POTTERY PLANT FOR LOVING?

R. D. Andrews, one of the largest stockholders in the Sallie-Alice coal mine at Loving, believing that the clay taken from the mine was of an especially good grade and might be made useful, sent to Illinois for an expert to come and make an examination. After the examination the expert pronounced the clay to be of the best pottery grade and stated that it was also good for making the best grade of fire-proof and pavement brick.

Inasmuch as water and fuel are convenient, it is thought a paying industry can be established to manufacture the clay into useful material, and the matter of establishing such a concern at Loving is being discussed.

The Sallie-Alice mine has already gained a wide reputation for the grade of coal that is being taken from it and if in addition to this a pottery and brick manufacturing concern grows out of it its reputation will become still more extended and its stockholders will realize a still greater dividend from their investment.

Little Mildred Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Johnson, died at the family home in Sallie-Alice last Monday and the remains were brought to Graham, their old home, and interred in Oak Grove cemetery Tuesday evening. The funeral service was conducted at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Parsons, by Rev. W. D. Boswell, pastor of the First Baptist Church of this city.

Six big touring cars filled with sorrowing friends of the bereaved parents accompanied them here to witness the last sad rites to the little one. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson formerly lived in Graham and have many friends here who deeply sympathize with them in their grief.

Priscilla Club

A most enjoyable meeting of the Priscilla Club was held Tuesday evening with Mrs. Will Norman. Already noted for her hospitality this occasion proved no exception, and all enjoyed being in her attractive little home. Much needle work was accomplished. In fact, considering the warm afternoon, everybody was very industrious. Pleasant conversation is easy while fingers keep busy.

Some pleasing piano numbers were furnished by Mesdames Crabb and Norman and voice numbers by Mrs. Rose.

Most refreshing fruit ice-cream and two varieties of excellent nut cake was served to a large number of the members and the following guests: Mesdames John Norman, Ernest Stovall, Rose, Fry, John Graves, Parrish, Mrs. R. E. Bryan assisted in serving. Mrs. Ewing Norris is the next hostess. Before adjourning, the president, Mrs. Lynch, delivered a request from Mr. Kessler to all of the ladies to be present and take part in a meeting Thursday afternoon in the interest of the clean-up movement to secure the prize. A leave of indefinite absence was granted Mrs. R. G. Graham on account of her deplorable accident. A Guest

A Bumper Potato Crop

J. F. Walters, on the Stovall Plantation, has made a bumper yield on six acres of Irish potatoes and the merchants are taking his potatoes in preference to the ones they can ship in. He sold about sixty bushels the past week. He has in all about thirty acres, but most of them will be late, except the three acres. Mr. Walters was formerly auditor on the Rock Island and is a great worker and is bound to succeed.

COUNTY COURT ADJOURNS MONDAY

County court adjourned Monday and all cases were continued until next term. There were six cases on the docket and these will be taken up first at the next term.

The cases of J. E. Hendon and Peta Deel, charged with burglarizing a store at Orth were given an examining trial in Justice Hall's court yesterday and the defendants were held in the sum of $1,000.00, but have not yet made bond and are being held in jail.

So far, there are seventeen felony cases for grand jury investigation at the September sitting, the largest number in several years.

Raises Fine Onions

Ed Duncan, on the Stovall Plantation, has a fine lot of onions and his sweet potatoes are also good and if nothing prevents, he will make a bumper crop. We understand he is leasing more land for three years and intends to raise potatoes and onions on a more extensive scale. Mr. Duncan is a worker and a man who will succeed and we see no reason why he can't make bumper yields with good land and water to irrigate with at his command.

Reports from the patients under treatment of the Mayo Brothers in Rochester, Minnesota, are all good. Miss Bladen Garrett's operation was entirely successful. It is hoped Mr. Walstad is up and walking about, and Fred Hudson is being treated with much hope and already noted improvement. Mr. and Mrs. Jao. E. Morrison and Miss Marzelle are with them.

WORKMEN MAKING GOOD PROGRESS

Work on the new addition to the High School building is moving right along. The builders have reached the windows on the lower floor with the brick work and every effort is being made to have the building completed by the first of September, so that the beginning of school will not be hindered.

The workmen have been handicapped for lack of material and are now short of both iron and brick, but it is hoped that this material will arrive right away and the work will not have to be stopped.

A first-class job is being done by the contractors and if nothing out of the ordinary happens, the addition will be just as substantial and will look as well as the main building. All who have seen the work are well pleased with it.

Rev. W. D. Boswell returned Monday afternoon from Cameron, near which place he had been conducting a revival meeting. He states that the meeting was very successful and that he enjoyed the trip. He announces that he will fill his pulpit at the First Baptist Church here both morning and evening next Sunday.

Rev. J. Hall Bowman returned last Saturday from an extended trip into the Rocky Mountains. During his stay he visited several places of interest, including the Yellowstone National Park, Salt Lake City and Denver, Colorado. He says many interesting things about the great future possibilities of the mountain irrigation of the great West. He will fill the pulpit at the Methodist church next Sunday at both the 11 o'clock and 3:30 p. m. services.

Will Work With Coats On

The State Legislature convened Monday and has gotten down to work. The first resolution introduced in the Senate was one granting the members of that body privilege of appearing in the senate chamber in their shirt sleeves. It was defeated by a large majority, only three for it, and the senators will do their work during the session with their coats on.

Senator J. C. McNealus of Dallas, announces that at an early date during the session of the legislature he will introduce a resolution calling for a constitutional convention.

Letson L. Davis, the Killen man who has been held for ransom by rebels in Mexico for the past several weeks, has been released and has joined his wife in Dallas. Young Davis and an uncle who lived in Austin, went down into Mexico after some cattle belonging to the latter and were captured. Mrs. Davis got busy and interested Senator Morris Sheppard and others in the case, with the result that Secretary of State Bryan sent an ultimatum demanding the release of the captives.

F. J. Peacock and wife and son, Guy, of Crystal Falls, passed through Graham this evening enroute to Kemp, on Red River, Oklahoma, where they will visit Mr. Peacock's brother, whom they have not seen in over twelve years. They will be gone about three weeks. Mr. Peacock said the farmers in the Crystal Falls country had made plenty of feed to do them another year and that cotton was looking extremely well, considering the dry weather we have had recently.

VOTERS REJECT ALL AMENDMENTS

All the constitutional amendments voted on in Saturday's election were defeated by an overwhelming majority. It is estimated that only about one voter in four who had a poll tax receipt or exemption certificate voted, making the lightest vote in a State election in several years.

The vote in the county was very light, measuring up about like that of the State, except the defeat of the amendments were a little more pronounced. The total vote polled in the county was around 700, while its voting strength is over 2,500. The total vote in Graham is given as 260 and the voting strength of this box is about 700.

Cigarettes May Have Caused Fire

S. D. Seddon, of the Dixie Dale farm five miles southwest of town on the Breckenridge road, called at the Leader office this morning. He stated that a fire in his pasture, Tuesday morning destroyed about three or four acres of grass. The fire is supposed to have been started from a cigarette thrown into the field by some careless boy passing along the road. Mr. Seddon says that boys ought to be very careful how they throw burning cigarettes around now as dry as everything is.

R. C. Porter, who lives on the C. W. Johnson place about a mile east of town, called at the Leader office Saturday afternoon. He was exhibiting several heads of kafir corn and milo maize which he has grown this year. The heads were remarkable for their length, one measuring about 14 inches, and all were as fine as we have seen. He has about three acres that he will cut twice. He states that he expects to get around 35 bushels per acre each cutting.

FRANK H. BOWRON, Editor

Hon. James C. Wilson, of Fort Worth, has recently been appointed United States Attorney for the Northern District of Texas. He has been assistant county attorney in that county since last November and is a former citizen of Sherman.

The election is over, all the amendments were defeated and stand old Texas will go on her way rejoicing. We know that everyone who voted against the amendments is satisfied with the result and those who voted for them should be democratic enough to accept the result good naturedly and philosophically; the people have spoken in no uncertain voice, and the matter is settled. And the very size of the vote against the measures should convince us that it is the best policy at this time not to have the proposed changes in our constitution.

J. B. Morrison, a native of New York, but who was making his home in Beaumont, shot himself through the heart in his office in that city last Friday. The remarkable thing of the occurrence is that Morrison lived three hours after the bullet had passed entirely through the muscle and right vertical of the heart and was perfectly conscious while doctors were sewing up the wound in the organ.

A notable feature of Saturday's election was that every proposition submitted by the State was turned down unconditionally and in practically all the counties where bond issues were before the people they were defeated by no uncertain margin. The people of this good old State held a grand swatfest and they religiously and systematically swatted every measure that showed its head.

The weather is hot now, but that should not keep us from planning to bring to this goodly city this fall the biggest trade she has ever had. There are several ways this can be done, but do something we must; it will not come to us—all of it—as a gracious gift from the gods. The time when people could be successful sitting down, with folded hands, waiting for something to turn up, is far past and the old adage that all things come to those who wait is obsolete. In this good day and time success only comes to those who hustle and hustle continually. It's true with one man, a firm, a community, a city, or a whole state. Let's apply the rule to our own Graham and enjoy the results.

The Waples-Platter Grocery Company, of Fort Worth, has increased its capital stock from $750,000 to $1,500,000.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt and two sons are spending a few weeks in New Mexico.

Mrs. C. B. Randall, wife of ex-Congressman Randall of Sherman, died at a sanitarium in Mineral Wells, last week of heart failure.

Charles P. Burkes, a former candidate for State Comptroller and a deputy United States marshal, was drowned in the Llano river near Mason last week, while attempting to save a young lady from the water. The young lady also drowned.

Col. Phillip Fall, the veteran telegrapher who saved Vicksburg from being taken by the Federals during the Civil War, died at his home in Houston last week. He had been in the service of the Western Union Telegraph Company for fifty-four years and expected to resume his place at the keys after a short vacation.

A club is a number of people banded together for some specific purpose—a commercial club is supposed to be a number of business men banded together for the commercial advancement of the community, or city in which they live. This is a fairly good definition of the term, we believe. In view of this fact and with all good feeling and malice toward none, but for the good of the town, we pause to ask what our own commercial club is doing for the commercial advancement of Graham and Young County now—not tomorrow or next week, but today. The best commercial club in the world can be put to death in a very short time by inactivity and if our club is inactive, and it must be as we have heard nothing from it in quite awhile, let's get behind it with our means and energy and put it on its feet again, and do something for the commercial advancement of our town.

Writing an Ad
 A bargain well told in the columns of the press is the most important information that can be imparted to the public and every merchant has articles for sale on his shelf and goods hidden behind his counter that the people need and are anxious to buy.

To publicly present the merits of an article in a comprehensive and convincing manner is a most valuable talent in business and a most useful service to the community.

Many merchants make the mistake of expecting the ad to sell the goods. The local paper can attract the customers to the store, but the merchant must sell them, and if he has misrepresented the goods or is inefficient in the art of salesmanship he must suffer the consequences. A dead store is one that has no bargain and the merchant who expects his goods to sell themselves has missed his calling.

The old settlers of Stephens county have decided to hold a reunion at Necessity, August 12.

Joseph W. Bailey, former United States Senator, will address the United Confederate Veterans at the State Reunion at Greenville, Texas, August 8th.

The trial of Capt. Burk Burnett, charged with the killing of Farley Sears at Paducah, is being held at Seymour this week. The killing occurred May 23, 1912.

In response to an appeal from the British Consul located at Tuxpan, Mexico, the United States Battleship Louisiana has been dispatched to that place to protect foreigners. The town has recently been taken by the rebels.

A five cent advance in the price of midcontinent petroleum, the second within two weeks, has been announced by the Prairie Oil and Gas Company of Tulsa, Oklahoma, making the present market value 98 cents per barrel. The advance was quickly met by the Gulf Refining Company and the Waters-Pierce Company interests.

Senator W. A. Hanger of Fort Worth has announced that he will be in the race for Governor next year. It is a little early, perhaps, but Mr. Hanger and the others who have announced openly or through their friends are evidently laying some store by the old saying that the early bird catches the worm. Enough have already entered the race to make it a sweepstake affair and the indications are that there are a number of others about ready to toss their hats in the ring.

Fifty people were killed and a number injured in a fire Tuesday afternoon which destroyed the four-story building of the Binghamton Clothing Company, of Binghamton, New York. There were 125 people in the building, mostly women and girls. When the alarm was sounded the inmates of the building were slow to respond, thinking it was only a fire drill and when the flames broke out in the rooms where they were forming lines of march, a panic ensued and the girls and women rushed to the stairways and windows fighting and screaming warning themselves in the passage ways until they became choked and many were killed or injured in the struggle. A number of bodies have been removed from the ruins, but there are quite a number yet to be taken out.

The big oil suit which was being prosecuted by Attorney General Loney, at Greenville, Texas, was compromised Monday. The suit was filed March 5th against the Magnolia Petroleum Company, the Standard Oil Company and a number of New York bankers and brokers, charging that the former concern was owned and controlled by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and that the New York bankers and brokers loaned money to the concern in violation of the law, knowing it to be a trust, and penalties amounting to $103,493,000 was demanded by the state. In the agreed judgement the Standard Oil Company plead guilty to violation of the anti-trust laws prior to 1909 and submitted to a fine of $500,000. All charges against the other defendants were dismissed.

The Oiney Enterprise.
 The C. E. Graham store at Annarene was burglarized last Monday night and about $16.00 in cash was taken from the cash drawer. The perpetrator of the crime was arrested Wednesday by deputy sheriff Abercrombie while hanging around the Southwestern depot, and at his examining trial entered a plea of guilty, and will await the action of the grand jury in jail.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week brought us the worst hot winds of the season, and crops deteriorated very fast. Corn has been cut very short by the two week's drouth and other feed stuff has received a setback.

While at Bryson Saturday, we inspected the new brick store building 70x80 feet just being completed by the new firm created out of Jones & Jones and Kuykendall. This building is of a class which would do credit to a town much larger than Bryson and when completed will contain a stock of merchandise covering every want of their customers. The front is strictly modern which adds greatly to the appearance of the building.

Paducah Post.

For the past few days Cottle County has been experiencing some real hot winds, which are causing the farmers quite a deal of uneasiness and making them guess whether it will destroy the feed crop or not. The summer so far has been unusually hot, it being a very easy matter for the thermometer to register 100 degrees for several hours during the day.

There are a great many more people who read the country newspaper than would be imagined. It can be safely estimated that four or five people read every paper that is sent out. This can be figured from the fact that all the family reads it, and then sometimes pass on to their neighbors. Advertisers should take this into consideration when they are figuring on the number of people who will see their ad in the local paper.

The Oiney Fire Department has recently purchased rubber coats and helmets. From past experience as a volunteer fireman we can vouch for their need of these articles, for without them everyone of the boys runs a good suit of clothes every time they answer an alarm.

Farmers are about to catch up with their work once more. Of course the threshing machines are still working over time, but corn is laid by and most of the cotton is ready to leave without further cultivation.

BETTER MARKETING METHODS NEEDED

KEYNOTE OF TEXAS DEVELOPMENT IS IN BETTER MARKETING METHODS OF THE FARMERS PRODUCTS

(By Peter Radford, President Texas Farmers' Union.)

Fort Worth, Texas, July 23.—In a recent article I called attention to the need of cheap money to relieve our necessities, and I consider it one of the greatest ministers to human needs the world possesses, but I now want to say a few words on the possibilities of cheap money as a development agency. It has been suggested that our only recourse is in foreign capital, but before holding out a palsied hand to Wall Street, I think we should first put into circulation every dollar of Texas money that is willing to work for reasonable compensation and create as many new dollars as we can. The home dollar should take up the burdens of the hour rather than lie in wait to drink prosperity from the dripping winds of outside capital which invests within our borders.

Digressing from the subject before us for a moment, I notice my previous articles have been accused of carrying a vein of pessimism, but in reviewing them I fall to localities. They contain Federal statistics which I have verified by personal contact with actual conditions. Facts always have stubborn enemies, but the trouble, I think, is that the public has been getting information in some instances, from agricultural braggarts, who, while recklessly praising the plow, keep their hands off the plow handles and have no practical knowledge of agriculture. I farm for a living and not for applause and my only desire is to place accurate information before the public.

Cheapest Kind of Foreign Money.

The cheapest kind of foreign money we can get in Texas may be secured through the systematic marketing of farm products. All those who have even given a moment's thought to the selling side of cotton are convinced that slow marketing of the product will add at least 2 1-2 cents per pound to the farm price. This would mean $50,000,000 of European gold distributed among the Texas farmers per annum and it is all theirs. That is the kind of cheap foreign money I am anxious to see come to Texas and I know of no way in which the country can be more rapidly developed than by making its productive lines of industry most profitable. The keynote of Texas development is better marketing methods. There is nothing to gain by increasing production in so far as cotton is concerned. The cotton production and farm value in the United States during the past three years is as follows:

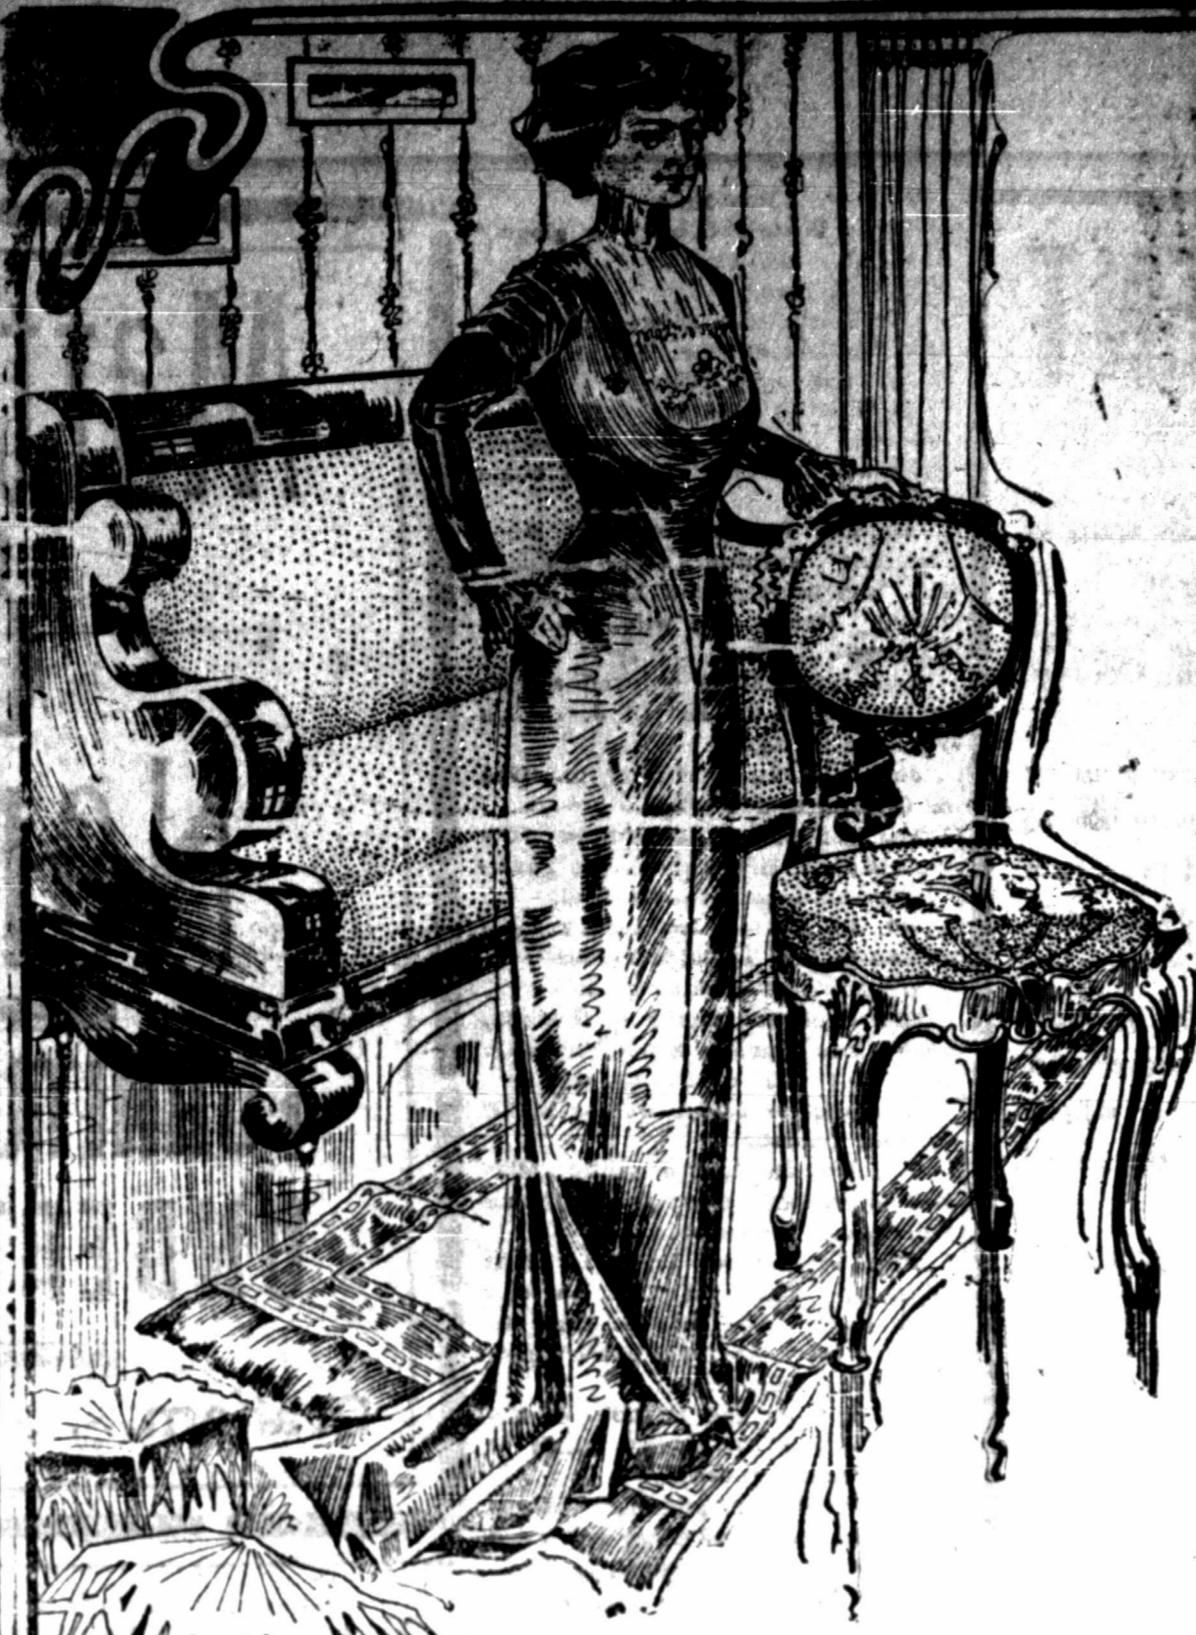

In 1912 there were 14,690,863 bales, valued at $29,630,000.

In 1911 there were 16,250,276 bales valued at $879,840,000.

In 1910 there were 12,602,688 bales valued at $262,180,000.

Cotton statistics for any number of years prove beyond a doubt that a large crop sells for less money than a small one. The world's consumption during the past five years has averaged 18,250,000 bales with an average world production during that period of 18,786,600 bales per annum. The value of a cotton crop as a whole cannot be enhanced by increasing production. Not a dollar can be added by that method. As a matter of fact every bale produced over and above the world's demands, reduces the total value of the crop. We can only add value by increasing the market price.

Those who prefer information from the farm to that of tabulated reports can visit the harvest field at the present time and learn first-hand that those who surfeit can be as sick as those who starve. The onion crop of southwest Texas showed a large increase over last year, and under favorable climatic conditions, production was doubled and the market glutted. As a result a large portion of the crop rotted on the ground and many farmers engaged in the industry lost their homes. The reverse is true of the tomato crop. The acreage was reduced one-third under last year's and unfavorable weather conditions contributed towards further reducing the yield and as a result the demand is stronger than the supply and the industry is flourishing.

Production at Any Price or Without Price

The statement that marketing is the primary factor in agricultural development will, of course, be vigorously challenged by those of our city farmers who advocate production at any price or without price. Certain agricultural heretics who possess more courage than knowledge claim to have suddenly discovered that diversification is the solution of the problem. I preached and practiced diversification before many of these agricultural heretics were born and it has fundamental difficulties which have never been overcome. The value of production per acre for staple crops in Texas in 1912, according to Federal Agricultural Department Reports, is as follows:

Cotton	$23.69
Corn	13.44
Wheat	13.95
Oats	15.84
Hay	10.51

To state the case in the language of the laborer, is any man willing to work for $14.00 when he can get $23.00 per week? That is what diversification means to the farmer. Until the market value per acre of other products equals that of cotton, the farmer will, as a rule, raise cotton. I hold that every farmer should raise everything he needs on the farm regardless of its market price and I have previously pointed out that the use of silos and feeding livestock would help the cereal and forage crops in overcoming their natural handicap, but the money crop, taking the State as a whole, is cotton and will continue so until the processes of nature change our soil and climate. No matter which way we turn in looking for a solution of our agricultural problems, the question is one of markets, markets, markets, rural markets. These subjects will be discussed at our annual meeting at San Antonio August 5th.

Texas Not Properly Financed

Money is the motive power of civilization and without it we must stand like idlers in the thoroughfares of life. Texas is not properly financed. Our crops are mortgaged before they are planted and industry in many instances languishes under the galling yoke of industrial usury. Our volume of money in circulation must be increased and the rate reduced. Traders may be able to pay a high rate of interest as they can more nearly shift the burden to their customers; but the producer cannot, and under its sway, production withers and poisonous vines of industry flourish.

Presbyterian Ladies Aid

The Ladies Aid met with Mrs. Rehder Thursday, July 17, at 4:30. This hospitable lady gave us a warm welcome and then refreshed us with iced lemonade. The meeting opened with Mrs. Akin presiding. The 96th Psalm was read followed by sentence prayers.

Roll call brought out many interesting facts concerning the foreign field. Extract from personal letter of Mrs. McCarroll, of Bullard, Texas, was read, and Mrs. McJinney, sojourning at Mineral Wells, sent greetings of love. The lesson on Foreign Missions showed thorough preparation.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Rubenkoenig.

WITNESS, J. L. Vaughan, Clerk of the District Court of Young County, GIVEN UNDER MY HAND and Seal of said Court, at office (L S) in Graham, Texas, this 1st day of July, A. D. 1913. J. L. Vaughan, Clerk District Court, Young County.

IRRIGATED LAND TO RENT

I want to rent for 1914 to good farmers with plenty of stock and tools some of my land on the Clear Fork, and to desirable parties will give a 3 year lease.

This land will all be irrigated and you can take 20 acres and make more each year for 3 years than you can make on any 150 acre dry farm in the County. Facts and investigation will bear out this claim.

This is the place for stockmen who want to feed steers; hogs and raise poultry etc., as I have 2 1/2 miles of river front and can locate you in a desirable way as to water and shade. Fat steers and Hogs are scarce and are always a good price and in brisk demand and you can find no better proposition than to get 100 acres to raise feed and have plenty of good water for your stock.

You can take 50 acres of this land put in wheat, properly prepare the ground and water it at the right time and make 50 bushels of $1.00 wheat per acre and then get a 75 bushel crop of maize or kaffir off the land before frost. The wheat will bring you $2500.00, the kaffir will bring you $2000.00 on the market, but more if fed to cattle, or a total of $4750.00 on 50 acres.

I am offering to rent land, without house, on a three year lease at $15 per acre per year cash, and if you do not make amount stated above it will be your fault and not that of the land or water. They are doing it everywhere and parties in most cases pay two or three times the amount of rental I am asking. Ten acre blocks with house I will have to have $25 per acre and up to 30 acres, over that amount with house $20 per acre cash in advance or secured paper.

I now have some of this land rented at $15 and $20 per acre and want to rent all of it in the next thirty days. So take a look at the land and if we make a deal one-fifth of the amount of rental will be required as forfeit or secured paper, but all rent will have to be paid January 1st.

This forfeit will be only a guarantee of good faith that you will take the land January 1st and pay 1914 rental. Payable in advance.

I do not care how much money you have to pay for rent, unless you have good teams, tools and money to run on, believe in deep plowing, progressive and agreeable, I do not want you.

I intend in the future to put in electric lights, laundry and put running water in all the houses; also put a gasoline launch in the river and make the Plantation an attractive and pleasant place to live.

It pays to irrigate. See me at once.

...good, Farm Life Commission...
...Jologne, July 25th...
...understood at this time as favoring...
...the same kind of intensive cul...
...tivation that is seen here...
...I will explain why. Intensive cul...
...vation here is the result of...
...First: Cheap labor. Second: High...
...rents; and third: Cheap prices...
...for farm lands. The whole of...
...Europe, so far as we have seen...
...is not a farm, but a garden...
...in which every inch of soil is cul...
...tivated and most frequently with the...
...spade, the rake and the hoe. No...
...tilling is wasted. All the straw is...
...made into manure, whether eaten...
...by cattle first or trodden and foot...
...ed the grass by the roadside is cut and...
...carried in and fed to the cattle and...
...then gathered as barnyard manure...
...and put on the plots of ground...
...called farms. Every farmer's wife...
...and daughter make a hand in the...
...field. The hard work of these...
...women make them short, stocky...
...with features, with hands, feet...
...and fingers similar in size to those...
...of men. But the children are not...
...seen in the fields—they are in...
...school—the law compels attendance...
...of children at school between the...
...ages of 6 and 14 in most European...
...countries.

Back to the question of intensive...
...culture of farms. One looking at...
...the farms from a car window will no...
...doubt become enthusiastic for intensive...
...cultural methods. There is no...
...division fences between farms. The...
...whole area presents the appearance...
...of a big farm. There will be a strip...
...of oats, a strip of barley, another of...
...rye, another of barley, another of...
...hemp, another of hops, another of...
...sugar beets, another of beans, etc...
...These strips vary in width from...
...thirty to one hundred feet, and there...
...is nothing between them except a...
...narrow furrow. I was much puzzled...
...to know why these little strips of...
...land varying in width and in length should be planted to different kinds...

...of products. Maybe one strip will...
...be in wheat, the next in hemp, then...
...wheat again. I wondered why they...
...did not put all the wheat together...
...Why put them in several little plots...
...I asked members of our commission...
...who had traveled in Europe, and...
...was told that such methods were...
...adopted in order to secure proper...
...rotation of crops and conservation...
...of soils. I doubted this statement...
...so I went into the country and...
...talked with the farmers. I learned...
...that each of these little strips was a...
...separate farm. A farmer might own...
...several of these farms scattered...
...widely in the country.

As to Tenant Farmers

If a farmer owns 500 ft. of these...
...plots, varying in size from half an...
...acre to an acre and a half, and he...
...should have five children, he will be...
...in a bad case, for to each child...
...he has more children than farms...
...I expect he divides the strips into...
...smaller strips so as to give each...
...a farm.

These lands sell here in Germany...
...at from $200 to $1,200 per acre...
...but no houses are furnished to the...
...tenants. But there are no tenants...
...such as we have. All farmers own...
...their own homes or rent one in the...
...village. Such as do not own as...
...many little plots of ground as he...
...and his women folks can cultivate...
...rent other plots of those who may...
...have more than they wish to culti...
...vate. A farm laborer, if a man, re...
...ceives 50 cents and meals and 75...
...cents without meals per day; if a...
...woman, 35 cents with meals and...
...50 cents without meals per day, and...
...by the year a man receives about...
...$100 while a woman gets from $40...
...to $60 per annum.

So I am forced to the conclusion...
...that intensive culture is the result...
...of cheap labor, high prices of land...
...and high rents.

You may not feel interested in...
...these details which I have men...
...tioned, but if you are going to un...
...derstand the rural banks and rural...
...finances of Europe you must wade...
...through these little details. Who...
...ever thinks he can understand the...
...principles of rural credit here and...
...undertakes to adapt them to Ameri...
...can conditions will be an unsafe...
...leader and instructor unless he also...
...understands the farming conditions...
...which gave rise to and developed...
...these rural banks.

For instance, there is seldom any...
...land for sale at any price, and...
...owing to the value of space a man...
...keeps no surplus livestock. Even...
...the milk cattle are used to draw...
...wagons, carts and plows, the same...
...as we use mules. So there is...
...neither land nor cattle for the...
...farmer to purchase. The farmer here...
...raises everything at home he eats...
...and sells the surplus. If he makes...
...$50 or $100 or $200 per year, he...
...puts it in the rural bank which pays...
...him 4 per cent on it. He continues...
...to do this until somebody dies who...
...owns land and has no heirs and...
...there comes a piece of land on the...
...market. Then he draws all his...
...money and borrows the balance of...
...the sum necessary to purchase land...
...to be had. The conditions are such...
...that every farmer saves something...
...every year, and there being nothing...
...to invest this saving in he puts it at...
...interest in the bank.

German Methods Most Intensive

The methods of culture in Italy...
...and Hungary are not so intensive...
...as Germany. In each of these...
...countries more or less farm...
...machinery is employed. Then too in...
...Italy and Hungary few farmers own...
...their farms, they rent, and being...
...renters they obtain their ground in...
...one continuous body.

If a man were farming just to...
...please the eye he might exchange...
...our methods for those of the Euro...
...pean farmers, but since our farmers...
...are farming for a living they will...
...and should employ all the improved...
...farm machinery, horse power and...
...acres that one hand can attend to...
...There is one lesson, however, that...
...we can learn from the European...
...farmers, that is the making of every...
...inch of his farm equal in fertility...
...There are no clay galls, no wet...
...places, no thin spots in the farms...
...here. By leveling, draining, man...
...uring, etc., all bad spots are made...
...good. Another lesson that we might...
...learn from these farmers is that of...
...a perfect stand. Two things more...
...than anything else secure the per...
...fect stand, namely, the uniform fer...
...tility of a well prepared seed bed...
...and the planting of thoroughly...
...tested seed.

THE HISTORY OF YOUNG COUNTY, TEXAS

By JUDGE P. A. MARTIN.

To the men of iron nerve and dauntless courage, who opened up the wilderness of the west and made possible the civilization we now enjoy, this series of articles is respectfully dedicated.

CHAPTER XXIII

After the fall term of the Federal Court in Graham, Deputy-Marshal E. W. Johnson made a trip to the Indian Territory with a posse of men, and, on his return, brought out the Marlow brothers, five in number, who, in the course of the next few months, were destined to become noted characters in the history of the county. They were named respectively, George, Charlie, Alf, Epp and Boone and were charged with theft of horses in the Indian Territory. In addition to these charges in the Federal Court, it was also known by Deputy Marshal Johnson that Boone Marlow was wanted on a charge of murder, said to have been committed in Wilbarger county Texas.

Much has been said and written about the antecedents of the five brothers, but for this history it is sufficient to say that they were nomadic in nature, had lived in many localities, typical frontiersmen, expert in the use of weapons, with plenty of native intelligence and little or no education. They were strong and vigorous specimens of physical manhood and of fearless temperament and character. As to their honesty, reports differed as widely as the east is separated from the west; they were branded as cutthroats and outlaws by some and by others said to be honest men. They were incarcerated in the Graham jail and their families followed them and camped near the town.

They were allowed bail by the Federal authorities, and, after some delay, the bail was furnished, some farmers living in the southeastern part of the county going on their bonds, their object being to get them for renters on their farm for the next year. Boone Marlow was the last one bonded out and he, having heard of the expected warrant for him from Wilbarger county, made light of his case up there and told Sheriff Wallace that he would surrender to him at any time, if notified that the sheriff had the warrant for his arrest.

The generous officer, after waiting for what seemed a reasonable time for the warrant, turned the young man loose and let him go to the Denson farm, where three of the brothers had a home and employment. Just a few days afterwards Sheriff Wallace received the expected warrant from the Wilbarger county authorities and on the 17th day of December, in company with his field deputy, Tom Collier, he repaired to the Denson farm to serve the warrant on Boone Marlow.

He went to the tenant house where the Marlows lived and endeavored to serve the warrant. As the sheriff stepped to the door, he was struck upon from within and fell to the entrance, pierced by a bullet which passed through his body. Deputy Tom Collier was also struck upon, the ball barely grazing his head, tearing a hole in his hat and sending splinters to the side of his face, the bullet striking the door near his head. He retreated for self protection to a woodpile in the yard and Boone Marlow, the man wanted, immediately caught and saddled a pony and left the scene, after which Mr. Collier and members of the Marlow family, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Denson, who had come to the scene, did what they could to minister to the wants of the wounded sheriff. Messengers were dispatched to Graham and as soon as possible, help was at hand and the wounded man was brought to Graham and taken to his home. In the meantime the bondsmen of the Marlow brothers promptly gave them up to the county officials, believing that the shooting of Wallace was the result of a conspiracy between them, promptly filed prosecutions against them and they were all jailed for safe keeping and further investigation, excepting, of course, Boone, who rode out of the country in spite of the most strenuous efforts of the constabulary to catch him.

O. G. Denson was also arrested on suspicion of conspiracy, but as there appeared to be no evidence against him, he was subsequently discharged. Failing in their efforts to find Boone Marlow, the citizens subscribed a reward of $1,500 for his delivery at the Graham jail "dead or alive." The Governor of the State also offered a reward of $200 for his arrest and conviction.

On the day before Christmas, 1888 M. D. Wallace died from the effects of his wound and that Christmas day was the saddest one in the history of the county. People came from all parts of the county and some from the adjoining counties to attend the funeral and a vast crowd assembled at Oak Grove Cemetery to pay their last tribute of respect to the dead officer, in spite of the fact that the day was cold and dreary and a drizzling rain was falling all the day. There were few, if any, dry eyes in the vast concourse as the body of the beloved dead was lowered in the grave.

M. D. Wallace was the most popular man of his day. He was the friend of the poor, the protector of the innocent and the terror of those who sought to violate the law. He had the natural instincts of the detective and was as brave as he was generous.

His reputation as an officer had passed beyond the limits of the state. In the spring of 1888, acting on published description, he trailed two murderers, wanted at Logansport, Indiana, from Young county to the stacked plains. Telegraphing for an Indiana officer to follow and identify the men, he caught them and took them to the scene of their crime. At the station he was met by a howling mob, bent upon lynching the men, but he hurried them into an omnibus, commanded the driver to hasten to the jail, and taking his seat in the door of the vehicle, he drew two big Texas six-shooters and held a mob of hundreds of men at bay and safely landed his prisoners in the county jail. The northern papers were full of the exploit at the time and published big pictures of what they called the "typical Texas Sheriff" standing off an Indiana mob. He used to laugh at the incident and when asked if he felt frightened he would say, "pshaw, no; I faced them fellows for four years during the war and never was afraid of 'em." So, on that melancholy Christmas Day when he was laid in the cold earth, there arose in the hearts of men an unuttered cry, an inarticulate demand, born of their very love for him and that cry, that demand, was for "VENGEANCE."

No one said it aloud, but it was in the minds of the people. Most of them, it is true, wanted the law to take its course and avenge itself while upon the countenance of others was written a determination which meant vengeance, by law if possible, but vengeance at all was at hand and the wounded man

Farmers' Union Convention

San Antonio, Texas, July 23—The committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to make the arrangements for the holding of the Eleventh Annual meeting of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of Texas in this city August 5th to 9th inclusive, is leaving nothing undone to assist in making the annual convention one of the biggest successes in its history.

The sessions will be held in the auditorium of the Market Hall which is centrally located and provides ample seating capacity for several thousand people.

Several rooms have been secured in the Bexar County Court house for the use of various committees and as the court house is within a short distance of the Market Hall, this arrangement will no doubt be most convenient.

This meeting of the Farmers' Union will be especially notable, as in addition to the regular business to come before the convention, the subject of Marketing and a system of Rural Credits will be given marked attention by the organization.

The railroads have promised reduced rates for the occasion and the largest attendance in the eleven years of the organization's life is expected.

In addition to the annual address of Hon. Peter Radford, the worthy president of the Texas Farmers' Union, which will carry a message of importance, the Hon. C. S. Barrett, National President, and A. C. Davis, National Secretary, will be present and will address the convention.

The fact that the Farmers' Union officials have secured sufficient funds to care for a million bales of distress cotton this fall has quickened interest in the Selling Plan of the Farmers' Union not alone among the cotton producers and farmers of Texas, but in every state in the Union where the need of an adequate marketing system is pertinent.

The Need of Cheap Money.

Farmer Radford has directed attention in a very vivid manner to the need of cheap money on the farm. The statistics which he presents show the farms having a net earning power of four per cent and the farmer paying an average interest rate of 9.97.

The farmer is not the only one who needs cheap money. It is badly needed in all other lines of industry, although many of the trades can come more nearly shifting the burden than can the farmer. The high interest rate is undoubtedly contributing toward farm peasantry, which is a most alarming specter wherever it occurs. No civilization can better serve its citizens than by placing a home within reach of all.

Nervous?
Mrs. Walter Vincent, of Pleasant Hill, N. C., writes: "For three summers I suffered from nervousness, dread and painful pains in my back and sides, and weak sinking spells. Three bottles of Cardui, the woman's tonic, relieved me entirely. I feel like another person, now."
TAKE

Cardui
The Woman's Tonic
For over 50 years, Cardui has been helping to relieve women's unnecessary pains and building weak women up to health and strength. It will do the same for you, if given a fair trial. So, don't wait, but begin taking Cardui today, for its use cannot harm you, and should surely do you good. E-72

Upon the death of Sheriff Wallace, S. V. Waggoner, constable of the Graham precinct, assisted by Eugene Logan, constable of the Belnap precinct, took charge of the office and functions of the sheriff until County Judge H. D. Williams could call the commissioners' court together and appoint a sheriff to fill the unexpired term.

Lindsay European Letters

Judge Lindsay, chairman of the Farm Life Commission, is giving the Texas press an interesting and instructive account of his European trip with the American Commission now studying the industrial life of the East.

Our civilization is scarcely in its teens, and these grown-ups have passed many mile-posts in human affairs that we must plod slowly by, and Judge Lindsay and the Commission are reading the sign-boards they have left behind. There is much to learn from the experience of nations, and it sometimes takes Mother Earth centuries to tell the story of her abundance and to give the secrets of her hidden wealth.

The Newcastle Meeting

Bro. W. H. Johnson, of Handley, Texas, has just closed his meeting with the Newcastle church. It was a great meeting; Bro. Johnson is a great preacher and he did some of his best work in this meeting. It is well worth our while to hear his splendid discourses. If every christian could hear his sermon on "Bringing Men to Christ," it surely would be a better day for the church. Or if every sinner could hear him on "The New Birth," and on "The Atonement," "The Blood of Christ," surely there would be no mistake made by them on the plan of salvation, for the way is plain and Bro. Johnson puts it in the right light, so no one need go wrong under his teaching.

There were seventeen additions to the church and I think the church is truly on higher ground, and I trust we will hear great things from this good church, for surely there is some of the Lord's chosen ones there.

Newcastle is a fast growing town, with an enterprising people full of hope and expectation for their town and people, and there are good things ahead for them. They fully realize the need of good churches and schools. This is a very important center for our work in the county and we are very much encouraged over the bright prospects for the future. May God richly bless them is the humble prayer of the Missionary.

Fishing Party

For the pleasure of and to the delight of the young lady visitors from Dallas, Misses Robinson and George, the families of Messrs T. J. Price and Jas. Porter went on an all day fishing excursion last Thursday. They camped at Hanchman Hole and enjoyed fishing, bathing and swimming, some of the uninitiated learning to swim.

Wears No Hat.

Carl Johnson, a Dane, on the Stovall Plantation does not wear a hat at all these hot days and claims it is cooler. You can see him any time of the day in the field at work without hat and he seems to get along nicely. He is very intelligent and a great worker, talks English and is a credit to any community. He has two brothers, who will shortly sail from Denmark to the United States and will locate on the Stovall Plantation, for if they do not leave at once they will have to serve in the army.

U. D. C. Meeting

Fitzhugh Lee Chapter No. 255 U. D. C. met on last Tuesday evening with Mrs. Bob McCloud, Miss Pearl Matthews presiding. The secretary being absent there was no reading of the minutes. The annual was read, in regard to the Literary Contest, also several letters were read and discussed by the Chapter. As no program had been received from our State Historian, the substance of the meeting was our local work.

Mrs. McCloud, in her hospitable manner, served the ever refreshing ice cream and cake.

The program for the next meeting, also the place of meeting, will appear later.

Dr. F. D. Kershner, President of the Texas Christian Unliversity of Fort Worth, will preach at the First Christian Church next Sunday at 11 a. m. and 8:30 p. m. The opportunity to hear such men as Dr.
Kershner does not present itself very often. So do not miss this chance of hearing a great man preach.

Two-year-old Child Lost
Last Saturday Mr. Murray Gahagan and family, living near Bryson, went to visit his brother six miles northwest of here. About 5 o'clock in the evening the mother missed her little two-year-old daughter and began searching for her, but failing to find her, the near neighbors were notified and they joined in the search. The towns of Loving, Jermyn and Bryson were all called to join in the search, which they quickly did, and they were all soon in the pursuit, which lasted until 2 o'clock the next morning.

The Bryson News
when to the happy surprise of all the little one was found by the searchers in a cotton patch, unhurt.
She had wandered three miles from where she started and had evidently never laid down until reaching the spot where she was found.

splendid preacher and a great reviv-

for a great meeting.

It is still very warm and in these parts, but we have not had to fight the grasshoppers.
The constitutional amendments were gloriously defeated here as well as at all other places, last Saturday, there being only one vote in favor of, or for, and 121 against.
That's good, for our constitution is allright if it is not tampered with any more. Knowie
