CROCKETT TO HAVE CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN

The last week in August, beginning the 24th and ending the 29th, has been designated by the city council and by the mayor's proclamation as clean-up week or the inauguration of a clean-up campaign. The movement was started in the Lions' Club and has the backing of the city officials. The Courier does not believe very strongly in clean-up days or clean-up weeks, because it believes that every day should be clean-up day and every week clean-up week. But it is a good time to inaugurate a clean-up and paint-up campaign. And when the campaign is once started, let's keep it going. Let's not let it end with the ending of the week. Beginning with clean-up week, let's get our premises in tip-top shape and keep them that way. Spasmodic efforts do not amount to much, but the thing that counts is keeping everlastingly at it. Now let's begin with clean-up week, and clean up and brighten up, and then stay cleansed and brightened.

Cotton Receipts.

The cotton warehouse receipts at Crockett Wednesday were so near 5000 bales that the 5000 mark is no doubt passed by this time. It was estimated at the railroad office that Crockett will have shipped 4000 bales by today (Thursday), as that much was in sight and booked for shipment. Of the shipments it was also estimated that the river farm of G. L. Murray would ship by today 2000 bales, half of the total shipments. Mr. Murray's cotton does not go through the warehouse, but is loaded and shipped direct to Galveston. Estimating that 2000 bales of the warehouse cotton has been shipped, approximately 3000 remain in the warehouse as property of farmers and buyers. The warehouse is full, cotton is stacked along the west side and weighing this week was on the vacant lot opposite the warehouse. The cotton warehouse and the railroad shipping platform are both inadequate for the rush that is now on.

Died in Oklahoma.

John A. Davis, born and reared at Augusta, but who has lived for many years in Oklahoma, died at his home in Oklahoma on Tuesday of last week. The remains were forwarded to Crockett for interment and laid to rest beside those of his father, Col. W. W. Davis, in Glenwood cemetery Thursday. Rev. C. A. Lehmborg, the Methodist pastor, conducted religious service at the graveside. The deceased is survived by a sister, Miss Betty Davis, who resides in this city, and other relatives in the county. The bereaved have the sympathy of a large community.

Pants and Keys Found.

Neal Clements, one of the victims of Sunday night's burglaries, recovered his stolen trousers and keys Monday, but is still minus his money, more than $30. A negro boy found the pants and keys in an alley, where they had been thrown by the burglar, early Monday morning. He brought the keys to the Courier office and the owner of the pants was located through the keys, the Courier having heard that Clements had lost his keys, money and pants.

Pants, keys and small amounts of money were taken at other places. The thief had not been apprehended at last report.

Dawson Robbins has returned from his vacation trip to south Texas.

Improvements Noticed.
Mr. and Mrs. Mills Tittle and children and Miss Mary Tittle of Wichita Falls are visiting relatives and friends in and near Crockett. Mr. Tittle left Houston county in 1909, and is pleasantly surprised at the improvements and progress so noticeable in the county.

Otto E. Baumgart, C. L. Wilkins, N. A. Stuckert and Heber Stone were among Brenham citizens here for the baseball games the first of this week.

Proclamation

Acting under my authority as Mayor, and in harmony with our ordinances, the week of August 24th to 29th inclusive is hereby designated as "CLEAN-UP" and "BRIGHTEN-UP" WEEK.

During that week please cut and destroy all weeds, and clean up premises. Burn all trash, but deposit non-burning material, such as cans, old metal, etc., in a box or barrel, put in front of your home, and the city will haul it off.

Let's all "CLEAN-UP" our premises in the interest of sanitation as well as appearance. Inspectors will visit over the town, and it is hoped that a cheerful response will be made to this, and obviate taking any action to enforce the order.

Without authority to order you to "BRIGHTEN-UP" the premises, it is hoped that our citizens generally will at this time paint your homes, white-wash out-houses, and thus "BRIGHTEN-UP" the premises. Where needed, and most all do, let's all "BRIGHTEN-UP."

I hope that our entire citizenship will favorably respond to the above, and assist the council in its laudable effort to have a CLEANER and BRIGHTER town.

C. L. EDMISTON, Mayor.

MINISTERS ENDORSE CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN

The clean-up campaign, inaugurated by the Lions' Club of Crockett and pushed along by the city council and officials, has the endorsement and backing of Crockett ministers. It is said that cleanliness is next to Godliness and that white is the symbol of purity. Then it behooves all to not only clean up, but also to brighten up, as well as to paint up where possible. Some of the ministers are expected to touch on the subject of civic cleanliness in their sermons between now and clean-up, brighten-up and paint-up week. Some of us may not be able to paint up, but we can all clean up and brighten up. The movement has not only the endorsement of the city council, the press and the ministry, but also of the teachers and the various civic organizations. Let's all join in the movement to make Crockett an attractive town to live in. Read the mayor's proclamation in this issue of the Courier.

Keeping in Step.

A subscriber calling at the Courier office this week noted the well-kept appearance and convenient arrangement of the Courier office and printing plant. He said that Crockett's greatest improvement was its paving and, secondly, its homes, but that he had read the Courier from its first number and that it had always kept in step with the town's progress. The Courier has always tried to keep in step with not only the town's progress, but the county's progress as well. The complimentary remarks of our friends are very much appreciated. Those of our friends who have not visited the Courier in its new quarters are asked to make us a visit and inspect our completely equipped printing plant. The Courier's new location is right across the street from the post-office and almost opposite the city auditorium. Come to see us.

Christian Church.

We had 13 in the Men's Bible class at the Powell picture show last Sunday and we hope to have an increase next Sunday. The fans make it as comfortable as any place this hot weather. If you are not in some men's class, come and study God's word with us.

At 11 o'clock the pastor will preach. We are expecting a fine service at night when all the other churches will meet with us and Brother Lehmborg will preach the sermon. The service will begin promptly.

Albert T. Fitts, Pastor.

The Methodist Church.

Sunday morning pastor will preach on "A Little Cloud and Its Meaning." In the evening he will preach at the union service at the Christian church and the subject will be "Jesus and the Child." No services at the Methodist church at that hour.

Preaching Service.

There will be preaching service on Sunday, August 16, at the Kennard Presbyterian church at 11 a. m. and Cedar Point Presbyterian church at 3 p. m. Edgar C. Oakley, Minister.

Mrs. R. H. Hairston has returned from visiting in Houston.

Week
August
24th to 29th

You've perhaps noticed the house on your street that was recently painted—you've also noticed the improvement. It looks a hundred per cent better, doesn't it? Your home can be improved just as much with a new coat of high grade paint.

Mound City Horse Shoe brand paint is the highest grade of paint it is possible to make. It is not only the most durable and economical paint on the market, but also wears down evenly and presents a perfect surface for repainting. Made especially for painting exteriors—equally as good for interior work.

Did You Ever Notice

When sentiment entered one's life and changed their career altogether? We went a visiting last week; was to be gone two weeks, but on account of not being able to get Liberty bread had to come home. We just had to have it.

Now here is where the sentiment comes in: We saw several good towns larger than Crockett where we could sell more bread than here, but on account of our feeling for Crockett people, we could not bear to think of depriving them of Liberty bread.

FUNERAL TELLS PATHETIC STORY FROM REAL LIFE

All funerals, of course, are more or less tragic, but there was a funeral not many miles from Hilltop the other day that had about it an especially poignant and almost heartbreaking degree of tragedy. The story is well worth telling as a warning to all other men, no matter whether young or old.

It was the funeral of an old man, once the wealthiest and most prominent of the county, a good man who had once expected to leave his farm and other property to the church, who, losing all his wealth, was finally buried in a home-made coffin on the day that a room had been made ready for him at the county poorhouse. I shall let a friend tell the rest of the story:

"The old man was well along in his eighties, and died just in time to escape going to the county home, although a few years before he had been considered wealthy and had probably been worth $75,000 or $80,000. All his life he had worked hard, denied himself, and saved money little by little, handling his savings carefully because he knew how much each dollar had cost in actual labor. In the prosperous days following the world war, however, when everybody seemed to be making money easily, he fell a victim to the ambition to "get rich quick," and glib, smooth-talking stock salesmen found it easy to persuade him that he could quickly make a fortune by buying stock in oil companies, land development companies, and companies making automobile tires. He gave notes covering everything he owned to put the money in these worthless stocks. The salesmen took his notes, had no trouble discounting them at banks where he was known to be a man of considerable property, took the cash and vanished. When the notes came due, everything he possessed had to be sold to meet them, not even a homestead being saved for him. The broken old man finally applied for admission to the county home, but just as this was granted, he died."

And, of course, none of the slick-tongued scoundrels who are now probably riding around in fine clothes and fine automobiles paid for by the money of which they had robbed the old man—none of these sent a flower to his grave or lifted a finger to save him from the poorhouse.

Are the Midwives of Your Community Registered?

The locating and registering of midwives of their respective counties with the state board of health is part of the regular work of the public health nurses of the bureau of child hygiene, according to Dr. H. N. Barnett, director of this department, who is authority for the following:

"There is a state law requiring the use of prophylactic drops in the eyes of all new born babies as a preventative measure against blindness, but owing to the ignorance of many midwives practicing in the state, this law is often violated. The state board of health is endeavoring in every possible way to have all practicing this profession to register with it, that this silver nitrate solution be sent them free of cost with directions as to use, and to date have been successful in securing the registration of more than 2,000, but there are many more yet unregistered.

"Much difficulty is not only experienced in getting midwives to register, but sometimes it is hard to get some of them to use prophylactic drops after being shown how. The report of one nurse the last month told of a midwife who said she had officiated at the birth of 57 children and never had used any medicine for the eyes, and didn't see the use of doing it now. However, this is not the general rule, as the most of these women are willing enough to be taught."

Centerspread.

Q.—In printers' parlance, what is the meaning of "centerspread?" I cannot find it in the dictionary although I have seen it in printers' literature more than once.

Ans.—The word "centerspread" applies to double page features that are given a position in the center opening of a newspaper, pamphlet, book or other publication. It is so called because of the importance of this position in accommodating large halftones of panorama shape, or line cuts, maps and special type display that require two pages instead of one to make the center opening especially effective in comparison with any of its companion pages.

ENORMOUS CROWD SEES BRENHAM WIN

Playing before probably the largest crowd that ever witnessed a ball game in Crockett, Brenham made an uphill fight and won the opening game of the series Sunday 3 to 2.

Out hit and out fielded, Brenham took advantage of the breaks and won out by a one-run margin. Despite an injured arm, a hang-over of the game played at Athens two weeks ago, Runt Carroll pitched good base ball. Wildness cost Carroll heavily. Lynum relieved Carroll with one on and one down in the sixth and refused Brenham further access to first base, striking out five men. Artz pitched a steady game for Brenham, walking but two men and striking out six. Few clean hits were made off him.

McAdams played a brilliant game at short for Crockett, while Powledge and Barbee turned in some good outfield catches.

Reynolds hit Artz's first pitch over the center field fence, giving Crockett her first run. Crockett again scored in the Doyle grounded to McAdams, who tossed to Reynolds for a force-out, but Reynolds missed the toss, Traylor scoring and Artz taking third. Pahlman flew to Barbee, who leaned against the fence to make the catch, and Artz converted it into a sacrifice fly by scoring.

Brenham scored the winning run in the sixth. Ayo walked and Youngs sacrificed. Lynum relieved Carroll, but Monzingo let a pitch get by into the local bench, allowing Ayo to score. Lynum retired every batter who faced him.

Bob Countryman handled the indicator, and called a good, fast game.

The line-ups were: Brenham—Doyle, 2b; Pahlman, 1b; McDonald, cf; Ayo, lf; Youngs, rf-3b; Gibson, ss; Cheadle, rf; Henry*, Wendt, rf; Farley, 3b-ss; Traylor, c; Artz, p. LONG OF AUGUSTA ANSWERS ARTICLE

Augusta, Texas,
August 3, 1925.

Mr. W. W. Aiken,
Crockett, Tex.

Dear Sir and Friend: Just a word of correction to an article in the Grapeland Messenger by Arthur Owens of Crockett. In regard to claims being made against the county by county commissioners that served during 1919 and 1920. Now I will only speak for myself, and the other members can do the same. In December, 1918 and 1919, for seven or eight months, we were paid by the day at the rate of $4.00 for each day for all services rendered. Then after the required time specified by the above, we were paid by the month at the rate of one hundred dollars per month, until October, 1920, and after that date for two months and a half up to December 15, 1920, we were placed back on the day pay at the rate of $4.00 per day. Now this is all the claim I make against the county—the difference in the time on the basis of $100 per month for 2½ months, less what I drew by the day at $4.00 per day. Why this change was made I never have been able to understand. For this reason the commissioners for 1921 and 22 were paid by the month at the rate of $100 per month and have been ever since and on down to the present court which are drawing $100 per month. Now if just and right for the commissioners to draw this pay on the basis of $100 per month from 1921 to present time, it's nothing but fair that I should have mine. My understanding, when this change was made through County Attorney Adams, in correspondence with the state's attorney, his ruling was unless when the U. S. census was taken in 1920, was less than thirty thousand, the commissioner was entitled to only $4.00 per day. For this reason the change was made. Now then I ask the question, why was this change made in so short a time from the first of October, 1920, up to the first of 1921? Has the enumeration of the county been revised since 1920? If so, I have seen no account of it. Now I placed my claim before the present commissioners' court and they turned me down. It's alright that they should draw their $100.00 per month, but unfair and unjust that I should have mine. But still we are all serving court service under the same law and the same constitution of the state of Texas. Now, down to brass tacks, the $100.00 compensation per month ought never have been allowed. In first place the commissioners are not entitled to it. They are entitled to so much per day for court service and road service. Make an itemized account of road service at end of each month and draw their pay. In fact, I will illustrate it in this way—for instance, Farmer A. hires Laborer B. and agrees to pay Laborer B. so much per month. Laborer B. sets in and works one week and goes fishing the second and so on through the month and at the end of the month Laborer B. makes out his account for his month's work and draws his pay. "Oh," says Mr. Shmith, "why is it you are making your claim for $100 per month, when you claim that the system is illegitimate, unjust to tax payers of the county?" For this reason after my time was out the courts following have been drawing their $100 per month and continued ever since, and also are drawing it now. If they are right, so am I. Now then, the commissioners' court paid Mr. Estes his claim. Was his just? If not, why did you pay it? If it's fair to pay Peter, it's fair to pay Paul.

WHEN CROCKETT PLAYED BRENHAM AT BRENHAM TOWN

Playing before a large crowd for a week day, Crockett and the Brenham Wildcats gave the best exhibition of baseball that has been seen at Firemen's Park this season. Every player on both teams was in there, fighting for every inch, making sensational plays and giving the fans value received for the entrance fee. Not heretofore this season has any team played Brenham as hard as they were played Monday. There has not been a game this season wherein there were as many thrilling and sensational plays executed by both teams as there was yesterday. It was anybody's game until the last man was out in the eleventh inning.

Crockett was a winner by a score of 2 to 1.

Time and again the fielders turned into outs hit balls that seemed destined for base blows. Powledge in left field made two catches that robbed the Wildcats of extra base hits. McAdams at shortstop for the visitors went deep into his position for a hard hit ball off the bat of Freddie McDonald and with a great throw to first deprived Mac of what seemed to be a sure hit.

Gibson retrieved a line drive hit at him by Wakefield, made a fast throw to first base. By quick work Pahlman retired the runner by touching him when just a hair's breadth from the bag. Hartrick in right field made two sensational catches of line drives.

The most sensational play of the day was made by Freddie McDonald in center field. In the tenth inning Wakefield hit a line drive over second base that seemed a sure hit. Freddie came in on the ball at full speed. Seeing that he could not get the ball while standing up, he made a headlong dive, picking the ball just off the grass, turning a somersault but still holding to the elusive apple.

Jimmy Doyle for Brenham played all over his side of the diamond. Several times he turned hits into outs and figured in a double play that cut short a rally when the visitors were threatening to score. Another time he went into short right field and made a catch almost on the foul line. The ball was almost on the ground when Dolly grabbed it with one hand.

The work of both pitchers was excellent, with Izzy Glenn having a slight edge. Had it not been for hitting three men in the opening innings his pitching would have been almost perfect. He struck out eleven men and was touched for only 7 hits.

Lynum's pitching was good at all times. His deceptive underhand delivery made it difficult for the local boys. Lynum was somewhat wild and on numerous occasions was in the hole with the batter.

Jack Ashton's work with the indicator was good. He was on top of every play, hustling and making the players hustle. There were several close decisions, but he handled them in a satisfactory manner to both teams.

Crockett scored in the first inning when Reynolds singled to left center, was sacrificed to second by Wakefield, after two strikes had been called. Powledge singled to left, sending Reynolds to third. Powledge was in a chase trying to steal second and Reynolds started for home. Doyle tried to trap the runner at third and made a high throw to third, the ball rolling under the stand and Reynolds went home.

In the fifth inning the Kittens scored their lone tally. Gibson, first up, walked and a moment later stole second. Henry flew

BRENHAM DOWNS CROCKETT MONDAY

Brenham eliminated Crockett from the running for the semi-pro championship Monday by winning a mound duel 3 to 0. Izzy Glenn was never better, and until the sixth inning Crockett had secured but a single hit: Two in the sixth and two in the eighth completed Crockett's hit collection. Crockett was in position to score several times, but Glenn tightened down, and was given good support in the tight places. Johnny Lynum went back in the box and pitched a beautiful game, but seven errors kept him in hot water continually. He fanned five and walked two men, neither walk hurting. He allowed the same number of hits as Glenn. Glenn struck out eight and issued no passes.

All the scoring came in the fifth inning. Reynolds fumbled Youngs' slow grounder. Farley sacrificed him to second. Henry singled to left, Youngs taking third. Glenn fanned. Henry took second without a throw. With a chance to retire the side, McAdams kicked Doyle's grounder, allowing Youngs to score, Henry taking third. Doyle took second without a throw. McAdams missed Pahlman's grounder and Henry and Doyle spiked the rubber. Brenham failed to score on many occasions when hits and errors put men on, Lynum pitching great baseball.

Crockett's best chances to score came in the sixth and eighth. In the sixth Reynolds singled to right and Wakefield to center. Powledge flew to left. Barbee smashed one to Glenn's left and Izzy deflected it to Doyle, who started a double play. This was the only real break of the game. In the eighth Lynum singled over Doyle and Reynolds doubled to left with Monzingo out. Wakefield grounded to short, who held Lynum on and threw Wake out. Powledge fanned, ending the rally. Minnick played good ball at first base, having 17 put outs. He missed one hard grounder.

to left and Glenn fouled out to Monzingo. Jimmy Doyle redeemed his error of the first inning by hitting a screaming single through pitchers box, past second, sending Gibson home with the tying score.

The winning run was scored in the eleventh by Crockett after Powledge hit a long triple to center field and scored on a sacrifice fly to center by Hooks, McDonald making a good running catch.—Brenham Banner-Press.

TEACHING FIRST AID IN A STATE UNIVERSITY

By W. N. Lipscomb, M. D.

Education is not merely a knowledge of the Greek root and Latin verb; its value lies in the fundamentals of just how far it enables the student to master the present and provide for the future. As an example, witness the various colleges in a State university with all their necessary departments, each in charge of a specialist; each preparing the student in a broad and practical sense, the professional and educational directed toward specific instruction. This makes of the State university one of the best producers of dividends in which the parent State can invest its money.

"The chance taker is the accident maker," quotes more than one safety expert; yet he is combating the fact that the average American is both. The accident total is enormous in this country annually—so great that the casual reader is dazed by the figures to the point of unbelief. With all our old causes for accidents, the automobile as a new one is fast deserving the title the great Osler once gave pneumonia: "Captain of the men of death." Then, too, the stepladder, the stairs, the old-fashioned fireplace or the open heater, the horse and farm machinery, make of the home and farm perhaps more unsafe places than the industrial field. When we consider the rural home, and the automobilist with his rapidly growing wanderlust and nomadic life, as balanced against the safety measures of the factory, the home-owner, suburbanite or farmer appear at a disadvantage if injury follows accident.

The answer in part to the above is a practical knowledge of measures designed for relief of the injured individual. First Aid after all is just applied common-sense based on specific study and training. Men who teach it frequently quote the old axiom: "The fate of an injured man depends upon into whose hands he first falls," and they emphasize the point first enunciated by psychologists that after all the truly educated man is the one who can cope with his environment.

BEER NOT WHAT IT SEEMS TO BE.

A great effort is being made in America just at the present time to convince the people that beer is not an alcoholic beverage in the sense that whisky and other spirituous liquors are, that its so-called "moderate" use is harmless, that it has food value, and that a permanent solution of the drink habit can be found in the prohibition of whisky and similar drinks and the encouragement of beer and light wines.

"The brutalizing effect of beer-alcoholism is shown most clearly by the fact that in Germany crimes of personal violence, particularly dangerous bodily injuries, occur most frequently in Bavaria where there is the highest consumption of beer," said Dr. Hugo Hoppe, the famous nerve specialist of Konigsberg, Germany, and Dr. Charles Gilbert Davis, of Chicago, evidently agrees with him, for he arraigns beer in the following vigorous language:

"It is my professional opinion, after observation of many years in the practice of medicine, that beer is doing more harm to humanity than all other alcoholics. "Beer produces disease of the stomach, kidneys, heart, and blood vessels. Owing to the diuretic effect of the hops, the alcohol in the beer is diverted toward the kidneys, which probably accounts for its destructive action on those organs. It causes a deposit of morbid fat in the body, especially around the heart, enlarges that organ, and increases the work of the heart and blood vessels, manifested by the fatigue and shortness of breath of all beer drinkers.

"A man cannot use beer daily for any great length of time and not manifest some physiological deficiency.

"Professor Stengel in his great work, a translation from Jugensen of Tubingen and Schotter of Vienna, draws attention to what he calls the 'beer heart.' He says: 'Bavaria, especially Munich, is its home par excellence, and the people in that country in every class of society fall victims to this form of heart disease.'

"All of this has been proven time and again by the post mortems of Bollinger, who has examined and weighed the hearts of many beer drinkers. This is a terrible scientific arraignment of beer, but it is the truth, and truth is the voice of God."

Powell's Picture Show is Again Open.

Mr. S. J. Powell re-opened his picture show Tuesday night with a picturization including the great actress, Nazimova. Mr. Powell has booked some wonderful pictures for his theater and patrons, and those who visit his play house will have no reason to regret their time and money spent. In fact, they will have cause to enjoy their time, as it will prove an evening most pleasantly spent. Mr. Powell only recently improved his picture house, adding new and improved seats, and other improvements are in contemplation, with the view of making his theater the most enjoyable in Crockett as to pictures, music and comfort. 1t.

BRENHAM WINS LAST GAME OF THE SEASON

Brenham removed all doubt as to the better club by winning Tuesday's game 4 to 1, making four straight wins over the home club, Crockett winning only the first game played at Brenham. George Crevenstine pitched for Crockett and George "Grandpa" Woods of Rice fame hurled for Hooper's club. The game, though a good fast exhibition, had few features, and was a pitching duel after the second inning. Minnick got two of Crockett's hits and played a snappy game at the initial station. Almost every fielder turned in a good play, but none were spectacular, except a double play, Powledge to Minnick, in which Powledge caught Henry's fly and doubled Farley off first with a mighty throw.

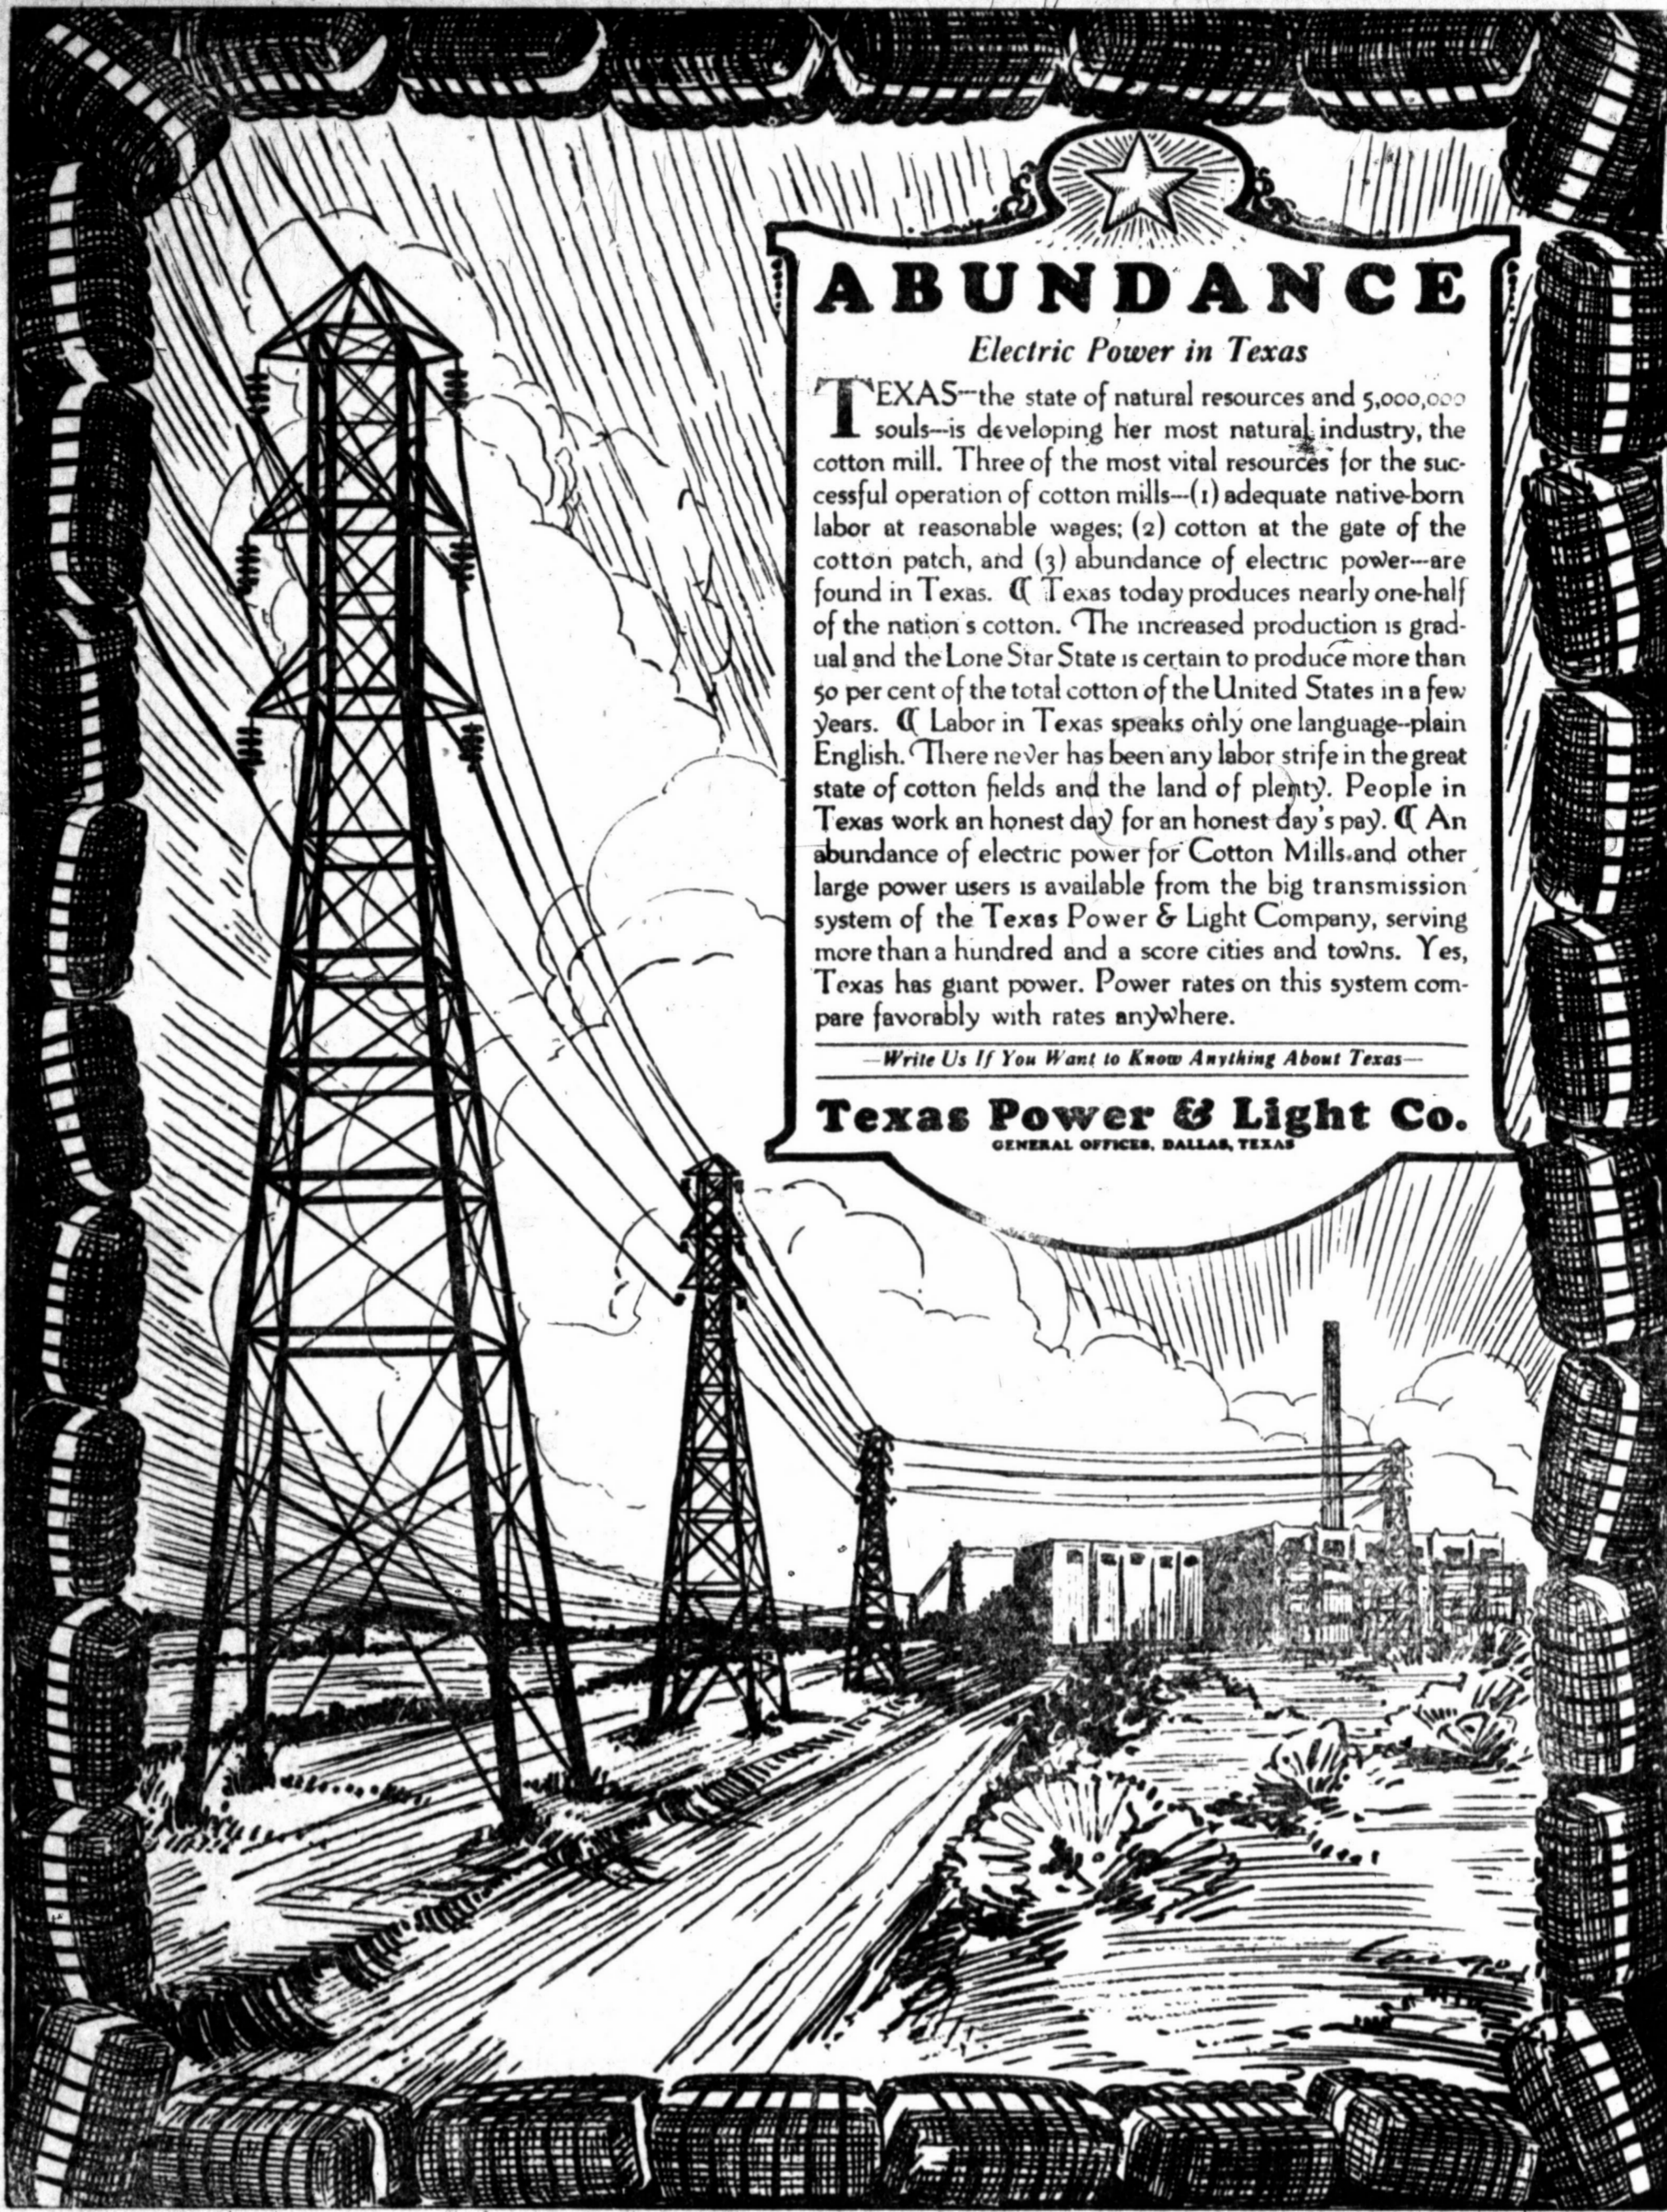

Brenham sewed up the game at the earliest moment. Doyle opened with a walk and Pahlman dropped a home run over the right field fence, scoring behind Doyle. In the second inning Youngs walked and was sacrificed to second by Farley. McAdams missed Henry's grounder behind Youngs and Youngs scored. John Henry shot a home run over the left field fence with no one on in the seventh. Crevenstine had fanned Youngs and Farley, and ended this inning by whiffing Woods.

After going twenty-three innings without a run, Crockett scored in the ninth inning. Barbee grounded to Doyle, but Minnick got an infield hit to short and took second on Farley's wild toss. Woods grabbed Hooks' drive and tossed him out, holding Minnick on second. McAdams got a hit, his first of the series, to right and it got by Wendt for three bases, Minnick scoring. Manager Wakefield batted for Monzingo and Woods stopped his terrific grounder and tossed him out.

The game was marred by an injury to Cheadle, the speedy Indian, playing right field for Brenham, in the sixth inning. Cheadle slid into first trying to beat out a grounder and snapped a bone in his ankle. These games were the last played by the Crockett club, which has had a very successful season under the management of L. A. "Buddy" Wakefield. A good crowd saw each of these games. Score by innings: R. H. E. Brenham 210 000 100-4 6 1 Crockett 000 000 001-1 7 2 Batteries: Woods and Henry; Crevenstine and Monzingo.

ABUNDANCE

Electric Power in Texas

TEXAS—the state of natural resources and 5,000,000 souls—is developing her most natural industry, the cotton mill. Three of the most vital resources for the successful operation of cotton mills—(1) adequate native-born labor at reasonable wages; (2) cotton at the gate of the cotton patch, and (3) abundance of electric power—are found in Texas. Texas today produces nearly one-half of the nation's cotton. The increased production is gradual and the Lone Star State is certain to produce more than 50 per cent of the total cotton of the United States in a few years. Labor in Texas speaks only one language—plain English. There never has been any labor strife in the great state of cotton fields and the land of plenty. People in Texas work an honest day for an honest day's pay. An abundance of electric power for Cotton Mills and other large power users is available from the big transmission system of the Texas Power & Light Company, serving more than a hundred and a score cities and towns. Yes, Texas has giant power. Power rates on this system compare favorably with rates anywhere.
