Conner Cites Need Of Support For March of Dimes

The Haskell Lions Club, in their regular weekly meeting on Tuesday, heard State Representative Chas. M. Conner, local business man and farmer, and recently appointed Haskell county March of Dimes chairman for Infantile Paralysis, tell of the great need for public support of the 1949 March of Dimes campaign that is scheduled for early January.

Mr. Conner pointed out the unprecedented demand on the National Foundation for funds for Texas due to the severe epidemic of polio in this section. Citing an example, the case of Haskell county which has three cases in an Abilene hospital that are being cared for by the National Foundation at a cost of more than $60 per day.

The Haskell County Chapter had on hand $1,350 January 1, 1948, which was readily exhausted on the three cases now under treatment. At the present, $2,675 has been received from the National Foundation to care for the cases and a request for further aid to Dec. 31 this year of $3,685 has been sent National Headquarters and when received will total more than $7,700 expended on the Haskell county cases to that date. The cases will remain in the Abilene hospital an indefinite time and the county will necessarily depend on National Headquarters for assistance.

A campaign for larger initial gifts will precede the regular March of Dimes campaign and Mr. Conner urged that all civic and service groups join in making the 1949 campaign the largest Haskell county ever conducted. The local Lion's Club voted its full cooperation to the program.

Full particulars are to be released at an early date on the 1949 March of Dimes campaign. A. C. Pierson, local banker, is Haskell County Chapter Chairman for Infantile Paralysis.

Mr. Conner recounted a visit recently to the polio wards in the Hendricks Memorial Hospital in Abilene and told of the splendid treatment and care of these cases.

Other business of the club included a report from R. P. Hattox, chairman of ticket sales to the recent meeting sponsored by the Lions Club at which Honorable George Mahon was principal speaker. This report showed an attendance of more than 300 at the meeting.

Other reports included the Zone Meeting held recently in Archer City, and the acceptance of a quota of 25 per cent increase in the membership of the local club.

MISS CAROLYN TURNER

Miss Carolyn Turner Named Secretary Of Baptist Church

At seven o'clock, the windows of Haskell stores are to be unveiled, and the decorations that adorn the court house and square will be lighted for the first time. Advance information reveals that the windows and stores of the Haskell merchants will be more elaborate and beautiful than ever. The judging of these windows will consume several hours, and the winners in each division will be announced the following day. Decorations and the unveiling of the windows will be simultaneous and will occur at the sound of a siren.

During the window contest, Haskell merchants will hold open house in order that the personnel of each store will have the opportunity to extend Christmas Greetings to the citizens of this area. Each store will use this opportunity to display its unusual stock of Christmas goods. Stocks of merchandise in Haskell are larger this year and selections can be made from wider varieties known since long before the war.

Both window and store interior phases of the program are under the sponsorship of the Beta Upsilon Sorority, whose president is Miss Sue Pate.

Decorations for this gala occasion will include the multi-colored lights that adorn the court house and streets, the four stars atop the court house building, and the lighted Christmas Tree and Star that grace the southwest corner of the public square. In addition, the evergreen trees will be placed at 30-foot intervals throughout the business section of the city.

Another phase of the program is the home and yard decoration contest which is to be sponsored by the Progressive Study Club, under the direction of Mrs. Carroll Dean Bledsoe, president. Prizes are to be given in this division and rules are to be announced next week.

The Lion's Club will have charge of placing the evergreen trees throughout the business section and the club president is Harold S. Spain. All lighted decorations were purchased last year by the Fire Department, City Council, County Commissioners' Court, and the local chamber of commerce.

Plans are under way for the playing of Christmas carols and music from two of Haskell's churches later in the evening and various groups from the school's band and pep squad are to serenade the residential section with Christmas music.

The entire program is sponsored by all service groups of the community and each organization extends to the people of this area a most cordial invitation to join in this gala and colorful holiday program.

A steering committee from the local chamber of commerce composed of Claud Harrison, Dorsey Cooney, Cecil Gregory, Buster Ghobson, John E. Fouts, Henry King and Gaston Hattox were named earlier to handle the details of the program.

Martha Kretschmer, daughter of Mrs. Hermon Kretschmer, of Haskell, and Herbert Halfmann, son of Mr. J. Halfmann of Olfen, recited their nuptial vows in church in Olfen, Texas, Thursday morning, Nov. 18, at 8:30 a. m.

The Rev. George Robroker of Houston, cousin of the groom, read the nuptial high mass and performed the double ring ceremonies before the altar decorated with salmon gaidioli and fern flanked with burning tapers in candelabra.

The bride given in marriage by her father, Herbert Kretschmer of Haskell, wore a gown of white slipper satin fashioned colonial style with yoke of marquette edge with lace long-pointed sleeves tapering over the hands. The gathered skirt was lace trimmed and ended in a long train, the veil was fingertip length of bridal illusion with lace trim and held in place with crown trimmed with seed pearls and crystal beads. She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with gardenia, showered with lilies of the valley and tied with satin ribbon. Her jewelry was a rhinestone necklace and earrings, a gift of the groom.

Miss Grace Halfmann, of San Angelo, was maid of honor. Her dress was of blue mair taffeta. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations and satin ribbons with matching flowers in her hair.

Miss Mary Ann Robroker, of Westphalia, cousin of the groom, was bridesmaid. Her gown was

The little flower girl was Barbara Jean Urbank, niece of the groom. Her dress was similar to that of the bride, fashioned of white satin trimmed with lace. She wore a veil edged in lace and carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations.

Little Patrick Halfmann was ring bearer. He was dressed in a navy blue suit and carried the rings on a white satin and lace heart shaped pillow.

Leonard Halfmann attended his brother as best man and Eugene Halfmann served as usher.

An all-day reception was held at the home of the groom's parents. About 200 guests attended. A three-tiered cake topped with miniature bridal couple, centered the domash laid dining table. Mrs. Wm. Urbank and Miss Viola Robroker presided at the cake, Miss Betty Ann Harrell served coffee, Mrs. Edward Halfmann and Mrs. Clements Duder- served at the bridal book.

Deer Season Means More Meat In Many Lockers

It's deer season again. There'll be more meat in the locker the next couple of months. You can store that venison right in there with the beef and the pork, and look forward to a fine meal of venison steak some evening.

Texas ranks about sixth in the nation in deer population, says R. E. Callender, extension wildlife conservation specialist of Texas A&M College, with about 300 thousand deer. Hunters in Texas will harvest legally around forty thousand deer this season.

Besides having the sport of tracking down a big ten-pointer, every hunter that bags a buck will add more than a hundred pounds of meat to the family menu. Game cannot be sold legally in this state, but landowners will still be on the legal side when they pocket money for leasing out hunting privileges on their land.

Callender says you can keep upland game birds or game animals in cold storage as long as you want, but 90 days is the limit after the season closes on migratory birds and waterfowl according to federal law.

The care of the meat should begin as soon as the animal has been killed. Properly bleed and field dress the animal where he falls. Some hunters use a sack made of heavy canvas or bleached sheeting to cover the deer in the field or camp to protect it from the insects. Keep the carcass dry, and don't skin the buck until you get to a place you can put the carcass right into cold storage.

If the weather is cool, the deer can be kept in camp until the hunting party is ready to go back to town. But warm weather makes it necessary to get the freshly killed carcass into storage right away. If this is not possible, then it is a good idea to hang the carcass out at night and keep it wrapped in blankets in the shade during the day. Callender advises saving the hide to tan later on. It can be made into gloves or jackets, and now it is legal to sell deer hides in this state. Extension bulletin B-86 will give you the clues on how to tan leather at home. This is deer season, says this wildlife specialist, but shoot to kill. Don't let a wounded animal get away.

Electric Roaster Is Useful Addition In Kitchen

"An electric roaster is a useful addition to the kitchen, and need not be considered a substitute for the range," Miss Louise Newman, county Home Demonstration Agent, says. "A roaster may be too small for convenient general family cooking, except in emergencies, but it is very useful whenever you are preparing meals for a large group or whenever the range is crowded."
The U. S. Department of Agriculture has had many queries regarding the use of the electric roaster, Miss Newman says, and in answer, the specialists have several suggestions which will put the electric roaster to the best use.
Many farm families, they say, use a roaster for summer cooking, when wood or coal ranges make the kitchen uncomfortably hot. A roaster can cook a whole meal for a small family, and apartment dwellers will find a roaster plus a hot plate will do the cooking very satisfactorily.
Two important advantages of the appliance are the ease with which it can be moved and the fact that it can be plugged into any outlet. It can be moved from the kitchen to the recreation room, for instance, or used in community halls for special occasions.
It's a good idea to have a convenient spot in the kitchen for the roaster, preferably a stand or table of comfortable height near an electric outlet, where it can be kept, Miss Newman concludes. It's a nuisance to have to lift it out of a cabinet or cupboard each time it is to be used.

State Physician Tells Of Dangers From Gas Fumes

With the advent of cold weather each year in this State, several deaths are usually reported, resulting from asphyxiation by gas fumes in improperly ventilated homes or sleeping quarters.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued a warning in this respect, emphasizing that it is never safe to sleep in a tightly closed room with a gas fire burning. Even if there are no gas leaks, the air soon becomes vitiated and unfit to breathe.

When occupying a room in which gas is burning, be sure always to have at least one window or door open, to admit fresh air. Dr. Cox said. If the weather is too cold to permit leaving an open window in the room occupied, then play safe by opening a door into an adjoining room, where a window can be opened.

Dr. Cox said he was prompted to issue this warning early in the season because of the fact that thousands of new residents in the State save come from districts where they have been used to burning coal, wood or oil, and they do not know the dangers of gas fumes in improperly ventilated homes.

Occupying a room heated by an open gas flame, and at the same time keeping the room tightly closed, may prove disastrous the very first time it is tried, Dr. Cox said. It is better not to risk it even one time. Always be sure that your room has plenty of fresh air, but make doubly sure when you have a gas fire burning.

Sportsmen Warned To Guard Against Tuleremia Fever

Tuleremia, or "rabbit fever," is transmitted to human beings through the careless handling of wild rabbits, and according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, every wild rabbit should be handled with extreme care until the time he is bagged, until he is placed on the table.

If a rabbit is diseased, careless handling can cause tuleremia. This serious disease is transmitted from rabbits to human beings, usually through direct contact with the infected animal or with objects contaminated by the meat of fur. Dr. Cox said. Each year many persons contract tuleremia because they fail to use proper precautions in the handling of the rabbits which are killed for food.

Dr. Cox said that one of the first precautions recommended is to shoot only the healthy rabbits with enough energy to run away from the hunter as he approaches. A listless rabbit that fails to run is probably sick, and should not be taken by the hunter.

A second important safeguard is for the hunter or the housewife to use rubber gloves in cleaning and preparing the rabbit for cooking. The gloves should be sterilized after using, and the refuse and paper that has touched the rabbit should be burned. Hands should be washed after the meat has been set to cook.

Adequate cooking is a final safeguard that should be observed at all times. To destroy any germs that may be present, the meat should be cooked at boiling temperature for at least 20 minutes, regardless of whether it is to be fried or baked later.

By observing these safety rules, Texans may enjoy their rabbit hunts and rabbit dinners without fear of tuleremia.

FARM BUREAU OUTLINES OBJECTIVES AT STATE CONVENTION HELD RECENTLY

A comprehensive program of objectives for Texas agriculture was outlined at the State Convention of Farm Bureau members held in San Antonio recently. The plan deals with all phases of agriculture and farm improvement.

A number of Haskell County Farm Bureau members attended the State meeting, and had a part in developing the program adopted.

Attending from this county were Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Gamble, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Brown, Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Burson and Hubert Sego of Rochester; Boyd Baird and Joe Cloud of Rule; Frank Garrett of Weinert, and the following from Haskell: D. H. Persons, Clinton Herren, Fred Brown, Jack Lane, R. C. Couch Jr., Urban Harris, Shelby Johnson and Tot Johnson.

The following resolutions were adopted at the annual convention.

Preamble
We believe in the American way of life and our democratic principles of freedom and equal opportunity for all.

We condemn those who seek to build up by various means, a sentiment in the minds of the people, that the farmer is to blame for the high cost of living.

We commend and support our State Department in its efforts to build a peaceful and stabilized world.

We pledge all our efforts to produce everything possible to meet the needs of our own people and of a hungry world. We call for the same abundant production by all other groups, that we may combat the evils of inflation.

We ask the cooperation of all newspapers and news commentators in informing the people of the tremendous agricultural production and the small percent of the food dollar that the farmer receives.

We pledge our cooperation with all groups working for the welfare of agriculture, especially do we commend all of those whose loyalty and labor have made possible the splendid progress of our organization this past year.

National Farm Program
We support a National Farm Program that will provide for price supports through commodity loans, with surplus controls on all farm commodities, if necessary to maintain support prices at 100 percent of parity.

We urge that the parity formula be based on the 1909-14 average, with adjustments being made for inconsistencies in certain commodities.

We recommend that CCC be authorized to furnish storage space for commodities that have support prices, when necessary in order for producers to secure loans.

We urge that soil conservation payments be increased to encourage a greater soil conserving program.

We recommend that a price support program be set up for pecans.

We urge that the old support price for clover seed be reinstated.

We recommend that the support price and CCC loans be continued on grain sorghums, as compared to corn and that these loans be made available by June 1 through March 1, of the following year.

We insist that all money used under the Marshall Plan (for the purchase of food and fiber) be spent in the United States when such food and fiber is available.

Rural Road Program
We recommend a Rural Road Program for Texas, to be financed by the state government either through appropriations or increased tax on natural resources, Division, and administration of funds allotted by state government for rural roads could be administered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts as specified in the law.

Construction, location, and types of roads to be determined by the county courts, with priorities given first, School Bus Routes; second, Mail Routes; and third, Population Feeder.

We invite the cooperation of all individuals and groups interested in this type of Rural Road Program.

Freight Rates
We favor equitable freight rates for the entire United States.

We ask the Interstate Commerce Commission to study closely any requests for increases in freight rates and to adjust inequities that now exist, or that may exist in the future.

Legislation
We recommend that the Texas legislature enact a financial responsibility law which will adequately protect all citizens from property damage and liability in case of accident.

We recommend that a uniform interstate trucking regulation agreement be worked out between states.

We urge that the act requiring automatic brakes on trailers be amended so as to exempt farm trailers.

Livestock
We urge that all State laws pertaining to Sanitary Commission Laws, brand inspections, bill of sales, and bonded Commission Companies, be more rigidly enforced.

Be It Resolved That: It is the sentiment of this organization that there is not now sufficient, definite and certain information relative to Brucellosis to warrant the adoption of any compulsory program dealing with the problem. Until such information is available, all programs toward control and eradication of the disease should be kept on a voluntary basis; these recommendations to affect beef cattle only.

Be it further resolved that no program should be attempted that would interfere with the free movement throughout this country of feeder and slaughter livestock, due to Brucellosis.

We urgently recommend that the Bureau of Animal Husbandry and all State Livestock Sanitary organizations continue intense research into all problems related to Brucellosis and that the Livestock Industry be kept advised about all developments.

We commend our Government and the Mexican Government for their close cooperation in the fight to eradicate the foot and mouth disease, and urge a continued forceful campaign to stamp out this dread disease.

Due to the excessive loss of livestock occasioned by wheat poisoning, we urge the continuance of the research program in finding the cause, treatment and prevention of wheat poisoning.

We favor a price support on mohair.

We favor rigid enforcement of the law to keep livestock off of highways.

There is anew cattle disease known as Disease X, that is very serious, widespread, and about which little is known. We urge quick action be taken to learn more about this disease by the Bureau of Animal Husbandry and the State Livestock Sanitary Commission and that immediate steps be taken to control and stamp out if possible.

We urge the American Farm Bureau Federation and the Texas Farm Bureau Federation to promote an educational program on the handling of livestock on the farm, in transit to market and at local auction sales, to reduce the loss to farmers and ranchers due to cuts and bruises from improper handling of livestock.

Cotton
We urge the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station to seek to develop varieties of cotton and other crops adapted to the various producing areas of Texas.

We urge that cotton loans be made available by July 1, which is the new Government fiscal year.

We urge that cotton classing under the Smith-Doxey law be decentralized so as to better serve all producers of cotton. We also urge more rigid enforcement of this Act.

We recommend that the State and Federal Acts governing the control of Pink Bollworm be amended to eliminate the "Non-Cotton Zone" features of such Acts.

We further recommend that the laws be rewritten in light of present day knowledge of Pink Bollworm control.

Weed Control
CNO—FSeeFw bmbm bm bmm
We recommend that a law be passed whereby a county could vote itself into a Weed Control County to control bindweed, by a majority vote of land owners under the jurisdiction of the County Commissioners Court, and that all Bindweeds be controlled on all County, State, and Federal roads, Railroad right-of-ways, and all farm land adjacent to or otherwise in the county, each owner to be responsible to the court in such district.

Pest Control
Resolved that we favor the continuance of the present law seeking to control animals, birds and pests, and recommend that ample funds be appropriated by the state for this purpose.

Since Chlordane, Toxiphene and Benzene-Hexachloride are doing a better job of controlling grasshoppers than "Bait" we recommend that the Bureau of Entomology and Plant quarantine use the money that is now being spent on "Bait" for furnishing the above mentioned poisons to farmers in place of "Bait."

Seed Testing
We urge strict enforcement of our state laws in regard to the proper tagging of planting seed of all kinds. We ask the legislature to appropriate sufficient funds to set up adequate seed testing laboratories.

Labor
Resolved: That the Texas Farm Bureau Federation endorse the effort to promote the good neighbor policy to facilitate a working agreement with Mexico, for the

TEXAS 4H CLUB BOYS AND GIRLS HAVE OUTSTANDING RECORD FOR PAST YEAR

If you have ever wondered just what the 4-H Club boys and girls in Texas do, here's the answer. This is last year's record of nearly five thousand 4-H Clubs in Texas with a membership of over 114,500 youngsters.

These kids produced food, and they conserved food. And they made more food available to their families, as well as to the families of war-stricken countries overseas. J. W. Potts, extension state 4-H club specialist of Texas A&M College, says they had more than 23,000 gardens. The boys have raised more than 368,500 chickens and turkeys. The girls had nearly 7 thousand poultry flocks.

The 961 thousand quarts of food these youngsters put up in cans and jars does not include the hundreds of pounds stored in the freezer locker.

Food wasn't the only item on the program by any means. The 4-H boys and girls helped make their homes more attractive and livable. The girls projects included making more than 53,000 new garments and remodeling over 33,000 other items of clothing.

Fire and accident prevention programs also held the interest of many of the club members. They spent time improving their own health as well as that of their families and communities.

Soil and water conservation practices played a big part on the 4-H Club program, too. The boys had nearly 110,000 acres in conservation management. And besides this, they raised more than 54,500 head of livestock while the girls were planning more than a million and a quarter meals.

That's what the record shows. In doing all these things, says Potts, they gained a better understanding of their place in the world today.

Texas 4-H'ers Win Chicago Trips

Ann Peterson Wayne White Betty Blackerby Reuben Rother

SUPERIOR records of achievement in National 4-H Better Methods, Canning, Clothing and Garden programs have won 1948 state championship honors for four Texas club members. Each received an all-expense trip to the 27th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Nov. 28 to Dec. 2. The winners, who were selected by the state club office, and brief outlines of their records follow:

Getting that well-known "new-look" was little trouble for Ann Peterson, 17, of Devine, who selected, sewed, made over or mended 26 garments for herself and other members of the family during three years of 4-H club work. In addition to completing five 4-H projects, of which three were in clothing, Ann served as president and leader. She gave a talk at a community meeting and wrote three stories about 4-H tours, camps or special events. Ann has done some interesting things with textile paints. A peasant blouse which was plain when she started, she painted in six colors. Named State winner in the 1948 National 4-H Clothing Achievement program, she was awarded an educational trip to the Chicago Club Congress provided by Spoon Cotton Educational Bureau.

Wayne White, 17, of Coahoma, has applied many better feeding and housing methods in his livestock activities because of skill achieved through the National 4-H Better Methods Electric program. Wayne has been named State winner in the program in recognition of the many better methods he has developed for doing farm tasks. He has given demonstrations on trimming calves feet, grooming livestock, terracing, culling chickens and pruning trees. In addition to project work, he has served as junior leader of his local club for five years. Wayne received an educational trip to the National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago, provided by the Westinghouse Educational Foundation.

The Blackerby family of White-wright has no worries when it comes to being supplied with a variety of healthful foods all year around. Canning 1,984 quarts of meat, fruit and vegetables helped 4-H'er Betty Blackerby, 16, win State honors in the National 4-H Canning Program. She also has served her club in many offices and is a junior leader. Betty was provided an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago, by the Kerr Glass Mfg. Corp. as recognition for her outstanding achievements.

Providing his family with plenty of healthful home-grown vegetables was a major achievement for Reuben Rother, 20, of McDade, but he has now also been recognized with State honors in the 1948 National 4-H Garden Program. Reuben planted and tended peanuts, tomatoes, squash, blackberries, melons, potatoes, cabbage and corn during his seven years as a 4-H'er. He has used crop rotation and learned their value in both garden and field crops projects. As a recognition of his achievements, Allis Chalmers provided Reuben with an educational trip to the National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago.

All of these activities are conducted under the direction of the Extension Service of the State Agricultural College and USDA cooperating.

Veterans' News

Veterans studying under the GI Bill who want to transfer to another school at the end of the fall semester should notify the VA at least 30 days before they intend to make the change.

To enroll at a new school, VA explained, the student-veteran needs a supplemental certificate of eligibility. He also needs a statement from his present school showing that his progress there is satisfactory.

A student-veteran may obtain a supplemental certificate of eligibility by applying to the VA regional office which has his file.

Veterans who have appointments for services authorized by the VA are urged to appear at the appointed time.

VA said veterans should make every effort to keep their medical or dental examinations at the time specified. These examinations are set on a regular schedule. When a veteran fails to appear, he wastes not only the time of VA personnel preparing to give the examination or treatment, but prevents them from rescheduling some other veteran at that period.

Broken appointments also result in unnecessary delays in medical and dental care to all veterans who can be served by VA.

If an appointment cannot be kept, VA should be notified in advance.

Questions and Answers

Q.—While living in Canada, I converted by NSLI to a permanent plan. Now I learn that because of Canadian currency controls, I cannot send enough money out of the country to cover my premiums. What can I do about this?

A.—There have been a number of similar cases. You should contact the currency control office of the country in which you reside, and if you cannot make a satisfactory arrangement, you should go to the nearest U. S. consulate and explain your problem.

Q.—I am a World War II veteran and would like to know if my wife is entitled to VA hospitalization?

A.—If she is an ex-service woman she will be entitled to hospitalization in her own right, but being the wife of a veteran will not of itself make her eligible for VA hospitalization.

Q.—After my discharge from World War II, I surrendered my

ARTHROITIS

In a 48 page booklet, a committee of 12 of the nation's leading doctors have issued a complete report of years of research on rheumatism and arthritis.

From their findings a formula called Ru-Tel was then tested by physicians and clinics and has achieved remarkable results in relieving the pains of rheumatism, arthritis, backache and sprains. Ru-Tel Tablets are pleasant to take, do not upset the stomach—give quick soothing relief sometimes overnight. Now Ru-Tel Tablets are available through all druggists. First bottle must be paid for or your money refunded.

New Methods For Cancer Treatment Will Be Shown

Newest methods of detection and treatment of cancer will be demonstrated for Texas doctors at the third annual meeting of the American Cancer Society, Texas Division, in Houston December 5 and 6.

Members of the Society from throughout the state will attend scientific and lay sessions featuring the two-day meeting, according to Frank C. Smith of Houston, president of the Division.

Speakers will emphasize the need for every doctor's office to be a cancer detection center and will describe the part volunteer men and women are playing in the state's expanding cancer control program.

A presentation for all present by nationally known specialists will describe the present and future of medical control of cancer, will emphasize that much cancer can be cured with what is now known and will explore some of the possibilities which present-day research holds.

Dr. E. W. Bertner of Houston, executive committee chairman, said that actual patients will be presented during one of the professional meetings. Conditions will be similar to those in a typical cancer clinic, and representatives of 10 Texas tumor clinics which receive support from the Society will act as the medical staff for this demonstration. All Texas physicians, dentists, and nurses are being invited.

Awards for outstanding service to Texas cancer patients will be presented during the annual dinner, and business sessions will also be held. An open public meeting presenting some of the outstanding speakers will be held at the Houston YMCA December 6th at 8 p. m.

ATTENTION.

Haskell Camp Fire Board of Directors will meet at 9:30 a. m. at the Chamber of Commerce office on Tuesday, Dec. 14, 1948. New officers for the year will be elected.

Farm Bureau—

We wish to commend the Texas Employment Commission for their efforts in hadling the farm labor problem and ask that sufficient funds be appropriated by the legislature to carry on a sound and efficient placement program.

We insist on the right of labor to work where and when it pleases and oppose any change in the Taft-Hartley labor Act which in any way jeopardizes or weakens this right.

Fair Trades Act We oppose the enactment in Texas of the so-called Fair Trades Act, because said Act would eliminate free competitive sale of products and supplies and would encourage excessive profit-taking.

READ THE CLASSIFIED ADS

big by the manufacturer and producers through a system of price fixation.

Resolved That the Congress of the United States is requested to make available through the HEA adequate loan funds to allow extension of service to those farms and ranches not now receiving service, and that such funds be available without any restrictions as to its use for generation and transmission of power where it is cheaper or where an adequate supply of power is not available.

We recommend that rural communication be improved by urging private industry to expand and improve telephone lines, and by the sponsoring of cooperatives where necessary.

We urge the American Farm Bureau to continue investigation of the rural telephone situation and make a study of its possibilities, with the idea in mind of presenting to the Congress a feasible and definite plan that can be put into operation, and that Congress pass a law to put said plan into operation.

Land Grant Colleges We commend the work of these great institutions in the field of agriculture. We urge that the program of these institutions be expanded, especially in the fields of agricultural research, on plant and livestock diseases, new varieties of wheat, rice, citrus and other crops, and in the field of marketing of farm products, and in agricultural organization.

We urge the state legislature to appropriate sufficient funds to match federal funds available for this purpose.

We ask that A&M College re-instate the summer short course.

We recommend that sufficient funds be furnished the Farm and Home Administration, to meet the demand for operating loans and Farm Ownership loans to eligible veterans and non-veterans who need this assistance. We also recommend an increase in appropriation for direct loans to Farm Ownership applicants.

Health Whereas the farm people of Texas are in acute need of much more adequate health facilities and services.

Be it resolved that the Texas Farm Bureau present the following proposals for the improvements of the rural health situation in the state, and ask that all interested groups give them serious study.

1. That the State Board of Health of nine members be revised to include four representatives of consumer groups, two of whom would represent rural areas.

2. That the appropriation to the Texas Department of Health be substantially increased, with the appropriation earmarked to be used to improve and to increase the number of county public health centers.

3. We urge that a law be enacted making it possible to create special tax districts for the building and maintenance of hospitals.

We urge the continuation and expansion of the school lunch program, as an aid to improving rural health.

Public Relations

We urge the American Farm Bureau Federation and Texas Farm Bureau Federation and all county Farm Bureau federations increase their efforts in educational and informational programs to clarify unfavorable publicity given agriculture through the press and radio regarding the cost of living, support prices and some erroneous ideas prevalent concerning organized agriculture.

Uniform Cooperative Agreement

Agreement of understanding between county Farm Bureau and state Farm Bureau called Uniform Cooperative Agreement.

It is essential in energizing the full strength of and maintaining clear understanding between the county and state unit that a memorandum of agreement should be developed clearly setting forth the major fundamental factors of relationship, such as the following:

1. Description of each unit and its relationship to the other, including certain definite responsibilities, each to the other.

2. Membership acquisition and maintenance responsibilities.

3. Relationship of county, state and national organizations.

4. Division of responsibilities in carrying out the Farm Bureau program as related to county, state and national activities.

5. Relationship to commercial activities as affecting each unit.

6. Policies regarding including division of fees and payment of

7. Policies regarding five matters and the duties of each unit.

8. Policies relating procedures:

(a) Proper audits to the board of directors

(b) Use of Farm Bureau without complete Farm control.

(c) Employment of delegates.

NEW HOME OF MOTOR CONCERN WILL BE FORMALLY OPENED TO PUBLIC

S. S. Dishong In Charge of Erection Of Huge Building

Supervisor in charge of all construction details in erection of the huge Bill Wilson Motor Company structure, including re-fabrication of steelwork in the mammoth hangar utilized in part of the building, was S. S. Dishong, local building contractor. One of the first engineering problems was the laying out of forms for concrete support foundation for the steel work, and Mr. Dishong was successful in working out base line to a point of accuracy which permitted placing of the dismantled steel structure on exactly the same scale embodied in its original construction. This was done by the local builder without access to original blueprints. Many other construction problems were worked out, and the large new building is rated as an outstanding building achievement by contractors and builders who have inspected the structure.

Dismantling and moving the large steel hangar from its former location at Stamford Arledge Field was the job of Frank B. Reynolds of this city. Reynolds and his crew moved the steel framework, including the massive 120-foot steel span trusses, to the Haskell building site, and were responsible for swinging the several hundred tons of iron-work back into position as building work progressed.

More than a mile of electrical conduit and wiring throughout the walls, flooring and roof of the new building were placed by Bill Nellums, Haskell electrical contractor, who did all electrical installations in the building.

Bill Wilson Motor Co. Receives Coveted Four-Letter Award

The coveted Four-Letter Award which Ford Motor Company is bestowing on qualifying Ford dealers today was in possession of Bill Wilson Motor Co. Presentation of the handsome certificate—which signify the highest badge of distinction to a Ford dealer can earn—came during a recognition dinner in Haskell Tuesday evening at Warren's Dining Room. The awards were personally bestowed by Assistant Sales Manager A. Y. Edwards.

The four letters—FMSF—represent simultaneously the high Ford dealer performance level that must be earned and the over-all new Ford company challenge. "Ford Must Stand First." Dealer recipients, under the new Four-Letter Award program, must watch their individual dealer operation with the company's four key franchise essentials: Sound finances, efficient management, competitive spirit, and modern facilities.

Competitive spirit is measured by the dealer's recognition of community interest between the company and himself, and also by his cooperation in programs to create customer goodwill. His sales and service facilities must measure up to the most modern standards.

Efficient management embraces dealership objectives, activated personnel training programs, advertising programs, control of expenses, and methods of handling used car and truck business.

Durability And Beauty Combined In New Fords

A precedent has been established in the low-priced automotive field by combining handsomeness and beauty with durability and comfort in the interiors of the new Ford cars.

Many of the new models will be on display this week-end at the new Bill Wilson Motor Co. building.

Ford has broken away from the neutral tones which have been traditional for mass production automobiles as designers have turned to textured fabrics popular in fashions and interior decorating.

Of the three new fabrics, the most unusual is a soft gray tweed mixture with a blue stripe which gives the Ford interiors a freshly tailored look. It has been combined with a bolster of blue-gray broadcloth to protect the upper section of both front and rear seats.

The same tailored good looks are obtained with the other fabrics—a smooth green striped broadcloth and two new adaptations of mohair in a green and maroon stripe and green and gray stripe combination. In proper combination, they complement the new Ford exterior colors such as Sea Mist Green, Birch Gray, Arabian Green and Bayview Blue.

The instrument panel of the new Ford has been simplified. All instruments are combined in a single cluster directly in line with the driver's view. Projecting slightly for better visibility, the large figures on a telescoped dial indicate speed, fuel level, rate of battery charge and oil pressure.

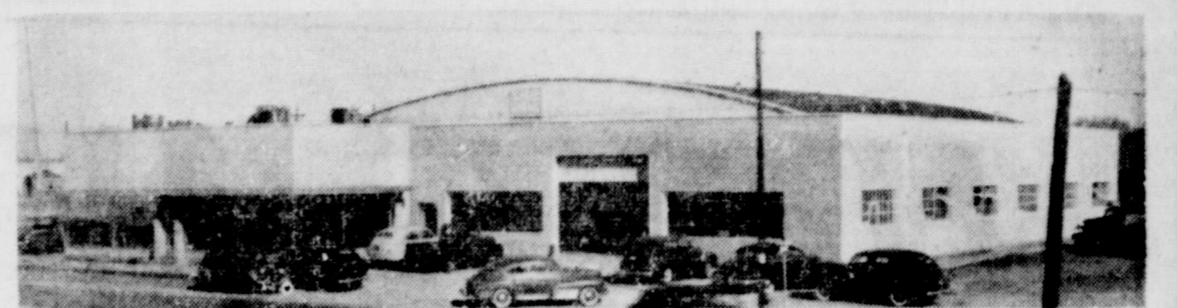

The clock dial has been centered on the panel and placed higher. Night glare is eliminated on all instruments by "black lighting."

Chrome trim throughout the car has been reduced. On the panel it is expressed in a neat arrangement of uniform knobs which control choke, windshield wiper, lights, heater and defroster.

New windows demonstrate the new trend. The rear window alone is 88 per cent larger—as large as the ordinary windshield. The windshield is deeper and wider. They give a picture window effect to the entire car and greatly improve all around visibility.

Get a FORD "PHYSICAL"

Every 5000 MILES

IT MAKES good sense to have your car serviced regularly. The wise motorist makes it a habit to have his car lubricated every 1000 miles, and a complete "Physical Exam" every 5000 miles.

Take a look at your Ford's speedometer, today. If it's nearing a "5000" mile reading, bring it "home" to us for your Ford's "Physical"—which includes a thorough engine, ignition, electrical, wheel and brake check . . . and a complete inspection of the body, inside and out.

Make it a habit to let us check your Ford regularly to keep the top performance that's built into your car. It's the right way to catch the "little things" that can develop to make driving unsafe. You'll be surprised how much money you'll save throughout the life of your Ford, with regular Ford care.

Your Ford Dealer invites you to listen to the Fred Allen Show, Sunday Evenings—NBC network. Listen to the Ford Theater, Friday Evenings—CBS network. See your newspaper for time and station.

Distinctive Style Reflected In Ford Station Wagon

Revolutionary changes in the new Ford cars are reflected in the styling, utility and ruggedness of the station wagon and convertible models.

The 1949 station wagon is the first with a two-door, all-steel body, only one in the low-priced field. Beauty of wood paneling has been enhanced by this modern design. Plywood veneer panels of selected hardwoods are bolted directly to the steel body.

A number of new and important safety features have been engineered into the new station wagon. Outstanding is elimination of the rear doors and enlarging the two front doors. Careless or playful children can't accidentally lean against or bump the door handles to open the doors while the car is in motion.

The new type of construction is designed to eliminate squeaks and rattles. Ruggedness has been achieved by transfer of all body stresses and strains to the all-steel construction as well as the elimination of two doors.

To provide greater strength and safety, because of heavier loads often carried in station wagons, it is equipped with a special type X frame. Ford engineers say there is enough built in protection in the 1949 station wagon to meet the exacting safety requirements for school buses.

The station wagon has seats for eight passengers but the new arrangements permit easy loading of baggage without opening the end-gate at the rear. The extra large doors provide easy access.

WILL SET ASIDE

Miami, Fla.—The court has set aside the second will of the late Abram Barker, which left nearly a million dollars to his housekeeper, ruling that Barker "was mentally weak and extremely dependent on others by reason of age and as result of a serious cerebral accident." A will is the best way of guaranteeing that property will be disposed of as the owner wishes. Without a will, the heirs may become involved in a chancery suit and it may be a number of years before the estate is settled.
