Kitty's Korner By Kitty Montgomery

I am thoroughly enjoying the library this summer. Due to the decline of the novel, I am enjoying books of mystery and suspense. Had to give up reading novels because of the trend to stark realism. I read to escape reality, not to come face to face with it in its most brutal form. The "angry young men" are beginning to make me angry and I have decided to boycott all best sellers.

Best sellers are best sellers only because they have been lambasted by literary critics and banned in one place or another. This automatically creates the urge in the reading public to rush out and buy the book. Thus, a best seller is created and the gullible public made it so.

Even writers with tremendous talent are forced to go along. They have to eat too, so they write a very good novel, complete with plot, good characterization and all the trimmings then fill it up with enough trash and shock material to make a best seller.

Of course, there are a few exceptions, but I can't recall one since "To Kill a Mockingbird" topped the best-seller list.

However, the library caters to everyone's tastes and I'm sure I will be able to fill my summer reading hours pleasantly without delving into the current best sellers.

The new bank building is coming along right on schedule. So far it is hard to tell what it is really going to look like and from its present appearance it could be anything. I'm inclined to go along with a lady of my acquaintance, who was discussing it at lunch the other day. She said she had been watching the progress with great interest and in its present state it did not look very attractive. Then as an afterthought she added, "but then I don't suppose many things are very pretty when stripped down to the bare facts."

According to the calendar, yesterday was the first day of summer, also the longest day in the year (an hour longer this year, thanks to daylight saving time).

I thought summer began weeks ago. However, I was just judging by the large number of tourists going through, the civil rights riots in many large cities, the heat in our area of the country and my short temper. These are all pretty good harbingers of summer and have been for the past few years. Maybe the signs of summer just came earlier this year.

Justice has prevailed, as Cassius Clay, alias Muhammad Ali, Black Muslim minister, predicted before his trial in Houston earlier this week. Justice came in the form of a five-year prison sentence and a $10,000 fine after the jury returned a verdict of guilty of refusing to serve in the armed forces. So there really is some justice left. However, if the case makes its way to the Supreme Court, it will be reversed for one reason or another, you may be sure.

Ozona Home Demonstration Club will meet next Monday at 1:30 p. m. at the Chamber of Commerce Building.

Slides of Viet Nam will be shown and the public is cordially invited.

Son of Ozona Couple American Writes Of Flight From Libya Ahead Of Arab Mobs After Outbreak Of War With Israelis

Mr. and Mrs. John Bohannon received a letter from their son and his family earlier this week telling of their escape from Tripoli, Libya, where he was employed by Oasis Oil Company of Libya. Inc. They were evacuated from Tripoli Thursday, June 8.

The family learned of the Arab - Israeli war as they were packing to leave their villa on June 2. Mrs. Bohannon learned of the war first and was warned not to go into the town as there were large demonstrations. However, Mr. Bohannon and son, Steve, had arrived in town and discovered shops closed and angry crowds demonstrating around the American Embassy. They immediately returned to the villa.

During the night they heard explosions and shots from the city. As soon as the government curfew was over at 6 a. m. Mr. Bohannon and his son went into town to pick up the family travel belongings, which had been taken to a company transit apartment house. They discovered the building had been burned during the night and at least half of it was gone. Luckily they found their belongings intact on the top floor and retrieved them without loss.

They learned later that many Jewish people had been killed and all the Jewish shops in town had been burned and looted. The apartment building had several Jewish shops on the lower floor and they surmised this was the reason for the burned building.

Five cars left the oil company's residential sector for Wheelus Air Base, which was across town. They arrived without incident and discovered (Continued on Last Page)

Three Highway Accidents Result In Minor Injuries

Three automobile accidents were investigated by Highway Patrolman Orville Perry, during the past week.

The first accident occurred 29 miles south of town on the Johnson Draw Road around 9:45 Friday night. Pablo Ruiz, ranch employee, was driving to town with his family when a car collided almost head-on with the 1951 Buick he was driving. The other car left the scene of the accident, but a description and part of a license was given by Ruiz. The Ruiz family suffered superficial cuts and bruises. The car was a total loss.

Both the other accidents occurred Sunday. The first was around 8:00 a. m. at the intersection of Hwy 290 and 163. A 1954 Buick, driven by Francisco Perez Lara, traveling south on Hwy 163, was struck on the right side by a 1966 Pontiac convertible driven by Lucy Elizabeth Smith of San Francisco. Two occupants of the Smith car were treated and released at the hospital. Both drivers claimed the light was green when the collision occurred. No charges were filed. Damage was estimated at $150 to the Buick and $100 on the Pontiac.

Harold D. Manning of Midland was treated for superficial injuries in the emergency room of Crockett County Hospital and released after he ran off the road 2 miles west of town on Hwy 290, Sunday afternoon around 3 o'clock. The '61 model Volkswagen he was driving overturned twice and came to rest upright in a barrow ditch heavily damaged. Manning was charged with DWI.

His parents left here Tuesday to identify the body and make final arrangements.

His parents moved here from Mississippi two years ago. They reside in a mobile home at Lemmon's Trailer Courts. Mr. White is an employee of Dual Drilling Co.

Crockett Gets Discovery; Gas Field Extended

Crockett County gained a discovery, one field gained an extender and another location for a confirmer.

James G. Brown & Associates, Midland, completed as a Pennsylvania oil discovery its No. 1 C. T. Harris, Crockett County multipay prospect, 22 miles south of Big Lake and 1 1/2 miles north of the Escondido (Ellenburger, Fusselman and lower Pennsylvania) field.

It was finalized for a calculated, absolute open flow of 741.6 barrels of 44 gravity oil, with gas-oil ratio of 1.750-1. Potential was based on a 10-hour flow of 309 barrels of oil natural through a 20-64-inch choke and perforations at 8,583-95 feet, with tubing pressure of 1,000 pounds.

Operator has plugged off Fusselman perforations at 8,937-47 feet and will dually complete the strike from the Ellenburger through perforations at 9,340-400 feet. No gauges have been released from either of the above zones, nor had any been released from the Pennsylvania zone.

While being drilled it flowed gas at the estimated rate of 15 million cubic feet daily and oil at the estimated daily rate of 600 barrels during the eight hours the well was out of control when it blew out at 8,937 feet in the Fusselman. Reversed out was 71 barrels of 41 gravity oil.

Location is 1,836.4 feet from the north and 2,173 feet from the west lines of 12-3-WCRW.

The Crockett County Ellenburger area of the Brown-Basset multipay field gained its fourth producer and a 3/4-mile north and very slightly east extension with completion of Shell Oil Co. No. 1-109 Mitchell, prospective Wolfcamp opener, 39 miles southwest of Ozona for a calculated, absolute open flow of 60 million cubic feet of gas per day.

AS ONE WAR WAS NOT FOUGHT

We've been wondering what would have happened had the Israelis fought the Arabs using the ground rules that restrict our men in Vietnam. Let's say there had been a phone call from the chief of state of Israel to the commanding general when the action in the Middle East was building to a crescendo, like the following:

Hello, is this General Dayan? This is the Premier, calling from Tel Aviv.

General, we are getting some disturbing reports about the way you're running the war against the Arabs and I'd like to offer a few suggestions. As some of my advisers point out, there are a lot of serious political considerations that you're ignoring completely.

I know you're in the middle of things and these advisers are far from the action, but look, General you just can't ignore world opinion. And world opinion is dead set against winning wars, escalation, and things like that. Do you want us to start getting demonstrations here, like in the United States?

But that's only part of it, General. You also overlook the fact that nowadays you don't fight a war to win but to get your opponent to the negotiating table. You think what you're doing is going to get Nasser to sit down with us?

All right, General, I know our people want victory. But why can't you give them something to cheer about without being so destructive? Never mind smashing up equipment they're buying on the installment plan from Russia. Turn your fliers loose in the Sinai Desert and let them blast away at the rocks. Or maybe they can find an oasis somewhere. But make sure there aren't any people around. We have some fellows in the Foreign Relations Department who'll start holding hearings if they suspect we've injured any civilians. And that fellow from CBS-television in New York may show up to do a series about civilian casualties.

And there's something else, General. Some of the guys in the computer department ment are unhappy about the cost-effectiveness aspects of this war. They say it's out of balance. So you'd better stop and prepare some studies to show what we're getting for what we've invested. Send it in quadruplicate, and then stand by in case we need you back here for hearing.

Now look, General, I know you're supposed to be the military leader. But there's more to a war than fighting, and you know what Truman had to do with MacArthur when he forgot that. So if you can't stand the heat you'd better get out of the Sinai.

Or maybe what I mean to say is, cool it. If you can't fight a war without making people mad at you, we'll get someone who can.

NOTED AND PASSED

Stop The Presses: It went unnoticed, or at least unreported in the press, that the voice of the Communist Party in the United States, the Worker was left speechless by the outbreak of war in the Middle East. The Worker publishes each Tuesday and Friday. The Tuesday, June 6, issue never appeared. Nor was any explanation given. No party official in the United States dared to take responsibility for comment on the Arab-Israeli war. And Moscow had not sent the word. And that documents anew how independent of Moscow the Communist Party in this country really is. No explanation for skipping the issue has yet been published.

She Told 'Em: Out in California, where they grow a lot of nuts, a curious new custom was recently started in churches which might be described as Orthodox Liberal. To express their outrage when a convicted murderer was executed — the first in ten years — certain clergymen tolled their church bells.

Said Mrs. Ronald Reagan, wife of the Governor: "I think it would be nice, too, if they rang church bells every time a man is murdered."

Why Buy? The peace-loving Soviet Union is reported to have offered to sell the government of India 200 of the latest type fighter-bombers, and India is said to be seriously considering the offer while exploring the possibility of borrowing the money from the United States.

We think the Indians should hold off. When the time is ripe the Communists will send India all the planes, tanks and guns needed — for Communist control. It's all down in writing. In Lenin's writings. And we do recall that the Communists sent India a few samples not many months ago, via Red China. Meanwhile, the Indians could use all that money for buying food for the country's starving millions.

Recipe of the Week

From Kitty's Kitchen

Super Hamburgers

1 lb. ground beef
1/4 cup buttermilk
3/4 cup cubed cheddar cheese
1/2 cup chili sauce
1 teas. salt
1 teas. dry mustard
1/4 teas. pepper
1/4 teas. allspice
6 hamburger buns

Split buns in half and spread cut surfaces with butter. Combine other ingredients, adding the pepper and allspice last, and mix lightly with fork. Spoon a generous amount of meat mixture on each bun half. Spread over buns, so edges are well covered. Broil 4 or five inches from heat for seven to eight minutes. Serve with a crisp relish and soup.

This is especially good during the hot summer months when you are looking for a good quickie meal.

The hamburgers are truly different, with bits of not quite melted cheese and a tangy flavor added by the butter-milk and seasonings. Not ordinary open-faced hamburgers by any means, but a truly flavorful moist burger your family will really enjoy.

Why not top it off with homemade ice-cream.

Wonderful and Interesting Tour Of Europe Reported by Lady Travelers

Mrs. Ira Carson of Ozona and Mrs. Massie West of Del Rio returned this week after a five-weeks tour of Europe. Their description of the tour was "wonderful and interesting."

They enjoyed visiting the historical and scenic places along with an evening cruise on the Seine River and dinner overlooking the city of Paris, high up in the Eiffel Tower. They also attended the Follies Bergere while in Paris.

From the city of Nice they drove over to Monte Carlo for dinner and an evening at the Casino. They enjoyed a leisurely ride in a gondola thru the canals in Venice as well as a trip on the Rhine Steamer with the ancient castles on each side of the busy Rhine River.

In Vienna they saw the famous White Lipizzaner Horses practice their steps in the Spanish Riding School and had dinner one evening in a wine cellar.

Tyrolean folk dances were colorful in Innsbruck as well as the drive through the Austrian Alps, where snow was baked up nine feet high on either side of the road. The chair lift in Switzerland, high in the Alps, was spectacular they reported.

Taking a night steamer across the channel from Amsterdam to England, they enjoyed dinner and a show at "The Talk of the Town". They attended a showing of the popular play "Cactus Flower."

While in London they rode the tube (subway) and the red double decker buses. They took pictures of the "Mod" fashions on Carnaby Street.

Both ladies thought the tour was most enjoyable and interesting. However, they said they felt some tension in Paris during the transportation strike and during a demonstration in Heidelberg, also when touring the city of Brussels after a large department store had been burned while featuring U. S. merchandise. The attitude of the people was largely responsible for this feeling.

Needless to say, they were both happy to arrive home.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Surely every American should be concerned at the apparent persecution of one American and one conservative organization by the Johnson Administration. Billy James Hargis and the Christian Crusade organization of Tulsa, Oklahoma, of which I am proud to be a part, is going through unending persecution at the hands of the Johnson administration in an effort to suppress the freedom of speech and religious freedoms of both Dr. Hargis and our organization.

Christian Crusade has been under attack by the Internal Revenue Service for the last five years regarding its tax-exempt status. Christian Crusade is not anti-Semitic, anti-Catholic, anti-

Negro, or a 'hate' organization of any kind. It is simply an anti-communist, Christian organization that has been on the radio for twenty years, opposing the enemy of the church — communism within and without.

In 1961, Walter Reuther submitted to President Kennedy and Attorney General Bobby Kennedy a "memorandum" in which he called for action against Dr. Hargis and Christian Crusade. I have a copy of this Reuther Memorandum photostated from the original and released by the now Senator Bobby Kennedy. If you have not seen this Reuther Memorandum, I will be glad to send you one.

On pages 20 and 21 of the Memorandum, Walter Reuther called upon the Kennedys to "dam up the funds" underwriting Christian Crusade. He specifically asked President Kennedy to "revoke the tax-exempt status of Hargis' Christian Crusade" and investigate those radio stations carrying his broadcasts and make them "assign comparable time for an opposing point of view."

Christian Crusade has insisted that the IRS findings are vague and requested that the IRS identify the publications, broadcasts, sermons, or specific actions which the IRS had concluded as being for the purpose of influencing legislation. To this day, this information has never been supplied. Yet, on November 13, 1966, the IRS did revoke the tax-exempt status of Christian Crusade.

And, since that time, the offices of Christian Crusade in Tulsa have been harassed constantly by investigators for the IRS, seeking ways to tax them out of existence.

If they succeed in doing this, no fundamental church or conservative organization, no individual who votes conservative is going to be free from similar action in the future. This will be the end of freedom — freedom of speech and freedom of worship.

Sincerely,
Mrs. E. L. Dyer

Antelope Count In Trans-Pecos Begins

San Angelo — Trans-Pecos wildlife personnel are preparing for their yearly counts of antelope in some three million acres of Trans-Pecos rangeland, according to wildlife Supervisor Jack K. Parsons.

Each year wildlife workers of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department fly criss-cross patterns at crop dusting altitude throughout the Trans-Pecos and tally every animal as either buck, doe or fawn.

In 1966, 5,630 antelope were counted with approximately 1,600 head being legal bucks. The counts for 1967 will not be completed until mid-July.

ON AN EVEN KEEL

Young Stan learned to row this summer. It was hard work but he didn't complain about the blisters. He was a captain in control of his ship, and very proud of his new position!

Being in control is often hard work, even for adults. Many people wish they could control their tempers, or perhaps curtail bad habits, but they fail to find within themselves the strength of will that would help them.

When problems are too big for us, that's the time to ask God for assistance. We are His children and He knows all our weaknesses. Through church attendance and prayer, we can be guided to a more serene approach to daily life. We will find His presence a constant support as we begin to take pride in our new possession . . . self control.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read you Bible daily.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS

From Your State Capitol

Austin, Texas — Railroad Commission authorized Texas oil industry to produce an additional 2,268,000 barrels of oil during the last two weeks of June in view of curtailed supplies from the unsettled Middle East.

Commission increased the June allowable from 33.8 per cent to 35.9 per cent, retroactive to June 1. This figure will permit maximum oil production of 3,112,191 barrels daily compared to current 2,992,236 barrels. Commission postponed setting an allowable for July but another moderate increase is almost certain.

State officials, conscious of the Legislature's special tax session looming next year, see a possible revenue windfall (which could reduce the next tax need) from the crisis-caused oil production jump.

Drivers Points — Auto drivers may have forgotten, but they will be reminded of "points" starting August 1.

That's when the new insurance plan adopted last July by the State Board of Insurance begins to show on insurance rates. Drivers will pay 15 per cent more for insurance if they have one point charged against them, 35 per cent for two points, 60 per cent for three points and 90 per cent for four points.

Points are assessed for accidents or traffic law violations which came after August 1, 1966, when the plan was adopted. Penalties will apply when auto insurance policies are bought or renewed after August 1, this year.

14-Year-Olds Can Drive — Fourteen-year-olds who complete driver education before August 28 still can get a license good until its regular expiration date.

Homer Garrison Jr., Director of Texas Department of Public Safety, issued the interpretation following numerous calls about new licensing law amendments.

BURKBURNETT, 1919 — North Texas ranchlands had been producing oil since 1905 and early Burburnett production started around 1912 but by 1919, when this picture was made, it was one of the state's leading oil boom centers.

Recent visits to East Texas by high ranking government officials have added greatly to the interest expressed in Texas' fabulous Big Thicket.

Many Chambers of Commerce in the Big Thicket area have received numerous inquiries from out-of-state folks seeking a "looksee".

This is great, for it shows that out-of-states as well as Texans are interested in the vast natural outdoor treasures located within our state.

You too should plan to visit this heavily forested area. But don't do it alone. Remember — it covers approximately three million acres.

So, play it safe, don't venture into the Thicket alone, unguided or inadequately informed. The unwary soon find themselves hopelessly confused. Even lifelong Thicket residents can ... and have ... become lost.

Growth is so thick in the Big Thicket that just 100 yards off the highway, all sounds of motor traffic are erased. It is so dense that in some places you can neither see or hear an airplane passing directly overhead.

But, don't let all this frighten you. Guided tours are available. And there are a number of clearly marked trails. Full information on these can be obtained from Chambers of Commerce in the nearby towns.

Big Thicket holds unbelievable wealth for the outdoorsman. A good guide can put you on to bears, panthers, deer, fox, mink, otter, wild turkey, wild hogs, squirrel, wild swamp rabbits, etc. But be sure to check hunting laws before you try gunning these animals.

Swamp areas — and there are plenty of them — contain an abundance of huge alligators, snakes, frogs and fish. A number of those oxbow lakes in the Big Thicket contain some real bruising black bass and crappie that are as big as ham steaks.

Fishing borders on the fantastic. For one thing, most of these lakes rarely have been fished. And the black bass aren't plug shy. Just get the plug in the water and a big black will quickly dispute possession.

Only skill needed is ability to cast without snagging the lure in an over-hanging tree.

A word of caution in fishing any of the lakes. Be wary of snakes. They are as thick as spaghetti in an Italian restaurant.

Never venture into the Big Thicket without a camera and plenty of color film. You can capture ... on film ... a tremendous variety of wildlife and birdlife. If you are interested in flowers, picture opportunities are varieties of wild orchids, including the rare winter white orchid.

Also in the Thicket are a great variety of trees, many of which grow to enormous size.

The Thicket is most colorful in the spring and early summer when the many growths are in bloom or flower. Birdlife also is more abundant at this time of the year. But even if you visit the Thicket in the fall or the dead of winter, you will find it colorful and interesting.

There is a strong move underway to get the area proclaimed as a national park. Now, with such heavy emphasis on tourism, this move is almost certain to come.

Washington News Letter

Congressman O. C. Fisher

Is Thurgood Marshall, President Johnson's latest appointee to the Supreme Court, a lawmaker or a jurist? That questing is being pondered by many.

Most people who know him best do not regard the new appointee as a very good lawyer. Although he has had some judicial experience by virtue of a Presidential appointment, his chief claim to fame is his record as an effective civil rights leader.

The importance of the Marshall appointment cannot be over-emphasized. He replaces Justice Tom Clark who as expected resigned because the President appointed his son, Ramsey, Attorney General. Justice Clark was often the "swing man" in 5-to-4 decisions. While Clark was a liberal, he bucked Warren and his cohorts on issues relating to subversive activities and crime. This did not please many of the liberals.

But despite Clark's dissents, Warren has usually had his way because in most cases he could command a one-vote majority on the court. A one-vote switch could have upset the Warren pattern, but the Chief Justice was buttressed by the appointment of liberal Abe Fortas less than two years ago — and is now strengthened even more by the Marshall appointment. Hereafter there will be fewer 5-to-4 decisions and more 6-to-3 decisions.

The simple fact is that in a whole series of decisions, "justice" has been held clearly to favor the accused, regardless of the crime, regardless of the evidence of guilt.

As is well-known, the Supreme Court in recent years has been not merely interpreting and clarifying law it has been writing it.

Hence, the importance of the appointment of Thurgood Marshall. There is every reason to believe the net effect of this appointment will be to add one more to the Warren majority on the Supreme Court. It is for that reason that the liberals acclaim the choice.

By A. R. Rutherford

The admission of Alaska to the Union as the forty-ninth state has revived a great interest in the history and local color of what was once considered the frozen, barren North. One of the most romantic and legend-surrounded activities of Alaska is the sport of dog-team racing. The object of team racing is not simply the recreation of the contestants nor the spectators. In the far North, it's a serious business. The purpose is the development of the sled-dog breed. Dogs mean the difference between life and death when there's no other means of available transportation. As evidence of this, simply recall if you can, the importance of the dash which saved Nome in 1925. This was when Seppala took the serum in to stave off the diphtheria epidemic.

ered that 95% of the Arabs believed the Egyptian propaganda that American planes were taking part in the Israel air raids on Egypt. The letter stated that the Arabs did not believe the Israelis could beat them without U. S. assistance.

Before leaving the air base the Bohannons learned that some Americans had been hurt in Tripoli and a car occupied by 2 American men had been bombed. They felt fortunate to be safely on the American base.

American planes were flying air force dependents to Spain, Germany and other places, with planes leaving every 20 minutes throughout the day. At this point evacuation was voluntary for oil company personnel and the Bohannon family decided to wait for their passports. The passports arrived from the Oasis office Thursday afternoon and the family immediately boarded an Air Force C-124 cargo plane full of oil company personnel.

Upon arrival in Naples they were told of mobs trying to enter the American section where most of the oil company families lived for looting and burning, also, that Russia was launching a drive for nationalization of all U. S. oil holdings there.

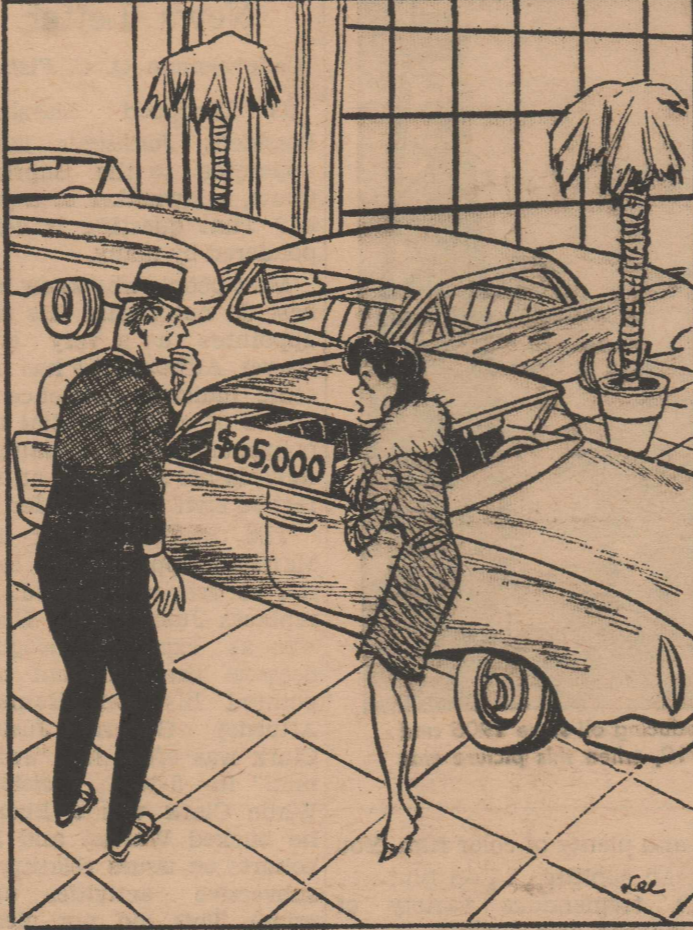

Mr. Bohannon has accepted an offer to take a position with Conoco in its research and development division in Ponca City, Okla. They are to be there July 26. They plan to spend a few days in Rome and Amsterdam, then will fly to New York with their sons, John and Steve.
