Terry Gives O'Daniel Heavier Vote this Year

Some of the readers have asked us to dig up the vote for Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel in 1938 and this year for comparison. There were more than 300 more votes cast this year than in 1938, but the governor got a greater per cent of all votes cast for governor this year than in 1938. There were 2545 votes cast for the 13 candidates for governor in 1938, of which O'Daniel received 1517 or 59.6 per cent. This year, there were 2853 votes cast for all 7 candidates for governor, of which O'Daniel received 1814, or 63.6 per cent.

It is quite usual for any candidate for governor to get good support for re-election. Only in a few instances of the 40 years we have spent in Texas, when a governor was not nominated for their second term. We are hoping that Gov. O'Daniel's new mandate from the majority of Texas voters will amount to something, and that his promise of cooperation with the legislature will mean just that.

Speaking of popularity, there were others in Texas that seemed to be popular as well as Gov. O'Daniel. For instance, Tom Connally, George Mahon, Coke Stevenson, George Sheppard and Charley Lockhart received a greater percentage of the votes cast in their races by far than Gov. O'Daniel, both in Terry county, as well as in the state or district. And some of them were running for their 5th and 6th terms.

There were many surprises in the races, especially in the race for State Senate. Few people we talked with expected Allison to be defeated, although

To take the word of some of the high class state weeklies, big and smaller dailies, Wendell Wilkie already "has it in the bag." We'll just wait and see how the country weeklies, the farm population, and labor lines up. If they are still for Roosevelt, he'll be re-elected.

Speaking of lineups, Editor Sam Malone, who runs a paper at Seminole, while resorting through the summer at Gallup, N. M., writes in to say that about all the people there are opposed to a third term, and are lining up for Wilkie. Then he cites the fact that most of the people are of foreign extraction, 13 nationalities being represented in their schools. Well, the off-brands never have been very hot for FDR, and especially if they reside in western New Mexico. Or for that matter, any other Democrat.

Some of the famous "fifty-sixers" were defeated, some were re-elected in the first primary, and some are in runoff, mostly leading. A few did not choose to run. But what are running, are still against a sale or transaction tax, and we might add that our new senator-elect, Hon. Marshall Formby is against a sales tax in any form. And that is what probably defeated Alvin Allison. So far as we could learn, he never did tell where he stood on the tax proposition. We understand that Hop Halsey, representative-elect is against a sales tax. As we understand it, a majority of senators and representatives over the state will be against a sales tax.

The Texas firemen, and especially the volunteer firemen are for Olin Culberson almost 100 per cent in his runoff race against Pierce Brooks for Railroad Commissioner. And most of the oil field workers, as well as labor generally are for Culberson, it seems. The people in some sections know that he did a fine job when with the railroad commission in making gas and other utilities reduce rates. But for some unexplained reason, Jerry Sadler and Lon Smith gave him the gate. It might be quite galling to those gentlemen, Sadler and Smith, to have him succeed the latter, and set as an equal with the former.

In an article last week in which we stated that the 119th representative district had about 122,000 population, and some districts in central Texas, Parker and Wise county, for instance, had 20,000, and a representative, we also tried to state that Johnson county had about 30,000 and had a representative and a flatorial, but the type made us say Johnson county had 20,000, a 10,000 mistake. Anyway, we note that our district casts more votes than some of those districts have in entire population. West Texas should keep those east and central Texas boys in session night and day or get a square deal. We should have had redistricting by all means between 1930 and 1940, but we are just a big stepston to those mosquito-chigger bitten birds of east Texas.

Dry Weather Causes Crop Deterioration

In conversation with several Terry county farmers recently, one and all have stated that their crops prospects have gone back considerably during the past week or ten days of dry and intensely hot weather. This is especially true of old corn. Where they had rain in the west part of the county two weeks ago, the crops are holding up pretty well.

Henry Bates, who has farms in the north part of the county, says his old feed is fired up badly, but has fair grain, and he will start binders cutting it, and if he gets rain in the next ten days, will sow sorghum. Most of his younger feed is still holding up pretty well. In fact, he says he still has prospects of a good crop on the majority of his acreage.

Henry's report is a fair example of others we have talked with.

J. B. Hankins moved his cafe to a location on the north Lubbock highway, next door to C. E. Ross Motor Co., Tuesday. It was formerly located on the south Lubbock highway.

Hospital Notes

Mr. Homer Faught of Tokio underwent an appendectomy July 27.

Ben Broughton entered for medical treatment July 25.

Miss Roy Lee Sutton, age 15, underwent an appendectomy on July 31.

Baby Frier, three and a half months old baby of Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Frier of Tatum, entered the hospital for treatment July 30.

YOUNG MINISTER IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

Rev. Bobby Gene Estep of Seminole, passed away at the local hospital Monday evening at six o'clock, following a three weeks illness. He was eighteen years old.

His immediate survivors were his wife and parents of Seminole. Funeral services were held in Seminole Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Methodist church. Burial was at Seminole.

CHUKAR PARTRIDGES STILL QUESTION MARK

AUSTIN, July 31.—While a few reports of Chukar Partridges doing fairly well have been received, the majority of the Texas Game Department Biologists and other field men who have worked with this bird, which is native to India, are not optimistic over the future of Chukars in the Lone Star State. However, they are withholding final judgment on them until they have had more time to determine the birds habits and adaptability to Texas.

It appears that if the birds are to thrive at all, they will do so in West Texas. The following report to the Executive Secretary of the Game Department is typical of many received:

After a year and a half of experience in Orange County on a chukar and quail project, the game keeper in charge is very pessimistic about the possibilities of adapting Chukars to Southeastern Texas conditions. At present he is attempting to raise them on wire, using bantam hens to incubate.

SANTA FE CARLOADINGS

The Santa Fe Railway System carloadings for the week ending July 27, 1940, were 19,508, as compared with 18,910 for the same week in 1939. Received from connections were 5,227, as compared with 5,460 for the same week in 1939. The total cars moved were 24,735, as compared with 24,370 for the same week in 1939. The Santa Fe handled a total of 27,387 cars during the preceding week.

Last season 200 adult Chukars were given free range on 2,000 acres of good quail land and they hatched off approximately 75 young birds. However, last fall these could not be found. When the birds were finally trapped early this year only 60 remained. What happened to the others is not known. Predators could hardly have taken many as intensive control of opossums, house cats, stray dogs and other such animals is practiced. No signs of predator kills were found in diligent searches over the area.

Rotarians Issue Year Book for 1940-41

At today's meeting, members of the local Rotary Club will be issued year books containing all regular programs for the balance of the club year.

According to the membership committee, each member of the club will be on a program at least twice during the coming year. Issuance of the book, they say, should sufficiently forewarn each member of his appearance on the program, thereby minimizing or even eliminating the excuse for failure to prepare program due to lack of time.

Mr. and Mrs. Cye Tankersley and children left Sunday for Santa Fe and other points in New Mexico on a vacation.

C. L. Brown and daughter Mrs. Janet Cook and baby left Friday for Hickman, N. M., where they will visit their daughter and sister.

DEADLINE EXTENDED FOR FREE CLASSIFICATION

College Station, August, 1.—Extension of the time limit for filing applications for free classification of 1940 cotton from August 1 to August 15 for that part of Texas east of the 100th Meridian and from August 15 to August 25 for the remainder of the state has been announced.

The 100th Meridian runs roughly from the eastern edge of the Panhandle south to the west line of Maverick county.

The August 25 date will thus apply to the South Plains cotton area.

Under the Smith-Doxey Act, free classification of cotton and free marketing news services are offered to organized cotton improvement groups.

Applications for the service are received by county agricultural agents and forwarded either to Dallas, Austin, or El Paso office of the U. S. Department of Agricultural Marketing Service.

L. M. Lang Family Begins Home Food Supply Demonstration

By Miss Maretta Holloway

Mrs. L. M. Lang, secretary of the Harmony Home Demonstration Club, has volunteered to be one of the home food supply demonstrators for her club. She is striving to insure a well balanced food supply for her family for non-productive weeks by planning a preservation budget, filling the budget, and providing suitable storage units for keeping the products.

Reconditioning the outdoor storm cellar is under way to provide a cool, well ventilated, clean, dark dry storage unit for the food supply. Mr. Lang is building adequate shelves for a year's supply of canned foods, is using bricks to floor the cellar, and is making plans to install a light so that the pantry will be well lighted at all times. Mrs. Lang says she will add the finishing touch of white paint to the supporting timbers to increase the attractiveness.

"Filling the family budget is not a little job," Mrs. Lang says. "I am trying to select the kinds of foods needed, as set up by the Texas Food Standard, which will be most enjoyed by each member of my family. It looks now like I must provide somewhere in the neighborhood of 900 containers of food to fill this budget. But I am going to do it. My husband is just as interested in this demonstration as I am, and we feel that we, ourselves, will not only be benefited directly, but that those who see our orderly pantry, with its labeled products and shelves organized and grouped for a year's use, will feel inspired to do more towards providing an adequate food supply for their families. It will be lots of work, but work which we feel will result in happier, healthier home life."

GOING FISHING IN TEXAS (From Ft. Worth Star-Telegram)

Not so far back, as Texas history runs, going fishing was largely a figure of speech. First, water of such permanency as to take a fish past minnowhood was many days' travel from practically every point. Second, Texans of the period had long lists of occupations more acutely important than going fishing. So the sport languished, except for those along the few-fish populated rivers and the Gulf of Mexico. It was necessary for Texans to get the water in man-made lakes and then grow a yen to sit on their banks and manipulate fishing gear.

But all that has changed. Ten principal fish hatcheries under the supervision of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission in 1939 increased the 1938 output by 2,000,000 fish and the extension program for 1940 will show an even greater increase. There are more lakes and streams and each is to have service. The business of hatching eggs into minnows and then bringing them up in the way they should go to become week end treats for fisher-folks has become an important state activity.

Add Salt to Your Drinking Water

AUSTIN, July 29.—If your work is such that it causes excessive perspiration, add a pinch of ordinary table salt to each drink of water you take to prevent cramps. This is advised by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, to forestall a possible increase in the number of heat victims as the Texas thermometer hits 90 degrees and above.

Laborers, mechanics, farmers, and white collar workers whose work causes them to sweat profusely are in danger of having their body salt content become deficient, with resulting heat cramps or heat fag. Salt is a prominent constituent of sweat; the body may lose as high as forty to fifty grams of salt during hot days.

In industry, a method of preventing heat cramps is to take a tablet of pure salt or a mixture of salt and dextrose with each drink of water. Milk is a source of salt and will help to make up for the deficiency caused by sweating. Alcoholic drinks should be avoided.

Heat cramp is characterized by pains (cramps) in the abdominal region, headache, and in severe cases, by nausea and vomiting. The body temperature remains about normal, likewise the pulse rate. Body salt losses occur without the knowledge of the individual until there is a deficiency; then the abdominal muscles begin to cramp.

Jaycees Formulating Plan for Banquet

Tentative arrangements for the forthcoming Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting call for a banquet at the Cocanougher Cafe on Tuesday night, August 13. The board of directors is trying to secure the services of Binford Arney of Amarillo, state president of the organization, as principal speaker for the occasion.

Delegations from here are to take trips to Levelland and Lamesa in order to contact the young men of these two cities in order to create interest in the Jaycee movement and with the purpose of sponsoring the creation of like organizations in mind.

Delegations from both Levelland and Lamesa will be invited to attend the local banquet.

Ray Christopher, local Jaycee president, will lead a local group to Amarillo next Monday night to attend a banquet given for the purpose of installing Binford Arney as state president. Every member that possibly can is urged to take this trip. A dance will likely follow the banquet.

Committees composed of members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce are to meet with city and county groups in order to see how they can cooperate in enlarging street and traffic lighting for the city and a sprinkler system for the court house.

Mr. and Mrs. Jake Gore spent Sunday in Tahoka, visiting Miss Marietta Montgomery.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Jones and children of Amarillo, were the guests of relatives last week end.

2 Ladies Injured When Car Strikes Them

When Mrs. A. M. McBurnett and Mrs. J. C. Bond, two well-known widow ladies were returning from church last Sunday night, they were struck by a car on Second street between Main and Broadway. The car was being driven by a negro, Bob Fuller, with no lights. The negro claimed that his lights failed just as he turned the corner.

They were walking near the curb, as there are no sidewalks along there, when they were hit. Mrs. Bond suffered the most serious injuries, one limb being badly gashed just below the knee. Both were rushed to the local hospital, where their wounds were dressed. Mrs. McBurnett escaped with minor bruises and lacerations. We are glad to state that Mrs. McBurnett is up and about, but Mrs. Bond will likely be confined to her bed for some time.

The negro stopped, we understand, but later went home and to bed, where officers found him. He was arrested and charged with reckless driving and jailed. His license to drive was taken from him, but as the injured ladies refused to press charges, we understand he has been released from jail.

It is a wonder there are not more people hurt here, the way some drivers, white ones too, whiz around over the streets.

Clay Allbright of El Reno, Oklahoma was the guest of Miss Mattie Jo Gracey last week end. He was en route to Randolph Field at San Antonio, where he will enter training.

Mrs. R. E. Graves of Brownwood, and little grandson, Bob Lockett, and a nephew, Brown Kennedy, who have been on a trip to Denver, Colorado, were guests in the Stricklin home Wednesday. They were accompanied up from Snyder by Mrs. Grave's son, Herman Trigg. Mrs. Trigg, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Stricklin and family since Sunday, will return to Snyder with them.

Mrs. Jim Jones visited her mother Mrs. J. M. McLeod in Lubbock last week.

E. N. Cain was in South Texas on business this week.

FOSTER H. D. CLUB

There were 18 members of Foster's H. D. Club present Wednesday, July 24, at the home of Mrs. Clay Bevers.

Miss Mauretta Holloway, county home demonstration agent talked on the subject of "Texas Food Standards," and the importance of an adequate diet each day for better health. She prepared a dinner plate showing how inexpensively and easily balanced meals may be prepared.

Club membership is increasing with each meeting and it is hoped that before long every woman in this community will be making an effort to be present at each meeting.

The next club meeting will be 3 o'clock Wednesday, August 7, at the home of Mrs. Claude Buckner.

Mrs. W. W. Ditto of Lubbock, spent Sunday and Monday with Mrs. Roy Collier, Mrs. A. J. Stricklin and Mrs. Walter Gracey.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ross and children spent last week end in San Angelo visiting Mrs. Ross's sister.

Miss Christine McDuffie is visiting Miss Mary Ann Dykes in Lubbock, this week.

DANCING CLUB

The dancing club had the regular dance July 23. There was about 100 present. Everyone seemed to have a good time.

On August 6, there is to be another club dance, the first one of a new month. All boys are to wear overalls and the girls wear aprons or print dresses for an "overall and apron" dance. You have to be dressed for the occasion or you won't be admitted. The Venetian will be decorated to carry out the idea of a barn dance.

As this is the first dance of August, everyone bring your 50 cents club dues. Some of the members have misunderstood about when to pay and how much. Boys and girls each pay 50c by the month or $1.00 per couple, and not by two dances alone. That is, if you miss one of the dances, that's your hard luck, and have to pay again at the first of the month. You have to be a member before you can get in, and to be a member all you have to do is pay your 50c club dues.

As these dances are to be nice and clean, no intoxicants are allowed. Everyone will behave as the chaperones demand.

So, everyone don your aprons and overalls and come out August 6 to a fun for all barn dance. Mrs. Oscar Sawyer will take the club dues.

PLEASANT VALLEY HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB

Vitamins are very necessary to the body, said Miss Holloway to the ten members present at the Pleasant Valley H. D. club meeting Friday evening which met in the home of Mrs. Loyd Greathouse.

A very interesting program was enjoyed by all. Miss Holloway demonstrated and served a complete meal containing all vitamins necessary for a good strong healthy body.

Mrs. W. R. Gandy took up bedroom work, Mrs. Loyd Greathouse pantry, Mrs. W. W. Tapp kitchen and Mrs. Cecil Peek took serving. Mrs. Greathouse will demonstrate jelly making at our next meeting which will be in the home of Mrs. W. O. Hart Friday, August 23rd. BAPTIST CHURCH

The congregation was somewhat smaller Sunday due no doubt to the general interest in the campaign just closed. The pastor preached in the morning hour and brother Vic Allen, a former member of this church and now pastor at Lelia Lake preached at the evening hour.

The pastor is assisting the church at New Home this week in their meeting.

Many of the membership who have been away on their vacations are returning and it is hoped the membership will reserve the two weeks beginning August 12th for the annual revival and give it their presence and their prayers that the Lord may be honored in it all.

It has become a custom to invite assistance in the conduct of these meetings and the membership expects that help to bring them a great revival, but revivals only come by the hearty participation of the membership and without it a revival of religion in the hearts of the people is impossible, and it is hoped that all Christian people may feel their great need of a renewing from high, and to bring their unsaved friends under the influence of the meeting.

Revivals bring to teachers in the Sunday School a great opportunity which should not be overlooked by them.

It is our desire that this church may be a place where lost people may come to know the Christ and if we fail in this aim we have failed utterly.

Mrs. Loyd Bennett and two children of El Centro, Calif. are here visiting her mother Mrs. Ben J. Hill and sister Mrs. Cecil Ackner, and Mr. and Mrs. M. Y. Bennett.

Henry Chisholm and family and Sam Chisholm left Wednesday for Alpine, where they will visit relatives for a few days.

Mrs. Vernal Rentfro of Amarillo visited Mrs. Glen Akers, Friday. Mrs. Akers took her to Levelland Saturday, where she is visiting Mrs. Claude Hudgens.

SHOWER IS GIVEN FOR BRIDE-ELECT

The table was spread with net over white satin and a centerpiece of baby breath and fever few was used. White candles burned in crystal holders. The buffet was decorated with a garden scene in which a miniature bridal party was placed.

The profusion of lovely gifts were displayed in adjoining rooms. Approximately fifty called or sent gifts.

TEXAS HENS DID THEMSELVES PROUD

AUSTIN, Tex. July 31.—Texas chickens outdid themselves laying during June.

Carload shipments of Texas eggs to other states jumped 193 per cent over June 1939, to total 120 cars, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Poultry forwardings remained about the same, 42 cars. Turkey shipments of 19 cars were five and a third times greater than those of June, 1939, but chicken shipments—23 cars—were down 43 per cent.

Receipts of eggs from other states totaled 12 cars, compared with 8 in June a year ago.

SCHOOLS MAY INSURE FOOTBALL SQUADS

AUSTIN, July 31.—Injury insurance for Texas' 20,000 school-boy football players will be made available September 1 by terms of a plan approved by the University of Texas' Interscholastic League State office.

The plan was drawn up by C. H. Kenley, San Angelo high school principal and League athletic insurance committee chairman, and calls for a per-player annual premium of $1.75, providing of the payment of up to $100 in medical care for the more serious fractures or lacerations.

Kenley pointed out that the league simply contracts with a national insurance company to offer the Texas schools player policies at a rockbottom rate.

Then, if a boy is injured during game or practice either, he added, the plan insures finances available for proper medical care.

He cited a survey of the Texas high school conference taken by his committee of coaches and principals showing that 495 Texas schools last year paid out $26,657, or $53.86 per school, for injury treatment for individual school insurance.

When league officials voted last May to investigate injury insurance, Kenley reported that Texas schoolboy squads suffered two deaths and 1,399 injuries during the regular 12 week schedule in 1939.

Miss Joy Greenfield has returned from Midland where she visited her sister Mrs. B. L. Jennings.

Aurelia Ann Cobb and Dan Thomas Cobb spent last week with their grandmother Mrs. Dan Cobb in Seminole. Their mother Mrs. Tom Cobb went down Sunday to bring them home.

Band Rehearsals To Start August 5th

Durward Boyd, the band director for the Brownfield High School for 1940-41, began his work in Brownfield Thursday, August 1st. Mr. Boyd will work on a twelve-month basis starting August 1st. He is asking all former band students who will be in school this year and those interested in taking band for the first time to come to the auditorium of the high school building, Monday, August 5th. He will be glad to interview any parents at that time who are interested in their child's enrollment in band for the coming year. Mr. Boyd desires to begin immediately with the organization and rehearsals will be held for the Brownfield High School band. Regular rehearsals will be held through the month of August of both sectional groups and the entire band.

Mr. Boyd's home is in Cisco, Texas. He is a graduate of Texas Technological College in the field of education and psychology. His major subject is music, and his record shows some forty-eight semester hours of very creditable work in that field consisting of applied instrumental music, music theory and harmony, conducting, piano and choral training. Mr. Boyd served as summer assistant to Robert Maddox, director of the Mexia, Texas band for several summers, and as Cadet Captain of the John Tarleton Military Band for two years. He comes highly recommended by D. O. Wiley, band director and instructor in Texas Technological College.

"Behind the Scenes In American Business"

NEW YORK, July 29.—BUSINESS—Trade and industry was in the midst of a summer lull last week as a heat wave laid a willing hand on many parts of the country. Indexes of business activity have failed to change appreciably since June. Business is pretty good in most lines, but plodding. That is to say, government orders for national defense probably will have to be relied upon to get the business indexes off dead center and moving freely into higher and more prosperous ground.

These orders are coming out now in good volume. In Washington, the National Defense Advisory Commission announced it has placed orders to date for $1,700,000,000 worth of supplies and munitions for the Army and Navy. This is a huge injection of orders into private enterprise, but the opinion of industrial observers leans to the belief it will not be until sometime next fall that industry in general can become fully geared to the special requirements of fulfilling these orders.

Small Farmers Get Bulk of AAA Payment

College Station, Aug. 1.—Three-fourths of the payments made in Texas under the 1939 AAA program went to producers operating small farms.

On the other hand only 45 of the 594,304 payments made under the program amounted to between $5,000 and $10,000, a study of AAA records here disclosed.

The tabulation of payments showed that 453,536 were for less than $100, into which payment classification fall the bulk of the small-scale farmers in the state. Payments from $100 to $200 totaled 94,199; from $200 to $300, 23,866; from $300 to $400, 9,355; from $400 to $500, 4,801; from $500 to $1,000, 6,253; from $1,000 to $5,000, 1,679; from $5,000 to $10,000, 45.

Under the present AAA program no payment to any individual, partnership or estate can exceed $10,000, George Slaughter, chairman of the state AAA committee, explained. This provision was first used in the 1939 program.

"Approximately the same situation prevails as regards the size of payments all over the country," Slaughter continued. "The AAA, by increasing the small payments and by limiting the maximum amount to be paid and in other ways, is giving special aid to the small farmer, the one who needs help most. These aids will be continued in the 1941 program."

T. L. Patterson, Chamber of Commerce secretary, is seriously considering the circulation of a petition for a rain.

Mr. and Mrs. Guthrie Allen spent Sunday in Lamesa with his parents.

Farmers Learning To Conserve Rainfall

Farming to hold water on the land where it falls is a practice being followed more and more by farmers in Terry, Dawson, Gaines and Yoakum Counties, according to B. W. Carmichael of the Soil Conservation Service.

Since the amount of rainfall is important in determining the amount of crop which a farmer receives, it is very essential that none of this valuable rain be allowed to run off the fields and collect in wet weather lakes.

The difference between a fair crop and a crop failure may be only a small amount of soil moisture at the right time. If water is allowed to run off during periods of high rainfall, a total failure of the crop or at least a small harvest will probably be the result.

Various methods of farming have been developed in order to hold moisture during periods of heavy rainfall. Terraces, contour tillage and contour strip cropping serve this purpose in many instances. Damming listers, hole diggers, subsoilers and various other tillage implements have been developed that are beneficial as water conserving devices when properly used, however, most water conserving tillage implements are much more effective if operated on the contour and where fields receive the further protection of terraces.

On nearly level or gently sloping land, dammed lister furrows may hold all the water from moderate rains, but considerable runoff will usually follow heavy rains, especially after cultivation has destroyed the dams unless the field is terraced and the furrows are on the contour.

The use of hole diggers, subsoilers and other tillage implements designed to open up the surface soil and permit a more rapid penetration of water into the subsoil will likewise be more effective if the tillage operations are on the contour and the fields are terraced.

In the above mentioned counties farmers cooperating with the Soil Conservation Service are doing all tillage practices on the contour this year. Plans are being made or have been made for the construction of level terraces on these farms and strip cropping on the contour will be practiced as added water and soil conserving practices.

If terracing, strip cropping and contour tillage continue to spread as rapidly as they have in the past few years, it will be only a short time until the straightrow farmer is going to be the exception rather than the rule.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Sturges and children spent Sunday in O'Donnell with friends.

HOME OWNERS FORUM

By ABNER GORDON

CONCRETE failures can be avoided by following a few basic rules in mixing and laying which eliminate the causes for dusting, flaking and cracking.

Concrete mixed with clay, loam or other so-called impurities, or prepared with sand in excess proportion to the cement, will inevitably fail to give lasting, satisfactory service.

The ingredients must be stirred thoroughly and the mixture poured before setting begins.

Pour concrete only during periods when moderate to warm temperatures may be expected. Freezing of soft mixture will result in imperfect setting.

Do not allow concrete to dry out before chemical action of setting has occurred.

When dusting or chipping results, treat surface with a hardening fluid prepared by dissolving three pounds of zinc sulfate crystals in one gallon of water. Saturate entire area with the solution and allow to dry thoroughly. Under all but exceptional conditions, this treatment will check dusting, making further correction unnecessary.

Liquid wax is also useful in checking surface failures. Work the wax in well, allow to dry, then rub firmly.

If dusting or chipping continues, ascertain by hard brushing or picking if failure is more than surface. Entire wall or floor must be replaced to correct trouble.

QUES. Can paint mixed on the job from paste pigment and linseed oil be used effectively in a spraying machine?

ANS. Red and white lead paints mixed on the job from the paste pigments are widely used for spray application.

Prepare the paint according to standard volume formulas for the surface in question, then add additional turpentine until paint sprays freely. Generally one extra quart of turpentine per gallon will suffice.

The Davis Travelogue
By Mrs. E. C. Davis

After four hours sleep Sunday morning, we left the Courts with our guide for a tour of the city. We were fortunate in having a guide whose daily work was in the Research department of the Louisiana State Library. He said to us, "New Orleans is the strangest city in the world. The trees wear whiskers (meaning the Spanish moss hanging from the oaks). Parts of the city are twenty-four feet below the Mississippi level, you can climb a hill to see the river. Parts of the city are on the east bank of the river, but west of the river, they bury their dead above the ground." There are 56 canals, dug by slave labor, out of sight under the wider streets of the city. There are fourteen powerful pumping stations which pump the rain water into Lake Ponchartraine. The rain waters stagnated in these canals in the early days and made the city unhealthy with fever. Canal Street, 270 feet wide, the widest and longest boulevard is built over the largest canal of the city. New Orleans which was founded in 1718 is the 7th oldest city in U. S., 16th in population, 4th in area.

New Orleans flew three flags in twenty-one days. France sold it and the Louisiana territory to Spain; Spain sold it back to France but never got paid and then France through Napoleon, sold it to the United States for 4 cents per acre.

We drove through the city park, 1400 acres, donated by Isaac M. Delgado and we saw the Delgado Art Museum established by his gift of $150,000. In this park we saw the "dueling oaks" and the "suicide" oak.

The Bible says the first shall be last and the last first, so the first place we stopped was the old St. Louis cemetery that has been in use for 175 years. We saw inscriptions, still decipherable dated 1800. The walls are lined with what they termed "ovens", three tiers high for people, unable to buy a mausoleum. If the oven in which a person is buried is not paid for (the cost is $50) in a year's time the bones are taken out and shoved to the back and the wooden caskets are burned and someone else is put in the same crypt. If it is paid for they are sealed and a marble plaque with the name and dates are engraved on the front of the oven. We were spellbound as the guide explained all of this.

We visited next the Metairie cemetery (more modern). It has an interesting history. The ground once belonged to the Metairie Jockey Club and included a race track. This was a very exclusive club. C. T. Howard applied for membership in the club, but for reasons best known to them, he was rejected. His anger was aroused and he made a vow he would make the liveliest place in the South the deadliest place in the world, and in 1872 he bought the track, making it into a beautiful cemetery. He gave it to the city with a request that he be buried there, and strange as it may seem this was the first funeral in this cemetery.

Dine at the W-I-N-E-S

Delicious and appetizing meals served in a home-like atmosphere.

You are always welcome.
MRS. J. E. SHELTON, Prop.

We went from there to the famous Vieux Carre, (Old Square), today known as Jackson Square. As you go through the Square you pass a very fine statue of Andrew Jackson. A work of Clark Mills. We first entered the St. Louis Cathedral (they were having mass as we looked at it) built in 1794. It is one of the most famous and historical churches in North America. It was erected at a cost of almost $50,000 by Don Andre Almonaster, who was buried under its altar. Since its erection more than $100,000 have been spent on it for repairs and it is in the best state of preservation of any of the old churches we have seen either in this country or Old Mexico.

After leaving the church we went to the Cabildo which is now a historical museum. It is famous not only for its priceless relics, but its own history, which is breath-taking. We walked around in the room where the "Louisiana Purchase" was negotiated. In this room we saw the death mask of Napoleon Bonaparte which was donated to the city by his personal physician, Dr. Antommarchi, who made the mask. In other rooms we saw an old slave auction block bearing the name of the auctioneer, old pirate strong boxes, and hand hewn cypress canoes that they used on the bayous. We visited the court yard and the prison rooms of the Cabildo and saw the cell in which Pirate Jean La Fite was incarcerated after his capture and we walked down the alley through which he fled when he broke jail. From there we drove around through the streets of the old French quarter. The buildings here have been well preserved and one cannot so much as drive a nail without a city permit, so all of the old atmosphere prevails and takes you back a century and a half to the days of Sieur de Bienville, La Fite brothers and the early days of New Orleans. The wrought iron fences and railings of buildings were fashioned into corn stalks, oak leaves and acorns, flowers and some have initials entwined. They are beautiful. Some so lacy and fragile looking.

We saw the town house of Etienne de Bore, who discovered how to granulate sugar and made millions. We saw the first Bank building, opened in 1804 (one year after purchased by U. S.) the plaque is still in the side of the building. We saw the former residence of the famous opera singer Adeline Patti and we walked in her court yard. We saw the oldest building in the Mississippi River Valley, the Ursuline Convent, erected in 1734 where the nuns looked after the girls sent over here to be the brides of the Frenchmen. We saw the blacksmith shop of the famous La Fite brothers, Jean and Pierre, openly pirates and scoundrels, who used the blacksmith shop as a blind for their business of pirating. We passed by the Congo Square, the meeting place of the negro slaves. Once this site was witness to many orgies and voodoo ceremonies. We saw the Napoleon Bonaparte house erected with the idea of providing for Napoleon after the bold plot in which the story says the noted La Fite band of pirates were involved to kidnap him from exile in St. Helene and bring him to New Orleans. The plot failed because Napoleon died before it could be executed.

We left the old French quarter and drove by parts of the campus of Tulane University (92 acres in all) and Sophie Newcomb College, the co-ed part of Tulane, named for her because she donated $3,500,000.

Our guide showed us Huey P. Long's New Orleans residence on a boulevard lined with camphor trees that were imported into this country. Many crepe myrtle trees were in blossom in the center of the boulevard.

While parked in front of the house he told us an incident that happened the day before the L.S.U. and T.C.U. game (with Davey O'Brien). Long drove up to Baton Rouge the day before the game and found the town plastered with circus advertisements for their

QUILTING CLUB
Mrs. F. E. Walters entertained the 1937 Quilting Club Wednesday of last week at her home. Needle work was done and refreshments served. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Roy Ballard. Members are requested to bring their own needle work.

M. B. SAWYER TO ATTEND BIG REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Sawyer left Thursday to attend a family reunion of the Sawyer relatives at Forester Park, several miles west of San Angelo. Mr. Sawyer just has one brother, who lives near Lou, his parents having passed on several years ago. The reunion will last several days and a large crowd is expected.

MRS. HOLMES HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Gillham entertained with a picnic style chicken dinner on the back lawn of the Gillham home, Saturday evening, to honor Mrs. Leo Holmes, whose birthday fell on that date.

Besides the hostess and honoree, Mr. Holmes and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Harriss were present.

DELTA DEK CLUB MEETS AT LATHAM HOME

The Delta Dek club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Latham Thursday evening of last week. Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Taylor scored high in the bridge game.

Refreshments of pineapple sandwiches and individual cakes were served to the following guests: Messrs. and Mrs. Taylor, J. J. McGowan and L. Nicholson.

VISITORS HONORED

On Thursday afternoon from six till eight o'clock Miss Judy Griffin entertained at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Griffin with a lawn party, to nonces Miss Mary Ann Pressley of Farmersville, and Patsy Murray of Gomez.

Games were played and refreshments of cakes, punch and candy and gum were served.

Those present besides the hostesses and the honorees were Frances Wier, Nancy Wier, Delores Gillham, Eleanor Jean Miller, Jean Craig, Deenie Ballard, Naomi Thompson, Mary Katherine Elliott and Joan Conley of Quanah.

FEDERATED M. S. MEETS AT BAPTIST CHURCH

The ladies of the Baptist Missionary Society were hostesses to the Federated Missionary societies Monday afternoon at the Baptist church. Mrs. Frank Wier led the devotional, Mrs. Carson played a piano solo, Miss Dorothy Jean Power sang a solo. Burton Hackney gave a very interesting talk.

At the close of the program sandwiches, cookies and punch were served to the thirty ladies.

showing the next day. He knew it would hurt the crowd at the game so he set all his secretaries to work on the telephone to find the advertising manager of the circus. They finally located him in New York City. The adv. mgr. said he was sorry but their train schedule had been set months ahead and he could do nothing to stop the show. Long replied, "We have a 'dipping law' in Louisiana, did you ever dip a tiger?" Needless to say there was no tiger dipping and the game went on without circus competition.

Then we drove up onto the loading docks, 9 miles long. There are no piers, they do not need them for ocean going vessels, because the river is 30 to 40 feet deep at all times. Our guide was a bit skeptical about taking us onto the docks as there was a proclamation issued by the Governor that no one but shipping employees be allowed there after July 1. As it was June 30th we went and no one stopped us. New Orleans is the largest banana and coffee port of the U. S.

At 12 o'clock we drove back to Paradise Courts so full of Pralines (a French candy) we were not much hungry. Beside paying our guide we thanked him again for his kindness and courtesy in answering the many questions we had fired at him.

By 2 p. m. we were packed and had eaten dinner. Regretfully we left New Orleans promising ourselves we were coming back for a Mardi Gras sometime. (Continued Next Week.)

THINKING OF BUILDING A HOME?

If you are, let us figure with you. We can avoid many troublesome delays often encountered in attempting to obtain F. H. A. loans through inexperienced parties. Our excellent record with Loan Agency Headquarters has been rewarded by being allowed certain privileges that insure the absolute minimum of delay in applying for a loan.

Then too, we can draw up your plans and specifications, thereby eliminating additional expense, and we carry a complete modern stock of builders hardware, plumbing fixtures and the latest materials that go to make a modern home.

For these reasons, we believe we are capable of taking care of your building problem now more satisfactorily than many other dealers.

Mrs. Eldora White and son Ted, city, and stepson T. W. of El Centro, California and Andy Griffin left Tuesday for Maud and Texarkana, where they will visit relatives. Miss Louise Baker, who has been visiting in the White and Warren home accompanied them to her home in Gorman.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Aven, Jr., have had as their guests recently her sister Mrs. H. T. Petty and Mr. Petty of Oklahoma City and his sister Mrs. J. A. Brady of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. D. McGee and children Barbara Lea and James of Dallas and Mark McLeod of Fort Worth were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Jones, Monday.

Hayden Griffin has been away most of the summer, except what time he was helping with the census, putting gins of his company in repair for the fall run. Finished one at Loop last week, and will work on one at Levelland this week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Chisholm and children left Thursday of last week for a month's vacation. They will visit New Mexico, Oregon and California while away.

Ohio Man Sends In Chicken 'Blab'

One of our old subscribers, Oliver O. Eberly of North Lawrence, Ohio, recently read an article in these columns of the trouble J. B. Mackey of the Needmore community was having with cannibalistic hens starting pecking another until they were dead from loss of blood. Mr. Eberly sent us a blab or what is more properly called a Piguard to fit on chickens that are cannibals, and wants us to give the sample to Mr. Mackey, who can have same by calling at the Herald office, or if we happen out in that section before he comes to town, we'll deliver it.

The Piguard fits over the beak of the hen, with a Cotter key that passes through the nose holes. Mr. Eberly says the appliance is made by Production Laboratories, Box 3247, Seattle, Wash., but he is able to buy them locally from the Equity Company, Marshallville, Ohio, at $2.75 per 100, or 3c each in smaller quantities. The Knight Hardware does not handle them, they stated. The Chisholm Hatchery has tried them and says they work, but Joe believed they cut off too much air through the nostrils and caused colds.

Some have an idea that it is lack of a balanced ration, but Joe Chisholm, who has had considerable experience, says he is inclined to believe it is caused from overheating on account of being overcrowded in their quarters. He stated that they started picking themselves to eliminate heating feathers; get a taste of blood, and then start in on other chickens.

If that is the dope, perhaps a better ventilated house in summer, or forcing them to roost outdoors might do the job. We find that a lot of people are having that trouble, and we therefore give the address of the sellers of the Piguard for those who wish to try it.

School Will Open September 4th

The Brownfield Public Schools will open September 4th. Enrollment for all grades will begin at nine o'clock on the morning of that date. Enrollment for the first five grades will be conducted as usual in the West Ward building under the supervision of Mr. W. M. Vernon, Principal of the Elementary Schools. Enrollment for grades six through eleven will take place in the gymnasium building this year under the supervision of Mr. Vernon Brewer, Principal of High School. More specific instructions will follow in both local papers before the date for enrollment.

Emmitt Smith, Superintendent of Schools, is placing special emphasis this year on teacher-parent relations. He urges parents to call on the teachers at the school buildings and discuss their mutual problems. The high school and ward school buildings will be open for one week preceding the enrollment date for the convenience of parents and students who wish to talk with Mr. Vernon, Mr. Brewer or Mr. Smith.

Two types of high school diplomas will be issued starting this year, the college entrance diploma and the vocational diploma. An effort is being made to take care of the needs of the vast number of young people who do not intend to attend any college as well as the ever increasing number of college aspirants. Any parents interested in these two types of courses of study are more than welcome to interview the men mentioned above on that subject.

At present, the Brownfield High School has 37 1/2 credits of affiliation. Second year Vocational Agriculture will be added this year making the total 39 credits. This wide scope of subjects makes selection on the basis of interest possible for the young man and woman who cannot attend college as well as the young man or woman who can. An effort is being made to enrich the course of study construction program this year, revising and enriching the course of study in preparation for the twelve year plan which is fast gaining impetus in Texas.

Conserving Rainfall Is Aim of Conservation

The farmers of the Plains are realizing more every year that the conservation of soil and moisture is the vital operation of profitable farming. Each drop of rain that falls, if properly conserved, has a large bearing on farm income. The control of soil movement also plays an important part in maintaining a longtime source of revenue from the farm.

If water from rainfall is allowed to run off the land or is allowed to accumulate in lakes and low places, such water is lost for the use of crop production. An even distribution of water over lands makes a uniform crop which will result in higher comparative yields. Land that has a high rate of runoff loses much of its valuable topsoil which results, in a short time, in a poor farm.

The farms that are located in areas of sandy soils are effected materially by wind erosion. Wind removes from these farms the valuable top soil that gives to crops the source of life. The top soil is the storehouse of plant food and when it is removed there is only left a hard pan of subsoil without sufficient plant food for adequate plant production.

Farmers that have been working to solve the problem of erosion and to maintain a profitable farm are finding the following practices effective: Terracing for the prevention of runoff and distribution of moisture; Contour tillage for the distribution and retention of water and also aids in the prevention of soil movement by wind; Planting cotton and sorghums in narrow strips across the field on the contours and leaving a good stubble cover on the sorghum land to prevent soil movement by wind, also, on soils where runoff is present, to check such runoff in order that the soil may take up water more readily; planting sorghums on turn rows and other unprotected places to secure a protective cover; control grazing on crop land so that a protective stubble will be left.

Soil that is removed from the farm by erosion is no longer of benefit to farmers.

Many farms are in need of water and the facilities to make proper and sanitary use of water. Inasmuch as water is a vital necessity to farm operations the farm income in many cases can be increased by proper usage made possible by adequate facilities. Where water is adequately available for livestock production, gardens and home-use purposes, a better farm program can be had on the individual farm.

A program for soil and moisture conservation and water facilities installations and improvements is available to the individual farmers on small and moderate size farms. Farmers under this classification can obtain loans in connection with an agreeable soil and moisture conservation plan for the farm at the rate of 3 per cent interest with a repayment schedule, of equal repayments per year, set up over a period of years for making the necessary water facility on the farm.

This loan is available for securing the following items needed, one or more: Wells, windmills, pipe, pump rod, cylinder, windmill and tank tower, overhead tanks, storage and stock tanks, kitchen sink, bath fixtures, disposal system and pipe for distribution of water over the farm.

Further information can be had by contacting your local County Agent, Farm Security Supervisors or Soil Conservation Technicians.
