Knox County Votes $25,000 Hospital Bond Issue

Residents of Knox County gave an overwhelming majority Saturday to the issuance of $25,000 in bonds for the Knox County Hospital.

Incomplete returns showed the bond proposal leading 335 to 31. The vote Saturday was extremely light because of rainy weather.

The commissioners court of Knox county has asked the bond issue to pay off a $13,000 debt incurred in building a new hospital wing last year. The $12,000 remaining would be used to buy new equipment for the hospital, such as operating table, operating room light, cooling system and repairs to the old building.

A $50,000 bond issue was voted in 1947 for construction of the hospital annex. The wing was built by contract. An estimated saving of $25,000 was effected by doing so, but in order to equip the new wing the county went ahead and incurred the $13,000 debt since the original bond issue was insufficient to cover all the costs.

The latest bond money would pay off that debt and buy new equipment replacing some that has been in use for 25 years.

The commissioners said they believe with the new funds they can put the entire hospital in first class condition, and that Knox County will have medical facilities second to none.

Insect Control Big Problem for Farmers Last Year, Agent Says

Annual report of County Agent F. W. Martin reveals that cotton insects were very bad in several sections of the county in 1948 and the county agent spent 30 days working on this problem. A total of 75,000 acres were dusted from one to three times. Three cotton insecticides were used—10 percent DDT, 20 percent Toxophene, and 3 percent Benzene Hexichloride, 5 percent DDT, 40 percent sulphur, were used on the cotton boll worms and cotton flea hoppers. The boll worm damage was very heavy in spots in the county. Airplanes were used quite extensively in the O'Brien-Rochester areas with good results in most cases. The cotton grew in 1948 was high due to dry weather during the harvesting season. The most popular varieties of cotton grown in the county are Hi Bred, D. P. L. Lankhart 51, Bred, D. P. L. ## MARCH OF DIMES LAGS BELOW HALFWAY MARK AS DONATIONS COME IN SLOWLY

Contributions the past week failed to increase the total funds in the current March-of-Dimes fund raising campaign in Haskell county to any appreciable extent, according to Chas. M. Conner, county chairman.

If the snail's pace continues, Haskell county will for the first time in polo history fail to make its expected quota, Conner continued.

With only 30 cents per capita as a quota, this gives the county a minimum of $4,800 to raise, and with only one week remaining every resident in the county must redouble their efforts. To date slightly over $2,000 has been accounted for, or about 42 per cent of the quota, Conner said.

The county chairman is urging every worker to complete their assignments as soon as possible.

Business houses who have coin collectors are asked to keep them in a conspicuous place, and clerks and cashiers can do a world of good if they remind their customers to leave some of their change in these collectors.

Letters are being mailed this week to prospective donors, and it is urged that they return their contributions as early as possible that they will be included in the county quota. It is expected that each school child in the county will be given a card to place dimes in by the end of the week. Last year this was one of the most effective methods in the drive.

Haskell county with four cases under treatment this year has borrowed from the National Fund more than $7,000 to care for its cases, and it is expected that these cases will be hospitalized for several weeks or months more.

Any doctor who will diagnose a case as polio, or as a suspect, can at once send the patient to the nearest receiving hospital for polio, and that family never has to worry whether the bill can be paid or not. The National Foundation takes care of the patient as long as they are under the care of a doctor.

Too, a portion of the monies received in the March of Dimes campaign goes into a constant research for means to completely stamp out or check the dread disease.

Persons who have not made a contribution may clip the coupon that will be found on another page of this paper and mail or hand their contributions to either Chas. M. Conner of Haskell; W. B. Guess, Weinert; Sam Reid, O'Brien; Mayor J. E. Cloud, Rule; L. G. Cook or Fritz Stegemoeller, Sageron; John M. Ivy, Paint Creek; H. W. Smith or Lee Norman, Mattson; or Doran Brown of Rochester.

Farm Mechanization Proceeds at Rapid Pace in State

Texas farmers are making long strides toward complete mechanization of crop production, according to H. P. Smith, agricultural engineer of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Smith has just completed analyzing information on power used on Texas farms in crop production furnished him by county agricultural agents.

No horses or mules are now used in crop production in about 40 Texas counties. With the exception of some hand-hoeing and hand harvesting of cotton, crop production in these counties is completely mechanized, Smith said.

Thirty counties use less than 25 horses or mules, while in another 35 counties less than 100 horses or mules are used in crop production, Smith said.

Tractor power is used almost exclusively in the production of all crops in a block of 77 Northwest Texas counties. It was reported that a few farmers in these counties still keep a team or two for odd jobs about the farm or for hauling feed.

There are about 47 million acres in these 77 counties. The total devoted to crop production amounts to about 14 1-2 million acres.

Smith found that East Texas farmers still use a good deal of animal power. This is likely due to the farms being smaller units than in West Texas. East Texas farmers were reported to use horses and mules ranging in number from a few hundred per county to more than 6,000, Smith said.

Clearing Skies Bring Promise of Relief From Area's Second Wintry Blast of Ice and Snow

After a renewed siege of winter which came on the heels of a severe ice and snowstorm which struck this area Jan. 10, residents of this section today hopefully welcomed partly clearing skies and sunshine which gave promise of breaking up the prolonged cold spell.

Renewed blast of winter came early Monday, following above normal temperatures which prevailed through Sunday. Accompanied by unusual thunderstorms and electrical displays, light rain which began falling shortly before dawn Monday quickly turned to sleet and snow driven by brisk north winds which sent the mercury toppling to the mid-20's within the space of a few hours.

Brighter spot in the picture, however, was the precipitation of moisture which accompanied the freakish weather, to bring more than three inches of moisture to farmlands and pastures during the past 18 days. Moisture amounting to 1.25 inches was received during the first snow and ice storm and during Saturday afternoon and night, an additional 1.31 inches was gauged, reports Mrs. H. J. Hamblen, local weather observer. Snow and sleet during the first three days of this week brought additional moisture amounting to more than one-half inch to boost January rainfall to an unprecedented high. Normal precipitation for the month is approximately .75 inch.

Severe cold during the week caused considerable suffering to livestock, but no appreciable losses are expected to result. Ice coated highways slowed and halted highway traffic, with bus schedules cancelled or placed on part-time schedule most of the week. However, the severe weather did not repeat the heavy damage to electric and telephone lines occasioned by the wintry spell two weeks ago.

Farm Record Book Keeps Farming On Business Basis

Keeping farm records isn't a big job. That is, it isn't if you have the Texas Farm Record Book.

Did you ever wonder how to avoid the large amount of trouble and work it takes to fill out your income tax return? Did you ever wonder how your farm operates from year to year? Can you remember from time to time just how much land, machinery, and farm products you have on hand? The farm record book is the answer to all these questions, says F. W. Martin, County Agent.

Texas farmers received about two billion dollars last year from the sale of crops, livestock and livestock products. This is pretty big business, and is becoming very competitive. Such economic conditions as these, as well as others, have shown many farmers the importance of planning their yearly operations, and to check up from one year to the next.

Farm records serve as a basis for locating the weak and strong points in farm operations—a kind of mirror that reflects a whole year's business. And, too, records will point out any unsatisfactory performances on the farm before more serious losses occur, says McHoney.

When it comes to getting credit from loan agencies, farm records show these agencies the possibilities of the farm and give a list of the assets—in inventory form—located on the farm.

The Texas Farm Record Book was designed so it can be adapted to any farm conditions in the state, and to cut down on the time and effort needed to keep a good set of records.

The record book is full of inventories—inventories of nearly everything on the farm. There are inventories of land, farm improvements, livestock, and equipment, livestock, crops and feeds on hand, farm sales and expenses, farm products used at home, and last of all, a summary of the year's farm business.

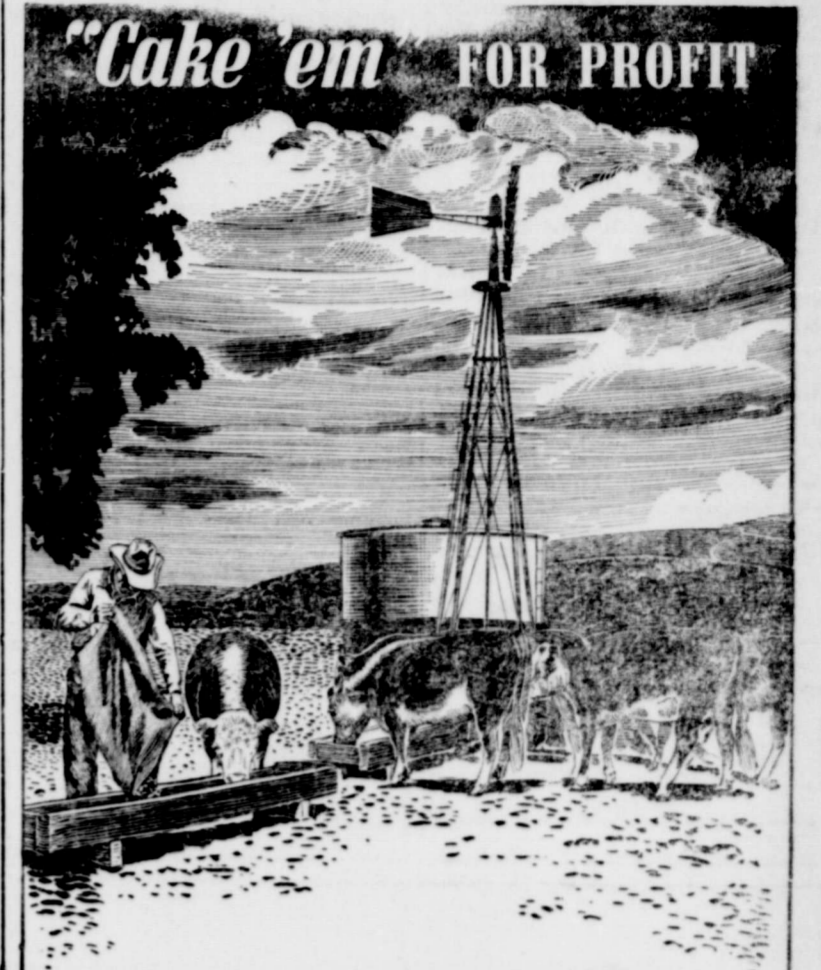

Inventories are check-ups on what a farmer owns and owes at the start and finish of each year. Farmers who prepare income tax statements—and that gets nearly everybody—find they have a number of deductions after keeping a farm inventory. After the inventory has been recorded at the first of the year, all that's left to be kept from day to day is the farm sales and expenses—a five or ten minute job after supper.

Texas Farm Record Books can be had from the county agent, or by writing the Extension Service at College Station, says McHoney.

This is a good time of year to start keeping the record.

Story of Congressional Medal of Honor Winners Now In Second Printing

Story of Congressional Medal of Honor Winners now in second printing—2 col—

The first printing of "The Medal of Honor," the United States Army's great story of its Medal of Honor and of the courageous men who have won it since it was first authorized July 12, 1862, was a huge success and sold out almost immediately. To meet the popular demand, a second printing has been authorized and will soon be off the press.

The stories of the bravery of these Medal of Honor Winners—men like Lieutenant Audie L. Murphy, who jumped on a burning tank destroyer and, despite a leg wound, killed or wounded about fifty Germans and stopped an attack; or like Corporal Harry R. Harr, who threw himself on a live hand grenade and saved the lives of his comrades at the cost of his own—will linger with you long after you have closed the covers of this thrilling volume.

This book is handsomely bound and is divided into four major parts: Part I is the history of the Medal of Honor; Part II consists of photographs of Medal of Honor winners of World War II. Part III tells the story of the action for which each person was awarded the Medal of Honor and lists these persons by wars and campaigns, alphabetically, by last names, and by the states from which they entered the service; and Part IV tells how the information used in the volume was unearthed and has a calendar of documents and bibliography.

Copies of "The Medal of Honor" may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C. at $4.50 per copy.

Frances Perry and Wayne Blacklock Wed In Ceremony at Methodist Church Sunday

Frances Perry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Perry of Haskell, and Wayne Blacklock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben L. Blacklock of Munday, were married Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the First Methodist Church in this city. The Rev. Vernon N. Henderson, pastor of the church, read the double ring ceremony, before an arch entwined with fern, and flanked by baskets of white gladioluses, palms, and white tapers in floor candelabra. The bride's aisle was marked with white satin ribbon.

Mrs. O. E. Patterson, organist, played a medley of love songs as a prelude to the ceremony, and accompanied Genelle Bailey as she sang I Love You Truly, and Because. During the service the organist played Claire de Lune.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a traditional gown of ivory Duchesse satin, fashioned with a bias shawl collar and marquisette yoke with seed pearl trim. The fitted bodice buttoned down the back with tiny covered buttons and the sleeves were long and fitted. The full gathered skirt extended into a cathedral train, and her veil of lace-edged illusion was caught to a tiara of seed pearls. Her flowers were a white orchid atop a white Bible, belonging to the bridegroom's mother. For something old, she wore her mother's diamond and a pearl lavalier.

Mrs. Amelia Perry, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of aqua taffeta and carried an arm bouquet of pink gladioluses. Bridesmaids were Laverne Kuenstler and La Vern Livengood. Their dresses, made identical to that of the matron of honor, were of orchid taffeta, and they carried arm bouquets of pink gladioluses. Carolyn Lee Blacklock, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl, and wore a dress of pink taffeta made like those of the other attendants.

Bob Haymes of Dallas was best man, and ushers were Ray and Don Perry, brothers of the bride, and Winston and Lemoine Blacklock, brothers of the bridegroom. A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the Magazine Club. Wanda Dulaney presided at the guest register. Mrs. Thelma Bricker, aunt of the bride, of Fort Worth, served the cake, and Mrs. Ruth Livengood, another aunt of the bride, ladled punch. Other members of the house party were Lucille Zelisko, Mary Fowler, Louise Livengood, and Mary Lou Kuenstler.

The bride's table was laid in lace and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple. Mrs. Ray Overton furnished music during the reception.

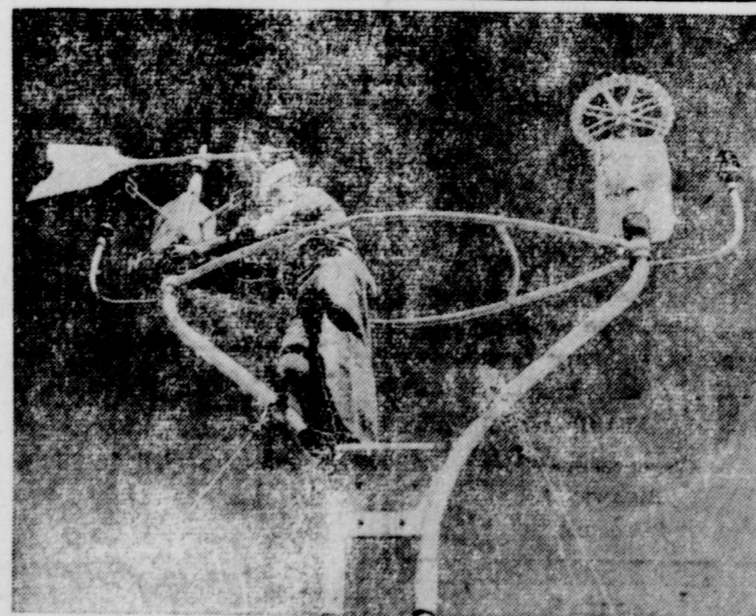

For their wedding trip to New Orleans, the bride wore a sugar-spun blue gabardine suit with elephant gray and white accessories and an orchid shoulder corsage.

The bride has been employed for three years in the county clerk's office in Haskell. Mr. Blacklock is a senior student in Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, where the couple will live.

Veterans News

Veterans holding National Service Life Insurance policies are urged by the VA to review their GI insurance for possible change of beneficiaries.

Thousands of veteran policy holders have not changed their beneficiaries, although their family status has changed, VA said.

Changes may be made at any time, and as often as necessary, simply by notifying VA's Insurance Service in the Branch Office, 1114 Commerce Street, Dallas, Texas.

A veteran has the right to designate any person, company, corporation or other legal entity as his beneficiary.

The next few years will see an increased demand for college graduates in the fields of medicine, psychology, kindergarten and elementary school teaching and certain phases of electricity. At the same time, competition will grow keener for positions in the fields of engineering, chemistry, pharmacy, law and personnel relations.

These conclusions were contained in a study prepared for the Veterans Administration by the Occupational Outlook Service, Bureau of Labor Statistics, U. S. Department of Labor.

The study is being used by VA advisement and guidance officers as an aid in counseling disabled veterans planning to take educational and training courses.

Veterans enrolled under the GI Bill in on-the-job training courses or in schools below the college level who desire leave of absence, should apply for it at their training establishment or school, and not at the Veterans Administration.

In the past, these veterans were required to make application at the appropriate VA regional office. Now, they must obtain approval from their employer-trainer or school official before going on leave.

Advance leave is provided only in cases of emergency. Leave is accrued at the rate of two and one-half days a month throughout training — including that time during which the veteran is on approved leave of absence. However, it may not be accrued beyond 30 days. Veterans training on-the-job or in below-college-level courses under Public Law 16 (for the disabled) must continue to apply for leave at VA.

Questions and Answers

Q—Who chooses the institution or establishment in which a veteran trains?

A—For vocational rehabilitation training under Public Law 16, VA selects the facility with concurrence of the trainee. Under Public Law 346 (GI Bill), the veteran chooses the training institution, but may have the guidance of VA if he desires it.

Q—Will Veterans Administration accept collect telephone calls from physicians who wish to ascertain whether they will be paid for emergency treatments given veterans?

A—Yes. Q—Does my converted National Service Life Insurance have a cash surrender value?

A—Yes. All converted policies have cash surrender values, paid-up insurance and automatic extended term insurance values, together with policy loan provisions, effective after the policy has been in force one full year.

Q—Is VA pension, compensation, or retirement pay reduced during hospitalization for veterans who have dependents?

A—It is not, provided the necessary proof of relationship has been established. Veterans should make certain that such proof is established promptly. Any additional allowance or increased compensation for aid and attendance, however, will be discontinued upon hospitalization.

Q—I am a World War I veteran and have been suffering from a stomach ailment for some time. My I go to a private hospital in my home town and have Veterans Administration pay the bill?

A—You may provided only if your stomach ailment is service-connected and you receive prior approval from VA to do so.

Former Haskell County Man Is Now TWA "Aerial Hawkshaw"

John N. Therwhanger, native Texan who was born and reared in this part of the state, recently became one of 250 "aerial Hawkshaws" who sit in the pilot's compartment of all Trans World Airline four-engine planes.

Known as a Flight Engineer, he is constantly on the alert for "clues" to safe operation of the airliner. His check-and-double-check procedure involving use of 425 instruments makes him a safety liason man between TWA's mechanical experts on the ground and skilled pilots in the air.

There is a Flight Engineer in the pilot's compartment of all TWA four-motored Lockheed Constellations and Boeing Stratoliners used in the United States, and on Douglass Skymasters and Constellations flying TWA's international routes to four continents and 16 nations.

Like a woman in the home, F-E Therwhanger's work is never done. He is first to inspect the plane; last to leave it. He goes over it with a fine-tooth comb.

pushing levers and pulling controls. He tests every button and inspects each device. After he examines the plane from stem to stern, it is ready for flight anywhere along TWA's 32,500 miles of aerial routes, from Los Angeles east to Bombay.

F-E Therwhanger was born at Goree, in Knox County, and spent most of his childhood at Weinert in Haskell County. He was graduated from Haskell High School and San Angelo Business College, later embarking on an aviation career by attending an air technical school at Glendale, Calif.

He was accepted by TWA for Flight Engineer training last fall and now is stationed in Chicago, flying between there and Philadelphia.

Thirteen members from the junior team graduate to the high school team for the 1949 season.

Seniors playing out their citizenship include Grimes, Homlesley, Bobby Neil Smith, Ammonett, Stuart, Alvis and Cox.

For the first time in school history every player on all teams that were coming out at the end of the season received an award.

Cities Service Will Build Gasoline Plant In Wise County

A natural gasoline plant to process casinghead gas produced in the Chico field of Wise County, Texas, was announced today by A. W. Ambrose of Bartlesville, president of Cities Service Oil Co.

The plant will be located at a strategic point in the Cities Service discovered Chico field of North Texas. Present plans call for an eventual processing capacity of 22 million cubic feet of gas daily and the installation of five 600-horsepower units. Completion of the first step in the total program is scheduled some time late this year.

First commercial production of oil in Wise County was brought in by Cities Service Oil Co. in December of 1947. Since then, approximately 25 producers have been completed in the field.

Chico field producers look upon the project as an important step in the conservation of natural gas.

LIBRARY NOTES

The Texas Library Association and the Peoples Library Movement are making a tremendous effort in order that 1949 may see betterment in library matters in the state. For years Texas has been at the bottom of the list of the forty-eight states as far as library service is concerned.

These organizations that have been mentioned, with all libraries, are asking our present legislature to make an appropriation of $200,000 to help improve the library situation. Each person interested in this vitally needed program is asked to write his representative or senator asking him to support this appropriation.

The following books have recently been placed in the Haskell Public Library:

- Living Biographies of Great Poets—Henry.
  - Living Biographies of Famous Women—Henry.
  - Best Plays of the Year—Burns Mantle.
  - Biography of Pasteur—Benz.
  - A Book of Fishes—Farrington.
  - In the intermediate and children's shelves: Black Beauty—Anna Sewell.
  - Smoky—Will James.
  - Six Star Ranch—Eleanor Porter.
  - Treva, A Dog—Albert Terhune.
  - Two Little Confederates—Page.
  - Pinocchio—Colodi.
  - Alice in Wonderland—Lewis Carroll.
  - Matilda's Buttons—Hunt.
  - Red Eagle—Moran.
  - Bonny, the Pony—Clarke.
  - The First Horseman—Crowell.
  - Pony Called Lightning—Mason.
  - On the Rental Shelf we have: The Plague and I—Betty McDonald.
  - The Burnished Blade—Schoonover.
  - Raintree County—Lockridge.
  - Prophet in the Wilderness—Hagedorn.
  - Enchanting Jenny Lind—Laura Bennett.
  - Eagle in the Sky—Van Wyck Mason.
  - The Big Fisherman—Lloyd C. Douglas.
  - Etiquette—Emily Post.
- These books were bought by the Magazine Club Library Fund and by fines from the library. The club has maintained this fund for use in the library for many years. The Magazine Club has also bought bonds, in looking forward to having a more adequate library.
- Mrs. Hugh Smith, Librarian.

CAT TENDS BABY DUCKS

Ketchikan, Alaska.—A tomcat, belonging to a local family, has set himself up as the shepherd of two pet baby ducks. Every time the ducks escape from their pen, the cat chases them and herds them back.

His wife? ... Sure, she helped a lot—and she kissed him, too! But a co-star in this morning drama is Reddy Kilowatt, your electric servant.

All through the day, Reddy does so many jobs so quietly and efficiently you almost forget he's there. But try and live without him! Yet his services cost so little. As a matter of fact, electric service is by far the big-

No, Reddy Kilowatt mustn't kiss you. But he can do almost everything else!
