Terry Co. Teachers Organize for League

Emmit Smith, Superintendent of Brownfield Schools was elected Director-General of the county organization of the Interscholastic League at a meeting of the teachers in the Brownfield High School Auditorium, Tuesday night, October 17. Jack McBrayer of Brownfield was elected secretary, on whose shoulders will rest quite a responsibility but Mac will rise to the occasion.

The following were elected to fill their respective places:

Director of athletics, Leo Scott of Wellman; director of debate, Vernon Brewer, Brownfield; director of declamation, Paul Peacock of Tokio; director of extemporaneous speech, E. McWhirter of Wellman; director of ready writers, Jess F. Blair of Pleasant Valley; director of spelling, Mrs. Lee Fulton of Gomez; director of rural schools, Kenneth Casey of Johnson; director of picture memory, Mr. Tipps of Brownfield; director of arithmetic, Mr. C. L. Padgett of Meadow; director of 3 R's, Kenneth Purtell of Lahey; director of one-act play, Aubra Nooncaster of Brownfield; director of rhythm band, Mrs. Ruth Huckabee of Gomez; and director of story telling, Mrs. Zachary of Meadow.

The organization of the County unit of the State Teacher's Association took charge of the meeting and elected Homer Franklin, Superintendent of Meadow schools as President; E. McWhirter, Superintendent of Wellman schools as Vice-Pres.; and Mrs. J. M. Burlison as secretary. Miss Huff, Mr. Griffin, and Lee Fulton were appointed to arrange entertainment for the next meeting of this group which will be in the near future.

Jim Lindley Setting Good Example

J. R. (Jim) Lindley, erstwhile groceryman and then retail gasoline and oil man, is building 3 small cottages on his property in the southeast part of the city, and this is just the kind of cottages most of the oil field people coming here want—about three rooms—not over four. Jim says two of them are about ready for occupancy, and that all are already rented.

Jim says that 100 new cottages would rent like hot cakes if people would build them. But how are we to grow if we don't provide the means of growth? It is getting too cold now for people to live outdoors. Jim is not as wealthy as some here, but he is setting a good example as far as his means afford.

He stated further that 25 families were scheduled to come here this week end from another nearby town. Jim, as well as this writer, was just wondering where we will put them?

Meadow Boy Honored At Kansas City

Two South Plains boys were among 19 young farmers from Texas selected from the nation's students of vocational agriculture for outstanding awards at the National FFA convention in Kansas City this week, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Kansas City Monday.

Selected for awards known as "American Farmer" degrees were Eddie C. Meil of Meadow and Randolph Robertson of Afton.

There were 207,000 students in the United States who were competing for the honors.—Lubbock Avalanche.

The Old He Takes A Rambling Spell

The old he of this "jern't" and lady took the week end ramble last week to visit the kids down in the sticks country. Of course, Snyder and Scurry county would never acknowledge being any part of the sticks, but there are a lot more sticks down there than here, although they are quiet shy on sticks as compared to the real down-east counties. Scurry county is acknowledged to be one of the best counties below the cap, the most of her rough or ranch land laying in the north portion next to Garza county.

Upon our arrival there Friday afternoon late, their fair was in full swing, and covered the last three days of the week. We wish some of the fair promoters of Terry county could have been down there for a few lessons on how to run a county fair. Those folks don't fool around about the matter—they put it over, and there was not a carnival in town that we saw. If you prepare like those folks you don't have to have a carnival or any outside show to put it over.

Here's what they did. They hired Harley Sadler's show tent for the three days, and local talent furnished the entertainment, and it was plenty and varied. The local high school band rendered programs every two hours, and in between, Scurry county communities were on, with songs, instrumental music, readings or what have you. The tent was so well arranged with public address systems, that everyone under the huge tent or even out on the grounds could hear the program.

Scurry county did not make as good crop as Terry, but the many communities had real exhibits at the fair, well arranged, and the live stock section was as good as we have seen at regional fairs. Take for instance the Hereford division, such breeders as the Winston brothers were there and they have some of the best cattle in Texas. The dairy cattle, sheep and swine divisions were all well represented, and they did not stop at that, the local merchants, or some of them, had real nice exhibits. We realize that we have sorter lost out the last ten years by not having a fair, and forgot some of the fine qualities of putting them on, but we are sure that we can from now on take some advise from neighboring counties, or attend their fairs and gain a lot from it. Brownfield and Terry county can put on a show second to none if they will.

Had a nice visit with the Scurry County Times, one of the best weekly papers published in this entire section. Editor Jones was out of town, but Mr. Smyth took particular pains in showing us around. They have the only newspaper and job shop in the county, and do an enormous annual business. Too, they, by having no cut-throat competition, have been enabled to build up not only a thriving weekly, and job business, but have some of the best machinery to be found in a small city to do the work efficiently. Indeed, hazzarding a guess, we'd place their invoice around $30,000. But this is not for the Scurry county assessor's eye. On top of that, they are able to hire efficient help, and pay them a good salary. This is the second newspaper plant we ever saw in a building formerly occupied by a bank. The banks usually just about run the newspapers.

While down there, we visited Sweetwater for the ladies to shop some, and found that either Roscoe or Snyder had many more people on the streets for the size town than Sweetwater. Went in the barber shop of the leading hotel for Bill Smith, erstwhile Brownfieldite to shave us. They were not rushed by any means, and there was only one lady waiting in the lobby of the hotel. Looked pretty dull to us.

Sunday we drove across country to Colorado and on to Coahoma for a short visit with the wife's kin folks. Found that Mitchell and south Scurry has a light cot-

Terry Ginning Way Ahead of Last Year

Terry County ginings up to October 1, were some 400 per cent ahead of the same date last year, the exact figures being 4563 this year and 90 bales at the same date last year, according to figures released by the Department of Agriculture, Cotton Census Bureau. It is estimated that 10,000 or more bales have been ginned at this date as the gins have been running pretty steady except for a few days last week on account of rain, and sometimes at night.

Cotton men who have bought cotton here for the past several years and have studied the situation, still say that the county will gin around 20,000 bales this year. One buyer said this week that even the young cotton that was a question mark for awhile, gives promise of a reasonable yield. Lubbock county leads as of Oct. 1, with Lynn county a close second. Herewith is the results in other counties:

Local Salesmen Get Free Trip to Fair

C. D. Ray and M. G. Tarpley, salesmen for the Knight Hardware, are rejoicing that they are to get a free trip to the New York World's Fair with all expenses paid by the Electroflux Co. It is rare when two salesmen for one firm get a free trip, but both of these men passed their sales requirement of 30 Electrofluxes more than 30 days ago. The contest all over the United States started July 1, and will end Nov. 1. These men are truly fortunate, and the Herald hopes they have a fine trip, and enjoy every minute of it.

Mr. Ray stated to a Herald representative that this year had been by far their best year. Starting January 1 they have already sold 225 of these household machines. Not only that, but the firm of Knight Hardware leads retail sales of any retail firm in the 30 counties comprising this district, which is within itself a great honor, considering the density of population in some of these counties.

The sales area for the Knight Hardware consists of Terry, Yoakum, and Gaines counties.

Working on Fast Maturing Cotton

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 17.—In an effort to transform sections of the Southwest from dust bowl to cotton bowl, a University of Texas botanist is searching for a strain of cotton which will require a minimum of water for germination. While a short season and hot climate in such semi-arid areas as Northwest Texas minimizes the chief barrier standing in the way of large-scale production in that section, Dr. G. W. Goldsmith pointed out.

At present the cotton being raised in the Texas Panhandle is the same as that planted in the lowlands. Dr. Goldsmith is conducting experiments to determine which strain of cotton requires the least water to germinate. When his experiments are completed, he will test the seeds in the territory he hopes may some day be a big cotton-producing area.

McDuffie Talks With Mahon About Cotton Situation

"I called Mr. Mahon at the request of several farmers, ginners and others interested.

"Congressman Mahon stated that he was unable to obtain any definite information from the United States Department of Agriculture although he had been in communication with officials of that department every day. Mr. Mahon said that he realized the need for a loan on cotton and that he and other southern representatives had made representations to the Secretary of Agriculture in this regard. He said that while no definite information could be had, it was generally thought in Washington that a Cotton Loan would be approximately 8.30 for middling 7-8 inch cotton but that the freight from inland points to the ports would be deducted from loan value. This procedure would permit a loan of about 7.50 per pound for middling basis in Brownfield and other South Plains points. Mr. Mahon said that he was opposed to this deduction of the freight but it appeared that the officials in charge of the handling of the loan had apparently firmly decided that the freight must be deducted.

"Congressman Mahon said that he would continue his efforts on behalf of the farmers of this territory and that he would keep us advised of developments which would affect our interests."

Spreading of Hot Top on Highway 380

Contractors began spreading the hot top Wednesday on the three-mile section of highway 380 extending east out of Tahoka. Little was done on that day but better progress was made on Thursday. It was hoped that the job might be finished by Saturday night. At any rate, unless some unforeseen hindrance arises this section will be finished and open for traffic early next week.

Nearly six miles of this highway has been finished and is already open to traffic, and with the completion of this stretch, nearly nine miles of the highway extending east will be in use again.

The remaining section of about five miles is under construction. There was a three-weeks delay recently on account of the death of the contractor, Mr. Bucy, and court proceedings were necessary before another contractor could take over the job and proceed with the work. This has been done, however, and work was resumed several days ago.

Fine progress has been made on the Garza county section of this highway and it will not be long now until highway 380 will have a hard surface from Plains, in Yoakum county, Brownfield, Tahoka, Post, Clarendon and Kent county.—Tahoka News.

State Meter Tester Here Tuesday

An electric meter tester for light and power meters was in the city this week checking up on light and power meters. Anyway, he gave those at the Herald office a checking, reset them, and left without much information. We hope he didn't speed ours up.

He did, however, state that for several years that state departments had checked rather close on utility company meters, and of late had also included those of municipally owned plants as in Brownfield.

1940 COTTON ALLOTMENTS ARE BEING PREPARED

College Station, Oct. 16.—Predicting that all 1940 cotton allotments will be in the mail by the middle of November, E. N. Holmgreen, state AAA administrator, said necessary information has already been received at state headquarters here for figuring allotments for the 16 Texas counties.

Before any allotments can be mailed, however, the state allotment must be set up in Washington and broken down for counties by the state office, Holmgreen said.

Street Paving Discontinued for Short Time

According to Mayor Clyde C. Coleman, street paving here has been discontinued for the next two weeks in order that there be enough WPA laborers to start the Levelland Highway. In about ten days, Mr. Coleman expects enough people to be released from the cotton fields hereabouts to again start the work on the streets. But for the time being, most people are more concerned about getting the cotton crop out, and getting 51 under way than about street paving, which can be deferred even more than two weeks if necessary.

Under Mayor Coleman's administration, we already have 28 blocks of new paving completed, and the curbs set for more. Fourteen of these blocks were paved in early spring, mostly Tate street, or on west Broadway, and fourteen of the 60 blocks for which money has been appropriated later in the spring, have been completed, and traffic turned in over them. This is an especially good grade of paving, and there permanently.

Aside from the above, Mayor Coleman and the City Council have erected an additional water tower and reservoir of 150,000 gallon capacity; built an underground water reservoir of concrete with capacity of 100,000 gallons, greatly extended the water mains of various size and a number of new fire plugs, as well as extensive sewer extension.

Thus, Brownfield will enter 1940 as one of the best paved, watered and sewer towns on the Plains. In view of the fact that the city owns the light plant, it is already recognized as one of the best lighted cities in this entire section.

Roaring Cubs Sweep Over Loboes 33 to 7

Press Club Reporters

Riding high on the crest of a winning streak, Brownfield's fighting Cubs gave the Levelland Loboes an example of fine running and passing, and in doing so, they annexed their first conference game. It was the Cubs' game from the start. Taking the opening kickoff and marching down to the Loboes' nine-yard stripe, the Cubs found hard resistance, and the Loboes took the ball over on downs. However, the Cubs could not be denied, and after driving inside the 20-yard line, twice little Warren, the riot of the night, carried the ball through left tackle and over the double stripe. Bowers failed to convert.

A few minutes later Bowers, who played an outstanding game, caught a pass from co-captain Brown and raced to the 20-yard line, and Warren carried the ball over for his second score of the night. Bowers again missed his try for extra point.

The high-scoring Cubs still were unsatisfied, and after a long pass from co-captain Brown to co-captain Bryan carried to the one-yard line, and on the next play Brown to Bryan again worked for a touchdown and the Cubs' third tally. Bowers missed his try for the extra point, and a little later Brown went out with a slightly twisted ankle, and Bowers took over the signal calling. Without Brown, the Cubs proved lifeless and failed to score the rest of the half.

The third quarter found the Cubs with a 24-0 lead which they quickly increased to a 30 to 0 score. "Loney" Warren faded back to pass and finding his receivers covered, he gave a nice exhibition of snake "hipping" to add his last and fourth touchdown of the night. The Cubs settled back to hold their lead and did not score again until the last quarter.

Locke found a nice hole over right tackle and raced to pay dirt. Bowers converted, and a few plays later many of the starters left the game, receiving loud applause from a large crowd of home supporters.

The outstanding players for the locals were Brown, Bowers and of course, little "Red Streak" Warren. Locke, a transfer from Plains, showed great improvement and is one of the men who will be doing a lot of playing before the season is over. In the line Akers and Rambo at guard led the way for a hard-charging and tackling line that allowed the Loboes 62 yards, running.

The Loboes scored on a pass from McMillan to McDermott. The Levelland passes were constantly threatening to bring the Loboes back into the ball game, but an alert defense stopped them before they could pick up much yardage.

The first downs were 19 to 8 for Brownfield. Bryan did some nice punting with five tries for 215 yards, while Levelland had a 35 yard average. Brown's passing showed great improvement, and the main trouble was in the receivers, who had a hard time holding the ball.

The starting line-up:

- Ends ----- Bryan and Hill
- Tackles ----- Burnett and Waters
- Guards ----- Rambo and Akers
- Center ----- Lewis
- Halfbacks ----- Warren and Bowers
- Quarter ----- Brown
- Fullback ----- Tankersly

The Official Paper of Terry County and the City of Brownfield

All our 52 weeks of the year are taken up with some "Week" or another, and some even have to double up. Now they are going after the "Days" so fast the 365 will soon be consumed. The latest is "Bill Day" to be held at Ralls, November 6. They have a Smith day at Lamesa each year, and especially Fred Smith day. We have one Fred here, and four Cecil Smiths. Some of these days we are going to form a Jack Day here—there are several, one of whom is kept up in the wagon yard.

We have some exchanges from week to week, and some almost daily that take cracks at the National Administration for spending money for projects that call for the use of relief labor. These exchanges never go on to tell us what they would have done under similar circumstances. Perhaps some of them would be inwardly ashamed to express what they wish to express, "just let 'em starve." Way back in the past ages there was a young statesman who said: "Those who resist improvements as innovations, will soon have to accept innovations that are not improvements."

One useful and practical thing the local school children have accomplished is the count of the cars that pass the intersection of Main and highway 51, five blocks east of the square. They found by actual count one day that 500 cars passed in one hour, or 8 per minute. We had no idea there was that amount of traffic at any time of the day, although we knew it was rather heavy. Which all goes to show that the city council was rather level-headed in building the pedestrian underpass, more especially as the hundreds of school children cross this intersection daily, and although there is a traffic light there, the underpass is a real good investment toward preservation of the lives of small and thoughtless children.

One of the thinnest theories against the United States furnishing war munitions as well as grain and other needs to belligerent nations, is the fact that Russia, a semi-ally of Germany is selling to England as well as to Germany, yet these brotherly-love senators would not, if they can help, let the United States do the same thing. In the meantime, many of our factories employing thousands may have to shut down, and many of them will perhaps be moved across the line to Canada, where they will naturally buy their needs from the farms and dairies of that country. They are the same old bunch that punctured Woodrow Wilson's idea of an international police force that would have kept down just such Neros as Hitler, et al. To our notion they are just about as patriotic as a polecat, and have about as much business judgment as weary Willy. If the GOP aims to select such as they to make the race next year, they are beat before they start. We believe in letting England and France have all the good explosives they can buy. That is the only language Hitler understands. Yes, we are neutral, just about as neutral as the average man is as between a pet tabby cat and a tiger. So are you if you are honest to shell down the corn.

Britain Replies

In a very few words, Neville Chamberlain knocked into a cocked hat Thursday the verbose contentions of Hitler that the Western powers must accept some responsibilities for waging the war, since he has offered peace. Cutting to the very heart of the question, the British Premier says bluntly and truthfully that if the two countries which took up the sword reluctantly in the wake of Hitler's violation of the Munich agreement and his invasion of Poland, should accept Hitler's peace on Hitler's terms, which proclaim his two indefensible acts to be irreparable, they would be conceding that international disputes could be settled by force and not by discussion.

"Peace conditions," Chamberlain declared, "cannot be acceptable when they begin by condoning aggression . . . Hitler demands recognition of his conquests and his right to do what he pleases with the conquered." Peace in the past has been made under these conditions, it is true, but only when force has failed to resist an aggressor. It has never been a lasting peace, nor would it be so now.

Equally fatuous as peace on the Hitler proffer, and Chamberlain sees it clearly, would be reliance on any of the present German Government. So the Franco-British prerequisites to peace as outlined by Chamberlain, must be now found in definite plans by the Reich to relinquish the spoils and assure a permanent peace based on judgment.

Unfortunately Chamberlain's words will not carry to Germany, its radio ears closed by dictatorial

TECH EXPERIMENT WOULD REMOVE FLUORIN IN WATER

LUBBOCK, Tex., Oct. 16.—Mottled teeth, caused by the large percentage of fluorin in water of this area, will cease to be a problem among growing children, if an experiment being conducted at Texas Technological college succeeds. Children's teeth are often mottled in formative years, badly damaging the enamel.

James Litton, graduate assistant in chemistry, is searching for a practical method for removing fluorin from large amounts of water. Attic rooms in the chemistry building have been fitted up as special laboratories for this and other experiments, carefully wired and insulated. A ventilating system has been in stalled to provide adequate air while eliminating all light.

decree to the broadcast and its mind permitted to absorb only the pronouncements of the ruthless Fuehrer, whose hands drip with the blood of Poland. Nor has the rest of the world needed so clear a restatement of British policy to denounce the conscienceless policy of expansion on the theory that might is right.—Dallas News.

TECH "LIVE-AT-HOME" THEORY ADVANCED

LUBBOCK, Tex., Oct. 16.—Prophets of a "live-at-home" era in American life think they have proved that Texas Technological college could support its 3890 students and 170 faculty members on the world's largest college campus, on a cooperative basis.

Vegetables raised last year on a one-acre experimental plot by NYA students, were as follows: mustard greens, 50 lbs.; turnip greens, 70 lbs.; kale, 47 lbs.; Swiss chard, 171 lbs.; radishes, 117 bunches; onions, 200 bunches; squash, 186 lbs.; cream peas, 315 lbs.; cucumbers, 154 lbs.; pumpkins, 57 lbs.; green beans, 605 lbs.; Irish potatoes, 266 lbs.; okra, 173 lbs.; carrots, 50 lbs.; corn, 820 ear; watermelons, 42. With the entire campus acreage in cultivation, NYA dormitory supervisor sees no reason to suppose adequate vegetables could not be supplied.

The average American consumes 50 pounds of beef, 87 pounds of pork and lard, and 10 pounds of mutton annually, according to one professor of animal husbandry.

"If we used more of the farm land, had more feed and an expanded cooler, there would be no difficulty in producing enough meat for the entire 4000," he said.

A dairy is already in operation on a mas production scale. By reducing the daily milk allowance of one quart daily, another professor estimates, the dairy could make enough butter and cheese to supply the tables with dairy products.

Textile students could weave the cloth for such a community, with eight yards of material to the suit and six to the dress, the Tech textile head believes, "if they didn't want it too fast."

Food and nutrition professors said they could can all vegetables and meat produced, and the manager and dietitian of the dormitories is certain that no difficulty in serving would be encountered.

Students in clothing promise assistance in garment making. Metal dishes, necklaces, buttons and even belt buckles could be supplied by students in applied arts.

Only fly in the ointment, according to the dean of engineering, would be insufficient electrical power, forcing the mythical Tech colony to use primitive methods in preparing food and clothing. Oh, yes, there is another drawback. Students and faculty would be compelled to work in 8-hour shifts—work, study, and sleep, completing the day's cycle.

The young man had just pleaded guilty.

The jury was in the box, the judge and the lawyers in their chairs, and the prisoner at the bar. Silently three witnesses entered and were sworn.

The first took the stand. "What is your name?" asked the prosecuting attorney.

"I am the Home," was the reply.

"You admit that you made a failure in furnishing the State with a citizen?"

"Well, I lost control of him." "Call the next witness."

"I am the school."

"What did you do for the state in this case before this young man became a criminal?"

"I could not accomplish what the home failed to do."

BUSINESS RUSHING IS TELLING ON HEALTH

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 16.—A generation ago living conditions were less forced than they are today. Clock-consciousness was defined by hours rather than minutes. And while there was less actual leisure then than now, the tempo of daily existence was moderate. Today, transportation, manufacturing, business, recreation, and life in general, to a great extent, seem to be under time's driving influence. While this new speed has definitely contributed to the amazing program that has made this country great, and is reflected in the high living conditions now enjoyed in the average home, it has not been without its drawbacks. "One of the most important of these is its possible effect up on health," states Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Of course no one would revert to former days, but it cannot be denied that misdirected, high-tension living overtaxes the nervous system and may undermine the general health of the individual. Recently, an outstanding neurologist, after making allowances for disease conditions due to syphilis, drug addiction, congenital defects, and old age, claimed that many cases of mental collapse and less marked conditions of the nervous system could be traced to a too-rapid pace both in work and play, and to an accompanying habitual disregard of basic health requirements. He emphasized, however, that the fault does not lie so much in the high-pressure system of life as in over-application.

"A sustained, fast living pace can be somewhat neutralized by the wise expenditure of leisure time. Indeed, it can be said that it is not one's occupation, however exacting it may be, which usually does the damage to nerves and health, but the combination of high-speed work and disregard of nature's fundamental laws.

"Those who are burning the candle at both ends could well stop to consider the excessive use of stimulants, consistent loss of sleep, and the nerve-shattering practices in general are the real allies of nervous breakdowns, neurotic conditions, and most serious mental manifestations.

"High-speed-day-and-night life is not advisable for present satisfaction, health or ultimate peace of mind. The wise person will, therefore, avoid it and let moderation rule.

BUSINESS CAN HELP ITSELF

Business men have a vital interest in the rehabilitation of the railroads, for selfish reasons, if no other. The railroad industry is a mainstay of the durable goods industries which are the backbone of stable economy in this country.

According to the Association of American Railroads: "In the eight-year period from 1923 to 1930, for instance, the total purchases by the railroads of materials used in improving plants and equipment amounted to six and three-quarter billion dollars. This is apart from $11,000,000,000 paid out in the same period for expendable supplies, including everything from coal to paper clips." But from the years 1931 through 1938, plant and equipment expenditures totaled only $2,000,000,000 and purchases of expendable supplies but $5,000,000,000. In other words, total railroad expenditures during the latter period were nearly $11,000,000,000 less than during the former period.

The loss of this $11,000,000,000 meant industrial retrenchment, unemployment and reduced payrolls from Maine to California. It adversely affected the cash drawers of every enterprise in the country. It wasn't spent because railroad earnings had been so low that it wasn't there to spend—due largely to subsidized railroad competition, and the existence of chaotic transportation regulation which is inequitable and out of date.

In the past few weeks the railroads have vividly demonstrated their desire to go ahead. In order to make certain that there shall be no failure of transportation in these days of world crisis, they are putting tremendous quantities of additional equipment into service. They are spending money for this purpose that they have not yet earned, because of their strong realization of their obligation to the industries and the people of the nation. Sudden Death

By Pierce Brooks, President Texas Safety Council.

One of the greatest thrills experienced by Texas fathers and mothers comes to them when they pass the public schools and see on every adjacent corner earnest and courteous young men cheerfully directing traffic in the interest of greater safety.

Schools that have not adopted this plan of promoting good citizenship, as well as safety for pedestrians and motorists alike, are urged to meet with their law enforcement agencies and work out a cooperative system.

That the world is getting better—especially in this spacious land, is manifest in the attitude of the students themselves toward this service. In "the good old days", the rough element jeered the patrols, but today, hearty cooperation is given and all like it.

A boy who will get up early in the morning and report for patrol duty, rain or shine, in cold or heat, has something in him to make Texans feel pride in him.

It is great to see youthful Texans directing traffic to preserve life, rather than wielding a bayonet or directing a bullet to take a life.

If traffic rules are enforced around the schools, many will catch the point and will observe them elsewhere.

It's great to save a life or a limb.

A SALUTE

This month, just 447 years ago on the twelfth day, a gentleman named Columbus discovered what is commonly believed by her inhabitants to be the greatest country on this globe. There aren't many to dispute her supremacy though various historians have tried to convince us that Columbus shouldn't be given full credit for discovering her. Whatever the correct data, we are mighty grateful that Columbus didn't give us over to the Indians and wash their hands of the whole affair! Sometimes when as a nation we act unwisely and greedy, unappreciative and childish, we are glad Columbus cannot see what we are doing with this glorious gift. But perhaps he knows of our weaknesses and trusts our common sense to win out so that eventually we will really amount to something bigger and better.

Let us not, as a grateful people let him down by being unworthy of his discovery. Make it possible for the date of October 12 to hold up her head in pride and dignity.—Lockney Beacon.

THE WAR BETWEEN THE STATES

In Georgia, the director of the State Department of Public Welfare has ordered the Surplus Commodity Corporation to discontinue distribution of Wisconsin dairy products to Georgians on relief rolls. Wisconsin margarine taxes constitute a virtual ban on a product which provides an important outlet for cottonseed oil. Whatever else may be said about this development, it certainly serves to focus attention on one of the most glaring evils of interstate trade barriers, it invites retaliation from other states, and the vicious circle is well begun. The National Cotton Council, commenting on the action of the Georgia welfare director, predicts that other States than Wisconsin having high taxes on margarine may anticipate retaliation. "It is a war which the Cotton Belt does not welcome, but one which the South can wage with genuine effectiveness," the Council stated. "The millions of people dependent on cotton and cottonseed for a livelihood do not intend passively to watch one of their major sources of income swept away." This is the sort of thing that happens when States of the American Union erect tariff walls around their borders, and nobody profits from it. Far better would be a strict observance of the constitutional inhibition against interstate trade barriers. Southern States, unfortunately, are not without guilt in this connection. They have trade-hampering measures of their own. Yes, they even have margarine tax laws. All the interstate trade barriers in all the States ought to come down.—The Texas Weekly.

GOMEZ EX-STUDENTS MEET

The Gomez ex-students met Wednesday night, October 4 at the Gomez school house for a tacky party. An old-fashioned spelling match started the evening's entertainment. Later an amateur hour was held in the auditorium. The exes showed remarkable talent. Mrs. Lee Fulton, Cecil Rose, Ervin Moore, John Newberry and Mr. Redford were the five winners. The exes dressed tacky and made it very hard to pick out the tackiest boy and girl; however, the judges finally decided that Julia Ball and Terry Redford were the tackiest.

The contest for getting members closed and Lucille Walker's side won. The other side led by Geraldine Key entertained the winners with a treasure hunt on Monday night, October 9. Excitement and eagerness glowed on the faces of the exes as they scurried here and there hunting for the hidden treasure. Finally they returned to the school house where "Bud Wiser" is made and there found delicious refreshments awaiting them.

The exes have decided to buy a radio for the Gomez school. They believe this project is really worthwhile.

The next meeting will be on the 1st of November. Old exes are invited.

METHODIST CHURCH

John Witt Hendrix, Pastor

Last Sabbath was in many respects a high day. The evening service was somewhat damaged; having the hour of public worship set too late. Next Sunday we will subject of study, "The Church"—mark the time, please. We are asking our young people's groups to meet accordingly, 6:45, not later, please.

Church school has its opening session at 9:45 a. m. For each one there is a class. If you are about town, drop in the Wines Hotel—Men's Bible class.

Morning Worship comes on at 11 o'clock, exactly. You will enjoy the music offered by a mixed choir—Junior and Senior choirs. The subject is, Household Servants Wanted." It was odd that Jesus put out an eternal ad for just such help. It's right in the pages of the Book, in some Books in red print. A big reward assured under his own signature.

Evening Worship comes at 7:30 sharp and be out not later than 8:30. If any of our people make a practice of retiring before that time, they and they only will be excused! After the pastor will get in his car and go around to see if all the saints are tucked in, even so early. The Junior choir will furnish the music, and the pastor will deliver a sermon, using as theme, "Now," one simple, one syllable, one of the most significant words in our language. The history of a nation or nations has been written in the use and the practice of this word—now, in contrast with tomorrow.

Young people meet at 6:45 exactly, please.

"I was glad when they said unto me, let us go up into the house of the Lord."

ASSEMBLY OF GOD CHURCH ORGANIZES COUNCIL

You have a hearty welcome to visit or join us.

Last Sunday we had the largest attendance at Sunday School that we have had this year. You are invited to come at ten o'clock and enjoy the study of God's Word. There is a class for each age group.

Sunday morning the pastor will speak on the subject, "Jesus Only," using Matthew 17:8 as the scripture of the text. At the night service the topic of "Go Ye Therefore," will be used and the world wide message of Christian evangelism will be stressed.

You will be a stranger in our church only once. Come next Sunday and let us prove this statement.

Mrs. R. M. Kendrick and Mrs. Orb Stice were Lubbock visitors Saturday.

BAPTIST CHURCH

The attendance was somewhat smaller last Sunday. General sentiment of the church seems to be that more cash and pledges must be secured before the building can be started.

The Brotherhood held their monthly meeting last Monday evening and invited their wives and sweethearts to meet with them for a banquet. The men furnished and served baked chicken with dressing and cranberry sauce with coffee or ice tea and rolls and prepared for 150, however, only 88 were served, but the occasion was highly successful and enjoyed by the guests as well as the men who prepared and served the meal themselves.

After the meal the men gave their regular monthly program, entitled, "The Church Budget and How to Raise It." Which was followed by a short talk by the pastor which dealt with the work of the Baptist General Convention of their objectives for the convention year which closes with the first of November, the financial objective was one million dollars to promote the work of the convention for the year. With more than 3100 churches and seven hundred thousand members it is proposed that each member shall give the amount of their earnings for one day to complete the great task; the offering to be made the last Sunday if this month. Great tasks are only accomplished by co-operation and it will be seen just what the success of this program will be.

The W. M. U. will all meet at the church next Monday evening in business meeting and missionary program.

The consideration of the building program last Sunday caused many to be late to dinner. However, it is not expected to occur again and everybody has an invitation to be at the services next Sunday.

The Fashion Frock Of The Week

STYLE IN THE SCOTCH MANNER as worn in Hollywood by TOBY WING
Featured Player of the Films

When Paris says plaids are right, fashion goes Scotch with vim and vigor. This week's style choice is made of Royal Stuart Tartan plaid—a fabric of woven spun rayon with all the rich appearance of fine wool. The row of dainty buttons that travel down to the waist and the novelty sleeve pocket are unusual style features that give this dress extreme smartness. Three sets of long, flattering pleats in the skirt and a patent belt with a clever buckle complete the picture. Scotch plaid invariably means various shades of red. But the plaids also look good in this style in shades of green. This is the type of dress that most women want, in order to have one frock that is really different.

PEP SQUAD WENT TO LEVELLAND

By Katherine Speed

The B. H. S. pep squad went over to Levelland last Friday night, October 13, to yell for the Cubs.

They were dressed in their new uniforms, and they really did yell, and showed the boys that they were behind them.

At the half, the pep squad marched out on the field, and formed a football. They gave two yells, one for the Cubs and one for the Lobos, before they marched off the field.

They are learning many new yells and drills. They are trying to make this the best pep squad B. H. S. has ever had.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

By La Veda McCrary

The junior high boys played a rather good game Saturday morning. Although they were not very well represented, they won anyway. The junior high boys deserve really more backing than they get. The students do not realize that in a few years, these boys will be the high school Cubs. They have been practicing very faithfully, and I feel they will be rewarded for their efforts in the future. They are proud of their new coach, Mr. McCook.

DRAMATIC CLUB

Miss Tittle, sponsor of the dramatics club, and the club members are practicing on two different plays. They are "Mary Comes Home From College," and "Too Much Matrimony." The play which is to be put on first has not been chosen nor the players selected. The play is to be put on in assembly when it is ready. There are 64 members in the club, and some are very talented, therefore the play should be very good and entertaining.

ROOM MOTHERS FOR JUNIORS

THE KIND OF PERSON EVERYONE LIKES

We like a person who always wears a big smile; one who is courteous and kind. We like one who minds his own personal business and lets that of others alone. We like a person whom we can call a friend and when in need of personal advice, or when in any other difficulty, we may look up on him for help in every way. We like a person who is sociable and sometimes known as the life of the party. We also like a person who tells the truth, when it sometimes hurts. A person who is clean in every way; normal in moral and mental respects. One who can give advice and take it, one who is a good sport at all times. We like one who can look on the other person's side as well as his own. We like a person who believes that men are created equal, and do not rate themselves high just because of his or her financial standing. Of course, we know all these things, but how many of us try to put them in to practice? So for our benefit, let us at least try to put a few of these into practice. It will be for our own good.

AGRICULTURE NEWS

We have a real Agriculture class and FFA chapter in the high school now. Although the news hasn't got around, we are having a grand time. The class does not play around nor waste time, but we are having fun and learning things that will help us in future years.

Last Thursday the Agriculture boys and the Home Economics girls met and had a watermelon feast. Some of the boys were too bashful to choose partners with whom to eat watermelon, so the girls had to eat by themselves. After we had eaten the water-

Judges, Mayors, Commissioners to Meet

County Judge Formby of Dickens county and president of the West Texas County Judges and Commissioners' Association, has called all county judges, Commissioners and mayors as well as Chamber of Commerce Officials, to meet at the Hotel Lubbock, today, (Friday) at 2 p. m. to consider the seriousness of the relief situation in this section at the beginning of winter.

The crop failure in West Texas has created a situation that is going to put a lot more people on relief than was thought a few months ago. Judge Formby says the WPA quotas for West Texas are entirely inadequate to meet the needs the situation demands.

It is believed that the quota in the east unemployed would be greatly lessened by repealing the embargo, and that in turn would help the west.

Are you always loitering in the halls, and being late to class? You know that doesn't give the teacher a very good impression of you.

Are you the type of person who just passes up the new students of your school, without giving them a word or even a smile? It helps a lot when you talk to them. It makes them feel happy that they are going to be in such a nice school, with such a fine student body.

Are you always trying to act like something you aren't trying to put on "airs"? Why not come down to earth, and be yourself? You'll have a heap-a-more friends if you'll be just plain old you.

Are you taking subjects just because they count as credits? Does it ever enter your mind whether or not these subjects will help you out in life? You know you don't go to school forever and when you get out into the world, you can't just pass a thing up without thinking about it. So why not start the good habit of thinking now?

Brownfield Friday—Saturday Texas
WE RESERVE RIGHTS TO LIMIT QUANTITIES

Chamber of Commerce Items

By J. E. Shelton, Secretary

Information is more frequently coming to this office that Brownfield is rapidly assuming a position where it will likely become the district headquarters of the various oil companies, but if this information is correct, then we have to begin to prepare ourselves for it, as under present housing conditions we are not able to accommodate any more people than we now have and as a matter of fact are not able to supply the demand for living quarters even at this time and it is up to those of our citizens who are able to do so to commence the construction of houses and apartments in order that we may take care of present and future demands. Based on past experiences of this office, the main demand is for three room furnished apartments. If Brownfield is to continue to grow, additional houses must be constructed.

The attendance at the football game between Levelland and Brownfield last week was excellent and above our expectations and we feel sure that the work performed by the various committees had a great deal to do with keeping the affair in the minds of our fans. While the game was at Levelland it is reported that we had more people in attendance than they. This is the first Chamber of Commerce sponsored game, and the next one will be on the home grounds. The Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the game that is to be played at Littlefield this week and they are going to make an effort to get a record crowd.

The County Fair was so successful and the response of the different school districts, farmers and citizens in general so satisfactory, that those in charge of the affairs are determined to develop a permanent County Fair Association, and to this end, the writer is in correspondence with officials of the different fair associations in Texas, in an effort to obtain information as to the method used by them in financing the construction of a fair plant together with an estimate of the cost of other buildings and improvements. For several years we had a county fair, but vacant buildings became non-existent, and it was discontinued, until this year when we were fortunate enough to find business men who were willing to dis-commode themselves in order that the show might be had.

"Behind the Scenes In American Business"

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—AUTO SHOW—It's customary for motor makers at the opening of the National Automobile Show to wax optimistic. As this year's show got underway Sunday, however, their enthusiasm was rooted in a big backlog of orders already received from the motoring public for 1940 models. Dealers report that the new models are selling "like hot-cakes." Most plausible reasons for this rush of business appeared to be: 1. Renewed confidence in the future as result of business upturn since May. 2. Increased purchasing power in rural areas following September rise in crop values. 3. Substantially improved design and appearance of the new cars, plus price reductions on some models. 4. Unreasonable, but nevertheless real fears of some persons that inflationary forces may boost auto prices soon. 5. Enormous postponed demand due to subnormal auto sales and production between 1930 and 1935, and last year.

SIGNIFICANCE—Next to steel the motor industry is America's largest and as such plays a significant role in keeping the wheels of all industry busy. One out of every seven persons draws a paycheck in this country because of automobiles. If auto sales in the coming 12 months increase as much as is now expected, a billion dollars more than last year would be taken in by dealers. Flowing back to the motor factories and out again for the purchase of raw materials and finished parts, this money would trickle into thousands of workers' homes, and into hundreds of industries and farms, ultimately raising the national income several billion dollars.
