Graham Teachers
At a meeting of the school board last Thursday, E. L. Howel, of DeLeon, was elected principal of the High School.

Mr. Howel comes well recommended and the board feels that it is fortunate to secure his services. He taught in the Comanche High School last year. The election of Mr. Howel completes the list of teachers for next session.

We have been informed that all the teachers elected have accepted the positions tendered them. We are glad to give the complete list.

Edgar McLendon, Superintendent
E. L. Howel, Principal
Miss Ethel Rogers, English
Miss Fanny Bye Rogers, Latin
Miss Bessie Lyon, 6th grade
Miss Virginia Egan, 5th grade
Miss Mattie Posern, 4th grade
Miss Nannie Thomason, 3rd grade
Miss Mary Smith, 2d grade
Mrs. Lucy Isaacs, 1st grade.

Mrs. Keeter Dead
Mrs. Phoebe Keeter died at the home of her son, Elbert, at Portales, June 6, and her remains were shipped here Monday night and laid to rest by the side of her husband in Oak Grove cemetery Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

Daughters, Misses Ethel and Edna, and her son, Mr. Jeff Keeter, accompanied the casket here.

Mrs. Keeter had been a life-long member of the Baptist church and her friend and pastor, Rev. W. H. Cunningham, preached the funeral service.

Identically Shot
A rabbit was accidentally shot by a hunter last week with George's gun, a 32 calibre rifle, and the hands of George were accidentally shot in the fleshy part of his arm. The wound is not serious.

Big Monday Crowd Good.
Monday was "Big Monday" in Graham and a number of farmers from all over this and adjoining counties were here, despite the threatening weather. The thing that cut down the attendance more than anything else, perhaps, was the fact that farmers all over this part of the West are very busy in their crops just now. The farmers are all pleased with the present crop conditions and many expressed the belief that this would be a banner crop year for West Texas.

One of the most interesting features of the day was an exhibition of four Duroc Jersey pigs by J. H. Carter, of the Salem community. They were the best specimens of this breed of swine we have ever seen and most all who saw them expressed the same opinion. They weighed about fifty pounds were seven weeks old and were sold within a short time after being placed on exhibition for $10 each.

Methodist Meeting Closes
The protracted meeting which has been in progress at the Methodist church for the past two weeks, closed Sunday night.

The pastor, Rev. J. Hall Bowman, was assisted in the meeting by Rev. R. J. Tooley, of Weatherford, who is a revivalist of considerable note and who did the preaching.

The visible results of the meeting were not so great as was hoped for, but the christian people who were in touch with it were builded up and strengthened. Mr. Tooley is an honest and sincere preacher and made many friends in Graham and they will be glad to have him come again.

Meeting at Jean
Rev. A. W. Young, of the Church of Christ, will begin a ten days meeting at Jean on Saturday night before the fourth Sunday, June 21.

Christian Meeting Begins Tonight.
A protracted meeting will begin tonight at the Christian tent. Evangelist Bradford, of Sherman, will do the preaching and Mr. Moody, of Dallas, will lead the singing.

The meeting will be held under a tent and services will begin at 8 o'clock each night. Service will be dismissed on Friday night in time for the people to attend the band concert.

Rev. Hall has announced to his congregation that unless conditions change materially they will hold no meeting this summer. Instead of this he will hold protracted services in some of the communities where there is no regular pastor or where there is not so much opportunity to hear the gospel as we have in Graham. In view of this, he urges assistance in the other meetings. There will be no Wednesday night prayer-meeting when the other churches hold protracted services, and probably no Sunday evening services a part of the time. Lewis Rubenkoenig was heard Sunday evening with pleasure as he sang the favorite, "The Holy City." The Ladies' Quartet was heard for the first time and greatly encouraged in their effort. They sang "Lo My Shepherd Is Divine" by Tenney. The personnel are Mesdames Hudson, Akin, H. L. Morrison and Rose. They organized as a C. L. S. C. quartet, but happen to all belong to the Christian Endeavor, so have decided to be a C. E. quartet for the summer.

School Building for Sale
Sealed bids will be received by the Graham School Trustees until noon Saturday, June 21st, for the old school building, together with the lot of two acres, more or less. This property can be bought at a bargain. Right is reserved to reject any and all bids.

Address all bids to J. T. Rickman, Graham, Texas.

Kills Fifty-Four Rabbits.
Rev. Gaines B. Hall and R. G. Hallam went out in the country a few hours Tuesday afternoon rabbit hunting and killed fifty-four rabbits, thirty-nine of which were jackrabbits, which, we believe, is a record for three or four hours hunting. Mr. Hall used a shotgun and Mr. Hallam used a 22 rifle.

These gentlemen stated to a Leader reporter Wednesday morning that the fields and pastures were fairly alive with rabbits and that in some fields they would appear in droves like sheep.

Concert Tomorrow Night
The Graham Concert Band will give its regular weekly concert in the court house park tomorrow night beginning promptly at 9 o'clock. Services at the Christian church will close in time for all who desire to attend both to reach the park before the concert begins. Owing to the fact that the band has had no meeting this week, a program has not been arranged and we are unable to publish it here, but one will be printed and distributed at the concert.

County Examination
The County Board of Examination were in session last Friday and Saturday to conduct an examination for those wishing to secure teachers' certificates. There were fourteen applicants present. Four made application for first grade certificates and the remaining ten, for second grade.

The papers have been forwarded to Austin for grading.

Summer Meetings
After a full conference with Bro. Suttle he very graciously allowed the Presbyterians right of way for their meeting to begin at Tonk Valley third Sunday in July. Please plan and pray for this meeting.

The meeting at Connor Creek will begin first Sunday in August.

Gaines B. Hall.

Schoolhouse Contract Let
Thursday, June 5, the Graham school board let the contract for the erection of the addition to the new School building to contractors, Mothes & Groves, of Olney. These gentlemen came down Tuesday and signed up the contract.

Work will begin as soon as the material arrives and by September the building will be completed. The architects that planned the present building drew up the plans for the addition. The new part will be finished in keeping with the original building.

Maddox-Rogers
Tuesday afternoon at 6:30 Justice of the Peace, J. H. Wood, united in the holy bonds of matrimony, Mr. Claxton Maddox and Miss Allie Rogers.

Miss Allie is the well known daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Rogers living a short distance west of Olney, and Mr. Maddox is well known in this community and both Mr. Claxton and his new companion are highly regarded in this section.

The Enterprise joins in with the many friends in extending the most hearty congratulations.—Olney Enterprise.

Presbyterian Ladies Aid
The Presbyterian ladies held an interesting meeting this week at the home of Mrs. Walter Price, who is one of our most faithful members. Mrs. Garrett presided in the absence of Mrs. Akin, who was out of town. Mrs. T. J. Price read the scripture lesson, Isaiah 41:8-16. The interest of the meeting centered in the lesson on home missions, which offers almost unlimited opportunities for service to the layman as well as the minister.

Mrs. Kilpatrick, of Comanche, Texas was an interesting visitor.

The word "happy" will be retained for roll call. Mrs. Nat Price sent an invitation for the society to meet with her on June 19, which was accepted with pleasure.

Visitors Entertained
Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Rose delightfully entertained a number of the young people Monday evening, naming as their honor guests the charming young visitors in town: Miss Patricia Robinson, of Ennis, guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Hallam; Misses Lauretta and Lucile Crabb, of Stamford, guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. H. Crabb; Lewis Rubenkoenig, who is at home from Dallas visiting his parents here and Rupere Crabb, of Stamford.

An informal program was the pastime of the evening. Musical numbers were contributed by Mr. and Mrs. Crabb, Misses Lauretta and Lucile Crabb, Rupert Crabb, Lewis Rubenkoenig, Misses Bladen Garrett, Elsie Rubenkoenig, J. W. Akin, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Rose, each of which was well received; and readings of the usual high merit by Miss Lucille Miller and Robert Morrison. Various games caused much merriment and not a few were lost in the puzzling maze of "Who am I?" Ed Arnold as "Information" concerning Mexico furnished the guests with much useful knowledge and entertainment.

A delicious repast of grape sherbert, ice cream and a variety of excellent cake, were served to the honor guests and a list including the following: Misses Vera Norman, Bladen Garrett, Lucile Doty, Minnie Rubenkoenig, Lucille Miller, Elsie Rubenkoenig, Miss Stroud, Ruth Doty; Messrs. Paul Deats Boyd Street, Ed Arnold, Wright McClatchey, Robert Morrison, Fred Hudson, Scarbrough Mabry, Carl Arnold Leonard Norman and J. W. Akin, Jr.

The guests departed at a late hour, assuring Mr. and Mrs. Rose of having spent a most delightful evening.

made from the best olives at exactly the right stage of ripeness—still firm but turning from gold to purple. Worked quickly after picking. No oil from the pits is included—not a drop of the cheaper grade of oil from the second pressing—but the first flow of oil from the crushed (not pressed) fruit.

All olive oil must be pure, but there are a dozen degrees of richness, clarity and wholesomeness. White Swan Olive Oil is pure and moreover it is better than the law requires.

Alien Land Ownership.

Commenting on the California alien land law, an exchange very pertinently has this to say:

"A big Texas ranch of 240,000 acres has just been bought by a syndicate of British capitalists. Big as it is, this tract is really a modest one compared to a number of the really large holdings that British citizens or companies own in Texas. As between a Japanese owning an acre and a half and raising strawberries on it, and a British syndicate buying land by the half county we suppose that the Japanese and his strawberry patch are the real menace of our institutions; nobody seems to worry about the other. But somehow it is not always easy to realize the point."

No, it is not easy to realize. To the average citizen it would seem that the man who raises strawberries is to be preferred to the man who makes his money by raising rents and then spends his money abroad.

Alien land ownership is not a serious problem to California alone. It touches all of us, for you do not have to go far to see where that alien has amassed thousands by staying in his own country and profiting by the increasing in values resulting from the work of the American farmers and the tenants who have toiled day in and day out in order to get a decent living.

The problem is ours, even more than it is that of California. The man who will not improve property is not a valuable owner. The man who grabs up American land and then waits for Americans to make it profitable for him, is of no benefit to the nation.

A resolution has been introduced in the Senate by Ben Tillman, of South Carolina, forbidding members from smoking in the senate chamber.

Wichita Falls is to have a hobby factory valued at about $50,000. Work on the erection of the plant is to begin at once, the capital being supplied by Oklahoma banks associated with parties in Wichita Falls.

Sermon for a Quitter

By the time these lines are read, a New York audience will have listened to a lecture by Helen Keller.

Miss Keller is a splendidly accomplished young woman, well versed in arts and sciences and imbued with the highest culture of the greatest schools and universities—learned, able, brilliant—fluent alike with tongue and pen.

Of course, in a period of general education this tribute could be easily applied to thousands of women, except for the slight fact that Helen Keller was stricken deaf, dumb and blind in infancy. Which being the case, you great, hulking, full-nerved, five-sensed healthy male of a man, set down and figure out some excuse for your inability to make good.

You're nailed fast. You yourself are to blame for your present situation or lack of one.

Now, even you will grant that you have never fully tried. You might have spurted every now and then, but you deluded yourself when you thought that you'd put all your heart and soul into the effort. At last here's proof that you are just a plain quitter.

If a one-legged man got the best of you in a hundred yard race you would not have the nerve to say that you ran a good race.

Here's a woman who began without sight, hearing or speech, and she has made more of and for herself with her two senses of touch and smell than you have achieved with all the endowments that God gave Alexander the Great, Achimedes, Plato, Julius Caesar, Sir Isaac Newton, Michael Angelo, Napoleon Bonaparte, Robert Fulton, Abraham Lincoln and Thomas Edison.

With the left hand of Fame resting upon their tablets and her right hand poised above the head of Helen Keller, take another look at yourself, drop that bushel basket in which you have been trying to measure yourself and curl up in your wife's thimble.—Yeoman Shield.

During June, the present month the month of roses and also the month usually credited with being the month of weddings, we will make a present to all couples who marry and make their home within the confines of Young county. The wedding present will be one year's subscription to The Leader, the only requirement being that the couple clip and mail to this office together with their address, an account of their wedding from the Leader, or any other paper published in the county. The offer is made so that all newly wedded couples may start housekeeping properly in that they may have the news of the county through the columns of The Leader, the Old Reliable, live newspaper, which when once they have perused its columns they will find they cannot well keep house without.

Bear in mind there is no expense to be borne in taking advantage of this offer, but mail in the clipping, and the paper will be mailed to your address as a wedding present.

Who'll be the first couple to receive such free subscription?

WHY?

Board Classifies Schools

The County Board of Trustees met on Thursday, May 29th 1913, and was in session two days. The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. The Board, after a careful inspection of the teachers' registers, and financial condition of the several districts of the county, proceeded to classify the schools as follows: (There were six registers not in when the following report was made.)

"Ho! Schuette! Telephone!"
The chatter of Tom Schuette's typewriter ceased and he arose grumblingly to obey the summons. Interruption when at work always annoyed him.

"This is Schuette," he half growled, pressing the receiver to his ear.
"Come out to Vandeventer Place right away. You'll get something to your advantage," a gruff male voice snapped the message into Schuette's ear.

"Schuette's interest was instantly aroused.
"Can you give me a little more information? Hello! Hello! Confound it! Central!" he yelled, working the hook vigorously. "Central you out us off. What's that? Party hung up? What's the number? Don't know? Well— He finished the explosive under his breath as he replaced the receiver.

Schuette went. What he found is a long story. It's title is "Cupid a Mason's Horror," by George Fredrick Wilson, and illustrated by J. J. Gould. The first installment which appears in the June number of HOLLAND'S, is interesting and promises a good finish.

Veterans Meet

Young County Camp No. 127, U. C. V. met in regular session June 7th, 1913, at the court house in Graham. Fourteen of the boys who in their younger days wore the uniform of gray, were present.
The first order of business, was the election of officers for the ensuing year. The following comrades were elected to fill the different offices:

J. W. Horner, Captain; W. M. Matthews, 1st Lieutenant; R. Lindsey, Chaplain; F. Herron, Adjt.

Our friend, Thos. J. Price, honored us with his presence, the object of his visit being to consult with the members of the Camp, as to the advisability of donating to the Daughters of the Confederacy all money that is now in the possession of, and being held by the Confederate reunion committee. Said donation being made to assist the Daughters in the patriotic and worthy effort that they are making to erect a suitable monument in memory of the southern soldiers. After listening to Mr. Price's plain and matter-of-fact statement why this donation should be made, it was at once decided by a unanimous vote of the camp that the reunion committee be requested to turn over to the Daughters, all reunion funds that are now in their possession, the same to be used as herein stated. Mr. Price tendered the Camp his sincere thanks for the prompt action taken by the members in this matter.

There being no further business, adjournment was taken until the first Saturday in July 1913.

A Delightful Morning in Honor of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison

On Tuesday morning at 9:30, a goodly number of ladies were seen entering the Widmayer home, each cheerfully carrying her fancy work bag. They were invited to meet again, the aunt of Mrs. Widmayer, whom they had the pleasure of calling to see the latter part of last summer. All were so glad to greet Mrs. Harrison and doubly glad to meet Mr. Harrison, whose poems had already made him known to many of them.

For a while needles and crochet hooks flew while tongues kept pace. Some very sweet piano numbers were furnished by Mrs. Crabb, Miss Lauretta Crabb, and little Miss Helen Widmayer.

Then, the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Crabb and Miss Dot Graham, served a most palatable turkey salad with meat sandwiches, crackers, pickles, hot coffee with whipped cream. She then asked Mrs. Rose to give a reading. This being a somewhat new venture for Mrs. Rose she explained that the little poem had given her pleasure and she hoped it would please the other ladies. After reading it, she explained that it had been sent to her mother by a brother who as a little boy had known the author many years ago and that they had the honor of having him present on this occasion. Mr. Harrison very gallantly made a courteous response to this.

We give the poem, as our readers will all appreciate it.
As the morning had fled so rapidly all were surprised at the near approach of the noon hour and bade adieu to the hostess and honor guests amid expressions of the happy time spent with them.

Others present were Mesdames R. G. and M. K. Graham, Wynns, Vick, Pohlman, Crim, Street, Wadsworth, Jackson, Garrett, A. A. and H. L. Morrison, Morris, Lynch, Elliott, Akin, Rubenkoenig, Evans Mabry, and Edgar Matthews and Miss Manning.

W. C. Mattison Gets Poisoned

W. C. Mattison, an old timer well known in the county and at present residing near True, was poisoned by inhalation while mixing some arsenic bran, molasses etc., last week with which to fight grasshoppers.

It seems that he had heated the mixture, and was putting in the arsenic while the dope was still hot. It is supposed that he inhaled enough of the fumes arising from the heated mixture to result in the poisoning.

He was pretty sick for several days, and Dr. Hamilton of Olney, attended him. He is reported convalescing at present.—Olney Enterprise.

Last Sunday just at noon C. P. Bobb's wheat field was discovered to be burning. But for the timely arrival of a patrol men with wet sacks the crop of 125 acres would have been burned.—Byers Herald.

Indian Mound.

We had a light sprinkle of rain last Friday evening, one on Saturday evening, and it sprinkled most all day last Sunday, but not enough rain to do any good. It won't help anything but weeds and grasshoppers. My! there's plenty of grasshoppers and they are eating all the corn and cotton they can find.

Health in the community is good at present.

Mrs. Fannie Bryan and little son, Austin, of Rocky Mound are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Fisher.

Mrs. Bessie Bush and baby, of Tonk Valley, visited J. H. Fisher and family Saturday night and Sunday.

We had Sunday School just the same last Sunday, if it did look like rain.

Everybody came to Sunday school and bring some with you and let's all have a good time.

Next Saturday and Sunday will be preaching days at this place. Everybody come.

Mr. and Mrs. Annie Bird and son, Truett, took dinner with Mrs. J. S. Fisher Sunday.

Uncle George and Aunt Mary Stouffer visited their son, Ed, and family Sunday.

J. Taylor and family visited in Leaky Saturday night and Sunday.

Tom M. Day was Trade Day in Graham and the crowd wasn't as large as I have seen there.

It looks like Graham is not going to have any picnic on July 4th. It has been 8 years since Graham has given a barbecue and I think it is time to have another one; something that is good for everybody.

Mrs. Fannie Bryan and sister, Mrs. Corda Bird, spent last Monday with Mrs. Lola Fisher.

Let all the correspondents of The Leader wake up and tell us what they are all doing over in their part of the county.

Flat Rock

Don't think because I was absent last week that I'm gone, for I only went visiting and didn't get back in time to write.

Rain is very badly needed in this part of the world. From the looks of the weather this morning, we think we will have it before long.

We only had a small crowd at Sunday School and church Sunday on account of bad weather and sickness. Bro. Cook preached for us and he certainly did preach a good sermon. Would be glad if he would preach every second Sunday for us.

J. H. Robbins has purchased a new blinder.

Charlie Parsons and wife visited Mr. Hodges Sunday. Miss Willie Hodges went home with them to stay this week.

Miss Lona Corley visited her sister, Mrs. Brit Alford Sunday night. Bob Corley attended the unveiling at Center Ridge Sunday evening. Little Corene Corley was sick last week.

Tug Burk and sister, Bessie, visited our Sunday School Sunday. The farmers are spending their spare time killing rabbits.

Scholastic Transfers

No transfers can be made from one district to another after July 31. Anyone desiring to transfer to the Graham Independent school district should see the County Superintendent, B. W. King, and attend to the matter at once. Every year some defer transferring until it is too late. This notice is given that no one may overlook the matter this year.

There is no change in the law with reference to transfers. Anyone between the ages of 7 and 17 may be transferred from one district to another before the 31st day of July, 1913.

Dallas hotels and restaurant waiters went on a strike last Friday demanding more wages.

It is a shout out from the garbage can to the dinner table, via the fly trap.

Sloppiness is responsible for more sorrow in the world than anything else.

There must be organized strength, harmoniously working together to build a city.

An ad in your local paper is the advance agent that goes ahead and creates the desire.

The man who boasts intelligently truthfully and persistently is truly a builder of builders.

The merchant who talks mostly about hard times doesn't advertise in his home paper.

Lots of people pretend progressiveness, but their actions give this the denial. After all, actions are what count.

The booster has his uses as well as the builder—the rooster is a booster, but as a laying proposition he does not amount to much.

Henry Carter, who has been the mechanic at the Graham Cotton Oil Mill, for six months, left with his family for Dallas, his former home, last week. We regret to give up these people and hope they will return with the opening of the ginning season. Mr. Carter and his family had boarded with Mrs. J. H. Fisher during their stay in Graham, who, with many others, had become attached to them and the good wishes of their many friends will follow them wherever they go.

The Silo and Its Value

It is said that there is nothing new under the sun, and the truth of this saying is well brought out in well-informed to induce the farmers of this State to give more attention to the silo. To many the name silo conveys no meaning, as they are in total ignorance of what it is, and yet the ancient Egyptians used the silo thousands of years ago. Reduced to its simplest terms, a silo is really a big can, corresponding in nearly every way to the cans in which the housewife preserves her fruit, and it is intended to, and does serve, the same purpose. It is a means of preserving green feed in its original form for stock of all kinds. Just as the housewife can insure a plentiful supply of both fruit and vegetables for the use of her family during the whole year, so the provident farmer who provides himself with a silo can be assured of an abundance of wholesome, nutritious food for his stock in times of scarcity. The principle upon which the silo is founded is the fact that decomposition and decay can only take place in any material through the agency of germ life, and in the presence of air. If this material is placed in an air-tight vessel, the germs that contain are killed, the air surrounding the material withdrawn, and if no new germs are allowed to enter, the material will remain in the same condition in which it was gathered for an indefinite time, and will be just as valuable as a feed as when fresh. The housewife accomplishes these desired results first by heating the material and then by sealing up the can. This would not be practical with the large quantities of feed required for our stock. So the same result is accomplished in a different way. Using the ground as a bottom a structure is erected the sides of which are air-tight, or are made air-tight, when they get wet. These sides are made of a variety of materials, the most common being lumber, stone, cement and brick. It does not make much difference what the material used just so the sides are air-tight, and that they will hold the pressure of the material with which the structure is filled. What is known as the stave silo is usually made of pieces of two by four lumber set up on end, just as the staves of a barrel are put together and bound around with hoops that can be drawn together. It is usual to have these staves twelve to sixteen feet in length, and often two are placed upon end so that the structure is from thirty to thirty-two feet high. The diameter of the silo will vary, for reasons given later, with the number of stock that it is desired to feed. After the silo is erected it is filled with such material as green corn, sorghum, kaffir, milo, or almost any green feed which is chopped into lengths, varying from one-half to three-quarters of an inch and packed firmly into the silo. When first placed in the silo the material undergoes quite a heating and some souring. This heat, however, expels the air that is held between the particles of material, and at the same time goes so high that it kills all germ life. As in the meantime the material has packed down very closely, no new air or germs can enter; so the material soon cools off and remains unchanged for an indefinite period. This first heating has done two things. It has generated a small amount of acetic acid, a substance that aids digestion and has also acted upon many of the substances of the food and rendered them easier of digestion when taken into the animal's stomach. The result, then, is preserved green feed for stock for any time of the year and that green feed is even more digestible than when it was first cut. A silo can be built at a cost of a little over a dollar per ton capacity to two or three dollars, depending upon the material and the finish. No cover is necessary as rain does not injure the ensilage. Even a pit in the ground can be made to do service as a silo, especially in the dryer sections. After the silo is filled, to the top, two or three inches of material spoils, so in designing the silo it is necessary to calculate to feed a layer over the whole surface each day. In this way it is fed up before it has time to spoil.

Ensilage keeps better in a deep, than in a shallow silo, so it is customary to build them twenty to twenty-five feet in height. A silo ten feet in diameter and twenty-five feet high will hold about thirty-six tons of ensilage. A well-fed cow will consume from thirty to forty pounds of ensilage a day. From this data one should be able to calculate the size of silo needed. Ensilage can ordinarily be grown and put up for about three dollars a ton while in feed value, when properly combined with other materials, it is easily worth six dollars. Outside of the actual nutritive value it contains it is of great value to the dairyman, because it enables him at all times to have green feed. It is of equal value to the beef feeder as it is well known that animals never take on flesh as rapidly and as cheaply as when supplied with a certain amount of green succulent feed. Besides proving of value during winter, the Texas feeder will find ensilage of inestimable use in helping him tide over the hot, dry summers and fall. While almost any feed material, except those consisting of ensilage, there is nothing quite so good and so valuable as corn and the grain sorghums. Ordinarily each five bushels of corn that a field will yield it will make a ton of ensilage. The corn from a thirty-bushel field would be worth at fifty cents, fifteen dollars while the ensilage from the same field would be worth twice as much. So, besides being a means of supplying green food to stock, the silo is also a means of adding very materially to the value of the feed stuff, and also of utilizing the cornstalks that constitute forty per cent of the value of a cornfield, and that are too often lost. Again it costs less to save ensilage than to save the crop in any other form. At the same time a man with a silo is independent of the weather. He can fill his silo while the rain is pouring down. On the other hand, should there be danger of losing his crop from dry weather, he can cut it and place it in the silo and so save it. Corn makes the best ensilage when cut after it is well grazed, but it can be cut at any time during its growth and will still make valuable feed. The farmers of Texas therefore cannot afford to further neglect this means of adding to the value of their feed crops.—Texas Industrial Congress, Dallas, Texas.

Mule Raising Great Industry.
The Texas mule is gaining in prominence every day in the year, and the raising of these animals is becoming an important industry in Young county. It is estimated that twenty per cent of the mules there are being used in the building of the Panama Canal were bred in Texas, and in selecting material for the cavalry Uncle Sam favors the Texas mule.

There are 3629 mules on the farms and ranges of Young county, according to a recent census bulletin and their total value is $387,613. Of this number, 3091 are mature mules, 372 are yearling colts and 166 spring colts. (Besides the mules on the farms of this county there are 56 of these animals owned by the urban population, which have a value of $7,189.)

The total mule population of the State is 709,231, divided as follows: 675,558 rural and 33,673 urban. The value of the mules on the farms and ranges of Texas is $73,979,145 and those in the cities and villages of the State is $4,123,183.

Secretary McAdoo has announced the distribution by states of the additional $10,000,000 of Federal funds (which the Treasury Department will deposit, at interest, in the national banks. Some of the more prosperous New York banks refused to pay the 2 per cent. interest on government deposits which will be charged in future, and withdrew their requests for deposits of this money.)

Young County Has Large Families
The average size of a Texas family is 4 compared with 5 ten years ago. The average family in Young county contains five persons and we have 2685 families residing in this county according to a census report which has just been issued. Young is one of the 117 Texas counties whose families are larger than the State's average and if all the families in the State were as large as those of our county, Texas' population would be nearer the five million mark.

Statistics of Our Dairying Industry
The Federal Census Bureau has just announced reports by counties on dairy products. The annual milk production of Young county is 911571 gallons and 351673 pounds of butter is made annually. The reports show 4890 dairy cows in this county that have an aggregate value of $194,000 and there are 3309 yearling heifers in the county, which will make excellent milk cows.

The annual dairy production of Texas is 20 per cent less than consumption. The value of the annual dairy production of Texas is $20,162,500.

"That's the sixth Studebaker we've passed—the only kind to invest in"

"The only kind—because, as I always say, when a man puts money in a thing he wants to know that he's going to get the worth of it out again."
"That's plain business as I look at it."
"That's why I say the price doesn't tell you anything at all. There's only one thing that talks—except the wagon itself. That's the name of the maker."
"When you buy a Studebaker you're buying a vehicle that has behind it and in it sixty years of experience—sixty years of success—and sixty years of reputation for the square deal. That's why a Studebaker always looks good to me."
"My father used to say that Studebaker honor was as sure as a United States bank note. He was talking after having used Studebaker vehicles since he was a lad, and he told me his father before him said, 'Be safe—get a Studebaker.'"
"Vehicle builders can't hold that sort of reputation nowadays without delivering the goods. A Studebaker wagon has the best in it. That's why a man gets the most out of it—why it's always an economy."

Eleven Million Annually
The farmers of Texas do not raise enough cereals and forage crops for their own farm animals. They expend, according to a recent census report issued by the Federal Department of Commerce and Labor $10,800,000 annually for feed stuff. The official figures show that twenty seven per cent of the farmers buy feed.

Peter Radford, President of the Farmers union, in discussing the subject, said, "A farmer should as a rule, raise his own feed. While cotton is our money crop and the moisture requirements for cotton and cereals are in a measure antagonistic, and nature usually favors cotton, yet a farmer should plant enough feed to take his stock through the season."

The farmers of Young county expend $21,859.00 annually for feed-stuffs. 326 of the farmers of this county report purchases of feed-stuffs and the annual expenditure per farms reporting is $65.00. By proper diversification of crops this money can be kept at home.

The Sixty-eight pages of Articles Stories, Poems, Jests, Fashions, etc., and the many special departments for the housewife, young ladies and children make HOLLAND'S for June one of the most attractive issues ever published in the South. This number contains more than fifteen stories and articles, and a department for the old folks, and one for the children, a department of cooking recipes, a fashion department, a household department, where housekeeping ideas are swapped and other interesting subjects too numerous to mention. The June number of HOLLAND'S ought to be in every Southern home.

Our Farms Worth $11,296,978.00
The value of agricultural property in Young county is $11,296,978.00 according to a report of the United States Census Department which has just been issued. Land represents 76 per cent of the total value of all farm property in this county, buildings, 8 per cent; implements and machinery, 3 per cent, and domestic animals, poultry and bees, 13 per cent.

The total value of farm property in Texas is $2,218,645,164.00, divided as follows: 74 per cent land, 9 per cent, buildings, 3 per cent, implements and machinery, and 14 per cent, domestic animals, etc.

The farm property of Young county has increased $7,986,082.00, or 252 per cent during the past decade, and that of the entire State has increased $1,256,168,891.00, or 150 per cent. The per cent of interest for the entire United States during this period was twenty.

THE HISTORY OF YOUNG COUNTY, TEXAS
By JUDGE P. A. MARTIN.

To the men of iron nerve and dauntless courage, who opened up the wilderness of the west and made possible the civilization we now enjoy, this series of articles is respectfully dedicated.

CHAPTER XVII
The year 1882 was a year of great prosperity among the farmers of Young county. Good rains prevailed in season and excellent crops were raised in all parts of the county. The county jail was empty during the greater part of the year and there was but little business on the criminal dockets of the courts.

In the fall there was the usual "free for all" race for the county offices and some for the district offices. The sage of Seguin, John Ireland, was elected governor and S. W. T. Lanham was elected congressman from this district for his first term. Judge B. F. Williams and District Attorney J. F. Brin were re-elected, James R. Robinson, of Jack county, became our representative and A. L. Matlock, of Montague, our State Senator. Col. O. E. Finlay, of Graham, running him a close race for the place.

The county officers elected were R. F. Arnold, county judge; M. T. Connor, county attorney; C. O. Jolins, county and district clerk; W. T. Bunker, sheriff; J. G. Hill, tax assessor; and J. W. Wadley, treasurer. The commissioners were J. L. Mercer, W. J. Hughes, H. D. Williams and W. C. Blakey.

On the 14th day of February, 1883, occurred what is remembered as the Flat Rock school house tragedy, a few miles east of Graham. The people of that school community had disagreed upon school matters and the disagreement became so serious that it amounted to a bitter struggle between the rival parties. J. W. Rogers, a bright and popular young man, had been employed by one faction to teach the school and at the same time in question he went to the school house at night, in company with Capt. J. H. Brown and others, to ascertain who was there, a light being seen in the building. The rival parties were on the grounds first it seems and shortly after Rogers came up a fight began in which Rogers was killed, Sam Allison shot in the shoulder with small shot and Brown lost a finger. Eight of the parties were arrested, pending an investigation before the county judge.

At the April term of the court following, W. B. Mannerly, Sam Allison and Dick Taylor were indicted for the murder of Rogers and Allison being put on his trial, was found guilty of murder in the second degree and sentenced to fifteen years confinement in the penitentiary. Mannerly committed suicide in the jail before the day set for his trial, deputy sheriff gave him a razor shave himself with and the unfortunate man cut his throat from ear to ear. He had given up all hope of acquittal though he proceeded to the fact that he was charged with the murder of Rogers. He several hours after committing suicide and Rev. G. W. Black with him most of the day, ministering such spiritual comfort as he could to the dying man, and his will and gave his directions as to the disposition of his affairs after cutting his

Allison remained in jail the first day of July, when he managed to escape by burning the wooden cell in which he was confined. He had intended to get out at night, but did not get away until after day-break was met by Mrs. Bunker

Comes Near Drowning
Tom Campbell, pit boss at Number Two Mine, qualified for a Carnegie Hero Medal Wednesday afternoon by saving Edgar Strickland from drowning in the Brazos. A number of gentlemen were setting in the river and Mr. Strickland, who is a good swimmer, was attacked with cramps and sank twice before Mr. Campbell was able to reach him. When he did get within reaching distance he grasped Mr. Strickland by the hair and swimming with one hand a distance of twenty-five yards at least he reached the bank. It took several minutes of rigorous "first aid" to bring Mr. Strickland around, but Thursday morning he was apparently none the worse for his dangerous experience.

There is no doubt but that Mr. Campbell's quick action saved the life of his companion, and he did it at the risk of his own. Many songs have been written of the hero of the battlefield that fill the heart with patriotism and pride, but the every day hero goes his way unnoticed and unsung. This is not as it should be, and all honor should be paid to the man that has the courage to dare and do, when there is no martial music to stir the soul, no applauding audience looking on, but a plain duty is before him and although it may mean the sacrifice of life itself, he heeds the call of duty.—Newcastle Register.

Wonderful
The New 1913 Saginaw With the Patented Angle Steel Rib

Last season's Saginaw Silo was pronounced utterly perfect by dairymen and stockmen all over the country. For 1913 it was wholly unnecessary to attempt improvement. Yet, despite this, we came out with this 1913 Model. The big feature of the 1913 is the ANGLE STEEL RIB. This ingenious invention adds about 50% to the life of a Silo. And that's wonderful, when you consider the Saginaw is already known to be the strongest and most durable Silo ever built.

Doing the "Impossible"
The Angle Steel Rib has done what other Silos cannot do in a year's time. It has given you a Silo which will last for 50 years. It has given you a Silo which will stand up to the most severe weather conditions. It has given you a Silo which will stand up to the most severe weather conditions. It has given you a Silo which will stand up to the most severe weather conditions.

Other Noted Features
The Saginaw was famous first as "The Silo With the All-Steel Door Frame." Then followed the Saginaw's "Lumber Hoop." Next came the celebrated Saginaw Base Silo, and now comes the Angle Steel Rib—the most astounding feature of all.

A Delightful Morning in Honor of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison

On Tuesday morning at 9:30, a goodly number of ladies were seen entering the Widmayer home, each cheerfully carrying her fancy work bag. They were invited to meet again, the aunt of Mrs. Widmayer, whom they had the pleasure of calling to see the latter part of last summer. All were so glad to greet Mrs. Harrison and doubly glad to meet Mr. Harrison, whose poems had already made him known to many of them.

For a while needles and crochet hooks flew while tongues kept pace. Some very sweet piano numbers were furnished by Mrs. Crabb, Miss Lauretta Crabb, and little Miss Helen Widmayer.

Then, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Crabb and Miss Dot Graham, served a most palatable turkey salad with meat sandwiches, crackers, pickles, hot coffee with whipped cream. She then asked Mrs. Rose to give a reading. This being a somewhat new venture for Mrs. Rose she explained that the little poem had given her pleasure and she hoped it would please the other ladies. After reading it, she explained that it had been sent to her mother by a brother who as a little boy had known the author many years ago and that they had the honor of having him present on this occasion. Mr. Harrison very gallantly made a courteous response to this.

We give the poem, as our readers will all appreciate it.

Mother's Day

And they would call this "Mother's Day!"

A startling idea, indeed. Then during all the other days What shall we do to meet her need?

This is but one of all the year. What shall we do in all the rest? Why, mother is the soul of home; Of all our friends, she is the best! We need her when the morning dawns To call us forth to meet the sun. We need her while the day is young To guard us in our childish fun; We need her when the noon is high, And dust and heat make hard the way; We need her when the sunset falls To cheer us on our homeward way. We need her, need her, all the day.

She soothes the hurts of infant hearts,
She kisses childish pain away.
She dries the tears of young distress,
And brings it laughter day by day;
She is the angel of the home
When sickness comes with burning frown,
Of country life she is the light,
The torch of morals in the town
She rocks the cradle, rubs the home
And in her fear that we may fall
She strives to hold our hands aloft,
That through her strength we may prevail
No matter what the sin may be,
She will condone it with delight;
In truth, a mother as she is,
The things we do to her seem right.

She is the world's domestic sun,
A day without her is unknown;
The arbiter of human life,
It is in truth her very own;
The mistress of the universe,
The angel of domestic life;
And still a woman--full of love,
And all in all a splendid wife!
Without her we could not exist;
The home would die were she to fall.
The world become a wilderness,
And life soon sound its parting wail;

For none could bear it traveling
In such a loving patient way--
Why, Time himself, belongs to her--
Each day that dawns is Mother's Day.

—Jake H. Harrison.

As the morning had fled so rapidly all were surprised, at the near approach of the noon hour and bade adieu to the hostess and honor guests amid expressions of the happy time spent with them.

Others present were Mesdames R. G. and M. K. Graham, Wynns, Vick, Poffman, Crim, Street, Wadsworth, Jackson, Garrett, A. A. and H. L. Morrison, Morris, Lynch, Elliott, Akin, Rubenkoenig, Evans Mabry, and Edgar Matthews and Miss Manning.

U. D. C. Bazaar.

The Bazaar given at the Harwell building on Monday, June 9th, was a great success—in fact, in consideration of the limited time spent in getting it up, the ladies deserve much credit. The booths were artistically draped, and made beautiful with the generous display of handwork. The colonial booth was presided over by Miss Lillian Manning, who was becomingly gowned and powdered as a colonial dame. She was attended in the morning by one dark-hued little fellow to wait upon her, and in the afternoon by another. Indeed the disguise of negrohood was so good it was difficult to recognize either John Ewing Norris or Charles McLaren. This booth contained the grab-bag which is always a never-failing source of delight to the children. The Pretty Girl contest was quite an interesting diversion. Miss Beulah Bell easily led the race and was awarded the dainty brooch. The same young lady also gained the prize for selling the most tickets, more than thirteen dollars worth.

The prizes in the different booths were awarded as follows:

Candy, Patience—Toilet Water, Mrs. A. B. Eddleman, Divinity—Double Boiler, Miss Hutchinson, Fudge—Silk Hose, Miss Mary Allen, Embroidery, Colored—$1.00 in Embroidery Thread, Mrs. V. E. Eddleman, White—$1.00 in cash, Miss Eula McCain.

Bread—sack Flour, Mrs. W. C. Barnum.

Cake, Layer—Sack Flour, Miss Edna Long, Angel Food—75 cents meat, Mrs. H. P. Rose.

Preserves and Canned Fruit—$1.00 in Sugar and Can of Syrup, Mrs. V. E. Eddleman.

Fine Needlework, 1st Prize—Pair of Embroidery Scissors, Miss Blankenship, 2nd Prize—$1.00 in cash, Mrs. M. K. Graham.

Crochet, 1st—Silk Hose, Mrs. A. B. Eddleman, 2nd—O'cedar Mop, Mrs. W. M. Matthews.

Knitting—Sack Supreme Flour, Grandma Washburn.

Bonnets, White—Handpainted Plate, Mrs. F. M. Burkett, Percals, —$2.50 Clock, Mrs. Woodward.

Pretty Girl Contest—Brooch, Miss Beulah M. Bell.

Miss Eula McCain and Mrs. M. K. Graham generously donated their prizes to the Daughters.

The ladies who had special supervision of the affair were: Mesdames McLaren, Simpson and Dowdle, this being the month set apart to them.

Last week's paper contained a list of the prizes donated by the merchants. In addition to these Messrs. Jno. E. Morrison, Mabry & Sons and Eddleman Bros gave a second prize apiece and Miller & Sons gave one. Tidwell & Sons gave the tea which was served.

The Daughters desire to thank all of those who contributed in any way, the merchants who loaned the lumber, those who graciously offered the prizes, Mr. Adair for the loan of his fine Player piano, the girls who aided in selling tickets, the ladies who exhibited their beautiful work and gave the cakes, candy and bread, those who donated their hand-work to be sold, those who acted as judges and the liberal patronage accorded by the public in general.

The amount taken in was about one hundred and fourteen dollars, so more than a hundred will be cleared.

In "The Escorts of Marquita," by Nellie Suydam Cowley, which appears in the June number of HOLLYWOOD, the author says: The flood-gates of William's speech were opened and he repeated all that he had said on the evening the sausage had disappeared, with much additional matter along the same lines. Evidently he had been brooding over the loss of his beloved sausage and was offended because we had not presented him with the scalp of the pup as a slight peace offering. Marquita, after four or five attempts to interrupt, which only caused William to raise his voice a trifle higher each time, turned her back on him and put on her hat, jabbing the pins in as if they were so many daggers which she was thrusting into William's heart.

"If we are going to the party tonight," said Marquita, in the first pause, "perhaps we had better start."
