Detention center heads meet with chamber and homeowners

Answering questions, putting fears to rest and enlisting support for his project were the objectives when Harry Sinclair spoke to groups and individuals here during the past eight days. The project - a minimum security detention center - has generated conversation and concern since Sinclair began taking options on 26 acres behind Crockett Heights homes several weeks ago.

About 35 concerned citizens, residents of Crockett Heights, met Aug. 5 with Sinclair, Midland Sheriff Gary Painter, and two representatives of a Kerrville firm which is constructing a detention center in Sabin.

The meeting at Crockett Heights immediately followed a one-hour presentation, question/answer session at the Ozona Chamber of Commerce.

Sinclair told chamber directors the facility, which would be located in former radar base buildings, would cost an estimated 1.3 million to be operational and could house from 250 to 400 minimum security prisoners. Inmates would be placed there by the Bureau of Prisons, Immigration and Naturalization Service and Border Patrol according to Sheriff Painter.

When asked what assurance there was that prisoners would be available to fill the facility, Painter quoted Bill Jonas of the U. S. Marshal's Office in San Antonio as saying, "If we've got the money, we'll put them in there".

At present, the State of Texas does not place inmates in privately owned detention centers, and no agency will enter a written contract with a facility until it has met federal standards. Plans are to bring the proposed Crockett County center up to State Jail Standards in anticipation of the time when state prisoners will be placed outside the Texas Department of Corrections system.

Employment of 50-60 persons, many of them local, some local purchasing, county and school taxes paid based on the value of the property were emphasized as community benefits. Money spent in the community by inmates' visitors for food and lodging was also mentioned by Sinclair as a plus.

A 10-foot fence with razor wire top and bottom would be placed around the grounds, Sinclair said, and an alarm system for the fence and camera surveillance are being considered. "We have no desire for anybody to leave that facility," said Sinclair of the non-violent offenders who would be placed there.

Ultimate responsibility for control at the center would rest with Sheriff Billy Mills and his personnel, said Sinclair. Day to day operation of the center would be overseen by a warden. Selected for the position is Perry Lyson of California, a man with 22 years of experience with the Bureau of Prisons.

"We will work with them anytime they need us," said Sheriff Mills in an interview Tuesday. "I don't think there will be any big problem with the prisoners."

"I think this will be good for the community, a real shot in the arm," said Mills. "I don't want to get in a squabble with those people out there (Crockett Heights), because I understand their position, but I think there will be a lot more good out of it than bad.

"The people in there won't be as bad as some of these people going up and down the interstate," commented Mills.

Homeowners at Crockett Heights began circulating a petition early this week in opposition to the facility.

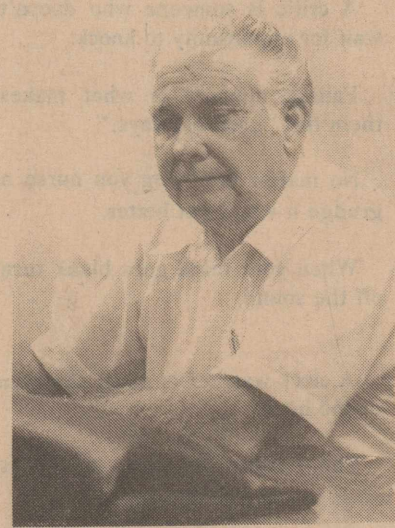

Lack of information, possible devaluation of property and disruption of the neighborhood were among the reasons individuals gave for opposing the center.

Chamber of Commerce statement on proposed detention center, see letter on page 10.

The center would require four to six months to be ready for occupancy according to estimates given Sinclair. His own estimate was 90 days.

Sinclair is seeking local investors for part of the financing of the center. "We can do this with outside investors, but we would like to involve locals," said Sinclair of the Chapter "S" corporation which is being formed.

"We want the community to be satisfied. We want to be accepted, and the way to be accepted is to share," said Sheriff Painter.

Commissioners cut overtime hours

Commissioners admitted to being in the dark Monday morning, but the blame was placed on a power outage caused by a summer thundershower. The meeting continued with little interruption, although leaks in the roof were busy making puddles in several places.

Court members chose cutting overtime hours to cutting personnel during their budget discussion. Beginning October 1, overtime pay will be eliminated for all employees except hospital, care center and Sheriff's Department. Comp time of 1½ hours off for each hour worked will replace the overtime pay. This measure is expected to generate a savings of approximately $190,000 which should prevent the need for a tax increase said Auditor Dick Kirby.

The motion was made by Jack Williams and seconded by Sosthenes DeHoyos with all voting in favor.

No new employees will be hired as openings occur, and an existing retirement rule may come into force. The rule requires that hired employees who are over 70 years of age come before the court each year and ask to work another year.

Officials heard a brief report from Harry Sinclair about a minimum security detention center he is proposing for the Crockett Heights area. Inmates will be prisoners of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, Federal Bureau of Prisons and Border Patrol said Sinclair. The Midland businessman predicts that the Texas Department of Corrections will soon have to release prisoners to private detention facilities, also.

Ozona lawyer Bill Mason appeared at the meeting with Sinclair. Mason told the court Sinclair proposes to pay the county $1.00 a day per prisoner with 50 cents of each dollar earmarked for the Sheriff's Department. The Crockett County Sheriff's Department will be responsible for enforcement at the facility should problems arise.

Dorris Haire and J. C. Schroeder were present to discuss fire department needs. County budget cuts which would eliminate eight volunteers from fire school were adjusted to send four to the annual school. A state requirement mandates that three people go from the department. The motion to send four individuals was made by Williams and seconded by Chuy Castro as a compromise to the department request to send six firemen.

Haire told the court that new type cutters are needed for the department's Hearst tool. Notification has been received that the cutters now in use are unsafe. Price information will be available before the September court meeting.

Department heads Eddie Moore, Garland Young and Louise Ledoux made brief reports with few requests and no problems to discuss.

Crockett County Library Board members have formulated a set of rules to govern use of meeting rooms as requested by the court, said Mrs. Ledoux. The policy is patterned after that of the Civic Center.

Janet Hill reported that the Helping Hands lunch program served 802 in July with a 36.45 daily average. Commodities were distributed to 171 families (452 persons).

The final payment on fixtures, $617.89, was made in July, which will improve the economic picture for the program. Employee hours have been cut for an additional savings, Mrs. Hill said. A September 1 supper at the Civic Center will be the organization's next fund raiser.

Crockett County Hospital's report for July showed deposits of $30,470.36 and disbursements of $77,899.99. There were 75 emergency room visits during the month, 96 laboratory procedures done, 51 x-ray procedures and 18 ambulance runs.

Admissions included six inpatients, three observation patients and a total of 18 in-patient days. Percentage of occupancy was .03 with a 4.5 day average stay.

Care Center deposits for July were $40,044.20 with $62,198.55 disbursed.

In other business, the court acknowledged moving jailer Shane Fenton from part to full-time, authorized advertising for bids on three 1987 vehicles for the Sheriff's Department and accepted Buttery Motor Company's bid for a 1987 ¾ ton Suburban for the County Extension Office.

An update on right-of-way fencing on Highway 1973 was given by Jack Williams. Bids for the project are to be let in September.

Administrators attend appraisal workshop

The new Texas Teacher Appraisal System holds no mysteries for most Ozona school administrators after intensive training during the summer.

"It was very, very rigorous training," said Ted Cotton, assistant superintendent of Crockett County schools. "It was the most vigorous training I've ever gone through."

Cotton underwent the one week training workshop in June at the Region 15 Service Center in San Angelo. Primary school principal, Walter Spiller, Junior high principal Jack Probst, and high school principal, Jim Payne, have all attended the special training in daily sessions sometimes going from 8 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.

Appraisal techniques for evaluating teaching by classroom teachers were studied in detail with the material broken down into five domains. This new appraisal or TTAS will be presented to Ozona teachers during their orientation on the first day of in-service training

RAIN

September-like rains began falling on Crockett County Sunday afternoon bringing a halt to summer weather and shearing operations. A dash for the barn to get mohair under cover was not always successful, but the rain was greeted with smiles, nevertheless.

Combined total for Sunday evening and Monday morning recorded at the Shannon Ranch 30 miles north of Ozona was 5½ inches. Five of those inches fell in two hours Monday.

Earl Acton received two inches Monday morning with much heavier rains to the west keeping his draw running into the evening hours.

The rains didn't cover the ranch, according to Wade Richardson, but his rain gauge was in the "right spot" to record three inches.

A welcome 1.35 inches was received at Jane Black's.

The six inches that fell on the Pie Pierce ranch washed out roads and fences that they didn't lose in 1974 according to reports.

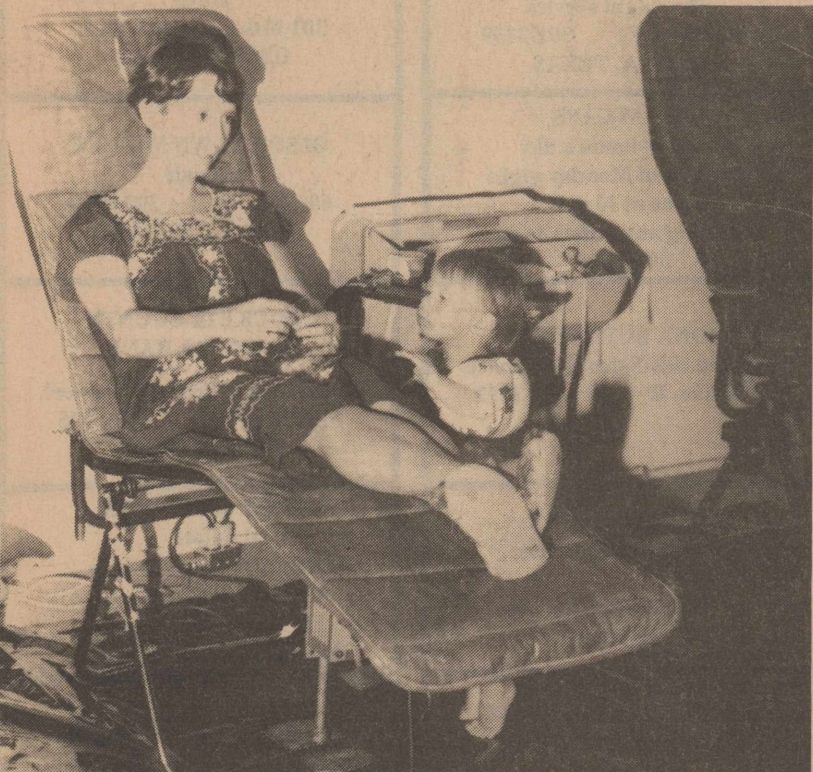

Rainfall amounts on the E. C.

Alford Ranch amounted to 5.10 inches and Jimmy O'Brien received 4.7.

The Bunger Ranch in Todd Field received 4.5 inches, and Sonny Henderson got a big 6.25 inches on Taylor Box Road.

A power outage during Monday morning's thunderstorm resulted from a blown fuse and a line burning out just east of the West Texas Utilities office. The power company was able to switch around the problem area and restore service to most of the area within 15 minutes. Portions of town were without power for up to 45 minutes, but the electricity just blinked off and came right back on in other places.

Volunteers called to a fire at a Todd Field tank battery responded to a truck siren signal during the power outage because the station has no backup power.

Senior portraits scheduled

Senior portraits will be taken this year for the first time before school actually gets underway. August 21-23, Wednesday through Friday, are the days set aside for the photography.

Jim Payne, Ozona High School principal, urges all seniors to make an appointment with him for the portraits.

"The portraits will take about 20 minutes per student so it is important that we schedule these," Payne said. "Each day's photo sessions will go from 8 a.m. until about 6 p.m."

The 17 senior football players will be photographed Wednesday, Aug. 21, from 8 a.m. until about 3 p.m. "Coach Green and I have decided that would be best," Payne said.

The change in photography schedule from past years will be less disrupting and distracting to the school day than calling students out of classes for the photo sessions according to Payne.

Cap and gown photos will be made as well as portraits of seniors wearing tuxedos and drapes as in past years. "Seniors should also come wearing whatever clothes they want to be wearing in the photos they give their friends," Payne said. "The photographer will supply the tuxedos and drapes. Caps and gowns will be furnished also."

Payne suggests that senior boys may want to wear ties and jackets. Other school photos will be scheduled later in the school year.

Center plans re-opening

The Ozona Community Center will be beginning its 1986-87 school year soon. Many children have passed through the doors of the building in the last 50 years. They have participated in the preschool programs and entered the public schools ready to learn and to grow; many have gone on to college and received degrees. Our students pay a monthly service fee. For those who are unable to pay the whole cost, assistance is offered through a partial scholarship program.

The Center receives support from many sources, from several local organizations and individuals and the local organizations and individuals and the local United Methodist Church, and from the San Angelo District and the Southwest Conference of the United Methodist Church. The center also receives some memorial gifts from local citizens and from friends living in other towns. However these gifts meet only a part of our budget.

If you would like to remember a friend or loved one with a memorial, the Center will notify the family so honored. Anyone wishing to send a memorial or a donation may take it to the Community Center or send it to Box 41. We appreciate your continued support.

Old Timers' Reunion

Oldtimers gathering for a group picture were: Olin Smith, Katie Anderson, Mrs. Olin Smith holding granddaughter Patsy Kennedy, Mrs. Bennie Williamson, Barbara W. Pearson, Prof. W. C. Williamson, Laura and Jeff Owens, Mrs. Quinna Jessup, Hollis and Edna Haley, Mrs. Pattie Brooks, Mrs. Jean McGilvray.

Mrs. C. S. Phillips, age 92, was the oldest former Sheffield resident attending the reunion. Behind her is daughter Wilma Kay Elmer.

Registering visitors to the reunion was an important job.

Mrs. Olin Smith and grandbaby Patsy Kennedy of Sheffield and Sandra Sconiers of Iraan enjoyed a look through a scrapbook.

Katie Anderson of California, Merle Dudley of Sanderson, Mrs. Milton Holmes and Ruth Geeslin of Sanderson at the reunion.

Edna Greer, Dorothy Greer Bruce and Judge Charlie Warnock enjoyed a visit at the reunion.

The Buster Whites of Brownwood and Buddy and Kathleen Evans of Comanche were among the former residents returning for the reunion.

OLD SHEFFIELD GATHERS

It was supposed to be the last one, but those attending the Old Timers' Reunion at Sheffield won't let it die.

Over 200 people showed up Saturday, Aug. 13, for the parade, barbecue, crafts booths, races and contests, but especially for the good, old-fashioned visiting with friends and relatives.

The schedule of events kicked off with a parade after a half hour delay. One of Sheffield's two fire trucks had to answer a fire alarm on Interstate 10 and put out an automobile fire there. The parade waited.

The owner of the burned car wound up at the festivities, mingling as though he were one of the old timers.

One fire truck led the parade; the other brought up the rear. In between were a couple of garden tractors pulling little trailers on which kids rode, a pickup pulling a trailer carrying a miniature locomotive, several pickups, and three mules carrying riders.

The action moved right on over to the Community Center at the city park right beside the new swimming pool. The Community Center was crowded with people, many of them gray-haired. Everywhere greetings, laughter, and excited chatter could be heard. Some paused to study the old photographs, newspapers, and other memorabilia covering the tables along one wall. Others moved on to a room where crafts and art were displayed.

"I love Sheffield" and "I live in Iraan but I like Sheffield" were some of the sentiments on large wooden heart pendants offered for sale.

A table full of bronzes by Jack Whitley of Iraan stood in a corner. The subjects were wildlife, Indians, and Longhorns, reflecting the early days of the region.

"I like to have never found a plow like that," said Whitley, pointing to a bronze depicting a man walking behind two mules hitched to a plow. "It's a lot of fun, researching for the sculptures."

A small table in another corner was crowded with various small items and bore the legend "Old toys restored by Frank and Lucille Balko-1930's and 1940's". Small plastic labels were stuck to the toys identifying them as the representations of various businesses and objects in Sheffield.

A model of a windmill was identified as the Buttercup mill, Sheffield's first windmill. An old toy car was labeled as John Cannon's V-12 Packard. Humor was reflected in the restorations too. A large plastic gold coin was taped down in the bed of an old truck and identified as, "Our 1st dollar". The Model A truck bore a label declaring it Olin and Peck Smiths' truck.

Fishing lures of many colors were offered for sale but found few buyers. The fish lure vendor complained that someone had polluted the Pecos River and killed many of the fish.

Mrs. Olin Smith and Jean McGilvray found a couple of empty chairs and sat down to enjoy a visit. Their pleasure at seeing each other was evident. Mrs. McGilvray was Sheffield's post mistress for 25 years, retiring in 1976. After her husband, Baker, died in 1982, she moved to Ft. Stockton.

Mrs. Smith reminisced that Mrs. McGilvray had always been a very good horseback rider.

Tina Moran, of Ozona came in late. "I made so many stops on the way to talk to people it slowed me down."

Mrs. W. L. Collett, Snooks to almost everyone, worried about whether everything was progressing smoothly. She lamented that the work involved in putting the reunion together has fallen on fewer and fewer shoulders each time as families have moved away and people have died.

Although Snooks' son, Jim Collett, was to be married in McCamey that evening, she and her mother, Pattie Brooks, were at the reunion. They planned to leave for the wedding in the afternoon, but were going to return as soon as possible.

Pattie Brooks, now living near Christoval, was ready to relate Sheffield's story of how the stage stop near the Pecos Springs was nothing but a sotol stalk and mud hut about eight by ten feet in size. Her father, Will Smith, drilled the first water well in Sheffield. Mr. Will Sheffield came and established the first store and gave the new town his name.

Mrs. Ernestine Carson and Mrs. Quinna Jessup of Barksdale couldn't have missed the reunion. The Jessup family has participated since the beginning.

Knights of Columbus install officers in July ceremony

Officers of the Knights of Columbus, Ozona Council 8572, were installed July 30 in a ceremony conducted before members and their families. Dennis Glass, district deputy, and Jack Lowery, a Fourth Degree member, were here from San Angelo to perform the installation at the Parish Hall.

New officers are: Grand Knight Romaldo Cervantez, Deputy Grand

Knight Pete Maldonado, Chancellor Frank Tambunga, Financial Secretary Orlando Vargas, Treasurer Raymond Borrego, Secretary Simon Hernandez, Lecturer Tony Vasquez, Warden Jimmy Tambunga, Inside Guard Johnny Tambunga, Outside Guard Rudy Martinez III, Advocate Jimmy Ortiz, Chaplain Rev. Richard Altenbaugh.

"We are going to strive to work harder," said Orlando Vargas of the upcoming year. The organization conducts fund raising events to help the needy. They also contribute funds for the church's operation, and this year, the K of C gave a scholarship.

The council meets at 7:30 p.m. in the church hall the first and third Wednesday of each month.

County Hospital Board meets

The Crockett County Hospital Board met in regular session Aug. 7 at the Care Center Dining Room. Present were Fred Deaton, Scotty Moore, Raymond Borrego, Alleane Jones, Tom Cameron, Bill Boswell, Elvira Caldwell, Dr. Don Carlisle, Dr. Robert Ownesby, Tina Moran, Doug Meadows and Zoe Green.

One correction was made to the minutes that Raymond Borrego would be made a permanent member of the Joint Conference Committee. The minutes were approved.

Architectural plans were prepared by Architect & Associates of San Angelo on the Care Center expansion. Dr. Owensby and Steve Kenley have approved the plans and their letters and the plans have been mailed to Austin.

Bill Boswell reported that parts have been arriving from Simplex and that work should start on the fire alarm system shortly.

An exam table for the Care Center exam room has been located in Menard for $200.00. A motion was made and carried that Mr. Boswell purchase this table and have it painted and installed.

Mr. Boswell stated that he had contacted Bill Sims and was informed there was no way that he could present the hospital district proposal during the special session. Hospital by-laws are being edited and they are typing the last revision. Mr. Boswell should have a copy to review in a few days.

The Ambulance Service has started holding monthly meetings. They will discuss administrative matters and other issues before the regular board meetings.

Fred Deaton reported on the dietary heat problem and stated that the air-condition pads were not staying wet enough and that this problem needed to be corrected.

Mr. Boswell reported that some of the Emergency Room charges need to be changed. He has compared them with Shamrock, and they are in line with most of their charges.

The hospital financial report showed that deposits were $30,470.36 and total disbursements were $77,899.99. The Care Center reported total deposits of $35,974.33 and total disbursements of $62,198.55. It was also reported that 674 meals were served to the jail for $2,022. A motion was made and passed to pay the bills for the hospital and Care Center.

Doug Meadors reported that 96 ambulance runs were made. There were 44 local runs and 48 transfers.

Mr. Boswell reported on other business that the wheel chairs had been refurbished in the hospital and Care Center and should last another seven to eight years.

Medicaid has approved the signing out of a nursing home of a patient for up to 23 hours without having to be discharged. They can be observed hospital for 23 hours without being admitted.

A hospital district draft was discussed, and it was suggested that a set tax rate should be included. A final copy will be available before next month.

A motion was made and passed to amend the 1986 hospital budget and increase the hospital by $19,659 to $580,659. The Care Center will be increased $19,203 from $278,657 to $297,860.

The Care Center reported a problem with the pharmacist not complying with rules and regulations and a letter had been received from Austin advising us to correct the situation. Gary Lake has been hired to get the charts in order, and a letter will be mailed to Austin after Mr. Lake reviews the charts. He will continue to check these records monthly.

The board adjourned to executive session to discuss personnel problems.

The board returned to regular session. A motion was made and carried to abolish the position of medical director of the ambulance service.

Faith Journeying into the Unknown

By Rev. Richard Altenbaugh
Our Lady of Perpetual Help
Catholic Church

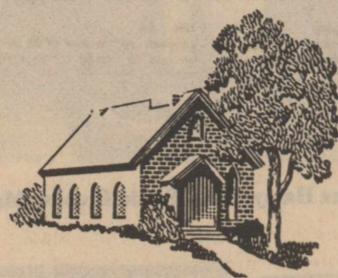

In the Bible we read of many journeys. Abraham journeyed "not knowing where he was going" (cf. Heb. 11:8) Moses and the Israelites journeyed in the desert for forty years while on route to the promised land. Mary and Joseph journeyed from Nazareth to Bethlehem for the birth of Jesus. Jesus journeyed to Calvary for our Salvation.

There are other famous journeys in our history. For example: Christopher Columbus in 1492 A.D. journeyed unknown waters to discover America. In our days, many people, many families take trips to places for their vacation. All these are physical journeys going many times to unknown places through unknown places.

Faith is very similar to a physical journey. It is a journey into the Unknown. In this journey we are called by God, accompanied by God and hopefully end in God. Each of us, called by God, respond in faith to follow Him. In this life, day by day, we journey in faith in Him, through trials, difficulties, tragedies,...as well as in good times and joyous times, too.

Our local church community, as well as the universal church, is also on a faith journey into the unknown. A number of times we are referred to as a Pilgrim people...on a journey to God in this world. We don't take a final rest anywhere along the journey. In faith we trust God to give us light in moments of darkness...to guide us in our decisions of which way to go...to persevere in our progress forward; always on the move, never able to settle down comfortably where we are or to think we have reached our goal.

Through prayer and personal commitment, we can support each other on his or her journey in faith. Similarly, we can support our local church community on its own journey. We can support the whole church, God's pilgrim people on its journey, too. Where to? "To reach the city built by God" (cf. Heb. 11:10 and 11-16). Faith is a journey; indeed Faith is the journey. May your journey of faith be a rich and rewarding one.

Rachel's Reviews

by Rachel O. Hall

The old saying, "You are what you eat," is apparently being observed by many people today, because people are paying attention to what they put into their bodies.

In particular, given the combination of increased attention to nutrition and heavy emphasis on youth and fitness, diet plans of all types have multiplied. Every plan promises to be the answer to a slimmer appearance and healthier body.

Unfortunately, not all diet plans achieve the long term desired result, and in some cases, they do more harm than good.

Nutrition specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at Texas A&M University, have developed a list of some of the better-known diet plans, along with their characteristics, good points, bad points and comments. The diets are grouped into the following categories: food selection modification, patented foods and formulas, diets based on bills and weight-loss clinics/groups.

In the first category, diets requiring modification of food selection, only a few plans were deemed nutritionally sound, scientifically based and designed to promote life-long eating habits.

Among these plans were "Slim Chance in a Fat World", "Kellogg's", "F-Plan" high fiber diets, "The Pasta Diet", "The Fit-or-Fat Target Diet", "Wise Woman's Diet", "Richard Simmons Never Say Diet", "General Foods-Set Point Diet". The current popular "Rotation Diet" is not recommended as nutritionally sound due to its low calorie content (below 1000) on numerous days.

In the second group of diets, those based on patented formulas or foods, none were found to be nutritionally sound, due to their reliance on one product or another as replacement for regular food. Life-long eating habits are not encouraged by these diet plans.

Diets in the third group represent those based on pills. None of these including diet pills, spirulina (algae tablets), glucomannan, fat burner, grapefruit, etc. were proven to be effective in retaining weight loss.

The final group consists of weight loss clinics or groups. The commentaries on the eight clinics or groups - Medi-bolic, Diet Center, Weight Watchers, Tops, Overeaters Anonymous, Nutri-Systems, and professional diet systems were mixed, mostly noting costs, product reliance and limitations.

The American Heart Association emphasizes that a real diet is one that changes eating habits in a healthy permanent way, follows nutritional sound practice, and includes eating foods from the basic five food groups. Fad diets often overemphasize a particular food, are monotonous, and require drastic changes. Due to these characteristics, people can't stay on them long, and in fact create nutritional deficiencies. Permanent, healthful change happens gradually.

If you wish to learn more about a specific diet, nutritionally recommended diets, and those promoting life time habits, call the Extension office at 392-2721.

Public hunting schedule announced for 86-87

Rod Chalmers
Texas Game Warden

The Texas Parks & Wildlife Department has announced its schedule of public hunting opportunities on state wildlife management areas for the 1986-87 seasons. During the 1985-86 hunting seasons, more than 5,400 hunters participated in special permit hunts and some 28,000 more hunted on areas which did not require selection by drawing.

Public hunts for white-tailed deer, mule deer, white-winged doves, pheasant, alligators, pronghorned antelope, chachalaca, javelina and turkey (spring season only) are conducted on a special permit basis where the hunter's application must be selected in a drawing. Prospective hunters must submit application forms to the department headquarters by a specified deadline, and participants are selected by drawing.

The preference point system established last year for special permit hunts will be continued. Hunters who applied but were not drawn for hunts last year will have twice the chance of being drawn for a hunt this year if they choose to apply for the same hunt category.

The department also allows hunting for mourning doves, quail, predatory animals and feral hogs on selected areas without prior application. A fee is charged on some areas, but free hunting is allowed on many areas by self-registration at check stands.

A gun hunt for feral hogs planned for the Gus Engeling WMA will be conducted on a special permit basis, but an archery hog hunt at the James Daughtry WMA will be by regular permit with no prior application required.

Persons interested in participating in any of the special permit hunts should write the TPWD, 4200 Smith School Road, Austin, TX 78744, or call toll free 1-800-792-1112, to obtain application forms and instructions. Prospective hunters are asked to specify which species they wish to hunt when requesting applications.

For the first time ever, a pronghorn antelope hunt will be held on a state management area. Four permits will be drawn for pronghorns at the Elephant Mountain WMA in Brewster County during October. Participants will be assessed a $40 permit fee. Deadline for submitting applications for the antelope hunt is 5:00 p.m. Sept. 8.

Public hunts for whitewinged dove will be held on three units of the Las Palomas WMA during the Sept. 6-7 and 13-14 whitewing season. Two of the units are located in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, and the other is in Presidio County in the Trans-Pecos region. A total of approximately 800 permits will be issued for the hunts, and application deadline is 5:00 p.m. Aug. 4.

Public hunts for deer will begin with archery hunts during the October archery season on seven WMA's. Application forms must be received by 5:00 p.m. Aug. 18 for hunts on the Elephant Mountain, Engeling, Gene Howe, Honey Creek, Daughtry, Keechi Creek and Walter Buck WMA's.

Gun hunts for deer will be held on 19 WMA's by special permit. Completed applications must be returned to the department by 5:00 p.m. Sept. 8. Areas offering deer gun hunts are the Alabama Creek, Bannister, Brazos Bend State Park, Caddo, Chapparral (La Salle County), Elephant Mountain (Brewster County), Gene Howe, Gus Engeling, Honey Creek, James Daughtry (near Tilden), Keechie Creek, Kerr (near Kerrville), Matagorda Island, Moore Plantation, Pat Mayse, Perdenales Falls State Park, Sierra Diablo (near Van Horn), Somerville State Park and WMA, and Walter Buck WMA (near Junction).

Quail hunts will be offered on selected days during the quail season. A fee of $5.00 per day will be charged for quail hunting on the Chaparral, Daughtry and Matagorda Island WMA's, and a free hunting will be offered on the Black Gap, Elephant Mountain, Gene Howe, Matador, North Toledo Bend, Dam "B", Granger, Pat Mayse, Somerville, Alabama Creek, Bannister, Caddo and Moore Plantation WMA's.

Likewise, mourning dove hunting will be allowed for a $5.00 daily fee on selected days during the dove season at the Chaparral, Daughtry and Matagorda Island WMA's. Free mourning dove hunting will be allowed on the Back Gap, Elephant Mountain, Caddo, Alabama Creek, Bannister, Dam "B", Moore Plantation, North Toledo Bend, Somerville Granger, Gene Howe, Matador, Pat Mayse, Kerr and the Anacua, Ocotillo and Penitas Units of the Palomas WMA.

Thelma Burton, R.N., Mary Peterson and Karen Huffman, R.N. conducted a free immunization clinic for children at the Civic Center last week.

Brock Jones returns from summer at sea

"Russia is just like you think it will be," says Brock Jones III. Jones has just returned from a 64-day cruise which took him from Galveston to the Azores and back again.

The cruise aboard The Texas Clipper was part of Texas A&M's program for training maritime cadets. This summer 70 incoming freshmen participated in Summer School at Sea. Courses in English, calculus, history and math were offered with each student enrolled in two classes. Work aboard ship was also part of the program.

Although Jones has no plans to continue his education in the maritime field, "I would encourage anyone to go," he said of the cruise.

Port calls were made in the Dominican Republic where the swimming and surfing "were great", Denmark, Russia and the Azores.

The visit to Leningrad, Russia came soon after the nuclear disaster at Chernobyl. The Russians Jones' group met knew the accident had happened, "but I knew more about it than they did," said Jones.

"Students and other young people in Russia know that the government keeps things from them, but they think Russia is better than our country because of propaganda," said Jones. "No one looks you in the eye, no one smiles."

The mass transit system (bus and subway) was good, but there were few cars visible to the visitors. Everything in Russia seemed "pretty bleak", and dealing among the Russians in black market goods appeared to be heavy according to Jones' observations.

The American students were followed everywhere by persons believed to be agents of the KGB, said Jones. The students were also searched by Russian officials each time they left or returned to their ship.

The stay in Russia included a visit to The Hermitage, Peter the Great's Palace, which contains paintings captured during World War II. Farm machinery in the area appeared to be 20-30 years behind American technology.

While in Aalborg, Denmark, the A&M students were official representatives of the U. S. government at a Fourth of July celebration. Maureen Reagan, daughter of President Ronald Reagan, spoke to the youth as part of the observance. They were also treated to a fireworks display and barbecue.

Denmark was how he had pictured Europe with sidewalk cafes and green countryside, said Jones. A stop in Copenhagen included a visit to Tivoli Park, a huge amusement park with lighted gardens.

Four days at the beach in the Azores with shipboard classes winding down offered a chance to relax before beginning the final leg of the homeward journey.

"I'm glad to be back," said Jones.

Father, son duo takes Miller Roping

Shawn McMullan and Kenny McMullan of Iraan were winners of the third annual Jay Miller Memorial Roping August 3.

Shawn McMullan won the calf roping average over 27 other competitors and was awarded a buckle.

Jeff Waldrop of San Angelo placed second in the average followed by Bobby Zesch and Rod Miller, also of San Angelo.

Bloodmobile turnout good

Ozona donors visited the United Blood Services Bloodmobile in greater than usual numbers last week to aid former resident Nita Jolly Howell of Odessa. Fifty pints of blood were donated and will be used to replace some of the 127 pints used by Mrs. Howell following surgery.

Complications during surgery at Houston Medical Center Hospital endangered the life of Mrs. Howell, daughter of Ada Barnett and sister of Lovell Crawford of Ozona.

Because Crockett County is served by the Bloodmobile, residents or members of their families are eligible to receive blood at reduced cost at participating hospitals. Cost to the patient is only for processing of blood (which is in excess of $25 per pint), and does not include a charge for the blood itself.

The next Bloodmobile visit will be in eight weeks, said Beth Boyd, Chamber of Commerce Secretary.

Heriberto Gutierrez will receive his Bachelor of Arts degree in Government and Criminal Justice from Angelo State University, Aug. 15, 1986 at 7:30 in the Physical Education Building. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hector Gutierrez.

Tennis tourney success

Four Ozonans participated in the Big Lake Tennis Tournament last weekend, August 9 and 10. The turnout for the tourney resembled Ozona's last tennis event in June. The number of participants for each tourney dropped drastically from 1985.

For Ozona, Corina Diehl and Diego leal put in a good showing in mixed doubles, advancing to the semi-finals before faltering. Diehl also succeeded in making her way to the consolation finals in women's singles.

Travis Burks lost his first singles match in a tough three-set event. Burks won his next two matches to advance to the consolation finals. Burks teamed with Tommy Tucker in men's doubles where they lost then won their first two matches. In their third match, Burks and Turker lost 4-6, 6-1, 9-11.

The Ozona Chamber of Commerce has planned for another summer tournament to be held Aug. 23 and 24. Anyone interested in playing in this tournament should contact Beth Boyd at the Chamber of Commerce, 392-3066.

Pattie tells of being brought to Sheffield when she was only two weeks old. She was born Nov. 1, 1905, in Merton, but spent her first Thanksgiving in Sheffield. She was carried by her mother on foot down Lancaster Hill over the old stage road which appears today as a diagonal scar across the canyon on the hillside opposite Highway 290. Pattie's father thought it too dangerous for her mother and Pattie to ride the wagon down the hill.

Pattie likes to describe the first Sheffield reunions. About 600 people attended the first in 1960. The noon meal of barbecue, beans and potato salad was donated through the first few reunions but that became burdensome to the community and the meal is now catered.

One hundred seventy-five people were expected for the barbecue, beans and potato salad this year, but more came. Extra paper plates had to be bought before everyone could be served.

Children enjoyed sack races and horned toad races. For the men there were cow chip tossing contests. The ladies were offered the same contest with a daintier name--a meadow muffin tossing contest. There were few takers for the Jalepeno eating contest.

After lunch Snooks Collett put the situation plainly to those in attendance. "There are just not enough people who can or will help with all the work. It's up to you. Do you want to continue with the reunions?"

A definite "Yes" came from the group assembled for the short business meeting. Several committees and committee chairpersons were named in short order to take care of the 1988 reunion.

Assured that the Old Timers Reunions would go on, at least once more, Mrs. Collett went back to the real business at hand before the telling of tall tales, the visiting with friends and relatives.

A young sailor, Jerry Holmes, the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Holmes and the son of Wayne Holmes, was recognized by Mrs. Collett as being special in his Navy uniform. The young man, slightly embarrassed and pleased at the same time, smiled.

Olin Smith, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Smith, was recognized as having lived in Sheffield for 69 continuous years, since his birth in 1917.

Mrs. C. S. Phillips, 92 years old, was recognized as the oldest person present. Mrs. Phillips and her late husband operated the Magnolia Cafe in Sheffield from 1936 to 1938. She lives in San Angelo now.

Four generations of Mrs. Phillips' family were present. Her daughter, Wilma Kay Elmer of San Angelo; granddaughter, SuAnn Goode of Sheffield; and great-granddaughter, Lisa Latham, of Austin, were all on hand for the reunion.

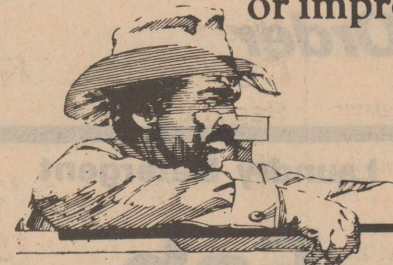

And so it went.

Mrs. Elmer best stated the feelings of those attending the Old Timers' Reunion, perhaps, when she said: "If you've ever lived in Sheffield, you will come back."

Ozona Schools prepare for 86-87

Pre-kinder registration August 15th

Walter Spiller, principal of Ozona Primary School, has announced that prekindergarten registration will be held Friday, August 15, from 8:00 a.m. until noon. Parents of pre-kindergarten students will need to bring their child's birth certificate and immunization records with them.

To be eligible for enrollment in the prekindergarten program, a child must be at least four years old on or before September 1, 1986, and (1) be unable to speak and comprehend the English language; or (2) from a family whose income would qualify them for free or reduced-price lunches.

The prekindergarten program will operate on a half-day basis with separate classes being held in the morning and the afternoon. It will be an intensive language development program and will be taught by Ms. Vicki Gonzales.

Parents who need more information about prekindergarten should call Mr. Spiller at 392-2712 as soon as possible.

Parents of kindergarten students are reminded that even though their children participated in the screening clinic that was held last April in Ozona Primary School, it will still be necessary to enroll them in kindergarten. Students enrolling in Ozona Primary School for the first time must bring birth certificates and immunization records. 2c8

The Ozona Lion Band is roaring and ready

The 1986-87 Ozona Lion Band is roaring and ready to go. Despite the drop in classification from 3A to 2A, the band is at its highest peak in several years with 103 bandmen, 31 of which are freshmen.

"They have the best start in many years," said Mr. Kelly Glaze, head band director at Ozona High School. "The attitudes are better and I'm really looking forward to what the upcoming year has in store for us," he also stated.

Mr. Eric Wharton, the assistant band director also commented on this year's band, "being 2A will not help us overall because there will be the same judges at contest, but the kids this year seem more ready to produce and put forth their best effort".

This year's Front Line twirlers and flags, have also been hard at work learning new routines for the Friday night football games and afternoon pep-rallies. The flags consist of Janet Diaz, Shawna Newton, Shawna McCarey, Eileen Moran, Trebie West, Suzy King, JoAnn Hohertz, and Tonya Carter. The four twirlers are Jennifer Probst, Judy Flores, Sandra Ramirez, and Peggy Knox. The drum major this year is Darla Judd.

The Ozona Lion Band is looking forward to performing for their Ozona fans during this year's half-time shows. Everyone in the band invites all of Ozona to come view their first performance on September 6 at Lion's Stadium during the Ozona Lions and Eden Bulldogs football game.

★ Workshop

according to Cotton.

"Mr. Davis will make a step by step presentation lasting about four hours," Cotton said. "He will go over the over all ratings, performance indicators, and all of it. It will all fall into place through the step by step presentation."

Teachers will be evaluated according to the new appraisal system during the 1986-87 school year. Teachers will be observed at least once during the fall semester by their "immediate supervisors in the evaluation process." In the case of Ozona schools the immediate supervisor of all teachers is the principal of the school in which that teacher teaches.

A second evaluation by another supervisor will also take place during the fall. These fall evaluations will not count for or against the teacher during the 1986-87 school year only. However, they will form the basis of discussion between the teacher and supervisor.

All teachers will again be observed and appraised during the spring semester. "When I come I'm going to be writing the whole time," Payne said. "I can then refer to my observations when I write up the appraisal."

The teachers will be given a point or not in each area appraised according to Payne. In some areas an extra point may be awarded to teachers who perform exceptionally well.

"Whenever I give extra credit I must document that," Payne said, "and if I don't give credit at all I have to document that. Teachers should do enough of the indicators of good teaching to earn an acceptable score."

Some of the special indicators supervisors will be looking for include such things as the interaction between teacher and students, whether the teacher checks for understanding, whether the material is of an appropriate level, and is presented accurately and clearly. How well the material relates to prior learning will be observed.

"Classroom organization is where we'll start," Payne said. "We expect the teacher to start on time and manage efficiently. Student behavior is the key. I've always maintained that free time breeds discipline problems."

Principals had no choice in whether or not they took the appraisal training according to Payne. "Principals will always be one of the observers," he said.

"It was an excellent workshop," Payne said. "I don't agree with everything about the appraisal system, but it was a positive step. If nothing else it was a very good review."

The summer workshop for supervisors was the second in a series of three according to Cotton. The first was presented last year in instructional leadership. The third and final workshop will be given next year. It will be in general management training.

"With so many schools in the region each session had to be limited this summer," Cotton said. "Mrs. Scott is attending her workshop this week. All the Ozona principals will have had their workshop this week, required training for this year."

"This coming year is going to be busy," Cotton said, "with the new appraisal system being used and curriculum guides being developed throughout the year. It's a very complicated appraisal system."

The workshops have given us a more general knowledge of what we need to know," Cotton said. "They were certainly helpful to us."

Ballots to be mailed for wool producers

Ballots for the Wool Referendum will be mailed to wool producers on August 15, 1986. The Referendum will run from August 18 through August 29, 1986. Ballots will be counted on September 3, 1986, and the counting is open to the public.

The agreement is similar to the one approved in 1982, except it would authorize deductions of up to six cents per pound on shorn wool and 30 cents per hundredweight on unshorn lambs marketed in 1986. Deductions from producer incentive payments for 1982 through 1985 were four cents and 20 cents respectively.

The new agreement will permit USDA to withhold part of any wool incentive payments that might be made to producers on 1987-90 marketings to finance the council's promotion activities.

Deductions will be used by the American Sheep Producers Council, Inc., to finance advertising and sales promotion programs for wool and lamb and programs to develop and disseminate information on product quality, production management and marketing improvement for wool and sheep.

Aug. 15 cost shares deadline

The deadline to sign-up for cost-shares under the Agricultural Conservation Program is Friday August 15, 1986. Producers are reminded that a practice cannot be started before approval is given by the Committee. The Committee will meet on September 3, 1986 to review applications.

Practices included in the cost-share program are: cedar, pear and mesquite eradication, pipelines, water wells, livestock water storages, net wire fences and electric fences.

If you would like more information, go by the ASCS office. The deadline for all applications is Aug. 15.

Paula Curry, instructor, tested American Red Cross Lifesaving students Summer Shacklette, Sarah Hignight and Bruce Beasley Friday upon completion of their training. Also completing the course but not shown was John Hignight.

Open letter from the Chamber of Commerce regarding the proposed detention center

The Ozona Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors, after hearing a presentation on a proposed Minimum Security Facility in Crockett County, agreed that pursuit of such a proposal would be a feasible approach to boosting the Economy of Ozona.

A minimum Security Facility would service inmates classified as non-violent, low risk violators who are considered non-threatening. A facility of this type would possibly employ as many as 50 to 60 workers and could conceivably bring many visitors to Ozona who would use local lodging, restaurants, and other shopping facilities. The facility would also add to the tax base of the county.

The Chamber Officials are withholding a formal endorsement of the proposal until further study has been completed. A project of this magnitude needs broad-based support from the principal owners and investors as-well-as the county leadership and citizenry.

THE KEY TO LOWER COOLING BILLS ...YOUR THERMOSTAT!

RAISE YOUR THERMOSTAT SETTING TO LOWER YOUR COOLING BILLS

You can lower your cooling bill up to 50% by raising the temperature in your home from 72° to 78°. West Texas Utilities recommends that you set your thermostat at 78° or higher for efficient summer cooling. Portable fans or ceiling fans can help the higher thermostat settings feel more comfortable.

Also, check the filter in your air conditioning system regularly. A dirty filter could keep your system from operating as efficiently as possible. Clean permanent filters according to manufacturer's instructions, and replace non-permanent filters.

For more conservation tips on summer cooling, call your local WTU office.

Lightning sparks tank battery fires

Volunteer firemen were called to two tank battery fires resulting from a thunderstorm Monday. Lightning blew a hole in the top of a tank on the Exxon Lease on Todd Field Road at about 9:50 a.m..

By the time 11 firemen arrived with two trucks and the emergency van, the fire had been extinguished by rain.

Power was out in town at the time the fire was reported, and a truck siren had to be used to call volunteers to the station.

A 12:50 call to a tank battery on the Big State Ranch Bright Oil Company lease west of Ozona required 750 gallons of water and two gallons of foam to extinguish.

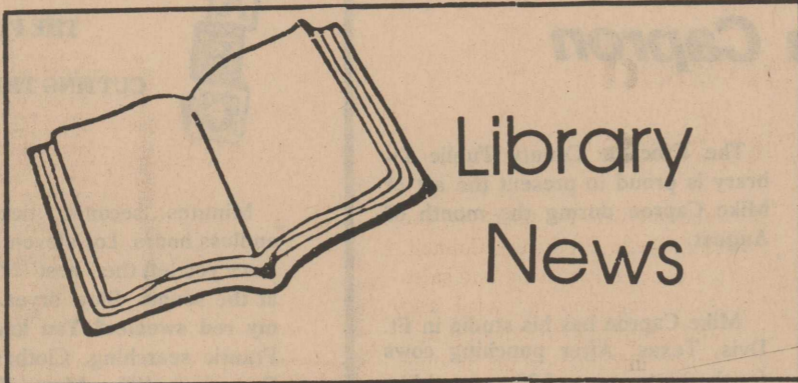

The top was blown off the one tank at the location according to reports. Two separators at the site did not burn, but the 210 barrel tank was deemed beyond repair. At the time of the fire, four feet of oil were in the tank.

Library News

FILMS AND INTER-LIBRARY LOAN BOOKS

Just a reminder to everyone about our Loan Services through the Big Country Library System in Abilene. We offer a Film Service that groups or individuals can use to obtain films for a special program or meeting. We have a whole Film Library to choose from - ranging from Educational, How-Tos, Children's films, and Entertainment. The only things to remember - It's FREE and you have to reserve them in advance. We need at least one week and preferably two weeks notice to be able to reserve the film you want. We also have a projector and screen available to show your film on!

Inter-library loan books work just like the films, except there is no one library to choose from. Books are available from libraries across the whole U.S.! If we don't have the book you're looking for on our shelves, we can get it for you in about a week at no charge!

SUMMER CHILDREN'S PROGRAMS

Remember that there are only two more weeks left to take advantage of the great Summer Programs for children. We will be wrapping up our Texas Sesquicentennial Reading Contest Monday, August 25. We will hand out certificates for books read and announce the top readers, and award Prizes for the most books read in the two age groups. It's been a great summer so far. Let's all make the last two weeks the best of all!

GTE Telephone facilities reach $3 billion

General Telephone Company of the Southwest has reached the $3 billion mark in invested telephone facilities, an investment equating to an average of $2,550 per customer.

E. L. "Buddy" Langley, president of General Telephone, said the magnitude of $3 billion is hard to comprehend by most people. "That is 3,000 millions. Or one dollar bills stacked 102 high stretching end-to-end from Los Angeles to Dallas to Miami."

The investment includes expenditures for telephones, switching equipment, cable, operator positions, buildings, trucks, microwave towers and much more.

General of the Southwest was formed in 1926. It took 45 years, until early 1971, for the company to reach the half-billion mark. It took nearly five years to add another $1 billion, and just four years more to add still another billion.

Langley said during the same periods, the company grew from the 7,000 telephones in service at the end of 1926 to over 574,600 customers after the first 45 years, to 754,000 customers in the next six years, to 1,016,000 customers in the next five years, and to the present 1,191,000.

"This milestone is a significant mark for our customers, our company and our employees," Langley said. "To our customers, it is a reflection of the improvements that have been made over the years, such as the move to dial telephone service, direct distance dialing, one-party service expansion and touch calling in the earlier years, and the progression to the age of stored program control switching, fiber optics and space age digital communications in recent years."

Langley pointed out that in addition to the $3 billion milestone reached this year, the company has continued its investment in rehabilitation and replacement of telephone cable and other equipment.

In Ozona these improvements include modernization of operator-handled traffic and equipment which automatically detects long distance calls, without the operator asking for the number. In addition, customers may now use "one-plus" to direct dial their long distance calls.

Langley said by year end over 70 per cent of the company's customers will be served by electronic switching of which 57 percent will be served by digital systems, the ultimate in telecommunications systems.

He continued that the $3 billion milestone signifies continued growth, modernization and improved service to the customer. To the employees it stands as an accomplishment for their part in building an important segment of the world's best telephone network.

"The rapid increase in investment in the past few years reflects our commitment to meet the growth throughout our service areas, an acceleration of the modernization program, and intensified service improvement efforts," Langley said.

He has directed such stars as Carol Burnett, John Davidson, Ginger Rodgers, Juliet Prowse, Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Ricardo Montalban and Sandy Duncan. He was musical director for three major productions of The King and I with Constance Towers, who was later chosen to play opposite Brynner in a revival of the show in New York.

Norm Rousselot, who plays the Kralahome in this year's musical, has had some experience in college plays and been involved in local melodramas. He has also done public speaking in state and national organizations.

Doris Rousselot, pianist in this year's production, was a music major at Principia College. While in college, she was a featured special guest artist with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra.

Carlisle makes statement regarding hospital use

Dr. Don Carlisle, Chief of Staff of the Crockett County Hospital, stated today that he will admit those patients to Crockett County Hospital who desire admission to this hospital. The patients desire for admission to this hospital is the primary reason to admit patients to Crockett County Hospital.

He also said that it is the legal responsibility of the physician to inform the patient of the patient's possible diagnosis and the ability to the hospital to care for those problems. He further stated "the physicians must disclose the availability of other hospitals and other doctors to care of similar problems and inform the patient of the patient's financial responsibility, ie. when a deposit will be required for admission." The physician must also inform the patient if he, the doctor, has a financial interest in the hospital.

In summary, the patient must be allowed freedom to choose if he wants treatment, where he wants treatment, the physician he wants, and some reasonable information as to requirements for admission to the hospital he desires.

THE FLEDGLING FLIES OR CUTTING THE 'OL APRON STRINGS

Minutes...seconds...tick away so-o-o slowly. They merge into endless hours. Lol eleven hours have passed! Only eleven hours since you left the "nest"??? Car packed to the roof, trunk bulging at the seams. Blow dryer...stereo...T.V. "Hey, Mom! Where's my red sweater? You know. The one with the low V-neck?" Frantic searching. Clothes flying. A triumphant: "Found it!" Perturbed: "No, Mom. The 'V' is in the back." So excited. Hurrying to pack and get away. Anxious for independence. To be on your own. I understand it. Yet, I resent it. And I fear it. My heart aches. Such mixed emotions!

Watching you I found myself wanting to squ-e-e-ze in somewhere between your rainbow bag...[Hang onto the rainbows, honey. They help bring the sunshine.]...and the quilt Aunt Gene made for you. Had it REALLY been fourteen Christmas' ago? Let's sing "Here Comes Santa Claus". "Auld Lang Syne" would put me under about now.] Yep! It was in '72. Not even in school yet. Soft curly hair. Little feet running everywhere. There was so much time. Bruised knees to kiss. Skinned elbows to "make well". So much time... "That's about it, Mom." No. There was no room for me. So off you rode into the sunset inside your grey steed. Behind?...an array of empty bureau drawers...[Drawer space I thought I would use?]...Thin skeleton clothes hangers strewn onto the floor, naked without their vibrant colored skins. Another closet?...What will I store in it? Strange I have forgotten what I would place in it. [I would love to just lock you away inside it and keep you near me. But that is abnormal...AND...child abuse...] An old faded blue comfy shirt hangs listlessly...all alone on the rack...Holding it close to my cheek I can feel your nearness...My! How you would laugh! Trying not to lose you...Holding on...

"Bye, Mom! Bye, Dad!" Hurried kisses... "Now I won't be home for two weeks. It's only a couple 'o weeks." Kiss...Kiss...Hug...Hug... "Call 'ya!" (And you HAD BETTER call as SOON as you arrive.) You drove away turning up the stereo; a member of your generation sharing the music with the world!...Sigh!...Relief!...Relief at FIRST!...then...the QUIET!!! How very quiet was the house. Tick...tock...tick...tock...The clock. What is that awful noise? Oh. The refrigerator. It has been years since I could hear the refrigerator run. Guess I had forgotten it even had a motor. Had I really PRAYED for this quiet? And where were the telephone calls? Something must be wrong with the phone. Should I report it inoperable? Your father shakes his head smiling...still, I detect a tear in his eye, also. I dial the operator and report that there are no incoming calls. Robot-like voice: "One moment, please, and I'll try to ring you."...Ring!...Ring! Loud and clear! "No, ma'am, there doesn't seem to be a problem with the line." Hm-m-m-m. Strange. I SWEAR that it used to ring twenty times in as many minutes. The quiet...and WHERE'S My M.T.V.????????!!!! How many times did I shout: "TURN DOWN THAT INFERNAL NOISE!!!!!! You'll be deaf by the time you're twenty!" And videos I thought unworthy of your sight or mine...Now, frantically I search for THAT channel...Your music...You. It brings you closer somehow.

Eighteen years...Yes, I knew that this day would come. But it came so very fast. "Sure, Mom. You'll be glad to see me go." Laughingly...Kiddingly...Was it only yesterday?...And, yes, in some ways I WANTED this day to come. Your dad and I would do so many things we had not done in the past years. Normal. At least, I believe that it is. "Cut the apron strings, Mom! A world is out there and I HAVE to be a part of it!" I know...I know...E-A-S-Y! Yeah, sure it is! Wonder who dreamed all that up...I laughed at others...last year...patted myself on the shoulder and told myself that I wouldn't have that problem...I wouldn't be THAT silly. Now I must cut the strings...And I'll have all the free time in the world to do all the things I have not done in eighteen long (?) years...Strange. I seem to have forgotten what those things were...Instead I find myself almost RESENTING your growing up...your leaving...your quest for your "holy grail" in life. I wonder at mothers who must release more than one fledgling into the world...But it can't ever be easy to let any one of them go...But I have only this one...

Ring! Ring! Ring! Run...run!...[Coat hanger catches onto shoe.] At last... "Mom, I made it! Great trip! No. No problems. Tell Dad that the car did just fine. Everything is just great!...[Quickly I pray: "Thanks, God."...] I can hardly wait to tell you all about it here...It's just wonderful! I'll tell you all about it in two weeks. You thought I said two months? Gosh, no! I'll HAVE to see everyone at the first home football game! Tell everyone 'hi'. Love ya!" Yea! Yea! Only two more weeks!...Two more weeks and she'll be home...

Get the most from your clothing dollars

For many Texas families the economic downturn means beginning a new school year with less money to outfit the kids.

But a number of alternatives are there for stretching the family's back-to-school clothes budget, says clothing specialist Alma Fonseca.

Start by going through the childrens' clothes to see what is worn out, what is outgrown and what can be "restyled," advises the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist.

A clothing exchange with relatives, friends and neighbors can help everyone get more wear out of outgrown, but not outworn, childrens' clothing, she says. Garage sales and re-sale shops are also a source of inexpensive clothing in good condition.

If you have the time and sewing skills, try altering some dresses, jumpers and other items, suggests Fonseca. Look for deep hems in skirts, pants and sleeves that can be lengthened. Decorative stitching, trim, or a fabric insert will hide marks from the old hem. Tucks in bodices, skirts, pant legs and sleeves may also be released to add length. "When you shop for school clothing, look for durable clothing that can "grow" with the child throughout the school year," says the specialist.

She points out that discount and outlet stores carry less-expensive clothing, but it may also be less durable.

Before buying, inspect clothes for wide seams that won't ravel or pull out, and on knits, narrow seams that are stitched and overcast. Double stitched seams or tape inserted in seams that receive the most stress, such as pants crotch or armhole seams is another sign of durability.

If the style, fabric, fit and price are right, you can always add needed reinforcements on your home sewing machine to make less durable clothing last longer.

"When you shop for new clothing, keep in mind specific features that will allow for the child's growth," advises the specialist. Some of these features include deep hems, adjustable straps and waistbands, raglan sleeves, and stretchy fabrics.

Two piece clothes usually provide more room for growth than one piece items, and dresses without a definite waistline can be worn longer than those with fitted waists, Fonseca adds.

In old China, gongs were beaten to cure fits.

Crockett County EMS plans Fun Day

Crockett County EMS held a regularly scheduled business meeting Monday, August 11, at 7:00 p.m. in the Care Center Dining Room. Present were Elliott Barrera, David Cooke, Bob Falkner, John L. Henderson, Carol Hunnicutt, D. W. Keilers, Doug Meador and Tina Moran. Visitors were Brian Cooke, Gregg Hood, Randy Branch and Phyllis Tucker.

Plans are being made for a fun night for the members. Tentatively, an evening at the pool, a hamburger supper, a wiener roast and an ice cream supper have been suggested.

Members are asked to plan to attend the Aug. 25 training meeting where fun night plans will be finalized.

The purchase of a text and two audio-visual units, the Program for Public Education, was discussed for donation to Crockett County Library. The material will be available to the public soon. The group voted that when the material is to be used by a club or organization it is to be accompanied by one person registered with the Texas Department of Health as a paramedic, EMT or ECA. That person must be a member of Crockett County EMS or Crockett County Hospital Ambulance Service.

One new member application was reviewed and voted on by secret ballot. Randy Branch was welcomed as the newest member of Crockett County Emergency Medical Services.

New officers were elected for the new fiscal year. President is D. W. Keilers. Joe Moran is vice-president and Tina Moran will served another term as secretary-treasurer. New officers will begin their duties on September 8 at the next regular business meeting.

Following the business meeting, Doug Meador, ambulance co-ordinator, presented the film "They Said It Wouldn't Burn".

Crockett County Ambulance Service responded to the scene of a mother vehicle accident five miles east of Ozona August 7. One 19-year-old male was transferred to Crockett County Hospital suffering multiple abrasions. Those making the run were Carol Hunnicutt, Tina Moran and Elliott Barrera.

Alice Smith and Cripple, her singing dog, were part of the parade at Sheffield's old timer's reunion Saturday.

Variety is essential to good nutrition

"Eat a variety of foods" is probably the most common nutrition advice given by physicians and nutritionists.

It's also first in the list of Dietary Guidelines for Americans, released this year by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Department of Health and Human Services, and developed with recommendations from national nutrition organizations, the American Heart Association, the American Medical Association and the American Cancer Society.

So why is dietary variety so important?

According to Dr. Alice Hunt, a nutritionist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service, the answer is relatively simple.

"People need over 40 different nutrients to stay healthy. These include vitamins and minerals, protein, fat, carbohydrates and water, which are found in foods," she says.

"Since no one food supplies all the essential nutrients in the amounts a person needs, it's important to eat several types of foods each day," Hunt emphasizes.

The major food groups are the protein foods, including meat, poultry, fish eggs, dry beans and peas; dairy foods like milk, cheese and yogurt; fruits and vegetables; whole grain breads, cereals, pastas and other grain products.

Once you know the major food groups, then the question becomes, how much is enough variety?

An easy rule of thumb, says Hunt, is to remember the "4-4-2-2" guideline. A diet which contains 4 servings of fruits and vegetables, 4 servings of breads and cereals, 2 servings of protein foods and 2 servings of milk each day, has enough variety to provide an adult with essential nutrients.

The nutritionist says a recent USDA report of research conducted at Pennsylvania State University indicates that selecting different foods from within the major groups does not appear to improve nutritional quality beyond choosing foods from among the major groups.

The report also shows that variety appears to improve the diets of certain population groups more than others, she notes. Women appeared to benefit more than men, and people who eat a small number of foods appeared to benefit more than those who eat a large number of foods.

Sheriff's Report

A 21-year-old man and a 35-year-old woman, both of Houston, were charged with possession of a controlled substance, a second degree felony, August 9. State Trooper Cliff Babbitt arrested the pair about 12 miles west of Ozona on I-10 during a routine traffic stop. Upon interviewing the pair, Babbitt became suspicious and conducted a search of their vehicle.

Found in the search was a quantity of marijuana, several pills and several foil-wrapped pieces of cardboard believed to contain LSD.

Judge A. O. Fields set bond at $20,000.00 on each subject, and they remained in Crockett County Jail Tuesday morning.

A 26-year-old Dallas man was arrested August 5 on outstanding warrants out of Dallas County charging driving while intoxicated. On August 6, the subject posted a $230.00 cash bond and was released. An Ozona man was arrested by Texas Highway Patrol officers for outstanding traffic fines that he had not paid. The 30-year-old man was arrested August 11 and is still in county jail laying out the fines.

Border Patrol

The Del Rio Sector, of which the Ozona station is a part, reports a new apprehension record for the month of July. Apprehensions of illegal aliens totaled 12,889. This figure would have been an all-time record month before March of 1985 and stands as the fourth largest month in history.

Locally, agents apprehended 200 illegal aliens in July. This is a 48 percent increase over the same month last year and a 25 percent increase over June.

An increased emphasis on the location and apprehension of alien smuggling cases by agents of the Ozona station has resulted in a record number of arrests and vehicle seizures for a single month.

A total of eight persons were arrested transporting 32 illegal aliens to various points in Texas. Seizure proceedings were initiated against four vehicles used in smuggling operations.

Of the nine stations in the Del Rio Sector, the Ozona Border Patrol station is the smallest by personnel with three agents and a supervisor. However, apprehensions per man show the station to consistently rank in the top half of all stations.
