War surplus carpenter's tools, furniture and machinery will be included in a site clearance sale of $37,000 worth of materials at the Stamford-Arlidge Army Air Field August 13, 14 and 15, it was announced this week by J. W. Airmann, location sales chief for the Grand Prairie offices of War Assets Administration.

All remaining surplus at the air field will be arranged in lots of related materials for informal public bidding, Airmann said. Inspection and bidding has been scheduled for 8:30 a. m. to 4 p. m. Wednesday and Thursday August 13 and 14, with the bid opening at 9 a. m. Friday August 15.

Displayed in the various lots will be surplus items as a press drill, chain hoist, miscellaneous tables, a show case and counter, work benches, fire extinguishers, exhaust fans, hand and carpenter's tools. Bids will be accepted on a non-priority basis, but buyers must be present at the bid opening to claim awards and pick up their purchases.

The Stamford-Arlidge sale continues a series of emergency clearances being conducted in Texas by War Assets Administration's location sales division. It is being preceded by a quarter million dollar disposal operation at the Amarillo Army Air Field August 8, and followed by a sale near Texarkana August 18, and a huge clearance of the WAA Grand Prairie warehouse August 21 and 22.

Swim-O-Ree for all Boy Scout troops of Haskell County will be held at the municipal swimming pool in Rice Springs Park Tuesday August 12, beginning at 6:30 p. m.

Events will be arranged for non-swimmers, beginners and swimmers and the whole patrol of each troop. Each scout must classify himself and can swim only in the events in which he is classified.

Swimmers will have speed races and relays. The speed races are with free style, back stroke and underwater. The relays are a medley of three laps, one free style, one breast stroke and one back stroke.

The beginners will have free style swimming, a silent race and an undressing race. In the undressing race, the scout undresses in water and dresses again and first one out of water wins.

In the non-swimmer group there will be a potato race in which the contestant kicks the potato along the bottom with his foot, underwater breathing and free-style run.

There will be rescue events, a rope rescue in which the whole patrol takes part, and shirt rescue which starts with the victim in the water and the dressed scout on the bank. In these events, the technique is more important than speed.

Fruit Trees Require Special Care During Summer Months

A tip or two from Extension Service horticulturists at Texas A & M College that may come in handy if you're struggling with young fruit trees is given by Louise Newman, Haskell County Home Demonstration Agent. The season when these trees get in their most vigorous growth will soon be over and you have a good chance to lose some trees if you don't give them extra care.

Here are a few of the things you can do to hold tree losses down: Water them every seven to ten days during life summer. Wrap the exposed trunks of one year old trees with burlap or thick paper to keep down sun blister. You can also help cut down sun blister by encouraging low branches on the south and southwest sides of the trees. Also remember that young trees don't like hot soil, and a ground cover helps keep them healthy. Pile lawn trimmings or straw four or five inches deep around the body of the trees and under the limbs to hold water in the ground and keep the soil cooler.

On older, bearing trees, extra waterings will help fill out the late ripening fruit varieties and stimulate new growth. Normally late season applications of fertilizers are not recommended for fruit trees because fertilizer may stimulate new and tender twig growth, and that growth has a good chance of being damaged in the winter months by low temperature.

IMPROVED VARIETIES HELP WHEAT YIELD

Diabetes Continues To Take Heavy Toll

Despite the fact that modern medicine can do much to help the diabetic live out a normal life span, nevertheless diabetes took a toll of several hundred in Texas during the past year, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"While deaths from the communicable diseases such as typhoid fever, malaria, diphtheria, and smallpox are annually decreasing in this country, diabetes is still taking a tragic number of human lives each year, especially in the middle aged group," Dr. Cox said.

"Until recent years, diabetes was not noted as a major health problem, but it became accepted as such in direct ratio to the development of medical laboratory procedures, which made the disease more easily diagnosed.

Dr. Cox said that diabetes is generally recognized as a class disease. It seems to attack the white collar class of indoor men and women much more frequently than it does the outdoor person whose work is more vigorous and calls for more exercise. Whatever the actual cause of the disease may be, vocational and economic conditions apparently are factors, since it seems a fact that those persons who occupations fall for manual labor and simple living are not frequently affected.

Dr. Cox stated that simple, wholesome diets, sufficient exercise and sleep are factors in the prevention of diabetes, and an annual physical examination, especially in middle aged persons, is important so that if the disease is present, competent treatment can be instituted while the disease is in its early stage.

Sidelights From Washington

By GEORGE MAHON

The question of feeding and financing Europe with American taxpayers dollars is becoming of increasing concern to Congress and the American people. There must be an end to it sometime. It cannot go on forever unless we are to dangerously deplete our own country. There must be an approach to the question. The Secretary of State has suggested the so-called Marshall Plan.

In July the House unanimously passed a resolution, known as the Herter Resolution, which provides that the Speaker of the House shall appoint a Committee of 19 members of Congress to make a study of the questions involved in our overseas policy. The Committee is required to make a study of the foreign situation and our domestic economy and report and make recommendations to the Congress by March 1st. Earlier reports will undoubtedly be made.

Just prior to this writing I was notified by Speaker Martin of my appointment as a Member of this Committee of 19. The Committee is composed of 11 Republicans and 8 Democrats. A staff has already been appointed which is gathering information for the Committee. Preliminary meetings will be held in this country and the Committee will sail for Europe August 27th. The first meeting will be held in London, after which the Committee will make an on the spot check of the situation in Germany. The Committee will then be divided into several sub Committees. I have been asked to go with the sub-Committee which will make a study of the situation in Italy, Trieste and Greece. We are to make on the spot studies of what is happening to American dollars and efforts in these areas. This year we are spending $215 million to buy American wheat and other life sustaining food for Germany. Under the law of nations occupying country is required to prevent starvation in the area occupied.

Our food bill this year for the feeding of Italy, principally for American wheat, is about $200 million. In both the Trieste area and in Italy we have the expense of maintaining American soldiers in addition to a food bill.

The situation in Greece and in Turkey is more complicated. There we have in operation the $400 million program which is designed to assist Greece and prevent Russian aggression. In Greece we are providing funds not only for food but economic recovery and military supplies.

It remains to be seen whether the study and recommendations made by this 19 member group will be helpful to our nation and to the world. I told Speaker Martin when I was notified of my appointment on the Committee that I would cooperate fully and to the best of my ability.

This assignment has changed my plans for the Congressional recess as the work of the Committee will require me to be out of the country from August 27th to early in October—about 6 weeks. I will still have time during August and after my return from Europe to visit each of the 25 counties in our Congressional district.

"GLOOMY MOMENT IN HISTORY"

"It is a gloomy moment in history. Not for many years—not in the lifetime of most men who read this paper—has there been so much grave and deep apprehension.

"In France the political cauldron seethes and bubbles with uncertainty. Russia hangs, as usual, like a dark cloud and silent upon the horizon of Europe; while all the energies, resources and influences of the British Empire are sorely tried.

"Of our own troubles, no man can see the end. Yet the very haste to be rich, which is the occasion of this wide spread calamity, has also tended to destroy the moral forces with which we are to resist and subdue the calamity."

Well, what do you know? The quotation is taken from an issue of Harper's Weekly, an American magazine, dated October 10, 1857. The "gloomy moment" which the editor lamented has passed. The "haste to be rich" has not destroyed the moral forces which successfully enabled this nation to surmount serious crises and several wars.

JUVENILE CRIME DROPS

Here is an item which may be interesting to those who are convinced that the youth of the nation is going to the dogs. It is only a minor straw in the wind but it seems to have a bearing on the common allegation that crime among youth is unprecedented.

In Cincinnati, Ohio, Miss Lois E. Elliott, sociologist, reports that crimes and minor misdeeds by youngsters, from five to seventeen years of age have dropped off steadily and are one-third less than three years ago.

Of course, the adult pessimists who are quite convinced that the youngsters are going to hell at a rapid pace will not change their opinion. They will doubt the figures that come from Cincinnati because, after all, it is part of their stock in trade to denounce some thing or somebody.

NOT WHAT IT WAS

Readers of The Free Press who go on vacation trips this summer will find that their dollar has shrunk considerably since 1946, because of increases in prices all along the line.

Summer hotels, motor courts and cabins have raised their rates. Fares on the railroads are up and gasoline has increased three cents a gallon, exclusive of tax increases.

Despite the increased rates, the probability is that millions of Americans will spend millions of dollars on vacation trips. They will go to seashore or lakes, to mountains and to metropolitan centers. Many of them will go to National and State parks.

Everywhere they go, they will find the same thing—the dollar isn't what it used to be.

COURTESY WHEN DRIVING

Thousands of persons are killed every year in the United States in automobile accidents.

Many of these accidents could be avoided if the operators of vehicles practiced courtesy in driving and would forego the abnormal hurry to get no where in particular.

Just why an ordinary, intelligent citizen becomes obsessed with a desire to "set a record," when his hands on a steering wheel, is something of a puzzle, the solution which will decrease highway fatalities in Haskell County and elsewhere.

YOU CAN REST AT HOME

There is just the chance that a vacation, spent at home, may do you more good than a rush trip to some crowded resort.

We have observed the common tendency of holiday makers to return home from their annual vacation wearier in when they left. The rush and turmoil of many vacation schedules prevents a worker from getting a rest. This can get by loafing at home.

This is especially true if the tired business man takes to him the worries and perplexities of his work or has to concern himself with the money to pay the bills which are piling up at home. Somehow, we have gotten the idea in Haskell County that a vacation cannot be a vacation without spending a lot of money on a trip away from home. We have lost sight of the primary purpose of annual holidays which were designed and intended to give the body and mind a period of rest and relaxation from the strain of the working life.

THE WORLD CAN BE FED

There are many people who wonder if it will be possible, at any time in the future, for the world to raise sufficient food to give the one billion under-fed persons a minimum health diet.

About the best answer that we know of comes from John Boyd Orr, Director General of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization, who points out that our colonial days the colonists "more than once knewvation" but that this year we are producing 1,440,000,000 bushels of wheat alone.

Answering his own question as to how this came out, the British expert pointed out that it is the result of the application of modern science to the production of food by American farmers. He then pointed out that there are hundreds of millions of farmers in many parts of the world still using methods and equipment more primitive than those of the American colonists.

He reached out his right hand and caught his Winchester by the muzzle to draw it near his bed, the hammer caught on something and was discharged. His call for help was heard and answered at once by Fred Sanders, who called Mr. and Mrs. Williams who were camped a short distance away. Mr. Zint only lived about 2 hours, but told how the accident occurred before he died.

We are proud to announce our appointment, effective July 1, 1947, as authorized dealer for the new Ford Tractor and Dearborn Implements.

Designed by expert implement engineers and tested by practical farmers, Dearborn Implements are especially made to work with the Ford Tractor—either the new or the former model. And implements used with the former model will operate equally well with the new Ford Tractor. Let us tell you about them.

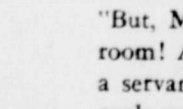

Tell your fortune?

"Such a lucky lady — with a pretty house, nice husband and children—lots and lots of servants."

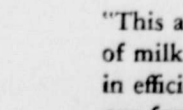

"You're wrong about the servants. I live in a 6-room house, and balance a budget!"

"But, Madam, you have servants to help you in every room! And you pay them very little, indeed. You have a servant to assist with your laundry. Another to help cook your meals. A third to protect your food. A fourth to clean. More to heat and light your home, and entertain you when you're bored. You have electrical servants, Madam—the most willing and dependable servants in the world!"

"Of course, I have electricity, but I never thought—"

"This army of domestic help costs you less than a bottle of milk a day! So you see electric service is not only high in efficiency, it's low in cost! Twenty years ago the average family got only half as much electric service for the money as it gets today. And think how many more jobs electricity does around the house in 1947! Yes, Madam, yours is a very good fortune, indeed!"

Many Veterans Plan Definite Objective In GI Training

About two out of every three of the 1,825,000 veterans recently enrolled in educational institutions under the GI Bill are taking courses leading to definite job objectives, VA reports.

VA arrived at this conclusion from a sampling of the records of veterans who were enrolled in the schools, colleges, universities and other institutions on May 1.

Engineering ranked first with 229,000 students, and crafts and trades were second with 208,300 students. Third in popularity was commercial courses with 154,000 students. Business administration was fourth with 146,400 students.

Those courses which VA considers as not generally falling within definite job objective classification include liberal arts, physical and natural science, elementary school courses, and others.

Liberal arts courses accounted for the largest number of enrollees—392,500—in the latter group.

Veterans enrolled in other courses included: Agriculture, 69,518; art, 42,000; education, 56,615; flight training, 81,494; law, 33,233; medicine, 59,316; theology, 8,979; journalism, 10,514; music, 22,338; natural science, 45,977; social studies 35,124.

Increase In Price Of Sugar Announced

The Sugar Rationing Administration at Washington Tuesday announced sugar price increases which will add about 2c to the retail price of a ten-pound sack.

Wholesale price increases become effective Wednesday but retail prices will not be raised until the first shipments at new prices reach retailers.

Officials said the boosts were necessary because of higher prices paid by the Commodity Credit Corporation for Cuban raw sugar.

The administration announced maximum price increases of 13.5c a 100 pounds for raw and direct consumption raw sugar, and 15c a 100 pounds for other direct consumption sugar at the primary distribution level.

Under the Cuban-U. S. sugar contract, prices paid for Cuban

Terminal Leave Orders Basis For GI Education

Military personnel being separated from the armed forces may use their terminal leave orders as a basis for obtaining a temporary six month certificate of eligibility for education or training under the GI Bill, the Veterans Administration has announced.

Under the new plan, if the applicant's orders reflect at least eight days of terminal leave, it will not be necessary for VA to check his service records to determine eligibility before authorizing matriculation in an educational institution or training establishment. However, these applicants are not eligible for subsistence allowance until they have been discharged formally, VA has said.

The temporary certificates of eligibility will be replaced by the regular forms after the veterans exact period of entitlement has been determined.

Area Scouts Plan Finance Campaign

October 9 was proclaimed Friday night by the executive board of the Chisholm Trail Council, Boy Scouts of America, in quarterly session in Abilene, as the beginning of the unified finance campaign to raise the budget for the coming year. A budget of $33,850.40 was adopted by the board.

The executive board voted to set up a special fund from gifts of Centum club members. This fund, upon the vote of the board, would be used for special projects of the council in better serving the boyhood of this area.

The board adopted a program of twenty activities for the council to use during the remainder of the year.

Game Commission Announces Schedule Of Antelope Hunts

Four controlled antelope hunts have been scheduled for October by the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission. The first hunt is slated for Brewster, Jeff Davis, Pecos and Reeves Counties on October 2, 3, and 4. The second hunt is set for October 6, 7, and 8 in Presidio County, south of the Southern Pacific Railroad tracks. Jeff Davis County gets the third hunt on October 9, 10 and 11. The final hunt will be in Hudspeth and Culberson Counties on October 13, 14 and 15.

Present plans call for the issuance of 600 antelope hunting permits. This number may be increased or decreased after a count of the antelope is made in August.

Application forms for antelope hunting permits may be obtained from the Austin office of the Game Fish and Oyster Commission. The hunting permits will cost $5.00. If more than 600 applicants for antelope hunting permits are received, the lucky 600 hunters will be determined through a drawing.

Under the rules promulgated by the Game Commission at its meeting last week, 1946 hunt alternates and those withdrew from the hunt after obtaining a hunting permit will be given priority this year. Next in line for the special permits will be those who did not participate in the 1946 hunt. And if there are any permits left they will be rationed out to those who did participate in last year's hunt but who want to hunt antelope again this year.

Owners of the land on which the antelope are to be hunted are authorized to charge each hunter not more than $40.00 for the privilege of hunting on his premises.

Rules of the hunt are the same as they were in 1946. Antelope may be stalked, but not chased by an automobile, not can a hunter take a shot at a pronghorn from an automobile, or shoot blindly into a herd of antelope. Only antelope bucks may be shot and one buck is the bag limit.

Mrs. W. E. Johnson Named Honoree At Surprise Party

On July 29 in the afternoon the members of the Sewing Club drove out to the country home of Mrs. W. E. Johnson, our Club Mother and surprised her with a birthday party.

The ladies carried freezers of ice cream and cake which was served at the dining table, one of Mrs. Johnson's customs.

After refreshments were served and all were still seated around the table, Happy Birthday was sung and a shower of gifts were presented.

Games were played throughout the afternoon.

Before the good-byes were said Mrs. Johnson made a very inspirational talk of being the Club Mother which brought tears as well as laughter.

As the party was in advance all wished her a happy birthday and good-byes were said.

Old Vernon School Building Moved to Stamford

The two room frame structure formerly used as the Vernon school, southwest of Haskell, has been moved to Stamford where improvements to the building will be made and it will be added to the Stamford School plant. Planned eventually as a band and shop building, the rooms will be used for the time being as classrooms for the junior high school or the Reynolds street elementary school.

The Vernon rural school district was recently consolidated with the Stamford district, and scholastics in the rural district will attend classes in Stamford.

HERE FROM BRECKENRIDGE

J. R. Coody, Jr., Breckenridge rancher, spent several days here last week looking after business interests in this section.

Why Is It Coming?

Many observers are of opinion now that the nation may expect a considerable business recession by August or September. It is expected that this recession will be reasonably severe and might last for six months. Some expect it to bring bankruptcy to a good many businesses that are weak financially, create unemployment, and maybe interrupt production seriously.

President Truman is so much alarmed that he is asking industry to reduce prices of commodities in order to help cushion the expected recession. Fears are that it might develop into a real depression. In view of our huge national debt and the fact that we must maintain a high national income, this prospect is rather serious. Naturally, we are asking ourselves: "Why must it come?"

Washington Fable
It is on the way because everything is entirely too high. Homes are too high, manufactured goods are too high, food is too high—everything is too high. People are refusing to pay the prices. They are going to continue to refuse until something is done about it. Now, why do not the industrialists just immediately lower prices until there would be no talk of depression?

That's impossible. Prices are regulated by costs. In manufacturing a price is charged that covers the cost. Big item in cost is usually labor, which averages 50 or 60 or 70%, and as much as 85%, of a finished article. Now the fable. When the war was over the President's Secretary of Commerce, Mr. Henry Wallace, recommended that in the automobile industry wages could go up 30% without increasing the prices of automobiles at all.

Spiral Again
If that could have happened in the automobile industry, of course, it could have happened also in many other industries. Labor was encouraged to demand a 30% boost, which they were told should bring no price increases. The facts, however, were on the other side of the fence. After an 18 1/2 cent increase was granted auto workers, and even before OPA died, automobile prices had to be increased an average of 22%. Other industries granted similar raises and prices went on moving upward. Labor soon realized that it had lost all its gains in the higher costs of living. When we get far enough from the present problems to size them up more accurately and when a correct history is finally written, it will probably be explained that wage boosts in the fall and winter of 1945-46, more than any other one thing, were responsible for the inflated prices that followed. This is what now threatens to make depression inevitable.

If our government could have found in 1945 enough backbone for a firm stand against increases in wages and prices, urging instead a high productivity to get the nation back on its feet as quickly as possible, then the present feared depression would have been mere talk. But when the general inflationary rise in wages and a corresponding inflationary rise in prices came, all thinking people agreed that finally a depression would probably come. We may get back to a reasonable level that way, but even yet we could use a much better way, which this column will outline next week.

Uncle Sam Says

This Independence Day your Uncle Sam salutes millions of fellow Americans who buy and own Savings Bonds—the payroll savers, the Bond-a-Month farmers, professional people and the self-employed, the regular buyers of Savings Bonds in all walks of life—all of whom are showing good judgment in building many future financial independence days and many future financial independence years.
