Kitty's Korner

by Kitty Montgomery

Since Monday the staff around here has been grouchy, irritable, hard to get along with and just downright mean.

This is the way Daylight Saving Time has affected this little corner of the world.

We were able to tolerate the shortages. We managed to keep our sense of humor as our prices rose so fast that we were embarrassed to tell a customer the price of a given item from week to week. We smiled through our tears as paper went out of sight in price. We accepted substitutes in our wholesale orders gracefully. But the time change seemed to be the straw that broke the camel's back, and there is more peace and quiet and good humor in a pack of wild dogs than there is around here this week.

Frankly, I don't see anyone jumping up and down and clapping their hands over this latest development.

Perhaps if some bureaucrat in Washington, would come down and hold a town meeting to let us know how the time change is going to save energy, we might be able to tie a knot at the end of the rope and hang on. However, since that is highly unlikely, we plan to gripe and complain until 1975 if we can hold out that long.

As far as saving energy goes, from our observations DST has pushed the load up here in Ozona. We arose along with the other residents and turned up the heat an hour earlier. Lights were also turned on all over town, since it's almost impossible to dress and get to work or school in total darkness. We drove to work by carlight, dodging school kids, and so help me, it was nine o'clock in the morning before we were able to turn off a light. If this contributed anything whatsoever to the energy crisis, I'm just too blind to see it.

We really started the New Year off right last week. I got the paper to the printer in Del Rio and discovered I had left the pictures here in Ozona. A telephone call to Tom brought the pictures and the maddest man I have ever seen. Of course I accepted full responsibility for the oversight, but male chauvinist that he is, he kept seething with fury.

Christmas week was another story. He flushed a piece of metal down the commode and it created all sorts of trouble. I hardly said a word to him, although I did remind him a time or two that metal does not dissolve in a sewer line. He informed me that he didn't want to hear another word about it. So now we have an agreement. He is not going to mention the picture oversight to me and I am not going to mention his indiscretion. However, as long as we live, I'll bet I never forget the pictures again and I'll bet he never flushes a piece of metal down the commode. If he does, he won't blocked traffic on the steep hill for several hours. Wrecks

WINTER WONDERLAND -- An absent-minded yard keeper or a faulty sprinkler system created this scene of icy splendor Thursday morning at the home of Mrs. Clay Adams. Glistening icicles fell from trees, shrubs and lawn furniture, while the grass was covered with thousands of icy toad stools. The below freezing temperatures kept the scene intact all day.

Rash Of Auto Accidents, Result Of First Ice Storm Of Season

A creeping sheet of ice brought many activities to a halt in Ozona and Crockett County last week and the area suffered below freezing temperatures along with the rest of West Texas. Area officers investigated dozens of traffic accidents as a result of the ice, but for the most part residents stayed in and outside activities were curtailed.

Fine drizzle began falling Wednesday afternoon and by nightfall ice covered streets, trees, utility lines and most outdoor fixtures. In spite of the moisture and the ice, there was no measurable amount of moisture and dry weather continued to dominate the weather picture. By Friday the ice was gone and balmy days prevailed over the weekend.

In-town driving conditions were treacherous Thursday morning and county road crews worked throughout the morning sanding roads and bridges.

Accidents were numerous in and around the county Wednesday afternoon and wreckers and crews were kept busy just keeping the highways cleared of stalled or wrecked vehicles. Perry Hubbard, Ozona body shop owner, was removing a wreck from the Dry Devil's River bridge, some 20 miles east of Ozona on Hwy 290 Wednesday afternoon when he saw two more accidents occur, one at each end of the bridge. He later spent some four hours at Lancaster Hill west of Ozona where a truck tractor-trailer jack-knifed and completely blocked traffic on the steep hill for several hours. Wrecks were investigated by Sonora Highway Patrolmen Hill and Grenwidge. Iraan DPS personnel worked the truck wreck on Lancaster Hill, along with other wrecks in that area. No injuries were reported.

Thursday morning at 12:06 a.m. Joseph C. Condells of Hollywood, Fla., driving a Ford van, was involved in a one-vehicle wreck 25 miles west of Ozona on Hwy. 290. Traveling east, he lost control when the left rear tire blew out. The van swerved on the icy road, overturned and came to rest in the middle of the highway headed in the opposite direction. There were no injuries. Deputy Sheriff Sam Worthington was the investigating officer.

Worthington worked another one-vehicle accident Wednesday night. A 1973 Gremlin, driven by Elizabeth Stephens of Beaumont overturned and came to rest upside down when the driver lost control on the ice six miles west of Ozona on highway 290.

Another Ford van was wrecked about noon Thursday when Cesar S. Moreno of San Antonio attempted to pass a car 4 1/2 miles east of Ozona on Hwy. 290, hit a patch of ice, slid off the road into the right barrow ditch, rolled over on its side then end over end, coming to rest on Charlie Boy Davidson's ranch fence. Four people in the van suffered minor injuries. Investigating officer was Dale Burger, DPS.

Burger investigated a two-vehicle wreck 12 miles west of Ozona on Hwy. 290 Friday afternoon. Sidney Timmons, Jr. of Houston was driving a station wagon, pulling a 28-foot camper trailer when Orren R.

Ozona Hunters Take All Prizes In Contest

Local hunters swept the field in the Chamber of Commerce sponsored hunting contest as the season closed last week. Winners in all three divisions were Ozona men.

Receiving the rifle for the deer with the most points was Randy Crawford with a 15-pounder killed on the Hemphill ranch east of Ozona.

For the deer with the widest rack, the power scope prize goes to Charles Childress. His trophy kill measured 22 inches. The deer was harvested on the P. L. Childress, Jr. ranch west of Ozona.

Bill Williams has held the top spot for the heaviest field dressed deer since the first day of the season with a 150-pounder. The deer was killed on the Troy Williams ranch north of Ozona. The prize is a rifle carrying case.

A record number of hunters registered for the buck hunting knife which will be given away at a drawing during the annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet which will be held February 14 at the Civic Center.

DONATIONS FOR GRANDSTAND ROOF at rodeo arena were made to County Judge Troy Williams this week by two local groups. L. D. Kirby, left, donates a check in the amount of $1,400 from the Ozona Quarter Horse Show, and Vernon Jones, center, donates a check for $1,000 on behalf of the Ozona Lions Club. Judge Williams, right, accepts the checks on behalf of the Commissioners Court.

Ozona Multipay Field Gains Two Extenders

Stoltz, Wagner & Brown, Midland, completed two extensions to Canyon sand gas production in the Ozona multipay field of Crockett County, 14 miles south of Ozona.

The No. 1-9-C Montgomery, 7/8 mile southeast, was finalized for a calculated absolute open flow of 1,925,000 cubic feet of gas per day, with gas-liquid ratio of 46,882-1. Gravity of the liquid was 67 degrees.

Production was through perforations at 6,091-568 feet, which had been acidized with 2,000 gallons and fractured with 36,000 gallons and 34,000 pounds of sand.

Location is 1,320 feet from the north and west lines of 9-NG-GC&SF.

The No. 1-10-A (formerly No. 2-10) Montgomery, one mile east and 7/8 mile northeast, was finalized for a calculated

THE PRICE OF OIL

The Arabs, it seems, are going to keep on raising the price of oil. There are hints that the recent doubling of the price per barrel to over $11.00 will be followed by still further hikes next spring.

As far as the United States is concerned, we think that Dr. William Johnson, of the energy office in Washington, put his finger on the solution when he said: "This whole thing shows the utter foolishness of relying on foreign oil."

Correct, but the economic incentive must be present. The free market law of supply and demand must be allowed to operate without government interference.

Everything should be done to encourage and not discourage production. Prices of all oil should be allowed to seek their economic level. It has been estimated that a few dollars per barrel price increase would have the effect of tripling U.S. oil reserves.

MIND-MUDDLING MEMOS

Armies may move on their stomachs, but bureaucracies move on their memorandums. A few clues as to why the Federal bureaucracy doesn't always move that well are contained in a new book compiled by The Washington Monthly magazine.

* Sent on September 10, 1971 to commanding officers of the U.S. Atlantic Fleet: "Subj.: Refreshments in wardroom." "1. For your information and action as you see fit, I have personally overheard Admiral Bell say many times that he does not like to see Kool-aid served in the wardrooms of ships.

* March 31, 1972 from Jerris Leonard, Administrator of Justice Department's Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, to all employees: "Effective today, the name change of the Office of General Counsel to the Office of Legal Counsel is rescinded and the current Office of Legal Counsel is redesignated Office of General Counsel."

* Undated memo from James D. Hodgson, Under Secretary of the Department of Labor, to "supervisory personnel" regarding the 1969 Savings Bond Campaign:

"1. There will be no pressure put upon employees, but all will be seriously urged to sign up. . . 5. Any person who does not sign the (pledge) card after a discussion with his supervisor will be talked to by the next higher level of supervision to insure he or she is fully aware of the importance the Department places on this program."

* July 24, 1973 from the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission to job applicant Tracer F. Tunley. The form memo read, in part, "A review of your application indicates that you are not qualified because: -". The reason, neatly handwritten next to the box marked "other" was: "You were not selected."

The book's concluding memo, something of a classic one year hence, was written on January 2, 1973 on White House stationery:

"TO: John Dean "FROM: Charles Colson "Now what the hell do I do?"

AUSTIN, Tex. — Legislative leaders expressed optimism for success of the state Constitution Convention which opened at noon Tuesday (Jan. 8).

Planning committees have worked out a fast-paced 81-day schedule which may, or may not, hold up.

Optimists see at least a 50-50-chance of success, noting that of 12 constitutions offered voters in other states during the last 12 years, half were rejected, frequently on a single issue.

House Speaker Price Daniel Jr., projected presiding officer of the historic convention, the first since 1875, hopes to have committee hearings started by January 16.

Preliminary briefings by corresponding committees of the 37-member Constitutional Revision Commission will precede the committee hearings.

Daniel claims the convention, composed of 181 legislators, will be successful because delegates have a down-to-business attitude and are the best prepared group (thanks to work of the Revision Commission) ever to undertake such a task.

Such controversial issues as right-to-work inclusion in the constitution, legislative pay raises and appointive appellate judges, under Daniel's plan, would be submitted to voters as separate issues. That procedure, the speaker maintains, would prevent jeopardizing a largely non-controversial document because of a handful of hot potatoes.

Eight substantive committees and five procedural committees are proposed to handle the initial hearings and study starting next week.

POLITICAL SEASON ON — Major candidates are getting

Gasless Sundays

Now that gasless Sundays have been with us for a while, it's obvious the restriction has its good side. Many are finding they like quieter Sundays, with fewer cars, less noise and less congestion on streets and highways.

Just as some cities have found banning cars from downtown areas vastly improves the center of town—for pedestrians, for shopping, for health, etc., gasless Sundays have slowed the frantic pace of life and helped produce more relaxed Sundays for millions.

And while keeping homes at lower temperatures bothers many initially, doctors agree most Americans have in the past years been too warm; Europeans traditionally have maintained homes at a lower temperature. Medical authorities point out that overheated homes and offices cause too much of a contrast with outside temperatures, make it harder for the body to adjust.

The fuel crunch, then, has its good side.

in place for the 1974 primary races.

Attorney General John Hill announced for a second term. Agriculture Commissioner John White announced for a 13th.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe revealed his plans (back in late October) to seek a second term.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby will be doing the same. Others already on the starting blocks include Railroad Commissioners Jim Langdon and Mack Wallace, Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong and Treasurer Jesse James (although some haven't announced formally).

Comptroller Robert Calvert remains a question mark. Whether or not he retires, former Secretary of State Bob Bullock is running for his office, and State Sen. Jim Wallace of Houston is a probable.

Republicans have fielded in the governor's race Henry Grover, Jim Cranberry, State Rep. Ray Hutchison and Odell McBrayer.

SPEED LIMIT CHANGE DUE — With President Nixon's signature of the nationwide 55 miles per hour speed limit law, Texas has no choice but to follow suit.

The State Highway Commission, under a new law passed in special session last month giving it authority to establish new speed limits to meet emergencies, scheduled a January 8 public hearing.

Result of the hearing was clear in advance: the limit will be lowered to 55 mph — probably enforceable by late January or early February.

The alternative: losing some $240 million a year in federal highway assistance.

AG OPINIONS — political action committees have to report expenditures to influence elections, Atty. Gen. Hill held.

However, Hill said that determining whether such committees come under campaign reporting and disclosure law provisions is a question for factual determination in each case.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded: A law requiring financial statements by public officials is constitutional, and district judges are covered.

A county commissioners court may transfer surplus road and bridge funds into the general fund.

A member of the Parks and Wildlife Commission is entitled to reimbursement for expenses for meetings which are not regularly scheduled.

A person who spends in excess of $200 per calendar quarter by paying another to communicate directly with a legislator would not have to register under the new lobby act.

Texas Rehabilitation Commission can act on behalf of the state in entering an agreement with the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare to carry out provisions of the Social Security Act. The commissioner of TRC is the proper official to execute the agreement.

Washington News Letter

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

A good many people have written me about alleged excessive profits being reaped by the big oil companies, I, too, have been disturbed about this allegation, which has been widely reported in the news media. As a result, I sought more reliable information. Here seems to be the more realistic approach:

Profit dollars became meaningful only when measured against equity, or investment. It appears that even with its improved earnings, the oil industry's return on equity for the first nine months of 1973 still was only 13.2 percent, according to Department of Commerce figures.

How does this compare with other industries? For the same period, appliances reported a 16.5% return on equity, automotive 17.5, building materials 14.5, chemicals 14.0, drugs 19.9, electronics 15.2, food 13.0, instruments 15.0, office equipment and computers 16.6, and publishing 13.9. From this it would appear the only industry with a rate of return lower than oil's were the railroads with 6.1 percent—and many railroads face bankruptcy today.

What must be taken into account is the fact that if we are to lick the fuel problem and eventually become self-sufficient, the government, oil companies, or somebody, must put up an awful lot of money to find, develop, transport and process new oil and gas. Therefore, it is to the selfish interest of every American that oil companies be stable and reasonably prosperous. If windfall profits should result from the present crisis, then an excess profits tax may be in order—and that should apply to any others who profiteer unduly from shortages which today plague us.

Above everything, let us not do anything which might kill the goose that lays the golden egg. We must look to the vast array of American oil investors for our salvation during the years immediately ahead.

Confessing While Asleep

Situation comedies often depict a hapless husband, confessing—while sound asleep—to some sort of indiscretion. His wife, of course, is scandalized. But in real life, how reliable is such a statement? Would it stand up in court?

In a homicide case some years ago, a "sleeping confession" did indeed help to convict the defendant of murder.

The court said his statement, "though in sleep, was but the divulgence of truth springing from guilt which rested heavy on the soul, the half-conscious man revealing secrets which, if fully awake, he would fain have suppressed."

Modern courts, however, have generally refused to allow this kind of evidence. Thus, in a more recent murder case, incriminating exclamations by the defendant during sleep were held not admissible.

The court did not deny that his exclamations might be truthful. But it found other grounds for rejecting the evidence.

"Only the voluntary statements of the accused can be used against him," said the judge. "If the defendant was not conscious, the statement was not voluntary."

Not only sleeping words but also sleeping deeds are usually considered beyond the concern of the law. For example:

A weary hunter was dozing in a hotel lobby, his gun in his lap, when a hotel employee gave him a rough shake. Startled, the hunter grabbed his gun and fired a shot that killed the other man.

Charged afterward with manslaughter, he was able to convince the court that he had still been asleep at the moment he pulled the trigger.

Accordingly, the court found him not guilty. "Our law punishes only for acts done by responsible moral agents," explained the judge. "If the prisoner was unconscious when he killed the deceased, he cannot be punished for that act."

Body Suits Are Easy To Wear

Stylish, comfortable and easy-to-wear. That's how Marilyn Brown describes body suits.

The consumer education-clothing and textiles specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, pointed out that unlike blouses and shirts, "they have no shirttails that can bunch up or pull out to ruin an otherwise well-groomed appearance."

"Hosiery sections of department stores and specialty shops usually feature these 'one-piece blouses with panties', although sometimes they're found in sportswear and lingerie departments."

"Bodywear departments--created by larger stores--display body suits along with coordinated or matching accessories. These departments also feature body stockings--which, unlike body suits, clothe a person from neck to toe," the specialist continued.

"Due to comfort and natural 'give' features, most body suits are knits. They range from sleek jersey to heavy sweater-knit types.

"A few body suits are constructed of woven fabrics. Crepe, for example, provides a dressy look. The woven blouse part of the suit may be sewn to knitted pants for comfort.

"Nylon, polyester and acrylic fibers make knits and wovens easy-care."

When considering a body suit, try it on. "That's the only way to tell if it's comfortable," Miss Brown emphasized.

"Make sure the body suit fits. If too big, it will look bulky. One that's too small will be uncomfortable--and if made of stretch fabric, look strained and thinner in spots."

Also check construction details. "Select styles with an easy-to-snap crotch--they can be pulled over the head or stepped into."

"Snaps securely fastened to sturdy fabric--such as twill tape--won't twist around, becoming uncomfortable. Also, they're less likely to tear away from the suit."

"High-necked styles, on the other hand, are easier to get into and out of if they also have zipped or buttoned neck closings," she noted.

Also examine seams for undesirable bulkiness. Leg openings should be smoothly-finished and non-binding, she added.

"Always read the permanent care label. Most body suits are machine-washable, but some require hand-laundering or dry-cleaning."

"In general, sizes include small or petite, medium or average, and large or tall. Some carry corresponding dress sizes, and a few are sized by height and weight."

"To help preserve their shape, fold knit body suits and store on a shelf or in a drawer."

Tips For Gardeners
From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

The late cold and freezes should keep most of the deciduous shrubs dormant a while longer and maybe avoid a late freeze of early blooming shrubs, trees and fruit trees. Many had no fruit last year, and very few pecans were harvested. We hope for a more bountiful crop this year.

To remind you again, winter planting of most deciduous shrubs and trees is best. Setting plants well ahead of time and warming weather allows them to develop strong roots before hot days begin, which is sometimes early in our area. There are a few exceptions—figs, fruiting pomegranates, banana shrubs, loquat and the large leaf evergreens should be planted after the threat of hard freezes has passed.

Another necessary chore that should be done is dormant spraying of plants that are leafless in winter. They prevent many spring and summer problems by killing over-wintering insects and insect eggs, particularly those of spider mites and scale. They also destroy spores of fungus diseases such as peach leaf curl and fungus. Some of these are roses, fruit and nut trees (apples, peach, pear, pecan and plum). Oil spray smother pests and their eggs.

Bordeaux mixture, copper, lime sulfur and sulfur are recommended for disease control. You can mix one of the fungicides with oil or buy such a combination already prepared. Whichever spray you choose, drench the plant with it and soak the ground beneath the plant.

Also during the winter months is the time for all major pruning, including the removal of suckers from trees, shrubs and roses. Sucker growth can slow the top growth of the grafted variety by using up water and food resources. These include roses, fruit trees and ornamental trees and shrubs. Suckers will snap off easily if caught when small and tender. If removed with pruning shears, try to leave no stub whatever, otherwise new growth will occur. Suckers appear as vigorous branches at the base of deciduous plants, and as leaves with a shape or color different from the rest of the foliage on evergreens.

NON-DISCRIMINATION
"Southwest Texas Electric Cooperative, Inc. has filed with the Federal Government a Compliance Assurance in which it assures the Rural Electrification Administration that it will comply fully with all requirements of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and the Rules and Regulations of the Department of the Agriculture issued thereunder, to the end that no person in the United States shall, on the ground of race, color, or national origin, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be otherwise subjected to discrimination in the conduct of its program and the operation of its facilities. Cancer Society Unit Board Met Monday

The Crockett County Unit Board of the American Cancer Society met in the conference room of the Methodist Church Monday evening.

Mrs. Charles Williams, Pres., presided and others in attendance were Dr. W. B. Robertson, L. B. T. Sikes, Mrs. Brock Jones, Mrs. Huey Ingram, Mrs. Glenn Sutton, Mrs. James Weant and Mrs. M. E. Nicholas.

Concerning the American Cancer Society sponsored professional education program, Jim Kramer, ACS, San Angelo, announced that a team of volunteer doctors from M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Clinic, Houston, would be conducting a seminar for members of the Eight-County Medical Society in San Angelo on Feb. 4 on The Early Detection of Colon Cancer. He also reported that Col. Lauder of San Antonio, a Laryngectomee and trained ACS volunteer esophageal speech therapist, would be giving speech lessons to new patients in the district during the coming week. This is one of the many services in rehabilitation offered by the ACS free of charge to those who have lost their voice boxes to cancer.

Mrs. Glenn Sutton took the responsibility to have laryngectomy bibs crocheted by volunteers in the near future. Routine committee reports were read and Mrs. Williams reported that a local cancer patient had been serviced with a hospital bed and wheel chair recently.

Mrs. Nicholas announced that Hubert Baker had agreed to chair the business drive the latter part of March and that Beta Sigma Phi Sorority and Mrs. Ray Valadez, Chmn. Southside, would be in charge of the house-to-house drive in early April. Mrs. Ray Davis will head the rural drive again this year.

A film, "The People Side of Cancer", was shown after the business meeting.

To My Friends And Customers:

Due to my health I am unable to properly take care of my automotive repair business, so I have sold the repair and service station business to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Preddy. However, I will continue in the lawn care and small engine sales and service and will be located at the same stand. Also, being here will enable me to help the Preddys in any way I can.

I have certainly enjoyed and appreciated the ten years of association and business with you. I am sure the Preddys will continue to give you equally good service.

Charles and Beverly have lived in Ozona for seven years while he was employed by Shell Oil Co. at the plant north of town. They are acquainted with many "Ozonians", but those who have never met them, come by and give them a trial.

John Mayo will continue to work with them in the repair shop and Dumphy Puckett will help in the service station.

Again let me say a hearty thanks and God bless to all.

Science rules today's world. Powerful nations harness technology to probe space and to create awesome weaponry which staggers the imagination.

In this age of missiles and megatons, we, more than ever, need Faith—to ward off thoughts of doom, to give us perspective, to reassure us that our lives can be full and complete even under the shadow of technology.

Faith, above all, means trust, a precious commodity in these uncertain times. And Emerson assures us that: "All I have seen teaches me to trust the Creator for all I have not seen."

Ice Storm—

Crouch of California attempted to pass driving a compact car and pulling another compact. Crouch side-swiped the camper trailer and ran off the road flipping both cars and completely demolishing them. The camper trailer sustained some damage. Crouch was treated for lacerations of the head at Crockett County Hospital.

The ice was indirectly responsible for a car-home wreck late Friday night. Billy Dixon slid down Sixth street in an old model Ford and hit the W. T. Goodson home at 506 Oak St., overturning and coming to rest on its top at the Goodson's bedroom window. Young Dixon lost control on the sanded hill. He suffered lacerations of the eyelid and chin. The car was demolished and the brick house was damaged to some extent.

Hero—

All entries must be submitted by March 1, 1974, to the Rural Heroism Award Committee, Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, P. O. Box 489, Waco, Texas, 76703, according to Bullard.

The heroic act or deed must have occurred in Texas during 1973 and must be related to farming or ranching operations.

Nominations should include a written account of the incident and the names of all persons involved. Newspaper clippings and pictures should also accompany the nomination, if available.

In spite of the present droughty situation here in Crockett County, 1973 brought above average rainfall to the area. The year just ended had a total rainfall record of 18.44 inches.

The last heavy rainfall came early in October of 1973 and dry freezes coupled with almost no moisture since has been hard on rangelands and stock as well.

July and September were the heavy rainfall months, July rainfall amounting to 4.70 inches and 4.36 recorded in September. The first three months of the year brought good rains but the spring months were on the light side of the rainfall ledger. January left 1.23 inches of moisture, February with rain and snow recorded 1.88 inches and March was above average with 1.63 inches. April showers only amounted to .77 of an inch of moisture, followed by a dry May with .57 and a droughty June with only .36 of an inch of rain.

The heavy rainfall in July was a life-saver and carried through a hot, dry August with rainfall only measuring .08 of an inch. Ranchers were saved again in September by the good rains and the 2.74 inches which fell in October were an added bonus. However, the latter part of the year fell off sharply with November rainfall measuring a scant .11 of an inch and December a barely measureable .01. Unusually high winds and cold weather marked the final two months of the year.
