You will notice the proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution printed in this issue of The Stockman. I haven't taken the time to read them yet, but you might like to study them. This is the reason I called your attention to them. I haven't voted "For" an amendment to the state constitution in years, and I probably won't this time, but won't make a flat statement until I have a chance to look them over.

I am one of those who thinks we need a new constitution to replace the one we have. However, as patched and amended as it is. I shudder to think what might come of a new one, things being what they are in Austin at present.

Someone had mentioned that we were sort of leaving the Methodists out of the news these days, having had several Baptist stories, and one about the Church of Christ Bible School. Although we just print what's brought in, where church news is concerned, I hunted Rev. John Berkley down in the drug store the other day and hit him up for some Methodist news.

He said things were kinda slow around the Methodist Church grounds these hot days, but asked me to remind all his delinquent church members that they are still holding services on Sunday mornings.

So consider yourself re-

I don't know how it all got started, but some of the younger girls have been baking cakes for Tom and taking hem by the house to Jim

Anyway, I have a plate and cake pan that belongs to someone. There are several possibilities, Suzanne, Lesley, Jeannie, etc. I might even deliver if I knew where they belonged. Anyway, girls, we are all out of cake and Tom's diet is out of control. He was down to 220 and holding, but he broke the scales after the last chocolate cake.

Well, the network news programs have been like a soap opera for over a week. It's been something like this:

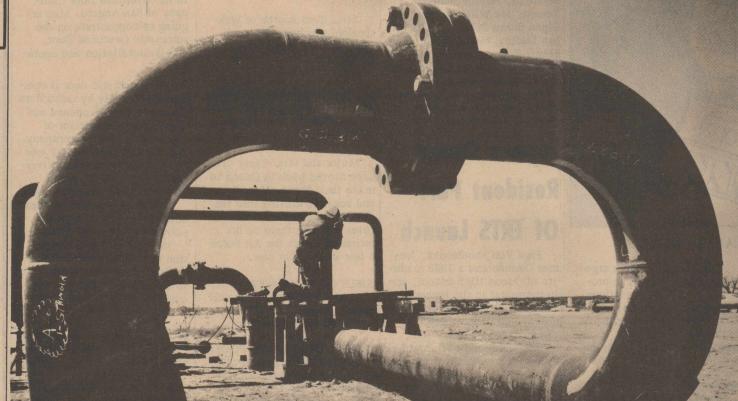

"George behind Tom 1,000 percent in spite of past mental problems, recently come to light. Will this relationship continue? Tune in this time tomorrow night for another episode on 'George and Tom'.'

The following night the story continues with "Tom on speech-making tour to Hawaii, says he never thought that past problems would be an issue when asked if there were any old skeletons rambling around in his closets. He will quit George if George thinks it best for the ticket. George, in seclusion in his cabin in the Black Hills, still insists that he is with Tom all the way and that he will not be discarded, although with less conviction each time." To be continued tomorrow night.

As the story progresses, it goes something like this: 'Tom determined to stay with George, not a chance that he will withdraw from the ticket." From George, still on vacation in Black Hills. "George says there is no possibility that Tom will be dropped, but has been leaking news to the press that it is a distinct possibility when he is re-united with Tom."

Final installment "George and Tom go separate ways, the relationship is doomed. Tom withdraws and George says it's for the best. That's the story of the two men nominated for the top spots on the Democratic Party ticket such a short while ago. Should George really be President of the U.S.? Ask yourself after this past week's wish-washy performance.

BUT NARY A WORD ABOUT FOE'S ATROCITIES

The bombing of war-useful installations in North Vietnam by the United States, in retaliation for the enemy's aggression and atrocities in South Vietnam, has caused some predictable cries of pain in the left-wing national news media. None, however, is more total and reckless than that of Anthony Lewis in The New York reements (SALT) with the So-Times. He wrote from London on April 16:

"In my generation we grew up believing in America ... That faith in America has been sorely tested in these last years, but never more terribly than by Richard Nixon's bombing of Hanoi and Haiphong. For the truth is now impossible to escape if we open our eyes. The United States is the most dangerous and destructive power in the world."

Breathtaking in all its falsity, and it is totally false. For the United States would have to start right now and will be ratified, we were able keep on for some years to catch up with either the Soviet to cut $400 million from the Union or Communist China in destructiveness chiefly toward their own peoples, but in more recent years to others like the Koreans, the Tibetans, the Indians, the Hungarians, the Czechoslovaks, and, alas, the Vietnamese, North and South. The Communist Chinese and the Soviet Russians have shown themselves ready to fight to the last ple's projects; " that is, North Vietnamese, who are now using teenagers in the housing, dormitories, and front ranks.

Another aspect of Mr. Lewis's false and reckless the military more attractive charges is that he imputes the American bombings to as we move toward the zero "Richard Nixon," rather than to President Nixon on the advice of his best military and civilian advisers. He speaks of the "bombing of Hanoi and Haiphong," though neith- while visiting with Hanoi er city was directly hit, only installations on the edges. Had the two cities been directly attacked, as the North Vietnamese bomb and shell Saigon, Danang, Quangtri, Her pro-Communist attitude Anloc and other communities, the damage would have was obviously designed to been very serious.

The well-deserved attacks on North Vietnam inspire invaders and their brutal attamost Americans with even greater faith in their country. cks on men, women and child-God bless it and keep it strong. The United States will be able to make it without the little faith that Mr. Lewis offers. His uncontrollable desire to lose the Vietnam war at all costs is showing rather painfully.

For removal of lint, dust and surface soil use your carpet sweeper daily and then use a thorough vacumn cleaning once a week to prevent soil from becoming embedded in the carpet. Professional cleaning is advisable once a year in nost cases. This may be lone right in the home by professional cleaning using shampooing or powder methods. Removal rugs may be sent out for shampooing or dry-cleaning. Immediate removal of spots and stains is most important. Remove the excess liquid with a blotter or absorbent cloth. Sponge the spot with a solution of one teaspoonfull of detergent in quart of water, adding a teaspoon of white vinegar on stubborn spots. Avoid getting the carpet too wet, and then dry it as quickly as

"Sprouting" (rising of tufts above the pile level) is corrected by snipping off the loose tufts. Rising tufts should be clipped but NEVER pulossible.

Shading and fluff of carpet is not a defect. It simoly means that loose bits of material are coming though the surface and these are removed by the vacumn intil fluffing gradually stops.

And what they need most are the moral and spiritual values that do not change in a fast-moving age. The role of the Church and the family is becoming

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club Mrs. Bailey Post

Perhaps vacations, August doldrums or summer listlessness tempt us to try to suspend gardening activities.

But due to the extreme dryness this is a critical period for many shrubs, such as the camellia, azalea, boxwood, and other evergreens. A lack of soil moisture now will weaken these plants, making them less resistant to severe cold, only a few months away. Too some are forming flower buds for next season's bloom or

To continue a cycle for annuals, the many-hued foliage of coleus and the flowers of petunias and sultanas have an enormous range of colors all season long. In addition to forming bright borders, these plants fill dull gaps in shrubbery beds. If you have special vines of these colorful plants now enlivening your garden, they may not be available in nurseries next spring. From one husky plant you can get several cuttings to root. Pinching back will produce branching for cuttings. Pinch out every shoot tip. Remove the flowers to promote green growth. Plant cuttings in clay pots filled with potting soil. Keep them in a sunny window during the cold-weather season. Keep the soil moist and check for insects. In late winter you can get three or four more cuttings from each of these little plants. This pruning will result in bushier young plants to set out next spring for early color Colorful Wish-Books are beKathy Annett In Miss Texas Teen Contest

Previously contestants from Texas for the Miss National Teenage Pageant were required to take a written test after sending application. If they scored high enough on the test, they then competed in the national finals held in Atlanta, Ga. There was no Miss Texas Teenage to represent Texas in the finals, so the Miss Texas Teenage Pageant took shape this year. Contestants in the Miss

Day after day after day in a Los Angeles courtroom, an elderly gentleman sat attentively in a back row seat. He had no stake in any of the cases. He knew none of the participants. But when asked why he was there, he had a ready reply:

"Because this is the greatest show on earth."

Courtroom scenes do provide the central drama in countless movies, plays, and television programs. Yet, surprisingly few people go to see the real thing. Unless highly publicized, trials often take place with no spectators at all.

courtrooms? Perhaps they feel reluctant to "listen in" on the private lives of others.

But in the eyes of the law, the anonymous spectator, far from intruding, actually plays a useful role in our scheme of justice. It is his very anonymity that makes him effective. Judges, lawyers, witnesses, and jurors, not knowing who the stranger might be, have an extra incentive to be con-

People may also be court-shy because they just do not realize how remarkably open our courts are. The United States Supreme Court once observed:

True, access may occasionally be limited for some special reason: to prevent overcrowding, to keep order, to protect children.

But as a rule, you may walk into a court as freely as into a church, with no one at the door to check your name or ask your business. When the judge in a murder trial ordered that "respectable citizens only" would be admitted to the courtroom, his order was thrown out by an appellate court as "preposterous."

Of course, around Law Day each May many people do go to court to watch justice in action. But the courts are just as open (and just as interesting) all year long. In a sense, that is what Law

Screwworms are reported from all areas of Texas. as well as two-thirds of the state of Oklahoma, county agent Pete W. Jacoby reported this week. He also reported that parts of Crockett County are more badly infested than before the Screwworm Program began several years ago.

The spring buildup began about a month earlier than usual this year due to an exceptionally mild winter in northeastern Mexico and in south Texas. By the time additional funds became available to allow the plant at Mission to increase production of sterile flies to the maximum. screwworms had migrated north from Mexico and invaded more than half of Texas - as well as southern Arizona.

Weather conditions in northern Mexico and over most of the southwest United States have remained exceptionally favorable for the screwworm propagation on into summer. Screwworms have continued to spread into previously free areas and the southwest United States is now experiencing the worst outbreak since 1961, which was one year prior to the inception of the screwworm eradication program.

The theory of eradication of screwworms, Jacoby pointed out, with the sterile male technique is to release a large enough number of sterile male screwworm flies over a vast area to outnumber or overwhelm the native male screwworm population in that area. Enough of the female screwworm flies, which only breed once in their lifetime, may then mate with sterile males, resulting in a significant reduction in the native fly population. As heavy as the scewworm infestation is in Texas at the present time, eradication of screw worms would take at least four to six months of weekly releases sufficient numbers. During the first six months of 1972 sterile screwworm flies have been released over all areas where screwworm cases were being reported in the United States, including Crockett County. Also, in order to cope with the northward and eastward migration of these insects, a band of sterile flies were released 100 miles north and east of the most northern reported cases. It is now appa-

4-H Consumer Education Program Sharpens Youths' Buying Skills

"As consumers, all of us at one time or another perform as amateur accountants, mechanics, electricians, dieticians or engineers in the selection and use of products we do not have the information nor the training for the job," says Melinda Brown, one of last year's national winners in the 4-H consumer education program supervised by the Cooperative

Although the battle against screwworms is apparently lost this year, we need to begin thinking now about next year, Jacoby reminded producers. A United States - Mexico Screwworm Eradication Program is at least two years away. It is thus necessary to push screwworms as far south as possible this fall and winter in order to minimize another spring buildand instructions.

Yet all too often previously emphasizing we do not have the consumerism in home centered projects, this year's program has been broadened to appeal to teen boys as well as girls, she noted.
