Kitty's Korner

By Kitty Montgomery

Many beautiful and unusual pieces of art were displayed at the Forum's art exhibit Tuesday afternoon. The adult work, of course, featured many really outstanding items and I feel one would have to go a far piece to find so much talent in any other small town.

However, there were so many excited children who had entries in the show, that their enthusiasm sort of overshadowed the entries in the adult department. Yes, the action was definitely in the youth department and the younger the better.

One young lady, in pointing out a second-place ribbon on her entry, couldn't have been more excited if she had been awarded a chest of gold.

A more mature young man fourth-grader, was eyeing his painting with an honorable mention ribbon. His comment was "Oh well, it's better than nothing."

There was also a great deal of budding talent in the youth exhibit and some of the older children exhibited some really outstanding work.

It was a worthwhile venture and we will be looking forward to next year's show.

For the first time this year I looked out the window yesterday and saw definite signs precipitation, wet pavement, sprinkling rain and most important of all, windshield wipers going. That was the first inkling I've had that it might rain this year. May it be so. It's been a mighty dry year so far.

Joe David Ross of Sonora was in the office the first of the week telling us about an Animal Health conference for livestock men of the Southwest to be held soon in San Antonio. He was telling us about a California vet who will be holding a seminar on horses, said he could break and ride a wild horse in 30 minutes without saddle spurs or whip.

I thought this sounded like the most interesting part of the entire program. However, when I asked Joe David if someone else could ride the horse after the thirty minutes with the doctor, he didn't know. I'm sure many of you will be on hand and I'm looking forward to getting an answer to my question when you return.

You will find all the information you need in an article elsewhere in this edition of the paper.

The end of basketball season is in sight and I can't say I'm sorry. Jim will be home every night in time to have dinner with the family. I will quit having the hives and Tom will be forced to stop holding after-game coaching sessions, at least until football season begins. It's been fun, but I wouldn't want to do it the year round and I'm sure most of you will have to agree.

Hilary Doran, Jr., our state representative, introduced a bill in Austin recently to do away with daylight saving time in Texas. Whether he is successful or not, bless him for trying.

Now would be the time to flood the State Capitol with protests against DST. Those whose interests are served by DST are able to afford lobbyists, and those of us whose lives are thrown out of kilter by it can only protest.

Fleet Coates Named On All-West Texas Academic Football Team As Finale To Long List Of Honors

Recipient of many honors as the result of his exceptional athletic ability, Fleet Coates, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Coates, and a senior in Ozona High School, has topped off the 1968-69 year with All-West Texas honors for his scholastic ability.

Young Coates was picked for a position as a back on the mythical All West Texas Academic Football Team selected under sponsorship of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at Abilene.

With a scholastic average of 91, Fleet ranked near the top in the Class AA selections for the team. The only other athlete with a high enough scholastic average to be chosen on the team from Dist. 5-AA was Mike George a lineman from Big Lake, whose scholastic average was 91.9.

Fleet Coates, leading scorer in the District last season, All-District two years in a row, chosen for a place in the All-State second team last year, a three-year letterman, outstanding track and basketball performer, is closing his high school career this year with about all the honors a lad might attain, not the least of them this last, regional recognition for high scholastic attainment.

There were many fine young men nominated from the more than 500 High

Fleet Coates

Schools in the 132-county area served by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce," wrote Chamber president, Beverly King of Abilene in a letter notifying young Coates of the honor.

"Your selection was based on Academic Achievement, Athletic Achievement, Character, Citizenship and Leadership. Your nomination was submitted by your local school officials.

"The demanding requirements for selection plus the number of fine young men nominated makes your selection an outstanding achievement. All West Texas will be proud of you and will look for continued exemplary achievement as a young citizen of West Texas."

THANK YOU, NEIGHBOR

More than once in recent years we have taken exception to the comments of the foreign press in this space. Accordingly, it is a good feeling to salute a good neighbor for printing an editorial which should please and refresh American taxpayers. The following is from the English-language News, the prominent and respected Mexican newspaper, of January 17:

"Apparently there is no little world apprehension regarding Uncle Sam's proposed 50 million dollar increase in the military budget.

"Unfortunately, there is to date no indication that Lenin's goal of ultimate world domination has been relaxed. Red aggression in Vietnam, the invasion of Czechoslovakia, Russia's pitting of Arabs against Israel and its subversion undermining democratic government all over the globe point to a likelihood that, were it not for Uncle Sam's deterrent, arming imposition would quickly shrink an otherwise slowly-diminishing free world, or by now have already turned it into an occupied camp.

"In the absence of a UN militarily capable, or even verbally willing, to back free nations in their fight to remain free, the only checkmate is U. S. determination. The UN, while all this effort to undermine liberty goes on can only single out and censure tiny Israel for its raid of retaliation on the Beirut airport.

"It's a good thing Uncle Sam is willing to remain strong. He has no designs against peoples' sovereignty. Should his will weaken, not only Southeast Asia but Latin America and a host of other wide areas might fall prey to a stealthy Red predator. Should he drop his guard altogether, the predator might quickly become a juggernaut."

Friend and foe alike heap a great deal of abuse upon Uncle Sam's expenditures of money and manpower to aid and protect nations which wish to remain free.

We wish that more of the critics would reflect, as the News has done, on what the alternative would be if Uncle Sam did not stand as a deterrent to Communist encroachment.

ON PIGS

It will be recalled that some weeks back when the so-called "Walker Report" on the Chicago riots was released, the authors characterized the happenings in Chicago as a "police riot."

Since it seems improbable to us that many of our subscribers will permit a copy of the report itself into their homes, because of the incredible filth it quotes on virtually every page, we think it might be educational for our readers to ponder the following, which is quoted from pages 119 and 120 of the original report.

At approximately 7 p. m. (on August 27) a crowd estimated at 1,500 persons listened to Bobby Seale of the Black Panther Party. The Walker Report quotes him as saying:

"The message of the Black Panther Party is of developing revolution . . . We must understand as we go forward that there are pigs: Lyndon Johnson, Hubert Humphrey and Nixon in the society . . . We go forward as human beings to remove pigs and hogs that are terrorizing people here and throughout the world. We as revolutionaries, will let them know we refuse to accept their decisions . . . If a pig comes up and starts swinging a club, then put it over his head and lay him out on the ground. It's the same thing for other groups in a similar situation when pigs will attack. If you're getting down to the nitty-gritty, you'll have some functional organization like ours to take care of pigs in a desired manner . . . If the pigs treat us unjustly tonight, we'll have to barbecue us some of that pork."

The same Walker Report then quotes Jerry Rubin as saying to the same 1,500 persons:

"We whites have been suppressed as blacks have for the past 100 years. We're going with the blacks. We'll take the same risks as blacks take. If they try to keep us out of the park, then we'll go to the streets. They bring out the pigs to protect the pigs they nominate."

Those two exhortations should make clear to all who investigated the riots. And we liked the way one of the Chicago policemen summed it all up: "No man alive ever dared call me a 'pig' until I started wearing the blue uniform."

But that quote didn't get into the Walker Report.

CLASS MEETINGS HELD TO DISCUSS BUSINESS

By Doug Blanton
 Last Wednesday, January 29, each class tended to the class business in the regular monthly meeting.
 The Seniors, meeting in Room 3 listened to Mr. Moody. He told them of the importance in sending in the application forms to the college each planned to attend as soon as possible. He also told the class about government loans and various kinds of scholarships and how they could apply for them.
 The Jr.-Sr. Prom and Banquet was discussed more in detail by the Junior class. Meeting in Room 2, the class chose the 12 Sophomore girls who will serve at the Banquet. In was also decided what the girls will wear. They also decided that March 1 would be the date.
 The Sophomores, having no business to discuss, had a study hall during the period. Some of the kids gathered around the piano and listened to their class sponsor, Mr. Kenna, set music to some poems that were written by Lou Etheridge.
 The Freshmen, also having no business to talk over, had a study hall. They received some March of Dimes folders, just as everyone in the other three classes did. At the proper time, class meetings were dismissed and students went to their third period class.

WORK

By Mencha Diaz

Work is an extremely beneficial experience of life. The world would get nowhere if work was not done. First of all, many people find out what it is to spend even one single penny when they have worked hard and honestly for it. Others may spend money like wasting water for a while, but then they realize what they are doing.

Most young people today probably think that their parents are made of money and that money grows on trees. Instead of spending money wisely or saving it, young persons go out and buy unnecessary items which have been advertised glamorously on television.

When they start to work and are responsible for buying something like a car, young people are hurt by lending so much as a dime out of their own pocket to somebody else. When this happens, it dawns on them how much effort and sacrifice their parents must make to give them all of their necessities.

THE BOSS

"The boss!" Jim said and laughed to see Jimmy dwarfed by his chair.

And I began to wonder. When our son is ready to occupy that chair, what kind of a man will he be? Will he have integrity and a sense of responsibility for his employees? Or will he cut corners, use the people he works for—who work for him?

So much depends on us. Right now, he learns of love and kindness from our voices, our hands. As he matures, our values, respect for others and concern will help to shape his attitudes.

How glad I am that our Church offers a program of Christian education for Jim and me, as well as for Jimmy. As our son grows, so will we.

The strength you need to meet the responsibilities of your life can be found in your church.

Executive V. P. Southern States Industrial Council

A Good Way to Begin is Rhodesia

In cleaning up the mess made by the last administration, President Richard M. Nixon will have his hands full. The catalog of errors made on the domestic and international fronts in the last eight years is enormously long. A good way to begin, however, would be to rescind the Executive orders issued by President Johnson authorizing economic sanctions against Rhodesia.

The Johnson administration went into a tailspin in its handling of relations with independent Rhodesia. Though Rhodesia isn't the biggest problem on the international scene, the former administration's mistaken policy-making regarding that country is symptomatic of what's wrong with U. S. foreign policy in many parts of the world.

The last administration, like the Kennedy administration before it, alienated friends while it appeased foes. This was the case with respect to Rhodesia. The Rhodesians offered to send a contingent of soldiers to fight alongside the Americans in the struggle against communism in Vietnam. No black African country has even come close to making such an offer. On the contrary, the nations of black Africa have been part of the chorus that shouted condemnation at the United States.

So what did the Johnson administration do? On July 29 of last year, Lyndon Johnson issued Executive Order No. 114-9, prohibiting U. S. nationals from engaging in commercial and financial activities that would support the Rhodesian economy. What a way to treat a nation that extended the hand of friendship! The Executive Order backed up a resolution for sanctions that was pushed through the UN by the radical Afro-Asian bloc.

As a result of the order, American industry was refused permission to import chrome ore from Rhodesia, a highly strategic metal. Where did American purchasers have to turn? The answer is "Russia."

But that was all right with the Johnson administration. While the Johnson administration was quick to punish Rhodesia, a Western-oriented nation with a free enterprise economy, it was all for "building bridges" to the Soviet Union and its communist satellites.

Though the former administration was all for applying thumb screws to the Rhodesians, it rejected economic sanctions or pressures against the Soviet Union after the Kremlin sent 600,000 men into Czechoslovakia in a shocking act of ruthlessness and terror.

It is time for the United States to discard the double standard that has been employed in the last eight years. If economic sanctions are to be employed, let's use them against enemies of the United States — the communist and socialist states that hate freedom. Let's not join any more U. N. lynch mobs that want to destroy friendly, progressive governments such as that of Rhodesia.

The Rhodesians have as much right as any people to enjoy independence on their own terms, as much right, for example, as the American colonists of 1776. They not only have the right to self-rule but they have the capacity for it. This is not the case with the majority of African countries, for their economies are in a state of chaos and their politics often are the politics of terror.

The extremists in and out of the U. N. try to present independent Rhodesia as a threat to the peace, when that country isn't menacing anyone and is in a state of internal peace. But the U. N. won't even consider the civil war in Nigeria which has resulted in the death of hundreds of thousands of Biafran secessionists and which also has led to the use of Soviet weapons on the African continent. The government of Kenya, another black African state, expels thousands of longtime Asian residents, but the U. N. doesn't do anything about that. The Johnson administration didn't issue any Executive Orders to reprimand Kenya or Nigeria.

President Nixon has a great opportunity to make a new start in foreign policy by ending the shame and hypocrisy of Executive Order No. 11419 issued by his predecessor. With a stroke of the pen, he can allow resumption of normal U. S. trade relations with Rhodesia. This step logically should be a prelude to U. S. recognition of the government of independent Rhodesia and an exchange of ambassadors.

From this action, the world would know that there's a "new broom" in Washington and that the mistakes of the past will be swept away. The world would know that henceforth the U. S. will reserve its hostility for foes of freedom and will give the anti-communist nations the support and solidarity they deserve.

Washington News Letter

Congressman O. C. Fisher

Inflation had its biggest jump in 17 years during 1968. The consumer price index climbed 4.2%. The 1969 dollar will buy the same amount of groceries that 50 cents would buy 20 years ago.

A basic cause of inflation is deficit federal spending policies, the effect of which creates more money and credit to compete for goods and services. This is aggravated by artificially high wage rates which add to production costs. —and hence the increase in prices.

It follows that if inflation is to be effectively curbed, deficit spending must be reduced or eliminated. Our present crisis is traceable to the government policy in recent years of financing an expensive war and at the same time maintaining and expanding the multiplicity of welfare and other programs. Congress is responsible for this.

Right now — at a time when we should be seeking ways to reduce federal spending — there's a major pay raise afoot, covering the Congress, the judiciary and others in the major positions in government.

While there may be good reason for some pay adjustments, I am convinced this is not the right time to increase such rates. It would set a bad pattern for others, both in and out of government, and conceivably influence another round of raises. Hence, more inflation.

WHAT IS IN STORE FOR YOU?

Each one of us is anxious and ready for a new beginning. In the "Land of Beginning Again" — may well apply to us at this time — as we have started this New Year of 1969.

Let us consider seriously and solemnly our responsibilities and our privileges. Because we know with our privileges come responsibilities.

In this great land of America we are blessed above all other peoples of the world. The material things of life are made available to the largest number of individuals by the extension of credit. This is one of our great privileges, and as with others, come the responsibility of paying our obligations on time, as agreed.

When you, Mr. Merchants, are asked to grant credit, you want to give your customers fast, efficient service. With little advance planning, and very little risk, you can do so by calling your Credit Bureau — the Retail Merchants Association — and requesting an oral report.

When you need credit information, just give us a ring.

"IF YOU WANT IT ALL, GIVE US A CALL."

Highway Dept. Distributes New Texas Hiway Maps

Austin — A field of bluebonnets beside a Central Texas stream enhances the cover of the 1969 Official State Highway Map released today by the Texas Highway Department.

Like the bluebonnet, the map is a perennial favorite of Texas motorists. Approximately 1.2 million maps were distributed last year and projections for 1969 call for distribution as high as 1.5 million.

Added this year are 127 miles on the Interstate Highway system. They include important links on IH 40 from east of Amarillo to the New Mexico border and 20 miles of IH 635 in the Dallas area from IH 35E eastward to IH 30.

Almost 2.1 thousand miles of Interstate highways in Texas are now open to traffic.

Reflecting rapid urbanization of the State, a special inset map of the Longview-Kilgore-Taylor urban region is included on the map. The inset is similar to one added last year for the Rio Grande Valley urban region.

GRASS FIRE CONTROLLED

Ozona firemen were called to the Bill Black ranch northwest of town Monday afternoon to extinguish a grass fire.

The blaze was quickly brought under control and only about 10 acres of range land was burned.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to take this opportunity to thank our many friends and patrons who made our 23 years in the grocery business here in Ozona very successful. We will miss visiting with you and serving you daily and it is with sad hearts that we are forced to retire due to illness.

Sincerely,
