Ross Motor Company In New Location

It was moving day in Dixie as well as in Brownfield last week for the Ross Motor Co., when they moved from their crowded quarters on east Main, to more commodious and finer display space in the building formerly occupied by the Carter Chevrolet Co., at the corner of Main and 7th, just across the street west of the Miller Service Station. Hardly a better location can be found in downtown Brownfield.

One of the great points in the new location is the fact that you find everything under one roof—full and complete service. Here are your new cars, Hudsons and Oldsmobiles; G. M. C. and Mack trucks; the used cars, the parts storage, gasoline and oils, repairs and painting, washing, greasing, cleaning and polishing and an expert in each department to give you the service you would get in larger cities. In the sales section, headed by the owner and manager, Mr. C. E. Ross, are J. R. Kee, Ellison Carson, and C. H. Holmes, salesmen, and Bernard Evans, parts man and bookkeeper. All are men of experience.

In the repair and service department, Shorty Forbus, one of the South Plains' leading and most dependable mechanics, heads a staff that is hard to beat, consisting of T. S. Ervin, J. M. Beck, and Dave Townsend, with John Brown as Fender and Body man. These are all men of many years of experience, trained in every detail of repairing. The clean, grease and polish operation is in charge of a very efficient colored man, Henry McElroy. They want you to visit them in their new location whether you have business or not.

Mr. Ross has been in the automobile business here for the past five and a half years, and no one that knows him doubts that he is a past master of the business. The Herald congratulates Mr. Ross and his large personnel on their very fine plant.

A Mistake in Piggly-Wiggly Ad Last Week

Watch as close as one will, a mistake will pop up once in awhile to plague the printer and advertiser, and usually the printer gets a little gouge from the advertiser, but he catches the devil from customers, of a few of them, providing the mistake is giving too much value. A few people say they don't make 'em.

Last week in quoting Vienna Sausage, we made the ad say 2 cans for 5c, and the proof readers failed to catch the mistake. However, the store's original copy said one. Mr. Patterson reported that most of his customers were real nice about the matter, however, late in the afternoon we carried the original copy for the ad over—just in case.

We just can't understand why any reasonable human wants a merchant to take a loss just because a printer lets a mistake get by. We just can't understand why people become so constituted that they think they never make one.

Terry County Jail Is Empty for 4 Days

Deputy Sheriff Sam White phoned us one day last week, Thursday we believe that the Terry county jail was empty for the first time in a great while, and stated this week that it remained empty about four days. The recent grand jury only found five bills, mostly misdemeanor, so you see we have a pretty decent citizenship.

However, Sam admitted there were two girls in the cooler this week charged with fighting, and no funds for fines. Not so long ago we saw where two local ladies tore about a quarter acre of feed down during a scrap. Maybe England, France or Hitler could use some of these fighting Amazons. By the way if these girls take exception to this, we are going to be out of town.

Our Ad Last Week Had Some Results

Our story, which was no lie last week to the effect that money matters were getting tight about the Herald office had some effect, but not altogether as much as we could desire. Now we are supposing that some of you haven't gotten out much cotton as yet, and your minister, your doctor and your candlestick maker came before the newspaper, which is quite alright, as these men probably need money worse than a newspaperman.

But funny to relate, three men, one right after the other came in Saturday afternoon, and found that they were behind and we wanted to square things up before them. We had threatened to appeal to their wives, and they wanted square thing up before the ladies arrived on the scene. Some more of you guys better drop in this week, as we are going to tell who is and who isn't paying, and you'll get yourself into a jackpot if you don't watch out.

G. D. Wade, who dispenses eats material down at Union, was in Monday, and said he thought our "dun" story last week was one of the most pitiable he had ever read, and he fully expected us to be near starvation. However, we caught him a bit behind and made him pay that and a year in advance. He admitted heartedly that he would not let any of his customers down there get that far behind, not even Ed Evans, the gin man.

And speaking of Ed, G. D. admitted that he had already won a Stetson hat off Ed on the amount of cotton Ed would gin to a certain date. Personally, we would like to know which of these men is the Mayor of Union. But back to subscriptions, if more of you pokeasys don't poke in Saturday, we are going to put a red ring around your name so your wife can't help seeing you haven't paid up.

Minstrel Show Features School Carnival

The high school speech class, under the able direction of Mrs. Raymond Powell, speech teacher of Union, is going to present a negro minstrel at the Union school Carnival, Friday, Oct. 13.

Everyone attending the minstrel is promised laughter and enjoyment from beginning to the end. There will not only be "negroes" of the speech class in the minstrel, but four negroes from the Union community and three Mexicans have consented to give several numbers.

Russel Day will act as interloper for the minstrel. Those taking part in the minstrel show are as follows: Grady Davis, Jewell Davis, Walter Smith, Stewart Collier, Ora Lee Snow, Eddie Lewis, Joy Simpson, Jean Brandon, Darrell Lewis, LaVern McNeil, Roy Huckleberry, W. A. Brock, Inez Snow, Wanda Barton, Elvord Barton, F. J. Beck, Luis Beck, Alfred Townsend.

Mrs. Patterson will accompany the minstrel. Ten cents will be charged for every one over six years old.

Civic Clubs Asked To Sponsor Games

In order to increase interest and boost attendance at home games and to furnish transportation for the band boys and pep squad to games away from home, each of the civic organizations has been asked to sponsor two football games, one on the local gridiron and the other away from home.

While the duty of the sponsor group will be to furnish transportation for the band and pep squad to games away from home, their chief function at home will be to sit together in a section reserved for them in the grandstand.

At the time this article was being reported, one organization, the Rotary Club, had already acted favorably on the movement and had tentatively selected games to sponsor. Other clubs were expected to accept the proposition as soon as it was placed before them in regular or called meeting.

Two new members, Dube Pyeatt and Jack Stricklin, Jr., were introduced to the body.

Cubs Outplay the Golden Cranes

Last Friday night, September 29, at La Ave field in Crane, the Cubs of the Brownfield High School's football team believed that fight could take the place of weight and before the night was over they had the spectators and the Crane Golden Cranes believing the same thing. Weighing 20 pounds less to the man and due to lose by a good margin, the Cubs came off the field with a victory in every thing but the score, which read: Cubs 6, Crane 6.

From the starting whistle, the Cubs tore the Cranes to shreds with savage blocking, tackling, and running. Little "Lonney" Warren was the man with the ball for the locals and his No. 10 flashed for long gains time after time. The Cubs blockers hit their stride and led Warren into the secondary where the shifty little back picked his way with a skill that kept the crowd on its feet most of the game.

The Cubs scored first, early in the third quarter. A long pass to Bryan carried to Crane's fifteen yard line and behind beautiful blocking, Warren shook loose around left end and scored the next play. Bower's attempt for conversion was blocked.

A few minutes later the Cranes broke into the scoring when one of their many pass attempts hit the receiver in the end zone. Their attempt at conversion was wide and the scoring was over for the night.

The Brownfield lads, who outplayed Crane all night, were hampered greatly by the many penalties that came their way. A beautiful 60-yard punt return by Warren was nullified and the Cubs assessed a fifteen yard penalty for clipping in the second quarter, and in the third stanza, Warren intercepted a pass for a touchdown that was called back on a charge of holding on defense. A total of 115 yards, were called against the Cubs.

The Cranes threatened to score again in the third when Woodfin intercepted Brown's pass and ran it to the Cubs' three yard line where he was tackled by Akers. Three line plays lost five yards, and a fourth down pass fell in the end zone and the Cubs took over on the twenty.

In the Cubs' line Akers, Tankersly, Lewis, Rambo, and in fact everyone played a great game. In the backfield quarterback Brown and little fieryhaired Warren led the way.

Bowers probably turned in the best game of his career. He drove hard, and played a good defensive game. Locke, a new man from Tokio, played his first game with the Cubs. Coaches Nooncaster and Tipps are expecting him to find a regular slot before the season is much older.

For Crane 196-lb. Woodfin, full-back and Davis, tackle were outstanding.

Rotarians to Sponsor Two Football Games

Lacking one member having a perfect attendance, the local Rotary Club met last Friday noon at the Wines Hotel. Music during the meal was furnished by Miss Gertrude Rasco.

At the conclusion of the meal, Vernon Brewer, a visitor, invited the club to sponsor two football games during the coming season. This was acted upon favorably and the games the Rotarians are to sponsor will be made public as soon as it can be settled definitely.

Talks pertaining to the responsibilities of the merchant-buyer were very ably given by Everett Latham and Graham Smith, the latter having charge of this phase of the program.

Two new members, Dube Pyeatt and Jack Stricklin, Jr., were introduced to the body.

New Chevrolet to Appear October 14

DETROIT, Sept. 29.—Final assembly operations on Chevrolet's 1940 passenger cars began this week in the company's 10 assembly plants throughout the United States, M. E. Coyle, general manager, announced today at Chevrolet headquarters here, amplifying an announcement made last night before 350 Chevrolet field and central office sales executives at the company's annual convention.

Mr. Coyle said that production was expected to approach 5,000 units a day very soon, in order to stock dealers for the new model announcement, set for Oct. 14.

Chevrolet manufacturing plants, located in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and New York, have been in operation since late last August, Mr. Coyle said, building engines, axles, transmissions, and other sub-assemblies with which to supply the assembly lines when the latter get under way.

The assembly lines have already begun operations on the new 1940 commercial cars and trucks, it was announced, and delivery of many of these units is already under way.

Pontiac Has Two Sixes—Two Eights

Expanding its lines to cover the widest market in its history Pontiac enters the 1940 season with 17 body models and four separate chassis.

Its bid for the volume market is being made with a larger low-priced Special-Six. Restyled DeLuxe Sixes and DeLuxe eights take care of that large volume market just above the Special Six. Newest departure from previous years, however, is Pontiac's definite swing toward a still more exacting and discriminating field of buyers with a stunning new luxury eight, called the Torpedo Eight.

Cubs Are Dreading Olton Again

We are not much of a football doper, but in talking with some of those who are, they seemed to dread Olton again this year, but admitted Littlefield had something to contend with. Crane was doped to beat us 20 points last week, but had to content themselves with a tie with the Fighting Cubs.

The Ralls Jackrabbits will be here tonight for the first game under the Cubs' lights. Other teams in the district are: Leveland, Littlefield, Morton, Muleshoe, Olton, Post, Slaton, Sudan and Tahoka.

Roy Collier Returns From Markets

Roy B. Collier of J. B. Knight's Furniture Store has returned from Ft. Worth and Dallas where he made extensive purchases for the store.

This store, with its new black glass front, will, when the arrangements are completed, will be one of the prettiest in this entire section. They have under construction a 50x60 annex for storage of extra stock, of which they stock, of which they have a complete line from the moderate priced on to the more exclusive designs.

Portwood Helping Out At Cicero Smith's

Being kinder short handed during the fall rush with much building going on in town and in the area, Mr. M. L. Portwood was sent out from the Fort Worth office of Cicero Smith to help out here for awhile, according to Fred Smith, local manager, and is proving a great help in time of need.

Mr. Portwood has had quite a lot of experience in the bookkeeping department of the company at Lubbock and perhaps elsewhere. He is here now as bookkeeper and assistant otherwise.

Woodrow Chambliss Is Going Places

WACO, October 2.—Woodrow Chambliss, the Brownfield, Texas lad who as a Baylor University freshman in 1934 accepted a promoters' job with the Baylor Little Theatre that he might get "in drama," is about to see his ambitions realized.

He is slated for the leading role in Micheal Chekov's production of "Passion", opening on Broadway the latter part of this month. He is only 24.

"Passion" is adapted from a novel by the Russian writer Dostoevsky and its production by the Chekhov Theatre is considered history making in the dramatic world. The studio, which operates on the same principles as the Moscow Art Theatre, has been working on this one play three years.

Chambliss' three years of study at Baylor under Little Theatre Director Paul Baker was a series of increasing successes. His first role, after the back stage prompting, was the part of the clown, Sample Swuchel, in "Ten Nights in a barroom. He next tackled the part of Trock in "Winterset" and was a magnificent success as far as college actors go.

His crowning achievement in the Baylor Little Theatre was the role of Uncle in Maeterlinch's "Intruder."

A two week's apprenticeship with a stock company at Milford, Conn., followed, to be cut short by a call from a British producer to act the part of Granfather in the "Intruder" at Bath, England. For this he received many "raves" from the English critics.

The scholarship at the Chekhov Theatre Studio followed, upon Chambliss' passing of a three-art tryout, he has been with them since.

CUSHING-HUTTON CONCERTIERS TO BE HERE

The Cushing-Hutton Concertiers will present a radio revue of song and story in the Brownfield High School Auditorium on Wednesday, October 11, at 9:00 a. m.

A new departure in the concert field which has found instant favor is used for the first time in the Cushing-Hutton Revue. The Cushing-Huttons furnish the flesh and blood talent in a program of light and grand opera gems accompanied by electrically transcribed organ and orchestral background.

When the curtain is drawn the audience can see only the two artists with a beautifully gridded loud speaker at either side of the stage. The accompanist emanates from the speakers and the singers present their dialogues, vocal solos and duets coordinated with this unseen accompanying medium.

Eileen Hutton, soprano, and Wilfrid Cushing, tenor, offer lively excerpts from popular operettas, grand opera selections, folk songs, skits and novelty numbers which add variety and lightness. There will be a small admission charge.

The Official Paper of Terry County and the City of Brownfield

The Federal Reserve Board's index of industrial production for the past month was the best for and September since 1929. Moreover, the trend indicated an upward move for some time to come.

Senator Tom Connally of Texas, one of the members of the foreign Relations Committee, and taking a leading part in drafting the new neutrality law, will speak over a national hookup, tonight (Friday) at 9:15 P. M., Texas time. Be sure to tune in on his speech.

We have received the initial issue of the Taxpayer's Digest, being issued from Dallas. Peter Molyneux, well known editor of the Texas Week, issued weekly at Dallas, is the editor. Associate editor will be Booth Mooney, well known writer. The Taxpayer's Digest will be issued twice a month for the present.

Rotary and possibly other clubs have been experimenting of late years from every section of the country, in finding some blow-off of steam and energy for young people along about Halloween, such as boxing bouts and other games, movies, and a lot of other innocent amusement features, to wean the youthful mind from destruction of property on that night. These clubs have found that if young folks are given something like the above, even including banquets, they forget to turn over all the outhouses, exchange signs, carry off gates, and grease the trolley track. Despite police warnings, boys will be boys, and lots of valuable property has been destroyed or damaged on Halloween nights.

Nobody's Business
By Julian Capers

AUSTIN—The real test of popularity of W. Lee O'Daniel with the voters of Texas, about which there has been much speculation and conjecture, probably will be cleared up during the next few months, political observers here believe, as they prepared to watch for the first reaction to a wholesale slash in pension payments. The State Welfare Board, in an all-day session, during which its members futilely sought some way to avoid the pension cut, announced that a $6 horizontal slash will be made in October payments. This means that at least 1500 pensioners who have been receiving less than $6 monthly, will be cut entirely from the rolls; those receiving $15 will be cut to $8, etc. It may also remove additional hundreds, if the Board carries out a policy it has heretofore followed, of issuing no checks less than $5. In other words, if a pensioner has been getting $9 for instance, the cut will reduce him to $3, and the Board has been granting at least 5, or nothing. So if this plan is continued, it may remove many hundreds of additional beneficiaries.

Pensions in a Mess

The pension set-up is in a fairly terrible state all around. The Board, under an act of the last Legislature, had to begin payments of approximately $200,000 a month to a group of Dallas banks, repaying money borrowed for pension purposes. This $200,000 has been matched by the Federal government, so the total reduction of revenues will be $400,000 a month. Meanwhile, the pension roll, which for October will be about $119,000, will be steadily increased, as the work for investigating thousands upon thousands of new applicants, who sought relief under the "liberalized" law, can be completed.

Meanwhile due to the fact the pension investigation section has been continuously understaffed since 1936, there are literally thousands of new applications, as well as more thousands of reinvestigations, which remain to be made. The Federal Social Security Board has been tightened up on its requirements and now insists that all pensioners on the rolls be reinvestigated at least once a year. Many Texas pensioners have never been reinvestigated since they originally began receiving aid, in 1936.

Typical of this situation is one in a Central Texas county. Five hundred persons in that county are receiving pensions, and must be reinvestigated before the Federal auditor gets around again, or the State will lose Federal aid on these cases. In addition, 300 new applications have been made under the liberalized law, and have not yet been checked. New applications in that county come in at an average rate of 80 per month, to swell the total job that is being done by two investigators, who cannot handle more than 100 cases per month. This is a thrifty German county, where the ratio of pension seekers is supposed to be below normal. A worse condition probably prevails in many other counties.

Those Promises Haunt W. Lee

Gov. O'Daniel promised elimination of investigators. He promised everybody $30 a month, later cutting this promise in half, to $15 a month. He promised a liberalized pension law. He got the latter. Today, there are more investigators on the payroll than ever before, and informed persons admit that the present staff simply cannot handle the job and meet the rigid Federal requirements, necessary to get Federal aid. The average pension payment drops in October from $14.24 to $8.24 for October, with prospects for further cuts during the next few months, as the rolls grow longer under the liberal law.

Whether W. Lee, who has firmly rejected all suggestions for a revenue-raising special session, can resist the pressure which the politicians feel certain will commence immediately among the pensioners—the group which gave him his greatest strength in his election—is the question being asked here. The largest corporate and special interest which backed O'Daniel's sponsorship of a sales tax to pay pensions—written into the Constitution to protect them against increases—are bitterly opposed to a special session, because a constitutional amendment cannot be acted upon except at a regular session. So far, O'Daniel has heeded their pleas for no special session. But Austin observers, having seen the Governor change his mind in the past, feel that such a change will come as soon as he sees a definite threat to his re-election in the dissatisfaction of the pension seekers. The best informed observers here believe a special session must come before the campaign opens up next Spring.

Thompson Campaigning

Meanwhile, Ernest Thompson, railroad commissioner and runner-up in the Governor's race last year, is making hay of his proposal for a 5-cent tax on oil to raise pension money. Thompson this week end spoke to county officials of Texas, meeting in Temple, and urged his "nickel for Grandma" program, asking the county officials to help him get the folks behind it. Jerry Sadler, railroad commissioner, also issued one of his hasty statements, declaring unless O'Daniel abandoned his sales tax idea, and adopted "something like an omnibus tax program" to raise pension revenue, Sadler himself would enter the race for governor. In Austin, however, Sadler's statement was not taken very seriously, as the fiery East Texan has been known to talk hastily before, and change his mind the next day.

W. J. CHESNEY UP ON BUSINESS

W. J. Chesney of Colorado, Texas, was up this week on business, having a half section of land in the Union community, farmed by the Couchman brothers, George D. and Dayton, the former being a son-in-law of Mr. Chesney.

Mr. Chesney says he has the best crop on his place for several years, and the best cotton he has ever had, and worlds of feed. He reports that dry weather has taken a great toll of crops in Mitchell since the flood in June.

Said our article last week appealed to him, so he handed in another dollar-fifty for another year of the Herald to help keep us off relief, he said.

Boy Scout finance drive for Brownfield is scheduled for Thursday, October 12, Spencer Kendrick, finance chairman said today. Teams from the Lions and Rotary Clubs will make the effort.

What Is Pasture Worth?

By T. C. Richardson, Associate Editor, Farm and Ranch Breeder-Feeder Association.

It has been comparatively easy to learn how many pounds of meat a pasture would produce per acre in a season, but data on the cash value of pastures for dairy cows have not been so plentiful nor so accurate. The annual report of the Central Plains Dairy Herd Improvement Association issued last spring brings out the cash value of a year-round pasture in a forcible way, and the results are based on accurate records.

J. E. Rigler, with thirty-one registered and grade Jersey cows, was one member of the Association who maintained pasture the year round. He sowed wheat in September, at about three times the normal rate of seeding for grain to supply winter pasture. With summer pastures the rest of the year, ensilage, grain sorghum and alfalfa, his herd produced an average per cow of 6,254 pounds of 5.2 per cent milk. This was not among the highest records in the Association, but was well up in average production among the larger herds.

The interesting fact is that Mr. Rigler got nearly half—49 per cent—of his production from pastures. In calculating costs each kind of feed is charged at a uniform price by D. M. Carrill, official tester. Pasture is charged at 75 cents per cow per month.

But Mr. Rigler's pasture, after deducting the energy therms which were supplied by grain and roughage, paid off at the rate of $3 per cow per month as compared with the cost of roughage, and at the rate of $4.50 per cow per month, calculated in terms of grain feed.

To put it another way, each productive unit (technically "therms") cost 2.3 cents in the form of grain, 1.5 cents in the form of roughage, and only four-tenths of a cent from pasture. Of course it required grain and roughage to complete the balanced ration. The point is that the cost of production would have been considerably higher without the pasture.

This record, it should be remembered, was made on the Plains of West Texas. A longer growing season and more regular rainfall in other parts of the Southwest make it easier to have a year-round pasture than in the west. Winter pasture is relatively more valuable than summer pasture, and may be provided either in permanent pastures or planted fields.

The common cereals are the favorite stand-by for winter pastures in the Southwest since the seed are cheap and easily available, and everybody knows how to plant them. Rye grass is becoming increasingly popular and supplies more grazing per acre than either wheat, oats, rye or barley alone. Where grain is sown solely for pasturage, a good many farmers prefer a mixture of two or more kinds and a heavier seeding than for grain is preferable. The reason is obvious—they each grow better at different seasons, and a mixture therefore gives a longer grazing season. The mixture may be cut for hay in the dough stage.

For fall and early winter barley usually provides more pasturage, while wheat, oats and rye produce more grazing during the winter and early spring months. Rye grass continues to provide green pastures later in spring than the cereals.

Grain for harvest may be pastured without reducing the yield. In fact pasturing under the proper conditions tends to increase the yield by encouraging stooling. The Denton (Texas) experiment station found by measured tests that grain yields were increased by pasturing up to March 1, and grazing for another twenty days did not reduce the final yield of the grain.

Electric fences are coming into wide use for confining animals on temporary pastures, where a permanent fence is not desired. Pastures give better results when grazed in rotation, and the electric fence offers a cheap and convenient means of resting one part of the pasture while grazing another.

THE BANKS ARE SAFE

The banks of America are safe—and they are managed with remarkable efficiency and economy. That is the substance of a recent statistical study of the experience of state chartered banks last year.

The income of these banks was lower than the year before, which was to be expected in the light of the decline in general business activity. However, the institutions' net incomes were relatively stable in relation to gross income. In only one small state was a net loss for the year shown.

It is also significant that dividends paid were less than half of those paid in the preceding year. The banks, in other words, sharply reduced dividends in the interest of maximum safety and good banking practice.

A record such as this is typical of the whole past history of banking in the United States. It is difficult to think of any conceivable protection for the depositor that has not been in effect for many years. During the depression we heard a great deal about bank failures. What few of us understood was the fact that in the overwhelming percentage of instances the depositors ultimately got their money, 100 cents on the dollar with interest.

The number of bank failures in which loss to depositors did occur is so small as to be insignificant. In every banking activity, the welfare of the depositor is given first consideration.

Census figures indicate that 121,000 or 24.2 per cent of Texas farms have no milk cows; 75,127 or 15 per cent have no poultry; 215,317 or 42.9 per cent have no gardens; and 418,796 or 83.5 per cent have no orchards.

MARINE CORPS WANTS THOUSANDS OF RECRUITS

The United States Marine Corps is now making a methodical canvass of inland towns—particularly rural communities—with the view of finding the very best young men possible for enlistment in the Marines, Postmaster Jas. H. Dallas stated today.

Only 6,000 young men out of the slightly more than 108,000 increase in complements of all armed forces of the national defense are authorized by President Roosevelt for the Marine Corps. Thus, only one man out of each eighteen qualified applicants will be accepted for services with the "Leathernecks."

Requirements for enlistment remain the same—between the ages of 18 and 30 years of age, white, unmarried and without dependents, not less than 64 nor more than 74 inches tall, of good moral character and of excellent physical condition.

Postmaster Dallas also stated that he is being kept advised by the Marine Corps Recruiting District Headquarters of Dallas, of the requirements for enlistment, for the information of young men of this locality. Preliminary physical examinations may now be made by a local physician, after which the Dallas office will advise applicants whether or not to proceed to that city for final examination.

BEN J. HILL PASSES

Again the vicinity is called on to note the departure from this vale of tears of another old timer and highly respected citizen, in the death of Ben J. Hill, 60, Friday the 29th at a Lubbock hospital. Mr. Hill had been in ill health for a period of five years, a lot of the time being spent in a hospital in an effort to find a cure, and at one time seemed to be on the road to recovery, being able to resume his trade as a carpenter, but fate willed otherwise.

Deceased leaves a wife, three daughters, and five sons to mourn his passing; Mrs. Lewis Huckabee, Mrs. Cecil Acker, this city, and Mrs. Loyd Bennet of El Centro, California. The sons are, Harold, Kenneth, Wade, Gene and Dale, all of Brownfield, and all were able to attend the funeral except the daughter in Calif.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday morning at the Methodist church, and burial was had in the Brownfield cemetery.

Out of town relatives attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hill and daughter, Ray and Paul Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Knight, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Armstrong and daughter, all of Lubbock; John and Walter Hill, and a sister, Mrs. N. R. Beal, all from Nocona, Texas; Warren Powers of Sudan, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Armstrong and daughter of Chillicothe.

MAY PUT DANGER SIGNS ON LATERAL ROADS

AUSTIN, Sept. 30.—The Texas Safety Association this week asked county commissioner courts to mark a small portion of their forthcoming bond redemption funds for the erection of warning signs, similar to those on state maintained highways, at recognized danger spots on lateral roads.

"A state-wide survey covering the first six months of this year reveals the alarming fact that fatal accidents increased 12.1 per cent on secondary unmarked roads over the same period in 1938, while a 9.5 per cent reduction was recorded on properly marked highways," George Clark, executive secretary of the Association, pointed out in his letter to each county judge in the state.

"Obviously the county commissioner's courts are anxious to apply their pro rata share of this approximately nine million dollars to the most urgent and beneficial purposes. Expenditure of a small part of the fund for the preservation of lives and property of local motorists would return unestimable dividends to each community. This conviction of the Association is based on previous experience.

"Proof that warning signs of sharp curves, narrow bridges, intersections and other traffic hazards mean a big difference in the vehicle death ratio is shown in a statistical study showing that in Texas the secondary road has a ratio of one death for each four persons injured while the ratio on properly marked roads is only one to eight and in cities where maximum protection is provided, the death ratio drops to one in thirteen," he concluded.

MORE THAN 10,000 REGISTER AT UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 3.—Education-seekers continued to increase at The University of Texas this year, as 10,063 students enrolled, placing registration for the fall semester at the highest figure in the history of the institution.

Registrar E. J. Mathews predicted that registration of additional students during the term and new enrollment for the spring semester would boost the final figure for the 1939-40 session to at least 11,000.

Last year at this time 9,996 students were enrolled.

NEW FIRMS HAVE QUADRUPLED BANKRUPTS

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 3.—New business firms starting operations with State charters in Texas during August quadrupled the number of failing firms, University of Texas business indices revealed.

A total of 105 new charters were granted, while only 27 companies went into bankruptcy. The new corporations were small for the most part, increasing in number 14.1 per cent over August of last year but slumping 64.7 per cent in capitalization, University Bureau of Business Research records showed.

Bankruptcy, on the other hand, took its toll among larger concerns than last year. With a sixth more failures than in August last year, liabilities of bankrupt firms were four times those of a year ago.

COMMUNICABLE DISEASES

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 1.—On September 1, 1939 statistics from the State Health Department showed that 34 per cent of the population of Texas, or 2,144,536 persons, were being protected against communicable diseases through the functions of full-time county and city health departments in 23 counties and 2 cities independent of the counties. These local health units carry out a well-balanced public health program to keep the well person well, and to further safeguard the health of individuals by reducing to a minimum the various communicable diseases rendered combatable by modern public health methods.

Public health, over a score of years, has rendered combatable such diseases as typhoid, diphtheria, smallpox, malaria, undulant fever, tuleremia, yellow fever, trichinosis, hookworm, the dysenteries, and the venereal diseases. The health of any geographically defined area, i. e., city or county, is in direct proportion to the amount of energy and money judiciously and scientifically expended for the protection of the health of the people of that area.

Twenty-six additional counties, with a population of 476,300, are protecting the health of their respective communities by a partial full-time health service wherein nurses, trained in public health work, in collaboration with the local part-time health officials and the medical profession under the guidance of the State Health Department.

TRIED AND KILLED BECAUSE HE WAS A MASON

Among the passengers arriving at New York on the Maritime Commission freight steamer Schoedack a few days ago was Mrs. Amelio Sancho, an American woman of Spanish birth, who told of losing her entire family—her husband and two adopted sons—as a result of the conflict in Spain. The children, who were war orphans, were killed in air raids on Barcelona. Her husband, who had gone to Spain before the war on account of his health, had worked with the Friends Spanish Relief Agency during and after the war. Although he was a non-combatant, he was placed under arrest by the Franco Government after the close of the war, and has since been put to death. Just before his execution he contrived to get a message to his wife telling her that he had been condemned to death because he was a Freemason.

Mrs. Sancho was one of the nineteen women passengers on the Schoedack. There were forty-five male passengers including five Americans who had been in the Foreign Legion in the service of the Spanish Republic and who had recently been released and allowed to return home by the Franco Government.

PARENTS AND TEACHERS HAVE MEETING

By Maudie Joe Fields

On Thursday afternoon, Sept. 28, a large group of parents and teachers met in the first parent-teacher meeting of the year. After an executive meeting the West Ward P.-T. A. officers, teachers, and the high school teachers with Mrs. W. R. Weaver, district president, in room 206 of the high school building, the meeting adjourned to meet in the auditorium. There the meeting continued and was called to order by Mrs. Tom Cobb, who asked Rev. Walker to give an invocation. Then Mr. W. M. Vernon made a short talk about the work of the West Ward P.-T. A. and introduced Mr. Emmett Smith, superintendent of schools.

Mr. Smith spoke of the value of a high school P.-T. A. and introduced Mrs. Weaver, who asked how many schools were represented. There were teachers and possibly others from the Gomez and Challis schools.

In an excellent address, Mrs. Weaver stressed the fact that our schools were and should be the most democratic organizations of all of the organizations. She asked why we should have P.-T. A.'s and gave the following reasons as some of the most important ones: to meet the needs of the children, to help the school meet the needs, to secure a better understanding between teachers and parents, to promote the welfare of children and youth in the home and school life, to arouse the interest of patrons to the extent that they will be willing to help in a financial way to do or get the things that the students need in school, and to help parents realize the needs.

Mrs. Weaver said that all business of a P.-T. A. should be transacted in an executive meeting, but the report should be presented to the entire membership of the organization to be finally decided upon. The P.-T. A. should feel a responsibility in building up the schools. The Council is the most important phase of the work.

Types of programs were suggested by Mrs. Weaver who suggested that parents, teachers, and students should have panel discussions of the school problems, and the programs should be lively and interesting. The high school P.-T. A. should fall in line with the youth problems. All programs should be planned ahead.

A group of the high school teachers and parents remained after the adjournment of the meeting, and with Mr. Smith as temporary chairman discussed plans for a high school P.-T. A. Mr. Smith named a nominating committee, after several names had been suggested, for president. The first meeting and the definite time for meeting was decided upon as the second Monday night of each month, and the time for the first meeting will be Monday night, October 9.

'Schooling' Vast Lot of Chevrolet Mechanics

DETROIT, Sept. 15.—Chevrolet's service and mechanical department this week set in motion machinery which will furnish more than 27,000 Chevrolet service mechanics, all over the United States, with complete knowledge of the company's new 1940 product before the latter's introduction to the public next month.

The program, believed to be unique in several respects, opens with the schooling of nine product representatives by the service department personnel and the Chevrolet engineering staff. This initial phase of the operation is now in progress, and will last 8 days. It takes place here and in Flint, and covers not only every detail of the new model's design, but the whole field of servicing and adjustment, with emphasis on special equipment available for proper servicing of the cars.

The second phase of the program opens with these men's return to their respective territories, where each will hold a two-day training session for the zone service personnel. The latter will then conduct meetings with a still larger total attendance, covering, among them, the entire field of dealer service managers. Finally, the service managers will return to their dealerships and school their respective service shop personnel.

Training of the countrywide service organization through a series of progressive steps, each class of "graduates" disposing to train a much larger group in the field, will enable Chevrolet to accomplish in one month a program of tremendous scope, Ed Hedner, national service and mechanical manager pointed out. Every dealer's service mechanic will be familiar with the car from bumper to bumper before a single unit reaches the dealer's hands.

TO FIELD DEPUTY COLLECTORS

Attention is especially directed to that provision of the recently amended Social Security Act which employers of eight or more may pay their contributions to various State unemployment funds and still qualify for the credit of ninety per cent against Federal Unemployment Tax for the years 1936, 1937, and 1938.

This, of course, is of interest only to employers of eight or more who filed, or are due to file, Federal returns under Title IX of the Social Security Act and who failed to pay their contributions to State unemployment funds within sufficient time to entitle them to take credit on their Federal return.

Under the recent amendments, any employer in the class above-referred to is now entitled to file a claim for refund or take credit on his Federal return for the amounts due and paid into State funds (not to exceed ninety per cent of the Federal Tax), if the contribution to State unemployment funds for the years in question were paid late, or where such amounts are due State funds and are paid to the State at any time before October 9, 1939.

Since this amendment is of such vital interest to the class of taxpayers affected, it is believed that wide publicity should be given the matter so that such taxpayers may know of its provisions and avail themselves of its benefits. To this end, it is suggested that each deputy collector, in addition to advising personally with affected taxpayers, that he also furnish the newspapers in his zone with a copy hereof with the suggestion that the pertinent facts herein be carried as a news item of interest and value to the public.

ANDREWS COUNTY SETS AN EXAMPLE

ANDREWS—Andrews county is the only Texas county not sharing in PWA funds, according to George M. Bull, regional director of the Public Works Administration.

Andrews is building a courthouse with its own money. The school district, which embraces the county's entire area of 1,565 square miles, has built two modern school houses without outside assistance.

The county closed the last fiscal year with a surplus of $50,000. Its net time debt amounts to $2.82 for every $100 of assessed valuation in contrast with the State average net debt of $15.59 for every $100 of assessed valuation.—Taxpayer's Digest.

SHOULD WE HAVE A SCHOOL ANNUAL?

By Emogene Fitzgerald

A memorandum of past school days is a wonderful possession of everyone in high school.

We consider it very worthwhile to collect and preserve those bits of school life which add much to our memories in the future.

Think of the many things you would be glad to have recorded. Something like the character sketches and pictures of friends or members of the faculty who will leave memories to the whole student body.

An Annual will keep us informed of the blessings and pleasures received in high school.

The seniors should publish the Annual with the cooperation of two sponsors, faculty members, and the student body.

WHY WE SHOULD HAVE AN ANNUAL THIS YEAR

By Wanda McChesney

Many arguments have been made as to whether we should have an annual or not this year, and who should publish it.

For some of the students this is their first year in Brownfield High School, and for others it is probably the last one. If an annual was published, it would not

Film Previews

Not the story of Lincoln's life, but the story of his heart—his wit, his courage, the two loves he knew—is told in Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "Young Mr. Lincoln," which runs at the Saturday preview and Sunday and Monday at the Rialto Theatre, with Henry Fonda in the title role.

Here indeed is the story of Abraham Lincoln that has never been told, the real and human Lincoln, young jackleg lawyer who loved to tell funny stories, wrestle with the boys, and courted pretty girls.

The celebrated "moonlight murder case," a thrilling chapter in young Lincoln's life is thrillingly recounted in this Cosmopolitan production for 20th Century-Fox, and we see the gangling youth, who rode into Springfield on a donkey, facing his first real test in that pioneer town, facing it with fortitude that foreshadowed the man he was to be.

Alice Brady, Marjorie Weaver and Arleen Whelan are co-featured with Fonda, under the direction of John Ford. Kenneth Macgowan acted as associate producer.

Mrs. W. W. Royalty of Lubbock, visited Sunday afternoon in the home of her sister, Mrs. W. B. Downing.

Mrs. Frank Szydowski was a Lubbock visitor Saturday.

only show that we had spent another worthwhile year in Brownfield High School, but would also preserve the memories of those who spent their last year here.

Although we know that an annual of this sort would require much time and thought, we would still be willing to put forth all of these efforts if the result would be a well-planned memorandum, of which this school and students would be justly proud.

Money will also be a problem, but we believe that with the whole-hearted cooperation of the students and faculty this could be solved.

Would you ever want to forget the year 1939-40 spent in Brownfield High School? Never! With an annual containing photographic campus scenes, personalities and activities, these memories would be long cherished.

So let's work hard and try our best to publish an annual which will meet these, and other similar requirements.

WE MOVED!

New 1940 Hudson Six in the Lowest Price Field

This fact is one of the main reasons for this page ad. We want our friends and customers to have no doubt about our new location, and where to find it.

Where You Will Find Us NOW!

You will now find us in the former Carter Chevrolet Building at the corner of Main and Seventh streets, across the street west of Miller's Magnolia Service Station, and ready to serve you. The main reason for this move was to provide us with more room and better facilities to serve you, both in show room as well as in repairs. In our show room you will find—

Hudson--Oldsmobile Cars and G. M. C. and Mack Trucks

In the show rooms you will find the following staff of courteous, reliable and efficient salesmen and office force: Bernard Evans, parts man and bookkeeper; J. R. Kee, Ellison Carson and G. H. Holmes. salesmen. Should you want a new or used car, these men will help you select the model you wish.

Consolidated Repair Dept. Complete Service Under One Roof

We moved our entire repair department from east Main to our new location and consolidated it with that of Shorty Forbus, who has, alone, perhaps the best and newest repair equipment in this section. Consolidated there is none better.

Shorty Forbus in Charge of the Repair Department

We do not have to tell you about Shorty Forbus. Those of you who have been here for the past seven years know there is no better automobile mechanic on the South Plains. That his word is as good as his bond; that he had rather lose a repair job than tell you an untruth about your automobile. His assistant staff is all well trained, experienced men and include T. S. Ervin, J. M. Beck, and Dave Townsend and John Brown, body man. Henry McIlroy (colored) is the wash, grease and polish man. Come in to see us for any repair work of any make of car. Repaint jobs that please our customers.

Crop Declines From August Estimate

Prospective number of bales in 18 South Plains cotton producing counties decreased approximately 60,000 bales, or 16 per cent since August 20, K. N. Clapp, representative of Anderson, Clayton & Co., estimated Monday.

Clapp placed the probable production at 315,000 bales as compared with 375,000 a month ago and an actual ginning of 379,000 bales last season.

Seventy-five per cent of the squares and blooms on cotton stalks shed after August 20, under normal conditions, Clapp said Don L. Jones of the State experiment sub-station estimates.

Generally speaking, blooms on plants by Sept. 10 to 12 will make cotton, if an early frost does not come. Normal date of early frost for this area is Nov. 3.

Lynn county has replaced Lubbock as the probable leader, in Clapp's estimate, with Lamb 3rd, Crosby and Dawson tied for 4th, and Hockley, 6th.

"These figures represent the estimates of five or six men, or more, in each county, who know their own conditions," Clapp said in discussing the estimate. "I contacted that many men and got their figures on what they thought the crop in their counties would be."

Four Counties Increase

Four counties, Gaines, Parmer, Swisher, Terry and Yoakum, show increases over last season's total ginnings. Terry and Yoakum are considered one county due to the fact that the greater part of the Yoakum cotton is ginned in Terry. The former county has no gin. Some is ginned at Seagraves, however.

Comparative figures with last year and estimate are:

County	1938 Ginnings	1939 Estimate
Bailey	15,191	11,500
Briscoe	5,912	2,500
Castro	2,090	2,000
Cochran	6,702	4,000

Soldiers And Sailors Home to be Made

AUSTIN—While war in Europe is making more physical wrecks and multiplying the cemeteries of the Old World, in Texas there is a movement going on to convert the Old Confederate Home into a Home for Soldiers and Sailors of All American Wars. All veteran organizations and many patriotic societies are back of the movement. That it is to succeed is manifest by virtue of the good "spade-work" already done by several men and women who had it in their hearts to do a big and needed service to the homeless hundreds in the ever thinning ranks of ex-veterans. The 46th Legislature enacted the necessary legislation for conversion and Dr. C. H. Brownlee, Arnold Deats, and L. B. Griffith, each of Travis county, and themselves veterans of either the Spanish or World War, duly authorized to do so, recently incorporated under the laws of Texas, "The Veterans Home Central Council." Directors are: D. A. Dunlavey of Port Arthur, Mrs. W. A. Wyatt of San Marcos, Miller Ainsworth of Luling, R. H. Claypool, Waco, Mrs. W. W. (Mother) Turner of Webster, B. J. Rupert of Austin, W. F. Barchard of Temple and Judge A. H. Denison of Odessa. Among the purposes of the corporation are the following: "To solicit, receive and turn over to the Board of Control of the State of Texas, donations of money for the purpose of aiding in the rehabilitation, establishment and future maintenance of the Soldiers and Sailors Home, created by Senat Bill No. 78." The American Legion convention at Waco recently, passed a resolution to make this major project of the patriotic organization and pledged the help of every legionnaire to make the movement the success that it should and is destined to be.—Pierce Brooks.

WINTER'S DASTARD 90 HOURS

skipped by OIL-PLATING your engine today

Can you figure on your car's Daily Winter Starting Schedule being any briefer than this?...

Could half-a-dozen starts or so get you through a day? Will your icy engine turn lukewarm in only 5 or 6 minutes? Even so, just think what that comes to, all through these bad months!... Total: 90 hours!

90 tough hours—and often more. A whole 90 hours when oiling that comes from "fast flow" alone lags far behind the sure lubrication that comes from changing today to OIL-PLATING.

OIL-PLATING is ready to lubricate sooner than any oil ever can flow—sooner than "instantly!"—because patented Conoco Germ Processed oil forces OIL-PLATING into a durable bond with the engine parts. OIL-PLATING becomes part of the parts!

They can't drain dry of OIL-PLATING. They remain "bathed in slippiness" all day, all night, in all weather, even with your car at a standstill. That's why OIL-PLATING lets your engine slide into swift, safe, dragless action, instead of letting it suffer Winter's worst 90 hours—along with your battery. Slash starting time; stretch your time between quarts to the limit, by changing to Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station today for your right Winter Germ Processed oil. That's your way to Winter OIL-PLATING. Continental Oil Company

Nobody's Business

By Julian Capers, Jr.

AUSTIN—Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel wants the people of Texas to "adjourn" politics, because some European nations, 3,000 miles away have gone to war over trade and territorial disputes, peculiar to the continent of Europe and the nations involved.

The European war is not likely to affect the politics of Texas, at least not at any time soon. Analysis of editorial opinion, and the expressions of leaders throughout the State, indicates that the sentiments of Texas people, like that of people in other States of the Union, is fairly unanimous in favor of our keeping out of the European embroilgo, and letting the affected nations do the fighting. The forthcoming special session of Congress, if advance indications can be relied upon, is likely to amend the neutrality law so as to permit a "cash and carry" system of sales of war materials and other supplies to all comers who pay at shipside and haul away their own purchases.

Of course, Gov. O'Daniel would like very much to "adjourn" politics until after he is re-elected to a second term, and let the folks concentrate upon the war in Europe. But to most Texans the war is a pretty remote affair. They are pretty determined to stay out of it. Its economic effects may be helpful to Texans. In fact, sharp increases in the price received for wool, mohair, beef, stocker cattle, and hogs, have put Texas producers in a happy mood.

But before adjournment of politics takes place, the folks are likely to ask Gov. O'Daniel some pertinent questions about $30 a month pensions for everybody, no new taxes, a factory on every hillside, the sales tax, and several other things that Leon and the Hill-Billy Band can't answer with a rendition of "I've Got That Old-Fashioned Love in My Heart."

State Loan Paid
The Lower Colorado River Authority, when it was advanced a loan of $5,000 by the Legislature out of State funds to finance its preliminary organization activities, was not regarded as a particularly good credit risk. But the business-like directors of the LCRA have largely completed construction of $22,000,000 worth of flood control and power dams, and have acquired the power distributing facilities in a group of 16 Central Texas counties, and this week they repaid the $5,000 loan from the State. A unique feature of the LCRA policy is its use of newspaper advertising to sell its power, buying space in about 25 daily and weekly newspapers in its territory to tell the story of low-priced power, just as private utilities have found the papers to be the most effective method of selling their product. For this innovation in publicly-owned power policy, Gordon Fulcher, Austin newsman and public relations advisor to LCRA, is largely responsible.

Criminal Judge to Retire
Presiding Judge W. C. Morrow of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals, has let it be known he will retire in 1940, after many years of sterling service on the State's highest criminal tribunal. Stae Senator Clay Cotton of Palestine, Texas, a former district attorney, and Lloyd Davidson, of Sulphur Springs, who has been the State's representative before the same court for many years, will be candidates for the post, which will probably attract several other candidates before the campaigning begins next Spring.

Pension Racket Law Void

The effort of the legislature to curb "pension rackets", wherein promoters seek funds from the old folks, was largely nullified by an opinion of Attorney General Gerald Mann who held that section of the law prohibiting the solicitation of funds for sponsoring social security legislation is unconstitutional. Only in the event actual fraud is established could a conviction be had, the Attorney General held, since the Constitution guarantees citizens the right to solicit or contribute funds for any lawful purpose.

New Austin Papers

A new newspaper for Austin was announced here following purchase of the Austin Dispatch, a local daily, by J. M. West, Houston oil man. The new sheet, according to reports here, is backed by $100,000 cash supplied by West. It will be an anti-Roosevelt, pro-O'Daniel publication, according to reports. West has been bitterly anti-Roosevelt, and this was given by some Senators as the reason for the rejection by the Senate of West as Highway Commission chairman last spring, when O'Daniel nominated the Houston multi-millionaire. The new paper will be known as the Daily Tribune. Jack Padgett, of Austin, former legislator will be general manager.

A Great Texan

By Pierce Brooks

Wednesday, Oct. 4, was "Clara Driscoll Day", and was observed by a Reception Tea and Unveiling of her portrait at the Texas Federation Headquarters in Austin.

Texas and the democracy of the nation owe a debt of gratitude to Mrs. Clara Driscoll of Corpus Christi for her active and intelligent support of democratic ideals. As National Democratic Committeewoman for Texas, Mrs. Driscoll has devoted much of her time to unselfish work for her party. She is a believer in the sturdy Democratic principles of Jefferson and Jackson and has continuously striven to keep the Democracy of Texas and the nation traveling the road of statesmanship toward which these founding fathers pointed.

Through all this she has never lost sight of her great State, Texas, always interested in all matters that help causes that make for things of higher ideals.

Since her generosity saved the cradle of Texas liberty, the Alamo, so sacred to all Texans, from becoming a commercial property and being lost as a symbol to future generations, also, recently when the Club Women of her state were about to lose their home in the Capitol City, her purse again was open and the home saved. Her many contributions to schools, such as the one at Robstown, have endeared her to the youth of the state, and there is no one group that does not owe her something, for she is just one that loves to do for the love of doing it.

Texas has a right to be proud of the National Committeewoman. Her achievements for Democracy entitle her to hold the office she has so successfully and gracefully filled.

Texas Democracy should gather and keep this Great Texan as National Committeewoman, not because she would desire this honor, but because the Democracy of Texas needs such a person in this exalted position.

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Cheek of Odessa arrived here Thursday to make Brownfield their home. Mrs. Cheek is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Ballard.

NAIL PICKERS ARE WORTH THE MONEY

AUSTIN, Sept. 29.—For the past ten years the Department has operated two Magnetic Nail Picking Machines. A magnetized bar charged by an auxiliary motor is suspended from the rear of a truck a few inches above the ground, and the bar is approximately the same width as the truck. As the truck moves slowly over paved surfaces or shoulders, nails, pieces of steel and other metal are pulled from the dirt or gravel by the magnetized bar. When the bar is covered, the operator drives to one side, spreads a canvas under the bar, and by cutting off the current, drops the accumulation of metal on the canvas. This metal is then placed in the truck, to be weighed and finally disposed of where it can do no damage.

The first work with amachine of this type was in 1929, and so positively proved its value that the operation of Magnetic Nail Pickers has since been considered a regular function of the State Highway Department.

During the 12 months ending August 31, 1939, the Magnetic Nail Pickers worked 6,891 miles of State Highways, and picked up a total of 82,355 pounds of metal, making an average of about 12 pounds of metal per mile. The cost of operating the machines was about $1.25 per mile of highway worked, and an average of 30 miles of highway worked each day, and approximately 349 pounds of metal picked up daily.

A group of ladies were to go to West Point, over in Lynn county, yesterday and make a surprise call on Mrs. Terry Noble and take a gift. Those to go were Mesdames Bob Harris, Bill Tilson, Leo Holmes, Ralph Carter, Dube Pyatt, Ida Bruton, J. B. Knight, I. M. Bailey, Bertha Stahler and Miss Elizabeth Upton.

Mrs. J. L. Randal has returned from Seymour and Graham where she visited her sister and other relatives.

Mrs. R. M. Kendrick ordered the Herald continued another year to her brother, Will Cunningham at Utopia, down close to where John Nance Garner lives in Uvalde county.

The pastor will speak using as his subject, "Who Has Believed Our Report?" The great prophet Isaiah seems to have stopped short in the midst of his great ministry and endeavor to check up on how far he is getting. Yes, here is a check up by a prophet!

Evening Worship comes on at 8 p. m., and it brings each an opportunity to sing old and familiar songs, to enter into an informal service. The pastor will discuss this question, "Is This the End?" This same subject was announced last week but the church enjoyed a guest speaker last Sunday evening in the person of the local Presbyterian pastor. GREAT PERSONS

Great persons prove their bigness of spirit in the simple art of being kind.

Not what we have, but what we use;

Not what we see, but what we choose.

Not what seems fair, but what is true;

Not what we dream, but what we do.

Not as we take, but as we give;

Not as we pray, but as we live.

These are the things that mar or bless

The sum of human happiness.

SENIOR DISCUSSIONS

By Flaura Lee Shults

In a senior class meeting, the subject of each senior bringing ten cents to help buy flowers in case one of our seniors became seriously ill and was sent to the hospital was discussed. Of course, we hope this doesn't happen, but it sometimes does. In case it does happen, the money would be used in the senior class project at the end of school. We have not fully agreed to bring money for such case; neither have we decided upon a senior class project, but it will probably be discussed in our next senior class meeting. Several suggestions have been made for the class project. One is an underground water sprinkler for the school ground. If any one has a better suggestion, it will probably be discussed among the seniors in the next senior class meeting.

IMAGINARY VISIT WITH A STORY BOOK CHARACTER

By Roberta Underwood

Character, Peace Greenfield; book, At the Little Brown House; Author, Ruth Alberta Brown.

At first we board the train to Story Book Land. After traveling several hours we stop at a small village close to Martindale. We take a street car to the end of the line where we are met by five sisters, who take us to their home which is the little brown house.

It is late at night, and we are taken to the spare room. This room has antique furniture, and woven rugs.

The next morning we are left alone with Peace who takes us to the parlor. Peace with a peculiar expression on her face says, "I want to get something clear to you. In the outside world I am considered a very mischievous person. Maybe I get into mischief, but that really doesn't mean anything."

We visit the village church and meet all the people who are told about in the book and agree with Peace about them.

If you wish to read the sisters real adventures, read the book, "At the Little Brown House," by Ruth Alberta Brown.

A man visiting from Dallas last year, while sitting outside when schol was in session, said that he would like to be a motor cop on this street for a few days.

We do not wish these things said about Brownfield, so please take this as a warning.

FALL RECOLLECTION
 By Emogene Fitzgerald

My thoughts can run wild at times, especially when I am alone or just "keeping company with the cat."

"I should practice my music." Wonder if I would have time to write an essay on Washington before I go to practice. Wonder what kind of fellow he was? I've heard that all the ladies liked him. Say, Kitty cat, I wish you could have seen Mr. Matthews at that costume party. He was a scream! Who would have thought that comical math teacher could dress to look so much like Lincoln? Say, kitty, don't you like this quiet attic?

As we awake on a cheery fall morning, pulling on your clothes, your mind is betwixt and between—betwixt the thought of roaming pleasantly out doors all day and between the picture of anchoring yourself in a classroom with a notebook. Reluctantly you hike to that institution. You reflect gloomily what others have said, that with bars it would make a nice jail.

Fall was never before so beautiful. Leaves of various colors falling from the trees, sprinkling the lawn. If you are not careful, your thoughts fall is little reason to any of it.

Some times in slow motion, some times to a jig tune, chattering swings on his pivot. The weather vane reminds you of something Washington Irving wrote and you bestir your memory, but with poor results.

What mystical connection is there between the scarlet flais of a tanager and a new hat? You can find no plausible relation between the two, but your thoughts are set astray on the idea of a dashing plaid suit and a black straw sailor when across the grounds the last bell rings like a knell to your startled ears.

Puffing, you ascend two flights of stairs, and, two minutes late, drop into your proper seat in the class room. Wearily you flip open your notebook, thinking, what the use?

You are miserable and you know why. You have contracted autumn fever.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Smith spent Saturday and Sunday in Tulsa with Mrs. Smith's parents.

GEOLOGISTS TO EXAMINE MARBLE-GRANITE SUPPLY

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 12.—A survey to seek a means to tap the nation's largest supply of granite and marble will be launched this week by University of Texas geologists.

The 40-mile-square belt of the five-county Central Mineral Region, barricaded high behind the hills just west of Austin—termed the State's number one "mineral frontier"—will be explored for potential industrial development.

Dr. V. E. Barnes, geologist for the University Bureau of Economic Geology, will investigate reported traces of two war minerals, chromium and nickel, discovery of which would bolster an "almost negligible U. S. supply."

Also reported in the region are traces of copper, lead, graphite, gypsum and gold.

A $5,000 appropriation for the Llano area, or Central Mining Region, has adequately equipped the bureau for its work.

Construction of four dams on the Colorado river, affording a source of cheap power, will greatly facilitate commercial development of the region, Dr. E. H. Sellards, bureau director, said.

AUGUST LIVESTOCK

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 3.—Ranchers of Texas sharply curtailed shipments of live stock to Fort Worth markets and to interstate points during August, University of Texas statisticians have disclosed.

Only a minute portion of the live stock movement to Fort Worth now goes by rail, Dr. F. A. Buechel, assistant director of the University Bureau of Business Research, explained. Trucks have been displacing rails until the latter traffic has almost ceased within the state, he said.

Movement of all classes of livestock totaled 5,096 cars during August, down 22.5 per cent from August, 1938, shipments.
