BROWNFIELD, TERRY COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY FEBRUARY 27, 1942

NUMBER 30

JESSIE G. RANDAL PRIMARY SCHOOL FORMALLY DEDICATED

A huge crowd attended the formal opening of the Jessie G. Randal Primary school last Friday evening. In fact the stage and every available seat was taken, and others were standing. Many did not even get into the building during the program. However, the program was carried out just about as advertised with few exceptions where sickness of persons or family hindered.

We are glad to be able this week to present a picture of the building from the architect's drawing, but this hardly does justice to the beauty of the exterior of the building. And the interior is even more beautiful and well arranged. We had the happy privilege Tuesday morning of being conducted through by the principal, Mrs. Lee Fulton. Mrs. Fulton stated that some 400 youngsters are now housed in the building, better than 160 of them being in the first grade.

A series of offices and reception rooms are found near the south entrance, the office being that of Mrs. Fulton. Near it is the reception room with comfortable chairs and lounges. A large photograph of Mrs. Randal, 16x20 adorns the walls of the reception room, and right here, we might state that Mrs. Randal does not use two I's in her name, as the program and some newspaper descriptions indicate. This large photograph was made by Reeves at Lubbock, and was presented the school by the Senior Maids and Matrons Club.

Mrs. Randal Presents Pecan Trees
Other gifts to the school was 20 pecan trees by Mrs. Randal; furniture for waiting room by the Jessie G. Randal PTA; a table lamp for the waiting room by the High and Junior High PTA. Mrs. Fulton stated that the building contained 14 class rooms, and 12 of them are now in use. The building is located on the Tahoka Highway, and cost complete around $80,000.

Arrangements and Fixtures Modern

This huge building is a far cry from the little Red School houses of 50 or even 20 years ago. In fact, few of the rural schools of 50 years ago where this writer lived were even painted, and while they sported some very uncomfortable seats, there were no desks as we now know them. And people of those "good old days" figured that if one teacher could not handle 70 or 80 pupils in every grade (or reader) from primer to Ray's Arithmetic (third part) he ought to be fired. Actually, we believe we would like to go to school now. You are comfortable in the oddest weather in any part of the building, and the little fellows do not freeze if the "bigguns" crowd them away from the stove.

There are neat little rooms with many work benches and vices, tools of all sorts, where the youngsters of from 6 to 10 can show what he can make. There is still another where drawing and painting is practiced by the coming architects and painters. There is another room with tables, where students that bring lunches can spread them and milk is kept cool by two large ice boxes furnished by Banner Creamery. In still another room, there is a bed and first aid accessories for those who may be taken ill during school periods. The class rooms are models of convenience. Desks are not put down with screws, but can be moved about the room as desired.

Automatic Heating Plant
The janitor, Mr. John Jenkins, carried us down in the basement to see the heating plant, which uses natural gas. This heater is automatic. When the students leave the building and the radiators are turned off, the heating plant itself takes a rest till morning when the radiators are again put in use. However, with no doors being opened and shut, the plant maintains a fairly even temperature during the night. Large steam pipes lead out, one each, to the three wings of the building. Only one gas line enters the building, and there are no school rooms over the boiler plant.

Log of the Building

West Wing: room 1, assembly room; no. 2, Frances Brewer, 3rd grade; room 3, Edna Brock, 2nd grade; room 4, Edna Mae Bost, 3rd grade; room 5, Margaret Sue Wilhite, 2nd grade; room 6, Winona Newman, 3rd grade.

East Wing: Room 7, Mary Lee, 4th grade; room 8, Cora Bruce, 4th grade; room 9, Viola Brown, 4th grade; room 10, Gertrude Rasco, piano; room 11, Mrs. O. L. Middleton, speech.

North Wing: Room 12, Cordia Mae Cates, 1st grade; room 13 (yes they have a room 13) Alta Smith, 1st grade; room 14, Mollie Fitzgerald, 1st grade; room 15, Mildred Fouts, 1st grade.

This new building, housing more than 400 of the nearly 2000 students of the far-flung Brownfield Consolidated Independent School District, takes a big pressure off the other three buildings in Brownfield, as well as the Gomez and Tokio wards. And it is quite a step up from one teacher (Mrs. Randal) and two dozen pioneer youngsters about 1904, to more than 60 teachers and 2,000 students in 1942.

Radio and Phonograph

A large combined radio-phonograph is installed in the office of Mrs. Fulton, an obd pressing a certain button, a program can be heard in that or several rooms, at the option of the operator. Loud speakers are in each room. Mrs. Fulton stated that one room often got a big kick out of being plugged in on another room where some kind of a program was being put on. Programs from any radio station may be tuned in, also, as well as recordings.

J. B. Knight Hardware reported this week that they had a total of about 60 Frigidaires and Electro-luxes in stock and none in transit. So, that will be the amount they can sell.

Mrs. L. A. Rhyne has returned from San Diego, Calif., where she visited her son, Leon Rhyne and Mrs. Rhyne.

Mrs. Ellison Carson has gone to San Diego, Calif., to join her husband who is employed in an aircraft factory there.

Supreme in Circulation

Are You An American?

Are you loyal to your country? Are you doing all you can for your country? Don't be just a mouth patriot—show your patriotism by your works—show your colors.

If our boys can and do give their lives for our country, you surely can make as small a sacrifice as doing Red Cross sewing and knitting. Help see that our boys have sweaters and socks; our refugees have clothing. It won't cost you one cent, just your time. If you can't come to the Red Cross room in Scout Building on East Broadway to sew and knit, call and take work home. The room is open on Monday afternoon through Friday afternoon of each week.

We still need sewing machines, chairs and women to run them, also electric irons and ironing boards and ladies to use them as there are numbers of garments to be pressed and if you can't sew or press, you surely can sew on buttons, if not, then take care of your neighbor's child while she comes and helps.

We don't know when our shores might be invaded and our people suffer from want of warm clothing, or some great calamity befall our own country.

Don't you want a part in this great humanitarian work? If so, come on, there is plenty of work for you to do. We women have as big a part to help win this war as our men and boys and it's going to take everyone co-operating if we have the freedom we have always enjoyed.

"Let's keep them flying" by all of us working. Counting on you. Mrs. Lester Treadaway, Chairman, War Relief Production and Volunteer Service.

Joe Eudy Has Found The El Dorado

"They just ain't no telling where Joe Eudy will show up next." A letter this week disclosed the fact that he had left Roswell, and he had landed at Phoenix, Oregon in Jackson county, in the southern part of that state, 50 miles from the coast. Two things slowed up his march westward, it began to get too cold for his thin blood, and too near the coast put him in close proximity with the Japs.

But Joe says they farm on a small scale, with good land at 500 bucks per acre. They raise hay, pears and vegetables. The land is black and tough, with no sandstorms, and he wants to ship some of the land back here to mix with our blow-sand, then in exchange he wants some of our blow-sand to mix with that black land, and will throw in some fogs for good measure. A fair exchange we call it.

But we are just wondering how Joe is going to get back home if he gets much farther away. Evidently, however, he still has some kale, as he sent one bat hide for the Herald to keep him posted while he thaws out.

WTST College Exes To Have Dinner

The West Texas State College exes are to have their annual dinner at the Mexican Inn, Lubbock, next Monday at 6:15 p. m., to be followed by the Buffalo-Red Raider basketball game.

You are advised to write Miss Meirelle Wrenn, 2001 Main St., that city, if you wish to attend, and state whether you prefer a chicken or Mexican dinner.

A Hustling Young Business Man

Sonny Whitley of Gomez is among one of our most up and going young business men. He has a business and attends to it. He runs his business; not the business he.

He is a confirmed chicken fancier; he raises them and sells them. He also sells standard foods for them, as well as coal and butane gas. Sonny will appreciate your business.

Cotton Farmers Take Insurance

College Station, Feb. 23—Texas cotton farmers are taking no chances on a crop failure this year, according to Geo. Slaughter, Chairman, Texas AAA committee.

"They are falling in line with cotton crop insurance all over the state," he said.

Under the new program offered for the first time this year, either 50 or 75 percent of the cotton crop may be insured against all unavoidable hazards such as drought, insects, plant diseases, flood, wind, storm, hail, and frost. Federal Crop Insurance Corporation will make up for the difference in a farmer's actual production and his average production, the AAA official explained.

"Cotton crop insurance, just like any other kind of insurance, is not free," Slaughter said in explaining premiums will be paid regardless of whether losses are experienced.

Premiums may be paid in cotton or cash equivalent prior to maturity date but must be paid in cash equivalent basis after notes are due. Premiums also may be deducted from indemnity payments, if losses are paid, AAA payments, or commodity loans, Slaughter said.

"The new insurance we have this year guarantees production and not price. We're dealing with lint cotton and FCIC will pay off in lint cotton. If farmers are paid in dollars and cents, they would be assured of an income, which is price plus production," he explained.

Closing dates for taking crop insurance are March 2, March 16 and March 31, in various parts of the state.

Alfred Smith Joins The Navy

Some three weeks ago, Alfred Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Smith, went to Dallas armed with the necessary permission papers signed by his parents, and made application to join the Navy. This week he received word to come to Dallas to be sworn in.

A wire from him Tuesday night stated that he was boarding a train bound for San Diego to begin his training. He was informed that after his course of training he could get on the same warship with his brother, Alvin, who is somewhere in Hawaiian waters.

His dad was in the Herald office Wednesday and stated that they had received a small phonograph record from Alvin that gave more about the Pearl Harbor attack than any letter they had received from him. The record was made by Alvin himself.

Visiting Firemen Are Well Entertained

From expressions heard on every side, the visiting firemen of the Permian Basin were well entertained here last Thursday. Morning was mostly devoted to registration, and a goodly representation from the large district came. There were also many visitors.

A portion of the early afternoon was consumed in business of the district, then the contests, which were held near the Chevrolet building on Broadway, were real interesting and hotly contested. At about 7 P. M., a barbecue dinner with all the trimmings was served to delegates and visitors at the Legion Hall on the Seagraves highway, and a big dance with a popular orchestra finished the events of the day.

In connection with the above, Brownfield people as a whole are due the fire boys special thanks for another 25 per cent reduction on fire insurance. That good fire record gives us a saving for the town of more than $11,000. This is in addition to the 25 percent saving earned last year, according to State Fire Commissioner, Marvin Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bailey and Mrs. R. N. McClain spent several days last week in Dallas.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS by BOYCE HOUSE

There was trickery in David Crockett's day, too. In his autobiography, he thus explains his failure to be re-elected to Congress:

"I should have been elected if it hadn't been that, but a few weeks before the election, the little four-pence-ha-penny limbs of the law fell on a plan to defeat me. They agreed to spread out over the district and made appointments for me to speak almost everywhere to clear up the Jackson question. They would give me no notice of these appointments and the people would meet in great crowds to hear what excuse Crockett had for quitting Jackson.

"But instead of Crockett's being there, this small fry of lawyers would be there with their saddlebags full of newspapers and their journals of Congress and would get up and speak and read their serious attacks on me and would then tell the people I was afraid to appear."

After losing the race, Crockett made a speech of farewell to Tennessee, concluding:

"I am done with politics for the present and you can go to h— and I will go to Texas."

Not the Mother Goose version: Jack and Jill ran up the hill To fetch a pail of water; Jack fell down and broke his crown And Jill said, "Can't take it, eh?"

Two men in Longview were hotly discussing the merits of a book. One of them, a writer, said, "No, Joe, you can't appreciate it. You never wrote a book yourself." To which Joe retorted, "I never laid an egg either but I'm a better judge of an omelet than any hen in Texas!"

Speaking of authors, here are a few colorful bits from their lives: Vachel Lindsay tramped across America, reciting poems in exchange for bread.

Francois Villon was a Paris pickpocket and murderer but he wrote lines that will never die—such as, "Where are the snows of yesteryear?"

Ernest Dawson died in squalor in the most wretched district in London. Does that mean nothing. He wrote the line, "Gone with the Wind."

Incidentally, your columnist is the only person in the United States who has neither read the book nor seen the movie, "Gone with the Wind." I'm waiting to see whether the story is a success.

Oldest farm in the U. S. is at Ysleta, El Paso County, on the bank of the Rio Grande. The farm has produced crops since 1540.

Unusual names: In Llano you can find Idol's Cafe and Buttery Hardware.

A farmer (in Kansas) said to a friend, "Well, my son John has failed on the civil service examination."

"What was his trouble?" "Well, he was short on spelling" and geography and he missed purty fur on mathematics."

"What is he going to do about it?" "I dunno. Times is mighty hard and I reckon he'll have to go back to teachin' school fur a livin'."

GRASS FIRE THREATENS BUS BARN

Someone let a grass fire get out of control in the northeast part of the city late last week, that threatened the school bus barn as well as buses that may have been in there.

The fire boys were called out and quickly quelled the blaze before it did material damage.

To The Citizens Of Brownfield

This is to announce to you my candidacy for the office of Mayor of the City of Brownfield, Texas.

I wish to state in the beginning that I am strictly an independent candidate, being under no obligation whatever to any group or organization, and running for the office because I want it and believe I am qualified to fill it in a manner which will be profitable to the tax payers of the City.

Fair treatment to all and special privileges to none has been my creed all my life, and if elected, I can guarantee the most humble citizen, or the most influential, fair an equitable treatment in all dealings with their Mayor.

Off and on for nearly 30 years I have been in a number of businesses for myself and have experienced fairly satisfactory results by practicing principles of sound economy. I believe that in this time of National Emergency, there is an urgent need for strict economy in local governments in order that every penny possible will be left free for the vital war effort. My aims in running the business of the City of Brownfield will be the same as they have been in the operation of my own business here—all the economy possible without sacrificing efficiency.

I promise to each and every voter that, if elected, I will make a special study of the tax and utility rates and, in so far as it is possible for me to do so, I will earnestly strive at all times for the reduction of these rates.

I have been a resident and business man in Brownfield the past four years, and am known to most of the people here. I invite investigation into my character and ability as a business man, because I propose to conduct the city government as a business, and in the same straight-forward manner I have my own.

I plan to make an active campaign and will make a special effort to see every voter. If, however, I should fail to see any of you, please consider it an honest oversight and remember that I want and will appreciate your vote and influence just the same.

Sincerely,
(Signed) Frank Jordan

Buy Your Hardware Needs In Brownfield

A discussion came in the Lal Copeland Hardware this week in the presence of a reporter for this paper. There was no bitterness in the discussion, just plain facts. The burden of the conversation was that Brownfield had three good hardware stores, and that there was no need of going out of town to buy anything in the hardware line.

The speaker stated that he didn't think the Copeland Hardware was the only place to buy in Brownfield, but that they did have a good stock, and were in line with other towns, price and quality considered.

The Herald believes the same way about the matter. These men, the Lal Copeland Hardware included, live here, they own their business places and maintain residences. They pay their taxes and help by contributing to the churches and schools of the community, as well as other charitable programs.

They deserve and will appreciate your business.

Western Union Office Moving This Week

Henry Brenneman, down town Western Union man, stated this week that by Saturday he hoped to be moved to his new office in the Rialto Theatre building, formerly occupied by the Rialto Beauty Shop.

Henry stated that this office would give him much more privacy, especially when he had to read telegrams to patrons, many of them very personal, as anyone in the hotel could listen in on them.

Pat Patterson of Lubbock spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hefflin.

CITY OFFICES

We are authorized to announce the following candidates for Brownfield city offices, at an election to be held the first Tuesday in April, 1942, which will be the 7th day of April, 1942.

FOR MAYOR

Clyde C. Coleman

The State of Texas, in co-operation with the Federal government, has placed on the aid rolls

10,000 children of needy families, with the application of more than 7,000 others pending. These children are given aid when one or both parents are dead, or one or both parents are ill for long periods. This is handled by the State Department of Public Welfare.

It is announced that soon Camp Barkley near Abilene will be emptied of its present troops and a new 90th division will go in training there. This division will be a namesake of the older 90th of the first World War, that made history at St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne fighting. It was sometimes known as the Alamo Division. Many men still live in Brownfield who were members of this division. Training will be under direction of Major General Henry Terrell, jr.

Lubbock county candidates have taken the same steps those of Gaines county took some two months ago. The agreement is that, "Instead of attending pie suppers and gorging ourselves, we will spend that money buying war saving stamps." Not a bad idea for Terry county candidates. Might save a lot of bother and expense, not to mention a case of indigestion. Too many pies at night is bad for anybody's inards.

Our ancient, accepted and perpetual disputant, the Hon. Charley Armour Guy, perpetrator of the Plainsman column in the Lubbock Evening Journal, makes some wise cracks occasionally that needs passing on to a bunch of good, sensible readers. This week Charley stated "that the poor guy can now buy as many tires as a multi-millionaire." Yea! boy! and in about three years our Chivvies and our Jitneys will look just as good as their Cadillacs and Lincolns.

Not all girls are willing to sit back and let "George do it." Two young ladies, one from Jayton and the other from Lamesa, decided that after a year in college, they could do more than they were doing in war work. So they attended a Texas aircraft school, and upon graduation, were promptly assigned as mechanics at the Army Flying School near Lubbock. The Lamesa girl also had 50 hours of solo flying, and was a licensed pilot. Many ladies and girls are learning to weld, while thousands are taking first aid lessons for emergencies.

Taylor county should not and perhaps will not deal lightly with that paper sack bandit and bank robber, who deliberately shot and killed an unarmed deputy in the Abilene jail last week. Nor should they try, with weeping eyes, that carpenter and army man that smuggled the firearms in to the bandit. They too, are murderers at heart, and should have life sentences at least, while the bad man, if he recovers from the shots of the sheriff, should have the hot shot at Huntsville administered to him in such a huge dose that he will never bother anyone else.

ALWAYS BEEN AGAINST PENSION SAYS MAHON

Answering a question from a constituent on his attitude toward the much discussed pension plan for Congressmen, George Mahon, Representative from this district, replied in part as follows: "The proposal has been pending in Congress for a number of years. We had a vote on it in 1939 and defeated it. I have always been against the idea and am still utterly opposed to it, and have never voted for it and never will. It may be repealed. I hope so. I certainly have no personal interest in the legislation. It would be 20 years before I would reach the so-called retirement age and for the portion of that time I remained in Congress, I would have to contribute $500 a year to the retirement fund. I shall continue to spend what money I can for defense bonds, but none for pensions."

News articles pertaining to the Defense Program are given preference to the use of space in the Chief. Space is a newspaper's stock in trade, the same as groceries and medicine on the shelf. This war must be won, and every loyal newspaper throughout the land is donating thousands and thousands of inches of space to the government in behalf of the National Defense Program, and all of it without one cent of remuneration. Newspapers are essential in getting certain news to the people. Donating space to Uncle Sam is being done by the newspapers without a whimper. For win the war we must. It is far more important than anything else right now and in the years to come. Let every loyal American do his bit.—Miami Chief.

Two things which did not and will not help promote any ultra urge on the part of our people to give more all-out aid to Canada, which we have been giving, occurred in that neighbor country last week. One was the big demonstrations against conscription by the youth of Canada, while the youth of America are taking it in increasing numbers with chins up. The other was the speech by the Premier of Ontario, Canada (one of the biggest and most prosperous provinces) in which he implied all too clearly that the United States fleet was afraid to take on The Japs. There is a very prevalent idea in this country that the British have been doing a darned good job of letting the other fellow do their offensive part of it, but certain it is, the Canadians have done an even bigger job of doing nothing along that line. They seem to have the thought that if we'll furnish the men, money and weapons—they'll win the war. Or should we say, just those who talk or act—seem to have it figured that way.—County-Wide News, Littlefield.

MEADOW HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB MEETS
The Meadow Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 17 at 2:00 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Warren. Ten members were present, also Miss Blanton, and three new members: Mrs. A. L. Armstrong, Mrs. Webb and Mrs. Carruth. For opening exercise, the song, "U. S. A. Forever," was sung, everyone taking part. Roll call was answered with "My Favorite Fruit and How to Prepare It." Mrs. Finley was appointed Program Chairman to replace Mrs. Dupree who has moved away. Miss Blanton gave a very interesting demonstration on "More Fruits in our Diets," preparing two different sandwiches which contained fruits. They were very delicious and attractive. She also pointed out the necessity of fruits as the means of getting the daily supply of vitamins so essential to our good health.

On Wednesday, Feb. 25, the club will meet with Mrs. Bull to quilt a quilt. Those who care, are invited to come and spend the day, bringing a covered dish. Those who can't spend the day, be sure to come in the afternoon. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Dennis on March 3. Everyone is invited.

NOW! You Can Have a "QUICK CASH" Pre-Arranged Funeral Payment Plan

WHEN DEATH COMES there is an immediate need for cash to cover the cost of Funeral and other "Last" expenses.

THIS "QUICK CASH" (Pre-Arranged) Funeral Payment Plan, which we now offer you, provides the immediate cash when it is most needed.

WE HAVE ADOPTED THIS PLAN and now earnestly recommend it for your consideration, because—

1st. IT IS A CASH PLAN—one that will permit you to call the Funeral Director of your choice.

2nd. IT IS PAYABLE TO YOU ANYWHERE IN THE GOOD OLD U. S. A.

3rd. IT IS AN EASY MONTHLY PAYMENT PLAN—within the means of every family.

4th. IT IS AVAILABLE TO FAMILY GROUPS OR INDIVIDUALS—and without medical examination.

The West Texas Burial Association was organized by a group of Funeral Directors in West Texas for the purpose of offering to their friends a Safe, Dependable, Low-Rate protection that all could afford. This is not a so-called "Service Policy," but a CASH POLICY—one that you may spend part or spend all with the one you wish to handle your loved ones whenever or wherever the Death Angel may call.

We invite you to visit our office in the Knight Furniture Store, first door west of the Brownfield State Bank. We will be glad to give you any further information regarding our plan.

LOST THE WAR

One country has certainly lost the war. That country is Italy. Late reports indicate she amounts to little more than a German province.

At the present time Italians are permitted but 3 and one half ounces of meat a week, one-fifth of a pint of milk a day, and two and one half ounces of butter a month. Even oil, basis of Italian cooking, is limited to half-a-pint per person monthly. Mussolini's German friends are literally bleeding the country white of foodstuffs and other supplies.—Jayton Chronicle.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

NEW YORK, Feb. 23—Sharper Curbs—Both in production and in prices, control measures that have been in the air for weeks now are getting much more definite, more insistent. Mechanical refrigerators and civilian radios now place absolute deadlines for stoppage, as of April 30 and 22, respectively—the industries then swinging over 100 per cent to war goods production. Meanwhile, WBP has "frozen" all stocks of mechanical ice boxes for home use except those already in dealers' hands or in transit; and retailers will be allowed to sell one-twelfth the number they sold in all of 1941 (or 100 refrigerators, whichever number is greater), and thereafter the "freeze" applies to their stocks too. Tightening of screws on prices is seen in OPA's sterner steps to see that radio and phonograph wholesalers and retailers cancel their recent price increases, although OPA mandates a fortnight ago applied only to manufacturers' prices.

Bits O' Business—A typical sign of the times is the fact that Uncle Sam received two and a half times as much money from Chrysler corporation earnings in 1941 as did all its stockholders; and the quarterly dividend was cut from $1.50 to $1 to conserve cash for war work outlays. Similar action was taken by General Motors and du Pont . . . United Air Lines wins the National Safety Council award for safe airline operation in group A, flying more than 300 million passenger miles in 1941 without a fatality . . . no soap shortage is expected in this war, it being largely a by-product of glycerine, a vital war need; but future soap may be less slippery, because there'll be less glycerine left in it . . . "Scrap" problem may beset phonograph record industry because ingredients include a resinous secretion of a little bug (not jitterbug) of northern India. RCA-Victor is running a modest experiment in the Philadelphia area, paying two cents apiece for old platters, no matter in what condition.

Could Be Worse—In spite of inescapable rises in food costs—about 15 per cent in the past year—grocery bills are taking a smaller cut out of the average pocketbook now than in 1917. The Department of Agriculture reports that the typical working man's family now hands the food merchant about 13 cents less per payroll dollar than he did during the year America entered World War I—Incidentally, that typical family was earning $1,888 last year, compared to $1,331 in 1917.

Ruling On Defective Teeth, Eyesight

A large number of men who are registered in the jurisdiction of all of the draft boards in the country have been deferred on account of defective eyes and defective or missing teeth.

Selective Service Headquarters clarified the classification of these men this week, when they issued an order to all draft boards, which makes the following eligible for military service under the draft:

"For general military service in all branches:

"Registrants who have no disqualifying physical defects except a lack of the required number of teeth, as set forth in paragraph 31-A, mobilization, Regulation 19, August 31, 1940, when, in the opinion of the examining physician, they are well nourished, of good musculature, are free of gross dental infections and have sufficient teeth (natural or artificial) to subsist on the army ration."

The new eye requirements state:

"Registrants whose visual acuity is below 20-100, but not below 20-200, in each eye without glasses, if correctible to 20-40 in each eye. (The actual possession of suitable glasses by an individual is not required for his acceptance under these standards.)"

FOOD WILL BEAT THE AXIS

Beat the Axis with Food! That is the slogan of the United States Department of Agriculture. Make it yours also! It is virtually necessary that we produce not only food for our own nation, but in addition, food for our crippled, war-torn allies. You have given your sons—can you give your own efforts!

Conservation farming gives additional return per acre, but it is not easy. Slackers cannot take it! Will you personally strive to give your nation the additional food she needs? Will you conserve the soil so it remains for your children's children? If you need help in conservation problems get help from your cooperating Soil Conservation District. Ask of the Soil Conservation Service at Brownfield or at the CCC Camp in Morton.

Daniel Davis, who is stationed at the flying base at Lubbock, spent the weekend here.

As Planting Time Draws Near

The Banks of Brownfield again emphasize the necessity of having germination tests run on all seed that are to be planted. Recent tests on this years seed (cotton and grain) have produced alarming results. In some instances these tests have run as low as 18%. Agriculture experts advise that cottonseed suitable for planting should have a germination capacity of 80% or better. Germination tests will be run FREE by the Agricultural Department of Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Texas. Mr. R. N. McClain, your County Agent, will take your samples to Lubbock for you free of charge if you leave them in His office. The sample for the test should contain two pounds of seed and represent a cross section of all seed. It takes about three weeks to have a germination test run, so now is the time to have it done.

My Week by Eleanor Roosevelt

RURAL CLINIC

It was very pleasant one morning to see Ambassador Daniels' smiling face greeting us at the station in Raleigh, N. C. He seems to have inexhaustible energy. We found Mrs. Daniels much improved since her return home, and had a pleasant family breakfast with two of their boys, whose wives and children dropped in to see us.

At 11 o'clock, we started to Chapel Hill, but stopped on the way at the NYA center near Durham, where State Administrator, Mr. John Lang is doing a really excellent piece of work with the North Carolina draftees, who were rejected for physical reasons. The medical set-up is an example of rural areas, for here is a very unpretentious but extremely efficient small hospital, which could be duplicated in many places.

It is the type of setup which could easily become a county clinic, where rural doctors could pool their resources and send their patients, when they need medical attention for eyes, teeth and surgical care. For the yearly checkup, which doctors are emphasizing more and more for every individual, this kind of county clinic in rural areas will be invaluable.

FLORIDA ARMY POST

Our visit to Santa Rosa island was preceded by a trip with General MacGruder around the army post. I saw old Fort Barancas and they showed me the two 15-inch mortars, which date back to Spanish times. They were surrendered to General Jackson in Pensacola, Fla., when Florida was ceded to the United States.

All this ground is historic and was fought over during the War Between the States. When we crossed to Santa Rosa, we saw the fort which was held by Northern soldiers all through that war.

The soldiers gave me some copies of their paper, called the Barancas Breeze, and I think it is excellent. I had an opportunity to see some of the soldiers, both on the mainland and on Santa Rosa. On the mainland they have quite a group of New England men, who must find even such chilly winter days as they have here quite warm, compared to the northern winters to which they are accustomed.

I met with the Pensacola Civilian Defense council and was very much impressed by their organization on the protective side of civilian de-

ONLY HEALTHY PEOPLE SHOULD HANDLE BABIES

One of the most important things a mother can do to keep her baby healthy is to prevent his coming in close contact with anyone who has an infectious disease.

He should be prevented not only from the usually communicable diseases of childhood such as diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles, chicken pox, and whooping cough, but the undetected infections that can be communicated even when the carrier does not know that he or she has them. Only the healthy people, Dr. Josephine Kenyon warns in the November issue of Good Housekeeping magazine should handle a baby.

This means, Dr. Kenyon says, not only the mother, father, brothers, sisters and other relatives, but the permanent and temporary helpers in your home as well—anyone who handles the baby, his clothing or linen or his food. A trained baby's nurse will undoubtedly have had a complete physical examination, and her health can be assured by the hospital, but a thorough check-up on the health of any part-time helper should be made.

Dr. Kenyon suggests that you talk with the applicant for the job in a friendly way and explain that you wish to have around your baby only healthy individuals. The best way to be sure of that is by medical examination. Has she had one re-fense. Their system of communications is well set up and they have auxiliary policemen and firemen enrolled and trained. They have appointed their air raid wardens and they are now being trained.

TO FLORIDA

On our way to Florida we had a nice peaceful day on the train. We ate a very late breakfast, during which one or two visitors dropped in—first a gentleman who wished me to send the President his very best wishes, and then a soldier boy who was trying to console himself for a dull life. He had taken a detail of men from one place to another and thought a little chat with us might relieve the monotony. A little later on a gentleman came bursting in to tell us that there was a man on board with a piece of shell from a torpedoed ship, and it was evident that being near a torpedo was no small experience.

We did much less work than usual, but got through the mail which I had not finished before leaving Washington. Then the hour arrived when we should have changed trains.

We discovered that we were a whole hour late, due to a tree which had been found across the track. With this discovery, I realized that I would be late for my broadcast, unless I found a fast method of transfer later, so I wired ahead for a car and on arrival in Flomaton, Ala., the station master's son took us in tow and in less time than it takes to tell it, we were started for Pensacola. I shall always be grateful to that young man for taking most of last afternoon to drive me to Pensacola. He told me that from now on Uncle Sam is working him seven days a week, as he works on aviation parts. He was an extraordinarily good driver, drove carefully but fast and I walked into the broadcasting station four minutes before time to go on the air.

There was a minute more delay in starting due to connections, so while I was reading they took a few more lines out of my script but we finished exactly on time.

TRAVELING IN WARTIME

I really do not enjoy quite such close connections, and I suppose that from now on, in view of the fact that there are many reasons why trains and planes should be delayed and mere civilians can be removed from either one if more important people wish to travel, I had better travel less and allow more time than in the past, or else have nothing very important to do at the end of any journey.

After a fairly early breakfast the next day we visited Santa Rosa.

A Hard Job Becomes Harder For Banks

War and defense make the job of the banker—which is hard in any period—infinately harder.

It would take many pages to chronicle all the duties that fall on banking in this emergency. Here, for instance, is a partial list of what banks, large and small, are doing now: financing war production; selling government securities; handling payrolls for war industries; providing banking facilities for service men and civilian employes of war plants; furnishing vast amounts of cash for paying enlisted men; advising customers on government contracts; working with the government in freezing foreign bonds; cooperating in consumer credit control; helping to maintain confidence, prevent hoarding and encourage orderly security and money markets.

Every one of these jobs is necessary. Every one of them requires the highest degree of knowledge and competence on the banker's part. All of them must be handled swiftly and efficiently, without delay or confusion.

Banking is the backbone of war industry and peace industry alike. Today it is showing the fine stuff it is made of.

cently? If so, would she mind asking her doctor to give her a card saying that she is free from communicable diseases. If not, then explain the value of a health examination—for herself as well as for the baby's protection.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

Subject for the morning service: "The Irresistible Appeal of Christianity." Subject for the evening service: "The Mayflower."

We enter into sympathy with the many people who have either been ill or have had sickness in the family. May you soon be well and back at your post of duty.

"The shall mount up with wings as eagles" (Isa. 40:31)

There is a fable about the way the birds got their wings at the beginning. They were first made without wings. Then God made their wings and put them down before the wingless birds and said to them, "Come, take up these burdens and bear them."

The birds had lovely plumage and sweet voices; they could sing and their feathers gleamed in the sunshine, but they could not soar in the air. They hesitated at first when bidden to take up the burdens that lay at their feet, but soon they obeyed, and taking up the wings in their beaks, laid them on their shoulders to carry them.

For a little while the load seemed heavy and hard to bear, but presently as they went on carrying the burdens, folding them over their hearts, the wings grew fast to their little bodies, and soon they discovered how to use them, and were lifted by them up into the air: the weights became wings.

This is a parable. We are the wingless birds, and our duties and tasks are the pinions God has made to lift us up and carry us heavenward. We look at our burdens and heavy loads, and shrink from them; but as we lift them and bind them about our hearts, the burdens become wings, and on them we rise and soar toward God.

There is no burden which if we lift it cheerfully and bear it with love in our hearts, will not become a blessing to us. God means our tasks to be our helpers; to refuse to bend our shoulders to receive a load is to decline a new opportunity for growth. (Selected).

Jane Brownfield, who attends Tech, was home for the weekend.

Baptist Church News

Teachers and officers of the Sunday school are this week studying in classes the best methods of teaching the Bible and conducting the school in this church to make it the most efficient. They desire to maintain a high standard and give the students a working knowledge of the Bible of which they will be proud.

It was a Baptist merchant of London, England, who more than 150 years ago began what has grown into the modern Sunday school movement in which the Bible is the text book, the study of which is greatly aided by helps produced by men who have devoted years of study to the original text. People of the present generation who have never attended a Sunday school will readily confess their ignorance of the Bible and those who have attended Sunday school in their youth will give it credit for what they know of the Word of God, and with these facts admitted how important is it that all the people assemble on the Lords day to study his word.

Doors for all of the class rooms are being hung this week and with this improvement, which has been waiting for lack of funds, our building can be termed modern for class and department work.

All of this effort that the children of the poorest parents as well as those not poor, may be able to meet and study together the Book of the ages wherein man learns of his origin as well as his final destination.

Due no doubt to the earlier time of meeting of 9:45 our attendance dropped last Sunday to 300 present but it is hoped that this loss of attendance will soon be overcome, which we believe it will as the days lengthen. There is a class and a teacher for you here no matter how old or how young and we invite you.

STATE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH
Austin, Texas

Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer

In the United States we use more than fifty billion quarts of milk a year. It is one of, if not the most universally used of foods. Milk and cream, either by themselves or in combination with other foodstuffs, make up about one-sixth, by weight, of all the food eaten by the average American family. Dr. E. V. McCollum of John Hopkins University stated that "The people who have achieved, who have become large, strong, vigorous people, who have reduced their infant mortality, who have the best trades in the world, who have an appreciation for art, literature, and music, who are progressive in science and in every activity of the human intellect, are the people who have used liberal amounts of milk and its products."

Public Health Program

However, the fundamental necessity for public health milk control is to protect health by prevent milk-borne diseases and to promote health by increasing individual consumption. It is generally conceded that milk is one of the most important of all human foods, because it contains some of practically all elements which man requires for his subsistence, including certain vitamins. It constitutes his sole dependence throughout the first year of life, and is one of the most important foods for growing children as well as for the sick and aged.

But whole milk is second to no other food as an item of diet, yet it is second only to water as a vehicle of disease transmission. Diseases that are usually transmitted through impure milk are bovine tuberculosis, typhoid fever, scarlet fever, septic sore throat, diphtheria, undulant fever, and enteritis, a common infection of infancy. According to the U. S. Public Health Service this disease "annually accounts for 65,000 deaths in the United States of children under the age of two years."

According to the statistics of milk-borne epidemics in Texas reported to the State Health Department covering the period of ten years from 1928 to 1937, inclusive, there were 15 outbreaks, twelve of which were caused from grade D or unsupervised milk, with 601 cases of sickness and ten deaths, and three from grade "A" raw milk with only 27 cases

U. S. And Mexican Troops Parade Together

For three days over the past week end, we have witnessed personally, or by news and radio the workings of the Good Neighbor Policy of the administration. There was a three day celebration of the birthday of George Washington at Laredo, Texas, and Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, just across the Rio Grande from each other. During this celebration, American troops and Mexican troops paraded side by side, to be reviewed by Governor Coke Stevenson and two Mexican State governors, and high army officers of both nations. This is the first time in history that such has happened.

While the parade was on, war planes of both nations circled overhead. Speakers, both Mexican

Before the war only 37 per cent of England's food was produced in the British Isles; today the figure is around 60 per cent. Usually the Isles have around 12 million acres of land in cultivation; in 1941, some 18 million acres were put under the plow.
