Users Advised Check Cut-Offs Before Cold Hits

The approach of cold weather has prompted the Water Superintendent to advise consumers to check all water cut-off valves to be sure they are in good working order before the winter. He pointed out that these cut-offs have been used since last year and if they are not working properly they could result in serious damage to the first freezing of the water. It will be impossible to cut off water for each consumer, Gilstrap explained, and suggested that users check their own cut-offs before the winter. He pointed out that these cut-offs have been used since last year and if they are not working properly they could result in serious damage to the first freezing of the water.

IN FREAK ACCIDENT, GAS TRUCK LEAPS EMBANKMENT, CRASHES INTO HOUSE

A freak traffic accident near the South Ward school building Tuesday morning about 9 a. m., resulted in a caved-in house side and one demolished truck, when a loaded gasoline transport truck leaped a five-foot embankment and smashed into a home after being involved in a traffic accident on the highway passing in front of the damaged dwelling.

The truck, driven by D. G. Griffith, about 60, of Munday, and a panel truck driven by Jack Medford, 20, of Haskell brushed together on the intersection of U. S. Highway 277 and South 6th Street.

The impact caused the large truck to careen off the highway and on over the five-foot tall dirt embankment and into the living room of the house of Mrs. J. W. Rogers, 506 South Avenue E.

No one was injured although Jane Rogers, daughter of Mrs. Rogers, was taken to the hospital for shock treatment and later released.

The gasoline truck was totally demolished, witnesses said. The panel truck was slightly damaged but the living room of Mrs. Rogers' home was much the worse for the mishap. A dresser was smashed and the floor carpet destroyed. Several other articles of furniture were damaged, also, and a quantity of gasoline from the wrecked truck spilled on the floor and carpet in the living room presented a threatening fire hazard for a time.

The accident was investigated by State Highway Patrolmen Jerry Bright and Ray Craft of Stamford, and Sheriff Mart Clifton. Traffic violation complaints were to be filed against drivers of both vehicles, officers said.

In expressing their gratitude, owners of the gin wrote: "We want to extend thanks to each of you for the excellent job you did in saving our gin plant Saturday night. To forget the rest of the world is to imperil the peace and security of the United States, Congressman George Mahon of the 19th District, told a capacity audience of more than 300 in Haskell Tuesday night, in a forthright warning against returning to the attitude of isolationism of the mid-20's.

The open meeting was sponsored by the Haskell Lions Club and the activity building of the high school was filled to capacity. Club president Harold Spain introduced Olen Dotson, who acted as toastmaster. Group singing was led by Stanley Furrh and the invocation was given by the Rev. Vernon Henderson, pastor of the First Methodist Church here.

Music and specialty number were presented by the Haskell High School orchestra and the school lunch room facilities were used for preparing the meal which was served by the meal-making Class of the school under the supervision of Mrs. W. P. McCollum.

Congressman Mahon, re-elected Nov. 2 for his 8th term, and who is completing a two months' visit over his District, which comprises 25 counties, told his listeners of the prosperity over the area. From irrigation of the Plainview section on the north to the oil developments on the west, the industrial and building of the Big Spring area to the dry land farming on the east, of which Haskell county this year is one of the leading dry land farming counties of West Texas.

He told of seeing full evidence of people moving forward in the development of one of the greatest segments of the United States. "The air here is a little easier to breathe, and I am proud to represent such a people in the Congress of the United States," he commented.

As a member of the all important Appropriations committee, Mahon told of the vast sums (Continued on Page 8)

Fake 'Inspectors' Gyp Gas Users In Haskell Area

Warning to homeowners and users of gas appliances against permitting unauthorized strangers to inspect or make adjustments, was issued this week by the gas company and local officers.

Posing as representatives of the gas company, two men during the past week victimized a number of Haskell housewives, after the strangers had been permitted to "inspect" appliances in Haskell homes. In practically every instance, the impersonators made a charge of $5 or upward for their services. It was learned after complaints had been made to local officers.

Marion Reeves, local manager for Lone Star Gas Company, pointed out to gas consumers that the company does not make a charge for nominal inspections by patrons, and urged all gas users to report any unauthorized stranger posing as a gas company inspector.

Paint Creek, Knox City Squads Will Play Here Friday

In what promises to be one of the best six-man football games seen in this section, the Paint Creek Pirates tangle with the Knox City team here Friday night. Kick-off time is 7:30, and the two teams will be meeting in the final contest in district competition.

Knox City can win the district by defeating Paint Creek, and of course nothing would suit the Pirates better than to topple Knox City from the top rung.

The Paint Creek team is in top condition after its 45-0 stampee over Megargel last Friday night. Probable starting line-up for the Pirates will be Billy Pannell, Othella Moody and James Raughter in the backfield and David Kohout, Lee Roy Schaake and Cecil Toliver in the line.

The game will be played on Haskell's Indian Field and admission price will be fifty and twenty-five cents. Tickets may be secured at the field at game time.

37-DAY TRIP FOR $90

Buffalo, N. Y.—Kener E. Bond, Jr., 18-year-old high school senior, recently returned from a 1400-mile, 37-day jaunt through New England on his bicycle. The total cost of the trip was $90—and that says Bond, is because "I spent lavishly." He averaged 57 miles a day from sun-up to sun-down, visited relatives and friends, cooked most of his own meals and often slept by the side of the road. He rode 854 miles of the distance on his bike, traveled about 500 more by train and even "hitched" a ride down the State Barge Canal on a Tonawanda-bound barge.

Enlisted men in the Continental Marines of 1776 wore green coats, green shirts, and breeches of light colored cloth.

A Soldier's Funeral

(In memory of T. C. Newcomb, Robert Ray Lowe, and the other Haskell County boys who gave their lives for their country.)

A crowd of friends and loved ones were quietly gathered around. To watch the flag-draped casket being lowered into the ground.

In each heart there was a sadness And all eyes were filled with tears.

For in that casket was a boy They had loved so many years. There was a dear old dad and mother, Down whose cheeks the tears did flow, Sat with hearts filled with sorrow Such as few shall ever know.

As they gazed upon the casket Many pictures came to mind, Of a barefoot boy so precious Who to them was always kind.

They could see him as a baby Fondly clasped to Mother's breast, And as a youngster tired and weary Gently tucked in bed to rest.

They recall those happy mornings As to school he marched away, And the sweet caresses given On returning home each day.

Then alas! School days scarce over When our country calls for men To go to far-off fields of battle And our freedom there defend.

This mother sees her darling boy As he says his last goodbyes, Smiling bravely as he kissed her Although tears were in his eyes.

He left his home so young, so strong, Left prospects for a future bright, Oh, how sad to see that future Blasted into darkest night.

They'll never know the meditations That their boy had all alone, As he thought of dad and mother And his dear old childhood home.

How he longed once more to see them And his life begin anew, Yet he realized his duty And to it was always true.

Although so anxious to return And live his life as he had planned, Yet when he saw his time had come He bravely faced death like a man.

—By John F. Ivy.

Veterans' News

Student veterans who acquire dependents or additional dependents while in training under the GI Bill should notify the Veterans Administration as soon as possible in order to qualify for increased subsistence allowance payments.

Notice of dependency change should be sent to the VA regional office in which the veterans' records are kept. The notice should be accompanied by legal evidence of the dependency such as certified copies of public records of birth, baptism or marriage.

VA increases subsistence payments as of the date it is notified and not retroactively to the date the veteran actually acquired the dependent.

Veterans who have received benefits from the Veterans Administration and have been assigned "C" (claims) numbers should place certain public records in their case folders if they think their beneficiaries might be entitled to compensation and pension benefits after they die.

To establish claims for payments, veterans' widows, children and dependent parents must submit public documents to VA as proof of dependency, age and relationship.

If necessary records were filed in the veteran's claims folder, his dependents would be spared the delays involved in obtaining them from other sources.

These include a certified copy of the public record of marriage; certified copies of previous marriages and copies of court records of divorce and annulment, copies of birth certificates of all children under 18, and a copy of the veteran's birth certificate. The veterans claim number should be written on all papers to insure positive and ready identification.

Questions and Answers

Q—When a veterans secures a loan under the GI Bill, does the Government make an outright payment on it without charging the veteran anything?

A—Yes, VA pays the lender, for credit to the veteran's loan, an amount equal to 4 percent of the guaranteed portion of the loan. For example, if the guaranteed portion of the loan is $4,000, the lender will receive $160 from VA to credit to the debt of the veteran.

Q—I am a World War II veteran and wish to go in business. Must I have experience in the business in order to get a G-I loan?

A—Experience is an important element in the success of the average business. You should be able to show a reasonable expectation of success in your venture in order to get your loan.

Q—Must a disabled veteran go to a vocational school or may he go to a liberal arts college, a high school, or similar institution under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act?

A—He may enroll in any VA-approved educational institution or training establishment offering the course of training which VA has found he needs to insure his proper rehabilitation in line with his own desires.

Q—My brother, a disabled veteran of World War II, is being rehabilitated under Public Law 16. Must he find his own job or will VA do this?

A—Veterans Administration will help your brother look for a job after he finishes his training.

POLAR RESEARCH AID IN FINDING OIL RESERVES

A charge of dynamite, set off in the bleak region near the South Pole during the Byrd Expedition of the early '30s set off a train of events which today gave promise of making the search for oil in Haskell County quicker and cheaper.

The explosion was set off during the Byrd Antarctic Expedition of 1933-1935 by Dr. Thomas C. Poulter, second in command and scientific advisor of the expedition, as part of some seismic measurement experiments.

Dr. Poulter, nationally known scientist who now is the associate director of Stanford Research Institute, Palo Alto, Calif., last year presented his new method of seismic exploration to the Institute of Inventive Research, San Antonio. Dr. Poulter then was on the staff of the Armour Research Institute, Chicago.

The Institute of Inventive Research is a non-profit public service organization endowed by Tom Slick, Texas oil producer and rancher, to provide aid for inventors. The Institute agreed to underwrite further research on...

Dr. Poulter's new development, provided he would conduct the experimentation.

On Thursday, Nov. 4, at Essar Ranch near San Antonio, the new way of making seismic tests for oil was unveiled. Dr. Poulter and Dr. Harold Vagborg, president of the Institute, held a press conference.

Then newspaper men were taken into the mesquite brush on the ranch for a demonstration. Light charges in the explosive pattern were set up on stakes above the ground spread around the area to be tested, and all were exploded together.

The new method contrasts with the present system of firing a single large charge in a hole of considerable depth. The Institute staff sees the principal advantages of the Poulter method over those currently in use as being the elimination of shot holes and their attendant costs, and the greater speed with which areas may be mapped.

Seismic recording equipment identical with that now generally in use is employed by the new method. Tests have shown, Dr. Vagborg said, that the above-ground method reduces danger of damaging nearby structures of concrete or other solid material. It also eliminates the dangers of falling stones.

Applications for patents on the method have been filed.

REJECTS MILLION FOR $15

Los Angeles, Calif.—Fined $15 for speeding, Francis G. Gorman, now in Shanghai, sent the Court $1,000,000 in Chinese greenbacks. The judge, ordering the currency which is worth only $2 in American money returned, warned that if the $15 is not forthcoming shortly, he will issue a warrant for Gorman's arrest when he returns to this country.

Roasting the Thanksgiving turkey always brings questions about preparation and roasting time. Correct roasting is slow cooking by dry heat on a rack in an open pan. It requires no water, no basting, no cover. The low temperatures assure better flavor and appearance, less shrinkage, and less loss of juices. A shallow roasting pan allows the heat to circulate evenly around the bird; a rack at least one-half inch high raises the bird off the bottom of the pan, keeping it out of the juices.

For best results, follow these simple rules:

1. Rub the cavity with salt— $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon per pound of bird.
2. Put enough stuffing in the neck to fill it out nicely and fasten it with a skewer.
3. Stuff the cavity well, but do not pack tightly. Stuffing swells as it cooks, so give it room to expand.
4. In trussing the turkey, wrap the string around the skin close to the joint of each leg, then bring the legs together and tie around the tail close to the body. The neck skin should be folded toward the back and fastened with a skewer or with a few stitches. Fold the wing tips back on the wings. The tips of the wing help hold the neck skin in place.
5. Place the turkey breast down on a rack. Keeping the back up most of the time allows the thighs to cook thoroughly without cooking the meat away from the breast bone.
6. Place in a pre-heated oven set at proper temperature given in time table for cooking your size turkey.
7. Do not sear. Do not cover. Do not add water.
8. Every half hour turn small or medium-sized birds and baste with pan drippings, melted butter, or other fat. Large birds may be turned every hour when the oven is slow.
9. Turn the bird breast up when about $\frac{3}{4}$ done if breast meat browns slowly.
10. Tests to tell whether the turkey is done may be any one of the following: Run a steel skewer or a cooking fork into the thickest part of the breast and in to the thigh; if the meat is tender and does not show a red tinge, the bird is done. If the meat of the fleshy part of the drumstick feels soft when pressed with the fingers the turkey is done. If the leg joint gives readily or breaks when the drumstick moves up and down, the turkey is done.

To determine cooking time, cook turkeys weighing 8 to 10 pounds when dressed at 325 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes per pound, or 3 to 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ hours per bird. A 10 to 14 pound turkey is cooked at 325 degrees 18 to 20 minutes per pound; a 14 to 18 pound turkey is cooked at 300 degrees 15 to 18 minutes per pound; turkeys weighing 18

Bluebonnet H-D Club Meets With Mrs. Knippling

The Bluebonnet Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. Fred Knippling, Thursday Nov. 4.

The president, Mrs. A. C. Denson, presided for the business meeting which included plans for achievement day to be held Nov. 18 in the homes of Mrs. G. E. Davis and Mrs. Rex Murray.

Each member will bring articles that she has made and will also bring someone with her as her guest.

The roll call was answered by telling "What I Am Most Thankful For."

Sandwiches, olives, cake and coffee was served to Mesdames Rex Murray, C. Lytle, Arthur Williams, John Wendeborn, Lee Cornelius, R. H. Astin, A. C. Denson, Joe Holcomb, Clyde Grice, R. V. Hagle and the hostess.

In February, 1777, Robert Morris wrote to John Paul Jones, "I think you should carry with you as many Marines as possible for they will be useful and necessary in all your land excursions."

pounds or more should be cooked at 300 degrees for 13 to 15 minutes per pound.

Taking the turkey out of the oven 20 to 30 minutes before it is served gives the meat a chance to absorb the juices.

Each side of a 15 pound turkey will yield about 10 pieces of dark meat, 12 slices of white meat, and a wing.

A Harvest Party for Lots of Fun

Remember those old time harvest suppers? Lots of fun, lots of good food but no fuss—no frills. Your friends will like this kind of entertainment, particularly if they are city slickers. Use your buffet or side table as the groaning board. Give the surface a good protective waxing before the party and you'll be able to dispense with all but the most essential mats or coverings. Your Morning Star silverware by Community is beautiful arrayed on a polished wood surface. And be sure to use those extra-special wedding pieces of hollow ware in the background, they all add to the beauty of your table. A centerpiece of fruits and vegetables in season, heaped in a wooden bowl and set on a bright mat, is all you need for decoration. If you have a favorite piece of pottery, or bright ceramic figure, add it for extra color. China-ware in a floral or fruit pattern carries out the general harvest effect. Serve a hearty menu of favorite casserole, toasted french bread and coleslaw. End with a generous portion of hot gingerbread or apple pie a la mode.

TUN TAVERN IN PHILADELPHIA SCENE OF FIRST MARINE CORPS RECRUITING

Tun Tavern, the first Marine Corps recruiting station in 1775, was a prominent Philadelphia hostelry on the east side of King (Water) Street, at the corner of a small thoroughfare known as Tun Alley that led down to the Delaware River.

The historic resolution which brought the Corps of Marines into existence was passed by Continental Congress in Philadelphia on November 10, 1775. Captain

Samuel Nicholas, senior Marine officer of the American revolution, immediately established a recruiting rendezvous in the popular tavern and sagely chose as his first recruiting officer big-fisted Robert Mullan, the proprietor.

Captain Nicholas instructed his recruiting chief to accept only candidates who were "of dependable and religious nature combined with proper robustness of body."

To this were added other qualifications: A man had to be at least five feet four inches tall, between the ages of eighteen and forty years, a native-born American or if foreign-born, a settled resident with family; he could not be a deserter from the British Army, a vagabond, or "person suspected of being an enemy to the liberty of America."

These limitations by no means meant that recruiting was merely a screening process. Suitable recruits were sorely and quickly needed and many devices and inducements were used to bring them in.

Lures of prize money, advance money, expense money, bounties, pensions and promises of ample grog, adventure and glory were dangled before prospective volunteers. Handbills were distributed, glowing advertisements were put in the newspapers and vigorous broadsides were displayed in every tavern.

Headed by drum, fife and colors, recruiting parties in brilliant uniforms marched up and down the streets to attract men seeking distinction and military excitement. The parties, followed by a crowd, would pause at intervals to enable an officer to orate on patriotism and the cause of liberty. "Drumming up" recruits was practically a literal term.

The educated hands of the Marine drummers beat hard and ceaselessly on instruments larger than the snare-drums of today. A coiled rattlesnake about to strike and the motto, "Don't Tread on Me," was emblazoned on each drum.

Inevitably the parade ended at Tun Tavern accompanied by a queue of patriots who had decided to become Marines. There the volunteers signed enlistment papers and a toast was drunk in their honor.

Officers were prohibited from enlisting a drunken man or from swearing in an applicant until 24 hours had elapsed from the time he signed his enlistment papers.

Occasionally recruits were advanced as much as one month's pay, but usually only two dollars. (Recruiting officers were allowed two dollars expense money for each recruit.) The pay of a private was less than an ordinary seaman and a Marine had to sign

SHRINE CIRCUS IN WICHITA FALLS NEXT WEEK

Wichita Falls will be the mecca for circus enthusiasts of this section the first of next week. Amid the indoor comfort and safety of the Memorial Auditorium there, the third annual Maskat Temple-Polack Bros. Shrine Circus will be presented at 8:15 Monday night, and at 3:45 and 8:15 Tuesday and Wednesday, November 15-16-17. An all-new, all-star performance is promised by General Chairman Enos M. Burt.

Top features include the world famed high-wire Beroninis, Roland and Tieber's educated sea lions, the Ward-Bell Flyers, the M-G-M movie elephants, Harold Barnes dancing boogie to ballet on the tight wire, the Konyots' dancing horses, the Great Franzisco on the high swaying pole, and the amazing aerial adventures of young Billy Barton.

Heading the roster of new foreign importations are Chai and Somay, clever Chinese acrobats. Other international acrobatic champions are the Ivanov Trio, Para and Nino, the Mustafas and the Bounding Warbels.

Also on the 2 1/2-hour program are Massamilliano Truzzi, master juggler; Dwight Moore's "mongrel revue," Ernie (Count Ernest) Wiswell with "Dizzy Lizzy," and an augmented contingent of clowns headed by Chester (Bobo) Barnett.

Circular Saw Bursts, Endangers Town

Melrose, Mass.—A 5-foot circular saw, rigged to the rear wheel of a jacked automobile, burst and a piece of the saw went through the roof of a schoolhouse half a mile away; a 15-pound chunk of the flywheel flew over the business section and ripped into a house a quarter-mile away; a piece of metal spun 300 feet through the windshield of a new car and dented its roof, and another piece of the saw crashed through the window of a tenement house, showering two occupants with glass and splinters. The operator of the saw suffered only a minor cut when the belt snapped.

On September 20, 1814, after the national Capitol had been destroyed by the British, Congress moved into Blodgett's Hotel and was guarded by Marines.

up for three years while a seaman was asked to sign for only one. Efficient recruiting sergeants were hard to obtain, as the Army offered a large inducement to them. Editors of anti-military publications constantly sought to discourage volunteers by ridiculing men in uniform as "hired assassins and cutthroats."

Despite these handicaps, the Marines succeeded in enlisting their quota of loyal and courageous fighting men — those men who captured the British forts at New Providence in a daring amphibious operation, the men who fought with John Paul Jones, with Washington in the Battle of Trenton, and in other great victories of the Revolutionary War.

Tun Tavern no longer stands, but it has been commemorated by a bronze tablet on the site, which bears the inscription: "This tablet marks the site of Tun Tavern, the birthplace of the United States Marine Corps. Here in 1775 Captain Samuel Nicholas, the first Marine officer, opened a recruiting rendezvous for the Marine battalions authorized by the resolution of the Continental Congress, November 10, 1775."

H-D Club Members Entertained With Halloween Party

Members of the Bluebonnet Home Demonstration Club were entertained with a Halloween party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Grice of Rule. Each one came in costume, entering the back door, where ringing of a cowbell announced their arrival. The Halloween motif was used in the dining room, where supper was served. Then guests proceeded to the basement where black cats, witches, pumpkins, and apples added to the atmosphere of the party.

Mrs. Modart McKinney gave a 20 minute magic show. Bingo was played, fortunes were told, and guests found other entertainment at booths containing Adam and Eve washing, wingless bats, and boxing matches.

A "bang-up" good time was reported by all attending the event. Present were: Mr. and Mrs. Corbet Lytle, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Holcomb, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Knippling, Mr. and Mrs. Less Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Martin, Mrs. Modart McKinney, Mrs. Rex Murray, Mrs. Sam Jennings, Mrs. John Wendeborn, and the host and hostess.

Lieutenant Pressley N. O'Bannon was in charge of the Marines who raised the American flag over the Barbary fortress at Derne, Tripoli in 1805.

Armistice Day

Thirty years ago today the "Cease Fire" command ended World War I. And on that day we honored those who had fallen in the service of our country. Today, added to that honor roll are those who gave their lives in the second great world conflict. It is not enough this Armistice Day to honor the brave dead of two wars by bowing our heads in prayer. Only by each of us working assiduously to prevent another war—working to build an everlasting peace—can we pay them deserving tribute.

ALL-GIRL ORCHESTRA WILL GIVE CONCERT IN ABILENE TUESDAY

The "Hour of Charm" All-Girl Orchestra and Choir under the direction of Phil Spitalny will be presented in concert in Abilene Tuesday, November 16, at 8:00 P. M. in Hardin-Simmons University's Rose Field House.

Composed of graduates of leading music schools throughout the country, the Hour of Charm All-Girl Orchestra has been accorded special praise by musical appreciation groups, among the recent honors received being the Award of Merit bestowed by the Women's National Radio Commission.

The All-Girl Orchestra has been a top-notch attraction on the radio for the past four years and has earned its tremendous popularity as a result of fine musicianship and programs specializing in "heart appeal."

This internationally known musical organization was founded 6 years ago, but rounded into its present featured state only after Mr. Spitalny had personally auditioned more than 2000 promising young musicians whom he believes are every bit as good as any men he ever worked with and far more dependable.

After the first few minutes of seeing an all-girl orchestra, one soon settles down to listening and then only musician's counts. The distinctive style of this instrumental music and the fifty voices of the All-Girl Choir emanate from the arrangements of four girls of the orchestra under the supervision of Maestro Spitalny, and it reflects their very name, the "Hour of Charm." Tickets for the concert are on sale in Abilene at the Record Shop, the R. M. White Music Co. and the H-S-U. Business Office. Prices include $3.00, $2.40, and general admission, $1.80. Mail orders should be directed to E. Ledbetter, Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, Texas.

Pinkerton Baptists Hear Colored People Sunday, Nov. 7th

Sunday evening, Nov. 7, a group of colored people came by invitation to worship with the Pinkerton Baptist Church congregation. Ten individuals appeared and were given the hour for worship. An average crowd or better heard them with respect. An outline of the evening of worship follows.

The opening song was, Jesus I Love You. Other songs sung by the group, in their unique way, included You Got To Move, I Want My Crown, Yes, Jesus Cares, I Don't Know What I Would Do Without The Lord and Till We Meet Again. Readings were given: Dad's Religion, by Dorothy Faye Dickens; The Crucifixion of Jesus, by Stella Smith; and Obedience, by Rev. Daniel Smith. Specials were sung: a solo by Stella Dickens; another by Mary Ozell Williams; a duet, The Alphabetical Song, by Fleta Dickens and Stella Smith; and a third solo by Dorothy Faye Dickens. There followed a sermon in scriptures by Rev. Smith. The program was directed by Mrs. Stella Smith, wife to the minister.

Colored people present, as guests, included: Rev. Daniel Smith and Will Taylor (a blind man), Mesdames Stella Mae Dickens, Dorothy Faye Dickens, Zora Grones, Mary Ozell Williams, and Leo Faye Williams.—Patsy Ann Ingram, Church Reporter.

DIES IN FUNERAL HOME

Richmond, Va.—Walking into a funeral home, James Barnett, 53, asked an attendant to call a doctor. Then he sat down in a chair and collapsed—of a heart attack. He was dead before the doctor arrived.

The resolution of the Continental Congress in 1775, which authorized the original two battalions of Marines, further specified that the personnel selected be "good seamen or so acquainted with maritime affairs as to be able to serve to advantage at sea."

Mrs. Claude Reid Is Hostess For Weinert Matrons Club

The Weinert Matron's Club met Thursday, Nov. 4, in the home of Mrs. Pearl B. Monke, with Mrs. Claude Reid as hostess.

The course of study for the club this year is "Travelogue of Fantastic West." At this meeting, the program was on Arizona. Mrs. Bernard Seay, who once lived in Arizona, made that state very real to us by showing pictures and Indian pottery. She gave a very interesting discussion of the country as she showed the pictures. She also told us some of the habits and customs of the Hopi Indians. A delicious refreshment plate was served to the following: Mesdames R. H. Jones, D. E. Jones, J. W. Liles, J. A. Mayfield, Fred Monke, Pearl B. Monke, G. C. Newson, Ike Peel, P. F. Weinert, W. I. Coggins, Bernard Seay, V. C. Deer, W. B. Guess, and the hostess, Mrs. Claude Reid.

1100 Feet of Curb And Gutter Placed During Week

In preparation for paving Highway No. 277 from curb to curb through the city, a stretch of 1100 feet of concrete curb and gutter had been run and finished Tuesday, City Engineer Rogers Gilstrap reported.

North 12th along Avenue E. The next curb to be run will be five blocks from North 12th to North 8th street and will amount to about 100 feet, Gilstrap said.

of tax money spent annually by the U. S. in the defense program of this nation. To date, this year 14 billion dollars have been allotted to the Veterans Administration.

With seven billion dollars expended to date this year on the Aid to Europe plan, Mahon commented that in his opinion this program was absolutely essential to the security of this and other democratic countries. And, that to withdraw the forces of this nation from Western Europe would create a vacuum there that would immediately be filled by Communism and the forces of Communist governments.

In the closing minutes of his address, in which the audience had sat enrapt throughout, he drew a picture of a comparison of Democracy versus Communism. The only way Communism can succeed is for Democracy to fail, he said, declaring the world was looking to the United States for leadership in this crisis.

While making no predictions of war, he said the United States was building stock piles of critical materials against emergencies, and that as a result, shortages of some materials to the public might be created. Strength in peace is less costly than preparing for victory in case of war, he added, and the only language that Russia can understand is the language of power and strength.

All Communism is directed from Moscow and in the nations with Communist governments, the common masses or majorities have no voice in their government but are controlled by the armies and minorities of those nations. He pointed out that only 28 daily newspapers exist in Russia, all of which are controlled by the government, while in the U. S. more than 17,000 daily papers are published without control and all exercise the right of free speech.

Congressman Mahon was introduced by Courtney Hunt, Democratic Committeeman of the 24th State Senatorial District, and the more than 60 out-of-town guests were introduced by Ralph Duncan. Delegations attended from Weintert, O'Brien, Rule, Sagerton, Stamford, Knox City, Graham and Asperment.

Turner, a vice president of the Council and chairman of the Haskell District finance committee which showed a total of $2,165.95 subscribed to date as compared with last year's total of $1,943. The report is not complete as Rule, Rochester, Weintert and Sagerton have not reported. The total for the district is expected to exceed $2,500.

A report on leader training, camping and activities was given by Gene Overton. This report covered a 10-month period and included a full slate of activities for scouts and adult scout leaders.

A highlight of the meeting was an address by Bob Glew, council executive, who titled his talk, "Mister, Can You Spare Some Time," in which he told of the value of a scout program in a community where adult leaders were willing to give their time to such a program.

A film of all scouting phases was presented by Dale Hewgley, council representative.

Committee assignments for the new year's scouting activities are to be announced in the near future by Judge Chapman.

District officers elected Monday night will be officially installed at the Annual Council Banquet Nov. 30th. At that time Dr. Elbert K. Fretwell, Chief Scout and recent Chief Scout Executive of the Boy Scouts of America, will be the speaker.

The Haskell Council is comprised of all communities in Haskell County, is a part of the Council with Abilene.
