Kitty's Korner

By Kitty Montgomery

It was a pretty quiet Fourth of July around these parts. About the only action was the thunderstorm that came up Tuesday before noon. It seemed like a pretty good rain, but Water District employees were taking the day off like everybody else, and I couldn't get to the rain gauge. It came on the heels of a summer cold front and just for awhile, it was a "cool day in July." However, the sun soon came out and it was back to the heat wave.

There was plenty of action at the rodeo arena Monday. I think it was one of Ozona's scheduled summer roping events. I have never seen so many contestants from so many places. There weren't many spectators in the stands, but the crowd was really something. And on a Monday too.

Between the screwworm stories I've been setting in type and the webworms that are covering all the vegetation in town practically, I am beginning to have nightmares. The webworms are getting worse by the day and have spread from pecan trees to all kinds of trees. I expect to see them on shrubs next. They call them fall webworms. As bad as they are here in the middle of summer, can you imagine what they will be like by the time fall arrives?

I see the tree sprayers out spraying almost daily, but it seems the busier they get, the busier the worms get, and if there is progress it is not in the least noticeable.

As for the screwworm outbreak, I think they need to run the formula for the sterilization of flies back through the computer. In spite of the drops, cases have gone ever upward. It would almost seem that some practical joker has been injecting the flies with a fertility drug.

For months and months on end, the television networks have been covering the Democratic Convention. I thought surely it would soon be over. I only found out yesterday that the Democrats won't even arrive at the convention site until Monday. Oh woe.

On one program the other night they spent at least 10 minutes panning (with camera) the empty convention hall and discussing the number of seats. Well, it wasn't quite empty, there was one lone man painting the bottoms of the seats. When the commentator asked if the Democrats were not aware that the bright blue of the seat-bottoms wouldn't show up on television since the seats would be full of people, he gave him a classic answer. He said he could care less, that he was getting in plenty of overtime.

Frankly, the Democrats have never left me so cold as this year. I can't find one thing in their proposed platform that I agree with, and I was most displeased to see Senator McGovern vacuum-cleaning his swimming pool on the news the other night. He can afford a palatial home with an elegant pool, yet he plans to up my taxes to support his far-fetched welfare program. And, don't forget, if you are one of the thousands of working Americans, he will up your taxes too.

This man is the front-running democrat for the Presidential nomination and almost sure to get his party's nomination. His liberal-socialist dogma frightens me to death. He stands against every principle this great country was built on, and he has already had so much free television exposure that he is practically a household word. Good grief!

Innovations In Post Office System Revealed

The latest innovation of the United States Postal Service, Area Mail Processing, was installed at the San Angelo Post Office Saturday July 1. The Ozona post office is one of the offices affected by this new program.

The announcement was made by Carl C. Ulsaker, Regional Postmaster General, Southern Post Region, which covers the Southern United States from Texas to Florida.

"The program is intended to speed the ultimate delivery of the mail and to gain maximum efficiency and economy through full utilization of San Angelo's modern post office," Ulsaker said.

One electric cancelling machine is available at the San Angelo Post Office to move the increased mail volume from the associate offices of which Ozona is one.

The San Angelo office is a Sectional Center Facility, and the new system will revolve entirely around that capacity and that function."

Area Mail processing is a plan whereby virtually all mail originating within a Sectional Center Area, including any or all of the associate offices of the Sectional Center Facility, will be consolidated at the SCF for complete preparation and processing for outgoing dispatch.

All mail deposited in street letter boxes or the out-of-town letter drops at the associate offices will be transferred to the SCF area.

The San Angelo SCF postmark will read, "U.S. Postal Service, TX 769," along with the date and AM-PM designation. The city postmark of San Angelo and each individual associate office will not be changed.

Mail deposited in a designated drop unit at a post office or a letter box labeled "For Local Cancellation Only" will (Continued on last page)

SUPPORT FOR AGNEW'S TV CRITICISMS

A new book, THE ELECTRIC MIRROR (Dodd, Mead), states that television news operates "in a show business setting" and that a newsman is selected "more on the basis of his ability to communicate than on his skills as a reporter and analyst."

Where does this latest blast at television bias come from? From Sig Mickelson, former CBS News president, Time-Life broadcasting official and current president of the International Broadcast Institute. Walter Cronkite says that there is "no one better qualified" than Mickelson to write about broadcast news.

Yet, THE ELECTRIC MIRROR is closer to Vice President Agnew's opinion of TV news than to Mr. Cronkite's. The Vice President once said: "A narrow and distorted picture of America often emerges from the televised news. A single dramatic piece of the mosaic becomes, in the minds of millions, the entire picture." Mr. Mickelson writes: "The television picture tube frequently shows only a few bursts of intensive action and ties these together by skillful and judicious editing."

The author includes all varieties of news distortion, such as protest marches. "The tendency to go from peaceful demonstration to forceful demonstration, or even riot," Mr. Mickelson believes, "probably owes some of its popularity as a device for attracting attention to the fact that television cameras are present on the scene."

Mr. Mickelson, like the Vice President, believes that the three networks have a virtual monopoly of national news. Both men also think that the broadcasters, although on different networks, have a similar political bias.

Mr. Agnew has said this often and been called a "McCarthyite." Now an ex-network news president writes: "There is undoubtedly truth to the charge that there is generally a homogeneity of political attitude among most of the television news executives and correspondents. A large majority would probably subscribe to what is called a 'liberal' view of government."

A thorough indictment of TV news distortion, THE ELECTRIC MIRROR not only reinforces Mr. Agnew's criticisms, but adds others. TV's show-biz approach to things like politics is shown to be uninformative and prejudicial. Yet its author can hardly be called an advocate of centralized government censorship.

'HEY—LET'S PUT ON THE BRAKES FIRST!'

Washington News Letter

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

Food Stamps highlighted debate on the annual Agricultural Appropriations bill which was approved in the House last week.

By a vote of 199 to 180 the House turned thumbs down on an amendment to prohibit food stamps for any household "which needs assistance solely because any member of such household is a participant in a strike."

As I see it, in the sensitive area of collective bargaining during a strike, it is manifestly improper and unfair for the government to show any form of favoritism to either side.

Actually, by subsidizing strikes in this way, experience strongly indicates that more strikes are encouraged. The number of strikes lasting 90 days or more increased from 200 in 1960 to 334 in 1970 and an 11% increase in 1971 over 1970. The stamp program began in 1964, with 3.2 million recipients.

Looking at totals -- there were 17,961 strikes from 1961-65, and from 1966-70 there were 25,460.

Cost of stamps issued to strikers runs over $200 million annually. The prestigious Warton School of Finance recently made a study of the subject which revealed those on strike will probably receive $238 million in food stamps during 1973.

Thus, the food stamp program, originally designed to utilize government surpluses to provide improved nutrition among the poor, now bears little resemblance to its original purpose. The program is replete with loopholes. Scores of reports reveal that affluent people, some driving expensive automobiles, are seen buying food with stamps. A total of 90.1% of those in our 21st district oppose stamps for strikers.

Food stamps, like so many other welfare programs, is no longer confined to the poor and needy. The cost of the program has increased from $200 million in 1964 to $2.2 billion this year. More than 11 million now get the stamps. Food stamps are certificates sold to the "poor" at discount prices for use in buying food. A typical participant pays $4.50 for stamps worth $10 in food.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club By Mrs. Bailey Post

Nearly all Ozona Gardens are well-established, so your biggest job this month is the preservation and enjoyment of your garden. This hot, windy weather causes plants to lose water rapidly, so water them whenever the need arises. Soak the ground deeply when you do water.

These hot days of summer increase the appreciation of the dependable shade tree wherever it is located on the home grounds. Not only does the tree have beauty and utilitarian values, it also has a dollar value. Like the worth of many items in these times, shade trees have increased in value. The true value of trees are considered by their kind, condition and location. A partially decayed hackberry or non-bearing mulberry on the back property line, would not have the same value as a healthy liveoak which shades a terrace or in a key location in the landscape.

Perhaps there isn't a perfect shade tree, but many are appraised at full value if lost. Included in this group are the magnolia, cypress, pine, dogwood, beech and most oaks. Those in the 80% value are pecan, white ash, sweet gum, sycamore and others. The box elder, silver maple, catalpa, chinaberry and mulberry are listed among those that receive only 20% of their value.

Regardless of the variety, any tree would be a serious loss as July temperatures climb. So keep your shade trees healthy by giving them proper attention through the summer.

Continue to remove flowers as they fade. For fall color, plant seeds of quick growing annual bedding plants, such as ageratum, balsam, cosmos, marigold and zinnias.

After dahlias have produced their first crop of flowers, cut the plants back to at least half their growth. This will encourage the plants to branch and to produce a new crop of flowers in the fall. Make sure plants are staked and kept well-watered.

DID YOU EVER WONDER WHO CREATES FASHION TRENDS?

Many manufacturers who must keep up with all the trends in decorating styles and fashions take the credit for creating these changes -- or at least they may give some credit to their designers.

But the person who really deserves the credit for the changing trends is YOU, the consumer. This is equally true whether you're talking about dress fashions or furniture fashions.

All that the manufacturers and designers can possibly do is interpret your likes and dislikes; it is you who will make the final decisions as to what styles and colors you will buy.

Actually, as far as furniture goes, the public never had it so good selection-wise. Never in years has there been such a bonanza of diversified style trends going at one time.

The furniture industry today is offering the widest selection of colors, textures, styles and designs to suit every decor and taste imaginable.

So whatever trend you like best, visit us for a fine selection in the wonderful world of furniture.

Is now the time to buy land?

Acquiring that farm might seem more practical with financing through the Federal Land Bank. Land is easier to pay off when costs are amortized over extra years with a long-term Land Bank Loan. Your total cost of borrowing, too, can be less. Ask us for help: We know land values; we will inspect the property. We will then try to make a loan that meets your exact needs.

The Past, the Present, and GOD

Especially on Independence Day, we tend to regard our problems as unique, don't we? And in the bustling, troubled world of today we think of the past as pleasant and serene.

This "rush-hour" scene of 1900 seems miniature when compared with the urban traffic jams of today. But it illustrates that the "olden" days were not entirely rosy. Indeed, sanitation was poor, infant mortality prevalent, roads unpaved and one-room schoolhouses common.

Yet our ancestors, with an optimistic spirit based on faith in God, met and solved these problems, and we are indebted to them.

Today we face a different set of problems, and there's another big difference: the impact of the Church on our lives has waned. YET TODAY WE NEED THE CHURCH MORE THAN EVER—to provide us with a voice of hope and understanding.

It was emphasized by U-I-saker that no office will lose its local postmark.

He asked specifically that customers no longer use the word "City" as an address in place of the name of the city of destination. "Obviously," he said, "in this new system, a letter with just 'City' could lose its identity."
