Garland "Froggy" Davis roasted, toasted and loved

By Judy Reagor
Friends, relatives, teachers, administrators, school employees, board members and spouses were present at a banquet held March 31 in honor of Superintendent of Schools Garland Davis. The banquet, headlined as a teacher appreciation dinner, was in reality a surprise honoring Mr. Davis.

A loud gong and the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Buck Mitchell dressed as Kermit the Frog and Miss Piggy interrupted a scheduled speech by Mr. Davis. The song "Jeremiah was a Bullfrog" was played by Glaze's Gleeful Group as Kermit and Miss Piggy entertained. Lane Scott, master of ceremonies, explained that "while the world has Kermit the Frog, Ozona has it's own Froggy Davis."

The surprise program continued as the stage curtain at the Civic Center opened to decorations of frogs of all shapes and sizes and the sign "Froggy, this is your night". Friends and relatives came to share both humorous and touching memories of working and growing up with Davis in the "This is Your Life" type setting. Butch Davis, brother of Supt. Davis, told of childhood experiences. Rosie Davis, wife of the surprised ranching in Crockett County for 48 years. He graduated from Ozona High School in 1934, then started college at the age of 47. He drove to San Angelo College, now Angelo State University, from the ranch, 80 miles one way for four years, graduating with a BBA Degree in 1967. Williams attended the University of Texas School of Law, was admitted to the State Bar on December 15, 1969, and graduated in February 1970. He is still active in the practice of law, maintaining an office in Ozona.

Williams has served for many years as an usher and trustee at First Baptist Church; he also taught a boys' class for 20 years.

Williams made the following formal statement:

"It will be a challenging opportunity to aid this growing segment of our population. I believe my experience, both as County Judge and as District Judge, has given me the background and experience to understand the special problems of the older citizens, too, many of the State Legislature members were Law School acquaintances of mine, and this will help. I urge all persons who are 60 or over to go by the Clerk's office between May 1 and May 23 and vote for their choice, or in person on May 30th. My name is the last on the ticket, and I solicit your consideration, support and vote."

Troy D. Williams has announced he is a candidate for the Silver Haired Legislature, an advisory group created by the last session of the Legislature, composed of citizens 60 and older. This Silver Haired Legislature will meet in Austin in September to draft legislation to aid in solving problems which relate to older Texans.

Four persons will be chosen in a special election to represent the Concho Valley Region, two of these from Tom Green County and two from the other twelve counties included in the Region. These counties include Coke, Crockett, Irion, Kimble, Mason, McCulloch, Menard, Reagan, Schleicher and Sutton Counties.

In the special election to be held on Friday, May 30, 1986, only persons 60 or older will be eligible to vote or hold office, of course they must be Texas residents and registered voters.

All candidates and election workers are volunteers. The elected legislators will receive no salary and will be responsible for their travel expenses to Austin for the Silver Haired Legislative session.

Troy D. Williams, a native Texan, was born in Panola County, near the Sabine River. He lived as a lad in Irion County (Sherwood) before moving to Ozona in 1931. He has

Local trooper injured during high speed chase

Trooper Richard Barton and a Florida runaway were injured Thursday when the cars they were in rolled over during a chase. The injured 17-year-old received severe scalp lacerations when a stolen car in which he was a passenger rolled over several times on a dirt road after speeding past a roadblock.

Several troopers participating in Operation Plain View II, a special one-day traffic enforcement program, attempted to stop a stolen car during the high speed chase on I-H

10 about 30 miles west of Ozona. A Department of Public Safety officer at the roadblock fired a shotgun at the stolen car, striking the right passenger door, but none of the three occupants were wounded.

Adams named new Perry's manager

Jim Adams of Eldorado is returning to Ozona to become manager of the Perry Brothers Variety Store following the promotion of James Pierson to the Vernon Perry Brothers Store. Adams assumed control of the local store March 31.

Adams managed the local store for Perry's when it opened in 1974 until early 1980 for five years. "I opened this branch for the company. We will not be moving here until after school is out. I will commute until then from Eldorado," said Adams.

Perry's wants to "do whatever it takes to serve the community. It takes a team effort, with everyone working together. I want to welcome all my old friends and encourage new friends to shop here. There will be some changes, but none right away," explained the new manager.

Adams returned to work for Perry's in the fall of 1984 after having ranching near Stephenville. He served as manager of Perry's in Eldorado since late 1984.

The entire Adams family works for the Perry's chain. One daughter, Regina Caniday, manages the Perry's store in Caldwell. A second daughter, Elania Lingle, serves as assistant manager of the Perry's store in Comanche.

His wife, Helen, and their two younger children plan to move to Ozona in late May. Their youngest daughter, Jeannie, 16, will enter Ozona High School this fall, while their son Paul, 11, will be in 7th grade.

Westerman rites in San Angelo

Cecil Westerman of San Angelo died March 25, 1986 at his home. He was 83.

Funeral services were held at 2:00 p.m. March 26 in Johnson's Funeral Home chapel with Rev. Paul Terry officiating. Burial was in Fairmount Cemetery in San Angelo.

The West Texas pharmacist was born January 21, 1903, to Julia Ann Jolly Westerman and Robert Lee Westerman in Garden City. His early childhood was spent on a ranch outside Big Spring. He graduated from Danforth Pharmacy School in Fort Worth in 1927 and opened his first drug store in Big Spring in 1932.

Cecil Westerman enjoyed being a pharmacist for 59 years. He has owned and operated drug stores in Big Spring, Waco, Sonora, Eldorado, Ozona and San Angelo.

He was a member of the Texas Pharmaceutical Association, the West Texas Pharmaceutical Association and National Association of Retail Druggists for 50 years. In 1975, Mr. Westerman was awarded the King of Courtesy Award from the Drug Travelers Association of Texas.

He was a member of the First United Methodist Church of San Angelo. He married Vera Cannon November 23, 1957, in Sonora.

He was preceded in death by his parents and three sisters, Mrs. Veda Edwards, Mrs. Vivian Calverly and Mrs. Ruby Cooksey.

Survivors include his wife, Vera of San Angelo; one daughter, Celia Vykukal of Odessa, and daughter and son-in-law, Alice Lee and Buddy Kiser of Rocksprings; his son, Robert C. Westerman Jr. of La Jolla, CA; and three grandchildren, Gregory and Deann Kiser, Jennifer Kiser and Missy Vykukal.

Pallbearers were Ronnie Cox, Ken Windham, Jimmy Lott, Gregory Kiser, Smith Neal and J. W. Neville.

Diana Sanchez placed third in the 100m hurdles for Ozona.

A LIFT FOR THE WEEK

Everyone who got where he is had to start from where he was.

Renfro to speak at banquet

Dallas Cowboy wide receiver Mike Renfro will be in Ozona April 22 as guest speaker at the annual Lion Athletic Banquet.

Renfro, in his eighth year of pro ball, was acquired from Houston for Butch Johnson in the spring of 1984.

Expected to play a role as a possession receiver in special situations, he performed beyond expectations, starting 11 games and catching 35 passes for 583 yards (a 16.7 average) and two touchdowns.

In six seasons with the Oilers, Renfro started 50 games and caught 160 passes for 2,183 yards and 11 touchdowns. His best year statistically was in 1984 with the Cowboys.

Renfro's move to Dallas was something of a homecoming for him, since he was born and raised in the area, and his father, former All-Pro wide receiver Ray Renfro, was an assistant coach for the Cowboys from 1968 through 1972. As a teenager, Mike was a Dallas ballboy.

Tickets for the April 22 banquet are available for $7.00 each at the Chamber of Commerce. The banquet will begin at 6:30 p.m.

County study to be held

Crockett County leaders, as well as others throughout Texas, are concerned about rapid changes occurring in the state economy and population - changes that are placing challenging demands on resources of all state residents and their communities.

"These changes point to the need for identifying the most critical issues facing Texans today, and determining new directions the Texas Agricultural Extension Service should take as the state moves toward the 1990's," explain Billy Reagor and Rachel Hall, county Extension agents.

This spring, a process for mapping a new plan of action for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will be launched. Several Crockett County leaders will be among more than 10,000 Texans, representing all 254 counties, who will conduct an Extension-sponsored study to identify key local issues.

Local citizen input is crucial if Extension is to fully address educational needs that reflect the major concerns of all Texans.

The kickoff meeting for the Crockett County Study group has been planned for April 10, 1986, 7:00 p.m. at the Ozona High School Library.

At the local meeting, leaders will form four task forces for identify-

Graduation party plans

Plans are being made by the Crockett County Youth Center Board and Teen Council for a second annual all night graduation party to be held on May 30. The first all-night celebration to honor the seniors of 1985 was conceived to provide an alcohol and chemical free alternative to the traditional drinking parties that seem to have become the accepted form of celebration following graduation.

Far too often in our community, the future potential of young adult lives and the happiness of special events has been marred by the tragedy of drinking and driving accidents.

Last year's celebration was a huge success due to the generous response by the people of Ozona. If you as a parent, individual, club or business person would like to donate money, food, gift certificates or merchandise that we could use as door prizes, it would be a big help.

We hope to make this year's celebration to honor the seniors of 1986 even bigger and better.

We will be publishing more detailed articles and will be sending out letters to parents explaining the activities planned and the rules for the party.

We need your help. Please call Garland Young at 392-3382, Patti Jones at 392-3601 or Alice Lopez at 392-5227.

MacBlimp delights Ozona

What a "Big Mac"

The McDonald's blimp seems tethered to a pole at the Village Shopping Center during its flight over Ozona last week.

A fly-over by the McDonald's blimp Thursday had Ozona citizens craning their necks to see skyward. The aircraft passed over Ozona on its way from New York to Los Angeles where it will fly over Dodger Stadium on the opening day of baseball season.

Corky Belanger, one of three pilots of the crew, told Mary Jo Hearne at Ozona Airport that the MacBlimp is the largest aircraft in the world today. At 194' in length, 52' in width and 61' high, the airship contains 211,888,000 cu. feet of helium.

The blimp began operating last July. For the trip to Los Angeles, the craft has a ground crew of 16 with two male and one female pilots.

Mrs. Hearne was told that the craft will land here for refueling in approximately one month.

A Preacher's Pondering

The Peddlers

When I was a child, visiting my grandparents was a treat. They lived in the country and very seldom went to town. One thing I can recall vividly was the peddler coming to their house. He had a wagon that carried everything from the proverbial "kitchen sink" to "a better mousetrap". You name it - he had it. When he let the sides of his wagon down to display his merchandise, one could see an array of necessities and niceties that would keep your eyeballs busy for a week.

That peddler was a master-salesman. He could make you want things you didn't need! I don't recall his ever leaving without making a sale. Even when money was short, and it was then, "mama" would dig into her "egg jar" and have the cash to get whatever she needed, or a piece of candy I wanted.

I think about that fancy-dressed, smooth talking peddler every now and then. I suspect that he made a lot of money selling "dime store" merchandise to people who couldn't get to town often. I never really trusted him because he always had "a bargain" - a once in a lifetime chance to get some item that looked flashy and important, but in reality was useless.

There are a lot of peddlers in religion, too. Technology has made it possible for some to come into the homes of those who aren't able to get out often, and these "electronic preachers" peddle everything from prayer handkerchiefs to Holy Land bookmarkers. Most of their talk is geared toward "selling" a religion that Jesus said should be given away. Many widows and folks on limited funds are bilked out of their money. They dig into their "egg jar" to send cash to these swindlers for "dime-store" merchandise that looks flashy and sounds good, but, in reality, is useless. Jesus drove the moneychangers out of the temple because they were making it a robbers' den (Mt. 21:12-13).

The Apostle Paul wrote to the Corinthians, "For we are not like many, peddling the word of God, but as from sincerity, but as from God, we speak in Christ in the sight of God" (2 Cor. 2:17). John wrote, "Beloved, do not believe every spirit, but test the spirits to see whether they are from God; because many false prophets have gone out into the world (1 John 4:1).

It's too bad that religion has become big business. The corporate philosophy of hard selling through subtle tactics can be seen peddling everything from perfume to pants - including salvation. Religion is being commercialized by salesmen in glossy robes, standing in a hushed sanctuary with soft music playing, peddling Jesus with tearjerking testimony.

The day you and I have to send our dollars in to these pretenders to purchase salvation is the day the blood of Christ becomes useless. Forgiveness of sins and a good standing before God is available without cost to those who meet Him in Christ.

Be careful of peddlers! You don't have to go to the Holy Land to love Jesus, and the only thing that a $10 prayer handkerchief is good for is to blow your nose.

Search the Scriptures. God should not be peddled like meat at the market or a car on a lot. He is yours for the obeying - always has been, always will be.

The question of the ages

Charles Huffman, Pastor
Faith Lutheran Church

READ: Matthew 26:57-68

Late on the night of the Passover, after the measureless agony of Gethsemane and the betrayal by Judas, Jesus was led - bruised and bound - to the Sanhedrin, the court of His countrymen. If you had been summoned to sit on this jury in the case against Christ, you would have noticed that everything about the Saviour's trial was illegal. The Talmud, Jewish book of civil and religious laws, required that in capital cases the trial begin during the daytime and adjourn during the night. Furthermore, a verdict of guilty had to be delayed until the next day so that the judges could carefully weigh a condemnatory decision overnight. Moreover, the members of the Sanhedrin were supposed to be impartial judges. Yet, at least some of them had participated in the arrest of Jesus.

The Nuremberg trial took nine months, with the courts sitting a total of 1,000 hours on 216 days - but the high priest and his henchmen had hardly an hour for the trial of Jesus. For the innocent Son of God to be convicted, Jesus' trial had to be illegal. The plot for this trial came to a head a few days earlier when this same council had been called to an emergency meeting, as a result of Jesus raising Lazarus from the dead. Their words are found in John 11:47 and 48, "This Man is doing many miracles. If we let Him go on like this, everybody will believe in Him, and then the Romans will come and take away our place and our nation". Did you notice the words "OUR place, OUR nation"? Despite the fact they admitted the miracles Jesus was doing, that they had the Old Testament prophecies which Jesus was fulfilling right before their eyes - they were blinded. They were blinded by their 'love of power'.

Our reading tells us that many came forward to give false testimony against Jesus. But He, the Lamb of God who takes away the sins of the world, didn't open His mouth. As the prophet Isaiah had foretold over 700 years before with the words of chapter 53, verse 7: "He was oppressed and mistreated without opening His mouth. Like a Lamb He was led away to be slaughtered". Even when the high priest says to Him: "Don't You have anything to say to this? What are these men testifying against You"?, our Savior was silent and said nothing in response to their accusations. - Then, when Caiaphas feared that his whole plan against Jesus might collapse as He maintained His remarkable silence, he quickly changed his tactics. In one pointed question, he brought the trial to its climax. "Swear by the living God, and tell us, are You the promised Savior, the Son of God"? I would hardly be surprised if the world had stood still in that moment. This was the question of the ages! Had Jesus remained silent then, He probably would've been acquitted. But in that tense moment Jesus, confronted by the world He loved, broke His silence. Here was the clash of the court's 'love of power' with the Son of God's 'power of love'. Glorious Lord of all truth that He was, He answered "You have said it!" In the idiom of His language that was the striking way of replying with a firm and unconditional 'YES'.

Thank God for this testimony! The captive, cross-examined Christ is your God! Jesus Christ is not merely a man nor the most noble and exalted of men; He is nothing less than the almighty God Himself!

But besides being our God, Jesus - as He solemnly testified before the high priest - is our long-predicted and promised Savior. With His own sinless body as the sacrifice and the dripping Cross as His altar, He gave Himself into death that He might atone for our sins and assure us of eternal life. That pale Captive before Caiaphas loved every one of us. He loved us despite our sins, our rebellion against God, and our continued ingratitude. He loved us into that death by which He suffered the punishment we should have endured, and paid the whole amount of our indebtedness to God. In His name He offered every burdened soul complete redemption and the promise of heaven, through faith, and faith alone.

How often people have hurriedly pushed the Lord aside! If you are sitting in the jury on Jesus, don't rush your verdict! Give Him a fair

The past week has been warm and windy, and it appears that spring has really arrived.

The mesquite has been leafed out almost a month; the buzzards are back since mid-February, and Esater has come and gone. I guess I was just being hard headed, but I couldn't believe spring was really here.

There were a lot of people with boats headed south Thursday evening, Friday and Saturday. I did not get down to the river, but I think they must have been enjoying the beautiful weekend.

John and Dana Cowen, our daughter, Connie, Jim Ed and Rebekah came down after church and septn the afternoon. We had a nice lunch, and the kids had an Easter egg hunt.

Many of our friends went to Del Rio fishing during the holidays. I hope they had lots of luck.

Teachers, students try harder in this class

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

For each step forward, there are many steps backward, but the rewards of teaching a handicapped student are a hug, a special look, or a "I can finally do it" feeling.

The early childhood program, held during the school week at the Ozona Community Center, was started in November and is being taught by Esme Barrera and Elena Ybarra. The Region XV program is aimed at physically and visually handicapped three and four-year-olds.

"A therapist comes once a week to work with the children," Mrs. Ybarra said. Offered through the Menard Cooperative, the four students have some sort of speech or visual handicap. Speech therapist for Crockett County schools, Beverly Evans, works with the students from her office at the Ozona Primary School.

"Students must be three years old to participate in the program. Many of the students also attend the San Angelo rehab center," Mrs. Barrera said.

Fresh paint and an isolated room away from the ongoing Kiddie Klub program further utilize the Community Center. The center, which is next door to the primary school, provides easy access for Principal Walter Spiller, who helps oversee the program for the Crockett County school system.

The drills are simple. The little boy is shown a picture of fruits, vegetables and body parts. "What is this?" asks a patient Mrs. Barrera. The little boy shakes his head. He just can't remember. The drill is repeated over and over.

Discipline is applied with love and firmness by both teachers. "We teach them what is right and what is wrong, but it is done in a loving manner," Mrs. Barrera said. "If they do wrong, we correct them. The program has been successful, because we can see the children's progress. They are more independent."

One little girl was very much a loner when the program started. "I have learned to play with baby dolls," said the four-year-old. "We want them to learn to be more independent. We want them to be less dependent," said Mrs. Ybarra.

The program is helping the students associate with others, to share and "they are learning little songs with gestures, which help improve their motor skills," said Mrs. Barrera.

Mrs. Barrera had an at-home day care program for children when she was originally contacted by Mr. Spiller and Ted Cotton, assistant superintendent of schools. She had worked in Del Rio with severely handicapped migrant workers' children.

The new program is "very necessary, despite the small enrollment. Many parents may be unaware of the class. Parents can get information about this class from either Mr. Spiller or Mr. Cotton."

For Mrs. Ybarra, this is her first teaching position. She worked for many years at Baker Jewelers, and was looking for something different. "The program is lucky to get Elena," said Mrs. Barrera. Also assisting with the program on a volunteer basis has been Joan Nicholas.

"It is rewarding when you held the children. You can see their progress. We feel they are a part of us. It's like they are our children, our family," said Mrs. Barrera.

Primary School Principal Walter Spiller has nothing but praise for the early education program for handicapped students. "If we can help them early, it will help them more later, when they are in school. The students have come a long way."

The program helps the students "have a better chance," Spiller continued. "We have tried to locate them. Many were referred to us. We are not sure we have all that need our help. I will be happy to help any parents who might be interested in the program."

Boys take third

Girls win second in Lion Relays

By T. C. Tucker

March 27 Ozona hosted the annual relays with the girls winning second and the boys third. The competitors provided for many exciting races including Valdo Galindo's win over Crane's Kenny Walker.

The boys captured 113 points, easily winning third place in the overall standings. Crane finished first with Sonora at the second place slot.

Valdo Galindo stunned the crowd when he won the 200m dash, setting a new record of 22.69. But what made this race so exceptional was that Kenny Walker was running and finished second, behind Galindo.

Galindo also set a new record in the 100m dash with a time of 11.09.

Galindo was named Relay Beau for the meet.

Danny Sanchez continued his winning ways with a win in the two-mile run. Sanchez was pulling third in the mile run when, on the last lap, he lit his fuse and finished first with a time of 4:46.94.

Several other individuals who placed well for Ozona included Chuy Hernandez's second place showing in the 300m hurdles. Harvey Fierro finished second in the 400m in a time of 53.12. Johnny Lombrana sped to a third place win in the 800m run.

The mile relay crew was trailing in fourth position when the anchor man, Galindo, took over and enabled Ozona to win third in this event.

In girls' action, the Sonora girls dominated with 128 points, but with Ozona right behind them with 116 points. Following in close third was Reagan County with 107.

Maria Sanchez raked in 22 points for Ozona by winning the 800m run, then finishing second in the mile with a time of 5:38.48, and by making a leg on the second place 1600m relay. Maria picked up the first gold medal of the season for a Lady Lion.

Kris Corley followed suit in the two-mile fun by winning third place. Adriane Wilson and Regina Cervantez shot to a second place finish in the 100m dash. Cervantez also finished fourth in the triple jump and scored a total of 19 points in the meet.

Diana Sanchez hurdled her way to a third place showing in the 100m hurdles.

The relay teams did very well, winning two seconds and a third. The one third came in the 800m relay. The two second places were in the 400m and mile relay runs.

Vanessa Miller, selected Relay Sweetheart for 1986, placed fourth in the 200m dash, long jump and discus. In all she accounted for 19 points.

Dawn Hanson placed sixth in the high jump at a height of 4'4". Lydia Pena finished fourth in the shot while Norma Vasquez had a sixth in the discus.

Valdo Galindo electrified his audience when he won the 200m dash, setting a new record of 22.69. Pictured running the hurdles, Galindo was also honored as Relays Beau of 1986.

Vanessa Miller was selected as Relays Sweetheart for 1986. Vanessa accumulated 19 points for Ozona during the annual track meet.

The Lady Lions showed their stuff by running up 2nd place points in the Lion Relays Saturday.

Regina Cervantez had personal bests in the 100m (12.97) and in the triple jump (32'5 1/2"). She also ran on the 400 and 800 relay teams.

Lacy Miller ran a leg on each of the medal winning relays. Others running well on the relays were Kriss Corley, B. B. Cervantez, Teresa Crawford and Vickie Reagar.

Martha Hernandez added two points with her fifth place finish in the 1600m. Dawn Hanson and Norma Vasquez each added one point in the discus and high jump, respectively. Adriane Wilson and Shannon Curry were fourth and fifth in the 3200m, respectively.

Griselda Hernandez and JoAnn Hohertz were seventh in the shot put and 100m hurdles, respectively. Others making significant contributions were Stacy Lay and Dottie Gonzales.

"Coach Debbi Porter and I were proud of the girls and their performances," Coach Rhonda Yarborough commented. We scored well as a team with major contributions coming from many athletes. Martha Hernandez and Vanessa Miller supplied great encouragement and leadership," Yarborough added.

"I just want to say that I really appreciate all who helped at the meet. Also, please continue to encourage and support the girls as we begin preparations for the district meet. We must have as many girls in as many events as possible in order to fare well at district. This week it should have been very evident that fourth, fifth, and sixth place points can add up and make 'the' difference," Coach Yarborough stated. The girls and boys' next meet will be at Iraan Saturday.

Mrs. Cecil Hubbard— going strong at age 85

By Cynthia Harrell Hodges

In 1959, at an age when most people think about retiring and taking life easy, 59-year-old Mrs. Cecil Hubbard decided to turn a lifelong love affair with gardening and plants into a business.

The business behind her home on 12th Street has been operated since the opening year on a "well, I won't be able to do this next year," basis by Mrs. Hubbard.

As the oldest in a family of eight children, "I had to help look after the younger ones. We lived on a dryland farm 12 miles from Hamlin. I always helped mother planting a garden from the time I was big enough to walk."

Her late husband, Cecil, grew up in the same community as her family. "We didn't meet until we were 16 and 17-years-old, and we dated for three years. This was during the horse and buggy days. We had to walk three miles to school, and we only came to town twice a year. If it was real bad out, we could take the horse and wagon or buggy, but then we had to watch the horse and feed it during school hours."

To arrive in Ozona, the town that would become their home, the Hubbards struggled during the years following their marriage on February 22, 1920. A son, Willie Joe, was born on their wedding anniversary in 1921 in Hamlin. Two years later, in 1923, a second son was born, but he died at six months. After reaching adulthood, Willie Joe was killed in an airplane crash in 1963.

The Hubbards and their growing family moved to O'Donnell in 1924 where he worked as foreman of the Dodge Motor Co. "Our son Perry and our first daughter, Joy, were born in O'Donnell, where dust constantly blew into the house."

During the depression, the dealership was closed, Hubbard sought work in Corpus Christi as a mechanic for Cage Brothers Construction. Cage Brothers opened an Ozona office in 1932.

The Hubbards lived in a company tent until housing became available. "For ten years, we lived in the former Lowell Littleton home. Hubbard worked for W. J. Stevens at the Ford Motor Co., and when the company moved to Big Lake, we refused to follow. Hubbard opened his own business.

During their marriage, Mrs. Hubbard had contributed to the family financial well-being by first taking in sewing. When her youngest daughter, Marilyn, was grown, "I ran out of things to do. I had always worked."

"I grew up on a dryland farm. After all my children left, I had always grown beautiful things. I worked at Ratliff's for two years, but I didn't have time to do anything at home."

"The first year I sold everything I had, plus some plants in the yard. I have never enjoyed anything more than this. I have always felt that I won't be able to do as much next year. I always promise the children I will let up, but the business has expanded."

The business, through the first four years, grew to include four greenhouses.

In recent years, though her pace has slowed some, Mrs. Hubbard is training a right hand helper, Emma Cervantez Rebelez. "I have worked for her for 15 years," said Mrs. Rebelez, who was feeding the plants. "She is so faithful. When I was sick and in the hospital last year, Emma took over the business. The Lord has blessed me with her. The doctors told me to take it slow. I'll take it slow if it kills me, and it has almost killed me," said the active, gray-haired octogenarian.

"I always used to try to do more each day. Slowing down has aged me faster than anything I ever did."

The first greenhouse, which still stands, was built from scraps and plastic. "I have belonged to a garden club for many years, so I knew I had to have a license for my business. I could sell more, but I only plant what will grow here. Begonias are the top sellers."

Through the years, Mrs. Hubbard has learned which plants do well in this area. Snapdragons get root rot, and petunias are too hard to grow here. "I learned from pamphlets. I read 'till I could read no more."

"Impatiens, geraniums, marigolds and vinca (if it is not watered too much), larkspurs and hollyhocks do great here."

"When I think of how much I have learned and how little I knew the first year, it scares me. I won't live long enough to learn it all. I am still learning."

After opening her business, Mrs. Hubbard discovered that one of her customers and friends, Mrs. S. E. Carnes, had grown up in Hamlin. "We lived only five miles from each other. I didn't meet her until she moved here. Her mother and my mother died the same day in the same hospital. Pastor Max Brown (a former Baptist minister here) officiated at the funerals."

During the 50 year marriage, the Hubbards shared an interest in growing things. Following his retirement from his garage, Hubbard opened a pottery and cactus shop. "He had customers from all over the world. He would buy at least one of each kind of cactus," Mrs. Hubbard remembered.

One six foot cactus, started by Cecil needed to be rooted, but he died before that could happen. "The hardest thing I ever did was root that cactus. I wanted so much to tell him about how well it was doing," said Mrs. Hubbard. The cactus, which sits in their living room, stands as a living memorial to Hubbard.

"He didn't know how to root plants. Cactus could grow with the roots above ground, but my business and his were always separate."

Mrs. Hubbard cautions against planting any garden except onions before the Friday following Good Friday because of hail and frost. Her green thumb still tills her own garden in the back yard.

With the favorite garden plant, tomatoes, Mrs. Hubbard has seedlings for four varieties. Bush (a small plant, with big tomatoes that needs but a single stake), Parker, Better Boy and Whopper are varieties that do well here. "Tomatoes do not do good in flower beds. They need new soil. Ideally, a garden should be tilled in November and again just before you plant."

The following poem, "This Lovely Day" by Jessie Eldred has "guided my life for years. I firmly believe it.

This is the day which the Lord has made
I will walk through it unafraid
I will not waste one precious minute.
I will look for the beauty in it.
I will make use of all my hours.
Enjoy its sun; its; rain; its flowers.
I will be thankful, friendly, gay.
The Lord has made this lovely day.

The veteran gardener and long-time First Baptist Church member shows no sign of slowing her pace to allow for the advancing years. For those interested in having beauty around them, it is just as well.

Drilling activity

Crockett County has one of the five new fields designated in District 7-C by the Texas Railroad Commission, Oil & Gas Division.

The Clara Couch, South (San Andres oil) field was opened February 11 with the completion of the H. L. Brown Jr., Midland, No. 2 Exxon "18", 2½ miles north of Fort Lancaster, to pump 77 barrels of 31.7 gravity oil, plus three barrels of water, with gas-oil ratio of 247-1, through perforations at 1,887-949 feet.

Location is 2,038 feet from the southwest and 2,222 feet from the southeast lines of 18-Mrs. J. K. Graham.

Padgett, dual Connell gas and lower Strawn oil opener in the Padgett field of Crockett County, on the southeast edge of the Clara Couch multipay field and eight miles northeast of Sheffield.

The well was dually completed June 17, 1984. From the Connell, it made a calculated, absolute open flow of 850,000 cubic feet of gas daily, with gas-liquid ratio of

Lay comments on speech

Justice of the Peace candidate Jerry Lay stopped by The News last week to ask for clarification on comments attributed to him in a candidate forum. Lay informed that he was speaking of veterans when he commented on providing Ozonans with a bulletin of what is happening in Washington. If he were elected, said Lay, he would provide veterans of Ozona and Crockett County with any information received from Washington in the Justice of the Peace office regarding veterans.

The capsule report of candidate comments did not indicate that he was referring to veterans, thereby giving the impression that Lay wanted to provide the community with a wide ranging Washington report.

over on a dirt road about one mile past the roadblock, driver Kevin Michael Rose, 20, of Lutz, Florida, received minor bruises. He is currently being held in Crockett County Jail on a Texas charge of assault on a peace officer and a Florida charge of grand theft.

The third occupant of the car, a 24-year-old hitchhiker, was treated at Crockett County Hospital and released.

Trooper Barton received a minor cut on his forehead and a bruised knee when his patrol car rolled down a 25 foot embankment and overturned. Barton lost control of his car on a curve when visibility was restricted by heavy dust according to Highway Patrol Sergeant Kenneth Hailey.

The trooper was able to release his safety belt and escape the vehicle when a fire broke out in the engine. He was treated at Crockett County Hospital and released.

The incident began about 4:35 p.m. when Trooper Barton received a stolen license plate hit on a 1982

Camaro moving west on I-H 10. An attempt to stop the vehicle with siren and emergency lights led the driver of the stolen vehicle to accelerate. The car's driver attempted to hit the rear of a patrol car driven by Trooper Cliff Babbitt as the three vehicles continued west at speeds ranging from 95 to 110 miles per hour, according to Hailey.

When the driver of the stolen car swerved toward Trooper R. D. Burger, who was standing near his patrol car parked on the shoulder of the road, the trooper fired with a shotgun from about six feet away.

Family financial stress difficult for children

Stress in a child may be hard to recognize because it often takes the form of misbehavior. But you should be aware that a family's financial problems - like other stresses - will affect children, too.

However, child development experts tell us there are several ways to support a child who is stressed.

Listening is the first suggestion. Children's concerns are real to them. It may not seem to you that what they are describing is important or worth worrying about, but it is to them.

Children may have exaggerated fears that the loss of your job, a drop in income, or some other family financial problem will mean they won't have anything to eat or they'll have to move right away.

Reassuring the child and sharing what positive steps the family is taking to deal with the problem can help reduce such fears. Letting the children help by making from scratch cookies, clip coupons, save aluminum cans or other money-saving jobs will let them feel both helpful and important.

Allowing children to express their feelings is also an important way to help them deal with stress and to let them know it's "okay" to worry. Adults can comfort children by telling them, in words or with a hug that you appreciate their concern and that they don't have to bear their burdens all alone.

Sometimes it helps to read a story or make one up about a child in similar circumstances. This can also convey the sense that the child is not the only one who feels bad.

It's also very important to provide many opportunities for children to exercise vigorously, to play creatively, to work constructively, to feel needed, and to rest soundly.

A final suggestion is to maintain basic limit setting. This sends a message to the child that you are interested enough to care what he or she does - and that is crucial to the child's sense of security.

I believe a leaf of grass is no less than the journeywork of the stars.

Ulcers and the working woman

HOUSTON - A newly recognized medical problem in the American work force is "successful woman's ulcer," a condition that can lead to guilt as well as stomach pain and discomfort, a Baylor College of Medicine physician reports.

The successful woman's ulcer affects up to 25 percent of all women in this country and is really not an ulcer, but a nervous or spastic stomach. It affects both men and women, but is more common in women.

Men are more susceptible to developing ulcers because they produce more stomach acid under stress than women.

"The number of women affected also varies depending on whether you count visits to the doctor's office or poll women in the workplace.

"If you do the latter, you will find that up to 25 percent have symptoms, but they won't all see a doctor," McKechnie said.

that she has an ulcer, because most ulcers can be cured. If she says it is a nervous stomach, the boss or the husband is more likely to think it is all in her mind."

It is also difficult for the working woman because she has to explain to her boss and family why she must leave work because of pain, he said.

There is no reason for guilt because the pain is real, McKechnie said.

"It is a very common problem that is seen in successful people, from the homemaker to the corporate executive."

The nervous stomach cannot be cured, but it can be alleviated by adding bulk to the diet and staying away from foods that cause pain. Cereal grains, like bran, will absorb water and expand, keeping the muscles from contracting fully and causing pain. Foods that cause discomfort will vary with each individual.

"Learning to relax will also ease the pain," McKechnie said.

"The nervous stomach is an early warning system. It is your body's way of telling you to relax and take stock. Find out what is bothering you and learn to deal with that problem, or seek help from your family and friends."

Exercise, reading, meditation and the relaxation therapy called bio-feedback can help some people relax.

Very few people with a nervous stomach will need medicine such as tranquilizers, sedatives or antidepressants, McKechnie said.

"We cannot cure these patients," he said. "We can only help them. Usually, it is better not to take medicine than to take a drug that is costing money and is not very effective."

Kris Corley hands the baton to runner Vickie Reager in the 1600m dash.

Nervous stomach has a variety of symptoms. The most common is a burning, stabbing pain that can occur in the chest, stomach or abdomen when muscles contract due to stress and tension. These spasms can also cause nausea, diarrhea, constipation, indigestion and even depression.

People who are very meticulous, orderly and insist on things running on schedule are candidates for the nervous stomach.

"Because they set very high goals for themselves and those around them, they are eternally disappointed when they and those around them fail to meet those goals," McKechnie said.

Many women feel guilty about having a spastic stomach, he said.

"A woman may feel more justified in telling her boss or her husband

Though I try to watch my diet,
Somehow there is just more of me.

That address my present plight.
But reading them is the easy part:

Care Center News

In Monday's craft class, residents had the opportunity to make last minute changes or put finishing touches on their Easter bonnets. Residents who were unable to attend last week's craft class decorated their bonnets.

Moriama Perez was the El Chato's gift certificate winner in Tuesday's bingo. Additional winners of various prizes included: Hilda Dysart, Theo Burns, Tomasa Ramos, Juana Hernandez, Ola Mills, and Bertha Miller. Volunteers assisting residents with their cards were: Mattie Cooper, Marie Pierson, and Lillian Tambunga. Immediately following bingo, the Easter bonnets were judged by residents and Care Center staff. Winners were: Moriama Perez, Most Humorous; Pauline Clinton, Most Glamorous; and Ola Mills, Most Unusual.

The annual Easter party was presented by the Ozona Women's Forum Tuesday afternoon. Some of the ladies came wearing their Sesquicentennial costumes.

Punch and decorated cupcakes were served followed by a delightful story told by Vickie Nichols.

Katherine Russell led residents and visiting ladies in singing, and Sara Hight accompanied them on the piano. One of the songs sung was "Here Comes Peter Cottontail", and as the song was being sung, residents received a surprise visit from Peter Cottontail, played by Ken Harrison. Smiles could be seen from each resident as the bunny danced around and passed out candied, filled eggs.

We would like to thank the following for making this year's Easter party so entertaining: Jane Black, Lois Lock, Louise Bunger, Bernice Jones, Mary Lu Jones, Rachelle Childress, Blanche Walker, Paulene Montgomery, Elizabeth Dudley, Sophia Kyle, Joycelyn Graves, NoraLou Spencer, Louisa Pearson, Bonnie Warth, Jewel Bailey, Barbara Wallace, Lou Ingram, Katherine Russell, Sara Hig-night and Vickie Nichols.

Wednesday morning's ceramic workshop was attended by: Juana Hernandez, Hilda Dysart, Pauline Clinton, Edna Wallace, Moriama Perez, Theo Burns, Alice Ross, Tomasa Ramos and Rebekah West. Volunteers were: Marie Pierson, Doris Karr and Jackie Ginsberg. A home VCR of the Midway Lane campsite and the Ozona wagon train and the wagon train in Barnhart was shown by Jo Davidson later that afternoon.

A large number of volunteers assisted in Thursday's beauty shop. Volunteers consisted of the morning Ozona High School cosmetology class, Clara Byrd, Vivian Hughes, Jackie Ginsburg and JoAnn Williamson. Following the beauty shop, Clara Byrd entertained residents by playing the piano and singing.

The Spanish Hour of Praise was next for the day's activities with Paulita Leal, Felipa Munoz, Norma Flores, Germana Onofre, Victoria DeLaRosa, Mariana Hernandez, Sulena Martinez, Juanita Delgado, Lorenza Gutierrez, and Humberto Gutierrez playing the guitar.

Bingo was played Friday morning with Edna Wallace winning the first prize of a Westerman Drug gift certificate. Theo Burns won a special prize of an Easter basket. Other winners included: Tomasa Ramos, Pauline Clinton, Alice Ross, Ola Mills, Inez Biggs, Moriama Perez, Charlie Watson, and Leo Watson. Volunteers were: Anna Bell Patrick, Dorothy Doll, Howard Marshall, Mattie Cooper and Mrs. A. J. Hill from Dallas.

The monthly residents' council meeting was held Friday. April's activity calendar was discussed.

Saturday, Jo Davidson volunteered to stand in for the Easter bunny and hide Easter eggs. Residents then had an Easter egg hunt followed by lemonade and homemade cookies compliments of Jo Davidson.

Sunday's worship service was presented by Calvary Baptist Church.

Davis, shared the story of the first time they met when she enrolled in Robert Lee schools.

A special surprise was the appearance of the Davis' oldest son, Glenn and his wife, Coleen, who flew in from a Hawaiian vacation for the event. Coleen placed a lei around her father-in-law's neck as he looked on in total disbelief.

Jimmy Beckley, longtime friend and associate, came to honor Mr. Davis. Beckley was superintendent at Robert Lee when Davis was there teaching and is still in that position.

Another guest to honor Garland Davis was Mrs. Pauline Coalson Barron. Former Spanish teacher until her retirement, Mrs. Barron not only taught with Supt. Davis, but her husband was superintendent of schools at Robert Lee while Davis was a teacher there.

Guest Kenneth Rasco of Robert Lee coached and taught under Davis. Mrs. Rosco was also present.

Dr. Larry Blair, assistant to the executive director of the Texas Association of School Administrators, was another guest.

Dr. Blair was principal at Medina when Davis was superintendent there. Davis and Blair also worked together at Robert Lee when Davis was principal and Blair was a coach.

Included in the guests that surprised Davis were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Garrison of Medina. He was president of the school board at the time Davis was superintendent.

The "This is Your Night" segment of the evening was interspersed with musical entertainment by primary and intermediate teachers. Members of the intermediate faculty sang a song written about Froggie and Rosie's courtship days to the tune of "Froggy Went A Courtin'". Faculty members from the primary school sang "Five Speckled Frogs" while a puppet performance was done on stage.

Local people to speak on the program were Jeffery Sutton, president of the school's board of trustees, Bob Wallace, intermediate principal; Jim Payne, high school principal; and Ted Cotton, assistant superintendent.

Payne told of trips made with Davis and commented that they had been to Austin together 51 times going down by 51 different dirt roads and coming back by 51 different gravel ones. He called him "Shortcut" Davis.

Mr. Wallace ended his comments with "Ladies, if you'll all come by and kiss Froggy Davis, maybe he'll turn into a prince."

Mr. Cotton presented "Shortcut" with two Texas maps to help him in his travels.

Other gifts included a pen desk set from the school board and a crystal frog wearing a crown and a frog tie from teachers.

Entertainment during the "teacher appreciation" part of the program was furnished by ventriloquist Gary Davis and Leroy of San Angelo singing "No Pass, No Play" and "The Auctioneer". Copy Davis provided taped accompaniment from backstage.

Mr. Davis was finally given an opportunity for a rebuttal to the occasion. He thanked his out of town guests for coming and expressed appreciation to his teaching staff and school employees. In closing, Davis did not give the speech he'd prepared for the so-called teacher's appreciation banquet. He did, however, recite a poem by Will Allen Dromgoole titled "The Brige Builder". The poem symbolized the art of spanning the distance between the students and teachers, thereby creating a basis for a solid educational background.

Lane Scott ended the emotional evening by reading "Be Cheerful", a poem written by Sandy Stark using Supt. Davis' slogan.

Thus ended a special evening in honor of a special person.

Conservation program heard by League

The Ozona Woman's League met Tuesday, March 25, at the Ozona National Bank. Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Gary Vannoy and Mrs. Cliff McMullan.

League members enjoyed a program given by County Extension Agent Billy Reagor. Mr. Reagor gave the members suggestions on how to conserve our county's natural resources. He mentioned that soil, water, wildlife, oil and gas are the main resources that need to be conserved.

Following the program, Mrs. Jeffery Sutton presided over the business meeting.

Mrs. David Bean inspired all members by reading a poem called "Springtime Glory".

Members were reminded that any cookbook title suggestions would need to be turned in by April 8, and the deadline for all recipes to be turned in is April 22.

Pictures from the recent trip to Seminole State Park were viewed.

Secret pal gifts were exchanged after the meeting was adjourned.

The next meeting will be a family hamburger supper on April 8 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Mitchell.

Members present were Mmes. Jack Baggett Jr., David Bean, Douglas Bean, Louise Bunger, Bill Carson Jr., Bob Childress, Dwight Childress, Pleas Childress III, Dennis Clark, Buster Deaton, Vince Huffman, John R. Hunnicutt, Rick Hunnicutt, John L. Henderson III, Jerry Lay, Carl Malone Jr., Bill Mason, Frank McMullan, Cliff McMullan, Gary Mitchell, J. S. Pierce IV, J. S. Pierce V, Lane Scott, Steve Sessom, Dub Slaughter, Jeffery Sutton, Randy Upham, Gary Vannoy and Steve Wilkins.
