FHA Assembles Data From Haskell County Farms

In a survey being made by the Farmer's Home Administration to assemble data concerning farm economy of the nation, Haskell County was chosen as one of five counties in the United States for a first-hand study of records relating to farm ownership, management, under sections of the Bankhead-Jones Act now administered by FHA (formerly Farm Security Administration). Facts revealed in the survey will be used in a guidebook for future planning and operation of the farm program. Other farm counties in which the survey was made included Central Alabama, Central New York, Southern Missouri, and Central Utah.

Selected as a typical agricultural area of the cotton growing section of the Southwest, farm purchase and operating records under the FHA program in Haskell County were studied last week by two FHA representatives from Washington, C. H. Bedingfield and Miss Marian Babcock, assisted by W. M. Burkes of Dallas, assistant State FHA director, together with Robert S. Pope, local FHA supervisor, Miss Edna Minick and Miss Larry Waskom.

The farm purchase program was inaugurated in Haskell County in 1938, and since that time 65 farm-operators and tenant farm purchasers have become farm owners in the area served by the Haskell office. Fifteen of these purchasers have paid in full for their farms. Indicating permanency of the program, records in Pope's office show that 14 farm purchasers have remained on the premises purchased.

Stability of the program, as reflected by Haskell County farm families contacted in the survey, was indicated in the fact that farm operators under the FHA farm purchase program were operating fewer acres more intensively on a diversified program, practicing a "live-at-home" plan by producing an average of 62 per cent of food required by the farm family at home, and winding up with a net income above the average for Haskell County farmers as shown in the 1945 census.

Average size of farms purchased through FHA in Haskell County is 196 acres, of which 159 acres is cultivated, and as a group, the farm purchasers are ahead four and one-half years on annual payments.

In concluding the survey Friday, Bedingfield and Miss Babcock praised the efficiency with which the FHA program is being administered under the supervision of Mr. Pope and his assistants Miss Minick and Miss Waskom.

The trip was made from Dallas on a special train with a group of dealers from all sections of Texas.

Indicating a further northwest extension of the Chapman oil pool northeast of Haskell, Amerada Oil Co.'s No. 2 Mrs. J. C. Holt was seen as a 200-500 barrel producer following drillstem test Wednesday, to highlight oil activity in Haskell County.

Strawn sand was encountered in the test at 4246 feet. Drilled seven feet into the pay, drillstem test was run one hour and twenty minutes when the well flowed natural, making five barrels in approximately 50 minutes. Potential was estimated at from 200 to 500 barrels daily. Operators were setting liner Thursday preparatory to completing the well. The new producer is approximately 1,060 feet northwest of Amerada No. 1 Holt, which is producing 100 barrels daily from KMA lime at approximately 4070-89 feet.

One-half mile northwest of the new producer, Calstar Petroleum company et al, has made location for their No. 1 Sylvia M. Force, 330 feet from the south and west lines of a 75 acre tract in R. Hall survey. The test is projected to 5,500 feet, and drilling is expected to start within the next week or ten days. Acreage in the vicinity of the Calstar test is held by H. W. Snowden, Dallas oil operator; Cities Service, Walter Drilling Co., Illinois operators; Amerada, Anderson-Prichard of Tulsa, M. E. Trapp of Oklahoma City, Bob Humphreys, Dallas, and others.

In southwest Haskell County, Standard Oil Company of Texas has assembled a block of 10,000 acres immediately southeast of Sagerton. Most of the block was taken on 10-year commercial leases, but a few of the leases were for five years. Consideration was reported as $1 an acre.

Rogers-Cox Legion Post Will Sponsor Poppy Day May 24

Memorial poppies which will be worn here on Poppy Day, May 24, in honor of the dead of both world wars, were received Tuesday by Rogers-Cox Post of The American Legion. The little red flowers came from the Veterans Hospital, Kerrville, where they were made by disabled veterans employed by the Auxiliary.

"The poppies are crepe paper replicas of the wild poppies which grow in France and Belgium where so many of the battles of both wars were fought," Doyle Eastland, Post Adjutant, explained. "They are the poppies which grew between the crosses, row on row," in the World War I battle cemeteries and so became the memorial flower for the war dead. Now they symbolize memory for those who died for America on land, sea and in the air in every part of the world.

"Each flower is made by hand by a disabled veteran, the paper petals carefully attached to the wire stem and shaped to resemble the blooms with which nature decorated the battle field graves. The work gives the disabled men something interesting to do during the long hours of hospitalization and convalescence. It occupies their hands and minds, helping them get well. It also enables them to earn money, which builds their morale and makes things easier for themselves and families."

No price will be asked for the little flowers but everyone receiving one will be asked to contribute something for the welfare of the disabled veterans, their families and the families of the dead.

Prompt Attention Important in Control Of Disease

If every case of suspected communicable disease could be promptly visited either by the family physician or the local health officer, thousands of susceptible persons would be protected from disabling illnesses, according to the State Health Officer.

To quote Dr. Geo. W. Cox, "The old fashioned theory that it is a good thing for children to have a number of the catching diseases and get them over with, has long since been known to be a serious and sometime fatal error. The longer a child can keep from having these diseases, the better it is for him. Every child should be completely protected by vaccination or inoculation against any such diseases where an immunity can be produced."

Prompt diagnosis, isolation, good medical and nursing care give the patient the best chance for a satisfactory recovery without the serious complications that sometimes accompany even the mild forms of communicable diseases. Dr. Cox emphasized that obeying the public health laws regarding isolation and quarantine of communicable diseases protects not only the patient, but helps to prevent others from contracting the illness.

Typhus Fever Called Great Health Menace

In recent years typhus fever has developed into a serious health menace in Texas according to Health Officer, who today issued an appeal for every Texan to cooperate in rodent control measures which will prevent the spread of this disease.

"Last year, 1147 cases of typhus were reported in Texas, and in the first 18 weeks of this year, the State Health Department has been notified of 185 cases," Dr. Cox said. "With the peak of this disease usually occurring in August, if the present trend is continued, we may expect this total to be greatly increased by the end of summer."

The type of typhus fever occurring in Texas is known as endemic or Brill's disease, and is transmitted to human beings from infected rats, by means of the rat flea. The eradication of rats is the only way to reduce this health hazard, and a consistent program will materially aid in the control of typhus in Texas.

Dr. Cox stressed the fact that it is the duty of every individual to cooperate in strict rodent control measures since the eradication of rats is the only possible

Gauge on Cooker, Advises

Whether the gauge registers correctly. If the gauge is "off", warns Miss Jones, food may be under-processed and lost by spoilage, or it may be overcooked, which results in loss of food value and flavor.

The food preservation specialist urges homemakers to watch for an announcement from their local county home demonstration agent about pressure cooker clinics which are being held over the state. At these meetings, the homemaker may take her cooker in and have it inspected and

Insect "Reporters" Will Help In Fight Against Cotton Pests

An army of "insect reporters" is being recruited by the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service to fight cotton pests this year.

In every cotton-growing county in the state, county Extension farm agents are lining up volunteer reporters who will make weekly reports on infestations of boll weevils, boll worms, flea hoppers, plant lice and leafworms—Texas cotton's five biggest insect pests.

The weekly surveys, which will include information on location and extent of infestations, will be turned in to the county agricultural agents, who will tabulate results and make recommendations for insect control when and where it is needed. Each county

Advices Caution In Use of DDT As Garden Spray

According to horticulturists of Texas A. and M. Extension Service there are certain precautions to be exercised in the use of DDT in controlling garden insects.

These precautions are enumerated by Louise Newman, county home demonstration agent, as follows:

1. DDT cannot safely be used on leafy vegetables that are harvested often because the residue of the insecticide is hard to remove from the leaves and can be harmful if eaten.
2. DDT will burn the foliage on vine crops like squash, cucumbers, and melons.
3. DDT cannot be used safely on beans, peas, tomatoes, or cabbage later than three weeks before these vegetables are ready to harvest.

On the brighter side of the picture, Miss Newman tells us that DDT can be used safely on root vegetables such as potatoes, carrots, beets or onions. It will control both chewing and sucking insects except plant lice and red spider. It is good as either a dust or a spray. Three to five per cent dusts are good for garden insects. Two ounces of 50 per cent wettable DDT powder in a gallon of water makes an effective spray.

Weed Killing Drive Planned in Runnels

When one variety of weed causes up to $200,000 worth of damage in one year, Runnels County farmers believe it's time to act.

Runnels County Agricultural Agent J. A. Barton estimates that ragweed in that county caused at least 10,000 acres of crops to fail completely last year, and that total ragweed damage ranged from $150,000 to $200,000.

Before the weeds get out of hand this year, County Agent Barton is getting together with farmers in the county for a weed control campaign. They set aside a "weed information month," held a series of meetings, pooled their experiences in controlling weeds and elected community committees to help carry out plans. County Agent Barton says they mean to start spraying with weed-killers before the pests get too far along in growth.

RULE VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Adams and daughters Helen and Ellen of Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Atchison and son Wallace Gerald of Haskell, Mrs. James A. Mapes and daughter Mary of Winchester, Calif., were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Server and family Sunday.

agricultural agent will submit his weekly survey to Extension entomologists at Texas A. and M. College, where the Extension Service's state report will be compiled.

The Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quaranting office at Waco, and the Texas A. and M. College Agricultural Experiment Station also prepare weekly insect reports. These two reports, along with that of the Extension Service, are combined by the Experiment Station to form a weekly, state-wide survey on the cotton insect situation, to aid growers in fighting the pests.

Insects hit cotton in near record numbers last year, and entomologists are predicting another big infestation this season.

All-Purpose Poison For Bean Pests

This year, for the first time, Texas vegetable growers can have an all-purpose poison that promises to control all the major insects and diseases that hit snap beans.

The remedy, says Entomologist Paul Gregg of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, is merely a new mixture of three already well-known materials—DDT, rotenone and sulphur. Proportions of the mixture are one part 3 percent DDT, one part of one half of one percent rotenone and two parts sulphur. The DDT kills leafhoppers and beetles, including the black-spotted mahogany colored bean beetle that feeds on the plant leaves; the rotenone gets plant lice; and the sulphur controls the disease, powdery mildew.

Recommended time for dusting the mixture is two weeks before the beans bloom, says Gregg, followed with a second application when the crop is in full bloom. If the dust is applied before the bean pods are formed, it cuts down the danger of trouble caused by poisonous residue left on the crop.

Gregg emphasizes that the mixture is an all-purpose insecticide only for the one crop, beans. But in field trials conducted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture last year, the DDT-rotenone-sulphur combination upped bean yields as much as 57 to 99 bushels an acre.

2, 4-D Harmful To Garden Crops

Louise Newman, county home demonstration agent, advises Haskell County gardeners to keep in mind that plants scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture do not recommend the use of 2, 4-D for killing weeds in the garden. Tomatoes, beans, and other popular garden vegetables are sensitive to 2, 4-D and are killed by the spray.

Another warning is to thoroughly clean the sprayer after using 2, 4-D if the sprayer is to be used for other sprays on garden crops. A simple cleaning mixture can be made by using two teaspoons of household ammonia to a gallon of warm water.

Store Sales Below Seasonal Trend

Department and apparel store sales in Texas surged upward 20 per cent in March over February sales but failed to register the 25 per cent seasonal, expected gain, according to The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

The index of department and apparel store sales fell 5 per cent during the month as a result of this failure to mark up the anticipated increase. The physical volume of sales in March 1947 was sharply below that of last March. The Easter buying season provided merchants a keen disappointment this year.

However, most retail trade remains far above the prewar level. Sales last month were almost 3 times the size of the average month's sales in the period 1935 through 1939. The ratio of buying is slipping downward slowly but is viewed as a forerunner of greater reductions to come.

Heating developments in the retail price picture as a whole and especially in department and apparel stores were in credit buying. The ratio of credit sales to total sales declined slightly in March or the first time since December, as more customers paid cash for their purchases than in January and February.

No Evidence of Cooperation

The effort of the President to secure price reductions from business and industrial concerns makes little headway and the presidential press secretary reports that there has been no particular evidence of cooperation.

This, we think, will continue to be the state of affairs. Consequently, there is nothing to be expected from the campaign of the President. Sellers will continue to exact the highest possible price for their products. Only a depression, caused by the strike of buyers, will force prices downward.

Federal Aid To Schools

The question of federal aid for the schools of the nation inevitably brings up the question of governmental financial assistance to church and private schools.

A Senate subcommittee is conducting hearings on the subject. In general, Protestants oppose federal money for parochial or other private schools. Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, of the American Jewish Congress, agrees with them, declaring that this would be inconsistent with our principle of separation of church and state.

Some Catholic spokesmen suggest that a compromise plan be worked out, that funds be made available to church schools for transportation, non-religious supplies, health and welfare work. This proposal, however, does not meet the objections of the other groups.

Production Not Enough

The emphasis that some experts are placing upon industrial production, in connection with the effort to keep our economy going at a record pace, is not the whole story of the crisis that threatens to engulf the United States.

The nation witnessed a famine amid plenty less than twenty years ago. There was no lack of production, either of industrial or agricultural products in the Thirties, but production did not solve the economic ills of the nation. The crisis came on us because the processes of distribution became clogged. They ceased because the oil of distribution is money in the hands of the public with which to buy.

The problem now confronting the United States is not one of production alone, but also of maintaining the buying power of consumers. This can be done in two ways: (a) by raising the dollar income of the buyers; and (b) by reducing the price of goods. Either way, the purchasing power of the nation is increased.

It is not necessary for all men to be great in action. The greatest and sublimest power is often simple patience.—Horace Bushnell.

Do not think that nothing is happening because you do not see your self grow or hear the whirr of the machinery. All great things grow noiselessly.—Drummond.

Patience does not mean indifference. We may work and trust and wait, but we ought not to be idle or careless while waiting.—Gail Hamilton.

The power of little things to give instruction and happiness should be the first lesson in life, and it should be inculcated deeply.—Russell H. Conwell.

Trifles discover character more than actions of seeming importance; what one is in little things he is also in great.—Swift.

Q. What is Anaplasmosis?
A. Anaplasmosis is a disease of cattle caused by a protozoan parasite which gains entry into the blood stream of cattle and destroys the red blood cells. The protozoa are spread by flies, ticks, and uncleanliness with dehorners or vaccination needles. This disease is becoming more common in certain sections of the country and emphasizes the need for proper sanitation measures.

Q. Last year I had trouble with my turkey poult and lost nearly half of them. They were about three days old when I fed them. Do you think they should have been fed earlier?

A. Poults should be placed in the brooder and fed and watered immediately after they are received from the hatchery. According to research conducted by the Ralston Purina Company's Research Department, for every hour that feeding was delayed, mortality increased one-half of one per cent, and weight was one-fourth of one per cent less at six weeks of age. Three groups of poults were fed and watered at 24, 48 and 72 hours after hatching, respectively, and the livability at six weeks of age was as follows:

Age when first fed	Livability at six weeks
24 hrs.	97.7%
48 hrs.	90.0%
72 hrs.	73.7%

Q. Will hogs fed fish meal or fish oil in their ration produce pork with a fishy flavor?

A. Studies made at the Indiana Agricultural Experiment Station indicate that hog rations containing 2.5% and 10% of fish meal produced pork without a fishy flavor. However, 10% of fish meal plus 0.5% or 1.5% of fish oil in the ration resulted in fish flavored pork. The fishy flavor was more pronounced in the fresh roasts and cured bacon than in the fresh chops. Fish flavor was also more pronounced in the fat than in the lean tissue of the meat.

Q. What is the incubation period for poultry eggs?

A. The incubation period for poultry eggs is 28 days.

Early End Indicated For Sugar Rationing

Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson in a news conference in Chicago Wednesday indicated that if the sugar situation continues to improve, rationing might end before the Oct. 31 date fixed by Congress.

Anderson told newsmen that there has been a "very substantial improvement" in the sugar picture.

"If we continue to have improvements it may not be necessary to ask Congress for a continuation of sugar rationing after Oct. 31," he said. "In fact there is nothing sacred about the Oct. 31 date. Oct. 1 or some other date might be just as convenient."

Asked about speculation that rationing might end July 5, An-

'Annuals Bring 'Abundant Bloom

Most home gardeners like to grow annual flowers. Coming quickly into bloom from seed sown each year, they are the easiest of all flowers to grow and bring a wide range of vivacious color for a long period.

Poppy and bachelor button are two of the earliest. The low-growing edgers, sweet alyssum and candytuft, are also fairly quick to flower from seed. The lovely balsam, fragrant pinks, the graceful scabiosa, the hedge-forming four o' clocks, the colorful nasturtiums and petunias are next in line. Later come the tall cosmos, the beloved zinnias and the marigolds. Most annuals are so easy to grow that even children can raise them successfully. Special favorites for children's gardens and those of some grownups are feathered celosia, the oddly interesting cockscomb, and the gay woolflower.

One secret of growing near-perfect annuals is to use good seed and sow it thinly. In outdoor planting do not sow deeply but cover the seeds firmly so that they will make immediate contact with warm moist soil for speedy germination. When the seedlings appear, thin the plants so that the remaining ones will have plenty of space to spread and mature.

Most annual flowers are not particular about the kind of soil they grow in but they do like plenty of sunshine and air. Most annuals do not thrive in shady places.

In order to get the most bloom from annual flowers all through the season, they need a certain amount of attention. Petunia plants sometimes grow lanky and crowd their neighbors. Cut sprays of blossoms freely and arrange them for indoor enjoyment. The plants will recover quickly and bloom better than ever. Snip off the fading blossoms of zinnia, marigold, cosmos, and other annuals. If left to go to seed, they rob the plants of strength to develop new flowers. Keep the edging annuals, such as sweet alyssum and candytuft, from looking lanky by clipping off the tops with shears after they have bloomed. They will reward you by flowering again and looking pretty for a long season.

Taylor County To Have Game Preserve

Ten Taylor County landowners have teamed up to place 29,503 acres of range land into a game restoration project.

When plans for expanding the area are finished, the game management demonstration will include about 90,000 acres of rough land in the west and central parts of the county, according to Taylor County Agricultural Agent Elmo V. Cook. The land owners and

Most of the 90,000 acres will be in the former Camp Berkeley maneuver area. It will be stocked with white-tail deer and wild turkey.

People with literary ambitions feel a strong desire to write. Many find it easier to write than to get people to pay for what they have written.

Uncle Sam Says

This is getting ready time for my farmer nieces and nephews. Today's plowing and investment in money and labor may or may not pay off in rich crops. There's a big IF in every farm family's life. If the sun shines, if it doesn't rain too much, if we have a drought—if, if, if. However, there's one crop which has no "if" side. It's a crop of Savings Bonds, which grows steadily rain or shine, wind or calm, year after year until it produces $4 for every $3. My city nieces and nephews can plant this crop, too, by joining and staying on the payroll savings plan or by arrangement with their bank.

Prosperity Pattern

Switzerland is a small country without seascoast, without natural resources, without enough fields to produce her necessary food. The non-homogeneous people—one part speaking German, another French, and a third, Italian—add to her domestic difficulties.

Under these conditions, Switzerland should naturally be expected to be one of the very poorest nations in Europe. On the contrary, however, Switzerland had before the war, and has yet, the highest per capita wealth in Europe. This little country pays the best wages known in Europe and maintains the best living conditions for her workers. Why? How?

A Way and A Will
Why should a people with the least possibilities come out with the highest average wealth, highest wages, and best living conditions? Simply because Switzerland has the right formula for prosperity, plus the will to make the formula work. Switzerland is proof to the world that any nation can have prosperity. There are just three requirements.

1. Switzerland has a real republic, through which the citizens reserve to themselves real individual freedom. Nearly all laws touching the lives of the people are made locally in districts called "cantons" corresponding roughly to our states. Even the amount of income tax to be paid by the people of each canton is decided locally. Political responsibility is a reality. And real freedom of individual opportunity exists.

Ownership Pays Out
2. Switzerland has the right type of economy. All industry is privately owned and operated. Individual ownership of property is encouraged and protected. A high percentage of people own their own homes and their farms. Thrift is encouraged by both the local and national governments.

3. Switzerland has equal responsibility placed by law upon both labor and capital. Industrial peace is encouraged, both by local and national government. Industrial cooperation prevails throughout the nation.

Switzerland is living proof that these three conditions will bring prosperity to any country, regardless of the quantity of its natural resources. The Swiss do not put the eye of aggression on their neighbors, in a search for "living room." Content with their own mountains, they have found that the resources of individual freedom, sane economy, and hard work can give them all they want. These moral resources the Swiss can call their own.

Retain the Formula
France, adjoining, with plenty of natural resources and abundant fertile fields, should now be the most prosperous country in Europe. Instead she is one of the poorest. Her socialistic form of government, her nationalization of industry, and her industrial chaos have made prosperity impossible, despite natural resources. France hasn't the right formula.

America, for 150 years, has had the right formula. In our own land we have achieved the highest wages, and the best general living standards ever known. We have had the natural resources. But more important, we have treasured these same moral resources that have made the Swiss great. We have had freedom of opportunity. We have made the formula work. Shall we keep the formula and keep prosperity, or desert the formula and revert to mediocrity for everybody?

Progressive Study Club Celebrates 10th Birthday

The Progressive Study Club celebrated its 10th birthday with a formal banquet in the Home-making Cottage Thursday evening May 15th. Pastel colors, May baskets, and spring flowers were used to decorate the tables by the social committee headed by Mrs. Bill Wilson. Handpainted programs were prepared by Mrs. Eugene Frierson, chairman of the art committee. The meal was served by members of the Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service. Centerpiece at the speakers table was a birthday cake decorated in pink and white and bearing ten pink candles. This cake was cut and served at the conclusion of the dinner by the outgoing president, Mrs. James A. Byrd.

Invocation was led by Mrs. W. E. Woodson, followed by a welcoming address by Mrs. Byrd, who served as toastmaster. A skit was presented by the Ivelaris Club, a high school Camp Fire organization sponsored by this study club. Mrs. R. W. Herren, charter member of the club, presented two accordion selections. Highlight of the program was a review of club history given by Mrs. E. E. Fisher of Longview, Texas, first president, who returned to Haskell especially for the occasion. She was formerly Miss Ann Taylor. Dressed in a French gypsy costume, speaking with an accent, and using a crystal ball, she impersonated a seer or fortune teller and gave the club history in verse in a very clever manner. Later she reminisced and entertained the group with amusing and interesting incidents which occurred when the club was formed. She pointed out that only three charter members are on the current roll. They are Mrs. R. A. Lane, Mrs. Jewel Bynum and Mrs. Herren, the latter being the only charter member who has retained her membership continuously throughout the ten years.

Mrs. T. R. Odell, to whom was given much credit as founder of the organization, closed the program by conducting an impressive service installing officers for the following year. Taking her cue from the club motto "We must sail, not drift, nor lie at anchor,"

"The churches of Christ salute you" (Rom. 16:16.) Scriptural In: Origin Name Pleading for Unity Walking By Faith Creed Organization Terms of Admission Christian Worship

The Church of Christ is a divine institution built by Jesus Christ upon the foundation truth that He is the Christ, the Son of God. The Plan of Salvation was revealed through the New Testament and requires people to hear the gospel, believe, repent of every sin, confess Jesus Christ as Lord, and be baptized for the remission of sins. Thus one becomes a Christian and must live faithful to the instructions of the New Testament.

We speak where the Bible speaks and remain silent where the Bible is silent; we call Bible things by Bible names, do Bible things in Bible ways; we have no creed but Christ; no book but the Bible; no name except that authorized.

Mrs. B. M. Whiteker Named Honoree at Harmony Club Tea

The Harmony Club of Haskell was hostess to a tea honoring Mrs. B. M. Whiteker last Tuesday at the Homemaking Cottage, who recently has had a book of verse published. Mrs. C. A. Williams, club president, presided and gave the welcome address to club members and guests. Mrs. Alton Middleton sang Beautiful Dreamer, and was accompanied by Mrs. O. E. Patterson at the piano. Mrs. W. A. Kimbrough, a lifelong friend, introduced Mrs. Whiteker, and paid tribute to a neighbor and friend. Mrs. Whiteker read a number of her poems and very interestingly told the club members and visitors that she had waited sixty-four years for her "Coming Out Party" and truly this was a happy moment of her life. She stated that most of her inspiration for writing had come to her in the early morning, but that there had been no set time for her writing her book of poems, "We Sing In Texas." Refreshments of punch and cookies were served to the following guests and members: Mesdames L. T. Florence, Scotch Coggins, A. L. Cunningham, Curtis Kelley, Mart Clifton, Horace Payne, F. L. Daugherty, J. R. Cooper, Mike B. Watson, Joe Irby, W. A. Kimbrough, D. H. Persons, T. C. Cahill, R. C. Montgomery, Calvin Henson, Paul Frierson, C. L. Lewis, Wiley M. Reid, R. J. Reynolds, J. M. # Americans Demand Freedom To Work

Right to Choose Job Sacred as Right of Speech, Worship.

Passage of bans on the closed shop by twelve state legislatures has brought into bright focus the fact that the average American still loves his independence as much as his forefathers did when they declared it in 1776, and then fought a war to defend it.

Back of the legislative action was a tide of public sentiment so strong, and so forcefully expressed, that all the lobbying of the political professionals of closed shop unions could not prevent it. Here in each case, on a state scale, was the same type and intensity of sentiment which last November swept into office Congressmen pledged to restore and protect traditional liberties.

Congressional hearings of the past few weeks have served to put into the public record a mass of information regarding the effect of closed shop practices upon the independence and freedom of U. S. workmen. While inequities such as the calling of strikes without the consent of employees had been much publicized during the coal strike, a large percentage of the public had not realized that dictators of national labor unions had established their own systems of government, making their own laws, levying taxes or tribute without representation, extending or denying to individual craftsmen the right to work, and punishing without trial any employe who incurred their displeasure.

Other congressional testimony re-emphasized the fact that under closed shop practices a farm youth or other non-industrial worker may be prohibited from holding a factory job, or even a beginner's job in certain skilled trades, unless strangers controlling union contracts give their consent. Such consent may be withheld entirely as a means of assuring more work for present union members, or it may be withheld until the new workman has paid whatever fees the union decides upon, and agrees to regular deduction of union dues and assessments from his pay check. Fees, as in the case of one glass workers' union, were shown to run as high as $1500 as the price of obtaining the right to work as a glazier.

With one-fourth of the states already pledged to guarantee that any citizen may work at any job which is available and which he is qualified to hold, the next move is expected to come from Washington, where action either permitting or banning the closed shop is certain to be taken in the early future. Which it shall be is not up to Congress alone, but is dependent upon the sentiment of the general public.

California Creek Soil District Wins $200 Award In Contest

Chambers of Commerce throughout the area covered by the California Creek Soil Conservation District have worked in close cooperation with the Conservation Department and learned to appreciate it more each day for the fine work it has been doing and will continue to do. This was pointed out the past week at Fort Worth where the California Creek District won second place in Region 5 on 447 accredited points out of a possible 1000. The Little Wichita District which won first place in Region 5 had a total of 498 and the grand champion for the state, the Coffman-Van Zandt County Conservation District had a total of 727 points. Along with the second place award a $200 check was presented through the Fort Worth Press which amount was donated by the Lone Star Gas Company. Around $8,500 was awarded by various sponsors at the conference which is sponsored by the Fort Worth Press. The Fort Worth Lions Club gave the handsome plaques representing the outstanding farmers in each soil conservation district in Texas. Albert

Uncle Sam Says

Did Junior ever ask you whether you ever hit a home run? This is the time of the year when questions like that one will come poppin' at you. Well, daddy, you can look junior right in the eye and say truthfully: "Yes, son, I did many times." (that is if you are investing in Savings Bonds every payday.) Figure it out yourself. Every Savings Bond represents a four-base hit for Junior's future. Even Babe Ruth couldn't hit one over the fence every time he came to bat. Step to the plate, dad, and clout one more Savings Bond into your strong box. Some day junior will stand up and cheer a real home run hitter.

1. Because authorities report that farmers lose annually TEN TIMES as much by hail as by fire and wind combined!
2. The Farmer's crop is his "stock in store" and is at the mercy of elements; the only protection he can get is a Hail Policy and the best policies written by the Old Line Stock Companies.
3. You never heard of a farmer going broke because he paid a premium, but you have heard of many farmers meeting financial ruin cause they did not buy Hail Insurance.
4. You can't prevent a Hail storm but you can replace the loss caused through medium of a Hail Policy in a sound reliable stock company.
