When A Farm Is 'Operated' Under AAA Program

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 23—Since the regulations of the 1941 AAA program require that a farm be operated in order to qualify for payments other than for soil-building practices or restoration land measures, the state AAA committee has outlined seven ways in which a farm will be considered as "operated" in 1941.

Acres equal to 50 percent of the total soil-depleting allotment determined for the farm must be devoted to one or more of the following uses to qualify, George Slaughter, chairman of the committee, said.

(1) A crop is seeded for harvest in 1941.

(2) A crop (other than wild hay) is harvested in 1941.

(3) Legumes or grasses are seeded in the fall of 1940 or seeded in 1941 except in the fall of 1941.

(4) Sweet sorghums or Sudan grass are seeded in 1941 except in the fall of 1941.

(5) Land is summer fallowed in 1941.

(6) Small grains are seeded for pasture in 1941 except in the fall of 1941.

(7) Acreage considered are crop land is devoted to pastures consisting of perennial legumes or perennial grasses or mixtures of the two.

In addition, a farm may be considered as operated if flood or drought cause failure to carry out any of the above uses, Slaughter said. County committees will settle such cases locally. To be accepted as reason for failure, the flood or drought must have been general over a substantial area of the county.

A Pledge To The Flag

The American Flag stands for ideals and principles that we should ever keep alive in our hearts. It is a symbol of our pride in the past and our hope for the future.

In its beauty and glory we see reflected the FAITH of Washington at Valley Forge—the inspired WISDOM of Jefferson and our constitution—the COURAGE of Nathan Hale and those who died for it—the HOPE of future generations.

We are the guardians of its past, and makers of its present, the moulders of its future. How we solve the problem of today may have just as great an influence upon the future as did the work of Washington and Lincoln.

With inspiration of the Stars and Stripes to guide us, let us face our difficulties with faith and hope, wisdom and courage. Let us, as loyal American citizens, pledge ourselves anew to live up to the full measure of our duty to God, to our Country, and to our Flag.

Chamber of Commerce Budgeting Program

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce program and campaign for more business-like administration in the Texas state government has been taken directly to taxpayers' groups from 120 towns in the past three weeks. And the response, said WTCC Manager D. A. Bandeen in a statement from the Abilene headquarters, "has been gratifyingly responsive, fully up to our expectations."

The regional chamber is pushing for passage by the coming legislature of a bill covering its financial reorganization plan. The problem, the legislative remedy and the benefits expected to accrue have been explained to and discussed with taxpayers' groups in 31 regional meetings held throughout West Texas beginning November 27th. A half-dozen more are scheduled—the next, at Decatur Wednesday the 18th with the local chamber of commerce board and Lions club. The 31 meetings to date have been held under sponsorship of local chambers joined by WTCC town directors; and the WTCC is asking the local chambers to, first, pledge support of the plan, and second, to take leadership in winning support of other community organizations. They are also asked to appoint committees to call upon their legislators, asking them to put the program through early in the session at Austin.

Need for Haste

"With the legislature's opening less than a month away, time is the all-important factor," said J. S. Bridwell, WTCC president. "We want our bill to be given the right-of-way. We want as many co-sponsors as we can get, strong blocs in the two houses, fast action in bringing about this vitally needed change in our state administrative department. We urge all bodies concerned over the problem and believing in the soundness of this plan to at once send in their endorsements."

The bill will be introduced in the lower house by Rep. Joe Humphrey of Abilene. This new legislator majored in college in study of government. He holds a master's degree from Southern Methodist University.

The drive for better business methods in the state government will not be pushed by West Texas alone. The three regional chambers of commerce—East and South Texas as well as West Texas—are planning to "throw in" together: a united front. A joint statement to that effect was issued by their executives December 2. Last week the South Texas chamber's board formally confirmed its participation, and on December 17 the WTCC and ETEX presidents and managers will meet in Longview to plan future steps in the campaign.

Explanation of Plan

The reorganization bill, now being written, will provide for the continuous and responsible supervision of the state's receipts and expenditures through an executive budget. It will set up a closely thought out system for centralized purchasing of supplies, materials and equipment; an integrated centrally controlled accounting system kept on an accurate basis; and better auditing and independent post auditing of expenditures. It will set up a system for closer coordination of the staff service of the state. It calls for a civil service system for state employees based on merit and competitive examination. It seeks reorganization of the state's administrative agencies now numbering more than one hundred, into no more than 18 departments. And it provides for complete information on administrative affairs to the legislature for policy-determining purposes.

Two new agencies are created under the plan. One is a governor's cabinet, an advisory board composed of the constitutionally designated executives of the state all of whom are elective officials except the secretary of state, and of the appointive departmental executives representing the major functions of the government. The bill provides that the governor will

$4,146,625 Paid Texas Farmers By Cotton Oil Mills

DALLAS, Dec. 23 — $4,146,625 was the amount received by Texas cotton growers from the sale of cottonseed to oil mills during the month of November, according to an announcement made here today by Bennette Wallin, Secretary of the Texas Cottonseed Crushers' Association. This estimate is based upon the reports if two Federal agencies, the Bureau of the Census and the Agricultural Marketing Service.

Growers' cash income during November was approximately $1,200,000 greater in November this year than in 1939. During the first four months of the current season, beginning August 1, Texas oil mills have paid growers a total of $19,482,000 which is $3,400,000 greater than was paid during the same period last year.

Despite an increase in the Texas crop of about 440,000 bales, seed receipts by Texas mills have been only slightly larger this season than last.

Governor and Legislature

"The very essence of the plan," said Jas. D. Hamlin, chairman of the WTCC's public expenditure commission, "is making the governor really the chief executive, and giving him the machinery with which he can be a chief executive, as is very definitely prescribed in our constitution of Texas. At the same time the plan provides a sound system of checks against the misuse of executive authority by making the governor responsible to the people through the legislature, which is the other constitutionally designated policy determining agency of the state."

"Again," said Hamlin, "the plan is built within the terms of the constitution. Finally, it is not in any sense startling, revolutionary or even new. Mainly it is a composite of the best features of reorganization plans in practice in other states, notably Minnesota, Kentucky and Virginia. In these states inspiring results are being won, and we can do the same in Texas, in ending overlapping and of wasteful spending, in all around duplications of effort, in checking efficiency, and in tremendous savings to the taxpayers."

A Light Paper This Week In Prospect

The Herald this week will look smaller, and perhaps will not have the features and local news that it usually has, for the reason that the force worked until Tuesday night, took off Wednesday for one day of Christmas, and then hit the ball Thursday to get out this noble sheet. We know a lot of you would cry your eyes out if you didn't get it.

In a way, we deserve some rest from our labors this week. Last week, we had several ads come in late, some of them so large that it forced us to leave out some important local news. Then too, the lawyers, bless 'em, never thought about the fact that they'd have to start citations last week in order to get them in the paper for 30 days before court meets January 20th. So, the linotype man had to spend the greater part of the day last Thursday putting up for legal—and they have to be right—no ifs, ands and buts about it.

So, you see folks the old crew needs one day at least to rest, more if possible, but we'll just take one and make out on it the best we can.

Hope you and yours had a very Merry Christmas, and that the New Year holds much in store for you.

Dec. 31 Deadline For Parity Applications

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 23—With only a few thousand cotton parity payment applications not yet signed by cooperating farmers, AAA officials this week reminded cotton growers that December 31 is the final date to file applications for parity payments.

To date, 333,208 out of an anticipated 350,000 applications for parity payments have been received, Romeo M. Korth, state AAA committee chairman and Karnes County farmer, announced. Payments totaling $23,830,812 already have been made on 328,213 of the applications.

Approximately half of the anticipated 405,000 conservation payment applications have been received in the state office, Korth said, and payment has been made on 114,444, totaling $16,414,041. Deadline for filing conservation payment applications is March 31. Under the range conservation program, $1,655,499 has been paid on 5,505 applications.

No extension of the December 31 deadline will be made, the state committee declared, urging that all who are eligible for payment sign their applications as soon as possible.

May Be Forced To Invoke Equal Value

There are 254 counties in Texas and approximately 465 cities and towns and 1040 independent school districts. These 1759 taxing units are supported by taxes derived almost entirely from property and the amount collected by these taxing units for the year ending prior to Sept. 1, 1938 amounted to $104,230,433 and the amount of delinquent taxes due these 1759 taxing units that accumulated in 33 years (1920-1938) amounted to $87,058,945 or an average annual delinquency of $4,836,608 (copied from the State Auditor's Report of April 15, 1939.)

The question arises, who is responsible, the delinquent or the taxing units, for this delinquency is costing those who pay their taxes from 8 percent to 15 percent annually.

The responsibility for this delinquency does not rest wholly on the delinquent but largely on the tax officials of the three classes of taxing units. These taxing officials, however, can with reason and much force claim they are unable under the present law to give a satisfactory tax deed where forced collections are necessary, hence tax suits in most cases only go far enough to cast a cloud on the land titles, hence the property is seldom sold for cash. Under the present tax law these 1759 taxing units as well as the state may in the near future face another "question mark" as to the collection of the delinquent property tax by reason of the present indefinite unequal and unworkable tax laws.

The question mark we refer to is under the present delinquent tax law, for there is no effort or semblance of an effort to enforce the present law uniformly.

"A" can be delinquent for one year and suit brought against him to enforce the tax line while "B" has been delinquent for ten or twelve years and is now delinquent but for some reason he is not molested, hence under the present procedure "A" can be forced to pay his pro rata of "B's" delinquent taxes, hence "A" must submit to an increased tax rate or increase value of his property or, perhaps both, in order to make good "B's" failure to pay his debt to government, yet the same law applies to "A". The courts may be called on to state whether the equal value clause is complied with in the case of "A" and "B".

We have written a delinquent tax bill to be presented to the next legislature but if the tax officials and property owners do not give some attention to the bill or to some other bill properly dealing with the present delinquent tax laws and assist in getting it enacted into law they will find about one-third more delinquents next year than there are this year. The bill will also provide that the State, Counties, Cities and Towns and other governmental subdivisions cannot pay any official or employees any compensation who knowingly owe delinquent taxes until after such taxes are paid or being paid.

REACTION OF DEFENSE
PROGRAM AND WAR
ON 1941 ECONOMY

COLLEGE STATION, Dec. 16—Defense program expenditures and wars abroad, believes W. E. Morgan, Texas A. and M. College Extension Service economist, constitute the most important element in the economic picture for 1941 and successive years.

He interprets expenditures for defense, along with the expected heavy volume of industrial exports, as pointing to "a materially higher level of industrial activity, employment, industrial payrolls and income of non-agricultural consumers in general."

The resulting improved consumer demand, he adds, will affect especially products, including meats, dairy and poultry products, and some fruits and vegetables, which are sold almost entirely in domestic markets. Unemployment may be cut in half by 1942, assuming the United States does not become a belligerent in the war and that the $17,000,000,000 currently appropriated for defense is expended at the rate of about $5,000,000,000 a year.

Analyzing trends, Morgan, who attended the recent U. S. Department of Agriculture annual Outlook Conference at Washington, says that export demand for United States farm products is likely to be even worse in 1941 than in 1940. Continental European markets now are almost entirely shut off and British import restrictions on some commodities have been increased over those prevailing in the first part of 1940. The outlook might be better if the war in Europe ended, although even in that event many conditions would remain unfavorable.

Cotton exports are expected to be quite small in 1940-41 compared with the previous marketing year and may drop to the lowest level in modern times. The most optimistic estimates are for an export of around 2,000,000 bales, but many estimates range down to 1,000,000 or less. Domestic consumption may offset this somewhat by reaching the highest level on record, but regardless, an increase in the record carry-over of American cotton next August appears inevitable.

DEATHS FOR 11-MONTHS
TOTAL 38 LESS THAN
NOVEMBER LAST YEAR

AUSTIN, Dec. 23—The shambles of Coventry and Portsmouth have nothing on Texas, Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Department of Public Safety, observed today in announcing that the automobile blitzkrieg has virtually shattered the state's two-year record of decrease in traffic deaths.

Traffic statisticians today had counted 182 deaths for November, bringing the 11-month total to 1,545. This is only 38 less than last year's total of 1,593. With at least 150 deaths expected during December, it was estimated the year's toll will reach 1,733 or more, the largest figure since the record-breaking 1937 total of 2,043.

The 11-month total represents an increase of nine percent over the same period of last year. Accidents increased in cities, on the highways and on country roads, decreasing slightly in cities of less than 2,500 population, but in all four classifications deaths increased.

Christmas In A Can?

By Mareta Holloway

Now who wouldn't be pleased with a gift, say of canned fruit cake or canned plum pudding? Easy to wrap, easy to send, and Oh, so good! And at that, rather unusual too. There are times when we like to make our Christmas goodies last, and these will you know.

To Can Fruit Cake:

- 1 pound flour
- 1 pound brown sugar
- 1 pound butter
- 5 pounds seeded raisins
- 3 pounds dates seeded and cut
- 2 pounds candied cherries or candied pineapple, cut
- 2 pounds candied pineapple, cut
- 2 pounds candied apricots, cut
- 2 pounds candied citron or citrus peel
- 3 pounds dried currants cut thin
- 1 pounds pecans or other nuts
- 12 eggs (do not separate)
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 2 teaspoons cinnamon
- 2 teaspoons cloves
- 2 nutmegs grated
- 1 cup grape juice or cider
- 1 Teaspoon salt

Clean dried fruits as raisins and currants by adding two tablespoons flour to each pound fruit and rubbing vigorously. Place in fruit sieve and shake out cleaning flour.

Cut candied fruit as desired. Nut meats can be left whole or broken. Combine fruits, nuts, and one-half of the flour.

Cream the butter and sugar. Beat eggs. Add 1-2 cup of flour to creamed butter and sugar, then add beaten eggs, and another 1-2 cup of flour. Sieve together baking powder with rest of flour and spices. Combine fruits, nuts and other ingredients and mix thoroughly.

Grease 18 No. 2 cans or 9 No. 3 cans. Fill with fruit cake 3-4 in. from top. Seal the first roll and steam for one hour and 15 minutes in a water bath, by placing filled cans on a rack in an ordinary wash boiler or similar container, and adding not over three inches of water. Place the lid on the boiler to hold in the steam.

Remove from water bath, complete seal on cans and process immediately at 10 pounds pressure for 30 minutes.

To Can Plum Pudding:

- 1 pound flour
- 1 pound sugar (white or brown)
- 1 pound chopped beef suet
- 1 pound seedless raisins
- 1 pound dried currants
- 3-4 pound candied citron or citrus peel cut fine
- 2 cups pecans cut fine
- 9 eggs
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- 6 teaspoons cinnamon
- 4 teaspoons cloves
- 4 teaspoons nutmeg
- 2 teaspoons allspice
- 1 cup grape juice with juice of one lemon.

Mix the chopped suet with the sugar. Mix the fruit and nuts, after carefully cleaning, with half of the flour. Beat the egg yolks and whites separately. Add the yolks to the suet and sugar, then the fruit and the nuts. Sift together the

ALTHOUGH window screen wire mesh is seldom painted, when decoration is desirable a very thin coating composed of 2 parts (by volume) soft paste white lead and 3 parts of an equal mixture of boiled linseed oil, spar varnish and turpentine—either used white or tinted as desired with paste colors-in-oil—will provide the most variable, durable finish.

Brush and cross brush the paint on evenly from both sides of the screen, after which tap the frame lightly to clear the wire of excess paint which otherwise might remain to clog the pores.

When the mesh is sufficiently dry for handling, paint the frame with pure white lead and oil according to the standard practice for exterior wood.

Q.—Can shingle overwalling be applied to brick as well as wood siding?

A.—For restyling plus added insulation or when brick walls are causing trouble due to leakage and moisture absorption, overwall shingles are the economical solution.

First fasten vertical siding strips to the window frames and walls with nails—specially fashioned for the purpose—driven into the mortar lines between the bricks.

To these verticals, attach horizontal strips as a shingle nailing base. The latter should be installed with a center-to-center spacing equal to the proposed exposure surface of the shingles.

Overwalling on all types of wood siding is comparatively simple, as the shingles may be applied directly, as is new sheathing. Here binding paper is required, installed as is the common practice on new construction.

Durable certified red cedar shingles—single or double course—are highly recommended to produce new style lines for modernizing old buildings.

rest of the dry ingredients. Add these ingredients to the first mixture, alternately with the grape juice. Fold in the egg whites and mix well. Grease 7 No. 2 tin cans and fill one inch from top with the pudding mixture. Seal the first roll to prevent moisture from coming in contact with top of pudding. Steam in water bath for 1 hour and fifteen minutes. Complete seal on cans and process immediately at 10 pounds pressure for fifteen minutes.

NORTH SIDE BAPTIST CHURCH

Every soul, both the saved and unsaved, and every pastor is cordially invited to come and share the blessing with us in the coming Mid-Winter series of meetings which begins on Sunday night, December 29th. The pastor, Jno. R. Denning will at that time begin a nightly series of messages from the Book of Revelation, giving an exposition of the Book chapter by chapter, and interpreting Scripture with Scripture.

Then on Monday, January 6th, and continuing daily from 10:00 A. M. until 10:00 P. M., eight visiting ministers will assist in a Bible School and evangelistic series, each one being assigned some particular book of the Bible to teach in the day sessions, with evangelistic and prophetic messages at night.

This is an unusual opportunity for one and all to come and bring their Bibles and get the blessing as the Scriptures are unfolded verse by verse. Every Church and pastor should be materially strengthened through this mutual fellowship, and study. More minute details including the names of the visiting ministers participating will be announced in next week's issue of this paper.

Next Sunday, at both morning and night services the pastor will continue his present Sunday series. At eleven o'clock the subject will be: "Christ in the Gospel of John." At the night service, which begins at 7:00 p. m., he speaks upon: "The Third Miracle of the Cross—The Earthquake, and its Prophetic Significance." You will enjoy these messages. Come and see.

WORLD'S BEST BACKS: Fifty-two years ago, when Collier's Weekly first started picking All-America teams, the men who received the famous All-America gold football were all from three or four Eastern colleges. Now they're from every part of the country. This year's Collier's All-America back-field, shown above, doesn't find an Eastern school represented. They are: upper left; Albert, quarterback, Stanford; upper right; Kimbrough, fullback, Texas A. & M.; lower left; Harmon, half-back, Michigan; lower right; Franck, halfback, Minnesota.

GETS TWO DEER IN OWN BACKYARD

Mrs. W. J. Hardin, Llano, Texas, ranchwoman, has to go no farther than her own back steps to get her limit of deer, or at least that is what she did this season, according to the Austin American. Two weeks ago Mrs. Hardin shot a buck which was in her chicken yard and she brought her hunting season to an abrupt close the other day when she bagged another buck when she saw it standing by a woodpile in the backyard.

Brazil's 1937 cotton crop, largest in the country's history, was only two-thirds as large as Texas' production for the same year.

IS HOCKLEY COUNTY WET OR DRY?

Residents of Hockley county have considered all along that the county was officially dry, in fact the attorney general had so ruled because the county from which Hockley was taken was dry at that time. But according to reports now, the courts have ruled that counties like this are legally wet. This brought about quick action on the part of those who do not want to see open saloons in the county and a meeting was called and a petition circulated asking for an election. The election was ordered and the date set as December 28.

On top of all the other troubles, our Society Editor, Mrs. A. D. Repp, after waiting on her family with flu, and keeping up her part of newsgathering, came down herself Tuesday. Mrs. Dick McDuffie was still pinch hitting for her.

Aliens in the United States must register on or before December 28. In the middle of November it was estimated that by the U. S. Department of Justice that about 800,000 aliens in this country had not registered. Of these some are still ignorant of the law, some are negligent and some are reluctant or unwilling to comply with it. There are few aliens in this area but any such should be reminded by their friends that there are no fees of any kind, no use to pay any racketeer any money to "fix things," and that the Post Office department and the Department of Justice are ready to answer any individual question and to render any assistance possible. Even sample registration forms will be provided so that no alien will be unprepared to furnish the information required. Failure to register, if alien, subjects one to a thousand dollar fine or six months imprisonment or both.

Perfectly Heavenly

Silver and white make a "heavenly" evening gown for Ellen Drew, in Paramount's "A Date With Destiny." Designed by Edith Head, the gown, described by the National Cotton Council as being one of the more attractive of the season, has yards and yards of white cotton net in a voluminous skirt of many layers. The slim, fitted bodice is silver lame, with very narrow straps for the shoulders and an extreme back décolletage. Silver lame outlines the sections of the skirt and the brief bolero. It also edges a giant white net handkerchief.

Selected by the National Cotton Council as "cotton hosiery queen," this eastern fashion model poses in one of the first pairs of the new type mercerized lisle stockings. The new hose, first of 56 types devised by the Department of Agriculture to be manufactured commercially, are said to be the "most attractive cotton stockings ever made." It is a full-fashioned, sheer mesh made of fine cotton mercerized cotton lisle yarn, and will make its formal debut in many American department stores during National Cotton Week.

50,000 U. S. Cows Now Enrolled In Artificial Breeding Groups

These three Guernsey half-sisters, bred by artificial insemination, show remarkably similar conformity and color markings. Their daddy, who never met their mother, is Hilltop Butterfat Majesty 25253.

Test Tube Breeding Adopted by 5,000 Farmers Within the Last 2 1/2 Years

ARTIFICIAL breeding of dairy cattle may ultimately become as common in the United States as artificial incubation of chickens.

Not so many years ago chickens were hatched after a hen sat patiently for three weeks on as many eggs as her feathered body could cover. Science, through incubators, virtually put the setting hen out of business and revolutionized chicken-raising by putting it on a mass production basis.

Unregulated mass production is not the purpose of artificial dairy cattle breeding. Increase in the number of offspring an outstanding proven bull can sire, thus materially improving the general quality of the nation's dairy herds, is the chief goal. Supplemental advantages include eliminating most of the bother and work in breeding without increasing cost, curtailing spread of disease and assistance in maintaining, through periodic examination of cows by trained veterinarians, herds that breed regularly.

Introduced 2 1/2 Years Ago
Introduced in the U. S. only about 2 1/2 years ago after widespread use in Russia, Denmark and other European countries, artificial breeding has grown by leaps and bounds. Today around 5,000 farmers own and direct more than 50 artificial breeding cooperatives in which about 50,000 cows are enrolled, according to a survey just completed by National Dairy Products Corporation, which provides research fellowships for further study of the subject at State Agricultural Colleges in New Jersey and Vermont.

Cites Benefits

Thos. H. McInerney, president of the corporation, regards encouragement of artificial breeding programs as most conducive to the "general benefit and profit of dairying in any region."

"The cost of securing the service of a proven bull—which is one capable of transmitting high milk productivity—heretofore has been beyond the means of many farmers," Mr. McInerney states, "and yet the widespread use of proven sires is essential for improved efficiency and increased profit in dairy herds. Artificial breeding makes these proven sires available at no higher costs than those incurred in keeping a mediocre bull. In place of a poor bull a producer can add a cow to his herd, a cow that will return enough over feed cost to offset the expense of his membership in an artificial breeding association."

SKIMPING IN WRONG PLACES OFTEN COSTLY IN LONG RUN CUTTING COSTS ON FUNDAMENTALS MEANS ENDLESS TROUBLE AND EXPENSE IN YEARS TO COME

CRACKED WALLS—Often caused by uneven settling of footings and foundation. Skimping on footings in either size or concrete mix is poor economy.

Where is it wise to cut costs in your new home and where is it wise to buy the best? This is a problem that most home builders face more than once during construction. And what is the answer? It is a problem that every home owner must settle to the best of his ability with the help of his contractor and architect.

Replacement Big Factor
There is one general principle that can be set down here, however. Briefly, it is this. Any part of your house that it is not practical to replace should have the best in construction and materials. By this, we mean such items as footings and foundation, timber skeleton and frame work, windows and window frames, which are really part of the house frame, concealed ducts and wiring. All these things must last the life of the house.

Wiser to Wait
It is wiser to wait for some of the attractive furnishings and fixtures until more money is available, rather than to skimp on

CREAKY FLOORS—Very often the result of skimping on size of floor joists. Another example of the wrong place to cut costs.

DRAFTY WINDOWS—Result of poor fitting and cheap construction. A few dollars extra spent for precision built windows and frames would save enough in fuel costs to pay for slight extra cost.

Careers in Engineering

By R. T. Strohm
Dean, International Correspondence Schools

WHO enriched our lives by the airplane, the modern refrigerator, the automobile, the radio? Who provided us with light at the flick of a switch? Who, indeed, has wrought more changes in our manner of life than the engineer?

In conquering the forces of nature man learned engineering. The first lever used to pry a rock, the first wheel built to move burdens, the first wedge shaped to split a log were creations of prehistoric engineers. Over four thousand years ago, engineers built the dams on the Euphrates and erected the Egyptian pyramids.

Two thousand years ago Roman engineers tied Europe together by highways, spurred the migration of older civilizations into unexplored countries. There the conquerors provided uncontaminated water supplies and shelter against the elements. So down through the ages, making life more secure and more satisfying, the work of engineers has gone forward.

The work of engineers, often unsung, has provided for ever-widening and continuous benefits to the human race, through control of nature's forces and materials.

Today the youth of a nation, interested in knowing more about our fast moving age may well consider engineering as one of the most utilitarian and fascinating professions.

Engineering embodying a knowledge of mathematics, technological arts and sciences and the ability to direct and work with men offers worthwhile careers for youth of ability!

THE shabby appearance and inadequate lighting common to neglected cellars can be greatly improved by the application of a couple of coats of light colored, washable paint to the concrete floor and walls as well as to the ceiling.

Let new cement or concrete weather for several months before painting, or artificially neutralize the surface alkaline substances injurious to paint by washing with a chemical solution composed of two pounds of zinc sulfate to one gallon of water. Rinse well with clear water, and allow to dry out completely before the priming coat is applied.

To be sure of ingredient quality as well as correct paint formulation for each coat, mix all paint on the job from soft paste white lead, pure raw linseed oil and a high quality flattening vehicle. Apply a priming coat to concrete or cement composed of 6 parts (by volume) soft paste white lead, 5 parts each of raw linseed oil and lead mixing or lead reducing oil. Follow with body and finish coats of equal proportions of the paste white lead and either of the flattening oils. Finish off floor areas with a coat of wax or high grade floor varnish.

Q.—Is there a formula to determine the size of gutters and leaders which will assure adequate drainage?
A.—Yes. Except during downpours of unusual severity, full drainage is provided by gutters and leaders having 1 sq. in. of area for each 150 sq. ft. of roof surface.
Inspect gutters regularly as dirt, leaves—even vine growth—may clog the channels considerably reducing possible flow.

SINCERE HOLIDAY GREETINGS

As the holiday season approaches and another year draws to a close, the Guys of Lubbock — Charlie, Grace, Mike, Dorrance and Smidge — are thinking even more frequently and more fervently than usual about good and kind friends among you, of course, are numbered.

The Guys of Lubbock, all five of them, are forgetting the few minor troubles which occasionally bob up to pester them as they do every other family under the skies; they are forgetting the dark clouds of war over Europe, even though those clouds seem to be blowing closer this way; they are forgetting whatever disappointments — both real and imaginary — the encountered during 1940, to raise their voices with yours in the same, old, glad chorus, "On Earth, Peace, Good Will Toward Men."

The Guys of Lubbock mean it when they say to you: "A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year." For, after all, nothing can be more precious than friends, and a wonderful Christmas season in which to appreciate them!

The above clipping with the masthead of the Lubbock Morning Avalanche is the very original way he and family send Christmas Greetings to their newspaper friends.

Some of this silly, "keep us out of war," stuff is water for Hitler's wheel. Do you for a minute imagine Hitler will refrain from attacking the U. S. because we do not want him to. The defeat of Italy in Albania by the Greeks, and the strong push against their position in Africa by the English looks like the beginning of the end for Mussolini. It is said that Hitler has already moved his henchmen into Rome to take charge of Italy, like he did in France and other captured nations. The only happy thought about the situation is that Hitler is spreading his armed forces mighty thin on order to police all of the territory he has taken. Sooner or later revolution will be on his heels—and then it will be the end of Hitler.—Canyon News.

New Discoveries From Refined Oil

AUSTIN, Dec. 23—A University of Texas chemist has isolated from petroleum two "benzoquinolines" or nitrogen compounds which may be a potential source of pharmaceutical intermediates similar to quinine, morphine and cocaine, it has been announced here.

Dr. James R. Bailey, 73-year-old scientist who in World War I days "cracked" the German formulas for novocain and synthetic adrenalin, pointed out that the highly-fractionated bases are strictly a refining by-product which can be obtained without interfering with refinery routine.

$1000
ALMOST any community can raise $1000. And that amount of money can make possible the beginning of a small industry in almost any rural center. Few people realize that most of the largest industries of this nation had their beginnings on less than this amount.

"Taking industry to the woods" can be accomplished only through the foresight and determination of persons living in rural areas of the nation.

Small capital is no handicap if a group of people have the will to join together in a common effort to have a little industry in their community. The cornerstone of any successful business is sincere and concentrated effort. This element of success depends entirely upon determination of neighborhood groups.

There are three concrete approaches to a small industry for a rural community:

The first is that of processing crops from the field either for consumption or for further productive use in the manufacture of finished articles. The canning of vegetables and fruit for consumption is an example of the former method. Processing of soy beans is an illustration of both types of by-products.

A second type of beginning is marked by discovering what items are used by the local community as well as surrounding areas. When such a survey has been made, begin manufacture of the product. An example of this type of industrial beginning is making of andirons and other fireplace accessories for sale locally and in nearby towns.

The third method is to make parts for larger manufacturing plants in small cities and metropolitan areas. The winding of armatures for electric motors would fall under this category.

Those who want to help their communities and themselves should remember that there is a large supply of labor available locally though the capital is small. Therefore, items chosen for the manufacturing venture should be those with a higher percentage of labor cost (payroll dollars) as compared to the overhead expenses of machinery. Thus, more labor will be employed, thereby balancing available resources in such a way that their combination will fit local needs and at the same time be more effective for sound enduring enterprise.

When such an industrial move has been decided upon by a community, the question of "who shall head it" invariably arises. There are men in every community, no matter how small, who can supply needed leadership for such enterprises.

Look for the man who manages his own affairs well or the young man who shows promise. In that individual will usually be found natural ability to which experience and knowledge can be added as needed during progress of the joint venture.

A little capital and a lot of labor wisely managed will bring undreamed of returns to any rural community possessing the determination to have a small industry of its own.

VERSATILE PLASTICS CAN BE MADE TO SING, PLAY, OR MAKE SPEECHES

ONCE there was a scientist who went so deeply into his experiments in physics that he reported he heard atoms singing.

But did you ever hear a plastic? It's perfectly possible. In fact, you hear them every day, and by what you consider a most ordinary device. For plastics which can be heard rather than seen are an essential part of the radio programs you hear all day long. Recorded programs, many serials, all rebroadcasts, and most "spot" commercial announcements come over the air from transcription records commonly made of plastic materials. The best programs are now recorded on "Vinylite" plastic. This plastic is made from intricate chemical combinations of simple materials—gas, coke, limestone, salt, air and water. The chemist, by imagination and experimentation, has made from these natural substances, plastic materials for many varied uses. Under certain conditions, these materials have been made to react chemically to form white vinyl resin powders, which, when mixed with proper ingredients, turn into a tough, dough-like mass that under heat—essential in plastic making—can be made into many forms.

For broadcast records, this "dough" is thoroughly mixed, colored, kneaded and calendared to a fairly thin, partially transparent sheet. Small pieces of this material, six inches square and about a quarter of an inch thick, are cut off, reheated to pliable consistency, and used in a press to stamp or imprint the recorded sound from an electroplated disc.

With accurate heating and timing, and tremendous pressure, these vinyl resin "biscuits" take a perfect reproduction of recorded music, dramatic programs, speeches, sound effects or radio station commercials. "Vinylite" resins are used in most broadcast studios for all transcription records. Their chief advantages are that the plastic material makes high fidelity records, free from surface scratch and other mechanical sounds. In addition, these records are tough, practically unbreakable, non-warping and long-lasting.

COUPLE WED MONDAY MORNING IN LUBBOCK

The wedding of Miss Mattie Jo Gracey, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gracey of this city, and Mr. Thomas R. Neely, vocational agriculture teacher in the Brownfield schools, took place at 11 o'clock Monday morning at the Broadway Church of Christ in Lubbock, with the pastor of that church reading the single ring service.

Ray Griffin, college friend of Mr. Neely's, served as best man. The bride wore a navy blue coat, over a dusty rose frock and her accessories matched the coat. The bride is a popular member of the younger set here. She is a graduate of the Brownfield High School, attended Abilene Christian College two years and Oklahoma A. and M. two years. Mr. Neely is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Neely of Sayre, Okla., and a graduate of Texas Tech. He has taught in the local school for the past two years. The couple will be at home here after a trip to Oklahoma City.

Mrs. Jones is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Snodgrass, a prominent family of Yoakum County. Mr. Jones is the grandson of J. T. Jones of Tokio.

The bride wore a suit of soldier blue crepe, with black accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of talisman roses. For something old she wore a locket that belonged to her mother. For something borrowed she carried a lace handkerchief belonging to her sister-in-law, Mrs. J. M. Snodgrass. Mrs. Smith, the matron of honor, wore a navy blue frock with black accessories.

Those attending the wedding were the bride's parents, the groom's sister, Miss Wanda Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Trout, Mrs. R. J. Alberding, and Miss Dolores Snodgrass, sister of the bride.

NORTH SIDE BAPTIST CHURCH

We wish to announce that the series of meetings and Bible School which was to have begun next Sunday, have been postponed until February. This was made necessary by the threatened epidemic of influenza, and also because of the delayed harvesting of crops. Exact dates and details will be announced later.

Next Sunday the pastor, Jno. R. Denning, will bring two messages which should be of much interest. At the night service a special invitation is extended to all who have lost loved ones by death, as he preaches on a prophetic message based on "The Miracle of the Opened Graves." The morning sermon will be: "And The Word Was Made Flesh."

The usual cordial handshake and hearty welcome awaits everyone who attends our services. Come and see.

BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

During the holiday season we have all been guilty of the sin of selfishness at least to some extent. Gifts have been given those from whom we have expected gifts at least to a greater extent than would show us to be true followers of Him who gave Himself unselfishly for others. Next Sunday will close the special opportunity in our church of what our ladies please to call the Lottie Moon Christmas offering every dollar of which without the deduction of one penny goes to support more than one hundred missionaries on many foreign fields. This is to promote the cause of Christianity and to spread the glad tidings of great joy and represents giving at its highest and best without any admixture of selfish spirit. Let no Baptist claim to be missionary and withhold that which he can give to this cause.

It was a good day last Sunday in this church but smaller number present than usual as many people overlook the worship of the church when their kin begin to arrive, but special mention should be given the play presented by the Training Union on which they had expended much effort and time and which beautifully portrayed the scene of the babe in the manger and incidents surrounding same.

Mention should be made of the music brought by the choir for the evening service under the direction of brother George Reynolds and in this rendering the members of the choir proved their ability to sing and only emphasized the fact that proper leadership and training is a requirement for the best musical effort in church or out of it.

Next Sunday will finish the history of 1940 in our church and may we have a large attendance at all services closing the old year. Due to the expenditure of about one thousand dollars to properly heat the church we are coming to the first due date on our building debt January 7th considerably short of the required fifteen hundred dollars and this is said as a reminder to all.

PAINT may seldom be used as a decorative coating for leather, but faded or mist pieces may be restyled with straight color finishes or paste white lead tinted with the appropriate colors-in-oil. A rigid application procedure must be followed to assure freedom from flexing cracks.

After cleaning the leather thoroughly, seal the surfaces with a very thin coating of shellac, so thin that practically no gloss is evident upon drying.

For dark colored finishes, brush over the shellac pure paste color-in-oil or a color-in-oil mixture reduced considerably with turpentine to which has been added a small amount of the best hard drying varnish to act as a firm binder.

To produce the lighter colors, substitute tinted soft paste white lead for the straight color pigments. When the thin paint film has set up, finish off by applying a coating of good long oil varnish, preferably tinted lightly to the base coat color.

Be certain to brush all coats on well to produce a smooth, even surface.

ANNOUNCEMENT TEA

To announce the approaching marriage of her sister, Miss Althea Lundstrom of Ottawa, Kansas, and Mr. Royer Barclay of Grinnell, Kansas, Mrs. M. E. Jacobson entertained with a tea at her home Monday afternoon. The honoree and her sister, Mrs. Russell Nelson of Ellis, Kansas, her mother, Mrs. Marie Lundstrom of Atchison, Misses Anne Buhman, Atchison, and Loraine Swanson of Omaha, Nebraska made up the receiving line.

The bride's book was covered in white satin, laced with yellow ribbon and tiny nosegays were tied at the ends of the ribbons streamers. Mrs. Roy Herod presided at the silver tea service from a table laid with white lace. The centerpiece was an arrangement of lilies in a white bowl and lilly shaped perfumed candles.

Yellow napkins carried the announcement, "Althea 'n Royer, December 26." Refreshments of open faced sandwiches, mints, salted nuts, fruit cake and spiced tea were served to the 55 guests.

RUBINOFF'S EXPERIMENT

News Week reported recently that in San Francisco David Rubinoff (and his violin) wagered the Chief of Police he could collect $10 in an hour, if disguised as a blind street fiddler. He lost the bet—garnered only $1.49. Too bad, Rubinoff, but you've taught us a couple of lessons, says the "Leader's Magazine."

(1) $1.49 an hour is about $12 a day. How many incompetent street musicians would make that good a wage!

(2) But even $12 a day isn't much. It's just what the world will pay to a competent unknown. And how much more is this fiddler worth if he's not only competent—but also well publicized, a man of prestige—a musician by the name of Rubinoff!

The SNAPSHOT GUILD PICTURING SMALL CHILDREN

Good expression is the important point in baby shots. Watch for them—and let your subject be his natural self.

IT'S easy enough to get good baby pictures—if you go at it the right way. The secret of the whole matter is to pick your subject when he's in a good mood—and just let him be natural. Give him a toy—something bright, something that's colorful and maybe new to him, and he'll provide the expressions you want.

This is one case where you don't need to worry about small details of the pose, or about special lighting effects. Good expression—a genuine, natural effect—is more important. And the best lighting is simple—a soft, overall lighting, with plenty of illumination in the shadows.

Indoors, you get this type of lighting by proper placing of your photo lights. Space them rather well apart—one toward the subject's left, one over toward the right. If you have a third light, it may often be used to brighten up the background, producing the light, cheerful effect that is so desirable in a baby picture. The third light, if used only for the background, will make no practical difference in the exposure.

Very satisfactory snapshots of babies and small children can be made with a box camera or a simple folding model. However, if I were choosing a camera especially for these pictures, I would want a shutter with speeds up to at least 1/100 second, so that when the subject was lively and active I could still get good sharp snapshots. And I would want an eye-level view finder—I find it the most convenient type for these shots.

But whatever camera you use, remember the points above—balance your lighting for soft shadows, let the child be natural, and watch for good expressions. Do that, and you'll get satisfying pictures.

Might In The Right In Two Cases

In two widely-scattered sections of the country last month came hefty blows from the right to give hope to those who want to see the right prevail. All too often lately the forces fighting with left below the belt or knives in the back have been winning out.

Cecil Wetsel, 220-pound lumberman of the River Pine area, did not like the looks of one Muhlbroich and took a poke at him just to be on the safe side in case the little boy did belong to somebody else. Martin Dies was down in Texas and the FBI was somewhere else, and it's time somebody did something about disrespectful aliens and baby snatchers, anyway, and how good it did feel to put a fist into the twisted, leering face of the guy who didn't look like or act like he was on the up and up.

Less spectacular in the notice it received, but equally deserving as a blow for the right was one delivered by one Bill Modisette, an oil field worker of South Arkansas, who risked his life to follow one of the armed convicts who had commandeered the car of two girls riding along the highway. "Who does that guy think he is?" said Bill, but then the guy didn't have any idea, because Bill leaped from his trailing car and swung to the jaw as the girl bravely turned into a filling station and jammed on the brakes.

Cecil Wetsel and Bill Modisette did far more than capture two criminals. By their reapture of the wrong, their disregard for their own safety and by the power of their punch, they rekindled in the minds and hearts of many people a new faith and a new courage. Lawlessness and disregard for other people's property and other people must be stopped. Bill and Cecil showed the way to do it.

A REAL CHRISTMAS PRESENT FROM OUR BROTHER

Our older brother, Z. M. (Meeks) Stricklin, who lives on one prong of Chambers Creek down in old Johnson county, raised about 5000 pounds of real papershell pecans this year, some of them as big as a fist (a baby's fist) and along toward the holidays, he happened to think we could use our upper plate sufficient to eat them, and mailed us or expressed us about 15 or 20 pounds.

Meeks has an ideal place to raise this very popular nut in a small creek bottom, where we don't suppose the water is more than 10 or 12 feet below the surface, and the trees don't ever seem to suffer for lack of moisture. He not only has a nice grove of trees he has grown from nursery stock, but he and sons have top-worked all the old natives along the creek bank, and now they are bearing their share of real pecans.

As we started to say way back somewhere on this article, these pecans at the time were a real Christmas treat, and we hope he and folks have a delightful trip back to Tennessee for the holidays.

While SJR-12 had a sugar coat of good about it, on the inside it was just a cold blooded sales tax, a tax that would fall on the spending public of Texas, but never reach the money king who invests his millions in securities. We hope that there will be more than fifty six men in the next legislature that will place the welfare of their country above their own political fortunes.—Anton News

It appears to us that the Sale Tax has a slimmer chance this year than last. At least most all the Senators and Representatives in this section pledged themselves against a sales tax in any form. While most of those 56 opponents of the measure last session were defeated for one reason or another, there will be a new bunch pledged against a sales tax, unless they change after reaching Austin. The Herald is opposed to any kind of new taxes. Reason: We have a defense program that is costly.

Asks For Increased Truck Load Limit

AUSTIN, Dec. 16—Trade barriers constituted by unreasonably low size and weight limits on motor trucks and trailers in Texas prevent the public's reaping full benefit from the speed, flexibility and economy of motor transport. L. B. Brown of Houston, president of the Texas Motor Transportation Association, said here today in making an attack on the 7,000-pound load limit.

Brown said many instances where defense orders are being hampered by such restrictions on shipments have come to the attention of leaders in the transportation field. He declared that national defense and the economic needs of business, farmers, shippers and consumers make legislative action desirable to eliminate trade barriers in Texas caused by low size and weight limits for motor vehicles.

"Congress recognized the problem in the transportation act of 1935, which directed the Interstate Commerce Commission to investigate the need for federal regulation," he said. "Speedy completion of the survey was urged again in the transportation bill enacted last autumn. The U. S. Agriculture and commerce departments are on record as favoring the elimination of state trade barriers.

"Shipment of structural steel by truck into Texas is made practically prohibitive by low size and weight limits, and Texas cotton growers have pointed out again that the extremely low truck weight limits are a serious obstacle in marketing their crop."

We Are Tired Of Nonsense, Says Group

MUNFORD, Tex., Dec. 23—Here is how the Texas Legislature will line up on the question of methods of financing old age pensions and the teachers' retirement system—a matter that has been hanging fire for some time and with which the last Legislature failed to cope successfully:

Representatives— 82 expressed themselves for a tax on natural resources, 68 did not answer—none expressed themselves as against.

Senators — 16 expressed themselves for natural resource tax, 3 preferred not to commit themselves and 12 did not answer.

These figures, released by the Women's Committee on Economic Policy for Texas, are based on a canvass of candidates for the Legislature conducted by key members of the committee prior to the Democratic primaries.

A few members of the Legislature who did not take a stand on the question as candidates have since sent in their pledge, according to Mrs. Margaret Reading of Waller, secretary of the committee, and several others asked that their position as given in the answers be reversed when found the totals were to be made public.

"Legislators often announced their stands on public questions during their campaign and then to change their minds after they are elected and go to Austin," Mrs. Jud Collier, chairman, pointed out. "One aim of the Women's Committee on Economic Policy for Texas will be to help senators and representatives resist the pressure of special interests and to fulfill

By R. T. Strohm

Dean, International Correspondence Schools

THE most successful engineer is likely to be creative, imaginative, and able to break down a big problem into smaller ones and solve them separately. His next step would be to put them together again. It is easily understood that a nervous and impatient individual would find engineering work irksome even if that person had the mental qualities necessary for research, design and administrative tasks.

Any young man with eyes on the varied field of engineering should have an aptitude for mathematics. Many vocational counselors point out that the first requisite for prospective engineers is the ability to learn algebra, trigonometry and higher mathematics. If the would-be engineer finds these subjects difficult and uninteresting, it is likely that engineering as a profession is not for him.

There are other qualities than that of the ability to grasp a mathematical problem, however. A successful engineer should be able to demonstrate a certain manual dexterity, ability to draw and sketch, an understanding of physics and chemistry, and the ability to express ideas clearly, orally and on paper.

It is wise to see that the prospective engineer, while a student, finds a job which has some relationship to engineering, so that he may learn whether the work stirs his imagination and interest. There is no test like that of immediate contact with the work which he might ultimately be called upon to do.

the promises they made to the public."

The matter of the Women's Committee on Economic Policy for Texas is "We are tired of nonsense."

Recently the Farm Security Administration has broadened its rehabilitation program by making loans to children of its borrower families in order that they may take part in activities of 4-H Clubs and Future Farmer organizations.
