Governor Beauford Jester Dies With Heart Attack

Governor Beauford H. Jester, 56, serving his second term as Texas' highest official, was found dead in his sleeping car berth aboard an Austin-Houston bound train at 7:30 a.m. Monday, in Houston...

The governor left Austin Sunday night to go to Galveston for a physical check-up. He had planned to spend several days resting on the coast from the heavy duties during the just-closed 51st Legislature, an Associated Press dispatch said...

Justice of the Peace Tom Maes of Houston expressed belief the governor had been dead about four or five hours when the body was found. Jester had been ill with food poisoning during the last strenuous days of the Legislature, but apparently had recovered...

In the closing hours of the session, he brought the state budget into balance by vetoing $17 million from one of the major appropriation bills. He had promised to call the Legislature back into special session by next January if a constitutional amendment calling for annual sessions is not adopted at the polls in November...

The session he promised would be to consider a building program for the insane and other wards of the state, and to consider taxation and other finance matters unsettled by the just-ended session. Jester's friends credited him with having kept Texas in line with the national Democratic organization during the last presidential campaign. He had carried his fight for states rights—including state ownership of the tidelands—through the Philadelphia National Convention to a point just short of breaking from the national party organization...

When it comes to the showdown, Jester and the Democratic Party in Texas, of which he was the titular head, stayed with President Truman and the national organization. Jester last week declined an invitation from Speaker Sam Rayburn to go to Washington for a conference with officials of other states on the tidelands problem. He said then he had too much work on his desk to take time out for the trip...

Development of Haskell county's most productive oil pool in the Canyon reef was assured this week with the rating of Stanolind No. 1 John M. Pace as a 1,050 barrel daily producer on Railroad Commission gauge. Potential on the well, three miles southeast of town, was run after all available storage at the site had been filled when the discovery was brought in. Stanolind has considerable acreage under lease in the vicinity of the discovery well, and is reported to be preparing to start operations on additional wells in the area. In the Rochester-Jud area, considerable activity has been noted in recent days, with several semi-wildcats and outposts drilling and additional locations reliably reported due in the near future. A. R. McElreath and Travis E. Dean, Fort Worth, are drilling ahead on a 5,200-foot test five miles west of the Jud field in the northwestern sector of the county. The wildcat is known as No. 1. R. C. Speck and is 967 feet out of the southeast corner of the 80-acre tract in the A. Slaydon survey No. 57. Three miles northeast of the Jud field, Morty Freedman, Dallas, and Dean are drilling a 5,200-foot Strawn test as No. 1 V. Alvis, 330 feet out of the northeast corner of 9-15-H&TC, Soles Petroleum, Magnolia and American Liberty Oil are supporting the venture. Danciger Oil & Refining, discoverer of Jud, has spudded No. 5 Bogard, 933 feet southeast of No. 4 and in 3-1-WCRR. Also in that area, it is reported that rig is to be moved in soon for a scheduled test northwest of O'Brien in Block 14, H&TC Ry. Co. Survey. Drilling block in that area has been leased by Lacy Armour interests. Northeast of Haskell, Roark, Hooker & Roark of Abilene and Fain-McIntosh of Wichita Falls are reportedly making preparations for a Strawn test to be drilled with rotary to 4,400 feet. The wildcat, Ada Couch No. 1, will be approximately 467 feet from the southeast corner of Section 76. Southeast of Haskell 13 miles, Humble Oil & Refining Company is trying for completion on the No. 1 Laura F. Williams in section 3 GH&H survey. The well was drilled to 5,402 feet, where drillstem test showed water, and then plugged back to 5,270 and casing cemented at 4,960. The completion will be attempted in oil shows at 4,916-26, 4,870-61, and 4,860-71.

Gilmore Implement Company, dealers for John Deere tractors and farming equipment, are announcing the removal of the concern to a new location in the former business district.

The building now occupied by the firm was purchased sometime ago, and a number of improvements have been made to prepare it for use of the large implement and tractor concern.

$250 Fine Given In County Court For Beer Sale

While officers were there, one or two cars stopped briefly at the place, then left. Probably business callers, Sheriff Bob Cousins commented.

Governor Beauford Jester Dies With Heart Attack

Governor Beauford H. Jester, 56, serving his second term as Texas' highest official, was found dead in his sleeping car berth aboard an Austin-Houston bound train at 7:30 a.m. Monday, in Houston.

The governor left Austin Sunday night to go to Galveston for a physical check-up. He had planned to spend several days resting on the coast from the heavy duties during the just-closed 51st Legislature, an Associated Press dispatch said.

Lieut. Governor Allen Shivers, 41, who will succeed Jester, was quoted in an Austin dispatch as saying he would wait until after funeral services were held for Jester Wednesday before taking the oath of office as governor. Actually, under Texas law, the powers of the governor passed to him when Jester died.

Justice of the Peace Tom Maes of Houston expressed belief the governor had been dead about four or five hours when the body was found.

Mrs. Jester was in Austin at the governor's mansion.

Jester had been ill with food poisoning during the last strenuous days of the Legislature, but apparently had recovered.

In the closing hours of the session, he brought the state budget into balance by vetoing $17 million from one of the major appropriation bills. He had promised to call the Legislature back into special session by next January if a constitutional amendment calling for annual sessions is not adopted at the polls in November.

The session he promised would be to consider a building program for the insane and other wards of the state, and to consider taxation and other finance matters unsettled by the just-ended session.

Jesters friends credited him with having kept Texas in line with the national Democratic organization during the last presidential campaign. He had carried his fight for states rights—including state ownership of the tidelands—through the Philadelphia National Convention to a point just short of breaking from the national party organization.

When it comes to the showdown, Jester and the Democratic Party in Texas, of which he was the titular head, stayed with President Truman and the national organization.

Jester last week declined an invitation from Speaker Sam Rayburn to go to Washington for a conference with officials of other states on the tidelands problem. He said there he had too much work on his desk to take time out for the trip.

Grand Jury Bills Three Persons In Six Indictments

Six indictments for felonies were reported by the 39th District Court Grand Jury at the close of a one-day session Monday, the body having convened after recessing at the beginning of the April court term.

State of Texas vs. Jack Hendrix, two indictments charging embezzlement. Hendrix, former insurance and loan broker here, had been under indictment by a previous Grand Jury, but the bills had been found faulty, court officials explained. He has been at liberty under bond since the cases first developed.

Two indictments charging burglary were returned against Jimmie Isbell of Haskell, and two similar bills named R. D. West as principal. The youths were charged with entering the Johnson Laundry and Gordon Service Station here several weeks ago. Both boys perfected bonds pending disposal of the charges.

During Monday's Grand Jury session, eight witnesses appeared before the body, of which J. M. Crawford is foreman.

Final Rites Held Tuesday for Mrs. Mary Connally

Funeral rites for Mrs. Mary Emma Connally, 73, were held Tuesday at 10 a.m., at the First Methodist Church, with the pastor Rev. Vernon Henderson officiating. She had been a member of this faith since girlhood.

Burial was in Highland Cemetery, Stamford, near the grave of her husband, who died three years ago, and two sons. Grandsons were pallbearers for the funeral. Holden's funeral home was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Connally died at 12:15 a.m. Monday. She had not been well in a long time and had been critically ill since last Friday. She was the former Mary Emma Lawson, born March 6, 1876, in Murray county, Tenn., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Lawson. She married I. L. Connally, Oct. 2, 1894, in Navarro county, and they came to Haskell in 1923 from Jones county.

Survivors include two sons, B. H. Connally of Stamford and O. U. Connally, Haskell; three daughters, Mrs. J. M. Waggoner and Mrs. Bill Boutwell, Haskell; Mrs. John Kohout, Stamford; a step-daughter, Mrs. D. S. McGee of Roscoe; step-son, J. W. Connally, Muleshoe; two brothers, M. L. Lawson, Abilene, and E. P. Lawson, Midland; and a sister, Mrs. Ida Mullican of Munday. Twenty grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren also survive.

Development of Haskell county's most productive oil pool in the Canyon reef was assured this week with the rating of Stanolind No. 1 John M. Pace as a 1,050 barrel daily producer on Railroad Commission gauge. Potential on the well, three miles southeast of town, was run after all available storage at the site had been filled when the discovery was brought in.

Stanolind has considerable acreage under lease in the vicinity of the discovery well, and is reported to be preparing to start operations on additional wells in the area.

In the Rochester-Jud area, considerable activity has been noted in recent days, with several semi-wildcats and outposts drilling and additional locations reliably reported due in the near future.

A. R. McElreath and Travis E. Dean, Fort Worth, are drilling ahead on a 5,200-foot test five miles west of the Jud field in the northwestern sector of the county. The wildcat is known as No. 1. R. C. Speck and is 467 feet out of the southeast corner of the 80-acre tract in the A. Slaydon survey No. 57.

Three miles northeast of the Jud field, Morty Freedman, Dallas, and Dean are drilling a 5,200-foot Strawn test as No. 1 V. Alvis, 330 feet out of the northeast corner of 9-15-H&T.C. Sohio Petroleum, Magnolia and American Liberty Oil are supporting the venture.

Danciger Oil & Refining, discoverer of Jud, has spudded No. 5 Bogard, 933 feet southeast of No. 4 and in 3-1-WCRB.

Also in that area, it is reported that rig is to be moved in soon for a scheduled test northwest of O'Brien in Block 4, H&T.C. Ry. Co. Survey. Drilling block in that area has been leased by Lacy Armour interests.

Northeast of Haskell, Koark, Hooker & Roark of Abilene and Fain-McIntosh of Wichita Falls are reportedly making preparations for a Strawn test to be drilled with rotary to 4,400 feet. The wildcat, Ada Couch No. 1, will be approximately 467 feet from the southeast corner of Section 76.

Southeast of Haskell 13 miles, Humble Oil & Refining Company is trying for completion on the No. 1 Laura F. Williams in section 3 GH&H survey.

The well was drilled to 5,402 feet, where drillstem test showed water, and then plugged back to 5,270 and casing cemented at 4,960. The completion will be attempted in oil shvs at 4,916-26, 4,870-61, and 4,860-71.

Work Started on Final Stages Highway Widening Project

Work started Tuesday on the final stages of the Highway 277 widening project in the city north and south of the highway. Completion is expected next month or six weeks with no delays are expected.

The Highway Department has launched a special job for the widening of all dirt roads to be paved on the highway. This work will be done with concrete and asphalt to provide a permanent surface. It was estimated that the widening of Highway 277 from the city limits will be considerably more than a flow of traffic handled by the highway.

The highway was launched as a project of the City and the county more than a year ago. The program of city officials is to widen the highway to a width of 60 feet. With practically all local stores and business establishments cooperating, Haskell's third Extra Value Day will be observed Tuesday, July 19th, with outstanding bargains being featured on that day by stores in every business classification.

Response to the values offered by Haskell merchants on the two previous events of this kind has prompted cooperating stores to go "all out" in making attractive prices on all types of merchandise for the next Tuesday's event, a check of the advertisements in this issue of The Free Press will show. Businessmen have kept their normal everyday prices in adjustment with the seasonal downward trend, and in addition have reduced prices on all lines of merchandise for the special value event next week. It will be the best opportunity in recent years to stock up on new and seasonal merchandise at the lowest possible prices. All the needs for the family, home and farm can be filled in a one-day shopping tour of Haskell stores on this special occasion.

Sponsors of the program explained the purpose of the event as an opportunity for patrons of the area to inspect the newer stocks of seasonal merchandise in Haskell stores, to get a first-hand view of the low prevailing prices in local stores, and to express their appreciation for the splendid patronage extended them by area buyers and patrons in the past. No definite hours of the day have been set for the buyer to take advantage of the bargain prices and values. Prices advertised will be in effect during the entire day.

The blaze was quickly subdued with very little damage to the bridge, fire truck driver Wiley Quattlebaum reported.

Wednesday morning, telephone at the fire station was kept busy a short time, when dense black smoke rolled over town in a southwest direction as a result of cleaning up operations at site of the Toronto Pipe Line company's oil loading rack just outside the northeast city limits. Excited persons who called in to report a fire had plenty of visible evidence to support the belief as the waste crude burned for several hours.

Mrs. Jester was in Austin at the governor's mansion. Jester had been ill with food poisoning during the last strenuous days of the Legislature, but apparently had recovered.

In the closing hours of the session, he brought the state budget into balance by vetoing $17 million from one of the major appropriation bills. He had promised to call the Legislature back into special session by next January if a constitutional amendment calling for annual sessions is not adopted at the polls in November.

The session he promised would be to consider a building program for the insane and other wards of the state, and to consider taxation and other finance matters unsettled by the just-ended session. Jester's friends credited him with having kept Texas in line with the national Democratic organization during the last presidential campaign. He had carried his fight for states rights—including state ownership of the tidelands—through the Philadelphia National Convention to a point just short of breaking from the national party organization.

When it comes to the showdown, Jester and the Democratic Party in Texas, of which he was the titular head, stayed with President Truman and the national organization.

Jester last week declined an invitation from Speaker Sam Rayburn to go to Washington for a conference with officials of other states on the tidelands problem. He said then he had too much work on his desk to take time out for the trip.

The county agent, at the request of the state committee, has called this first organization meeting for Tuesday, July 19, at 9 a. m. in the district court room. The CROP program has been approved by all the denominations in Texas, Martin explained, and it is hoped that a representative number of interested representatives from all churches will attend the meeting.

Grand Jury Bills Three Persons In Six Indictments

Six indictments for felonies were reported by the 39th District Court Grand Jury at the close of a one-day session Monday, the body having convened after recessing at the beginning of the April court term.

Bills reported by the Grand Jury Monday included: State of Texas vs. Jack Hendrix, two indictments charging embezzlement. Hendrix, former insurance and loan broker here, had been under indictment by a previous Grand Jury, but the bills had been found faulty, court officials explained. He has been at liberty under bond since the cases first developed.

Two indictments charging burglary were returned against Jimmie Isbell of Haskell, and two similar bills named R. D. West as principal. The youths were charged with entering the Johnson Laundry and Gordon Service Station here several weeks ago. Both boys perfected bonds pending disposal of the charges.

During Monday's Grand Jury session, eight witnesses appeared before the body, of which J. M. Crawford is foreman.

Final Rites Held Tuesday for Mrs. Mary Connally

Funeral rites for Mrs. Mary Emma Connally, 73, were held Tuesday at 10 a. m., at the First Methodist Church, with the pastor, Rev. Vernon Henderson officiating. She had been a member of this faith since girlhood. Burial was in Highland Cemetery, Stamford, near the grave of her husband, who died three years ago, and two sons. Grandsons were pallbearers for the funeral. Holden's funeral home was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Connally died at 12:15 a. m. Monday. She had not been well in a long time and had been critically ill since last Friday.

She was the former Mary Emma Lawson, born March 6, 1876, in Murray county, Tenn., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Lawson. She married I. L. Connally, Oct. 2, 1894, in Navarro county, and they came to Haskell in 1923 from Jones county. Survivors include two sons, B. H. Connally of Stamford and O. J. Connally, Haskell; three daughters, Mrs. J. M. Waggoner and Mrs. Bill Boutwell, Haskell; Mrs. John Kohout, Stamford; a step-daughter, Mrs. D. S. McGee of Roscoe; step-son, J. W. Connally, Muleshoe; two brothers, M. L. Lawson, Abilene, and E. P. Lawson, Midland; and a sister, Mrs. Ida Mullican of Munday. Twenty grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren also survive.

RETURNS FROM HOSPITAL

A. C. Orr of this city, who will be 84 his next birthday, returned home last Saturday from Hendrick Memorial Hospital, Abilene, where he submitted to surgery. He is recovering nicely and is rapidly regaining his customary health. Mr. Orr, an early-day resident of Throckmorton, moved his family to Haskell almost 30 years ago.

Development of Haskell county's most productive oil pool in the Canyon reef was assured this week with the rating of Stanolind No. 1 John M. Pace as a 1,050 barrel daily producer on Railroad Commission gauge. Potential on the well, three miles southeast of town, was run after all available storage at the site had been filled when the discovery was brought in.

Stanolind has considerable acreage under lease in the vicinity of the discovery well, and is reported to be preparing to start operations on additional wells in the area.

In the Rochester-Jud area, considerable activity has been noted in recent days, with several semi-wildcats and outposts drilling and additional locations possibly reported due in the near future. A. R. McElreath and Travis E. Dean, Fort Worth, are drilling ahead on a 5,200-foot test five miles west of the Jud field in the northwestern sector of the county. The wildcat is known as No. 1. R. C. Speck and is 467 feet out of the southeast corner of the 80-acre tract in the A. Slaydon survey No. 57.

Three miles northeast of the Jud field, Morty Freedman, Dallas, and Dean are drilling a 5,200-foot Strawn test as No. 1 V. A. A. 330 feet out of the northeast corner of 9-15-H&TC. Soho Petroleum, Magnolia and American Liberty Oil are supporting the venture.

Danciger Oil & Refining, discoverer of Jud, has spudded No. 5 Bogard, 933 feet southeast of No. 4 and in 3-1-WCRR.

Also in that area, it is reported that rig is to be moved in soon for a scheduled test northwest of O'Brien in Block 14, H&TC Ry. Co. Survey. Drilling block in that area has been leased by Lacy Armour interests.

Northeast of Haskell, Roark, Hooker & Roark of Abilene and Fain-McCains of Wichita Falls are reportedly making preparations for a Strawn test to be drilled with rotary to 4,400 feet. The wildcat, Ada Couch No. 1, will be approximately 467 feet from the southeast corner of Section 76.

Southeast of Haskell 13 miles, Humble Oil & Refining Company is trying for completion on the No. 1 Laura F. Williams in section 3 GH&H survey.

The well was drilled to 5,402 feet, where drillstem test showed water, and then plugged back to 5,270 and casing cemented at 4,960. The completion will be attempted in oil shvs at 4,916-26, 4,870-61, and 4,860-71.

Haskell Team to Play in Tourney At Stamford

With Haskell and five other area towns taking part, a Junior Softball Elimination Tournament will be held at Stamford beginning Monday night, July 18, and following games scheduled July 20, 22, 25, 27 and 29th. Taking part in tournament play will be teams representing Haskell, Weinst, Plainview, Goree, Avoca and Stamford. Dick Coyle of Stamford will be official umpire for all games.

Winner of the tournament will be awarded a large trophy and part of the team's expenses will be paid to the State Tournament at Austin in August.

In games scheduled Monday night to open the tournament, Haskell and Weinst meet in the first game starting at 8:15. Plainview and Goree are paired in the nightcap, beginning at 10 p. m. Wednesday night, July 20, Avoca and Stamford meet at 8:15.

Easy Method Is Developed To Rid Hogs Of Lice

Times have changed in the curing of mange and lice in hogs. It's different now. It's easy for farmers to rid their hogs of these pests.

Some years back, hog raisers had to cook up a scalding hot dip of lime sulphur. It took three such dips 10 to 14 days apart to cure cases of mange or lice, says E. M. Regenbrecht extension swine husbandman of Texas A&M College.

All that's necessary today is dip or spray the infested hogs with a mixture of wettable BHC powder and soft water. Since this is a poisonous material, it's important that the mixture be of the right strength. The information on the BHC container or the local county agent will give you the exact amount of wettable powder to mix with the water, says Regenbrecht.

Fall Out of Summer

To paraphrase the poet: When summer comes, can fall be far behind? Designer Toni Owen has fashioned this dress to be equally comfortable under September starlight or July parasol. The patio skirt is of Juilliard Featheroy (three ounces lighter than corduroy), with side zipper and buttoned waist band. Shepherd Knitwear makes the matching T shirt.

One thorough spraying or dipping will kill all mange eggs and mites, as well as the eggs and the adult of the louse.

BHC has a very offensive odor and flavor, so don't treat any hogs with it that you figure on sending to market in the next 30 days. There's a good chance the BHC flavor may show up in the meat.

There's another new drug that seems to be just as good for killing hog mange and lice—it chlodane. Mix a half pound of 40 percent wettable powder with 10 gallons of soft water. One good treatment with this mixture is usually enough for a good control of mange and lice. DDT will kill the mange at all, says Regenbrecht.

The chlordane, DDT and BHC mixtures are all good for controlling flies he adds. For fly control, spray the barn walls, fences, and other places where the flies gather. However, avoid spraying hog feed, water and feed troughs. These are poisons, and should not be eaten by hogs, the swine husbandman concludes.

Texas farmers own close to 215,000 tractors. From this number, estimates show that 21 million gallons of gasoline is wasted every year in Texas alone. That means just 100 gallons a tractor

Wellington Man Gives ACC 100 Bales Cotton

Abilene Christian College is in the cotton business.

F. O. Masten of Wellington and Sudan, recently gave the college 100 bales of cotton. He said that when others increase the college's stock to 1,000 bales, he will give another 100 bales.

Masten cultivates 20,000 acres in the Panhandle of Texas. He is co-chairman of the ACC Development Fund. He said he made the cotton gift to stimulate other gifts to the Fund.

Don H. Morris, president, said he is sure the college can find a ready market for one or 1000 bales. He said he will see to the selling of it if the donor doesn't want to sell and remit the proceeds.

The college president added it wouldn't make a bit of difference if the gift turned out to be wheat, oats, cow or sow or any other farm product.

FRIENDS gather, look over that long Bonnet and wish they had as much Fireball life as you have here.

They size up the broad windshield and narrow corner posts—and don't have to be told how they'll step up "see-power."

They appraise the smart styling, the roomy interiors, the usability of luggage space—and agree you've made a buy.

But don't stop, please, with letting them look. Invite them in and introduce them to some of the special pleasures you'll know as a Buick owner.

Show them, for instance, how completely different Dynaflo Drivet is, with every mile cushioned by flowing oil and none of the rigid harshness of direct-drive cars.

Let them sample the matchless Buick ride, with all four wheels cradled on soft, coil springs and low-pressure tires made still easier-riding by extra-wide rims.

Point out how solid this Buick feels. That's what you get from husky frames, low-sprung weight, and power delivered through torque-tube instead of the rear springs.

For the truth is, this Buick's a bargain—much, much more than you can see.

It's a big buy on the solid goodness demonstration quickly makes plain. On increasingly favorable delivery dates. On attractive price. On the kind of "deal" your Buick dealer makes.

That's why we keep saying "Better see your Buick dealer—and get that order promptly!"

of Typhus Cases Shows In State of Texas have been escaping any serious of typhus fever this total number of reported cases so far being 133. This is a gratifying decrease in the incidence of this disease, but at the same time, it is well to warn that only continued stringent rodent control measures will hold this disease in check.

This is the advice of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, who says that "typhus is one of the most debilitating of all diseases, and the long drawn out illness results in such loss of time that this factor is usually even more expensive to the victim, than his doctor and hospital bills."

Inasmuch as "typhus fever is transmitted to man by the rat flea, the control of typhus depends almost entirely upon ridding ourselves of rats. No garbage should be left exposed where they can get to it to feed. Granaries and feed houses should be rat-proofed so that rats are starved out. All rat harborage such as trash piles, piles of old lumber, accessible quarters in the walls and foundations of buildings and other suitable living quarters should be denied them. Houses and business buildings can be effectively rat-proofed at a comparatively low cost, and the expense is always much less than the damage that can be done by rats, and the sickness they can spread.

"When the rat is gone, typhus fever will go also" Dr. Cox said. "Keep building out, starving out, and killing all rats, and typhus fever will no longer menace the health of our people."

If dodging work is a paying business, there should be many millionaires around town.

Truman Asks Big U. S. Aid For Texas Aids

It will cost $435,987,600 to bring Texas' share of the interstate highway system up to date, President Truman told Congress last week.

In the interest of safety and national defense, the President said, the Federal Government should bear even more than the usual 50 per cent of this cost.

The President's report was prepared by the Public Roads Administration after a study of the deficiencies in the nation's interstate highway system.

This network connects principal industrial areas throughout the nation and serves 182 of the 199 cities having a population of 50,000 or more, the report said. It serves 20 per cent of the nation's traffic.

Texas' share of this system consists of 2,765 miles, or 7.44 per cent of the total national network. Estimated cost of needed improvements throughout the state is $435,987,600.

Most of this Texas section is in rural areas—2,573 miles of it. Proposed improvements on rural highways in the state would cost $286,833,400.

The 192 miles of the system located in Texas need $149,104,200 worth of improvements, the report estimated.

"If rural sections of the system had been improved in 1948 as proposed," the report said, "an estimated 1,400 lives lost in traffic accidents throughout the nation might have been saved."

"If the proposed improvements had been completed in urban areas, the saving in travel time, valued at a cent a minute, would have almost paid for a year's installment on the cost of the improvements," it continued.

The report declared that the system is most deficient in eight distances and in the width of pavements, shoulders and bridges. Of the 10,505 bridges on rural sections of the system, only 483 are completely adequate.

The longest "reasonable period" for making these improvements is twenty years, the report states.

State 4-H Junior Rifle Club Formed At Round-Up

Coaches and instructors of 4-H junior rifle clubs in Texas formed the Texas State 4-H Junior Rifle Club at a meeting held during the annual 4-H Round-Up on June 15 at College Station. All 4-H junior rifle clubs that are affiliated with the National Rifle Association are eligible for membership.

The purpose of the new organization is to unify the procedures and methods used in training and conducting rifle matches on the county, district and state levels.

Representatives from 16 counties attended the organizational meeting. They were from Harris, Lamb, McMullen, Jim Wells, Bexar, Refugio, Potter, Matagorda, Mason, Upshur, Kent, Washington, Austin, Wharton, Calhoun, and Waller. State directors elected were: D. F. Eaton, Jr., Lamb county; C. W. Wilhoit, Archer; B. F. LaRue, Anderson; Wesley Sherrill, Washington; Bob Lilly, Calhoun; W. E. A. Meinscher, Austin, and J. H. Rothe, Brown. R. E. Callender, extension specialist in wildlife conservation, College Station, was named an advisor to the board of directors. All members of the board are either county agricultural agents or assistants.

W. E. A. Meinscher was named chairman, Wesley Sherrill, vice chairman and Bob Lilly, secretary-treasurer of the organization. Meinscher is also a member of the National Junior Advisory Committee of the National Rifle Association.

Rifle shooting has been conducted in Texas as a regular part of the camping program for 4-H boys for ten years and state matches have been fired for almost as many years. The program was started to teach the young farm boys how to handle and use firearms safely, and this is still a prime objective of the program. So far as is known, no boy who has been trained in this program has ever had a fatal accident with a rifle.

Glassware Frequent Casualty During Hot Weather.

Summer months call for heavy use of glassware for cool drinks and chilled desserts. The glassware casualty list is likely to be heavy before the summer is over.

Sudden changes in temperature are responsible for the untimely end of much glassware, Mrs. Bernice Claytor, extension home management specialist of Texas A&M College, points out. That is why hot water should not be poured over glass in washing or rinsing, but instead, the glass should be laid gently into the water.

"Glass should not go directly from the refrigerator to warm dishwasher; neither should jars of food, hot from the canner, stand in a breeze to cool," Mrs. Claytor said. "Glass expands with heat, contracts with cold; if forced to do either suddenly, it often cracks or breaks."

She suggests that in making iced tea or coffee in glass, pour the hot beverage slowly onto the ice rather than against the glass, or—more safely—make the beverage in a china or pottery pitcher and then pour into the glasses.

To save glass from taking a rap in dishwasher, there are circular rubber gadgets which fit over the end of faucets; rubber mats for the bottom of the sink or dishpan, or for the counters on either side of the sink. The rubber-covered dish drainers also give protection.

"The time-honored dishwashing rule is 'glass first, silver second, china third,'" Mrs. Claytor said. "Glass gets first place because it needs clean suds with no trace of grease to come out clear and shining."

Howard Payne club will probably give the pitching nod to James Night, his star moundsman, in an effort to take the first game. E. W. Mckler, strikeout artist for the local All-Stars, will no doubt be Manager Merideth's mound choice for the local club.

These two clubs will be about serious business in this series, each trying to clinch a playoff berth in the Shaughnessy series to be played between the winners of the western and eastern divisions of the Texas Softball League.

Doctors and nutritionists say the yellow fat of beef is a better source of Vitamin A than the more popular white fat. The yellow color in feed for cattle is due to carotene in feed that grazing animals eat. Tests have shown that the fat of grass-fed cattle may have 20 times more Vitamin A than cattle fattened on grain ration low in carotene.

State Juvenile Plan Approved In Legislature

A new plan to curb juvenile delinquency through a concentrated campaign to prevent it has been given legislative approval.

The plan sets up a state Youth Development Council.

The council's purpose is twofold—to co-ordinate all state activities dealing with young persons and to help communities develop their own programs of child services and juvenile delinquency prevention.

Something new for the state is the diagnosis center the council is authorized to establish.

Local courts may commit delinquent children to the council. The council will send the child to the diagnostic center. Psychiatrists, doctors and trained workers will try to find out the child's problem and his needs—what made him delinquent.

Operation of the state's three training schools—one at Gatesville for boys, one at Gainesville for girls and the third at Brady for Negro girls—is turned over to the council.

The youth development plan is the recommendation of a commission which spent eighteen months studying the problems of delinquency and the state's institutions for correction. The commission was authorized by the Legislature two years ago.

The council will consist of fourteen members—six citizens "recognized for their interest in the welfare of youth" and the heads of eight state departments.

The council is given $137,000 annually for the next two years for its own expenses and establishing the diagnostic center. Appropriation for the training schools is made in another bill.

Cull Non-Layers Is Advice Given By County Agent

It is a direct loss to the poultry producer to feed non-layers during the summer months, says F. W. Martin, County Agent, and it's also one of the reasons poultry producers are not doing a better job of maintaining high egg production during the summer months.

He advises poultrymen to sell the non-producers just as soon as they are noticed. Chances are they'll not come back into production until late fall or early winter, and during this time, feeding them is a dead loss.

Hens that show a shrunk, dried-up comb, yellow beak, new feathers, yellow shanks and yellow vents should be culled and sold. Hens that lack vigor and spend their time loafing should also be removed from the flock. A good producer has to get good feed and drink lots of clean cool water and they can't do this unless they rustle. Of course, the poultryman must do his part by supplying this feed and water.

The poultry producer who does a good job of culling continuously will be well paid, and at the same time he'll be following one

Statistics Show Age 11 Safest Year In Life

Age 11, commonly viewed—by adults, at least—as a time of happy freedom from care, is revealed by the statistics of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company to be the safest year of life.

It is at this age that the chances of survival from one birthday to the next are most favorable. By then, the statistics point out, the special hazards of babyhood have passed, the death rate from the diseases and conditions of childhood has fallen off, and the mortality from the chronic disorders has yet to appear as a factor of consequence.

After age 11 the probability of surviving from one birthday to the next diminishes slightly with each advancing year.

The statistics point out that the remarkable progress which has been made in reducing the death rate among children generally is evident also at age 11. Among the company's millions of industrial policyholders the death rate at this age is about one half of what it was only 12 years ago.

The life is much safer for 11-year-old girls than for boys as shown in the insurance experience by the death rates of 45 per 100,000 for girls and 73 for boys. For both sexes the leading cause of death is accidents, with fatal accidents four times as frequent among the boys as among the girls.

"As low as recent figures are, analysis of the leading causes of death at this age shows that they can be reduced still further," the statisticians comment. "The rec-

HOW TO SHOOT A RIFLE

By ARTHUR E. COOK
National and Olympic Rifle Champion
Advanced Training

A bullet never travels in a straight line. As soon as it leaves the gun muzzle, gravity begins to pull it toward the ground. Therefore, at longer distances, the bullet is likely to fall short of the target unless (1) you deliberately aim high, or (2) you adjust your sights to compensate for the drop of the bullet.

The same thing applies to horizontal (or sideways) movement of the bullet due to wind while shooting outdoors. Particularly with small caliber bullets, wind is capable of blowing the bullet inches off course. Again it is necessary to compensate for this action.

If your rifle is equipped with an adjustable rear sight you need only to determine the amount of adjustment needed and the direction, and then turn the adjustment knob the necessary amount. There is one basic rule to follow: MOVE THE REAR SIGHT IN THE SAME DIRECTION YOU WANT TO MOVE YOUR SHOTS.

Don't try sight adjustment until you have learned to put all your shots in a tight little group on the target. Then, if the group is not in the center you can correct the rifle's point of impact by adjusting the sights. Remember that a rifle is only as good as its sights—put the best ones you can afford on your gun.

(This instruction based on the booklet, "HOW TO SHOOT A RIFLE," published by The National Rifle Association, Washington, D. C.)

Know your gun and ammunition!

Accidental Death Rate for Farm Workers Exceeds Toll in Industry

Farm workers had an accidental death rate more than twice as high as workers in non-agricultural industries in 1948, the National Safety Council reports. The 1948 death rate for farm workers was 55 per 100,000 workers, while in non-agricultural industries the average death rate was 25.

There will be a short program, during which all old Baylor students present will be introduced. It is hoped that annual rallies such as this will prove no small advantage to Baylor. An earnest invitation is extended all old Baylor students from anywhere to be present for the occasion, and get better acquainted with other members of the great family.

The Council's announcement gave emphasis to plans for the sixth annual National Farm Safety Week, proclaimed by President Truman for July 24-30.

A survey by the Council revealed that about 72 per cent of the accidents to farm people involved one or more unsafe acts on the part of the victims. The theme of the farm safety week observance will be to eliminate these unsafe practices which cause accidents.

Other highlights of the Council's annual report on accidents to farm residents were:

1. Total farm resident deaths from accidents were 17,500 in 1948, about the same as in 1947. Injuries totaled about 1,600,000.
2. Farm home deaths totaled 6,000, with approximately 900,000 non-fatal injuries.
3. Motor vehicles killed 6,500 farm residents in 1948 and injured 230,000 more.
4. The total of 4,400 farm work deaths was up slightly—2 per cent—from 1947. Farm work deaths accounted for more than 25 per cent of the nation's occupational death toll for 1948.
5. Public non-motor vehicle deaths, such as drownings, took the lives of 1,400 farm residents.

On the basis of these figures, the Council said that one of every 17 farm residents in the United States will suffer a disabling injury from an accident in 1949 unless more precautions than usual are taken.

In the hope that more precaution will characterize farm life this year, farm and safety leaders throughout the nation are mobilizing for National Farm Safety Week to call attention to the heavy accident toll, and to educate farm residents in the measures that will prevent mishaps.

Girlstown Will Have New Home Near Lubbock

Girlstown, recently established at Buffalo Gap by Amelia Anthony as a home for homeless girls, will be moving to the Plains Country this summer.

Miss Anthony announced that the project had received a gift of 1,336 acres of land and $20,000 cash from T. B. Duggan, Lubbock oil man and rancher. The land is located 52 miles southwest of Lubbock and eight miles south of Whiteface.

Architects are preparing plans for a new two-story concrete building which will be constructed as soon as possible.

Miss Anthony expressed regret that Girlstown will have to be moved from Buffalo Gap. "That was my first choice for a site for Girlstown," she said. "But we cannot operate without water. We have made every effort, but still are not able to work out a solution to our water problem."

"It is still costing us $5 a day to haul the water and that limits us on the number of girls we can have in the home," she said.

Miss Anthony said that with the new home near Whiteface she hoped to be able to take care of more girls. Hundreds of applications have poured in since the first announcement that the home was to be opened.

The new site for the home for girls is ranch land, all in grass. There are no improvements, but Miss Anthony said she hopes to be able to move into the new building within the next 90 days. The land has oil production, but Duggan retained the mineral rights deeding to the home only the surface rights. The gift by Duggan was inspired by newspaper stories and pictures about the home.

Road Building By Contract Is Called Most Economical

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Depression-born experience dictates that the contract method should predominate, particularly in highway construction, in the public works program now under consideration as a means of checking mounting unemployment.

This assertion was made here recently by Burton F. Miller, managing director, Highway Contractors' Division of the American Road Builders' Association, who advocated also that "the highway program should be sufficiently long-range in its scope, with known amounts to be expended projected several years into the future, so contractors can invest judiciously in necessary equipment, thus saving taxpayers many millions."

Citing Public Roads Administration figures showing that the leveling of prices of materials and labor has brought contractors' bids down from last year's post-war highs, Mr. Miller pointed out that highway work bids received in the first quarter of 1949 averaged two and one-half per cent lower than those in the last quarter of 1948. In the same period this year, he said, 118 new bidders were low bidders, and in addition there were some 200 new bidders who were unsuccessful in their attempts to obtain highway contracts.

"There is no doubt that contractors' know-how again is available in ample quantity," Mr. Miller declared. "How closely they are bidding the highway work is reflected in Public Roads Administration data which show that even under the high prices of last year, contractors' bids averaged 1.8 per cent below estimates of the engineers of the contracting divisions and subdivisions of government. In April of this year, on work estimated by the engineers to cost $69,429,966, contractors bid in the work 9.5 per cent below that figure."

Hailing this showing as "the beginning of the return to the marked superiority and proven economy shown by contract work over day labor work before the war," the ARBA official cited the following from a PRA study during the made-work program of the depression:

"Forty-six States and one Territory built 53 highway projects by day labor after first taking competitive bids in order to get a basis of comparison of the two methods. The total cost of the 53 projects by day labor was 12 per cent in excess of the bid prices. On 40 of the jobs the day labor cost exceeded the bid prices by 2.1 per cent and on 13 the cost was less than the bid prices by 10 per cent.

"Day labor should not be used as an economy measure or to secure better or quicker construction at low cost. Under the day labor system plans, specifications and detailed cost estimates usually are not available at the time of starting the project and the final cost may remain unknown until long after the work is completed.

"The principal reason for the success of the contract system is that with other systems it is difficult to obtain the same loyalty and performance from material suppliers and employees that the contractor can secure.

"The tests made by the Public Roads Administration to determine the relative economy and efficiency of highway construction by contract and by day labor show that construction by contract is more economical and more efficient than when done by day labor under the supervision of public agencies.

"Briefly stated, it appears that unless working conditions are favorable, supervision competent and undertakings free from political and partisan interference, construction of new projects by day labor is likely to be high in cost and low in quality."

These Public Roads Administration conclusions, Mr. Miller asserted, "are even more significant today than when originally made, for since the tremendous increase in taxes which has occurred since the depression of the thirties, it is important that that very sizeable item be taken into account when comparing costs of highways work done by contractors, who pay taxes, both corporate and individual, with work done by subdivisions of government, using their own, or day-labor, forces, for these subdivisions contribute nothing on the nation's economy, and should be followed in the public interest and for the sake of economy. Highway construction comprises the ideal way to meet, quickly, current unemployment conditions. Highway projects furnish the most on-site and off-site employment, and under the contract method of construction, support the American free enterprise system of public works performed under a fair system of competitive bidding.

"We need new highways and reconstruction of war-deteriorated existing highways. An expanded highway construction program simultaneously offers an opportunity to obtain tangible and lasting benefits for our national economy from any made-work program under consideration. To avert recurrence of some of the controversial public works which resulted from our unplanned plunge into the depression of the thirties, we should proceed to line up the largest highway construction program in history for execution by the nation's highway contractors."

Cotton Market Continues Quiet Past Week

Spot activity in southwest cotton markets continued quiet last week, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

First heavy ginnings from the new crop in South Texas claimed the attention of merchants and shippers who are awaiting volume movement for new season business.

Picking was general last week throughout the Rio Grande Valley and had started in many fields around Corpus Christi. USDA's classing office at Corpus Christi had its first 1000-bale day Saturday, (July 10).

Early ginnings from the South Texas crop are running from Middling plus to Strict Middling in staple lengths 1 inch to 1 1/16 inch with 1 1/32 inch predominating.

Cotton prices moved within a narrow range last week. Dallas and Galveston closed Friday about 50 cents per bale lower than the previous Friday, and Houston $2 per bale lower.

Friday's closing quotations ranged from a low of 31.45 cents to 31.75 cents per pound for Middling 15/16 inch offerings. Last year on the corresponding day, cotton prices ranged from 34.30 to 34.45 cents per pound at Dallas, Houston and Galveston, or around $12 to $15 per bale higher than now.

Cotton exports from the United States totaled 449,000 bales during May, much smaller than April and March exports, but double those of May last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Comolli and children of Sweetwater were visitors in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Collier Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Misses Janice Ruth and Geraldine Wilson have returned to their home in Amarillo after a month's visit here with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R.W. Robertson.

Control of Cotton Insects to Be Meeting Topic

Cotton insects, their identification and control, will be the subject to be studied at a meeting arranged for farmers of this section, County Agent F. W. Martin has announced.

The meeting, to be held Friday, July 15, will begin at 2 p.m. in the district courtroom, and all farmers are urged to attend.

James A. Deer, Extension Service Entomologist of Texas A&M College, will be present to discuss insect identification and means of control.

After a brief meeting in the court room the group will go directly to a cotton field to make insect counts and observe methods of poisoning.

County Agent Martin, in urging all cotton farmers to attend if possible, pointed out that much valuable information on control of cotton insects could be gained at this meeting.

Social Security Representative to Be Here July 21

Ralph T. Fisher, Manager of the Abilene office of the Social Security Administration, will be at the Haskell Chamber of Commerce at 11:00 a.m. on Thursday, July 21. Any persons wishing assistance with retirement or death claims under the Social Security Act are invited to call to see him at that time.

Fisher announced that the Abilene office issued 717 original social security cards during the month of June. In addition, 283 duplicate cards were issued to persons who had lost their cards, or whose cards had become mutilated.

Most of the 717 new cards were issued to students preparing to take summer jobs. Any student, whether he works part-time or full-time, should have a social security account number card if he is working in commerce or industry. The card represents an insurance policy with the Government and should be shown to each new employer. Application blanks may be secured from the local Post Office. The completed application should be mailed to the Social Security Administration, Abilene, Texas.

Persons who have lost their account number cards should make application for duplicates. Blanks for this purpose are also furnished by the local Post Office.

Clover Crop Seen As Soil Builder On Cotton Land

Alvie Ressel, cooperator with the Wichita - Brazos Soil Conservation District three miles west of Knox City, says that his cotton where he had Dairy vetch planted as a cover crop is making a much better showing at this time than his other cotton.

Ressel planted the hairy vetch and last fall, used it as a cover crop and pasture, and plowed it under green this spring. Later he planted cotton on this and adjoining land. There is a lot of difference in the growth of the cotton where he had the vetch.

In most places it is as much as 6 - 8 inches higher and has a dark green color. The other cotton, planted the same day, is two or three shades of green lighter in color and does not have the growth of the other.

Mr. Ressel has in mind planting more soil improving crops this fall, if seed is available. This is a part of his conservation plan worked out with the District and the Soil Conservation Service technicians.

Royce Smith, Ray Overton On HHS Coaching Staff

Two additions to the Haskell High School coaching staff were announced this week by Head Coach Jack Roten.

Smith will serve as an assistant in the high school and Overton will be in charge of the grade school team as well as aiding with the high school grid team.

Texas Grain Storage Problem Being Met

G. E. Blewett, secretary of the Texas Grain and Feed Dealers Association, says the storage problem on new wheat in Texas is being met because the yield is considerably under pre-harvest estimates.

Blewett said less wheat is stored on the ground this year than in any year during the past decade and that bins of many farmers are not full.

The government's downward revision of the estimated crop is still not low enough in Blewett's opinion. Monday's estimate by the department of agriculture was for a yield of 108,730,000 bushels. The estimate prior to that was 123,000,000 bushels.

"I doubt if the Texas wheat crop will exceed 90,000,000 bushels," Blewett said.

MOST POPULAR ONE-WAY PLOWS

Minneapolis-Moline Wheatland disc plows are the popular one-way plows, and there are many reasons why they are the favorites. MM Wheatlands plow from 18 to 24 inches deep, and have a wide range of adjustments for the discs from 40 to 60 degrees for various soil conditions. Discs of 26-inch diameter spaced 10 inches apart turn soil better. MM "Bridge-Trussed" frame has a design as the frame that "can't wear out or give." Rear axle design permits full weight of the axle assembly to hold the end of the disc gang to its work at the point for which the plow is set. Special MM end-thrust takes all end thrust of the entire gang assembly, making a better quality plowing job at lower cost and for more years of dependable performance. Make your next one-way an MM Wheatland disc plow. Ask us for complete facts on 4, 6, 8, and 10-foot sizes, hand and power-lift models.

A big cotton crop doesn't necessarily mean big profits for the cotton growers. Profits will be determined by the price received and the cost of producing and harvesting the crop.

Bob Wills And Texas Playboys To Be In Stamford

Bob Wills and his Texas Playboys, who will appear in Stamford July 16, have been mighty busy for the last decade. They have cut over a thousand records for MGM and Columbia companies, played ten years straight over the radio networks and were in a series of eight Western films in which Bob co-starred with Russell Hayden at Columbia. Bob, of course, has played several engagements in this vicinity of late, and needs no build up for West Texans. He'll be playing, rain or shine, at the big hangar at Arledge Field, at Stamford from 8:30 to 12:30, Saturday night, July 16. He is being brought to Stamford by the Stamford Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Eugene Hickey, newly elected president of the Stamford organization sponsoring Bob's appearance, said that people who just wanted to listen and not dance would be provided for.

Scientists Find Way to Make Extra Small Particles

Scientists working on the new Humble Esso Extra Motor Oil discovered that the addition of a special dispersive made it possible to break up the soot, sludge, varnish and dirt that the new product cleans from automobile engines, into particles as small as 38/1,000,000 of an inch in size. This, they say, is many times smaller than the smallest clearance in an automobile engine, so that the materials cleaned out of the engine by the new Esso Extra Motor Oil cannot damage moving parts. Humble station salesmen are urging customers to drain dirty, diluted oil and refill with new Esso Extra Motor Oil for extra protection. Adv.

Caution Advised
In Using 2,4-D As Weed Killer

Reports continue to come in from different sections of the state that show proper precautions are not being followed in the use of 2,4-D.

Orchards have been defoliated, tomato and other truck crops been and are being hurt, and cotton is being damaged in almost every section of the state says M. K. Thornton, extension agricultural chemist of Texas A&M College. The users of 2,4-D must remember, he adds, it will not only kill the weeds that are objectionable but may also damage desirable plants around the house and farm.

Here are some precautions that should be followed by every user of 2,4-D, as worked out by a committee of Texas A&M College research and extension workers for your protection. They say don't use 2,4-D dusts under and conditions. They drift easily and far. Ester forms of 2,4-D are not recommended because they give off fumes readily. Small liquid spray particles may drift in air currents and delayed drift effects may occur following changes in direction of the wind. For ground sprayers, use nozzles producing coarse spray particles and use pressures below 40 pounds per square inch. Do not apply 2,4-D with ground equipment in wind velocity greater than 5 miles per hour when susceptible crops are within 1/2 mile downwind or 1/4 mile upwind.

No 2,4-D, says the committee, should be released from an airplane at altitudes higher than 10 feet above the ground when wind velocities are greater than 5 miles per hour and susceptible crops are within one mile downwind or 1/4 mile upwind from the application area. In winds of 6 to 10 miles per hour velocity, it should not be released if susceptible crops are within 2 miles downwind and 1/4 mile upwind.

In communities having intermixed small fields of susceptible and nonsusceptible crops, it is difficult to meet the above conditions and in such areas airplanes should probably not be used for applying 2,4-D. Thornton advises using separate equipment for 2,4-D. It is practically impossible, he says, to clean 2,4-D from a sprayer that may be used for applying fungicides or insecticides. Don't store 2,4-D in a building where seeds, fertilizer, fungicides or insecticides are stored or handled because of the danger of contamination.

Employ only qualified airplane operators who have properly functioning equipment and who will apply the spray only when the conditions set forth above can be met, he says.

Among the most susceptible plants are: cotton, tomatoes, okra, vine crops such as cucumbers, sweet potatoes; legumes such as blackeye peas, peanuts, snapbeans and many ornamentals.

Before you use 2,4-D Thornton suggests that you consult your county agent or other competent authorities as to the best stage of growth and correct dosage for use with specific crops treated with 2,4-D and damaged by insecticides.

Who can remember the sight of an airplane was an event to be treasured for a week?

GOOD SINGING — PLAIN GOSPEL PREACHING

Members of the Christian Church are often met with the following questions: Is the Christian Church any different from the other churches? Why does it exist? Has it a creed? What does it believe?

The object of our existence is not to add another to the many churches that are now found. A divided church is contrary to the teaching of Christ and His Apostles. (I Cor. 1:10, 11; John 17:21).

We receive both the Old and New Testaments as the inspired word of God, but hold that the New is the rule of faith and practice for the Christian age. We plead for the unity of God's people on the New Testament basis; that salvation is faith in the living Christ and obedience to him; that we are not the only Christians, but Christians only; accept Christ as our creed and use no name but Christian and no book but the Bible.

On non-essentials we admit the largest liberty; on the essentials we appeal to the New Testament. "Where the Bible speaks, we speak; where the Bible is silent, we are silent."

Indian Tribes Will Take Part In Top O' Texas Rodeo

The Top o' Texas Rodeo and Horse Show Association is giving this country back to the Indians during the annual Top o' Texas Rodeo and Horse Show to be held at Pampa on August 2-3-4-5-6.

Arrangements have been completed with the U. S. Indian Reservation Offices at Anadarko, Oklahoma, for the appearance of a group of Indians from the United States Indian Reservation to appear in this year's show. There will be three tribes represented in the delegation, the Kiowas, Comanches and Apaches. The oldest Indian, Frank Bosin, is a Kiowa and is 89 years old. George, who is Frank Bosin's son, is a descendant of Toohausan (singer of the Medicine Lodge Treaty). George's wife, Beauty Aspermy, is a Comanche, a descendant of Chief Quana Parker. The group of dancers will range in age from 9 to 90.

This group of dancers are nationally famous for their Indian War Dances, and will dance at each night's rodeo performances in full costume and ceremony. The costumes of the Indian girls are buck skin and beads valued up to $500.00, and are treasured very highly by them as it is almost impossible to obtain the materials to make these dresses. The War Bonnets and Head Dresses of the men are Eagle feathers, and are also very expensive and hard to obtain. They will be equipped with tom-toms or war drums plus the colorful University Hardin-Simmons Cowboy band in the background.

These dancers are experts in their tribal dances and do such dances as the war dance, shield dance, Indian round dance, Indian twostep, Eagle dance and many others.

Oldest Capital In United States Marks Anniversary With Historical Pageant

The oldest capital in the United States celebrated its 351st anniversary July 10 at Espanola, N. M., with a huge pageant that reenacted the coming to New Mexico of Juan de Oñate, wealthy Spanish explorer, relates a writer in The Christian Science Monitor.

The Oñate settlement was established in 1598, which makes it the oldest colony and capital in the nation. The capital, which its founder named San Juan, remained here until 1699 when it was moved to Santa Fe, now the oldest existing capital in the country.

Oñate led a huge land armada into New Mexico. He was at the head of a caravan of 7,000 head of cattle, 136 families, and some 400 men. King Philip of Spain granted many of these early explorers land in the rich valley.

The descendants of many of these early settlers participate every year in the anniversary celebration. They reenact Oñate's entrance and add a little flavor besides. The oldest and youngest residents in the valley are introduced to the crowds that come from northern New Mexico to view the celebration.

On a grandstand sit the chiefs of Pueblo Indian tribes nearby. They proudly exhibit silver topped canes which Abraham Lincoln gave their fathers as a token of friendship from the government. The chiefs now use them as a sign of their authority.

Villages from up and down the Espanola Valley send floats and representatives to the celebration. Acarnival attracts hundreds of persons who laugh and shout in a melange of three languages—English, Spanish and Tewa, the language of Pueblo Indians.

FIGHTING INSECTS IS EASY WITH NEW AEROSOL CANS

If mosquitoes and flies have started their annual attack in your vicinity this summer, it is time for you to launch an offensive of your own. Making war on bugs is hardly any effort at all these days. All you need is one of the new aerosol insecticides which come in a dispenser can with finger-tip action.

These sprays are the direct-hit weapons which kill flying insects on contact. They are especially useful in getting rid of flies and mosquitoes because they contain pyrethrin for quick knock-down action and usually DDT to make sure of the kill.

The pressure which expels the insecticide when the valve is depressed is sufficient to divide the particles of spray into a fine mist which penetrates every inch of space. The best procedure is to stand in the center of the room and direct the spray toward the upper corners. You should shut all the windows and doors before starting and leave the room closed 10 to 20 minutes afterward.

The aerosol can is economical as well as convenient, since six seconds of spraying are plenty to do the job in the average size room. The can holds enough insecticide for about six minutes of continuous spraying. Since such a small amount is needed at a time, however, this is enough to last the average family for an entire season.

Aerosols are useful on picnics if there is not a breeze to blow the insecticide away. When the bugs are really thick it is a good idea to have several people operating and bomb simultaneously until your picnic place has been thoroughly covered. This can be done in about ten seconds. The spray not only kills the insects already there, but it repels others which might venture to annoy you. Do your spraying before the food is out, of course.

Water Pump Is Important Cog In Farm Economy

The water pump is the heart of the farm water system, says W. L. Ulrich, extension agricultural engineer of Texas A&M College. It works for the family and the livestock under all conditions.

There may be quite a few things around the farm that the average farmer can do without if he has to have water. You'll be less likely to have trouble with your water system if you have a water pump that fits the special needs of the farm and home, Ulrich adds.

He says there are three different types of electric water pumps that are in general use on Texas farms. The shallow well pump, the lowest priced one, is best suited for wells with a water level of 15 to 28 feet below the surface. The plunger type, deep well pump is used when the water level is deeper than 22 feet. The cylinders that lift the water in this type are lowered to within 20 feet of the water, Ulrich says. It can be used for wells of any depth, but is especially adapted to deep ones.

The third type water pump is the jet pump, used for either shallow or deep wells. The jet pump doesn't have to be directly over the water source, which is an advantage.

If you're figuring on buying a water pump this year, it may save you some money to buy the kind that will best fit your farm needs, he concludes.

Wheat From Italy Makes Good Yield For Scurry Man

Two pounds of seed wheat brought back from Italy by a Scurry County GI has multiplied into 400 bushels of harvested Italian wheat for Joe A. Merritt, farmer of the Pleasant Hill community near Snyder.

Merritt has been propagating the wheat for several seasons. He got his initial planting from his son, Woody W. Merritt, when the young man was serving with the U. S. Army on Italian soil.

Merritt, who harvested 400 bushels from about 50 acres, says the two-pound seed yielded about two gallons of seed. This in turn yielded six and a half bushels the second year. The third year planting then harvested approximately 60 bushels. Yield this season averaged high for the entire season.

The Pleasant Hill farmer, former long-time representative of the 118th District, reports the imported wheat matures about 10 days earlier than most American varieties. Grain beads are a little rougher and the wheat has good drought resisting qualities.

Growth and Development of Children Is Dealt With In New FSA Publication

There is now available from the Children's Bureau, Federal Security Administration, a new publication on the growth and development of the child from 6 to 12 years of age. It should be of particular interest to parents who have children in this age group.

Uncle Sam Says

It is the first publication from the Children's Bureau on this age group, says Mrs. Eloise Johnson, extension family life specialist of Texas A&M College, and she recommends it highly. Books, pamphlets and articles about the baby, the toddler and the preschool child have been released by the Bureau but very little has been written on the school age youngster. The 6 to 12 period is a very important time in the lives of the youngsters, says Mrs. Johnson, for it is during this period that habits and personal characteristics are developed that last a lifetime.

The child is still close to his parents; he appreciates attention, love and sympathy; he's striking out for himself, making friends, exploring his world and is well on his way to becoming a self-directed and self-motivated individual. He needs plenty of good parental help and guidance during this period of life, adds Mrs. Johnson.

This new publication contains a wealth of valuable material and you will probably want to add it to the family bookshelf. It's brand new and is probably not yet available locally, says Mrs. Johnson, but you can order it from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C. It will cost 20 cents and you should ask for Children's Bureau Publication Number-324.

Grandma Wanted Man With Future

The modern girl is looking for different things in her future husband than grandma did, a survey by an Ohio State University graduate student revealed.

The quality grandma looked for in a man was whether he was a good provider, but two generations later, the girls are looking for men with personality, interesting hobbies and interests similar to their own.

Marvin R. Koller, 30, of Cleveland, has found out quite a few facts about courtship practices during three generations as he makes a survey for a doctorate in sociology at Ohio State.

For his research, he sends questionnaires to three generations of women — those of the college age level, their mothers, and their maternal grandmothers.

A total of 1,500 women — 500 in each generation — have been questioned, and one of the unchanging customs Koller has unearthed shows that it always has been the man who has picked up the check.

Cotton Acreage Up 14 Per Cent Over Last Year

The big acreage indicated by reports that 26,380,000 acres of cotton were in cultivation on July 1. This is an increase of 14.2 per cent over a year ago.

No forecast on production was given and none will be made until next month. But the crop would be about 14,770,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight if the yield per acre equalled the five-year (1944-48) average of 269 pounds. At last year's yield of 311 pounds to the acre, the crop would be 16,490,000 bales.

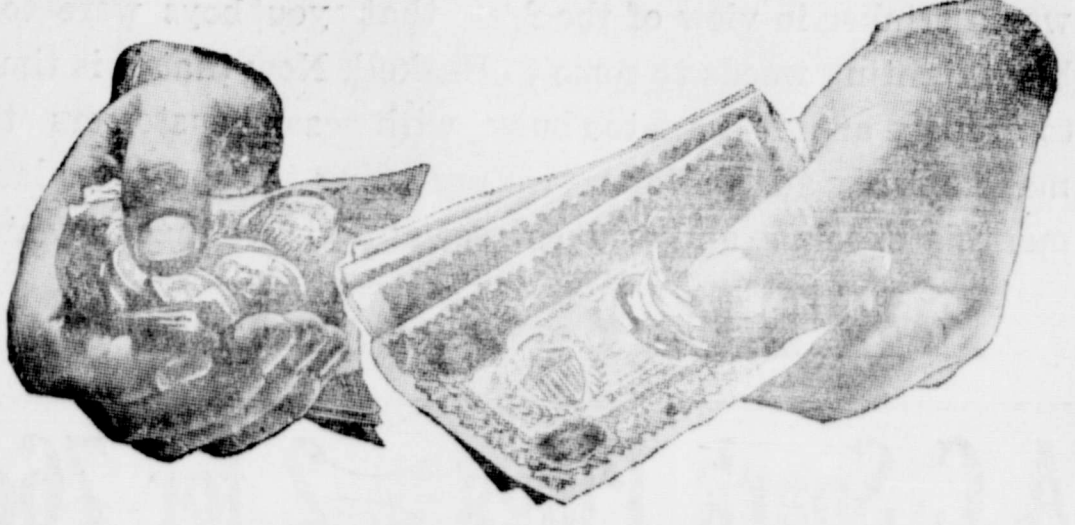

Production last year was 14,965,000 bales compared with a 10-year average of 12,014,000 bales.

The acreage planted to cotton last year was 23,110,000 acres compared with 22,015,000 for the 10-year average. The department had set a planting goal of 21,984,000 acres for this year's crop

Livestock Prices Continue Steady to Higher; Some Grains Show Decline

Steady to higher southwest livestock prices were offset by declines on cotton, some grains and many fruits and vegetables during the past week, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration reports.

Wheat advanced 10 cents a bushel since last Tuesday, as barley gained 7 to 8 cents, and white 1/2 to 5 1/2 cents. Milo declined 5 cents a hundred pounds. No. 1 hard wheat closed Monday at 2.20 1/2 to 2.30 1/2, and No. 2 milo $2.05 to $2.20.

Cotton declined 25 cents to $1.50 a bale for the week. Spot middling 15/16 inch closed Monday at 31.50 cents a pound at Dallas and Galveston, 21.85 at Houston, 32.30 at New Orleans, and 32.50 at Little Rock.

Trading was very good at New Orleans on heavy receipts of local and shipped in fruits and vegetables at mostly unchanged prices. Denver saw brisk trading most days with many prices lower. Many prices declined at St. Louis in slow trade. Plentiful supplies of watermelons and cantaloupes moved at lower prices at Fort Worth where peaches were in moderate supply. Peach growers in Louisiana received unchanged prices, but pepper markets continued to weaken.

Sheep and lambs sold unchanged to a little higher than a week ago. Greatest gain was at San Antonio, where goats also sold steady to strong for the week. Wool and mohair trading was slow in the southwest.

Hogs found active demand at southwest markets Monday. Prices averaged 50 cents to $1 higher than a week before at Denver and San Antonio, and unchanged to slightly higher at Fort Worth and Oklahoma City. Top hogs reached $21.50 at Texas markets.

Cattle trade was slow at Fort Worth Monday, slow to moderately active at Denver and San Antonio, and active at Houston. Prices were unchanged to slightly higher than a week earlier. Good fed yearlings brought $23 to $25 at Fort Worth.

Livestock receipts last week fell moderately below those of the week before at southwest and midwest markets on all classes of livestock. Twelve-market total of cattle receipts showed the only important increase over the same week last year.

Dressed pork advanced $3 to $5 a hundred at New York for the week. Veal, calf and lamb sold unchanged to $4 higher, and beef and mutton changed little.

Hot weather slowed egg and poultry trading the past week but prices showed little change. Best quality eggs sold firm, but current receipts eased as heat affected quality. Besset large white eggs sold at 45 to 50 cents a dozen, but yard run eggs ranged from 37 to 40 in North Texas. Fryers sold from 26 to 28 cents a pound.

Rice trade was dull. Rains followed by sunshine helped the growing rice crop. That millfeed prices dropped lower, while meat-scrap and tankage sold higher, and other feeds changed little. Prairie hay baling was getting into full swing, but alfalfa markets remained rather slow. Peanut crops had good growing weather.

Sanitation First Step in Controlling Spread of Flies

Sanitation is the number one item in a successful fly control program. Insecticidal treatment is of little or no value unless a thorough job of cleaning up all fly breeding places is done, says James A. Deer, assistant extension entomologist of Texas A&M College.

It is a known fact, adds Deer, that flies carry the germs of many diseases and with the increasing amount of polio in the state it is more important than ever to get rid of the flies and other insects that may be carriers of the disease.

Deer says, if DDT is not giving good results, try a 2 per cent chlordane household spray. It should get the flies as well as other insects that are bothersome in and around the house. Premises should be kept clean at all times. Keep garbage in covered containers and keep the lids on these containers. Clean up and destroy breeding places around the farmstead and don't expect the insecticides to do the entire job. They'll help, says Deer, but there is nothing that can be substituted for cleanliness, but he concludes, if you mix the two together in liberal proportions and use them, you can keep flies under control. One treatment is not enough and if complete control is to be maintained, constant watch must be kept to see that the flies are kept in their place and the only good fly is a dead fly.

Fun Rewards 4-H'ers In Recreation Program

National 4-H Recreational Arts program—a field of specialties—is well known, according to extension office. A&M Extension Service. Last year, the program already chalked up a good record which includes training 7,150 junior and 4,390 adult 4-H Club leaders in recreation. In addition 1,005 clubs in 44 states were awarded blue ribbons for outstanding performance; 350 counties won $25 in cash toward buying recreational equipment; 21 states received $30 each for crafts premiums, while five boys and three girls were given educational trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

A total of $25,280 will again be awarded in the same manner by United States Rubber company, sponsors of the program. Awards are based on well-rounded recreation activities developed and carried out by local 4-H Clubs. The eight trips are provided for 4-H'ers who have excelled in recreational leadership.

Among the events designed for club groups are indoor and outdoor games; dances, festivals, tours and plays. For members there are numerous types of recreation such as leather, metal or wood craft; stage and set designing; sports and hobbies; singing or dancing leader, and serving as a committee members.

The following counties won the $25 cash award in 1948 recreational and rural arts activity: Bastrop, Bexar, Castro, Dallas, Frio, Guadalupe, Somervell, Nacogdoches, Calhoun, Atascosa, Tom Green, Jarker, Terry, and Cooke. Gene Massey, Jr., of Moore, was named outstanding 4-H'er.

The entire program is conducted under the supervision of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Method Developed To Kill Moss On Lakes and Tanks

Moss and other underwater growth can be controlled and killed by using sodium arsenite says, R. E. Callender, extension specialist in wildlife management, Texas A&M College.

Members of the Sommerfeld Lake Club asked county agent J. W. Stufflebeme, Jr., Washington county, to help them clean up their lake. The moss and weed growth was so thick in the lake that fishing and boating was next to impossible and heavy applications of fertilizer had no effect on the water vegetation. Callender says the lake was carefully measured and they figured it contained 400,000 cubic feet of water. Ten gallons of sodium arsenite was mixed with about the same amount of water and the entire surface of the lake was sprayed. Complete coverage is very important, he adds.

The moss and above water growths were killed within 24 hours and four days later the moss began to change color and started floating to the surface. By the end of a week, says Callender, open patches of water began to appear and fishing was resumed. At the end of two weeks, the surface was still covered with dead moss and most of the underwater growth seemed to be dead. Latest reports indicate that one more application of the spray may be necessary to get complete control of the vegetation.

Callender concludes with this warning, measure the lake or pond very carefully and figure its contents before using sodium arsenite. Too heavy an application can prove fatal to the fish. Follow closely the recommendations covering the use of this weed killer, and he recommends that you check with your local county agent before starting a control program in your pond or lake.

WISE COUNTY HOME COMING

As usual the old timers and friends will gather at Audubon, Texas, (Wise County) on the second Sunday in August, for an all day affair. Everyone bringing a basket lunch which will be served under the new brush arbor that is under construction at present, and is air conditioned, hot in the summer, and cold in the winter. A new rest room has been built in the last few weeks. There will probably not be any preaching service this year but time will be given to visiting and re-newing of old acquaintances. A short program will be given, also an introduction period, and a swift business session. Ice water will be plentiful on the grounds. Come and meet again the old friends you knew twenty to forty years ago. Program will begin at ten o'clock. Modrell Howard, President.

Summer Care of Pullets Is Important In Developing Fall Egg Producers

Haskell county poultrymen will agree that it's pretty hard to say that one thing is more important than another when it comes to properly taking care of the pullets that will be the egg producers this fall, but W. J. Moore, associate extension poultry husbandman of Texas A&M College, says plenty of tender green feed on the summer range is one of them.

Good range furnishes the growing pullets with asupply of vitamins, minerals and other growth factors that just can't be supplied fully from any other source, continues Moore. Pullets should not be pushed too fast. It can cause trouble later on. They develop sexually before they develop physically and actually begin laying before they are mature. So it's best, says Moore, to keep the pullets growing in body and gaining weight as fast possible before their combs and wattles develop. These kind make egg producers.

Feeds containing soybean meal and cottonseed meal for protein, with small amounts of fish meal and meat scraps seem to be the best. The growing pullet should get this feed along with liberal amounts of grain and the best tender green range that you can give them. The addition of choice alfalfa leaf meal to the mash you're feeding is a good substitute when good range is not available.

It is important to supply the growing birds with plenty of shade, pure, cool water and keep them clean. Moore says, if the pullets are developed properly, they will be ready to produce next fall and winter when egg prices are best. The kind of birds that go into the laying house this fall will be largely determined by the treatment they get this summer, and concludes Moore, now is the time to practice proper poultry range management.

Fruits and vegetables may be seriously damaged if left in the hot sun after they are harvested.

Wait For Winter To Cut Back Trees, Specialist Advises

If you plan to cut back overgrown trees or shrubs, do it now or wait until winter. Large limbs removed later may lead to winter injury.

Sadie Hatfield, extension specialist in landscape gardening of Texas A&M College, says cutting back a plant during the growing season starts new growth and this new growth does not have time to harden before frost. Then the tree or shrub is killed back. Heavy frost often kills large shrubs or even trees.

Fertilizing and watering in late summer stimulates new growth, adds Miss Hatfield, and this growth may also be damaged by cold weather if it doesn't have time to harden before the cold weather hits.

Badly injured plants may not die but they will look sick for a year or more. Blooms and fruit may be light on the injured plants next year.

Miss Hatfield says cut the limbs off smoothly. Don't leave stubs. A tree or shrub will heal quickly if the cut is smooth but a stub will not. That may take years and it leaves ugly lumps along the trunk branches.

Investigate thoroughly anyone who represents himself as an expert and wants to trim your trees and shrubs in late summer or early fall. She says some plants can survive such rough treatment but all of them will not.

Dead limbs may be cut off at any time without risk. Injured or diseased limbs may need to come off at a risk but, she cautions, always use a sharp pruning saw and if the wounds are covered with clear shellac, they'll heal faster.

Shivers Knows State Government From Capital Basement Up

Government is a business with 41-year-old Allan Shivers, Texas' new Governor, according to Richard M. Morehead, staff writer of The Dallas Morning News. He writes:

The rangy and handsome Lieutenant Governor, who ascends to the Governor's chair because of Beauford H. Jester's death, knows government from the basement up.

Shivers worked as nightwatchman in the Treasury during his student days at the University of Texas. Selling shoes was another job that helped the big East Texas boy get an education.

Shivers' real political career dates from 1935, when Jefferson County sent him to the State Senate. At twenty-six he was the youngest Senator.

Twelve years later, dean of the Senate, Shivers was elevated to Lieutenant Governor. Texas voters chose him while Shivers was a major in Europe helping set up Allied military government.

Shivers accidentally "took" one French town during World War II. As German troops retreated in Eastern France, he was assigned to set up military government at Vitteil. The assignment was routime except for the fact that the town had not been occupied by Allied soldiers. A convoy dropped Shivers near the town limits, and he went in alone. Luckily, the Germans withdrew without leaving any snipers.

Several months later, still in France, Shivers received a telegram announcing his election as Lieutenant Governor of Texas.

Conservative politically, Shivers nevertheless won his first political fame in the state's strongest labor district, Jefferson County. His legislative record fortells that Shivers, like Beauford Jester, will follow a middle-road course.

Shivers outlined his philosophy last January upon taking office for a second term as Lieutenant Governor.

"The biggest business in Texas is the government of Texas," he said. "And because this business operates on your tax dimes and dollars, it is your business too."

Government can improve, Shivers said:

1. By stopping the "tendency of the judiciary and executive to absorb the functions of the legislative."
2. "If we Texans hope to protect state authority from further encroachment by the Federal Government, then we as a state authority must not continue to encroach upon government at the local level."
3. "We must have a full-time legislature whose members meet annually and who receive year-round pay." (A constitutional amendment for this purpose will be voted upon Nov. 8.)
4. "We must have an annual budget prepared by a legislative agency and enacted into law by the Legislature each year."
5. "We must approach expenditures and consequent taxation with the understanding that the foundation of business should not be undermined by superlatives."
6. "A legislative council should be created to function between annual legislative sessions." This was authorized by the Legislature.
7. "We must increase to four years the tenure of elective and appointive officials who now serve for two years."

He urged additional welfare legislation, and increased aid to education.

Shivers wrote the Enabling Act for old age assistance in 1935, and helped draft the present Texas Employment Commission plan. Several years ago, Shivers authorized the law extending Texas' boundary twenty-seven miles into the Gulf of Mexico, upon the theory that the traditional coastal limit depended upon the distance a shore-based cannon could defend.

More recently, Shivers recommended that Texas negotiate with federal officials to settle the tidelands dispute. He fears Texas must lose the whole area unless it compromises.

The new executive comes from pioneer Texas stock. His great-grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Shivers, a Mississippi widow, brought her three children to Texas.

Shivers was born at Lufkin,

Oct. 5, 1907. He went to school at Woodville and Port Arthur before getting business and law degrees from the University of Texas.
