Kitty's Korner

By Kitty Montgomery

With nothing much to talk about except the hot weather, and nothing much to warn you about except to drive carefully over the coming holiday, I decided to use a guest editorial this week. With a patriotic holiday coming up, it should be of interest.

It was prepared by Reagan Brown, sociologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, after he heard a young boy ask his dad, "Why do we stand when the flag goes by?"

College Station -- At Texas A&M University home football games, the Corps of Cadets always marches in to the music of the Aggie Band. At one of these events, recently, I heard a young boy ask his Dad, "Why do the people stand up when the flag goes by?" I didn't hear the father's answer, but I began to wonder how I would have answered him.

I think I would have begun by pointing to the live oak trees around the university drill field planted in memory of Texas A&M University students who gave their lives in World War I. After the game I would have taken him by the Memorial Student Center built in memory of over 900 Aggies, whose names are on a bronze plaque at the entrance. They gave their lives in the World Wars and those since. I would have also pointed out other memorials on the campus, those that remind us of sacrifices in the most recent wars.

Later, when I could have a quiet time with him, I would talk about Concord's Bridge, Shenandoah Valley, Flanders Field, St. Lo, Guadalcanal, Bastogne, Korea, and Viet Nam. I would mention to him my young Aggie friend, James Ray '63 of Conroe, who has been a prisoner of North Viet Nam for more than five years. And, of course, all the other young men imprisoned over there.

I would then talk of what our flag represents, what kind of country it flies over. I would remind him that America is the land of the refugee, the land of "the huddled masses longing to be free," and a land dedicated to justice, tranquility, and the general welfare of its people.

I would tell him of the average man and woman and the hundreds who have conquered the mountains, prairies, and plains. I would discuss with him how the very lines of the maps have been marked by the blood of hundreds who plowed and planted and fought and planned, and whose offspring have poured their abundance around the world to lift others. Then I would talk of the slant eyes, black faces, Nordic color, Irish enthusiasm, Italian grace, German laughter, Baptists, Catholics, Methodists, Texans, Yankees, Republicans, Democrats, and a thousand and one other tall, short, fat and thin people who call themselves Americans.

We would discuss the "land of the free," "home of the brave," the opportunity to climb the ladder of success according to ability and desire. Then we would talk of philosophy of "how you play the game" and about "not who your Mama or Papa is," but what's your "life game plan." I would remind him how each man can worship God as he pleases, sing, whistle, dance, and cheer as his conscience dictates. Next we would discuss our responsibility to our neighbor, to our environment, to the minority, sick, lame, orphans, and those in their golden years.

Yes, as I thought about how I could answer, as I began to enumerate why we stand when the flag goes by, I caught myself standing there in the quietness of my office. The thoughts caught me up in a reverent respect and I wanted to cry out how much I love the land that has done so much for me. I thought of all the schools, jobs, homes, hos-

OZONA NATIONAL BANKERS, LEADING IN LITTLE LEAGUE PLAY, are undefeated for the second half of play and will be the outright champions for the season if they can post a win over second-place B & B Grocers in tonight's game. The boys are, front row, 1, to r., Wade Beasley, Freddie Garza, Desi Tejerina

Little Leaguers In Final Battles Tonite

Excitement is in store for Ozona Little League fans tonight as Ozona National Bank and B & B Grocers battle it out for the Little Championship. A win by Ozona National will give them the championship outright, in spite of the fact that they tied with the Grocers for the first-half championship. A win by the Grocers will force a play-off game for the championship.

The Bankers, undefeated in the second half of play, have downed the Grocers twice in the second half, but one game was rained out. A win by the Grocers would make the play-off game necessary. Moore Oil will play Ozona Oil in the second game of the double header.

Ozonans' Son Invents New Type Engine

Frank Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Turner of Ozona, of Turner Research Development Co. in Graham, has been credited with inventing a radically new type of engine that offers unlimited possibilities in the field of new automobile and marine engines.

The 29-year-old mechanical engineer unveiled the world's first rotary V-engine during a press conference held Saturday at the Turner Research Development Company. Turner described the first engine as an 8 cylinder, 2-cycle rotary engine which can be adapted to 4 cycles. The 70-pound engine, which develops over 75 HP has two revolving cylinder blocks with 4 pistons in each block.

It does not have a crankshaft, camshaft, or valves. The engine can be built in any size, according to Turner, as small as a chain saw or a larger industrial engine.

Turner was reared at Sanderson and graduated from Sanderson High School. He had two years of mechanical engineering at Texas Tech in Lubbock before entering the business world. Actually, he began working at the age of 13 when he purchased his first lathe, and began manufacturing the custom-designed rifles for customers. Turner and his wife have two sons, ages seven and eight.

All Star practice will begin July 5, and the first game will be with the Big Lake Stars July 18, at 8:00 p.m. The winner will take on the Sonora All Stars July 25.

The All Stars will be managed and coached by the managers of the winning team and the runners-up, which will be Jamie Pagan of Ozona National and Felipe Castro, manager of B & B. The order to be decided tonight.

In play the past week Ozona National beat Moore Oil 18-6 Thursday night. Shane Fenton was the winning pitcher and Steve Pagan the loser. Cruz Garza headed up the hitting with a single, a triple and a home run for the Bankers. Fenton also had three hits for the winners. Roy DeHoyos led the Moore Oil attack with 2 singles.

In the second game B & B crushed Ozona Oil 26-4 with the game called in the fourth inning due to the 10-run rule. Felipe Castro was the winning pitcher and Travis Kimble, the loser, Manuel Longoria led the hitting with a single and a double.

Monday night's games saw B & B edging by Moore Oil by a score of 7-6 and Ozona National downing Ozona Oil 12-4. Felipe Castro was the winning pitcher for B & B and Rodelo Longoria the loser. Castro had a single and a double for the Grocers and Steve Pagan had a double and two triples for the Oilers.

In the game between the Bankers and Ozona Oilers, Freddie Garza was the winning pitcher and Kimble the loser. Fenton led the hitting with a single and a double for the Bankers.

Team standings at present are Ozona National, 5-0; B & B, 3-2; Moore Oil 2-3, and Ozona Oil 0-5.

COUNTRY CLUB GOLF TOURNAMENT JULY 4 The Ozona Country Club will hold its annual club golf tournament July 4.

The men will play 27 holes, teeing off at 1 p.m. Women and boys will begin play Tuesday morning.

A hamburger supper will be held for all club members at 8 o'clock Tuesday night.

BUSINESSES CLOSE FOR HOLIDAY TUESDAY

Most Ozona businesses will be closed for the Fourth of July Holiday Tuesday. Court-house offices will also take Monday as a holiday, making it a four-day weekend.

Retail stores and the bank will be open Monday for business as usual, and several service stations and cafes will be open Tuesday.

Vargas Pleads Guilty Draws Probated Term

Felipe Vargas, III, received a 5-year probated sentence after pleading guilty to a charge of murder without malice in connection with the shooting death of Lupe Fierro November 14, 1971.

Vargas, who was charged with "murder with malice aforethought," changed his plea after the jury reported deadlocked early Wednesday morning. After deliberating for almost seven hours, the jury was reported deadlocked 11-1. Vargas then changed his plea and pleaded guilty to the lesser charge, waiving a jury trial. Judge Charles Sherrill, 112th District Court judge of Fort Stockton, then sentenced Vargas to five years in the penitentiary and suspended the sentence, explaining the terms fully to the defendant.

The trial began Tuesday morning, June 20. Jurors were selected and sworn in by Judge Sherrill Tuesday morning. During testimony Tuesday afternoon, Vargas testified that Fierro had been harrasing

Dr. Johnson Begins Full Time Practice Here

Dr. William Johnson has moved to Ozona and taken up a full-time practice at the Clinic. He formerly had an afternoon practice here, but after negotiations with the hospital board and the commissioners court, he made the decision to move here permanently.

Office hours for Dr. Johnson will be from 9 until 12 a.m., and from 2 until 4:30 p.m. He has been named chief of staff for the Crockett County Hospital and will reside at the hospital until he finds suitable lodgings.

The hospital has been without a doctor since Dr. Louis J. Cole moved several weeks ago.

Dr. Johnson is a native of Sonora and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Johnson of Sonora. His father is a former county judge of Sutton County.

Dr. Johnson, a Sonora High School graduate, is a graduate of Baylor Medical School. He did his internship in Seattle, Wash., and had three years post-graduate training in Long Beach, Calif. For the past sixteen years, Dr. Johnson has had an active practice in California.

Dr. Johnson has a wife, Nita, and five children, ranging in age from 12 years and up. They are presently residing in Santa Barbara, Calif.

Red Cross Asks For Donations -

East Coast Flood Reminds Ozona Of Its Own On 18th Anniversary

Ozona residents received a double reminder this week of their own tragic flood of 1954 when on the eve of the 18th anniversary of that frightful night the local chapter of the American Red Cross received an urgent appeal for funds with which the organization seeks to offer relief to victims of the unprecedented east coast flood of the past week.

The Ozona chapter has been asked to contribute a minimum of $100 toward flood relief, more if possible, the message said. The national organization is seeking to raise $5,000,000 in the present emergency.

Bill Cooper, chairman of Carl Lonon, Former Ozonan, Buried In S.A.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 10 a.m. in San Angelo for Carl M. Lonon, former Ozonan who died at his home in San Angelo Saturday morning.

Mr. Lonon was an employe of Lemmons Dry Goods in Ozona before moving to San Angelo and becoming involved in the wholesale produce business in 1946. He had been in ill health for the past six years.

Survivors include his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Larry (Shirley Mitchell) of Midland; three sons, Jerry Carl Lonon of Rockville, Md., Billy Bob Lonon of Irving and James Ron Lonon of San Bernardino, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. Jewel Allen of Corpus Christi and nine grandchildren.

the local chapter, urges that residents make their donations for flood relief at the Water District office or by a deposit to the Red Cross Account at the bank.

Ozonans who recall the early morning hours of June 28, 1954, will feel a bond of sympathy for the flood sufferers of Pennsylvania and other eastern and northern states. Like the present-day sufferers, Ozona got its flood whollop from the season's first tropical storm, then named Alice. The storm which finally swept into the northeast coast was named Agnes.

Sixteen lives were lost here in that 1954 flood and an estimated $5,000,000 in damage done in the town and a total of $12 million in the ranch country below the town.

Life Saving Courses Slated

Debbie Deaton, who recently received her Red Cross Water Safety Certificate in the annual water safety school in Tyler, will give both Red Cross junior and senior lifesaving courses at the North Pool this summer. There is no charge for the course and those who complete the courses will be given their Red Cross lifesaving badge.

Those who are interested in either course may call Debbie at 392-2428. She plans to begin the first session of lessons July 5. Only eight students may participate in each session, and several courses will be held if necessary.

Perhaps not as strained as it is today, the Red Cross was on the job here almost before the flash flood waters had run down. The organization solicited and received donations from all over the nation for local relief and sent teams of professional workers in the long and tedious job of rehabilitation.

The Red Cross spent a total of $224,000 in rehabilitation work here, besides what it spent in emergency work. A total of more than 300 homes were damaged or destroyed, more than 100 of the number being totally destroyed in the greatest flood ever to hit this community. Ozonans should respond as liberally as possible to the present Red Cross call in gratitude for the organization's great effort here in meeting the needs of the many flood victims.

Crockett Field Gets Confirmer

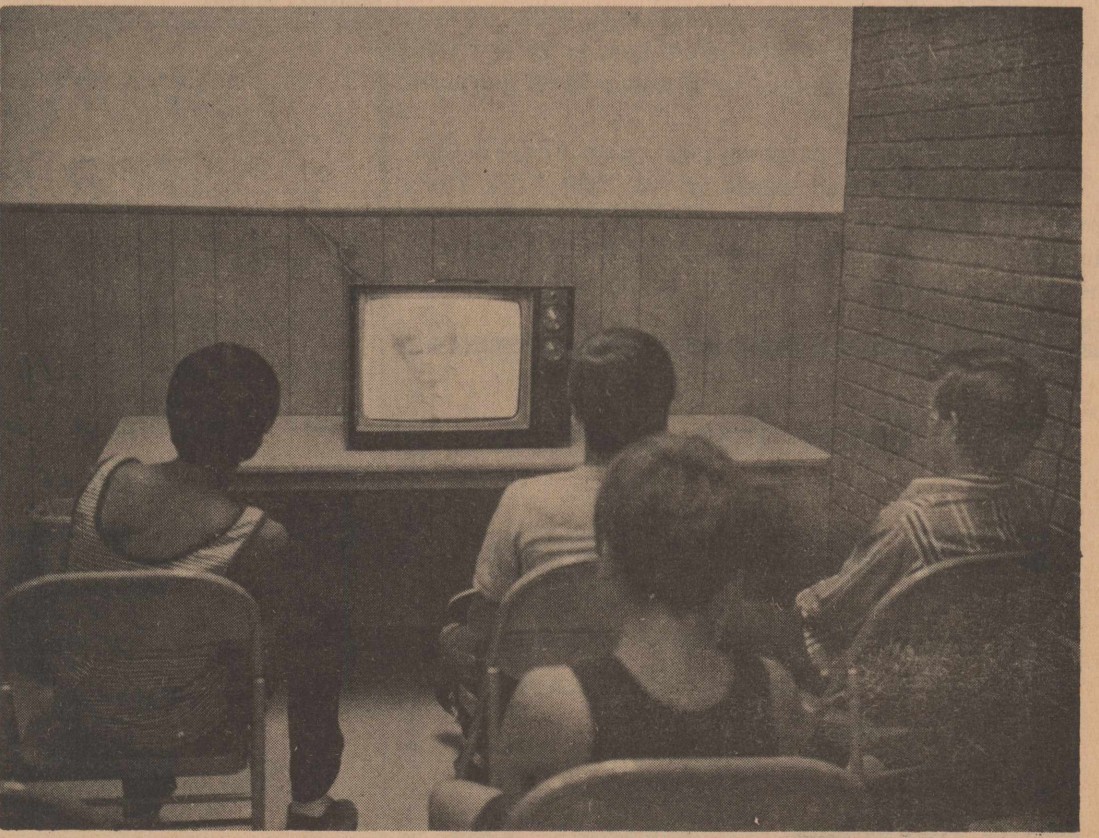

APCO Oil Corp., Oklahoma City, will drill two step-outs to the five-well Clearfork oil area of the Ozona multi-play field of Crockett County, 30 miles southwest of Ozona. Both projects are scheduled to 2,200 feet.

The No. 4-54 Clegg, 1,200 feet west, is 990 feet from the north and 2,190 feet from the east lines of 54-Q2-D&SE.

The No. 5-54 Clegg, 1,200 feet south, is 2,190 feet from the north and 990 feet from the east lines of the same section.

BUMPER POOL IS A FUN GAME for the beginner or the pool shark, and is a popular table at the Youth Center. It is also located in the large new addition. Here center director Earl Hacker explains the rules to Odessa visitor Tim Ogilvy.

THE T-V ROOM AT THE YOUTH CENTER affords peace and quite to those who prefer to watch their favorite television program. The other two sides of the room are glass and paneling. The room holds around two dozen folding chairs with ease.

Summertime Descends With Temps Over 100

Temperatures have been uncomfortably above the 100-degree mark in Ozona the past week with unusually high humidity readings for this time of year and for this area.

Texas recorded the high temperature reading in the nation almost daily late last week and through the weekend. At mid-afternoon Sunday the mercury soared to 104 degrees in Ozona with a humidity reading of 70 percent.

Slight relief was forecast for Tuesday afternoon with a forecast for possible showers, provided a cool front which was stalled in the Texas Panhandle over the weekend began its southward move.

There was no rainfall recorded over the past week and skies were clear.

THE MEDIA'S SINS OF OMISSION

Mylai is probably the most followed-up story in the history of self-flagellating, guilt-ridden news reporting.

Stories of GI-run orphanages, schools and children's hospitals just do not make it into the liberal controlled national news.

Mylai, everyone has heard of it. But what about Caibe or Dakson? In Caibe, the Vietcong murdered the wives and children of local militia men.

Sir Robert Thompson, noted British guerrilla expert, reports that captured Communist documents prove that the 1968 Hue massacre was not an aberration — it was policy.

The Communists, writes Thompson, are acting on orders when they commit these atrocities. They are part of a "ruthless deliberate policy designed to break a people who would not otherwise bend to their will."

He interviewed a Communist defector, Col. Tran Van Duc, who said that Hanoi plans to wipe out 3 million South Vietnamese. Another North Vietnamese officer, Col Le Xuan Chupen, says that 5 million are on the Communist blood list, and about a million of these will be killed.

Thompson estimates that the Communists will execute one million. He, like many Americans, wonders why the media ignore the horrifying possibilities of a Hanoi victory.

THE SOVIET UNION BROKE EVERY TREATY

The record of the Soviet Union in breaking all agreements reached at the seven summits is unbroken. She broke all four major agreements of the Teheran summit, five of the six (entry into the war against Japan the only exception) of the Yalta summit, all 14 of the Potsdam summit, and the one reached at the Geneva summit.

Russia broke every single one of them. We regret we haven't space to detail the results to the World and America of these broken promises.

It is no answer to this terrible record of broken agreements to say it is all past history. Take a look at the Middle East. Only two years ago Russia agreed to a U.S.-proposed cease-fire there.

Only three years ago we and the Russian Reds signed a so-called non-proliferation treaty designed to end the nuclear arms race. In these three years, Soviet Russia furiously built up her nuclear missiles and, while we kept the agreement, has practically overtaken us in this field of weaponry and now is equal to or ahead of us in almost all categories.

The overpowering point we must never forget is that, in the vigorous but true words of the New York Daily News: "The Kremlin mobsters never have retracted the late Red Czar Khrushchev's vow to bury the United States. They are as determined as ever to enslave the entire world..."

PIRGs AND POLITICS

With the opening of colleges and universities in the fall, Ralph Nader's counter-conglomerate undoubtedly will be making a big push to establish so-called PIRG (public interest research) groups on campuses.

The PIRG supporters, however, are likely to encounter roadblocks from responsible college and university trustees. For example, trustees of the University of Pittsburgh recently rejected for the second time a proposal that it collect dues from students to finance what The Pittsburgh Press described as "a research group designed by consumer advocate Ralph Nader."

Opposition to the PIRG groups is coming from students as well as trustees. In the State of Washington, student members of the Committee Against Student Exploitation recently issued a critical report on WashPIRG. The students wrote: "WashPIRG is just an idea now, an idea formulated by Ralph Nader, but is trying desperately to become a reality. Nader views WashPIRG as the mechanism which can redirect the Left's movement of the 1960's from the issue of the Vietnam War to the issues of environmental protection, consumer protection, and the role of the corporation and government agencies in the lives of average citizens."

The student committee in Washington objects to "the philosophy that WashPIRG is a highly political organization. One of WashPIRG's most important functions will be to lobby in support of or against various legislative acts. Clearly, as soon as a group enters the legislative halls to influence legislation it has entered the political thicket."

It is heartening to find these Washington students opposed to the PIRG concept of coercive funding and involuntary membership. And, certainly, colleges and universities shouldn't allow themselves to serve as collection agents for politicized groups. It is good news that some students concerned about PIRG groups are prepared to file suits against institutions which collect mandatory student fees for the Nader organizations.

Students attracted by the PIRG concept also would do well to consider the huge expansion of Mr. Nader activities. Casper Weinberger, former chairman of the Federal Trade Commission, recently pinpointed the changes in the Nader set-up, saying: "I get the impression of a person who's franchising himself, who doesn't have control over the quality. It's like anything else -- the franchise in Chicago may not be the same as the old master."

Certainly, serious flaws are cropping up in the material Nader groups are supplying the public. On March 20, for example, Mr. Nader told a congressional committee that thin red bloodworms had been reported in the drinking water of at least 17 U. S. cities, including Washington. His statement was part of a larger warning that polluted drinking water could become the foremost consumer problem of the 1970's.

Investigation showed that the Nader statement was completely off-base. Health authorities said there had not been a single case of bloodworms discovered in Washington's water system for at least 10 years. The Washington Post said: "A subsequent examination of the documentation that led to Nader's statement reveals how incorrect or outdated information can find its way into the hands of sincere individuals and groups." The Post's story indicated that the original source of Mr. Nader's statement may have been a research paper written 40 years

Post of Honor

At Germany Base Mannheim, Germany -- Army Specialist Four Michael J. Womack, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jackie J. Womack of Ozona, recently was selected to serve as Colonel's Orderly while serving with the 8th Infantry Division near Mannheim, Germany.

The honor is based competitively upon appearance, knowledge of military affairs and job performance. On the day of selection, the soldier accompanies the battalion commander and sergeant major as part of the Command Team. This practice enables the Battalion Commander to hear first-hand the problems of junior enlisted men, at the same time making the younger soldiers aware of the challenges of command.

Spec. Womack, a tank crewman in company B, 5th Battalion of the Division's 68th Armor, entered the Army in April 1970. He completed basic training at Ft. Ord, Cal., and was last stationed at Ft. Carson, Colo.

The specialist is a 1970 graduate of Ozona High School.

DAUGHTER TO MOHLERS Mr. and Mrs. Grosse Mohler of Seguin are the parents of a daughter, Tami Lucille, born Wednesday, June 21. She weighed 8 pounds and 5 ounces. The Mohlers have four other children. Both formerly taught in Ozona Public Schools.

It would be tragic if colleges and universities helped sustain Naderite groups that engaged in "research" aimed at specific political results. Educational institutions should beware of organizations that tend to lower or destroy standards of scholarly objectivity. If students engage in politically-oriented "research" what kind of research will they do when they commence their professional careers? The PIRG movement doesn't belong on a campus dedicated to learning and objectivity. It is a poorly disguised form of political activism and should be treated as such.

WATER SAFETY and a new Texas law requiring children 12 years of age and under to wear approved lifesaving devices while riding in any boat is the subject under discussion between boating safety enthusiasts and Governor Preston Smith. The governor took the occasion to sign a proclamation designating July 2-8 as "Safe Boating Week" in Texas. Providing a demonstration of lifesaving equipment for youngsters is 7-year-old Dana Shingledecker of Austin. Also pictured are (1 to r) Lloyd F. Palmer, General Manager, Texas Safety Association; Gilbert F. Bartz, Commander, U. S. Power Squadron, Austin, and Jim Ellis, U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Vacationers: Beware!

To give his family a summer-time treat, Ernest piled them into a trailer and drove to a nearby lake. Renting space in a trailer park, he settled down for two carefree weeks. But on the day of departure, Ernest came down with a galloping case of poison ivy. In fact, it was so severe that he determined to claim damages from the management of the trailer park. "The poison ivy was growing right there on the premises," Ernest charged in court. "It was up to them, as owners of the land, to get rid of it." However, the court decided that Ernest had no legal kick coming.

"The city dweller who chooses to spend his vacation in the great outdoors," said the court, "must assume the risks of the outdoors such as mosquitoes, snakes, poison ivy, and other natural conditions not found in the urban communities."

Still, even in the "great outdoors," the vacationer does not assume risks he could not reasonably foresee. In another case, a camper in Yellowstone National Park was bitten by a rambunctious grizzly bear. Park rangers had reason to suspect that a dangerous bear was at large, but they had given the camper no special warning about the situation.

Accordingly, a court held the federal government liable for the accident. The court said the camper should have been given enough facts "to provide an opportunity for an intelligent choice as to whether he wished to incur the risk."

Nor does a vacationer assume the risk of outright negligence by those in charge. Thus:

At a lake resort, a woman bather cut her foot badly on a fragment of glass just offshore. Early that morning, the cleanup man had found and removed several broken bottles on the beach nearby. But he had neglected to find out whether any of the glass had found its way into the water.

The woman later sued the owner of the resort for damages, and the court ruled in her favor. The court said her injury was not due to any hazard of the great outdoors, produced by Nature, but to plain and simple carelessness, produced by man.

State Acquires McKavett Land

Austin--The state parks system gets bigger and better every day.

The State of Texas recently acquired five tracts of land around historic old Fort McKavett 17 miles west of Menard, according to George C. Adams, Assistant for Land Acquisition of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Total land obtained in the transaction is 42,012 acres. Prior to the acquisition the park was 14,830 acres. The largest of the new tracts, a 40-acre section, contains an old circular lime kiln built into the side of a hill, a quarry where stone was cut to build the old fort and a spring known as the "Government Spring" which provided water for the troopers of Fort McKavett.

Another track of land contains the fort's old headquarters building and the rock structure is reported to be in good condition. Adams said that two more tracts of land of less than an acre apiece will also be acquired in the near future.

Fort McKavett was built back in 1852 by the 8th United States Infantry. It was used for protection of early Texas settlers and in the Civil War. General Ranald MacKinzie occupied the fort in 1868 during his campaign against the Indians in the Texas Panhandle.

The fort was abandoned after MacKinzie's campaign and the original park land was obtained by the state in 1967 and 1968. At present, Fort McKavett is a day-use-only park with historic structures and a museum.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club
By Mrs. Bailey Post

June has brought forth some very hot days with summer just beginning. This calls for making the most of early morning and twilight hours to do weeding, edging, watering, mowing and cultivating flower beds or getting beds ready for new plants.

Check out the plants you protect with mulch. You may need to replenish or replace this moisture retaining material in preparation for times when water pressure is low.

Remember to prune your young specimen evergreen trees and shrubs, if you want them to retain their shape and develop into attractive plants. The best time is during June and up until July 15.

Several have asked how and where to plant certain plants such as azaleas, camellias, hollies and other acid-loving plants. If you want to grow these where soil is neutral or alkaline, such as ours, you must first add acid to the soil. You can buy the special plant foods if you prefer or mix the soil yourself. Some of the materials to make soil more acid are: 1) Dusting sulphur (use 10 pounds per 1,000 square feet to lower P H 1 point. 2) Iron sulfate (copperas) use 15 pounds per 1,000 sq. feet to lower P H 1 point. 3) Ammonium sulfate (also adds nitrogen) 4) Potassium sulfate (use with restraint to avoid toxic buildup. 5) Aged sawdust 6) Peat from sphagnum moss (Canadian or German) 7) Oak and beech leaf mold, pine needles. 8) Cotton seed meal (also adds nitrogen)

The above named organic materials must be used in large quantities to be effective. The others, sulphur, iron, etc. are usually dug into the soil at planting time or may be maintained by sprinkling them over the soil surface and watered in.

If you have potted azaleas and want them in the yard, prepare soil well before planting. Here they grow best in a north or east exposure with afternoon shade.

HERE ARE SOME TIPS ON HOW TO MAKE YOUR MATTRESS LAST LONGER

We've all seen examples of homes where furnishings look shabby after one year, while in other homes, furniture with the same use looks like new after ten years.

Some of the difference is in CARE.

This is particularly true in the case of mattresses.

Mattresses should be turned every week, not only from top to bottom, but from front to back in order to equally distribute body weight to all parts of the mattress.

If possible, mattresses should be aired regularly by removing them from the bed and placing them on edge against a wall or dresser, leaving your windows wide open at such times.

There are several good mattress spray fresheners on the market but these are recommended to use only in addition to, and not in place of, the fresh air treatment.

A big mistake many people make is to sit on the edge of a bed when dressing or undressing. Remember that mattresses are for sleeping - and not sitting - and when they are used as a chair the edges are apt to break down.

And a good way to get the maximum value from your bedding is to purchase your mattresses and springs from our quality selection of nationally advertised brands.

Fishing's Good In West Texas

San Angelo--The lakes in West Texas are more than mirages.

A fisherman sitting on his tackle box in downtown San Angelo has the choice of casting out his line on one of three lakes within 10 minutes travel time.

North of the city is the San Angelo Reservoir on the North Concho River. After the recent good rains it is bulging with water, and has a maximum area of 5,440 surface acres.

With two state fish hatcheries in the city, San Angelo Reservoir has a fish population that just begs for a lure to hit the water.

Heading south of town, an angler can sink a hook into the relatively new Twin Buttes Reservoir. The Middle and South Concho Rivers, Spring Creek and Dove Creek swell the lake's 9,080 acres.

The Twin Buttes fisherman can expect more than bream. Its waters are stocked with one of the most exciting new fish in Texas, The walleye.

Lake Nasworthy traps the waters of the three Concho Rivers just before their confluence. The lake has been largely overlooked by fishermen but the Parks and Wildlife Department stocks it heavily almost every year.

Robert Lee Reservoir and Oak Creek Lake are a few minutes north of town on the Colorado River watershed.

Robert Lee is the new home of the saltwater striped bass, a species recently introduced. Between the towns of Bronte and Sweetwater is Oak Creek Lake. It and all the rest of the lakes in the San Angelo area are open to camping.

Mrs. Jesse Williams and daughter, Wendy, of Weatherford are here visiting her mother, Mrs. Beall Barbee.

the direction of energy

When the big wheel turns clockwise, the little wheel turns counterclockwise at a greater rate of speed. Thus man controls energy in the physical universe, determining, according to his own will, its direction and effect.
There is a spiritual universe, too. A world in which God, who gave us freedom of will, provides the guidance, help and inspiration which unite our minds with His for purposes which are GOOD.
We realize with trembling in this nuclear age that the physical and spiritual universe are not two—but ONE. We cannot live in the one and forget the other. For the world we know will perish unless man's spiritual vision governs his use of the energy he controls.
Wise and reverent minds have always known this. That is why we have CHURCHES... why we share their Life and Work with one another.

Why Americans own $54,000,000,000 worth of U.S. Savings Bonds.

One good reason is the Payroll Savings Plan. About three-fourths of all Bonds are purchased through the Plan. It's helping Americans save more money than they ever dreamed they could.
That's because the Payroll Savings Plan is such an easy way to save. All you do is sign up where you work and the amount you specify is set aside from each paycheck and used to buy U.S. Savings Bonds. It's the easy way to build a nest egg.
You've got your reasons to save money. There's one great way to do it painlessly. Join the millions who are buying Bonds the Payroll Savings Way.

Now E Bonds pay 5 1/2% interest when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). Bonds are replaced if lost, stolen, or destroyed. When needed they can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.
