A lot of things are going to happen and a lot of people are going to do things they thought they never would in this lifetime. The reason I know this is because all my life I have heard the saying "when hell freezes over," when someone was talking about something that would never happen or something he would wait to do until that time. And believe me, hell froze over Tuesday.

When it freezes, sleets, snows, hails, and the temperature doesn't climb above 20 all day in Ozona, you must know hell has indeed frozen over.

If you miss the news in the legal notice and in our lead story, I just must mention the fact that the Crockett County Commissioners Court has played Santa Claus a little late this year, dishing out most of the gravy onto their own plates.

Some of the raises mentioned are justified and some are not. But, you must admit that giving the commissioners a $2,800 a year raise is just a little too far out. I frankly don't see how they can do it and look their constituency in the face, or is it faces?

However, that's what they propose to do, and no doubt that's what they will do, since most of us who would go and protest are hard at work during the meetings and whenever action is taken. I will use this space this week to register my protest.

I feel that in this time of galloping inflation, a boost in salary of such dimensions for a clearly part-time job is slightly out of line, to put it mildly. Shame on you boys!

Roger Dudley was in today. He always comes in when I mention something about the way people park at the post office. I think I've mentioned it twice in the past year and that's the two times I've seen Roger during the time.

I know he feels guilty about parking the wrong way at the post office, although he tries hard to defend himself. I just believe old Roger stays in the country too much and don't know which way is the right way to park when he comes to town. We could overlook one Roger, but we have so many of them.

See you next week Roger. kk

Everyone's been wondering "what happened when the lights went out" last Thursday night at the drive-in theatre, plus all those who wondered what happened to long-distance telephone service and a few on rural lines with no phone service at all. It all happened about 9:15 last Thursday night, and there were many and sundry tales making the rounds Friday morning.

I have it from the horse's mouth so to speak. A bright young man from the telephone office in the city was in the next day and he was in no doubt as to what happened. He had no doubt had the same experience before.

It wasn't an airplane and it wasn't a thunderbolt. It was simply a truck with a tall load whose driver discovered he was going the wrong way and pulled into the Big "O" Theatre entrance to turn around. Upon doing so his equipment pulled the lines, broke the pole, and he just kept going, dragging line and cable behind him half the way to town.

I was given a very logical explanation, and it seems likely. I must say, however, that some of the other stories were more interesting.

Commissioners Vote Blanket Pay Hike For Elected Officials

Salary raises for elected county officials was the final item on the agenda when the Crockett County Commissioners met in regular session Monday. However, that item will most likely rank highest on the agenda of the county taxpayers.

The court gave unanimous approval to a $2,850 per year salary raise for the Commissioners of Precincts 1, 2, 3, and 4, raising their present salary of $4,350 to $7,200 per annum. According to County Judge Troy Williams, the four commissioners justified the large proposed raise by contending that although they only meet once a month in regular session, hardly a day passes without their being called out on county business of some sort.

Other proposed salary raises went to county officials who are maintained in offices in the courthouse or annex and spend their working days in office. Proposed raises include an increase in the salary of the Justice of the Peace from $4,260 to $5,400. Proposed increase in salary for the County Sheriff, Tax Assessor-Collector is to $12,150 from $9,300; County Judge's salary will be raised from $6,750 to $9,300. The raise in the salary of the judge does not include the $2,600 per year paid the judge as county superintendent. This amount will remain the same.

The pay increase proposal includes raising the salary of county clerk from $9,300 to $12,150, and the office of county treasurer from $4,800 to $6,000.

The pay increases will be set officially at the next meeting of the court February 12, barring protest from voters who might attend the meeting for the purpose, or written protest to county officials. Legal notice appears in another part of the paper expressly to notify the public of the court's intention.

In business preceding the salary raise proposal, regular monthly reports were received including a year-end report from the hospital. The report revealed that Crockett County taxpayers lost a total of $92,000 on the hospital operation for the year just ended. However, $14,000 of that amount went to capital improvements.

A letter from J. A. Snell, District Engineer with the Texas State Highway Department was read asking that the county vacate the properties needed for IS 10 by March 1, 1973. The court voted to ask for a six-months extension, due to slow progress on work for the new facilities.

The court voted to install red blinker lights at the intersection of Ave G and 5th Street and Ave. G and 6th Street.

Road employees were voted a $25 per month each raise, and the court voted to purchase 2 new motor graders with surplus road and bridge funds.

The second federal revenue sharing check in the amount of $39,500 was placed on a six-months CD with the first check.

County Judge Troy Williams reported that the County can not build a Nursing Home, as such, according to statutes. However, the county is allowed to build an addition to the hospital for the purpose of using it as a nursing home.

This development renders the petition for a bond election, circulated in the spring, void. A new petition will be circulated this weekend and after the statutory 10% of registered voters have signed it, the court will take action on calling an election.

In other action, the court amended precinct lines to place Ozona Intermediate School in Precinct 2 in order that Precinct 2 elections may be held in the school building. Also, the petition of Southwest Microwave, Inc. for a 15-year non-exclusive franchise in Crockett County was approved.

A. D. "DEAN" RIPPETOE

Dean Rippetoe, Former Ozonan, C of C Speaker

The date has been set and the speaker has been engaged for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet. The affair will be held February 15, at the Civic Center and former Ozonan Dean Rippetoe will be the after dinner speaker.

Rippetoe is Midland Liquefied Petroleum Gas Sales Representative for Shell Oil Company's Southern Area and has gained fame in the West Texas-New Mexico area as an entertaining and informative after dinner speaker.

Before moving to Midland several years ago, Rippetoe and his family resided in Ozona for four years. He was the sixth president of the Ozona Chamber of Commerce and served a year on the Chamber board. He also served a two-year term on the Crockett County Hospital Board. He was transferred to Ozona as inspector for the construction of the Northwest Ozona Gas Plant in 1964 and remained after construction as Foreman. He assumed his present post in 1968.

LIONETTES CAPTAINS Teresa Shaw and Denise Deaton (left to right) don't seem to be too concerned about their team's losing basketball season. Staffed mostly with freshmen and sophomores, the team has seen some rough times this season, but things are looking up, according to coach Susan Webb. The team has great attitude and has put forth great effort. They are not the least bit daunted about going into district play with their record.

Alcohol: Its Effect On Brain And Body

The rapidity with which alcohol enters the bloodstream and exerts its effect on the brain and body depends on several things:

How fast you drink. The half ounce of alcohol in an average highball, can of beer, or glass of wine, can be burned up (oxidized) in the body in about 1 hour. If you sip your drink slowly and do not have more than one drink an hour, the alcohol will not "jolt" your brain and will not have a chance to build up in your blood and you will feel little unpleasant effect. Gulping your drink, on the other hand, will produce immediate intoxicating effects and depression of deeper brain centers.

Whether your stomach is empty or full. Eating, especially before you drink as well as with drink, will slow down the absorption rate of alcohol into your bloodstream and you will have a more even response to the alcohol.

What you drink. Wine and beer are absorbed less rapidly than hard liquors because they contain small amounts of non-alcoholic substances that slow down the absorption process. These substances have been removed from liquor in the distillation process. Diluting an alcoholic beverage with another liquid, such as water, also helps to slow down absorption, but mixing with carbonated beverages can increase the rate of absorption.

How much you weigh. The same amount of alcohol can have a greater effect on a 120-pound person than a 180-pound person. Alcohol is quickly distributed uniformly within the circulatory system. Therefore the heavier person will have smaller concentrations throughout his bloodstream and body than the lighter-weight individual.

The setting or circumstances you are in. For instance, if you are comfortably sitting down and relaxed, having a drink with a friend, alcohol will not have as much effect on you as when you are standing and drinking at a cocktail party. On the other hand, if you are emotionally upset, under stress, or tired, alcohol may have a stronger impact on you than normal. Your expectations will also have an influence. If you think you are going to become drunk, the ease and speed with which you will feel intoxicated will indeed be increased.

World Wide Day of Prayer To Be Observed

United Methodist Women of The Ozona Methodist Church of Ozona, Texas will hold one of their most important annual observances this week-- The Call to Prayer and Self-Denial. More than 1.5 million women in 34,000 local units in all 50 states will join in the observance.

The Call, inspired by special mission needs and by the opportunities to be made possible, focuses on prayer, a deepened spiritual life, and a guided mission study. Major events of the observance include the Quiet Day and an interpretation of the mission projects in the United States and abroad for which a special offering will be made. Each woman who takes part is asked to give for others by denying herself, and to cultivate through prayer a spiritual oneness with planners, mission workers, and those served in church-related ministries.

The Call to Prayer and Self-Denial for women of the Ozona United Methodist Church will be held at 10 a.m. o'clock on Wednesday, January 17, 1973, at the church Chapel-Agape meal at noon-worship at 1 p.m.

United Methodist Women is the successor body to two former denominational women's groups--the Women's Society of Christian Service and the Wesleyan Service Guild, and is related to the Women's Division of the United Methodist Board of Global Ministries. Last year the Call to Prayer and Self-Denial offerings of United Methodist Women totaled $651,312.96. The local Society invites any interested woman to attend the meeting.

Acquiring that farm might seem more practical with financing through the Federal Land Bank. Land is easier to pay off when costs are amortized over extra years with a long-term Land Bank Loan. Your total cost of borrowing, too, can be less. Ask us for help: We know land values; we will inspect the property. We will then try to make a loan that meets your exact needs.

SHOULD RALPH INVESTIGATE NADER?

Ralph Nader's latest project, finding fault with Congress, has produced a book entitled Who Runs Congress? Long a favorite in the liberal press, Nader must be shocked by the reaction to his newest book.

Time magazine said, "it is neither explicit nor persuasive in presenting its views of the problems that short-circuit congressional progress." This is what some conservative Congressmen have charged. They say the book is full of unfounded generalizations, distortions and fabrications.

But the liberal press is even harder on its champion crusader. The Washington Post wrote that "the book has nothing really new" and "if Nader's name weren't on it, it would be certain to be called a rather mediocre job."

Even more damaging is the New Republic review, which criticizes Nader for avoiding the no-fault auto insurance issue. No-fault, if enacted, would put many traffic lawyers out of business. The New Republic claims that Nader neglected no-fault because the American Trial Lawyers gave him $10,000 and another $10,000 to his Center for Auto Safety.

Congress itself does not seem too concerned. Rep. Robert Nix of Pennsylvania, a liberal black, said: "I do not think my constituents want me to pay homage to Ralph Nader or those on vacation from exclusive schools who have substituted a summer of slander for a summer in Europe."

Perhaps the Raiders should investigate Nader. Or Nader the Raiders.

Early Ozona Reflected In Museum Collection

Crockett County Museum had its beginning thanks to school Superintendent C. S. Denham in the 1930's. He set aside a classroom in the high school and gathered together early day county artifacts.

In 1958, Judge Houston Smith, the county judge at that time, found room for a museum in the basement of the Courthouse Annex. The museum is still housed there. The artifacts were moved and set up by a committee of interested local citizens.

The museum is under the sponsorship of the Crockett County Historical Society, with a board appointed from members of the society. It is financed through dues, contributions to the support.

The museum has outgrown itself in the last few years. Museum officials are living for the day they can move into new and larger quarters.

Collections are varied, dealing most with local historical articles and Indian artifacts that were found and dug in the county. One outstanding exhibit is the "Bee Cave", excavated in the 1930's, by a group of local citizens.

Clothes of early day citizens are on display in one room. Other exhibits include early day printing matter, school announcements, an invitation to the opera and many pictures of early day Ozona. Another room is filled with weapons, tools and cooking utensils of Indians, who roamed this area before the white settlers came on the scene. The museum has a collection of barb wire, saddles, bottles, license plates, spurs, horse bits, these were all found or used in Crockett County. Cattle brands of the area are displayed along with antique guns and a few relics of the Civil War the first settlers brought to Ozona.

The museum also houses the private collection of Ex-Texas Ranger Frank Mills. He especially collected Indian artifacts, with an exceptionally good one of points, toolseet, that he himself found the biggest part.

A general store and antique furniture are housed in one room.

In March of 1965, Chester Kielman, Archivist, from the University of Texas in Austin, met with the museum committee to conclude arrangements for the permanent duplicate sets of Crockett County newspaper files in Ozona and in the University Library in Austin. The papers give accounts of every phase of economic, social and political life in Crockett County during the first half of the 20th Century. The Wanda Watson Memorial Library in the museum, will house these micro-film and history of the county and its people.

After visiting the museum, one might take a turn around the town square on a walking tour, visiting local buildings marked by the Crockett County Historical Survey Committee with Medallions. These include the County Courthouse (planned by Oscar Ruffini), County Jail, First Water Well, County Oak Marker, Old Ozona Hotel, Ozona Junior High School, Ozona National Bank, (also designed by Oscar Ruffini), there are several markers in the city park.

This committee has also marked locations on highways of historical interest. East on 290 is a marker for the town of Emerald, later moved to the site of Ozona. South on highway 163 is the Ozona-Comstock Stage Stand marker. On highway 290 west are the Howard's Well marker, the Old Chihuahua Trail & Escondido Water Hole, and the Old Government Road also Fort Lancaster.

The museum is open Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, from 1:00 to 5:00 during the winter months.

In the summer it is open Tuesday through Saturday from 11:00 to 5:00.

Admission, adults 25¢ - children 10¢.

Using res ipsa loquitur, a court found negligence when a car, parked on a steep slope, started to roll downhill. Chances were good, said the court, that the driver had neglected to set his brakes and cramp his front wheel against the curb.

Also using res ipsa loquitur, another court found negligence when a housewife encountered a piece of glass in a newly opened can of spinach. Chances were good, said the court, that someone in the canning factory had been careless.

But the mere fact that an accident had happened does not necessarily justify the use of the doctrine. Consider this situation: A woman climbing down from a trolley lost her footing and fell to the pavement. Demanding damages later from the trolley company, she said the car had probably moved just as she was getting off.

But the court said there was an equal probability that she herself had simply failed to watch her step. With no odds in her favor, said the court, she could not use res ipsa loquitur to win her case.

NEWS OF NUTRITION

THE IMPORTANCE OF VITAMIN B₆

Without proteins, we would be unable to sustain life. And without vitamin B₆ - known scientifically as pyridoxine - we would be unable to use these vital "building blocks of life."

Vitamin B₆ has many important roles in metabolism, particularly in the formation of certain proteins and in the use of fats. It also aids functioning of the nervous system.

Present in meats, grains and vegetables, vitamin B₆ is only needed in minute quantities for good health. It is believed that about 2.5 milligrams daily should be enough for most adults.

Recent tests indicate that women who use birth control pills may develop a much greater need for vitamin B₆ than women who do not use them. As a result, a special dietary supplement has been developed that not only contains 25 milligrams of pyridoxine, but also other vitamins and minerals women who use oral contraceptives are known to need each day. The new supplement is now available at drug counters everywhere.

Unheralded and, for the better part, unknown to the general public, pyridoxine is one of the more important vitamins required by human beings.

Proper use and care of appliances makes them last longer.

Follow these general rules of thumb for small electrical appliances:

Always use the appliance's own electrical cord.

Connect cord to appliance before plugging into wall.

Don't use extension cords.

Unplug immediately after use.

Clean after each use.

Don't use scouring pads or cleaners on non-stick coating.

Don't put cold water on hot griddles, saucepans or fry pans--it may cause warping.

Store appliances under cover to keep free of dust.

YOU CAN BREAK THE RULES

More and more during the last few years, it has become a trend among decorators, both professional and amateur, to break all the so-called "rules".

Everyone remembers, a few years back, when we were told never to use blues and greens together, but now we all know that the right shades of blues and greens blend beautifully.

As a matter of fact, blue and green mixtures in the same fabric are extremely popular in both draperies and upholstery. This is an example that many of the previous rules have been thrown out of the window.

Today, you can also do more mixing of woods, periods, finishes and colors in the same room. There is a much greater trend towards mixing than matching.

The idea is that each piece of furniture should have individuality and personality of its own. Yes, you can break the so-called old "rules" -- provided the whole effect creates a harmonious picture.

And, what makes a "harmonious picture" in your home? We invite you to come in, talk it over with us, and take advantage of our free decorator service. We'll be looking forward to seeing you.

Tips For Gardeners

From the
Ozona Garden Club
By
Mrs. Bailey Post

Our first snow last Wednesday morning was a little late for Christmas, but it left our city in a fairy land dress for a few hours. I've never seen such a beautiful fall of snow, as though each flake was placed perfectly.

During the next month or two you may be looking for an accent for your hall, living room, or den to brighten up for gloomy days. There are many attractive foliage plants that will do just that if properly chosen and given a minimum of care.

The most important consideration is the selecting a plant that will adapt to the indoor environment. Some that are well suited are the miniature palms, ferns, scheffleras, dracaenas, philodendrons, dieffenbachias and the cordyline australs, which gives a tropical, palm like effect.

It is best to buy these already large enough to be attractive for the place selected. They can be held at the proper size for several years by manipulating growing conditions.

Too much water is probably the greatest single cause for lack of success with indoor plants, so give them just enough to keep them alive and healthy.

Also, keep foliage plants out of direct sunlight and away from heating and cooling vents. Feeding plants with a liquid fertilizer every three to six months should be sufficient.

After poinsettias are through blooming, their stems are shortened somewhat and the plants are stored in a dry, cool place to rest. Dry completely and lay on their sides under a bench or in a place where the temperature is 55-60 degree.

If you haven't watered shrubs small trees and grass lately, this should be done before another severe freeze, for roots are damaged if too dry.

METHODIST WSCS

Mrs. Roy Killingsworth presided over the group action when the Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service met in the church parlor last Wednesday.

Miss Dorothy Price expressed her appreciation for the support and concern shown by the W. S. C. S. and the entire community for the Community Center since she and Miss Ethel Wolf came here as directors in 1956. The center will continue the programs as planned by local personnel until a new director is appointed.

The new church cook book is available at the church office or by calling members.

Plans were made for the program on Call to Prayer and Self-Denial Day, the 17th of January at 10:00 a.m. in the chapel. Mrs. L. B. Cox, Jr. is in charge with Mrs. Killingsworth and Mrs. A. S. Lock as program leaders.

Others present included Mrs. W. D. Cooper, Mrs. Maudie Couch, Mrs. L. R. Dorsey, Mrs. S. M. Harvick, Mrs. Floyd Hokit, Mrs. James Lively, Mrs. Bailey Post.

PANDALE STUDY CLUB

The Pandale Study Club met in Pandale Community Center Thursday for election of officers.

Mrs. Welton Bunger was hostess and she read a commentary by Cactus Pryor and "The Things We Wish Were Not", by Richard Evans.

Mrs. Henry Mills Jr. conducted the business meeting. Mrs. R. J. Everett announced that the club will hold a "White Elephant" sale at the March meeting, for the benefit of the club trip.

Letters of thanks were read from San Angelo Center and West Texas Boys Ranch.

The following officers were elected: Mrs. W. O. Mills, president; Mrs. Terry Gries, vice-president; Mrs. Ted White, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Henry Mills, Jr., parliamentarian; Mrs. Elmo Arledge, historian; Mrs. Welton Bunger, reporter.

Mrs. Henry Mills Jr. won the door prize.

GRANDFATHER'S EYES

That's what Grandma always says -- that I have Grandfather's eyes.

It's certainly a mixed-up world, isn't it? People having other people's eyes.

But they never say Grandfather has my eyes. I asked Dad about it.

Although he didn't answer directly, he did say that we all have to have faith and character worth passing on to our children. That's why we go to church.

Later it occurred to me: Someday, somebody will have my eyes... my faith.
