Brother Jim Hancock was in the office recently and we were discussing how dull things were, no news and that sort of thing. Mr. White suggested that the reverend get out and stir up something. Egged on by me, Brother Jim said he would hold an old fashioned preaching in the park if Dr. Curl, pastor of the Methodist Church and sometimes columnist, would do the singing, or vice-versa. I accepted the singing role on Dr. Curl's behalf. Of course I haven't mentioned it to him yet, but good sport that he is, I know he will be happy to oblige.

Although we print whatever we feel is newsworthy, we don't mind a polite request that we withhold an item or a picture. However, I never learned to take orders somehow and when someone demands in a belligerent voice that I do or not do something, I'd do it or die trying. That's why you see the outstretched hand in the wreck picture. Luckily, I have a fast shutter finger.

Evidently the reason the "Poor People's" campaign failed so miserably was the fact that there weren't any poor people taking an active part in the fiasco. It even takes money to get a mule train from the deep south to Washington, D. C. While the thugs and misguided lived in the mud and filth in "Resurrection City," the brain power languished in air-conditioned hotels and drove down to the city in their brand new Cadillacs each day to deliver long-winded speeches. Since the camp was set up in mid-May officials estimated that 100 assaults and violent incidents occurred and at least 20 visitors were robbed, beaten or stabbed outside the encampment fence.

The dreamers, the hippies and the thugs descended on Washington, while the true poor stayed at home trying to keep their bellies full and a roof over their heads. One cannot help but wonder how many of the really poverty-stricken could have been helped with the tremendous amount of money spent on the gigantic flop. Good grief!

The junior rodeo was lots more fun this year for everybody concerned. All the contestants were amateurs and enjoyed vying for trophies rather than AJRA points and day money. The pressure was off for the officials, the organizers, contestants and their parents. It was even a bigger financial success than in previous years and nobody expected that.

Three genuine hippies attended the rodeo Friday night and drew more attention than the show. The younger children in town were fascinated and the most gruesome of the trio had a following reminiscent of the Pied Piper, to the embarrassment of older brothers and sisters and parents.

A thousand horrors, the waistline is back. No more hiding your middle under a tent dress or shift. The new styles are nipped in at the waist, tucked, cinched or belted. Designers have gone back to emphasizing curves. The result will no doubt see American women going through all sorts of torture to remove a few inches from their forgotten mid-section.

BREAKFAST FOR QUEENS — Bill Watson, chairman of the 11th annual Lions Club Junior Rodeo, hosts the three candidates for queen of the 1968 rodeo, plus last year's queen, for breakfast at the 290 Cafe Friday morning, on the eve of the show's opening and the queen's selection Friday night. Christy Davidson, far right, was named the 1968 Rodeo Queen and crowned by last year's queen, Nannette Bailey, second from right. Joanie Baggett and Charlene Strickland, l. to r., were other contenders for the crown.

Four Accidents Result In Slight Injuries, Damage

Highway patrolman Orvil Perry investigated four accidents over the weekend, three occurred in town and one east of town on Hwy 290.

The accident on Hwy 290 involved a 1967 Volkswagen driven by David Colton of Santa Fe, N. M. and occurred 7 miles east of Ozona. Colton ran off the right side of the highway while traveling toward Ozona, cut sharply to the left, lost control of the auto and overturned one and one-half times off the left side of the road. He and his two passengers, Marguerite Stann and John Colton, brother of the driver, were hospitalized overnight in Crockett County Hospital and released Saturday. The automobile was a total wreck.

The first in-town wreck occurred around 1:00 p. m. Thursday at Ave. F and 10th St. Roana Chapel, driving a 1965 Dodge was pulling away from the curb on 10th St. when a 1968 Pontiac driven by Louella Haire traveling north on Ave. F and turning onto 10th St. was caught on the right rear fender by the bumper of the Dodge. There were no personal injuries. Damage to the Dodge was $10 and to the Pontiac $50.

Eleventh St. and Ave. D was the scene of the second accident. Santiago Onofre, driving a 1962 Pontiac, pulled onto Eleventh St. and said he was preparing to turn left, when he collided with a 1961 Ford driven by Steven Hubbard and traveling west on Eleventh. Damage to the Pontiac was estimated at $300 and to the Ford $450. The Hubbard youth was treated for a chin laceration in the hospital emergency room and released. There were no injuries to the occupants of the other auto.

Saturday around 12:45 p. m. in front of B&B Grocery on Ave. E Cam Lilly driving a 1963 Dodge pickup backed out from the curb and hit the back fender of a parked 1961 Mercury driven by Carlos Sanchez. The Mercury was unoccupied at the time of collision. Damage to the pickup was negligible and damage to the Mercury was estimated at $92.

TRACK HOPEFULS REJOICE AS COACH WOMACK DECIDES TO REMAIN AT POST HERE

Ozona school boys lucked out last when Coach Chick Womack decided to remain in the school system here.

Womack, who has been head track coach at Ozona high school, junior high football coach and taught physical education in both schools for many years, had decided to accept a position with another system at a higher salary.

After accepting the other position, he and his wife, Jane, who teaches at North Elementary, began to have misgivings. They decided that a better paying position did not offset the advantages of rearing their children in Ozona. In announcing his decision to remain here, Coach Womack said "there is no better school system anywhere than Ozona."

Coach Womack has had a winning track team almost every year since moving here and getting a team together almost from scratch. He amazes football fans with his junior high football team and has often come up with a winning team when the odds were very much against him.

He has a talent for bringing out the best in boys and inspiring their undying devotion. Many of the best athletes to come out of O.

Thunderstorm Dumps 1.18 Inch Rain On Ozona

A severe thunderstorm lashed Ozona Tuesday night and dumped 1.18 inches of rain on the city according to the official weather gauge. Other gauges in the city reportedly showed up to 1.5 inches.

After an uncomfortably hot, clear day, the storm came up from the north about sundown. It was accompanied by fantastic electrical displays and extremely high winds, which stripped large limbs from trees all over town. Pea-sized hail also fell briefly during the storm.

The storm extended beyond the north edge of the county and ranches south of Ozona reported up to .7 of an inch of rain as a result of the storm.

Ozona high school the past seventeen years are quick to admit that they owe most of their success to Coach Womack and most make it a point to pay "coach" a visit while they are in town.

A recent comment by an ex-football star about his junior high football days pretty well sums up the way these boys feel about this coach. He said "if Coach Womack had told me to go up on top of the junior high school building and jump off, that it would make me a better football player, I would have done it without a backward glance. There would have been thirty or forty others right behind me too, and those who wouldn't never would have made it anyway."

Holiday Safety Measures Urged By Hiway Department

The Fourth of July, perhaps the favorite American holiday, has become a traditional time for traveling. Americans take to the beach, visit friends and relatives and go on holiday outings of every kind.

The trend is followed in Texas, too, and thousands of travelers are expected to increase traffic on Texas highways this Fourth of July.

The Texas Highway Department works to make highway construction areas as safe as possible. Heavy holiday traffic, however, poses additional hazards. The department issues bulletins periodically showing areas of road construction. If you are planning a trip now or the Fourth of July, check with your local Highway Dept. offices for information on danger points on your route.

Managers Pick Little League All-Star Team

Names of Little Leaguers who made the all-star team were announced Monday night after the double header that saw B&B Grocers beat Ozona Oil 8-4 and Flying W take a 2-0 win over Moore Oil.

The all-stars, selected by the managers of the teams, include five players from Flying W, five from B&B, three from Ozona Oil and one from Moore Oil.

Chosen from Flying W were Jeff Stuart, Rick Hunnicutt, Stanley Flanagan, Craig Taliaferro and Joe Valdez. B&B all stars are Melcio Martinez, Jimmy Gillit, Gary Mitchell, Richard Gonzales and James Knox. Pete Martinez, Lesley Russell and Chris Reeves were the Ozona Oil selections and Dan Davidson was chosen from Moore Oil.

Alternates are Jimmy Tambunga of Ozona Oil and Gregg Thompson from Flying W.

With two games to go Flying W, winner of the first half championship, is leading the pack with 6 wins and 1 loss. Ozona Oil and B&B are tied for second place with 4-3 records and Moore Oil is in the cellar with no wins and 7 losses.

If the Ranchers should lose their final two games and the tied Grocers and Oilers win theirs, the second half could end in a three-way tie. However, that seems a remote possibility and all indications point to a season championship for the Ranchers. In this event Byron Stuart, manager of the Flying W Ranchers, will manage the all-star team.

A meeting Sunday in Big Lake of coaches, managers and Little League officials will determine the all-star schedule. The Ozona all stars will play the Sonora all stars here this year about the fourth week in July.

Tippett Field Gains Extension

The Tippett, West multipay field of Crockett County gained its fourth lower Wolfcamp producer and a 3/4-mile west extension to that pay with completion of Shell Oil Co. No. 2-36 Tippett, nine miles south of McCamey.

It was finalized for a calculated daily flowing potential of 210 barrels of oil, gravity unreported, with gas-oil ratio of 855-1.

Production was based on actual 15-hour flow of 131 barrels of oil, through a 20-64-inch choke and perforations at 5,573-624 feet, which had been acidized with 1,500 gallons. Total depth is 5,700 feet.

Operator was preparing to dually complete through perforations at 5,433-509 feet, as a second 5,500-foot lower Wolfcamp producer and location east-southeast extension to that pay.

Location is 660 feet from the northwest and 4,393 feet from the northeast lines of the southwest quarter of 36-31-H&TC.

Altizer All-Around Cowboy — 11th Annual Lions Club Jr. Rodeo Financial And Entertainment Success

The 11th annual junior rodeo held Friday and Saturday was an all-around success, according to Lions Club officials. Although fewer contestants entered this year most of them entered all events and there were more youths competing for each event than last year.

Highlighting the show Friday night was the crowning of the 1968 Rodeo Queen.

Miss Christy Davidson was selected and was presented a trophy by Miss Nanette Bailey, last year's queen. Other contestants were Miss Charlene Strickland and Miss Joanie Baggett.

A change up in judges occurred the last minute, and Buck Owens of Barnhart and Mickey Powers of Sonora filled in for Lewis and Tom Powers.

Trophies were presented to winners in all events. All-around trophies were presented in each age division. Mack Altizer of Del Rio won the trophy for all-around cowboy in the 12 and under division, Kay McMullan of Ozona in the 13-15 division and Jerry Hudson of Miles in the 16 to 18 age division.

Two events, which were not on the program, created many laughs for contestants and audience alike each night, the boot scramble and the jack rabbit roping. Levis went to the winners in both events each night. In the boot scramble Rick Hunnicutt was the Friday night winner and Larry Cade of Sonora won the event Saturday night. Winners in the jack rabbit roping were Jeff Luce of Del Rio and Larry Cade. Jack rabbits were furnished by Jim Bob Bailey and Sooner Williams.

Results were as follows: Pole Bending, 12 and under, girls, Margaret Powell of Eldorado, first; Nancy Williams of Sheffield, second; Lee Ann McMullan of Big Lake, third.

Wiseman, Jr. Midland, No. 1-101 Crystelle Childress, Crockett County, deep wildcat failure, 2 1/2 miles southwest of the initial oil and gas area and 2 1/2 miles northwest of the south gas area of the V.I.P. (multipay Clearfork) field, 23 miles southwest of Ozona, to pump seven barrels of 32 gravity oil, plus 23 barrels of water, daily, with 100 cubic feet of gas per barrel of oil.

Production was through perforations at 2,350-80 feet, which had been fractured with 40,000 gallons and 40,000 pounds, casing pressure was 175 pounds, with packer on tubing.

It originally was drilled as a Canyon sand wildcat to 6,631 feet and tested through Canyon perforations at 5,750-6,400 feet. It was then plugged back to 2,700 feet.

Location is 1,320 feet from the south and 1,600 feet from the westlines of 101-WC-A. Vasquez, Abst. 5036.

No. 2-37 Cowden, recent 3/4-mile southwest extension to lower Leonard production and indicated second lower Clearfork gas producer and 3/4-mile southwest extension to that pay in the Tippett field, nine miles south of McCamey.

NOT DOING ENOUGH!

While planners and politicians talk of the government rebuilding cities, guaranteeing jobs, underwriting medical care, education, social security, housing, cheap electricity, and Lord knows what else, a few facts about taxes are pertinent.

Total taxes estimated to be collected in fiscal 1968 by all levels of government in the U. S. will equal about $3,550 per American family, up $134 from last year. Twelve years ago, taxes collected by federal, state and local governments combined were equivalent to $1,897 per family. Total tax receipts in fiscal 1968 will exceed 1967 receipts by about $10 billion. They will be over $100 billion higher than a dozen years ago. The collections in 1968 will provide $148 billion for the federal government and $69 billion for state and local governments.

There are still those who say that taxpayers are not doing enough! There are millions more of us raising families and running businesses under the mounting pressure of taxes and inflation who say that government is doing too much — much more than even the wealthiest nation on earth can afford!

No Beads For Our Men: The following is the full text of an advertisement which appeared in the Valparaiso, Indiana, Vidette-Messenger:

"PUBLIC NOTICE. We consider our store a leading men's shop. For sixteen years we have been building an image with style, quality and name brands. We hope to continue to build . . .

"However, there comes a time in every business venture when one must decide between a profit and a basic belief.

"Today we decided not to contribute to a "look" we feel does not befit a red blooded American male. You're right! We do not sell male pendants.

"No BEADS for our men!" We hope the George Neely Men's Shop becomes a nationwide chain.

Caution: A huge sign at the entrance onto US Highway 190 at Fort Hood, Texas, reads: "CAUTION: You are entering the most dangerous area in the world — the public highway."

Spring Housecleaning: Defense Secretary Clark Clifford declined an offer to have $250,000 worth of interior decorating work performed on his office. But spring housecleaning has been going ahead across town at the Interior Department's Bureau of Mines. Congressman H. R. Gross reports that, "There, $20,188.07 has been spent for fresh paint, rugs, drapes, furniture and lighting for the director's office. Included in this is $1,500 for the services of an interior decorator. Although the director's office was already equipped with six expensive oriental rugs, wall-to-wall carpeting had to be installed and now the oriental rugs will be laid right on top of the new carpeting. Incomplete Data: The Sacramento Union reports that Dennis Hayes, a history major has been elected student president at Stanford University. Hayes received 3,458 votes to the 2,136 cast for his opponent, topless dancer Vicky Drake, whose platform was 38-22-36.

The newspaper does not report the breakdown of male and female students on campus. From this distance it appears that there are 2,136 male students and 3,458 girls.

GUEST EDITORIAL —

HYPOCRISY EVIDENT AMONG U. S. CRITICS

Loud were the cries around the world when American bombs were falling on military targets in the Hanoi and Haiphong areas. Civilian casualties of the bombing were claimed, and protests against American brutality were mounted in many nations considered our allies.

Yet American bombing raids were never directed against the civilian populations of North Vietnam's major cities. Some civilians were casualties, doubtless, because military targets bombed — although all on the outskirts of cities, not in their center — had civilians in their proximity. But we waged no war on civilians, and it would be ridiculous to allege that we did. If that was our intent Hanoi and Haiphong would be smoldering today.

But now the North Vietnamese have been lobbing rockets and mortars into the heart of Saigon, willy-nilly. They have announced their intentions to lay down a 100 rocket a day barrage for 100 days. Their goal is simple: to kill and terrorize South Vietnamese civilians. Nothing else; the military significance of the mortar and rocket attacks is nil. No military targets are involved, except incidentally. The Communists are out to kill, maim and reduce to error the civilian population of South Vietnam.

So where are the angry street protests in London and Paris? Where are the cries of inhumanity from American students? Where are the denunciations from the U.N. secretary-general's office?

If the United States suddenly resumed bombing Hanoi, and if in that resumption it was decided to rain bombs on North Vietnam's capital at its populated center, then the protests, the denunciations and the cries of an outraged world would be heard, no doubt about it.

We are judged by a double standard as rigid as any against which feminists have fought. It's time that this sham was dropped. Certainly the life of a Saigon shopkeeper is as precious as that of a Hanoi factory worker. Certainly the South Vietnamese have as much right to live as their neighbors to the north. Yet the South Vietnamese have had visited upon them terror and death and atrocities without a murmur from the self-righteous in the world. This is nothing but hypocrisy of the best sort.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Nylon net will clean marks from windows, mirrors and shiny surfaces with hardly any effort at all. It is excellent for cleaning bathroom fixtures.

For a bright shine on windows inside and out, wash with hot water, to which a small amount of kerosene has been added. Cuts scum immediately. Dry with crumpled newspapers.

Feather dusters are available again and are excellent for dusting decorative accessories, pictures, etc.

Clean chrome faucets with a clean cloth soaked in alcohol, also rub alcohol cloth over mirrors after dusting. Gives a lasting gleam.

Chrome chairs will not mark floor or linoleum, if strips of adhesive tape are applied to bottom of chair legs. Table may be treated the same way.

To clean lint from walls and ceilings, wrap a broom in old nylon hose. Gets the job done in record time.

Half a lemon placed on a refrigerator shelf will help absorb odors.

Keep old tweezers. They are a handy household tool. Use them for untying knots in damp shoe strings, removing pin feathers from flow, holding nail while hammering it into wall, pulling out threads after ripping a seam, and dozens of other uses.

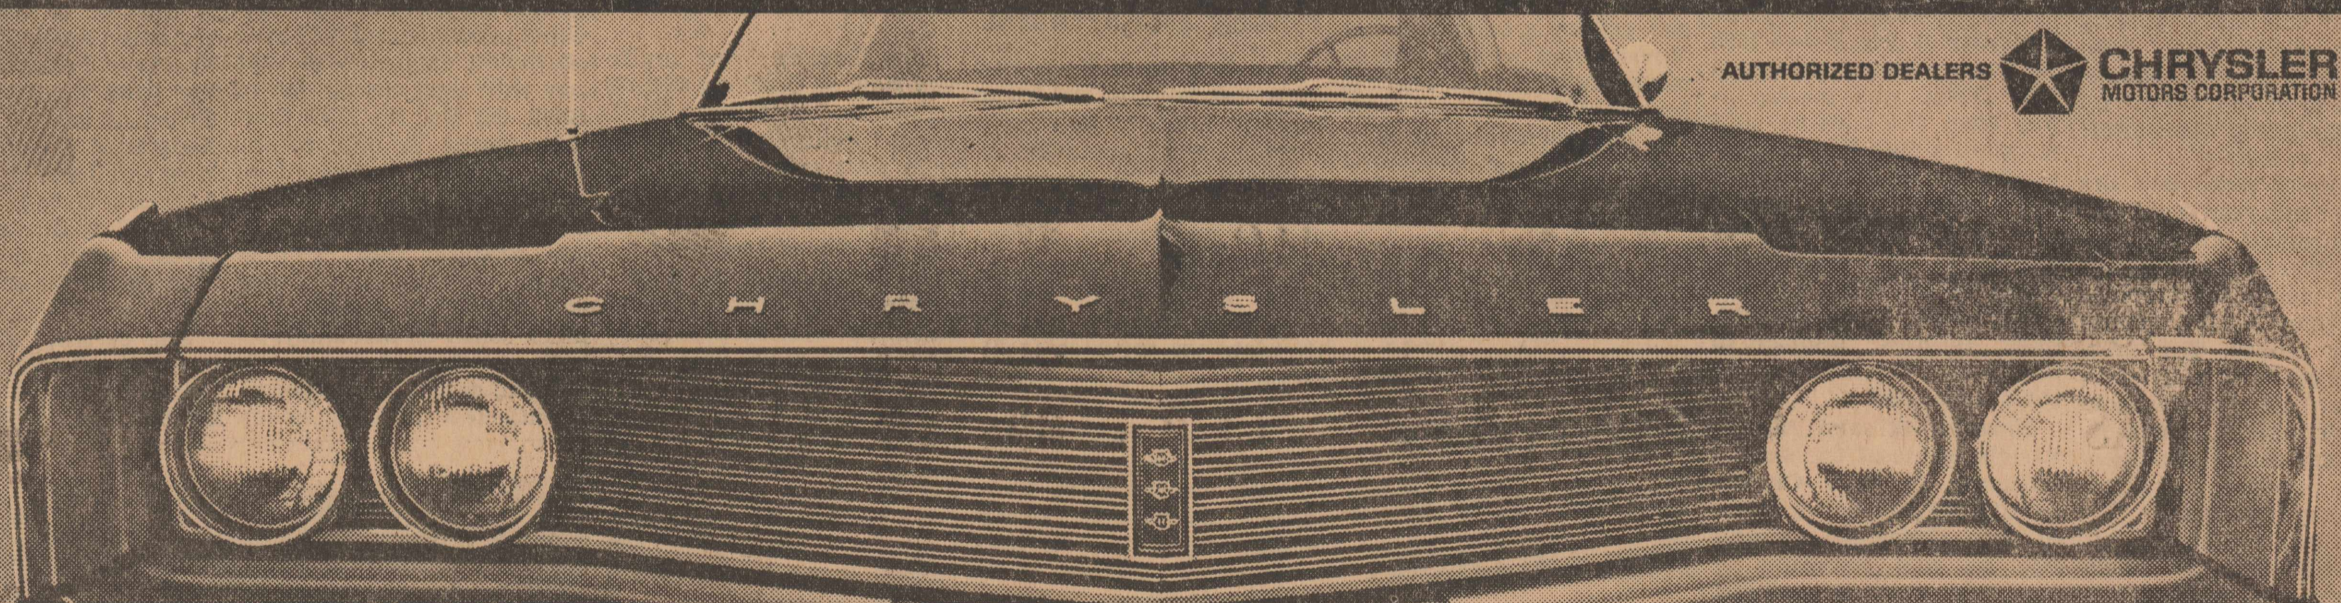

For a bright, white porcelain sink, place layers of paper toweling in bottom and along sides, then dampen with bleach. Leave for several hours. This process will remove all stains and rust.

When sweets, such as fruit pies, boil over in your oven, toss a handful of salt over the spots. Finish cooking and when oven is cool, spot, salt and all will lift out with spatula.

Washington News Letter

Congressman O. C. Fisher

A nation-wide sigh of relief greeted Chief Justice Earl Warren's decision to resign, following 15 nightmarish years of court-made political and social upheavals, which often made a mockery of the Constitution.

Backed by a subservient majority on the court, Warren repeatedly transgressed the role of Congress by brazenly making laws to suit his own taste and fancy.

His modus operandi was not unlike that of the late Roy Bean.

This practice prompted an assembly of the Chief Justices of the States to observe the Supreme Court had "assumed what seems to us primarily legislative (law-making) powers."

A line of decisions threw a mantle of protection around scores of criminals by virtually outlawing voluntary confessions, tilting search and seizure procedures strongly in favor of the criminal, and hampering police officers with new roadblocks. The court invaded the legislative function by in effect repealing the death penalty as punishment for crime. Pornography gained some judicial respectability.

In the field of subversion, the Warren majority knocked down laws requiring Communists to register as foreign agents; nixed a law which made it illegal for Communies to be officers in labor unions; nullified the right of the government to disallow passports to Communists; outlawed loyalty oaths; annulled a law which prohibited Communies from teaching in public schools; and ignored national security by holding the Congress could not deny subversives the right to work in defense plants.

The court under Warren created the one-man, one-vote concept of apportionment by invading the 175-year-old responsibility assigned by the Constitution to the States; then proceeded to deny the States the right to apportion one branch of their legislatures on a basis other than population. By doing this the court in effect amended the Constitution.

The Warren court glibly drove religion out of the school rooms.

Chances for a change in this course of usurpation of power, in the foreseeable future, are not bright. Present make-up of the court is more liberal than ever. The last two appointments - Abe Fortas in 1965 and Thurgood Marshall in 1967 - follow the Warren pattern, and Fortas is expected to be made Chief Justice by President Johnson. Will the vacancy on the court be filled by a pro-Constitution lawyer of proven quality? It's anybody's guess. Best chances for improvement will be filling of vacancies by the next President. Hugo Black is now 82; Wm. Douglas is 70, and ailing; and John Marlan is 69.

Austin Report

By Hilary Doran, Jr.

This past week saw legislation pushed through the House of Representatives at a fast and bitter pace. The most controversial bill that was passed out of the House to the Senate was the miniature bottle drink bill. This bill was met with more than 60 proposed amendments and had 38 amendments adopted. My opinion of the bill as it was finally passed was that it brought needed liquor reforms to Texas (the first major ones since 1935) and that with the exception of a few amendments that hopefully will be removed in the Senate the bill should meet the approval of the majority of the people in District 65. However, I would like to point out that this bill is headed for a stormy session in the Texas Senate and that final passage of it is still not assured. Also, if the bill picks up some completely unacceptable amendments in the Senate and these amendments cannot be worked out by a conference committee, then it is my opinion that the bill will not pass.

The House appropriation bill was passed out of the House to the Senate the following day bearing a price tag of $2.5 billion for the next fiscal year.

The tax bill was passed to the Senate on Thursday and bore little resemblance to what the Governor originally proposed. This bill basically provides that the State sales tax be increased 1% and retains the present exemptions and does not touch topside or bottom of the existing city sales tax. If this bill is passed by the Senate and approved by the Governor, it will mean that the State sales tax for Texas beginning on January 1, 1969, will be 3c and in the cities where city sales tax has been

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

Continuing discussions of the gold situation causes many people to suspect France's DeGaulle is plotting against the U.S., leading to many demands to force France to pay its world war I debt.

This opens up interesting speculations on the operation of the American democracy. Every school youth is taught the American system is one whereby its government is sensitive to the wishes of the people.

But actually France was left off the hook on its war debt if it would forgive the reparations due it from Germany. This giving away of money was done without the consent of the people.

Then at the end of World War II, again without the consent of the American people, and without the knowledge of most of them, America pledged away its national rights to change the value of its currency.

In short, it was agreed that if all nations would peg their currency to the U. S. dollar, the U. S. would then maintain a gold price at $35 per ounce. But Britain, France, others, can, and did, revalue their currency which is a sovereign right. But unknown to the people of the nation, the American government signed away this established right of all nations, so that come heck or high water, the American nation can be kept on the brink of monetary disaster.

Thus, the United States, in effect, without the knowledge of its people, set itself up as the banker to the world, a role of requiring responsibility. But instead of exercising such responsibility, political leaders, egged on by labor barons of uncertain motives set to work to see who could outdo each other in spending.

A close and logical parallel can be drawn to all this. There are a number of well known banks in this nation. In all of them people have confidence in them, and no one is afraid to deposit funds in them. But these banks, as well as all others, do reflect prudent management.

But let even the largest bank in the United States consistently publish statements showing a deficit, and it can be assured there would be a bank run.

Thus the U. S. is in the silly position where pocket handkerchief nations such as Holland, Belgium, Switzerland and others who could all be fitted in the state of Texas, with perhaps a slight assist from Alaska, are demanding a tax increase in America. Unfortunately, oriented to European patterns of consumption, they fail to understand U. S. consumer consumption is this nation's economic foundation, and that any further sopping up of consumer spending power could trigger a fantastically severe depression. If the American democracy is to survive, it will only be because the people again take over the control of their affairs and there is a general ousting of the fatuous theorists in Foggy Bottom who have too long acted in stealth without the peoples consent.

adopted, it will be 4%.

There are many grumbings going on behind the scenes as to the manner in which some of the recent legislation has been handled. One bright light among the distasteful subject of taxes is that a bill will be before the House within the next several days that authorizes and regulates the use of chemical tests on drivers of motor vehicles to determine intoxication. I think this is a good bill and one that has been long overdue for the State of Texas and I am in high hopes of its passage during this special session.

This week will be the "make or break" week of the special session and the spotlight will shift primarily on the Senate as they consider the legislation we have passed to them.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS

Austin, Texas — Arrival at the mid-way mark in the 30-day special legislative session touched off an explosion of activity in key areas of spending, taxation and liquor-by-the-drink.

Both House and Senate passed versions of the 1969 budget and went to conference committee to work out differences.

House passed by a narrow margin (78 votes to 67) Gov. John Connally's bill to permit liquor by the drink sales in mini-bottles under taxation and strict regulation.

House Revenue and Tax Committee sent out for debate and full House action Connally's $119 million tax package. This controversial measure hopefully will land in conference committee this week after amendments in both houses.

Representatives voted overwhelmingly for a $474 million general revenue budget, senators for a $479.7 million general fund appropriations measure. House version would require $132.6 million in new revenue. Senate bill $137.9 million. All phases of Connally's tax liquor-by-the-drink legislation were designed to raise $127.2 million, so additional revenue must be found.

House fought a bitter battle over the mini-bottles bill which was combined with proposals of a sub-committee for strengthening liquor laws. Tax on little bottles and increased fees will produce over $8 million. An additional $6.5 million would come from a gross receipts tax on private clubs, as called for in Connally's tax bill.

A sales tax increase to three per cent is certain to figure in the final tax package.

Mini-bottles bill would make on-drik-sized containers available in licensed hotels, clubs, restaurants, planes and trains. Sellers would have to do at least a third as much business in food sales as on liquor. Mini-bottles probably will be expensive, since they would carry a tax of about 10 and a half cents each. Sellers will have to pay the state permit fees ranging from $500 in the smallest towns to $1,250 in cities over 250,000. Furthermore, cities and counties can match the charge.

Bill also sets specifications for private clubs and raises fees, although it will allow managers and most other employees to issue guests cards to the drop-in trade and it authorizes credit card sales.

Barring logjams the legislature has a fair chance of beating its deadline and winding up must business in a single special session.

Natural-Fibers Industry—State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has released the results of an evaluation of the natural-fibers industry in Texas. Evaluation was ordered by a legislative committee to determine the impact of cotton, wool and mohair on the state economy.

Evaluation says that the three natural fibers — their growth on the farm and related agribusinesses of transporting, processing and distribution — are of "vital importance in maintaining a balanced agricultural production, effective land utilization and support of the rural economy of society in general."

Texas leads all states in the production of each of the three natural fibers. A lot of senseless talk is going on which blames firearms for much of the violence of our times. But in my opinion, the primary culprit in the rising crime rate in the United States is the Supreme Court. A number of recent decisions have served to hamstring our law enforcement officials in coping with criminals. By the same token, hardened criminals and would-be criminals have been encouraged through the knowledge that the courts are currently taking a lenient stand with regard to criminal prosecutions — Congressman Joe Poole, Texas.

"Miss Wool Of America Pageant"

Art Linkletter is host, June Allyson, fashion hostess, and Frankie Avalon sings up a storm, Thursday evening, June 27, when the 10th annual "Miss Wool of America Beauty Pageant" airs, live and in color, over a 130 station network from San Angelo, Texas. Twenty beautiful girls from states across country will give the femmes in the TV audience a preview peek of the fashion look for fall. "Miss Wool" contestants will be wearing next season's clothes—in fact the TV viewers will be scooping the New York fashion press who do not see the clothes until the following week.

fection in our public life. Indeed it has been reported by The New York Times that a reputed leader of the Revolutionary Action Movement listed Sen. Kennedy as one of their targets. When the forces of civil disobedience are unleashed in a country, no one can tell in what direction they will strike.

The killing of Robert F. Kennedy is a reminder of the surge of violence in the last year. In a way, it is remarkable that there have not been more assassinations of government officials. For many months, President Johnson and Secretary of State Rusk have been the targets of Vietnik mobs on their appearances in New York City and elsewhere. Massive police manpower has been necessary to protect them.

In Washington recently, members of the Poor People's Campaign rampaged in front of the Supreme Court building, throwing rocks at windows. Other members of this protest group shouted threats at the U. S. Attorney General. Newsmen, attempting to visit the camp on the banks of the Potomac also have been threatened with violence. Columbia University this spring was the scene of shocking student brutality against university administrators. Members of the clergy have invaded draft board offices and destroyed Selective Service records. Indeed the entire New Left has a commitment to violence to secure its ends. A militant minority of dissenting demonstrators in the United States has sought to overrule the majority of citizens who give assent to law and order and representative government.

Had Robert F. Kennedy devoted his energies to the cause of sound, conservative government, he could have performed an outstanding work. Instead, he chose to align himself with those who want to "restructure" the United States, as the New Left says. Ironically, he was gunned down by a man who had no respect for the law.

It is time for the American people to fully restore the domestic tranquility that our Constitution states as a goal of our national life. It is time to curb the anarchists and to cease the civil disobedience. If those who mourn for Sen. Kennedy truly want to perform a good work in his memory, they can use their influence to stop the marches and demonstrations, the singing and slogan-shouting that help create a feverish atmosphere in the country.

The laws and customs of the United States provide a ample opportunity for change and reform, where and when the people desire it. But this nation cannot afford to tolerate change by violent means. It cannot afford intimidation by mobs and organized left wing groups. It cannot afford sit-ins, camp-ins, lie-ins and other forms of basically irrational activity that lead to wide disturbances, threaten lives and property and excite unstable persons to acts of terrorism.

The Future of the Republic Assassination Aftermath

The tragic death of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in Los Angeles has deeply disturbed the American people and transformed the political situation in an election year.

The shock of the senator's death at the hands of a lone killer has been compounded by the highly emotional and irresponsible comments of some television commentators. Again, as after the death of President John F. Kennedy, there has emerged the illogical theme that all Americans share in the guilt of the killing. President Johnson is to be commended, in his initial comment on the shooting, for stressing that America is not sick and that the murder was not committed by 200 million people. No society, no matter how well organized, can completely protect prominent citizens from attacks by determined fanatics in its midst.

What a society can and must do, however, is to maintain general law and order and to stand firm against notions of anarchy and civil disobedience that are a breeding ground for acts of personal violence. The death of Sen. Kennedy is especially tragic in that it might not have occurred, if in his political career, he had applied his energy and ambition to stressing the importance of law and order. A fair and balance account of the senator's career must include recognition of his role in encouraging movements of social protest that included trespass on the rights of others.

It also is unfortunate that the aides of the late senator, in commenting on his role in politics, have not acknowledged that campus and inner-city protest movements are the source of serious in-tial of 406 barrels of oil, gravity unreported and 43.2 barrels of water, with gas-oil ratio of 3,941-1. Tubing pressure was 1,350 pounds.

Potential was based on an actual 14-hour flow of 237 barrels of oil and 18 barrels of water through a 20-64-inch choke and perforations at 5,317-425 feet, which had been acidized with 1,360 gallons.

Triple completion attempt is scheduled through lower Clearfork perforations at 4,371-473 feet, which earlier flowed gas at the maximum rate of 402,000 cubic feet.

It was finaled June 19 from the lower Leonard for 43 barrels of 43.2 gravity oil, plus 36 barrels of water, with gas-oil ratio of 734-1. Production was through a 20-64-inch choke and perforations at 4,636-646 feet.

Location is 4,564 feet from the northeast and 594 feet from the northwest lines of the south half of 37-31-H&TC.

The lower Clearfork gas opener, Gulf Oil Corp. No. 7-E Tippett, was finaled March 8 for a calculated, absolute open flow of 1,480,000 cubic feet of gas per day, with gas-liquid ratio of 184,200-1, through perforations at 4,502-504 feet. It was triply completed from the lower Leonard in the same field and as a 5,050-foot Wolfcamp oil opener in the Tippett, West field. Originally completion was in 1967 from the lower Wolfcamp in the Tippett, West field, however, that zone was squeezed off.
