FARMERS OF TERRY, YOAKUM AND COCHRAN VOTE ON SOIL CONSERVATION

As the Event Has Been Well Advertised, A Large Vote Is Expected in the Three Counties. One Guess is as Good as Another On the Outcome.

Saturday is the great day for the land owning farmers of Terry, Yoakum and Cochran to see whether or not they wish to band themselves together in a district to conserve their soil from wind or water erosion for years to come, and at least when the present farmers lay the spade and hoe to rest, there will be good, productive farms for their coming generations.

It is not the intention of the Herald to tell farmers and ranchmen how they should vote. That is their business. But if we were a farmer, we know how we would vote. If we saw that some department of this plant was leaking profits too badly, we'd do all in our power to remedy the matter, and we believe the majority of the farmers in the area proposed feel the same about their farms. As level as is this section, farms can be made productive here for hundreds of years if the right methods are used to conserve the fertility of the soil.

As we understand the matter, the farmers themselves have the exclusive right to guide the destinies of the district; that they cannot bond the district, but will be helped in various ways by the U. S. agricultural department and other farm agencies, all recommendations and plans of action, being given free. The following will hold elections at the various boxes in Terry county:

Designated boxes, with the presiding judge (named first, and two clerks (in order) are as follows:

Johnson: W. R. Tilson, assisted by Buddy Little and J. A. McCraw.
Union G. W. Luker, assisted by J. A. Drennan and W. M. Coor.
Meadow: J. L. Milsap, assisted by L. J. Hollers and H. C. Stephenson.

Wellman: L. R. Riney, assisted by J. H. McDonald and J. R. Garrison.

Qualifications: Man and wife can both vote if land owners. Must be qualified voters otherwise, such as poll tax receipt, residents of state one year and county six months.

Paving Program To Start Again Today

In conversation this week with Mayor Clyde C. Coleman, he informed us that the main work in landscaping and building roadways in the city park would be finished Thursday, and that the paving program would be started again today and would be rushed as fast as possible in order to be finished during the summer.

By the way, even though the trees are small, as well as the evergreens and shrubbery in the city park, that place is really looking good. From the hill above near the Super Market store, the winding roads show up well, showing that an artist really had charge of the business.

We are glad to see work started on the little half block park that was thought to have been ruined when the highway crossed it to avoid making sharp turns and corners. We are speaking of the one at Hill and Highways 51 and 380. There were still some large trees growing and others put out.

The enclosure has been fenced to keep cars off, and even the little nook on the west side of the highway, not taken in by the right of way, is now under the care of a workman with rake, hoe and water hose.

Let's work to make Brownfield attractive to the visitors. Let's eliminate all the eyesores, making them spots of beauty and cleanliness.

Hiram Arrant, professor at Hardin-Simmons U., Abilene, and Rotary Governor of this district, will serve as chairman of the Service Group at the International convention at Havana.

Wingo to Have 300 Acres in Melons

W. J. Wingo, the big Terry county watermelon raiser, was in from the farm eight miles south of town early this week, and informed us that he would have at least 300 acres in melons this year, if everything was favorable. He had 85 acres last year from which he sold between four and five thousand dollars' worth of melons.

Mr. Wingo's melons went almost everywhere last season, as they came in full bearing late in August, when melons everywhere else in the United States were gone and forgotten. Most of his melons went to the Fort Worth-Dallas section, but several trucks went to California and some to Chicago. His melons are of exceptional flavor, and last year, while the meat was very tender, there was nothing of the mushy or pithy nature in them.

If Mr. Wingo has as much luck in hitting the right market as he did last year, and the crop as good, he should sell around $15,000 or $20,000 worth of melons. We have not interviewed any of the other large growers but suppose they will have quite an acreage this year.

Mr. N. A. Newberry, west of town, had around 20 acres last year, and did a land office business. He had stickers printed to put on his melons, and most of his sold in the oil fields of the McCamey-Odessa section. So well flavored were they, that buyers after that would call for Newberry melons. However, Mr. Newberry referred them to other melon men when trucks came to his field, if he was not able to supply them with ripe melons at that time.

Committees Appointed For Clean Up Week

On Monday the 20th, a meeting was held in the offices of the Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of appointing committees and formally inaugurate "Clean Up Week" drive. Tom May was appointed general chairman, and other committees were appointed under district chairmen to see that certain portions of the city were made clean.

Some Good Suggestions
It is believed that the city will take measures to see that receptacles are provided for waste paper in the business section for merchants and others to dispose of their waste, as well as a place to put First Monday tickets after they are used. Brownfield can be made just as clean a town as any if all will put their hand to the wheel and all pull and push together.

Non-Compliers Classified Non-Desirables

If and when places are inspected and found with open toilets near enough to sewer lines to connect, and the owners or leasees refuse to comply with the law, their places will be condemned and closed. Those too far from sewer lines to connect will be asked to provide sanitary toilets that meet the city sanitary code. It is hard on some who have modern plumbing themselves to have careless neighbors throw all their refuse over on, or near their property. Such neighbors are undesirable, and may be asked to move to some town where they don't give a damn, and where they can have all the typhoid they wish for themselves and neighbors.

Mayor Clyde C. Coleman has offered the free use of the city trucks in gathering up all the waste piled in the alleys where such trucks can get to it. Barrels or heavy wires should be provided by each home to burn paper and such like, and not let it blow all over town. Other people don't want your filthy paper on their premises.

Heading the Maids and Matrons club as chairman, is Mrs. Money Price, assisting, Mmes. Stricklin, Tarpley, Randal and Moore. District: The eight blocks of the business district facing the square.

Lions Club: Pat Patterson, chairman; Lynn Nelson and some ladies as assistants. Voting precinct No. 3.

Senior Chamber of Commerce: Tom May, Chairman; H. R. Winston, Ned Self. Voting precinct No. 1.

Rotary Club: C. L. Aven, Jr., chairman, with Jim Graves and Dr. R. B. Parish. Voting precinct No. 4.

Attending the meeting were: Dr. W. S. Brumage, of the Five-County Health Unit; Mr. Breedlove and Mr. Reese, sanitarians of the unit, who will of course lend their help and knowledge of sanitation during the campaign for a cleaner, better, healthier Brownfield.

As Mr. T. L. Patterson, new Chamber of Commerce secretary so aptly stated: "A clean city to live in is a better city to live in. Let each and everyone of us do our share in cleaning up our city."

Allen Makes Improvements at Tokio

Lee O. Allen is advertising for sale in this issue, second year from Georgia, hi-bred half and half cotton seed.

He has recently built at his gin and mill in Tokio, a 20x50 warehouse with concrete floor, and has added poultry tonics and disinfectants, to his already large line of seeds, carbotech stock minerals and stock and poultry feeds. In fact Lee O. says he carries most everything from coon traps to tractors.

The Pontiac Motor Company's deliveries the first ten days of May were the greatest on record, and 85 per cent above the same days last year.

IF YOU HAVE NOT VISITED THE WPA SEWING ROOM, DO SO TODAY OR TOMORROW

You Will Be Agreeably Surprised at What Those Ladies Are Turning Out at This Plant. Its Continuation in Brownfield Depends upon Interest Shown.

If you have not visited the WPA sewing room in the American Legion hall, during "This Work Pays Your Community Week", do so today or tomorrow, as these will be the last days they will be open to visitors. Mrs. Gertrude Anderson has charge of the cutting and sewing room, and some twelve ladies are employed in this section.

They make all kinds of work clothes for men, and as well made and sewed overalls, shirts, etc., as you will find in your store, that are made in factories. Dresses, underwear for men, women and children are also made. The material is good, the cutting and finishing excellent. A complete fitting case for patterns is kept, each marked for boys, girls, men, women or children.

There is no waste. Scraps from cutting, if large enough, are used to make small children's panties, surplus can be carried of any garments, but stocks must be in conformity with needs. You will be surprised at the amount of work done here, as well as the high class of finishing. If you think WPA garments are just thrown together, you'll be disappointed. In the rear of the building is another section of the work in charge of Mrs. Paul Blackstock. This is more on the order of a domestic science department. They have a fully equipped kitchen with everything in it made by ladies except the stove. It includes a large kitchen built-in cabinet, tables, chairs, and even a bed, which was made wholly, including the bedstead, mattress, linens and spreads. Chairs and settees are made from half barrels, kegs, etc. Springs from old auto sets are used under the mattress as well as some of the chairs. They also make all kinds of rugs.

The work of this department is not confined to the work room alone. The workers may go out in town or the rural communities and instruct needy people on how to sew, cook, make or mend furniture, how to nurse and prepare food for the sick, etc. This also included instruction on how to build frame gardens, and many other items too numerous to mention.

Mesdames Anderson and Blackstock take great interest in showing the visitors through, and explaining the many phases of the work. The writer is now thoroughly sold on, and convinced that "This Work Pays Your Community."

The 1939-40 Term of School History

With the commencement address and program at the high school auditorium Friday night, at which time 75 very proud Seniors, in their becoming caps and gowns received their diplomas, indicating they had finished high school, the 1939-40 term of our schools came to a very successful close. Hundreds of friends and relatives crowded the large auditorium and balcony to see and hear the program rendered.

Some of the seniors will have a job this week on Dad's farm, perhaps some of them will help some of the business and professional men through the summer, while others may just have to look for a job, and we hope find one. A large number of them are preparing to enter college this fall in order to better prepare themselves for any eventualities in life.

As to the faculty, with the exception of those who make Brownfield their home, they have scattered to the four winds. Some of them will spend their vacation at the home of their parents in other parts of the state, some will travel, while others intend to attend summer sessions at some college or university.

But we hope to see most of them back in September when the gong rings for the re-opening of our 1940-41 term.

Jaycees Complete First Year; To Install New Officers

Climaxing a year filled with activity, the Junior Chamber of Commerce is to hold its annual Installation Banquet at the Hancock Cafe next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock, at which time officers and directors for the coming year will be elected.

All members are urged to be present with an objective in mind that they would like to have the club undertake during the coming year. Supt. Emmitt Smith is to be master of ceremonies for the affair.

The organization now has an intensive membership drive underway.

Gordon Bros. Install New Equipment

Gordon Bros., proprietors of the Safety Tire Shop on west Main, have just recently installed machinery in their building that cost several hundred dollars in order to more efficiently handle their business, and keep abreast of the times. In this day and time, one has to have modern equipment in order to meet ever increasing competition. While the overhead must also increase, one must be able and ready to give their customers the best service possible.

They have at great cost recently installed the Bacon equipment for retreading tires for both cars and trucks. As explained by them, the tread on a tire is but about one-third of the cost of a new tire. Therefore the tread of a tire might wear down to the composition of fabric and rubber, yet the side walls and the rest of the tire be in practically as good shape as ever. With these machines, raw rubber of the proper thickness is applied and a new tread is the result. Another machine is then used to force the tire open, to see that there are no faults in the material or workmanship. A good grade of tires can be retreaded for the third time, provided the walls are alright.

Up until recently, they had a machine to take off all the old tread smooth with the fabric, but as it was a hand machine, and held to the cutting unit by hand, there was no absolute accuracy, and after the job was finished, maybe the tire was round—maybe not. This machine was traded for one on the principle of the valve grinding machine. In other words, machinery with absolute precision holds the tire to the cutting part, revolving around until the tire is cut to the desired depth, yet left absolutely round.

That leaves a good smooth surface for the new tread. But visit this shop. You can spend an interesting quarter hour there, and learn a lot more than we can explain in this article.

Still Behind On Red Cross Drive

According to Lee Fulton, local Red Cross Chairman, Terry County is behind on its quota of $360. This area includes Yoakum County, which has not reported, but Mr. Fulton is not expecting more than $100 from them. That would still leave us shy $69, even if they send $100.

It was stated that some who could have given several dollars. But gave only one dollar. Of course if that is all that one can give, all right, but if we are able to give more, so much the better. With the destruction of food and everything else in Europe now, the

WILL BE DISAPPOINTED IN OUR CENSUS

J. E. Shelton stated this week that he had a talk with the district supervisor of Census at Lamesa one day this week, and that official informed him that he was not releasing the figures on Brownfield, Lamesa, Big Spring, Seminole and Seagraves until next week.

In the meantime he advised Mr. Shelton for the Chamber of Commerce to find some people or 'we would be disappointed with our showing. So if you have not been enumerated, or if you know of any who have not, report at once to the local Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Shelton says that he has found around 20 in the past few days that had not been enumerated.

If you failed to give in your boy or girl who is off at college, report on them, also, as this is their home, and not the town where they attend college. There is a bunch of fellows, also, that are looking down their noses over the county population. It has been reported that the county population will not run the ten thousand expected. Therefore, those who are running for assessor-collector will have had their race for nothing it appears.

If a county has less than ten thousand, the law says the offices of sheriff, tax-assessor and collector shall all be combined.

A New Addition To Brownfield

"Crescent Hill Addition" is the name of the highland acres of the late M. V. Brownfield home tract, just north of the city, recently subdivided into lots and blocks, with streets and alleys, and now on the market. We learn through R. L. Nobles, local realtor, who is handling the project, that the lots are larger than normal, and sales will be restricted to the better class of residence buildings, the addition is designed and intended to become, one of the most up-to-date residential sections of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Martin of Tokio, announce the arrival of twins a 6 3-4 pound son and 6 pound daughter born May 14. They have been named Billy Ray and Jessie Fay.

demand of refugees will be great. England and France have their hands full, and it is a cinch Germany, Italy and Russia will help no one.

If you have not done anything, be sure to see Mr. Fulton over the week end. If you can give but a quarter, a half dollar or dollar, do so at once.

Ince Accepts Position At Lubbock

W. T. Ince, who has been employed here by Piggy Wiggle for the past several years, has accepted a position as assistant manager of one of the new Piggy Wiggle stores in Lubbock. He will hold the same position there that Paul Jones holds here.

Manager Pat Patterson of the local store said that while he regretted very much losing W. T. from his force, he is real glad that he has been promoted. W. T. is taking a short vacation this week, and will start his new job Monday.

Half Inch Rain Falls Here Wednesday

Nearly a half inch rain fell here Wednesday, beginning in the forenoon with a slow drizzle. Quite a heavy shower fell just before it ceased in the afternoon.

The gauge registered 45-100 inch. Still very cloudy (Thursday), but too darn cold to rain. May snow or sleet.

Mrs. C. P. Henderson recently handed in the dollar for another year of this great dispenser of information.

County Receives Transportation Money

Terry county has been granted a total of $11,425 for bus transportation of school children for the past term. Of this amount $5,144 had already been received, and $6,814 was received Friday, according to County Supt. Lee Fulton.

He stated that the last amount came in a mighty good time, as the schools needed the money to pay drivers, etc. The reason Meadow got such a large sum was that they had never received any help up to recently, and part of it was back pay. The following amounts were received by schools:

Meadow	$3,424.50
Wellman	947.25
Pleasant Valley	90.00
Johnson	208.75
Tokio	247.25
Scudday	237.25
Foster	368.50
Challis	143.50
Harmony	342.25
Gomez	696.16
Happy	165.94
Union	217.00

Brownfield received no money as the districts has no buses, as it is a very small district.

To Move Winters Cotton Oil Mill Here

According to the Sunday Avalanche-Journal, Anderson-Clayton Co., owners of the cotton oil mill at Winters, Texas, were dismantling their plant there preparatory to moving it to Brownfield. The above company owns three other mills on the South Plains, at Plainview, Littlefield and Slaton, and is known as the West Texas Cotton Oil Co.

A little more than a year ago, the Anderson-Clayton Co. purchased a site consisting of a block of land in the Santa Fe addition, near the Paul Lawlis gin, and announced their intention of putting a cotton oil mill at some time in the future. Little has been said about the matter since.

At the time of the purchase it was mentioned by the above company that they might put in a feed mill in connection with the cotton oil plant, to manufacture all kinds of mixed feed for fattening cattle or for hogs and poultry.

Mrs. Etta Gillham of Happy, was here Friday to see her granddaughter, Eleanor Gillham graduate from Brownfield High School. Miss Gillham is one of the four highest ranking students.

Where the Faculty Will Spend Summer

Just a passing note on where the Brownfield school faculty will spend their summer. Supt. and Mrs. Emmitt Smith will attend Tech college at Lubbock, and the following home teachers, while here most of the summer will of course, take a vacation at some time during the time:

Irene Adams, Thomas Neely, Mrs. B. G. Hackney, Mrs. Homer Newman, Mrs. P. R. Cates, Mrs. W. L. Lee, Miss Viola Brown, Mrs. J. W. Fitzgerald, Mrs. J. B. Patterson, Mrs. Jewel Rentrifo, W. M. Vernon.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Bost, at Royce City; Miss Dona Huff at Lubbock; Vivian Murphy, Brownfield and Decatur; Nolan Tippetts at Austin; L. S. Caveness at Maypearl; W. N. McBrayer at Graham; Marietta Montgomery, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Elmo McCook, Abilene; Miss Jewel Edwards, Paris; Maudie Jo Fields, Brownwood; Phillip James, Austin.

Aubra Noncaster, Lamesa; Mrs. Cora P. Bruce, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Brewer, city and Brownwood; Elmer Brownlee, Abilene; Miss Lynn Daughery, Levelland.

Most of those mentioned as going to college towns, will no doubt attend summer sessions.

Terry's No. 1 Well Gauged at Over 800 Barrels

The Geo. P. Livermore No. 1 Jacobson, in the northwest part of Terry county, was gauged by the Railroad Commission one day last week at around 850 barrels per day, and put on proration. An offset to the well has been started, we understand, east and slightly south about three-fourths of a mile.

J. M. Welborn is rushing preliminaries toward the drilling of his well seven or eight miles southwest of town, and about five miles due south of Gomez. This well will be on section 103 block D-11. Mr. Welborn informed us this week that they were trying to get everything ready to start drilling by June 1st or soon thereafter.

We have heard no reports on the Ima Lewis well south of Wellman up to Monday this week, but suppose they are still drilling.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Hahn and children left Tuesday for St. Charles, Louisiana, for a ten days visit with relatives. They plan to do some fishing while there.

Well, at least M. A. (Ma) Ferguson uses paid newspaper space to tell when she is to use the radio, and "dat's sumpum." Most candidates want to use the newspapers free to tell when they have the radio hired.

Have you made your donation to the Red Cross over at the office of County Superintendent Lee Fulton? If not, why not? Your donation is needed. Yes, the Herald is on the barrel head with a sum believed to be our part of the $360 from Terry county.

We note that one of the area papers is advertising his journal at 25c per year, although the regular price is said to be $1.50. If that publisher don't mind, the first, second and third assistant postmaster generals will all be on his neck at one time. The law says must not cut under 50 per cent of the regular price.

The Avalanche-Journal says that Herbert Hoover is the man to take charge of the feeding of Belgium and other countries. Well, we perhaps remember the other "feeding operations" better than some of the A-J staff, and if it means to half starve home folks to feed them, we are agin Mr. Hoover for the office. We have not forgotten, wheatless and meatless days. We ate corn pone. A biscuit looked like a million dollars to most of us out here in Terry. But a merchant right here in Brownfield, who had to make a trip to Boston to visit his soldier son who had pneumonia, said he never saw a piece of cornbread while away. But they made us Southerners eat it and like it. At the end of the war, there were great warehouses of wheat, potatoes and meat, some rotting. No, we haven't forgotten "Hooverizing."

Capt. Lindbergh, famous flier, thinks the American people are unduly excited about the European war, and thinks we should continue to attend to our own knitting. That perhaps would be good advise, if we knew just who we will have to deal with after this war is brought to an end. It is true that a lot of Americans are jittery over the affair, and especially along the Atlantic seaboard, and some even here are greatly concerned as the Nazis are known to be working in Old Mexico. But as a general rule, the dumping of a sack of tin can on the pavement near us, does not necessarily make us think of Hitler. We even grinned tother day when one fellow announced that the Germans were in Seagraves and marching this way. We spent better than 20 billion dollars, 60,000 killed and hundreds of thousands wounded, gassed and crippled young Americans to make that section of the world safe for democracy a bit over twenty years ago, and they still need saving. Those birds have been fighting as long as history records, and we guess they'll still be at it when Gabriel blows his horn.

Not so long ago our good friend Jack Stricklin, sage of the Terry County Herald, took us to task for saying that the Ford Motor Company at Dallas hired thugs and hoodlums to tar and feather American men, whose only offense was that they were advocating organization of Ford employees. But this week the federal representatives who investigated the affair, branded them as THUGS, just as we did. We repeat that one bucket of tar and feathers makes a thousand reds to one made by the soap box orators. Let's head of any foreignism by making America really the land of the free. We cannot do this by adopting the very methods of the dictators themselves, ie, brute force, as represented by the tar and feather method.—Anton News.

Yes, let's make America safe for Americans by driving the loud mouthed "Fifth Column" from our shores, such as perhaps, the leaders of the CIO movement in Dallas happened to be. We can have just a bit too much "freedom" for such ilk. That is the kind of people they want us to be; non-resistant. Look what happened in little Denmark, and what is now happening to Belgium and Holland. Yes, Madam Hitler and Napoleon Bonepart Mussolini want us to lay supinely on our backs until we are hog-tied by the nazis and blackshirts. On the other hand, Mr. Ford is a man of peace if let alone, and a true American, as are almost all of his workmen, who seemed to be well satisfied with both their jobs and pay, not to mention working conditions. The CIO leaders want to fix it so they can call a strike just when our country needs the products of the factories most. If we had our choice, we'd as soon be a THUG as a TRAITOR to our country, and we don't crave either.

We are glad to report Homer Nowell improving again with prospects of getting out of the hospital this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Hobbs of Tokio, are the proud parents of an 8 pound son, born Tuesday, May 21.

CURLEE CLOTHES

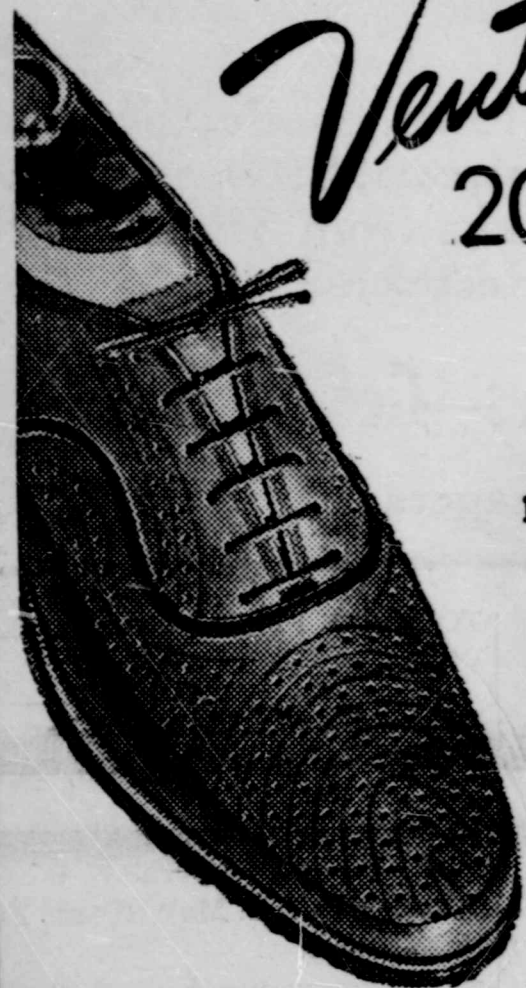

CURLEE Solves the SUMMER SUIT Problem

NOT so many seasons ago, comfort in a summer suit meant sacrifice of style plus the inconvenience and expense of constant cleaning and laundering. But no more! For this year, as never before, thousands upon thousands of American men are solving the problem of style, appearance and wearing quality—plus real Summer comfort.

The answer? You'll find it in our complete stock of Curlee Tropical Worsteds. These featherweight woolens have the backbone to tailor beautifully. They stand up and hold their shape under hard hot-weather wear. Their open, porous weave keeps heat out but permits maximum air circulation. Yet they're light as a summer breeze.

We have Curlee Tropical Worsteds in a complete range of styles, models and sizes—and they're priced right! Come in and see them. $20.00.

They called him "lucky" for short—but not for long.

Importance of Typhoid Fever Immunization

By Dr. W. S. Brumage

Since this week has been designated as Clean-Up Week in Brownfield and since typhoid fever is closely associated with the sanitary conditions of a community, it is time to think of the danger of this serious disease. Typhoid fever is a serious infectious disease caused by a germ and the average duration of the disease is about two months. One in ten persons with the disease die with it, and others may be sick as long as six months.

This disease is absolutely preventable and every community should make an effort to stamp it out. However, each year about twenty-five thousand persons in the United States have typhoid fever and twenty-five hundred die of it. Terry county has one death from typhoid fever last year which means that there were probably ten or more cases in the county.

To prevent typhoid fever, be sure you use pure water, pasteurized milk from a Grade A Dairy, and clean food that is protected from flies. You should be vaccinated against typhoid fever at least once every two years.

There have already been two cases of typhoid fever occurred in Brownfield this year and there will undoubtedly be many more this summer unless everyone protects themselves by vaccination. See to it that your water, milk, and food supply is safe and that you are vaccinated before summer begins.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Bennett passed away Tuesday morning at 6:30 o'clock and was buried Tuesday afternoon in the Brownfield cemetery. Elder Joe Chisholm had charge of the services. Brownfield Funeral Home in charge of arrangements. The Bennetts have three other children, girls.

PWA LIBRARY

If you haven't already done so, please register at Walter Black's table at the Legion hall, this week. Having a librarian each week day means so much to the reading public, but we are informed keeping the daily librarian all depends on how many register during "This Work Pays Your Community Week."

Walter Black stated that better than one hundred books were taken out last Saturday and he has an average of thirty calls for books each day. Do your part by helping to keep this project going and when you call to register, see just what these other projects mean to the county; get acquainted with the work these women are doing.

Mrs. M. G. Tarpley is very desirous of getting some castor bean seed. She has tried the local stores, and they don't handle them, so if you have a few they will be highly appreciated by her. She wants them for a quick shade for chickens.

MOST TRAFFIC DEATHS BY SINGLE CARS

AUSTIN, May 22.—State police reported today that over one-half of the fatal accident victims in the first three months of this year involved single vehicles.

Statistics for that period revealed that only one vehicle was reported in each of 189 out of 343 fatal crashes which killed 431 persons. In each instance the vehicles either hit pedestrians, overturned or struck fixed objects.

Passenger cars alone were far in the lead with 144 fatal accidents charged to them while trucks alone were involved in 34 fatal crashes.

During that three months period there were 24 motor vehicle-train collisions in which 64 persons were killed, none of which occurred where state designated highways intersected railway crossings. Sixteen of the railway crossing deaths resulted from accidents in cities and towns while 48 occurred at county road-railway intersections.

Exclusive of vehicle-pedestrian accidents there were 245 fatal accidents in which 149 drivers and 184 passengers lost their lives. The passenger death toll included 28 Mexicans killed in a truck-train crash at Alamo in March.

State police blamed carelessly speeding drivers and 'jaywalking' pedestrians for the high single-vehicle collisions.

Sciatica Is A Nervous Affection

Miss Bernice Weldon, D.C., Ph.C.

The condition known as "Sciatica" or "Sciatic Rheumatism" is more properly described as neuralgia of the Sciatic Nerve. The sudden onset of its pain, intensified when one moves, is its most distinctive characteristic.

This condition is mostly found in acute cases only, but if prompt steps are not taken to correct the cause by adjustments, the victim may be confined to a bed of suffering for indefinite periods.

Because it is peculiarly a nerve affection, "Sciatica" yields readily to Chiropractic spinal adjustments in the lower region of the back, where the affected nerve branches off from the main trunk line.

GATE-CRASHERS ARE A NUISANCE—BUT!

The Southern dance hall fire, in which about 200 Negroes died the most horrible of deaths, is simply one more of those conflagrations which could have been prevented.

The fire, it is reported, was deliberately started by a drunken merry-maker. None save the criminal can be blamed for that. But, had a minimum of forethought been used, the hazards that make for a serious fire would not have existed.

The dance hall was decorated with streamers of Spanish moss—a material which is practically explosive when dry. On top of that, all windows and entrances, save for the narrow front door, had been barred, in order to keep out possible gate crashers.

The inevitable result was that when the match touched the moss, Hell broke loose. Flame shot to the ceiling. Vast pillars of smoke billowed out. In a few seconds the dance hall was an inferno. Dancers, blinded by smoke and choking from fumes, beat with pitiful futility against the barred windows and doors. A few escaped by the front entrance. The majority perished from suffocation and flame.

In this fire, the simplest, most obvious tenets of fire prevention and control were violated. Under no circumstances should inflammable materials be used for decorations—many a disastrous fire has started from that cause. Even worse is the practice of barring windows and exits. Gate-crashing may be an annoyance—but it's considerably less annoying than being cremated alive.

The country pities the victims of this fire. But let the country learn a lesson from their needless deaths. Think first—then you won't have to be vainly sorry afterwards.

'Til We Meet Again' Makes Local Debut Tues. At Rialto

"'Til We Meet Again", co-starring Merle Oberon and George Brent, makes its local debut Tuesday at the Rialto Theatre. Featured in the stellar cast are Pat O'Brien, Geraldine Fitzgerald, Binnie Barnes and Frank McHugh.

The poignant and tender love story begins in Hong Kong. At the Bar of All Nations, Dan and Joan, (the roles played by Brent and Miss Oberon), meet over a cocktail. It is a hail and farewell meeting, for she is sailing back to San Francisco immediately. They part, and Dan runs straight into the waiting hands of Steve Burke (Pat O'Brien), a detective who has trailed him all over the world since Dan, sentenced to death for murder, had escaped on his way to San Quentin. So Dan and Joan meet again on the boat, but she doesn't know he's a prisoner, for Burke allows him freedom of the ship. He, on his part, doesn't know that she has a heart ailment which may cut off her life at any moment. Both know, however, that every moment they have together is breathlessly important. The romantic, intriguing and tragic implications of the situation are fully realized in the brilliant production, under direction of Edmund Goulding.

Others in the cast besides those already named, include Eric Blore, Henry O'Neill, George Reeves, Frank Wilcox, Doris Loyd, Marjorie Gateson, and Regis Toomey. Warren Duff wrote the screen play, based on an original story by Robert Loyd.

Our Monday Blues

While sitting on our nail keg this morning watching the smoke curl from our corn cob pipe and thinking of the good old days that are gone forever, a chicken program broke in on our radio. Store bought, machine hatched, motherless chicks, little orphan critters that come to you by parcel post. You can buy them in most any town that has a postoffice. Songs have been built around these birds, and they play an important role in our county and state fairs. And most of the candidates for office are 100 per cent for them.

It seems from the ballyhoo and advertising they get over the radio and in the farm papers that the future destiny of our nation evolves around them, but these little electric critters that you buy in a candy box demand a sanitary house to live in, electric lights and running water. In order to grow feathers on these little boosters, you must keep the heat to a certain tempo. They eat their food from store bought dishes (china-ware preferred). And here comes the chicken chow and all kinds of government inspected feed. Otherwise, they will take the limber-neck and other alarming ailments.

In our boyhood days, our game chickens roosted in trees, they had a free range and scratched for a living. The rooster had the privilege of running with the hens; they raised big families, and our table was well supplied with eggs and fried chicken. They were also very generous in supporting camp meetings.

All that escaped the pot just curled up and died with old age. Of course they never did go anywhere by parcel post.

Hospital Notes

Mrs. M. E. Brewer, hospital superintendent was in Lubbock from May 21 to 23, attending the West Texas Hospital "Homecoming." Mrs. Brewer was a graduate of the '33 class.

Mrs. M. E. Payne, route 3, underwent an appendicitis operation Friday 17.

Mr. Claude Goodpasture of Denver City entered for treatment Thursday 16.

Master James Dewitt Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hill, had a tonsilectomy, Friday 17.

Master Keith Hendrick had a tonsilectomy Friday 17.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. George D. Stice of Plains, a girl, 2 p. m. Monday 20. Weight 9 pounds, 1 ounce. The father is an employee of Kirk Greenway oil co.

Dorothy Louise Fore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Fore of Wellman was dismissed Wednesday 15 after treatment.

Nearly All Cattle Being Fed Are Gone

Of the three thousand cattle being fed here by Babicora Development Co., all but just a few cars are gone—put on the market in the packing house centers, and perhaps a lot of them have already been consumed. Maybe you have eaten some of them right here in Brownfield after they were butchered, dressed, packed and shipped back.

We have never learned just how the feeding operation panned out this year, but until very recently good fed-out beef cattle brought a fair price, with grain and other feeds at a reasonable price. However, cattle have been rather high on hoof at the ranches, making the margin between the grasser and the finished product rather close.

A Eunice, N. M. woman was indicted last week by the Gaines county grand jury for the murder of A. E. Neal, Seminole carpenter, who was alleged to have been run over by the woman on highway 51, near Seagraves, about two weeks ago.

We regret very much to report that Mrs. H. D. Heath Sr., of Yoakum county, is confined for treatment at the Baldwin-Lovett hospital at Olney. Relatives say she is making no progress toward recovery. Her daughter, Mrs. Boyd, lives in Olney.

Says Roy Phillips, Wednesday noon: We are now getting that million dollar rain.

Rev. J. Howard Williams and Mrs. Williams of Amarillo, were here Tuesday, when Rev. Williams filled the pulpit at the First Baptist church, in the evening.

YOU CAN DEPEND ON ICE

Pure, clean ice has always been FIRST in mind for the natural preservation of foods and meats. It consistently keeps foods garden-fresh; never too cold, never too warm; always the right temperature for proper refrigeration. Seniors Last Will and Testament

Editor's Note: This should have appeared last week, but better late than never.

KNOW ALL CLASSMATES BY THESE PRESENTS:

We, the Senior class of 1940, of the City of Brownfield and County of Terry, State of Texas, being with many pleasant memories and without sound and disposing mind, and acting under the influence of several people, do make, publish, and declare this our last Will and Testament in the manner following, that is to say:

First: We hereby annul and cancel all former wills which in our unknowing state may have been made at any time.

Second: We leave peace and contentment to the school which it missed while we were here. Also in remembrance, we lay the grey hair the teachers have acquired from worry over some of the lazy seniors.

Third: We leave to the senior class of next year the cooperation we demonstrated by voting unananimously on all matters put before us, then never carrying anything through.

Fourth: We give and bequeath our private and personal possessions as follows:

I, Eleanor Gillham will my knowledge of the financial affairs of all seniors to Virginia Stroup.

I, Desmond Murry, leave to Aubrey Jones my date book, including all names, addresses, etc. They'll be expecting you.

I, Anna Muriel Moore, leave all my piano music to Jimmy Green. I, Meredith Hodges, will my office authority to anyone who is chump enough to take it.

I, Imogene Fitzgerald, will my one and only copy of "How to Make Myself Tall" by Vere Short to Mary Alice Tidwell. I hope it helps you; it didn't me.

I, Troy Marshall, will to Virgil Walker my pleasant smile.

I, Redell Parks, will to Dolores Snodgrass and Augustine Murry my willingness to help at all times.

I, Eddie Helms, leave to Richard Elliott my place as Clark Gable of the class.

I, Dorothy Snodgrass, will my delicacy to Irvadell Clauch.

I, Dewey Rogers, leave that glance to Carl Corley. I used it once too often.

I, Virgella Nan Dunn, will my favorite piece of gum to Jo Pete May; it's just been chewed twice.

I, Ray Elliott, leave my quiet manners to Pat Ramseur.

I, La Verne Collier will to Grace Tarpley my Carlsbad boy friend.

I, Winfred Doss, will my place on the track team to Walter D. Burnett.

I, Jewell Mack Joyce, will to Lois Chambliss my ability to concentrate on school and leave the boys alone.

I, Eugene Locke, will to Jack Thompson all my recent girl friends.

I, Mary Louise Ballard, will my method of soft soaping the teachers to La Rue Ross. It works sometimes.

I, Bobby Lewis, will all my girl friends to anyone whose initials are B. O. B.

I, Evelyn Jones, being one that won't change her mind, will my "To do or die" motto to Dorothy Chisholm.

I, Hulon Wall, leave my penmanship to Bobby Perry.

I, Rosavene Jenkins, leave my book on "How to Reduce" by Minnie Pounds to Katherine Marchbanks. I've heard it's a good one.

I, Odell Spear, will to H. M. Austin my place as manager of the football squad unless I'm back next year.

I, Jackie Holt, will my ability to disagree with Mr. Nooncaster to Jerry Bolles. I hope you can get by with it like I did.

I, Tommy Hicks, will to M. J. Akers my ability to keep my girl friends and acquaintances.

I, Frances Kee, leave to Daphne Huckabee my quiet ways. It's a good line if you use it right.

I, Cecil Brown, leave my passing arm to Dunk Warren. It gets you more places than one.

I, Arthur Buchanan, will to James Mullins my ability to run teachers insane. It's rather easy you know.

I, Wanetah McLeRoy, will to Irene Thurman my innocence, it pays.

We, Alton and Elton Wilmetts, will our ability to pass our subjects to any 1941 Seniors who have interested parents.

I, Pete Martin, leave to Billie Moore the privilege to read all notes found in desks, halls, and waste paper baskets and to look up grades in the teacher's register available. You'll find it amusing, Billie.

We, Vernice Anderson and Lucy Dow Myrick, will to La Verne Perry our love for volley ball and other sports.

I, James Patterson leave my dignified airs to Louis Waters.

I, Dorothy Fay Sexton, will my dark complexion to Billie Dean Luker.

I, Troy Franklin, leave my handy grin to R. H. Clements.

I, Elizabeth Smith, will my right to complain about all things at any time to Bobbie Nell Newson.

I, Leo Morris, will my ambition to be president of the U. S. to Loran Bradley.

I, Mary Jo Morton, leave my right to wear short dresses to Winona Myrick.

I, Philip Thompson, will to Horace Johnson my efficiency in making certain hearts to pitter pat.

I, Roy D. Greer, will my physique to Alfred Smith.

I, Beth Hamilton, will to Dorothy Jean Powers my excess energy.

I, Winnie DuBose, leave to Ireba Mosier my schoolgirl complexion. Fresh up with a Woodbury facial.

We, Claudie and Alfred Gore, will to Charlie Rambo our outstanding class grades. Think twice before you take them, Charlie.

I, Katherine Ince, will my blonde hair to Joy Greenfield. To the beauty parlor twice a week.

I, James Bowers, will my manly chest to Pat Wayne Franklin.

I, Louise Leonard will to Roberta Hurst my timid nature and ability to blush.

I, Earl Burnett, leave my egotistical ways to the only one who needs them—James Bryan.

I, Doris Sherman, will my voice to Vivian Seale. A song a day brings the boys your way.

I, Joe Broun, leave my place as teacher's pet to the one and only—Buddie Rambo.

I, Marcell Tuckness, will my wide smile to Ruth Donathan and Mary Ann Stephens. Just another way to win the boys.

I, Ernest Warren, will to Homer Knoll Hughes my 6 feet, 2 inches.

I, Mary Jean Lees, will to Genevieve Murphy my trim figure. Take as good care of it as I did please.

I, Dale Rentfro, will to Alvin Kelly my unstinted flow of speech at all times.

I, Lauretta Goin, will to Doris Cain my ability to flirt with all the boys and get by with it. It's nice work if you can get it.

I, Byron Black, leave my ability to take other boys girl friends to Elijah Henderson.

I, Leta Zae McKenzie, will my winning smile to Bobbie Virginia Bowers. You can get anything with that.

I, Wayne Rowden, will my ability in athletics to one who needs it most—Gene Hill.

I, Mary Martin, leave my place in the office to Loraine Johnson. Don't let them work you as much as they did me.

I, Rayburn Burns, leave my quite ways to Rusty Jenkins. He needs them.

I, Roberta Webber, will my wardrobe to Betty Shelton.

I, Gwynn Elliott leave my girl-ish figure to R. L. Clay.

I, Joy Sawyer, will my high moral standards to anyone who needs them. They come in handy sometimes.

I, Lagene Irwin, will my school girl complexion to Roy Barrett. Use Palmolive soap each night before retiring.

I, Maurice Dean will to Roleta Nettles my ticket to the Thursday show.

I, Roy Harris, leave to Jesse Lasiter my way with the women.

I, Flaura Lee Shults, will to Nell Marie Eckert my quiet manners. It helps.

I, Buford Milner, will to Earl Bond my sense of humor. Sometimes it almost works.

I, R. D. Jones, will my favorite boxing gloves to Lucian Greenfield. If not needed, send back within five days by airmail.

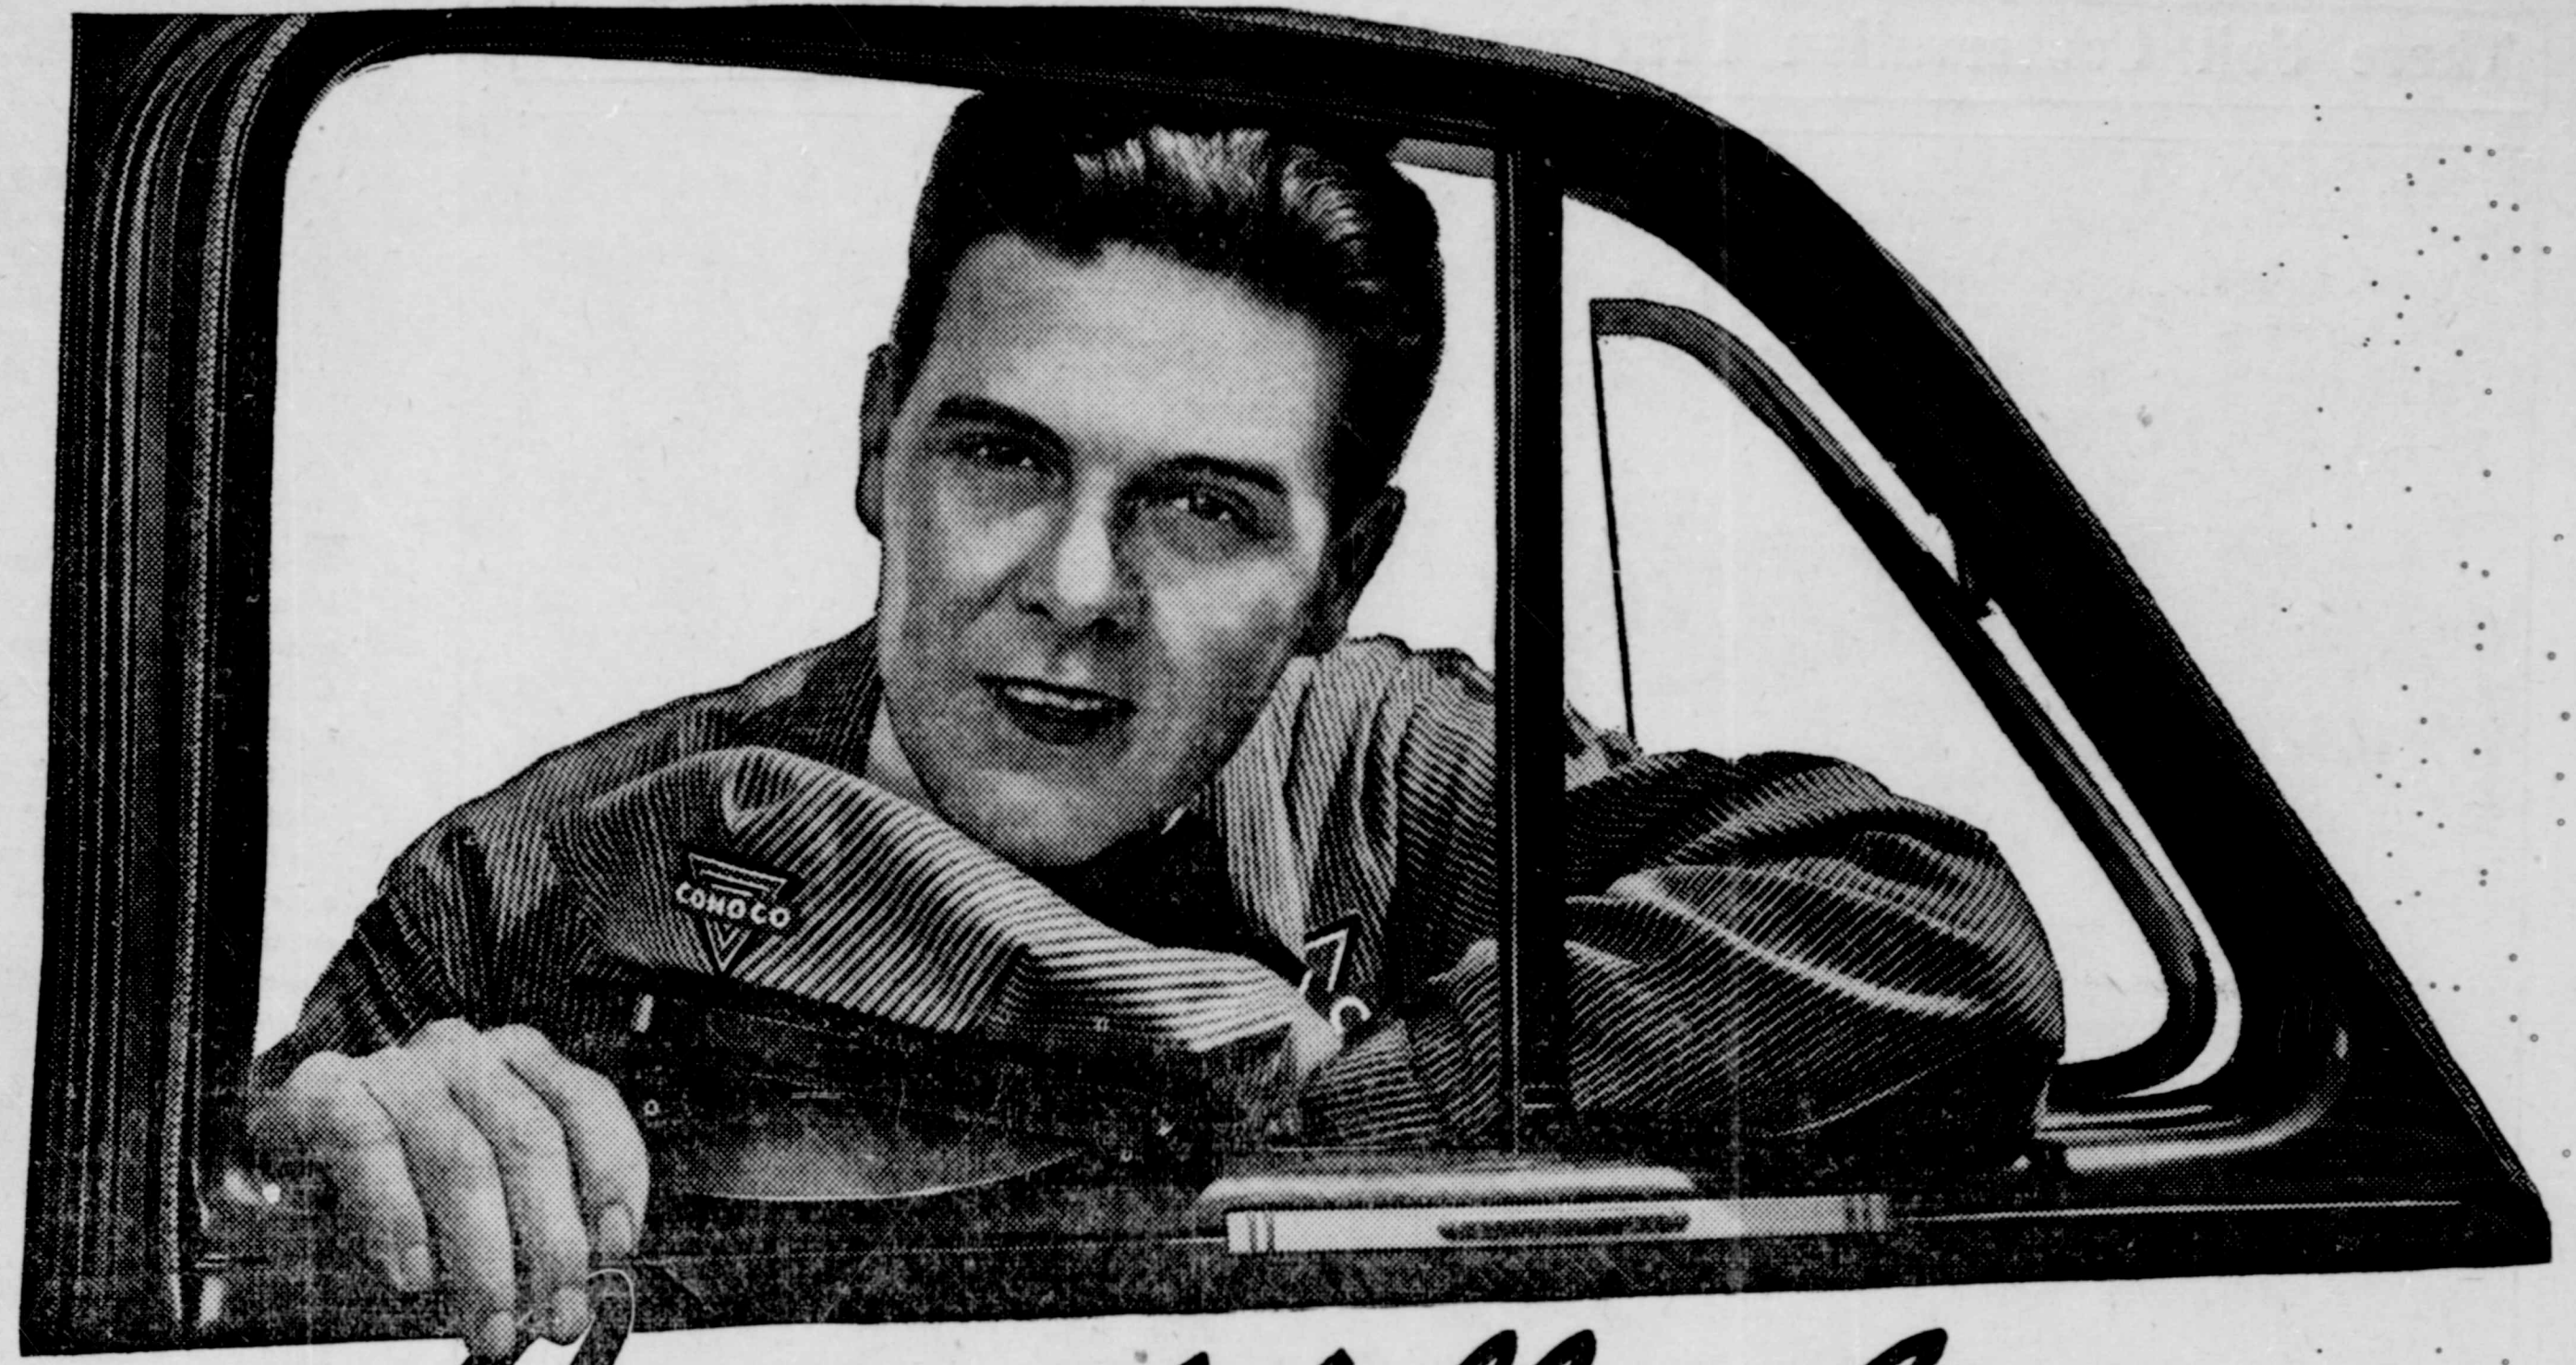

We, Cieta Garner and Barbara Garrett, leave our inseparable friendship to Terry Lou Moorhead and Louise Mason. Friends are handy at times.

I, Harold Simms, will to Billy Redford my ability to "City Slick" Mr. Brewer and get out of school.

I, Eerie Mae Martin will my quiet ways to Inez Irwin and Nelly Goodnight.

I, Buel Price, leave my regular Thursday afternoon show ticket to anyone that doesn't have one. Doesn't anyone need it?

TESTING CASTOR BEAN VARIETIES AT TEXAS TECH

LUBBOCK, May 7.—Yields of 49 different types of castor beans grown on Texas Technological college farm last season range from 24.6 to 3.76 bushels per acre. Seven types yielded more than 20 bushels to the acre, seven between 15 and 20 bushels, and four less than 10 bushels per acre.

Oil content of the different types ranged from 49 to 59.6 per cent of their weight. Some with lower yields, however, showed higher oil content than others producing more bushels to the acre.

"These yields are under dry land conditions," said Earl T. Duke, agronomy instructor in charge of the experiment. "Irrigation might increase this yield enormously."

Mr. and Mrs. Lal Copeland of Rails were here Sunday, en route to Seagraves, where they were called when Wilson Copeland, brother of Lal, was injured in an accident.

Born and Reared In The Oil Business

FORT WORTH, May 7.—Granddaughter, daughter and widow of an oilman, Mrs. Leonne O'Donnell of Ranger, herself one of the few women oil operators in the world, told the story of a woman in the oil business to members of the Business and Professional Women's Club here Tuesday noon.

"My grandfather was a drilling contractor, one of the first in America, and I grew up almost in the shadow of the Drake well which started the oil industry," Mrs. O'Donnell said. "My father worked with him as a driller in Pennsylvania, then drilled wells in California, Canada and Texas, including the first well at Ranger. I worked in the Ranger oil offices myself, then married an oilman and helped him in the field with his business. When he died, I took over management of our producing properties and with the help of our many friends have carried on."

"So when somebody asks how I happen to be in the oil business, I have four good reasons: I was born into it, I grew up in it, I worked in it and I married into it. My family has made its living from oil for three generations and my whole life has been built around it."

"The oil business is a fine, decent, clean business. Its rewards are sometimes large, but more often are small and its risks are heavy. Particularly today with the present high taxes, its profits are likely to be meager. Take my own business, for instance. I pay 3-16ths of my total income or 19 per cent, to the owners of the land upon which my wells are

Think

By Capt. Chas F. Lindsay, Texas Safety Council.

It didn't happen in Texas—but it could have.

A few days ago in Natchez, Miss., a firetrap caught on fire and cremated some 200 negroes, gathered there for a good time.

There was but one exit to the plank building, which had a corrugated roof. That exit was a narrow doorway, through which not more than two or three could pass at a time. The fire started near the doorway and the poor Negroes were trapped and died a horrible death.

Who knows how many such flimsy buildings, with improper exits, are in Texas? There are many. They are frequented in some places by whites and in other places by black. In every case human life is seriously endangered.

Most cities in Texas have ordinances regulating such things. The State has a fire escape law.

Would it not be well for all our towns and cities immediately to check the situation as concerns such buildings as these? We do not want 200 Texans, regardless of color, to become a human pyre, when it can so easily be prevented.

Places where masses of people congregate for amusement, lodge meetings, or whatever it may be, should be inspected now and if they are fire hazards, they ought to be closed to the public, until such time as the ordinary rules of Safety are respected.

Not all the accidents, not all the fatalities occur on the streets and highways as the result of automobile accidents. These are the ones brought to public notice—but accidents in the home, accidents such as that in Natchez, and many others, require the same

U. S. BUSINESS CONFIDENCE NOTED BY SALES CHIEF

Confidence in the ability of American business to maintain and even improve its present high level is nationwide, D. U. Bathrick, general salesmanager of Pontiac Motor Division—just returned from a sales tour which took him to the West coast—declared today.

"We know from our sales figures that the automobile business is good," Bathrick said. "But the trip was a revelation in disclosing the confidence in the future held by persons in every line of business."

"This, to my mind, is a very satisfactory state of affairs and bodes well for the establishment of 1940 as a record breaking business year. National confidence cannot help but encourage more widespread purchases of not only automobiles but of all types of durable goods."

These Soil Conservation Practices Can Check Next Year's Dust

Agricultural workers in the wind erosion area of the Southern Great Plains point out that now is the opportune time to start the fight against dust storms of next year. This spring there are many thousand acres of barren land subject to both wind and water erosion like the field at the upper left. Contour tillage, strengthened by terraces where necessary, (upper right) will place the land in condition to catch and hold practically all available moisture during spring and summer. These contour rows and terraces hold the water evenly over the field (center), with the result that a uniform and usually more profitable crop results (lower left). Stubble left on the land when the crop is harvested and properly protected from overgrazing (lower right) provides a safeguard against soil blowing during the winter and spring. The county agricultural agent will furnish additional information about wind erosion control practices which may be seen in actual use in Soil Conservation Service demonstration areas and soil conservation districts, and for which AAA benefit payments may be received.

County-Wide Action To Combat Erosion

By C. T. Williams, Area Conservationist, Soil Conservation Service

Most of the farmers on the South Plains are becoming erosion conscious. Many are using soil and moisture conservation practices to combat erosion.

Little erosion occurred in this area prior to the breaking out of the sod, for nature had protected the land with a native cover. After land is cultivated for several years and little crop residue is left on the land to protect it from the action of water and wind, erosion becomes the farmers' No. 1 problem. Tax valuations in many communities in Texas have been cut in half for the last twenty years. Many towns are now "ghost" towns.

Erosion is now beginning to be serious in certain areas of the High Plains and it is a serious problem on certain farms in every section of the High Plains. Most of the farmers in this section are aware of soil erosion, since they came from section of Texas and other states where water erosion has been active the last score of years. The very fact that water erosion has largely destroyed the soil on farms is the reason that many of them came to this country. They thought when they came here, as some still do, that due to the land being "level" water erosion would not be a problem. Many fields now have gullies in them. It is true that water is slowly but surely taking its toll, but wind erosion in this area is far more serious.

To date only a very small acreage in this area has been damaged by wind erosion to the extent that it is not profitable to continue cultivation. These small damaged areas, however, are warnings and should be enough to teach us that all of this good soil is susceptible to wind erosion unless measures are taken immediately by the owners of the land to correct and prevent wind erosion. Some of the people say "that can't happen here." The people who lived in the northern part of the Great Plains prior to 1933 said the same thing. It did happen. Approximately 6 million acres of good soil, very similar to the soil in this area, has been destroyed. The farmers lost the farms and were forced to leave them. The good farm land in this area could be kept at a high production level by coordinating the efforts of all operators and land owners in the area in carrying out intensive, simple soil and moisture conservation practices each year.

The Soil Conservation Service established two demonstration areas on the South Plains in the summer of 1935, with headquarters at Littlefield and Lamesa, Texas, using CCC labor. Each of these demonstration areas covers approximately one-quarter million acres. Farmers were selected in each of the different communities within the area for the purpose of cooperating with the trained technical men of the Soil Conservation Service in combating erosion. The soil and moisture conservation practices, as recommended and carried out by the farmers on these selected farms, were so effective in controlling water and wind erosion and increasing crop yields that, to date, approximately 500 farmers in these two areas are on the waiting list for receiving the services that the Soil Conservation Service has to offer.

Interest in conservation of soil and moisture is spreading over the entire South Plains area. Farmers in Cochran, Terry and Yoakum Counties will vote May 25 on the creation of a state soil and moisture Conservation District. Floyd County has already voted on a District and it will be in operation in the near future. Favorable hearings for Districts have been held in Lubbock, Hale, Hall and Crosby Counties.

Petitions have been received by the State Board for hearings for Districts in Childress, Swisher and Briscoe Counties. Farm Demonstration Agents and Vocational Agriculture teachers have been very active in the above named counties in carrying information to the farmers in regard to creating Conservation Districts.

Districts make it possible for farmers to combine their efforts to do the job of combating erosion, which cannot be carried out successfully by individuals working alone. Soil Conservation Districts are thoroughly democratic, as none can be formed unless voted by the farmers. Locally elected supervisors manage the affairs of the Districts. The supervisors cannot issue bonds, create a debt, nor levy assessments; they can, however, ask for and receive the assistance of Federal, State and local agencies. Districts are eligible for CCC Camp labor, whenever it is available. WPA labor, where available, may be used for the District in the very same manner in which CCC labor is used. They may receive donations and grants from Federal, State and local agencies. Equipment and material that will aid in erosion control are furnished to the Districts when available. Technically trained men will be available to the Districts at no cost to the Districts or to the farmers. This assistance now is available only to farmers in areas where Districts have been organized or where erosion control demonstration projects and CCC Camps are located.

Several hundred Soil Conservation Districts already have been organized in the thirty-six states within which such action has been authorized by legislatures, and many others now are in the process of being formed.

This area needs erosion control work as much as any other part of the State. It is apparent that the best way to get the job done is through Soil Conservation Districts.

THE FORD WAY OF DOING BUSINESS

The Ford Motor Company was founded by a working-man for working-men. Its present officers began as employees of the Company. It was the first company to pay a minimum wage, beginning in 1914, at the then astounding figure of $5 a day. That was double the prevailing wage of the time. The Ford minimum is now $6 a day for all employees engaged in production work. And from that, the wages rise to $10.80 a day, with the average wage $7.25, exclusive of salaried employees.

The Ford Motor Company was the first large company to establish the 8-hour day—also in 1914. And the 40-hour week was inaugurated by the Ford Motor Company in 1926, years before any such laws existed.

The Ford Motor Company employs men without regard to race, creed or color. It is common knowledge that working conditions in the Ford shops are the best that science and constant care can make them. A square deal, a just wage and stabilized employment for a large proportion of our employees—and as fully stabilized for all as conditions will permit—enable our men to retain their personal independence.

In consequence of these policies the Ford Motor Company has one of the finest bodies of employees in the world. The larger proportion are mature men of long service with the Company—sober, decent family men. Hundreds of them have been with the Company for more than 25 years—thousands for more than 15 years. Their health record, home ownership and citizenship records are good.

All this is reflected in Ford products, whether cars, trucks or tractors. The work is honestly done. Materials are the best that can be made or procured. Less profit to the Company and more value to the customer is known throughout the motoring world as "Ford's way of doing business."

Ford Motor Company was the first to make a motor car within the means of the average family—quitting the manufacture of what was then the largest selling model in the world to do so. Its chosen field in all the 30 years since that time has been the average American family—for which it has consistently provided car facilities which formerly only the wealthy could buy.

It is the policy of the Ford Motor Company to share the benefits of advanced methods and management with workers and public alike. Increased wages and employment over a period of many years have resulted in

A 300 per cent increase in the built-in value of the Ford car and a 75 per cent reduction in its price.

Henry Ford and Edsel Ford keep daily personal touch with all phases of Ford manufacture. In a conference with his staff, Henry Ford often says: "Go ahead—I'll sit here and represent the public."

Mr. Farley's Extra 2c A Nuisance Tax

The Herald has been and still is quite a New Dealer in most things, but there have been several things introduced under it that are strictly speaking, a nuisance, and one of them is the 2c publishers have to pay out, several a week, when a subscriber in another town elects to change his address, either to another town or another street address. Generally speaking, postal employees are either too indifferent or lazy to try to find out where the person moved, and the subscriber has to be cut off the list until they notify the paper direct their new address. In a year's time this little 2c amounts to quite a bit of money. Subscribers could save the publisher this by notifying them of contemplated change in address on a postal card.

Formerly, under the old deal, the notice was sent to the publisher without cost, even if the budget was not "balanced." If there were no other leaks, it would be ok to make publishers pay the 2c. But, we wish the average reader could see the daily and weekly amount of mail that comes from the government under the "frank" system, much of which no more applies to this section than pineapples to the north pole. Pure propaganda to take up the time of the publisher opening and tossing in the waste basket.

Publishers should raise old Billy Hell until they get some justice about this matter. And we can't blame the postal folks. They had nothing to do with the matter whatever. On the other hand, sometimes we think they make a mighty fine effort to deliver mail promptly. Only last week, our wife got a letter addressed to her from a California relative, in her maiden name, Texie Holden, a name she has not worn in thirty years.

We were not aware that there was a clerk in the office at the present time that even knew her maiden name.

The Fergusons and the Tenant Farmer

Farmer Jim Ferguson is the first Governor of the State to make a plea in behalf of the tenant farmers of Texas. It was his concern over the plight of those forgotten men of the soil which drew him from the ranks of private citizens many years ago and established him as a leader among the Agricultural classes.

Legislation for the protection of the tenant farmer against the oppression of excessive rents and for Federal and State loans at a low rate of interest has been vigorously advocated by Farmer Jim during his entire public career.

As evidence of the soundness of the Ferguson program for the tenant farmer, the Federal Government has now approved the plan to lend money to tenant farmers to buy homes on a long time basis with a low rate of interest. As a result 75 million dollars has been made available to tenant farmers on easy terms.

When Miriam A. Ferguson is again elected Governor of Texas, the National Congress will look upon Texas as a Commonwealth which has led the way to long needed reform and National wealth will be used to make us a Nation of home owners and the industrious tenant farmer will again come into his own.

Prominent Guests of The Kendrick Party

We wish to thank our new Chamber of Commerce Secretary, Mr. T. L. Patterson, for a list of prominent personages in this section, who attended the Kendrick party at his ranch in Yoakum county last Wednesday afternoon. Eliminating the list of those from this city, which most all knew, we find:

Hon. Louis B. Reed, Lamesa, district judge; O. V. Perry, Denver City, marshal; Joe B. Ellison, sheriff Yoakum county; B. F. Bartlett, Yoakum county commissioner; J. C. Sartin, sheriff Gaines county; Wallace Anderson, Yoakum county; L. W. Wynn, Denver City peace officer; Paul Hardwick, and Geo. S. Benson, Citizens National Bank of Lubbock; Sam Weaver, W. Bogart and S. C. Cone, Lubbock; Walter Posey and Roy Riddle, 1st National Bank, Lubbock.

H. M. Hooper, Denver City, Chamber of Commerce; Archie S. Underwood and Geo. Evans, Lubbock; Neill Wright, Lubbock; Walter Hornaday of the Dallas News; Chas. A. Guy of the Avalanche Journal, Lubbock; Champ Clark, Fort Worth banker; C. A. Hollingsworth, Lamesa banker; Senator G. H. Nelson, Lubbock.

We neglected to mention that Lee O. Allen, mayor of Tokio, helped Sam Pycatt with the barbecue, and was right there when the serving time came.

Gasoline Mileage Accurately Checks

Ponca City, Okla., May 22.—A device by which motorists can quickly and accurately measure their gasoline mileage is being introduced today by Continental Oil Company in a nationwide newspaper advertising campaign which includes the Terry County Herald.

The "Mile-Dial" is a simple device which keeps count of the number of gallons of Conoco Bronz-z-z gasoline purchased and the number of miles traveled during the test, and automatically calculates the miles per gallon by a simple turn of the dial.

The dial, which can be obtained free at service stations selling Continental Oil Company products, can be attached to the dash without marring the surface or can be carried in the glove compartment of the car. With it the motorist can make frequent checks of the mileage he obtains from Conoco Bronz-z-z gasoline and can at the same time easily accumulate his purchases and miles traveled, so that an average miles-per-gallon over a long period can also be determined.

The Mile-Dial was invented by Continental Oil Company engineers, and its mathematical accuracy has been certified by F. A. Bergen, chairman, mechanical engineering department, Washington University.

Mr. and Mrs. Will C. Brown and children left Sunday for a two weeks vacation in California and other Western points. They will visit San Francisco, Los Angeles, and also plan to see Boulder Dam and the Yosemite National Park.

Mahon for Extensive Home Ownership

Declaring that a more comprehensive farm home-ownership program is immediately needed, Congressman George Mahon last week urged the Congress to pass legislation at this Session which would more adequately deal with the problem of farm tenancy. He spoke in support of two approaches to the problem. The first was a plan which would authorize the RFC to make loans up to $50,000,000 to continue the farm Tenant Purchase program which has been in operation since 1937. The House approved the plan as a part of the Agricultural Appropriation bill.

He said that he felt a better approach to the problem would be through the so-called Farm Tenant-Mortgage Insurance bill which passed the Senate last year and has been approved by the House Committee on Agriculture. Under this plan loans would be insured by the Government for farm home purchases to the extent of a total of $350,000,000 at 3 per cent interest rate. Large appropriations by Congress would not be necessary as the money would be loaned by private capital, the Government supervising and guaranteeing the loans as is now the case in loans made by the Federal Housing Administration.

Mahon stated, "I have been co-operating with Marvin Jones, Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, since the introduction of the bill last year, and I shall continue to work for improvement and passage of the measure."

Berlin Lincoln was carried back to Dallas, Wednesday, for further treatment. He was accompanied by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aoe Lincoln and Elder and Mrs. Jas. F. Black.

Diabetes, Disease of Modern Living

Diabetes, the price America pays for indiscretions in living, took a toll of 720 lives in Texas last year, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"While the controllable diseases, such as typhoid fever, malaria, diphtheria and Smallpox, are causing a smaller number of deaths each year in this country, diabetes, which was notably absent in the early pioneer days, is now taking a staggering number of lives," Dr. Cox said.

"Up until the highly mechanized age diabetes was not a health problem, but the disease became noticeable in direct ratio to the encroachment of luxury living, soft eating, soft habits, and general disregard for basic hygienic laws in our daily lives. Diabetes is nature's back-slap at coddling and pampering the body," Dr. Cox pointed out.

"Diabetes is a class disease. It attacks the indoor, sedentary type of person more often than a per-

In This Corner

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Edwards of Edwards Fine Foods Store, have the loveliest twin daughters, Billie Jean and Bobbie Dean, six-months old. They have large brown eyes and dark hair and look like two big dolls. Their mother can be seen most any afternoon with them in their buggy, being wheeled on the north side of the school grounds. . . Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cobb of Tokio were in town Saturday with their handsome, dark-eyed five-months-old twin sons, attracting a lot of attention.

One of the grandest vacations will be enjoyed by Mrs. W. B. Toone, spent with her son Terrell and family of Panama, who landed in New York, Saturday 11th. They, with Mrs. Toone will visit in Tennessee and will likely spend a couple or more months in the mountains of North Carolina, where they will enjoy some summer-winter weather. It's always summer where the Terrell Toones live. Mrs. Toone stated it would be a few weeks before she left to join them as they wanted to enjoy New York while there.

Mrs. Racheal Tipton has a lovely summer vacation planned. She will leave soon after the first for Lake Charles, La., to visit two nephews, then on to Picayune, Miss., to visit a sister and a niece. The niece, whom she hasn't seen since she was a baby, was born in South America. Everyone, almost, that we have talked with have vacation plans in formation. Mrs. I. M. Bailey and Mrs. T. L. Treadaway will join Miss Pirtles' of Texas Tech's group for a six weeks tour of the eastern states, New York City and on to Canada.

Just because one is a grandmother is no reason to be put on the shelf, for the greatest things have been accomplished after one is forty. We have Mrs. W. H. Dallas in mind, who is one, if not the busiest we know of—a model of efficiency, runs her own home, cooks for seven, teaches music, has time to be president of the Cen-Tex Music club, (she is the outgoing president, organized the club), is fourth vice president of the Texas Federation of Music clubs, agent for Texas Floral, and has organized music clubs at Plains, Seagraves, Denver City, attends social functions, active in church work and is ever ready to help her neighbor, always gracious and has one of the most pleasing personalities of anyone we have ever known.

With summer comes the one great desire of most, if not all boys in town; to be as suntanned as Sammie and Bobbie Jones, the handsome young sons of Mrs. Ethel Jones. We believe Sonny Repp, Mon Telford Jr., and Leon Lewis come the nearest to this perfection. They all vie to see who can have the darkest tan. Mon Jr., who has been ill for several weeks, is doing nicely now but will have to rest in the afternoons, so will not likely have his usual tan, but will be in the race later this summer.

One of the prettiest little parks in the making is that of the city at the intersection of the Tahoka and Lubbock highways. Workmen were busy last week and part of this week putting out trees and shrubs. This block of land at one time was given by the city to the Maids and Matrons club, for a club site, but for some cause or other the city could not give a deed to it or sell it to them, if anything but a club house was ever built on it or the club house used for any other purpose, it reverted back to the city. It will make a lovely little park, but is not a very desirable place for a club house on account of parking space. The club house will be built on a lot given by Dick Brownfield on east Broadway and it is hoped that work will be started by early fall.

Miss Juanita Holder spent the past week end with her parents at Meadow.

HOMEMAKING CLASSES ORGANIZED TO RUN THROUGH JUNE

The home making classes have been organized into five groups, one meeting each day during the week for their summer home project work, for which they will get one-half credit. The classes continue through June.

Each girl chooses some project for home work in food, clothing and home improvement and then works with her group on a project at school. Some of the group projects planned are curtains for the clothing laboratory at school, refurbishing and possibly some room improvements in other parts of the building.

The girls went down in two groups to visit the WPA exhibits this week, and several field trips have been discussed for the following weeks.

MRS. JOHN KENDRICK HOSTESS TO H. & H. CLUB

Mr. Bentley will receive a Bachelor of Science Degree in Mathematics. He has been a four year letter man on the Lobo Football Team.

MISS BYNUM MEMBER OF T.I.P. CLUB

McMurry College, May 21.—Saturday night, May 26th, in a beautiful Japanese garden scene Sue Bynum, sophomore student from Brownfield, will be presented by the T. I. P., girls' social club at McMurry College. Miss Bynum is a new member of the club having served a pledgeship of three months. She pledged with a group of twenty girls, who will also be presented before the members of the other two girls' social clubs, guests of the T. I. P.

Other than being a member of the T.I.P., Miss Bynum is active in the journalistic department, being a regular reporter on the college publication, the War Whoop, and having attained membership in the Press Club.

She has also taken an active part in many religious activities, holding the positions of social service chairman of the Student Council of Religious Activities and reporter of the Volunteer Mission Band.

Mrs. Toke Power and Mrs. Orville Bowman were called to Estelline, Sunday because of the illness of their father.

MRS. WEBBER ATTENDS ALUMNI MEETING

Mrs. G. S. Webber returned Tuesday from Mangum, Okla., where she attended the High School Alumni Association meeting. Mangum is said to have the largest organization of this kind in the country. The 1906 class of which Mrs. Webber was a member won the trophy for having the highest attendance this year, having fifty percent of their class present, with four of the original eight in attendance. This association was organized in 1908 and now has between twenty-five hundred and three thousand members. There were three hundred present from all over the U. S. A. this year. This is the first time Mrs. Webber has attended since 1929. She reports a very enjoyable trip.

The pastor brought the morning message which was well received and touching reference was made to many who have made real sacrifice in their offerings to make the new building a possibility.

Next week in this column will be brought the names and amounts given, of each family that has contributed to make the building possible, but are not members of the church. We naturally feel that families represented in the membership will contribute to make it possible, but desire to make special mention of families who are so thoughtful and generous to do so, but are not members.

JANET DAVIS HONORED ON TENTH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. E. C. Davis honored her daughter, Janet, with a picnic supper Friday evening at their home, to celebrate her tenth birthday. Following the picnic the group attended the Rialto Theatre.

Guests were Frances Wier, Theda Bell Hurst, Hazel Vernon, Vasca Lou Smith, Aquilla Hendricks, Margaret Kapple, Cheesy McSpadden, Janie Irene Mason and Joyce Walls.

DELTA-HAND CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. WAYNE BROWN

Mrs. Wayne Brown was hostess to the Delta Hand club Thursday of last week at her home. Mrs. Alfred Mangum scored high and Mrs. Martin Line second high. Mrs. Ed Mayfield received the guest prize.

Refreshments of sandwiches, potato chips, lemon pie and iced tea were served to Mmes. W. C. Brown, W. C. Burrows, Lorn Walter, Alfred Mangum, Martin Line, L. A. Greenfield, Ed Mayfield, Mike Blair, Tobe Helms, Stafford and Jack Benton.

BAPTIST W. M. U.

The Christine Chen Circle of the First Baptist W.M.U. met Monday afternoon with Mrs. C. L. Green for Bible study. An interesting lesson was taught from the books of Exodus and Leviticus by Mrs. W. M. Daniell.

Refreshments of cherry pie a La Mode and iced tea were served to Mmes. E. L. Baird, J. W. Nelson, Hugh Poer, Bob Noble, R. Q. Reed, L. A. Greenfield, L. L. Jenkins, J. S. Tipton and W. W. Daniels.

The circle will meet with Mrs. R. Q. Reed the first Monday in June. The plans are to quilt for Buckner's Orphans Home. All the members are urged to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Anthony and small daughter have returned from a visit in Hobbs and a fishing trip to Red Bluff dam.

Miss Jewel Edwards, teacher in Brownfield high school left Sunday for her home in Paris, Texas.

Orland Cary, of Snyder, is visiting his brother, A. E. Cary and Mrs. Cary, this week.

Mrs. E. M. Riley and two children, Mrs. A. T. Wood and son, Kenneth have been visiting in Paducah and Quana for the past ten days, returned home Sunday.

School closed last Friday night with the Senior's graduating exercises. The class was composed of thirteen young boys and girls. They left Saturday for an outing in the Davis Mountains. Miss Josie Oliver, Miss Almeda Grigg, Mrs. McWhirter and possibly others accompanied them. Oral Trotter drove the school bus for them. All the teachers are leaving in a few days for different points. Mrs. McWhirter will go to school at Denton; Mr. Payne will attend Texas University; Misses Oliver and Grigg are taking a vacation in the state of California.

Mr. Scott, principal of the high school, was called home to be with his mother, who is ill. His home is near Oklahoma City.

Mr. Goza and family are leaving for Durant, Oklahoma, to spend a few days with Mr. Goza's mother.

Glenda Jo Oliver, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mutt Oliver, is having some trouble with her ears at this writing.

Mrs. George Pendleton was taken to the hospital in Brownfield, Saturday, for treatment.

Mrs. Walsie Harrington and father, Mr. W. A. Campbell, were Brownfield visitors, Saturday.

Misses Mary Edith Hudson and Nelda Bennett will leave Wednesday for California, where they will spend the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Yancey visited in the home of Mrs. L. P. Adair, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Bennet and children, Mrs. Irving and children and Mrs. Bradshaw visited in the home of Mrs. W. M. Green, Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Beulah Adkinson of Tahoka, visited friends here the last few days.

W. E. Henson, who has been staying with his sister, Mrs. Clovis Kendrick, left Thursday for his home in Ashdown, Arkansas.

South May Get New Pulp Mill Plants

The European war likely will result in the establishment of additional wood pulp mills in Texas and the South, Walter C. Johnson of Chattanooga, Tenn., secretary-manager of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association, said Saturday.

Johnson stopped in Ft. Worth en route to Mineral Wells, where Monday through Wednesday between 250 and 300 newspapermen from 14 States are expected to gather for the thirty-eighth annual meeting of the association.

The executive pointed out that because of the war, importation of the essential sulphite and sulphate chemical pulp from Norway and Finland virtually has ceased and that users of paper products are casting about for new sources.

"We can produce the pulp here in the South, and we must," Johnson declared. "One mill at Houston already is turning out the product, and four or five other groups are considering the erection of mills in Southern Louisiana, Alabama, Tennessee and Georgia."

LAHEY

It is really dry around here. We sure do need a rain. Most of the farmers are waiting for rain so they can plant.

Those visiting in the Bentley home Sunday were, Clarence Briscoe, Juanita Green, Gladys Webb, Prebble and Pauline Thomason, Christine Thomason, Deward Lambeth, Allen Thompson, and Spud Cox.

We are sorry to hear of Robbie Craven's illness. She has been sick quite a while, but we hope she has a speedy recovery.

We wish to express our sympathy to Gaylia and Maxine Thomason, who have the measles.

Mr. J. H. Ticer returned home Sunday from a few days trip to Kress and Plainview, where he visited relatives.

The Nickson brothers are giving Spud Cox a farewell party Tuesday night.

Wanda Pearl Thomason visited Maxine Thomas, Sunday.

Those visiting in the Ticer home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ticer and L. T. and Annie Lou Redding from Pool, also Aubrey Thomason.

Maureen Ticer visited Winona Thomason, Sunday.

Everybody is invited to the box supper Wednesday night.

DON'TS, IF BITTEN BY SNAKE

AUSTIN, May 22.—A warning about the dangers of snake bite has just been issued by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. A number of cases of snake bite are reported each year in Texas during the summer and early fall; however, few of them result fatally.

Most of the bites occur in the hands or feet, which indicates that stepping or falling in the immediate vicinity of the unseen snake or picking up objects under similar conditions are the hazards of contracting snake bite. The pain following the injection of the poison is most intense. Other symptoms are swelling, giddiness, difficult breathing, hemorrhage, vomiting, and weak pulse.

If one is bitten by a poisonous snake, such as the rattlesnake, the following first aid measures should be carried out:

After making proper incisions at the site of the wound, apply suction and continue for at least half an hour.

Apply a tourniquet above the site of the wound, releasing same every ten or fifteen minutes for about a minute at a time.

DO NOT run or get overheated and DO NOT take any alcoholic stimulants, because circulation increased by alcohol or exercise will serve to distribute the poison much more rapidly through the body.

DO NOT injure the tissues by injecting permanganate of potash, which is known to be of no value as an antidote.

DO NOT depend upon home remedies or so-called snake-bite cures, but call a physician immediately.

O. S. Gunter of Terral, Oklahoma, spent the week end with his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Gunter.

Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Newsom and family visited in the Gunter home Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Chambliss, Marcus, Lois, Miss Ora Belle Arnett and Mary Lou spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Gunter.

Prepare for Sickness While You're Well

We can hardly understand why more people are not taking out the hospital insurance that has recently been put on the market. The cost is insignificant compared to a few weeks in a hospital, providing you have to go. The local doctors are anxious that you take it out. But while most people are well, they never think of providing for misfortunes.

There is hardly a week passes that some one with a petition goes among the business and professional men of the town to get help for some one's operation or hospital bill, or a portion of it. We suppose the physicians take the rest of the loss. The cost of hospital care is so high that it is almost impossible to get to both friends with donations when you get sick.

Mr. Eugene Hurt, local attorney, who has charge of the hospital groups in Terry county informed us recently that the banks, some of the larger stores and even the hospital were taking this insurance on their employees. These employers figure of course that they would be called on to help their employees if sick, anyway.

Mr. Hurt stated that he had no advertising appropriation or he would use it all he could, but it is such a good thing for the community, that the Herald feels that it is its duty to tell the people about the matter.

The hardest groups to get together is the farm area, according to Mr. Hurt. It takes five working people in every group, and then as many dependants as one wishes. The thing for farm people to do is to mutually agree on their own groups, then have Mr. Hurt write their insurance.

This towering mass of limestone is the Giant Dome, world's largest stalagmite, which has been growing an inch each century and is reputed to be as old as the earth. The Dome, which is 62 feet high, is located in the Big Room at Carlsbad Caverns. The Room is nearly a mile long, 625 feet wide and has a ceiling 350 feet high.

Carlsbad Caverns National Park, situated in the foothills of the Guadalupe mountains near Carlsbad, New Mexico, is one of the most amazingly beautiful natural marvels in America. The Caverns, which became a National Park in 1930, were formed in the process of erosion by the gradual solution of underlying beds of limestone, gypsum and rock salt. They are filled with limestone formations of an infinite variety of shapes and sizes, ranging from icicle-like pendant cones of carbonate of lime, called stalactites, to the corresponding mushroom-like deposits of calcareous matter called stalagmites, found on the floors of the caves.

Jim White, a young cowboy, was the first white man to explore the caverns which he found in 1901, when he investigated the source of a dark moving column which appeared to come from the earth. The column proved to be an outrushing swarm of bats. Today the bats, numbering 3,000,000, provide a spectacle of their own as they leave the caves at sunset for a night's foray, to return at dawn and disappear into a portion of the Caverns not open to visitors.

The growing popularity of the Caverns has resulted in the establishment of a new service which enables Santa Fe travelers to make a minimum stop of one day to explore this underground Fairyland which Nature has been carving for 60 million years.

A leisurely tour of five hours permits inspection of the great chambers and time to enjoy a delightful luncheon at the halfway mark deep in the Caves. The trail leads through the Green Lake room, King's Palace, Queen's Chamber, Pappose's Chamber, and finally the Big Room where is found the Giant Dome, which bears a striking resemblance to the Leaning Tower of Pisa. Another majestic formation is the Rock of Ages where visitors halt for a brief talk, followed generally by the singing of the "Rock of Ages."

HARMONY INSTEAD OF HATRED IS THE FERGUSONS' PROMISE

Unless the Governor possesses sufficient wisdom and diplomacy to command respect of the legislature, it is useless to hope that any constructive program can be carried out.

No purpose is served and the people are not benefitted when vicious attacks are made on members of that body in order that an alibi may be established.

Repeated charges against the political integrity of our lawmakers destroys all hope of future harmony and prevents any possibility of securing much needed legislation.

After all, the final responsibility rests with those elected to make our laws and any one who refuses to recognize, or is ignorant of this fundamental fact is totally unfit for the office of Governor.

The Fergusons' past record for harmony is the surest guarantee of their future relations with the legislature.

The Fergusons will speak at Fair Park, Dallas, Saturday, May 25th. Hear them over Radio Station KRLD, beginning at 8:15 P. M.

Stamford Protesting Change in 380

A letter this week from Glenn Burgess, manager of the Graham Chamber of Commerce, enclosed a copy of a letter from State Highway Engineer, Julian Montgomery, stating that Stamford had entered a protest against the re-routing of highway 380 from Aspermont due east to Fort Worth, via Haskell, Throckmorton, Graham, Jacksboro, into Fort Worth and Dallas, escaping a longer route and a very crooked one via Stamford, Albany, Breckenridge and Mineral Wells.

We infer from the Montgomery letter that after the protest of Stamford is heard, then the claims of the other route will be heard. Aspermont, we understand, is taking no sides, as Stamford was instrumental in helping them get the roads they have, but do acknowledge that the new route would help them. sent arrangements, 380 converges This side of Albany, under pre-into 80A on into Fort Worth, losing its identity. By having a 380 designated from Fort Worth, a traveler would know this to be a good route, if touring this section, or on into and through New Mexico, to the coast.

Coughers Should Not Handle Babies

Sanatorium, Texas.—A few simple health rules properly understood and intelligently followed are sufficient to prevent the spread of tuberculosis. This opinion was recently expressed by Dr. J. B. McKnight, superintendent of the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium, The large State Hospital 17 miles northwest of San Angelo.

Dr. McKnight said "no grown person with a cough should handle or fondle a baby or child."

"Tuberculosis is most often transmitted," he explained, "by open coughing and careless spitting. If we prevent these two common occurrences we would soon place tuberculosis under safe control. The average so-called healthy individual has no particular reason to suspect tuberculosis and therefore uses no precautions in regard to these careless practices. But any person with chronic cough should treat the condition as though it were of an infectious and contagious nature."

"It is not only a safe rule of health to practice personal hygiene, but it is likewise a matter of common decency not to cough openly in someone's face or to spit carelessly."

Dr. McKnight emphasized that "to control the chronic and careless cougher will also control the spread of tuberculosis."

PONTIAC CITES SALES JOB DONE BY NEWSPAPER ADS

Newspaper advertising is entitled to a good share of the credit for a 72 per cent increase in Pontiac Special Six sales over last year while sales of the division's entire line increased 62 per cent, according to D. U. Bathrick, general salesmanager of Pontiac Motor Division.

"We set our newspaper advertising to do a specific job: acquaint the public with the actual price and size of the Pontiac Special Six. The result is apparent in our model run sales figures to March 31 when 43,825 Special Sixes had been sold as against 25,546 in the same period of 1939.

"This, we believe, is a demonstration that newspaper display advertising is flexible enough to do double duty in an educational and selling campaign."
