Water Control Hearing Today In San Angelo

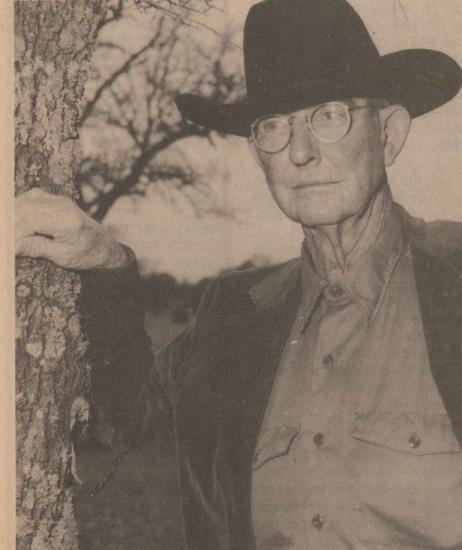

Application to amend a permit for Crockett County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 of Ozona, and request for a permit to control wastewater from a livestock auction facility near Sweetwater, are due for consideration at a Texas Water Quality Board public hearing to be held today at 10:00 a.m. in the San Angelo City Hall Council Chamber. The WCID is requesting approval for a discharge not to exceed an average flow of 400,000 gallons per day of domestic sewage effluent from the District treatment plant located approximately three-fourths of a mile south of the intersection of U.S. Highway 290 and State Highway 163 in Ozona. The treated effluent will be discharged into an unnamed stream, and then into Johnson Draw, the Devils River and the Rio Grande River. Sweetwater Livestock Auction, Inc., is seeking a new permit pertaining to process generated wastewater and rainfall runoff containing wastes from the facility which is located just west of the Sweetwater city limits. The applicant plans to retain the wastewater in an evaporation pond without discharging to the surface waters of the state.

Lions Beat Brady 14-0; Dist. Play Starts With Big Lake Fri.

The Ozona Lions ran their pre-season record to 4-2 by beating the Brady Bulldogs here Friday night 14 to zip. District play begins here tomorrow, Friday, night when the Lions host Big Lake. Kickoff time is 7:30 for all district games. The Lions scored two touchdowns in the final five minutes Friday night to take the win over Brady. The first score came when half-back Blake Moody caught an 11-yard pass from quarterback Vaden Adridge and scampered in from the one for the touchdown. John Galvan kicked the extra point and the Lions had a 7-0 edge with four minutes left to play. After holding the Bulldogs to four downs, the Lions got the ball back on the eleven yard line with less than a minute to go. Moody went over right tackle for the final touchdown of the night. Again Galvan's kick was good and the game ended with a 14-0 victory for the Lions. The first half of the contest was a defensive battle all the way, as neither team managed to move the ball past the opponent's thirty-five yard line.

The Lions had a touchdown called back in the third period. Adridge faked into the middle of the line and went around end on a bootleg play and had clear sailing for the score. However, an official blew the play dead and the Lions had to give up the ball on fourth down. The Lions first touchdown came as a climax to a 65-yard drive in seven plays. Adridge made two big plays as he connected on a 42-yard bomb to Frankie Garza and a twelve-yard pass to Gary Warren before he connected on the 11-yard scoring pass to Moody. Warren was the leading ground gainer for the night with 77 yards. Moody ran him a close second with 68 yards on the ground. Defensive standouts for the Lions included Warren with seven tackles, one fumble recovery and one interception. Clifford Crawford, defensive halfback, had four tackles and picked off two Bulldog passes. Henry Fay, noseguard, had 13 tackles while Gene Castro, tackle, had 11. In the statistic department, the Lions had it all over the Bulldogs. They had 16 first downs to Brady's 5. The Lions had 165 yards rushing and 84 yards in the air for a total of 249 yards, while the Bulldogs had a total of 108 yards, all on the ground. The Lions attempted 10 passes, completed four, and had one interception. Brady attempted 6 passes, completed none and had three interceptions. The Lions punted three times for an average of 41.3 yards. Brady punted 6 times for an average of 31.6 yards. The Lions lost one fumble while the Bulldogs lost two. The Lions were penalized five times for 50 yards and the Bulldogs four times for 30 yards.

Mrs. James R. Childress, member of a Crockett County ranching family who, with her husband, is currently involved in ranching, was elected to the Board of Overseers of the Ranch Headquarters Association at its annual meeting Friday at the Museum of Texas Tech University. Plans were made for the completion of the museum's Ranching Heritage Center. Mrs. Childress was one of the twelve new members appointed. One of the members re-elected to the board was Claude S. Denham, former Ozona school superintendent.

Firemen Put In Busy Week Here

Ozona firemen have had a busy schedule the past week, beginning Thursday and continuing through Monday afternoon. Two fire alarms were turned in Thursday. The first at 10:36 a.m. at the Jess Sweeten Mobile Station where a central heating and cooling system on the roof caught fire. Firemen used 50 gallons of water to bring the blaze under control. The unit was called out at 4:08 the same day to assist the Eldorado firemen with a grass fire in Schliecher County. However, the call was cancelled just before the Ozona firemen arrived. Friday afternoon at 7 o'clock Mrs. Jewel Oden at 1205 Jones was installing a kitchen cabinet covering when fumes from the glue drifted over to the range pilot light and exploded. Considerable damage was reported in the kitchen area of the home. Sunday afternoon at 3:26 an alarm came in from Todd Field. A crew was welding pipe near the Permian Corp. Plant when the pipe broke and the leaking oil ignited. There was extensive damage to a two-ton truck and about an acre of grass was burned, before the blaze was brought under control. Monday morning firemen were called out at 9:16 to extinguish a fire which followed a car wreck three miles from Ozona on Hwy. 290. A 1972 Mercury, driven by Bobby James of Compton, California caught fire after it left the road and turned over. Firemen extinguished the fire, but 23-month-old Kenneth James was badly burned.

He was an employee of Superior Oil Co. of Houston and had been a resident of Ozona 19 years before moving to Houston. Survivors include his wife, and his mother, Mrs. Mary Miller of Ozona.

Calif. Child Burned In Auto Wreck

A 23-month-old California youth was seriously burned in a car wreck a mile east of Ozona on Hwy 290 Monday morning. Kenneth James and his mother, Susan James, 32, were taken to Crockett County Hospital for treatment. The mother was treated and released and the child was transferred to Shannon Hospital in San Angelo and air evacuated to the Shriners Burn Institute in Galveston Monday afternoon. According to reports, the car went out of control and overturned throwing the youngster out, but ignited and came to rest near the little boy. Driver of the auto, Bobby James of Compton, Calif., and another passenger, Sheila Marie James, 11, were not injured. Dove Season Open Through October 30 Some West Texas hunters are still confused about when the mourning dove season ends. The season, that began on Sept. 1, was set for 60 consecutive half-days this year and is open through Oct. 30, 1975. This still leaves hunters plenty of time to get in several more hunts. Dove bag and possession limits are 10 and 20. Shooting hours are noon to sunset.

Mex-Am Defense Atty. Warns Court Of Federal Voting Act

The Crockett County Commissioners Court met Monday in regular session. George J. Korbel, attorney for the Mexican-American Legal Defense from San Antonio was recognized by the court and proceeded to explain the Federal Voting Rights Act of 1965, which has been extended to cover Texas by recent vote of the Federal Legislature. Under the new law, all publications pertaining to an election must be printed in both Spanish and English. Any changes in voting procedure or precinct lines must be cleared by the U. S. Attorney General's office, and this law is retroactive to November 1972. If Mr. Korbel is correct in his interpretation of the law, the precinct changes in Crockett County, ratified by the Commissioners Court in 1974, are not valid. According to Mr. Korbel, the re-apportionment must be sent to Washington for pre-clearance and be passed by the Attorney General's office. Mr. Korbel said the Mexican-American community disapproved of the present precinct lines, and he felt that a compromise would benefit both sides. He said the redistricting as approved by the court in 1974 was not legal since the federal law required that all changed retroactive to Nov. 1, 1972 be approved by the Attorney General's office and that chances of the redistricting being approved as it were not good. He suggested that something be worked out, using the 1970 Bureau of the Census figures. According to Korbel, the voter lists were not the proper criterion to make re-apportionment on. He said precinct lines should be re-drawn on the basis of population and not on the basis of voter eligibility. This came as a surprise to most members of the court, since apparently they were not familiar with the new federal law. Korbel also said the Texas law, requiring re-registration every two years, would not be valid under the federal law. He added that since the federal law takes precedence over the state law, any changes in election procedure should be submitted to the U. S. Attorney General for pre-clearance before it is put into effect. He cited a story in The Stockman, last week's edition, that letters and applications were to be sent to those on the voter lists to re-register before being eligible to vote in 1977 elections. He hopes county officials will disregard this request from Texas officials. Korbel suggested that the court take into consideration a plan worked out by Commissioner Precinct 4 Jesus Castro, which reportedly was worked out according to the 1970 population figures. Several commissioners took exception to this and pointed out that homes in the IS 10 right-a-way had been moved and families affected had moved to different precincts in town. The majority seemed to feel the census figures were not correct. However, Korbel suggest that a compromise be worked out with the Mexican-American group, and reminded the court that the U. S. Attorney General's findings would be on the side of the minority groups. Judge Troy Williams said it would be difficult and confusing to say the least because time before the this year's election was drawing so near. Korbel said there could be no election held under the present plans, that the federal government will step in and annul the election. An exchange by Korbel and the judge brought out the fact that the people of Crockett County resent the idea of the U. S. Attorney General dictating matters in the country. Korbel said he understood that, but stressed that it is the law, and the best way to work it out would be to follow the federal procedures. He said he felt the plan worked out by commissioner Castro would be acceptable to the Attorney General. He reminded the court again that voter registration had nothing to do with re-districting, it was population alone and again said that the census figures should be used regardless of how the population has been redistributed since the 1970 census. After studying the plan put forth by the Mexican-American group, the question was asked why the population figures so nearly matched the registered voters in Precinct 2. Korbel answered that according to statistics, Anglo families had fewer children than Mexican Americans. Korbel was asked if the Texas Election Law was not legal. (CONTINUED ON LAST PAGE)

WRECKED CAR COMES TO REST AT PROPER PLACE, just behind Tom Allen's Body Shop along with the other car-wreck casualties parked there. Laurie Martinez was attempting to cross Hwy. 290 from the 1000 block to the 1100 block Friday afternoon when this station wagon she was driving was hit by an east-bound California car. The impact knocked the station wagon across the highway where it collided with a parked pickup and a jeep and then came to rest behind the body shop, a total wreck.

A YOUNG CALIFORNIA BOY SUFFERED serious burns when this automobile in which he was a passenger overturned and burned about a mile west of Ozona on Hwy. 290 Monday morning. He was treated at Crockett County Hospital and transferred to San Angelo where he was air evacuated to the burn center in Galveston Monday afternoon. He was in serious condition at press time.

Criminals Using Guns

The altogether stupid act of pointing a gun at President Ford by a deranged member of the infamous Manson family in California was bound to reactivate the long-standing cries for gun control, gun confiscation, gun registration and the like. The amazing thing is that these demands for so-called "gun control" are coming at the same time, and many times from the same people, demanding that police records of criminals and potential criminals be destroyed.

The most immediate and practical answer would be for all government bodies with the power to do so, whether city, municipality, county or state (and the circumstances vary from state to state) to pass "mandatory sentencing" laws. This would mean that anyone who used a gun in the commission of a crime would immediately and automatically go to jail and stay there, with no ifs, ands, buts, "plea bargaining," smart lawyers, soft judges, bail, or whatever. Why there has been a reluctance on the part of the liberal Congress of the United States to pass such legislation defies explanation. Several such bills have long been before both House and Senate, and neither body has ever gone beyond the point of "studying" them. It seems clear that we can wait until that proverbial hot place freezes over before the "liberals" who manipulate Congress are going to act.

This means that the only way we can crack down on criminals using guns is for the people to act, in whatever legal capacity they can, on the local level. If, therefore, a given county, or city, or town, in a given state has the authority to enact such laws, then the law should be adopted now which says, very simply, that if you use a gun to commit a crime, you go to jail — period; and that there is NO WAY that you can get out. Make it two years, make it five years, make it ten years, make it whatever necessary to convince the crook, beyond the shadow of a doubt, that using a gun to commit a crime will bring swift, certain, and stern retribution.

Surely this is the better way, rather than taking firearms away from the 99% of law-abiding citizens who are sportsmen, hobbyists, collectors, etc. We don't have to kill the freedom of everyone in order to cope with the wrongdoing of a few.

Bob Krueger Reports

U. S. Representative
21st District

Last week the House voted overwhelmingly, 397 to 18, to override the President's veto of the School Breakfast and Lunch Program. I was one of only eighteen voting against this bill, and several of my friends in Congress jokingly asked me, "What's the matter, Bob, don't you care about hungry children?" And they knew, of course I did. But sometimes, even when one knows a bill will pass overwhelmingly, he should call attention to what the bill really does.

If the bill had made money available only to children from families with genuine financial need, I would have strongly supported it. But it does not. It gives government subsidies for meals to children from families who earn as much as $10,000. Most people who earn that much are able to afford to feed their own children.

The people whom I represent still hold to that notion that Lincoln expressed so well: that government should not do for people what they can do better themselves. Government lunches do not taste as good as the lunches that mothers prepare. And they cost more. Most Americans are willing to support programs providing food for those in need. But they know that it costs more to pay taxes to the government and then, after a good deal of paperwork has been done, and employees have been paid, to get the government subsidy for food. They would rather have bought the food for their children in the first place, if they could afford it, and to leave the subsidies to those who genuinely need it.

Most people want less government, not more, and they want their money to be directed where there is genuine need, not where there is simply an opportunity to spend more money. The school lunch program which the Congress passed had a number of good features that I would readily have supported, including food for needy children and for expectant mothers who run the risk of undernourishment. Had the funds been directed to these sources, they would have been well spent, and well within the existing budget rather than exceeding them by one quarter billion dollars as this bill did.

A principal in one of the small rural schools in our district pointed out that his program requires his school to offer breakfasts as well as lunches. This means, he continued, that instead of getting a good country breakfast at home, many students have to catch the school bus for as long as 1-1/2 hours before they can have breakfast. And the breakfast they then receive tastes worse than what they would have had at home, two hours earlier.

My philosophy professor used to remind us, "The road to hell is paved with good intentions." I suppose the road to some pretty bad breakfasts is well paved with good Congressional intentions as well.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Insurance made news again, as the State Insurance Board hiked rates for homeowners coverage effective February 16.

Board staffers a week earlier recommended an average 17 per cent increase statewide in auto insurance premiums.

The Board-approved homeowners' rates will increase at an average of 8.3 per cent, fire insurance rates on homes 7.9 per cent for single-year policies and 14 per cent on three-year policies.

Rates were far less than those requested by the insurance industry.

Homeowners policy rates and extended coverage (storms, hail, riots, accidents, etc.) vary by territories.

Homeowners' rates for average residences would increase as follows:

- Seacoast, 7.6 per cent.
- Central, 7.6 per cent.
- North-Northwest, 12 per cent.

Rate on a $35,000 brick veneer home in Galveston will go up from $940 to $1,021 for a three-year homeowners policy. The same type home in Houston would see a rate increase from $814 to $886, in Austin from $654 to $714 and in Lubbock from $1,137 to $1,283.

Amount of the annual increase on the same home would be $17 in Galveston, $24 in Houston, $20 in Austin and $49 in Lubbock.

VRA Study On

The House Elections Committee began a "major study of effects of the recently-extended and expanded Voting Rights Act on Texas.

The Committee will try to gauge impact of the law on local governments and recommend legislation needed to help smaller governmental units comply with complex VRA requirements.

All governmental units, under VRA, must submit to the U.S. Department of Justice any changes in their election laws, procedures or voting precinct boundaries dating back to Nov. 1, 1972, and in the future.

Elections Committee Chairman Rep. Luther Jones of El Paso said many small cities and other units don't have resources or required data to make full submissions and will have serious difficulty complying with requirements without assistance.

Lands Leased

Oil and gas exploration firms bid cash bonus payments of more than $3.4 million on 91,000 acres of state land at a recent lease sale.

Most bidding activity was concentrated on state submerged tracts located in Texas bays. More than $2.1 million of the total was put up for leases on 55,383 acres in the bay tracts.

Inexco Oil Company bid more than $600,000 for 13 tracts, Monsanto $377,609 for 11 tracts, Houston Oil and Minerals Corp. $338,381 for 11 tracts and Exxon, $200,004 for 12 tracts.

Highest single bonus bid of $117,936 was made by Kilroy Company of Texas for a Gulf of Mexico tract in Jefferson County.

Courts Speak

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed a murder conviction in a Rio Grande Valley case because of improper arguments by a prosecutor but didn't rule on a challenge of constitutionality of the death penalty law.

The State Supreme Court refused to interfere with a lower court order transferring a Houston utility rate controversy outside the company's service area.

Third Court of Civil Appeals told The University of Texas it owes a construction company $850,000 in a breach of contract suit.

The Supreme Court sent back to the trial court a Lubbock woman's suit for damages from an auto dealer she claimed misrepresented to her that the car she bought had never been wrecked.

Reversing a trial court, the Third Court of Civil Appeals upheld a Burnet County man in a dispute with his sister over 356.4 acres of land inherited from parents.

AG Opinions

Atty. Gen. John Hill said "short" (90-day) sessions of the legislature under the proposed new constitution cannot be confined to fiscal matters.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded: Alligators can be sold in Texas if privately owned before Aug. 17, 1973, or if raised in captivity under permits or federal law.

A city cannot, by ordinance, permit late drinking hours in private clubs but not in public places. Names of research subjects in state mental science facilities do not have to be disclosed to legislators or the public.

Short Snorts

Dr. W. Philip Gramm, a conservative economics professor on leave from Texas A&M University, has entered the Democratic U.S. Senate primary, challenging Senator Bentsen for re-election.

The Senate's impeachment trial of Judge O.P. Carrillo has been postponed again — until November 18.

A malpractice insurance company set up by the Texas Hospital Association has received approval of the Texas Insurance Commissioner.

Cigarette tax income to the state increased $4.5 million (to $22.3 million) from September 1974 to September 1975. Opponents of the proposed new constitution are outspending proponents in the November 4 campaign. Opponents have taken in $14,785 and spent $8,701, while proponents raised $8,701 and spent $4,253.

OPEC Subsidy

WASHINGTON—Congress has been making you pay a subsidy to the OPEC cartel. It is time for the subsidy to stop.

There is at present a "two-tiered" price system for domestic crude oil. "Old" crude oil—oil produced from wells drilled before price controls were established—is sold at a controlled price of $5.25 per barrel. Oil from wells drilled since then and from wells producing 10 barrels a day or less is sold at a freemarket price of approximately $12 a barrel.

The chief effect of the two-tiered price system has been to depress domestic production of oil and natural gas, forcing Americans to become ever more reliant on artificially high priced OPEC oil.

Some members of Congress claim that removing the price controls for "old" crude oil would cost consumers billions of dollars by sending the price of "old" oil skyrocketing to the OPEC level of $13 a barrel. The kindest description that I can make of these claims is that they are "wildly exaggerated."

The long term result of decontrol would be a stabilization—perhaps even a reduction—of petroleum prices. And the principal short term effect would be to end a $3 subsidy Congress is providing OPEC for each barrel of oil it sells in this country.

OPEC receives its subsidy via the crude oil allocation formula of the Federal Energy Administration (FEA), the agency authorized by Congress to administer the price control program.

The overall price refiners in America pay for crude oil today is about $10 a barrel. Refiners achieve this cost by mixing $13 Arab crude with $5.25 controlled domestic crude and some $12 uncontrolled domestic crude.

In order to "protect" refiners who do not have access to supplies of low-cost domestic crude, the FEA forces refiners who have ample supplies to share with those who do not. A refiner who buys 100 barrels of OPEC oil is granted "entitlements" to buy 40 barrels of controlled domestic oil, which can be sold for about $13 a barrel. A refiner can refine only as much low cost domestic oil as he has "entitlements" to do so.

The entitlements program is a good deal for those refiners—principally in the Northeast—who have shortages of domestic crude, but it is a very bad deal for consumers.

The entitlements program raises the demand for foreign oil by lowering its net price to refiners to $10 a barrel. This helps stabilize the OPEC cartel by giving it a larger market than it otherwise would have.

Without price controls and the entitlements program, OPEC oil would have to compete with increased domestic supplies which would sell at a lower price. Either the OPEC price would drop, or there would be less OPEC oil in the "mix" bought by American refiners. The result, in either case, would be lower prices to consumers.

Tips For Gardeners
From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

In this bright blue October weather I hope you are enjoying outdoor exercise to get fall chores done before the severe cold. It won't be long before those leaves come fluttering down, so plan now to start a compost heap to use for mulch next year. You will find this mulch very helpful to retain moisture during the summer months.

The popular pyracantha is beginning its colorful fall beauty now. This plant may be used as a hedge, screen, ground cover, barrier, or espaliered specimen. It is one of the least difficult shrubs to grow in our area. It should be given a sunny exposure in well-drained soil. They bloom in the spring and set fruit on growth of last year's wood. Plenty of room should be allowed unless kept pruned each year, so do not plant too near a walk or passage way. The thorny plants grow rapidly but are subject to fireblight, aphids, scale, and spider mites. These are easily controlled with garden sprays and pruning out infected parts.

Spraying your peach trees now as the leaves begin to drop will prevent a fungus disease, peach leaf curl, from infesting your trees next spring. One spray TC-90 or Kocide 101.

A sudden change of environment of a rubber plant may be too much of a shock and cause loss of leaves. A more gradual change may have avoided the problem. However, new leaves should grow back in time.

Most potted indoor plants do not last forever, though many grow beautifully several years. Over potted specimens with its limited root system, cannot possibly survive in too large a container. Try to find out about the requirements of the root system and plant accordingly.

If you want plants for decoration in rather dim places, do give them a brighter place where they can renew themselves for a little while. A humidifier attached to the heating unit is very helpful, and another device to increase humidity, and greatly refresh your plants too, is by frequent misting with the "Mister" spray in the morning and afternoon.

OSONA CHAPTER 287 Order of the Eastern Star Meeting Night 4th Tuesday in month Masonic Hall

Debra Says
by Debra Price H. D. Agent

While most homesewers sew to save money, other seamstresses sew to be fashionable. Today's homeseWER can be as fashionable as women purchasing an entire wardrobe. Pattern styles change as frequently as current fashion trends, in fact, many well-known European and American designers create patterns especially for the major companies. Also, over-the-counter fashion fabrics and inner fabrics offer homeseWERS the same quality and type of fabric available to ready-to-wear manufacturers.

Today's woman can sew faster and easier than ever by using clever, quick and easy techniques, along with new notions, tools and sewing aids--such as fusible products--which eliminate many steps toward garment completion.

Turning again to the "economics" of homeseWING, making garments at home can save 60-70 per cent or more, when compared to purchasing ready mades. Also fabric quality and workmanship are better and lower priced than similar-quality ready to wear.

Other frequently-mentioned motivations for sewing are better fit, a creative expression, individuality in coordinating style, fabric, and trim or designing one's own garment, and productive use of leisure time.

Silky-look knits are popular fabric choices for men's sportshirts this fall. And patterns will be neat "engineered prints" on dark or dusky backgrounds. Solid color leisure shirts in heavier weight knits are getting "perfect" forecasts for fall's cooler weather.

The newest fabric for jeans is plain-weave calico. And traditional jeans now come in "re-washed" fabrics such as faded denim and corduroy or with brushed surfaces. Frontrunners for the outerwear will be wool with brightly colored blanket plaids and olive green army fatigues or in glazed fake leather looks.

Country Club Bridge Mrs. Dave Matney was hostess for bridge at the country club Friday.

Mrs. Sherman Taylor won high, Mrs. Beecher Montgomery, second high and Mrs. Clay Adams, low. Mrs. Gene Williams won the bingo prize.

Others playing were Mrs. Joe Bean, Mrs. Charlie Black, Mrs. Hugh Childress, Mrs. Sidney Millsbaugh, Mrs. Kirby Moore, Mrs. I. B. Parker, Mrs. Buddy Phillips, Mrs. Bud Cox, Mrs. Evert White, Mrs. Jim Williams, Mrs. Byron Williams and Mrs. Cuatro Davidson.

EYELINER AND MASCARA: WHO NEEDS THEM? I've known women who use almost no makeup at all, but wouldn't think of leaving off their mascara. No matter how much or how little makeup women wear, it's a rare woman who never uses mascara -- and that woman probably has naturally dark lashes!

These days we can be a bit more lavish with mascara -- especially for evening, when we can experiment with the many exotic shades available. During the day, choose a shade that is closest to your hair color, although blondes will do best with a dark brown. Everyone should stay away from dark black mascara during the day unless her hair and natural lashes are black.

Don't forget to color your lower lashes, too. If your lower lashes lie flat against your face you can avoid drips and smudges on your skin by applying a bit of Merle Norman Super-Lube, a super rich emollient, under the lashes beforehand. Then any mascara that touches your face can easily be wiped off when your lashes dry.

A little trick to thicken your natural lashes: Brush on a coat of mascara, let it set and then dust your lashes with powder. Put on another coat of mascara once or twice more.

Eyeliner is back in fashion, but used in a more subtle way than it was a few years ago. Its function is to contour your eye, to give it shape. You'll get the best results with a liquid eyeliner and a finely tipped brush.

The important thing is to get as close to the lash line as possible, and to make a very narrow line starting at the inside corner of the eye and moving to the outer corner. Then, with the tip of your finger, smudge the line a bit. That way you avoid a hard, distinct line.

Another way to apply eyeliner if you don't like a line, but still would like some definition, is to make tiny dots with your brush all along your upper and lower lashes. Then smudge them together so they blend into a sort of fuzzy outline. The effect can be lovely and soft, creating a smoky look.

Eyeliner can be used to improve the "look" of the less-than-perfect eye. For example, if one eye is longer than the other, extend the line very subtly at the outer edge of the shorter one. A droopy eye will appear more horizontal if you extend the liner upward at the outer edge of the eye.

They say the eyes reveal the soul of a person. If that is so, then present the loveliest frame possible when someone is searching out your soul.

Dear Mrs. Robinson: What's the best way to dress up a limited wardrobe when you're on a limited budget? L.M.C.

Dear L.M.C.: Costume jewelry has been selling exceptionally well in these budget-minded times and can add excitement to your costume. For day, try the new painted wooden bangles. For evening, add several sets of glittering long beads. They're inexpensive but invaluable! Marti Robinson

The Face of Faith

Sometimes a face is striking. It isn't the sort of face you're accustomed to. It's a face you wouldn't have expected to see. But you have seen it! That's why you call it striking.

The Face of Faith is like that . . .

The eyes seem lifted toward the hills, to a source of strength. The lips are firm with a courage that rests neither on prowess nor weapon. The countenance shines with a joyous light . . . a light that seems to reflect some mystic Sun though the world around is cast in shadow and gloom.

I see the Face of Faith each Sunday . . . the face of a child . . . perhaps your child!

I am her Sunday School teacher -- and the joyous light of that striking face inspires me to seek more faithfully in the worship and work of my Church the help of God.

You are her parents. How that confident, expectant radiance must inspire you!

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS
Brought to you By Lillian Brown

Here's an idea you might want to think about to make your bedroom even more beautiful and more useful. If at all possible, provide a place where you can enjoy reading, sewing, or simply relaxing with a cup of coffee--and with imagination you CAN do it even in a small bedroom. Regardless of size, you can probably squeeze out an area for yourself with the right furniture arrangement.

A chaise, or any comfortable chair, can do wonders for you and your bedroom, and perhaps you can add a table and maybe a bookcase or cabinet to hold things.

And, most important, don't forget the little touches that can make your private room--within-a-room something special. You might want to use a particular pattern or a change of color for this area, and you can dress it up with flowers, plants and personal accessories to give you a feeling of a place of your own, the best of a private world.

The addition of boudoir furniture can bring new comfort to your bedroom, and the addition of the right things to go with it can bring new visual charm to the room.

If you'd like some help in fixing up this special part of your bedroom, stop in--and remember we are here to serve you on all your furniture needs. Come in and browse around--there's no obligation. We'll look forward to seeing you soon.

Marketing Calves To Effect Beef Market

Everyone in the cattle business knows that calves are abundant this fall and that this oversupply is causing a crunch in market prices. However, just when these calves move to market will have a big effect on prices, and the "when" is anybody's guess.

"Seasonal marketing of calves in Texas and in many other states is normally heaviest in late summer and fall because most calves are born in the spring," points out Dr. Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "In fact, about 75 per cent of all the calves born across the nation are marketed in that season of the year."

So what's the big mystery about fall marketing of calves this year?

"Weather conditions since last winter could be a big factor in causing cartmen to change from the traditional marketing pattern this fall," notes the Texas A&M University System specialist.

Uvacek cites a number of examples. "Good forage last fall and winter due to good rains caused considerable overstocking which, in turn, may have delayed calving this spring. So calves may be marketed later than usual."

"Late spring rains this year have caused calf weights to be lighter, so producers may hold them longer for further gains."

"Good summer rains have provided for excellent grazing conditions and have reduced the cattlemen's incentive to market."

"As ranges and pastures continue to hold up going into the fall and low prices continue, many producers will further delay marketings."

Uvacek feels there will also be a fair number of heavier feeder cattle moving to market this fall due to the large number of yearlings held over from last year.

Of course, much hinges on the course that feedgrain prices take this fall. "High feed prices will probably force a heavy movement of calves to market right after the first frost," says Uvacek.

Gift items are arriving daily at BROWN FURNITURE COMPANY. There are many new items to choose from--and we'll do the wrapping. --0-- 31-tfc

American Cancer Society

A farmer wants to know: "What do you mean by early diagnosis of cancer? What's early? The age of the person?"

ANSWERline: Actually, it's the age of the cancer that's important. An early cancer is one that has just begun to grow and is confined to the place where it began. As time passes, the cancerous growth becomes bigger and spreads to other parts of the body. That's when it is more difficult to stop. Most cancers can be cured if detected early and treated promptly.

A reader insists: "I can't give up cigarettes, so can you tell me which one is a safe cigarette?"

ANSWERline: There is no such thing as a safe cigarette. Many of today's cigarettes are lower in tars and nicotine than the ones smoked 20 years ago and are therefore somewhat less dangerous, but there still is no safe cigarette. Many people who thought they couldn't give up cigarettes found they could with some help from their local American Cancer Society. Checking with the ACS is the safest thing for you to do.

A reader asks: "Is it possible to have cancer and not be aware of it? My mother was always fine and then one day she discovered a lump in her breast that didn't even hurt. It turned out to be cancer."

ANSWERline: Yes, most forms of cancer can develop "silently" without any sign of trouble or discomfort. But, the disease eventually appears -- it doesn't disappear "silently." That's why knowing the Seven Warning Signals, having regular health checkups and taking precautions like monthly breast self-examination are important.

A teenager writes: "I am a girl of 15, and I believe in taking care of myself. I hear about checkups for cancer. Am I too young?"

ANSWERline: Regular health checkups should be part of everyone's routine. Cancer is rare among young people, but as you approach womanhood, it's important for you to know about a woman's special safeguards against cancer: the Pap test (for cervical cancer) and breast self-examination. Your local American Cancer Society has useful leaflets about these safeguards. The leaflets are yours for the asking. Please ask.

Question: "This may seem a little silly but can sun creams or oils prevent cancer?"

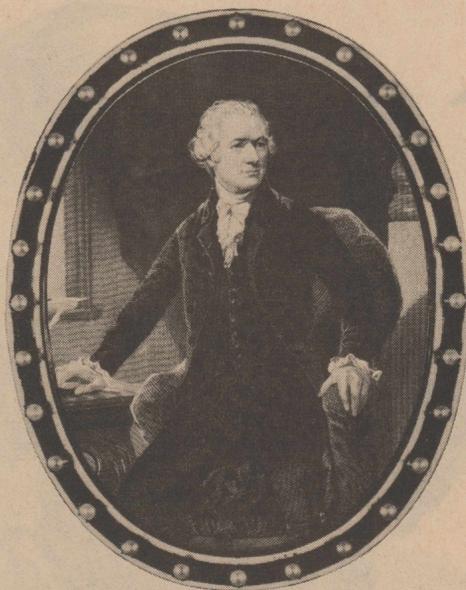

ANSWERline: Overexposure to the sun can lead to skin cancer. Therefore, precautions like wide brimmed hats and long sleeves and sunblocks, screens or suntan oils are helpful if you select them to suit your skin type. The most effective sunblock protection today is found in lotions or creams containing PABA (para-aminobenzoic acid) - look for it in the list of ingredients. The best precaution is the use of common sense in the sun.

A husband asks: "Is it all right for my wife to do housework? She was operated on for breast cancer and I am afraid to let her do anything."

ANSWERline: Your wife's physician is the one to ask. Once he gives the OK, you might be glad to know that housework can provide valuable exercise. In fact, it might make your wife feel better to be taking care of things again. It's understandable that you might be "afraid to let her do anything," but think how much happier she might be to forget about her surgery and go back to her regular life.

Hamilton paid up. And it sure paid off.

The War of Independence had put us in the red for $27 million in securities. It would have been easy to shortchange the public by paying them off at depressed market value. But Hamilton said no. You see, he had pretty definite ideas about keeping the people's trust. After all, he was the first Secretary of the Treasury. So he insisted that every debt be paid in full. And they were. Over the years, it's paid off. Today, over 9 1/2 million Americans buy U.S. Savings Bonds through their Payroll Savings Plan at work. They know Bonds are safe, secure and pay off at a good rate of interest. 6% when held to maturity in 5 years. Here's a tip that's guaranteed to pay off. Take stock in America. With the specially designed Bicentennial Series E Bonds. Don't shortchange your future.

Now E Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4% the first year). Lost, stolen or destroyed Bonds can be replaced if records are provided. # Give Taxpayers A Break Urges U. S. Industrial Council Pres.

Declaring that the American people are fed up with spending billions of dollars on a food stamp program that is riddled with abuses, the president of the United States Industrial Council recently urged a Congressional committee to "give the taxpayers a break" and drastically overhaul the program.

Paul A. Belknap, head of the USIC and president of Kenilworth, Inc., of Charleston, S. C., testified before a Senate Subcommittee investigating the food stamp program. The Subcommittee, with Senator James B. Allen (D-Ala.) as its chairman, is considering several legislative proposals for making changes in the food stamp program.

Belknap pointed out that in 10 years' time the number of people receiving food stamps has grown from 442,735 to around 22 million, while the cost of the program has increased from $36 million to $5.2 billion. It is estimated, he said, that one in four Americans either now are, or soon will be, eligible for food stamps.

The food stamp program abuses, the USIC official declared, result in an undue burden being placed on the taxpayers. "Our hard-working, productive citizens have watched their taxes rise and the buying power of their dollars shrink because of the federal government's generosity in passing out their money to those who won't work and those who lie and cheat to obtain food stamps--and they are fed up."

Belknap called for legislative reform of the food stamp program to tighten up on standards of eligibility and to eliminate the "voluntarily unemployed," in the voluntarily unemployed category, he said, the most obvious abuses are in providing food stamps to college students, many of whom have well-to-do parents, and giving food stamps to people on strike. However, he added, students and strikers getting food stamps are far outnumbered by other able-bodied food stamp recipients who could work but make no real effort to find jobs.

The business organization spokesman also urged revision of the U. S. Department of Agriculture guidelines which, through numerous deductions and exclusions, permit people with five-figure incomes to obtain food stamps. He said eligibility should be based on gross income, with no one eligible for food stamps whose income exceeds the poverty level established by the Office of Management and Budget.

According to Belknap, the management of the food stamp program is so inefficient that the U. S. D. A., which administers the program, cannot provide any figures on the numbers of college students or strikers who receive food stamps, or on the number of people who are eligible for stamps but are not now receiving them.

"We are spending in excess of $5 billion a year on this program without even knowing who is riding on the gravy train," Belknap declared.

The USIC president was particularly critical of the federally mandated "outreach" program in which state and local outreach workers go out and try to persuade people to apply for food stamps on the basis that they meet the current eligibility requirements. "It is a sorry state of affairs when the government sets out to destroy the traditional self-reliance and independence of American working men and women by a deliberate campaign to get them to accept what amounts to charity from the taxpayers.

"Virtually every American citizen recognizes an obligation to prevent hunger and suffering among those unable to care for themselves due to physical and mental disabilities," Belknap said, "but justification can there be in forcing an energetic, self-reliant citizen in the modest income bracket to do without high-priced foods he cannot afford while he watches someone who is voluntarily unemployed obtaining these same foods with food stamps?"

The Council expressed strong opposition to legislative proposals to provide for immediate self-certification of applicants for food stamps, to eliminate the requirement that food stamp recipients pay part of the cost of the stamps based on their income, and to give cash payments in lieu of food stamps. The question is whether there is going to be real reform or just a cosmetic treatment of the program, Belknap declared.

Support Asked For School Annual

The 1975 "Lion" is almost ready to go to press again. The Ozona Public Schools and the "Lion" staff would like to express our appreciation for your continuing support of the school annual. Your contributions have allowed the annual to be sold to the public for eight dollars a copy, but because of rising costs, it now costs more than $12.00 a copy to pay the printing bill alone.

Since this is the only time during the year the school asks for any contribution from the community, the annual staff and the school system would appreciate a donation of at least $10.00 or more from each merchant in support of the "Lion" to enable us to offer the annual to the public for a reasonable price. Thank you very much for your consideration in this matter.

Bottle Gardening Fun For Busybody Gardeners

If you don't have the time to take care of an indoor garden, why not try bottle gardening, suggests a landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"All you need to turn a dull dark corner of your home into a bright colorful spot is a waterproof container, tap water and cuttings of some favorite plants," says Everett Jame.

Beverage bottles, vases, canning jars, fish bowls and aquariums make good containers.

Use cuttings from any plant with a thick stem, such as a myrtle, geranium, oleander, wax begonia, coleus or hibiscus. "First, clean out the bottle with hot water and detergent. Then add tap water. Make a clean cut on the branch or stem you want to use and remove the lower leaves so that none will be below the waterline. Put the cuttings in the water and arrange them any way you like," says the horticulturist with the Texas A&M University System.

Change the water about once a month and wash the container with hot water and detergent to kill any algae or bacteria. Also, scrub the plant stems and make a fresh cut on the stem to improve water uptake. Turn the container about once a week to make sure all angles of the plants get sunlight.

"When stems start deteriorating, replace them with fresh ones," says Jame. "Also, any of the cuttings that develop roots can be planted in pots or in flower beds." Plants in bottle gardens add interest and color to the interior of the home and also clean up the air we breathe, adds the horticulturist.

Food Ads A Benefit To Wise Shoppers

"Competing for the family food dollar" is one reason grocery stores spend so much money on advertising, and shoppers can capitalize on this, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, a consumer marketing information specialist, says.

"Food ads give consumers a chance to compare cost and quality among stores, making wise shopping easier," she explained.

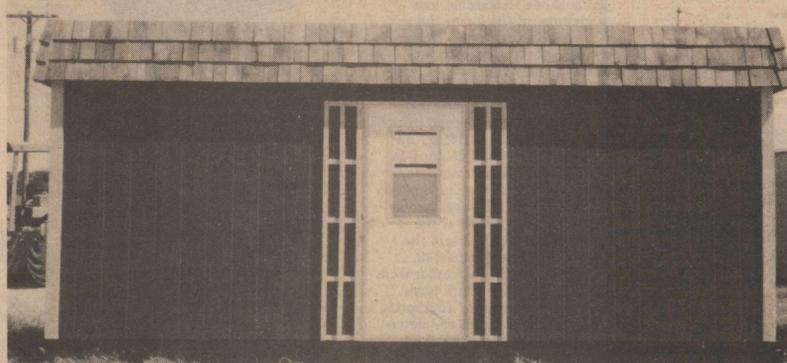

Mrs. Clyatt is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Other benefits of advertising are introducing new products which increase the variety of foods in the daily diet and enabling consumers to repeat satisfactory purchases by brand identification."

She suggested when studying the food ads, shoppers need to consider family food needs to insure good health, their likes and dislikes and how much money is available to spend for food.

He said it was not legal until the U. S. Attorney General passed on it and said it had the same effect as a bill passed by both houses of the legislature and the governor had not signed it.

He also said that annual voter registration discriminates against Mexican-Americans and blacks and he doesn't feel that under the federal law it will be legal. He said it takes at least 60 days to get an opinion from the Attorney General, and he felt it of the utmost importance that a plan should be submitted as soon as it is worked out by all parties concerned. He said he had met with the local Mexican-American group and the present precinct lines as adopted by the court in 1974 are not acceptable.

After some discussion during which all commissioners took part, it was decided to make a final decision and work it out at a called meeting October 28 at 9 a. m. at the courthouse. The real gist of the situation seemed to be the fact that precinct 4 is predominately Mexican American, and the group wants lines re-drawn to give more Mexican American representation in other precincts.

Following the discussion, Korbel left the meeting, and precinct judges for the November election were announced. Leta Powell, County District Clerk, said the ballots for the election were being Precinct 2 will vote at the Civic Center and Elizabeth Applewhite will be election judge. Precinct 3 will vote at Ozona Intermediate and Steve Kenley will be election judge. Precinct 4 will vote at Ozona Primary and Fela Gutierrez will be election judge. Nancy Hale will be election judge for the #5 box, which takes in Powell Field, and J. A. Carroll will again preside over box 6, the power plant.

Judge Williams suggested that in view of problems which have come up, the commissioners should instruct their judges to have Mexican-American help in all precincts.

Judge Williams announced to the court that a local realtor had a party interested in building a Sunday House Motel on county property which used to be Powell Field. After some discussion, no action was taken, it being the consensus of the court that bids must be taken and advertised before county property could be sold.

Also the judge asked the court to consider making an offer for the property adjacent to the courthouse and annex to the east, which he said was for sale. The owners have offered it to the county, but if no action is taken, they will offer it for public sale. The court took no action.

It was brought before the court that the Planned Parenthood Center objected to a group using the office each Monday night for a weight club meeting place. The center is open two days a week and the county provides the office space. Their objection was the files might be tampered with. Keith Peters, hospital administrator, said he could see no reason for objection and offered to make laboratory technician Mary Huckabee responsible as a member of the group and a worker in the center. It was agreed by the court to let the interested parties work out any objections.

Garland Young gave the Civic Center report and reported that the building, including the youth center was in almost constant use. He asked assistance in moving the extension in the youth center to near the kitchen of the large building. He said the cost would be around $42,000. New drapes for the center were discussed. Mrs. Myra Jones is in the process of attempting to match materials and determining how much material will be needed. Judge Williams said that competitive bids must be taken before the contract for drapes could be awarded. Dick Kirby said that at the moment they were only trying to decide what would be needed in the way of drapes and materials.

Dudley McCary met with the court and discussed everything from defective tables at the Civic Center to the Utility lines presently being installed at the cemeteries. He also asked for a pay raise if he is going to continue to be responsible for maintenance at the Care Center. It was determined that Dudley's salary is presently $700 per month plus a pickup and gasoline furnished. It was suggested that McCary wait until the first of the year when salary raises will be considered for county employees. He refused, saying that he would not continue to take care of the center until the first of the year with a salary adjustment. He said he felt it was worth an extra $100 per month. Commissioner Jack Williams made a motion that the salary be raised $50 per month, as of this month. Commissioner Bill Black seconded the motion. All voted in favor with the exception of Commissioner Castro.

Keith Peters handed out detailed copies of the hospital report. A spectacular net operating loss of $85,309.01 was explained as being mostly permanent improvements to stay in compliance with federal medicare-medicaid laws. Total net operating loss for the month of September was only $9,858.66. A total of $70,000.00 was transferred from county funds to the hospital fund. The report was up to and including September, 1975. The report also noted that the hospital has been re-certified under special approval for Medicare by HEW.

The meeting was adjourned and did not re-convene for an afternoon session.

two phones are better than one

...to save you steps, to bring more pleasure, convenience and security to your home. Now, for that second phone you really know you need, there's a fascinating selection of functional, colorful, clever, crazy, sophisticated, new-fashion old-fashioned designer/decorator telephones in General Telephone's Extension Extravaganza. Like the STYLELINE® telephone... the phone that puts the works so lightly in the palm of your hand... handset, dial and recall button, too. Could anything be easier (and come in 10 exciting colors, too)?

CRADLEPHONES are the very last word in sophisticated styling... Mediterranean, Brocade, Antique White... all resplendent with gold trim and fingerwheels. Conversation pieces right out of another world.

CANDLESTICK PHONE... the new-fashion old-fashioned phone styled right out of the roaring twenties in Black Bottom Black, Whiffenpoof White and Razzamatazz Red. Except that we did away with the separate big old bell box.

STARLITE® telephone is a practical luxury for "her room." Dainty high-style with dial that glows. Ideal for night table or vanity for after-dark dialing, or as a friendly, adjustable-brightness night light.
