Kitty's Korner

by Kitty Montgomery

The little cold snap seems to have perked everybody up and improved dispositions, except in some quarters where it's hopeless anyway. For the most part, it's been a welcome relief from the heat that hung on until I thought we had missed winter.

There seemed to be so little interest in the amendment election Tuesday that we went ahead and put the paper to bed instead of waiting into the night for the results. I'm sure by now you know how it turned out by reading your daily paper. If you care, that is.

With the new club season, there are always new club reporters. May I mention one more time that our news deadline is Tuesday before noon. Also, please tell where, who, when, what and why in your news reports. In some cases we can read minds, but not often. Also, check to see that names are spelled right. Nothing irritates a person as much as seeing their name misspelled. When they see it in our paper, they naturally get mad at us. So, check before you turn in reports.

Sight-In Day Set By Rifle Club

The Ozona Rifle Club will hold its annual sighting-in day Saturday Nov. 10. The rifle range will be open from 8:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. Club members will be on hand for assistance when needed. Targets will be furnished. There will be no charge to the shooter.

The rifle club also will hold a meeting Monday Nov. 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the Border Patrol office.

Cloverleaf 4-H Club Meets

The Cloverleaf 4-H Club met Monday evening for a program on parliamentary procedure. The program was presented by Dan Bean, Melinda Hokit, R. J. Everett, Jr., Lee Hale, Jennifer Marley and Leann Arledge.

A photography project group was organized and the December meeting was discussed. Lisa Mitchell, Rae Lynn Dews, Lisa Holt and Leann Arledge served refreshments to forty members and guests.

THE WHOLE THING CAME DOWN -- Utility poles, steel poles, the control box for the traffic lights and anything else on the corner by the Poco Taco came crashing down early Thursday morning when a truck driver crashed his rig a little short and ran over it all. It created a potential danger until workmen were on the scene within minutes to tie off live wires and remove broken poles. The traffic lights were still spastic this week.

Range Tour On Tap For Ozona Ranchers

A range tour of two Crockett ranches will be held Tuesday, Nov. 13, at 2 p.m. The tour is being sponsored by the Crockett County Soil and Water Conservation District.

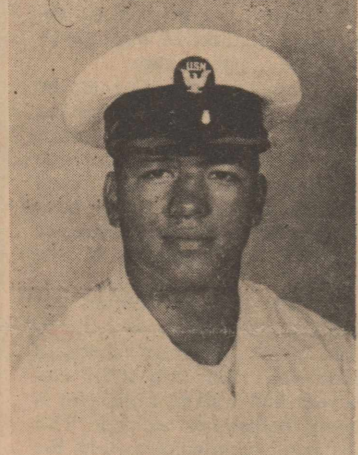

The tour will cover the Childress-Clayton ranch, 17 miles north of Ozona and the Henry Moore ranch, 18 miles northeast of Ozona.

Both ranches have been carrying on a Great Plains Conservation Program involving brush control and range reseeding with primarily native type grasses.

Deferred and pasture rotation programs have been developed to insure proper grazing on both ranches.

All interested persons desiring to make the tour should meet at the Hotel Ozona at 2 p.m. where the tour will depart.

C. H. Sinclair, District Conservationist, directors of the Soil and Water Conservation District, and the ranch owners will be in charge of the program. Directors are R. A. Harrell, Joe Couch, Bill Baggett, Charles E. Davidson, III, and newly elected director, Bud Hoover.

CHEO M. VARGAS

San Diego-Navy Constructionman Recruit Cheo M. Vargas, son of Mrs. Rudy Vargas of Ozona, graduated from recruit training at the Naval Training Center here.

A 1972 graduate of Ozona High School, he is scheduled to report to Gulfport, Miss.

Mrs. Cox Rites Here Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Sam Cox were held Friday morning at 10 o'clock from the First Baptist Church with burial in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

Services were pending at press time last week. Mrs. Cox died at her home here Tuesday, Oct. 30.

MOVING UP -- Two Ozona High School products are making a place for themselves in the lineup at Southwest Texas State University. Gerald Huff, left, started at left cornerback Saturday when the Bobcats met Howard Payne last Saturday in Brownwood, while David Sewell was starting at split end before a knee injury sidelined him last week. Both are freshmen at the San Marcos University.

Lion's Hopes For Title Go Down Drain After 19-14 Crane Upset

After being upset by the Crane Golden Cranes to the tune of 24-19 last Friday night in Crane, the Lions will take on the Stanton Buffaloes tomorrow night in Stanton. The upset by Crane squelched any hopes the Lions might have had to win or share the district title this year. It was also the first district win for the Cranes.

Ironically, the Big Lake Owls downed Coahoma Friday night, and seem to be well on their way to the district title. The Owls suffered defeat only at the hands of the Lions.

In the Crane game, the Lions beat the Golden Cranes

J.V. Clobbers Rankin; Crane Here Today

Ozona Junior Varsity ran its winning streak to five Thursday night when the team clobbered Rankin by a 32 to 6 count in Rankin. Three Ozona TDs came on pass plays, two TD passes thrown by Howard Huereca, one to Rex Parker and one to Ronald Shaw, and one thrown by Greg Thompson to Ronald Shaw.

Ozona's first tally came early in the fracas, with Greg Thompson tossing to Ronald Shaw for a 9-yard scoring play. The point after try failed.

The second Ozona score was on a 3-yard run by James Blake. The try for point again was a failure.

The next Ozona scoring play was a spectacular 42-yard gainer on a pass from Howard Huereca to Rex Parker. Again no point after was chalked up.

A short time later Howard Huereca tossed five yards to Ronald Shaw for a touchdown. The point-after try from placement again failed.

Two more points were added to the Ozona JV total when Harry Vargas blocked a Rankin punt and then downed the Rankin ball carrier behind the goal line for a safety.

Rankin scored on a pass play that covered 70 yards in the third quarter.

Ozona's final tally came on a pass interception. Richard Harrison snagged a wandering Rankin pass and ran it back 55 yards for a touchdown.

"Needless to say," Coach Charles Spieker prefaced, the try for point after again failed.

The Junior Varsity squad has one more game on this season's schedule--against Crane Junior Varsity here this afternoon starting at 6 p.m.

With the win at Rankin last week, the Ozona Junior Varsity record stood at 5 wins, 2 losses and one tie.

everywhere except on the scoreboard. They also had 10 penalties for a big total of 115 yards while the Cranes only had 6 for 60. This could have been the deciding factor in the Crane victory. Crane's passing game connected also, and at least two Crane touchdowns came on passes from Crane's sophomore quarterback Mike Roseberry.

The Cranes drew first blood

Crockett Field Gains Two New Confirmers

Saxon Oil Co., Abilene, will drill two confirmations to the tree-well Donham (Grayburg gas) field of Crockett County, 12 miles northwest of Ozona.

Both projects in 48-UV-GC &SF, are contracted to 1,500 feet.

The No. 3 Joe F. Bean, 1-3/8 mile south and slightly east, is 502 feet from the south and 525 feet from the west lines. Ground elevation is 2,507 feet.

The No. 4 Joe F. Bean, also 1-3/8 mile south-southeast is 500 feet from the south and 2,421 feet from the east lines. Ground elevation is 2,509 feet.

The field formerly produced gas from the San Andres and oil from the Wolfcamp.

as Roseberry unloaded a 72-yard pass to Randy Ford for the touchdown and Bobby Rosell kicked the PAT. The Lions tied it up in the second quarter when Oliver Payne got loose for a 47-yard run down the middle to hit paydirt and Lessley Russell toed the extra point.

However, just seconds before the half, Roseberry hit Ford for another touchdown. The PAT failed, but Crane led 13-7.

The Lions struck again in the third quarter and went ahead of the Cranes when Richard Sanchez picked off a Roseberry pass and ran 15 yards into the end zone for a Lion score. Russell was again successful for the extra point and the Lions were ahead 14-13.

The deciding score came in the final stanza, as Roseberry tossed a 10-yarder to Bobby Hogan for the final score. The PAT failed, but it wrapped up the game for the Cranes.

The 19 points scored by the Cranes were the most points given up by the Lion defense this year.

Crockett County Prepares For Onslaught Of Fall Deer Hunters

Crockett County "has more deer than ever before and will have more hunters," according to Game Warden Raymond Davee. This was the way Davee summed up the deer hunting prospects for the bevy of hunters who will be arriving in the county next week to be at the ready for the opening of the season Saturday, Nov. 17.

The deer season in the county runs through January 1, 1974. Licensed hunters may harvest three deer of either sex, and no more than two bucks. Permits for antlerless deer may be requested from the landowner. Antlerless permits will be issued to landowners today

Services Here Friday For Former Civic Leader

Graveside services were held here Friday afternoon at Cedar Hill Cemetery for Lee Wilson, 78, former Ozona resident and long time Ozona booster.

Mr. Wilson died at 11 p.m. Wednesday in a San Angelo hospital. He had been in failing health the past few months.

Born Sept. 3, 1895, in Bell County, Mr. Wilson attended Stanton and Coahoma schools and moved to Ozona in 1918 where he established the Wilson Motor Co., dealing for the most part in Buick and Pontiac automobiles and a service garage.

While operating the auto agency here, he established a second auto business in Big Lake, selling and servicing the same make cars.

Turning the business here over to his stepsons, J. K. and Will Colquitt, Mr. Wilson moved to El Paso where he was in the auto business briefly, going from there to Truth or Consequence, N.M. where he owned and operated a motel until a few years ago. After selling the New Mexico property, Mr. Wilson retired and moved to San Angelo where he had lived the past two years.

He owned and operated the Hotel Ozona here for a number of years. While an Ozona resident, Mr. Wilson was numbered among the most ardent of town supporters and served on numerous civic and social commissions.

He was married Nov. 3, 1932, to Leota Gillett Colquitt in Las Cruces, N.M.

Surviving are the widow; two daughters, Mrs. William Smentek of Burbank, Calif., and Mrs. E. W. Beeman of Littleton, Colo.; a son, Woodrow Wilson of Wellesley, Mass; two stepsons, J. K. Colquitt of Crane and Will Colquitt of Aurora, Calif.; three sisters, Mrs. Ed Zender of Escondido, Calif., Mrs. Ernest Cannon of Cuero and Mrs. Glen Sayles of Yakima, Wash.; two brothers, Howard Wilson of San Diego, Calif. and F. W. Wilson of Glendale, Calif.; 16 grandchildren and 17 great grandchildren.

November Brings Cool Weather

Chill weather has been the order of the day for Ozonans this week. A slow-moving cold front finally arrived in the area and by Monday at mid-afternoon the temperature had dipped to 50 degrees.

The low Tuesday morning was in the low 40's and fog and drizzle were prevalent throughout the area. Colder weather was predicted for the weekend.

OHS Band To Contest Sat.

Members of the Ozona Lion Band will be in Brady Saturday for Marching Contest.

The Band's performance is expected to be an example of the group's high point in marching this season.

A marching clinic, conducted by Tom Rhodes, was held Saturday. The clinic lasted three hours with each band member giving 100% effort with the expectation of achieving a 1 at contest.

Band members feel they have accomplished much as a group this year whatever the results of the contest.

President & Media

In recent months it has been constantly apparent that television newsmen, like many of the working metropolitan press, are unconsciously slanting their news presentations. Guests on news analysis shows are more often than not in agreement with the bias of commentators or writers. Politicians appearing on television, or quoted in press accounts, are most often those making critical, sensational charges.

Disturbing evidence of the power of such constant slanting comes in polls of voters. Almost like Met baseball fans, they have in some eastern states joined in a surge of sentiment almost unanimously distrustful of the President, demanding impeachment or resignation, etc.

Of course, many of those now seeking to force Mr. Nixon out of the White House have been bitter foes all along; Watergate gave them their opportunity. And Democratic politicians who seek to capitalize on Watergate see this as the road to victory at the polls in 1974 and 1976.

Watergate and other misdeeds are black enough without self-centered exploitation and slanted news. Concerning the later, the power of the news media has certainly been demonstrated beyond doubt. The media, more than politicians, has created a national mood where millions now assume the President is guilty, whatever he says or does.

There is, however, a silent segment of the citizenry, which doesn't send many telegrams, and which makes little noise. One suspects the President has a vast amount of support among these silent Americans, many of whom distrust Democrats seeking to ride the Watergate scandal to glory, and who feel he has done a good job, overall, despite admitted mistakes and missteps.

Dash's Conduct

The outrageous conduct of the Senate Watergate Committee's chief counsel, one Samuel Dash, continues to go unchecked and Dash unrebutted. Yet his behavior shows quite clearly he's out to rid the nation of President Nixon if he can (and, presumably, to elect Senator Ted Kennedy President in 1976). In that process he has, in effect, taken over leadership and direction of the committee.

Senator Sam Ervin (D-NC), who should be in control, and who should exercise restraint and enforce high standards of decency and decorum, is not doing so. Perhaps in his role as a movie and recording star, or folk hero, he has not had time to regulate his committee as a chairman should.

The latest blatant example of Dash's poor judgment, perhaps poor standard of citizenship, was his reaction to the President's decision to surrender the controversial presidential tapes. This was a great victory for the committee, and everyone who had been putting so much emphasis on the tapes. Dash exhibited the audacity to immediately publicly question the President's decision as a "ploy."

"Obviously we will now have to meet, recognizing that this offer was not made in good faith. I don't think the President has heard the last from my committee," the A.P. quotes him.

The arrogance and disrespect in this statement show Dash feels he is running the committee's show, carrying on a major battle with the President, personally, and that he can tell the committee on what terms, and with what conclusions, it will meet. Dash, of course, has not been elected to his present position and is not entitled to run a congressional committee, or speak for it. But he has become the darling of the anti-Nixon zealots and obviously enjoys it.

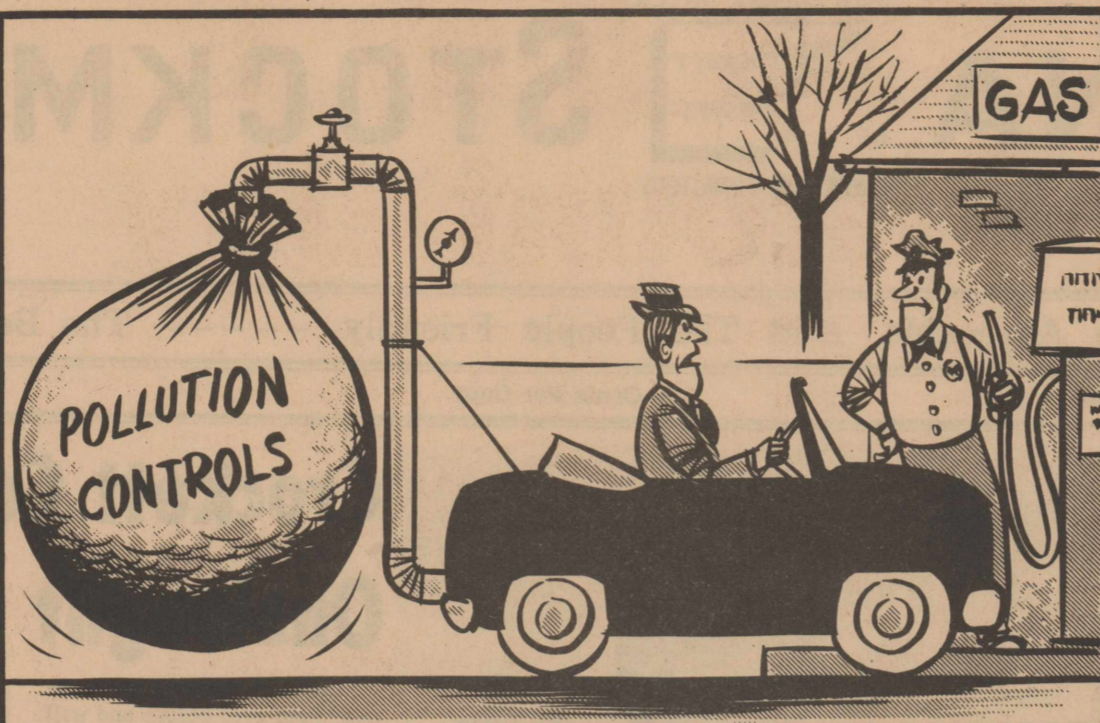

The Surplus

Recent news that the U.S. trade (balance of payments) surplus in September was $900,000,000 is solidly encouraging; its effect will surely be beneficial in several ways—toward greater stability of the dollar, more confidence in stock and business dealings and as an encouragement to other nations to work out a currency agreement which will minimize the danger of sudden or drastic realignments, devaluations, etc.

The September surplus is the largest in many years and one of the few surpluses achieved in recent years. If such a trend continues, it's possible the United States payments balance at the end of the year would be close to a balance. While that's not likely, and a deficit for the year has long been the official forecast, it's also true that the size of September's surplus was a surprise to the administration.

The most satisfying element in the improved balance of payments picture is that the trend bears out administration predictions. It reaffirms the accuracy and correctness of Washington's assurances at international currency meetings—that the U.S. deficit would be corrected, the dollar thus stabilized.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM YOUR STATE CAPITAL

BY BILL BOYKIN
Texas Press Association

Over 200 leaders of industry and representatives of professions met in the capitol last week to review the new state laws governing campaign contributions, expenditures and lobbying.

Secretary of State Mark White and Attorney General John Hill discussed the major legal changes brought about by the "reform" legislation of the last Texas legislature.

"We are living in a period of legal transition," the Attorney General told the business and professional men and women. "My office has produced over 200 opinions so far this year—more than the total last year—and over 100 opinions are stacked up to be prepared."

White outlined his recent "campaign contributions and expenditures directives" at the meeting sponsored by the Texas Society of Association Executives.

Other speakers reviewed the details of the new lobby law and the sections of the penal code which affect campaigns and lobbying.

"H. B. 2—the new lobby law—is unconstitutional," stated Frank Maloney, Austin attorney. "It violates both the first and fifth amendments to the constitution."

He cited federal cases which supported his opinion on the new Texas lobby law, and other speakers pointed out that several AG opinions are needed in this state to clarify sections of the campaign expenditures law and lobby law.

Political action committees for state businesses and associations are being formed as a result of the new laws.

Labor unions must go the PAC route in Texas now also, because they are prohibited under the new law from contributing to political campaigns.

Speakers on the program indicated that the Sharpstown scandal and Watergate investigations are going to make office holders, candidates and those who work and contribute to campaigns very wary about future political activities in this state.

"Until we get more information from the Secretary of State's office, and additional Attorney General's opinions, most representatives of business, professionals, labor and industry are going to be very cautious about participating in political campaigns and contributing to campaigns," one spokesman for the group said.

"None of us wants to be the first 'test case' under these new laws," he concluded. Others observed that it was going to be harder to get good people to run for public office because of the tough new laws, and predicted the strict campaign laws would make it easier for incumbents to remain in present offices.

Both Jack R. Martin, Houston, president of TSAE, and Gene N. Fondren, chairman of the TSAE Government Relations Committee, outlined the need for future briefings for state-business and industry leaders on the new laws governing the mechanics of "Texas politics."

Details of the lobby law were explained by Austin attorney Gaylord Armstrong.

LEGISLATURE GETS REVISION--A proposed 13,500-word rewrite of the 97-year-old Texas constitution has now been handed the legislature for its consideration.

A blue ribbon, 37-member revision commission presented the document to legislative leaders last week with an urgent request that it serve as a starting point in the 1974 constitutional convention starting January 8.

Frank confession: "I don't know!"

Lee Wilson—A Tribute

Lee Wilson came home to his beloved Ozona last week. He went to his well deserved final resting place in the community he loved and served so well so many years.

In the late twenties, Lee Wilson was about the busiest man in Crockett county, selling and servicing Buick automobiles, flying his airplane, doing overland races by stock car, serving his community and individuals in every walk of life in a manner they could not have been served otherwise.

No greater booster did Ozona ever have than Lee Wilson, and he never let up in this pursuit, even while he lived in El Paso, in Truth or Consequences, N.M., or in San Angelo. Whatever community project, be it raising funds for a Fourth of July barbecue, for a charity or for a community development project, Lee Wilson always gave his all. In cases of family or personal difficulties among townspeople, Lee Wilson was always available to drive troubled Ozonans to a hospital, to a doctor or to see sick relatives.

It was while doing a bit of extraordinary community service that Mr. Wilson narrowly escaped serious injury or death. Someone had dreamed up a fireworks display for the Fourth of July celebration and to make it a really big time spectacular asked Lee Wilson to use his airplane for an overhead display of the fireworks.

He consented and after a few hair-raising wrestles with aerial bombs tossed out the plane window, he finished the spectacular and came in for a landing. In those days the landing field was a cow pasture at the south edge of town, where the Little League field is. For lights the town folk lined up their cars on either side of the best looking runway and turned on their headlights. In coming in for a landing, Wilson overlooked a watermelon truck that had just parked on his approach area. The plane's landing gear clipped the truck and piled up against a telephone pole.

Wilson, who was slated for some official function at the platform dance at the fair grounds that evening, stepped out of his wrecked plane, immaculate in his white linen suit, got in his car and sped off to the dance fest.

A man of tremendous energy, Lee Wilson was a keen business man but at the same time was an ardent town booster with a consuming community interest. By dint of his sales ability, backed by attention to service, he put most Ozona families in Buick autos at one time or another. When the Ozona Chamber of Commerce was organized a few years ago, Wilson was the first to be offered the job of chamber manager, a post he could not accept at the time.

Older Ozonans still retain fond memories of the always friendly, always articulate, always helpful Lee Wilson of early Ozona. And many of those friends gathered last week to pay tribute to his memory at graveside rites in Ozona's cemetery. WEW

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR:

Dear Kitty,
If I had a better education, the "right" name or knew the "right" people, maybe I would know what to do about the following problem.

There are several city blocks immediately south of the football field that are a disgrace to the town of Ozona. Some of the junk cars etc. have been there since 1947, and now they have almost covered the lots for several blocks north.

It seems to be expanding instead of dissolving. A local garage owner bought property and to "clean up" his garage, which is in view of the passing public, parks his junk in this new area. There are several houses that can barely be seen, unless you drive almost up in front of them, because junk has been dumped so close to them.

The property in this north central area of Ozona is going down in value. Who wants to buy a home or live in a junkyard? It is discouraging to homeowners who try to improve their property when others are allowed to mar the view of the whole area with Granted, the owners of these eyeglasses need a place for such, but why can't they place them in an area where there are no homes? I'm sure if this situation had developed in the western central or east central area of the town, it would have been disposed of long ago.

Who are the proper officials of Crockett County to contact concerning this problem? Why do civic organizations close their eyes to such a cancerous eyeglass that is getting so much worse? What can home owners do to help get this problem solved?

I hope this gets printed and something constructive can be accomplished by it.

I am signing this letter, but please do not use my name.

Thanks,

(Ed. note: When the Texas Legislature was last in session, a law was passed giving the Commissioners Courts in unincorporated towns such as ours, the power to police the area. The statutes have been under study by our court for some time. The last time I inquired, they were still studying. This has been a problem in Ozona for quite some time and in various areas of the town. The Ozona Garden Club has done much, but I do not know what authority they have to police private property, nor the court. I would suggest you get in touch with your precinct commissioner)

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Banana Peels And The Law

So many people are injured by stepping on banana peels and other slippery substances that lawyers talk about "slip-and-fall" as a separate branch of law. And special rules are invoked to determine questions of legal liability. Take a typical case:

A housewife, shopping at the market, skidded on a banana peel, fell, and sustained a broken arm. When she filed suit for damages, the management argued that the peel had probably been dropped by a careless customer—not by an employee of the market.

But the woman pointed out that the peel had been lying in plain sight of four checkout clerks—and that two other employees had walked right past it shortly before her accident. This was poor maintenance, said the court, upholding the woman's claim.

Generally speaking, the management of a store is liable for a slip-and-fall accident if it knew—or should have known—about the hazardous condition. This may call for a kind of detective work in figuring out how long the slippery material had been lying on the floor.

For example, liability in one case was based largely on the fact that the ice cream on which a man slipped had pretty much melted; in another, that a lettuce leaf was "old, dirty, and mashed" when stepped on; in another, that a fallen piece of candy had heel marks in it.

These telltale clues helped to prove that the object had been on the floor long enough to have been observed and cleared away, if store employees had been on their toes.

On the other hand, the management may be able to pin a negligence label on the victim himself for not having been more alert.

Furthermore, a store cannot be held liable merely because the accident happened on its premises. Thus, a man who slipped on a pencil found himself unable to win damages from the market where it happened.

The court said there was simply no way to discover who had dropped the pencil or how long it had lain there. Placing blame on market employees, said the court, would be a "mere guess."

Ranchers Urged To Be At Sonora Field Day

The cattleman thinking today of future profits should be selecting today the herd sire whose performance has been tested, says Dr. Thomas L. Woodward.

He is area livestock specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of the Texas A&M University System at San Angelo, and is urging ranchers to attend the Bull Performance and Selection Field Day on Nov. 12 at Sonora.

The program, co-sponsored by the Sutton County Beef Cattle Committee, begins at 9 a. m. at the 4-H Center in Sonora, and after lunch at the facilities of the other sponsor, the Big Oak Cattle Evaluation Center near Eldorado.

Among speakers Nov. 12 will be Robert Pfluger of San Angelo, recognized for his success in the ranching business, who will describe his experiences in using performance-tested bulls.

Other speakers, all of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, are to be: Dr. Randall D. Grooms, who will use live animals in his discussion of sire selection; Dr. Frank A. Orts, who will demonstrate the use of ultrasonics in measuring fat and muscle; and John R. Beverly, who will describe the relation between calving difficulties and sire selection.

RECIPE

By Sarah Anne Sheridan

Here are two holiday sweets that are easy to make and keep several weeks. The holiday season always puts me in the mood to have guests come by often and the more I can do ahead and have on hand just makes company that much more enjoyable.

Date Loaf

1 lb. graham crackers, rolled fine.
1 pkg. dates, chopped.
16 marshmallows, chopped.
1 c pecans, chopped.

Mix with enough cream to hold together. Roll into logs and wrap in waxed paper. Keeps well in refrigerator or freezer. Slice and serve.

Brandy Balls

Vanilla wafers, 3 small boxes, crushed.
1 1/2 T cocoa
2 T karo
1 c powdered sugar
1 c broken pecans
8 T Bourbon whiskey

Mix all ingredients together and form into balls about one inch in diameter. Roll in more powdered sugar and place in sealed cans.

Message T-Shirts Are Hot Item

Cotton knit T-shirts have become one of the hottest selling items on the youth market.

These clothing billboards reflect a theme for every feeling. Ecology, special interest sports, nostalgic trips, scenes of faraway places and ex-officio endorsements of special foods exemplify the hundreds of variations," Marilyn Brown said.

The consumer education-clothing and textiles specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, noted the fad moved printed T-shirts from strictly a children's camp and resort item--or sports uniform--into the swinging young adult market.

"Although part of the T-shirt business is done through boutiques and smaller stores that have the ability to get in and out fast, giant chain stores also get their share.

"...It's third and four as Jurgensen fades to pass..."

However, sales of T-shirts aren't limited to stores--restaurants, record companies, movers, theaters and various stores from motorcycle shops to supermarkets use them for advertising and promotion.

Printed T-shirt fabrics currently are moving into new apparel areas--such as long and short dresses, the specialist noted.

"Some current, coming looks include batiks, florals, Indian paisleys and some with lace trims and dolman sleeves.

"The message T-shirt lives on and on--only the graphics change with the quirks and whims of youth," she added.

SNIPS, QUIPS AND LIFTS

by Lottie Lee Baker

About the only business that makes money without publicity is the mint.

The longer you wait for your golden opportunity the brassier it becomes.

It is what we learn after we think we know it all that really counts.

Don't forget that your wife still likes candy and flowers. Show her that you remember by speaking of them occasionally.

A bore is a person who talks when you want him to listen--to you.

A bird sat on a bookshelf and shook his head in doubt. He wondered where those bookworms were he'd heard so much about.

Some careers are carved, others are chiseled.

When it's all said and done the only person easy to deceive is yourself.

The most empty thing I know of is an empty mailbox.

It seems that every time you are ready to graduate from the school of experience, somebody thinks up a new course.

Quiet people aren't the only ones who don't say much.

Achievements are like trousers, they become threadbare if you rest on them.

These days, if you see a housewife down on her knees, it is probably that she is looking for a contact lens.

Maybe you can't buy happiness, but these days you can certainly charge it.

Flattery is counterfeit money which, but for vanity, would have no circulation.

When I first came to Texas in 1957, I drove a '55 Chrysler. It was a good solid car, because even then, Chrysler was famous for its great engineering. Chrysler still makes a good, sound, well-engineered car. But as you can see, it's never been as beautiful as this '74. This is one of the most luxurious Chryslers ever built. Yet, for all of its elegance, the '74 Chrysler is priced within the reach of more and more people.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

This month when leaves begin to fall, rake them and add to your compost pile. Every gardener should have at least one compost heap. They can be made with very little cost if you have unused wire, lumber or sheet iron for the box type container. Add remains of annuals, vegetables, fruit rinds, egg shells, leaves and grass clippings. A layer of soil is to be used to cover above contents. Add a light cover of commercial fertilizer, press down and water. Piles should be turned and mixed well to hasten decomposition. Keep moist if no rain. Add layers to above.

If caladiums have not been dug and stored for the winter, don't delay too long. Tubers left in the soil over winter will have poor chance of living for next year's planting. Wash tubers, let dry in shade, dust in sulphur and place in a net bag where they won't freeze.

House plants that have been outside for the summer or a few weeks, should be moved inside before too much heat has to be turned on for the winter.

Why not try a pot of chives on your kitchen windowsill. If the plant should turn yellow, knock it out of the pot, and if it has little or no soil, change to a larger pot. Use a moderately rich, well drained mixture. Or if you have chives growing in the garden, you can pot small clumps. The leaves will yellow, a reaction to the shock of being moved. They will soon recover and start putting out tender new growth.

If you want a new exciting experience, try growing the Sedum morganianum, known as donkey's or burro's tail. This is a plant for a hanging basket or container, as the tails grow three feet or more long. If they cascade all around the pot you have a spectacular specimen. When it is young, you can set it on a windowsill and let the tails hang. Put your plant where people won't brush against it. The leaves are barely attached and fall off at the slightest pressure. These leaves that fall off will root if stubby ends are placed in the soil the plant is growing in or into any rooting mix. The donkey's tail needs more water than most succulent plants—a light watering two or three times a week. If the leaves shrivel and fall off, you need to give it more water. The soil should be porous so that water practically runs right through the pot. If it doesn't, repot in a mixture that contains at least one-third sand or perlite. Grow in bright light, or even full sun, but not directly next to glass. Mrs. Bill Cooper has a handsome specimen plant which must be three feet or longer. They have to be taken inside for the winter.

The clothes buyer finds a staggering variety of knits on the rack today, and careful purchasing is the way to avoid shedding tears later over ruined garments. The appearance and performance of the various knits depend on fiber content and the way the yarn is made. The buyer usually considers color, texture and appearance first when selecting a garment. Other important considerations to note and avoid are shrinking, wrinkling, snagging and bagging qualities.

Fabrics with excessive stretch may soon be out of shape, never to recover, even when washed or dry cleaned. The firmness of knits may be judged by pulling gently on the fabric in both crosswise and lengthwise directions. Most knits have more give in the crosswise direction. Any loosely knit fabric or one with a raised design tends to snag easily. Some of the soft, spongy polyesters require special attention to keep them looking new. An important consideration when buying knit fabrics to sew is selecting the right knit for the right pattern.

Be sure to match pattern and fabric carefully. Your pattern style may require a soft, draping fabric or a firmer, heavier knit to support design lines. Hold the fabric up to you to judge its drapability. Take it to a mirror to see the effect of the color, texture and design on you. Keep in mind that knit fabrics often need to be handled the same way as napped fabrics to prevent color differences in the finished garment.

Examine fabrics carefully before you buy for imperfections such as runs, snags or yarn streaks; Make certain the fabric is on the grain, especially in a stripe or plaid. Sometimes sharp creases will not press out of knits.

Meat & Chicken Are Good Buys For This Week

Consumers will find the red meat and fryer chicken counters more attractive this week. "Fryer chickens remain the number one bargain in many meat departments," Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, pointed out.

"Watch for pork values on a number of fresh and smoked selections—with best ones on loin and shoulder cuts. "Weekend bargains include end-cut roasts and chops, hams, picnics and shoulder roasts and steaks. Also be on the lookout for attractively-priced liver and sausage," she added.

Beef prices seem to have steadied, with features on some cuts, the specialist continued. "For best buys, look to arm and blade pot roasts and steaks, stew meat, ground beef, round steaks and roasts, rib steaks, and liver.

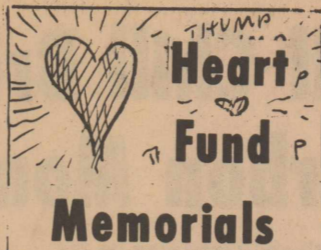

"When finding an attractive special on roasts, be thrifty and buy two—one to cook now and another to freeze." Although priced considerably higher than a year ago, frozen turkeys are hitting the market in good supply, Mrs. Clyatt said.

"Fresh fruit and vegetable items in ample supply at the most economical prices include apples, juice oranges, bananas, pears, Tokay grapes and cranberries. "Also potatoes, lettuce, celery, sweet potatoes, cabbage, carrots, dry yellow onions, rutabagas, hard shell squash, collards, mustard and turnips and greens."

OZONA FRESHMEN BEAT CRANE IN FINAL GAME OF SEASON

The Ozona Freshman Lions ended their season with a resounding 33-6 victory over Crane here last Saturday. This win made their record 6 wins and 2 losses for the year.

John Galvan began the scoring by returning the opening kick-off 71 yards for a touchdown. The PAT failed. Orlando DeHoyos made the second score on a 1-yard run. The try for conversion point again failed. The third TD came on a 15-yard run by DeHoyos with Clyde Bailey kicking the extra point.

The Golden Cranes scored their only touchdown on a 45 yard pass. This gave the Lions a 19-6 halftime lead.

In the third quarter John Galvan caught a 12-yard pass from Gary Warren to add six more points for the Lions. Clyde Bailey again kicked the conversion point. DeHoyos scored the final TD after taking a pass from Warren covering 63 yards; Bailey kicked the PAT.

Let The Buyer Beware

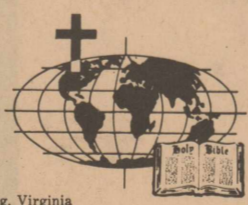

Manhattan Island is a case in point. Bought from the Indians for beads, the problem is now ours.

Its poverty and wealth, its shame and glory, its tragedy and gaiety—all are the buyer's responsibility. So we possess this great city—with no one to take its problems off our hands.

If we had it to do over, wouldn't we build our cities with more respect for spiritual values . . . more concern for each other . . . more attention to the blueprints of the Architect of life?

That's what usually happens to man. He tries his own way first.

On Manhattan Island, as in every village and city, churches have their doors open to searching souls. Now that we've tried our own way and lived with the results . . . isn't it time to try His?

Fall Chill Brings Carbon Monoxide

Death and taxes may be inevitable, but many people are being killed or sickened by a preventable illness--carbon monoxide poisoning.

The autumn chill in the air has brought heating units and gas stoves into play in many houses and businesses. With the relighting of these appliances should come a sense of caution because of the odorless, colorless and tasteless gas which is present in all combustible substances. This gas can lull a person into unconsciousness before the victim knows he's in trouble, says the State Health Department.

In Texas last year, 102 persons were victims of this lethal killer. Automobile exhausts accounted for the bulk of deaths.

In Fort Worth this summer, one woman died and four other persons suffered serious illnesses from carbon monoxide poisoning. The tragedy revolved around an automobile which was inadvertently left running in a garage. Under-the-floor air conditioning vents opening into the garage picked up the carbon monoxide fumes and circulated them into the home, health authorities reported.

Similar tragedies can occur on the highway from leaking exhaust pipes. A Central Texas family had their vacation interrupted only a short distance from their home when the deadly gas seeped into their vehicle, causing death and illness.

While carbon monoxide is sinister, it doesn't have to be fatal if handled with caution and respect. With Texas in the midst of its fall and winter hunting season, hunters should check ventilation in their stoves, and should examine smokestacks and chimneys to be certain they aren't clogged.

In the home, make sure the damper is open before lighting the fireplace. Have your gas refrigerator service-checked annually even though newer models have improved control systems. All furnaces, regardless of fuel type, should be checked and properly vented to the outside. Combustion chamber leakage is a serious hazard, particularly if the heating unit is old. All individual room-type gas heating equipment should be vented.

Cleaning Brass Copper & Bronze

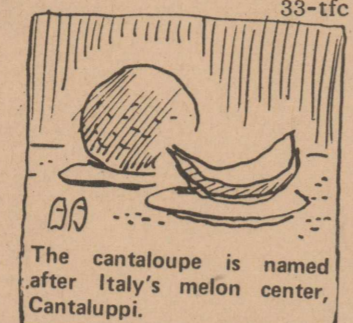

Brass, copper and bronze owe much of their value to the treasured blue-green patina that comes with age. "This look adds to the worth and, some say, to the beauty of the object," according to Patricia A. Bradshaw, housing and home furnishings specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "Sometimes it's difficult to clean and shine these metals without rubbing off the patina. Objects sealed against air with a coat of lacquer won't develop patina," she noted. To clean unlacquered brass, the specialist suggested washing the object in soap suds with a small amount of ammonia and hot water. Then polish it using a commercial brass polish.

"Apply it with a soft cloth--and unless the polish contains tarnish preventive, remove it with hot water. "Commercial cleaning products for copper are also on the market, as is jeweler's rouge--a fine red powder that cleans delicately. "Miss Bradshaw noted that copper tarnishes from sulfur impurities and salty, moist air. The first indication of oxidation is a dull film followed by a green deposit. "For stubborn tarnish, try a mix of salt, hot vinegar and flour. "Dusting copper cuts polishing frequency," she added. "Bronze, on the other hand, can be brought to a high luster by rubbing it with your hand. The hand's natural oil provides the polish."

"For hard-to-remove tarnish, use a commercial silver polish," the specialist concluded.
