Kitty's Korner

All the hoopla of the Democratic National Convention is over and it's back to the reruns on television, and I find it rather refreshing.

In all the confusion and circus-like atmosphere during the convention, one thing came out loud and clear, the Democratic Party will never be the same again. Traveling ever to the left the last decade, this time it went all the way and the conservatives and moderates have been shoved into the background.

I find it hard to believe that the American people will be able to tolerate McGovern and his ideologies, but stranger things have happened. One point to keep in mind, is the fact that the television networks are going to be behind his candidacy all the way, and this is most impressive to the young and the naive.

The platform is completely unacceptable to thinking Americans, and can be summed up in one word "disaster."

The whole thing sounds a bit fuzzy, but is certainly designed to end the free enterprise system, crush business and wreck the oil business which has been the biggest financial boon the state of Texas has ever had. It is so socialistic as to be the most radical platform the American people have ever been asked to vote for. As for McGovern's statements on the various positions he takes, I find them almost unbelievable and would urge his most ardent supporters to examine his stand very carefully before being taken in by the word "reform." A more likely word would be "revolution."

His election to the presidency would certainly mean the end of the American way of life as we know it.

Tuesday night's starting line-up saw Cruz Garza on the pitcher's mound for Ozona, and Rico DeHoyos in the catcher's slot. Starting at first base was Felipe Castro, Jr.; second base was manned by

We had a call "in person" at our house shortly after noon Sunday. It turned out to be a very nonchalant John L. Henderson, Jr. He just happened to be in the neighborhood and brought by a bigger tomato. He certainly wanted no publicity, but brought his tape measure along to prove that he had a bigger tomato. He is tending his grandfather's garden while he and his grandmother (Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Bailey) are traveling abroad, and just happened to find the tomato.

The nice part about it, he insisted that I keep it. And believe me, it's the first time I ever had a sandwich with one slice of tomato wider and longer than the slice of bread it covered. We truly enjoyed it John.

Mr. White came back from East Texas last week with a solution to the web worm problem. He was told that a solution of household ammonia and detergent would dissolve the webs like magic. The only thing, he didn't get the proportions.

The reason tree sprayers have so much trouble getting insecticide into the webs is the rubbery, tough consistency of them, and a dissolving agent would be a boon in the fight against web worm.

We relayed the information to Coon Chandler and he said he would try anything. We haven't heard from him since, but maybe we will get a report by next week.

Many congratulations and best wishes have come my way this week, on taking over the reins of the paper. However, the most prized is a lovely card from Dee Nevill and Shirley Hill, mainstays of the Devil's River News in Sonora. It reads "Thinking of you today and in the days to come, With Sincere Sympathy." Thanks girls, I needed that.

The eighteenth annual Range Camp for outstanding 4-H and FFA boys of Texas opened Sunday with registration at the Texas Tech Center near Junction. The camp is sponsored by the Texas section, Society for Range Management.

Young Bissett was selected on the basis of outstanding 4-H work and interest in range management.

The week-long range camp is arranged to honor outstanding range and ranch boys and provide them an opportunity for complementary training in range management and leadership skills. The program includes study, judging range conditions, wildlife management, ranch planning and field trips to Edwards County Ranch and Texas A&M University Research Station at Sonora. The group is enjoying recreation and entertainment between sessions.

Court Examines Hospital Plans, Repairs Ordered

The Crockett County Commissioners Court met with Austin architect John Childs Allen at its regular meeting last week and studied completed plans for the proposed renovation of the hospital and the building of a nursing home. After some discussion, the plans were tabled for further study.

In other action, the court awarded a contract to Willard Huff to install a new one-hour rated fire proof ceiling in the hospital and new fire proof doors for patient's rooms were also ordered to comply with Medicare requirements.

A progress report on the moving of the county road department barn, due to the route of IS 10, was given to Frank Jordan, a representative of the Texas Highway Department.

Needed Moisture Brought By Rain Showers In Area

After a dry, but fairly cool week, Crockett County got its first rainfall since the first of the month Monday night and Tuesday morning.

Amounts varied over the county, with Albert Davis on the Fields Ranch northwest of Ozona reporting a fall of 2 1/2 inches Tuesday morning and the George Montgomery ranch in the extreme south part of the county reporting .2 of an inch early Tuesday.

According to the official gauge at the Water District Office, rainfall for Ozona proper was .30 of an inch at noon Tuesday under partly cloudy skies. The shower brought the monthly total to .48 of an inch. With the year over half gone, the total rainfall amounts to 11.35 inches.

The total is given for the city. Parts of the county have received much more rainfall and other areas have received almost none. Only one general rainfall has been noted. June 11 gave the county a good general rainfall with 3.20 inches reported for Ozona.

BILL WATSON Appointed Deputy District Governor for Lions Club District 2-A1. The local department store owner will assume his new duties for the Lions when he attends the District Cabinet meeting in San Angelo July 30, and takes part in plans for the District for the coming year. He will have 14 clubs in 2 zones under his direction. Watson served as Zone Chairman last year for the Lions.

Screwworm Cases In County Up By Several Hundred

Screwworm cases in livestock have mounted to over 1,300 in Crockett County this year, according to county agent Pete W. Jacoby, who keeps a record on screwworm cases reported by Crockett County producers to the Screwworm Eradication Program headquarters in Mission.

The county agent reports that the reports on screwworm cases found come from only about two-thirds of the producers in the county so it can be assumed that there are many more actual cases than have been reported.

It is important that ranchmen continue to send samples of screwworms to Mission so they are kept aware of the situation out here, even though it is apparent that the sterile fly program is not working, says Jacoby.

Everything that can be done by the ranchmen to help prevent additional cases, should be done to curb the outbreak and prevent additional buildup this fall, when screwworm outbreaks are usually worse than any other time of the year.

Small Turnover In Faculty For Next School Term Is Expected

An unusually small teacher turnover was noted when Supt. L. B. T. Sikes made the Ozona School faculty for the fall term available this week.

Tommy Sanders, who has been Ozona High School Band director for the past eight years, resigned to become high school principal at Wall Sanders, his wife and son, will move to Wall August 1.

Gary Head, who headed up the speech department at Ozona High School last year and taught senior English the year before, has resigned and will enter private business in Dallas.

Dan Pullen, who has taught eighth grade math in junior high school for several years, resigned earlier this summer and has accepted a position at the Ozona National Bank.

There have been several applicants for the vacancies, but contracts have not been signed as yet.

Heavy Damage Results From Accident Series

A rash of automobile accidents Sunday and Monday resulted in a great deal of property damage, but no serious injuries.

Shortly after noon Sunday officers investigated a one-vehicle accident around five miles east of Ozona where IS 10 intersects with Hwy. 290. Mrs. Naomi Stanley of Longview was driving a late model Ford pickup with a cab-over camper. As she came off the interstate onto Hwy. 290 she ran off the road and cut back sharply, causing the camper to topple out of the pickup. Mrs. Stanley's 14-year-old son was in the camper at the time of the accident and was treated and released at Crockett County Hospital for minor injuries. The camper was a total loss, but there was no damage to the pickup.

Three hours later the same afternoon 22 miles west of Ozona on Hwy 290, a late model Ford pickup towing another pickup was wrecked when the driver lost control. Both vehicles overturned causing several hundred dollars worth of damage. Dwayne Whitmore of Hatch, N. M. was driving the tow vehicle and was not injured. Both pickups belonged to Television Engineering Corp. of Houston and New Mexico.

Heavy damage was reported to a 1972 Vega early Monday morning in a one-vehicle accident 20 miles west on Hwy 290. The driver, Linda Phillips of Austin, lost control of the compact car and it hit an embankment. Miss Phillips was not injured.

Investigating officer in the accidents was Highway Patrolman Bobby Papasan, DPS, recently transferred to Ozona from Stanton.

"Happiness is 4-H" will be this year's theme for the revue. Everybody is invited to attend and welcome the many out of town visitors.

The public is invited to enjoy a Gospel singing at the park Saturday, July 22, from 6:00 p. m. on.

Featured will be a Gospel quartet, The Evangelists, of San Angelo. The event is sponsored by the Assembly of God Church in Ozona.

REFRESHMENT TIME AT VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL - The mid-morning break is usually taken in the park for these four and five year olds, but rain Tuesday morning forced the class to have refreshment time in the classroom at the First Baptist annex. The group has been busy this week with Bible stories and handcraft which they will show off to their parents tomorrow night at 7:30. Parents Night will officially close the school for this year.

MOST AMERICANS WANT U.S. STRONGER THAN U.S.S.R.

Opinion Research Corporation of Princeton, New Jersey, released poll figures showing that 68 percent of the American public want the United States militarily superior to the Soviet Union. Three-quarters of the majority said that they felt "strongly" about their opinion. Only 23 percent said that they did not want the U.S. superior.

Asked if they would be willing to spend an additional $20 billion a year if the Soviets had the military advantage, 56 percent replied Yes and 32 percent No. For a candidate's positions on U.S. military superiority, 37 percent said that they would be more likely to vote for one favoring it, while 17 percent said that they would be less likely. Another 37 percent said that a candidate's position on military superiority would not affect their voting.

Those favoring a U.S. military lead were largely over 30 years old. An interesting statistic is that more nonwhites than whites (45 percent to 36 percent) favor a U.S. military advantage.

The 18-19 age group had the largest percentage not supporting candidates who favor U.S. military superiority. For the total public, national defense ranked behind pollution, poverty, education and crime as the most important areas of Federal activity.

TAX LOOPHOLES?

It is almost impossible to listen to a politician without hearing the familiar cries of "tax reform" and "loopholes." But how many people understand what lies behind the shibboleths? Few, it seems.

Interest on home mortgages is a loophole. It makes it easier for any American who wants a home to have one. Other loopholes — medical, children, personal, occupational — serve the same purpose, that is, social benefit.

The same holds true for tax-free municipal bond interest. Municipalities issue bonds at low interest to finance schools, water purification facilities and sewage treatment plants. To compensate for the low interest, these bonds have no taxes on their interest.

So-called loopholes are actually carefully considered exemptions available to all for the benefit of all. From the impression some candidates give, exemptions are nothing but a refuge for the rich.

Energy and Ecology Needs Should Balance

"The country must avoid an 'environmental protection overkill' which could stall the expansion of energy plants," Walter Rogers, president of the Independent Natural Gas Association, asserted in a year-end statement.

He said that the United States is entering a period when it will have to balance its environmental needs against its energy requirements.

Confronted with soaring demands, Mr. Rogers said the industry must increase our efforts to find and develop new domestic sources of natural gas and other energy.

The environmental problems associated with production of energy should be met and solved quickly, "without undue delay or prolonged public debate," Rogers concluded.

DON'T JUST STAND THERE

Washington News Letter

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

A lively rivalry has developed between two of Washington's best heeled and most active lobbyists -- Ralph Nader and John Gardner.

Lobbyists for various special causes come and go -- as their causes ebb and flow. Both of these activists have tried to elbow their way into the front of the ecology parade, with massive appeals for contributions from environmental enthusiasts.

As that issue has become slightly worn, both Nader and Gardner (Common Cause) have turned to riding herd on Congress, threatening to expose conservatives and striving to promote liberals.

Both of these rivals, whose bank accounts are said to be well padded, file suits and engage in other publicity stunts designed to get attention, establish stature, and replenish the kitty.

A good example of this occurred a few days ago when Nader was unable to board an Allegheny Airlines flight from Washington to Hartford, Conn. In the rush, an airline clerk sold the lobbyist a ticket after spaces were sold out. He hit the ceiling, and had his lawyer immediately file a damage suit against Allegheny for $250,000!

In the Presidential race students in the 21st district appear to follow the general pattern. In our recent questionnaire 820 who answered identified themselves as "students."

A tabulation reveals that 425 -- or 51.9% -- favored Nixon; 19.2% preferred McGovern; Wallace received 11%; Kennedy 7.8%; etc. In the overall total (covering 31,000 returns) Nixon got 51.1%, Wallace 18.1%, Humphrey 6.7%, and McGovern was fourth with 5.7%.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

from Kitty's Kitchen

Here is a recipe for French puff pastries which has been modernized considerably, and will enable the ordinary cook to turn out napoleons, turnovers, patty shells and numerous other goodies which call for the flaky rich pastry dough.

Puff Pastries
2 cups unsifted flour
1/2 teas. salt
1 cup (2 sticks) margarine
1/2 cup ice water
Jelly
2 tbs. sugar
1/2 teas cinnamon

In large bowl, combine flour and salt. Cut in 1/4 cup margarine with pastry cutter or two knives until mixture is like coarse meal. Add ice water; toss lightly until mixture clings together. Chill 10 minutes.

Roll out on lightly floured board to 1/4-inch thickness (15x10 inch rectangle). Cut remaining margarine into small pieces and sprinkle over entire surface of pastry. Fold 1/3 pastry over middle; cover with remaining third. Give pastry a quarter turn; roll to 15x10 inch rectangle; fold as above. Cover with wax paper and chill 10 minutes. Repeat procedure of two rollings, foldings and turnings; chill 10 minutes or overnight if desired.

Repeat procedure of two rollings, foldings and turnings; chill 10 minutes. Cut pastry in half; return half to refrigerator. Roll to 9x12 inch rectangle. Cut into 3-inch squares. Place 1/4 teaspoon of jelly in each square. Fold to form triangle; seal edges. Sprinkle

Others present were Mrs. Al Roland, Mrs. Sam Hollmig, Mrs. W. A. Arledge, Mrs. B. C. Babb, Mrs. Guy Skiles, Mrs. Ed Lillie Jr., and luncheon guests, Emmett Brotherton, Ed Lillie, Deborah Lillie, Jimmy Lillie, Roger Smith, and Nancy Roland.

Better Mousetrap

"Build a better mousetrap," said Ralph Waldo Emerson, "and the world will beat a path to your door."

But the United States Patent Office is not so easily impressed. If your mousetrap is better merely because it is made of better materials, you probably could not get a patent. It must also work in a new and better way.

For example:

A man came up with the idea of making towel holders out of plastic rather than metal. The plastic holders did have certain advantages. They were cheaper, for one thing. They were also more colorful.

But these advantages of plastic were already well known. Simply applying them to another product was held not original enough to qualify for a patent.

Even if the change of material means added convenience, that usually won't do. Another would-be inventor put together a map case of lightweight metal, making it easier to carry. But again, a court found no basis for a patent.

"(The lightness) may prove beneficial," said the court, "but it is not invention. There must be original thought or inventive skill, not mere mechanical change of what was old."

On the other hand, a change of material might actually change the way the product functions. Take the matter of garter buttons. Originally made out of metal, garter buttons had two major drawbacks. If the clasp was tight, the stocking had a tendency to tear. If the clasp was loose, the stocking had a tendency to slip.

Someone finally hit upon the idea of making the button out of rubber. This solved both problems at once. Stockings neither tore nor slipped, because the rubber button gripped the fabric in a new and better way.

Did this change of material entitle the man to a patent? A court said yes.

"It is this capacity for accomplishing results," said the court, "which has always distinguished success from failure and the inventor from the mechanic."

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club By Mrs. Bailey Post

Most of you should have a little more time during the summer for making plans to help with your next year's garden. The Ozona Garden Club will have several programs next year on landscape and kinds of trees, shrubs and plants that do well in this area. The public will be invited to hear an A & M landscape architect in September.

These suggestions might be beneficial if you want some changes or have a new home.

Your first step when planning your landscape is to take a good, hard look at what you have to begin with.

Take some snapshots of your home or new lot. These will help you to visualize your design problems as you develop your plan.

If you need suggestions, consult a landscape architect to help you create new ideas, and to enhance the beauty and value of the old.

Home landscape design is the art of using outdoor space with imagination, to develop a livable and attractive outdoor environment.

Landscape design employs both plants and construction (walls, walks, fences, paths, structures) to achieve its goals.

Today's gardens are planned more to be lived in than viewed.

The best in garden design will increase convenience, privacy, beauty and pleasure.

The prime rewards of good garden design is beauty,

MISS DEBRA HOHERTZ
... Plans August Wedding...

your principal goal when you plan your garden.

Place large growing trees where they will furnish shade and beauty, but will not interfere with plumbing and utility lines or house foundations.

To use plants with the greatest design effect, learn to look at them freshly, with an artist's eye in order to see both their form and texture.

Just as you sought earlier to develop an overall plan for your property which would be harmonious and functional, so you will now seek harmony in the design of plant materials.

Think of them in terms of their eventual size (2) the role you wish them to play and (3) in terms of eye-level.

Philip Perner and Jim Montgomery spent the weekend in Ruidoso, N.M. where the famous Perner horse, Talent Bar, was scheduled to run Sunday after being retired from the track for some years.

Calling All HOME MAKERS
Brought To You By J. D. Brown

We have often seen homes which are furnished attractively enough, but have

BROWN one serious defect: The furniture does not fit. That is, it doesn't fit the room or the people who use it most.

In your living room is your cocktail table so large that it is difficult to get to use your sofa?

Are there enough passage areas in the right places in your rooms? Are the pieces the right sizes for your rooms?

Are your sofas and chairs so low or deep that you have trouble getting up, or are they so high that your feet dangle from them?

The way to avoid this is to "Try it before you buy it."

Do you realize most people spend more time in bed than on any other one piece of furniture so it is obviously important to get the right size and comfort in bedding. Every bedding manufacturer makes mattresses with several degrees of firmness which are available in regular or extra length, queen or king size for extra width in inner-spring or foam rubber.

It's hard to believe that some people will buy a sofa or chair or bedding without trying to see if it really fits, or if it is actually comfortable to them -- but surprisingly this does happen in some places.

So, before you buy, make certain that your furniture fits you, your family and your room; and we take extra care to help you make sure it does.

Baseball is one of the few experiences of life in which you learn immediately and unquestionably whether you're safe—or out.

In other pursuits we can go on for years thinking we're safe when we're not.

Of course, in life as in baseball it is what a man attempts and decides to do, and how well he fulfills his aim, that determines whether he'll be safe. And in life, too, each venture calls for determination and a knowledge of the rules.

For many youngsters in our community the church is the sandlot of life. In the church's youth activities they find their training and experience—for one day on the "diamond" of life they'll be making decisions and pitting their strength against serious challenges, relying on the religious convictions and moral principles they gained on the way up.

In weighing your child's need of spiritual development remember this: In life, each day doesn't offer a new ball game!

HE'S SAFE!

OLD	NEW

Highway Dept. Adopts Universal 'Sign' Language

Austin - Although the "new look" in highway signs is not as revolutionary as the mini-skirt -- Texas Highway Department Engineers hope it will be as eye-catching.

In many cases, symbols, shapes and colors are substituted for words. It is hoped that this will give the message to motorists at a glance and remove language barriers.

The new symbol signs and pavement markings adopted by the Texas Highway Commission are from the revised "Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices" released by the Federal Highway Administration.

The new prohibitive signs are probably the most important. These signs all have a red circle with a slash cutting diagonally through the center which means "DO NOT" or "NO." The symbol inside the circle shows what is prohibited.

The yellow diamond-shaped signs still stand for a warning, but some of the symbols showing hazards are new. In addition, most warning signs continue to have a word message, but the message is located under the sign on a plaque.

For example: The word message "MERGING TRAFFIC," is replaced by a black arrow being joined by a smaller black line. A plaque under the sign will have the word "MERGE." It is hoped this will minimize confusion as to which stream carries the merging traffic.

School signs are shaped like a schoolhouse, containing the silhouettes of two children on a yellow background.

Color is a key in the new system. Red indicates stop or prohibition; green shows movement permitted or gives directional guidance; blue signifies motorist services; yellow indicates general warning; and black on white is used for regulatory signs such as those for speed limits and for most guide and destination signs.

In addition, orange (a new color in the Manual) will convey construction and maintenance warnings.

The shapes of new signs are important. Diamond shaped signs signify warning; rectangular signs with longer horizontal dimensions contain guidance information. An octagon always means stop and an inverted triangle means yield.

In addition to the new signs, there are major adjustments in the use of color lines for pavement markings.

Yellow lines will be the only color used for centerline markings on two-way roads and white will remain on multiple-lane highways -- for separating traffic flows in the same direction.

A broken yellow centerline will mark the division of the road where passing is permitted. A solid yellow line to the right of a broken yellow centerline will mean no passing is permitted by traffic traveling in either direction. Similarly, double yellow lines will mark the center line of multilane divided highways.
