Kitty's Korner

By Kitty Montgomery

After temperatures of up to 105° last week, this week's readings in the mid-nineties seem almost cool in comparison. Also, we received our Christmas card order books, which was another sign that the hot weather won't last forever.

With the high price of postage, we don't really think we will get rich selling Christmas cards this year, but you might like to come by and look at the beautiful designs.

 I found a list of questions and answers applicable to weekly newspapers in several of our area papers last week, so really don't know which one to give the credit to. However, I can't resist stealing it, cause it is so typical of questions I try to answer every day. I'm sure I'd never in a million years be able to think of such clever answers. If I did I might be too chicken to use them. If you have questions such as these listed, you might get a kick out of the following:

Q. Why don't you run funnies in the paper?

A. We think we have the funniest paper in the state already.

Q. Why don't you have an advice to the lovelorn column like "Dear Abby"?

A. None of our readers have any such problems.

Q. Why do you have all those misprints?

A. They're the most entertaining part of the paper.

Q. Why didn't you publish the poem I sent you?

A. It was a lousy poem.

Q. Why do you always say "we" when referring to yourself in the newspaper?

A. We want our readers to think they are outnumbered.

Q. Why don't you put out a bigger paper, like the "Dallas Morning News"?

A. We plan on it, just as soon as our town is the size of Dallas.

Q. Why don't you write an editorial and tell those guys on the commissioners court what they can do to improve the town?

A. Why don't you go down to the next meeting and tell 'em yourself?

Q. Why do you devote space to such trivialities as "Joe Smith is feeling poorly this week"?

A. Because good old Joe has many pals who are concerned over his health, even if you are not.

Q. Why don't you run more "Letters to the Editor"?

A. Why don't you write me one? And sign it with your name, please -- don't be chicken.

We sort of drift along in the summer, thinking nothing much ever happens around here, but believe me, there was plenty of excitement at the Bud Harrison house the other night.

Mrs. Harrison felt something hit at her when she was walking through a dimly lighted room in her home and thinking it was her son, Richard, paid no attention. When the unknown object struck again, she still paid no attention. Mothers of young boys are used to being tormented. However, when she turned on a light, she discovered a baby rattlesnake coiled in her deep pile carpet and ready to strike again. Upon making this discovery, she doesn't really know what happened. She evidently made some sort of noise, because Bud came to the rescue and got rid of the snake.

They believe it gained entry to the house through some sliding glass doors which open onto the patio.

Mrs. Harrison has also been stranded up the river in a houseboat recently, but that's another story.

In the campaign to eliminate mosquito breeding places, officials have also asked that all garbage cans and containers be covered, and that property

Jr. Rodeo Cancelled Due To Threat of VEE

For the first time in many years, Ozona will not have a junior rodeo this year. Cancellation of the rodeo was due to the epidemic of Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis and the resulting quarantine to the premises of horses.

The Lions Club rodeo committee met last week and voted to cancel the rodeo which was scheduled for August 6-7. The embargo on horses in Texas followed, and with school beginning the end of August, the WHO'S FUSSING about hot weather? Not this lady. Nothing suits a Siamese cat better than warm weather or a warm place for a nap. This sleek beauty is droopy-eyed in anticipation of a warm afternoon nap. Her name is Tweedy and she's in charge at the Tom Montgomery home.

New Oil Strikes Send Activity Up In County

Texaco Inc. has completed a Canyon sand discovery and asked field designation of Barline for its No. 1 L. M. Hudspeth Memorial Hospital, Crockett County wildcat, 19 miles west of Sonora, 2-3/4 miles southeast of the one-well Angus (Strawn gas) field and nine miles northwest of the Denison (Strawn and Canyon gas) field of Sutton County.

Students Must Complete Shots By January 1st

Supt. L. B. T. Sikes again this week reminded students and parents of the new state law which requires immunization against certain diseases in order to enroll in school.

All students will be allowed to enter their respective school systems during the summer and fall terms this year with the provision that their immunizations against at least one of the six diseases has been started by January 1, 1972 and completed as soon thereafter as medically feasible.

Immunization schedules according to grade or age groupings include:

Kindergarten through fifth grade, Polio (at least three oral doses of vaccine), Diphtheria/Tetanus (minimum of three doses with one being received since the fourth birthday), Measles (one dose of vaccine), does not apply if child has had measles; Rubella (one dose) not required past age 12, and Smallpox (one vaccination) within past 10 years.

In children enrolling in grades 6 through 12, the same inoculations are required as for the younger group with the exception measles and Rubella.

Students enrolling in college will need a booster D/t provided they have had the initial three doses when younger, and a smallpox vaccination within the past ten years.

Schools will be required to maintain records of the immunization status of individual students.

Lift Quarantine So Horses May Now Be Taken To Vet For Shots

The on-premises quarantine on horses in the state of Texas has been lifted in order that horse owners may transport their animals to the nearest veterinarian for vaccination against Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis.

Dr. Joe David Ross and Dr. Wayne Herrmann of Sonora were in Ozona at the fairgrounds from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. Tuesday vaccinating horses against the disease. Dr. Ross began working the western part of Crockett County Tuesday afternoon and work will be continued until all horses in the county have the vaccine. When the present supply is exhausted, it is expected that a more than ample supply will be available.

A list is being made up by Jerry Hayes at the Ranch Feed and Supply Co., of all Crockett County horse owners. It would be advisable for those who are unable to transport horses to be sure their name, location and number of horses is on the list as the vets will be using it for reference as they fan out in the county.

vaccination and the vaccine may be obtained and injected only by a licensed veterinarian. The listing of horses will facilitate the vaccinations.

The federal government is making the vaccine and the services of the veterinarians free of charge to all horse owners in the state. According to officials, it takes 14 days to establish immunity after the vaccine.

One horse death due to encephalomyelitis was reported in the county late last week. However, the attending veterinarian said that in his opinion the horse died of the Eastern type of the disease and did not have symptoms of VEE.

To date there has been no confirmed case of VEE any further north in the state than San Antonio. However, precautions are being taken to prevent the spread of the disease and the county is spraying all water holes and sewage facilities for mosquitoes.

Due to dry weather, there has been a very small mosquito population in Ozona this summer. However, officials have asked home-owners to check their premises for standing water, and eliminate any condition which might create a breeding ground for mosquitoes.

WHY THE POLARIZATION?

California congressman Paul McCloskey announced his candidacy for the presidency last week. He pledged in effect to surrender South Vietnam, insisting the only thing we should be negotiating is the return of our POW's. He is the only Republican known to be planning to oppose President Nixon in New Hampshire, the earliest primary. Norton Simon, the huge California industrialist, has contributed substantially to McCloskey's presidential campaign.

The congressman, like so many other people, points out that our country is being polarized by the war. Such people talk as though everyone would agree on everything, were it not for the Vietnam war. But the war is just a symptom of something much deeper. The only reason the war is divisive is because about half of the people in the United States are concerned about the spread of Communism throughout the world, and half are not.

Some do not understand the aggressive nature of Communism. Some refuse to be concerned about it. Some think it would not be so bad living under Communism. At least they do not want to oppose it. In the latter category are people like Senator Fulbright, who wrote that it was all right to oppose the spread of Nazism because it was evil, but we should not oppose Communism militarily because there is some good in it. This is the basic cause of the polarization. The Vietnam war is merely bringing it to a head.

To those opposed to Communist expansion, the war is a test case waged by Moscow and Peking to see if they can get away with the confusion and propaganda that accompany wars of "liberation." The technique is an improvement on the Korean war, from the Communist point of view. For example, the United States is keeping troops in South Korea to prevent the North from starting another war on the South. But half the people in America, like Senator McCloskey, do not see any reason for keeping troops in South Vietnam, though obviously the reason would be the same.

The Vietnam war appears to have polarized our country. But if we abandon Vietnam and let the Communists take over, those 50 percent of Americans who are vitally concerned about the threat of Communism are going to be more concerned than ever. Their dismay and increased concern is going to cause more polarization, particularly when they see the Communists move on to "liberate" other countries.

REFORMING THE WELFARE SYSTEM

The Senate Finance Committee has just begun hearings on reforming the nation's welfare system. The cost of welfare is so staggering, and it is increasing at such an alarming rate, that prompt action must be taken. No longer can we afford to let political leaders "look to the next election" by increased spending. Already welfare is cutting sharply into such important budgets as the education of our children and police protection on our streets.

Ten years ago there were 6.18 million people on welfare, receiving $3.8 billion. Today there are 13.5 million on the rolls, receiving more than $13 billion. Even without any more "generosity" on the part of our politicians, the present program is due to double in the next four years. As fast as the Vietnam war is winding down, the cost of welfare is going up, leaving no funds for any other needs, such as curtailing the spread of drugs.

The cause of this soaring welfare rate is not an increase in poverty. The number of people living at the poverty level has decreased 50 percent in the last 12 years. We ought to be creating more jobs and less handouts.

The blame for increasing welfare costs lies with the Federal government's HEW and with Supreme Court decisions. HEW is blackmailing states to accept more costly welfare programs. For real reform, HEW must be stripped of its power to dictate welfare programs. States need federal assistance, but they should have the power to determine how that assistance can best be used in their state. In the words of Senator Thurmond: "The dismal record of HEW in this field suggests that any state could devise a far more beneficial and creative system of welfare administration suitable to its own needs if given the power to do so freely."

Write your Senators to take a close look at the Mills Bill. It compounds the problem by instituting the guaranteed annual income. It would add twice as many to the welfare rolls, and concentrate more and more power with bureaucratic Washington.

'LOOKS LIKE WE'VE RUN OUT OF PEP'

LET'S WELCOME YOUNG VOTERS

More than 11 million young people between the ages of 18 and 21 are now eligible to vote for the President for the first time. All they have to do is register. When national election time rolls around in 1972, 25 million young people under the age of 25 will be eligible to cast their first vote for the President of their choice.

Rarely in the history of this nation have potential first-time voters made up so large a share of the total voting age population—nearly 1 in 5.

Hopefully, this will result in a major rejuvenation of the major parties with the injection of young and energetic workers.

It is up to our present political leadership to welcome and encourage these young Americans. They should listen and incorporate their worthwhile ideas, utilize their manpower, and encourage their dedication and participation toward a better tomorrow.

We have opened "The System" to them. Now we must demonstrate that they can work effectively within it.

Gary Sutton Named Baylor Bear Co-Capt.

When Baylor Head Coach Bill Beall picked his four tackles to serve as co-captains for the opener against Kansas, he couldn't have found four with deeper Baylor ties.

Offensive tackle Ron Evans' father was Bearbound as an athlete until he was sidelined and his partner, Joe Albright points back to two generations of Baylor linemen. On the defense tackle Gary Sutton had an older brother, Bobby, letter for the Green and Gold while Glen Chmelar's brother-in-law, Donnie Lawrence, is a former letterman and grid great. Word from Baton Rouge is that Baylor linebacker Roger Goree is getting ready for the fall grind. He's bench pressing 275 pounds and is tough as nails, reports teammate Gene Wilson. Goree was the SWC defensive sopher of the year last season at end and handled linebacker like he invented the position in spring training.

Playing the Name Game: This fall Baylor will have a Barber (Scotty) and a Taylor (Ed), and Black (Mike) and a White (Godfrey), a Bowling (Larry) but no Ball, a Hale (Mike) but no Hardy, a Mason (Richard), a Cooper (Kenny), a Dorman (Cary), a Mouser (Dale), a Porter (Sammy), a Savage (Paul), a Stout (Danny), a Turnipseed (Tom), a Wall (Bruce), a Wilder (Mike) and they'll always be Wright with Lee. In addition Coach Bill Beall can resort to one of his managers for wisdom (he's Bill Solomon) and if the bench falls down he can call on a student trainer, Tommy Tackler.

Baylor Coach Bill Beall says he didn't pressure son Phil to reject a pro baseball contract this summer. "It was his decision all the way," Phil was drafted by the San Francisco Giants but will return to Baylor's defensive secondary this fall where he was a stand-out performer last season.

Gary Sutton of Ozona, one of the co-captains for the opener is here getting ready for the first day of practice, August 18, at Baylor. Gary, a senior this fall, is 6'1" and weighs 230. He has been readying himself for workouts by running and weight lifting daily. He is bench pressing 300 pounds and feels he will be a candidate for All South-west Conference tackle.

WASHINGTON NEWS LETTER

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

The epidemic of Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis, also called sleeping sickness, which has invaded Texas from Mexico, has aroused national concern. An experimental vaccine, TC83, developed by the Department of Defense, has proven effective. As of this time USDA reports some 700,000 doses of the vaccine have been sent to southern Texas, while another 100,000 doses are in Austin.

In addition, a spray of the insecticide malathion, to kill the culex and salt water mosquitoes which carry the disease is being used in some areas.

It is estimated that as many as 500 Texas horses have died from the disease already. A person who is bitten by a mosquito which has bitten an infected horse, may contract the disease. But with humans it is rarely fatal.

The ban against movement of horses between Texas counties and out of the state has caused cancellation of rodeos, horse shows and some county fairs.

An all-out battle is shaping up to combat spread of the disease. While the vaccine is still experimental, it seems to offer the best hope. A massive spraying operation, with the help of the Air Force, may be undertaken. Each farmer and rancher is well advised to destroy mosquito breeding spots by use of chemicals. The Animal Health Agency in Austin is spearheading the Texas drive, along with the State Health agency, veterinarians, and various livestock organizations.

The disease has been spreading northward through Mexico for three years. Last month about 6,000 horses died from the fever in that country.

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

THE WELFARE EXPLOSION

The U. S. Senate's forthcoming action on welfare legislation will have enormous and long-lasting effects on American Society. If the Senate approves the Family Assistance plan initially proposed by the Nixon administration and modified by the House Ways and Means Committee, the country will be burdened with a vastly augmented welfare proletariat. Under the legislation drafted by Rep. Wilbur Mills, chairman of Ways and Means, the nation's welfare population will at least double. Perhaps 25 million non-workers will receive a guaranteed annual wage at the expense of employed citizens and taxpayers.

A publicity juggernaut has cleared the way for H.R. 1, the Mills-Nixon proposals. It will be very difficult to block welfare expansion legislation or win approval for an alternative such as Senate bill 2037 drafted by Sen. Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb). The only hope of preventing enactment of the Mills-Nixon welfare expansion plan lies with making the public aware of what is at stake.

If the Senate approves a doubling of the welfare population, it will double the burden on the productive elements in the country. Workers must carry twice as many non-workers on their backs.

But that's only part of the picture. The Mills-Nixon bill will have especially serious effect on many semi-rural areas struggling to improve their economies. In June 1970, Fortune Magazine discussed the impact of a guaranteed annual wage plan on a basically rural county with some light industry. It is clear from Fortune's analysis that the impact would be devastating. A guaranteed annual wage plan would cause many workers employed at the minimum wage to give up their jobs and live on welfare. Such legislation, the article made clear, would undermine incentives for working.

Proponents of the Mills-Nixon plan may say that the solution is to increase the minimum wage. Experience shows, however, that minimum wage hikes eliminate jobs. A small motel or light manufacturing plant in a rural county can't pass on higher labor costs to customers without losing customers. The motel, for instance, can't raise its rates from $11.50 to $15 for a single without having many travelers decide to stay at another -- and perhaps more attractive -- motel in a larger community.

If the Mills-Nixon approach is approved by the Senate Finance Committee and the full Senate, the country will be saddled with a new army of drones that will be impossible to satisfy. The next Congress will be called upon to raise the guaranteed annual wage and provide additional benefits for non-workers. Congress is likely to be responsive to such demands, for the non-workers have the ballot. Indeed the Mills-Nixon plan will be a blessing to the Welfare Rights Unions that are active in the cities.

The guaranteed annual wage concept is the worst feature of the Mills-Nixon legislation. It takes the intended beneficiaries out of the mainstream of American economic life and, in the words of Prof. Arthur A. Shenfield of Rockford College, "leaves them marooned on islands of subsidized sloth."

Our society provides numerous ladders of opportunity for people who want to work. But the federal government, in recent years, has done its best to knock down those ladders and provide an escalator in the form of subsidized idleness. The food stamp plan, for example, is a slap at every thrifty, working family in the country. In towns and cities across the nation one sees able-bodied and often well-dressed men and women line up for food stamps -- while classified ads for workers go unanswered and home-owners find it difficult to hire domestic help or even baby-sitters. The food stamp recipients even complain that they have to stand in line for the handouts. Public officials, mindful of the voting power of the

Tips For Gardeners

From The Ozona Garden Club By Mrs. Bailey Post

From early summer and into the fall months, our roadsides and gardens providemany small fruits and seed for birds and people. To watch the birds feast each morning is a most rewarding way to spend a few minutes or an hour if you really want to enjoy our great outdoors.

Just now the Mexican canaries are devouring native zexmania seed. Where the busy rough-leaved plants have plenty of moisture, they are covered with orange-colored composite flowers from late spring to fall.

An aromatic prickly shrub that produce greenish-yellow flowers, small, round black pitted fruits and round, shining black seed is the Prickly Ash or Ticklelongue Bush. The red and mocking birds especially seems to feed on these.

Later, the Mexican Persimmon which is now loaded with green marble size berries will furnish a black, sweet, juicy edible fruit for the birds. This is a typical chaparral associated with cat-claw, algarita, mesquite, live oak and other dry land shrubs and trees. They make small trees or shrubs with pale, bare trunks and branches with a small dark green leaf. A tea made of the inner white bark has been used for chills and fever.

Also, the poke berry or ink berry plant is most familiar through its many uses. Tender new shoots of poke berry are often gathered in the spring, cooked and prepared like asparagus or turnip greens and mustard greens. Care should always be taken to pour off the first water in which they are boiled and not to cut the shoots too close to the roots. The shining purple berries are a feast for many birds, but not for children. From the poisonous roots an ointment is made to treat ringworms and rheumatism. Too, the poke berry has historical significance in that the berries formed one of the sources of ink in the South during the Civil War. In 1844 a poke berry leaf was worn as a party emblem by the supporters of James K. Polk in his presidential campaign.

In an extended drought, the birds depend more on plants, trees and shrubs in our gardens for their food, so try to include some berry and fruit bearing ones in your planning.

Cut holly-hocks off at ground level, fertilize and water.

Shrubs will benefit from a strong spray to wash off the dust and perhaps prevent red spider and aphids.

Colorful coleus plants may be used to fill in where annuals and perennials have finished blooming.

The Gloriosa Daisy has proven to be a sturdy plant that will take the hot, dry weather, and produce long lasting attractive flowers.

THE NEWS REEL

A re-run of "The Ozona Story"

as gleaned from the files of "THE OZONA STOCKMAN"

Thursday, July 23, 1942

The four-way sheriff's race will be the center of attention for local voters in Saturday's election. Running for the office are R. E. McWilliams, Frank James, Roscoe Coates and Mike Couch. A run-off seems likely.

A grass fire, probably set by a careless passing motorist, burned a section of grass land on the Charlie Davidson ranch eight miles east of town Sunday afternoon.

Burglars last night broke into the Laura Butler Cafe and pilfered an undetermined quantity of cigarettes and other merchandise.

A wide area of parched range lands in Crockett County received reviving moisture Tuesday night, some points reporting up to 1 1/2 inches, raising hopes for a general drought-breaking rain.

Instead of the Red Cross Roll Call, that organization will conduct a combined appeal for membership and war time funds.

Just like a roller coaster, all of us realize that our very life is a series of hills and valleys. We are enjoying a smooth and peaceful existence, when suddenly we find ourselves far from the peaceful valley on what seems like a mountain of confusion and distress.

At such crucial times we need to remember there is a nearby fortress of stability. It is that place of power that stands ever ready to provide the necessary faith and courage to face tomorrow with enthusiasm. Discover the inner peace that comes from divine love. Worship in church this Sunday.

WASHINGTON AND SMALL BUSINESS

AS HEARD BY HEARD

The Taxpayer Pays and Pays

It is not generally known, but there is a thing called the International Labor Organization, the I.L.O., which is kind of an offshoot of the United Nations.

The United States is but one of 121 member nations in this organization, which holds frequent meetings with the U. S. delegation heavily larded with American labor leaders.

It is quite vague what the I.L.O. does. Presumably, it is engaged in improving the conditions of labor around the world. There are also those who claim the organization does a lot of things to create disturbances which are popularly attributed to the CIA. This fact has not been proved.

But Congressman H. R. Gross of Iowa reveals that a couple of years ago the delegates to the I.L.O. decided to build a plush new building for its headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland at a cost of $25 million. And without consulting the Congress, the delegates pledged $5 1/2 million dollars, or slightly more than a fifth of the cost from the U.S. taxpayers. The building is now under construction.

Congressman Gross has this to say about the matter.

"For too many years," the Iowa solon says, "citizens of this country and a spinless Congress have watched international organizations hold meetings in distant parts of the world and vote to soak American taxpayers with ever higher dues and assessments. U. S. taxpayers were already paying $7,400,000 a year in dues to the International Labor Organization, more than double the dues collected from Soviet Russia which, with other communists and fellow-travelers, dominates the organization. This kind of business is intolerable and the American public ought to rise up in high wrath and demand that Congress put a stop to it."

There has probably been no activity of the American government so loosely controlled at the United Nations. Born in high hopes of preserving the peace, the UN track record on this point has not been good.

To many Americans there is the feeling that somehow, someday, despite evidence to date, UN can bring about peace.

Yet the annual general meetings of the organization in New York are little more than futile sounding boards for all types of propaganda.

What most Americans do not know is that there are many subsidiary organizations in the UN, similar to the I.L.O. who spend large sums of money in pursuit of projects that would not be endorsed by the American public.

QUESTIONS I GET ABOUT U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

By SAM SHULSKY

- Q. We are in our late 40s, both working now that our three children are grown, and still find that at the start of a new year we're no better off, financially, than we were a year ago. No investments; no savings. Money just seems to dribble through our fingers. What would you suggest?
- A. I can't think of any device which would force you into the nearest savings bank on pay day. BUT, I certainly favor a system which would help you put money aside BEFORE you get your wages: A Payroll Savings Plan which would deduct X dollars a week from your wages to be put into Series E Savings Bonds.
- The U. S. Treasury is conducting its 1971 Savings Bonds drive. Leading executives of American business and industry are engaged in a campaign to boost 1971 payroll savings deductions for E Bonds by 10 percent over last year's goal.
- These men are engaged in a patriotic endeavor—which is fine. What I'm suggesting, however, is that you do something for yourself by building a nest egg this "painless" way; that is, by putting a portion of your wages into tax-deferred E Bonds BEFORE you get it. You'll be surprised at the way the money mounts up.
- Q. We are newlyweds, both employed and in a high tax bracket. Our parents argue we ought to build up a nest egg before going into stocks. But the income taxes on the interest cut our effective return down to about 3 percent. Shouldn't we buy low-yield stocks?
- A. Not until you acquire a substantial nest egg—as your parents advise. If your joint income puts you into a high tax bracket, your logical "nest egg" medium is U. S. Savings Bonds.

You can get at the money in a moment; they grow at the rate of 5 percent, plus 1/2 of 1 percent at maturity; they are 100 percent backed by the U. S. Government, AND the accumulation of interest doesn't cost you a penny in Federal income tax until such time as you cash in the E Bonds. (U. S. Savings Bonds are exempt from state and local income and personal property taxes.)

- Q. Hasn't the time run out for some of the older E Bonds?
- A. No. All outstanding E and H Savings Bonds are still earning interest. The Treasury recently announced a third 10-year extension for E Bonds issued from May 1941 through April 1952, a second 10-year extension for E Bonds issued from May 1952 through January 1957, and a second 10-year extension for H Bonds issued from June 1952 through January 1957. Incidentally, Freedom Shares—sold in combination with E Bonds from May 1967 through June 1970—have been granted a 10-year extension, so they, too, will continue to earn interest.
- Q. Should I cash in my old E Bonds and buy new ones paying the higher rate?
- A. No. The Treasury Department has advised against this procedure. All outstanding Savings Bonds—regardless of age—have had their yields improved so that they, too, benefit from the "bonus" rate. Further, if you redeemed your older Bonds, you'd be subject to income tax on the accrued interest, and could actually suffer a setback.

City Park To Center Birthday Celebration

The city park will play a big part in Local History Appreciation Week the first week in August.

The lush green park has been the center of interest since the turn of the century, with celebrations, picnics, barbecues and gatherings being held there. A most remarkable fact, the park was literally carved out of solid rock. Holes for the planting of the trees were blasted out, the rock removed and dirt filled in. Then the entire lot was thickly sodded and grass planted. The Ozona Woman's Club, now disbanded, was responsible for the wall of curbing around the park. Crockett County Historical Survey Committee, which sponsors Local History Appreciation Week annually, has planned several events in the park during the week of activities.

A display of antique carriages and implements from the collection of W. L. (Bud) Harrison, will be featured in the park Wednesday, Aug. 4, and Thursday night, Aug. 5, there will be an old-fashioned Western Jamboree in the park, under the direction of Jamie Knox.

Plans are well under way for a display of antiques and family heirlooms. The display

VIP Field In South Crockett Gains Extender

Canyon sand production in the Ozona multipay field of Crockett County was extended 1 1/2 miles southwest with completion of Monitor Natural Gas Co., Midland, No. 1-31 V. I. Pierce, 27 miles south of Ozona, for a calculated, absolute open flow of 2,560 million cubic feet of dry gas per day.

Dear Editor—

Dear Mrs. Montgomery, I haven't met you personally but I feel that I do know you through reading the Ozona Stockman and your column. I always seem to get the pulse of the community after reading your account of what is going on. We agree on the majority of issues.

It has been a long time since I have been in Ozona and now that Mom has moved to Odessa and sold her home, I doubt that I will be seeing many of my friends that I grew up with.

I am writing this note to you for a reason. I would like to see you encourage all of the old time residents to write and let others know how they are doing. I always read the paper and try to spot news of my old classmates.

I have been living in Dallas for about 10 years and have 3 children. My oldest boy, Dan, is 17 and will be a junior in high school. He plays football and has not given us any trouble. Richard, 14, is also a good athlete and participates in many sports. My little girl, Bernita Ann, 10, is a typical little girl who likes to read and play with dolls, etc. As you can tell by the enclosed ad, showing myself at 40, I am an agent with a very fine company and I am very happy in this great profession of insurance.

As for the Lemmons family, they are scattered all over. Maurice is an eye doctor in San Angelo, Howard is a lawyer in Odessa, Bob is an oil field consultant in Canada, Stanley is in Austin with the water control board, and Rosalie is married to a boy in Olympia, Wash., Bud Hollander. They are all fine and in good health.

I have seen Max Word, M. D., several times since he moved back to Dallas. He is teaching at the Medical School and also learning a new field, Radiology. His family is fine.

I must close for now but I wanted to let you know I enjoy your comments in the paper. Hoping you have a fine cool summer in my old hometown, I remain

Sincerely yours, Benard Lemmons
