

Neill With The Japs

I'm having occasion to observe the Japanese evacuation. The greater percentage of them engage in gardening—truck and berries—at which they are very diligent workers, crawling on hands and knees to cultivate and gather the crops, but it is no worse than picking cotton in Texas. But few go into the orchards or heavier work. True to all tribes the world over and age long, they have a few rich and many poor. Most of them own their own farming equipment and some have the latest models, including tractors. Nearly all have automobiles, with some in the brighter brackets, but none are allowed these cars at the concentration camps. A few own their own farms carried in their children's names. After the decision to evacuate them from the coastal area, they were given ample time to arrange their affairs, and most of them went to selling their cars and equipment. Needless to say, some dealers tried to speculate on their predicament, but a benevolent Uncle intervenes, with storage and financing services backed in some way by the Federal Reserve Bank. Some left growing crops; some hadn't done much, and all slowed down for the past month. Their places have been readily filled, with no harm done. Many white business men had a line of customers among them whose trade they fear they'll miss. Some say they are harmless, honest, and regret their leaving; isn't quite right to remove these peaceful ones. Others say it's a good riddance anyway. All agree, however, to this frequent statement: "We can't trust them now," and we have found out: "Tho they've been honest in their retail trading, we can't tell who from which." The Japs themselves are taking their Exodus tolerably and with forbearance, and no bitterness is apparent on either side. The entire movement of many thousands daily, from different sections, has been orderly and systematic. Most of the younger ones are well educated, graduates from our high schools and some from Junior colleges, all speak English fluently, with but little accent, and yes, they all speak their native language too, but after hearing them 'jabber', I can't understand why they do. English is so much easier understood. But it has been learned that they go to our schools through the day, and are taught "Japan" at night. They are all very affable, agreeable to deal with, and are nobody's damphoo. My nephew, Fletcher Stewart, who is in business here asked one of his customers, an educated, successful 30-year-old, what they thought of the situation, how do they take the war, and he promptly replied: "I don't mind telling you; the older generation will be loyal to Japan, but the second and third generation will be loyal to the U. S. A. The older ones claim that the USA forced the peace treaty ending their war of 1905. (The writer does not recall that the then President Theodore Roosevelt used any coercion at all, only offered the good graces of his office as a meeting place for both sides to negotiate, which, both sides did and signed a treaty of peace in our country which has been effective for nigh onto forty years, until Dec. 7, last.) They resented it, and ever since, have taught us that someday, they'll take revenge on America. The older ones are set in this animosity, but the younger ones, having went through American schools and society and the fair living conditions, are satisfied and happy here, and they take no stock in those ideals." It was learned later that this young man's father had last year went back to Japan and returned just before Pearl Harbor. It is also understood that many of the older set also made round trips to Japan during the past year. Also, that while their births are registered here, as required by law, they also send a registration back to Japan. This is just an incidental overcropping of the covered up truth of that old adage about a certain animal in sheep's clothing. "Their voice is the voice of Jacob, but their hands are the hands of Esau." No doubt there are many among them, harmless, peaceable, even loyal, and there is no doubt there are many of the other kind, but "we can't trust them now," and we haven't time to sift the chaff from the grain.

We entrained some 400 here last week. They had previously been registered, coming in like a "registration day," were assigned numbers and to appear at railroad station at 7 o'clock a. m. Promptly on time they swarmed in, coming mostly in trucks of their white friends, they each had from one to three suitcases or bundles of personal effects. While assembled on the station's spacious platform, they appeared happy and willing, acting more like they were going on a picnic excursion. Some dozen ladies of a local church served chocolate and coffee to them, for which the local paper published a rebuke made by the American Legion and mothers of sons overseas. Quite a lot of pleasant farewells, but few tears. The bunch I brought in were very profuse in their thanks, and from the train window, waved me a smiling goodbye, and as the train left, I said, "the pleasure ain't all yours." This bunch was sent to Parker dam. There are several camps, with several thousand each, mostly in the deserts of eastern California. The details of how they will be cared for isn't set up, but likely irrigation and their own labor will suffice.

Other than this, am disappointed here. California had been bragging about her big, beautiful blackouts, air raids, fruits and beauties. I've been here a month, haven't seen nairy a submarine nor air raid, not a bomb fall, nor even an earthquake, and if they've had any blackouts, they must have been at night when I couldn't see them. Florida has them beat on submarine activity and Texas has them badly outdone on "beauties." Their homeliness, here, is very noticeable, notwithstanding their almost total disclosures. But must say, the people are patriotic in spirit and action, and seem anxious to help Texas win the war.

Mrs. B. B. Brown (pronounced as if spelled Broun) was in this week to get the Herald started to her two boys in the service, Pvt. Ross D., at Fort Clark, Texas, and Pvt. Joe E., Ft. Bragg, N. C. Mrs. Brown stated that B. B. was having one time managing the tractor without the boys this year, and that it kept him jarred up pretty badly, but he kept 'er going.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McCullough called Saturday, Mrs. Mack never having visited the plant before, to look over it. Mr. Mack stated that he had in his life fooled three women, all natives of Tennessee. We pointedly asked the Mrs. if he fooled her, and she admitted he did.

J. A. Berryhill came in recently and had his Herald changed to Jackson, Miss., his old home town, where he will be located for some time, he stated.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH CELEBRATES ANNIVERSARY

Sunday evening, May 31st, the First Christian Church celebrates the first anniversary of its re-opening in Brownfield. Churches of the district have been asked to send delegations and an out of town speaker has been invited. The program begins with a picnic supper in the church basement at 6:30. Those attending are asked to bring sandwiches. The church ladies will furnish drinks and dessert. At 7:30 separate meetings for laymen and women will be held, with business men from Lubbock in charge of the men's meeting. At 8:30 the groups will unite for the church service.

In the past year the church building has been repaired, painted, re-decorated, and a banquet and Sunday School rooms provided in the basement. All bills have been paid to date. All friends of the church are cordially invited to this anniversary party. The Lubbock church has promised a large group in attendance, and the men's meeting will be an inspiration to all who come.

Sunday morning the Sunday School convenes at 10:00, with preaching and communion service at 11:00.

Know Texas?

A reader of this newspaper can get the answer to any question of fact about Texas by writing A. Garland Adair, Curator of Patriotic Exhibits, Texas Memorial Museum, Austin, Texas.

Early Texas Highways:—As early as 1844, the Republic of Texas to a fling at highway building; and as far back as 1875, the state was interested in hard-surfacing its roads. Bascom Giles, Commissioner of the General Land Office, states that in 1844, an act was passed to build the "Central National Road of Texas" from the Trinity river to the Red river opposite the mouth of Kiamisha Creek. This famous "Kiamisha road" was to be 30 feet wide with bridges 15 feet wide, and all trees were to be cut within 12 inches of the ground. Although 27,100 acres of land were donated for the road, it was never built. By an act of March 13, 1875, the Legislature offered six sections of public land to any company for each mile of macadamized roads it would build in Hays county.

Q. How many persons are unemployed in the United States today?—U. W.

A. The latest official figures appearing in a recent issue of the Congressional Record lists the unemployed at 8 millions.

The President said:—In announcing the appointment of Lowell Mellett as Co-ordinator of Government Films, President Roosevelt said: "The American motion picture is one of our most effective media in information and entertaining our citizens. The motion picture must remain free insofar as national security will permit. I want no censorship of the motion picture; I want no

Use Of Green Vegetables Is Very Important

National nutrition experts say every person should have at least one green vegetable every day—more if possible. Green vegetables are rich in many of the food values we need to help keep us healthy.

Green vegetables have their place in a well balanced diet. With their pretty green color and their fine fresh flavor they are perfect side partners for meat and potatoes.

The smart cook prepares vegetables for the table so they keep that fresh garden look and taste, along with the vitamins and minerals. To the smart cook it is a crime to over cook green vegetables or to pour down the sink the juice—the good old-fashioned pot liquor.

1. Use little water slightly salted—cook a short time—and never add soda to the cooking water (soda destroys vitamins).

2. Have the water boiling when you put green vegetables on to cook.

3. Leaving off the lid helps to keep the green vegetable color.

4. Serve all the juices with the cooked vegetables or use it in a soup or sauce. That's being thrifty with the vitamins.

Restrictions placed thereon which will impair the usefulness of the film other than those very necessary restrictions which dictate of safety make imperative. The motion picture especially as used by the Federal Government, has a very useful contribution to make during the war emergency.

In order that the Federal Government in the field of motion picture production and distribution may serve most effectively and efficiently, it is desirable that all activities of the Federal Government be co-ordinated under the direction of one central office.

Q. Who introduced the use of the branding iron?—D. C. B.

A. Stout old Hernando Cortes himself was a cattleman, and tradition has it that he was the man who introduced the use of the branding iron.

BUY Defense Bonds.

Q. When were the first missions built in East Texas?—A. T. C.

A. The first missions were established in East Texas in 1690, and with intervals, they remained there until 1772.

Santa Anna's Handcuffs:—The handcuffs placed on Santa Anna when he was taken prisoner of war at San Jacinto are said to have been made by Syrus Campbell, an 18-year-old-boy who was the gunsmith for the Texas army. It was young Campbell himself who snapped the manacles upon the self-styled Napoleon-of-the-West.

Q. By whom was the first permanent settlement in Texas founded?—T. C. C., Temple, Texas.

Jake Gore spent the weekend in Fort Worth and Decatur. Mrs. Gore, who has been visiting in Decatur returned with him.

WAR HEROES

That these men shall not have died in vain—let liberty's torch be borne high to illumine the skies and earth with the light of a United Nations victory! These men—the dead of 1917 and 1918: these men—the dead of 1941 and 1942. To them, we the living, pledge anew our strength, our faith, our united effort to the point of sacrifice. For by any measure, the sacrifice we at home may be called upon to make is small indeed compared with the supreme sacrifice which they have already made for us. Freedom they fought and died for! And that freedom shall be secured by us in their memory, and for their children. That is our solemn pledge, as we join all America in honoring her war heroes on this Memorial Day, 1942.

Machine Shop Training At A.&M.

The area office of the United States Employment Service is trying to find applicants who are interested in Machine Shop training for a class to be conducted at A. & M. College starting June 5, 1942. Men 18 to 60 years of age, physically able to do this kind of work, who are not immediately subject to Selective Service, who have had mechanical experience of any type and who are interested in attending this class should apply at the area office at 1207 13th Street, Lubbock, Texas, or meet its representative at the Court House, Brownfield, 1:00 to 4:00 each Friday afternoon.

The class is operated on federal funds provided through the State Board for Vocational Education in Austin; therefore no tuition will be charged for the course. The course runs for approximately 12 weeks and the only expense to the trainee will be approximately $5.00 for text books. Board and room which must be paid by the trainee may be secured in the vicinity of A. & M. College for approximately $30.00 per month.

Placement reports from other Machine Shop training classes which have been conducted at A. & M. college show that a high percentage of trainees from these classes have secured employment as soon as they complete the training course.

There is no guarantee of employment from these classes but the facilities of the United States Employment Service in securing jobs for trainees is available and every effort will be made to find employment for trainees who satisfactorily complete the course.

TEXAS HAD SUGAR SHORTAGE IN 1845

AUSTIN—When you can't buy that extra amount of sugar that's needed for preserving that batch of strawberries, don't think you're exclusive in your forfeiture.

Before this war, Texans were having to think of substitutes to take care of food shortages. And sugar and coffee, two items which are being restricted today were shorter then than now.

Recipes for "artificial sugar" and for a coffee substitute are included in "Typical Texian," annual brochure published by a University of Texas English class studying literature and folklore of the Southwest. The recipes were found in early Texas news papers

HEALTH OF CHILDREN MUST BE GUARDED

AUSTIN, May 25.—"In any war the future of the children must be safeguarded so that they can live and share in the freedom to follow," declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"They must be nourished, sheltered, and protected, even in the stress of wartime production, so that they will be strong to carry forward a just and lasting peace. Our American Republics spring from a sturdy people yearning for tolerance, independence, and self-government. The American home has emerged from the search for freedom. Within it the child lives and learns through his own efforts the meaning and responsibilities of freedom.

- 1. Guard children from injury in danger zones.
- 2. Protect children from neglect, exploitation, and undue strain in defense areas.
- 3. Strengthen the home life of children whose parents are mobilized for war or war production.
- 4. Conserve, equip, and free children of every race and creed to take their part in democracy.

The artificial sugar was a concoction of brown sugar, water, honey, cream of tartar and essence of roses, all boiled together in a brass kettle. Egg whites and more honey were added after the mixture was cooked, while the epicure might call for a little slippery elm bark added to the honey.

The coffee substitute, recommended by "The National Register" of Dec. 27, 1845, called for mixing okraseeds with real coffee—"the okra cannot be distinguished from the coffee, even the best Java."

I GIVE YOU TEXAS
by
BOYCE HOUSE

Honored with an invitation to speak to the Brotherhood of Baptist Temple in Houston recently, your columnist declared on that occasion:

One result of the crisis with which we are now confronted is that religion is now coming back into its own—or rather, more accurately, because religion has never been away: men are coming back to religion.

They are returning to the faith of their fathers and mothers and are singing the hymns they knew in childhood: "On Jordan's stormy banks I stand"; and "It's the old-time religion" and "Onward, Christian soldiers, marching as to war, with the cross of Jesus going on before."

This is true because Christianity speaks to the hearts of men. It consoles troubled minds and wounded spirits.

And even in the darkest hour of individual loss and personal grief, it offers unshakeable hope through all eternity. For do we not have the promise, "I am with you always—even to the end of the world?"

And so in the fierce fires of war, there is being burned away the dross of selfishness and materialism, leaving the pure gold of patriotism, service to others, and devotion to God.

There has been some controversy as to what the first name of Captain King of Texas was. (He was at the head of a force of Texans who were slaughtered before the capture of Goliad with its subsequent massacre). Whether the first name of that warrior was Amon or Aaron, Texas has a new Captain King now—Capt. Tom King, former State Auditor, and perhaps one of the biggest men in Uncle Sam's fighting forces: six feet four and a half and weighing around 260. King received his commission last week in the Army Air Force and immediately reported for duty.

In lighter vein: Have you men of middle age heard of the new 5-B classification? It's Bald, Bridgework, Bofocals, Belly and Bunions.

An explorer, who was asked to name the bravest man he had ever known said, "It was the chap who took a taxi to the bankruptcy court and invited the driver in as a creditor."

And as a slogan to win the war, how about the one a Gladewater man suggested: Stop yapping and start scrapping?"

And equally concise was the Taft darkey who looked over the questionnaire with its many blank spaces and wrote just one line:

"When youse ready, so is I."

Newspapers give freely and gladly of their space for the Red Cross, Salvation Army, U.S.O., War Bonds, clean-up campaigns, Boy Scouts, church and school activities. In other words, they are always constructive. This suggestion by the Sulphur Springs News-Telegram editor is worthy of consideration:

"They say time about is fair play. So he next time you are prone to criticize 'the editor', why not do as he has done so often for you—overlook his faults and try to bring out something good about him? If you can't find any good, then do as he does for you—just 'make up' something."

And let us close with this little verse by Mr. Anonymous:
"The wisest men you ever knew
Have never dreamed it treason
To rest a bit, to jest a bit
And balance up their reason;
To laugh a bit, to chaff a bit
And joke a bit in season."

Baptist Church News

The pastor having returned from the Southern Convention at San Antonio, preached Sunday morning to a good audience and brought the high lights of the convention Sunday evening.

The Bible school has not been quite up to the average for a few weeks for some cause.

The Library Committee would call to the attention of all persons having good books they will donate for the use of this library, to write their names inside the fly leaf and bring them to the church office where they will be cleaned thoroughly and put in good condition if they need it and placed in the library for the use of the reading public. You may never desire to read these books again but there are others who will be glad to do so if you will give them a chance and they will greatly appreciate it.

Bayne Price of Yoakum county, a former Terry county citizen, kindly remembers our building fund with a nice check and such consideration is much appreciated by our people. This reminds us that we need fourteen hundred dollars to pay the July 1st installment with interest and if you would have a share in paying the debt on this beautiful church building the opportunity is yours. Many improvements have been made in the basement of the church since it has been occupied. All of which has cost money and has been paid for in cash and as a Bible school home as well as an auditorium, it is very complete and we have a wonderful opportunity to build a great school.

The date will soon be set for the vacation Bible school sometime next month which will give your children an opportunity to learn God's Word and a large attendance is anticipated as a large group of teachers volunteered to do their best in the religious education of the young, and teach them songs they will remember throughout their lives.

Gomez H.D. Club

On Wednesday afternoon of last week the Gomez H. D. Club met in the home of Mrs. Kelly Sears, Mrs. Wes Key, president, presiding. Miss Blanton could not be present due to some kind of defense work that she had been assigned.

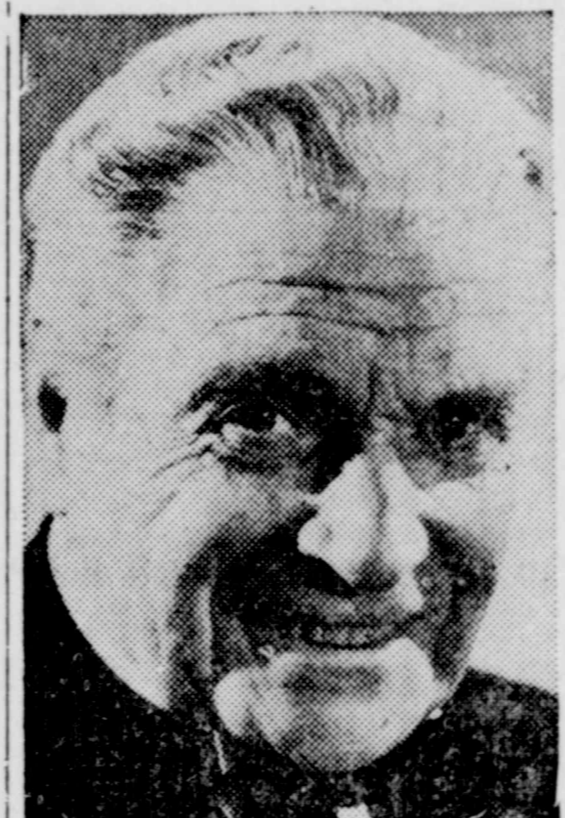

Fourteen members answered roll call by stating what insect or pest troubled them most. A general discussion on how to rid premises of such pests and insects was made. Some gave remedies that they had used successfully.

Mrs. Wes Key was elected a delegate from our club to be presented to council, to go to the Short Course at College Station.

Our club voted to cooperate with other clubs in a County-Wide Club Picnic if other clubs wanted to have one as we did last year. We are also planning to have a picnic for our individual club members and families.

Mrs. Furr brought 15 pairs of pajamas and distributed them to members of our club to be made for the Red Cross by our next club meeting. We hope to do more sewing for the Red Cross for we want to help all we can in times like this.

Care For Your Car . . . For Your Country

The turkey is pictured here in advance of the season to dramatize the performance-facts about a great gasoline which is never in advance of the season!

Of course, as always, Phillips 66 Poly Gas is high test without higher price. But more than that, it is the right high test (volatility) for the month in which you buy and use it. Definitely changed every thirty days to match the monthly changes in temperature in your locality.

In December, Phillips 66 Poly Gas is a fast starting motor fuel. In August, it is a cooler summer gas. In May, it's right for between-season weather . . . always custom-tailored to deliver high mileage and pace-making performance.

Scientific laboratory and field surveys prove that no other gasoline—not a single one—is so completely and accurately matched, all year 'round, to the monthly variations in your weather.

If you wonder what this means in pep and power . . . in zip and pick-up . . . find out the facts in your own motor. Try just one tankful and judge for yourself.

Remember, the Orange and Black 66 Shield is High Test Headquarters for car owners . . . because, Phillips is WORLD'S LARGEST PRODUCER of Natural high test gasoline.

Two Texas Boys Win In 4-H Farm Accounting

Two 16-year-old Texas boys have won high honors in the 1941-2 national accounting contest supervised by the Extension Service. They are Jack Wiley, of Graham, (Young county), named a Southern sectional winner in farm accounting, and Ismael Rangel, of Moore, (Frio county), winner of sectional honors in the crops phase. State Boys' Club 4-H Club Congress in Chicago next November, provided with all other awards in the contest by the International Harvester Company.

Young Wiley has been a 4-H'er six years, and kept accounts on his father's 100-acre farm last year.

Ismael kept accounts on 54 acres of field and broomcorn on his father's 170-acre farm. Both have fine records in other 4-H work.

Dr. J. D. Moorhead of Meadow was a recent caller at the Herald office this week, at which time we held quite a "bull session." The doctor, like most folks, thinks the present war news a bit depressing, but that sooner or later will be a bit more cheering.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Echols and daughter of Quanah and Mrs. Bob McDonald of Lamesa were the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Warren.

Mrs. Gail Willis and baby left this week for Monohans after visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Warren here.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Blair are spending the week in El Paso.

The Anti-Inflation Battle Front

College Station—The government's new program to keep the cost of living from spiraling upward ranks with mobilization of man power and physical resources and the current transportation bottleneck as one of the three current major problems to win the war according to Director H. H. Williamson of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

He announced that the Texas Extension Service is giving leadership to the general education work to acquaint rural people with the General Maximum Price Regulation, especially as it will affect farm and ranch families. The Office of Price Administration will administer the order and State and County USDA War Boards will cooperate.

"No Texas farmer or farm woman can be left in the dark about the necessity of our fighting the battle of inflation and how we can win it," he said. The information will be sent to every farm and ranch family in the state by means of the new human chain which County Agricultural Victory Councils and the Extension Service have set up in every county. Thousands of community and neighborhood leaders designated in the past three weeks will help spread the facts about the inflation menace.

This new educational job is right in line with extension's streamlined war-time job, the Victory Demonstration, Director Williamson pointed out. One objective of the Victory program is to assist in winning the war by helping farm and ranch families "understand the 'why' and 'how' of adjustments rural people must make to the war-time situation."

The Santa Fe system moved 32,761 carloads of freight last week, compared to 29,465 for the same week in 1941.
