Sanders.

From 4 until 4:30 the two Camp Fire groups with Mrs. J. A. Byrd and Mrs. Scott Greene as leaders were hostesses to their mothers and friends. Dolores Burnett, Patsy Perdue, Janice McKelvin and Mary Sue Byrd played while Betty Herren, June Holloway and Sharon Firestone greeted guests. Beverly Casey, Nelda Haynes, Margaret Kimbrough, Betty Joy Redwine and Doris Strain helped with the refreshment table.

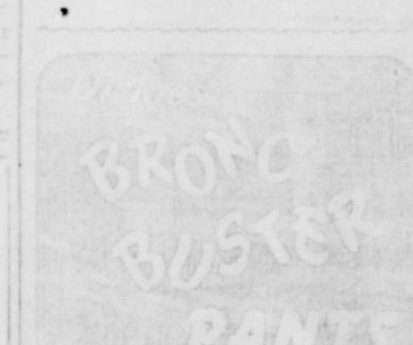

During the last half hour the Junior Girls and Ivelia Club were joint hostesses. Betty Christen and Virginia Ferebee played and Rose Ann Johnson and Ann Harrison poured punch. Mrs. Elizabeth Glass greeted the callers and Betty Oster presided at the table.

Immediately following the tea of Camp Fire Girls, their mothers and board members attended the Young service held in the First Baptist Church. Rev. H. E. Whitley gave the welcome to the Camp Fire Girls and introduced the speaker, Miss Maybelle Taylor. Miss Taylor told of the girls of Haskell—their games, their dress, and exhibited her collection of South American dolls. Mrs. Stockdale conducted a candle lighting ceremony when each girl recited her life to the church of her choice. At the conclusion of the service the entire congregation placed an offering in Miss Taylor's basket to help with the education of a girl in the school in Recife where Miss Taylor teaches.

Members of the First Baptist W. M. U. met in the church sanctuary Monday afternoon for a Royal Service program.

State secret buildings listed in the Bible for places of worship. Mrs. Lanier stressed the thought that we as Christians in America have the light, but must not "put it under the bush" but let it shine before all nations. This was a splendid program, given by the Young Women's Circle. The meeting was dismissed with prayer.

Those present were: Madeline R. C. Couch, B. C. Couch, J. Brown, H. W. Whitaker, Sun J. Brown, J. W. Whitaker, R. J. Brown, J. W. Whitaker, and J. A. Brown.

Low Pressure Found Helpful In Canning Meat, Poultry

Canning tables with lower steam pressure but longer processing time have been developed by the USDA to give canned meat and poultry a better flavor but still be safe from bacteria that cause spoilage. Louise Newnam, county home demonstration agent has been advised.

Copies of MS-782 "New Time Tables for Canning Meat and Poultry" or available as pamphlets to other bulletins or meat canning in the county home demonstration agent's office.

Using the new time table, steam heat and quart jars can be used with pork, lamb and poultry 75 minutes before sealing. Then at 10 pounds pressure, process pint jars 75 minutes, quart jars sealed and process No. 2 cans 65 minutes, and No. 3 cans 90 minutes.

T. E. L. Class Meets Tuesday Afternoon

The T. E. L. Class members met in the church sanctuary Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock for the Cross was read, and Mrs. J. W. Whitaker of Ford Worth presided.

The Red Cross Appeal

The American Red Cross appeals each year for funds to carry on its noble work. Practically all its funds come in answer to the annual fund campaign. It provides for such a vast variety of needs, it relieves such a tremendous amount of suffering, it offers such comfort and help to servicemen, veterans, and their families, that the 1947 appeal should be greeted with the utmost generosity.

One of the greatest accomplishments of the Red Cross is the furnishing of club and recreation service for United States troops abroad. The War Department considers these services highly essential to the morale and welfare of the men on foreign soil. These boys are far from home, they need this work, and there should be plenty of money to carry it on.

One of the splendid features of the Red Cross work is found in the service of its various volunteer groups in Veterans Administration hospitals. The Red Cross workers assist in the recreation programs, and they provide instruction in arts and crafts and academic subjects. They give these men who are trying so hard to get back to normal life a wonderful amount of practical help and encouragement.

Nursing services care for sick and injured in disasters. Public health nursing services are carried on where these are needed. Educational programs are a splendid feature aimed at the conservation of human life, through first aid training, water safety, and accident prevention. Red Cross services in the relief of disasters are a magnificent achievement in meeting the terrible needs that so frequently develop when these great calamities produce acute human suffering. Nutrition services offered where these are needed contribute wonderfully to public intelligence on this extremely vital matter.

This magnificent organization touches life at many points not mentioned above. It deserves your generous support.

Income Tax Thoughts

From our own experience, and comments we have heard from many others in Haskell, it takes a good many people quite a little time to make out their income tax returns, but it can be looked at as a useful experience in various ways. It is good training to prepare such a paper neatly and accurately. If some people are not as systematic and regular as they should be in recording money transactions, the necessity of making this annual return is a reminder that methodical methods are a help when it comes to making out such a report.

Some people find it difficult to do sums in arithmetic and they may make mistakes if they have to add columns of figures. A little practice in compiling the income tax figures can be looked at as a review of the arithmetic of one's youth.

A Haskell lady remarks that she considers it a useful experience to figure out just what her income was for the past year. It gives her a better idea of how she stands financially, and what she can afford to spend.

After one has completed his return and sent it in, there is a satisfaction in feeling that one has performed his duty to his government. The government protects us and guards us from many evils and dangers, and it gives us many advantages. The people owe it their support. There is a sense of duty done when one has done his best to present an accurate report of his capacity to share in the payment for all these advantages. We have a grand country, but we have to expect that it will cost a lot of money to govern it and defend us from all perils.

We can consider how difficult it would have been to finance World War II if there had been no income tax and the tax bill can be considered a part of the necessary payment for our freedom and security and many benefits.

"The churches of Christ salute you" (Rom. 16:16.) Scriptural In: Origin Name Pleading for Unity Walking By Faith Creed Organization Terms of Admission Christian Worship

The Church of Christ is a divine institution built by Jesus Christ upon the foundation truth that He is the Christ, the Son of God. The Plan of Salvation was revealed through the New Testament writer by the Holy Spirit and requires people to hear the gospel, believe, repent of every sin, confess Jesus Christ as Lord, and be baptized for the remission of sins. Thus one becomes a Christian and must live faithful to the instructions of the New Testament.

We speak where the Bible speaks and remain silent where the Bible is silent; we call Bible things by Bible names, do Bible things in Bible ways; we have no creed but Christ; no book but the Bible; no name except that authorized.

Soil building crops, both legumes and grasses, adapted to use in this district were discussed before a meeting of farm ownership families of the Farm Home Administration in Anson recently.

During the talk, seed and plant samples along with pictures of the crops which were grown locally were shown to illustrate their adaptability.

FARM FACTS WORTH KNOWING

Q. Are there any figures to show the effects of treating cattle with DDT?

A. Yes. Kansas State College has recently put out a bulletin giving actual results in test demonstrations using DDT to control the horn fly. More than two million cattle were successfully treated with DDT for horn flies during the 1946 grazing season. These cattle gained about 90 lbs. a head more than untreated cattle. According to this, horn flies alone were causing a loss of at least 10 million dollars annually to Kansas cattlemen.

Q. Does a hen's body weight have any influence on her ability to produce eggs?

A. No. According to the Virginia Station Technical Bulletin No. 96, measurements of 294 White Leghorn pullets indicated that neither body weight within the normal range nor body type was shown to be a reliable index of egg-production ability of the hen, nor could either be used as a guide in predicting future egg production or in estimating the past production of a hen. However, birds that are definitely under weight or over weight should not be kept in a laying flock.

Q. Does feeding wheat germ oil increase the fertility of bulls?

A. Probably not. After extensive, independent trials, the Ralston Purina Company's Research Farm and researchers at Cornell University have been unable to find that wheat germ oil makes any difference in the fertility of bulls.

Q. Will calves vaccinated for Bang's disease spread the disease to other cows?

A. The evidence is that a properly vaccinated calf will not spread Bang's disease to disease-free cows.

Q. How long may hatching eggs be kept before they are put in the incubator?

A. Hatching eggs should be placed in the incubator after a maximum of one week, although it is possible to keep them as long as two weeks. Hatchability drops quite rapidly after the eggs have been held for ten days.

CONSTIPATION Risky in BAD COLDS

Retained, undigested food becomes putrefactive, causes toxins, which overload the liver and other vital organs of the body, lessening your resistance to colds and other winter ills and interfering with their treatment. Why take this chance when you can take Calotabs? Calotabs thoroughly yet pleasantly act on every foot of your intestines, sweeping out toxins, laden putrefactive foods and virus-laden mucus, enabling you to more effectively avoid or fight a cold. Nothing acts like good old Calotabs. Use as directed. 10c and 25c at all druggists.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly relieves the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back.
