Another legal bank holiday comes up next week, on Friday, June 3, in observance of the birthday of Jefferson Davis. Merchants and bank patrons are reminded to keep in mind the two holiday dates—May 30 and June 3.

Black Indians Swamp Winters Eagles 14-1

The Haskell Black Indians swamped the Winters Eagles Sunday with a lop-sided score of 14 to 1, to keep intact their 1949 season record with four straight wins.

The Eagles started their ace southpaw, Joe Savinoie, a Latin American, on the mound and the Indians sent him to the showers in the fifth innings with a barrage of extra hits. He was relieved by a righthander, who was greeted with a home run by Manuel Lewis, Indian right fielder. Hammond started for the Indians and went the full route for his second successive win of the season.

The Indians will take to the road Sunday for their first out-of-town game when they tangle with the heavy hitting Frederick, Okla. Blue Sox Sunday afternoon in that city. The Blue Sox defeated the Indians twice last year, and the locals will be out for revenge.

Fire Damages Market P. & E. Plant In Anson

The storage and retail departments of the Market Poultry & Egg Company in Anson were destroyed by fire early Monday morning, causing damage estimated at more than $60,000. The concern is one of the largest produce and poultry establishments in Central West Texas, with branches and dealers in a number of West Texas towns.

A. T. Ballard, manager of the branch store in Haskell, said that until the Anson facilities are rebuilt, produce and cream purchases would be concentrated here for shipment to terminal markets.

Included in the loss was a $14,000 cold storage plant, $15,000 in seeds and feeds, new $6,000 scales—the largest in West Texas, 1-200 cases of eggs, five trucks, one tandem trailer, and one insulated trailer loaded with eggs.

Nine trucks were saved, as were the office records. The Stamford fire department assisted the Anson fire department in fighting the blaze and in saving two other buildings used for hay and mill feed storage.

Origin of the fire is undetermined but was probably caused from lightning, said Cecil Hudson, manager.

John Hudson and son, Cecil, owners of the business, built the plant about two years ago. They were formerly in business in Abilene. They own similar plants in Haskell and Winters and serve 75 dealers throughout West Texas with seeds and feeds.

They estimated their loss as 70 per cent covered by insurance. Cecil Hudson said the firm will rebuild immediately and will continue business operations now from their mill which is located nearby.

The fire started about 4 a.m. and burned until after dawn.

The young man was employed by Robert Weinbar, Minnesota combine operator who had come here for the harvest, and the injured man and other members of the crew were staying at Cook's Trailer Camp in South Haskell.

G-M Reduces Prices On All Cars, Trucks

General Motors Corporation Monday announced a $10 to $40 reduction in the prices of all its passenger cars and trucks, effective immediately.

R. L. Burton and Olen Dotson, owners of Burton-Dotson Chevrolet Company in this city, said Tuesday that the price reductions would apply on all new cars and trucks on hand in the Haskell agency.

The price reductions were GM's second in all lines of passenger cars in the last three months. On Feb. 25 the company reduced passenger car prices $10 to $40 and trimmed truck prices downward by as much as $150 in some lines.

Monday's announcement came from C. E. Wilson, General Motors president, who said the price reduction coincided with a downward adjustment on cost of living allowances to be paid during the next three months to GM's 341,000 eligible hourly rated and salaried employees.

Under GM's wage adjustment formula, adjustment of its cost of living allowance will bring a cut of one cent per hour for 273,000 hourly rated employees and a $5 quarterly reduction for 68,000 eligible salaried employees, effective June 1.

W. F. Armstrong, general manager of the Chevrolet division, said the reduction amounts to $10 across the board on all Chevrolet passenger cars and trucks.

Buick said its cuts ranged from $16 on the two-door sedan of its super series to $30 on its roadmaster station wagon with the dynaflo transmission.

California Creek Water Polluted By Oil Tests

Stockmen and landowners in an area of several miles along California Creek in southeast Haskell and part of Jones county have become concerned in recent weeks over pollution of the stream by salt water and oil escaping into the creek from old oil tests in the watershed area in the vicinity of the Haskell-Jones county line.

Extent of the pollution became evident several weeks ago when a small rise forced blackish water downstream, killing large numbers of fish and making the water unfit for cattle pastured in ranching areas watered by the stream. Death of several head of cattle recently has been attributed to the polluted water.

Worst pollution has been reported along California through the Oliver Cunningham, Dr. Bunkley, and Brooks Early ranches, residents of the area said. To determine whether steps can be taken to remedy the situation, state officials, and a Game Warden from the Abilene district office visited the section Tuesday to check extent of the stream pollution.

HASKELL VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. K. R. Perdue of Colorado City spent the week-end with relatives and friends in Haskell.

Haskell county's first wheat from the 1949 crop was brought in late Tuesday by R. C. Lowe, Haskell farmer who started combining on a 100-acre wheatfield a few miles east of town.

The grain was brought to the Courtney Hunt elevator and stored temporarily, because of extra heavy moisture content.

of early Blackhall variety, the wheat was graded No. 1, and of excellent quality. First estimate of yield from the 100 acres ran as high as 30 bushels per acre, but the turn-out is expected to be around 18-20 bushels.

Combines were started Wednesday on the Calvin Wheeler farm north of town, and first load of the harvest was brought in yesterday.

Thursday morning, approximately 6,000 bushels of new wheat had been brought in, Courtney Hunt local buyer reported. Because of excessive moisture, the grain was not sold but unloaded for storage.

Lowe's wheat combined Tuesday was believed the third load of new wheat brought to market in the nation press dispatches Friday reporting the first '49 grain harvested on a Throckmorton county farm by John Dunning, Olney farmer, M. L. Hartman, manager, who farms near Wichita Falls, also brought in newly-harvested wheat Friday.

First wheat this year came ten days later than start of the 1948 harvest. First load last year was brought in May 13 by R. F. Pitman from his small farm west of town, after dry weather had caused early maturing of the crop.

Harvesting of the county's grain is expected to get underway rapidly during the next week or ten days if weather is favorable. Some combines were being moved into fields today, it was reported, but scattered rains over the county Wednesday night will likely delay further harvesting for a few days, local buyers believed.

What About the Weather?

By E. D. JEFFERSON

Ideas come when the world needs them. They surround the world's ignorance and press for admission. The entrance is not always easy because so many have pulled down the windows of their minds. The purpose of my work is to relieve suffering minimize losses and make life easy for you and for many. This can be done by furnishing advance information on the weather as far ahead as one year. No doubt many are familiar with the severe January weather and learned in a general way of the losses and suffering incurred during that month in some of the northern states. What work in this vicinity will also work anywhere in the United States. And if we could have witnessed the losses and heard the cries from those people then we could fully understand at least in a measure the purpose for which I am making effort. I submit for your consideration forecast which I made of this area about a month before it happened and those who are using my forecast will bear me out in the statement. January would be above normal rainfall or snow slow and prolonged and mostly general. The temperature will not be as severe as the last few years but would make some dips and have a range from 18 to 60 degrees. The entire month would be subject to rain or snow. The result was that the clouds broke away on the last day of the month and the low temperature for the month was 14 and the high 62. February the predictions for the temperature was a low of 28 and a high of 74. The result was a low of 27 and a high of 74. These readings were taken at one and the same place months prior. The temperature was taken over quite a period and then it reflected itself during those months. No doubt many of you are familiar with the severe cold weather which came a few years ago shortly after Christmas. That severe spell was predicted eleven months and 27 days before it happened, missed in only two days. Then the first 29 days of December was described as warm spring-like weather and that the clouds would take on the appearance of spring. This all proved to be definitely accurate. In some cases it seemed that I can give a better description of the weather before it happens than I can after it happens. Because there is a difference in believing anything and believing it and feeling it too. So many have asked me how do you accomplish these things and what do I use. Well I use the windmill to tell me from which direction the wind is blowing and when it is only a breeze and does not register on the windmill I use a string hoisted high on the water tower. Then I use a note book making several hundred recordings the years prior to the year I am going to make my forecast. These recordings must be made both night and day, some of them as close as 30 minutes together, thus by patient attention I was able to determine the general course of the wind for a year ahead and was able to tell from which direction it would be blowing and how hard.

In 1941 endeavor here is also the other side, the chance to win, therefore, I have learned to cling

Peace and quiet above. This and much more are gifts of upward look.

SOME OBSERVATIONS BY JEFFERSON:

It is claimed that a dim flash precedes lightning and marks the exact spot where it is going to strike. Advance signals constitute much of my study.

How about the Fort Worth flood? It could have been predicted months in advance. I wrote there for a connection last year but received no reply. 1946 floods were forecast for my area and even told from what direction the cloud would come, and speed and course of the wind. What happened? 16 inches of rain fell within two weeks.

Then again 1948 when flood was forecast for San Angelo, Del Rio area and to the South. What happened there? Cattle drowned.

With I could give a complete forecast for this area, but am restricted because some purchased the service. As stated before, this would be an exceptionally good year. Would advise planting of any stubble land. I hope more people will become interested in my work so my efforts will not be lost and that future generations can use it.

Home Projects Rank High With 4-H Club Girls

"With more than a million homemaking projects being undertaken, 4-H girls are putting the 1949 theme 'Better Living for a Better World' into action," declared Guy L. Noble, director of the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work. Texas girls carried 44,886 of these projects, and accepted the challenge to report good records of work well done in 1949, according to Mr. Noble.

Clothing, canning, home improvement, home grounds beautification, garden and poultry are among the activities considered in the National 4-H Girls' Record awards program. In addition to learning the job of homemaking, the girls come to know the basic principles for happy family relationships and community responsibilities. The Cooperative Extension Service supervises the program.

For over a quarter of a century, Montgomery Ward has rewarded girls whose accomplishments in this contest have been outstanding. Six national scholarships of $300 each—in place of the usual $200—will be given this year. An all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago will again be provided for winners in each of the 45 states participating, and for county winners, a gold-filled medal of honor. 4-H girls in Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico also enroll in contest, and champions receive a $100 U. S. savings bond.

For the 1948 record judged best in Texas, Lois Wilson, of Morton was awarded a trip to the 4-H Club Congress. There were 37 county medal winners named.

area to the sunny side of doubt. It is based on wind circuit, reflection, tree rises, comparative practice, combined knowledge of the ages and most important of all, some creative thought and general laws of nature and its system and habits. It is believed, and I share that belief that no one ever accomplished anything worthwhile unless some one else had contributed something to it. Here I want to speak a word in behalf of some who have kept a record of the weather for 50 years, many of which were women, in search for evidence of a weather cycle. They have passed on thinking possibly that they had found. I like to read from their books some of the things that did, yes, I like to listen to the voices from the dead. Nature is man's best teacher. It teaches insight to look behind the curtain. There is always more than we can see, naturally only 20% of life is visible to our natural senses. No doubt that is equally true of sound. Oh, if we could only see and hear all said for just one day, what a glorious world this would be. Go to the barest shade in spring, after nature has been awakened from her winter sleep, turn on the loud-speaker and listen to the arthropodous insects, they have a song to sing, live and move as God has so planned, they glorify their Creator with their melodious voices. Here an oak tree a towering willow tree, again I listen. Oh, it is the cricket making music with his wings, the male plays and the female listens, she can not play. In order to study nature humility is necessary. You will learn to stoop in order to rise.

Many of the beautiful sky scenes that we see, yet we only view them casually. Many of them I now recall and I can bring them back at will and this goes to make up so much of life and years.

Then there is a serene beauty of a sunset sky lingering in the West which seems to impart quiet to the mind and heart and say Be Still, Be Still and know that I am Your Creator.

What Water Meter Accuracy Means to You And the City in Dollars and Cents

By J. R. GILSTRAP
Supt., City Water Dept.

The accuracy of a water meter is a matter of dollars and cents to the customer and the utility. Over-registration charges the customer with water he never received; under-registration cheats the city of its due income. Wide variation in the accuracy of meters in a water system means inadequate charges on water users so that even when the waterworks is owned by the city, as your water system is, accuracy is still imperfect.

Fortunately for the customers, water meters which were originally accurate cannot over-register. Water meters always slow down in service as they become worn, corroded, or encrusted and this under-registration results in a loss to the waterworks. In our local water system, we change our meters every five years as this is the life of a meter in our water. In other words, if the increased revenue from the meter pays a good return on the cost of making the meter accurate, it is simply good business.

If your system is completely metered you can check your total amount pumped against what was metered and account for water lost through leakage and non-metered. Your system is not completely metered but we are attempting to make it completed metered.

Your "net" income for the year from March 31, 1948 to March 31, 1949 was $11,090.48. This may not sound like much to you, but if you will check with any town in Texas the size of Haskell, you will find they do not make the amount of money your water department does. This is due largely to the fact that we try to keep our meters running and correct.

If you please, check your own system before you say the meter is wrong. We can and do make mistakes reading meters but they are honest mistakes. Your meter readers are Ben F. Roberts and Leon Ivy. If you are in doubt as to the accuracy of your meter we will be glad to check it on request.

Mrs. Norman Nanny Installs S. W. P-TA Officers

South Ward P-TA met Thursday, May 19, at 3:00 p.m. for the last meeting of the school year. The president, Mrs. Curtis Pennington, called the house to order. Mrs. Nellums' 4th grade children gave several musical numbers with their Tonette Band which was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Pennington introduced Mrs. Carol Bledsoe, who had her prize pupil, Nabeela Hassen, give a very nice reading, A Little Parable to Mother. This was a lovely reading and very well given.

A short business session was then held after which officers for coming school year were installed.

Mrs. Norman Nanny, in her very sweet way, installed the officers by way of a make-belief airplane ride with S. H. Vaughter as pilot and Linden Newton, co-pilot. Each officer heard her duties read and then took her place on the plane. Officers boarding the plane were:

President, Mrs. Curtis Pennington.

Vice President, Mrs. Bill Fouts. Secretary, Mrs. B. B. Pittman. Treasurer, Mrs. Clyde Bland.

Parliamentarian, Mrs. S. H. Vaughter.

Room Mother Chairman, Mrs. Virgil Sonnemaker.

Hospitality Chairman, Mrs. Glenn Merchant.

Music Leader, Miss Lucy P-Pool and Mrs. Jack Roten.

Reporter, Mrs. Laton Robertson.

Miss P-Pool's second grade had the most mothers present so were awarded one dollar.

The meeting closed with each person having a chance to say what P-TA had meant to her or him. Each felt that it had been a successful year, but by working and cooperating together again next year the South Ward P-TA expects to be a bigger and better organization.

USES TECHNIQUE OF FOOTBALL DAYS IN HIS... Crockett English, Manager Of Book Store In Austin, Doubles Handily As Sleuth When Occasion Demands

Fred Williams, staff writer on The Austin Statesman, turned out an interesting story in The Statesman May 18 concerning Crockett English of Haskell, four-year letterman on the HHS Indian squad of a decade ago, and who attended the University of Texas following his graduation from high school. The son of Mrs. Edith English of this city, Crockett is now manager of a book store in Austin, a job that was interrupted for a year or so while English and some more young Texans were in North Africa, Sicily, Italy and other trouble spots settling the late unpleasantness with Benito and Adolf.

It seems that Crockett, who is remembered by his classmates as a handy man to have around in any sort of situation on or off the gridiron, can turn in a pretty good job as a sleuth when the occasion demands. Fred Williams' story deals with that angle, and we reprint:

There's at least one Austin man who has another job waiting for him if the boss ever hands him the pink slip.

He's T. Crockett English, manager of Hemphill's Book Store at 105 East 21st.

There are invariably one or two students from the University of Texas' 18,000 who start flashing hot checks around each session.

Last year, two students had flooded the city, particularly the University area, with their rubber checks when they made the mistake of walking into Hemphill's off the campus and pulling the same stunt.

English caught them both from one he obtained a written confession and turned the case over, all tied up with pink ribbons, to the police department.

The other student broke and ran when confronted by English. But the manager, after a hot foot chase for a block and a half, nabbed the hot check artist and escorted him over to the district attorney's office.

City Detective K. R. Herbert, the department's ace on such cases, congratulated English, who had cleared up some 14 complaints.

A short time later, Police Chief R. D. Thorp called English in and gave him a miniature police badge.

That should have been enough for one store manager but this week English did it again.

The University area was again flooded with forged checks. The Texas Book Store had a couple along with Faulkner's Drug Store and Berkman's Book Store.

Then the student made the same mistake of his predecessors. He went to Hemphill's to get a $30 check cashed.

Everything was going smoothly until eagle-eyed English noticed that the University auditor's receipt the 19-year-old youth had presented appeared to be altered.

He called the student into the back office and began asking questions. When English picked up the telephone to call the bank on which the check was drawn the student jumped up and ran.

English, probably thinking "ho hum here we go again," started in pursuit. Having just lost 30 pounds through a strict diet of no potatoes, no bread and no beer, English quickly gained on the student.

Less than a block from Hemphill's, English let go with an All-America flying tackle and the race was over.

Within an hour, the student was in police headquarters making a full confession of his forgeries. The check he had presented at Hemphill's and six others were included.

The boy's father has now paid off the checks and withdrawn the youth from school. But the police department is ready to offer English that job on the force any time he gets tired of selling books and pennants.

That flying tackle which English has down to perfection now in nabbing escaping hot check writers is not purely coincidental. And although the sports-minded manager has seen all but two of the Longhorn's football games in the past ten years, he didn't pick up that tackling technique from the grand stand.

It seems that back in the good old days, the town of Haskell put out a pretty good football team. The high school players became quite proficient in tackling because of their home field practice sessions.

The squad, day after day, practiced on tackling one of the backs—a husky youngster who even then ran like a locomotive on the home stretch.

The powerful bone-jarring runner was John Kimbrough, who later became Texas A&M's All-American backfield star.

The short but determined little guy who learned the flying tackle in trying to stop his teammate Kimbrough was, of course, T. Crockett English.

Compared to stopping Kimbrough, these hot check artists are duck soup.

To meet your needs in 1959, we have to start now

Most of the oil you are using today was found more than ten years ago. It takes about that long to explore and develop potential resources to their full, efficient capacity.

First, you have to find the oil. Geologists and geophysicists spend months of scientific study before they pronounce an area a "prospect." It takes years to drill the other wells that define the field, establish the amount of oil in it, and bring it into full production.

Today, this year, continuously, we must develop the oil resources we may need — without notice — on some future tomorrow.

In spite of minor fluctuations in demand, the need for oil is increasing steadily over the years; and every now and again there is a sudden, heavy, unexpected need for additional supplies, like the demand for fuel oil on the Eastern seaboard during the cold winter of 1947-48. Furthermore, we must face the fact that in this atomic era, in this day of the jet airplane and the long-range submarine, the U. S. oil industry must prepare now to meet the needs of any future national emergency.

That's why the American oil industry is undertaking the heavy costs of exploring the Tidelands of the continental shelf in order to bring the oil fields that geologists think are there into full production now. Rest assured that the oil will be wasted; on the contrary, it will be ready for instant use when you and the nation need it.

HUMBLE OIL & REFINING CO.

This is a Humble well in the Anahuac, Texas field. The first well drilled in 1925, found oil at 8728 feet. Geological and geophysical work which preceded drilling consumed 6 years. 427 wells have been drilled, of which 357 are now producing oil. Present production is 25,000 barrels daily. With the present knowledge of the field, it is possible that additional sands may be found at a greater depth.

This is Humble production in the Friendswood, Texas, field. Exploratory work was begun here in 1928, and the discovery well was drilled in 1937. By 1941, Humble had 211 producing wells in the field; these wells supplied 64,110,000 barrels of oil toward the winning of World War II.

This alkylate plant was placed in operation by Humble at Baytown in 1938. Alkylate is an essential element in the manufacture of aviation gasoline, and by December 14, 1944, Baytown had produced a billion gallons of 100-octane gasoline for Allied airplanes.

'49 Olds To Lead Parade Of Racers At Indianapolis
 A new 1949 Oldsmobile, the official pace car of the Indianapolis Speedway 500-mile classic, will provide additional color and drama at the world-famous race this year on May 30.
 With Wilbur Shaw, president of the Speedway and former racing star, at the wheel, the pace car will lead the parade of racing contestants around the 2 1/2 mile track at gradually increasing speed. When the starting line is reached the pace car will retire to the track apron—and the 33rd running of the international sporting event will be off to a flying start.
 In the 32 previous races, pace cars of 20 different makes have been used. Oldsmobile was honored this year because of its development of the new high-compression "Rocket" Engine, based on principles perfected by Charles F. Kettering, renowned GM researcher. The engine has a compression ratio of 7.25 to 1 and delivers 135 horsepower on high octane gasoline such as available everywhere in the nation. In the Series "88" models, which have medium-weight bodies, the "Rocket" engine is especially effective. Its surplus power com-lines with GM Hydra-Matic Drive, to give rapid acceleration, great maneuverability, and effortless highway performance.

 Pace cars of leading manufacturers are used at Indianapolis for two reasons: 1. To keep the racing cars in an orderly formation on the warm-up lap and get them off to a flying start at a speed of approximately 90 miles an hour. 2. To symbolize the place of the 500-mile race as a testing ground for mechanical improvements in the passenger car industry.

trained for leadership by taking part in this program. As one 4-H'er aptly observed—initiative, patience, perseverance and resourcefulness are qualities to be desired in a leader, and there's no better place to learn them than in 4-H.

With these objectives in mind as they work in the various 4-H projects, Texas Club members are participating in the 1949 leadership contest, according to the State 4-H Club office. Alvin Davis, of Post, was one of the national winners last year. He and Patsy Delavan, of Devine, had the most outstanding records in the state, and were presented with a 17-jewel wrist watch appropriately engraved.

Besides the watch for state winners, there is an educational trip to the National 4-H Club Congress for the high-ranking boy and girl in each of the four extension sections. From these eight sectional winners, the boy and girl having the best record will be chosen to receive a $300 national scholarship. The two-runners-up will get a $150 scholarship. Top boy and girl in each county will be awarded a gold medal of honor. All of the awards—totaling more than $6,000—are donated by Edward F. Wilson, president of Wilson and Co., Chicago.

In addition to the state winners, county medals were awarded to 94 other Texas boys and girls. The Cooperative Extension Service supervises the program.

Former Haskell Girl Marries In Abilene

In a candlelight service in the home of Mrs. Ann O. Smart in Abilene, Karleanna Anne Wilkerson, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl McGregor, 1265 Vine street, became the bride of William H. Tadlock of Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Tadlock of Roby, Sunday.

The Rev. Earl Hambhett, pastor of the St. Paul Methodist church, read the double ring ceremony before an improvised altar, with a background of pink tulle, Stock, and gladiolus. Tall tapers on the mantle and on either side of the altar lighted the room.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an imported lace original afternoon dress in Champaign Brown with fitted bodice and circular skirt. She wore a brown picture hat and pink mitts. She carried an orchid on top of a white Bible. For something old she wore a strand of antique beads belonging to her great grandmother.

Mrs. Ernest C. Joyce of Merkie was matron of honor and was dressed in a pink sheer styled like the bride's dress. She wore a leghorn picture hat with pink mitts and her corsage was of pink carnations.

Karl Tom Wilkerson, the three-year-old son of the bride, served as ring bearer. He wore a linen suit and carried the ring on a white satin pillow encircled with pink blossoms. Edwin C. Tadlock served his brother as best man.

The bride's mother wore a brown sheer with a pink carnation shoulder corsage. The groom's mother wore a natural linen dress with gardenia corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. McGregor were hosts at a reception following the ceremony. The bride's chosen colors of pink and brown were carried out on the table center-piece with the three-tiered wedding cake from which the bride and groom's aunts, Miss Lydia Tom, Mrs. Eugene Tom of Haskell, and Mrs. E. R. Brooks of Breckenridge, presided.

After a wedding trip into Old Mexico and Mexico City, the couple will make their home in Snyder, where the groom is in the merchandising business.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a two-piece dress of white pique with a fitted bodice and ruffled peplum. Her accessories were white and she carried a bouquet of orchids and lilies-of-the-valley.

Mrs. Raybon Lam of Kermit was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a two-piece dress of grey linen with navy blue accessories and corsage of blue iris. Ray Buford of El Paso was his brother's best man.

Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Marion Josselet, pianist.

Many Workers In Dark Concerning Social Security

"Judging from inquiries received daily by our office, many workers don't know what they are buying with their social security taxes," Ralph T. Fisher, manager of the Abilene Social Security Administration office, said today.

"Some continue to confuse old-age and survivors insurance with old-age assistance," Fisher continued. "Others confuse old-age and survivors insurance with unemployment compensation."

"All workers covered by social security should realize that the penny taken out of each dollar of wages pays the premiums for old-age and survivors insurance, which is, in effect, a combined life insurance and retirement annuity policy. The plan provides monthly retirement payments to workers and their families. It also provides monthly benefits to families of workers who have died. Eligibility and the amount of benefits hinge on the wages the worker has earned in jobs covered by social security.

"Old-age assistance, on the other hand, is paid to old people who are in need. The payments vary with the need of each applicant. Unemployment compensation provides workers with some income when they are out of a job. Their employers, in most states, pay the full cost of the program."

Mr. Fisher suggested that anyone who has a question about social security may secure the need information from his office, Social Security Administration, 308 Post Office Building, Abilene, Texas.

EASIER ON YOU... EASIER ON YOUR TRACTOR

JOHN DEERE ROLL-O-MATIC "Knee Action" FRONT WHEELS

Working on beds... in deep water furrows... along the contour... over rough fields... there's hardly a condition you can name where John Deere Roll-O-Matic "Knee-Action" Front Wheels won't make tractor operation easier, smoother, safer than ever before.

Steering is much easier because the load is always balanced between both front wheels... riding is greatly improved because up-and-down movement of the front end is cut exactly in half. There's less wear on front tires, less strain on wheels because each tire and wheel takes its full share of the load.

Roll-O-Matic is just one of many exclusive and advanced features that make John Deere tractors today's leaders in modern design, just as two-cylinder economy, dependability, and long life have made John Deere tractors leaders in proved performance for the past 25 years. Come in and see us soon.

Hitchhiker Killer Gets Sentence Of Life In Prison

In Kingman, Ariz., superior court Monday, a sentence of life imprisonment was given Ivan Miles, 23, self-confessed slayer of Glen Yarbrough of Rule, who had been working as a carpenter in Corcoran, Calif., since his discharge from the Army.

Yarbrough returning to California after a visit with his mother in Rule was shot to death in Kingman, April 7, by the man he had befriended and given a ride in his car. Miles, arrested shortly afterward, confessed to the slaying. The slayer told officers his home was in Hereford, Texas.

W. D. Dake Dies At Home In Quanah

W. D. Dake, a former resident of this city, died of a heart attack May 8th at his home in Quanah. He was the father of Mrs. Audie Stocks of Haskell. Five other children and his widow survive.

Mr. Dake was 43 years old. Had he lived until Nov. 8th, he and Mrs. Dake would have observed their 50th wedding anniversary.

Funeral for Mr. Dake was held in Quanah, with all of his children present for the services.

New Hope Seen In War Against Poliomyelitis

The conquest of infantile paralysis is now within sight, Alton L. Blakeslee, noted science writer, predicts in a pamphlet published today by the Public Affairs Committee, Inc., of New York.

"No one can predict just when the victory will come, or in what way," he adds, "but medical science is making such progress that there is real cause for optimism."

Such striking progress has been made in treatment during the past ten years that only about 15 to 25 per cent of polio victims are now "left more or less severely handicapped. . . . Forty to 60 per cent of the children or adults who get the illness in recognizable form will recover completely without any visible evidence of paralysis."

Scientific study of means for preventing the disease has been slower, Mr. Blakeslee admits in the 20-cent pamphlet Polio Can Be Conquered, but he lists a number of recent developments that appear to carry great promise. Mankeys have been inoculated against polio safely and effectively, he points out. Unfortunately, the vaccine does not protect the monkeys against all strains of the virus and thus could not offer satisfactory protection for humans.

Top scientists are cited as believing that a safe vaccine for humans will someday be found. The recent success of scientists in almost completely purifying one kind of polio virus should hasten this day, Mr. Blakeslee declares. "Drugs and other chemicals have been found," he reveals, which "protect mice against viruses like the polio virus or which help the mice recover when they are given the viruses." So far, however, none has been used successfully on humans.

Although little is known about the way in which polio spreads, the pamphlet carries a number of tips for parents in the event that infantile paralysis breaks out in epidemic form in their neighborhood. Parents are urged to:

- 1. Watch for the symptoms that may be weather-ones of polio: a tired feeling, headache, nausea, upset stomach, pains or stiffness in the muscles, or a fever. A big part of the victory in polio is immediate rest and immediate treatment.
- 2. Avoid crowds. There is no way of telling who has the virus, who is becoming sick, or who is a healthy, unaffected carrier.
- 3. Keep children from becoming overtired or chilled.
- 4. Do not let children swim in polluted waters. Attacks of polio have followed after such experiences.
- 5. Keep clean. Make sure that the children wash their hands before eating.
- 6. Keep garbage covered and screen the house against flies.

Polio Can Be Conquered, by Alton Lee Blakeslee, is Pamphlet No. 150 in the series of brief, popular, 20-cent pamphlets issued by the Public Affairs Committee, Inc., a nonprofit, educational organization at 23 East 39th Street, New York 16, N. Y.

Cooler Summers Made Possible By Home Repairs

You may not be able to do much about the temperature this summer, but you can do something about your house to keep a little cooler.

Inside house temperatures may be from 10 to 15 degrees cooler with insulation than without it, provided the house has enough ventilation, says W. S. Allen, extension agricultural buildings engineer of Texas A&M College.

The insulation itself won't cool the house but it will keep the heat outside during the day. Along with night ventilation, shading of the windows, awnings and shade trees near the house, insulation helps provide better cooling. The difference will be enough to make any house more comfortable when the mercury climbs high, Allen says.

Any home exposed to high temperatures in the summertime needs insulation and the higher or lower the temperature, the greater the need for it. Here in Texas it's most beneficial in the summer. Reflective insulation, which comes in metal foil or sheets, helps keep the sun's heat out of the house during the day, and allows for rapid cooling at night. So it is well adapted to the South, says Allen.

Your house may be made cooler this summer by proper use of insulation. But don't forget that the fuel bills will be less next winter, too.

E. Bond Sales In County $26,512 In Current Drive

Haskell County has achieved 38 per cent of its quota in the Opportunity Drive for the sale of Series E Savings Bonds, R. C. Couch, county chairman, announced today.

The drive officially opened on May 16 and sales for this county through the first week totaled $26,512, according to a sales report received from state Savings Bonds headquarters in Dallas. The county quota is $69,000. The report carries sales through last Saturday (May 21.)

Expert Forecasts Good Duck Hunting

Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas hunters can expect a good crop of ducks next autumn of some hunting regulations.

The promise came from Dr. Clarence Cottam, assistant director of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. He spoke at a regional sportsman's meeting in Oklahoma City recently.

Cottam said surveys showed that 12 per cent more ducks returned to breeding grounds this year than last. The most serious threat to the duck crop, Cottam said, is a drought now developing in the southern part of Canada's three prairie provinces, where about 50 per cent of the ducks are hatched.

The drought is not serious now, Cottam said. But if it continues for three weeks "we will undoubtedly lose many young ducks," he said.

Cottam said government regulations will soon generally use sun time rather than standard time to govern shooting periods.

He also told Oklahoma hunters their state could become a hunting paradise by proper development of food and habitat at its huge impoundments.

He told members of Ducks Unlimited and Izaak Walton League of America that the government needs and appreciates organizations such as these.

Plans For Farm Tour In County Announced

Farmers and members of the Haskell County Legume Growers Association will tour Haskell County to observe soil building crops next Tuesday, May 24, from 1:00 to 5:30 o'clock in the ten district moot room in Haskell at 1:00 o'clock where a schedule of farms to be visited will be handed out.

The tour is sponsored by the Haskell County Legume Growers Association to show what can be done with soil building crops planted in this area.

Various farms will be visited where growing fields of vetch, Austrian winter peas, rye, and alfalfa will be observed.

VISITS AT HASKELL

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Swan of Alvarado, Texas, visited his sister, Mrs. H. F. Mohr this past week. Also a niece, Mrs. Ira McCulloch of Roundtop, Texas, visited in the Mohr's home.
