Kitty's Korner

by Kitty Montgomery

We just missed having a centerfold this week. We were at the wrong place without the camera when the streaker, sneaker or whatever, came through town. However, many of the townsfolk as well as travelers on Hwy 290 did see the nude man with arms outstretched traveling in a boat lashed to the top of a small car. He probably would have gotten by with it, too, but you see, the boat was tilted.

The D.P.S. received numerous telephone calls and Patrol man Manuel Hartnet caught up with the strange looking rig about a mile out of Ozona on 290 west.

When the man saw the patrol car, he began frantically trying to get into a pair of cut-offs, but the jig was up. He was whisked into town and fined. He left Ozona broker, but dressed.

We went to the movie Saturday night to see a show we had been waiting for a long time. After the show, I had no idea what I had seen, I didn't know whether it had lived up to my expectations, I didn't know anything. In fact, I was punch

The entire night had been ruined by loud, rude, illmannered youngsters. All old enough to know better. Before the show began, several in cars began using the outdoor viewing area for a race track. Well, there was just no way to avoid the dust. Some of this went on even after the show began. Then a large crowd collected on the patio at the theatre. They threw things, shouted at each other and in general were obnoxious, thereby Supt. L. B. T. and in this we are fortunate, but if this behavior continues. it will become a hang-out for people who could care less about seeing a show. There have been many acts of wanton degree from Texas Tech Univdestruction also.

I could just shut up and forget it. I don't have to go to the show, and actually seldom do. However, I think that we as a community owe Tom and Tissie Mitchell enough respect to put a stop to this outlandish behavior. Parents are the only ones who can do this and believe me parents, it needs to

Davidson Family Establishes Scholarship

The Ozona Lions Club announced the formation of a rodeo scholarship fund this week. The fund has been founded by the family of Charles E. Davidson, Jr. and will be carried under that name. The initial check from the family was presented to the club by Lion Bill Watson.

The scholarship, consisting of $500, will be presented annually to the all-around boy or girl winner from Crockett County entered in the junior rodeo. A point system will be used to determine the winner and will be kept separately from the regular all-around points. This system will be used because the fund is limited to Crockett County youngsters only. The scholarship will be awarded and will be presented when the youth enters any accredited college or trade school.

The club expressed its appreciation to the Davidson family for the establishment of the scholarship fund, and their strong support of the youth of Crockett County. Anyone is welcome to contribute to the fund by sending donations to the Ozona Lions Club or the Ozona National Bank. Memorials will also be accepted and cards mailed.

IN PLAIN ENGLISH

Members of Congress are thoroughly accustomed to hearing meek and mild protests, occasionally, from the business community relative to proposed Congressional acts. It is not often that they hear exactly what businessmen think. But they did hear it, loud and clear, during a recent public Hearing before the House Committee on Agriculture, in testimony given by Mr. Dennis A. Turner, Research Director of a small trading firm in New York City.

The legislation under consideration was House Resolution 11955 which would give the U.S. Government authority to suspend trading in the commodities market "whenever it has reason to believe [that a condition exists] ... which threatens orderly trading" or whenever government officials question whether a proposed futures market is "economically justified."

Said Mr. Turner:

"Let us speak in plain English. "H.R. 11955 is malicious and stupid. The Bill is malicious because it provides stupendous and arbitrary powers to the Government over the livelihood of private citizens, and is stupid because, as with most state programs, it will fail to have any of the salubrious effects on futures markets which its proponents claim. The Bill demonstrates ignorance of the free market price system, hostility to private economic activity, ... would undoubtedly cause widespread corruption, the replacement of market pricing by Government edict, and the hiding from the public the consequences of capricious and incorrect Government interventions in the market."

Mr. Turner explained that the reason given for the proposed legislation was the admittedly high and fluctuating price changes in the commodity market. But, Turner went on to explain, "These situations are primarily the consequences of government intervention into the market place." As an example, he cited that "When in 1972 400 million bushels of wheat were sold to the USSR for a ridiculously low price, it was Government intervention in the form of export subsidies that was the cause. Without these export subsidies, no private company could nefits of 116,000 state workcommit a price for so large an amount of wheat, as they had no way of knowing what price they would pay for the wheat to cover their commitment. If wrong, the grain companies would be bankrupt. So it was the promise of subsidies that enabled the companies to commit to the Russians so much wheat at a fixed, low price. Naturally, the price of wheat rose as this became known, and the companies began to cover their commitments by purchasing wheat."

The record of history clearly indicates that government intervention tends to aggravate, rather than alleviate, economic problems. What is needed, then, is less, and not more, government interference in the free market.

DON'T TAMPER WITH U.S. MAIL

For decades, U.S. Postal Inspectors have been respected as the tions, the Health Depart-top enforcement agents in the country. Like the Canadian ment and Texas Youth Mounted Police they have a reputation for "getting their man."

Now Chief Postal Inspector William J. Cotter reports at some of some o Now Chief Postal Inspector William J. Cotter reports that his employees are involved.

"I believe the recent attitude of the courts toward postal offenders is critical in our attempts to protect employees from flation relief now. assaults and holdups," he said. "These stiffer sentences should act as a much needed deterrent on potential criminals who might otherwise prey with impunity on postal employees in the performance of their vital jobs of moving the mails.'

Chief Cotter recounted that last January in the Southern District of New York three persons were given multiple sentences for an attempted hijack of a mail truck during which a postal employee was killed. The trio were sentenced to life imprisonment on the murder count; 25 years on the assault count; and five years on a conspiracy count. The sentences are to run concurrently.

He also reported that in July of last year sentences totalling 145 years were dealt out to four gunmen who held up a postal Heavy sentences are also being meted out for sending pornographic material through the mails, Chief Cotter said.

"And," he added, "in a far-ranging investigation involving a group of active duty and former military personnel using the mails and military craft to transport heroin, several individuals have thus far been given sentences from 10 to 36 years in prison."

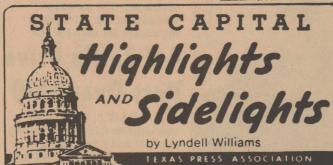

Too much has been reported lately of the courts handing down small sentences for criminal activities. Much has also been said about the abuse of probation and parole. It's a healthy sign to see that the courts are taking a stiffer attitude in one area. We hope it spreads so that hardened criminals cannot expect to get away with light sentences for serious crimes regardless of their

HERBERT HOOVER REMEMBERED

August 10 will mark the 100th anniversary of the birth of Herbert Hoover. He is not generally remembered in history as a great President. But he was unquestionably a great man.

It was Hoover's enormous bad fortune to be President when the stock market crashed in 1929. Neither he nor anyone else knew how to revive the economy and it languished from then until the start of World War II.

AUSTIN, Tex. — Legislative budget planners recommended nearly $480 million in pay raises and fringe benefits for 116,000 state employees next year.

General revenue cost of the package (which includes a 23.8 per cent salary boost for lower-scale personnel and higher travel allowances) is about $285 million.

CITIES LOSE MONEY — A group of Texas cities got the sad news last week that they will not get federal grants they requested to build sewage treatment plants.

About 204 projects were tabled because of a $27 million federal fund deficit this fiscal year.

A total of $142.1 million in FY '75 money is available to Texas. But Texas Water Quality Board's "project list" includes $169.1 million worth of projects.

Projects are carried on the TWQB list in line with how important they are to water pollution control.

FOOD CRUNCH NEXT — A 'food crunch" could make the energy crisis seem mild by comparison, according to Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

A sudden world demand for better quality food is driving grocery prices up again, White said, and causing Americans to compete with the world markets for their own products.

U.S. producers can keep up with the demand if they have time to gear up, White stated. He predicted the Un-ited Nations World Food Conference in Rome next November can "make or break" U.S. agriculture. He warned against commitment to "specific deals . . . which would handicap our own agriculture marketing system.

Ozona Garden Club Tours Tips For Gardeners The Miller Ranch Home

The Ozona Garden Club made its annual horticulture Garden Tour last Thursday afternoon to the ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Miller, 22 miles south of Ozona. The event marked the annual tour of an outstanding park, trail or home landscape.

The newly redecorated home and lovely garden were as nearly perfection as one could hope for. Featured around the white painted fence were hundreds of yellow pots planted with many varieties of flowers and caladiums.

In the entrance area as well as the outdoor living and work area, the large beautiful pecan, weeping willow and mulberry trees formed a canopy for the tiered flower beds, window boxes, hanging baskets and wall potted plants.

A colorful harmony of crimson caladiums and red cascade geraniums, bordered by dwarf begonias and river fern greeted members as they arrived. The unity of organization was breathtaking and beautiful.

The private area was less formal, a place to relax, serve meals and enjoy living. Here, the planting had a variety of colors in mixed potted caladiums, hibiscus, geraniums, daylilies, tropical plants in a shady area with wall baskets.

Nearby was the cutting garden of marigolds, balsam, calendulas, cosmos, Queen of Hearts pinks, large flowering begonia, butterfly, dwarf, bronze leaved melody begonia, Gerber daisies, perennial phlox, Salmon Pygmy salvia, and another salvia that does well here in partial shade and Sight Delight in pastels. When asked how she kept the soil here so friable. Mrs. Miller said the soil was turned each spring and sand added before planting. Members were then shown Mrs. Miller's real work area both in spring and winter, the hot house. Here she places plants which will freeze, to take cuttings from, and to plant seed for spring seedlings to replace annuals each year. Here too, everything was perfectly organized and arranged.

After the garden tour, members were invited into the newly re-decorated home. The living-dining-kitchen area is one large room overlooking a picturesque view of the beautiful garden and south portion of the ranch.

Before leaving for the tour, members met at the home of Mrs. Gene Lilly, program chairman, for a called business plans for the fall sale of bulbs, day lilies, peonies and other plants. Time and place of the sale will be announced at a later date. Members were reminded to be gathering dried material and driftwood for use in arrangements and mini planters.

Those making the tour of the Miller ranch home were Mrs. Jay Miller, Mrs. Walter Glover, Mrs. Carlson Glover, Mrs. V. I. Pierce, and garden club members Mrs. L. L. Bryant, Mrs. Joe Boy Chapman, Mrs. Fleet Coates, Mrs. Bob Childress, Mrs. L. B. Cox, Jr., Mrs. Joe Tom Davidson, Mrs. Maggie Crawford, Mrs. J. W. From the Ozona Garden Club Mrs. Bailey Post

If you plan to have a fall garden, August is the month to prepare beds for flowers and vegetables.

It is said that plants are only as good as the soil they grow in. Luther Burbank said he could grow plants from any part of the world in a soil mixture of one-third coarse sand, one-third garden clay and onethird rotted barnyard fertilizer. 3-Bedroom, 2 bath, Country This dry summer may make the soil preparation more difficult than if we could have a good soaking rain. One advantage of alkaline soil is that there is a much wider variety of alkaline plants than acid-

Plants that grow well in alkaline soil are fruit trees, rock gardens, cacti, succulents, vegetables, the majority of garden flowers, marigolds, stock, sunflower, carnation, pinks, tulips and summer bulbs.

If you want petunias to have another time around for bloommeeting to announce and make ing, remove stems which have a scarcity of leaves or yellowing. Trim plants to reshape but avoid cutting back into hard woody growth. Give them a complete fertilizer (8-8-8). This treatment should produce new blooms until frost.

When foliage starts to yellow, dig gladiolus corms for winter storage or pull off top and mound with dirt to protect corm. Remove all old blooms on daisy and daylily plants and others that have finished the blooming season.

Some plants will tolerate dry conditions better than others. Hardy shrubs, such as oleander, lantana, rosemary, loquat and others will go weather without any ill effects. One group can take some wilting without suffering damage. These are junipers, Japanese nese holly and hawthorn. Still other shrubs like azaleas, camellias and hydrangeas are shallow rooted and suffer imlacking in the soil.

(Recipe? Maybe not quite. But if you want a cheap, easy dish to serve 2 or 20, try it.)

CARD OF THANKS May we take this opportunity to thank all our friends for the many kindnesses and the sympathy shown us during the illness and death of our loved one. A special thank you to Dr. and Mrs. Don Carlisle for their constant care and help. May God bless you.

In another moment he will be getting up and walking toward you, eager to tell the secret of his calmness and strength. Will you listen?

He has solved many problems, overcome much grief and temptation, been able to meet the conditions of every-day living, all because through the Church he has come in contact with the Source of all power. In the Church he has found companionship. Its worship services have brought faith, peace and serenity. Its activities have furnished an outlet for his creative abilities and energy. The Church has been a part of his life from boyhood. Through its various departments the needs of his life have been met. He has enjoyed the fellowship there and, looking back, he is able to trace his own growth.

Have you learned his secret? Wouldn't you like to know it?

What the Church has done for him it can do for you. If you are young, it will help meet your problems. If you are older, it will bring satisfaction and peace.
