

Whooping Cough Widely Prevalent, Official Reports

Austin, Texas.—A statement released today by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, indicates that the incidence of whooping cough in Texas is at present almost three times as high as the seven year median.

"Prevention and control of whooping cough, especially among infants and small children, may be accomplished through use of approved vaccine and convalescent serum." Dr. Cox asserted, "and it is important that such measures be taken to protect them. Neglecting to do so, and allowing the young child to suffer an attack of this disease, may seriously impair his future health."

"The infectious agents or germ of whooping cough, is transmitted by droplets expelled in coughing, sneezing, or speaking. The discharges from the nose and throat and dangerous to susceptible persons; the need for early recognition and careful isolation of whooping cough is obvious."

The first sign of this disease is usually a dry cough, which persists day and night and tends to become increasingly severe. The disease is fully developed when vomiting of food and whooping accompany the paroxysm of cough. Dr. Cox stressed the fact that children who have whooping cough should not attend school and should be isolated so that they will not come in contact with other children until three weeks after the appearance of typical signs of the disease.

Air Rescue Service Established For West Texas Area

An emergency air rescue service for fliers lost or forced down within this area is now being conducted by the Army Air Rescue Service operating from Biggs Field, El Paso, Texas. Assistance will be given whether planes in trouble are civilian or military, and the unit is also authorized to transport by air, anyone injured in ground accidents when other transportation is not available.

All persons who have knowledge of an airplane crash or emergency landing in this vicinity are urged to place a collect long-distant telephone call to the Army Air Rescue Service, El Paso, Texas, telephone East 3181, Extension 2891.

The area covered by the Biggs Field unit includes more than 468,000 square miles, and takes in Texas, Southeastern New Mexico, and the Southern portion of Oklahoma. A force of thirty-two officers and enlisted men is constantly standing by on a 24-hour alert basis to respond to calls for assistance.

Equipment provided for rescue expeditions is elaborate and complete. Six aircraft of various specialized types are used. They include two C-47 transports, three L-5 reconnaissance planes and a helicopter. Transports are especially equipped for flying supplies and emergency equipment. The smaller reconnaissance planes are capable of landing in remote and rugged terrain and are equipped as ambulances for flying injured persons to hospitals. The helicopter, a whirling-winged aircraft which can take off straight up and land straight down, can reach quickly by air, places inaccessible from the ground.

Among the emergency equipment carried by rescue planes is a medical "bomb" which was developed by the Biggs Field Air Rescue Service for parachute delivery to injured when landings of rescue planes cannot be made immediately. This contains blood plasma, morphine, splints, antiseptics and other medical supplies of an emergency nature. When required, medical officers who are especially trained for rescue work jump by parachute to give first aid to downed fliers.

Since the Air Rescue Service unit was activated at Biggs Field in September of 1946, its pilots and planes have spent more than 800 hours in the air searching for lost aviators. A total of thirteen missing aircraft have been located during this period.

The Service has recently been expanded and authorized to go to the aid of civilian as well as military aircraft which encounter difficulties in flight. Prompt reporting of aircraft accidents by witnesses is of great assistance in rescue operation.

UNEMPLOYMENT CLAIMS SHOW DECREASE

The number of veterans claiming readjustment allowances for unemployment dropped over 35 per cent in the past three months, effecting a savings of nearly $8,000,000 a week over the rate of expenditure for February of this year, VA announced.

The 728,000 claims filed during the last full week in May represent the smallest number received in any week since January 1946, when in the wake of widespread demobilization of the armed forces, the number began to climb toward the alltime peak of nearly 1,800,000 reached in April of that year.

More than 300,000 veterans have exhausted all of their readjustment allowance rights, having drawn the entire 52 weekly payments of $20 each specified by law.

(Not necessary to use space above for your entry; just write it out on any piece of paper, but be sure your name and address are given.)

Here's all you do: Write out in 25 words or less what this girl is saying about Pepsi-Cola.

Consider these facts: Pepsi-Cola, despite sharp increases in its own costs, is maintaining its lead in giving you your full money's worth, thus keeping down your cost-of-living expenses. You can buy Pepsi-Cola today in the big 12-ounce bottle at a half cent an ounce. Compare that with the cost of other nationally advertised soft drinks. Discover the real value Pepsi-Cola gives you at its "half cent an ounce" price.

More facts to consider: Pepsi is deliciously uniform, always the same. It is made under ideal conditions of cleanliness and sanitation. Bottled right here... yet its quality is protected by a large national company operating throughout the United States.

Because you get so much more Pepsi-Cola in the big 12-ounce bottle, it saves room in your refrigerator. Pepsi is handy to buy and handy to take home in the six-bottle carrier.

Pepsi-Cola is the favorite of millions throughout the country... Tops in Flavor... Tops in Quality.

FOLLOW THESE SIMPLE RULES:

1. Complete the sentence coming out of the girl's mouth above, in 25 words or less. Write out your entry on any sheet of paper; but be sure your name and address appear legibly on each sheet.
2. You may submit as many entries as you wish, but each entry must be accompanied by a bottle cap from a bottle of Pepsi-Cola. Be sure to wrap the cap in tissue paper so it won't break through your mailing envelope. Entries with inadequate postage will not be accepted.
3. This contest closes at midnight, July 16th, 1947; entries postmarked later will not be eligible. Winners will be notified as soon as possible after the close of the contest.
4. Entries will be judged for originality, aptness and sincerity. In order of their excellence, entries will receive the following awards: First Prize: $500.00; Second Prize: $250.00; Third Prize: $100.00; Two Next Prizes: each $50.00; Four Prizes: each $25.00; Ten Prizes: each $10.00; Twenty Prizes: each $5.00; 250 Prizes: each $1.00.
5. The winners will be chosen by an independent, impartial jury of experts under the direction of the Reuben H. Donnelley Corporation. All decisions of the judges will be final.
6. Elaborate or fancy entries will not count extra. Duplicate prizes will be awarded in case of ties. No entries will be returned.
7. By submitting an entry, and in consideration of its being accepted for judging, you consent to Pepsi-Cola Company using such entry or any part thereof for advertising purposes, and consent that your entries, contents, and any ideas therein become the property of Pepsi-Cola Company.

8. Anyone may enter this contest, except employees of Pepsi-Cola Company, or of any Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company, or of their advertising agencies. Members of the families of such employees are likewise not eligible.

9. Address your entry to:

name from Prairie Dale to Pinkerton Missionary Baptist Church.
On Wednesday after the second Sunday in January 1912, a called conference met at the church. A motion was adopted that church members agree to work 40 acres in cotton for the pastor's salary.
On motion the church elected Bro. Pierson superintendent of the work. In January, 1913, J. P.
Ashley was elected to superintend the church crop in its second year.
In May, 1913, the church met at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at which time the church covenant was read and the church roll was called. In September, 1914, Bro.
Era Miller was ordained and set apart to the full work of the ministry.

At conference on Sunday, February 13, 1916, it was moved and seconded that Bro. Smith notify the members that were not attending to come to church on conference meeting. On motion and seconded the church decided to make a rule that any male member who absented himself from church as much as three consecutive conferences would be due the church an acknowledgment.
For the next 12 years the church moved along in good fashion. Most of the time they had a pastor, and the work grew.
Members left to join other churches,
and a few were expelled,
but there was a steady growth.
On December 9, 1928, at the regular conference, motion was made and carried that the church building be torn down and a new one built. This new building was ready for use by February 24, 1929. On June 29, 1930, the church voted to have a roll call of the membership and the date was set for the second Sunday in July. Bro. Willie Lees was elected church clerk on the 11th day of September, 1921, and served continuously until September, 1932.
He served again from April 1935 to September, 1939. This reveals the longest office holder of the church in its history. On January 7, 1934 the church went on record as favoring the following resolution: "Be it resolved that the Pinkerton Baptist Church unite with other churches to eliminate beer in Haskell County."
In November, 1939, the church met in short conference to decide whether to have full time church or just half-time. Votes carried by a majority for a full time church. Bro. Walter Copeland, now at Weintert, was the pastor.
On September 8th, 1940, the church met in conference to de-pounds of flesh, trying to get away from heel flies, are grazing more

In Roberts County, during the month of May, ranchmen sprayed about 24,000 head of cattle with DDT to control flies. County Agri-days, the animals are not seen running across pastures and kick-getting horn flies too, says the county agent, which is still another big money saving feature of DDT spraying.

still seem to be protected from the flies, says County Agent Breed-

Pinkerton Baptist Church, One of Oldest In County, Has Homecoming Program

Pinkerton Baptist Church, one of Haskell County's oldest churches, observed Homecoming June 8, 1947, when many of the old-timers were present to relate interesting things about the church and the Pinkerton community.

Mrs. R. M. Smith of Rule is the only known charter member still living. She gives the following information about the church:

The church was organized Aug. 4, 1891, by an Evangelist by the name of James who preached to cowboys out under the trees or anywhere he could get two or three together. There were parts of six families to join by letter or statement. The church was named Prairie Dale after the store and Postoffice located north and west of where the church now stands. Bro. James organized the church and held a week's revival and people came and camped and stayed for the revival as was the custom in those days. The first years of the church found their meeting in the schoolhouse. R. M. Smith was clerk and as they did not have a church book the records were kept by Mr. Smith in a Bible given to the Church by Hill County Baptist Association. (This Bible has been misplaced along with those records and if anyone should happen to know of the whereabouts of these, please let the church know.) Rev. I. N. Alvis of Haskell was the second pastor. Preaching services were Saturday morning and night, Sunday morning and night, with Sunday School on Sunday afternoon. Services were held once a month.

Mrs. Frank Norman, the oldest present member at the church gives the following information about some of the things she remembers concerning the church and community: We came to this county in the year of 1897 and had for our church a schoolhouse. Bro. James did some fine preaching. Soon after we came, the people built a large church house, one large room with two doors in the west end and one in the east. We all went in wagons and hacks and buggies all drawn by horses. We had a good Methodist church at Pinkerton, too. We also had a gin and a postoffice and several little stores. The town was growing, but when the railroad came by Rule, missing Pinkerton, the town moved to Rule. Finally the old church was torn down and the present building was erected. Lots of good has been done here and we are looking forward for a lot more to be done. Lots of good preaching and good prayers and many good songs have been heard and it still goes on. I have been coming to the church for 49 years as often as I could. I joined this church in the year of 1898. My husband joined in 1905. Some of the oldest pastors I remember were Edmonds, Alvis, James, Curry, Kennedy, Kinsler, and Cole. Bro. Era Miller is one of our Pinkerton boys. Floy Hawkins went out from this church as a missionary. When I moved to this place it was almost all open with no fences. One could take a straight course to Haskell and could go around all the mud holes. The closest railroad was Albany. Sheep herders were often seen, and many of them had leather boots on their dogs to protect their feet from the grassburrs and goat-heads. Bro. Simpson and Bro. Vernon were held a long time ago, too. Bro. Simpson said the church had many trials through the years, because he said, they had tried out many young preachers.

The church records begin with the year 1911. The other records may be in existence, and it is hoped they will be found. Some of the information gathered from these minutes are given in this history for notes of interest.

The first conference is dated June 10, 1911, but nothing of importance was transacted. One Saturday night before the fourth Sunday in September the church licensed Bro. Nathan McGuire to preach. (Bro. McGuire is the present pastor of the Baptist church in Knox City.) In the same year in October a motion was made and carried to change the

For the next 12 years the church moved along in good fashion. Most of the time they had a pastor, and the work grew. CITATION BY PUBLICATION

THE STATE OF TEXAS
To: Elwood Seigle, Defendant, Greeting:
You are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable District Court of Haskell County at the Court House thereof, in Haskell, Texas, at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 28th day of July A. D. 1947, then and here to answer Plaintiff's Petition filed in said Court, on the 13th day of June A. D. 1947, in this cause, numbered D-1108 on the docket of said court and styled Mildred Seigle, Plaintiff, vs. Elwood Seigle, Defendant.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to wit: State of Texas, County of Haskell. In the District Court of Haskell County, Texas.

To the Honorable Ben Charlie Chapman, Judge of said Court: Now comes Mildred Seigle, who resides in Haskell County, in the State of Texas, hereinafter called plaintiff, complaining of Elwood Seigle, whose residence is unknown to plaintiff, hereinafter style defendant, and for cause of action plaintiff represents to the court:

That she is and has been for a period of twelve months prior to filing this petition an actual bona fide inhabitant of the State of Texas and has resided in Haskell County for at least six months next preceding the filing of this petition; that on or about the 21st day of July, 1940, plaintiff was lawfully married to the defendant; that they continued to live together as man and wife until on or about the 15th day of January, 1945, when, by reason of the cruel and harsh treatment and improper conduct of the defendant toward plaintiff she was forced and compelled to permanently abandon him, since which time they have not lived together as man and wife.

Plaintiff says that the marriage relations still exists, but that defendant's actions and conduct toward her generally are of such a nature as to render their further living together as man and wife insupportable the premises considered.

Plaintiff further alleges that there was born as a result of said union one child, to wit, Joice Larue Seigle, a girl, who is six years of age; that said child has been in the custody of plaintiff all its

Disabled Veterans Should Apply Now For Automobiles

Disabled veterans eligible for free automobiles must submit their applications to the Veterans Administration sufficiently prior to June 30 to permit processing them before the deadline, VA warned this week.

While the veteran has up to two years after that date in which to effect delivery of the vehicle, VA is not permitted to enter any obligation against the appropriation after midnight, June 30, under present legislation.

Nearly 23,000 disabled veterans of World War 11 have filed applications for vehicles through May 31 under the law which provides a $1,600 conveyance for those who in service lost, or lost the use, of one or both legs at or above the ankle.

life and plaintiff is a fit and proper person to have the care and custody of said minor child.

Plaintiff says that there is no community property and that no child or children were adopted by plaintiff and defendant.

Wherefore plaintiff prays the court that defendant be cited to appear and answer this petition and that she have judgment dissolving said marriage relations, for custody of her minor child and for such other and further relief, special and general, in law and in equity, that plaintiff may prove herself entitled to and in duty bound will ever pray.

As is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Petition on file in this suit.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Haskell, Texas, this the 13th day of June, A. D. 1947.

Annual Soaring Meet In Wichita Falls Expected To Attract Record Crowds

Wichita Falls Texas, June 26—From 25,000 to 30,000 persons will attend the opening of the 14th annual National Soaring meet here on July 4, Charles King and Francis L. Harvey, co-directors, predicted today.

Ceremonies and entertainment on the Fourth of July will launch 17 days of contests which will determine the U. S. champion glider pilot and which may see the establishment of new world records in the sport.

Lt. Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, deputy commander of the Army Air Forces, will fly here from Washington to participate in opening day events. He will be accompanied by one or more of his staff and by Congressman Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls. General Vandenberg will speak.

Representatives of several foreign embassies will attend, including Wing Commander N. Bicknell and Squadron Leader J. L. Mikbell, assistant air attaches of the British Embassy, and possibly members of the air offices of the French, Spanish and Turkish embassies. In addition to this foreign representation, planes and pilots from Great Britain, France, and French-owned Algeria will compete in the contests. Two of the planes already have been shipped to this country officials of the contest have been informed.

King and Harvey said that Wichita Falls is making preparations to entertain one of the largest crowds in its history for the opening of the meet. A number of spectacular events have been planned for the public, including demonstration of stunt flying in which pilots will loop and roll

Veterans' News

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. I am a World War II veteran and plan to go to school under the G. I. Bill for the first time next fall. When should I arrange for my entrance into school?

A. You should arrange for your entrance into college or other institutional learning at the earliest possible moment.

Q. What benefits, other than subsistence allowance, is a veteran entitled to while pursuing a course of instruction under the G. I. Bill or under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act?

A. Veterans Administration will pay for his tuition, books, supplies fees and other authorized expenses within certain limitations. A disabled veteran may receive a pension or compensation and subsistence allowance concurrently.

Q. In getting a guaranteed loan under the G. I. Bill, must my loan be secured by a lien?

A. Not invariably. Under most circumstances a lien will be required as security for a loan, but there are a few conditions under which a loan may be unsecured.

Q. Do the veteran's rights to a loan guaranty extend indefinitely?

A. No. A guaranty may be had if applied for within 10 years from the termination of World War II which has not been declared yet.

The Exploiters?

There is a widely accepted belief that American workers have been exploited by employers. This popular conception holds that the increases in labor's wages and welfare are only the direct result of exerting pressure on these employers. Meaning, pressure in the form of banding together into unions and armed with strikes and walkouts. To a degree, these means have benefited the lot of American workers. Circumstances have forced paths of action.

In some cases, inconsiderate employers have worked hardships upon employees. In all fields of endeavor there are persons and groups oblivious of anything save their own interests. Often these few must be budged from their positions. It would be folly to say that workers' rights never need protection. But likewise foolish to draw a hard and fast dividing line representing employers as exploiters and unions as benefactors.

Wage Paradox
One fact which forms the keystone of the "exploitation" thought trend is the huge increases in wages of labor during the past 25 years. Union groups point to this as the hard-won booty of a continuous war with a greedy employer army. True, wages during this period have skyrocketed to levels unthought of in 1919. But, surprisingly enough, there has been no increase in labor's share from the income of industry during this period.

Actually, the share of labor out of the income of industry has not risen or fallen measurably during that time. It has been steady regardless of the ups and downs of unions. In 1909 among manufacturing industries 9% of the employees were unionized. In 1945 the total was 45%. However, during this period the wage earners' portion of the gross value of manufactured products remained almost stationary—about 16%.

Production Regulates
Production makes the difference. Workers were wretchedly paid a century ago. They were paid, however, in the same proportion to what they produced as our workers today. Production per man hour increased greatly in the last century. The workman's pay jumped. This increase came about through investment by American people in those factors which would raise production. Superior plants and better tools were set up for a larger production and higher income. Some of the most important factors that bettered labor's position were contributed by the employers and investors—the so-called "exploiters."

In a free competitive market, business survival depends upon efficient production by using more and better tools. It is not hard to recognize the high wages of America's workmen today as the logical offspring of a society which encourages competition and individual initiative.

By continuing to give business initiative the go-ahead signal, we're setting the stage for greater gains and benefits to labor. By permitting too much power to fall into the hands of irresponsible union groups and government bureaus, we are defeating our own purposes. Brains, perspiration, and initiative given free rein in a democratic society represent the only real approach to a workable Utopia.

Mattson 4-H Club Girl Tells of Work

Joyce Matthews, a member of the Mattson Senior 4-H Club is the fourth 4-H girl to tell the story of her work.

Joyce joined the 4-H Club in 1942 and was president of the Junior 4-H Club at Mattson before entering the Senior Club, and was one of the representatives from Haskell County to the 4-H Round-Up at College Station in 1946.

"Last summer I went to the first 4-H Round-Up at College Station with Miss Louise Newman, the county home demonstration agent, Novis Allison, the other 4-H Club representative from Haskell County, and Mrs. Vernon Allison who represented the 4-H Club sponsors. After registering we got our room assignments and ate supper. That night we had a picture show on the campus for all of the 4-H members and leaders. The next day we had discussion groups and talks and that night we went on a tour of the campus to see the different buildings, laboratories, and exhibits. The last night we had a party with club representatives participating and a magician's show. The next morning they had the state dress revue to show the winning dresses made by 4-H girls. Another of our activities was the making of braided key rings and bracelets. I enjoyed the trip very much and, of course want to do enough club work to have the honor of attending again because any boy or girl who makes this trip is a very lucky person.

Most of my 4-H work this year has been in the food preparation phase because that is my main demonstration. During the school term I prepared five meals a week for the family. I helped work in the garden, and did some food preservation work. The biggest job I did was to dress fifteen chickens to be put in our frozen food locker. Last summer I had to do all the housekeeping for two weeks because my mother was in the hospital.

This summer I am doing some painting mending, sewing and canning. I help with the mopping, sweeping and dusting. I always shampoo and fix my own hair so that I won't have to spend that much out of my allowance."

Higher Pay For Teachers Depends On School Tax

When higher salaries are paid to Texas school teachers, higher school tax rates or property valuations will pay for them, an Associated Press dispatch from Austin pointed out this week.

That was the general conclusion reached on the basis of a survey conducted by the Associated Press which found that some 70 to 85 percent of Texas' 4,000 school districts apparently will not establish $2,000 minimum pay schedules for the coming 1947-48 school year.

State Department of education officials and a representative of the Texas State Teachers Association expressed similar opinions as to the number of school districts which will be unable to reach the $2,000 low-level mark.

The number of districts below state salary par may be reduced by the time schools open in September. That will depend on whether citizens in those areas decide to follow the example of numerous other districts which have raised school tax rates or property valuations to insure the payment of a $2,000 minimum.

That minimum was set by the 56th Legislature, which also provided for higher pay brackets based on teaching experience and additional college training above the bachelor degree level. An increase of state payments from $35 to $55 was also authorized by the legislature with the expectation that this would enable the state to meet the state schedule.

Increased approval of rural or equalization aid taking in schools up to last year will make it possible for all schools of this type to meet the state minimum, according to the director of equalization, Department of Education.

Wichita-Brazos Soil District Supervisors Meet In Knox City

The Wichita Brazos Soil Conservation District Supervisors met Friday afternoon, June 13, for their monthly business session. All members were present including Jack Idol, Benjamin, H. D. Gammill, Rochester; Clay F. Grove, Munday; C. C. Browning, Truscott and H. W. Smith, Weinert. Mr. Fred P. Mika, District conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service met with the supervisors.

A sample stalk of Madrid Sweet Clover was brought in from the August Rueffer farm and was discussed by the supervisors. This new strain of clover shows good possibilities in the district. It is draught resistant and is a very good hay, and soil improving crop. Soil Conservation Service technicians at Knox City assisted Mr. Rueffer in the planting operations of this clover.

Three applications for conservation assistance were approved for the following: Guy McFarlin, Goree, J. F. Dunnam, Knox City.

Spraying Advised For Control of Melon Aphid

The cotton aphid, also known as the cotton louse and the melon aphid, is found throughout the United States. It is a general feeder, and in addition to damaging cotton is a pest of melons, squash, cucumbers, and other cucurbits. It is a small, soft bodied, sucking insect, its color ranging from light yellow to dark green or almost black. In the northern states both sexes occur and eggs are laid, but in the south only females that give birth to living young are known. Some of the adults are winged for flying to other plants, while others are wingless. The aphids spend the winter on various weeds, from which they spread to cotton early in the spring. Reproduction is continuous throughout the year in the South and becomes very rapid during warm weather. There are no distinct broods, and aphids of all sizes are present on the underside of the leaves and on the stems of plants. The natural controls, such as ladybird beetles and other predators, parasites, diseases, and unfavorable weather, are important factors in controlling aphids. Aphids are present in almost every field of growing melons and during cool, wet springs they often cause curling of the leaves, stunting of growth, or even death of the plants. Aphids secrete a sticky substance known as honeydew, which appears on the leaves and gives the plants a glossy appearance. A fungus often develops in the honeydew and causes the plants to appear black, or sooty. Melon aphids may be controlled by the use of 3% nicotine dust. Be sure to get when the wind is still and dust on the under side of the leaves as well as top side. The aphids may be controlled with nicotine sulphate spray using one ounce of Black Leaf 40 to five gallons of water. Be sure to get under side of leaves wet. Rotonee 5% dust will also control melon aphids.

Hunger A Threat

Two post-war crops have not relieved the scarcity of foods in Europe, where the daily rations of many people are less than one-third of the American standard. Naturally, in some urban centers, according to reports, the daily ration has dropped below that of the Nazi concentration camps.

This condition scarcely offers an ideal opportunity to create a democratic society. The reply might be that it does not offer better soil for the growth of radical movements, such as Communism, but the fact is that people who are hungry are apt to espouse any new proposal that promises the rainbow.

School children all over America are quite convinced that vacation days will do their mental development no harm.

Advertising is one of the wonders of the business world, as anyone will agree who has read the claims advanced by advertisers.

The cost of living is the object of concentrated attention on the part of those with fixed incomes. Let us hope that it goes no higher.

Scores of people die every day in the United States as a result of preventable accidents, but it is hard to get ordinary people to believe it.

PLEASE ACCEPT OUR THANKS

We want to express our thanks to the people of Haskell and this section for the generous patronage given us while in business here, and for the opportunity afforded to gain many friendships among a loyal group of customers. Your continued patronage of our successor will be appreciated.

HASKELL COUNTY HISTORY

Brief Items Taken from Old Copies of The Free Press

Twenty Years Ago Today
G. H. Cobb, a pioneer citizen of the southeast part of the county celebrated his 73rd birthday on last Wednesday. In honor of the occasion the children planned a surprise birthday party.

The business houses of Haskell will be closed for the 4th of July. Miss Mary Nell Wilson, daughter of Postmaster and Mrs. John T. Wilson, is attending a telegraph school in Tyler at the present time. She has been serving an apprenticeship in the local telegraph office here.

Forty Years Ago Today
L. M. Garrett returned Tuesday from New Mexico where he spent several weeks in the high altitude of that country for his health. Capt. W. W. Fields, J. U. Fields, Mr. Evers, Mrs. Hollis Fields, Mr. and Mrs. G. Andress and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Hunt returned Monday from a fishing trip on Paint Creek. They had intended to return Saturday but the heavy rains put the creek up so they could not cross. They report a good time and plenty of fish. They brought home 10 channel cat that weighed from 5 to 8 pounds each.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Patterson on Wednesday the 26th inst. We are indebted to Dr. Neathery for this report. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hambleton on Tuesday the 25th. On Monday June 24th, Haskell Lodge No. 682, A. F. and A. M., dedicated their new hall with an impressive ceremony under a special dispensation granted by Grand Master John P. Bell. Those taking part on the program were: W. H. Wyman, G. W. Lamkin, E. F. Springer, P. D. Sanders, G. R. Couch, W. J. Evers, H. R. Jones, M. S. Pierson, F. G. Alexander, W. E. Sherrill, C. D. Long, A. C. Foster, W. W. Fiels, J. T. Nicholson, J. H. Chambliss, O. E. Patterson, M. R. Wallace, H. G. You are commanded to appear and answer the Plaintiff's Original Petition at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday after the expiration of 42 days from the date of issuance of this citation, the same being Monday, the 21st day of July, A. D. 1947, at or before 10 o'clock A. M. before the Honorable District Court of Haskell County, Texas, at the Court House in Haskell, Texas.

Said plaintiff's petition was filed on the 3rd day of June, A. D. 1947.

The file number of said suit being No. 7449.

The names of the parties in said suit are Buford Cox as plaintiff, and the defendants are all those persons first named hereinabove in this citation, and to whom it is directed.

The nature of said suit being substantially as follows, to-wit:

Plaintiff sues in trespass to try title, as well as for damages, for the title and possession of the following described lands and premises, situated in Haskell County, Texas, to-wit:

First Tract: Being all of Lot or Block No. Nineteen (19) of the Rhombert Addition to the town of Haskell, Texas, as shown by a plat and dedication thereof, recorded in Vol. 44, Page 533 of the Deed Records of Haskell County, Texas, same being a part of Section No. 20, Block 1, H. & T. C. R. R. Company Survey, by virtue of Certificate No. 840, Abstract No. 490, Patent No. 354, Vol. 6.

Second Tract: Four (4) acres off the North end of Lot or Block No. Eighteen (18) of the Rhombert Addition to the town of Haskell, Texas, as shown by a plat and dedication thereof, recorded in Vol. 44, Page 533 of the Deed Records of Haskell County, Texas, same being a part of Section No. 20, Block 1, H. & T. C. R. R. Company survey, by virtue of Certificate No. 840, Abstract No. 490, Patent No. 354, Vol. 6, said four (4) acres off of said North end of said Lot or Block No. 18, being divided from the remaining six (6) acres by a straight line connecting the East and West lines of said Lot or Block No. 18, so as to cut off four (4) acres.

Plaintiff specially pleads the five (5) years statute of limitation, as provided by Art. 5509 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, Vernon's Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, Annotated, the ten (10) years statute of limitation, as provided by Art. 5510 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, Vernon's Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, Annotated, and the twenty-five (25) years statute of limitation, as provided by Art. 5519 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, 1925, Vernon's Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, Annotated, as a basis for his title to said above described real estate, and prays for judgment against the defendants for the title and possession of said lands and premises, for writ of restitution, rents, damages and costs, and for general relief, etc.

Issued this 3rd day of June, A. D. 1947.

Given under my hand and seal of office, at my office in Haskell, Texas, this 3rd day of June, A. D. 1947.

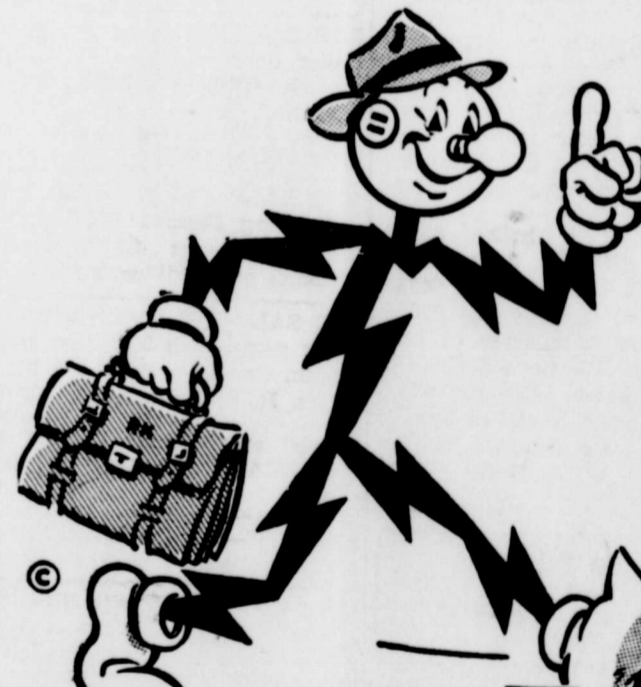

JESSE B. SMITH, Clerk of the District Court of Haskell County, Texas.

Where Do Managers Come From?

A DOZEN MEN operate turret lathes. A dozen clerks stand behind hardware counters. A dozen stevedores hoist dockyard freight.

Sooner or later, one operator, clerk, stevedore is going to reach out and do the work more competently than those alongside him.

This is a real beginning. But it is not enough for a man who hopes to manage.

A manager must have demonstrated that he can take orders, before he gives orders. He must know how to impart information. He must have character, courage, and the ability to administer.

If he has all these, he is ready to go on up. Some managers stay on the first, eighth, tenth steps, and do an important job. They are the foremen, superintendents, department heads, buyers. Some still keep going. The most farsighted and imaginative climb to the top.

This constant movement of men upward is one reason why American business has an ever-fresh point of view. Someone is always bringing a new idea on up with him.

Neither the men and women in industry nor the money in industry can be effective without good business-management. Nothing else is so important to the workers' welfare, the investors' welfare or the public welfare.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Fouts and son Billy are visiting friends in Graham this week and will spend a part of their vacation on Possum Kingdom lake before returning home.

Gift Tea Honors Recent Bride

A gift tea was given Friday morning June 9 in the home of Mrs. Bill Yarbrough, Rule, honoring Mrs. J. D. Westbrook, Jr., nee Helen Lisle of Rule. The receiving line included Mesdames J. D. Westbrook, Jr., J. D. Westbrook, J. A. Lisle, Scott White, James Lisle. Mrs. Audie Verner served punch at a table arranged before a large pink bow, on which read the names of the bride and groom and their wedding date. An arrangement of pink and white petunias was placed at one end of the table. Mrs. Less Lewis presided at the bride's book.

Many useful and lovely gifts were displayed to the following guests: Miss Sherrie Yarbrough, Mrs. Vera Mercer, Mrs. R. McCandless, Mrs. Oleta Jackson, Mrs. Audie Parlek, Mrs. Alta Carothers, Mrs. Irene Cloud, Mrs. L. W. Jones, Mrs. Verna Wilson, Mrs.

Franklin D. Roosevelt's Little White House at the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation. The informal, six-room dwelling where Roosevelt spent so much of his time, was given by the Foundation to the state of Georgia during ceremonies June 25. Henceforth, the house will be open to the public and will be maintained as a shrine "in memory of a man who was devoted to the alleviation of the suffering of mankind."

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Whiteker have gone to Freeport, Texas, where they will make an extended visit with their son Clarence and family.

Farmers in the United States are being asked by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to have 15 per cent more farrowing sows this fall than a year ago, to meet the 35 million head fall pig crop.

Mrs. George Tyler Named Honoree at Shower

Friday afternoon, June 20th, Mrs. George Tyler, the former Louise Spencer was honoree for a miscellaneous shower in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hallie Chapman, with Mesdames Iola Everett, Addie Harrison, Vallie Kimbrough, Jr., Gaston Hattox and Ivy Calloway as Co-Hostesses. Roses and Gladolies were used effectively in the entertaining rooms.

The dining table, laid with a lovely Lace Cloth was centered with a reflector from which held a bride under an arch of white silver lace. Open face sandwiches and punch and mints were served. Making up the house party were, Misses Mildred Chap-amount of fatigue from dishwashing is due to improper heights of sinks. A sink too high makes it necessary for the housewife to stretch her muscles to the point of tiring and a sink placed too low causes her to stoop. A wooden rack can be placed under the dish pan if a sink is too low. If the sink is too high, a platform to stand upon should be handy.

Short Cuts Help Lighten Burden of Dishwashing

That ever present task of washing dishes can be a simple, fast operation, according to Mrs. Florence W. Low, home management specialist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. She offers a few short cuts along this line. She says that while dishes are drying, wipe the glasses and silverware that have been rinsed in hot water, preferably boiling. A spray attached to the faucet is an easy method of rinsing, or if a pan of boiling water is used, vegetable tongs can be used to take the dishes out to drain. A cupboard placed just above the drain board is handy to put the dishes away after they have been drained.

Baking dishes, Mrs. Low says, cut down on the amount of dirty utensils; in these containers, food can be cooked, served, and put away in the refrigerator without the use of other dishes.

"This will probably shock most grandmothers," Mrs. Low says, but there might be just one dishwashing period a day. Of course the supply of dishes, size of the kitchen, and the kind of draining surface used will determine this." Mrs. Low believes that a great man, Jane Richey, Cathrine Davis, Margaret Morris, Evelyn Mann, all dressed in colorful evening dresses. About 150 guests were invited.

W. L. Price Home Scene of Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Price were hosts to a family reunion at their home here Sunday. A picnic style dinner was served to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs.

Pace In Business World

The following article concerning Charles Bates Thornton, HHS graduate and nephew of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Lewis of this city, is reprinted from the Lubbock Avalanche Journal:

The Ford Motor Company takes an optimistic view of the nation's economic outlook for the next five years, and is backing its expectations with a $300,000,000 modernization and expansion program.

The company expects a business recession late this year or early in 1948, but followed by an era of the greatest production in the peace time history of this or any other country.

This information was given at Lubbock Saturday by Charles Bates Thornton—popularly known as "Bates"—the 33 year old director of planning for the Ford company, a former Texas Technological college student and a West Texas boy who has made good in a way that out-rivals anything Horatio Alger ever wrote.

He and Mrs. Thornton, also a former Tech student, were in Lubbock for a brief visit with his mother, Mrs. A. J. Lewis. Mrs. Thornton is the former Flora Laney of Fort Worth.

With two incredible chapters of his amazing career already written by his records with the Army Air Forces and the Ford company, Thornton is en route home prepared to embark upon another one.

He has been "borrowed" from the Ford company, with the personal consent of Henry Ford, 2nd, the president, by Robert A. Lovett, newly appointed Undersecretary of State, for special services with the American State Department. His duties will necessitate close association not only with Lovett, but also with Secretary Marshall. His work is expected to have to do with departmental re-organization.

He expects to go to Washington from Detroit some time next month, remain in the national capitol for an indefinite period of weeks, and then return to his duties with Ford.

Washington will not be new to the youthful Thornton, because it was there that perhaps his most astonishing successes were achieved. It was there, within a period of 13 months, he rose in the army air forces from second lieutenant to full colonel, with approximately 15,000 military and civilian personnel in all parts of the world under his direct or indirect command.

At the time of his appointment, he was said to be the youngest colonel in the armed forces. His promotions, for he "hit" all the ranks between second lieutenant and colonel, also were said to have been the fastest of any man in the services.

A graduate of Haskell high school, young Thornton enrolled in Texas Technological College in 1931 and continued his studies there through 1932 and 1933.

Then he went to Washington, where he completed a course in business administration in George Washington university in 1935, continuing post graduate work there through 1939.

While attending school, he got a job as clerk in the Federal Works administration in the Department of The Interior. He was an associate statistician in that department when the War Department borrowed him in 1941 at the request of Lovett, who then was assistant secretary of war for air.

Lovett, a partner in the Wall street banking firm of Brown Brothers and Harriman, had himself been "drafted" for war department duties at a time when it had become clear to official Washington that the United States could not long avoid active participation in the war.

Thornton held civilian status in the air forces for about two months before being commissioned a second lieutenant about the time of the Pearl Harbor attack.

Not long before the Pearl Harbor attack, the nation was confronted with the necessity of building an air force capable of winning a global war—and the overall job was assigned to Gen. H. H. "Hap" Arnold, air force commander, under the supervision of Lovett.

The vast air force plan involved trying to anticipate what would be needed, the location and obtaining of minerals, the recruiting and training of personnel, the location of plants and other facilities and the actual construction of everything needed to wage—and win—a global war.

That was where Thornton came in. He was named to organize and head a new section, known as the statistical control system, which has been made a permanent part of the Army Air Forces.

He started as a second lieutenant. Thirteen months later, just after reaching his 29th birthday, he was a colonel.

In his position, he was a key figure in the planning of practi-in Washington, he was subject to assignment anywhere at any time.

His services were sufficiently outstanding that he received the Distinguished Service Medal, the highest decoration within the gift of the War Department. He also was decorated with the Legion of Merit and the Meritorious Service Medal on three occasions. In addition, he is entitled to wear several service ribbons.

A few days before the Japanese surrender, he was advised he was on the next list for promotion to brigadier general. The surrender wiped that out. In February, 1945, he went on terminal leave before his retirement from active service in April.

When the war ended, he continued, many of those in his section found offers waiting them in various industries. Thornton had the choice of several.

My nieces and nephews know that figures tell the truth when the figures deal with the results of systematic savings through the Payroll Savings Plan. Take a look at this chart. Circle the figure you need to achieve some goal for your self or your family. Then move over to the column which tells you how much you need to save each week in U. S. Savings Bonds to attain your objective. The whole thing is as simple as adding one to three, because your Uncle Sam pays you an extra dollar for every $5 you put in Series E Savings Bonds when you hold the Bonds to maturity 10 years hence.

"Advance-Design" Chevrolet Trucks Make Bow

The trucks that will bring true postwar design to the highways of America, Chevrolet's new "advance-design" line of commercial vehicles, will be introduced to the trucking industry June 28 by Chevrolet dealers across the country. Incorporating a variety of new features that assure greater operating efficiency, load-carrying ability and highway safety, the new trucks are said to be more rugged and durable than ever before. First units were built in Chevrolet's Janesville (Wis.) assembly plant, and were appropriately hailed. Here the "Queen of America's Dairyland," Miss Betty Gene Gardner, Ridge-way, Wis., christens the new vehicle as Gov. Oscar Rennebohm, Wisconsin's chief executive (right), and R. W. State Health Officer Department of Public Safety To Recruit Thirty Additional License Examiners To Dairy Week

Dr. George G. Cox, State Health Officer, endorsing the observance of June as National Dairy Month, has released a statement congratulating Texas dairymen on the remarkable progress they have made in the past few years.

"It is gratifying to note that where 20 years ago there were no evaporated milk, powdered milk, or cheese plants in Texas, now this State produces all 6 of the major dairy products: buttermilk, ice cream, butter, evaporated milk, cheese, and powdered milk." Dr. Cox pointed out that last year Texas made 21,396,000 pounds of butter, 13,699,000 pounds of cheddar cheese, and over 30,000,000 gallons of ice cream.

Austin, June 26—The Texas Department of Public Safety is undertaking a "mass manhunt," Director Homer Garrison said today.

Objects of the search are 30 young Texas men who, come September 1, will be recruited as Driver License Examiners. Ten will fill existing vacancies and 20 will be additional personnel authorized by the recent legislature.

"These are career service jobs," Garrison said, emphasizing that both recruitment and promotion in the Department of Public Safety are based strictly on merit.

Salaries range from $100 a month with room and board during the 4-week training period in Austin to $208.72 after training and probation have been completed. Examiners work a six day week, receive two weeks annual vacation with pay, and are entitled to benefits under the new State retirement act.

Applicants must have at least a high school education or its equivalent, be not less than 21 nor more than 35 years old, be not less than five feet eight inches in height, weigh, not less than two nor more than three pounds for each inch of height, be in excellent physical condition, and have a reputation for character and uprightness of conduct that will stand the intensive investigation that is made of those who are tentatively accepted on the basis of written tests.

Competitive examinations to fill these positions will be held at various points in Texas "sometime in July," Garrison said. He urged those interested and qualified to write him at Post Office Box 1164 in Austin, requesting application forms.

WILL VISIT IN GORMAN

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Mowell will leave this week for a visit with relatives in Gorman.

Panhandle's Bumper Wheat Crop Will Provide Test for Farm Labor Program

Practically all Haskell County wheat growers have finished harvesting this year's grain crop, favored with ideal weather and ample supplies of machinery and labor, but over 100 million bushels of Texas wheat, most of it ready and waiting for harvest now, is providing a tough test for the farm labor program of the Texas A and M. College Extension Service.

Since the Extension farm labor program began in 1944, farm labor officials have handled the routing of a steadily increasing number of combines needed to harvest the Texas wheat. This year, J. B. Kidd, Plainview, assistant state farm labor supervisor in charge of combine movement, estimates that at least 3,000 combines will be on the road, following the harvest from county to county. About 4,000 more will operate only in their home counties.

In Haskell County, where the nation's harvest started this year, between 250 and 300 combines were put into grainfields to gather the county's record breaking crop. Many of the machines were from out of state, and started the harvesting season here.

Routing of these thousands of combines is handled primarily through Kidd's office in Plainview. County agricultural agents in the wheat section of Texas and adjoining wheat counties of New Mexico wire him daily reports on combine needs, excess combines available, status of harvest, and other information. From that information, Kidd is able to see to it that combines are on the spot when they are needed and that those needing work get it. As the harvest is completed, many of the combines, including those from 20 other states and Canada which had come into Texas, move northward and follow the harvest all the way into Canada.

Kidd believes that the supply of combines will be sufficient to harvest most of the crop, estimated at 112,000,000 by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, but the squeeze will be tight when the Panhandle harvest gets underway the middle of the month. Trucks attached to combines will find plenty of work, and some auxiliary trucks will be needed, but he emphasized that more trucks are expected than can be placed.
