Kitty's Korner

by Kitty Montgomery

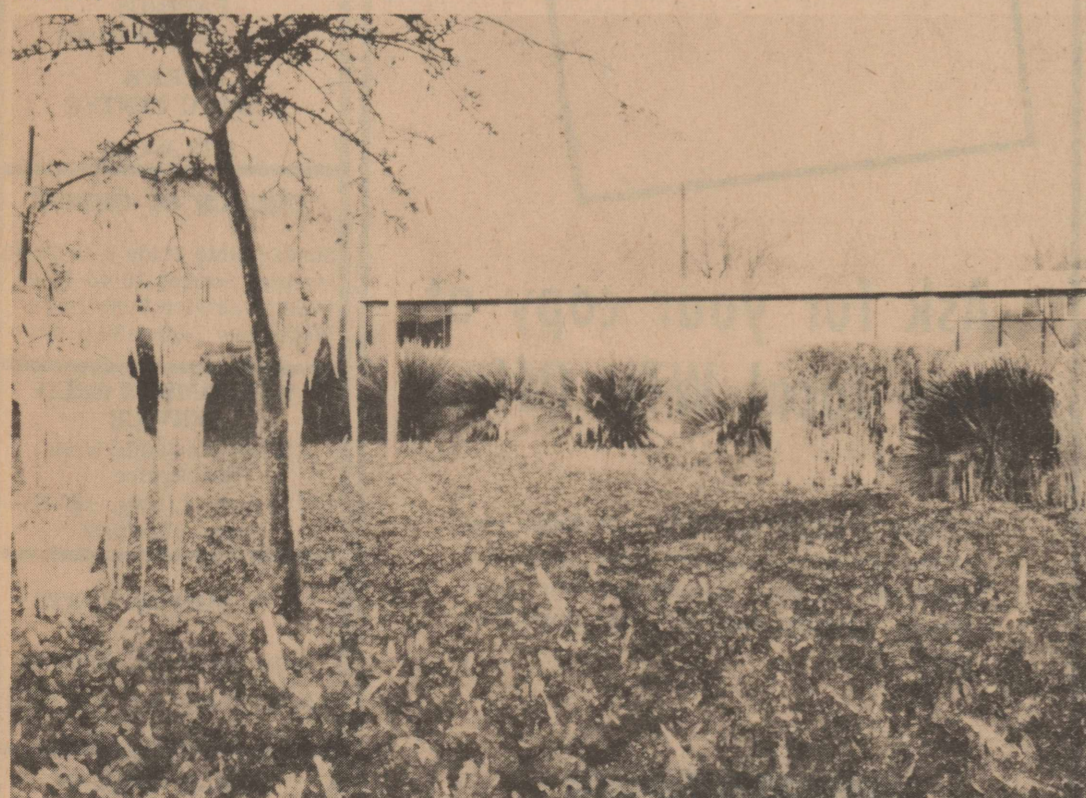

President Nixon made it very clear in his news conference Monday night that he did not intend to resign and that he did not expect to be impeached. He acquitted himself very well. It was another one of those "Daniel in the Lions Den" type press conferences, and "Daniel" seemed to come out alive one more time. Of course, the Washington press corps is much more vicious than the average Lion's den, so I don't think we can doubt the President's courage, whatever else we may think about him. A few more press conferences, and the hate-Nixon Democrats will be solidly behind the President. The people are fair, and fair-play is obviously missing in these shouting matches.

I'm as much in the dark about the energy crisis as the Energy Czar Wm. Simon. It's my personal opinion that if Congress would allow an oil man on the Federal Energy Commission, we'd all be way ahead. Nobody would hire an oil executive for their stock broker and that makes sense. Why should a stock broker be trying to break the energy crisis. Without the assistance of the oil industry, we are in for a long spell of "nobody knows nothin' about nothin'." Meanwhile the cost of fuel goes up and gets less available.

The economy may be slowed in some parts of the nation, but Ozona seems to be booming, for the present at least. There is construction all over the place. New homes, Interstate 10, the nursing wing, etc. etc.
We have all felt the pain of rising costs, but about the biggest worry we've had lately is the loss of the experienced men on the garbage truck. This has, of course, created a problem. But when you look around at the rest of the world, it's a pretty small problem. And, it's well on its way to solution. A full crew has been hired, and as soon as they become familiar with the route we can expect the usual good service we have become so accustomed to.

Town Section Of IS 10 Approved For Construction

The Texas Highway Commission today approved construction of a section of Interstate Highway 10 in Crockett County. The section extends from 0.8 mile west of State Highway 163 eastward to 6.6 miles east of Ozona, a distance of approximately 6.9 miles.
Estimated cost of grading, structures and surfacing is $7 million.

WINTER REVISITED -- Ice and icicles decorated Live Oak Park here Tuesday morning. The ice storm did not cover Ozona, however. It was the result of leaving the sprinklers on in the park and the reported 18° low temperature. Under bright, sunny skies, the scene was beautiful. It diverted the attention from the recent dust storms and dry, dry cold spells brought on by a complete lack of moisture since October of last year.

UTILITIES ADJUSTMENT FOR IS 10 -- Water district employees are hard at work re-routing water mains and sewer lines in lieu of construction of Interstate 10 through Ozona. Construction has been approved for the section which will extend from 0.8 mile west of State Highway 163, which runs through the center of Ozona, to 6.6 miles east of Ozona. All utilities must have relocation work completed by April 1. Bids will be called for in March for the approximately 6.9 miles of IS 10.

Ranchers Must Tell Needs To Fuel Supplier

"The essential thing a rancher must do to help assure himself adequate fuel for agricultural production is tell his distributor how much he needs. Unless a local distributor or dealer knows what his ranch customer requires," said Robert F. Spreen, State Executive Director of the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, "that distributor can not take the necessary steps to get enough fuel for them."
Informing the distributor becomes even more important if a rancher intends to increase his fuel using activities considerably, or if he plans to expand ranch operations. Local dealers will need this information to request additional fuel from their suppliers.
Spreen said, "Agricultural producers who are all to receive priority allocations, will be required to certify to an ongoing fuel conservation program on their operations. USDA, in cooperation with the Federal Energy Office and the Environmental Protection Agency, has developed a conservation leaflet. This leaflet, scheduled to be available in early March, includes an energy management certification that there is an ongoing conservation program and that priority fuel will be used for 'agricultural production'."

Lions Take Second In Stockton Relays

The Ozona Lions made an outstanding showing in their first outing of the year, bringing home the second place trophy in the Comanche Relays at Fort Stockton Saturday. The Lions were disqualified in the sprint relay and this alone cost them 14 points. If they had not had this misfortune, they would have won the meet by 14 points. As it was Alpine was the winner.
The Lions' Rick Hunnicutt scored 23 points to take high point honors in the division.
The Lions will be at McCamey Saturday, March 2, where they will be allowed three entries in each event. This should help in overall depth as they were allowed only two entries last weekend.
Scoring for the Lions at the Comanche Relays were:
Robert Rodriguez - eighth in shot with a toss of 41' 3"
Melecio Martinez - fifth in discus with a throw of 121' 2"
Ronaldo Cervantez - fourth in long jump with 20' 6"
Oliver Payne - seventh in high jump with a jump of 5' 8"; first in the 440 dash with a time of 51.3 seconds, and a 52.4 leg on the winning mile relay team.
Stanley Flanagan - first in pole vault with a vault of 11' 6", and fourth in the 100 yard dash with a time of 10.6 seconds.
Ronald Shaw - seventh in the 880 run with 2:15.
Everado Garza - eighth in the 880 run with a time of 2:15.3
Rick Hunnicutt - first in the 120 high hurdles with 15.2 seconds, second in the 330 intermediate with 41.2 seconds, and a 54.9 second leg on the winning mile relay team.
Richard Sanchez - fifth in high hurdles with 16.5
Gary Mitchell - made the finals of the 100 yard dash with a time of 10.9 seconds
Clifford Crawford - fourth in 440 yard dash with good time, and also ran a 53.1 leg on the winning mile relay team.
Juan Garcia - fifth in the 220 yard dash with a time of 23.9 and ran a 52.9 leg on the Mile Relay.
Peter Zapata - sixth in the mile with a 5:04.8.

Funeral Service Saturday For Mrs. Boyd Cox

Funeral services for Mrs. Boyd (Lillie Ida Perner) Cox, 79, were held Saturday afternoon in Rankin from the United Methodist Church. Burial was in Cedar Hill Cemetery in Ozona under the direction of James Funeral Home.
Mrs. Cox died at her home in Rankin Friday morning, apparently of a heart attack.
She was born Dec. 15, 1894 in Bandera, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip C. Perner, who moved to Ozona during the early days of the county. She was married to Boyd R. Cox Dec. 1, 1915 in Ozona. She had been a resident of Rankin for 40 years. Mr. Cox preceded her in death in 1968.
Survivors include five sisters: Mrs. Louise Murchison of Fort Stockton, Mrs. Hugh Childress, Mrs. W. R. Baggett, Mrs. Roy Henderson and Mrs. Max Schneemann, all of Ozona; a brother, Paul Perner of Ozona, and numerous nieces and nephews.

Birth Of Exotic Calf Big Event For Ozona

The birth of a Simmental bull calf here last Wednesday was a big event in the lives of interested townspeople, the owner, Bill Roden of Oasis Ranch Co. near Sheffield, and the vet, Dr. Gary Vannoy. The mother seemed to take it as a matter of course and spent most of her time eating everything in sight, including her bedding.
The calf was born about a week after his mother took up residence at the clinic. The delivery was natural, but difficult, and although cow and calf were outside and doing well the next day, Dr. Vannoy hasn't recovered yet.
What makes a lady out of this heifer? Reports of the lady's "net worth" or cost range from $36,000 to $76,000 and regardless of the figure settled upon, that makes this cow "a lady."
She's full-blooded Simmental, imported from Switzerland through a long and intricate process of red tape and quarantines. This heifer was imported first to Canada, then brought to the U. S. and eventually to Dallas where she was purchased by the Oasis Ranch Co. Still somewhat of a rarity in West Texas, the Simmental is the number one exotic breed in the United States at this time.
The Simmental breed is an old one originating in Simme Valley, Switzerland. Over 50 percent of Swiss cattle are Simmental and they have been dispersed to most European countries, South America and South Africa. The breed was introduced to North America in 1967.
The Simmental was developed as a dual-purpose breed, combining a high degree of both meat and milk. They are generally red and white spotted, although some vary to a yellow, almost solid color. They are rugged, heavy cattle with good temperament. A mature bull will weigh from 2,300 to 2,400 pounds and a cow will average 1,600 to 1,700 pounds.

Three Ozona Men Mentioned For All-District

The Ozona Lion Basketball team failed to place a man on the first team All-District when the coaches and officials of Dist. 5-AA met last week to cast ballots, but they landed a second team berth and two honorable mentions.
Richard Sanchez was named to the All-District second team and Rex Parker and Oliver Payne received honorable mentions.

Commissioners Let Contract For Construction Of Nursing Wing

The Crockett County Commissioners Court voted unanimously Tuesday afternoon to let the contract for the county's half-million dollar nursing wing to the J. D. Burke Construction Co. of San Angelo.
Burke submitted the low bid of $633,380.00 for general construction of the wing.
After much discussion, the court agreed to go ahead with the construction although the low bid was almost $200,000 over the original estimate. It was the consensus of the court that prices would continue to rise and that nothing would be gained by postponing the letting of the contract or the holding up of construction.
All alternates with the exception of vinyl wall covering for the facility were cut out because of rising costs. These include a canopy for the front of the existing building, a separate north entrance, a cover for the present entrance, and a new administrator's office. Other than the above cuts, the facility will be as designed by the architect.

Burke said construction will begin immediately after the signing of the contract. The ground has been prepared by county road crews and the construction site has been staked out.

Next lowest bidder was Rose & Sons, Inc. of Abilene with a bid of $659,800, followed by B. F. W. Construction Co. of Temple with a bid of 681,490, and Templeton Construction Co. of San Angelo with a $682,000 bid. The Herman Bennett Co. of Brownwood submitted the high bid of $688,000.

Postal Rates To Go Higher Again Saturday, Mar. 2

Postal rates are scheduled to go up all over the nation March 2, 1974. The new rate increase was scheduled to go into effect January 1, 1974, but was postponed by the Cost of Living Council.
The cost of mailing a first-class letter will go up from 8¢ to a dime, an increase of 25%. Most Ozonans along with the rest of the nation will feel the bite of inflation at once. While first-class mailings will go up to 10¢ per ounce or fraction, airmail goes up from 11¢ per ounce to 13¢ per ounce or fraction. Other increases include airmail post cards, 11¢ each, regular post cards, domestic, 8¢ each up from 6¢, and air-mail sheets, 18¢ each can be mailed to any foreign country.
Patrons sending mail to foreign countries should contact the post office for the cost of mailing. Foreign airmail prices for all of Europe and the Far East will go up to 26½¢ per ounce, and for South and Central America to 18½¢ per ounce.

Ozona Girl On Second Team All District Cagers

The Ozona Lionettes failed to place a player on the All-District Basketball team at the District meeting last week, but Lionette Sylvia Flores was named to the second team all district along with teammate Martha Cantu.
The Lionettes ended the season with a 15-7 record, winning four out of six district games.

IT'S A BOY! This pretty lady is the proud mother of a baby boy born February 20 at the Veterinary Clinic in Ozona. He weighed in at approximately 86 pounds; name is undecided at this time. Dr. Gary Vannoy was attending physician. If you've never seen a gold mine, you're looking at one now!

VOTE WISELY!

Recently, syndicated newspaper columnist, Alice Widener, watching the evening news on her television set, heard the newscaster announce a "riot at Social Security Administration headquarters in Manhattan as blind, aged and disabled fail to receive checks on time." But, noted Mrs. Widener, the words did not seem to match the picture. The scene on the TV screen revealed policemen and young toughs; none of them were "blind," "aged," or "infirm." Her newswriting curiosity aroused, Mrs. Widener investigated.

She learned that the rioting young toughs, angry over not getting their "welfare" money on time, were indeed not aged or infirm; they are, in fact, drug addicts. Furthermore, she found, some 14,000 of them are now receiving "Federal" money. And, she also found, the payment to each is $77.50 per month. For the 14,000 in New York City (and who knows how many other cities are doing the same) the annual total is over 13 million dollars.

Comments Mrs. Widener: "I'm glad to do more than my share for the deserving poor. But it just sticks in my throat for me to have to work as hard as I do . . . and know that part of my tax money goes to support big strong young ruffians ready to tear down a U.S. Government building if they don't receive 'their' welfare money to support their drug addiction in idleness."

Congress, which has the Constitutional authority to appropriate your money, is directly responsible for the wasteful expenditure of not only millions of dollars — as in the case cited by Mrs. Widener — but of billions of dollars now going for non-defense, non-public-safety purposes. What Congress giveth, Congress can taketh away; which, translated, means that members of Congress have the power to reverse the present process, and cease the practice of taking money out of your pocket and putting it into the pockets of undeserving others.

The results of several recent elections indicate that many people are today voting against candidates with a Republican label because they are mad at the President. In so doing, however, they have voted FOR candidates who are on the left — i.e., candidates who are for heavier taxation, a bigger national debt, more government control and authority, more bureaucracy, more "welfare" and all the rest that goes with the so-called "liberal" spectrum. It is difficult to believe that that is really what the voters want. It is easier to believe that many have been voting (and many others did not vote at all) on the basis of emotion rather than logic.

The forthcoming 1974 Congressional elections will go a long way toward determining what kind of a country we are going to have. Voters will need to decide whether they wish to have a government more totalitarian, or less totalitarian, than the one we now have; and then vote for the candidates who best fit that desire. In this critical year it will be extremely important for all to vote wisely, and not emotionally.

FUEL FEVER

The Federal Energy Office advises citizens to "Don't be Fuelish." Some service stations have dashed off such billboards as "We can't fuel all the people all the time." And the most oft repeated question in America today may well be "Do you have gas?"

As gasoline becomes more scarce in much of the country and waiting in long service station lines becomes a way of life for many motorists, the Federal government is taking great pains to emphasize that, bad as it is, the current situation is the lesser of two evils. The other evil, of course, is rationing.

Almost nightly, Walter Cronkite or one of his colleagues sits in front of a picture of the proposed gas rationing coupon and reminds us — as though we didn't know already — that the penalty for not saving enough fuel may well be rationing, with all of its inequities and headaches.

How well have we been doing? According to the Federal Energy Office, very well.

The FEO originally forecast that during this winter, the United States would require 18.6 million barrels of oil a day to meet domestic demand. However, as the week ending December 28, Americans were consuming only about 16.8 million barrels a day, or 1.8 million barrels below the projected demand.

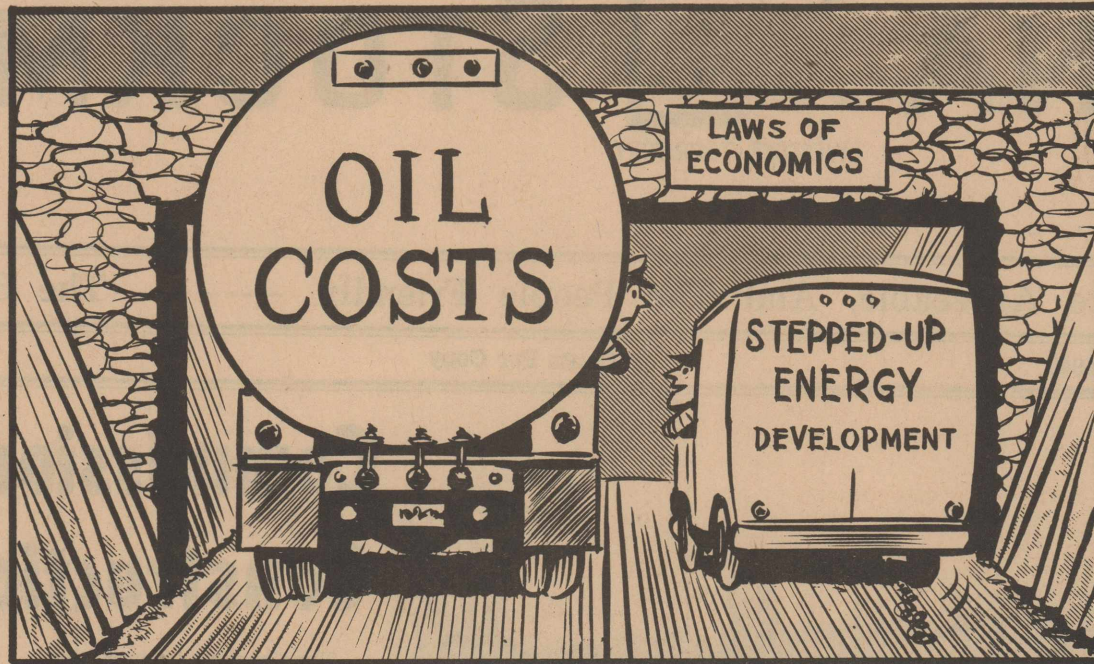

An FEO official, Dr. Douglas C. Bauer, in a recent speech before the Highway Research Board, noted that the unusually warm winter in much of the country has helped produce the savings. However, to a greater extent, he said, "The reduced demand is due to the response of the American public to the conservation measures we have requested."

Allocation procedures and conservation measures have worked, Dr. Bauer continued, "not because of what FEO has done but because of what millions of Americans have done."

There you have it. As we were sure all along, the overwhelming majority of Americans will still respond positively and constructively to a genuine national crisis, whether it involves fighting or fuel. We knew it and we're glad FEO now knows it too.

Gas rationing may yet be just down the road. But even if it comes, Americans will still be able to take justifiable pride in having sacrificed to forestall it as long as possible.

"MIND IF I PASS BY . . . ?"

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights
by Bill Boykin
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — Home insurance rates are going up for most Texans.

New rates to be effective June 1 or July 1 will take into consideration expected rising costs of replacing and repairing damaged buildings.

The rates were adjusted a year ago (Jan. 1, 1973), with reductions in most lines.

Indications are fire coverage for homes will go up this year, but commercial building protection will cost less.

Multi-purpose homeowners policies will increase in price for Seacoast and North-Northwest territories. Although the loss record of the last decade indicates a 5.5 per cent reduction for the Central Inland area, G. L. Jones, State Insurance Board chief property actuary, said inflation may negate the saving.

All three territories are due for an increase on extended coverage, including windstorm and vandalism coverage.

State Board statistics hold promise of a saving on commercial building coverage for the Central Inland territory.

Following past board practices of figuring inflation on price increases over the last six years, an industry representative said the statewide boost for all lines of building insurance would be more than 20 per cent.

However, Texas Insurance Advisory Association suggested a revised inflation factor projected to save $43.7 million for Texas property owners this year below the board estimates.

CONVENTION PROGRESSES — Debate grew increasingly tedious as the first round of Constitutional Convention floor debate opened — on the education article of the proposed new state constitution.

Convention President Price Daniel Jr. maintained delegates were sticking with their 90-day completion schedule, however, as they neared completion of action on the article in three half-day working periods.

The education article as approved by the delegates tentatively insures "equal educational opportunities" for all, but permits special local district program enrichment. It also retains for The University of Texas and Texas A&M income from the $680 million Permanent University Fund.

Permanent and Available school funds are left intact, and the legislature is charged with providing for "first class" higher education.

LAW "DISCOVERED" — The Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles only last November discovered a law requiring it to recommend to the governor whether prisoners should have full citizenship rights restored on completion of sentence.

"Until our present board membership was made aware of this provision very recently, it has been ignored," said Charles G. Shandera, a member of the Board, in a letter to Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston. Schwartz is chairman of the Constitutional Convention Rights and Suffrage Committee.

Shandera said he does not think the oversight has worked any great hardship on ex-convicts deprived of civil rights, because they can make requests for full pardon.

Rights include voting, running for public office, jury service, entry into licensed professions and eligibility for bonding.

ALLOWABLE AT 100 PER CENT AGAIN — The Railroad Commission set the statewide oil allowable at 100 per cent for March — the 24th straight month of such production.

Commissioner Ben Ramsey said crude oil stocks, estimated at 85.8 million barrels, are 3.4 million less than the 1973 level. He said crude stocks for the nation are 24 million barrels below preferred levels and gasoline 50 million barrels below.

Exceptions to the 100 per cent allowable are Kelly-Snyder and East Texas Fields (86 per cent) and a dozen others set at 80 per cent.

Washington News Letter

by Congressman O. C. Fisher

George Meany's call for election of a "veto-proof" Congress this Fall will serve to focus attention of voters on individual candidates for Congress this year. Already press reports; Labor's fund raising plans, using such words as "dazzling" and "overwhelming" to describe the amounts to be channeled into forthcoming campaigns.

Stringent control of such contributions, whether by Big Labor or Big Business, is included in current legislative proposals. Control of political funding by unions is more difficult to earmark and enforce because so much of their help is in the form of non-cash, such as union staff time devoted to campaigning while on Labor's payroll, printing, mailing, telephones, etc. which don't appear in reports of contributions.

All told, labor spent some $60 million in federal elections in 1968 and some $50 million in 1972. They throw organized support behind preferred candidates for Congress, and may or may not openly endorse them. To keep preferred members of Congress in office, unions concentrate on crucial committees, such as Labor and also the Judiciary. It was recently disclosed that in the 1972 elections Labor gave $189,195.95 to Democratic members of the House Judiciary committee—the committee now pursuing George Meany's demand for impeachment of the President.

Senator Fannin estimates that unions contributed about $546,000 to campaigns of Democratic members of the Senate Labor committee in their most recent elections.

In the meantime, the radical Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) has issued a release boasting of a deterioration in the conservative quality of southern House members.

Thus, voters will be well advised to examine candidates with much caution and try to figure out whether they are leaning unduly toward any special interest when the votes are cast. This adds to the importance of congressional elections in 1974.

Bill's Scribblings
By — Bill Morrison, Minister

April 2, 1972 the count down for Apollo 14 went meticulously; however, about eight minutes before launch there was "a hold" for weather, but in a few minutes the spacecraft blasted heavenward toward the moon with the crew of three spacemen, Alan B. Shepard, Edgar D. Mitchell, and Stuart A. Roosa. With Apollo 14 and with these men went the hopes, aspirations, and prayers of the world that the mission would be successful and man would learn more of the secrets of space, especially the moon.

There are many things to remember about the successful Apollo 14 flight. Something that I will always remember about this flight was the failure of the locking mechanism on the command module to work on the first five docking attempts with the lunar landing craft, but on the sixth attempt it worked. However, at first it seemed that these first failures would "scrub" the moon landing phase of the mission, but after study and experimentation the decision was "go" for the moon landing. This decision was made with complete knowledge of the fact that the reason for the malfunction of the locking mechanism was not found. According to one NASA official, the reason may never be found; it will probably remain one of those unanswered questions. The interesting thing is that the mission was not aborted even though a major question was left unsolved!

Often in the attempt of urging people to obey God and His directions for living, one hears the statement: "There are too many unanswered questions about God for me to believe in Him." Yet, in the case of Apollo 14 three men, in light of an unanswered question dedicated their lives to the accomplishment of a mission. There was an element of faith in the decision to continue, although an important question was not answered, Paul, the apostle, explained it in Christianity like this: "--we walk by faith, not by sight--" (II Corinthians 5:7).

Yes, there are many unanswered questions about God and Life as He has created it, but that does not mean He fails to exist. There is not a day that passes that we are not asked to live by faith and not by sight. If we can do it in our relations with highly sophisticated scientific inventions, why should we think the same principle to be incredible in relation to God?

Miss. Russell Becomes Bride Of Mr. Wm. Cross

Miss Kathy Lynn Russell became the bride of Mr. William Marion Cross, IV, in a four o'clock ceremony at the Ozona United Methodist Church on Saturday afternoon, February 23. Reverend John Berkley, pastor, officiated at the ceremony. Parents of the couple are Mrs. George Lessly Russell, Jr. of Ozona and the late Mr. Russell, and Mr. and Mrs. William M. Cross, III, of Denton.

Miss Susie Russell attended her sister as maid of honor and Mrs. Jack Robinson of Amarillo, sister of the groom, was matron of honor.

Jack Robinson of Amarillo was best man and Lessly Russell, brother of the bride, was groomsmen. Ushers were Freddie McAnear of Midland and Ronnie McAnear of Clarendon. Wedding music was provided by Mrs. L. B. Cox, III.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Hugh D. Russell of Grapevine, wore a gown of candlelight, Charmeuse organza, fashioned with a molded empire bodice, long full sleeves and a full skirt ending in a chapel train. A separate yoke of imported, re-embroidered lace fashioned a high throat-line and was attached to the bodice at the waistline. The head dress of candlelight crystal tulle and matched lace was a chapel length mantilla.

A reception followed at the church fellowship hall. Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Brock Jones, Mrs. Floyd Hokit, Mrs. L. D. Kirby, Mrs. Beecher Montgomery, Mrs. Dick Kirby, Mrs. Bill Seahorn, Mrs. Arthur Kyle, Mrs. Ted White, Mrs. Ruben Pena-Alfaro, Mrs. Walter Spiller, Mrs. Jess J. Marley, Mrs. Chester Wilson, Mrs. John Berkley, Mrs. L. B. Cox, III, Mrs. J. C. Schroeder, Mrs. Randy Upham, Mrs. Johnny Jones, Mrs. Charles Black, Jr., Mrs. Taylor Word, Mrs. Buster Deaton, Mrs. Byron Williams, Mrs. John R. Hunnicutt, Miss Kristi Kirby, Miss Melinda Hokit, Miss Rebecca Seahorn, all of Ozona, and Mrs. Rex Russell of Midland, Mrs. Chris Berger of Irving, Mrs. Gregory Stuart of San Angelo, Miss Cathy Williams of Lubbock, Mrs. Bill Todd of Clarendon and Mrs. Ronnie McAnear of Clarendon.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mrs. Rex Russell of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. Russell, Lane and Mitch of Grapevine, Mr. and Mrs. Al Fernandes of Ballinger, Mrs. Melvin Evans of Ballinger, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Evans and Kerl of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Since protein is in short supply in most countries, scientists are continually searching for cheaper and better sources of this nutrient which is so necessary for growth and maintenance of life. Livestock, fish and oilseeds are the major high protein sources in the world today. Interest, by government and industry, in recent years has centered around soybeans as a protein source for several reasons. First, the yield of edible protein per acre of land is one of the highest of all plant or animal protein sources. Second, the nutritional quality of soybean protein is the best available from plant sources. With the exception of methionine, it is well balanced in the eight essential amino acids and is a valuable source of the B vitamins and essential minerals. And improved scientific research has overcome the low methionine level by supplementing edible soy products with the addition of protein from wheat, corn, milk, or egg whites. Third, soybeans can be grown in a variety of soils and under a wide range of climatic conditions. Other oilseeds, such as peanuts, cottonseed, sunflower, safflower and sesame, are also sources of edible protein, but most of the research and development in this country has been done on soy protein.

The first interest in the soybean, in this country, was for its oil. Most of the vegetable oil in the United States that is used to produce shortening, margarine, and salad oils is soybean oil. The residue after the oil is removed is a protein concentrate that has become the basis of a huge and well organized animal feed industry.

At the present time, approximately 84 percent of soy protein products go into animal feeds. Most of it is used in the form of soybean meal, and smaller amounts as soy flour, soy grits, and soy protein concentrate. Approximately 13 percent of the soy protein products are utilized for industrial purposes and for export. About 3 percent of soy protein is processed for edible human consumption.

The human consumption applications range from using soy protein as extenders for animal protein foods to the preparation of simulated animal food products from spun food fibers. These soy protein fibers are being used effectively in producing a number of meat-like products that can be consumed as nutritious and palatable alternates for the high-quality animal protein foods. The introduction of texture and flavor in manufactured soy protein fibers represents a revolutionary new concept in food science.

Ground beef-soy protein mixtures are now being marketed by 50 percent of the U.S. food stores. Also available are several brands of seasoned and unseasoned granular textured protein products designed to be combined with fresh ground meat by the consumer in her favorite ground meat dishes. This success is attributed to the acceptance of a new food product that yields a 20 percent cost saving over pure ground beef. It is estimated that future increase in popularity of these food products will create a demand for stepped-up production which, in turn, will make the cost saving even greater.

Simulated soy protein meat products currently are being sold primarily in stores that cater to the health and vegetarian food market. One exception is a simulated bacon-flavored product which is being marketed nationally in regular food stores. Several other simulated meat products are being test marketed.

The Department of Agriculture experts predict that by 1980 the production of these food products may increase twentyfold. If this holds true, the new soybean foods will compete not only with meat but with each other, depending upon consumer preferences. However, no one anticipates that these engineered foods will ever replace meat completely. It is expected that because they are highly nutritious and comparatively low in cost, they will increasingly fill the protein needs of many.

Tips For Gardeners
From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post
You may know March is fast approaching when winds of last week rolled in, and as always, welcome. A long needed good rain would lessen so much sand coming in and blowing away our soil, for most of our area is covered with a good dry turf. Here, it takes such a short period for green to show after plenty of moisture has fallen. The weather man says we can't expect much rain before the middle of March.
If your winter chores have piled up and are not finished, try to rush them up, and complete before the new growth on trees and plants appears.
A guide to pruning flowering shrubs may be helpful. They look their best when allowed to develop in their natural shapes, but require pruning to maintain them in their best form. Dead, diseased or damaged wood should be cut out, and old wood that interferes with new growth removed. Cut out the oldest and poorest branches all the way to the ground. Other branches may be shortened to a reasonable length to keep the plant from becoming unattractive. Shrubs can be trained to keep their natural shapes by thinning out old branches and pruning back to a bud to control the direction of growth. The new shoot will grow in the direction the bud points. Make a cut on a slant about even with the top of the bud. When removing an entire branch, make the cut flush with the stem.
Spring flowering shrubs bloom on wood formed the previous year, so they should have been pruned after their bloom of last spring. Some of these are Flowering Almond, Azaleas, Mock Orange, Dogwood, Barberry, Beauty Bush, Forsythia, Lilac, Camellia, Deutzia, Mountain Laurel, Weigela, Poinsettia, Pussy Willow, Spirea (Bridal Wreath), Sweet shrub, Mississippi Dogwood.
Summer flowering shrubs, however, bloom on wood produced the same season. This pruning should be done right now, if you haven't finished this chore, before new growth appears. Some of these are Abelia, Althea, Beauty Berry, Butterfly bush, Chinese Hibiscus, Crepe Myrtle, Holly, Hydrangea, Lemon Verbena, Nandina, Oleander, Pomegranate, Pyracantha, Quince, Roses (bush varieties), Tamarix, Smoke tree, Sumac.
Planting days for March:
Above ground crops - March 3, 4, 23, 26, 27, 30, 31.
Root Crops - 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 16, 17, 18, 21, 22.

Easter Seal Appeal To Open Friday
The 1974 Easter Seal Appeal will open in Crockett County on Friday, March 1, 1974 according to Roy H. Thompson, who serves as Easter Seal Representative for the County.
Thompson said that Easter Seal Appeal letters would begin arriving at homes in the county about March 1.
As Easter Seal Representative Thompson is the person to contact to request services from the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas. These services include physical and occupational therapy, speech and hearing programs and special information services to help solve the many problems faced by the families of handicapped children and adults.
Last year 20,570 handicapped people received help from the Texas Easter Seal Society. With the costs of providing expert professional care rising, more money than ever will be needed. Funds help support 18 centers in Texas, where services are provided to those crippled children and adults who cannot provide for themselves and who do not qualify for help from any other source.
"The people of Texas have always responded generously to helping the handicapped, and I feel certain they will make it possible to increase Easter Seal services to crippled Texans throughout the coming year," Thompson said.

Not much of a world—when you consider all its human imperfections. Yet it's the world we are giving our children—the world in which they must grow up and find their destiny. And we keep hoping that theirs will be a finer generation—one able to improve this world.

What our children eventually do with the world depends upon our spiritual resources and how we share these truths and ideals with them. By encouraging faith and showing them right from wrong, our children can become the finest generation, destined to change the world—for the better.

18-Year-Old Lottery To Be Held Mar. 20

County Gains Wildcat And Gas Producer

Young men born in 1955 will have their Selective Service lottery numbers drawn on March 20, even though there is no draft or plans to resume calls for involuntary military service. Col. Melvin N. Glantz, State Director of Selective Service for Texas announced today.

The sixth annual Selective Service lottery drawing for the nation's young men who become 19 years of age during 1974 will be held in Washington, D. C. on that date.

"Although the nation is at peace, it is generally recognized that there is the need to maintain a strong defense capability in order to insure continued peace," Col. Glantz said. "The present 'standby' Selective Service System, which continues to register and classify young men, is a vital part of our defense preparedness program."

Texas has approximately 110,000 19-year-olds who will have their lottery numbers established by this drawing, according to Glantz.

The Military Selective Service Act requires all young men to register with the System at the time of their 18th birthday. They are assigned their Random Sequence Number through the lottery which is held during the year in which they become 19 years of age. They are potentially vulnerable to induction throughout the calendar year of their 20th birthday; thereafter each year, they are placed in a lower priority selection group.

The President's induction authority would have to be restored by the Congress before these young men could be inducted. The Defense Department has issued no calls for draftees since December 1972.

In reminding Texas' young men that penalties for failing to register can range to as much as five years' imprisonment or a fine of $10,000, or both, Col. Glantz said that Selective Service has provided ways which enable men to register with minimum inconvenience.

In Texas, registration places have been established in every county. In addition to Selective Service System Area Offices, there are more than 1,200 uncompensated registrars operating in County Courthouses, Schools, National Guard Armories, and in other public places. Broad publicity has given notice to young men having responsibilities under the law to register, that registrars are available to them.
