Tourism assessment committee says Sonora hospitality is overwhelming

Recently the City of Sonora, along with Ozona, and Big Lake, was evaluated by a resource team appointed by the Texas Department of Commerce. The four member team evaluated Sonora's potential in attracting tourists to the area.

In the opening comments of the report it stated, "The entire resource team agreed that the hospitality shown to us by everyone was overwhelming. The most important ingredient in successful tourism is that hospitality!"

The results of the assessment are as follows:

- Besides the Caverns of Sonora, there are a number of other facilities that can be promoted to visitors. The golf course, the Steakhouse, the rodeo arena, the downtown area and the Trading Post are all viable attractions for stopover visitation.
- The downtown area, with the museum, jail, depot and outdoor amphitheater, is a veritable diamond in the rough. Organization of a downtown committee, perhaps under the auspices of the local historical association, could help pull these attractions together. Sonora should also take a serious look at the Texas Main Street program as a means of developing the downtown business district. Contact Anice Read at the Texas Historical Commission, 1511 North Colorado, Austin, Texas 78701, 512/463-6092.
- There are several good historic attractions in the downtown area. Restoration of the jail and use of the outlaw history would be ideal. It could tie into the depot and restored home. Many organizations who have difficulty keeping attractions staffed develop volunteer corps. Perhaps retired citizens could be utilized.
- Take a look at highway and directional signage to the downtown business district and the Chamber of Commerce office. The I-10 exit signs seem to be somewhat confusing as to which exit takes one to downtown. We did not see any sign directing visitors to the Chamber office.
- A new, more tourism-oriented, brochure should be developed. Using the Caverns as the main "hook", it could be supplemented by including the other attractions mentioned above. The name, "Sonora", has been romanticized by some of the old Hollywood westerns. The community should capitalize on that theme.

• The current map/brochure is more of a relocation piece than a tourism piece. One should be designed to act as a visitor's guide for guests in the community as well as a fulfillment piece for information requests. It should include accommodations, restaurants, attractions, history, a coded map and other relevant information. If funds are available, it should be printed in full color.

• Since the Chamber's office hours are 9 a.m. - 4 p.m., Monday-Friday, brochure racks should be affixed to the building's exterior for visitors on evenings and weekends.

• With the tales of outlaws on the run and accounts of "High Noon" shootouts peppering the annals of recorded town history, you have the stuff that successful public relations campaigns are made of.

• With its I-10 location, Sonora is ideal for a number of Motorcoach meal stopovers. Packaging the Caverns and a few other things to see and do could result in more overnights in town. The Chamber/Convention & Visitors Bureau has to network with tour operators to sell the packages. Leads from the Texas Department of Commerce, Tourism Division and the availability of inexpensive hotel rooms will give you a good start.

• With the help of Jim Cahill, a historical tour script could be developed for a step-on bus guide. The same information could be incorporated into the visitor guide for individual travelers.

• From discussions with Mr. Cahill at the Trading Post, we learned that attempts have been made to process wool and mohair in local facilities, but that is has proven to be uneconomical. Perhaps now would be a good time to try again since the Texas Department of Agriculture has made additional funds available for the purpose of keeping our agricultural processing here in Texas. The value, from a tourism standpoint, would be the increased visitation in the form of buyers and tradesmen at the processing plants, as well as customers for Texas-made wool and mohair products.

• The Caverns of Sonora are an outstanding and unique attraction. Sonora can use them as the thrust of the marketing program at meetings and trade shows and in co-op promotion and advertising with area towns, such as Ozona, Junction, Big Lake and perhaps even San Angelo. One recommendation specific to the Caverns is to increase the signage on the road from I-10 to the Caverns. The brochure touts: "6 miles west of town". The exit off the Interstate is about six miles west of town but the Caverns are another four or five miles farther down RR1989. Also the directional billboard at the RR1989 exit is placed atop a hill and partially blocked by vegetation. At 70 miles per hour it is very easy to miss!

• While the Caverns host 35,000 - 40,000 visitors annually, the comment was made that most of them do not go on to Sonora. The Chamber could place a display in the Cavern's gift shop with pictures and information with an invitation to visit Sonora. In addition, Cavern employees could be encouraged to inform visitors of other things to see and do in the entire area.

• Kathy Davis should attend more networking activities. Specifically two annual meetings, the Texas Association of Convention and Visitors Bureaus and the Texas Travel Summit, sponsored jointly by the Texas Travel Industry Association and the Texas Department of Commerce. The Travel Summit will be held September 30 - October 2 in Fort Worth this year.

• There are many opportunities for festivals and special events to be developed, including home tours (area surrounding Courthouse Square) during the holidays, Outlaw Days, Mohair Festival, etc.

• If the hunters' welcome is not currently an integral part of Sonora's hunting season it should be considered. Llano provides their hunters with a big welcome dinner, entertainment and other welcoming activities. Check with the Llano Chamber Office.

• Review all local festivals, rodeos, and other special events taking place in Sonora and determine the best means of publicizing them. Make a mailing list of all area newspapers, radio and TV stations. Include as large an area as you deem important, but at least include Midland, Odessa, Big Spring, and San Angelo. Write news releases about upcoming events and send to the media in that area. You could develop a monthly calendar of events with a slogan such as: "Something good is always happening in Sonora and you are invited!"

Note: Sonora does welcome hunters each year with banners that say, "Welcome Hunters", a game dinner with prizes donated by local merchants, and the Chamber of Commerce supplies a list of available deer leases to interested hunters. This was evidently not clear to the assessment committee when they made their report.

Miers' family awarded 1.3 million in civil case

by Marti McLain

July 19, the 7 week civil case involving the Martha Miers, et al and Lone Star Gas, et al ended shortly after midnight. The verdict found Lone Star Gas and Enserch Exploration, Inc. Guilty, but awarded damages less than the probable cost of the gas.

The jury did find that Lone Star Gas and Enserch Exploration, Inc. took gas from the Miers' leases without accurately measuring, recording, or paying for it. The jury also ruled that the companies were guilty of conversion (knowingly accepting gas belonging to the Miers' family and appropriating it as their own without the owner's consent).

The panel found the companies were not guilty of fraud or of "gross negligence" and no exemplary or punitive damages were assessed.

The case had charged that Lone Star Gas Company, Enserch Exploration, Inc., and EO Operating Company had used a "bypass" valve and line to send gas around the pay meters on the Miers' "B" lease in Edwards County.

Lone Star maintained that the pipe and valve were a part of an old gathering system and that the pipe and valve had never been opened.

The Miers' family case was built on evidence given by Claiborne, a petroleum engineer, and Keoster, a reservoir engineer. Both explained evidence that showed that the environment on both sides of the line were the same and that the valve has been open most of the time.

The Miers' family attorneys also charged that "bleed through" had occurred because the valve had been open when the field was shut in. The wells were left on line and the compressor was turned off. With the valve open, the compressor at the Clarkson station down stream would bleed the wells.

Long hours of repetitious testimony from numerous witness droned on for some 45 days and left the jury tired and angry. They received the case at 4:05 p.m. on Thursday and after a short deliberation reported that they were "hung" on the first question of the charge.

Judge Brock Jones of the 112 Judicial District asked them to try again. After a brief break for dinner, the jurors were making progress and decided to continue until they reached a verdict.

The verdict awarded the Miers' family $1.3 million for the actual gas taken and gave $1.3 million for conversion of gas. Several Jurors interviewed thought that the settlement was for $2.6 million.

The way that the charges were worded attorneys think that the total award was for $1.3. Attorneys for both sides will meet with Judge Brock Jones for the final resolution of the case.

August 10 election could result in homestead exemptions

August 10, voters will have the opportunity to vote for a homestead exemption on the district's ad valorem taxation. The County Education District (CED) is proposing an exemption on residence homesteads and also an exemption on the ad valorem taxation for the residence homestead of individuals who are disabled or senior citizens 65 or older. By voting FOR these propositions, taxpayers will receive a 20% exemption of the market value on their residence homestead, while the disabled and senior citizens would receive an additional exemption of $10,000 of the market value of their homestead. The third proposition on this ballot is for taxation of all tangible personal property, other than manufactured homes or that property which is used for the production of income. If you do not want the personal property tax, you should vote AGAINST this proposition.

In the county election, however, the voters will decide if the CED should be able to adopt exemptions from the district's ad valorem taxation. The county is proposing a constitutional amendment which would allow the voters of the CED to adopt certain exemptions for residence homesteads and to provide for the taxation of certain tangible personal property.

This can all be quite confusing, however, if you wish to receive the homestead exemption then you must vote FOR the CED's propositions. In order for this to be effective though, you must also vote FOR the constitutional amendment in the county election that allows the CED to adopt these exemptions.

If you vote AGAINST the county's proposition for the constitutional amendment then any chance at a homestead exemption would be eliminated.

Remember, if you do not exercise your right to vote, you have only yourself to blame if things don't turn out the way you want. The absentee box has been open for 2 weeks at the county annex and as of 8:30 a.m. Tuesday, only two people had voted. Sonora and Sutton County need to voice their opinion on this matter and the only way to do that is for you to vote August 10th.

Letter to the editor

Dear Editor,

This brief note is an informal announcement of my role a Chiropractor. I am both pleased and honored to be able to offer my clinical expertise as a Primary Health Care Provider to Sonora and the surrounding area.

I now own and operate a full time practice in San Antonio. Currently Tuesday afternoons are off so I have decided to dedicate this available time to the fine people of Sonora.

I will open at the Pat Walker Figure Salon at 601 Concho Ave. on Tuesday August 6. This will be a weekly schedule, opening at 3:00 and remaining open as late as necessary to serve the community. I will open Wednesday mornings as early as anyone wishes to come, 'till noon. At this time I will have to hurry back to San Antonio to my clinic for the afternoon patients.

To expedite treatment, I have made arrangements with the Lillian Hudspeth Memorial Hospital for x-ray and/or lab to be done on my written orders. In the event you or someone you know has a recent acute injury, they may call me, in San Antonio before seeing me. This way I can start immediately with the physical examination and be able to initiate treatment sooner.

You may know of friends, family, or associates who could have neurological, muscular, or skeletal problem affecting the quality of their lives. This could range from postural problems, such as Scoliosis, to traumatic occurrences, such as auto accidents and sports injuries. I am also quite adept at helping people cope with the repeated stress and strain of their occupations and lifestyles.

As a Chiropractic Physician, I do a lot more than just move bones. We are all trained to first rule in or out underlying organic pathologies (Differential Diagnosis). Only after this is established, do we concentrate on our specialty. Be assured that any manipulation performed is both gentle and specific, and applied within the realm of the patients tolerance.

You may be aware of certain patients who are not responding to the care they are receiving. The possibility does exist that they would respond to my brand of expertise, if they indeed have a NeuroMusculoSkeletal problem. I, on the other hand, refer patients to qualified Medical Doctors when I suspect a problem that is outside of my scope of practice. Indeed I have talked with Dr. Charles R. Pajestka, M.D. and have made arrangements to co-treat patients that may need both our services.

At this time I ask your help to spread the word sort of speak, in telling your friends and neighbors about my up-and-coming opening. You are cordially invited to come over and let me give you a ten cent tour.

Thanking you in advance and again, looking forward to seeing you soon.

Sincerely in health,
Dr. James I. Brown

Kids ain't the same

I was settin' here wonderin' what to write about this week when (just to show you how disjointed my mind is) a poem, I think by Rolf Flake, come to mind. I can't recollect the words, but the poem tells about 2 cowboys who accidentally get called up to the pearly gates a week early, so to make up for the mistake, Saint Peter says they can be anything they want to for a week. One cowboy says he'd like to spend his time as an eagle, soarin' over the Rockies. The other feller's kind of embarrassed about his request, but finally admits he'd really like to go back to earth as a stud. So he ended up spendin' his last 7 days on earth on a snow tire in Minnesota.

That, for some reason, reminded me of flyin', which reminded me of some of the stunts my cousin Don and I used to pull as kids. Once, we decided to be junior paratroopers, so we snuck out some of Mam's pillow cases and headed for the barn. Didn't neither of us break anything, but one jump apiece taught us a lesson about gravity, then Mama taught us a lesson about borryin' her good bed linens. We were also part mole, I reckon, 'cause we was always diggin' tunnels. One of them tunnels really saved our hides one day, 'cause we decided we needed a club house to go over our great excavation. As it happened, we discovered a big pile of scrap lumber just down the road by Farmer Bascomb's house. (well, we thought it was scraps.) We had just finished the second story and were goin' back for some roofin' materials when ol' Bascomb come a'runnin' out yellin' about thieves and threatenin' to tan our hides. We lit out for the club house, where, lucky for us, we had built a trap door down to the tunnel. That ol' farmer wasn't very fast, but he thought he seen us duck in our newly-built structure. He come a'huffin' and puffin' up, still hollerin' threats of dire consequences. He looked upstairs, but he never seen our great escape hatch down to where we was holed up and shakin' like scared rabbits. He finally give up on us and wandered off, mutterin' not-so-kind opinions of us, but he never come back and took our house apart, so I reckon he wasn't near as mean as we thought at the time. And, thank goodness, he never told our parents, 'cause we'd a'been out there tearin' down our great buildin' with mighty sore rear ends.

Thinkin' about some of the stunts we pulled as kids, (one or two I still won't tell nobody about) I got to thinkin' about kids today and how I almost never see 'em play. I mean "good guys and bad guys," "cowboys and Indians," hide 'n seek, and stuff like that. We used to play baseball or football and half the fun was arguin' about the rules and who done what. Nowadays, when little kids play them games, it's all lorded over by grown-ups with rule books, umpires, referees and such. It sure don't look much like they're havin' fun to me.

When they ain't playin' supervised-by-adults games, they're inside the house playin' them t.v. games and stuff. them things may build good reflexes and finger strength, but they ain't worth a hoot for developin' imagination and ingenuity, and they sure don't do much to help young'uns learn to get along with each other. Kind'a scary when you think about it, ain't it?

Another thing-kids don't have no chores to speak of. Even ranch kids are so busy catchin' the school bus at the crack of dawn and gettin' home late that they don't have time for much more'n their studies, and them teachers sure do pile on the homework! And I've noticed that, lots of times, when the kids raise animals for 4-H, their daddies do more work with the animals than the kids do. I reckon it's 'cause of all the high-powered prizes they get at these big stock shows. So I got to wonderin'-when do kids have time to be kids? The answer I come up with is- I don't you. I know me and my cousin Don had a great time growin' up, and we didn't do too much damage. I mean, the only bone we ever broke was my little brother's when Don threw me down a hill and I landed on Hank's arm, and that didn't slow him down much at all. And I figger we didn't grow up too bad. I'm cookin', writin', and storytellin', and Don's got a good job in the city. Hank's broke arm didn't keep him from becomin' a pilot. But I doubt if any of us ever wants to parachute off the barn with a pillow case again!

Here's a receet that ain't got nothin' at all to do with any of that rantin'. It's one I made up for a church picnic.

Pork Tenderloin A La Biscuits

Take however many whole pork tenderloins you need, dependin' on how many you're fixin' for (Allow about 1/2 pound per person to be safe)
Buy some jars of cinnamon and a grindin' of nutmeg
Smear the applesauce all over the loins
Cover and refrigerate over night
Barbecue the loins the next day
Make a bastin' sauce by mixin' the marinade with some red wine
Keep the loins basted good and cook 'til done

Be sure to cook plenty of meat, 'cause it sure makes good sandwiches, and it ain't bad shredded and cooked with scramble eggs. And find ways to let the kids help, makin' it fun rather than a chore. You'll enjoy the time together and they'll feel like they've accomplished somethin' by helpin'. Y'all keep on cookin'.

Alice was born October 14, 1916 in Bangor Maine, to Mac B. and Edwin E. Sawyer, both native New Englanders. She attended Sonora Schools and graduated from the University of Texas in 1937.

On September 20, 1940, Alice married Cleveland T. Jones, Jr. They ranch on their headquarters ranch, 12 miles northeast of Sonora and the 6 mile ranch south of town until Cleve's death in 1952. Don Jones/Olin Murrell to start off weekend at CWDT

The Covered Wagon Dinner Theater with its beautiful outdoor setting provides tourists and area residents alike with a fun-filled evening for the family. Last Friday evening Mary Angela Sedeno in her brightly colored authentic Spanish dresses, delighted the audience with her traditional Spanish dancing. The winners of the local talent show also took the stage with their musical talents. Don Sessom with his guitar accompanied his daughter Candy as she sang some country tunes.

Saturday evening, Alvin Davis started off the show with some of his cowboy tales. Fiddlegrass with Washtub Jerry followed with an entertaining evening of music.

This Friday night will begin with Don Jones telling some of the history of area churches. The musical entertainment will be provided by Olin Murrell. Olin doesn't just sing to an audience, he relates, sharing stories of commonality, inviting their participation.

Nora Gentry Locklin, soon to be 94 years young, will start off Saturday's show with her many stories. Tim Henderson, often called "Texas finest songwriter", will then finish off the evening with his unique and very entertaining style of music.

Tickets can be purchased at the Sutton County Steakhouse, Devil's River Inn, Sonora Mohair Originals, Shots #5, Chamber of Commerce, Caverns of Sonora, and the Sonora Observer.

For more information you may call 387-3105, 387-5719, or 387-2304.

Health News

by Dr. Rico J. Forlano

Women are concerned about their husbands having heart attacks, but they are not usually concerned about themselves having one. Many women think their greatest health risk is breast cancer, but it may be heart disease. One in nine women 45-64 has heart disease-one in three over 65 have heart disease. After menopause, almost as many women have heart attacks as men, and it is the number one killer of women over 40. Four of the controllable factors that cause heart disease are drinking, smoking, diet, and stress. The reason there is an increase in heart disease in women now is because women have joined the work force in mass numbers. Since women work they get stress from their jobs, eat fast food rather than healthy food, and they tend to smoke and drink more often.

Women are less likely to have heart disease before menopause, but afterward their risk increases drastically. To control your risk of heart disease, you should begin getting proper exercise and eating healthy foods when you are young. If you are interested in preventing early onset of heart disease, you should contact your chiropractic or medical doctor for more detailed information.

Don & Candice Sessom entertained at the CWDT Friday evening.

Fiddlegrass with Washtub Jerry played for the CWDT Saturday evening.

Two-a-days to begin August 12

Football season is just around the corner and there are some important dates that all High School football players need to be aware of. Shoes will be issued on Wednesday, August 7 at 5:00 p.m., to juniors and seniors and to the freshmen and sophomores at 5:30 p.m. Two-a-day workouts will begin on Monday, August 12.

All players entering the 7th and 9th grades must get a physical. Sonora I.S.D. will pay for all 9th grade physicals. All 9th grade athletes should make an appointment at Dr. Pajestka's office to get their physical. All 7th graders may get their own doctor. It is important that the proper physical form is used for the examination. Physical forms may be picked up at the Fieldhouse, Administration building or Dr. Pajestka's office.

Each athlete entering the 7th or 9th grade needs to make arrangements for their physicals as soon as possible to avoid a logjam at the Doctor's office as the season nears. If there are any questions concerning the upcoming season, call coach Bellard at 387-2839 or 387-3632.

Good beer is properly aged. You should be too.

Commission, Feds allow six white-winged doves

PORT ARANSAS--Most Texas dove hunters will be allowed to take six white-wings per day during the mourning dove season, and hunters in the Central Zone will have an extra week during the fall season.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission set the early season migratory game bird season dates during a public hearing July 9 here.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service allowed the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department to increase the whitewing daily bag limit from two to six in all but four Texas counties--Cameron, Hidalgo, Starr and Willacy. In those counties, where the whitewing population still is recovering from a prolonged drought and the 1989 freeze that destroyed much of the citrus whitewing nesting habitat, only two whitewings will be permitted per day during the regular season, the same as last year.

Dove hunters in the Central Zone (see dove hunting zones map) asked the department for a shorter winter season and longer fall season, said

Ron George, TPWD dove program leader. In response, the commission approved taking the last seven days of the winter season and adding them to the fall season in the Central Zone. The Central Zone season this year will be Sept. 1-Oct. 30 and Jan. 3-12.

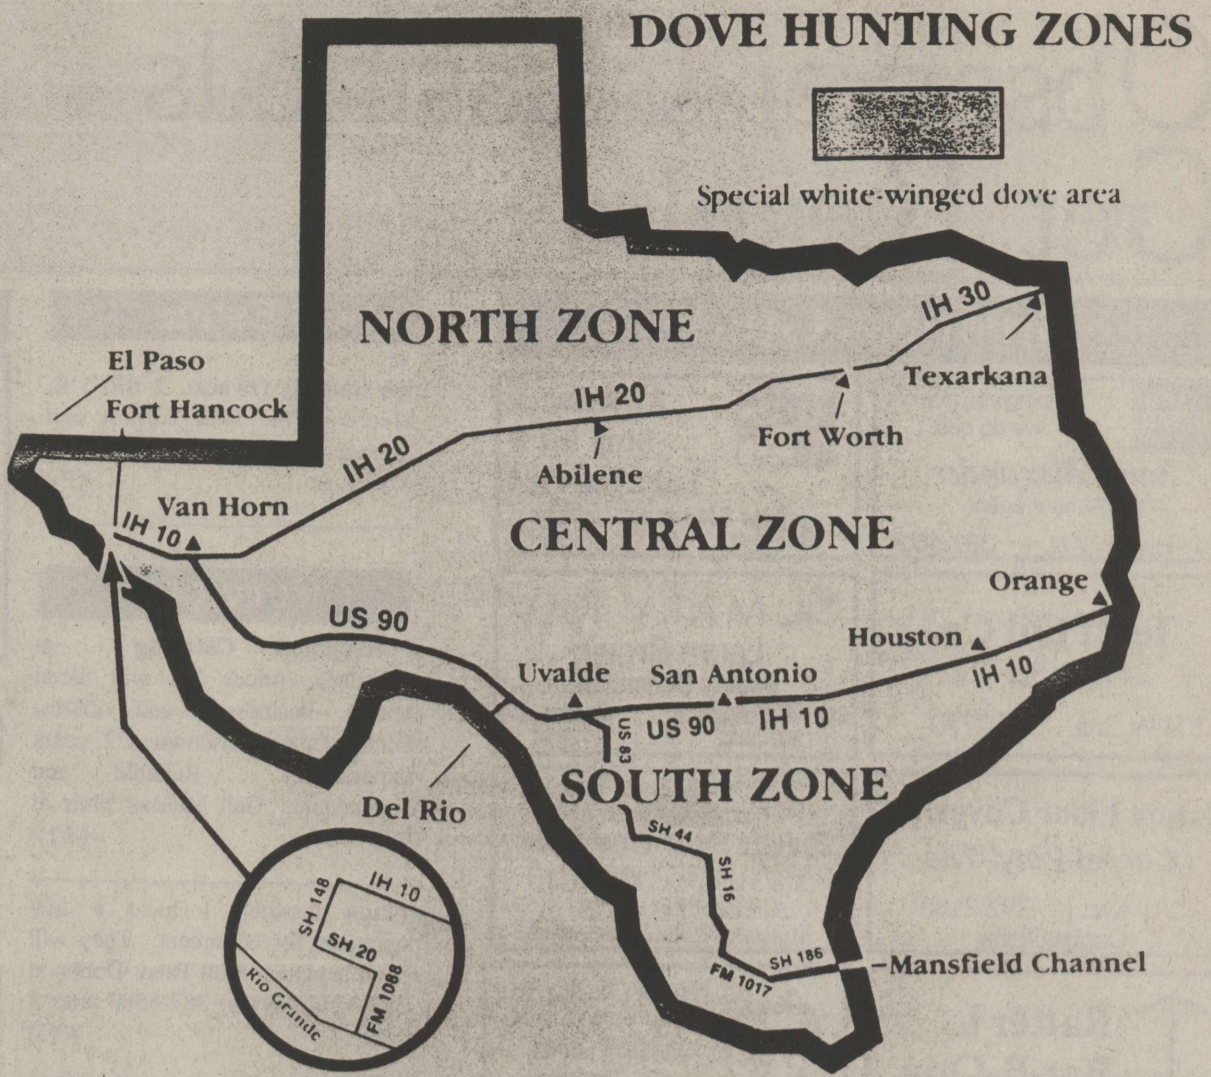

Despite a one-million-bird increase in the continental blue-winged teal population, the USFWS denied a request by the department for a September teal season. This year's 3.8 million teal represent a significant increase over last year's 2.8 million teal but is only slightly higher than the 3.6 million teal that existed when the season first was suspended in 1988. USFWS also denied TPWD permission to have a four-day special white-winged dove season, instead of leaving a two-day season.

Dates for the mourning dove season are: North Zone, Sept. 1-Nov. 11 (ends Nov. 9 in Special White-winged Dove Area) and Jan. 3-19. Daily bag limits in all three zones is 12 mourning, white-winged and white-tipped doves in the aggregate, including no more than six white-winged and two white-tipped doves per day. The only exception is Cameron, Hidalgo, Starr and Willacy counties in the Valley, which will have a daily whitewing bag of two. Possession limit in all zones is twice the daily bag. Shooting hours are one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

The Special White-winged Dove season is Sept. 7-8 and shooting hours are noon to sunset. Bag limit south and east of Del Rio will be 10 white-winged, mourning and white-tipped doves in the aggregate, including no more than five mourning doves and two white-tipped doves per day. Bag limit north and west of Del Rio is 10 white-winged, mourning and white-tipped doves in the aggregate, including no more than two white-tipped doves per day. Possession limit is twice the daily bag. One fully-feathered wing is required on all dressed doves at all times in the South Zone and the Special White-winged Dove Area.

Golfers compete in Sonora Golf Club Scramble

The Sonora Golf Club held an 18 hole scramble on July 19, with 9 holes played in the afternoon and 9 holes played after dark, with a delicious fajita supper being served before the night play began. Special glow balls are used for night play, and glow sticks are placed on the pins on the greens so players can determine pin placements. The glow-in-the-dark balls don't go as far as a normal golf ball, so scores were higher than in the usual 18 hole scrambles.

At the end of play, there were two teams at 9 under. The team of Matt Davis, Kathy Davis, Phil Browning, Pam Browning, and Ed Price won the putt-off when Matt sank his putt to take first place. The other team at 9 under, and second place winners, was Erasmo Lumberas, Allan Prather, Patti Prather, Jane Archer, and Pete Maldonado.

All alone in third place was the team of Virgil Burge, Mike Percifull, Marla Percifull, Danny Weant, Martha Weant, and John N. Casparis with a 7 under.

There was a five way tie for fourth place at 6 under, with the team of Jason Donaldson, Alex Blocker, Melissa O'Harrow, Jerry Northcott, Kevin Snyder, and Jimmy Crowder winning the putt-off. Other teams and their scores were:

Primo Gonzalez, Preston Joy, Dingo Ortiz, Benita Martinez, and Harold Martinez at 6 under.

Steve Thorp, Richard Gonzales,

Elizabeth Ortiz, Albert Fowler, Mike Krieg, and Mike Dillard at 6 under.

Jim Covington, Beck Covington, Randy Sparks, James Edmondson, and Mason Shurley at 6 under.

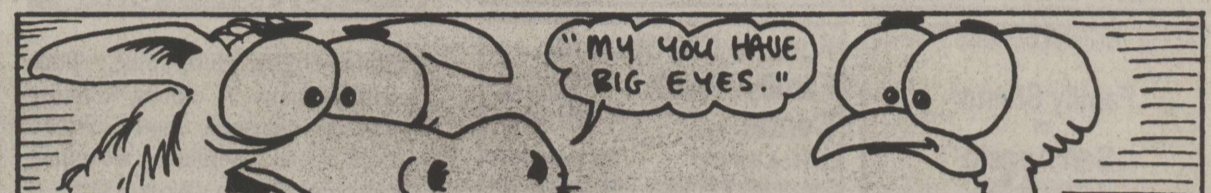

Jack Smith, Lauri Smith, Willie Gutierrez, Mike Holley, and Tommy Holley at 5 under.

Edward San Miguel, Joe Casillas, Robert Day, Pat Day, and George Noriega at 2 under.

Lance Leatherwood, David Martin, Stacey Reiner, Ron Woodard, and Laura Woodard at 5 under.

Steve Lackel, Frank Gamboa, Wes Henson, Tressa Henson, Freddie Virgen, and Buddy Brown at 4 under.

Bob Harris, Papo Sanchez, Mike Moore, Sue Moore, and Steve Short at 3 under.

The land animals with the largest eyes are those of the horse and the ostrich. They are about one-and-a-half times the size of a man's eye.

ACS Cookbooks available

Did you know that with the help of the American Cancer Society Cookbook you can become the prime determinant when it comes to maintaining your own good health? Scientists estimate that as much as 80 percent of cancers are caused by environmental and life-style factors and are therefore-theoretically-preventable.

An important protective factor against cancer-along with proper exercise appears to be proper nutrition. The American Cancer Society advocates a diet high in fiber, low in fat and rich in vitamins A and C. The American Cancer Society Cookbook helps you take care of yourself with more than 200 recipes (from appetizers to desserts), assuring you of a delicious healthy feast every meal of the day. Grams of fat and calories per serving as well as fiber rating follow each recipe.

Your copy of the American Cancer Society Cookbook is available for $17.95 (plus $3.14 postage and sales tax) from the Texas Division office. You cannot buy this cookbook through your district or Area offices, but $10.00 per book sold is credited to the purchaser's unit Crusade income. The cookbooks also are available at bookstores, with a portion of the sales contributed to the American Cancer Society. Ask any volunteer.
