Now, six years later, President Johnson has repeated the performance, although the language he used was not as profane as that of his predecessor. Mr. Johnson sees "dire consequences for our nation" in the price increases and unced last week by certain steel companies. "Inflation in steel", the president told a press conference, is inflation for the nation.'

He particularly singled out Bethlehem Steel, which had announced a 5 percent general increase, and said that the action was "unreasonable',' and "just shouldn't be permitted to stand."

When a President sounds off, he makes headlines. The "unreasonble" charge was repeated so often by the news media that the reason for the increase was obscured. Earlier in the week, on Tuesday, the eleven major steel companies wrapped up a new contract with the United Steelworkers of America. Under the contract the companies agreed to increases in wages and fringe benefits amounting to between 90 cents and $1 an hour over a three-year period. The price for averting a nationwide steel strike had come to about 6.5 percent increase each year, for three years.

In short, Bethlehem and the aother steel companies obligated themselves to make pay increases of 6.5 percent, and then increased prices 5 percent. And that is what the President angrily branded as "unreasonbale," raising high the spectre of "inflation for our nation."

For our part, we thought President Johnson's outburst more than a little "unreasonable" in the circumstan-

As to inflation in our nation, steel executive Roger Blough put it this way last month: "When government spends more than it gets, and when labor gets more than it gives, that empty feeling in your pocketbook is inflation.

It's pretty exhausting to have two big brothers that excel in everything!

Of course, there are advantages. Like the time a bully beat me up-my brothers followed me to school for two weeks. They wouldn't have fought him, but he didn't know that. Every night they worked out with me. Finally, I took him on and won.

My brothers are first-rate in everything — studies and athletics. There's nothing wishy-washy about them-if they don't think something's right, they say so. When there was a "walk-out" at school, they squashed it, practically single-handed.

Because our parents have always taken us to church and taught us God's way, my brothers are strong-principled and good. I aim to be like them.

Your church is a training ground for integrity!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL .. ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizen-ship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democ-racy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound. reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
