HANOI'S VICTORY

It isn't very often that the Congress of the United States is unanimous on an issue. We haven't stopped to make a precise count, but we're certain that the unanimous votes in Congress in the past decade can be counted on the fingers of one hand.

Eight years ago, in 1959, there was a unanimous vote. Congress resolved that the third week in July should be observed as Captive Nations week. And it proceeded to name 21 "captive nations," whose freedom fighters deserved US support. The language of the resolve was bitingly clear. It opposed any "peaceful coexistence" with Moscow unless and until the Captive Nations recovered "their freedom and independence."

It must make members of the Congress a little ill to observe the contempt with which the Kremlin and the residents at the White House have treated this mighty resolve. Three consecutive Presidents have given the annual observation flip-flop service. And the Kremlin can scarcely conceal its amusement at the spectacle of the resolute Congress, less than a decade later, tolerating the shipment of even armament accessories to the jailers of the Captive Nations.

Twenty-one nations were named in the original resolution. Not one has been freed. One nation has been added. It was a favorite vacation spot for many members of the 1959 Congress: Cuba. Moscow added this 22nd nation 90 miles from our shores, and in 1967 the President of the United States could make a State of the Union address to the Congress without even mentioning Cuba.

One of the originally named 21 Captive Nations was North Vietnam. How long has it been since you read or heard any reference to the tragic plight of the 17 million North Vietnamese held "captive" by their Communist oppressors? Hanoi already has won more in the war than it dared dream. It has a commitment from the President of the United States that our war aims are to curb aggression in the South. There is not even a mention of the 17 million captives of Communism in the North.

And do not for one minute think that this fact is lost on the heads of State in Asia. Or Hanoi, or Peking. Both poke fun at Uncle Sam's resolve. Eight years isn't a very long time in history. And it was only four years after the resolution that President John F. Kennedy issued a proclamation that Peking quotes with satirical delight. Kennedy asked that the people of the United States "observe such a week with appropriate ceremonies and activities."

What do you suppose he meant by that? Eating crow every day of the week?

SCHOOLS AND UNIONS

We commend to your attention four news items which have appeared in recent days:

Item: On June 16, the teachers in Baltimore's public school system voted in an election to determine which of two unions would represent them in contract talks with the school board. The Baltimore Teachers Union (AFL-CIO affiliate) won, by 329 votes, over the National Education Association. On July 8, three weeks later, the executive committee of the National Education Association invoked "sanctions" against the Baltimore public school system.

Item: The executive committee of the National Education Association has given its executive secretary authority to invoke sanctions against the public school system in Fort Wayne, Indiana.

Item: In New York City, 30,000 teachers are reported to have signed union pledges to "resign" if a satisfactory contract has not been signed by the board of education and the union by August 1. As this is written there have been more than 100 fruitless bargaining sessions.

Item: On June 6, the National Education Association urged all its members throughout the country to boycott the "financially starved" public schools in the State of Florida. Presumably this means that teachers in Florida are advised not to renew their contracts, and teachers outside the state are not to seek jobs in Florida.

There are more items which might be listed; indeed, one might fill the page with such items. There is no need to do so. The pattern is clear, and so is the big question which we must answer: If the State of Florida can be boycotted, when and under what circumstances will our State be boycotted? When will some union official, or the executive secretary of the National Education Association move to instruct teachers to refrain from signing contracts to teach in this State?

Clearly the incidents noted above are test cases — a probing of the willingness of responsible officials in the areas named to submit to unions dictators. Fort Wayne, Baltimore, New York and Florida are — and were meant to be — implied threats against us, too. No city, no county, no State is immune.

These are ominous precedents which parents, school board members, and State legislators will do well to reflect upon forthwith. And just maybe the school boards will want to consider some boycotts of their own.

gers and coaches of both major and minor league, who put in endless hours of hard work and sacrifice to make the program a success, including all sponsors who contributed to the program.

To all mothers and those who helped in the concession stand.
A very special thanks to Mrs. Bob Stephens, who has served as league secretary the past two years and put in a great deal of time keeping the concession stand in order. I do appreciate her time and effort in making it a success.

Many thanks to the Ozona Stockman for giving us an opportunity to report game results.

Last but not least, thanks to the 150 boys, without whom the season would not have been possible. Also, may we extend our best wishes to the all star team.

Very truly yours
Bill Lewter, President

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

BB Loading Trick
Kids have a hard time re-loading their air rifles with BB's. They can make the operation easier by saving Dad's oiling cans and filling them with BB shot. Then they need only insert the nozzle of the can into the loading magazine to pour in the shot.

Fishing With An Active Cork
One of the drawbacks to fishing with a cane pole and cork float is that your cork usually stays in one spot. You can make your cork and line travel every-which-way by sticking a couple of six-inch-long feathers in the top of the cork. Do this and your flat will range over a wide area, in keeping with the breeze, carrying the bait in a very life-like manner.

Another Coffee Can Use
Campers have discovered that an empty coffee can — the kind with a plastic lid — makes an excellent container in which to store a roll of toilet tissue. Keeps the paper handy and dry.

Tying Up Your Dog
When a tree or post isn't handy to tie your dog to, slip a couple of good-size rocks in an old tire. This will serve as a secure hitching post.

Deer Hunter Tip
Most deer hunters check out the area they intend to hunt before hunting season opens. When you find a deer run and want to know if it is used often, sink a forked stick in the ground on each side of the trail. Then lay a thin twig across the trail, resting it in the forks of the uprights. Next morning if you find that the horizontal twig has been knocked off the forked sticks, you will know the game trail is in use.

Protecting Boots From Snow
If you hunt and fish in the snow belt of Texas you have trouble with snow creeping in over your boot tops and wetting your feet. Seal off this space by running a strip of masking tape over the junction where trousers meet boots. This will hold pants' bottoms and boot tops together.

Check Your Compass
Before leaving home be sure to check your pocket compass so that in an emergency you can quickly locate the four compass points. When in strange surroundings it is easy to become confused as to which end of the compass points North. Since North and South are painted different colors on most compasses, it is wise before going afield to mark on the back of instrument which color represents North.

Improvised Toaster
Toast in camp usually is either clammy or burned to a crisp. Either way, it is far from appetizing. But the camp cook who will place a piece of metal plating on top of the camp stove, or set it in the bottom of a skillet to serve as a toaster, will have the fellows standing in line for seconds.

THE LESSON OF NEWARK
These past several days in Newark, N. J., running from July 12 to July 17, 1967, saw rioting, arson, looting and murder almost unparalleled in the history of American cities. A UPI story on Saturday morning July 15th said "Gov. Richard J. Hughes declared a state of emergency and roaming bands of Negroes battled police and the state militia."

The story proceeded to say, "In declaring the state of emergency, Hughes called the situation 'very dangerous' and deteriorating. Hughes said earlier the rioting and widespread looting 'can only be classified as open rebellion — just like wartime.'" The story that morning went on to say, "Democratic Gov. Richard J. Hughes said a third of the city was under siege, cordoned off by police and National Guardsmen and in the grip of what he termed 'criminal insurrection.' He declared it a disaster area, in an attempt to enforce rules to quell the lawlessness. "... Street mobs built up in size before sundown after a wild daylong orgy of looting, and police sharpshooters dueling with rooftop snipers." Gov. Hughes went on to say, "This amounts to criminal insurrection against society. There is no order to shoot and kill put police have the authority to defend themselves." It was right here, perhaps, that Hughes made his worst mistake. Looting has traditionally been recognized as one of the worst crimes that can be committed, because those engaged in looting are not only breaking secular and religious law by stealing, they are at the same time through mob rule preying on the misfortunes that have befallen others. It has been traditional in this country, therefore — where the rights of individuals are protected — for the mayors of the cities and the governor of the state to give the police and the militia invoked the state's emergency defense law which permits him in a civilian role by lay down any rules needed to protect life and property in an area of natural or man-made disaster. It differs from martial law, which would grant Hughes similar power, but in his role as commander-in-chief of the National Guard. It was understood that Hughes considered the civilian measure less likely to further inflame Newark Negroes." It is this attitude of hesitancy, this attitude of fear on the part of city and state rulers that enables them to look on with equanimity while looters "laughingly" steal the property that belongs to the store owners and their stockholders. This attitude cannot continue in any city or in any state of the union if we are to remain a nation that respects

ABOUT THE NEWSPAPER CLIPPING AT LEFT —

(From the Devils' River News at Sonora)

"Rivalry between two towns is mild today compared to what it apparently was in the good old days. "The last issue of the Rocksprings Rustler of 1897, which was found in some of our long-forgotten files expressed this caustic rivalry. "In this particular instance the rivalry goes a bit deeper than is obvious by the reproduction. Mention is made of a coming state election in which the publisher of the Rustler is a political foe of Claude Hudspeth, publisher of the Ozona Courier. "In view of this information it appears that the Rustler publisher placed the advertisement in the final issue of his own newspaper at the expense of the good people of Ozona. "Advertisements of the type weren't uncommon in that period of American journalism before writers and publishers became more responsible. "We hope our good neighbor, Ozona, takes no offense and finds the clipping as interesting as did the "devil." (Cut courtesy the Devils' River News.-

The News Reel

A re-run of "The Ozona Story" as gleaned from the files of The Ozona Stockman

From The Stockman July 28, 1938

Crockett County voters went along with the rest of the state to sweep W. Lee O'Daniel, Fort Worth flour man, into the Democratic nomination for governor over a field of eleven candidates in Saturday's Democratic primary. In the only local contest, W. P. Conklin, incumbent, was swept back into office by a count of better than two to one over his opponent, N. E. Rendall, for the office of county surveyor.

Torrential rains in the area the past week-end sent the two draws coursing through Ozona outside their banks twice within a twenty-four hour period. Seven inches was recorded at the Joe Oberkamp store and up to fifteen inches reported in many sections of the county.

Mrs. Kate Baggett, who celebrated her 83rd birthday yesterday, is still enjoying life and her hobbies of reading and handwork.

A double ring ceremony read by the Rev. Eugene Slater at the Methodist Church at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon united in marriage Miss Imogene Baker and Edwin G. Bower.

Mattie West, Crockett County rancher who recently suffered a broken leg in a fall at a skating rink here, underwent an operation in a Dallas hospital Saturday. Surgeons inserted a pin into the bone to hold it in place until it heals.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church will meet at the ranch home of Mrs. Alvin Harrell for an all-day program Friday of this week, it was announced by officials of the organization this week.

—29 years ago— Mrs. Fred Deaton and Mrs. Joe Pierce honored Miss Imogene Baker with a bridge party Saturday morning at the Pierce home. High score was awarded Mrs. Pleas Childress, Jr.

—29 years ago— Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Baggett celebrated their 29th wedding anniversary last Thursday.

—29 years ago— J. W. Owens, Crockett County Rambouillet sheep breeder, was unanimously re-elected to a second term as president of the American Rambouillet Sheep Breeders Association at the conclusion of the association convention in San Angelo recently.

—29 years ago— The Lottie Moon Circle of the WMU of the First Baptist Church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. W. Smith for mission study. Mrs. Lowell Littleton led the afternoon's study program.

—29 years ago— Joe T. Davidson, who is recovering in a San Angelo hospital from a severe illness, was able to be up in a wheel chair this week and is expected to be released in the next few days.

—29 years ago— Mr. and Mrs. Alfred A. Cooke and son, Eddy, were visitors in Eagle Pass last week.

Recipe of the Week From Kitty's Kitchen

Salmon Mousse
1 can salmon (1 lb. size) drained and broken up
1 envelope plain gelatin
½ cup boiling water
2 tbs. lemon juice
1 small diced onion
½ cup mayonnaise
¼ teas. paprika
1 teas. dried dill or 1 tbs. fresh dill minced
1 cup heavy cream

Put into the container of blender, gelatin, boiling water, and lemon juice. Cover and blend on high speed 40 seconds. Turn off and add to the blender the mayonnaise, paprika, dill, onion and salmon. Cover and turn the motor to high speed. Remove the center of the lid, pour in cream and blend 30 seconds more. Pour into a small mold and chill until firm. Unmold and serve with mayonnaise. (Hint—grease mold with mayonnaise for easy unmolding) Serves 6.

1 tbs. plain gelatin
¼ cup sherry
½ cup sour cream
2 sliced peaches

In the top of a double boiler stir together the sugar, ¼ cup sherry, rum, egg yolks, lemon juice, salt and nutmeg. Cook over boiling water until the consistency of heavy cream, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and stir in the gelatin softened in the ¼ cup of sherry. Stir until dissolved. Cool.

Put ½ of this custard mixture into blender with the rest of the custard and chill until mixture is the consistency of raw egg whites. Beat egg whites until they are stiff but not dry and fold into the chilled custard mixture. Pour into a medium mold and chill at least 4 hours or until firm. Garnish with fresh peach slices before serving, serves 8.

Two good blender recipes that make an instant hit. Both are easy to prepare and fit nicely into any hot-weather menu.

Dr. Lloyd Sherrill, who has been under treatment in a San Angelo hospital following a recent heart attack, is reported recovering satisfactorily this week.

Mrs. Bud Cox and daughter, Lynn, left Sunday for Wichita Falls where Mrs. Cox's father, Sam Man, is ill.

Dr. and Mrs. R. F. Curl and Mrs. Joe Pierce, Jr., are in Kerrville this week attending the Methodist School of Missions.

the country, continue to make daily paper headlines. The story is about the same all over, the more the mobs are appeased, the more aggressive they become. When firm action is taken, they cry police brutality and are assured of nationwide television coverage. People have been killed and property damage estimated in millions. Funny thing too, these events were foretold months ago by non-violent civil rights leaders even the cities were pinpointed. Does anyone smell a rat? Non-violent indeed.

Mosley expects to gain some good football players from last year's undefeated B-team.

Coach Mosley will leave this weekend for coaching school in San Antonio, along with coach Bill Gerber and junior high coach Chick Womack. The school will begin July 30 and wind up August 3, with the annual North-South High School All Star game. Laney Cook of Sonora was the only boy in this district to make the team.

National Bank of Dallas, Texas. A customer who attempted to intervene was shot and killed by the robber. An FBI artist's conception of this individual has been described by witnesses as an excellent likeness of this person. The man was described as approximately 27 years old, approximately 5'8" or 5'9" tall, and weighing about 160 pounds. His hair was very dark or black and well groomed. His eyes were dark and he possessed a muscular build with broad shoulders and a narrow waist. Witnesses stated this individual's speech accent indicated the possibility that he was from Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas or Louisiana.

During the commission of this attempted robbery, the robber kept telling customers and employees in the bank not to look at him or he would kill them. One witness thought he had the initials "J. B." on his upper left arm. Another witness noted that when he walked he rose on his toes noticeably.

The FBI has requested that anyone having any information as to the possible identity of this individual please contact the nearest office of the FBI. Anyone having such information is cautioned not to attempt to apprehend this individual, inasmuch as he is considered armed and extremely dangerous.

infield made short work of the Sonora crew in the top of the sixth. Saul Torres started the Ozona rally in the final inning with a hard hit ball to rightfield and ended up on third, thanks to overthrown bases on the part of Sonora's infield. Gerald Olson walked and Tony Borrego singled to score Torres.

With two men on, Gary Whitley connected and sent the ball soaring over the fence and past the lights, binging in three runs for Ozona.

Ozona was back in the ballgame and fans were on the edges of their seats. With the Sonora team rattled and the pitcher throwing wild, the stage was set. However, the next man up went for a wild one and popped out to pitcher and the final batter, took a futile cut at everything that came his way, ending the season for the Ozona stars.

Ozona's infield and outfield played fine defensive ball and Stephens pitched a steady game with the exception of the fifth inning when errors also took their toll, but the hitters were no match for Sonora's hard, fast pitching Virgen and it was late in the game when they finally adjusted to his pace. Fans didn't see much action from the Sonora fielders until the sixth inning, when the Ozona batters started tagging the ball.

Ozona's starting line-up consisted of Ned Stephens, pitcher; Gary Whitley, catcher; Saul Torres, 1-b; Gerald Huff, 2-b; Mike Wellman, ss; Tony Borrego, 3-b; Sammy Tambunga, lf; Mike Williams, cf; and Charlie Ramos rf. Stanley Flanagan, Tim Evans and Gerald Olson took over in the outfield in the fifth inning. No other substitutions were made.

The length of a man's legs need not frustrate the strength of his purpose. By crawling one day, we are able to climb another.

There may have been spiritual giants like Saul of Tarsus who, in one overpowering experience, turned from violent resistance to fruitful service for Christ.

But there have been Doubting Thomases also . . . men and women who gradually, and only with the patience and help of God, found themselves in faithful service.

Don't be surprised, then, if an occasional visit to church has brought no remarkable change in your life.

But decide now to seek . . . earnestly . . . persistently . . .

the spiritual fulfillment of your existence.

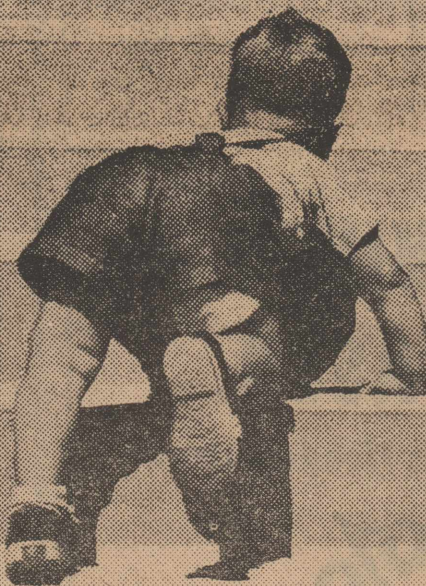

The Church holds before our eyes the goals of Christ. And though for a month of Sundays we may seem to crawl . . . one Sunday we discover, as millions of disciples before us, that we have begun to climb.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
