Bomb threat found to be hoax

Employees and customers at Southwest Texas Lumber Company were evacuated Wednesday morning after a bomb threat was telephoned to the business. Secretary Zelma Johnigan received a call from a low-voiced male shortly before 11 a.m. advising that "there's a bomb set to go off at 11:30".

Sheriff's Department officers and volunteer firemen were called to the scene where they evacuated the building and conducted a search. Although no explosives were found that morning, Elliott Barrera, a lumber company employee, later in the day discovered what appeared to be three sticks of dynamite fastened together with electrical tape.

The material, which looked like dynamite with wires sticking out, was found in a storeroom behind a case of paint. Investigation revealed that the material was not dynamite but highway emergency flares.

Chief Deputy Jim Wilson said Monday there are no suspects at this time, but the investigation is continuing with the assistance of Texas Ranger Howard Dunham.

"A bomb threat, hoax or not, is a very serious crime and will be prosecuted to the limit of the law," said Wilson.

The threat is a Class A misdemeanor which is punishable by a fine not to exceed $2,000 and or a jail term not to exceed one year.

Fish kill estimates pass 200,000 mark

Pecos River fish are dying by the thousands from what investigators believe to be algae poisoning. More than 100 miles of river has been affected from above Iraan to 12 miles south of Pandale by Sunday according to Game Warden Rod Chalmers.

Reports of dying fish were first received Nov. 28 in what appears to be a repeat of a Nov. 1985 fish kill along the Pecos. As in 1985, the cause of the kill is reported to be dinoflagellate, an algae that, under certain temperature and sunlight conditions, secretes a chemical toxic to fish.

The chemical numbs the fish gills, and the fish lies paralyzed and dies.

The algae is similar to the "red tide" which caused a fish kill along the Texas Gulf Coast this year and in Florida last year.

In 1985, the fish were able to swim down the river ahead of the toxin, but this year the algae began simultaneously up and down the river. The resulting fish kill has more than doubled the 70,000 to 100,000 loss of 1985. An impact study will be conducted by Parks and Wildlife chemists to give an idea of actually how many fish have been destroyed.

The dinoflagellate grows best in salty water such as the Pecos River. Experts may try to kill the algae in the river to keep it from killing the fish. "The International Boundary and Water Commission is watching the situation awfully close," said Chalmers.

The IBWC and Texas Water Quality Board are working the area of the river south of Pandale, and water samples have been sent to labs that specialize in these types of problems.

Detention Center asks Court to sign contract

Private businesses can't contract with federal entities, but other government agencies can, commissioners learned Monday. Harry Sinclair of Crockett Detention Center Inc. asked the court to consider being the contracting agency to obtain prisoners for the facility which is being planned for Crockett County. Crockett Detention Center Inc. would in turn contract from the county.

Officials were given a sample contract from the center and asked to consider the proposition.

"You told us earlier that the county would not have to be connected with this in any way," commented Judge A. O. Fields.

The contract does not have to be obtained this way, Sinclair explained, but this is the fastest way to obtain a government contract.

Private businesses may bid for government contracts, a process that would take 18 to 24 months in this case according to Sinclair.

John Morse of the San Antonio Federal Bureau of Prisons was on hand to answer questions from commissioners. He told the court that no contract would be issued before the facility was ready for occupancy. At present, 27 facilities are under contract to house prisoners in the Western District of the State, said Morse. Most of the prisoners brought to a facility such as the Ozona one would be illegal aliens and others with sentences of less than one year.

"If I can get quality service here, I'll stop here rather than taking them somewhere down the line," Morse responded when asked if a local facility would be used.

Perry Lyson, warden for the proposed facility, said that the warden would do classification of any state prisoners. "I don't see how the county can get anything but gain," Lyson said.

Commissioners and Judge Fields were skeptical of the plan. Concern was expressed regarding liability of the county as a leasing agency in the project.

"I have a letter from another company wanting to do this (in Crockett County)," Fields said. Jack McDermitt, San Angelo Former -pro football players enjoy hunting in Crockett Co.

by Scotty Moore

Former pro-football players Bert Jones and Robert Pratt were among the many hunters relaxing with a trip to a Crockett County deer lease last week.

Robert played eight years with Bert for the Baltimore Colts before going to the Seattle Sea Hawks for four years. He retired last year.

"I played guard and I didn't get near the publicity as Bert did in the quarterback position," said Robert. "I don't regret retirement a bit. After so many years of the game, your body begins to tell you that it is time to quit, and I don't miss it a bit."

Robert started his career playing high school ball in a private school in Virginia before entering the University of North Carolina. He is married and has two children.

"I plan to go into the investment business this year," he said.

Bert Jones, a Ruston, Louisiana boy, began his football career there and later attended Louisiana State University. He ended his pro career with the Baltimore Colts as a fine quarterback.

"I broke my neck and had to quit," Jones stated. "When it's time to quit, it's time to quit. I didn't have much choice in my case."

Jones is married and has four

Air Force sergeant spellbinds students with Cherokee legends

by Scotty Moore

Sgt. David Owl of the U. S. Air Force and a member of the speaker's bureau at Goodfellow AFB in San Angelo, spoke to Ozona Intermediate School children Friday with stories of the Cherokee Indian Nation.

Owl has been collecting the legendary stories for 15 years. Most of the stories have come from his great uncle, David Owl, proclaimed by Sgt. Owl as the last of the great Cherokee story tellers.

"My ancestors were driven from North Carolina to Oklahoma in 1838 in the Trail of Tears by the U. S. Militia after gold was discovered in the Appalachian Mountains," Owl said. "However, a group of them escaped and fled into the mountains of North Carolina where they lived for 20 years before reclaiming their lands. I learned a great deal of the stories from the descendants of this group from which I am a part," Owl said.

David Owl taught him most of the legends and stories when he was a child in North Carolina.

"I became interested in my heritage by listening to Uncle David who is a Baptist minister and a Yale graduate tell of how the races of man were formed," Owl said. "According to legend, the Great Spirit formed different races by cooking clay figures of man in a pit fire. Depending on the number of hours that each model stayed in the fire made the different colors of skin," he stated.

Owl kept the children spellbound for 45 minutes as he spoke of the Indian legends.

"The Indians played a ballgame similar to the game lacrosse in order to settle differences between clans without using spears and arrows," Owl said. "The men readied themselves for the game by beating their arms and legs with sticks, scraping their skin with bone combs and drinking a liquid which contained some kind of narcotic. They then wrapped themselves in bandages," Owl said.

"The game was a free-for-all which last sometimes for days, and the team with the most players left on the field won the game," Owl said.

One of the children asked the sergeant how he got his name.

"The Indians named their young from animals," Owl said. "When a child was born, the eldest male would hunt, and the first animal killed, the child would get that name," Owl explained. Depending on what the animal was doing at the time it was killed was also part of the name such as Running Bear.

After the program, the children displayed their enthusiasm by crowding around the sergeant and asking him questions.

During a personal interview, Sgt. Owl told The News that the Air Force allows him the time for these speaking engagements. "I have had inquiries from as far as El Paso. It really seems to be catching on, and I really enjoy telling the children about my heritage and the legendary history of the Cherokee Indian Nation," Owl said.

WTU plans refund to customers

West Texas Utilities Company plans another refund to its retail customers early next year.

The company was to file a request Nov. 10 with the Public Utility Commission of Texas requesting permission to refund a total of $4.9 million in retail revenues collected in excess of actual fuel costs during October and November. The total includes $4.7 million actual fuel cost savings, plus $.2 million in interest.

Stephen Williams, WTU local manager, said recently negotiated contract revisions reflecting the continued soft price of natural gas makes the refund necessary. "As our cost for boiler fuel went down, we simply over-collected under the fuel rate approved by the PUC," Steve said.

This will be the fifth refund made to WTU retail customers since the summer of 1985. With each refund, the fuel rates charged to customers have been adjusted, but the price of natural gas, WTU's main power plant boiler fuel, has continued to decline. WTU's base rates have not changed since December 1984. However, company officials have said that a base rate increase will be necessary after the new coal-fired Oklaunion Power Station near Vernon is completed and placed in service. The assured supply of coal under a long-term contract is expected to stabilize WTU's power plant fuel costs and to partially offset the necessary base rate increase.

The refund will be made through one-time credits to retail customers in January or February depending on when the PUC approves it. The typical residential customer will receive about $9.00.

Lions still improving despite losses

by T. C. Tucker

The Ozona Lions traveled to Crane last weekend, Dec. 4-6, to complete in the tournament held there. Against stiff competition, the Lions pulled off one win, but dropped two games.

Ozona 50, Denver City 67

Juniors Oscar Payne and Scott Denman scored 10 and nine points in the first of the Lions' tournament games. However, Denver City exploded in the last quarter with a 21 point scoring spree to beat Ozona by 17, 67-50.

"As in several of our past games," Coach John Curry said, "there were spots of breakdown, especially on defense which really hurt us overall."

Ozona remained always within striking distance during the first three quarters, but Denver City, who led by seven at the end of the third period, went wild in the final quarter.

Payne had a good game as he also led in rebounding with eight. Abel Lara tallied three assists and five steals.

Ozona 64, Pecos 52

The Lions shot out to an early 23-6 first quarter lead and never looked back. Although, Pecos moved back to within 10 at some spots, Ozona had complete control of the game.

"This game was the best game yet this year," Coach Curry said. "We played well throughout the whole game."

Will Seahorn and Scott Denman paved the way with their 17 points each. Denman also pulled down 17 rebounds.

With the win in this game, the Lions kept from being knocked from further tournament play.

Ozona 46, Kermit 59

Ozona played Kermit in the consolation game, and the game resembled in part the first game of the tourney against Denver City.

"In games against tough teams, we can't afford to falter too many times," Coach Curry said of the breakdowns experienced in the first game.

Kermit led by eight in the first quarter, then stretched the lead to 15 at halftime. After moving out even further in the third quarter, Ozona rallied somewhat and moved back to within 13 before time expired.

Mike Morrow led Ozona scorers with 14 points, as well as having four rebounds. Will Seahorn and Oscar Payne each had eight points.

This Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Ozona will play host for the annual Ozona Basketball Tournament. Next Tuesday, the varsity and JV squads will head for Odessa with games beginning at 6:00 against Odessa High.

Cubettes lose close game

by T. C. Tucker

The Ozona Cubettes played their first home game Dec. 1. A second and third quarter drought hurt the 7th grade while the 8th grade lost by two after fighting to come back from a 10 point deficit.

Although behind, the Cubettes were down by only two when the first quarter ended. But the next two quarters proved a nightmare for the Ozona girls.

As Sonora tallied 12 more points those two quarters, the Cubettes failed to score a point and finished the third quarter down by 14, 7-21.

The Cubettes fired back in the final period, closing to within nine. However, the rally came too late, too little, 14-23.

Kristie Porter led the Cubettes with eight points, five rebounds, and seven steals. Ami Sewell had three steals while Patricia Hartnett had three rebounds.

"We must improve on moving the ball against full court pressure," Coach Jerry Tucker said. "The girls are trying real hard to get better."

Free throw shooting could have proved the difference in the 8th grade game; one that proved long, close and exciting.

Sonora took the opening lead by 11 points worth at the end of the first period. But leading scorers Jennifer Colin and Ofie Rios helped revive the Cubettes in the second quarter as Ozona pulled to within five by intermission.

The third quarter followed the same pattern as Ozona trailed by two and four throughout much of the eight minutes.

The Cubettes were 6 of 31 at the free throw line for only 19%, showing that the outcome of the game could have been quite different from how it ended with Sonora still on top by two, 34-32.

"All the girls played extremely well in a hard fought game," Coach Tucker said. "We will improve on our free throw shooting, which will make the difference in winning and losing."

Other scorers for the Cubettes included Melissa Moore who bombed four points from the outside. Sandra Fuentes and Letty Dominguez also had four. Rios led in rebounding with four while Jennifer Colin and Paula Galan each had three steals.

The Cubettes stay at home for their game on Dec. 15 against Big Lake. The two games will be the last for the Cubettes in 1986. The game following in 1987 will be announced in a later article.

Junior high basketball keeps students and parents busy with games and practices.

7th grade Cubs third in Ozona tourney

By T. C. Tucker

In an astonishing comeback performance, the Ozona 7th grade Cubs beat rival Sonora 32-25 to win the third place trophy in the 7th grade Cubs Tournament.

Sonora started in the lead and held it for much of the game. After the first quarter ended, the Cubs were down by only one point. But Sonora had a tremendous second quarter, adding 14 points to their score while holding Ozona to only two.

A spark appeared in the third quarter for the Cubs. Although they only scored four more points, they stopped Sonora cold and allowed them to score no points.

This brief flash of confidence proved enough to fire the Cubs in the final period. John Babb and Adam Alba led the way with their 13 and 12 points respectively as Ozona scored a whopping 20 points in the final quarter while allowing Sonora only four points.

With the win, the Cubs placed third in the tourney and received the trophy designating them as doing so.

Cubs 48, Irion Co. 28

Adam Alba had 24 points, and Mario G. Mendoza and Mark Ramirez had nine and seven respectively as the Cubs beat Irion County 48-28 in the opening game for the Cubs.

The Cubs pounced on the lead in the first quarter and led by nine at the intermission. By the end of the third quarter, Ozona had extended their lead by 12, eventually winning by 20.

Cubs 28, Iraan 32

The Cubs made a great comeback effort in the fourth period of their game with Iraan, but the rally fell short as Iraan (the eventual second placers of the tourney) won by four.

Ozona stayed close behind throughout the first half, but Iraan pulled away in the third period. While tallying 12 points in the fourth quarter, the Cubs held Iraan to only four; however, the Cubs still lost despite their effort.

Adam Alba and Mario G. Mendoza led Ozona scorers with 13 and seven points respectively.

McCamey won the tournament, beating Iraan easily. Irion Co. beat Eldorado for the consolation place.

Tournament aids Cubettes for future

by T. C. Tucker

Two Ozona Cubette teams participated in their tournament last weekend, Dec. 5-6. One team found themselves in the consolation game, but lost by seven. Another loss in an exciting last second third place game.

Cubettes Team "A" 27, Irion Co. 22

Kristi Porter dominated in scoring, rebounds and steals as the Cubettes overpowered Irion Co. 27-22.

The Cubettes led constantly throughout the game, leading one time by ten in the third period.

"The girls gave good effort and showed good team play," Coach Jerry Tucker said.

Cubettes "A" 21, Iraan 36

In the second game of the tourney for the "A" team Cubettes, Iraan dominated in the first and fourth-quarters.

Iraan led 14-2 after the fourth quarter, but Ozona battled back and remained close through the second and third quarters. Ozona failed to score much in the fourth quarter as Iraan went on to win.

"More players must score," Coach Tucker said. "Everyone is shooting but we must start making our shots."

Kristi Porter scored 20 of the 21 points for the Cubettes. Susan Pullen also led in steals and rebounding.

Cubettes "A" 29, Sonora 30

The Cubettes and Sonora remained neck and neck in the first two quarters of this game. With the aid of lead scorer Kristi Porter, who had 22 points, Ozona pulled out by five in the third quarter.

With the score 29-28, Sonora put up the ball with two seconds remaining. The ball fell through the hoop, snatching the third place trophy from the Cubettes' hands.

As in all the games, Porter dominated for the Cubettes, having 20 of the 25 team rebounds and all five of the steals.

Ozona sank only 1 of 15 free throws and Coach Tucker commented that free throws were needed to win close ball games such as this.

Cubettes "B" 6, Eldorado 33

Patricia Hartnett and Veronica Mendoza proved to be the only ones able to score in the Cubettes "B" team's opening game against Eldorado. Ozona scored only six points while Eldorado tallied 33.

"We must shoot more and make more," Coach Tucker said, pointing out that the Cubettes shot only 20 times the entire game.

Hartnett and Mendoza led in rebounding as well with five and four respectively.

Cubettes "B" 7, Irion Co. 14

The Cubettes lost in a low-scoring consolation game after receiving a bye for their second game.

Coach Tucker said the girls need to settle down and get under control more while looking for the scoring opportunities.

The Cubettes took more shots, but neither team could get the ball to fall in much.

Ozona held the lead briefly in the first quarter; however, Irion Co. grabbed hold with both hands and never looked back, winning by seven, 14-7.

Claudia Avila and Veronica Mendoza led scorers with four and three points each. Mendoza also had all seven of the steals and seven of the 20 rebounds for the Cubettes.

"All the girls played a lot of basketball and gained valuable experience," Coach Tucker said. "This tournament play will help as the season progresses."

Iraan went on to win the tournament, beating Eldorado by one in the championship game.

It's been a privilege to serve

A message from Rep. Tom Loeffler

For eight years, it has been my high honor and privilege to represent the people of the 21st District of Texas in Congress. As my responsibility in Washington comes to an end, I would like to thank you for entrusting me with this office and to reflect for a moment on those eight years in Congress.

Leaving Congress for Texas was one of the toughest decisions of my career. Serving the 21st District has been deeply rewarding, particularly at a time when our Texas values of independence, enterprise and hard work have again begun to be reflected at the federal government level.

In the last six years, we have worked together to achieve a national renewal, a new confidence in our future as a nation, and much of the credit for reversing our decline must go to President Reagan. I have worked hard in Congress to help the President turn things around, because the values and beliefs on which his efforts are founded are shared by the vast majority of Texans in our 21st District.

During my four terms in Congress, America has rebuilt her defenses, we have begun to relieve our local governments and businesses of the costly burden of federal regulation, curbed the rise in taxes and virtually stopped the growth in government spending. As encouraging as these victories are, they must be sustained and strengthened by future Congresses if they are to have any lasting benefit for Americans. The foundations have been laid. The opportunity to help put them in place has truly been a rewarding experience.

One of the greatest sources of satisfaction through the years has been the victories we have worked together to achieve for the 21st District. Our district's diverse mix of rural and urban communities, civilian and military residents, has been a challenge to represent, but the people of the 21st District have been tremendous allies in helping me to ensure that our needs receive the attention they deserve at the federal level.

Teamwork -- the willingness of people with differing political beliefs to work with one another -- has made those victories possible. Each of us in the 21st District may not always agree on the direction our national policies should take, but we close ranks when it comes to the interests of the 21st District. My belief and practice has always been that when it comes to our district, there are no conservatives or liberals, Republicans or Democrats -- only constituents.

My door has always been open to the people of the district, and I feel fortunate to have formed many friendships which I hope will continue as I depart this office. Now that so much has been accomplished at the national level to put America back on track -- one that Texas never left -- it is time to come home.

As I leave office, I feel extremely grateful for having participated in the most important enterprise that I can imagine: Democracy -- one government of, by and for the people.

I am proud to have served Texas in Congress, and I thank the people of the 21st District for allowing me to represent you. It has indeed been a privilege.

Forum celebrates Christmas at Old Fort Concho

Members of Ozona Woman's Forum traveled to San Angelo last weekend to celebrate Christmas at Old Fort Concho. The Friday evening pageant, "A Fort Concho Christmas Carol", began the weekend entertainment. The grounds and buildings were open for sight-seeing and shopping, and the Arc Light Saloon, Czech House and the Grubstake were serving food and beverages.

Saturday, the group had lunch at Southern Seas after shopping all morning, then returned to the fort to see the antique quilt collection and tour the fort grounds.

The evening was spent at the San Angelo Civic Theatre attending the presentation of Arsenic and Old Lace.

Sunday began with church at various places and then the San Angelo Symphony Orchestra production of Family Christmas ended the weekend.

Members attending were: Mmes. James Childress, Arthur Kyle, L. D. Kirby, C. O. Waker, Fred Hagelstein, Charles Black, Arthur Phillips, W. T. Stokes, Pleas Childress, Lowell Littleton, Jess Marley, T. J. Bailey, Roy Pearson, Taylor Jones, Rufus Ward, George Bunker and Huey Ingram.

architect for the project also spoke at the meeting as did J. C. Matthews of Woodson and Clayton Robinson, board members.

The contract will be studied by County Attorney Tom Cameron and another lawyer, said Fields, who promised to put the matter on the agenda for the January court meeting.

"Our goal is to give Crockett County people badly needed jobs," Robinson said in an interview Tuesday. The county would benefit by $1.00 per day per inmate and approximately $725,000 would be paid annually in salaries. The center would also have a tax base in excess of $10,000, Robinson said.

In another agenda item Monday, commissioners said no to a request to sell county owned land along the interstate near the DPS office.

The court was asked by Bill Boswell, interim hospital administrator, to transfer unused hospital funds for purchase of an x-ray machine. The machine will be needed no matter what kind of medical facility Crockett County has according to Boswell and Cameron.

The hospital is expected to be $60,220 under budget at the end of the year, and this money could be used toward the purchase of a re-conditioned x-ray, Boswell said.

The court voted, on a motion by B. W. Stuart and seconded by Chuy Castro, to take the matter under consideration. Specifications will have to be developed.

Dee Keilers appeared before the court to ask permission to put up a permanent flag with lights for it and the Crockett memorial on the square. It is permissible to leave a flag up at all times if it is lighted, Keilers said. The Water Department, which has been in charge of raising and lowering the flag daily, also requested to be relieved of the duty of placing the lettering on the coming events sign on the courthouse property.

Scheduling of the information on the sign will now be done through the office of the Chamber of Commerce, and a county employee will put up the letters.

Road Supervisor Eddie Moore was told that purchases for his department need his okay in advance. Moore was asked to use in stock vehicle parts and then buy as needed rather than keeping a supply on hand.

Moore told commissioners that almost one side of the fencing project on Hwy 1973 is complete except water gaps.

Repairs to roads damaged by rain are still in progress with the concrete work in Precinct 1 complete. The Powell Field concrete work is also finished according to Moore.

Several other roads scheduled for repair were discussed.

Librarian Louise Ledoux told the court that new hours for the library will begin after the first of the year. The facility will be open during the noon and evening meal hours. Monday and Thursday the library will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday hours will be from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Reports were also received from Youth Center Director Garland Young and from Jerry Hill for Helping Hands.

There were 663 meals served by Helping Hands during November with contributions of $486.95, an average of .73 per meal. Commodities were given to 188 families on Nov. 20.

The Helping Hands meals program is now able to order food through the commodities program and will begin to receive 55 pounds of hamburger every other month, Hill said.

In two items not on the agenda, commissioners heard requests from the fire department and from the county attorney.

The court voted to provide $500 to the Ozona Volunteer Fire Department for the annual Christmas party. The party is generally paid for from donations for services, Fields explained. Since there have been relatively few grass fires this year, there have been no donations to the department, Fields said.

Cameron requested a Cannon electric typewriter with screen for his office. Fines are up through his and Judge Fields' office over $30,000 this year compared to the expected $13,000, Cameron said with regard to the typewriter expenditure of $2,670.18.

Before adjournment, the court met in executive session for 10 minutes to discuss personnel.

No action was taken on the discussion.

What is a square dancer

A square dancer is a person who knows his left from his right but occasionally forgets it. A square dancer is someone who has learned to do as he is told but doesn't always do it. He is fanatical in his search of a good time, traveling miles in all kinds of weather, going places he would never go to otherwise, spending all night on his feet which were killing him at work, and smiling happily all the time.

A square dancer speaks a language all his own. He calls his partner his law, his date, his honey, darling, or pretty little thing; and he promenades, sashays, weaves, circulates, dances, circles around the ring, circle, or set. He learns his dancing thru and thru: right and left thru, pass thru, turn thru, step thru, barge thru, and he must be agile enough to do such unlikely things as box the gnat (or flea), shoot the star, slip the clutch, pick up a girl or shuck the corn.

If this description fits you, don't worry. Although it is practically incurable, this disease is not all harmful, and most square dancers have a strong desire to infect other members of the community.

Square dancing classes are being conducted Monday nights at United Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend classes and/or the Saturday night dance.

Ladies have good showing against Brownwood

By Allison Larisa Schoenhals

The Ozona Lady Lions' varsity basketball team worked to win in a game with Brownwood but lost 52-54.

Two outstanding players in this game were Stacy Lay and Kelly Williams. Lay, a sophomore post, was high scorer of the game with 15 points. Following closely behind her was Williams, a freshman rookie on the team, with 14 points.

Vickie Reagor and Lydia Pena were outstanding defensive players. Kelly Williams also did a good job defensively.

Other girls playing on the team included Stacie Winkley, Janet Diaz, Regina Cervantez, Vickie Flores and Adriane Wilson.

"Tonight is the first night since I've coached in Ozona that I felt like we had a real team effort," commented Rhonda Yarbrough, girls' head varsity coach. "I was terribly disappointed in losing, but excited to have played a good, aggressive Brownwood team. I was also excited to have had the last shot that would have sent the game into overtime.

"I was thrilled to death to see some of the girls play with real determination and fire. We got a 'take charge' kind of defense, which we had talked about before the game, which improved our performance. I expect more good things to come."

Ozona reaches consolation game

By Cople Davis

The Ozona J.V. Lions traveled to Sonora last weekend to compete in the annual Sonora tournament. The Lions played well in spots but couldn't pull out the big win as they lost 2, won 1, and lost to the Del Rio J.V. in the consolation game 56-52.

In the first game, the Junction varsity, led by senior Danny Rojas' 27 points, took advantage of a big first half to shell the Lions 60-37. The Lions took only 17 first half shots, and if that weren't bad enough, they made only four for 24 percent shooting. Junction scored 30 points in the first half and enjoyed a 22 point lead entering the third quarter.

Ozona improved in the second half as they scored 29 points, but the Eagles once again bettered the Lions with 30 second half points. The final score was 60-37, sending the hapless Lions to the losers' bracket against the Ricksprings J.V.

Against Ricksprings, Ozona resuscitated their struggling offense to drill the Angoras 70-33.

Every Ozona player scored at least once with Wolv Rutherford and Lalo Rodriguez leading the way with 14 and 13 points respectively. Ozona outscored the Angoras 35-8 in the first half. That is the first time the Lions have outscored an opponent in the first half all year.

Although Ricksprings improved in the second half, the Lions' consistent play put 30 more points on the scoreboard. The game finished with Ozona in the win column for the first time all year, 70-33. This game catapulted Ozona into the consolation final against the Del Rio J. V. Ozona once again took a lead into the dressng room at halftime, but choked the game away in the second half and lost 56-52.

The first quarter ended in a 17-17 tie with the momentum leaning toward Ozona. Seventeen more points in the second quarter gave the Lions a 34-28 lead as the Lion defense held the Rams to 11 second period points. Del Rio picked up six points on the Lions in the third quarter and with 8:00 to play, the game was deadlocked at 40-40.

The fourth quarter was the deciding factor in the game. Del Rio outscored Ozona 16-12 during this period, which gave them all they needed to overcome the Lions. Del Rio took home the consolation trophy with a four point, 56-52 victory.

Cubs lose 7th, 8th grade games

by T. C. Tucker

The Ozona Junior High Cubs experienced two defeats in 7th and 8th grade play Monday, Dec. 1 in games against Sonora. Both games ended with Ozona only a few points behind.

Adam Alba had an outstanding game despite the loss, scoring nine points and having five of the 11 rebounds for the Cubs. Mark Ramirez and John Babb helped by adding their six points each and Ramirez led in steals with eight.

The Cubs pounced on an early 13-4 first quarter lead, but Sonora held Ozona to only two points in the second quarter and gained the lead at halftime, 16-15.

In the third period of play, Sonora extended their lead by three. The fourth quarter proved to be the lowest scoring of the game as the Cubs failed to score any additional points. Sonora added two more, enough to win the game, 26-21. Coach Don Payne feels the 7th grade improves every game though they still make fundamental mistakes which hurt later on.

The 8th grade Cubs gave an outstanding effort in their game, but as Coach Payne said, "The shots we took were good, they just didn't fall in."

Again as in the previous 7th grade game, the Cubs started the game with the lead in their grasp. However, as the game progressed Sonora recovered little by little, eventually tying the game at the end of the third quarter.

Sonora out-scored Ozona seven to four in the final quarter, pulling a win just out of the Cubs' reach.

Jason Vitela and Michael Ybarra led Ozona scorers with eight and six points respectively. Ybarra also had three rebounds while Ruben Borrego pulled down four.

The Ozona Cubs travel to Big Lake Dec. 15 for their final game before Christmas. The 7th grade game will begin at 5:00 p.m. with the 8th grade following at 6:30.

LadyLions take third in Sonora tourney

By Alison Larisa Schoenhals

With a long overdue victory, the Ozona Lady Lions' basketball team brought home a third place trophy from the Sonora tournament last weekend.

The Lady Lions got off to a bad start Friday night when Junction defeated them 35-38. This loss was caused mainly by excessive fouls and low shooting percentage.

The second day of the tournament resulted in a better outcome. The Lady Lions beat Ballinger by a score of 51-46. Due to a six team bracket, this win put them in contention for third place matched against Junction again.

Saturday's game with Junction was extremely exciting. The team vowed to seek revenge from Junction for the loss the day before. They had beaten Junction once before in a pre-season scrimmage. The score see-sawed throughout the game, but as the final seconds counted down, Ozona came out the victor 38-34.

With this win, the girls captured the third place tournament standing and put their season record at 2-4.

Kelly Williams and Vickie Reagor were named to the all-tournament team.

Girls playing in the tournament and their total scores for all three games are: Kelly Williams, 34 points; Lydia Pena, 14 points; Vickie Reagor, 18 points; Vickie Flores, 19 points; Janet Diaz, 2 points; Stacy Lay, 24 points; Stacie Winkley, 1 point; Adriane Wilson, 10 points; Lacy Miller and Kriss Corley.

"I didn't realize that our seniors had never won a trophy during their high school basketball careers," said Rhonda Yarborough, girls' head varsity coach. "It made this victory that much more special. The game was extremely pleasing since we lost to them by three points in the first round of the tournament. We needed these back to back wins to prepare us for our district opener against Big Lake on Tuesday."

A senior player, captain Vickie Reagor, also had some comments on the Saturday game against Junction. "I was really excited about winning third place. We played as a team and that in itself helped us win the last two games. I was particularly excited with us bringing home a trophy. This is the first one we've brought home since I've been in high school, and it really feels good not to come home empty-handed."

Freshmen continue winning streak

By Alison Larisa Schoenhals

For the third time in a row the Ozona Lady Lions' freshmen basketball team added another victory to their total winnings Monday, Dec. 1, in a game against Sonora to maintain a record of 3-0.

Several girls had an exceptionally good game Monday night in Sonora. Four of the Lady Lions committed no fouls and were able to score an abundance of points for their team.

Stacy Berry had 10 points, Lanessa Porter eight points, Terel Seahorn five points and Tammy Arrott one point.

Another outstanding player that night was Polly Villarreal. She made 12 points and only committed one foul.

The other two players on the team were Missy Bishop who had four points, and Sarah Pullen.

The next freshman game will also be against Sonora on Thursday, Dec. 11.

Eagles of Eldorado, and came out spotless with an impressive 50-22 victory.

The Lady Lions started the game with a conservative 15 point first quarter along with a stingy defense that allowed Eldorado only nine points. In the second period, the Lady Lions put 15 more points on the board and once again played tenacious defense, giving up but four points. Ozona went to the dressing room at halftime with a more than comfortable 17 point lead.

The name of the game for the Lady Lions was consistency as they scored 15 points in each of the first two quarters and 10 points in each of the last two quarters. The Ladies increased their halftime margin up to 40-18 and a 22 point lead with still one quarter to go in the game. In the final period, Ozona gave up only two buckets to the homestanding Lady Eagles. To complement the defensive masterpiece, the Ladies scored 10 more points to take a 50-22 victory.

Three of the five Ozona starters reached double figures as guard Polly Villarreal hit for 15 points, Tammy Arrott had 10 and Lanessa Porter was also good for 10. Despite a poor foul shooting percentage (30%), Coach Martha Sims had only praise for the Ladies. "I'm really proud of the girls. They are working hard and the effort is beginning to show."

The freshmen Lady Lions' record now stands at 4-0.

J.V. Ladies zapped by Brownwood

The Ozona J.V. Lady Lions went to Ballinger Dec. 1 to take on the J.V. Lady Lions. The Brownwood Lady Lions, that is, as Ozona was slashed by Brownwood 39-20.

Brownwood, with a large height advantage, crashed the offensive and defensive boards all night, taking rebound after rebound from the Lady Lions.

The Ladies kept the game close in the first half. The first quarter began slowly, and Ozona took a slim 9-6 lead.

In the second quarter, the Lady Lions scored a dismal sum of one; single, solitary point. Brownwood, however, scored 10 points and took a six point lead into the dressing room at the half. In the third period, Brownwood exploded for 15 points, and the Ozona Ladies found themselves scrambling out of a 31-14 hole. However, they scrambled the wrong way and were defeated 39-20. Sophomore Kriss Corley accounted for 60 percent of the Ozona offense as she canned six buckets for 12 points. Following Corley was Grizz Hernandez with four. Shannon Curry and Eileen Moran combined for the remaining two points.

FFA Chapter assists with plague surveillance

Members of the Ozona High School FFA Chapter are working with the Texas Department of Health in a program designed to detect bubonic plague in animals.

Target animals in the surveillance are wild carnivores - coyotes, foxes, raccoons, bobcats, feral cats and the like. Special "nobuto strips" provided by TDH are used to transmit blood samples from animals to the Region 4 office in Abilene for examination.

Plague is periodically found in some species of wild rodents commonly found in West and North Central Texas. Yersenia pestis, the bacillus which causes plague, has been isolated from rodents and fleas in several Texas counties.

Black Death, as it was described in the Middle Ages, is an extremely infectious disease primarily transmitted from animal to animal by fleas infected with the organism. The disease usually occurs in man as a result of a bite from an infected flea or the handling of an infected animal.

Plague in man occurs in three clinical forms. Bubonic plague is the most common form. The most serious and infectious form is pneumonic plague, or pneumonia caused by the plague bacteria. Plague pneumonia is much less common than the bubonic form and is somewhat more difficult to recognize and treat. The plague organism may sometimes invade the blood stream resulting in severe illness (septicemic plague) prior to any sign of lymph node swelling. This form of plague is difficult to recognize.

Early symptoms of bubonic plague include fever and painful swollen lymph nodes. There are no early clues to the diagnosis of plague pneumonia or septicemia. All forms of plague, if left untreated, may cause high fever, restlessness, confusion and prostration. Coma and death will follow if adequate treatment is not received.

The incubation period for plague is only two to six days. Death may occur shortly after the onset of symptoms in the pneumonic and septicemic forms of plague.

Brownfield blasts J.V.

The Ozona J.V. basketball team traveled to Big Spring Dec. 2 to take on Brownfield, their toughest opponent to date. Although the Lions scored more points than they have all season, a porous defense crippled the offensive success. "Once we got on track, it was our best scoring game yet," said Coach David Porter. "Unfortunately, we didn't get on track until the second quarter."

Brownfield, using an extreme height advantage and a L. A. Laker-style fast break game, took a commanding 20-4 lead in the first quarter. The Lions bit back in the second period, but still couldn't stop the Cubs' high powered running game. The first half ended with Ozona looking at a 27 point deficit and Brownfield sitting on a 46-19 lead.

In the third quarter, the Lion press began to jell and rattled Brownfield into a more conservative offensive scheme. Meanwhile, the Lions opened up the airwaves and began bombing the Cubs 2-3 zone from outside. Ozona had a 25 point third quarter but gave up 25 to Brownfield and still faced a 27 point deficit to overcome.

The fourth quarter was the only period that the Lions outscored the Cubs as they picked up 10 buckets plus a free throw for 21 points to Brownfield's 20.

However, when time ran out, the Lions still found themselves behind by a 91-65 margin.

"They were by far the best team we've played," said Porter. "Hopefully, this kind of competition will make us better."

The Lions were led by "Super Frosh" Lalo Rodriguez with 19 points, followed by another freshman, Chris Denman, with 11. Rodriguez now leads the team with a 15 point per game average.

Christmas 1986

By Charles Huffman

There are many different directions that we can look as we attempt to celebrate Christmas in 1986. Conditions in the world are bound to affect us. Our own personal situation is going to influence us. Memories will play their part, and friends and relatives will also be a factor. But as long as Christmas is only what we and others make of it, then it is only a part of that trouble to which we are born and it will come and go as merely a pleasant memory, or as another time we try our best to forget. So our greatest need is to look to God and what He has done for us at Christmas, what He would do for us today, and even forever.

The virgin Mary is a beautiful example of what it means to live by faith. The angel of the Lord came to her and announced the most unheard of thing, that which goes beyond all human possibility and experience. She was a virgin but she was going to have a child. God had chosen her as His special instrument. Through her, God's Son would become man. When Mary was assured that was what God wanted, she responded with: "Let it happen to me according to Thy Word". In faith she offered herself to God for His high purposes.

And Mary had to continue to live by faith. As soon as she became the mother of God's Son everything became harder. Her reputation was questioned. She had to be satisfied with a stable as the place for this great birth. She had to run away to Egypt with the Child to protect Him from king Herod. For 30 years she had to believe that God lived in her home in a very special way. Seeing a little Boy play just like other little boys, she had to see the Savior of sinners, even her own Lord. And seeing her Son, Jesus, dying on a Cross, she had to see the salvation of God. She let it be to her according to God's Word, and had to live all her life by keeping God's Word and pondering it in her heart.

God tells us that in a special way Christmas is the day of His glory. His powerful Word, by whom all things exist, became flesh and lived among us. In the Babe lying in a manger we behold His glory, the glory of the only begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth. The power of God's Word was harnessed in love. In the virgin's Son we know what the righteousness of God is, even as the Apostle Paul declares in 2 Corinthians 5:21, that "God made Him who know no sin to be sin for us, that we might be made the righteousness of God in Him". In the Child of Bethlehem we have peace with God, even the peace that passes all understanding, to keep our hearts and minds in Christ Jesus. In the stable we see Him whom God Himself named Jesus, because He saves His people from their sins.

It is in faith that we also respond to God's call with: "Let it happen to me according to Thy Word". Then we have no other way to live except by that same Word. Only by that Word do we see the love of the Father when everything else becomes dark. Only thru that Word are we led by the Savior's hand when it appears that there's no way open to us. Only in that Word do we recognize that our Father is always working on us to bring us to the image and likeness of His Son, and finally to bring us to Himself when Christ comes again.

So let us remember that whatever the headlines in the newspapers tell us about Christmas 1986, God's headlines proclaim His love for us. They read: "In Jesus, God is our God, "Immanuel", God-with-us; and God-for-us! Fear not! If God is for us, who can be against us? In the name of the Christ Child. Amen.

Law enforcement wives form association

A new organization, The Crockett County Law Enforcement Wives Association, was formed Tuesday, December 2, 1986 at its first meeting at The Inn of the West Conference Room.

The meeting started at 7 p.m. Those attending were: Diane Babbit, Kathy English, Sandra Gonzales, Jill DeLaGarza, Cyndi Simmons, Linda DeLaGarza, Jackie King, JoAnn Babbit and Barbara

Burger.

Temporary officers elected were: Cyndi Simmons, president; Sandra Gonzales, vice-president; Jill DeLaGarza, sec.-treas.; Linda DeLaGarza, reporter.

Activities were discussed and refreshments were served. The meeting adjourned at 8:15 p.m.

All law enforcement wives are urged to attend the next meeting scheduled for Jan. 13, 1987.

Hospital board meets in regular session

The regular meeting of the Crockett County Hospital Board was held Dec. 4 at the Care Center dining room. Members present were Fred Deaton, Aillean Jones, Maria De La Rosa and Jo Davidson. Others attending were Judge Al Fields, Tom Cameron, Troy Williams, Bill Boswell, Elvira Caldwell, Zoe Green, Louis Hall, Joe Moran and Dub O'Bryant.

Judge Fields reported on the visit he, Dick Kirby and Elvira Caldwell made to area hospitals. From their observations, he made several suggestions that could be adopted in Crockett County to lessen expenses.

Board members agreed that all ambulance runs must come to the hospital. It was reported that Medicare and Medicaid will not pay for ambulance runs unless they are absolutely medically necessary. The board also agreed to adjust the rules on using non-certified drivers on the ambulances under emergency situations.

Bill Boswell reported that Dr. Bass is checking the possibility of assuming the medical director position here. Dr. Bass is also teaching advance cardiac life support on Wednesday night to those interested to learn.

Mr. Boswell reported the fire alarm is installed except for being connected at the fire station. This only corrects the mistakes of the past and more updating is needed to pass certification. Estimated cost is an additional $3,750.

The Hospital District legislation was delivered to Austin last week and is being reviewed. Mr. Boswell will keep track of its progress weekly.

After some corrections, a motion was made and passed to accept the hospital by-laws.

The board was informed that a Dr. Patol from Midland wanted to work at the hospital for a few weeks to see about the possibility of settling here. He also stated that Dr. Nunley of Big Lake could be interested in working here. Physician has been expanded to include residents from Abilene. They have eight in their family practice who are in a coverage group. This gives Ozona fourteen doctors to consider.

The board was told that the first state license inspection (not Medicare) was held, and after two small deficiencies were corrected on the spot, the hospital was passed and in order.

The mobile unit for breast cancer screening tested 29 women on the visit here. The service should be available again.

The financial report indicated that deposits of $29,212.88 were made during November with disbursements of $61,087.75. Emergency room visits totaled 163. Lab procedures totaled 182, and there

EDITOR'S NOTE:

The following story is reprinted courtesy the Abilene Reporter.

Frank Sanders, subject of the story, and an old-time cowboy, died June 9, 1982. He was the father of Mrs. Bill [Eula Bea] Sanders of Ozona and Bessie Pearl Thorp of Rising Star. He will be remembered by many as a frequent visitor to Ozona.

COLEMAN. Nobodies. Hundreds of them, most of them forgotten.

Ranchhands. The old kind, back before the advent of the pickup.

"I come to Coleman the first of September in 1900 with my parents from Lee County in East Texas."

Now they are found in the imagination, in fantasized memories...Some of them were quiet, watching the sun go down. Some of them were rowdy, slipping off to the still. Some of them were unlucky, writhing under a fallen horse.

"I tell ye, I can't recollect like I used to...I forget part of it, but I tell ye, it wasn't all roses."

Frank Sanders is one of the old ones, a cowpoke back in the days when almost everything on the ranch was done on horseback. His work was lonely, bruising. Long hours were spent fencing, herding, branding, rounding up strays.

And at 81, Sanders is still a ranchhand, working from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. six days a week on a ranch west of Coleman.

Sitting at home, he pushes himself further into his recliner, his misty blue eyes focusing on images in his mind. The sunlight glowing on his face draws out the wrinkles, silvers his white hair.

When he was 15-years-old, he says, "a fella came along to the ranch where my father worked and offered to hire me at his ranch, and I didn't have enough sense to tell him no."

He began the work he has never quit for a monthly salary of $15, board and a place to sleep.

"That $15 went about as far as $100 does now," he says.

He takes a long pause. Too many scenes are passing by now, too many yesterdays. A slight grin folds his mouth and he continues.

I never could hold a job... I could find em, I just couldn't hold 'em. It seems the ranch I was workin' fer would either get sold or go out of business...There was lots more ranches than there are today."

He can't recall how many ranches he's worked on. He has always jumped around, he says, but every ranch has been in the Coleman area.

"The furthestest away I've worked was in Foard County." He gazes out his back screen door at his tomato plants laden with green produce.

"We'd do fencin', puttin' up water gaps. And if they got a horse they wanted rode, and if you thought you was man enough, you got on 'em."

His mind whizzes now to horses, his eyebrows dance with familiarity.

"But listen," he points with a tanned, gnarled finger. "I been thrown many times. And if a man ever tells ye he ain't ever been thrown, then he's only rode one horse one time. And that was a gentle 'un."

The walls around him are spotted with paintings and photos of horses. He glances at them occasionally.

"A good horse is a friend to you if you're a friend to him." He expounds with the air of a fundamentalist minister reading the scriptures.

"I been ridin' horses since I was seven-years-old, and the best one I've put a saddle on was Ol' Dan. I broke him in in '49."

"He could do everything but write his name... and he'd try to do that."

"Most horses, when you drop the reins, they walk off. But that one would stay put all night long."

He stops to point out a framed snapshot of the quarter horse hanging on the wall.

"Then they sold him." Sanders' wrinkles deepen at the bad memory. "He wasn't old as I was and they hadn't sold me yet."

But he rides a good horse now, almost as good as Ol' Dan.

"He's a dun outa Montana, and he knows what he's doin'." Eyebrows arched, he looks like a man who's put his life savings on a sure bet.

"That dun has cow sense. If you throw that rope out, he'll take ye right down there."

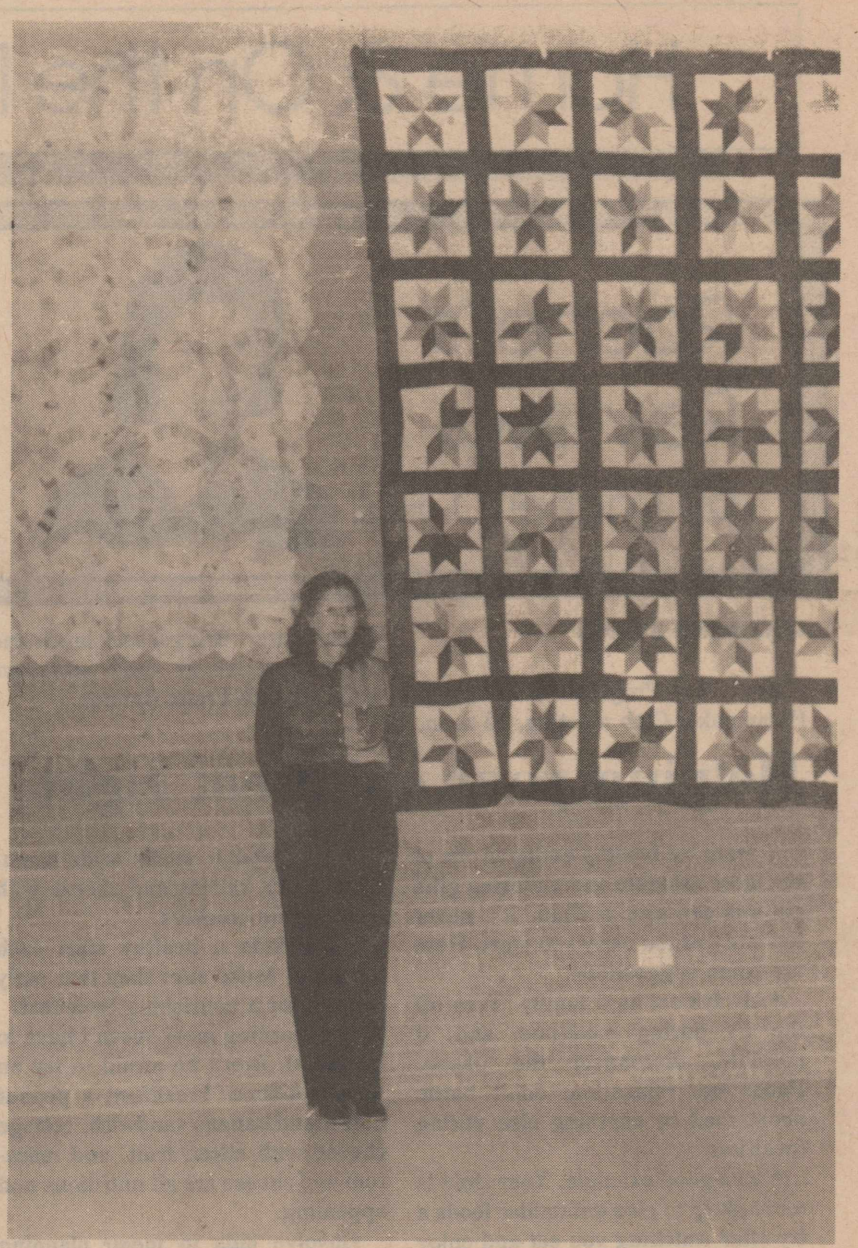

"I don't know what his name is on his registration papers, but we all call him Pokey. When ye let him out the corral, he'll just ease around... But when ye dip him up with them spurs, he's not so pokey then."

His hands rest together on his stomach. His legs stretch under a shroud of flat green khakis. His lips move in and out. He's travelling his past some more.

"Ranchhands today ain't as good as they used to be. We work 'em two or three days and," he whistles, sweeping his arm up and out, "they've gone. Most the ranchin' done today is from pickups."

Sanders' face grows somber as he reviews the hard times.

"Used to, we'd carry a cup in our saddle all the time. That was so we could dip down into a pool for

Quilt show displays talents

Handmade quilts, afghans and pillows were exhibited in a colorful display Nov. 6 at the Civic Center. Although damp, chilly weather caused low attendance, those who viewed the exhibit were full of enthusiasm for the event.

Sponsored by the Crockett County Arts and Crafts Guild, the show was open to anyone in the community who wanted to participate. There were 25-30 quilts shown according to Guild member T. K. O'Bryant.

Exhibitors included: Zella Ruthart, Ruby Olson, Audrey Glynn, Jonny Johnson, Donna Snyder, Donna Sanders, Jeannie Wellman and Mrs. O'Bryant.

Alzheimer's diagnosis difficult

Alzheimer's disease (AD) is a devastating disorder affecting the cells of the brain. Experts used to think that Alzheimer's occurred only in persons under 65 years of age, but it is now recognized as the most common cause of severe intellectual impairment in older individuals. There is no present treatment that can cure, reverse, or stop the progression of this disorder. However, research is being done every day, and new methods of treatment are being attempted. The problem many families face is that doctors may not be able to diagnose AD, and it may seem to those family members that their loved one is changing before their eyes.

Early diagnosis of AD is difficult, so there is little information on the natural history of the disease in its early phases. However, from clinical investigations, it's been observed that patients initially complain of forgetting where they put things and forgetting names they once knew well. At this point, it is still difficult to tell whether this represents the first stage of AD or whether these symptoms are simply benign forgetfulness. After this stage, clinical observations increase. The individual may forget names they have just heard, or remember little of what they just read in a paper or book. They may recall some events fully, but others not at all. The person with AD usually can't recognize or recall the context or related circumstances of a forgotten event or item. At work, performance decreases. The patient may become lost traveling to an unfamiliar location. These symptoms are usually accompanied by mild to moderate anxiety and poor performance on tests.

There is a vast difference in the possible duration of the disease, ranging from two to 20 years. As was mentioned earlier, it is difficult to diagnose Alzheimer's disease at an early stage because it resembles other benign symptoms of aging. Much research is being done in this area, and new discoveries are broadening our knowledge every day. The trick is to stay abreast of these.

UPCOMING EVENT:

Dec. 11 - Progressive Extension Homemakers Club meeting, 12 noon,

Civic Center. Bring a sack lunch and learn more about child protective services with Frank Galindo.

Helping your child eat right

A taste for healthy eating is one of the most valuable and enduring gifts parents can give a child. It's never too late - or too early - to start. Here are some suggestions:

- Always eat as a family. Turn off the TV during mealtime, and, if possible, disconnect the phone. Encourage relaxation; don't battle about food or anything else during mealtime.
- Set a good example. Your child is more likely to give unfamiliar foods a try after watching you eat and enjoy a wide variety of foods.
- Encourage your child to sample a new food, but don't force foods on a youngster. Don't make the new food the price of dessert.
- Keep servings small so children have the satisfaction of cleaning up their plates and asking for "More, please."
- Encourage smart snacking. Keep the kitchen stocked with a selection of healthy hunger stoppers: fresh fruit, vegetable sticks with a nutritious dip, raisins and cheese with whole grain crackers.

- Give kids a healthy start each morning. Make sure they rise early enough for a nourishing breakfast. The morning meal doesn't have to be cereal. Don't be afraid to try an unconventional breakfast; a peanut butter and banana sandwich, cottage cheese with sliced fruit, and macaroni and cheese are all nutritious and appealing.
- Involve kids in menu planning and meal preparation. Children often enjoy helping prepare foods and enjoy eating them, too.

Together, choose one of the main dishes, then let your child help shop for the ingredients. At cooking time, share the assembly tasks. Depending on the young chef's age, you may need to assist with slicing or chopping, turning on range burners and removing hot foods from the oven.

Trees to be trimmed from electrical lines

West Texas Utilities Company in Ozona reports the Blume Tree Service has been contracted to trim trees from some of the main lines in Ozona. The tree service will be working for about two weeks.

"W.T.U. is proud that Ozona has a number of large, beautiful trees that adorn our community and in no way wants to detract from that beauty; however, the reliability of the electric system here is being threatened by some overgrown trees near our lines," said Steve Williams, the W.T.U. local manager. "The arcing that trees can create in heavy moisture causes radio noise, damages the lines and in the event of an ice build up, can create a serious condition that not only causes blackouts, but can threaten the safety of residents in Ozona," Steve added.

The owner of each tree that needs trimming will be contacted, and the tree trimmers will work closely with the owners, to insure only those parts that must be cut are trimmed.

The family of Ed Spoons wishes to thank all who were so kind to us at the death of our loved one.

Thanks to all who sent flowers, cards, memorials and food, and also the ones who called to show they cared and also the ones who came by and visited.

A special thanks also to the Emergency team squad, and to Dr. Carlisle and his staff who took care of Ed for all these years.

We would also like to thank the Sizemore Funeral Home, the Good-fellow Air Force Base and Ralph Moore for the beautiful services - also the ones who sang at the church service.

It all helped in our time of sorrow, and is appreciated more than you know!
