Kitty's Korner

By Kitty Montgomery

I think everyone breathed a sigh when the Olympics finally came to an end. Some of relief, some of sadness, others of despair. Surely never in the history of the world has been such an Olympics, and may there never be another such. From beginning to end it was an international shame. Highlighted by the horror of the massacre of the Israeli Olympic Team, the whole thing left a bad taste and created a shambles of the so called "spirit of the games," guarded through the years with such zeal.

When politics began to creep into the games in Mexico City, it was the beginning of the end for the Olympics. Dying was the fellowship between athletes of different nations, the spirit of competition, and the safety of their persons, and at Munich the death of the spirit became a reality.

Much must be done, if the Olympics is to be restored to its former place of grandeur throughout the world, and at this time it seems an impossibility.

Ozونا has suffered an invasion of crickets the past week. They are everywhere and only hide when people arise and begin stirring around. Being an early riser, I have found them doing a snake dance in the post office, and actually having choir practice in our office when I arrive. They have gotten so tame that it's a full hour before they scuttle into cracks and crevices, and then they continue to serenade us for quite some time before retiring for the day.

Between webworms and crickets, I'm going to be having nightmares before the first freeze.

We have had rather pleasant weather of late. Sort of hot every afternoon, but nice and cool at night and early mornings. Might be a promise that fall is really after all on the way. I never cease to be surprised when I survive another summer. Keep thinking I'll move to Alaska, but guess I've put it off too long. I seem to be well-rooted in West Texas.

A cute little item from the "Town Crier" in the VERNON DAILY RECORD, came my way this week. Still don't know who brought it in. Just a note "Kitty, thought you might enjoy this," and signed "LSP". Item follows: "After studying the sticker price on new automobiles a farmer recently came up with the following price for his cow:

- Basic Cow.....$200
- Two-tone exterior.. 45
- Extra Stomach..... 75
- Storage compartment. 60
- 4 dispensing devices.. 40
- Cowhide upholstery.. 125
- Dual horns..... 15
- Automatic fly swatter. 35
- "Total suggested price.. $595."

It's not our policy to use poetry in the paper, but we are going to make an exception in this case. The following poem was given to me by Mrs. Brock Hoover, who also wrote it. It has no title, simply says "To Kitty." I've read it many times and it never fails to give me the lift I need:

God hath not promised skies always blue,
Flower-strewn pathways all our lives thru,
God hath not promised sun without rain,
Joy without sorrow, peace without pain.

But God hath promised strength for the day,
Rest for the laborer, light on the way,
Peace for the trial, help from above,
Unfailing sympathy, undying love.

--Mrs. Brock Hoover

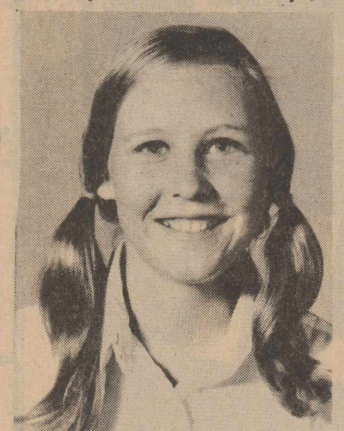

HIT BY A WILD MUSTANG - That aptly describes the destruction at the Jess Sweeten Mobil Station when a 1972 Mustang automobile crashed into it. The gasoline pump was knocked into the driveway of the service station and the second pump knocked from its moorings when the accident occurred last Thursday night.

The car was heavily damaged also. As for Jess Sweeten, he was thanking his lucky stars. Just seconds before he was checking the pump which lies demolished. The driver who lost control while making the turn off Hwy 290 was also uninjured. For details see story on page 1.

Lions Host Eldorado Eagles Fri.; After Losing Opener To Junction

Coach Rip Sewell's Ozona Lions will be favored over the Eldorado Eagles tomorrow night when they host the Eagles in Lion Stadium. Game time is 8:00 p.m.

Both teams lost their season openers last Friday night. The Lions were upset by Junction 21-12, and the Eldorado club lost to Rankin 44-21.

The Lions have the edge on the Eagles in experience, weight and speed, and fans should be able to look forward to a replay of last year's Lion-Eagle game, when the Lions won in Eldorado by a lopsided score.

Last Friday night the Lions took the field against a fired up Junction team and were in for quite a struggle in what was supposed to be an easy victory for the home team.

In the first quarter Ozona's Gerald Huff scored from three yards out after setting up the scoring play with a long-yardage dash through the Junction defenders. The PAT failed, but the Lions had a 6-0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

The Lions saw their lead vanish in the second quarter when the Junction crew put it all together and scored two touchdowns and two extra points to take a half time lead of 14-6. Neither team scored in the third quarter, but with eleven minutes to go in the fourth

Harrell Infant Dies After Birth

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Harrell, Jr. died shortly after birth last Wednesday in a Washington, D. C. hospital. The Harrells, who have lived in Washington for about two years, have one other child, a daughter, Elizabeth, 4.

Mrs. Alvin Harrell returned to her home here over the week end after being with her son and his family in Washington.

OHS Annuals May Be Purchased

High School principal Foy Moody announced this week that the school has around 10 1971-72 annuals to sell.

Ordinarily, annuals must be ordered prior to delivery to insure the purchase of one, but the ten left over will be sold on a first come basis, Moody said.

The annuals may be purchased in his office at the high school while they last.

quarter, the Lions' Ruben Tam-bunga scored from 13 yards out. The try for two points on the ground failed, and the Lions tasted defeat. To add insult to injury, the Junction Eagles took the ball and marched down to score again and kick the PAT before the end of the game, tucking a 21-12 win over the Lions under their belt for the trek home.

Welch Family Moves To Dallas

Rev. Gene Welch, pastor of the First Baptist Church, resigned effective September 24, due to ill health.

The Welch family will move to Dallas September 25 to make their home.

Their daughter Suzanne, a sophomore in Ozona High School, will move to Dallas to continue high school, but their son, Jack, a senior, will stay in Ozona to finish school.

FLYING CLUB TO ORGANIZE A meeting has been called to form a flying club for Ozona Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. at the airport. Anyone interested in flying is urged to be present.

Heavy Damage In Thursday Crash

A 1972 Ford Mustang, driven by Debbie Kerby crashed into Sweeten's Mobil Station last Thursday night around 9:40, knocking one gasoline pump into the station's driveway and dislodging another from its moorings before hitting a telephone pole and coming to a stop. Fortunately there were no injuries to the driver or the station owner, Jess Sweeten, who had been checking the downed pump only seconds before the crash.

Miss Kerby apparently lost control of the vehicle as she made a left turn off of Hwy 290, and scored a direct hit on the station. Damage was heavy to the gasoline pumps and the car was almost a total wreck, according to investigating officer Bobby Papan, DPS. The car belonged to Fred Deaton of Ozona.

Papan has investigated several minor wrecks in the city over the past week with no personal injuries and only insignificant property damage.

Commissioners Court Approves Budget, Tax Rate Down Slightly

The Crockett County Commissioners Court met Monday and approved the 1973 county budget which calls for expenditures of $1,013,713. The court also approved the new tax rate which is down slightly over that of last year.

The tax rate will be $3.08 on the $100 valuation. Broken down the county rate is $1.25, the same as last year; the school tax is $1.56, up 2¢, and the state tax rate is .27, down 5¢ over last year.

Estimated revenue is $1,007,102, up some $14,000 over that of last year. Two of the county's largest taxpayers, Shell Oil and Continental Oil Co., were represented and went over the budget with members of the court.

During a discussion following the hospital report, the court voted to drop the Personnel Liability insurance at the hospital. This will represent a savings of $2,800 a year. The hospital will be covered under the blanket liability which covers all county buildings.

Mrs. Huey Ingram had been appointed to fill the vacancy on the hospital board created by the resignation of Joe Couch, but she declined to accept the position. The court decided to leave the spot vacant until the December meeting when all county board members are appointed. Sam Ferner is acting president of the board, having been elected to the post of vice-president when Couch accepted the presidency.

Some discussion was given to the building of a new county barn. The court met two weeks ago with the architect and approved plans. The final draft is expected Monday and bids will be taken after it is received. Negotiations have been entered into with the Crockett County Water District to run a sewage line and water to the site north of town where the road department will be housed. The old barn sits directly in the path of Interstate 10, and the court must clear the right of way.

Boosters To Fete Lions In Annual Barbecue Dinner

The annual barbecue, honoring the Ozona Lions and their coaches will be held next Tuesday evening at 7:45 on the lawn behind the high school building. Tickets for the dinner and membership in the quarterback club are $2. Following the meal, a film of the Eldorado-Ozona game will be shown in the auditorium and a scouting report on the Mason team will be given.

The Ozona Lions Quarterback Club will meet each Tuesday night at 7:45 at the high school auditorium for a viewing of the film of the previous football game and a scouting report for the next game. All Lion fans are welcome to attend the weekly meetings.

Tickets may be purchased from any quarterback club member and from several of the businesses in town.

The court agreed to clean up the south side of town with the help of interested citizens. Vacant lots will be mowed and the county, receiving permission from owners, will tow off wrecked and abandoned automobiles.

Orvil Maney has been hired to be directly in charge of both cemeteries in the maintenance department. Electricity will be installed in the shop part of the cemeteries. At one time gas lights were to be installed at the entrance of Cedar Hill Cemetery, but this has not been done. If gas lights are not installed, the court will run electricity to the entrance and light it electrically.

The court appointed County Judge Troy Williams to contact the State Highway Commission and ask for aid to finish the paving and reworking of Highway 163 south of (Continued on last page)

Youth Center To Open After Home Football Games

At a called meeting of the Board of Directors of the Civic Center Monday evening, it was decided to have the youth center open after in-town football games for members only. This will include all high school members and eighth grade members.

Youth center rules will now be strictly applied, especially those dealing with littering and loitering outside the building.

PREPARING FOR "OPEN HOUSE" at the County Extension Office are County Agent Pete Jacoby and Miss Debra Gentry, new County HD Agent. The affair will be held at the office on the top floor of the courthouse annex next Wednesday from 1:00 until 4:00 p.m. Everybody is urged to come by during the open house hours and acquaint themselves with the functions of the office and the many materials offered to residents of the county by the Extension Service.

Achievement Awards For 2 County 4-Hers

The Crockett County 4-H Club came up with two winners when winners of the 1972 J. T. Rutherford 4-H Achievement Award for 4-H members in Extension District 6 were announced this week. The award is based on the outstanding 4-H records of the entries.

Crockett County winners were Elizabeth Zapata and Peter Zapata, both children of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Zapata of Ozona.

Elizabeth won fourth place in the girls' division. She has been in 4-H for nine years and has completed projects in health, foods, clothing, safety, junior leadership, dog care, money management, child care, yard beautification and bicycle. One of her major accomplishments was the winning of a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in health on her record book in 1971. She is active in school and community activities in Ozona.

Peter Zapata was awarded second place in the boys' division. He is a seven year 4-H member. His 4-H projects include conservation, leadership, foods, safety, health, citizenship, yard beautification, recreation and bicycle. He is a delegate from Crockett County to the District 6 4-H Council and has served as club reporter and secretary. He is active in sports and community center activities in Ozona.

Awards consist of medals to the first three winners in each division plus a rotating trophy to the girl and boy judged as the first place winners.

Calvary Baptist Sets Fall Revival

Rev. Eddy M. Taylor, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church issued an invitation to Ozonans and area people to attend the church's September Revival which commences Sunday, Sept. 17, and continues through Saturday, Sept. 23.

Evangelist for the revival will be Don Caldwell, presently pastor of Bay City Baptist Church in Bay City. Before moving to Bay City, he was pastor of Riverside Baptist Church in Stephenville.

Music for the revival will under the direction and leadership of Darwood (Shorty) Ragland of Big Lake. Mr. Ragland has been music director at Bethel Baptist Church in Big Lake for the past 15 years. Special music will be provided at each service.

Morning services, Monday through Friday, will be held promptly at 10 o'clock, with evening services at 7:00 o'clock throughout the revival.

THE FOOTBALL IS DOWN THERE SOMEWHERE along with a couple of Lions no doubt, and Dan Davidson, 61, and Melicio Martinez, 63, are making a valiant effort to scatter the Junction Eagles during the opening game of the season at Lion Stadium last Friday night. More rough and tumble action is on tap for Lion fans tomorrow night when the Eldorado Eagles come to town, with play getting underway at 8:00 p.m. (David Wallace Photo)

McGOVERN AND THE NEW MATH

Senator George McGovern (D-S.D.) says that if elected, he will cut defense spending by $30 million. He will hike corporate tax revenue by $17 billion. New wealth and inheritance taxes will yield, claims McGovern, another $11 billion. Welfare reform will save the U.S. still another one billion dollars for a $59 billion total.

Alan Reynold, an Associate Editor of NATIONAL REVIEW magazine, has carefully analyzed McGovern's arithmetic. The Senator's "soak the rich" ideas are all wet, finds Reynold. For one thing, raising corporate taxes would kill their expansion plans.

Increased corporate taxes would in turn give us higher prices. Reduced spending would no doubt follow higher prices, adversely affecting employment and our export market.

More benefits, higher costs and salaries will cancel out any post-Vietnam military savings.

Higher inheritance taxes would encourage rampant spending. If someone could not leave his money to the next generation, he would do his best to die broke.

McGovern alleges that 56 Americans who made one million dollars in a year paid no income taxes. He charges that ITT has not paid income taxes for several years. The Senator asserts that 40 percent of American corporations pay no tax.

Research proves that many millionaires lost money the year before or gave huge amounts to charity. Charging that ITT has not paid taxes is an outright lie, says Reynolds. McGovern's charge about corporations not paying taxes fails to consider whether they made a profit or not.

So McGovern's $59 billion in higher revenues is open to speculation. But wait! Consider his expenditures for food stamps, health insurance, urban renewal, etc. This comes to $159 billion. Now, we take in $59 billion, and spend $159 billion. Under McGovern's Math, that is a balanced budget. Under the old math, that is a $100 billion deficit.

Added to his proposed $100 billion deficit is the projected 1973 deficit of $26 billion, giving us a grand total of $126 billion worth of red ink. McGovern has a doctorate in history; it should be in the new math.

AIM FOR THE FLAG. BEWARE THE TRAP!

Washington News Letter

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

A renewed war on screwworms was declared at an August 26 meeting called by Trustees of the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation, held at the Gunter in San Antonio. It was my privilege to be present.

Nearly 100 top government and producer officials vowed to do whatever is necessary to prevent another screwworm outbreak. The sterile fly program, spearheaded by Dolph Briscoe 12 years ago, has saved producers in the southwest $800 million during the past 10 years.

It is planned to produce sterile flies at the rate of 200 million per week--the capability of the Mission USDA Entomology plant. To do this will require $2.2 million more money than is now in sight--that is, for the fiscal year which ends next July.

The production cost (including distribution) of sterile flies is $825 per million.

Last year the Congress provided $7.2 million for the program. This year it was increased by $500,000, and an additional $2 million was provided for initial U. S. participation in Mexican plans, including conversion of two ships into fly-making labs.

All agree that the key to the future of the program is Mexico. The joint U. S. - Mexico 5-year $40 million agreement to launch an all-out battle to cleanse the flies from south of the border is considered a major breakthrough. The U. S. share of costs will be 80%, based upon a ratio of total livestock numbers that will be protected by the success of the program.

Now that the thrust of the battle has become international--a program to prevent the flies from migrating across the Rio Grande--there seems to be good reason for the federal government to pay the entire U. S. share. The Congress must decide that.

In any event, under present plans there should be no screwworm problem in the southwest during 1973. But to make sure of this, more money must be provided for the Mission plant.

CONTROLLING HAY FEVER

Allergy specialists advise that there is something you can do about hay fever. In fact, they advise a number of measures that can be taken to avoid hay fever and its distressing symptoms. Some of them follow:

Wear glasses. Large motorcycle types are considered best. Keep doors and windows closed, especially on windy dry days when pollen flows freely. Turn air conditioner on a few hours before spending time in a room. Be sure the unit has a good filter. Keep front windows of automobiles closed to prevent pollen-saturated air from blowing in. Stay indoors on days on which there are high pollen counts. Avoid garden work and garden sprays. Do not allow fresh cut flowers in your home. Stay away from insect, mothproofing, deodorizing and other household sprays as well as strong soaps, ammonia, waxing solutions and other substances with irritating odors. Fresh fruits and spices make some victims feel worse. Discover which foods affect you, and eliminate them from your diet.

One out of 15 persons in the U.S. suffers from hay fever. Ragweed "hay fever" lasts from mid-August through September in many states, and "until the first frost" in others.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club
By Mrs. Bailey Post

Now that we have had good rains, our soil should be in fine shape for vegetable gardens and flower beds in preparation for a beautiful fall.

Those of you who did not hear Mr. Janne lecture, missed a real treat. After a quick tour of our city in the morning to observe the landscaping of the homes, his first remarks at the afternoon meeting were very complimentary of the appearance and well-planned individual yards in Ozona.

His suggestions and informative slides for planning a new yard or re-doing an old one should inspire those present, and I will pass on a few tips for those who were not.

First, consider the space you have; second, the landscape plant material to be used, and third, sight and location, plus people and their needs.

Define landscape objectives and needs. Diagram the various activities. Select plant materials that best satisfy the landscape. Indicate good views from windows and doors.

View should be attractive from all directions. Gardens developed step by step. Don't try to do it all the first year. Know the relative size of plants when mature. Select well placed accents.

Mr. Janne reminded us that there is no right or wrong way for everyone. What is suitable for one family may be entirely wrong for another. Use your own initiative and give it a try. His quote, "A garden is a thing of beauty, and a job forever."

If you have a large overgrown Elaeagnus, he suggested

Range Care Should Coincide With Nature's

By-Clitis H. Sinclair,
D. C. - S. C. S.

There are four principles of grass land management we must remember.

1. Cut the shoot and starve the root or when a bite is taken off the top of a plant, a bite is also taken off the root system.

2. Nature doesn't like empty space. Nature may fill in the space with an undesirable plant in order that there is no empty space. A weed may be described as "a plant out of place." The reason for many failures of plants to establish in pure stands may be the lack of a favorable habitat - which could include an absence of one or more of the five essentials for livelihood, food, air, water, cover, and proper use.

3. Nature is always trying to put back the kind of vegetation she had on a piece of ground in the first place. Man, through his grazing system or lack of good planned grazing system, has taken much and left little over the years, perhaps, fortunately, our native grasses are not able to make efficient use of high fertility as are some of the introduced plants. If the fertility be high and proper use be applied to the adapted and improved grasses - then nature will have a hard time fulfilling her habits on our better soils.

4. The principal factor limiting growth is proper use, water and fertility. Proper use on any soil is the main factor. Properly used, any adapted grass and water use will be effective.

the landscape," Welch contends.

On the other hand, textural contrasts can bring interest without confusion. The large leafed species such as paper plants, bananas or cannas are usually considered to be coarse texture. Fine textured plants include ferns, cypress trees and zoysia grass. Texture is a relative thing, notes the specialist, depending on the other plants and structures being used.

"Various structures also provide texture, explains Welch. A stucco wall may be viewed as fine texture compared with a flagstone wall which may be considered as coarse."

Consider scale in using structures as well as in the selection of plant material. Since outside spaces are much larger than those on the inside, outdoor steps should be considerably wider than those inside the home.

In choosing plants, one should recognize that a large tree may dwarf a low-lying house. Furthermore, plants may become too large and thus destroy the effect of the intended design. "For this reason, the landscape designer should know the ultimate size of plant materials used so that his planned landscape will increase in value and beauty in the years to come," adds Welch.

Landscape Expert Gives Advice To Home Owners

College Station-- Landscape design is an involved process, but home-owners can succeed if they keep a few points in mind.

Dr. William C. Welch, landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, gives a few guidelines in planning a landscape.

"Simplicity is one thing to keep in mind. This does not imply monotony in design. Instead, it offers variety without confusion. A cluttered appearance may result from using a large variety of plant materials," points out the Texas A&M University specialist.

Unity also is an essential element of a well designed landscape. This can be achieved with the proper balance of simplicity, contrast and scale.

"A properly balanced landscape lessens the temptation to add those odd pieces of plant material which one often finds on sale or receives from well-intentioned friends. As good as the intentions are, those unplanned plants are a common nemesis to unity in

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Meddling with Merchandise

To lift her spirits, Virginia decided to become a bleached blonde. She stirred two bleaching products together and applied the mixture to her hair. Result: scalp burns.

In short order, she demanded damages from one of the manufacturers. But at the trial, the company pointed out that its directions warned against mixing the product with anything else.

"The fact remains," said Virginia, "that a bleach should not become dangerous merely by being mixed with another bleach."

However, the court turned down Virginia's claim. The judge said she had meddled with the merchandise at her own risk.

With increasing frequency, manufacturers are being held liable for harm inflicted by their products. But if the consumer had substantially tampered with the product before using it, that usually will let the manufacturer "off the hook."

This is true even if there is no specific warning against tampering.

Another case involved a ladder which collapsed under a man's weight, throwing him to the ground. But before using it, he had nailed strips of wood along the bottom in hopes of giving it greater stability.

Because of this alteration, which changed the ladder's distribution of weight, a court ruled that the man could not hold the manufacturer liable for his injury. On the other hand, not every alteration will increase the chance of an accident. In another case, a hunter widened a cartridge slot on his rifle. Later, during an outing, he was hurt when the gun exploded in his hands.

Here too, when the man brought suit, the gun manufacturer relied on "tampering" as a defense. But a firearms expert testified that the explosion was due not to the widening of the slot but to an original defect in the steel.

Accordingly, the court held the manufacturer liable. The judge said that in these circumstances, the hunter's alteration simply made no difference in the eyes of the law.

Castle Gap Baptists To Meet In McCamey

The 1972 statewide missions thrust projected by the 1.9 million-member Baptist General Convention of Texas will be felt locally when the churches of the Castle Gap Baptist Association come together Tuesday night, September 19, for their Missions/Stewardship/Youth Conference. The conference will begin at 7:15 p.m., in the East Side Baptist Church, McCamey, Texas. Supper will be served by the host church at 6:30 p.m. and the Womens Missionary Union and Executive Board of the association will meet at 8:30 p.m., as usual. One of more than 100 similar meetings across Texas, the meeting will feature Texas Baptist State Leaders from the Missions and Stewardship Divisions of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

The meeting will include a session to acquaint church leadership with the challenge of Biblical stewardship and the resources available for designing a program of Stewardship Development. "Greatness in giving is the key note and such greatness in giving is necessary if Baptists are to be equal to their mission task in the 70's," Dr. Cecil Ray, Director of the Stewardship Division, said. The speaker for the meeting will be Mr. Robert Garcia, State Missions Representative for Texas Baptist. Conferences on missions, mission projects, and resources for these projects will be held. Every church in the association is urged to have representative people present for missions, stewardship, budget and finance, and the youth. A youth rally will be held to confront the youth with the missions and stewardship challenges of the Bible. The public is cordially invited to attend, also.

PUT SOME LIFE INTO YOUR HOME

Many homes lack an important ingredient called sparkle. Too many homes are flat instead of having sparkle and life. BROWN Fortunately, in most cases, solutions can be simple. Here are just a few of the hundreds of ways in which a bland and lifeless home may be converted to a vibrant one.

An assortment of colorful throw cushions scattered on the sofa and chairs. Sometimes a small pair of chairs in a vivid contrasting color will give "life" to an otherwise dull room. A bright well arranged group of pictures on a blank wall. A colorful mural behind a colorless sofa. Don't forget a bright splash of real or artificial flowers on the dining room or cocktail table. How about a large mirror on the wall opposite a window so you can see the outdoors from anywhere in the room. A drab room is often brought to life by replacing a lamp shade with a new one that picks up one of the bright colors in your sofa or floor covering. And, to see many other ways to add life to a home, stop in and browse here; you can get some more ideas, and there's no obligation.

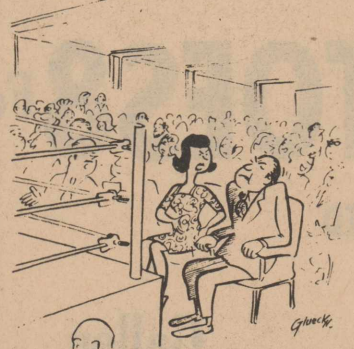

CARD OF THANKS

I want to thank my friends in Ozona for the flowers, letters, cards and visits while I have been in the hospital. No one will ever know how much they have lifted our spirits. I suffered a light stroke in Magdalena, New Mexico on July 28. I have been a patient in the Clinic Hospital since that time and may be here a month or six weeks more. But one day I will walk again and will head for Ozona to thank you in person.

Sincerely,
Lee Wilson

Cadillac presents the class of '73

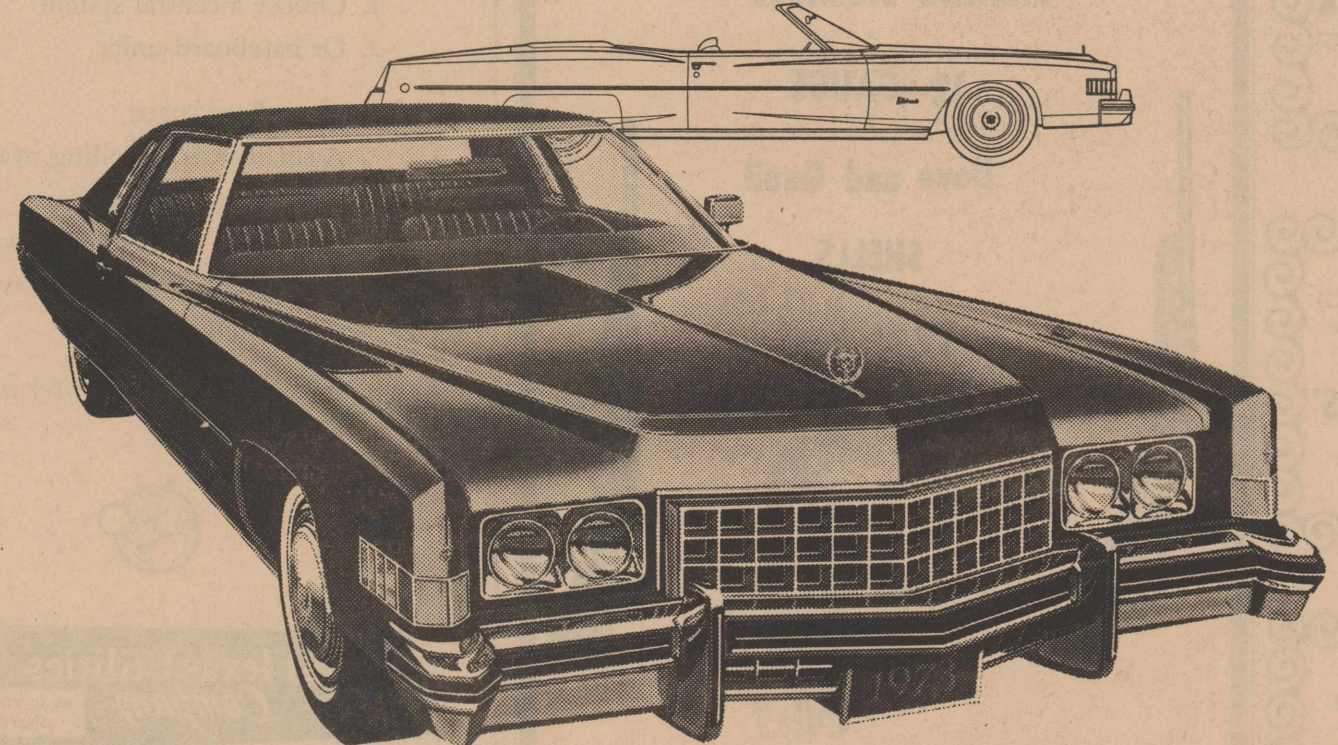

Clearly, these are the most magnificent Cadillacs ever built. Not only for what you can see—the bold new exteriors and the plush new interiors—but as much for what you can't see.

You see here the new Sedan deVille, Eldorado Coupe and Eldorado Convertible. You don't see the six other new Cadillacs (more models than all other U.S. luxury cars have combined).

You see here the striking new styling outside—even more elegant for '73. You don't see the hundreds of innovations and refinements inside. To add new comfort and convenience.

And you don't see the many new niceties you may add. Like a lighted vanity mirror. A theft-deterrent system and steel-belted radial tires.

Clearly, you never had so many good reasons to visit your authorized Cadillac dealer. Cadillac Motor Car Division. The leadership shows.

Ozona to the Val Verde County line. There are two strips of highway in the area which have not been rebuilt. The judge was also instructed to ask for extension of FM 1973 to the Val Verde County line. The road is to receive five miles of additional paving, and an additional six miles of paving would provide an all-weather road to the upper portions of Lake Amistad. The highway near Juno, which was washed out by flood waters last month is being served by a detour, and it will be some time before the road, which is in Val Verde County, will be repaired. Paving of 1973 would give easy access to the lake.

95 Is Induction Cut-off Number

Austin, Texas--Colonel Melvin N. Glantz, the State Director of Selective Service for Texas has announced that the Lottery Number Cut-off for induction of non-volunteers for the remainder of the year is 95.

The Department of Defense has asked for 15,900 men from all states to be inducted during the last three months of 1972. This will require raising the Lottery Number for induction from 75 in September to 95 for the last quarter of the year.

Glantz said projections indicate that approximately 1,100 men will be inducted in Texas during the last three months of this year. Induction orders will go to men who are available and fully qualified for military service and who are in the 1972 First Priority Selection Group, which is made up of men born in 1952 and men who lost a deferment in 1972.

Orders for pre-induction Armed Forces Examination will continue for men in the 1973 First Priority Selection Group with Lottery Number 75 or below during the rest of this year. This group is made up of men born in 1953 who are not currently in a deferred status.

Local Board No. 110, in Sonora, Texas will be closed from Monday through Friday, Sept. 11th - 15, 1972.

Local Board Executive Secretary, Mrs. Frances W. Grobe, will be out of the office during this period of time to attend a state-wide training conference of Selective Service personnel in Texas. Individuals wishing to register during this period of time should contact Mr. Floyd Hokit.
