This has been a busy week in Ozona, what with graduation coming up, end of school and Little League season slated to get under way Monday night. The cold winds of winter seem quite far away.

You will notice some graduation news and ads in the paper this week, but our annual graduation edition will be printed next week. We will have the senior class picture and all the scoop we can gather about this year's graduating class.

Don't know what happened to the Lion's Roar this week. Didn't show up. I expect to get a call from one of the girls who write it just after the paper leaves for the printer.

We didn't have a chance to get the Little League team rosters this week.

I was more than a little amused to find that many girls went out for places on the teams and some made it.

Tom has been incensed. He says girls should be at home playing with their dolls and they will never make one who is as good as a boy in baseball.

He had to swallow his words Tuesday, however, when he found out that a girl, Sandra Tambunga, hit the only home run in a practice game here Monday night.

He said the next thing we knew, girls would be playing football. He was moaning over the fact that he finished school thirty years too soon. But consoled himself with the fact that he would have been sitting on the bench for "holding," the biggest part of the time.

I believe the meeting of DPS personnel with residents of Ozona's south side produced some very positive results and this is always good. I noticed that the women seemed interested in having more law enforcement officers patrolling their streets. Makes me think if the women all over town got together and formed an organization we might be able to bring about an end to wild driving all over this town, along with a few other things I could mention.

I thought my street was the drag strip, but guess it's a problem all over town.

Cheerleaders Elected At OHS For Next Year

Cheerleaders for the fall school term were elected by the student body at Ozona High School last week.

Lupe Tambunga, junior, was elected head cheerleader. Others elected were seniors, Dawn Burns and Carmen Galvan; juniors, Karen Bebee and Kathy Sewell and sophomore, Jeannine Perry.

BLAZING DIESEL FUEL CONSUMED THIS TRUCK and traffic on Highway 290 was held up for two to two and a half hours early last Wednesday morning about four miles east of Ozona. The truck, which belonged to Zachry Co., had a full load of fuel, some 500 gallons. It was a complete loss along with the truck. Firemen exhausted the water supply in all trucks and were forced to return to town for more water just about the time they had the blaze under control.

FFA Awards Presented At Parent-Son Banquet Monday

The annual FFA Parent and Son Banquet was held May 5th at the Sonny Henderson home. FFA students, their parents, school board members and special guests were present. Approximately 125 people were served a hamburger supper prepared by the FFA students and mothers.

Richard Harrison gave the invocation and Bill Bissett gave the welcome address. Chapter Farmer degree

Firemen Battle Truck Flames

Ozona firemen brought a diesel truck fire under control near here Wednesday morning after using between 5,000 and 6,000 gallons of water.

The truck, which had just been to town and took on a full load of diesel, contained 500 gallons of the flammable fuel. Intense heat and billowing black smoke hampered firemen.

The driver discovered the fire about four miles east of Ozona on Hwy. 290 and abandoned the truck. The vehicle, which belonged to Zachry Co., was a total loss.

The three Ozona fire trucks were augmented by two water spraying vehicles from Zachry.

Jeffreys Is New M&Y Director At First Baptist

Mike Jeffreys has moved to Ozona with his family and taken over duties of Youth and Music Director for First Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffreys moved here recently with their daughter, Wendy Lavon, 17 month of age.

Jeffreys was born in Big Spring in 1949 and moved with his family to Abilene at the age of six months. He attended Abilene schools and graduated from Abilene High School in 1968. He attended Hardin-Simmons University.

He married Judy Altum in Mesa, Arizona, August 8, 1970. Before moving to Ozona, Mike was music and youth director for several churches in Texas. He pastored Hodges Baptist Church, north of Abilene. He was ordained there.

County Has No Authority To Halt Road Use

In a special called meeting of the Commissioners Court Monday morning, Judge Troy Williams appointed Commissioner Precinct 4 Jesus Castro to explain to the residents of Lima addition that the county has no authority to keep an oil company's equipment off county roads.

The decision was reached after a group met with the court to protest the using of the Lima Cemetery road to allow the company access to some locations on country south of town.

Several other routes were explored following the meeting, but the court was forced to the conclusion that the county had no legal authority to keep the company off county roads. The company will use Monterey Street, the most direct route to its property, or the road between the two cemeteries, which is also the entrance to Lima Cemetery.

The commissioners and the judge were the only adults at the meeting. A group of high school students were present. Judge Williams told them they were getting a first hand look at democracy at the county level, and pointed out the fact that decisions by a governing body were not always easy and clear-cut.

Annual 4-H Style Revue Is Saturday

The annual Crockett County 4-H Style Revue will be Saturday, May 10th at the Civic Center. Approximately 50 4-H members are expected to participate. This year's theme will be "From Rags to Riches".

All parents, guests, and friends are invited to attend the Style Revue and 4-H Awards Program at 3:30 p.m. The 4-Hers will be modeling the garments they constructed in their 4-H project groups. Judging will start promptly at 1:00 p.m. with out-of-town judges scoring the members.

Each member is judged individually. Fifty points will be counted for the outfit and the person (posture, grooming, fit the person, accessories, practicality of the outfit). Fifty points are counted for the construction (quality of work, well pressed inconspicuous hem, creative techniques, and others).

NEW PRESIDENT FOR FIRST SAVINGS

Joseph R. Kilman has been elected president and a director of First Savings and Loan Association of San Angelo to succeed Virgil R. Savoy who was elected president and a director of Corpus Christi Savings and Loan Assn. Both positions became effective May 1.

First Savings has a branch office in Ozona located at 912 11th Street.

MACO And Law Enforcement Officers Clear The Air

Highway patrolmen Tom Finley and Manuel Hartnett were guests at the Mexican American Community Organization meeting Friday night at the Parish Hall, along with their supervisor Sgt. F.E. Boyd of San Angelo.

Thomas DeHoyos, president of the organization, introduced the officers and they in turn gave brief biographies of themselves as law enforcement officers.

DeHoyos then read a statement which asked that better communications be established between the Department of Public Safety officers and the Mexican American community. He mentioned some animosity which had arisen over some incidents occurring during arrests of Mexican Americans and stated that better communications would enhance public respect for the officers.

Puzzled, Sgt. Boyd asked DeHoyos to go over the statement again. DeHoyos explained that MACO wants to have a more relaxed atmosphere. He said, "Everytime we see officers here we become tense and on the defensive."

Sgt. Boyd said that a line of communications was a two-way street and that since his men, Finley and Hartnett, were strangers in Ozona, it was up to the community to make them feel welcome.

Patrolman Hartnett cited incidents which clearly indi-

Baccalaureate For Seniors Is Sunday Night

Baccalaureate service for the 1975 graduating class of Ozona High School will be held Sunday, May 11, at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The forty-odd seniors will march into the auditorium to the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance," played by Belinda Bebee at the piano.

Bill Morrison, minister of the Church of Christ, will give the invocation. The audience will join in the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," with Mike Jeffreys, minister of youth and music at First Baptist, directing. The sermon will be given by James Plagens, pastor of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic Church, and the benediction will be given by Rev. Ben Bohmfalk, pastor of Ozona United Methodist Church.

The public is cordially invited to attend the service. Programs will be presented at the door.

Graduation exercises will be held the following Friday night, May 16, in the high school auditorium at 8 p.m.

cated to him and his partner, Finley, that at least one group of Mexican Americans were hostile and did not want them around because they are law enforcement officers. He cited telephone threats as one indication of the hostility.

Sgt. Boyd reminded the group that the officers are human and have feelings the same as other people. Civil Rights Chairman Sostenes DeHoyos charged that the two officers had on several occasions used unnecessary force when making arrests in the Lima community and on residents there. He asked the sergeant to define generally the mission of the highway patrolmen.

Sgt. Boyd replied that the officers of the Highway Patrol had the same authority as any other law enforcement officer with the exception they are not bound by county lines. They are charged with enforcement of all traffic and criminal laws in the state, the Sergeant answered.

The sergeant replied that when a person resists arrest, the officer has the right to use whatever force necessary to take the subject into custody. The discussion got around to an incident which occurred the first week in March when officers were called to a resident on Santa Anna Street and blows were exchanged between officer Hartnett and Pinky Rodriguez.

Sgt. Boyd reminded the group that Rodriguez did resist arrest and that the incident had been investigated by the F.B.I. and the officer had been cleared of any misconduct. Officer Hartnett gave a detailed account of the incident in question. Sonny Vasquez, the only other one present at the meeting who also witnessed the affray, was asked if Hartnett gave a true account. After some discussion, Vasquez agreed that he did.

Several accusations were made and an incident involving Vasquez was recounted, when suddenly Aurora Gutierrez asked from the floor that the meeting be brought back to the original purpose. She said she felt the discussion out of order.

DeHoyos said he and his group did not question the law, but did ask that when a disturbance occurred in the south part of town they wanted the sheriff's department to handle it and nobody else. He said that there had been no fights or beatings in twenty years with the sheriff's department answering disturbances.

Sgt. Boyd informed the chair that his officers did not enjoy this sort of work, but that he could not stop them from giving aid. At the time of the incident Deputy Page was new in Ozona and did not know where to find the disturbance. He said officer Hartnett did what any other law enforcement officer would have done under the same circumstances.

DeHoyos said his point was that there had been no incidents of beatings or physical force in the past twenty years from personnel of the sheriff's department and his group wanted Sheriff Mills, Rex Fenton or one of the deputies to have the first opportunity when called.

The sergeant replied that he couldn't limit his men from enforcing the law and asked why DeHoyos' people couldn't go peacefully with his officers as well as with the sheriff's officers. He added that if the patrolmen are the only officers around they must answer calls.

Officer Hartnett said there had been several incidents when he and his partner, Finley, had been the only officers in town. He said he had made only two disturbance calls in the south part of town and denied the charge that they constantly patrolled the south side of town.

Officer Finley added that they only made disturbance calls when called out, and said that he had no intention of waiting down the street and allowing property to be damaged or a fight to go on, until county officers could arrive.

Sgt. Boyd reminded the group that the sheriff and his three deputies might be at the far ends of this large county when disturbance calls came in, and that his men had the job of protecting all the people, not just those in some sections of the town.

Mrs. Nepoleon Vitela seemed to take just the opposite stand from DeHoyos when she said she would like to see more patrolmen on the streets in the south side of town. Especially on weekends when drunk drivers were hot-rodging down the streets.

Speaking to the officers she said, "We have had three children run over, it is dangerous and we wonder where you are."

A fruitful discussion followed and the sergeant told the audience to call the D.P.S. office anytime they felt in need of an officer and one would be there to help them. He said his department worked for all the people, not one segment.

Officer Finley said he and his partner knew the south side of town needed more police patrol, but that they had avoided the south side because they felt they weren't wanted. (CONTINUED ON LAST PAGE)

DPS PATROLMEN AND FIREMEN WERE CALLED out when a potentially dangerous situation came about, the result of a wreck on Hwy 290 near Triangle Park Friday morning. The pickup and trailer, loaded with fertilizer, and traveling east on 290 was struck by a late model Chrysler, driven by Mrs. Early Baggett and entering the intersection at Ave. H. The collision burst the gasoline tank and gasoline spread over the busy highway. Firemen are washing the pavement down with water. The pickup belonged to Miller Co. and was driven by David North.

ROAD CONSTRUCTION SOUTH OF TOWN causes blackout just after noon Monday. During operation, this large crane managed to pull down several electrical lines, shutting off electricity to much of the town including downtown businesses. However, utility service men had the electricity back on shortly, and took care of the hot lines across the tip of the crane and the roadbed.

The Birds And Bees vs. The ABC's

By ROBERT M. BARTELL

WASHINGTON, D.C. (Liberty Lobby News Service)—A direct quote from the March 9, 1975, issue of the Los Angeles Times states, "Is America ready for a children's sex education book as explicit as The Joys of Sex?" Some child psychologists and even the publishers are not sure. But ready or not, America is going to get it this spring.

The story behind this new sex book entitled Show Me, is fantastic. The book was written in Germany where it created an uproar. Still it was sold in bookstores. What upsets most parents is the fact that the models for the explicit sex photographs are children. The children progress from mutual fondling to a wide range of love-making techniques.

Because of the vast publicity surrounding the release of the book, the initial press run has been increased from 25 to 100 thousand. The most surprising rebuff the book has yet encountered came when the left wing Sex Information and Education Council of the United States (SIECUS) refused to endorse it. Dr. Derek Burleson, Director of SIECUS says, "It's simply too much in one shot, too diverse." You don't have to be a psychologist to realize that they should immediately engage in exotic and perverted sex play.

Author Dr. Helga Fleishauer-Hardt argues that if children are forbidden to experiment, they continue anyway but experience feelings of anxiety and guilt. Apparently Dr. Fleishauer-Hardt feels experiencing sexual anxieties is far worse than promiscuous love-making between children who haven't even reached adolescence.

Evidently, some publishers and book dealers are startled by the book. But perhaps some feel that placing the book on market would produce such a violent adverse reaction that much of the publishing permissiveness allowed today would be curtailed and this source of profits endangered.

Distribution of the book in this country will be restricted to areas on the East and West coasts. In the South and Midwest, according to one bookstore buyer, the book will be held back until reaction on the coasts can be tested. The buyer stated, "You never know. There are some places where a book like that could get your store burned down."

The introduction of a book of this nature is so shocking it makes the sex education textbooks already in some schools pale by comparison. Some communities are doing something about dirty textbooks. It takes time, effort and deep concern, but it can be done. If we believe school administrators should have the sole right to choose the textbooks from which our children will learn, we must be prepared to live with their decisions. To forfeit the responsibility of at least participating in the selection or rejection of textbooks, is to forfeit the control of our children's minds.

Can America afford children brought up without learning the value of morality? Reader's comments are welcome. Please pass along any points of view to: Liberty Lobby, Dept. 5-2, 300 Independence Ave., S.E., Washington, D.C. 20003.

PROGRESSIVE TEACHING IN ST. PAUL

Some sort of a special medal should be awarded to Superintendent of Schools Ray I. Powell of South St. Paul, Minnesota. While the trend in a great many public schools has been toward barbarism, Superintendent Powell has courageously called upon all administrators and teachers to encourage high moral values in school children, in keeping with the positive virtues which parents seek to instill in their children. Dr. Powell recognizes that "parents have the prime responsibility for the inculcation of those moral and spiritual values desired for their children." But if it is not the prime responsibility of public schools to encourage moral behavior, certainly it is not the responsibility, nor the authority, of public schools to undermine such standards.

Accordingly, in a memorandum to all School Board members, administrators and teachers, Superintendent Powell said: "Rather, the efforts of the public schools, henceforth, shall be directed towards expanding those complementary learning experiences in other areas of the total curriculum that will enhance these . . . parental values, i.e.:

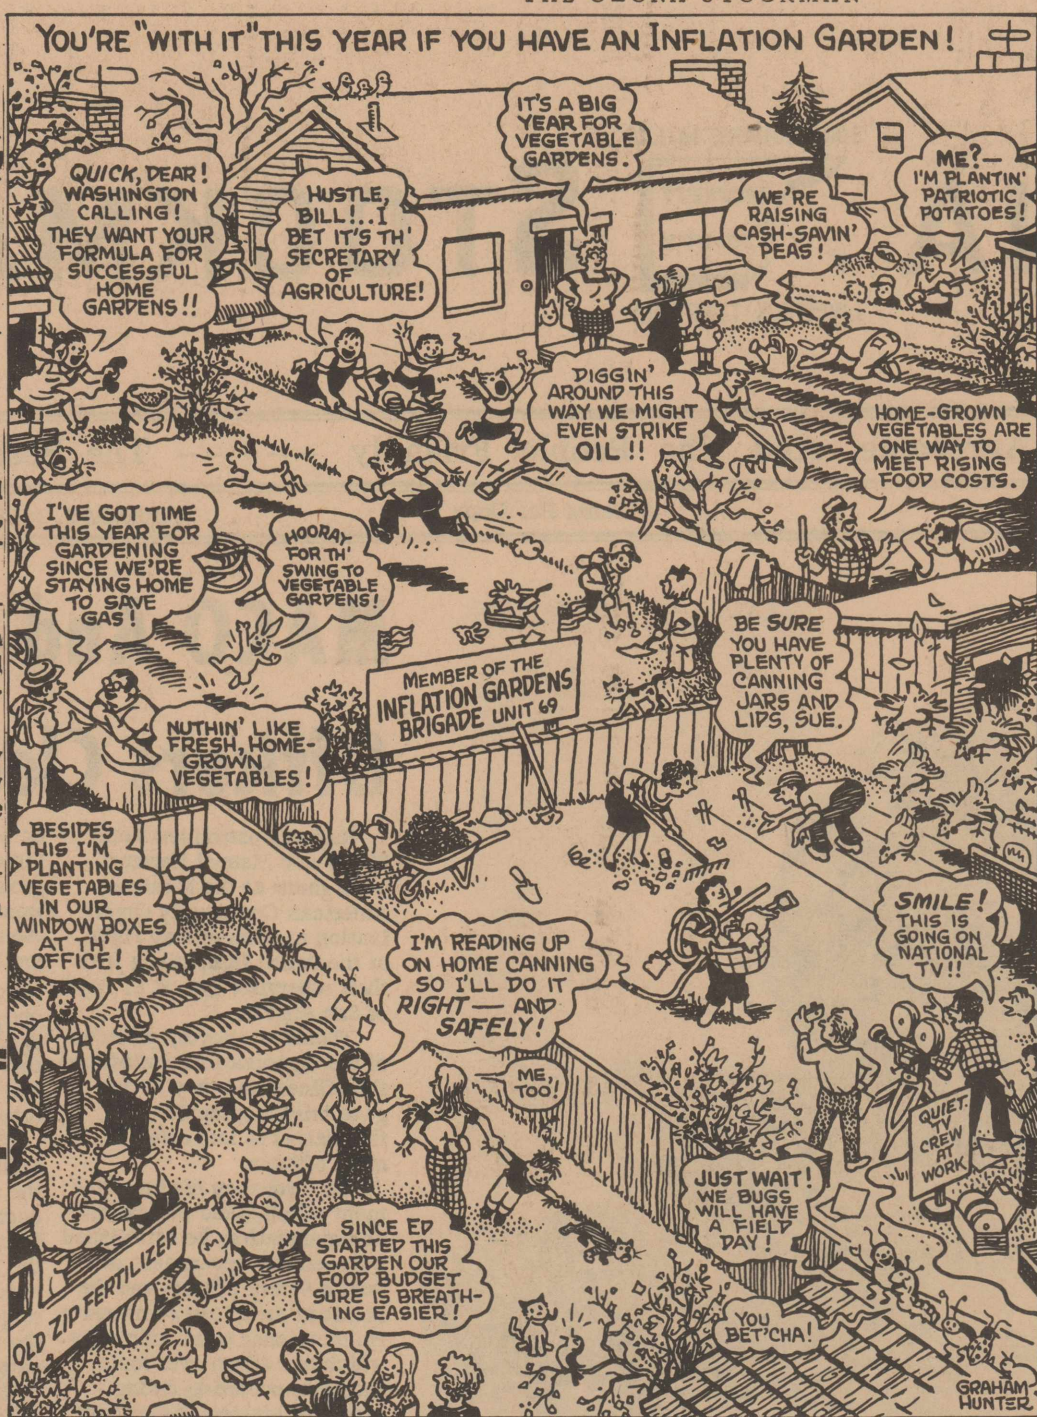

- preservation of the family unit
- feminine role of wife, mother, and homemaker
- masculine role of guide, protector, and provider
- advocacy of home and family values
- respect for family structure and authority
- enhancement of womanhood and femininity
- restoration of morality."

In order to confront and overcome the great challenges facing our country, we are going to need the highest calibre of citizenship. It is encouraging to find school administrators such as Superintendent Powell who recognize that challenge and seek to prepare our youth to meet it.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Lyndell Williams

AUSTIN—Major legislation bearing on property tax values throughout the State has been passed by the House and sent to the Senate.

Representatives approved two separate measures which some contend provide for "the first major overhaul of the property tax structure in Texas this century."

HB 637 by Rep. Luther Jones of El Paso establishes a legislative tax board which will conduct an $8 million statewide audit of taxable property during the next two years.

HB 1463 by Rep. Wayne Peveo of Orange would direct all property tax appraisals to be made by countywide offices. Local taxing authorities would still establish their own tax rates and assessment ratios under the legislation.

The State Comptroller's office would develop standards and procedures for the county tax appraisers.

Both bills are regarded as important to school finance reform. Many of the school measures would base allocation of state aid on market value of district property.

Bills important to the legislative process cleared the House in a busy week.

HB 4 revises the 1973 campaign reporting and disclosure act, and establishes a bipartisan commission to enforce it.

SB 300, with a controversial party purity amendment attached, provides for a computer-policed permanent voter registration system. The measure returns to the Senate, which previously has rejected the "purity" provision requiring voters to register by party preference.

Other major bills passed by the House last week would provide for establishment of Health Maintenance Organizations (SB 180) and encourage rape victims (HB 284) to report crimes and aid prosecutors in getting convictions. The HMO bill went back to the Senate with a minor amendment and is expected soon to be signed into law.

LAWYERS CURBED A State Bar of Texas Committee on Professional Ethics has held city councilmen and mayors who are lawyers should not practice in municipal courts or represent clients in cases initiated by city police officers.

Morris Hassell of Rusk, committee chairman, said some of the same reasoning used in the opinion could be applied to legislators practicing before state agencies.

COURTS SPEAK A State Supreme Court decision cast doubts on cities' rights to regulate telephone rates for "extended metropolitan area service."

The high court upheld an intermediate House court finding that a city has no inherent power to regulate utility rates, but only that granted by the legislature.

The Supreme Court also affirmed a $139,194 damage judgment against a Houston finance firm following the death of a man from a heart attack after efforts to collect a $158 debt.

In another case, the high court found no usury in a Dallas savings association's $24,985 profit from arranging a $160,000 loan for a development firm.

AG OPINIONS

The legislature has authority to require public utilities to refund to customers excessive rates, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, the Attorney General concluded:

A commissioner's court is not required to call an election for purpose of invalidating previously authorized road bonds on presentation of a petition.

The legislature may alter the method of selecting members of public service boards so long as the agencies' economic obligations are not impaired.

A commissioner's court's mere refusal to ratify a prior action allegedly taken in violation of the open meetings act does not of itself have the effect of invalidating the earlier action.

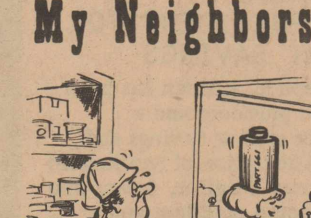

SHORT SNORTS

The Governor entered into an agreement with the U.S. Department of Labor allowing unemployed Texans to receive an extension of up to 13 weeks in unemployment benefits.

School Land Board announced bids will be received for a large oil and gas lease sale June 3. Another sale is scheduled at the same time for Texas Youth Council, Parks and Wildlife Department and Department of Corrections lands.

The Senate passed a bill to require coverage of alcoholism in health and accident insurance policies.

POWER TALKS by U.S. Senator for Texas JOHN TOWER

Dominoes, anyone?

WASHINGTON—"The discredited domino theory . . ." You've heard that phrase before. It drips like honey from the tongues of television newscasters. It punctuates the lectures of political science professors. And it is the sum and substance of the geopolitical thinking of all too many Senators and Congressmen.

But when was the "discredited domino theory" discredited? President Eisenhower put the "domino theory" into our political vocabulary when, at a news conference in April, 1954, he was asked what the consequences would be of a Communist victory over the French in North Vietnam.

President Eisenhower said: ". . . you have broader considerations that might follow what you would call the 'falling domino' principle. You have a row of dominoes set up, you knock over the first one, and what will happen to the last one is the certainty that it will go over quickly."

Eisenhower meant that if Communist aggression was not checked, it would spread throughout Southeast Asia in much the same way as Nazi aggression spread through Europe in the 1930s.

"We come to the possible sequence of events," he said, "the loss of Indochina, of Burma, of Thailand, of the Peninsula and Indonesia following . . ."

With the benefit of 20-20 hindsight, we can determine whether Eisenhower was right or wrong.

In 1954, shortly after the President's press conference, the Communists came to power in North Vietnam. After a bloody period of consolidating their gains, North Vietnamese Communists sponsored insurgents in Laos, resulting in the formation of a neutralist government there in 1961. With the Ho Chi Minh Trail through Laos now secure, the North Vietnamese stepped up aggression against South Vietnam. When the Cambodian people threw out a pro-Communist ruler there, the North Vietnamese organized an insurgency against that beleaguered country.

The Thais have perhaps the most sensitive political antennae of all the Indochinese people. They "allied" themselves with the Japanese just in time to prevent an occupation of their country during WWII, and switched to the Americans before it was clear to most others that the Rising Sun was setting. The Thais have recently asked the Americans to leave their country. They know which way the dominoes are falling.

If Thailand makes an "independent accommodation" with the Communists, the road to Malaysia, the Philippines, Indonesia and Australia is clear.

In the 1954 press conference, Eisenhower said: "the possible consequences of the loss are just incalculable to the Free World."

That was true then, and it is true now.

Tips For Gardeners
From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

May is the month you can almost see spring-to-summer transition in your garden. Early bulbs and shrubs have bloomed. Later varieties are coming into flower. The most colorful now are the many beautiful amaryllis. Many shrubs are showing new growth for bloom later in the summer. Fertilize crepe myrtle now with an application of 5-10-10 or 8-8-8 commercial fertilizer to stimulate plants, causing full clusters of blooms during the summer. Use about 3 cups to a large mature plant and 1 cup to smaller or newly set plants. Work fertilizer into the soil and water well. Soak soil once a week if there is no rainfall. This is one of the more colorful and durable plants for our area, blooming most of the summer. You will enjoy one, or in a group in your landscape. Cut back annuals to stop terminal growth, making bushier plants and encourage formation of more flower heads. Some of these are petunias, zinnias, snapdragon, phlox, pinks, verbena and ageratum. Don't pinch back cockscomb, poppy or strawflowers. Seeding dahlias may be pinched back until August 1st to induce fall blooms. Plant zinnias, marigolds, salvia, portulaca and periwinkles for heavy blooming during the hot months. Don't forget to prune your once-a-year climbing roses. At the same time remove all dead and old limbs. Divide and reset irises when blooming has finished and before the weather gets so hot. You may want to wait until fall to reset. Do not cut back foliage unless resetting. Cannas give you many flowers and are making a strong comeback in our gardens. They are easily grown in fertile, moist soil in full sun or part shade. Their "banana tree" foliage and showy blooms give a tropical accent to the summer scene. They are attractive in beds to themselves, massed in front of shrubs or in tubs on the patio or terrace. Leaves dry naturally in beautiful shapes or may be dried flat under a weight between newspapers.

Soil Stewardship Week To Be Held

Soil Stewardship Week, a nationwide observance which emphasizes man's responsibility to protect and conserve soil, water, and other natural resources, will be held May 4-11 this year, according to Clitis Sinclair, manager of the Crockett County Soil Conservation Service. This year's theme, "Test of Strength," emphasizes how the many changes now occurring in the nation truly test our strength and affect our continuing responsibility to be good stewards of the land. The purpose of the observance is to create a larger awareness of our responsibilities for stewardship of the natural resources that sustain us. Food and energy shortages, environmental pollution, and the growing concern over land use are examples of changes and developments affecting the use of America's natural resources. During Soil Stewardship Week, millions of Americans will pause for a moment to consider their responsibilities for the protection and use of the earth, said Sinclair. The Crockett Soil and Water Conservation District, upon request, will provide local churches with bulletin inserts. The material was prepared by the National Soil Stewardship Advisory Committee of the National Association of Conservation Districts. This will be the 21st consecutive year districts throughout the nation have sponsored Soil Stewardship Week.

INCREASED DEMAND FOR FREEZERS - Americans are using more freezers now than ever before. Home gardening, microwave appliances and using frozen convenience foods have increased consumer demand for freezers. Homemakers who work outside the home find that they have less time to shop and fix meals. Frozen foods--whether home frozen or commercial products--make those homemakers' lives easier and meals more manageable. Rapid increase in backyard gardens has spurred consumers to buy freezers so they can take full advantage of home-grown produce. Another appliance--the microwave oven--has contributed to consumers' demands for freezers. Homemakers have found that this appliance defrosts frozen foods quickly--then cooks them rapidly. This makes the best use of convenient frozen foods. USING FREEZERS CAN SAVE MONEY - Whether or not it pays to have a freezer depends on how it's used. Consumers make a major investment in a freezer, both in initial cost and operating costs. But using the freezer to fullest advantage can make it a profitable investment. Shoppers can take advantage of special bargains on meat, frozen fruits, vegetables and desserts. A good practice is to keep the freezer about two-thirds full--so there will be room for a bargain when it's advertised. The freezer operates most efficiently when filled this amount or when full. Having a freezer keeps homemakers from shopping so often, and once-a-week shopping can save time and money. Leftovers needn't taste stale because the freezer holds them at their flavor peak for longer than a refrigerator would. Cutting down on wasted food can also save money for the freezer owner. A rapid rate of food turnover is recommended. Practice the "first foods out" rule, which will also help reduce the operating cost per pound of food. Love and Security

You don't need to know much about polar bears to get the message here. This cub hasn't a worry in the world. But one day he'll grow up to know all the frustrations of life in captivity. Motherhood is security... but only for awhile. And the human mother is no more able to perpetuate the bond of total protection than is her wild counterpart. Some parents today have abdicated their responsibility to guide their children. They have broken the family bonds too soon. Their children pay for this negligence: They age--but they don't mature. Whims are fickle... and momentary. The Church strives to replace such elusive goals with something more substantial, something more stable. The inner values of character and faith remain as vital today as ever. In our turbulent society, tranquility can only be found inside a person. Such stability and serenity could be your greatest gift to your child.

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

That popular image of modern man's softness is a false one. If you're not an outdoorsman you'll probably be surprised to learn that today's campers are sturdy souls and fully able to cope with most any situation that arises.

True, outdoor equipment and the inventiveness of outdoorsmen have combined to "better" the sportsman's living conditions.

Much credit for such physical fitness is of course due to fine medical facilities being within easy reach, nourishing food immediately at hand and solid, practical, yet lightweight outdoor equipment. Too, supplies are obtainable virtually everywhere.

But, most of the advantage is in "know-how" and modern-day outdoorsmen know more about the wilderness than Daniel Boone ever imagined possible.

Today's explorers know well the basics of camping, tent pitching and outdoor cooking. They have learned from first-hand experience.

It is predicted that there are 20,000 active campers in Texas alone... which offers quite a lot of valuable experience to share with one another. Today thousands of outdoorsmen travel over mountains, through wildernesses and tread the prairies for every trapper or explorer who did so a hundred years ago.

Shortage of gasoline has caused many outdoorsmen to wonder if their activities are about to end. We don't think so. Today it's part and parcel of healthy living.

Frankly, if everyone who drives a motor vehicle does so economically, we should have no serious gasoline worries.

Trouble is, some won't. Today people are not conformists. Non-conformists will bring on rationing, if that time comes.

We were around when gasoline had to be rationed. It presented no great problem then, and neither will it again if everyone cooperates.

True, long trips may be out for awhile -- but only until inventive geniuses come up with an energy substitute for gasoline -- and they will.

Meanwhile, your recreational activities need not suffer. Give serious consideration to what the immediate vicinity has to offer.

Recreational facilities in your county alone are probably more abundant than you realize -- and chances are you haven't visited many of them.

Why not try camping, fishing and hunting in the close-by areas? Always the grass looks greener at a distance -- but it ain't necessarily so!

KEBABS AND PILAF--Marinated lamb chunks, skewered, broiled and served with rice pilaf add a touch of the East to traditional tables. Fresh, skewered vegetables provide eye appeal and balance to the meal. For additional recipes write Commissioner John C. White, Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Tex. 78711.

LAMB KEBABS WITH PILAF

1/4 cup tarragon vinegar
 1/4 cup dry white wine (optional)
 2 Tbsp. salad oil
 1 clove garlic, minced
 2 Tbsp. mixed pickling spice
 1/4 tsp. crushed rosemary
 1 1/2 pounds boned lamb leg or shoulder cut in 1 1/2-inch pieces
 1 large green pepper cut in wedges
 2 medium tomatoes cut in wedges
 2 medium onions cut in wedges
 2 medium squash, sliced

Combine vinegar, wine, oil, garlic, pickling spice and rosemary. Pour over lamb pieces and marinate several hours or overnight in refrigerator. Arrange lamb on skewers and place in broiler; brush with marinade. Broil 2-4 inches from source of heat 5-8 minutes per side. Thread the vegetables on additional skewers. Place under broiler and continued cooking around 5 minutes or until meat and vegetables are done. Brush frequently with marinade. Serve lamb and vegetables on rice pilaf. Yield: Four servings.

Rice Pilaf

Melt 1/4 cup butter in skillet over low heat. Add 1 cup raw rice and 2 Tbsp. minced onion. Cook, stirring frequently, until rice turns opaque. Add 2 cups chicken broth; cover and simmer 15-20 minutes or until all liquid is absorbed and rice is tender. For additional recipes write Commissioner John C. White, Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Tex. 78711.

Onion Crop Expected To Be Good

AUSTIN--A high quality onion crop, slightly lower in numbers than last year's, is expected this spring in South Texas.

The most recent forecast anticipated a harvest of more than 6.2 million 50-pound sacks of spring onions from 17,500 acres.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said this is a drop from 21,000 acres harvested last year, but that figure was larger than usual.

Onion quality is expected to be good. "Though a hard freeze hit growers in January, and a light freeze touched some areas in February, it appears that no major damage has been done," White said. "However, growth has been slowed and harvest has been delayed."

Indications were that supplies would be light until late March or early April.

Harvested acreage in the Lower Rio Grande Valley is forecast at 14,100 acres with a 180 cwt. per acre yield. Winter Garden area is expected to produce 3,000 acres with a 171 cwt. yield per acre, and Laredo 400 acres with a yield of 250 cwt. per acre.

The 17,500 figure includes 1,000 acres of late varieties to be harvested after July 1.

Planting of Texas summer onions is underway in the Trans-Pecos area where acreage is expected to increase over last year's plantings. Transplanting on the High Plains has just started, and acreage is expected to be below last year's.

Bicentennial Plans Progressing Well

Progress being made in Crockett County's Bicentennial projects was reported at a meeting in the Museum on Sunday afternoon to some fifteen interested persons.

C. O. Walker, Fiesta Chairman, said that American flags should soon be available for sale in Ozona and it is hoped that each home and business will fly one in celebration of the Bicentennial. Mrs. Worth Allen was elected Co-Fiesta Chairman with Mr. Walker, to be in charge of dramatic and choral events which could include an historical pageant or play, locally written and produced, and a group of Centennial Singers who would be available for many programs throughout 1976.

Mrs. P. L. Childress, Horizons Chairman, noted progress in the planning of the Nature Trail up "Possum Hollow" which is being sponsored by the Ozona Garden Club. Mrs. J. B. Post and Mrs. L. B. Cox, members, expressed appreciation to Mrs. Ben Williams on whose property the Trail is located, to Mr. C. O. Sinclair, SCS, and to Mr. Billy Reager, County Agent, who are cooperating on the project. She pointed out the blooming red petunias around the Museum which are part of the new planting being made by members of the ESA and will later include red and blue flowers. She spoke of progress on the publishing of the Crockett County History Book, Bicentennial project of the Crockett County Historical Society and urged everyone to get in materials for the book just as quickly as possible. Much work will be necessary before they are ready for publication.

Mrs. Jerry Hayes has been named the new Heritage Chairman and will be assisted by Mrs. Joe Clayton who will work especially on updating Crockett County historical archives. Mrs. Hayes told of plans to conduct interviews with those who participated in cattle and sheep drives to markets, on the contributions of ethnic groups to the community, and many other significant phases of Crockett County history. Mrs. Jimmy Lott will research and write the history of pharmacy in the County and Jimmy Read is expanding his Master's Thesis on the wildflowers of Crockett County.

All present noted the new look of displays in the Museum and expressed appreciation to Mrs. Childress, Ted White and Mrs. Cooper for all that is happening there to make the Museum exhibits attractive to all visitors.

Mrs. R. A. Harrell, Bicentennial Steering Committee Chairman, noted progress at Fort Lancaster and the fact that the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department assures that displays and improvements will be in order for the Bicentennial. She expressed special appreciation to the Clude and Henry Meadows families and to Mrs. C. H. Benckenstein and her family of Beaumont for having given an additional 42 acres of land to the Fort Lancaster Historic Site as their contributions to Crockett County's Bicentennial Program. Their gift of the original 40 acres made the preservation of this pre-Civil War fort ruins possible. She also expressed appreciation to all present for the obvious continued enthusiasm.

Reddy's helpful tips for your Dishwasher

- A dishwasher will usually hold a whole day's dishes. It takes as much hot water and energy to wash 1 dish as it does a full load. Stack your dishes out of sight in your dishwasher and wait until you have a full load to turn it on.
- Use only detergents manufactured specifically for dishwashers. A wetting agent helps prevent water spots on glasses and silverware.
- Clean the filter screen often. A clogged filter can reduce the efficiency of your dishwasher.

FINDING ADDITIONAL PROFIT CENTERS

Good news for American stockholders has been made quietly by top American business executives and an executive of the American Chamber of Commerce. Aware that money can be made for American companies not only by investing in this country, but also by finding profitable investments abroad, our financial executives have been studying foreign opportunities to see which ones offer the best returns.

Interestingly, we're finding that we don't have to go far from home. Charles Mayer, Executive Vice President of the American Chamber of Commerce, has reported that "Mexico boasts, if not the best, one of the best possibilities in Latin America for foreign investment."

The rules of the game were clarified recently in a meeting between U.S. businessmen and Mexican officials presided by President Luis Echeverria and Jose Campillo Sainz, Minister of Industry and Commerce. The meeting was held at the home of industrialist Alejandro Alvarez Guerrero, and was attended by Antonio Ruiz Galindo Jr., an industrialist, and Jorge Orvananos Zuniga, President of the Mexican Employers confederation.

The latter pointed out the little known fact that foreign investments represent a majority of Mexican management.

European Tour For Hi School Students

High School students will have the opportunity to join a 28-day European tour this summer covering five countries and sponsored by the Reader's Digest Foreign Study League.

Setting San Angelo arrangements is Mrs. Sally Sheen, San Angelo Central High School Spanish and health teacher.

The tour, which is scheduled to run from June 24 to July 21, will include four days in London, four days in Paris, three days in the Tyrol, two days in Venice, two days in Florence, five days in Rome and six days in Madrid.

The cost will be $1,305.00 which includes all travel to and from Houston, all room and board, luggage transfers, tips and registration fees.

This amount does not cover passport fees nor international vaccination certificate. In addition, there is a package offering for medical and luggage insurance at $15.00 which is optional.

It is anticipated there will be at least three plane loads of students from the Houston take-off point for a total of 480 students.

Students will stay on university or high school campuses in each city and will be accompanied on each phase of the tour by trained university students.

Accompanying San Angelo students will be Mrs. Sheen, her son Bill Sheen of Dallas and Mrs. Willie Ruth Meckel, San Angelo Central High School Spanish teacher.

Mrs. Sheen noted the Reader's Digest has permanent offices in each of the tour cities and plans to arrange a communication system so that students may contact parents on a regular basis.

She said she plans to hold a meeting for parents and interested students shortly which will include further details of the trip and color film showing of the tour spots.

Mrs. Sheen may be contacted from 9:30-10:45 a.m. at 655-7175 ext. 40 or at home after 8:00 p.m. at 949-2609, or at 3307 Cornell Avenue, San Angelo, Texas 76901.

The frank discussion seemed to break down barriers between the officers and the people and before adjournment, the sergeant said he felt the meeting had been a good thing. He assured the people present that the department works for them as well as anyone else.

DeHoyos thanked the men for coming and adjourned the meeting. A social hour followed and everybody enjoyed the fellowship and good refreshments.

Fewer trips to the grocery store will result in a lower food bill. Plan the shopping list carefully so that a once-a-week trip to the grocery store is all that's necessary, suggests Sally Springer, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

A single-engine airplane with four seats travels two to three times as fast as the family car yet gets 14 to 18 miles per gallon, reports Piper Aircraft Corporation.

Save On Grooming Aids

Grooming aids and cosmetics enhance appearance. But when added together, many of these small items total a sizeable sum. Mrs. Becky Culp, area clothing specialist, reminded this week.

"Consumers can benefit by considering the following money saving ideas," the specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said.

--Know your skin type. What type of products do you really need? "Many specialized products are more expensive than several multipurpose items, such as petroleum jelly and baby oil."

--Look for and compare ingredient labeling. Many manufacturers are already complying with a recent Food and Drug Administration ruling requiring listing of ingredients in order of predominance, that will be mandatory by September, 1976, the specialist said.

Mrs. Culp suggested consumers might compare product brands from store to store or department to department to see if they vary in expense.

--Perfumed and scented products generally cost more. Perhaps a favorite fragrance could be added at home at a savings.

--Elaborate containers are expensive--will they merely be thrown away when empty?

--Avoid accumulating a large array of products that are impossible to use before they dry out. Also, bacteria may easily grow after containers are unsealed for use.

"For both health and expense, as well as storage, avoid large quantities. Select small container sizes when trying new or limited use products," the specialist suggested.

ENERGY SAVING TIPS
When shopping for an unusual item, call ahead to see if the store has it in stock. You may save time--and gasoline--if it isn't available.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

Brought to you By Lillian Brown

When you stop to think about it, one of the most useful kinds of tables--and one that can improve almost any home is a drop leaf table--but, many people often restrict their thinking on where to use a drop leaf.

Many think only of a small dining area where the table can be used with the leaves down to hold accessories by day, and then become a dining table at dinner time--but drop leaf tables can be effective in other rooms, too. A drop leaf living room table, for example, can add both practicality and distinctiveness.

Drop leaf tables are so useful because if you need more floor space anywhere you can put the leaf or leaves down and have more area in the room; and, of course, when you need a bigger table you can put the leaves up, and, presto, you get a new table like magic.

Today furniture manufacturers are making more kinds of drop leaf tables than ever before--you can find round ones, square ones, oval ones, or just about any size and shape to fill your needs.

The main thing is not to overlook all the possibilities that drop leaf tables can give you. The next time you go furniture shopping be sure to consider one for your home. If you need any help in selection, we'd be glad to aid you.
