The game will begin promptly at 8:30 p. m. Both teams are members of the recently-formed Tri-County League in which season play will begin May 10th.

It will be the first game for the locals, and team manager Wallace Stark is expected to start either Bill Wiseman or Irvin Overton on the mound, with Covell Adkins receiving.

The new 24-month time limit replaces the 21-month limit that has been in effect since March 7. The ten per cent cash down payment replaces a 15 per cent requirement, also in effect since March 7.

In addition, the board exempted from control requirements furniture, radios, and refrigerators and other now-controlled items costing less than $100. Previously, the only exemption was for articles costing under $50.

Local Farm Bureau Plans Drive For More Members

The Haskell County Farm Bureau has scheduled a membership drive for Friday and Saturday, April 29 and 30. Clinton Herren, president of the county organization of farmers, announced Thursday. Workers in the campaign will make an effort to contact all farmers in the county and acquaint them with accomplishments of the Farm Bureau.

Herren said. An organization meeting of workers will be held tonight to make final plans for the drive, he added.

Pointing out that Farm Bureau is the leading organized voice of agriculture with more than 1,300,000 members in 45 states, Herren explained listed objectives of the Farm Bureau as: Prices for farm produce, soil conservation, and local service program.

Farm Bureau wrote and secured passage of 1933 and 1938 AAA program and saved the conservation appropriation in 1947. It secured passage of the Aiken Bill in 1948 which gives farmers continued price stability, Herren declared.

Continuing, he pointed out that Farm Bureau prevented repeal of Gas Tax Law in Texas in 1947, and will have to prevent repeal again in 1949. It maintains full-time representatives in Austin and Washington to protect secure and promote the farmers' interests, and has had a part in all major farm legislation since 1920, Herren said.

W. C. Brite Found Dead at His Home Late Saturday

William Clyde Brite, 51, well-to-do Haskell farmer and resident of this section since 1919, was found dead of gunshot wounds in the sleeping porch of his farm home two and one-half miles northeast of town Saturday night around 9 o'clock.

The tragedy was discovered by Deputy Sheriff Johnny Adkins and Al Cousins, who accompanied him to the Brite home to investigate after neighbors had become concerned over not seeing him for several days. A double-barrelled shotgun with one chamber fired, was beside the body. Charge from the gun had struck the prominent farmer above the right eye. An investigation directed by Sheriff Bob Cousins revealed that Brite had last been seen Monday, and newspapers and mail had not been removed from the mailbox in front of the home since that time.

Mrs. Brite had been visiting in Dallas during the preceding week, and their two younger daughters were staying with their maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Sego in Haskell.

A verdict of death from self-inflicted gunshot wounds was returned by Justice of the Peace C. K. Jones following an inquest. Deceased was born Aug. 27, 1897, in Wise county, Texas, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Brite. He served with U. S. armed forces during World War I, and came to Haskell county in 1919 from Melrose, N. BUSINESS VISITOR
W. Q. Casey, former Haskell Mayor who recently moved to Muleshoe where he is cashier in a bank in that city, was a business visitor here during the week-end.

Haskell voters will go to the polls Tuesday, May 3, for the formality of electing a Mayor to serve the unexpired term of W. Q. Casey, resigned. The term ends April, 1950, former Mayor Casey having resigned April 1 to accept a position in a Muleshoe bank.

Resignation of the former city official came too late for the vacancy to be filled in the regular City election held April 5, and a special election was ordered for the first Tuesday in May. Since April 1, City Alderman A. M. Turner has served as Acting Mayor.

Only candidate whose name will appear on the special election ballot is Courtney Hunt, local businessman and civic leader, who agreed to file for the place after being petitioned by several hundred Haskell citizens.

Balloting will be at the City Hall during hours prescribed by law. Virgil A. Brown has been appointed judge of the election.

Hard Downpour Brings 2.50 Inches Moisture Today

A hard downpour of rain, made-to-order in fulfilling wishes of stockmen and farmers needing water in surface tanks and reservoirs, dumped two and one-half inches of water on this section during a two-hour period beginning around midnight Wednesday.

The precipitation, accompanied by a severe electrical storm, boosted total rainfall for April to 4.59 inches as compared to the annual average of 2.55 for the month. Total for the year now stands at 10.54 inches.

With the ground already soaked from more than two inches of rain last week, most of Wednesday night and Thursday mornings precipitation drained into streams and surface tanks, to replenish above ground water supplies which were at the lowest level in several years. The hard downpour may have resulted in some damage to newly-built terraces in parts of the county and will halt spring planting operations for several days, farmers said.

Make Marshmallows at Home By New Unflavored Gelatine Recipe

Marvel Marshmallows

EVER thought of making marshmallows at home? It can be done now by following a new unflavored gelatine recipe that turns out a very special marshmallow. The flavor is delicate but definite and the chiffon-like texture is emphasized by a variety of crisp coatings.

Vanilla is the basic flavor of these delightful new homemade confections, but they can be flavored with peppermint, chocolate or coffee. As for the crisp coatings, that contrast so well with the feathery-light marshmallow texture, you need only call on foods now in the kitchen. Coat some of your homemade marshmallows with finely crushed chocolate cookies—use crushed corn flakes for others—and let shredded coconut and chopped nuts lend still more variety.

You'll notice that, like unflavored gelatine, the other ingredients in the homemade marshmallow recipe are all pantry staples. A look at the following recipe also gives an idea of the economy of making marshmallows at home.

- 1 envelope unflavored gelatine
- 1/2 cup cold water
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup light syrup
- 1 teasp. vanilla
- 1/2 cup finely crushed graham cracker crumbs, ginger or chocolate cookie crumbs

Soften gelatine in cold water; place over boiling water and stir until dissolved. Add sugar and stir until dissolved. Remove from heat. Place corn syrup and vanilla in large bowl of electric mixer. Add gelatine and sugar mixture and beat on highest speed until mixture becomes thick and of soft marshmallow consistency, about 15 minutes. While mixture is beating, grease a pan, preferably about 7x10x1 1/2", or two loaf pans. Pour in the marshmallow, smoothing off top with spoon or knife. Sprinkle with crumbs. Let stand in a cool place (not a refrigerator) until well set—about 1 hour. To remove from pan, loosen around edges with a knife and invert on waxed paper. Cut into 1/2 inch squares with a sharp knife moistened with cold water. Roll marshmallows in finely crushed crumbs. YIELD: About 1 pound

Hazards In Use of DDT As Insecticide Minimized by U. S. D. A.

Haskell county farmers and livestock owners will be interested in the following information received this week by County Agent F. W. Martin concerning the use of DDT.

The Federal Security Agency and the U. S. Department of Agriculture today issued the following statement after a meeting of the 6 principal government agencies concerned with the utilization of DDT in national and international health and economy: "A number of statements have been published during the last several days which have misled and alarmed the public concerning the hazards of using DDT as an insecticide.

"DDT is a very valuable insecticide which has contributed materially to the general welfare of the world. It has been used with marked success in both the control and prevention of such insect-borne diseases as malaria and typhus and of insects which are destructive to crops and injurious to livestock and insect homes.

"It is well recognized that DDT, like other insecticides, is a poison. This fact has been given full consideration in making recommendations for its use. There is no evidence that the use of DDT in accordance with the recommendations of the various federal agencies has ever caused human sickness due to DDT itself. This is despite the fact that thousands of tons have been used annually for the past four or five years in the home and for crop and animal protection. However, minor toxic symptoms may be produced by kerosene and various solvents used in DDT and practically all other insecticidal mixtures.

"Statements that DDT is responsible for causing the so-called 'virus R disease' of man and 'X disease' of cattle are totally without foundation. Both of the diseases were recognized before the utilization of DDT as an insecticide.

"The Food and Drug Administration has not prohibited the use of DDT in spraying dairy cattle and barns. The Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act

ATTENTION! COTTON FARMERS

Reprint of a Letter From . . . TEXAS AGRICULTURAL EXPERIMENT STATION

Lubbock, Texas January 3, 1949 B. Larner Farmers Company Lubbock, Texas.

in accordance with your request concerning our experience with the rotary hoe on the Lubbock Station, we are glad to furnish the following brief report.

The rotary hoe attachment is a new tool in this region and is receiving excellent acceptance as it fills a definite need in our cultural practice. By its action, it effectively controls young annual weed growth when the top is too small to throw dirt to the plants. By running directly over it uproots young weed seedlings and allows the top soil to dry, preventing continued emergence of weeds. In addition, there is a definite stimulative effect following its use. Where rains occur after planting and before emergence, it can be used to break the soil crust allowing normal emergence of the crop. It is a high speed unit or tool and works best at high speed. Running in fourth gear it will cover some sixty acres or more per hour, depending upon the number of rows and the hours operated.

When it is used in conjunction with the cultivator or the go-devil knives, as an efficient rotating fender, allowing three and four-leaf plants to be planted in fourth gear without being covered. The cultivation or knifing of plants at speeds exceeding 5 mph is a sight to behold. The rotary hoe will not damage cotton plants until fruiting time.

The bulk of all hoeing is for weeds in the drill row and it can readily be done with this tool. It is in eradicating or cutting down the number of weeds, which is both a slow operation and the second most expensive in the production of cotton. At present this is practically the only tool that will control small weeds in the drill row before close sweep cultivation is possible.

In 1947, due to late planting and little rain following planting, all annual weeds were controlled to such an extent that no hoeing was required. In 1948 the bill was reduced 60% where this tool was used.

It might state that we set up adjoining blocks of land, one in which the rotary hoe was used from the start and the other in which it was not used, in order to make these comparisons.

With best wishes for the New Year I am Sincerely yours, Signed: D. L. JONES, Superintendent

As far as we have been able to determine, our rotary hoe is the only one on the market with the hard wood bearings. All competitive makes of hoes have metal bearings. The high speed at which the hoes operate and the conditions under which they operate, causes early wear on any type of bearing. With our hoe, it costs only a few cents to replace the wooden bearing on the competitive hoe, the entire picker wheel must be replaced ten times, the shaft as well.

Our hoes are adapted to all makes of tractor cultivators.

Miss Lucille Zelisko and Aubrey Lee Roden Exchange Vows in Double Ring Ceremony

Vernon Henderson, minister of the First Methodist Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony uniting Lucille Zelisko, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Zelisko, and Aubrey Lee Roden, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Roden of Munday. The vows were read before an improvised altar, arched in white gladiolas and fern, at the home of the bride, parents on Sunday, April 24, at 3:00 p.m.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a roseate crepe dress with navy accessories and carried a white Bible topped with a mauve orchid. For something old, she wore a ruby ring that had belonged to her mother; for something new, a rhinestone necklace which was a gift from the groom; for something borrowed, a rhinestone bracelet belonging to Gene Longbach of Wichita Falls; and she carried a blue handkerchief and wore the traditional penny in her shoe.

Mary Jo Zelisko of Wichita Falls served as her sister's maid of honor, wearing a navy dress with grey accessories and a shoulder corsage of pink rosebuds. Charles Roden, uncle of the groom, was best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Zelisko were hosts for a reception following the ceremony. Gene Longbach and Mrs. O. C. Roden of Seymour presided at the serving table which bore a three-tiered wedding cake, flanked by a variety of cut flowers.

Mrs. Roden is a 1945 graduate of Haskell High School and has been employed as a stenographer for a law firm. She is a charter member of the Beta Upsilon Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority, in which she serves as historian.

Mr. Roden graduated from Munday High School in 1944, after which he attended Hardin College in Wichita Falls. He served approximately three years in the Navy, being stationed at San Diego, Pearl Harbor, the Marshall Islands, the Carolinas, and Okinawa. At the present time, he is employed by the Taylor Exploration Company which is temporarily located at Victoria, Texas.

With Favorable
Weather, Big Grain Crop In Prospect

What about the price of grains?
Nobody knows exactly what price wheat will bring Texas growers this season. But if they can get enough rain at the right time, they will likely get a heavy crop. The outlook is about the same with grain sorghums, corn and other feed grains.
C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist of Texas A&M College, says there is one thing that looks pretty certain.
That is, that the market prices a harvest time will be below the government support price level.
How much below will depend on a couple of things. First is the total production or prospective national crop, and the second, is the amount of storage facilities available for placing the grain under government loan.

Grain must be properly stored before the farmer will get the full benefit of the guaranteed price support loans. Late reports indicate that about two-thirds of all elevator capacity still holds last year's crops, Bates says. And it doesn't look as though this grain will move into export channels very fast during the next few months.
It is a case of a pretty heavy carry-over of grains. Government storage facilities will probably not be able to handle more than average production, Bates says.
So, farmers will have to take the storage business into their own hands on the farm.

Any grain storage building must be weather tight and strongly built to qualify for a crop loan. The type selected will depend on the farmer's needs, and the cost per bushel of storage will depend on the size of the building erected. W. S. Allen, extension agricultural buildings engineer of Texas A&M College, says that a small 500-bushel bin costs around 50 to 60 cents per bushel of storage.
Larger storage bins—the 40,000 bushel size—may be built for 15 to 20 cents per bushel of storage.

Many farmers are building facilities that can be used for other things when not needed for the storage of grain, Allen points out.

With a bumper crop this year,
wheat producers might pay back a large amount of the first cost of granaries on the spread between the market price and the loan price this year. If the extra storage is needed, Bates says, it might be wise to build it in time to cash in on this extra dividend in 1949.

Looks like a case of being able to raise the price while raising the crop, he concludes.

Uncle Sam Says

This month Americans celebrate Independence. Down through the decades they have cherished and fought to maintain Independence and Security, for both the nation and for themselves. For Security, U. S. Savings Bonds offer the safest means of building your future. Every dollar invested in Savings Bonds today is part of your "take home savings"—money that GROWS. There's no safer or easier way to save than through the Payroll Savings Plan. Use that salary increase, made possible through tax reductions, to step up your purchase of Savings Bonds. Or, for the self-employed, the Bond-a-Month Plan where your bank provides the automatic, the same date, A. C. Pierson, president of the Haskell National Bank, was re-elected a director for the ensuing year. Mr. Autry, who was formerly Vice President and General Manager, succeeds R. B. Fairly, who was named Chairman of the Board. This change in officers is in anticipation of Mr. Fairly's retirement on December 31, 1949 under the Company's regular retirement plan. Until the end of the year, Fairly will continue to devote his full time to the affairs of the Company and after that date it is planned that he will remain as a Director of the Company and as Chairman of the Board.

Mr. Autry has been connected with the Southwestern Associated Telephone Company or one of its affiliates since 1930 except for a brief period from 1941 to 1943. He was born in Lampasas, Texas, and started his business career in the Traffic Department of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in 1915. In 1930 he accepted a position as Traffic Supervisor with the Associated Telephone Company, Ltd., located in California which like Southwestern Associated, is a subsidiary of General Telephone Corporation.

During 1937, Autry was made Commercial Manager of Associated Telephone Company, Ltd., a position which he held until he resigned in 1941 to become General Supervisor of Communications for Douglas Aircraft Corporation. In 1943 he returned to Associated as General Traffic Superintendent and, in 1944, he was transferred to the Southwestern Associated Telephone Company as Vice President and General Manager.

At the annual Stockholders' meeting, Southwestern Associated announced the election of the following Directors of the Company for the ensuing year: R. B. Fairly, Chairman of the Board; Roy Autry, President of the Company; H. D. Phillips, Vice President of Southwestern Associated; W. T. Busch, President of the First National Bank, Baytown; Walter S. Posey, President of the First National Bank at Lubbock; A. C. Pierson, President of the Haskell National Bank; and Thomas A. Boyd, a Vice President of General Telephone Corporation in New York City.

The Southwestern Associated Telephone Company has recently moved its general offices from Lubbock to Dallas where it now occupies the eighth and ninth floors in the new Reserve Loan Life Insurance Building at 505 North Ervay Street. Southwestern Associated has approximately 100 employees in Dallas and has about 1400 more located at its various exchanges throughout the Southwest.

Central Ward Colored School News

The school has just finished its work at the district Inter-scholastic League, which was a treat to the school. The colored school of this city has never visited such meetings, and only a few parents of the pupils have ever attended. The League being a strange meeting which they had never visited before, the pupils were awkward and did not have the interest in the work as they should. I am hoping some day they may have another chance to see and know more about such gatherings.

Our work is moving along smoothly and we are now thinking in terms of our closing, that comes in May.

The faculty has striven to do their best in trying to give the boys and girls of Haskell an ideal school year, yet our parents have failed to lend us their support as they should. When the colored fathers and mothers of Haskell learn to sacrifice themselves more for their children and see that they attend school more; see that they make preparation at their home and not depend entirely on the teacher; open their heads and pour knowledge into their heads, they will be getting somewhere. We need more interest manifested by parents.

We will soon close this work feeling that we have put over a much better job than before. We are willing to try another year, since we have done a good job this year.

Members of HHS Senior Class Visit Austin And San Antonio on Annual Trip

Although many thought that the Haskell Seniors of 1949 could not rise early enough to leave on our Senior Trip by 5 a.m., we did make it with a bang.

Mrs. Weaver had the best seat in the bus. It was right over the back wheel. There seems to be no explanation necessary as to the effect this had on her.

The trip to Austin was so quiet and peaceful until we went about one foot. Then the fun began. This consisted of the throwing of shoes, the tickling of feet the throwing of people and the spit method of pasting down flying hair. The latter seemed to have a very pleasing effect on Mrs. Weaver.

Mr. Vaughter said that Joyce Matthews said only one word all the way, but it lasted from Haskell to Austin.

The Turner reputation for the furnishing bubble gum was carried out by Abe, who took two boxes with him.

After a seemingly short trip, we arrived in Austin and immediately went to the Driskill Hotel, which is very picturesque and historic. After we were assigned to our hotel rooms, we ate lunch at the Milam Cafeteria, one of Austin's noted eating places. After lunch the class toured the Capitol grounds, inspecting the chambers of the Senate and the House of Representatives, viewing the numerous portraits and writings, and finally climbing to the very top of the Capitol building. From the top of the Capitol we got a very beautiful view of the entire city. After we made snapshots on the Capitol grounds, we visited the Governor's Mansion. The Governor's secretary directed us through the very decorative Mansion. To prove that we view the Mansion in all seriousness there was a man waiting outside who, after seeing us, knocked on the door and asked, "Is this Cook's Funeral Home?" One can imagine the surprised look on the secretary's face! We drove around on the campus of the University of Texas and went inside the very large Memorial Stadium. Our next stop was at beautiful Barton Springs, where there is a very long swimming pool and a large bath house made of Austin stone. Of course everyone waded across the pool, and thus all the girls returned to the hotel with wet skirt-tails. After eating dinner we divided into several different groups. Some window-shopped and went to the movies, while others played miniature golf and skated. Not that we were one bit exhausted after climbing the Capitol, window-shopping and skating, etc., but we did finally retire, anyway, and marked Friday as a day well-spent.

We rose early Saturday morning to make our way on to San Antonio. On the way we stopped at Randolph Field which is the West Point of the Air. It was beautiful and it seemed to be a large restricted residential section instead of an air base. There we saw the cadets on parade, went through a chapel and went through a hanger.

After we arrived in San Antonio, we went to Brackenridge Park. At the park we saw the seals and monkey's act, we went through the Sunken Gardens, rode bicycles and rode a speedboat. Mrs. Weaver's biggest thrill, we hear, was the time that she was pushed into the speedboat and was forced to ride.

Saturday night we went to the "Playland." This is the largest amusement park in San Antonio. Most of the seniors agree that the roller-coaster was the most thrilling part of that evening's fun, even Mr. McCollum seemed to enjoy it in a nervous sort of way. That was the first time we had ever seen Mr. Vaughter scared and the first time we heard him scream. He vowed never to ride the roller-coaster again.

After leaving "Playland" we drove through the business district of San Antonio. It is indeed a beautiful city with the San Antonio River winding through the main part of town.

Sunday morning we rented canoes and rowed down the river. We felt this was very successful because only two of us fell in. We then went to the Buckhorn Saloon Museum and Curio Shop. It was certainly a weird place but interesting looking place. It is also a swell place in which to unload an excess of money.

The mission, "La Purismo Concepcion" was our next stopping place. This was not restored as the Alamo was. It was or seemed to be as it was originally over two hundred years ago.

The Haskell Seniors were very proud when they passed the huge municipal auditorium and saw a sign with the name of Kenneth W. Copeland on it. He was to preach the Easter message. He, as most of you know, was a former minister of the Haskell Methodist Church.

Although we enjoyed the sights of San Antonio very much, we were very anxious to get to the Dude Ranch.

The Boots and Saddle Guest Ranch, at Comfort, Texas, was put in our itinerary at just the right time, just before we all fell faint from so much sight-seeing. When we arrived there at four in the afternoon after a forty mile drive from San Antonio, we were all very hot and tired and ready for a life of peace and quiet. We jumped out of the bus and started for our rooms which were in a typical ranch setting with croquet, table tennis, and volley ball right at our front door. Then a few yards away was the lodge and dining room, and farther from it was the barn and stables.

The horse-back riders were taken to the beautiful Guadalupe River which was also used as the ranch swimming pool. After our different and many excursions we were given a most delicious and satisfying barbecue. The over exercising of our jaws was then counter acted by games played on the grass of the ranch lawns. Finally, though, our sponsors persuaded us to go to bed for a few hours sleep so that at six the next morning we could go horse-back riding.

The day then began with an awkward and tumbersome ride on horse-back and a tasty breakfast of eggs and sausage immediately following. More riding and games and finally on our way home for a good night's sleep and a hot bath for our many bruises.

Careful Handling Of Food Vital To Public Health

Emphasizing the importance of proper sanitation standards in public eating establishments, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, urges the patrons of such establishments to insist upon cleanliness in the preparation and dispensing of foods.

The health authorities cannot maintain daily inspection of cafes and other food handling places, and if the public is careless in accepting insanitary conditions, dozens of infectious diseases can be transmitted to the public from insanitary food and utensils.

Food handlers schools are being taught throughout the state, Dr. Cox said, and every cafe owner should take advantage of these schools to see that his personnel is trained in the sanitary methods of preparing, storing and dispensing food to the public. If that is their profession, they should qualify themselves to do the work safely. This is the restaurant owner's responsibility to his patrons.

The public should insist upon a cafe being free from roaches, flies, and other insects. Dishes should be washed and lined with paper. Dishes and silverware should be served in a clean container, with the cover. They should note that its standards have been approved by the state health officials.

WORKS 60 YEARS WITHOUT A VACATION
 St. Louis.—B. C. Wright, 78, employee of the Musick Plating Company, has been on the job in the same plant since 1887 without a vacation. In all, he has been away from the plant only 18 working days in sixty years.

On Saturday morning, April 23, a double ring ceremony united in marriage Dorothy Tolliver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Tolliver, and Hess Hartsfield, son of Mrs. Date Anderson, both of Haskell. The service was read by Roy Deaver, minister of the Haskell Church of Christ. The bride wore a white dress-maker suit with a white blouse fashioned with imported lace. Her accessories were navy. For something borrowed she carried a white Bible belonging to Carolyn Turner, topped with a white orchid. For something old, the bride wore a gold bracelet belonging to her mother.

The couples' only attendant were Jessie Tolliver, sister of the bride, and Borden Clifton. Miss Tolliver wore a navy blue file suit with navy and white accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of white carnations.

Mrs. Hartsfield was graduated from Haskell High School in 1947, and since has been employed in an abstract firm here. The bridegroom was graduated from Haskell High School in 1942. He served three years in the U. S. Army Ordnance Corps during World War II, with 18 months of this time in the European Theater of Operations.

Following his discharge he was connected with a retail firm here, until his recent appointment as a clerk in the Haskell post office.

For traveling the bride wore a pink two-piece gabardine suit with Sun Copper accessories and an orchid corsage. After a wedding trip to points South, which is expected to include Florida, the couple will be at home on N. First Street in Haskell.

3 BOYS LEFT IN CHURCH

Chicago.—Three little boys, from two to four years, were found sitting in a pew in the Holy Name Cathedral, with a suitcase and a plea for help beside them. The note asked for someone to take the boys and provide them with a good home, as their parents were unable to find a place to live with them or a place to put them temporarily. The youngest boy was taken to an orphanage, while the other two were sent to juvenile home.

BROTHERS SAVE FAMILY

Oakland, Calif.—When their second-story apartment caught fire, Edward and Lawrence Dennis, 19 and 12, dropped their 2 baby sisters, 2 and 3 years old, to a passerby. Then, they ordered their older sister, a 15 year-old brother and their mother to jump. Edward jumped after her, while Lawrence bolted down a stairway. The babies suffered minor burns, the sister a serious back injury, but the others were unharmed.

COTTON CHAMELEON

Here's a versatile, new season dress which can change its effect at the drop of a piece of scenery. With a skyscraper backdrop, it's the crisp and appropriate affair shown in the picture. Switch the backdrop to country club or sand dunes and — presto — the jacket comes off and the wearer looks smart while catching the sun. The dress is of Raycrest cotton, available in oxford, blue, brown or green, and sells for about $18. It's one of the new cotton fashions shown in the May issue of Good Housekeeping magazine.

Plans Made For 4-H Dairy Foods Demonstrations

Plans for the 1949 National 4-H Dairy Foods Demonstration program are under way in Texas, according to the State Extension Service. This is the only nationally sponsored 4-H Club program devoted entirely to demonstrations. Members enrolled in a 4-H

Food project may participate. Last year Texas named the following county winners: Melba Booker, Atascosa; Mary Jo Gatts, Tommie Ruth Gattis, of Grayson; Ynell Egger and Helen Hasley of Mills. Based on a survey of 41 states, conducting the 1948 program, an average of 32 persons attended the 3,758 dairy foods demonstration given by 4-H'ers. The Cooperative Extension Service supervises the program.

The program seeks to show the value of dairy products to general health. Uses of dairy foods and skill in preparing tasty dishes are demonstrated. Subjects relate to the preparation, manufacture course of dairy products including fresh or evaporated milk, malted milk and ice cream.

Eight new awards based on demonstration records and general achievement are offered by the Carnation company this year. They are trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, November 27 to December 1. County winners will again receive a gold filled medal, while individual and team champions in each state will get a 17-jewel gold watch.
