METHODIST PASTOR OFF TO CONFERENCE

Rev. C. A. Lehmborg, pastor of the First Methodist church of Crockett, left Monday afternoon to attend the annual conference of the Methodist church at Jacksonville. Before leaving, Rev. Lehmborg made the following statement to the Courier:

"With us Methodists the church year closes with the time of the annual conference. Again, a year is passed and we are about to report our year's work at the session which convenes in Jacksonville Tuesday evening and closes on Sunday, the 15th inst., or the day after, when appointments for the new year will be read, and every preacher will have a church to serve and every church in Methodism a pastor.

"We are closing a good year. The Great Head of the Church blessed the labors of pastor and people, and we will have a good report to make. Peace and harmony have prevailed among our people and there was the best of cooperation everywhere. We experienced again that 'in union there is strength.'"

"Here are some of the figures that will be reported at conference: We took into the church fifty-one persons, twenty-four of these on profession of faith. Thirty-one were dismissed by letter or died so that our net gain has been twenty members, giving us a membership now of 615.

"The pastor wishes to thank the members of the quarterly conference for passing the resolution in which they say so many kind words about our work and ask that the pastor might be returned next year. For this and the many expressions on the part of the church membership, of appreciation, we are deeply grateful. We have no thought of moving. The pastor and family desire to stay. We believe next year will bring wonderful growth to our church here. But, if in the Providence of God (which we believe overrules often even the council of a Methodist Bishop and his advisors) a change should come, we sincerely hope and pray that next year will bring many victories and blessings.

"The church will have a financial report that we are all justly proud of; much more could and perhaps should have been done, but considering everything we feel very happy over the report that we can make. The board of stewards made a budget of about five thousand dollars early in the year, all of which has been raised or will be collected before the pastor goes to conference. In addition to this about a thousand dollars was raised for incidental expenses."

Rankin-Craddock Wedding.

Taken from a Pensacola, Fla., newspaper, the marriage of Ike E. Craddock, third son of Mr. H. F. Craddock, is noted as follows: A very quiet wedding of Thursday evening was that of Mrs. Laura Rankin and Mr. Ike Craddock, at the First Baptist Church, Rev. Rousseau, minister of that church, officiating at the service, no one being present but the attendants.

Miss Sue Ryall stood with the bride and Mr. Billy Roberts was the groom's only attendant. Mrs. Craddock came here some time ago from Brewton, Ala., to make this her home, and has made many friends here.

Mr. Craddock is the popular manager of the Piggly Wiggly stores in this city.

They will be at home at 15 West Cervantes street. Crockett friends will hasten to congratulate the groom and extend their best wishes to the bride.

Trains Late.

Train No. 28, Houston to St. Louis, was eight hours and 40 minutes late Sunday on account of derailment due to soft track between Phelps and Dodge. All other trains have been late for a week.

Train No. 25, St. Louis to Houston, was nine hours late Saturday, due to wash-outs and overflows.

JUST OUT OF LUCK WAS THIS RAIL CREW

Engine No. 420 and crew of the I.-G. N. Railway company earned a hard-luck prize last week during the flood. The train was on the road between Crockett and Palestine from Wednesday until Saturday. This train was at Crockett Wednesday night when the freight wreck one mile south of Grapeland tied up traffic.

This train was tied up at Crockett Wednesday night. Thursday the crew with engine and caboose were ordered to proceed to the wreck and pull the derailed engine (No. 501) onto the track with its tender, the engine having passed over the wash-out, while the wrecker was clearing the wreckage from the other end of the wash-out. Before reaching the wreck the trainmen found another wash-out. Returning to Crockett, material was secured, and the wash-out repaired. The train then proceeded to the wreck and pulled the dead engine and derailed tender out. In attempting to return to Crockett, the repairs were found to have been washed out. Thus the good engine and the dead one were both stranded Thursday night and until Friday afternoon, when the wreck was cleared.

The two engines were then ordered to Grapeland in order that trains might pass. The live engine returned to Crockett Friday evening for its train, and pulled it to Grapeland Friday night, expecting to get water there. But the tanks had burst and no water could be made available. No. 420 was out of water, so it became the second dead engine on the siding at Grapeland.

Another engine hauled the train and the dead engines into Palestine Saturday, ending an eventful trip.

The crew of the ill-fated train had a tough time, being able to sleep (in the caboose) only when the train was tied up. Either the fireman or engineer had to remain on the engine at all times, this fact making it still harder on these two men. They did their own cooking in the caboose, when they could get anything to cook.

Pleasure Lakes Break.

El Caney, fishing and pleasure lake eight miles north of Crockett, was broken last week by the enormous rains of Wednesday and Wednesday night. The dam broke in the center, allowing the great body of water, said to be literally filled with fish, to waste into the creeks below. Many large fish are reported to have been picked up Thursday following the breaking of the dam.

A number of artificial lakes near Grapeland, including Myrtle lake, also broke as a result of the heavy rains. The loss to owners of these lakes is great, both financially and as regards the pleasure derived from them.

THE PART SCALES PLAY IN THE CHILD HEALTH PROGRAM

(Written for Courier.)

Health is a treasure. As a rule the people who realize the value of health most keenly are those who have lost it.

The advantages of health are that it permits us to make the most of our opportunities for useful service, to live fully and more abundantly.

Once possessed, health may be maintained readily by a little knowledge mixed with self-discipline, the latter is accomplished most easily when it has been practiced since early childhood.

The best persons to train a child in good health habits are a far-sighted, loving mother and a patient, interested father. Unfortunately all fathers and mothers are not possessed of these qualities.

Children can be encouraged to want to do things and this is best given by awakening the child's interest. It must be remembered that there are many things which interest a child which will not interest a grown-up. This leads to scales.

Scales can be made to serve a useful purpose. Children like to be weighed. Regular weighing at monthly intervals has proved itself one of our great allies in child health education.

A slight loss or stationary weight from one month to the next is not necessarily significant. A continued loss or persistent stationary weight should be investigated.

Dr. Emmet L. Holt speaks from a lifelong experience with children. Practically, it is found also that if children vary to a greater degree than this—10 per cent below and 20 per cent above—on either side of the average, something is wrong; that outside of this normal zone underweight is likely to be disease, something needing investigation; and upon critical examination many other things are found to be wrong with such children.

The pupils in the grammar and elementary grades of the Crockett school will be weighed November 16 and 17. All pupils who want to be weighed should be present those days.

Antoinette Ahlschier, Itinerant Public Health Nurse.

Young Women's Association.

The Y. W. A. met Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 3rd, with Mrs. Fisher Arledge hostess and Mrs. Harry Ellis leader.

Subject for the afternoon—Ways of giving—Luke 6, John 6. Followed by chain prayer, ending with leader.

The following papers were given and were an inspiration to the whole society:

"Ways of Winning Souls," Mrs. LeMay.

"Bible Victories Through Prayers," Mrs. Garner. Song—"Sweet Hour of Prayer," society.

"Woman's Work in Missionary Societies of the World," Mrs. Garland Ellis.

"Ask Somebody Else"—Mrs. Billy Allee.

Quartet, "Jesus Paid It All"—Mesdames Keissling, Harry Ellis, E. P. Adams, Fisher Arledge.

"Some Questions and Answers to God's Prayers"—Mrs. Delbert Brown.

After which we were served a delightful salad course by our gracious hostess, assisted by Mrs. Golding. We thank Mrs. Arledge and mother for their kind hospitality. Reporter.

Junior-Senior Hallowe'en Party.

On Friday evening at eight, come to the Shrine hall not a minute late. Dress in fancy costume or sheet, all the witches, ghosts and spooks to meet.

Such were the words of the invitations from the juniors to the charming Hallowe'en party, given in honor of the seniors last Friday night.

Promptly at eight o'clock, could be seen all kinds of shapes, figures and spooks, gathering in the Shrine hall. Many artistic costumes of harmonizing Hallowe'en colors were worn. All members of the two classes were present, accompanied by the teachers: Miss Beth Lundy, Miss Blake, Mr. Simmons and Mr. Jordan.

Ghost stories were told by Mrs. W. O. Farris in a most charming manner. To make the stories give a "creepy feeling," enhance the weirdness and give them the spirit of Hallowe'en, the lights were extinguished and the hall illuminated by Jack-o'-Lanterns.

Many games were played, but the ones bringing the most pleasure were: "The Virginia Reel," "A Trip to Jerusalem" and "Introduction to President and Mrs. Coolidge." All games were carried out with greatest enthusiasm.

The juniors were ably assisted with their entertaining by the chaperones: Mrs. Tom Jordan, Mrs. Jim Smith, Mrs. Hallie Crook and Mrs. W. O. Farris.

It is beyond the "all wise" seniors even to express their joy and pleasure at this delightful party.

G. C. Ellisor Dead.

Mr. G. C. Ellisor, 68 years of age, died Wednesday night, November 4, at his home five miles east of Crockett on the Kennard and Ratcliff road. Funeral services were conducted at the graveside in Glenwood cemetery Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock by Rev. Robt. Hodges. Mr. Ellisor was for many years a member of the Methodist church, and was a good, Christian man.

Mr. Ellisor was born in San Jacinto county. Before marriage his wife was Miss Eunice Ross. Besides the wife, the deceased is survived by five sons—Otho, Walter, Liney, Lacey and George, and a daughter, Mrs. H. G. Dorman. The Courier joins in extending sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

REVOCATION OF ROAD COMPANY PERMIT SOUGHT

Austin, Texas, Nov. 5.—Suit for recovery of approximately $650,000, for cancellation of all highway surfacing contracts of the American Road company, for cancellation of its permit to do business in Texas, and for injunction restraining the company from collecting or disposing of funds pending trial, was filed by Attorney General Dan Moody against the American Road company, at 11:40 Thursday morning in Fifty-third district court of Travis county. A temporary injunction will be prayed for against the American Construction company, it was indicated Thursday at the court house. Citations were being sent out by the district clerk's office late Thursday to the defendant parties, returnable at the January term of court. Counties in which contracts are recited to exist are Dallas and Tarrant counties, maintenance; construction in Parker, Bell, Titus, Franklin, Wise, Bowie, Red River, McLennan, Delta, Collin, Denton, Johnson, Bosque, Falls, Milam, Travis, Bastrop, Fayette, Colorado, Guadalupe, Uvalde, Gillespie, Kerr, Polk, Angelina, Trinity, Caldwell, Williamson, Hood, Comanche, Gonzales, Wilson and Ellis.

The attorney general sued for recovery of $650,000 for the state. The suit is based on the allegation that between the dates of April 1, 1925, and October 1, 1925, the American Road company made a profit of $1,115,711.48, on a gross business with the state of $1,719,480.41. He sets forth that in the execution of these contracts the American Road company spent only $603,768.93.

"It is now shown," the petition reads, "that the aforesaid contracts were made in fraud of the state of Texas and the people thereof, and were and are beyond the powers devolving upon the highway commission of the state of Texas and are not now, and never have been, binding upon the state of Texas, and ought to be cancelled." The petition charges that the American Road Company was formed in Delaware, and it names the corporation and E. S. Heyser, W. K. Mellyar, W. Whitaker Brodnax, T. D. McGinnis, H. H. Cleaver and Miss H. L. Johnson, collectively and individually, as defendants.

AGE OF SHORT CUTS.

This is an age of short cuts to everything. No one seems to have time for the "meat" of anything.

The hair is cut short, the dresses are cut short, and the sleeves are cut short.

In Crockett we want our sermons short and we insist on our public speakers making it short and "snappy."

Synthetic foods, substitutes for the real thing, abound, and corn beef and cabbage exist only as a comic page myth.

Everybody is looking for a short cut to wealth without work. Robbing a bank seems to be the most favored of short cuts in this class.

Motorists are constantly demanding short cuts and highway commissions are straightening highways to make greater speed possible.

Short cuts to health are sought in sanitariums after health has been lost by burning the candle at both ends.

But the world's work is not going to be done with short cuts. Those of us who are engulfed in the "short cut" mania will have to learn that patience, time and hard work are just as much requirements of accomplishment as they ever were.

LEE BROTHERS' WILD ANIMAL SHOW

The rarest collection of wild animals in America is exhibited in the menagerie department of Lee Bros. Wild Animal Show. Six black bears, sixteen lions, ten leopards, eight pumas, a giant blood-exuding hippopotamus, tapir, horned horse, superb Bengal tigers and a nursery of kittens and cub jungle creatures are in this unique and priceless menagerie.

There are two herds of performing elephants that do most unnatural and wonderful tricks. The bulky beasts move about with astonishing speed and take their cues for the different turns without the slightest hesitancy. The giant fellows go through changing figures of dance with light and graceful steps and sway their huge bodies with the rhythmic sympathy and enjoying spirit of accomplished human nature. They even go through with the humorous features of a farcical skit.

Shapely horses of aristocratic breeding and education lend further attractiveness to this department of the huge shows. These high-spirited beasts have been patiently taught to make the most of their great beauty and to see them maneuver in military displays, archly evolve the intricate measures of fashionable dance and recklessly dash into thrilling pursuit of the hunter's quarry are scenes of stimulating enjoyment never before met with in any amusement institution, however colossal and enterprising. There are nearly 200 horses with the Lee Bros. Wild Animal Show.

The Lee Bros. Wild Animal Show will exhibit in Crockett on Saturday, November 21, giving two performances at 2 and 8 p. m., rain or shine.

First Methodist Church.

No preaching services will be held at the First Methodist church Sunday, Rev. C. A. Lehmborg being away at conference. Sunday school and the Epworth leagues will meet as usual.

Mr. J. Valentine Dead.
Mr. J. Valentine, one of Crockett's oldest and most-respected citizens, died at his home in this city Tuesday morning. Mr. Valentine had been in feeble health for several years, his physical condition gradually becoming worse until the end came at an early hour Tuesday morning.
Mr. Valentine had been a resident of Crockett for thirty years or more. For many years he was in the freight office of the railroad company, following which he served the city as its secretary for several terms and held other positions of public trust. He retired from public service only when overtaken with the infirmities of health and maturity of age. He was 84 years old at the time of his death.
Besides the widow, Mr. Valentine leaves a family of eight, one son, Priest, having died when a young man. The sons remaining are John B. Valentine, C. M. Valentine and James Valentine. The five daughters, are Mrs. Henry Powers, Mrs. Louise Leediker, Mrs. Rose Peck, Mrs. Austin Woodall and Miss Mary Valentine.
Mr. Valentine was a long-time and consecrated member of the Methodist church. Funeral services were held at the family residence Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, interment following in Glenwood cemetery. Religious services were conducted by Rev. C. A. Lehmborg, the Methodist pastor, Mr. Lehmborg having returned from the annual conference at Jacksonville for that purpose.
James Valentine, born in Aberdeen, Miss., December 25, 1842; moved to Texas in fall of 1879; moved to Crockett in 1895, where for eighteen years he was connected with I.-G. N. Railroad as cashier, after which time he was connected with city government for eight years. He joined the Confederate army and went out with 1st Tennessee regiment, and served throughout the war with General Lee's army in Virginia. He was a member of the Methodist church from childhood and died firm in the faith.
He was married in Aberdeen, Miss., to Miss Rose Gates, in 1866. He is survived by his wife and eight children—three boys and five girls, twelve grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.
Mr. Valentine was a devoted and dutiful husband and father, and a charitable and kind-hearted neighbor. He will be missed in community affairs, and his family have the sympathy of our people in their loss.

AN EVENT OF RARE ENTERTAINMENT

The John Ross Reed Company boasts of some things which are seldom seen in the regular program. In the first place, beautiful screens are used as a background for the various song groups. In addition, they use a special lighting control system so that the scenes from operas can be more effectively staged. In addition, they use a standard Kleig light to obtain special effects, like the moon effect, the water ripple and the firefly effect, used to effectively in the Beethoven number and "The Pagoda of Flowers," as well as the "Italian Street Scene."
The repertoire embraces operatic numbers, ballads, folk songs and popular songs, in solos, duets and trio form. The costumes include peasant, Burmese, Italian immigrant and costumes of the seventeenth century. Colored combinations are most effectively worked out and some very remarkable stage pictures are offered through the combination of colorful costumes and special lighting effects.

The company consists of John Ross Reed, baritone, composer and Columbia record artist; Mr. Thomas Bos, presenter; Pauline Moore Reed, mezzo soprano; and Dagny Ellen Jensen, soprano, reader and interpreter of character songs. A truly delightful program is in store for those who avail themselves of hearing this company when it appears here on the evening of Tuesday, Nov. 17th, at Auditorium Theatre. It.

Night On a Log.
Mr. P. E. Tunstall, keeper of the bridge at Hurricane Shoals, was in town Monday. He reported that Trinity river was higher since the recent rains than at any time since the last overflow several years ago. It lacked, however, several feet of being out of banks.
A party of hunters last week were marooned at Beaver Dam marsh by the flood waters after the terrific rains. They were forced to spend an entire night on a floating log, without food, light or fire. Their automobile was entirely covered by the water. They were brought out by parties living in the vicinity of the marsh.

THE GOOD CITIZEN.

The citizen I have in mind believes in a personal God to whom he is responsible, and lives up to his belief. He is concerned, first of all, to do his own duty. He has no thought of being upright by proxy. He does not wait for the community or the legislature to reform him. Knowing that good citizenship depends on the character and conduct of the individual citizen, he does his share as best he can and sets example, preaching little or not at all, but hoping (and praying) that others may do the good that lies in their power.

He is conscious of his rights; perhaps jealous. He may be shrewd in business. His ambition may be large. In success he may outstrip his fellows. But he is careful of other men's rights. He respects their honest endeavor. He counts it a gain when he can help them, and a duty to relieve them if they be in distress. In his eyes, they are not simply members of the same social group; they are, as he is, God's creatures, endowed, no less than he, with rights to life, liberty, and happiness.

For him, freedom is precious—the more so because it is God's gift, not a concession from any human power. To preserve it, to secure each in his right and order among all, law is needed. Legislation by men, so far as it is just, has the force of social authority. And it has a higher sanction. It is, however imperfect, a cooperation in the divine plan for man's welfare. As such, it is sacred. It claims obedience for conscience sake. To violate it is to harm society, but also to offend a Supreme Justice to which, inevitably, an account must be given.

As against the divine law, no enactment of man can be just. If the individual is bound to do what is right, the State is under a still greater obligation in respect of God's ordinance. A government that contemns the divine law makes good citizenship impossible, and, moreover, commits suicide. Contrariwise, when public authority encourages religion, it strengthens itself. It secures compliance with its rulings not merely in outward deed but, what is more vital, in the mind and heart of the people.

Worthy citizenship can not be indifferent to any matter of public interest. It will not become so absorbed in private pursuits as to let politicians "play the game and run the country." There is too much at stake. Corrupt practice spreads easily from the highest to the lowest. Disregard for law is ruinous to authority in any form or degree. The citizen who wants religion and morality safeguarded will strive to keep the general atmosphere pure. He will, as far as possible, protect the home and family, in which citizenship has its source.

The sense of responsibility is an antidote for the selfishness that shirks obligation, mocks at authority, and finds nothing worth while but pleasure. Religion develops that sense. It gives duty the highest possible meaning, and to the performance of duty it brings the deepest satisfaction in the thought of God's approval.

If education is to train men and women for good citizenship, it can not let them go into life without a consciousness of life's obligations. Nor can that consciousness be full and deep and lasting unless it center upon the knowledge of God and His eternal law.—Rt. Rev. Thomas J. Shahan, Rector of Catholic University.

THEN—AND THEN ONLY.

Not until we have done away with certain classes of automobile drivers, either by educational means or force, can the average motorist take the road in safety. When we have

Blotted out the drunken driver Forced the road-hog into a bottomless ditch

Whipped the smartness out of the smart aleck driver

Convinced the speedster that he is not in such a hurry after all

Stepped on the loafer driver's rear bumper to speed him up a little

Equipped the one-light driver's car with three lights instead of two

And just naturally pounded some common sense into the bone-head driver's head, with a sledge hammer if necessary—then, and not until then, can the average man drive with reasonable assurance that he will return home fit and whole, and not to a hospital maimed and mangled.

A Quick Get-a-Way

It's impossible in the wintertime to start your car easily and have positive acceleration without a high grade gasoline:

Therefore, it's the desire of every motorist to have his tank full of the best gasoline he can buy.

When seeking the best, you will naturally turn to Pennant gasoline. It is recognized as the gasoline that gives the best results when motors are hard to start.

Pennant Oil, too, is fine for winter use. Fill your crank case with Pennant oil and give it a chance to prove its worth.

ANOTHER LEEVE DISTRICT CREATED

The commissioners' court of Houston county being in regular session on October 26, among other things the following proceedings were had:

An order was passed to loan the court house and jail fund $500 from the current road and bridge fund until taxes are prorated to various funds.

An order was passed to transfer $3500 from current fund of road district No. 9 to the sinking fund of road district No. 9, transfer to operate only as a loan for the purpose of retiring outstanding bonds and interest.

Upon his application, J. C. Allee was appointed constable of precinct No. 6.

A petition was received from J. M. and A. E. Murray and F. A. and J. H. Smith, who certify that they are the owners of a majority of the land in levee improvement district No. 3, asking for an election to determine whether or not that district shall issue $150,000 in levee improvement bonds, bearing 6 per cent interest per annum and shall levy a tax to create a sinking fund and pay the interest on the bonds.

The election was ordered held on November 17 at the Main Commissary and headquarters of J. M. and A. E. Murray, within the levee district No. 3, with the following officers: A. E. Murray, judge; Pledger Childs and Stovall White, clerks. The sheriff was ordered to post notices of the election at legal places.

Houston county levee improvement district No. 3 lies along Trinity river, west of Grapeland.

TEXAS NOW LEADS CONFERENCE RACE

T. I. A. A. Race Reaching Final Stages; Season Ends On Thanksgiving Day.

By Brewer Bennett.

The "dope-bucket" was not upset last week—the bottom was merely removed from the bucket. Overwhelming favorites in all sections of the country were forced to accept defeat as their portion. The Southwestern conference saw its share of upsets. A. & M., holding the spotlight, was forced to bow to T. C. U., a field goal giving Matty Bell's charges a deserved 3 to 0 victory over the powerful Aggies. Arkansas forced S. M. U. to accept an even game, which ended without a score.

The T. I. A. A. race had three undefeated teams remaining—Trinity and Simmons, who met Wednesday at Waxahachie, and Southwestern, who played St. Edwards at Austin Wednesday.

A. & M. plays Rice at Houston Saturday. A. & M. seems much the better team. Rice, who lost to L. S. U. 6 to 0 last Saturday, is having an in and out—mostly out—season. Man for man, and team for team, A. & M. is much stronger. But A. & M.'s victories on Owl field are not hard to count up. Not more than once since the World War has A. & M. won at Houston. A. & M. won 13 to 6 at College Station last year, and should win again this year.

Baylor goes to Dallas Saturday to face S. M. U. They tied last year, 7 to 7, and each is doubtly anxious to win this game. S. M. U. should count her first and only conference victory Saturday. Defeat, 13 to 3, by Texas Saturday proved Baylor's weakness.

T. C. U. goes to Fayetteville to play Arkansas Saturday. T. C. U.'s game with A. & M. may throw them off form, and give Arkansas the victory. It is a toss-up at best. Arkansas 28, T. C. U. 0, was the 1924 score.

Texas has a game Saturday with Arizona at Austin. Texas should win without extending herself. Arizona has only a mediocre club.

Next Wednesday Simmons goes to Commerce to play East Texas Normal. Simmons should win easily. Simmons beat Denton Teachers 10 to 0 last Friday.

On Friday Sam Houston and San Marcos tangle at Huntsville. San Marcos won last year 13 to 0, but Sam Houston should get revenge this year. Last Thursday Sam Houston beat Rusk 13 to 0, while San Marcos beat St. Edwards 18 to 6 Friday.

Next Wednesday Texas Tech goes to Brownwood to play Howard Payne. Tech beat Wayland 115 to 0 last Thursday, while Howard Payne outplayed Trinity last Wednesday, but lost 6 to 0. Little comparison is possible, but a Tech victory would not be surprising.

Tulane plays Sewanee at New Orleans Saturday. Tulane beat Louisiana Tech 37 to 0, while Sewanee was nosing out Mississippi 10 to 9. Tulane should win by ten points, or more.

Missouri Valley teams play as follows Saturday: Nebraska at Kansas A. & M.; Kansas at Grinnell; Oklahoma at Missouri.

Big Ten teams play Saturday as follows: Ohio at Michigan; Northwestern at Purdue; Dartmouth at Chicago; Iowa at Minnesota.

Other games Saturday include: Carnegie Tech at Notre Dame; Wabash at Illinois; Michigan Aggies at Wisconsin; Washington at California; Florida at Alabama; Vanderbilt vs. Auburn at Birmingham; Georgia at Georgia Tech; Princeton at Yale; Harvard at Brown; Pittsburgh at Pennsylvania; Colgate at Syracuse; Penn State at West Virginia; Washington & Jefferson at Detroit; Columbia vs. Army at New York; Bucknell at Navy.

Results last week included the following:

America's Biggest Ranch.

The largest game preserve in the state has been created on the King ranch near Kingsville. According to the Edinburg correspondent of the Post-Dispatch, 150,000 acres have been set aside as a wild life sanctuary and guards will ride the tract to see that no hunting is done.

The King ranch is America's largest single tract of land under private ownership. The game preserve represents only a small portion of the total acreage on the ranch. But it is large enough to afford complete protection to the wild life taking refuge in its boundaries. Deer, panthers and many other animals common to Southwest Texas are said to roam the timbered areas of this tract, which fronts the gulf for 30 miles and extends well into Willacy county.

Under the new law authorizing the establishment of game preserves on privately owned land, the state undertakes to do the necessary police work, but does not interfere in any way with the owner's use of the land for commercial purposes.—Houston Post-Dispatch.

More Rain Wednesday.
After a few days of fair weather, the heavens wept copiously Wednesday. Seems like we are in for a long, wet winter. Long periods of drought are always followed by long periods of rainfall to make up the deficiency in the average.

Wind Storm.

During the rain storms of last week a heavy wind visited the Grounds Schoolhouse community. Exposed automobiles were overturned, roofs were blown off outhouses, trees uprooted and other damages resulted. No one was reported to have been injured during the storm.

Preaching Services.

There will be preaching service Sunday, Nov. 15, 1925, at Kennard at 11 a. m. Subject, "Signals;" at 6:30 p. m., a meeting for young people; at 7:30, song service and short sermon. Subject, "A Forward Look." Edgar C. Oakley, Minister.

Ship 1147 Head Cattle.

According to information furnished the Courier by R. L. Eubanks, county cattle dipping inspector, 1147 head of cattle were shipped from the Crockett station during the month of October. Part of these cattle were fat stock for the markets, while part were shipped to west Texas for grazing.

Card of Thanks.

Died—Mr. G. C. Ellisor on Nov. 5, 1925. He was a member of the Home Benefit Association No. 2. He joined this association August 13, 1923. He was a member a little more than two years, during which time his assessments amounted to $5.75. Mrs. S. E. Ellisor receives $1000.00. This protection is worth while. To join, see A. Houston. Class Entertainment.

In spite of the inclement weather a goodly number of the Baptist T. E. L. Sunday school class met Nov. 6th at the home of Mrs. F. A. Smith for a business and social meeting with Mesdames Smith and Williamson as hostesses. The business was attended to, then a musical program was rendered as follows: Mesdames Adair and Kiessling, solos; Misses Estelle Calhoun and Albertine Smith, violin selections; Merle Lee, reading.

Then we were served a delicious salad course, after which goodbyes were said, each declaring this to be one of our best and "long to be remembered" occasions. A Guest.

It's probably costing you something to see this eclipse

THE regular fall eclipse of the sun is here. Now the lazy sun rises later and sets earlier. There are more hours of darkness, more hours when you use electric light—and therefore something added on your bill.

That is one of many good reasons why your bills are not always the same. You may not always remember these reasons, but the electric meter remembers. It is on the job to record exactly what current you use—no more and no less—a watchdog protecting your interests as well as ours.

Fire in South Crockett.

The home of Bud Cannon, negro, was partially destroyed by fire Tuesday morning. The house is in the south part of town, near the old colored school building. Most of the furniture is reported to have been removed before being damaged by the fire.

Much headway had been gained by the flames when the alarm was turned in, but the volunteer firemen made a quick run and extinguished the blaze. The upper portion of the house was largely destroyed, but the lower part of the structure was saved.

We Read In a Daily Paper

That a boy has been blind in one eye for six years and did not know it.

Comparatively speaking, there is nothing strange about that. We know lots of people here in Crockett blind in both eyes to the fact that we have the best groceries and bakery products in town.

Come around and get them opened.

The Right Place

EVEN THE CHILDREN KNOW WHAT R C MEANS

A story is going the rounds of a ten year old radio fan who asked his father: "Say, dad, why don't they use R C instead of S-O-S as a call for help?"

"Why R C?" said his father.

"Say, dad, don't you know that the Red Cross gets into everything that needs help?"

The Red Cross does just that. It was quick to respond with food, money, medicines and shelter when a tornado swept five midwestern states this year. 900 people were killed; 3,000 injured and 6,000 families made homeless. It has aided in 90 catastrophes during the past ten months!
