Many Benefits From Permian Basin Ass'n.

Typical of one of the many services which the Permian Basin Association can render to the people of West Texas was the outstanding accomplishment in tax rate reduction last week in Yoakum County.

Through detailed study by committees and the employment of recognized tax experts, it was possible to secure the fine cooperation of the Yoakum County Commissioners' Court in a 14 cent reduction to effect a saving of $28,000 for the property owners of that county.

Similar programs in other counties and other political subdivisions will be carried out by this new organization during the next year.

In addition to a strong tax program, the Permian Basin Association is alert to legislative matters. Watchful for legislation which may be adverse to West Texas people, it will also be active in supporting new legislation for the benefit of the territory.

The Permian Basin Association begins its membership campaign in Brownfield on September 24. Tom May, J. O. Gilliam and R. M. Kendrick, local Directors of the Association will be in charge of the campaign and have indicated that approximately 150 prospects will be visited for membership.

An outline of the five-point program of the Association follows: FIVE-POINT PROGRAM SPONSORED BY TAXATION COMMITTEE PERMIAN BASIN ASS'N I FEDERAL AND STATE

More About That Road Bond Issue

Since our last week's issue, we have had time to contact a number of citizens of every class and calling, which includes farmers, professional and business men, and we have had the first to meet that was opposed to it. However, we are not saying there will be no opposition. There is opposition to all bond issues.

People in general are pretty well sold on good roads these days. Further, they are pretty well educated to the fact that they are paying for somebody's good roads every time they buy a gallon of gas, whether they wish to do so or not. Therefore they naturally crave to have a portion of this money expended on their own roads.

We are told that the farmers of Precincts 1 and 3 are almost unanimously for the bond issue, as they are the only portions of the county now without paved roads. It is therefore only fair that the people of the other precincts do what they can to help the other sections of the county get all-weather roads near them, making it convenient to get to them quickly.

We understand that Meadow is showing some opposition. They should not be hurt about the matter. They got the first paved road in the county, and during the droughty year 1936, thousands of dollars were expended on lateral roads in that section, which almost completely surrounded Brownfield, coming out eight miles west of town. But we never heard a whimper here about the matter.

If and when these roads are built, it will leave the commissioners free in all the precincts to greatly improve all lateral roads, making them almost all-weather roads, as the commissioners will have extra money to expend on them.

Soil Map of Terry County Completed

The Soil Conservation Service completed a general Soil Map of Terry County last week and it was used by a sub-committee of the County Land Use Planning committee in a two-day conference on recommendations for various soil conserving practices on the different types of land. The major groups of land shown on the map are: (1) Deep, moderately heavy smooth hard land, (2) Deep moderately sandy land, (3) Medium depth moderately sandy land, (4) Medium depth smooth hard land, (5) Deep sandy land, (6) Medium depth sandy land, (7) Shallow land, (8) Very shallow land, (9) Sand hills or loose sandy land, (10) Very heavy clay land found in intermittent lakes.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stevens, Mr. J. L. Hollers, Mr. Millsap, Mrs. C. J. Bonham, Mr. R. N. McClain, County Agent, Mr. E. E. Reynolds and Mr. Marshall Howard of the Lubbock office of the Soil Conservation Service, and E. R. Steen and B. W. Carmichael of the Brownfield office of the Soil Conservation Service.

Two More Young Men In Army Service

Two more Terry county young men did not await the draft, but applied to the recruiting office in Lubbock recently, and were admitted, according to Second Lieut. J. T. Carroll, assistant recruiting officer.

They were Louie A. Moore and Grady G. Cox, both joining the infantry, and will be sent to Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, for training.

More Than $41,000 In Parity Checks Received

County Agent L. N. McClain informed us this week that 330 parity checks had been received by Terry county farmers, totalling $41,695.37.

It is believed that it will not be long now until they will begin to roll in fast, until all expected are paid.

Palace Drug Moves Into New Home

The Palace Drug Store moved into their beautiful new home this week, corner east main and Fifth street, which is one of the most beautiful and well arranged of anything of its kind outside the large cities. Many pronounce it the most beautiful they ever saw.

Not only is it the latest word in lighting and arrangement, but being 50x100 feet in the front, it is among the largest, and the town as well as the owners, Messrs. G. S. Webber and son, Glen Noble and I. M. Bailey are very proud of it. Many townspeople carry their friends in to see it.

But you must see the place yourself to fully appreciate it. A writer cannot easily describe the beauty and utility of the place. The Palace is the second oldest drug store in the city.

Cotton Pickers Begin to Arrive

Driving out last Sunday afternoon to see the big melon patch belonging to W. J. Wingo, eight miles southeast of the city, we noted a number of trucks coming up the Lamesa road, all fairly filled with Mexican cotton pickers. We also noted that they were being sent out Monday to farms that in many cases have employed these Mexicans for years.

Found that Mr. Wingo had many melons on his 300 acres, ranging from the ripe stage to young melons that will begin to ripen in two or three weeks. But, he has not produced as good melons as last year, although the melons will probably average around 35 lbs. each.

Mr. Wingo stated that since the norther last week his melon patch had been going back fast. If he had just a good shower, then some warm weather, it would probably put new life in the vines. The vines were looking sick Sunday, however.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sawyer have been entertaining Mrs. Sawyer's niece, Mrs. Pearl Oxford of Springtown, the past ten days.

Last Week of District Court

While there has been no sensational cases tried at this term of court, either civil or criminal, it has been rather well attended. Some cases that have been on the docket for a number of years and continued for one reason or another, have been tried.

Such a case in point was tried this week, being Nelson W. Willard vs. W. E. Whitaker, that has been in court here since Heck was a pup. As this is written, that case has gone to the jury, but has not been decided.

On return of the grand jury this week, they returned seven additional bills of indictment, all felonies, in addition to five returned at their first sitting.

Mrs. Eldora A. White, district clerk, stated that the grand jury did not indict H. H. Williams, accused of killing a man by the name of Kirkland in his field, recently.

"Behind the Scenes in American Business"

By John Craddock

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—All signs point to the fact that Uncle Sam's millions of "average consumers" are loosening their purse strings, getting more and more convinced that—although the eventual price tag bill will be pretty terrific—we are in for a steady upward curve in business. Prospects for a long continuation of the Battle of Britain bolster this feeling. The first evidence was the wave of buying that brought hugely increased retail store sales in August—at a rate almost unprecedented for that time of year. More recently, merchants are especially encouraged by the fact that better grades of merchandise are coming more and more into demand, always a good sign that the customers have confidence. You might suppose that home building would lag on account of uncertainty over conscription, but quite the reverse is true. Total construction contracts—industrial and residential—awarded in August were highest for any month since June of 1930. And residential building was up $25,000,000 over August of '39, for the best month since July of that fabulous year, 1929.

WASHINGTON—Reassuring news on Social Security is that men conscripted for the Army and Navy and members of the National Guard called to a year's military training, will be relieved of the requirement of paying their social security "dues" during the period of training. This will apply to the employers of such men, too. The same principle is applied in the case of levies under the unemployment compensation provisions of the law. It isn't likely that this procedure will upset the social security and unemployment insurance fund very much, since only a portion of the National Guard is to be called out at one time, while not more than 900,000 conscripts can be in training at one time.

Brownfield 'Plays Ball With the Oil People'

That the oil people like Brownfield is heard throughout the north Permian Basin when the subject of where to live comes up. They have learned that Brownfield is about the only city in this area that has not become so wild-eyed that they want to charge boom prices for rooms, houses and apartments, although they are scarce.

And to make this good will stick, we must continue in the same trend, no matter what happens—no matter how many oil people come here. At this time many of them are talking of building their own homes. Show them, or tell them of lots that are priced in reason, if you know about them. And at the same time, encourage people here that can do so, to build some cottages, a few three-room, four-room and on up to five and six rooms. They can readily rent them.

Let us keep in mind that the average oil field worker, while getting fair wages, are not amassing a fortune. Most of them here draw a salary of from $100 to $150 per month. If they have to pay a high rent, that knocks a big hole in their buying capacity. And also, remember that they are good buyers. In fact, you'll not find a miser in a million. And they spend their money here.

Let's keep these people knowing and believing that Brownfield offers the most reasonable rental conditions in the area. If we do that, the oil field workers will do our advertising themselves. They will tell others, and they in turn will tell others. There will be no end of this free and unsolicited advertisement that Brownfield is the place for the oil field folks to live.

At this time we are getting many foremen and managers of supply and tool companies that are located in other towns of the area. They come here of their own accord because they feel that Brownfield is not only centrally located, with good roads radiating out to the several fields, but we also have a nice clean town in which to rear their children, free of honkytonks, but with good schools and churches. In fact, a real good place to rear and educate their families. They believe and expect it will take 25 years at the least to drill out this oil area, and are making preparations to make their homes within the town of best environment.

Red Cross Representative Here Tuesday

Mr. Emerson G. Stephens, representative of the American Red Cross mid-western branch at St. Louis, was a visitor in our city Tuesday. He made the town in company with Lee Fulton, Terry-Yoakum county chairman of Red Cross.

Mr. Stephens stated that they were making preparations for the fall membership drive, which will start the 11th of November. But he stated that Red Cross was a year around helper in time of disaster or disease epidemic.

Right now the National Red Cross is calling for blood Plasma donations from the eastern sections of the United States to send to England where they are having so many wounded soldiers and civilians that require blood transfusions.

Be Sure to Visit New Super Service Station

Brownfield is proud of the new Super Service Station built by Dr. Jacobson, and which will be operated by J. B. (Pat) Patterson, who has had years of experience as a service station operator.

He will feature a full line of Magnolia Products, and is very eager for you to give him a trial. The Alemite Co. announces their line of lubrication equipment as the best to be had, and invites you around to inspect it.

We are also proud to have the new Magnolia camp, which is being built north of town, and invite the employees to feel free to ask any favor we might be able to extend them.

Let safety rules rule you.

Social Security Representative Here Wed.

John R. Anderson, Field Assistant of the Lubbock Social Security Board field office was in Brownfield Tuesday interviewing claimants under the amended Social Security Act and assisting employers to secure information necessary to complete certain wage records.

Regular visits are made to Brownfield by a member of the Lubbock office staff twice each month, and the representative is available at 10:00 a. m. in the post office on those dates. The next visit will be on Wednesday, October 2.

The Lubbock office took over the servicing of Terry county from the Amarillo office on November 13, 1939. The principal functions of the office, according to Mr. Sanderson, are the acceptance of claims for monthly benefits from retired wage earners, their dependents and survivors of deceased wage earners who qualify, the issuance of account numbers, and handling any wage record problems which arise. This last function is performed with the cooperation of the employers.

Any person desiring information about the old age and survivors insurance provisions of the Social Security Act was requested to call on or write the Social Security Board, located at 1309-A Texas Avenue, Lubbock.

Burglar Thought To Be In Jail Here

The burglar that cracked the Cicero Smith Lumber Co. safe here about a month ago, is believed to be in the local jail. We understand that he was brought here after being tried in Levelland on a similar charge. Night officer Luther Jones, who saw the burglar through a window the night of the robbery is almost positive in his identification of the man.

The man told another man in jail with him that he had recently lost his bag of tools. They are believed to be the ones found here. Jones stated that the man tried to play coo-oo on them, but finally with a little pressure, he talked as sane as anyone. It is understood, however, that he at one time spent some time in an institution for feeble-minded.

We learn that he is the son of a Lubbock business man, and that his father bears a pretty good reputation. He may be tried here this week.

Col. H. D. Leach Appeals the Herald

Not to be outdone by the umbrella man of England, Col. H. D. Leach of this county, brought in a huge melon last week and presented the Herald as appeasement, in order to keep us off his neck in these columns.

Anyway, the Herald accepts the gift in the same grace presented, and instead of guying him about coming in almost daily to Jew our merchants, we fairly sick him on 'em to barter, bulldoze or backslap them all he pleases.

And here and now, we will state that the better element of the Gomez community consider H.D. as an equal, and visit and neighbor with him, no matter what Ed Thompson says. Thanks for the melon.

Special Notice To Farm News Readers

The Herald has been notified by the Semi-Weekly Farm News that they will not club the Herald or any other paper on and after September 30th, 1940.

Owing to higher cost of newspaper paper, the Farm News is withdrawing this offer. Maybe again after the war is settled, they stated.

If you wish to renew, you will sure have to do so before the date named. Both papers one year for $1.50 in trade area until Sept. 30, 1940.

Has Good Luck With Frame Gardens

By Maretta Holloway

Mrs. Kelly Sears recently made and planted her 5x30' frame garden assisted by members of the Gomez Home Demonstration Club. Members of the Sears family had previously dug out the 5x30 plot to a depth of about 10 inches, and built a frame for the garden out of scrap lumber already on hand. The side walls are 12 inches high on three sides and 24 inches on the north side. The garden is located on the south side of the house so that growing plants will get the benefit of the winter's sun.

The club ladies in making the garden followed this plan: For sub-irrigation, quart oil cans were used, both bottoms being cut out of all the cans except the end can which had one bottom left in. The cans were then laid in a continuous level row down the center about 8 inches below the planting surface. Newspapers were folded and placed over the cans at the joinings to keep out loose dirt until the soil settles. For the water inlet, a section of an automobile casing used, one end curving below the soil surface connecting with the row of cans, the other end extending above the garden frame for the water hose.

Three or four inches of well-rotted manure was placed over the cans, with about four inches of good rich top soil covering the fertilizer. For planting, the rows were made the narrow way of the garden for easy cultivation, and paced about 8 inches apart.

For the cover, Mrs. Sears is using the thin grade muslin, tacking it securely on one side of the frame, while muslin loops which fit over nails, hold the cover securely down on the other three sides. The cover must be made so that it will roll or fold back whenever the temperature is above 60 degrees. To support the cover, 1 1/2" strips are nailed across the frame every five feet. Onions, lettuce, mustard, spinach, carrots and radishes are planted.

The Sears' garden is one example of other frame gardens being planted in the Gomez community.

Knight Hardware One Of Finest On Plains

Another show place in the city of Brownfield is the remodeled J. B. Knight Hardware. About a year ago, the furniture department over on Main street underwent thorough remodeling, and is a thing of beauty. So, this summer, the Hardware department on the west side of the square underwent a Houdini change that is almost miraculous.

Not only is Mr. Knight and his large force of employees proud of the modern plant, but the entire section as well. With the well-arranged and beautiful interior made into department sections, the huge stock is easily found, no matter what you want. Even a new clerk has no trouble locating what he wishes to find in minimum time.

As this is being written they have most everything in place, and are ready for callers to see the store, whether they wish to buy or not.

Artist Gets P. O. Picture In Neater Shape

James H. Dallas, P.M., was showing us a new sketch of the post office mural, that was recently revised by the artist. In the late one, he has entirely eliminated one of the cowboys, slipped open stirrups on the saddles, and put a skin on the steer they are dragging through the fire. In the drawing, with no coloring, of course the fire looks more like a dust storm.

And he seems to have borrowed a pair of Pappy John Powell's mounted horns to tie onto the steer. But we are going to lay off as an art critic from this on.

Will say in conclusion that the PO (not BO) force is doing a good job of growing their whiskers to prepare as a greeting committee to the bearded artist when he arrives in town to hang the mural.

Sane, sensible safety suggestions sustain steady salary.

THE HERALD

Brownfield, Texas
Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Brownfield, Tex.

Grass may be full of the essential vitamins, but we'll just save our share of it for the other cattle.

Well, Friday 13th passed without any great mishaps in our city, or the state for that matter.

While Brownfield would have progressed some in the past ten years without oil development in this area, that has been a big help that no one can deny.

Many in Brownfield have wondered if Pappy O'Daniel and Hop Halsey got their fiddling bands together recently when the governor visited our state representative in Lubbock.

date Willkie when he came to Amarillo Tuesday. The Cicero Smith Lumber Co. is almost across the street from us, and we suppose that if Willkie came to Brownfield, we might walk across there to see him if the streets were roped off.

The people of the United States are really getting to "See America First," and apparently are liking it. They are finding that we have just as nice mountains, just as pretty rivers and scenic seascapes as they have anywhere else in the world.

Plains Farmer Develops Water Facilities

Farmers of Terry, Yoakum, Dawson and Gaines Counties have participated in the Water Facilities, as have other farmers of the Great Plains.

The construction and improvement of wells, windmills, ponds and springs for livestock water received most attention. The development of water for domestic use, which in any cases included the piping of water into farm homes, also an important part of the program.

Irrigation water was provided more than 15,000 acres on 99 different farms under the program. Most of the irrigation facilities installed were small and provided only for the irrigation of farm gardens and small fields for livestock feed production.

Many shallow water irrigation wells were dug and pumps installed. Ponds and small lakes that provide a limited amount of irrigation water for small plots also were constructed.

"Water is one of the most valuable resources of the Plains," Fennell states. "It is important that we use the water resources available. The water facilities program of the Department of Agriculture was started in an effort to assist farmers and ranchers in semi-arid states to develop and get the best use from both underground and surface water supplies."

In addition to the water facilities installed on the 428 farms and ranches during the past year, Fennell reports that complete soil and water conservation plans were made and put into effect on more than one-half million acres of farm and ranch land affected by the program.

TAKE INDUSTRY TO THE WOODS

ONE of the nation's number one headaches is throbbing in rural communities throughout America. It is the headache possessed by rural leaders and civic groups as they compete with large cities for the placing of industrial enterprises in or near small towns and villages.

During recent months billions of dollars have been appropriated for the purpose of bolstering American defenses on water, on land and in the air. The capacity of existing industrial facilities necessary for the turning out of materials and finished products is rapidly being reached.

The great question of the day is the location of new facilities for national defense. Great cities are telling their advantage through bureaus of specialists. These specialists inform industry and government why manufacturing plants and other operations required for defense should be concentrated in or near the nation's largest centers of population.

The pressure is on again. Volumes of statistics are being produced, showing why this or that city should become the center for making tanks or other specified weapons of warfare. Pressure groups are exerting every influence to secure the benefits of national preparedness. Airports, aircraft plants and aviation schools are being rapidly built, NOT IN RURAL COMMUNITIES BUT IN CITIES.

U. S. ONCE BOUGHT BRITISH WARSHIPS
WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Naval officers said yesterday a precedent for the United States' trading of 50 destroyers to Great Britain was to be found in this country's purchase of three light cruisers from England and Brazil at the time of the Spanish-American war.

On March 16, 1898, just prior to the declaration of war against Spain on April 21, the United States bought two cruisers which Britain was building for Brazil. On July 11, the United States took a third cruiser from Brazil. The three vessels were named the Buffalo, which cost $575,000; the New Orleans, $1,429,215; and the Albany, $1,205,000.

R. D. (Dick) Shinkle, who has been with the publicity department of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce for several years, has accepted a position as manager of the Alice, Texas, chamber of commerce.

J. E. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Smith, left last week for Stephenville, where he will attend John Tarleton College.

Bombings of European cities should teach us a lesson. We hear much these days about bombings of these centers of defense industries. Why mass air targets in the cities? A large bomb dropped almost anywhere in such an active area causes disruption of necessary wartime industrial operations.

What is better military strategy than to have our new industrial units and airports nestled in the hills and forests of our vast countryside? We should profit from the experiences of European nations who now are frantically building new factories in rural areas.

Every thinking American knows full well the necessity for strengthening our defenses. He is ready to assume the taxation necessary to make this possible. Since resourcefulness has been the strength of our country, we should continue this same quality by not overlooking any opportunities to make this an even stronger nation.

Now new plants are about to be built and efficient redistribution of industry can be successfully carried out. For the first time in many years rural America presents the greatest advantages to industry. Now is the time for new hope to spring in the hearts of the inhabitants of villages and small cities of this nation.

Postmaster N. T. Cain of Seagraves was up Monday jawing with the local PO force, and meeting other friends of long standing. Happened just in time to get a drink off the bunch, the Brownfield and Seagraves PM's and Lal Copeland. PM Cain can go on just about as much foolishness as we.

Mrs. J. T. Auburg was in Lubbock, Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ross and Mrs. G. H. Holmes were in Dallas the first of the week attending a business meeting of Oldsmobile dealers.

TERRY COUNTY CAN RAISE BIG MELONS

W. P. Fullington has two whopper watermelons in his office, weighing 64 and 44 pounds each. He got them from the 300-acre melon patch of Mr. Wingo, near Brownfield.

Joe Smith went to Brownfield and brought back a load of the biggest and juiciest looking watermelons you ever saw. Said the patch was well guarded to keep crows and other things out.

Chock Hamilton, who was recently examined by Lubbock specialists, was said to have some kind of growth on the brain, and he was carried to Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., this week for further diagnosis and treatment.

Entrada of Coronado On Huge Stage

LUBBOCK, Sept. 16.—More interest than ever is being shown in the South Plains Fair this year than at any other time in the history of the Association. Officials believe that it is due to the recent announcement of the showing of the Entrada of Coronado, the $200,000 federally backed show which will be featured every night during the Fair.

Mr. Larry Doyle of New York, director for the entrada, started rehearsals last week and will continue until final dress rehearsal Sunday evening before the exposition opens. With Mr. Doyle are Mr. and Mrs. John Rust, directors for the sound cast. They have been rehearsing local voice parts for the thrilling drama.

The presentation on the world's largest stage has been 400 years in the making and it commemorates the famous ride of Coronado through the Southwest and his search for gold. Beautiful costumes, scenery and lighting effects make this presentation one of the most outstanding performances ever shown in this section of the State. Thousands of people from New Mexico will visit the Entrada to view this huge show for the last time.

J. Sam Lewis, field staff writer for the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, was a caller in Brownfield, Wednesday on his way to Seminole and Seagraves. Sam is now preparing articles about the section to appear in the special fair edition Sunday, Sept. 29, just before the fair opens at Lubbock.

GUNN-HINERMAN TIRE SHOP OPENED HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Gallimore and three children of Lubbock came in Monday to make Brownfield their home. Mr. Gallimore will be in charge of the Gunn-Hinnerman Tire Co. branch office located with the United Automotive service on west Main.

Mr. Gallimore stated to a Herald representative that he would carry Goodyear Tires and Tubes and supplies and would at a later date have an electrical line.

ONE-FOURTH OF TEXAS UNDER OIL LEASE

DALLAS, Sept. 16.—More than one-fourth of Texas is now under lease for oil and gas development, a statewide survey just completed by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association shows.

Out of a total area of 169,130-716 acres in Texas, Texas oilmen have under lease 45,402,656 acres, the association found. This is nearly 27 per cent of all the land in Texas. The figures were compiled from county tax records, company reports and ownership maps of individual counties.

Lease and royalty payments on this acreage to Texas farmers and ranchers totalled over $125,000,000 in 1939, the association reported. Broken traffic rules are boomerangs. They will average themselves.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Trigg of Snyder and Mr. and Mrs. Webb Jenkins of Hale Center and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lay and daughter Helen of Seagraves were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Stricklin and the Jack Stricklins, Sunday.

CARD OF THANKS

The Porch

We have been asked by an old timer to print the following poem, which will perhaps be understood by two and three generations of ago lovers, but the modern jelly and his mouse who park in cars just off the shoulders of the highways, and in the parks to spoon, will hardly understand The Porch stuff, but here goes: I stood on the porch at midnight, As the clock was striking the hour, And the "Old Gent" arose, what a pity, His look was dark and sour. Among her long, black tresses, My trembling fingers lay, When the old gent's number 11, Seemed to lift and bear me away. As sweeping, eddying through me, Was my belated pride, And streamlining into the moonlight, My coat tail floated wide. And like a cyclone rustling Among my quaking piers A flood of thoughts came over As I blushed behind the ears. How often! Oh! how often, In the days that had gone by, I had stood on that porch at midnight, And gazed on her bangs and eyes. How often! Oh! how often, I had wished that the eddying tide Would bear the old gent on its bosom O'er the ocean wild and wide. For my heart was hot and restless And my life was full of scare, And I hardly dared to kiss her, For fear her ma was there. But now he has ceased to annoy me He sleeps beneath the trees, And only the sorrow of others, Draws a mournful veil o'er me. As I think of many thousand, Of care unencumbered men, Each riding a number eleven, Have sprang from a porch since then. Forever and forever, As the courtship goes As long as heart has passion, As long as boots have toes. A porch and a sign of affection, And a papa shall appear As symbols of love and midnight, And a swift, skeddadding Dear.

LESSONS LEARNED FROM DISASTERS

"It's an ill wind that blows no one good," says an old adage. Some of the worst disasters in history have been of service to mankind. That is true in the case of fire. Every so often a conflagration hits this country, taking a tremendous toll in life and property. And the lessons learned from such ghastly tragedies are applied in an effort to prevent repetition in the future. The great Baltimore fire of 1904 is a case in point. To most of us it is only a vague memory—but not to those whose work it is to control and prevent fire in this country. That fire proved that conflagrations are usually the result of bad structural conditions, in many cases combined with inadequate fire-fighting facilities. Because of this, shortly following the Baltimore disaster, the fire insurance industry, through the National Board of Fire Underwriters, organized an engineering corps to study conflagration conditions. That corps has been working for 36 years, and it has studied and inspected hundreds of cities. Every so often it issues reports, in which recommendations for needed improvements are made—such as better water supply and fire alarm systems, better equipment for fire departments, more intensive training for firemen, improved building codes, etc. These particular studies are necessarily restricted to larger communities, but smaller centers have benefited. They have applied the experience gained to their needs, and have done excellent work in developing fire control methods for villages and rural areas. Thus, the conflagrations of the past are helping to prevent possible conflagrations in the future. The work that is being done benefits us all—it is a signal example of public service which knows no class or creed. And, if it is to achieve maximum success, it must have the support of all. Every citizen will have his chance to demonstrate his interest soon—during Fire Prevention Week, which begins October 6. Any game played in the street is a game of chance.

The FASHION FROCK Of The Week

A "WOOLLY" FAVORITE As Worn in Hollywood by Patricia Ellis Star of Screen and Radio

Those who are on the know in style circles predict that more than ever before, woollens will play an important part in one's winter wardrobe. And they will be good for either afternoon, evening or for sports. This week's style features one in a fabric of spun rayon and mixed with wool that is as light as a puff ball. It is styled right in every detail. Notice the stitching on the unusually draped neck line, on the bodice flaps, and on the cuffs. The gentle folds of the unpressed pleats below the belt make one's every movement a poem. Gathers spring from above the waistline on the back—a small self-tie fastens the back of the neck line. Patricia Ellis, glamorous Hollywood actress wears this frock in starry-eyed shade of blue. It is equally as smart in an American Beauty red. Here is a spirit lifting frock if there ever was one.

ASK ME, TOO!

Editor's Note—Each week in the Cub's Den will be found "Ask Me, Too!" This column will be the opinion of a few teachers and pupils on current topics of high school concern. This week the question was "What Do You Think of the Pep Squad Plan this Year?" (Incidentally, the entire student body will comprise the pep squad this year.) Coach Nooncaster: "I think it's a decided advantage as it gives each pupil a chance."

James Bryan: "O.K., I guess. I'm for it as long as there are some good lookin' leaders." LaRue Ross: "I think it's a good idea—if it'll work."

Mr. Smith: "Each member of the student body is firmly behind these boys."

Deverelle Lewis: "It's all right. A whole lot of noise should be made with the whole student body yelling."

Minnie Lee Walton: "If we can sell the activity tickets I think it'll be alright."

Mr. McBrayer: "Taking it as a whole, I like the idea. All the larger schools are doing it. The only thing, we won't have any color."

Jo Pete May: "It's a dirty shame that no more kids will cooperate so as to have a pep squad. What will we do when it comes to the half?"

M. J. Akers: "It's a swell idea. I'm for it 100 per cent."

Bobbie Perry: "It's O.K. by me."

Elsie Clare: "Half the time there will be nobody at the games away from home to do any cheering. It ain't so hot."

YELL LEADERS ELECTED

Mildred Clay, Grace Tarpley, Jack Ward and Jim Lane were elected Brownfield High School yell leaders for 1940-41 at an assembly meeting of the student body Tuesday afternoon. For the first time in history of the school there will be no selected pep squad. The entire student body will comprise the pep squad. Last year Mildred and Grace led the pep squad in cheers, thus being full-fledged yell leaders. The boys, on the other hand, are inexperienced at leading yells. Both Jack and Jim have been receiving cheers for their football exploits for the past few years.

Jim Lane formerly played for Reagan County High, while Jack Ward was a star end at Breckenridge High School for the past two seasons. Both Lane and Ward are ineligible to compete in interscholastic sports this year.

All in all, Brownfield High School should have the yelling squad of any school in the vicinity as BHS has the leaders and the student body to be just that.

NATIONAL INCOME UP TWO BILLIONS OVER 1939

National income for the first seven months of this year, as reported by the Department of Commerce, was two billion dollars greater than for the same period of 1939.

Total income payments to individuals through July were $41,660,000,000 compared with $39,578,000,000 last year. The figure includes income from salaries and wages, dividends and interest, income from trades and net rents and royalties, Social Security benefits and direct relief.

Income from trades increased from $7,649,000,000 to $8,105,000,000. Social Security benefits and direct relief increased from $1,594,000,000 to $1,741,000,000.

TECH GETS TENNESSEE WALKING STALLION

LUBBOCK, Sept. 16.—A Tennessee walking stallion has been added to the Texas Tech animal husbandry stables, which will be available for public service along with American saddle, palamino, and Percheron stallions and an American jack, Professor W. L. Stangel said.

Secured from Mid Seal of San Antonio, the four-year-old sorrel, blaze-faced, stocking-legged horse is "easily the most popular riding horse at the animal husbandry stables," Stangel said.

Mrs. Herman Chesshir and Miss Florene Williamson were Lubbock visitors, Saturday morning.

ABOUT MACHINE TOOLS

The public demands utmost speed from government and industry in their current job of providing this country with sufficient equipment to meet its national defense needs. When the public hears reasons advanced for delay, it wants to know the facts. And it's entitled to them.

This seems to be the story. Of course vast numbers of machines are needed to make tanks and guns and airplanes. But did you ever consider that, before the armaments are produced, "super-machines" must be put to work to make these vast numbers of regular machines? It's the opposite of Dean Swift's little verse about the fleas who "... have smaller still to bite 'em."

And so proceed ad infinitum! The super-machines in question are known as "machine tools." Most of these huge machines that can cut metal like butter and shape it to desired form are enormous complicated and expensive. Machine tools can't be made in a day under any circumstances; and the increased demand for them because of the national defense emergency has made the problem of production even more complicated.

That's why there's nothing hypocritical connected with industry's statement that machine tools are causing a lot of delay and defense headaches. These delays are being cleared up as rapidly as possible. In the meantime, public understanding of the difficulties involved will be a real contribution to progress.—Ablene Times.

Health Unit Report For Terry County

I would like to give you a brief summary of the accomplishments and activities of the Five County Health Unit in Brownfield and Terry county for the first eight months of its existence in the county.

As you know, we have a full-time nurse and clerk on duty in this county only and a physician, sanitary engineer, and sanitarian, each of which divides his time in working throughout all five of the counties. I will, however, in this report give you the activities they have done in this city and county alone.

Communicable Disease Control: Three cases of typhoid fever have occurred in Brownfield this year and the nurse and physician have made twenty-eight visits to the homes of these patients. Many other visits were made to the homes of patients with less serious communicable diseases such as whooping cough, measles and others. Three hundred and twelve children were vaccinated for small pox in Brownfield this summer by us. This number was limited because the local physicians restricted our vaccination to those who felt they were unable to go to their own private physicians. We have vaccinated 137 people against typhoid fever, which included the families and contacts of those patients who had typhoid. Five lectures on communicable diseases have been given.

Veneral Disease Control: We have not as yet opened a clinic for veneral disease in this county but can open one if found necessary and if the local physicians will approve it. However, we have distributed the necessary drugs to local physicians free of charge in order that they might treat free of charge, those patients unable to pay for treatment. Four lectures on veneral diseases have been given.

Maternity and Infant Service: Over sixty visits have been made to some twenty-five expectant mothers by the nurse. Twenty-five infants have been visited by the nursing service and some seventy visits have been made to them.

School Hygiene: Two pre-school examinations were held by the physician and nurse in Brownfield in order to inspect the children before they began school this fall. Some two hundred school children have been examined by the physician and nurse for physical defects and referred to their physician for necessary treatment. As a result of this service two children in the local school were found to have active cases of Tuberculosis and were sent to the State Tuberculosis Sanitarium for treatment. Several health lectures were made and health films shown to the school children throughout the county.

Sanitary Engineering: The Sanitary Engineer has worked with the city officials in both Brownfield and Meadow in an attempt to get the water supplies improved and approved by the State Health Department. He is also working with the various officials and individuals in an attempt to improve waste facilities in the city and county. He is at present aiding the officials of the new Cotton Oil Mill and officials of the new Magnolia camp in working out their problems on water and waste disposal. He is also working to prevent possible salt water pollution of fresh water in this county as a result of the increasing oil activities in this area. He is working with the Soil Conservation officials on the water and the waste facilities.

The first meeting of the Terry County-Brownfield Health Board was held in the office of the Health Unit Saturday evening, September 7. Seven of the ten appointed members and four of the five ex-officio members were present. Members attending were: Emmitt Smith, Tom May, Lee Fulton, R. A. Simms, Clyde Coleman, Dr. M. E. Jacobson, and Mrs. Floyd Copeland. Ex-Officio members present were: Dr. W. S. Brumage, Director of the Health Unit; Walter Breedlove, Sanitary Engineer; Miss Marguerite Cunningham, Nurse; and Miss Evelyn Henson, Clerk.

The meeting was called to order by Judge R. A. Simms who read the Constitution and by-laws of the Board to those in attendance.

Officers were elected as follows: R. A. Simms, Chairman; Clyde Coleman, Vice-Chairman; and Evelyn Henson, Ex-Officio Secretary. Two members were appointed by the Chairman to serve each of the four committees, namely, Committee on School and Pre-school care, Emmitt Smith and Mrs. Frank Weir; Committee on City and Rural Sanitation, Clyde Coleman and Lee Fulton; Committee on Communicable and Veneral Disease Control, Tom May and Judge R.

A. Simms; Committee on Maternity and Infant care, Mrs. Floyd Copeland and Mrs. Tom Cobb.

It was decided by the group that regular meetings would be held twice yearly and at any other time the Chairman might designate or deem necessary.

After a discussion by the group on different problems, the meeting was adjourned by the Chairman.

By Evelyn Henson, Ex-Officio Secretary Brownfield-Terry Co. Board of Health.

Henry Atkinson of Los Angeles, who has been here and at Amherst visiting relatives, returned home Friday. He was accompanied home by his mother, Mrs. W. C. Atkinson of Amherst. He is a brother of Miss Clifford Atkinson of the Sandra Sue Beauty shop.

Brit Clare and wife visited their son at Roswell, N. M., over the week end.

COULDN'T FINISH WHAT HE'D STARTED

Uncle Ezra was ignorant but he was smart enough to know it and honest enough to admit it. Unlike so many of our state's and our nation's politicians, he knew his limitations and was willing to proceed step by step.

Aunt Eliza had noticed him being occupied all by himself over in a corner near the fireplace. He was working industriously with a stub pencil and a piece of paper. Suddenly, he looked up happily.

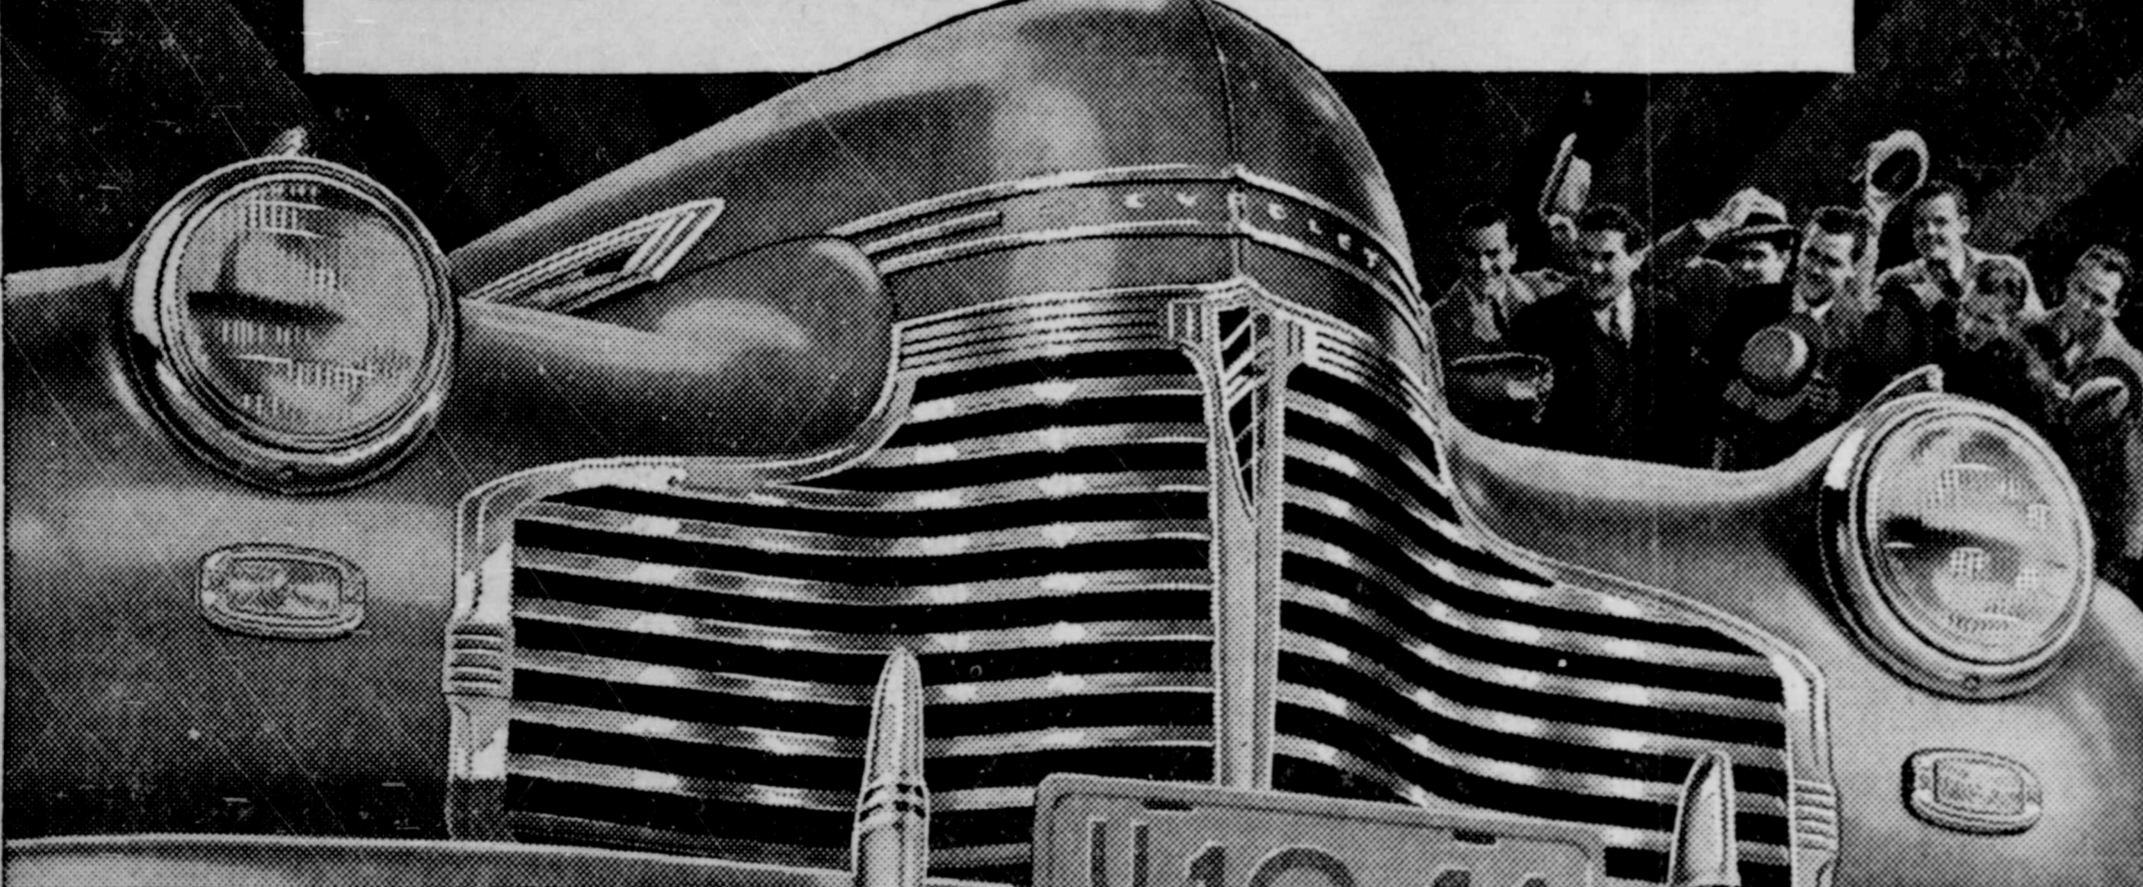

"Doggone," he exclaimed, "if I ain't learned to write!"

Auntie got up and looked over the scrawled lines across the paper. "What do it say?" she asked.

"I don't know," replied Uncle Ezra, puzzled. "I ain't learned to read yet."—Caps.

CASH FARM INCOME THIS YEAR NINE BILLIONS

Present prospects are for a total cash farm income, including Government payments, of about $8,900,000,000 in 1940, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics reported in its monthly analysis of the farm income situation. This is about $360,000,000, or 5 per cent higher than in 1939, and will be the second highest for any year since 1930. In 1937 cash farm income, including Government payments, totaled $9,111,000,000.

This tentative estimate of farm cash income for 1940 includes income from farm marketings and commodities placed under loan, and from Government payments. It is based upon income received in the first 7 months of 1940 and prospective marketings and prices during the last 5 months of the year.

TEXAS PARADE TELLS OF TOMORROW'S ROADS IN RECENT ARTICLE

The roads of tomorrow will be based upon the multitude of facts amassed today in the files of the State-Federal Highway planning Survey. This survey and the job it is doing is explained by Charles E. Simons in an article "The Plan's the Thing" in a recent issue of Texas Parade.

"Highway Engineers have found that it isn't enough merely to look back over the road and see where we have been," he writes. "We must look forward and try to calculate the problems that will arise in the future, based on the experience of the past, and key those calculations into the program of highway construction and maintenance."

"Gathering data on the problems of today as they arise in the highway transportation field and analyzing them are part of the work of the State-Federal Highway Planning Survey. The survey was divided into four major divisions, road inventory, traffic survey, financial survey and road life studies. Piles and piles of figures have been amassed, hundreds of tables and graphs prepared. It has been the most stupendous research task ever undertaken in Texas or the United States. Every mile of every public road in the state was surveyed and studied. The cost of its original construction, the amount of money that has been spent in maintaining it since its construction, the traffic that is developed and the kind of service it was rendering were ascertained. The type of construction and whether this particular type of road had been worth the investment in the light of traffic developments was investigated. The origin of traffic and where it wanted to go and how it got there was inquired into. The manner in which the average user of the highway, both private and commercial operated over the highway system was subjected to exhaustive study. An extensive traffic count was taken to determine exactly the traffic each road was carrying throughout a 24-hour period and how that particular road was serving the particular traffic that was using it.

"Already the data gathered in the origin and destination study has proved of great value. Answers have been found to questions which vitally affect the future of highways yet to be built. These studies will exert a powerful influence in the proposed building of by-pass routes around smaller cities where local and through traffic contributes to serious traffic congestion. A study of municipal rail-road grade crossings now is in progress and the more important crossings will be subjected to closer scrutiny. The roads of every county have been mapped, making available to research experts for the first time accurate data on every mile of road in every county.

"From these records will be determined the most effective width of traffic lanes, the limits within which a roadway may be curved without hazard or inconvenience to drivers and the amount that curves must be banked to insure safety. With exact recordings, made by instruments, future highway design will not be based on guesswork. The highways of the future will be designed to fit the needs of the traffic and will be based on actual records made, unknowingly, by the drivers themselves."

CHEVROLET SALES SHOW BIG INCREASE

DETROIT, Sept. 16.—Chevrolet dealers sold at retail nearly a quarter of a million new and used passenger cars and trucks in August, it was announced here today by William E. Holler, general sales manager. The month's sales report registered gains as high as 59.3 per cent over comparable periods, with new truck sales topping the list.

During the month, a total of 63,116 new passenger cars and trucks were retailed, an increase of 29.2 per cent over the same period last year. In the final ten days, 21,507 new passenger and commercial cars were sold, a gain of 31.8 per cent over the comparable period last year and 12.1 per cent ahead of the preceding period this year.

Used car sales for the month totalled 162,428, a 33.4 per cent increase over last year, and a gain of more than 5,664 units over July this year.

J. T. Harred has recently changed his address from Elkins to Crosses, Ark. Can't tell without looking on the map whether he is inching back toward Texas or not.

Don't be a "fall" guy. Watch where you're going.

NATIONAL INTEREST FIRST

There is disquieting talk concerning "bottlenecks" in the defense program. It is obvious that the time taken in turning plans into production is dangerously long.

According to commentators, certain segments of American industry are largely at fault, refusing to go ahead and do their jobs unless and until they are assured of excessive profits, without probability of loss. Just how accurate these charges are is not known, as the whole defense drive is enveloped in clouds of uncertainty. These clouds must be dissipated. The American people want to know and they are entitled to know just what groups are putting selfish interests ahead of the national interest. The greedy industry, no less than the greedy labor leader or the greedy politician must be given short shrift.

There is no question about the patriotism of those basic American industries which are essential to defense, the transportation companies, the power and light companies, and the majority of all business. These industries are sacrificing profits when necessary to the end that the public good be served. But if there is a purely mercenary spirit in some industries—a spirit which thinks only of big money, and cares not how the make it—the American people will demand stern action.

There must be profits—no man can build a plant without feeling that eventually he will earn enough to pay for it. But there is a tremendous difference between profit and profiteering, even as there is a tremendous difference between the sincere labor leader who seeks to obtain for the worker a fair return for what he does, and the labor racketeer who seeks to exploit the industries which make

Buick SPECIAL 6-passenger 4-door Sedan, $1052 delivered at Flint, Mich. Wheel shields and white sidewall tires, extra.*

AS surely as the new Buick FIREBALL* straight-eight engine sets the performance pace for the coming season, the graceful silhouette of the new Buick SPECIAL and CENTURY cuts the automotive style pattern for another half decade.

The reason is not alone the grace of its Buick-created lines, nor the appearance of solid substance in action that gives this honey the look of a speedster straining at its leash.

It is the practical quality of great room enclosed in sleek and flowing lines—more room for legs, for elbows, for heads, more room for entrance and more room for carrying luggage—that makes this the silhouette the cars of the future will seek to achieve.

Why wait for that—when in this Buick you travel in a car that, like time and tide, obviously isn't waiting for any man?

SCHOOL SPIRIT

By Meryl Lee Fitzgerald

When you go to school each morning, are you thinking of what you are going to try to do that day that will help you and the ones around you or your friends? Many students go to school thinking of what things they can do to make people unhappy and dislike you. You are not getting much fun out of life, and neither is the one around you. Did you ever think of this question or statement? "You get out of life what you put into it," and this is the same thing that you do in school.

Every student wants to be successful in the years to come or future. The student who tries to be of aid to the school generally is liked very much by the student body. When you go to school with a great big smile for the friends you meet, it will lead to a more joyful day in life than if you would never smile or laugh or speak to anyone. While you are smiling it makes everyone else want to be happy just the same as you are, and this helps students to jump the rough spots in life. This aids a person in understanding that his time is valuable and should be spent helping his fellowmen and making life happier for them each day of the year.

First comes friendship in every thing you do. You hear many people say: "I do not know what I would do without friends." Have you thought about this statement? Would your life be worth living, if you did not have friends? No, it would not. We would have to go on living, but what would be interesting in it without friends?

What one thing in each individual's heart helps him to get the most out of school life? After all it is that person we meet, who understands your ways and helps us to overcome our faults in life. We should go about making friends and helping them along the crooked paths of life, that we so often travel.

While each of us are in school most of our youthful years, we want to make this a worthwhile achievement in the best years of our lives, which is in the future.

FOOTBALL CONTEST AROUSES INTEREST

Excitement is running high among the high school students over the football "Guess the Score" contest which is being sponsored by the Press Club. Each week the boy and girl winning the contest will be awarded two theatre passes. This week the lucky girl will receive the Rialto Theatre passes and the boy will get the Rio tickets. Next week the system will be reversed with the boy receiving the Rialto passes and the girl the Rio passes.

Five football games each week will comprise the guessing contest. Entry blanks are distributed by the Press Club members and the boys and girls fill in the scores they think will be made in the five games. The closest girl and boy to the actual scores will be awarded the theatre passes through the courtesy of Mrs. Jones, manager of the theatres.

More than 130 entry blanks have been given out for this week's contest, which closes at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Every high school student is eligible to enter the contest. There is no entry fee. The contest will be carried on throughout the football season. Winners of the contest will be announced in "The Cub's Den" each week.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT UNDER WAY

Brownfield High School's first annual tennis tournament. Champion singles players of the high school will be decided in the boy's and girl's divisions. Trophies will be awarded the winning boy and girl by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Brownfield News, respectively.

All matches will be played on the high school courts and the townspeople are urged to attend. Two new tennis nets have been secured by BHS for tournament use. Forty boys will vie for the Jaycee prize, while twenty-six girls will battle it out for the News award.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Attendance was increased in the teaching hour and the preaching service last Sunday with four new members coming into the fellowship of this church.

The Brotherhood held their regular monthly meeting Monday evening with an interesting program but smaller attendance and new president and officers to be elected for the coming year, who will take their places at the next regular meeting in October.

The new teachers and officers will take their places in the church school Sunday, Sept. 29 which is promotion day, and the new teachers should secure a list of their new pupils and visit as many of them as possible that there be no loss of attendance at the changing of teachers. Our enrollment is well over 600 but should be increased at once to at least 800 and the regular attendance should total at least 400 average.

The pastor closes his third year and began his fourth with the church last Sunday. Much has been accomplished, but much remains to be done and our greatest need is 100 per cent cooperation at the task of building our work around Christ, the chief corner stone, and furthering not our local work alone, but the work of the Kingdom throughout the entire world.

Some two thousand dollars are needed soon to take care of heating expense and payment required this Fall on the new building and this is a fine time for those gathering good crops to remember the needs of the church liberally "as God has prospered", them.

There is work in this church for those who have a mind to work and if you have been active elsewhere we need your cooperation here.

Clifford Atkinson and Bessie Mae Perkins, Wilmet Hamilton and Mona Scott were Odessa visitors, Sunday.

WHY FEAR VISIT TO THE DENTIST?

AUSTIN, Sept. 16.—In spite of the great advancements that have been made in dental instruments, local anesthesia and operative methods in recent years, there are yet many persons who have an unjustified fear of the dental chair. Unfortunately, this attitude influences thousands to postpone the visit to the dentist until there is actual pain or until an accident to tooth structure occurs. Such a fear-complex is not only foolish but often produces real suffering, loss of teeth, serious illness in addition to unnecessary expenditure of money, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, states.

"It is true that some discomfort is connected with dental corrections, though often this fear may be psychological fear of pain rather than the pain itself. However, in view of the actual damage that can result because of delay temporary inconvenience deserves no consideration whatsoever in a wise and economical personal dental program.

"Common sense suggests that early dental faults are more easily and painlessly corrected than those that are permitted to become aggravated through neglect and for which a cure is sought only as a last resort. The time to discover dental defects, therefore, is before one is aware that such trouble exists. Prevention of dental defects is less painful than correction.

For this reason, it is excellent practice to adopt a regular semi-annual schedule as the minimum number of visits to be made to your dentist. Of course, if the necessity for dental attention should arise in the meantime, it is wise to make an immediate appointment with the dentist. Postponing a consultation on the fear alibi increases the probability of real discomfort not to mention more serious complications.

In short, what one should fear is not the slight discomfort of the dentist's office when the visits are placed on a routine basis, but the pain, illness and unnecessary loss of money and time because of a fear-postponing attitude.

JAVELINAS INCREASING

AUSTIN, Sept. 16.—Javelinas, also called Collard Pecary, the only native North American wild hog, are increasing in Texas, reports of game managers to the executive secretary of the State Fish, Game and Oyster Commission, indicate.

The increase is largely due to the protection given this game animal by a state law which went into effect last year. It is now unlawful to shoot Pecaries except during the opening season of Nov. 15 to Dec. 31. It is permissible to kill two during a season.

Nazi Official Newspaper Pins Swastika On Willkie

CHICAGO—A front page editorial in the current issue of The Free American and Deutscher Weckruf und Beobachter, official Bund newspaper, puts American Nazis on record in favor of Wendell L. Willkie.

Mr. Willkie's acceptance speech, the article says, "was a dynamic declaration of principle, singularly free from the vindictive undertone we have become accustomed to hear from the lips of the President."

The paper excuses Mr. Willkie's reference to Adolf Hitler by explaining that the candidate used Der Fuehrer merely as a scapegoat.

"He (Mr. Willkie) promises that there will be no war unless America is attacked," the editorial says. "He warned us that the promises of the present Administration cannot lead to victory against Hitler or anything else."

"He will not, like Roosevelt, seek in intricate ways to involve us. That is heartening assurance."

"Incidentally he gave the German element a certificate of loyalty when he declared that his German parents had so indoctrinated their children with a sense of patriotic duty that all three sons served in the World War."

Body of H. R. Gorman Buried Sunday

A shadow of sadness was cast over the community last week when it was learned that the body of a man, supposedly that of our fine citizen, H. R. Gorman, had been taken from the Mississippi river at Baton Rouge, La. One of his sons then made the trip to that city and positively identified the body as that of his father. Arrangements were made at once to send the body back here for burial beside the body of his wife.

Mr. Gorman had made a trip to Tupelo, Miss., about the first of August. His luggage was shipped back here around the 10th, and since then, none of his five children living here had heard from him, and of course were very uneasy. The luggage was shipped down from Vicksburg, Miss., and it is supposed that his body had floated down from Vicksburg to Baton Rouge, which had taken practically a month. There was a sum of money on the body, about what he was supposed to have had, and a picture of a grandson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hub Crowder of the Wellman community.

The Louisiana sheriff sent the picture to Sheriff Ches Gore of this city, who aided the family of deceased all he could in identifying the body. The body had a broken shoulder, but it is believed that this occurred when the body went over the falls in the Mississippi above Baton Rouge.

Funeral services were conducted here Sunday afternoon at four o'clock at the Methodist church, Rev. J. W. Hanks, pastor, officiating, at which a large crowd of his friends and neighbors attended. Following the services, the body was laid to rest in the Brownfield cemetery.

Nine children survive, four girls and five boys, as follows: Mrs. J. W. Kensley, Oklahoma City; Mrs. Nellie Grasset, 'ty; M. M.

Gorman, Marshall, Texas; R. M. Gorman, Coolidge, Texas; J. J. Gorman, Atlanta, Texas; M. A. and W. H. Gorman, and Mrs. Luther Moore, city; Mrs. Hub Crowder, Wellman.

Mr. Gorman was born at Tupelo Miss., Dec. 22, 1859, being 80 years of age, past. In 1881, he married Miss Mattie Graves, who passed away in January, 1939. He had been a resident and highly respected citizen of Terry county many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Miller are in Temple, where Mr. Miller is taking treatment at Scott & White Clinic.

Mr. and Mrs. Terrel Isbell and son of Jacksboro and Mrs. George Hunt of San Angelo were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Ridgeway.

Mrs. W. E. Lyle and son Don of Lubbock were guests in the Stricklin home from Friday to Tuesday.

Says Prof. Clifford F. Weigle of Stanford University in a recent address before a Lions club: "The average newspaper gives its community $18,666.00 worth of free advertising in a year's time, if charged at regular advertising rates." What other business or industry even minutely approaches that figure of helping their communities?

Archie Carr was taken to the local hospital Tuesday, suffering with appendicitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Gladys Green and Laverne and Gladys Lafoy spent Sunday in Tahoka with Mrs. Green's sister.
