Early Christmas Shopping Is Good Advice

Heretofore, when one mentioned orally, in print or in ads that it was best to shop early, some one generally countered with the assertion that it was just shop owners propaganda. But that is all out this year. Advice to shop early, if you really intend to get what you want for your loved ones and friends, is the real McCoy. There are many, many, reasons why this is so this year.

Back in May this government of ours set priorities on many things you have been buying without trouble, and this is especially true of articles made of many of the better metals. So, when the present stock of many such articles are exhausted from the shelves of your dealers, the chance of getting them will be slim indeed. Better study your Christmas wants this time real early, and buy them, and lay them aside or when Christmas day arrives, you'll be disappointed if you are unable to get them.

Therefore the Herald brings you this advice, not at the instigation of any merchants in this city or anywhere else, but reading between the lines of many sheets of stuff sent us from the numerous boards and bureaus at Washington, we believe we are in position to make these statements as facts to be reckoned with this year.

So, if you have predetermined to buy this or that for your family this Christmas, our advice is that you do so without delay. This is one time when SHOP EARLY means just that. Better make out that list today.

Earl Alexander Spending Some Time Here

Earl G. Alexander, Plainview druggist, who also owns an interest in the local Alexander Drug Store, the first one of four that he has established, was here this week to pinch hit for Gladys Green who is in Crosbyton. Earl stated that he was really making a hand. We'll have to have a confidential confab with some of the personnel to confirm that.

Earl bought out a small drug store here about the time the rail road came here in 1917. He kept adding to this and made it one of the best in the section, finally building its present home on the north side of the square. He was for a long time a member of the city council, was a booster in every way, and we believe a charter member of Brownfield Rotary Club.

He finally established stores at Levelland and Littlefield putting capable men in charge. Later he bought a well established drug store at Plainview and he and his family moved there, leaving his partner and long time employee, Gladys Green in charge here. Both Mr. and Mrs. Alexander, have always referred to Brownfield as home.

Well Baby Conference Held At Courthouse

Just in case that you had forgotten the first Well Baby Conference was held Wednesday afternoon in the basement of the courthouse. Dr. Davis presided at the first conference and a number of mothers with babies and pre-school children were present. As was stated in last week's paper this is to be a monthly affair and if the number of those present is large enough at the next conference there will be two days set aside each month. One day will be for infants up to one year and the other will be for pre-school children, that is from one year to six years.

Although the attendance for the first conference was fair we are urging and hoping for a much larger one next month. The date will be announced in the paper.

Leona Settles spent the week end in Lubbock.

Mrs. Mae Jones of Eldorado is visiting her daughter Mrs. J. M. Welborn.

Another Rambling Notion Strikes Us

As it had been some time since we had devoured any of Joe and Rosetta Robert's chuck, and becoming a bit hungry, the Old He accompanied by the wife and daughter, Mrs. Herman Trigg, left late Saturday afternoon for Comaha. Or did we accompany them? Anyway, we tried out the new highway to Lamesa, and we want to highly compliment the Terry County Commissioners along with the Moor Construction Co., on the fine road they are making in Terry County. The caliche has all been laid to within about three or four miles of Brownfield, and another week or two of pretty weather will see that finished.

The road bed on this end has been finished, and graders were preparing the top for its coat of caliche. Behind them were dump trucks delivering caliche fast. After one strikes where caliche has been spread and packed, the road is almost as good as if paved, and you can really make knots. Boy we were crossing into Dawson county before we realized we were much past Union, and then you are in sight if Welch. However, while all the road bed in Dawson has been drained and graded, three years of wind and water has made it necessary to slow up until paving is struck again, ten miles this side of Lamesa at Pumpkin center.

Our end of the road will, as soon as the caliche is all laid and packed, receive a seal coat to hold it until warm weather, next spring, when the finishing touches will be given it. In the meantime, Dawson county, or rather the State Highway Department is advertising for bids to finish all their end of the road, which will be some time next spring, and then it will be only 3 miles to Lamesa over a fine new highway, instead of 45 following lanes and bumpy roads as at present, or 60 miles via Tahoka and O'Donnell on pavement. So much for roads. Arrived in Lamesa before dark, downed a coke, found the burg like Brownfield filled with Mexican and other cotton pickers, really doing business, and on to Big Spring. That fine town also showed the effects of a rushing fall business. South Dawson and Howard counties saved their April cotton, as they did not have the floods we had, and practically 80 per cent of the cotton is harvested, and they are way ahead of this section in ginnings, Howard county passing the 35,000 mark last week.

Found the folks feeling pretty well generally with the exception of Rosetta, who is not feeling as spry as usual. There was oodles to eat as usual, and everything was done to make our night and day stay as pleasurable as possible. As most of the cotton was out in the Coahoma area, the fall rush was about over, but business pretty good.

As we had a bit of business at Snyder, we returned home that way, via Colorado City. After a short stop in Snyder, we hit the road for home via Post and Tahoka. Most of the cotton in Scurry has been harvested, but there are field after field between Post and Tahoka that don't look like they have been touched, with cotton open clean up to the top of the stalks.

Whether this is caused by labor shortage in that area, we did not learn.

Brownfield was reached about good dark. Saw lots of ducks on the lakes between Brownfield and Tahoka that made us kinder "hungry" for some duck meat, but none of them flew against our car.

The Cubs Are Champs

By winning the game Thursday afternoon from the Littlefield Wildcats, north zone 5-A champions, 34 to 6, the Cubs cinched the District championship for the third time in a row.

They will likely play Merkel in a Bi-District contest, time and place to be stated later.

We'll See "Go West Young Lady", Sure

The Old He used to be one of the biggest movie fans in this burg and our inclination to laugh out loud—real loud—without any breaks on it, that a lot of people here got to asking us what night we were going to a show, when a real funny one came to town. We almost decided that some of the guys and gyeenas when s much to laugh at our laughter as the play. But that was not the reason we quit.

Mrs. Ethel Jones, as well as her late husband always extended the courtesies of the show to us, anytime we felt like going, but somehow as we grew older, the shows became longer, especially the rapturous scenes of the hero and heroine in the clinches, and they or some of them weren't funny became a bit tiresome to a man that had passed the dangerous age, and we slowed up, and the going has been real slow of late years, almost to a mere trickle.

Anyway, pride of kinship will sometimes make a change without notice. So Bob Wills and his Texas Playboy Band, rated as the greatest fiddling band in the world are coming to the Rialto Friday and Saturday this week in "Go West Young Lady". The pianist in the Playboy Band is Alton Stricklin, a nephew of the writer, and Bob Wills is featured in the picture. Now don't you say you have never heard of Bob Wills. If you've ever been around a juke box much you have heard them play, for they have made hundreds of recordings. If you dance, we'll bet you've poured it—on to the tune of San Antonio Rose, Will's own composition, and they play every day and night when at home in Tulsa over KVOO.

Willis is a west Texan, has several fine farms in the Sudan section of Lamb County, and the greater part of his band was recruited around the Dallas-Fort Worth section. So, if you have been waiting months to hear the Old He laugh, if there is any laugh in that "Go West Young Lady", you'll hear us either Friday or Saturday night.

This free ad if worth a continental is hereby dedicated to that fine lady, and our friend, Mrs. Ethel Jones.

Federal Court Gets Two Local Grocers

Uncle Sam's court up at Lubbock pulled a coincidence this week when they demanded the presence next week in Lubbock to serve as jurors at this term of Federal Court, two of our grocymen, and never touched hide, hair or feathers of any other trade profession or calling in the county.

Kyle Gaves of the Kyle Grocery, and Pat Patterson, manager of Piggly Wiggly were the lucky—(?)—men. However, these boys are the best of friends, and we imagine they will pass off the extra time together pretty well.

Besides, the distance is none too great (37 miles) for them to make it home and back mornings, if not tied up on juries.

Demonstration To Be Held Monday At Chisholm Hardware

John Chisholm of Chisholm Hardware informed us this week that Monday would be a full day for farmers and those interested in farming at his store. To start the day off, the vacant property across the street from the new Chisholm store and just north of Cicero Smith Lumber Co., has been secured to hold the Hammermill and Silage Cutter Demonstration. This will start as soon as a crowd gathers, and last until noon.

At noon, sandwiches and coffee will be served to all those in attendance. At one P. M. feature play "Uncle Joe", starring real Hollywood actors and actresses, such as Slim Summerville, Zazu Pitts and Gale Storm, will be shown at the Rialto. In addition there will be other feature pictures pertaining to agriculture, such as "Shepherds of Friendly Valley" in which Fred Sheppard the friend of previous John Deere Days, will bring you wholesome philosophy of life. Also, a line on combines, tractor fuel etc.

According to Mr. Chisholm you will need no ticket for any part of this program, and he not only asks that you farmers come, but that you bring the family and make a day of it.

See their display ad in this issue of the Herald.

Sister-In-Law Killed By Drunken Negroes

Mrs. Bill McWilliams of Rotan, wife of a brother C. McWilliams, furniture dealer of this place, was killed late Saturday afternoon, almost in front of her home. She was hit by a car driven by a drunken negro cotton picker and dragged almost 100 feet. Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams were called by phone and immediately left for Rotan.

Funeral services were held for the deceased Monday afternoon at Rotan. It is said that feeling ran so high against the blacks that they were immediately spirited out of Rotan and carried to an unknown jail.

This incident will not only go hard with the darkies, but if the law pumps out of them who sold them the whiskey, that bootlegger may have some serious trouble on the way too.

Scarlet Fever Rumor Is Exaggerated

Due to the cooperation of the people, school authorities, and owner of the tent show the epidemic of Scarlet Fever was held at only ten cases reported in six quarantined homes. We have heard a rumor to the effect that there are seventy-seven cases of Scarlet Fever in Meadow and if this is so none of the local physicians or this office has any knowledge of them. It takes a definite diagnosis for Scarlet Fever and the physicians are the people qualified to make this diagnosis. We are sure this rumor is slightly exaggerated.

Saturday Another Big Day In Brownfield

The Herald has not talked with every business man in Brownfield but we have talked with enough representing different lines of business to give us a good breakdown of the whole, such as dry goods, grocery, hardware, drugs and etc. as well as eating places, and shops of all kinds, to know that business was really good.

Some of these places expressed themselves voluntarily, such as Collins Dry Goods, Jones Dry Goods and Latham Dry Goods. At the later place, they had just put on a sale, and the early arrivals Friday and Saturday morning, before the store was crowded were asked questions, and the Latham clerks remarked that they really found out that the Herald is read far and near. Some of these early arrivals wanted to see the $19.95 suits. Asked where they lived, the clerks were surprised that they lived over in Gaines county near Loop. No they had not seen a circular—saw it in the Herald.

We do not want to seem egotistical, but we believe the Herald is one of the most thoroughly read weekly papers in the south Plains. We have people, plenty of them on our list, that have been on there from 15 to 36 years, and they come back year by year for more Herald. Isn't that proof sufficient?

They are not taking and paying for the Herald just to please us. If we were not giving them their money's worth, they would drop out as they should do.

The writer left here late Saturday afternoon, and the merchants and dealers were still going in high, and we are told this continued well into the night. From appearances now, there is going to be another boom day this week end. Come to Brownfield and meet your friends.

Alva Lee Still Likes School For Deaf

Terry County Herald Brownfield, Texas Dear Home Town:—

I am still enjoying life at the Texas School for the Deaf. We go to school at 7:45 every morning and have lessons until 12:15. I have eight teachers and study reading, connected language, technical language, History, arithmetic and History. In the afternoon I have vocational work. I am taking cooking, sewing and art.

We children in this school have lots of pleasures. There is a picture show in our auditorium almost every Saturday night and we often go to the movies in town on Saturday afternoon.

We had a Hollawe'en dance in the gymnasium, and prizes were given to the two boys and two girls who had the most comical costumes.

On Sunday mornings from 9 to 9:30 we have a chapel service in our auditorium, at 9:30 the children who do not go to church in town go to their classrooms for Sunday School. Some one from the different churches in South Austin comes every Sunday to take the children to church and bring them back. Some time on Sunday afternoon we go for a long ride in the school bus. I have lots of friends here, and I hope to see everybody Christmas. We have very good food at the school and I may get fat. I enjoyed getting lots of letters and cards from my home town.

Your friend,
Miss Alva Lee Rannels

Cannolly Again Seeks Way So Stop Strikes

Washington, D. C. Nov. 24.—Believing that the real spirit of the mass of American labor ought to be and is "Defense and not Defiance", and believing that the time has come when the Senate and house must decide who is running the country, John L. Lewis or the Congress and the President Senator Tom Connolly last week introduced legislation to assist the President in stopping strikes affecting the national defense.

The bill represents a continuation of Senator Connolly's effort to bring a halt to strikes slowing down the country's production of defense material; in June the Senate adopted the Connolly amendment authorizing the President to take over plants halted by strikes, but the amendment was knocked out by the House of Representatives.

Connolly requested that his bill go to the Judiciary committee, of which he is a member, where hearings on the bill have already begun. The Texas Senior Senator was named chairman of the subcommittee in charge of the legislation.

The bill provides that whenever plants, facilities, or mines are impeded or hindered by strikes or labor difficulties the President shall have authority to take them over. It further provides that when the government exercises such power the labor conditions, excepting wages, shall be frozen, a labor board would be set up to see that the workers receive a fair wage for their work in plants operated by the government.

Provisions are already on the law books for the government to take over when employers refuse to operate their plants for our national defense.

In introducing the bill, Senator Connolly stated to the Senate, "I do not believe that the great mass of the laboring men in the United States sympathize with the effort to use the strike as a weapon against the government in this critical hour of the nation's history, at a time when other men are being called to training camps at $21 per month".

Elder Killion Carried Home From Dallas

Mr. and Mrs. John Chisholm went to Dallas last Saturday and brought Elder J. H. Killion, formerly minister of the local church of Christ back to his present home at Monahans, Texas. Bro. Killion has undergone a series of operations to cut ribs away from his lungs, which were broken in a wreck several years before he came here.

John stated that the worst feature of the long move was loading and unloading him, which hurt him so badly that it made his fearfully sick, but they got him to Monahans Sunday night about 11 o'clock in fair shape.

With all his troubles and operations, this man of nerves has never lost his readiness to joke. Not so long ago, he wrote a friend here offering him a mess of spare ribs if he wanted them.

Negro Suspected Of Hog Theft Arrested

Sheriff Joe Price and B. L. Wooddell of the Texas Highway patrol nabbed a negro, who is suspected at Tahoka of stealing Lynn county hogs.

The negro, Nelson Clark, about 45, is under charge of hog theft, Lynn county authorities said. Wooddell transferred him to Tahoka and turned him over to B. L. Parker, sheriff of Lynn county.

The arrest was made about 4 o'clock Saturday on the Levelland highway. Sheriff Price said he was checking to determine ownership of a 1936 Chevrolet two-door sedan the black was driving.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Kendrick spent Thanksgiving with his parents in Seminole.

Mrs. W. R. McDuffie and Mrs. Spencer Kendrick visited Mrs. McDuffie's sister, Mrs. Fred Youre in Lubbock Wednesday.

Retail Prices Lag Behind Rising Costs

By Carl S. Kelly
Financial Examiner, Los Angeles Examiner

Everything in U. S. economy has moved up faster than retail prices. Notwithstanding advances in many classes of merchandise, retailers as a rule have not revalued inventory items on a basis of replacement costs, but rather have fixed their retail prices to conform to costs of goods on shelves and in warehouse. There has been little anticipation of price movement. A positive self-control policy is in effect reflecting replacement cost policies. Nevertheless, a very human disposition is noted among customers to blame the merchants for advances over which the retailers have no control. The retail industry realizes however, that unless a fair balancing area speedily is fixed for the national economy, merchants next Los Angeles from the Retailers adoption of some compromise between marking goods on a basis of invoice costs and marking them on a replacement basis. This will enable them to capitalize a reasonable assortment of goods.

The foregoing represents the substance of reports received in Los Angeles from the Retailers Advisory Committee, Washington, D. C., which is keeping close watch on economic trends as they effect merchandising.

The committee quotes figures from official sources showing the relation to wholesale price advances:

WHOLESALE PRICES
Per cent increase Since June, 1939
All commodities	21.4
Food	32.4
Clothing	17.6
House furnishings	13.6

RETAIL PRICES
Percent Increase since June 1939 (Cost of Living Index)
All commodities	9.6
Food	18.4
Clothing	10.5
House furnishings	11.3

The average position of the worker is excellent at present and he enjoys a substantial gain in living standard over 1939. The percentage gain in "real" wages over June 1939, follows:

All industries	Pct. Gain
Hourly earnings	7.8
Weekly earnings	21.6

Durable Goods Industries
Hourly earnings	8.9
Weekly earnings	24.4

Non-Durable Goods Industries
Hourly earnings	3.7
Weekly earnings	10.6

As to the farmers, the increase in what he gets for his products has been much sharper than the rise in prices he pays for goods. Here are the percentage increases since June 1939:

Pct. Gain
Prices paid by farmers	14.2
Prices received by farmers	56.2

Jaycees Had Business Meeting Monday Nite

The local Jaycees, with President Lynn Nelson presiding, met Monday night at the Hancock Cafe where a dinner was served in the skyroom. Forty members were present for the affair.

Principal speakers of the evening were Rep. Hop Halsey, Lubbock and J. E. Calloway, chief quartermaster of the U S Navy, and recruiting officer located in Lubbock.

The Jaycees are preparing to push their annual Christmas project.

Terry County Still Far Behind In Ginnings

Terry county had ginned 12,653 bales of cotton from the 1941 crop, compared to 20,833 as of the same date, Nov. 14, 1940. A difference of 8,175 bales.

There was only 3,838 bales ginned up to the first of November, showing that 8,820 bales were ginned the first 14 days of this month.

Jane Brownfield of Texas Tech spent the week end here.

Wendell Smith was a Lubbock visitor Saturday.

Do your Christmas shopping early. This is extra good advise this year, or you stand to be disappointed. Read the feature article elsewhere in this paper.

We note that old time west Texas printer and editor, Emmett Whitaker, and sometimes Baptist minister, who worked on the Herald way back in the twenties, is now shop manager of the Corpus Christi Press, said to have the largest circulation of any weekly in Texas. Emmet spent many years with the Abilene Times before going to Corpus. Emmet is an excellent printer with mighty good morals, and we feel sure the Press will find in him the man they are looking for.

And speaking of names, in our contest this week, very few got that fine gentleman and cleaner's name spelled right. It was spelled about every way imaginable, but no wonder, we had to go to the corrected list to get it right. According to that it is Frank Szydoski. Now, turn your head and see if you can spell it. So, in order to shorten and make his name so most of us can say it and remember it, he simply goes by the name of Sid in Brownfield. Sid is just as good American as you, or you, when it comes to that despite his tongue-twisting name.

The Texas A. and M. college is handing out good advise to farmers and poultry raisers. They state right off the reel that thousands of baby chicks and turkey poulters are poisoned each year by being gassed with carbon monoxide, and if the dead chicks and poulters are cut open, a red liver shows they have been gassed. This is caused, according to the college poultry experts sometimes by bad flues, and poor ventilation in the brooders. Before you start your brooder next year, see that all flues are well cleaned, and that there is plenty ventilation, especially if chicks are a bit crowded.

There is much talk of the Burma road just now, that may make it as famous as the Road to Mandalay, immortalized by Kipling, which in reality was a water route and not a road. The Burma road however is really a highway, and was built by the sweat and blood of Chinese men and women to keep a route open for food, ammunition and guns to fight the invading Jap. For some 2000 miles this road winds through the wilds of India, Indo-China, and China, starting at Lagoon, India. If America and England allows the Japs to cut this road, it will cost them billions of dollars in the long run.

An old saying that there is nothing in a name. We have heard it argued and debated pro and con. But there are some names that seem to stick better than the real name. For instance, we have in this fine city two good gentlemen who conduct an efficient service station. Their surnames are Gracey and Mullins. Most of us old timers know that Mr. Gracey's given name is Walter, but we'll bet most of the people who have been here less than ten years think the Uncle Walt part of the name as a nick name after the comic strip. Then his partner goes by the name of Moon Mullins, another comic strip, and we'll lay a ginger cake to a gill of buttermilk that even the old timers don't know Mr. Mullin's real given name, and that includes the writer. We don't even know his initials. So, we have from popular comic strip Walt and Moon, but they are a heap sight more dignified than their name sakes of the funnies. Maybe their wives brace their dignity on occasions. Nearly all wives have a bit to do with the way the hubby departs himself.

A DEAL WITH JAPAN

Senator Wheeler, as self-appointed advisor of the State Department, says there is no reason why the United States cannot effect a settlement with Japan of issues in the Orient. He favors a peace and warns against America or British intervention for protection of China's lifeline, the Burma Road.

Although Senator Wheeler does not outline the details of such a settlement, he no doubt would end the crisis in the Orient in much the same way that he would terminate the European war. The isolationists favor a peace for Europe which would leave the conquered countries in bondage deal would be at China's expense, providing a temporary protection for American interests in the Far East. In the same manner, to Hitler.

As a piece of self-interest, Senator Wheeler's plan falls flat. The protection of American interests gained by it would be only temporary, because appeasement of the Axis aggressors must be a continuous process. Japan's proposal of a new order excludes American interests there, and it can not be viewed in any other light. The isolationists support their optimism by postponing problems, not curing them.

They pose also as high-minded idealists, who abhor war and the slaughter of men by conflict. Senator Wheeler's idealism, however, is of the selfish variety which would have China pay the price of a bargain by the United States. This is the Munich recipe, in which Mr. Chamberlain thought he was sparing the world, principally Britain. The worst feature of such idealism is the self-deception of the idealists, which may be less politely called hypocrisy.

It is far preferable from the standpoint of national character and survival for the United States to fight for its rights rather than win them at the expense of other countries. Americans must realize that betrayal of self and others is worse than war.—Star Telegram.

Some of the things that are being done in the name of the government are highly disgusting. We have in mind a particular ruling, which is of vital importance to this section of the country. This year the farmers of the Anton community planted over 100 acres of Irish potatoes. This was only the first step and was intended to familiarize the farmer with the cultivation and growing of potatoes. They were encouraged by government agencies to take this step and to organize a cooperative marketing association to facilitate the handling of potatoes and other produce. But now the little white-collars puppets of some governmental bureau has put a potato allotment of 47 acres on the community. What makes this so disgusting is the PILE of government "releases" urging greater production of food and feed.—Anton News.

COMPANY D BULLETIN BOARD

The writer of this department had arrived at the conclusion that the Bulletin Board had served its purpose and was planning in the future to publicize the activities of the Company at more or less regular intervals, especially when anything of interest to the public occurred. However, since a few have expressed interest in it and a desire that it continue, the Bulletin Board will continue as a regular feature in this paper.

Corporal Burton Hackney is contemplating the formation of a Boomerang Squad. The Corporal journeyed to Lubbock recently and purchased one of the weapons, and upon reaching the outskirts of that city on his return voyage, stopped and gave it a few trial throws. Witnesses state that the first and second attempts left much to be desired. The third throw, however, was a heave that would cause the Australian aborigines, inventors of that horrible instrument, to turn green with envy and hide their savage faces in shame. Higher and higher rose the boomerang. Further and further it sailed until it had vanished into the distance. And now the Corporal can be seen gazing—half sadly, half expectantly—into the southern skies awaiting the return of his pet boomerang.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served the guardsmen at next Tuesday night's drill. This should increase attendance considerably. Wm: J. Sullivan, recently discharged from Battery C, 132 Field Artillery, Texas National Guard, is now enlisted in the local Company.

OLD TIME MERCHANT AND WIFE HERE

R. H. and Mrs. Banowsky are here this week from Ralls, the guests of their daughter, Mrs. Virgil Keyes and Mr. Keyes. Mr. Keyes underwent a minor operation at the local hospital Monday and is reported to be doing very nicely so far. Both Mr. and Mrs. Keyes are members of the Brownfield school faculty.

Old timers who were here 25 or more years ago, will remember Dick Banowsky as a partner with the late Dock Powell in the general merchandise business where the Bargain center is now located. They carried a huge stock for such a small town as Brownfield at that time, miles from a railroad, and their business extended into several other counties and New Mexico.

They left here about 1918 for Wichita Falls, when oil was struck there. They later moved to Abilene to educate their children, but for the past few years he has been managing a ranch in south Texas.

They have always wanted to come back to the Plains, and having a farm near Ralls, moved there.

METHODISTS HIT A BLOW AT "NICE GAMBLING"

Widespread gambling is extending even into civic and religious organizations, a report adopted by the North Texas annual Methodist conference, and vigorous efforts were urged to combat this evil as well as the use of liquor.

The report of the conference board of temperance read by secretary Fred Adams, was adopted unanimously in the session held at the First Methodist Church.

Continuation of present campaigns against games of chance and intoxicants were urgently recommended. Recent action of the Texas Legislature in curbing the sale of liquor by drug stores was commended.

With regard to gambling, the report said it ranges from matching for drinks at soda fountains to games of bingo in civic and even in religious organizations.—Dallas Morning News.

Water service lines must be laid in a separate, individual ditch and shall not be laid in the same ditch with a sewer line. Such water line ditch shall be no less than two feet distance away from any sewer line.

IT'S YOUR LIFE

The Typical Accident Victim:— He was a pedestrian.

He was over 40 years of age—by no means decrepit; nevertheless his eyesight and hearing had passed their peak of efficiency and he was less alert and agile than he had been only a few years ago.

He had the usual worries that go with the adult life of the family breadwinner; he was frequently preoccupied, and occasionally downright absent minded.

He probably had had a couple or drinks. He had never learned to drive a car, and his walking habits had been formed when automobiles were both fewer and slower than they are now.

He was wearing dark clothing and while the headlights of the oncoming car seemed blinding to him, his outline was scarcely discernible to the driver against the dark background of the pavement.

It was between 6 and 7 o'clock on a late autumn evening, and he was struck just as he stepped out from between two parked cars preparatory to crossing between intersections on an unlighted street in a fairly large city.

It can be you. Three rats eat and destroy enough feed in a year to carry two laying hens on a poultry farm.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Stacy spent Thanksgiving with their daughter in Odessa.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Andres spent Sunday in Swenson.

Miss Mamie Drennan, Miss Money Perry and Warren Nobles spent the week end in Hamlin.

YOUR HOUSE IS ON FIRE

For the first time in history the relative tax burden of the United States has now become heavier than that of England.

That astonishing fact is stated by Ralph Romy in Newsweek. Under the new tax bill, the per capita tax in this county will be $180 a year. It is $173 in Great Britain. Our taxes will amount to 25 per cent of our national income, as against 22 per cent in England.

It is true, of course, that England income taxes are greater than ours. But the English are not burdened with the vast numbers of sales taxes, excise taxes, and "nuisance" taxes on which our government depends for much of its revenue. Lastly, the English are not burdened so heavily with taxes levied by local government. In Great Britain, the national government collects 90 per cent of all taxes; here the Federal government collects only about 60 per cent.

We cannot blame the cost of defense for the staggering tax load we are now carrying. As Mr. Robey also points out, in Great Britain approximately 80 per cent of all government expenditures are for military purposes. Here only about 50 per cent is used at present for those purposes. Half the cost of government, in other words, is for non-defense activity, and Congress and our local governments have shown absolutely no wish to make reductions in any important directions.

To quote Mr. Robey once more, "No nation in the world, regardless of how strong it may be, can stand such a financial policy indefinitely and maintain a democratic form of government. With our tax bill now above that of Great Britain, it clearly is time to come to our senses". We are rolling along toward national bank-dupety now, and only a public understanding of the consequences or reckless, unbridled non-defense "spending as usual" can save us.—Industrial News Review.

Lubbock Flying School Ready Feb. 14

Lubbock, Nov. 14.—Construction on the 208-building Advanced Flying School here for the Army Air corps is a little behind schedule due to bad weather, but contractors have been granted a few days additional time under the bad weather clause and barring unforeseen misfortune, the project will be 'out on time', according to W. G. McMillan of the combined contracting organization of Lambie-Moss-McMillan of Lubbock.

The $4,675,409 'Air Corps City' was scheduled for completion on December 26, but bad weather had brought extension of the general contract time to January 6, but the entire project, streets, utility lines, and all minor details are to be ready for occupancy by February 14.

Sink Or Swim; Survive or Perish

Austin, Texas Nov. 24—In the time honored, expansive American manner, Thanksgiving day is being celebrated in all Texas homes this week, and, according to Doctor Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, we can be thankful for at least one blessing which our forefathers did not enjoy.

When the Pilgrim Fathers proclaimed the first Thanksgiving Day, health was purely a matter of chance—a gamble in any sense of the word. A sick person was faithfully dosed with herbs and tonics prescribed and compounded by his neighbors and friends. It was a toss-up whether he lived or died. There were no hospitals, no doctors, no well stocked pharmacies, nothing to alleviate

THE WINNAHS!

Folks, this was a very interesting contest, the judges spending some three hours in figuring out the first four prize winners. There were some mighty good runners up, that we will mention more fully next week.

We shall make this statement. We wish it were possible to show every business man participating the trouble the participants went to to get their papers. Some of these would surprise you. Two or three of them are worth the full amount of money, $25. They are really a treat to look at, and artistic in the extreme.

For the benefit of the losers, will state that all made some mistakes in firm names, spelling and arrangement. Below we give the names of the winners.

- 1. Mrs. Carlos Ferguson $10
- 2. Mrs. Terry C. Redford $7
- 3. Clara Pyeatt $5

...pain, and very little to promote a patient's chance of recovery. Sick-ness and pain in those days, Dr. Cox asserted, "was something to be borne as best as one could".

Doctor Cox emphasized that the last fifty years have been the most golden years of achievement in the history of medical science. Today we offer our heartfelt thanks for good health and the means of preserving it.

Our Pilgrim Fathers founded for us a free nation and left us that heritage of freedom so greatly prized by every true American. Ours is the task of preserving that freedom and of passing that heritage to our children; but today we are conscious as never before that general good health is in itself a priceless legacy", he stated.

Doctor Cox pointed out that at this time fifty-two per cent of the residents of Texas have available some form of full time health service. The state department of health and its affiliated local health units have placed full-time health service within easy access of 3,338,788 people, and a program of expansion is even now under-way.

Thousands of dollars are being spent every year to promote and safeguard good health among our people, and for this one great contribution to the health of the nation, Doctor Cox asserted, we should indeed be thankful.

TEXAS FARMER TO GIVE LAWYER PIGS AS FEES

Waco, Nov. 21.—Ebra Overton, a rawboned sandy haired farmer from the Cedar Brakes near Glen Rose, was "plumb happy" a federal court freed him of liquor law violation charges. So he told his court-appointed lawyer he was going to give him a sow and four pigs as attorney's fees.

"You don't owe me anything," Aubrey Morris, the attorney told the overall-clad client. "I was appointed by the court to represent you".

"No sir, you did a fine job", said Overton, who while in jail amused visitors by striking matches on his teeth. "I'm going to bring you a sow and four dern good pigs as payment".

CASTOR OIL MILL

Completion of the first castor oil mill in the Southwest, at Brownsville, and the first to produce castor oil from domestically grown beans anywhere in this country, was announced by M D L

Van Over, who has been working on the project about three years. Lower Rio Grande Valley farmers planted 1,500 acres to castor beans this year and the crop is estimated at 500,000 pounds. The plant has already has orders for more castor oil than it can produce this season, Van Over said.

TO DEDICATE FIVE NEW BUILDINGS

ELIZABETH PROTHRO HOME given by Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Perkins, Wichita Falls

BRIDWELL HOME given by Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bridwell, Wichita Falls

Waco, Texas, Nov. 24. — Culminating the most outstanding year of more than half a century and launching the drive for funds to finance next year's $125,000 budget, the Methodist Home here will dedicate five new buildings on its campus Friday, November 28. Bishops A. Frank Smith of Houston and Ivan Lee Holt of Dallas will take leading parts on the program and more than 2,000 out of town visitors are expected from the six conferences of Texas and New Mexico.

The affair begins with a barbecue on the Home campus at noon the dedicatory service following at 1:30 p. m. Each new building will then be opened, its donors and the boys and girls who are to live in it serving as welcoming committees and guides. Four of the new structures are residences furthering Superintendent Hubert Johnson's long time dream of doing away with dormitories and transforming the orphanage into a group of homes, each with its own house mother, its own dining room, kitchen and bedrooms, so that children may be brought up in an atmosphere as near like actual home life as possible. Half the Home's 400 children are now living in cottages. The fifth building is an infirmary. Donors are Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Perkins of Wichita Falls, who are giving a second cottage for girls after two years ago giving a home for senior girls; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bridwell of Wichita Falls, a boy's home; Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Mitchell of Marfa, a girl's home; the late Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Williams of Fort Worth, who will be represented by relatives, a boy's home; R. P. Willis Sr., of Atlanta and the late Mrs. Willie Willis, who gave the infirmary. This building has been furnished by W. T. Penn of Wichita Falls and the late Mrs. Penn.

After the dedication, there will be an evening session of the 48 district superintendents of the Texas and New Mexico conferences. They will discuss the budget campaign, due to be held in all Methodist churches during the month of December. The Home, existing for more than half a century without endowment, has relied on free will offerings for support during its entire history. Because of the limited budget all buildings have been donated by private individuals, 1941 marking an all time high in gifts of this nature to the Home.

But there is no cause for fear for the church is "founded upon a rock" and love is forever building outward forms a new as it sweeps away the shattered fragments of yesterday. Have you faced squarely your relationship to the church? We invite all visitors, strangers, and newcomers to our services. You ought to hear Jack Hart describe his latest fishing and hunting trip. Annual Scout Banquet To Be Held Dec. 2

BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

An associational school of mission is in progress this week in which missionaries from foreign field are speaking each evening portraying the work and progress it is making in their several fields. These missionaries are home on furlough and the Brownfield Association of churches are using them in an educational way to better acquaint the people with the work. Dr. Edward B. Jenkins will bring the message next Sunday morning, and he has visited a number of the fields he can bring first hand observations on the work. Mrs. Luke Johnson who is a native Arizona Indian and wife of a native missionary will speak Sunday evening. These visits of the missionaries are interesting to those especially helping to keep them on the fields by their missionary offerings. After hearing these missionaries and seeing their zeal for the work of their fields it is difficult to understand the attitude of Christians who are not missionary in practice.

The deacons of the church have recommended a barrel head offering on the first Sunday in December to raise the money the church has voted to pay Jan. 1st on our building note. A barrel will be placed in the front and people will put the cash or a promise to pay by Jan. 1st on the barrel head, to pay the $5,000, hoped to be paid by that date which will reduce the building debt to $12,000, and is very much desired as none of us can tell about the future and feel the debt should be reduced now and plead for a generally fine cooperation on the part of every one to give as "God has prospered you". Visitors are welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Slim Schellinger entertained friends with a bingo party Thursday night. The hostess served pumpkin pie and coffee to Messrs. and Mesdames Ted Hardy, Lynn Nelson, Herman Trigg, Johnny Haynes, Dick Chisholm and Tommy Chisholm.

Jae Safady of this city and Ed Aryain of Seminole, both dry goods merchants went to Dallas last week to purchase stocks for their stores.

Rubber tubing in milking machines will last longer if it is kept clean. After each cleaning the tubes should be hung up to drain and dry.

The marriage of Tommy Zorns of Meadow to Reba Boyd of Plainview took place in Plainview Saturday night. Zorns, who was recently released from the army at Ft. Bliss, is the brother of Bruce Zorns of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holgate and daughter Phyllis of Canyon visited Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hamilton Monday. Phyllis remained for a longer visit.

We heard of one farmer the past week that got 13 bales off 18 acres going over the first time. Others, however, are disappointed with their yields.

Mrs. G. L. Caude, of Hale Center, who owns land in Terry County, came in last week while passing through, and subscribed for the Herald to keep her posted.

Bill Lyle, wife and son Donnie were down last Thursday from Lubbock to eat turkey with the Herald family, and did Bill eat. But no wonder. His service station seems only a side line, as he has produced 3500 bushels of potatoes on his farm near Monroe, north of Lubbock, and Bill had been helping to dig 'em. Enough to produce an appetite.

Jolly J. H. Carpenter, the big boy farmers from the Welch section was up Monday to renew for his Herald and Lubbock Avalanche, among other things. J. H. says things are coming along nicely on the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Anderson of Lubbock visited Mr. and Mrs. Joe McGowan Wednesday evening.

Maize is bringing from $14.50 to $16 per ton here, and buyers say it is looking better, the dry weather seems to be bleaching it some.

Mrs. Dale Wren and small daughter of Crosbyton spent the week end with Mrs. Chris Quante.

Mrs. Earl Jones and Evelyn Jones spent several days last week in Kansas City, Mo., where they met Earline Jones who attends Glendale College in Mo.

*Optional at Extra Cost

MOST EVERYONE knows Hydra-Matic Drive is a work saver. But few realize that it's a gas saver, too. Here are the facts: Hydra-Matic is engineered with four speeds forward. That permits slower engine speeds. In fourth speed, for example, 1,000 engine revolutions will propel your Olds Hydra-Matic 2,130 feet as against 1,700 feet for a similar car with standard transmission. Hence, you get more mileage on gas—or, conversely, save gas on any given trip. Then, too, Hydra-Matic's automatic shifting prevents lags and consequent waste of fuel. The net result—gasoline savings of 10 to 15 per cent. Why not drive the easy Hydra-Matic way—in a new Olds B-44—and be money ahead on gas!

Farm Program News

Land Use in Terry County

To earn his full AAA payments in 1942, a Terry county farmer must do three things. First, he must devote at least 20 per cent of his land to soil-conserving crops or land uses exclusively throughout the program year. Second, he must plant within his acreage allotments. Third, he must earn his soil-building allowance.

These three points were emphasized by L. A. Brock, chairman of the Terry county AAA committee this week.

A farmer falling below the 20 per cent minimum requirement will earn only a proportionate part of his cotton payments.

The soil-building allowance may be earned, as in previous years, by carrying out soil-building practices, the AAA official explained.

Payments for planting within allotments include, cotton at 1.25 cents per pound.

Crops meeting soil-conserving classification include biennial and perennial legumes and perennial grasses; sudan, millet, and annual ryegrass for pasture; seeded cover crops of which a good growth is left on hand; summer fallowed acreage protected from wind and water erosion; planting forest trees and Austrian winter peas or vetch for seed.

Land uses include approved terraces constructed on idle cropland, and sweet sorghums, oats, rye, sudan or millet cut green for hay, provided a strip one rod wide is left standing between each five rod strip harvested, and the AAA official explained.

Farm Machinery

Get your farm machinery in A-1 condition now and be ready for next year's food production pledge, L. A. Brock, chairman of The Terry County UDA defense board said this week.

Getting farm machinery in good condition now will be a safeguard against unnecessary delays and breakdown of machinery during the busy farming season, Mr. Brock said in pointing out that defense production will probably overload railroads, truck lines and parcel post companies next spring. OPM has asked for a drastic reduction of steel for civilian needs because of the unprecedented quantities needed in the manufacture of guns, planes, tanks, and bombers. Sufficient steel has been set aside for repair parts of farm machinery, the chairman explained.

All farmers of Terry county are asked to check their machinery and order all necessary parts by Jan. 1. By this method, manufacturers will have a sound practical idea of the quantities needed for repairs parts.

If parts are not available, farmers should notify the county defense board, he said.

Cotton Quotas

Cotton acreage, allotments strengthened by marketing quotas which made 85 percent of parity loans possible, is the triple reason for increase in the price of cotton this year, according to H. L. Holliman, vice-chairman of the Terry County AAA committee.

Collapse of foreign markets, a drastic drop of from 6.2 million bales to 1.1 million bales exports, and enough cotton on hand at the present time to fill an extra year's needs, highlight the cotton situation, he said.

The loss of foreign markets is partially offset by the fact that the domestic consumption of cotton for the 1940-41 season is the highest on record. Consumption was approximately 9.6 million bales, or about 2 million bales above the preceding year, the AAA official said.

ince the export slump is due primarily to naval and war blockades there is little reason to believe that the export market will increase to any great extent, he declared.

For the fifth consecutive year, cotton farmers of Terry County will vote in a national cotton marketing quota referendum Saturday, December 13. Voting places located at strategic places in the County, and names of referendum officials will be announced in a short time, he said.

Last year Terry county voters voted 88.8 per cent favorably on quotas, Texas farmers approved quotas by 88 per cent.

Texas cotton farmers will go to the polls December 13 for the fifth time to answer "yes" or "no" to the question of cotton marketing quotas for 1942.

Mary Nell Adams was home from the University of N. M. last week end.

WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES
 One day from 10 o'clock until after five, the heads of many women's national organizations met at the Labor Department auditorium. Miss Eloise Davison, who has been lent to the Office of Civilian Defense by the New York Herald Tribune, and who is in charge of all plans for women's activities, arranged this meeting. I think it was one of the most interesting that I have ever attended. The speeches given in the morning by the various government officials were informative and interesting, and brought home many facts we need to know if we are going to do constructive work in our communities. I do not feel that we can over-emphasize the importance of coordinating all of our resources on a community basis to serve us now and in the future.

STRANGE REPORT

A strange report comes to me from New England. It appears that volunteers are reluctant to go to work unless they can do some work which is distinctly a war-time occupation. They do not realize that improving social services in a community is basic defense work. Every time any volunteer takes a course in nutrition or child care, and sees that the community as a whole is better fed, she has done something which will be invaluable if we are attacked, and useful in the future as well.

After the meeting, everyone came to drink tea and coffee at the White House and to talk over the day. The consensus was that Miss Davidson had provided a very stimulating program.

In the evening, my cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Robinson and some other friends, went to see a new play, "Junior Miss." It is light and amusing and I can think of no better way to take your mind off serious matters. In Lenore Lonergan, I am beginning to look for the perfect "enfant terrible." It must be almost second nature for her to play these parts. My only other friend in the cast, Mr. Alexander Kirkland, seemed to me to do his part very well. In fact, the whole cast was good.

WAVE OF ECONOMY

I received a rather pathetic letter from a woman who runs one of the small specialty shops in New York city. She sells dresses and millinery, and I imagine such things as costume jewelry, bags and accessories of all kinds. She is worried for fear that a wave of economy will sweep over our people and that small businesses such as hers will be ruined.

She says they do not want charity, they want to earn a living, and they want to keep their people at work, many of whom have been with them for several years.

There are undoubtedly going to be economies practiced along many lines, but perhaps these small businesses, as well as bigger ones, will be able to find ways in which they can adapt themselves to the making of certain things needed in defense. They should apply at once to bureaus set up in Washington, under OPM, for the purpose of giving them advice and consideration.

Many of their employees may have to go into defense industries. If we go into high gear in defense production, there will undoubtedly be a shift in the type of employment which many people have, and a more general possibility of employment for people of middle age, as well as for young people without experience.

I hope that no one, for the present at least, will curtail their usual buying, except where it is necessary. The kind of economy which is undertaken because of a vague feeling of fear about the future, is bad psychology for us all.

STUDENT SERVICE

One day in particular here was very busy. First, at the office, then at the White House. A number of people came to lunch and then back to the office and finally home to entertain a group of people at a reception given in the interests of the International Student Service.

I am always amused when certain writers insinuate that this organization must have something wrong with it because I am associated with it. Of course, it existed long before I went on the board, and that board chose their general secretary, Mr. Joseph Lash, before I was asked to be one of their number. The names of those who sponsor this organization and are on the board should guarantee its complete respectability.

That afternoon, Mr. Archibald MacLeish gave the explanation for his interest in the International Students service, and an interesting talk. This was followed by an account of the work we hope to do in the Washington bureau. Finally, the general objectives and activities were explained, covering aid to refugee students, work camps, conferences on the campuses designed to awaken the young people to an interest in exploring their reasons for a belief in democracy, and to bring together students and faculty in helpful discussion.

DEFENSE WIDOWS LAMENT
 By One Of Them

I am a defense widow. There are golf widows; navy and army widows; grass and real widows.

My young son is a defense orphan.

We are full blooded, patriotic American citizens. We like our freedom and our liberty. We like helping out in a cause which any sane thinking people know is right and just.

But what is right and just about being a defense widow? Or funny? Phooey!

The monkeys in the Zoo think we escaped our cages because we visit them so much, filling in the time between dawn and dark, waiting for Papa to come home.

At the first crack of dawn something twitters in my ear—and its time to get up again at the unholy hour of 5:30 A. M.

Zipp-zipp. Sputter—pop—pop "Mama", pipes son from his bedroom, "What was that funny noise?"

"Darling that was your father on his way to work. Go back to sleep for another two or three hours."

"My father? What does he look like?"

"He's the man who eats Sunday dinner with us dear."

"Oh."

Interim: about 14 hours later. "Go to sleep, son, I have to wait up for Father."

Headlights turn into the driveway next door. Yawn yawn.

Headlights turn into our driveway.

Its father once more staggering soberly home for his dinner at a time when all good citizens should be sitting cozily around the fireplace knitting and discussing the high cost of living.

How's my son dear? Has he grown since I saw him last?

Dishwashing at 9 P. M. Many yawns and groans.

Another long, lonely day has ended; bed never felt so good.

Papa is asleep before Mama gets the last dish dried and put away. What has become of the nice long evenings when we discussed the events of the day?

Now it's against the rules to discuss events of the aircraft industry. The monkey as a subject, has long been exhausted.

Lights out.

Good grief, is it 5:30 A. M. already.

Again ? ? ?

Zipp-zipp—pop—pop—

"Mama, what was that funny noise?"

"That was your father going to work, dear."

"Oh, what does he look like mama?"

It's time for all good defense widows to organize a Help-the-Defense Widows-Pass-Away-The-Hours-Until-Papa-Comes Home League. Or are you ladies too sleepy, also?

Who started this war anyway?

Several thousand airplanes later:

"Wife, have you peeled potatoes again with my razor?"

"Of course not, Papa. It must have been junior. I have to buy him another razor."

"Junior? What are you talking about. What would a kindergarten boy want with a razor?"

"Why, papa, junior is in college

Josh Billings was the favorite humorist philosopher of your grandpa's time. Here are a few of his choice thoughts, spelling and all:

We lay all of our bad luk tew sum boddy else but our successee we giv ourself kredit for.

The devil owes most ov his success tew the fack that he iz alwuz on hand.

A learned phool iz one who has read everything and simply remembered it.

Confidence iz a big thing; it makes a hornet respectable.

There iz no good substitute for wisdom but silence iz the best thing that has been discovered yet.

If we couldn't neither laff nor kry, what miserable critters we should be.

One advantage of going to Mexico by automobile is that it brings you closer to the people. For instance, when you stop in Linares for gasoline, as I did, you may get acquainted with Senor H. Gonzalez, a brisk, little man, with a ready smile, who will tell you all about his plans for enlarging his service station.

Or, after arriving in Tasco, that most marvelous of all villages with its atmosphere of unworldeeness and timelessness, after you park your car on the plaza in the heavy shade of ancient trees and set out afoot over the otherwise impossible cobblestone street you may have the good fortune to meet Senor Eduardo Estrada, a fine looking old gentleman in black suit and white linen, a retired professor, who speaks flawless English. He will courteously tell you about Alarcon, one of the greatest dramatists of the Spanish language, who was born in Tasco, and he will point out the Humboldt house where the famous scientist once lived. He may even take you(as he did this observer) into a silver shop, call for a lump of pure silver that belongs to him, and weighs about 10 pounds, and allow you to hold it.

When John Hart announced for sheriff of Eastland county a good many years ago, he lived in a farm house in the Cisco-Eastland highway just halfway between the rival towns. He would go into Cisco and say " Us Cisco folks must pull together" and then he'd go over to Eastland and remark, "Us Eastland fellows ought to back a home town man". He was elected.

Seven towns disputed about Homer and two claim me— Ranger and Eastland. Ranger claims I belong to Eastland and Eastland insists I belong to Ranger.

At that, I may run for office some time as I have a "double". E. D. Alexander, reporter for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, looks so much like me that he can buy things at the drug store and get them charged to me—and that's better than I can do for myself.

The way I figure to use this resemblance to advantage is to have Alex help me in the campaign, so I can be billed for two speeches at once, at points 50 miles part. While I'm speaking in Cleburne, Alex can be pouring it on in Denton. That way, we can shake twice as many hands kiss twice as many babies, making twice as many promises, and get twice as many votes (I hope) as any other candidate. The only complication is that there would be only one salary.

It's an odd sight to see an Austin Negro wearing what looks like an abbreviated gas mask but is really a strainer to keep out the dust while he sweeps the floor of an office building.

We'd always heard that perpetual motion was an impossibility but a Fort Worth jewelry store displays a "perpetual motion clock and the price is reasonable too, —only $175.

Seats in the newest theatres are not squarely behind each other but are so arranged that your eyes are directed between the heads of two persons in the row ahead instead of having to duck and dodge to try to see around a fellow right in front of you.

And a theatre in Hollywood has seats constructed somewhat on the principle of a porch swing so that you just swing the chair back and don't have to rise when somebody in the middle of the row wants to get out.

A few years ago, toothpicks were frowned upon; now they're on sale openly—and are perfumed.

And there are cough drops with liquid centers.

Time marches on!

THIS WEEK IN DEFENSE

President Roosevelt sent identical letters to UMW President Lewis and to the steel company representatives Benjamin Fairless, Eugene Grace and Frank Purnell stating "work in the captive mines must recommence . . . The issue in dispute . . . does not justify a stoppage or work in a grave national crisis".

The president asked the four leaders to allow the matter of the closed shop in captive mines to remain in status quo for the period of the national emergency, or else to accept final arbitration. He said any agreement reached would have no effect on the UMW's closed shop agreement already in effect with regular commercial mines.

In a message to the CIO convention at Detroit, the President said unless democratic freedoms are protected from the world scourge of Hitlerism, "free trade unions and all other free institutions will vanish". To protect these freedoms, he wrote, "we must produce guns, tanks, planes and ships without delay and without interruption, and the American people and their Government are determined that we shall have them".

Texas has only 2 per cent of its total corn acreage planted to hybrid seed(according to the Agricultural Marketing Service.

"Behind The Scenes In American Business"

New York—One fifth of the total current output of U S goods it is estimated, is now accounted for by armaments production; and the proportion is rising. The Federal Reserve Board's overall index of industrial production for October stood at 164—almost two thirds gain as much as the 1935-39 average (taken as "100"). Thus even if one subtracts all the arms production, the nation's activity

Washington — Simplification of methods by which manufacturers get preference rating for all materials they need— for defense and civilian production alike—is seen as OPM's next step. It's called a changeover from "priorities" to "allocations", the difference being that concerns will get blanket ratings covering all materials for different jobs in the same shop. New application forms will require sworn statements as to inventories and amounts of material used in past three months period as well as all-over expected needs. It's expected the new system will aid the government in measuring the total supply situation in any given material much more accurately than before. It's a natural result of the recent trend toward letting industries produce as much as they can with the materials that can be spared, instead of ordering mandatory curtailments in unit production.

A POINT NOT TO BE OVERLOOKED

Another way of considering our national defense situation is this: Just suppose that Hitler has conquered Europe, over-run England, and after a beathing spell has massed enough ships, planes, bombers, and munitions to established a base in South America, from which he has demolished the Panama Canal, and by a supreme effort has over-run the United States. Having surged into the blackened ruins of Washington, he sets about his plans of establishing the "new order" in America. Considering the list of 1940-41 leaders in America, whom do you suppose he would send for with a veiw of some semblance of sympathetic reception to his "new order" for this country?

Well, certainly not Roosevelt—not Senator Glass, not Senator Connally, not Senator Pepper, not Senator Barkley, nor the hundreds of clear-sighted American officials and citizens who are now pleading for all-out defense effort here, and for untrammelled movement of armed shipping to the needs of England, Russia and China.

Well, whom would you name as likely recipients of an invitation from Hitler? — Clarendon News.

CRISES AND WORLD LEADERS

"Somewhere in the world today there sits a man who will be selected by God to lead the world out of its trouble", prophesies R. William Archer, advertising director of the Southwestern Life Insurance Company of Dallas as he urged the Dallas Advertising League to have faith. "Every crisis such as the work faces today", he continued, "brings forth a leader, a man destined by God to save humanity. I say he sits alone because it is that way that he can think clearly". After the talk, quoted, the president, Stanley Campbell, added that the United States must never forget that it won its freedom through men who were constantly defeated, but who had faith. "Those little bands of revolutionaries were those who won only two battles in on entire war, the Battle of Saratoga which enabled them to continue the war and the Battle of Yorktown which won the war. They fought for years just on faith, the kind that this country needs now to face its crisis".

These timely words from everyday businessmen suggest a practical method for thinking men who have the world situation at heart and brighten the hope for a deliverer such has come in every crisis. The fact that "he somewhere sits alone" eliminates millions who have lost a bent for solitude and who must join the throngs seeking pleasure, excitement or the applause of the world. He may be, likes Moses, tending his father-in-law's sheep, or the great Roman at his plow; but we hope he will be ready when the call comes so that swift deliverance from threatened destruction may be America's blessing. — Abilene Times.

John S. Powell was called to Fort Worth early Thursday morning upon receipt of the fact that his daughter, Mrs. Austin F. Anderson had passed away following a paralytic stroke at a church Wednesday night. Mr. Powell went to Lubbock where he was joined by another daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Ruch and their son. Many old timers will remember Kathryn Powell, as a most lovely and friendly girl, as she was practically reared and educated here. She is survived by her husband, Lieut. Colonel Austin F. Anderson, who was stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, at Rollo Mo. A son Austin jr., in naval training school at Corpus Christi, a daughter Kathryn in college at St. Charles, Mo., and a young son James, in high school at Fort Worth.

Mary Lena Winston, who attends Abilene Christian college was home for the week end.

Leo Holmes is in New Mexico in business.

Mrs. Bruce Zorns and Mrs. Roy Ballard spent Saturday in Lubbock.

Frank E. Givan of Hartford was here on business Wednesday.

Dinsel Jefferys will leave Saturday for Dallas where he will enter flying school.

EVANS FAMILY LOSE MOTHER

Mrs. Augusta Evans, 81, mother of the Evans boys and sisters of this county, died Monday, the 17th. She was ill only a few days, having died at the home of a son, Elois Evans, of Athens, according to Ed Evans of Union.
