If people think the "law and order" issue is dead, they need to take note of the many letters of commendation being received daily by Crockett County Deputy Sheriff Levon Parker. And they are letters of commendation, so far, not one has been critical, although you would think some nut would be after his hide for picking up "those poor unfortunate children" before they could get to the West Coast and away. committing "Heaven knows" how many more crimes on

This one incident points up very clearly how desparately we need to unshakle our law men and give them every opportunity to do their job the way they see fit. Too long our courts and laws have been tailor made to benefit the criminal and hamper the law man The result has been mushrooming crime all over the nation.

Competent policemen in the cities are quitting their jobs everyday because of the war on police being conducted by subversive elements in our

The pity is the fact that instead of zeroing in on this element, the news media has made heroes of these killers and if one of them happens to get knocked off, they yell their heads off and weep and wail all over the front page for the dead thug while calling for an all-out investigation of the police department. On the other hand, how often do you see an editor outraged at the killing of policemen over the country. How often is is written up on the front page of your daily? The only mourners are the man's family and the public in general has come to accept the war on the law man

Not us, we stand firmly bewe are just as proud of Von as everybody else in town. We think he was pretty sharp to notice that the car and the attire of the passengers "didn't fit." We also commend him for deciding to look into it, instead of forget it and go on home to a hot meal and television. We salute Von for his dedication to his job, such a rare attribute these days.

Concern about our soil has always been a foremost concern for conservation. Through the years, people are always saying how you should treat your soil, what to grow, when, and why. Just because people are saying this and you hear a lot about it, does that mean the individual, small-town man is doing anything about it? The people of today are concerned

Martin Harvick Gets Commodity Distribution Job

Martin Harvick was selected from the ten applicants to be the county commodity distributor for the USDA food program. Crockett County had been sharing the program with Sutton and Edwards counties since the program was adopted last year, but mushrooming welfare rolls necessitated the hiring of a full-time county employee.

Harvick is presently receiving on-the-job training from a USDA official from Austin.

He announced today that distribution days for this month will be March 15 through 19 Applications for the free food will be taken daily with the exception of the week the food is delivered and weekends. Harvick will take applications at the center, located across from the El Sombrero Cafe, from 8 to 12 and from 1 until 5 on weekdays.

Deputy Von Parker Receives Statewide Praise For Arrest of Slaying Suspects

An editorial in the San Antonio Express of Feb. 23 lent voice to praises being heaped on Crockett County Deputy Sheriff Levon Parker for his alertness which resulted in the capture of three suspects in

Mrs. Kyle, 93,

Funeral services for Mrs. Walter (Minnie B.) Kyle, 93, were held Thursday afternoon from the Ozona United Methodist Church with burial in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Kyle died Tuesday night in the Eldorado nursing home where she had lived the past two years.

She was born June 20, 1878 in Lexington, Mississippi. She was married to George Walter Kyle in Dallas in 1907. He was one of the first rock masons 10 in Ozona and did the rock work on many of the older buildings in town including the old junior High School building. He died in 1930. Mrs. Kyle had been a resident of Ozona for 61 years.

Survivors include a son, Arthur Kyle of Ozona; a daughter, Mrs. Chalmers Broadfoot of San Antonio; four grandchildren and four great grand-

WANTED: ONE CRYSTAL BALL

Folklore has it that the future can be predicted by peering intently into a crystal ball. And there are lots of folks around these days who would like to have a good, reliable crystal ball. Unfortunately, none seems to have turned up, and so there is great controversy on all sides as to what the future will hold.

The stock market is always great game for the prognosticators, the only trouble being that recently the prognosticators have been guessing in all directions. The problem-if you can call it that - is that the market began climbing in mid-May, 1970 from a low of 631 on the Dow Jones industrial average and by December it had zoomed up by more than 200 points. By that time, many experts were predicting that a "sharp adjustment" was long overdue and that a drop in prices could be expected; others declared that the first bad news to come along would burst the bubble and prices would come toppling down. But, by the end of February the market was still climbing without a waver and indeed had posted 50 more points on top of the 200 previously gained. One would think that with all of the "smart" computers around it would be easy to tell what will happen next, but stock prices are as unpredictable to electronic calculators as they are to

If such happens, we will have a very good year, indeed. But if the President and his advisors seem to be very confident about the future, there are others who are not; and so the debate goes on.

It's easy, you know, to become a millionaire. All you have but many feel most strongly to do is be right 51 percent of the time. Now, if we had just one, good crystal ball

OPPOSITION TO FAP

Washington, D. C .-- Gov. Ronald Reagan of California is shaping up as the national leader best informed about the nature of the welfare mess and most determined to effect genuine reforms.

The Reagan approach entails a work requirement for all able-bodied persons receiving welfare assistance in Cal ifornia. Unfortunately, the Nixon administration is playing on the pattern of the Social down such a requirement in connection with the proposed Family Assistance Plan. Instead, administration insiders are talking about increasing the scope of welfare assistance, Richard Wilson, Washington Evening Star columnist, recently commented that Gov. Reagan believes that "The President seems to be out of touch with a national revulsion against welfare abuses and transfixed by Washington bureaucrats who have sold him on the ide of the guaranteed income ax idea.

ters for the first time in his career -- even as conservatives are expressing disillusionment with the administration. Joseph Alsop, a veteran Washington columnist and exponent of the liberal viewpoint on domestic issues, recently said of the President's welfare plan: "If FAP ever passes this will certainly prove to be a far more radical measure than most peo ple suppose. The end result, in fact, will be public welfare mainly federally administered Security System." Mr. Alsop rightly terms FAP 'a centeralizing measure." It will deprive the states of any significant degree of control over welfare. Hopes of ever reducing the welfare burden -the burden of free-loaders -will be small indeed if the administration's proposal is enacted into law.

Both administration strategists and liberal Democrats -the latter prefer massive new food stamp programs to the FAP plan -- are failing to take the public pulse on the handout As a result, the President is issue. Sen. Lawton Chiles (Dreceiving praise in liberal quart Fla) is one important officeholder who has taken the public "On the road, " the senator recently told a capital correspondent, "I ran into a lot of the working poor -- the guy who is making $3,600 to $7,000 a year. He is making it on his own and to take that away from him would be the worst thing they could do.

Sen. Chiles asserted that the Nixon administration's FAP legislation would encourage more lower-paid workers to seek welfare. He noted that people making it on their own are among the most outspoken critics of the welfare system, giving the example of a mechanic whole "veins pop out on his head when he talks about welfare."

These citizens are the forgotten Americans -- forgotten by opportunists in the administration and slick headline hunters in the Senate who pose as humanitarians in a "war against hunger." The forgotten Americans -- the self-reliant Americans -- still have plenty of fight left in them. They undoubtedly will find leaders at the national level capable of articulating their objections to schemes designed to get the votes of the handout hounds.

What To Do In March With rushing winds and gloomy skies the dark and stubborn winter dies; Far off, unseen, spring faintly cries, bidding her earliest child arise: March! -Bayard Taylor This is an active month in the outdoor garden. Everywhere the greenhouse gardener is busy. To keep abreast of spring work it is necessary to plan carefully and, above all, to take advantage of every favor-able opportunity the weather affords. In March are laid some of the very foundations for summer gardens. Weeks, days and even hours frittered away at this time can never be regained. The results of this neglect will be increasingly evident as the season progresses.

Everything you do now in preparation for the coming flower show in April will more than repay you in fine exhibits for the show. Days fly by so briskly that when the date arrives, we have neglected to make definite plans in order to gos to Mrs. Hillery Phillips, horticulturel specimens to enter. All members are obligated to have both horticulture and artistic exhibits and the public is invited to enter both divisions if they wish.

Begin spraying or dusting roses as soon as new growth begins and repeat these treatments at weekly intervals throu, METHODIST WSCS ghout the growing season. Prune your roses by the middle of March.

Perennials should be divided before new growth is very far advanced. For early blooming, divide, replant and plant Dahlia tubers now. For later blooms, do not plant until A-pril or May which gives the best results.

Various lawn grasses, such as St. Augustine, centipede, Zoysia and Bermuda, that are grown from sprigs or plugs, may be planted anytime from

If lily bulbs are to be planted this spring, get them in the ground at the earliest possible

Bulbs for summer blooming that may be planted outdoors in March are Calla lilies, Gloriosas, Crinums, Cannas, tube roses, Elephant Ears, Gladioli, Hymenocallis (spider lily) montbretias, Oxalis and Tigredias.

As flowers begin to fade on spring bulbs, remove the flower stalk. Do not cut the foliage, however, as it produces food for the development of a new bulb. Hide the foliage by tucking it beneath overhanging shrubbery or by planting annuals in the bed.

If we could build a fence around the world, would we respect our limitations and live happily with one another? Would we stop wars? Probably not!

You can fence in physical objects but not the minds and hearts of mankind.

Nor can we be forced to live in peace. Peace comes through practicing love, faith and tolerance — an understanding of God and His Church. Then, remember World Day of Prayer. Determine not to build a fence around yourself, or around anyone else. Instead, enlarge your horizons through the common voice of prayer.

I love America becase it has a strong Army. It is beatifull. It invents a lot of things. It has nace people. We love our Scout den mothers and our den brother. I love our homes which we live in. We love our trees and all our plants. We love our cars and trucks. Our country is free. Garry Tinsley

We love our America be cause it is beutifull and we live which are hunted and killed on it and we are not supposed to pollute it, and we could not live without it. We grow some of our food on it. And it is the prettyest place I know of and it will always beutifull if we will not pollute it.

Perry Fikes I like America because you can live the way you want to live.

County Heart Fund Drive Is Successful

The Crockett County Heart Fund netted a total of $749.99 in its drive last month.

Sixty volunteer workers canvassed the business houses and homes over the town during the month which is traditionally set aside as heart fund month.

This year The Woman's Forum took the drive as a club project. The members directed the drive and most of the volunteers came from the club's ranks.

Conservation —

Our lakes and streams and the water supply in general became the next great concern for preservation. People began to use the lakes for pleasure and enjoyment. They would fish and also swim and ski. This was not harmful to the water; it was the trash they would discard into the stream, or the waste they would leave on the ground, free to blow into the

In more ways than this our streams have been polluted. Factories have carelessly emptied their wastes into nearby streams. Large cities have done nothing in general to preserve our fresh water supply.

The air we breathe is one of the most vital resources for life. Today, our atmosphere is polluted with smog and wastes from cars and also factories in the cities. People are careless in their fight to get ahead in the Pollution of our natural resources is not confined to these few items mentioned. Our natural environment does not consist of only soil, water and the air we breathe. The animals also add to our environment.

Our natural environment is the things which man did not build, but which were here for man. It is not something we can abuse and expect to reproduce and flourish as it did in the beginning. The true enemy of the natural environment is man himself. Many men try to make up for what his neighbor has destroyed. One bad apple can ruin many more and one good apple can not survive in a barrel of rotten ones. There is only one alternative; man can preserve and protect his natural environment, or styles, color combinations and he can perish from his own lack fabrics to choose from. Call of interest to do something
